

Affordable Care Act Info Sessions on Nov. 15

The Community Engagement Program of the University of the South and the Sewanee Business Alliance will host two information sessions on the Affordable Care Act on Friday, Nov. 15.

The first session will be at 2 p.m., in Convocation Hall, at the corner of University and Georgia avenues. The second session will be at 4:30 p.m., at the Blue Chair Bakery. Computer stations will be set up to offer individuals a chance to see the cost of the exchange's insurance plans for local counties.

The sessions will offer basic information about how the new health insurance marketplace works, who will benefit from it, cost of the policies and how to sign up. The insurance policies offer free preventative care and substantial discounts for individuals and families within established income ranges. For example, individuals making between $11,490 and $45,960 will be eligible for discounts, as will a family of four making between $23,550 and $94,200.

Wes Brown, senior vice president of Willis Global Insurance, and Myron Douglas, a designated health insurance marketplace navigator for Tennessee Primary Care Association, will be available to answer questions from individuals whose employer-based health insurance is not deemed affordable by the new law and provide information for people who do not currently have health care insurance. For more information contact Jim Peterman at 598-1482 or email <ce@sewanee.edu>.

The Mountain Goat Trail: A Diamond in the Rough

Eli Lavender, C'17
Special to the Messenger

Imagine holding seven figures, a handsome stack of greenbacks. Grasp, if you can, a greater fortune lying within your reach, a stone's throw from the heart of Sewanee. Realize this treasure shrouded in the surprising guise of the Mountain Goat Trail has never been riper for the taking.

The trail is the abandoned rail bed of the Mountain Goat Railroad which once carried coal from Palmer, through Monteagle and Sewanee, toward its culmination at Cowan. With the closure of the last coal mine in the 1980s, the rail ties were torn away and the local economy stripped of the mining jobs which fueled it. Many of Sewanee's neighbors felt the force of this loss firsthand. To this day, many communities endure depression.

The Cumberland Plateau is not the only victim of a rusting industrial sector. Countless rail beds across the nation have fallen into disuse. Today, the rails-to-trails movement aims to reverse this misfortune. According to the website of the nonprofit organization Rails-to-Trails, their mission is "to create a nationwide network of trails from former rail lines to build healthier places for healthier people." Understated here, the movement's benefits reach far beyond physical health. More remarkably, trail tourism builds healthier economies.

The impact of trail tourism is real. In Leadville, Colo., the closure of the local mine produced a paucity of employment not offset until the completion of the Mineral Belt Trail. Opened in 2000, the trail roams about

Rare Reading of "Divine Comedy"

The Italian department at Sewanee is hosting a rare complete reading of Dante's "Divine Comedy" at the new Italian House named in honor of Doug Paschall, located at 85 Louisiana Circle. The reading will begin at 2 p.m., Thursday, Nov. 14; it will last until approximately midnight.

Maggie Fritz-Morkin, visiting assistant professor of Italian, said she believes this will be the only public reading of the full text in the United States this year.

Faculty, students, staff and community members will take turns reading the 100 cantos that travel through Hell, Purgatory and Paradise. There will be refreshments and comfortable seating, and participants are invited to drop in and out as they please.

There are still unclaimed cantos, Fritz-Morkin said, "especially in Purgatory and Paradise, so any soul wishing to participate can either drop by the event" or send an email in advance to <mafritz@sewanee.edu>.

The group has a Twitter handle (@SewaneeItalian) so that people can track the progress of the event throughout the evening.

Cumberland Presbyterian Calls Pittenger

Ronnie Pittenger has accepted the call to the Cumberland Presbyterian Churches in Sewanee and Cowan.

Pittenger grew up in Winchester Cumberland Presbyterian Church and was a member of the football squad at Franklin County High School in the early 1960s. He attended Austin Peay State University, where he played football in 1963-64, and graduated from Bethel University. He attended Memphis Theological Seminary.

He has served Nashville's Tusculum Cumberland Presbyterian Church for the last 37 years.

He and his wife, Rena, will live in Cowan. She also has connections to Franklin County: her grandparents and mother lived in Cowan. The Pittengers have two grown children, Renee and Marcus, and three grandchildren, Marlee, Macy, and Patrick.

Pittenger will preach at the 9 a.m. services at Sewanee Cumberland Presbyterian Church beginning on Nov. 10. Sewanee Cumberland Presbyterian Church is located on Bob Stewman Road.

Housing Sewanee Building 16th Home

Project Includes Sustainable and Local Materials

by Mark Flournoy C'16, Special to the Messenger

More than 300 students, members of the Monteagle Sewanee Rotary Club, and skilled volunteers from the Sewanee community have donated their time to Housing Sewanee Inc.'s latest project on Jump Off Road. This is Housing Sewanee's 16th home, which is being built for a local resident whose family has owned the property for more than 50 years. It is an isolated lot that has required substantial infrastructure work by volunteers; clearing for a driveway, power line and water line. The framing was started by a group of University students who spent their fall break off-time on the project.

Unlike the previous 15 houses, this project is incorporating non-conventional building practices, following environmental goals aligned with the University's Sustainability Committee.

Before the proliferation of plywood in 1940s residential construction, home builders used one-inch thick solid wood boards for subfloors, exterior sheathing and roof decking. These boards were often installed on 45-degree diagonals for strength. This exterior sheathing can be seen running at an angle in older homes missing siding.

"Our subfloor is 1- by 6-inch poplar, almost 50 percent less expensive than plywood although it takes two to three times longer to install," said Dixon Myers, Housing Sewanee president.

Nov. 11 Veterans Day Events

Veterans Day, Nov. 11, is a celebration to honor America's veterans for their patriotism, love of country and willingness to serve and sacrifice for the common good. Federal, state and local government agency offices are closed, as are banks and the post office. Public schools, St. Andrew's-Sewanee and the University of the South will hold classes, and their offices are open. The Sewanee Senior Center will be open.

Veterans Day will be celebrated beginning at 6:30 p.m. on Monday, Nov. 11, at the American Legion Hall, 36 University Ave., in Sewanee, with a covered-dish meal, followed by a program. The speaker for the evening will be Bobby Clark, Veteran representative for Franklin County.

Also, American flags that are torn, tattered, or otherwise "unserviceable" can be brought at this time to either be buried or burned, and weather permitting, flags will be burned. American Legion members, Auxiliary members, friends and the public are welcome at the event.

Every year at St. Andrew's-Sewanee School the "Chocolate Bells" are rung at 11:11 a.m. on Armistice Day, a yearly remembrance of peace and a reminder of the unusual way the bells in the St. Andrew's Chapel came from New Jersey to Tennessee more than 90 years ago. Students gather to meet at the appointed hour and walk to the chapel for the ceremonial ringing. This year, that will be Monday, Nov. 11.

Animal Harbor is offering a veteran's special on pet adoptions. Learn more on page 14.

Many businesses offer Veterans Day specials and discounts. See page 12 for a list of some of these specials.

CFM Hosts Taste of the Market on Saturday

The Cumberland Farmer's Market (CFM) will host "Taste of the Market," 1-3 p.m., Saturday, Nov. 9, at the Sewanee Community Center. This is an opportunity to meet the growers and artisans of the market, as well as learn more about the products and services it provides. Tickets will be available at the door; Tickets are $10 for the first ticket and $5 for each additional ticket (ages 12 and under are free).

Since 2007, CFM has been providing Sewanee and Monteagle residents with online access to local growers and artisans. Many residents are not aware that the market provides products year-round, and others have yet to take advantage of this local resource.

The event will offer tastes of many of the fall products grown by local farmers. On the menu are salads with homemade dressings; deviled eggs; many baked goods, including scones, breads, muffins, cookies, pies and pastry; local artisanal cheeses; and smoked brisket. The Christmas baskets prepared by the Community of St. Mary in Sewanee and Thistle Farms of Nashville will be available for order at the event. For more information call (931) 592-3399 or email <cumberlandfm@gmail.com >.

SEWANEE INN INFO

To the Editor:

Here's an architectural riddle for you: How is the new Sewanee Inn akin to the tallest building in Tennessee? Answer: They were both designed by Earl Swensson Associates of Nashville.

Swensson's firm designed the iconic AT&T Tower, better known as the Batman Building, owing to the twin-pointed towers on its top. And the firm did the Sewanee Inn and Conference Center, now nearing completion. It will be managed by Charlestowne Hotels. A helpful web piece at <<http://vimeo.com/44270861>> includes a five-minute video animation walk-through of the new space:

"The upscale development will consist of a 43-room inn and conference facility set on the site of the former Sewanee Inn and overlooking the newly restored golf course. According to Jeremy Thompson of Earl Swensson Associates, Inc., the architectural style of the Inn will be a combination of Southern vernacular with collegiate Gothic elements inspired by various buildings around the university campus. The exterior will be clad in indigenous Crab Orchard fieldstone and most of the interior millwork will be from trees harvested on the Domain, as the 13,000-acre campus is known."

You should also know that there are at least 22 "naming opportunities" to reward the philanthropically inclined; most notably, the banquet hall ($1.5 million), lobby ($1 million), bar ($500,000), two super suite guest rooms ($300,000), Greenside Terrace ($175,000), two breakout parlors and a Greenside Patio ($50,000).

There's lots more to be said about the new building, but until it opens, all you dot-commies should enjoy webbing it.

BOX TOPS SUCCESS

To the Editor:

Once again, I want to say thank you to the entire Sewanee community for supporting SES with your Box Tops. We received well over 5,000 Box Tops for this submission.

The final confirmation of our total number will come in a couple of weeks; however, by my count we collected 5,755 Box Tops, which equals $575.50. A check for that amount will be sent directly to SES and used to support our teachers and students.

Our goal for this school year is $930, so we are more than 60 percent of the way there. Please keep clipping and dropping them off at SES or the lobby of the Sewanee post office. You can also SPO them to Ryan Cassell at any time. We will do our second submission in the spring. Again, thank you very much!

ROAD NEEDS ATTENTION

To the Editor:

While I realize and understand the importance of the crack on the road to Cowan, the large drop-off on Sherwood Road is much worse. It's not just a crack, it's a large drop. People traveling to and from Sherwood have dealt with a landslide for more than 25 years.

Are we not important enough to have our road fixed, as well? Is it going to take someone being killed before the problem is fixed? We have very precious children traveling daily on the school bus.

As I was traveling down the mountain one day, a semi-truck going up the mountain was on my side of the road to avoid the drop-off. I went in the ditch to avoid being hit. What if I had been the school bus? We need our road fixed, too!

PTO THANK YOU

To the Editor:

The Sewanee Elementary School PTO would like to thank the Sewanee police and fire departments for their help with the Halloween Reverse Parade. Thank you for keeping our children safe while they enjoyed this event.

NSAMONITORING?

To the Editor:

I wish to inform people who have phones and email accounts that there is a problem in Washington with your communication devices.

"But for now, President Obama and his top advisers have concluded that there is no workable alternative to the bulk collection of huge quantities of 'metadata,' including records of all telephone calls made inside the United States." [New York Times, Nov. 4, 2013, by David Sanger.]

This is a flagrant violation of United States Law Title 47, Chapter 5, Subchapter VI, §605 (6). The law requires there be an oath or affirmation by a person with first-hand knowledge of a crime who attests to it before a judge or magistrate to get a warrant to seize telephone records and emails.

What is the crime that National Security Agency is attesting to that requires the entire population of the United States have their phone and emails copied and mined? What justifies the NSA monitoring all calls made within the United States? I have been respectfully informed by someone "in the know" that it is national security. I disagree.

Two pot-smoking boys with a direct link to Chechen terrorists didn't get apprehended before setting off bombs at the Boston Marathon, and they had phone and email service from American companies.

Best of luck sorting this mess out. I have informed our U.S. Senators and am awaiting their input.

HAPPY BIRTHDAY, MARINES

To the Editor:

Happy birthday, area Marines (Nov. 10). We are a band of brothers, for he who sheds his blood with me shall forever be my brother.

Former Elected Official Indicted

Former state senator and former Franklin County commissioner Eric Stewart has been indicted on theft and fraud charges stemming from his insurance business. Stewart unsuccessfully ran for Congress against U.S. Rep. Scott DesJarlais in 2012.

Sgt. Chris Guess of the Franklin County Sheriff's Department said that Stewart has been charged with insurance claims fraud and theft of property valued between $500 and $1,000. The charges are based on events happening between Nov. 22, 2009, and Nov. 4, 2013. Guess said Stewart turned himself in to authorities, posted $5,000 bond and has a Nov. 15 Circuit Court date.

The two-count indictment by the Franklin County Grand Jury on Nov. 4 in Winchester is based on an insurance dispute. Mike Taylor, 12th Judicial District Attorney General, said that Stewart allegedly sold a worker's compensation insurance policy but allegedly used the $750 premium for personal use rather than applying it to the policy.

CCJP EXECUTIVE DIRECTOR SEARCH

The Cumberland Center for Justice and Peace (CCJP), a 501(c)(3) non-profit organization, is seeking applicants for the position of Executive Director. This is a salaried, half-time position paying $1000 per month, with an additional $2000-per-year insurance plan. The position will start on May 1, 2014.

CCJP is a 25-year-old grassroots organization with the mission to promote justice and peace in the Cumberland Plateau, thinking globally and acting locally. We accomplish this through education with forums, pamphlets and newsletters; networking; promoting nonviolent action and facilitating resolution of controversial issues. The ideal candidate must be a well-organized self-starter, an independent worker who is committed to the goals and principles of CCJP. Preference will be given to those with leadership and grant-writing experience; good written and verbal skills are a must, and IT/web-based communication abilities and event-planning experience are a plus.

To express interest, please submit a résumé with cover letter to: The Cumberland Center for Justice and Peace, ATTN: CCJP SEARCH, P.O. Box 307, Sewanee, TN 37375, or via email (pdf or MS Word-compatible documents, please) to: CCJPSearch@gmail.com.

CCJP is an equal opportunity employer. All candidates are encouraged to apply. Applications will be accepted until Jan. 15, 2014.

Monteagle Elementary School fifth-grade students and teachers were joined by Monteagle Sewanee Rotary Club members after the recent "Don't Meth With Us" program.

Rotary Hosts "Don't Meth With Us" in Area Schools

As part of "Red Ribbon Week," which focuses on drug awareness, the Rotary Club of Monteagle Sewanee hosted "Don't Meth With Us" programs for fifth-grade students at Cowan, Monteagle and Sewanee elementary schools. Rather than saying "Don't do drugs," the "Don't Meth With Us" program focuses on the dangers of methamphetamine or "meth" that has been an ongoing problem in the tri-county area.

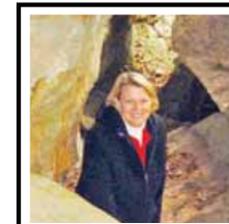

The programs were led by Rotarian Heather Olson. In addition, Tabatha Curtis of the Franklin County Drug Coalition, Del Thomasson of the Tennessee Meth and Pharmaceutical Task Force and local police personnel addressed the students. Thomasson and Olson, along with the help from local law enforcement officials, admonished the students to avoid "backpack meth labs" that have become prevalent in the area. They also provided students with community resources that can intervene to help meth users and their families.

At each session, students were given a yellow T-shirt emblazoned with "Don't Meth With Us" with a broken heart in the center. The T-shirt was designed by a Monteagle Elementary student during the first year of this initiative.

In addition, each student received a key ring and fob and a backpack.

Rotary Club members Bill Davis, Olson, Barry Rollins and Bob Askew led this initiative with support of Sewanee professors Jessica Siegel and Karen Yu.

This is the third year that the Monteagle Sewanee Rotary has conducted this program, which is supported by community sponsors Citizens Tri-County Bank, Citizens State Bank, Mountain Valley Bank, First Community Financial, Gooch-Beasley, Mollica Construction, Mountain Outfitters, Monteagle Piggly Wiggly, University Dental Associates in Sewanee, Sewanee Family Practice, Sewanee Pediatrics, Duck River Electric and Sequatchie Valley Electric.

Senior Center News

Senior Center Honors Volunteers

The Sewanee Senior Citizens hosted an Appreciation Reception for volunteers on Oct. 27.

"We are so thankful to these men and women who give their time in making sure the Center remains open," said Joe David McBee.

Plan Now for Thanksgiving Meal

Thanksgiving dinner will be served at noon, Tuesday, Nov. 19, at the Center. The menu will include turkey and dressing, sweet potato casserole, green beans, corn on the cob, cranberry sauce, roll and dessert. Please make reservations by Monday, Nov. 18.

You Can Be a Volunteer, Too!

The Senior Center is in great need of volunteers to help in the kitchen Mon. - Fri. during November and December. The Senior Center is always in need of volunteers. If you have a couple of free hours, learn more by calling 598-0771.

Daily Activity Schedule

The Senior Center has something fun to do each day of the week. Join them for any of these activities:

Mondays at 10:30 a.m. - 11:15 a.m., chair exercise is offered to help promote flexibility, mobility and range of motion by moving most of the joints in the body from head to toe.

Tuesdays at 10:30 a.m., the group plays bingo with prizes.

Wednesdays at 10 a.m., the writing group gathers at 212 Sherwood Rd. Members read short passages from their own work or from that of another author. For more information call Connie Kelley, 598-0915.

Thursdays at 10:30 a.m., there is chair exercise.

Fridays at 10 a.m. is the time for games. Play Scrabble, join the "Guy's Table" for a game of Sequence or make up a foursome to play bridge. For more information call Eileen Degen, 598-5643, or Ruth Wendling, 598-9517.

Inclement Weather Policy

The Senior Center follows the schedule of the Franklin County School System when the weather is bad. If the Franklin County schools are closed due to snow or ice, the Senior Center will be closed, and no meals will be cooked, served or delivered on that day.

Senior Menus

The Sewanee Senior Center serves lunch at noon on weekdays. The suggested donation is $3 (50 or older) or $5 (under 50). Please call by 9 a.m. to order lunch.

Nov. 11: Beef stew, slaw, cornbread, dessert.

Nov. 12: Cabbage roll, field peas, stewed potatoes, cornbread, dessert.

Nov. 13: Chicken Parmesan, salad, garlic bread, dessert.

Nov. 14: Minestrone soup, ham and cheese sandwich, dessert.

Nov. 15: Fish, fries, slaw, hush puppies, dessert.

Menus may vary.

The center is located at 5 Ball Park Rd., behind the Sewanee Market. To reserve a meal or for more information, call the center at 598-0771.

"The poplar we are using was cut in Keith Springs, south of Cowan, milled in Elora [32 miles from Sewanee] and trucked to our site. In plywood manufacturing, the raw material can come from one country, be manufactured in another and sold in the United States. The environmental impact from the transportation cost alone contrasted with the Keith Springs-Elora-Sewanee model offers an interesting comparison," Myers said. Housing Sewanee is also using local poplar for framing the floor joists and studs.

The home will also feature reused materials, a concept popularized by the organization Rural Studio in Hale County, Ala. Myers has been taking students on field trips to see the Rural Studio homes for years and was excited about finally working this concept into Housing Sewanee's building procedures.

"We are utilizing a set of double-insulated windows, kitchen cabinets, countertops, and a shower unit that have all been donated. We went into the old Sewanee Inn before it was torn down and took out a lot of solid oak and pine paneling that will go into the interior space," he said. The home will have one-inch foam on the exterior and blow-in cellulose in the walls, two state-of-the-art insulating practices. It will be completed in the summer of 2014.

Housing Sewanee Inc. (HSI) is a nonprofit organization, modeled after Habitat for Humanity. For fourteen years, HSI has built a house each year. Clients have included the elderly, the sick, the physically or mentally disabled, and grandparents raising their grandchildren, to name only a few. HSI accepts applications and selects recipients based on need and their ability to sustain a no-interest mortgage. Recipients are expected to volunteer when possible.

Community Chest Spotlight Campora Center

The 2013-14 Sewanee Community Chest Fund Drive is underway. The power of people helping people makes a difference in the life of the community. Sponsored by the Sewanee Civic Association, the Community Chest raises money yearly for local charitable organizations serving the area. This year's goal is $108,000. To date, 46 percent of the goal has been reached.

This week's recipient spotlight is on Campora Family Resource Center, an organization that provides and coordinates services to aid in the empowerment, proficiency and development of cohesive family units.

Campora is requesting $1,000 to purchase food from Second Harvest Food Bank for the Backpack Program. The Backpack Program is designed to bridge the food gap for local schoolchildren (pre-K through high school) during the weekends. The Backpack Program serves more than 350 students weekly from all of the Franklin County schools. The cost to provide a backpack with food for one child is $2.70 for one weekend, $10.80 for one month, or $97.20 for one school year. Volunteers are always needed to assist with the backpack service. To volunteer, contact Eric Vanzant at 967-7825.

The goal of the Sewanee Community Chest is to help citizens by funding the community. The Community Chest is a 501(c)(3) non-profit organization, and donations are tax-deductible. Send your donation to Sewanee Community Chest, P.O. Box 99, Sewanee, TN 37375.

For more information, or to make a donation through PayPal, contact <sewaneecommunitychest@gmail.com> or go to <www.sewanee.org>.

lush aspen groves, tracing the route of the region's long-standing mining lines against the towering backdrop of the Sewatch and Mosquito Mountains. Months after its dedication, the awe-inspiring scene had become a tourist magnet, with the town already reporting a 19 percent increase in sales tax revenue. And, the trail is popular among many locals who claim they receive customers who travel to Leadville solely to experience the trail. Thanks in no small part to the trail's presence, Leadville has again struck prosperity.

The Virginia Creeper Trail, which worms through 34 miles of Appalachian Virginia, is another example of the rails-to-trails movement's success.

While the Mountain Goat Trail has not reached its completion, the Mountain Goat Trail Association (MGTA) is working to bring the same success to this local abandoned rail bed. Janice Thomas, the president of the MGTA board, said the completion of the trail will provide a throughway separated from speeding auto traffic that will allow adults, children and stroller-strapped infants the opportunity to intermingle amid the natural marvels of our forests. Funding this enormous undertaking has been a challenge; state funding was secured through the Tennessee Greenways grant, which has provided the finances necessary to join Sewanee to Monteagle.

Finances are not the only concern of MGTA. They are also concerned with tourism. Often, at least 20 miles of finished trail are necessary to draw strong tourism. To fully conquer the tourist market, cyclists must be enticed off the trail into local towns and stores. Other programs have accomplished this by creating cycle-friendly urban spaces, complete with bicycle racks and cycling lanes. However, the greatest reward for the program would be tapping the overnight cycling market. Overnight cyclists spend an average of $100 a night in local restaurants, hotels and a variety of other businesses.

Rural trails earn between three and four times the profits of their urban counterparts. Nestled under the unspoiled canopy of the Cumberland wood, the Mountain Goat stakes a prime location.

Though neglected, the Mountain Goat Trail has not been forgotten. Presently, the potential of this gem glistens under a verdant variety of flora. Once completed, the polished product will unite distant communities as a source of recreation and revenue. With greater funding and broader support, the Mountain may soon welcome many familiar faces and distant patrons alike along the Mountain Goat Trail.

Freeman Award Honors Two Seminary Students

The School of Theology awarded the 2013 Freeman Award for Merit to two seminary students this year — Sarah Leanne Miller and Joseph Robert Woodfin. The award was announced during the school's annual DuBose Lectures dinner on Oct. 31 and was presented by Vice-Chancellor John McCardell.

"Sewanee is blessed with many outstanding students, and every year it has been difficult for the faculty to determine just one recipient," said the Rt. Rev. Neil Alexander, dean of the School of Theology. "This year the faculty decided to acknowledge two equally deserving seminarians for academic achievement of the highest order."

The Freeman Award for Merit was established in 1998 by Reed Freeman and his wife, Nancy, to honor and reward a rising middler student of the School of Theology who has demonstrated outstanding academic performance and promise.

Miller, T'15, is a M.Div. student from the Diocese of Alabama. She is a 2010 graduate of the University of the South and has served with the Episcopal Service Corps in New Orleans, La. She was recently named by the presiding bishop as a delegate to the Task Force for Reimagining the Episcopal Church, charged by the 77th General Convention of the Episcopal Church to create a plan for reforming the Church's structures, governance, and administration.

"I feel honored to receive this award and to be able to share it with my friend and classmate, Joe Woodfin," stated Miller. "I'm deeply grateful for the School of Theology's wonderful faculty and supportive community, and for the generosity of Reed and Nancy Freeman."

Woodfin, T'15, is a M.Div. student from the Diocese of Tennessee. He is a 2008 graduate of Lipscomb University in Nashville. He is a sacristan at the Chapel of the Apostles and is the middler class representative. Woodfin is interested in ministry in an urban context.

"I am honored to receive the Freeman award and am also honored to be able to share this with Sarah," said Woodfin. "I love academics and I am very grateful to the School of Theology for teaching me how to apply that love in service to the church."

Animal Harbor Receives DREMC Gift

An old hog auction barn is not the perfect location for an animal shelter, but this is currently where the Franklin County Humane Society houses approximately 50 animals each month. No climate control, cold concrete floors and mounting maintenance issues resulted in a building campaign being launched over a year ago, with the goal of raising $600,000 for a new facility.

Thanks to a partnership between Duck River Electric Membership Corporation (DREMC) and one of its lenders, CoBank, the vision of a new shelter is getting closer to reality. CoBank's "Sharing Success" program offers matching grants that can be accessed by electric cooperatives to assist qualifying 501(c)(3) nonprofit organizations.

Recognizing the new animal shelter as a need in the community, DREMC completed the process of applying for the grant and was subsequently awarded $2,000, to be combined with the co-op's donation of $2,000, bringing the total financial commitment to $4,000.

This is the second grant DREMC has applied for in the past year. The first was awarded to Argie Cooper Public Library in Shelbyville.

Gail Castle, development officer for the Franklin County Humane Society, said the DREMC-CoBank donation will bring the animal shelter fund-raising total to $370,000, well over half of the goal.

"We are extremely excited about our new facility. Our main focus will be on educating the public about spaying and neutering. We hope to be able to increase our boarding capacity by 50 percent," said Castle.

The new 4,000-square-foot facility will be located on Hwy. 127 (AEDC Road), easily accessible to Franklin County residents.

"One of the seven cooperative principles is concern for community. Both DREMC and CoBank recognize the important role this facility plays in Franklin County," said Michael Watson, DREMC president and CEO.

CoBank President and CEO Robert Engel added, "Throughout rural America, cooperatives like DREMC are working not only to provide value to their members but to improve the quality of life in their local communities."

LIKETO WATCH

by Kiki Beavers

There are so many quality films currently being released, and I cannot possibly go to the theater to watch them all without getting another job to help pay for it. Which movies am I going to watch in a theater, just rent or buy? Here are some of my top movie choices to watch, rent or buy, plus consider for 2014 Oscar nominations.

This is a good year for Tom Hanks with two Oscar contenders, "Captain Phillips" and "Saving Mr. Banks." "Captain Phillips" is about the cargo ship Maersk Alabama, taken over by Somali pirates. We all know the story, and we should go see the movie. In "Saving Mr. Banks," Hanks plays Walt Disney as he tries to get the production rights to the book "Mary Poppins." While I most certainly have benefited from the magic of Disney, "Saving Mr. Banks" sounds like a real snooze-fest to me. I am spending my money on "Captain Phillips."

If you don't know this by now, I have a soft spot for Harrison Ford. I will watch any Ford movie, and I have a DVD shelf dedicated to him, including the movie "Sabrina." We are even Facebook friends. Harrison stars in "Ender's Game" as Colonel Graff, who is in charge of a military academy where cadets prepare for a future alien invasion by playing video games. Harrison has not yet won an Oscar, but was nominated for his role in "Witness" way back when. I think his best shot at a nomination this year is for the film "42," which was released too early for Oscar consideration. Both are on my buy DVD list.

Another movie that happens on a boat is "All Is Lost" starring Robert Redford. This movie is all Redford; a man trying to survive after his yacht is wrecked in the middle of the Indian Ocean, sort of a take on the old man versus the sea story. This reminds me of the role Redford played in the 1972 movie "Jeremiah Johnson," a man of few words trying to survive in the wilderness. If anyone can be the sole actor in a movie worth watching, it is Redford. He wrote the script, too. On my buy DVD list.

You have got to see "Gravity" on the big screen. The star in this film is outer space. People way smarter than me have said the stunning special effects in this movie could not really happen. I will never have to survive in outer space to find out. But if I did, I want to be Sandra Bullock. Bullock deserves an Oscar nomination for her physical journey in space and her emotional journey to get back home. This is a movie to watch, rent and buy.

"12 Years a Slave" really does not have a big-name cast to rally around, unless you know who Michael Fassbender, Benedict Cumberbatch and Chiwetel Ejiofor are. Okay, Brad Pitt is in this one, but you should pay attention to the other three. The movie is based on the true story of Solomon Northup, a free black man who is abducted and sold into slavery in 1841. It is an important movie to go watch. This one reminds me of the powerhouse movie "Schindler's List," which tried to accurately show the horrors of human behavior. The topic is unsettling and gives me a squirmy "I probably don't want to watch this, but I should" feeling. I have thought I may not be the only person to buy the movie and watch it alone at home.

Leo DiCaprio is back in "The Wolf of Wall Street." Directed by Martin Scorsese, this movie is based on the true story of wealthy stockbroker Jordan Belfort, who ended up spending 20 months in prison for fraud. Leo always looks his best playing an over-the-top, wealthy character such as in the recent portrayal of Jay Gatsby in "The Great Gatsby." Just like "The Great Gatsby" though, I will be renting this one.

Some other Oscar worthy-to-be-nominated movies to watch, rent or buy include "Rush," directed by Ron Howard, which stars Chris Hemsworth in a true story of a Formula One racing rivalry. This one may have been released too early, just like "42," to make it to the Oscars. The family and I are going to be lined up to see Hemsworth in "Thor: The Dark World," anyway (rent). "The Counselor," is about drug trafficking gone bad with an all-star cast, including Fassbender, Pitt and the only actor capable of accurately portraying a Cormac McCarthy villain, Javier Bardem (watch and buy). In "Dallas Buyers Club," an HIV-positive man (Matthew McConaughey) fights against the juggernaut American medical and pharmaceutical industries (rent). "American Hustle," is a fictional film starring Christian Bale as a con man, along with a slew of other big-name stars. The plus is we get most of the cast back from "Silver Linings Playbook"—Robert De Niro, Bradley Cooper and Jennifer Lawrence (rent). In "Monuments Men," George Clooney, Matt Damon, Bill Murray and Cate Blanchett rescue art stolen by the Nazis during World War II (watch and buy). "Her" features a divorced man (Joaquin Phoenix) who falls in love with his operating system (rent). "Nebraska" stars Bruce Dern as an alcoholic traveling to collect his purported million-dollar sweepstakes (buy). "Inside Llewyn Davis" is about a week in the life of a 1961 folk singer and stars John Goodman (buy).

SAS Wreath Sale to Benefit Global Charities

The eighth annual St. Andrew's-Sewanee School sixth-grade holiday balsam wreath sale is underway. Proceeds from the sales will benefit several different outreach projects, including ongoing support of students at Amazing Grace Orphanage in Uganda and a project in Haiti. In addition to these predetermined causes, each sixth-grader will be given the opportunity to research three charities and select one for his or her own donation.

The balsam wreaths are shipped fresh from Maine. They measure at least 22 inches and come with a big red bow, six pinecones and several sprigs of red berries. The wreaths cost $24 and will arrive in early December. If you would like to receive a wreath before the weekend of Dec. 6, please place your order before Nov. 15. The rest of the wreaths will arrive during the week of Dec. 11–15.

To order wreaths, contact any St. Andrew's-Sewanee sixth-grade student or contact Cindy Potter by email <cpotter@sasweb.org> or call 598-5651, ext. 1019.

SAS sixth-graders will investigate a wide variety of nonprofit organizations that are doing work in areas where the students have an interest. Students must research whom the organization benefits and how much of their donation actually goes to outreach services versus administrative overhead. In the past students have used the opportunity to support organizations that promote causes that are important to them such as the protection of animals, scientific research and the preservation of the environment.

Lectures

Lecture Celebrating Robin Gottfried on Thursday

To celebrate the recent retirement of economics professor Robin Gottfried, the Kennedy Lecture series will host a lecture by Dennis Appleyard at 4:30 p.m., Thursday, Nov. 14, in Convocation Hall. Appleyard is the Duke Professor of International Studies and Professor of Economics at Davidson College and emeritus professor of economics at the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill.

He will discuss the dynamics of domestic and international income inequality using data from 1976 and onward, paying special attention to topics of Gottfried's academic interest such as trade, development and religion.

Public Health Lecture on Monday

Melissa Ann Habel, C'02, will give a talk, "From Women's Studies to Public Health: My Journey into STD and HIV Prevention," at 4:30 p.m., Monday, Nov. 11, in Gailor Auditorium. Habel is a health scientist for the social and behavioral research and evaluation branch at the Centers for Disease Control and will speak as part of the Women's and Gender Studies Colloquium.

Neuroimaging Lecture on Wednesday

Elizabeth Ann Stringer, C'03, will give a lecture at 7 p.m., Wednesday, Nov. 13, in Woods Lab 216 on "Optimization of Functional Magnetic Resonance Imaging (fMRI) at 7 Tesla: Mapping the Human Primary Somatosensory Cortex."

After graduating from Sewanee, Stringer earned a Ph.D. in neuroscience from Vanderbilt University. During her postdoctoral appointment at Stanford, she measured the neural effects of opioid exposure using MRI and identifying biomarkers for chronic inflammatory conditions such as chronic fatigue syndrome, fibromyalgia, and Gulf War illness. Her primary research interests involve neuroimaging, pain, inflammation, addiction and opioid circuitry.

AT THE MOVIES

SEWANEE UNION THEATRE
Friday–Sunday, Nov. 8–10, 7:30 p.m.

The Heat

Rated R • 117 minutes

Sandra Bullock and Melissa McCarthy star in this girl-power version of the buddy-cop-flick with some success, according to reviews. Bullock is Ashburn, the uptight FBI agent who is unhappily partnered with McCarthy, Mullins, a foul-mouthed Boston cop. Directed by Paul Feig (“Bridesmaids”). One critic wrote, “If you’re going to make a doozy, bawdy, foul-mouthed, predictable lady-buddy-cop movie, you might as well make it funny.” Rated R for pervasive language, strong crude content and some violence.

CINEMA GUILD

Wednesday, Nov. 13, 7:30 p.m.

Night of the Living Dead (1968)

Rated R • 96 minutes • Free

Before the Zombie Apocalypse became hip (think “Walking Dead,” “World War Z” and dozens of books) there was George Romero’s “Night of the Living Dead” (1968). A brother and sister travel together to visit their father’s grave and find themselves in the middle of nowhere, being attacked by creatures that like to nibble on human flesh for fun. Extremely low-budget, very gory and shot in black-and-white, this movie’s influence is still powerful today. Rated R for violence, language and nudity.

SEWANEE UNION THEATRE

Thursday–Sunday, Nov. 7–10, 7:30 p.m.

World War Z

Rated PG-13 • 116 minutes

In this summer blockbuster, director Marc Forster (“Finding Neverland,” “Stranger Than Fiction,” “Monster’s Ball”) adapts a very popular fantasy novel into a compelling action film. Brad Pitt plays a United Nations employee who must halt a pandemic that is causing people around the world to become flesh-eating zombies. Surprisingly interesting and well-crafted, “World War Z” is a nicely modernized take on a theme that has been around for a very long time. One critic wrote, “World War Z is still as smart, shifty and scary as a starving zombie ready to chow down on you, baby, you.” Rated PG-13 for intense frightening zombie sequences, violence and disturbing images. —LW

Here, wardrobe mistress Mary Ann Peterson is fitting College student Elizabeth Layman with a Sugar Plum tutu. Herriott and cast members will be selling advance tickets for the event from 10:30 a.m. to noon, and 3:30–4:30 p.m., today (Friday), Nov. 8, at the Fowler Center. Tickets will also be available 10:30–11:30 a.m., and 3:30–6 p.m. on Wednesday–Friday, Nov. 13–15.

SCC Benefit Reading

The Sewanee Children’s Center will present a reading of “The Bone Orchard,” a screenplay written by Elyzabeth Gregory Wilder, the Tennessee Williams Playwright-in-Residence and SCC parent. The reading will be at 7 p.m., Thursday, Nov. 21, in the Proctor Hall Theatre at the Tennessee William Center in Sewanee. A reception will follow.

Tickets are $25, with a limited number of student tickets for $10. All proceeds will benefit the Sewanee Children’s Center. The reading will run approximately 90 minutes with no intermission and is not recommended for children.

For tickets, please email <sccbenefit@aol.com>.

In the screenplay, Lucy Mitchell wants to die a virgin martyr until she falls in love with the boy who’s been hired to dig her grave. Wilder has described “The Bone Orchard” as “a sweet little love story about death—sort of Juno meets Harold and Maude.” It will be performed by a cast of student actors and members of the Sewanee community, including Elise Anderson, Al Bardi, Marcia Mary Cook, Oliver Crawford, Charlotte LaNassa, David Landon, Heather Layne, Karen Pelfry Smith, Peter Smith, Cameron Swallow and Hunter Woolwine.

The Sewanee Children’s Center offers a comprehensive developmental child-care program responsive to the needs of local families and children. Wilder’s work includes “Gee’s Bend,” which was awarded the American Theatre Critics’ Association’s Osborn Award and has been produced at Hartford Stage, Denver Center Theatre, Alabama Shakespeare Festival, Arden Theatre and Arkansas Rep, among others.

Arts Notes

“Still Lives Linger Longer,” Art by Candice Lewis

The Carlos Gallery at the University of the South is pleased to present an installation and exhibition of sculptural work by St. Louis-based artist and Sewanee visiting faculty member Candice Lewis.

An opening reception and artist’s talk will be at 4:30 p.m., today (Nov. 8), in room 103 of the Nabit Art Building. The show runs through Dec. 13.

Lewis was born and raised in New Jersey. She received her BFA in ceramics and glass from the University of Illinois. She earned her graduate degree at the University of Tennessee, Knoxville, in sculpture. While attending, she was the recipient of the Ewing Fellowship twice, as well as the International Sculpture Center’s Outstanding Student in Contemporary Sculpture.

Her work has been shown nationally as well as internationally, including at the Mittelmeer Biennale in Cologne.

For more information go to <<http://gallery.sewanee.edu/>>.

Lain York Art Talk

A conversation between Lain York and Jeff Thompson will be at 4:30 p.m., Friday, Nov. 15, in Convocation Hall. A reception will follow the talk.

Inspired in part by resonances between the 2012 American presidential election campaigns and his reading about the first four American presidencies, in this exhibition York explores the idea of “a visual archive of collected images” or “an information stream.”

The Art of Us Show at IvyWild

On Sunday, Nov. 17, IvyWild is hosting “The Art of Us,” a reception and show celebrating art created by the staff of the restaurant. The event is 4–6 p.m., with dinner available after the reception.

This is the latest in the restaurant’s series on art and food, “The Art of...”. The event is free and will be catered by the artists who work at IvyWild.

Theatre/Sewanee Opens New Comedy

Theatre/Sewanee will present Jean Anouilh's comedy "Ring Round the Moon," adapted by Christopher Fry, at 7:30 p.m., today (Friday) and Saturday, Nov. 8-9, and at 2 p.m., Sunday, Nov. 10, in the Tennessee Williams Center. Performances are also scheduled at 7:30 p.m., Thursday-Saturday, Nov. 14-16.

"Ring Round the Moon" is described as a playful romp, a charade with music. It features plots and counterplots involving ballet dancers, butlers, millionaires and a multitude of charming intriguers.

Heading the large cast is Oliver Crawford as the twin brothers, Hugo and Frederic. He is joined by Pagie Wilson as an innocent, young ballet dancer and Sarah Weldon as her overbearing, brassy mother, along with Charlotte LaNasa as a spoiled millionairess and Hyatt Pyle as an eccentric patron of the arts.

Elise Anderson will appear as the mistress of the millionaire (played by Peter Smith), who has been carrying on with her lover's secretary, played by Cody Snead. Karen Pelfrey Smith is the dowager aunt of the twins, with Megan Quick as her faded companion and Jack Russell as a crumbling butler, aided by Audrey Tchoukova and Alex Linton as bumbling footmen.

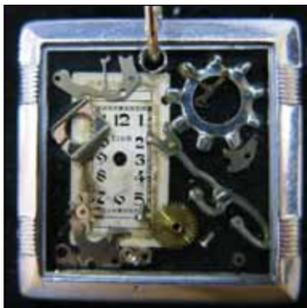

"Ring Round the Moon" is directed by Peter Smith, assisted by Beckett Scott. Scenery and lighting are designed by Dan Backlund and costumes designed by Josie Guevara-Torres. Courtney World is the choreographer, with stage management by Ruth Guerra and technical direction by John Marshall, assisted by Samantha Gribben. The event is free, but reservations are suggested by emailing <mcook@sewanee.edu>.

New Book With Local Contributors

A new book of nature essays, "The Wild Here and Now," by Susan Charkes and illustrated by Mary Priestley has been published recently.

Charkes, who lived in Sewanee in 2006, writes about nature that is right in front of people. The nature in "The Wild Here and Now" is all around: a squirrel in a tree cavity, a mayfly on the hood of a car, a turkey vulture overhead, a gnat under the collar. Both a poet and a writer of nonfiction (including several books on the outdoors), Charkes has a supple style that conveys the same quality of surprise that she finds in nature. Priestley's pen-and-ink drawings throughout capture this spirit.

Dagmar Gundersen of Tracy City also contributed to the project. "Dagmar was an invaluable editor whose deft touch both lightened and strengthened the final product," said Charkes. "The Wild Here and Now," published by Arboreality Press, is sold through Amazon.

Workshop at SAS Gallery

Aleta Chandler's day-long found object jewelry workshop at St. Andrew's-Sewanee School Gallery on Saturday, Nov. 9, still has space available. Each participant will create a pendant from a deconstructed wristwatch.

For more information or to register contact SAS Gallery director Osei Hill at 598-5651 x3151 or by email <ohill@sasweb.org>.

Chandler's show, "Vernacular Whimsy" is currently on display at the SAS gallery. Her exhibition consists of hand-built ceramic architectural forms.

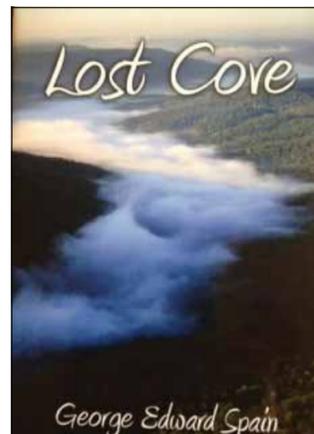

Her inspiration for "Vernacular Whimsy" comes from a style she calls "Appalachian Steampunk." The work includes architectural forms that are reminiscent of local landscapes, appreciation for the past and found objects from these areas.

The SAS Gallery is located in the center of Simmonds Hall on the St. Andrew's-Sewanee School campus. Gallery Hours are 9 a.m. to 3 p.m., Monday-Friday and by appointment. For more information go to <sasweb.org/sasgallery/index.aspx>.

Anoushka Shankar in Concert Tonight

Sitar player and composer Anoushka Shankar will perform at 7:30 p.m. today (Friday), Nov. 8, in Guerry Auditorium as part of the University's Performing Arts Series. Shankar is a leader in the World Music movement. She is deeply rooted in the Indian classical music she studied from the age of 9 under her father and guru, the legendary Ravi Shankar. As a classical sitarist she debuted professionally at the age of 13 and has performed in prestigious venues such as the Royal Albert Hall and Carnegie Hall. For more information go to <http://performingarts.sewanee.edu/>.

Rivendell Writers' Colony in Sewanee will host a reading by George Edward Spain at 2 p.m., Saturday, Nov. 9. Spain's latest book, "Lost Cove," tells the story of five generations of two families: the Vanns and Pearsons who lived and died in a Tennessee valley surrounded by mountains. A reception will follow the reading.

SAS Athletic Award Winners

Athletes at St. Andrew's-Sewanee School were recently honored with fall athletic awards. Fall teams included girls' soccer, volleyball, cross country, football, golf and, for the first time competing as a varsity sport, mountain biking.

After individual teams met with coaches prior to the event, all athletes and families met in McCrory Hall for presentation of the Most Improved Player, Most Valuable Player, and Coaches' Award winners. MIP and MVP are selected by the players on the team.

This fall SAS also celebrated special achievements in golf, volleyball and cross country.

Jenna Burris finished in third place at the TSSAA Division II Class A State Golf Championship.

Varsity volleyball finished fourth in the district and fourth out of eight teams at the Southern Slam Coffee County Volleyball Tournament. Sam Stine was selected to the Division II-A East/Middle All-District Team and All-Tournament Team. SAS Volleyball fielded its largest team ever with 27 players and nine seniors.

In cross country, Burton Dorough finished second in the Middle Tennessee Athletic Conference's Championship Race and was named to the All-Conference Second Team. Dorough and Mitchell Foster competed in the TSSAA Cross Country Regionals.

Gonzalez's First Goal Wins Game

An overtime goal by Christian Gonzalez helped the Sewanee men's soccer team to a 1-0 victory over rival Centre, Nov. 2.

Sewanee has now won two straight 1-0 matches, which improves the Tigers' overall record to 8-7-2.

Despite an onslaught of shots by Centre, Sewanee stood strong. In the overtime period, Centre missed two shots wide before Gonzalez ripped home the game-winner in the 97th minute.

Overall, the Colonels held a 31-11 advantage in shots. Centre also finished with 11 corner attempts.

Despite all those offensive tries, Sewanee keeper Holden Foster earned his seventh victory after he stopped eight shots on goal. Foster now leads the conference with in-save percentage (.831).

On offense, Gonzalez and Ford Emerson led the attack with three shots each.

Centre Gets Past Sewanee Women's Soccer

A late goal by Anne Mitchell lifted rival Centre to a 1-0 win over the Sewanee women's soccer team on Nov. 2.

The loss drops the Tigers' record to 10-5-1 overall and 3-3 in conference play. Mitchell scored the game-winner off an assist from Alex Combs in the 82nd minute.

Overall, the Colonels outshot Sewanee 22-6. Centre also managed to have 11 corner kicks.

For the Tigers, Tasha Saunders led the attack with three shots.

Offense Comes Alive in 3-0 Volleyball Sweep

Behind a season-high .425 attack percentage, the Sewanee volleyball team earned a 3-0 victory over Huntingdon on Nov. 3 to close out the 2013 regular season.

Sewanee (14-12) used its offense to take command early. The Tigers won the first two sets, 25-12 and 25-15. In the third set, the Hawks stayed in control until late. However, after chipping away all set, the Tigers closed out the match at 26-24.

Jamie Sue Wilson led the attack with a match-high 15 kills on 34 attempts. Diamond Stewart finished in double-digit kills with 11.

Sewanee also added six service aces, two by Sara Jayne Sutton and one by Stewart, Jamie Kosman, Wilson and Kayla Sewell.

Field Hockey Survives Hendrix in Overtime

An overtime goal by Karen Dawson helped the Sewanee field hockey team survive a late rally by Southern Athletic Association foe Hendrix on Nov. 3.

The Tigers pulled out the 4-3 victory when Dawson netted a shot off an assist from Mary Kate McAlister in the 82nd minute.

Maggie Boozer scored two goals off assists from Tilden Davis. After a goal by Hendrix cut the lead to 2-1, Boozer scored again.

The Warriors rallied late in the second half with two goals, including the game-tying score with no time left on the clock.

Overall, Sewanee outshot Hendrix 41-11. The Tigers also held a 25-9 advantage in corners.

Boozer finished with a career-high three goals and six points. Carrie Anderson added 12 shots, while McAlister finished with 10 attempts.

Swim Teams Place First and Second at Fowler

The Sewanee women's swimming and diving team ran away from a tough field on Nov. 2, as the Tigers won the 13th annual Sewanee Invitational inside the Fowler Center pool.

The women's team took first place with 840 points. The University of the Cumberland finished second with a 781 total.

In the men's competition, Sewanee finished second behind Cumberland with 811 points, despite having multiple top performers out.

Sewanee opened the day by winning the 200 medley relay. The Tiger team of Katy Hueske, Erin Neil, Astrid Escobar and Mallory Graves finished the event in 1:55.60, which was three seconds ahead of Cumberland.

Three races later, the Tigers won their first men's event of the day, as Mac McNally dominated the 400 IM with a time of 4:23.94.

After a third-place finish by Hueske in the 100 backstroke (1:01.86), Escobar extended Sewanee's lead with a victory in the 100 breaststroke.

Hueske then added to the Tiger advantage with a second-place finish in the 200 free. Her time of 2:02.20 was just two seconds off the winning pace set by Grace Van Ryckeghem of Cumberland.

In the next two races, Brian Glatt won the men's 200 free with a quick 1:47.73 time, while Neil earned a victory in the women's 200 butterfly (2:19.01).

In the men's 200 fly, Evan Escobar and McNally added additional points when they finished in second (2:03.58) and third place (2:05.14).

In the next men's event, McNally continued to swim well as he won the 500 freestyle with a time of 4:58.08.

Glatt then continued the Tigers' momentum with a second-place finish in the 100 free (48.03).

In the women's 200 backstroke, Escobar touched the wall just ahead of teammate Chloe Stevenson with a winning mark of 2:28.82.

That top-two finish, along with a second-place finish by Hueske in the women's 200 backstroke, helped the Tigers earn 54 points.

In the final race of the two-day meet, the Tigers' A freestyle relay squad of McNally, Michael Whitehead, Edward Dennis and Glatt finished second with a time of 1:31.81. In fact, their mark was only 0.56 seconds behind winner Cumberland.

Cross-Country Women Finish Second, Men Fourth

Led by four All-SAA finishers, the Sewanee men's and women's cross country teams had an outstanding showing at the Southern Athletic Association Cross Country Conference Championships at the Clara Bowl, on Nov. 2.

In the women's race, the Tigers finished in second place for the second consecutive season. In the men's competition, Sewanee closed out the conference season in fourth place.

Willow Smith (23:45.81) earned all-conference honors with a seventh place finish. Ansley McDurmon (23:46.93), who finished eighth, and Amy Lee, who placed 14th were named to the all-conference team.

Caroline Roberts (17th) and Alexandra Bingham (18th) ran fantastic races. In the men's race, Jason Grimes (27:24.09) earned all-conference honors with his 15th place finish.

The Tigers raced hard finishing two places higher than at last year's championships. Mark McAlister (27:57.18) and Alec Hill (28:03.06) finished 22nd and 23rd, respectively. Logan Stockton (28th) and Terry Cronin (44th) closed out the men's top five.

NATURENOTES

By Harry and Jean Yeatman

Carolina Mantis

"What the bugs are up to now," Jean Yeatman reports, "is preparing their species to survive the winter in one form or another. I found a Carolina Praying Mantis depositing her egg mass on a large branch. She will die afterwards. This was good to see, as the Asian Mantis, which is much larger, has almost displaced our Carolina Praying Mantis in some places. I was on the dock at Lake Eva watching a pair of dragonflies bobbing up and down to the water's surface so the female could deposit her eggs into the water, when out of the grass a large blue-legged water spider made a lunge for them, but missed. They were flying in tandem with the female in the rear so she could deposit her eggs. When the weather gets very cold, they will die.

"Have you noticed long single strands of spiderweb glistening on the branches of trees? This is caused by a young spider sending out a long strand of web and floating on the breeze to another location. It is called 'ballooning.' Now the youngster must find a safe place to overwinter.

"The plague of ladybugs in the fall are trying to find a safe place for the winter. Don't let these bugs get on your skin as they will bite."

State Park Offerings

Saturday, Nov. 9

Stone Door Fall Foliage Hike— Meet hike leader Naullain Kendrick at 9 a.m. at Stone Door ranger station. Hike the Laurel Trail out to Alum Gap and then hike the Big Creek Rim trail back to Stone Door, an easy seven-mile loop. Bring lunch and plenty of water.

Savage Gulf Day Loop Trail— Meet hike leader Emily Herman at 1 p.m. for this easy hike which gives the hiker a great variety of features and two beautiful overlooks. Look for animal signs and identify some of the native plant species growing along the trail while you enjoy the fall color. Bring water and a snack.

Sassy

Tinkerbell

Pets of the Week

Meet Sassy and Tinkerbell

The Franklin County Humane Society's Animal Harbor offers these two delightful pets for adoption.

Sassy is a darling little Chihuahua and Pug mix. She is used to living indoors and using potty pads, but she has a lot of energy, so some outside playtime would be good for her, too. Sassy is up-to-date on shots and spayed.

Tinkerbell is a grand Southern lady, very neat and tidy and extremely polite. Her wonderful manners may be due to her being 5 years old and past the naughty kitten stage. She had been declawed in front when she was rescued, so she must stay indoors. Tinkerbell is negative for FeLV and FIV, house-trained, up-to-date on shots and spayed.

For a limited time, two kittens may be adopted together for one adoption fee of $75. Having two kittens is better than one because they play together and keep each other company. Adult cats may be adopted for a $40 fee during this special.

Animal Harbor is running an adoption special to honor the men and women of our armed services. Regular adoption fees will be discounted 50 percent for active and retired military personnel from Friday, Nov. 8, through Thursday, Nov. 14. Animal Harbor is closed on Sundays and Mondays.

Every Friday is Black Friday at Animal Harbor. On Fridays, adoption fees will be reduced 50 percent for black or mostly black pets more than 4 months old who have been at Animal Harbor for more than a month. Pets adopted from Animal Harbor qualify for a free post-adoption wellness exam by local veterinarians.

Call Animal Harbor at 962-4472 for information and check out the other pets at <www.animalharbor.com>. Enter their drawing on this site for a free spay or neuter for one of your pets. Please help the Humane Society continue to save abandoned pets by sending your donations to the Franklin County Humane Society, P. O. Box 187, Winchester, TN 37398.

BARDTOVERSE

by Phoebe Bates

The leaves are falling, falling as from way off,
as though from gardens withered in the skies;
they are falling with denying gestures.

And in the night the heavy earth is falling from all the stars down into loneliness.

We are falling, This hand falls.
And look at others: it is in them all.

And yet there is one who holds this falling endlessly gently in his hand.

—Rainer Maria Rilke,
translated by M.D. Herter Norton
