‘Familiar Faces’ at University Art Gallery

The University Art Gallery presents “Familiar Faces,” an exhibition by Atlanta-based artist Jiha Moon. At 5 p.m., today (Friday), Jan. 25, in Convocation Hall, Jiha Moon will speak about her work. Alison Miller of the department of art, art history and visual studies will lead the conversation to follow. The event is free and open to the public.

Freely combining imagery, techniques and materials from disparate places and cultural registers, Moon questions the value of origins. She draws pictorial references from sources as seemingly distinct as Korean temple paintings and Walt Disney cartoons, synthesizing them into a visual language that is both strange and familiar. Her materials are equally synthetic and hard to pin down, acrylic paint applied to traditional Korean mulberry paper Hanji, or ceramics that reference multiple world traditions. Self-described as a “cartographer of cultures and an icon maker of fictive worlds,” Moon “purposefully create(s) images whose origins are hard to identify.” Identity is treated as slippery and shifting, impossible to pin to geographic location, citizenship, ethnicity, or race. The exhibit will be on display through March 11.

The University Art Gallery is located on Georgia Avenue. The gallery is free, accessible, and open to the public. Hours are 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. Tuesday through Friday and noon–4 p.m. on Saturday and Sunday. Please note that the UAG is closed during academic breaks. For more information, please visit the website at <gallery.sewanee.edu>, or follow UAG on Facebook and Instagram.

SUD Considers Legislative Action on Term Limits

*by Leslie Lytle
Messenger Staff Writer*

At the Jan. 22 meeting, the Sewanee Utility District (SUD) Board of Commissioners discussed pursuing legislative action to remove the stipulation barring a commissioner from serving more than two consecutive terms. Difficulty in finding candidates to run for commissioner in the recent election and low voter turnout prompted the debate.

Commissioners Randall Henley and Ronnie Hoosier ran for reelection unopposed. The call for candidates was published monthly in the Messenger beginning in September and announced since October on customer bills. No other candidates stepped forward.

Equally disturbing to the board, only three votes were cast in this election.

“Three votes is not acceptable when something as critical as water production and wastewater treatment is at stake,” said Commissioner Paul Evans.

Henley and Hoosier were both elected for a second term. Law bars them from serving another con-

University of the South & Vogue Tower to Bring Verizon to Sewanee

Franklin County has approved a proposal to build a cellular tower on campus behind the football stadium. While the proposal still requires the National Environmental Policy Act (NEPA) and State Historic Preservation Office approval, construction plans are underway with an early summer completion date expected. In April 2018, the Sewanee Community Council was updated on the project; work on the details of the plan has continued since then. (See April 27, 2018 issue.)

The tower project is a collaboration led by the University and Vogue Tower and includes Franklin County, Verizon, and Franklin County Emergency Management. The effort aims to bring Verizon and other cellular providers, such as Sprint & T-Mobile, in addition to improved emergency communications, to the community.

The location of the tower will

The Frame Gallery: A Year in Art

by Sarah Beavers, Messenger Staff Writer

On Jan. 22, Harriet Runkle celebrated the one-year anniversary of opening the Frame Gallery. She bought the frame shop, formerly known as Corners, from Mindy Melton, and expanded the business beyond framing.

When opening the Frame Gallery, Runkle set out with three goals to accomplish: to provide a place for custom framing, a gallery space for local artists, and a place for children to create art.

In her first year, Runkle has accomplished the first two goals and seeks to expand hosting activities where children can create art. While an elementary school teacher in Arlington, Va., and a preschool teacher in inner-city Memphis, she encouraged her students to be creative and would host shows of student’s work for their parents. As an educator and artist, she opened the Frame Gallery with the vision of providing a space for local artists of all ages to exhibit their work and celebrate the creative tradition in Sewanee.

After a year in business, the “Framing Gals” (Harriet and Rea Mingeve) have restored art, hosted painting groups, installed gallery walls in homes, and worked with the Sewanee Elementary School and the Sewanee Children’s Center students to upcycle/recycle art.

Other shows that have graced the front wall included the photography of John Willis, a pop-up art sale with a variety of works from the local community, and Martha Keeble’s painting group, which highlighted how many artists there are in the area.

“I am so appreciative of the support from the community and the University,” Harriet said. “I am grateful to live in a community that loves and appreciates art.”

It is clear from the warm and happy atmosphere in the shop, and Harriet and Rea’s passion for art and fostering creativity, that the Frame Gallery is a true gem.

All are invited to enjoy the local art at the Frame Gallery whether you need a frame or not, and take advantage of the monthly showings in the front room. For the month of February, Mary Priestley will be showing illustrations from her new book “Sewanee Wildflowers in Watercolor.” At the opening reception from 5:30–7 p.m., Friday, Feb. 1, there will be a book signing, and prints and note cards will also be sold.

The Frame Gallery also specializes in archival framing and restorations, art consulting and installation. The Frame Gallery is located at 12569 Sollace M. Freeman Hwy., Sewanee. The frame shop and gallery’s regular hours are 10 a.m. to 5 p.m., Tuesday through Friday, and 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. on Saturday.

MOUNTAIN TOP WRESTLING A SUCCESS

To the Editor:

The 38th annual Mountain Top Wrestling Classic Invitational was this past weekend (Jan. 19) with 16 teams participating from all across the state. I would like to personally thank all the volunteers who continually make this a successful event year after year, especially the team leaders:

Ty Burnette (head table), Harrison Camp (mat tables, information tech and gym organizer), Tammy Williams (hospitality food for all coaches refs and volunteers), and Ray Val (mat setups). A big thanks to St. Andrew's-Sewanee and their athletic department (Rob Zeitler and Margot Burns) for hosting this event. Looking forward to next year!

Dan Barry, SAS Mountain Top Wrestling Invitational Organizer

Tigers Don't Leave Tracks

Tigers Don't Leave Tracks! held another draw for the Reusable Bag Contest at the Piggly Wiggly on Jan. 18, and Mrs. Godfrey's second grade students all won sturdy reusable Klean Kanteen water bottles.

Students at Sewanee Elementary would love to have your help reducing single-use plastics waste, from plastic shopping bags to single-use water bottles to straws. Little changes make a big difference.

Bring your reusable bags to the Piggly Wiggly and other local businesses. Mooney's, The Lemon

Fair, Village Wine and Spirits and Monteagle Wine and Spirits are all making donations to the school every time you do. When you bring your own bags to the Piggly Wiggly, write the name of a teacher or a class on the back of your receipt (grade 2, Mrs. Camp's class, Principal's Choice) and put it in the TDLT jar at the front of the store. Together we can get reusable water bottles to all the kids in the school, and together we can reduce our use.

Thank you for supporting Tigers Don't Leave Tracks!

PROPOSED CELL TOWER

To the Editor:

There is a movement afoot in the heart of the Sewanee community that has been carried out with virtually no transparency—and it affects us all. The University has been in communication with Vogue Towers about construction of a cell tower ranging from 185 feet to 199 feet, depending on which account one considers.

The site (which they claim is the only site on the Domain) is in the shot put area at the south side of the football field.

There are a number of valid objections to this site.

1. It is alarmingly close to the home of a leaseholder.

2. This site is in a highly visible area of our beautiful campus. Why would the University accept this location as the only possibility?

3. This site would negatively impact our historic football field and the park area where families tailgate, and many community and student groups gather. Vogue Towers proposes a concrete pad, an access road, an 8-foot chain link fence, topped by barbed wire surrounding a generator, and a monopole with a flashing light.

A first step in lifting your voice would be to attend the Community Council at 7 p.m., Monday, Jan. 28, at the Senior Citizens Center.

VICIOUS CYCLES

To the Editor:

Power once wrested from oppressive entities can be reapplied in beneficial manners. But, once the lust for more and more kicks in and the once-downtrodden become domineering, vengeful intimidating and tyrannical towards their fellow countrymen, they have defeated the very purpose of their original mission by becoming the very thing they originally fought against.

Endless cycles throughout history have proven this progression. All the "isms," "ocracies" and "ologies" notwithstanding, the goals remain the same, and the results—continued divisions, hostility and violence—prevail.

When will we/they ever learn?

Correction

From the Jan. 18, 2018 issue, we have the following correction:

Rev. Linda Hutton was called to the seminary in 1996 as the director of the adult learning at a distance program called "Disciples of Christ in Community." She also was in adjunct faculty, teaching Christian Education/Formation, Leadership Skills, Boundary Issues, and as a Meyers Briggs Trainer.

We regret the omission.

We're glad you're reading the Messenger!

Letters to the Editor Policy

Letters to the editor are welcome at the Sewanee Mountain Messenger and are a vital part of our community's conversation. Letters need to be no longer than 250 words and may be edited for space and clarity. We make exceptions from time to time, but these are our general guidelines.

Thirst for Knowledge

It's a bird! It's a plane! It's a... mathematician? According to Professor of Mathematics Catherine Cavagnaro, aviation and computation are more related than you might think.

When she's not in the (gravity-bound) classroom, Catherine is Chief Flight Instructor at Ace Aerobatic School, located in the Sewanee-Franklin County Airport. At the January Thirst for Knowledge, she'll share how she combines math and aviation, including how math led her to inadvertently set an aviation world record.

All are welcome to this month's Thirst for Knowledge event at 7 p.m., Wednesday, Jan. 30 at the Blue Chair.

Sewanee Woman's Club Meeting Feb. 11

The Sewanee Woman's Club will meet at noon, Monday, Feb. 11, at the Dubose Center in Monteagle.

The speaker will be Paula Sedita, who describes herself as an educator by training and a puppy raiser by choice. She is a Florida native who relocated to the Sewanee area 2 1/2 years ago. Paula is currently raising her fifth puppy for Southeastern Guide Dogs, which provides well trained dogs for veterans and the visually impaired at no cost to recipients.

Her program is titled "From Ball of Fur to Super Hero." Come meet her current pup. Learn what a puppy raiser does. Learn what a service dog is and is not, and learn proper service dog etiquette.

The deadline for reservations is Feb. 1. The cost of lunch is $14. Please make reservations by responding to Glyn Ruppe Melnyk at <g.ruppemelnyk2015@gmail.com> or to Janet Miller Schmidt at (504) 858-5221. Childcare is available upon request in advance.

The menu for February's luncheon is cucumber and tomato salad, grilled chicken parmesan, lemon roasted potatoes, steamed broccoli, cheddar garlic biscuits, and chocolate mousse with fresh strawberries.

Lifelong Learning Meeting

On Thursday, Feb. 7, the Sewanee Seminars Academy for Lifelong Learning will welcome Brandy Tiernan. Her presentation is titled, "In an Aging State of Mind: Insights from Cognitive Science on living 'day by day.'"

Tiernan is assistant professor of psychology and chair of the neuroscience program at the University of the South. She earned a B.A. in psychology from the University of North Texas, an M.A. in experimental psychology from Western Kentucky University, and a Ph.D. in cognitive psychology from Iowa State University.

Please join us for what will certainly be a fascinating and illuminating discussion.

SCA Meeting Feb. 7

The Sewanee Civic Association (SCA) will meet at 5:30 p.m., Thursday, Feb. 7, at St. Mark's Hall, Otey Parish. Social time with wine begins at 5:30 p.m., followed by dinner and a brief business meeting. The dinner and meeting are free and open to the public. Free children's activities will also be available. Please RSVP by Friday, Feb. 1, to <sewanee civic@gmail.com>.

John K. Coffey will present the program on "Surviving Fog: Finding Happiness in the Midst of Winter."

Coffey is an assistant professor of psychology at The University of the South. He is the second person to earn a Ph.D. in positive developmental psychology and is a past-president of IPPA's Student Division. Coffey earned a masters in social work at the University of Michigan. He applied what he learned to his work as a child and family therapist before pursuing his Ph.D. in positive developmental psychology at Claremont Graduate University. Presenting at international conferences and publishing in a wide range of journals, Coffey has been highly active in the fields of positive and developmental psychology. Coffey's research focuses on understanding and promoting well-being from infancy into adulthood. To do so, he merges theories from positive, developmental, and social psychology with a focus on emotions and relationships across the lifespan. His research often spans three or more decades. He has partnered with organizations to build online and in person interventions to promote well-being for adults and children.

Coffey will discuss the science of finding/achieving happiness in the depths of winter on the Cumberland Plateau. The information presented will be beneficial during all seasons of the year and throughout the whole lifespan.

Church News

Growing in Grace continues Jan. 27, at 6:30 p.m. in All Saints' Chapel. Eva Kendrick, Human Rights Campaign's Alabama State Manager, will be sharing her reflections with us. This informal worship service is designed for students and community members, featuring student-led acoustic music, a different guest speaker each week, and Holy Communion. This semester, each of our speakers will meditate on the theme of Moving Mountains. Inspired by Matthew 17:20, "...if you have faith the size of a mustard seed, you will say to this mountain, 'Move from here to there,' and it will move; and nothing will be impossible for you." Our speakers will consider when they have witnessed God move mountains. Together, we will reflect on times that our own mustard seed-sized faiths have been catalysts for growth, gratitude, and love in our communities and within ourselves. Email Lay Chaplain Kayla Deep if you have any questions.

The Catechumenate will meet this Wednesday, Jan. 30, at 7 p.m. in the Women's Center. Based around fellowship, study, openness, and conversation, the Catechumenate serves as a foundational piece for the Christian faith, as well as a forum for discussion for people of all backgrounds. This week we will learn more about the Trinity. All are welcome! For more information, please contact Lay Chaplain Kayla Deep at <kayla.deep@sewanee.edu>.

Christ Church

On Sunday, Jan. 27, the Gospel lesson in the calendar which Christ Church keeps is the account of the first miracle which Jesus did at the wedding in Cana. "And at Cana wedding guest in His Godhead manifest," is a line from a well known Epiphany hymn. Bishop William Millsaps will speak about this manifestation of the light of God and how and where we can be open to manifestations today. Next Sunday, Candlemas, will be the focus as the story of Christ being presented as a tiny child is celebrated. The feast day is really Feb. 2, known as Groundhog Day. The service begins around 10:30 a.m. and lunch is served at noon.

Otey Parish

This Sunday, Jan. 27, infants 6 weeks to children 4 years old are invited to the nursery beginning at 8:30 a.m. There will be nursery for both services and the Sunday School Hour. Children ages 3-11 are invited to join us in the Godly Play 2 room, next to the Adult Education room. Youth Ministry meets in Brooks Hall.

The Adult Forum on Jan. 27, will be in celebration of James Hervey Otey, for whom the parish is named. He was the first bishop of the Episcopal Diocese of Tennessee and one of the principal founders of the University of the South. Members of the Bishop Otey Society will contribute to the occasion. Historian Howard Lotti, who has researched and written on the bishop's life and career, will make a presentation titled "Bishop Otey: A Deeper Look." Special refreshments will be served. The Adult Forum meets from 9:45 to 10:45 a.m. in St. Mark's Hall in the parish house at Otey Memorial Parish. All are welcome!

Unitarian Universalist

The Unitarian Universalist Church of Tullahoma's speaker this Sunday will be Doug Traversa on "All of Genesis in One Sermon, Part 2." The service begins Sunday at 10 a.m., followed by refreshments and a discussion period. The church is located at 3536 New Manchester Hwy., Tullahoma. For more information, call (931) 455-8626, or visit the church's website at <www.tullahomauu.org>.

St. Olaf Choir Tickets Available

The famous St. Olaf Choir will be starting their winter tour this Thursday, Jan. 31, at All Saints' Chapel. This special recital is a ticketed event and will feature the 75 voice choir under the direction of Anton Armstrong. The members of the choir are full-time undergraduate students who rehearse five times weekly. The start time for the recital is 7:30 p.m. Tickets are available to purchase on the St. Olaf website <https://wp.stolaf.edu/stolaf-choir/>, or by calling 800-363-5487 (a $5 transaction fee will be added to all phone orders).

Paths of Grace

Using Biblical stories, and our own, we will reflect on the ways God has surprised us in our lives. Join us as we explore how God writes straight with crooked lines. We will meet for four weeks in February: Thursdays from 10:30 a.m. to noon, beginning Feb. 7 in the Otey Parish Hall. Our time will be facilitated by Polly Robb, senior seminarian, and Cynthia Crysdale, seminary Professor. This program is sponsored jointly by Otey Memorial Parish and Folks at Home.

Folks in all ages and stages of life are welcome. Please register in advance by contacting <assitantfolksathome@gmail.com> or calling (931) 598-0303. Walk-ins are welcome.

Good Shepherd Mardi Gras

On Saturday, March 2, from 6–11 p.m., the Good Shepherd Parish Community will host its Mardis Gras fundraiser at Monterey Station in Cowan.

This popular event features a gourmet a la carte buffet with traditional Cajun cuisine, decadent desserts, a silent auction, live entertainment, cash bar, dancing, and costumes.

Tickets are $45 in advance or $50 at the door. For more information go to <https://www.goodshepherdtn.com/mardi-gras-fundraiser>.

be tucked away in the rear tailgate area of Sewanee's Harris Stadium (football stadium) on the far side of the shotput area. The location was selected in partnership with Verizon engineers to maximize on-campus and Domain coverage and to address the needs of Franklin County emergency communications, and in consideration of environmental and FAA regulations. Several locations were explored and proposed as part of the process, and this location was selected to maximize coverage. While there is no perfect location for a cell tower, a water tower, or a power line, wireless connectivity has become a basic utility that is needed for the safety and connectivity of the community.

The proposed tower will be approximately 189 feet tall, with a 60 feet by 60 feet fenced area and landscaping around the open side of it. The tower will not be lit. The tower company is responsible for maintenance, repairs, and liability related to the tower.

Patient of the Month

"I have been a nurse for 46 years and the wear on my back from lifting has been terrible. But in August 2018, I pulled my back getting out of my car and the pain was severe. I couldn't walk without severe pain, couldn't stand or sit. I went to the doctor, had X-rays and had two weeks of steroids and muscle relaxers without relief. I was in misery. I had heard great things about Dr. Shull and I called the office. The staff was so kind and helpful and got me in to see him that morning. After that first treatment by Dr. Shull, I was able to walk with decreased pain. I could straighten up with decreased pain. After each treatment the pain got so much better until I'm finally able to do the things I haven't been able to do for 5 months. I can take my walks and have outings with my family with little back pain. Thank you Dr. Shull!"—Glenda Click

Mountain Goat Trail Race Weekend Set for April 13-14

Mountain Goat Trail Race Weekend, sponsored by Mountain Outfitters, will take place April 13-14.

The sixth annual Mountain Goat Trail Run & Walk, featuring a 5-mile run and 2-mile walk, will be held on Saturday, April 13. The second annual Mountain Goat Trail Half Marathon will be held on Sunday, April 14. All proceeds will go to the Mountain Goat Trail Alliance (MGTA) to aid their efforts to complete the Trail.

"Last year's race weekend brought the first official half-marathon to the Mountain, and the event was well-received, in spite of chilly weather. With the long-standing support of Mountain Outfitters, we plan to make this second Race Weekend even better," said Patrick Dean, executive director of the MGTA.

The 5-mile run will begin at 10 a.m. in downtown Sewanee; the 2-mile walk will begin at 10 a.m. at Pearl's Fine Dining. Both will finish at Mountain Outfitters in Monteagle. Prizes will be awarded for fastest men's and women's finisher. Drawings for outdoor gear from Mountain Outfitters and presentation of awards are planned after the finish of the run & walk.

The half-marathon (13.1 miles) will begin at 7 a.m. in Sewanee and follow the Mountain Goat Trail and approximately two miles of public roads before finishing on the newest section of the Mountain Goat Trail in downtown Tracy City.

Saturday night's event features music and food at Baggenstoss Farms, in a collaboration between the MGTA and Friends of South Cumberland to raise funds for a connector between the Trail and the Fiery Gizzard Trail. More details and activities will be announced as they are added.

secutive term, although they could seek re-election after sitting out for a full four-year term.

"How do we get people to serve as commissioner without dragging them into the process?" asked SUD manager Ben Beavers.

If no candidates step forward to serve as commissioner, appointment of commissioners falls to the county mayor. The mayor can appoint anyone who lives in the county. The appointee would not need to reside in the Sewanee Utility District and would not need to be a SUD customer.

Commissioner Art Hanson pointed out that by "keeping commissioner selection as an election process" the customers had a voice.

Evans questioned whether reducing the term length from four to two years might make people more willing to serve on the board. Changing the term length would also require a legislative action.

A year ago, Board President Charlie Smith consulted with then State Representative David Alexander about removing the two consecutive term stipulation. Alexander advised Smith "broad public support" would be needed to usher in a change.

Given the apparent apathy, Smith proposed a more effective strategy would be to rally the water utilities struggling with the same issue. Of more than 200 water utilities, only eight are governed by elected boards. All others boards are appointed.

In a related discussion, Smith encouraged the commissioners to support the Tennessee Utility Political Action Committee (TUPAC), the lobbying group for public utilities.

"TUPAC looks after our interests," Smith said.

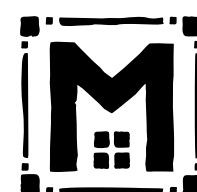

Beavers noted that without TUPAC's influence the legislature would have "changed how SUD elects commissioners and made all water boards appointed."

Updating the board on the waterline replacement project, Beavers said all the main lines had been tested and passed inspection. He anticipated all taps would be tied in by the end of next week and clean up and seeding would take an additional two weeks.

SUD undertook the $666,835 project without taking out a loan by drawing on cash reserves. Aging, constricted, leak prone cast-iron water lines on South and North Carolina Avenues, Clara's Point Road, and Florida Avenue were replaced.

SUD's long term budget projects tackling the aging, leak-prone waterlines on Tennessee Avenue in 2020. "That will give the cash reserves a chance to recover from the current project," Beavers said. Again, SUD intends to complete the project without a loan.

The next SUD board meeting is Tuesday, Feb. 26. Go to the website at <<http://www.sewaneeutility.org>> for more information.

Lecture on 'Slavery and the South Carolina Rice Plantation' Jan. 29

Daniel Littlefield, Carolina Professor of History at the University of South Carolina, will give a lecture on "Slavery and the South Carolina Rice Plantation" at 4:30 p.m., Tuesday, Jan. 29, in Gailor Auditorium. All are invited.

Littlefield has been at USC since 1999. He teaches United States history, including seminars in American colonial history, and a course on Comparative Plantation Societies. He is the author of "Revolutionary Citizens: African Americans," (1776-1804) and "Rice and Slaves: Ethnicity and the Slave Trade in Colonial South Carolina."

Littlefield has also published articles, encyclopedia entries, book reviews, and book chapters. His chapter on "John Jay, the Revolutionary Generation and Slavery" was the co-winner of the Kerr Prize of the New York State Historical Association for best article in New York History, January 2000. His current research focuses on men of the revolutionary generation and their relationship to slavery.

Views on Adapting to Business Challenges Lecture

Mike Deimler, P'14, a senior partner and managing director in the Atlanta office of the Boston Consulting Group (BCG), will speak at 4:30 p.m., Monday, Feb. 4, in the Torian Room in duPont Library. Deimler's presentation, "When the Game Gets Tough, Change the Game," will offer insights into creating business success with agile leadership. The lecture is free and open to the public and will be followed by a reception to meet Deimler, the Babson Center's Bryan Viewpoints Speaker for the 2019 Easter Semester.

BCG is one of the world's top management consulting firms, with locations in more than 50 countries. Deimler joined the firm in 1990 after earning his M.B.A. at the University of Pennsylvania's Wharton School of Business. From 2005 until 2013, he was the Global Leader of BCG's Strategy Practice.

In his leadership role, Deimler guided the firm's investment agenda and training curriculum related to implementing programs driving growth and change. BCG is considered to be among the innovators in strategic planning and corporate strategy, developing many of the key concepts used today to assist companies in adapting to dynamic business environments.

At BCG, Deimler provides guidance to a broad range of companies, particularly those seeking to enter new Asian markets and the travel industry. In 2000, he played a senior role in the initial launch of Orbitz.com, a travel fare website and travel search engine. Deimler was also instrumental in the acquisition of Atlanta-based BrightHouse, a management consulting company, which happens to be led by Sewanee alumni and offers internships to Sewanee undergraduates.

Deimler is the principal editor of "Own the Future," a 2013 book on the attributes required to gain a competitive advantage in today's turbulent marketplace while building sustainable businesses. In 2005, he coedited the bestselling book "The Boston Consulting Group on Strategy," a curated compilation of BCG's best thinking on strategy topics. Deimler is also the author of "Adaptive Advantage: Winning Strategies for Uncertain Times."

In addition to his work with for-profit firms, Deimler also advises numerous nonprofit organizations, including the Boy Scouts of America, Feeding America, and Opportunity International, on strategy and direction.

The Bryan Viewpoints Speaker Series is sponsored by the Babson Center for Global Commerce and is made possible by a generous gift from Peggy and J.F. Bryan IV, C'65.

State Museum Quilt and Story Exhibition

The Tennessee State Museum's first new exhibition since its grand opening will be "Between the Layers: Art and Story in Tennessee Quilts." Slated to open Feb. 8 and run through May 27 with quilts selected from the Museum's vast collection, the show will highlight Tennessee's quilt artistry and the stories embedded in those quilts, across more than two centuries and all three grand divisions of the state.

The Tennessee State Museum, on the corner of Rosa L. Parks Boulevard and Jefferson Street at Bicentennial Capitol Mall State Park, is home to 13,000 years of Tennessee art and history. Through six permanent exhibitions titled Natural History, First Peoples, Forging a Nation, The Civil War and Reconstruction, Change and Challenge and Tennessee Transforms, the Museum takes visitors on a journey — through artifacts, films, interactive displays, events and educational programming — from the state's geological beginnings to the present day. Additional temporary exhibitions explore significant periods and individuals in history, along with art and cultural movements. The Museum is free and open to the public Tuesday, Wednesday, Friday and Saturday from 10 a.m.–5 p.m., Thursday from 10 a.m.–8 p.m. and Sunday from 1–5 p.m. For more information on exhibitions and events, go to tnmuseum.org.

Balance and Fall Prevention

Folks at Home and Emerald-Hodgson Hospital are sponsoring a lecture on Balance and Fall Prevention. Presented by Lisa Hartman, P.T., the lecture is part of the Folks at Home 2019 Campaign for Balance. It will cover the effects of aging on balance and what can be done to improve one's balance and prevent falls as one ages.

The lecture will be from 1:30–2:30 p.m., Tuesday, Feb. 5, at the Sewanee Senior Center.

The Sewanee Review Staff to Speak at Friends of the Library Meeting

Friends of the Library invites the public to attend a talk by the staff of The Sewanee Review at 4:30 p.m., Wednesday, Jan. 30, in the Torian Room, on the second floor of duPont Library. A reception will follow the talk.

Adam Ross is the editor of the Sewanee Review as well as the author of the novel "Mr. Peanut" and the short story collection "Ladies and Gentleman." A native of New York City, Adam holds an M.A. and M.F.A. in creative writing from Hollins University and Washington University respectively, and has held fellowships both at Princeton University as a Hodder Fellow and at the American Academy of Berlin.

Eric Smith is the managing editor at the Sewanee Review. Eric has taught at Marshall University in Huntington, W. Va., and is the founder and former editor of the journal cellopoems. His first collection of poems, "Black Hole Factory," was published by University of Tampa Press in 2018. A Georgia native, Eric holds a master's from the University of Northern Michigan, and an M.F.A. from the University of Florida.

Annie Adams is an assistant editor for the Sewanee Review and a 2017 graduate of the University of the South. Annie grew up in San Antonio, Texas and writes short fiction and book reviews.

Spencer Hupp is an assistant editor for the Sewanee Review. Originally from Little Rock, Ark., Spencer graduated from the University of the South in 2017. He writes poetry and occasional criticism.

Hellen Wainaina is an editorial assistant for the Sewanee Review. She graduated from the University of the South in 2018 with degrees in English and Music. With roots in Houston, Texas and Dar-Es-Salaam, Tanzania, Hellen is interested in literary criticism and postcolonial literature.

More information about the Friends of the Library can be found at <http://libguides.sewanee.edu/FOL>. For questions about the lecture or joining the Friends, contact Tim Garner at (931) 598-1265 or tegarner@sewanee.edu.

Opening Talk for 'Sewanee's Historic Houses'

University Archives and Special Collections at the University of the South will open an exhibit of "Sewanee's Historic Houses" at 5:30 p.m., Thursday, Feb. 7, in the Lytle Room in University Archives.

Chris Van de Ven, GIS instructor and Landscape Analysis Lab manager, and Molly Elkins, C'18, will present an interactive map of historic houses in Sewanee, along with an ArcGIS driving tour of these dwellings. Bran and Cindy Potter, Virginia Craighill, and Nancy Gailor Cortner will speak about their historic homes. A reception will follow. The Sewanee Trust for Historic Preservation is a co-sponsor of the event.

The exhibition runs from Feb. 4 through July 31, 2019.

A few weeks after I first moved back to Sewanee in 1964, a fellow faculty member came to visit to solicit my pledge for the Community Chest. He explained its history and what the funds were used for. He was a bit surprised when I agreed to contribute 1 percent of my salary (the suggested rate, which he attributed to Vice Chancellor Guerry).

My reasons for supporting the Community Chest include the increase in the quality of life the supported organizations provide; the fact that I am not bombarded as often by requests for donations from local organizations; and my inclination to share my limited wealth to a selection of organizations I believe in.

A Break in the Weather

Why do I feel like this winter has already gone on for more than its season's worth? I am so ready for spring. Yes? And like the women at the beginning of the film (and book) "Enchanted April" whom we see splashing through the cold rain of yet another dismal London day, I want bright cheery weather, and I want it now.

Unlike those women, I'm not about to whisk off to a Mediterranean paradise complete with brilliant sunshine, lush greenery, and someone else's cooking. The closest I'm getting to that at the moment is in the novels of Elizabeth Cadell. Born in Calcutta and educated in England, Cadell spent many of her adult years in Portugal, and that sunny landscape is found in several of her novels. Her first was published in 1946, and she wrote 51 more before her death in 1989, so there are plenty to choose from. Those I've read contain what seem to be her trademarks: quirky characters, quick wit, and plot twists which have critics likening her to a combination of fellow Brits Margery Sharp, Nancy Mitford and P. G. Wodehouse.

A frequent theme of hers is the turning upside down of a staid protagonist's life by an unlooked-for encounter with a stranger in an unfamiliar place. In one of my favorites, "The Toy Sword," a rather stodgy thirty-something engaged to a battle axe of a society girl has his organized existence shattered when a young English woman comes riding in on a donkey as he travels to his inherited property in Portugal.

In "Come Be My Guest," shy, obsessive gardener Mr. Channing is forced by his family to leave the security of his vegetables and take his youngest daughter abroad when a Scottish Earl objects to her engagement to his grandson. They travel to a little town in Portugal where they are invited to stay at the villa of a Baronessa they met en route. The visit turns out to be not at all what they—or we—expect. In addition to the plot twists, the novel is full of the "wine and sunshine" of a southern European village, with gardens Mr. Channing sees as an orchestra "whose instruments are little blue horns, large scarlet trumpets, pale yellow bells."

I also loved "The Corner Shop," Lucille Abbey, the citified owner of a secretarial firm, travels to rural Hampshire to find out why all the women she's sent to work for a professor keep returning. The novel eventually involves a madcap search for some missing paintings, a decision about Lucille's engagement to a London stockbroker, and a melange of other young women she meets in her aunt's Parisian corner shop.

"Mrs. Westerby Changes Course" introduces us to another secretary, this time in a London publishing house (Cadell worked as one for a time). Her life is almost literally blown apart in the collision of the sweet, modest author she is responsible for transporting through the Pyrenees with the overblown, over-loud, over-exaggerated but still endearing Mrs. Westerby.

Cadell's novels aren't necessarily easy to find, though DuPont has several in the basement stacks. But they're available on Kindle and thanks to pressures from her fans, are being re-issued in attractive paperbacks. They are well worth seeking out, if only for diversion from this soggy winter.

Teaching Our Children to Read, GC Imagination Library

The Grundy County Imagination Library has received a Delta Dental Bigger Smiles Grant of $1,500 to support its efforts in providing Grundy County children ages 0 to 5 with the Dolly Parton Imagination Library books every month. This grant is also a fundraising challenge to the community to invest in the Grundy County Imagination Library program.

The Rotary Club of Grundy County, which facilitates the Imagination Library program, is extremely grateful to Delta Dental of Tennessee for its generous support of the club's premier community service program. Dr. Philip Wenk, President and CEO of Delta Dental of Tennessee, and Board Member of the Governor's Books from Birth Foundation (GBBF), said that he was excited to make this award and cited the success of the Rotary Club in facilitating this program and achieving one of the highest percentages of enrollment of all counties in the State of Tennessee.

All Tennessee children from birth to age five have access to the Imagination Library because of a unique, three-way partnership between GBBF, Dolly Parton's Imagination Library and the local affiliate program in each of Tennessee's 95 counties. Through an annual state grant approved by the Tennessee General Assembly and financial support from foundations and corporate and local sponsors, GBBF funds one-half of the cost of books and mailing for all 95 Imagination Library affiliates in Tennessee.

Dr. Wenk said that of the 801 children living in Grundy County who are under age five, 624 are receiving free books each month in the mail and that more than 72,916 books have been mailed to children in Grundy County since the inception of the Imagination Library program. Each book costs the Rotary Club of Grundy County $1.07 to send to a child. The $630 monthly cost to the Rotary Club is matched by GBBF. The Rotary Club depends on the financial support of local businesses and individuals to fund this program.

Dr. Wenk said, "Our goal is for all families in Grundy County to experience the joy of reading with children. Bigger Smiles grants allow us to send more books to more children across the state, giving them exposure to reading as early in life as possible—the key to developing strong early literacy skills that will help them throughout their academic lives and into adulthood." He further points out that "Children who have not developed some basic literacy skills by the time they enter school are three to four times more likely to drop out later."

Dr. Wenk asks that individuals and companies consider a small donation to celebrate 2019 and invest in this important program that changes the lives of Grundy County families and their children. Tax deductible donations may be made to <<https://www.governor-sfoundation.org/give>> or to the Grundy Rotary Service Fund, P.O. Box 1903, Tracy City, TN 37387.

STLS Wine and Spirit Tasting Event

The Southern Tennessee Ladies' Society (STLS) will host their ninth annual Wine and Spirit Tasting Event, 7–9 p.m., Saturday, Jan. 26, at the Franklin County Country Club in Winchester. This will be an evening full of spirited samplings complemented with a wide variety of heavy hors-d'oeuvres, live entertainment and a silent auction. This fundraiser contributes to the ongoing STLS Scholarship Program.

Stones River Total Beverages from Murfreesboro will bring a wide variety of wine to sample, Prichard's Distillery from Kelso will provide an assortment of rum, whiskey and liqueur products, and Jackson Morgan Southern Cream will offer seven hand-crafted flavors of Tennessee whiskey cream liquors to sip and indulge your senses. Experiment with some innovative drink recipes as you enjoy a hearty sampling of fine foods, provided by the Franklin County Country Club. This event is open to all men and women over the age of 21. All are invited to attend and reminded to drink responsibly.

Tickets are available now for only $40 per person or $75 per couple. Contact Tina Roth at (931) 967-4813 or <reply2stls@att.net>. Tickets will also be available from other STLS members and can be purchased at Above Average Boutique on the Winchester Square and Animal Care Center on Bible Crossing Road, Winchester.

Membership is open to the public. For more information contact STLS at <www.southernladies.com>.

TCE Receives the Lowe's Toolbox for Education Grant

Lowe's Toolbox for Education has provided nearly $45 million in grants to more than 10,000 schools, benefiting more than 6 million schoolchildren. Grants are available to K-12 public schools in the United States for a wide range of improvement projects.

The grant submitted by Tracy City Elementary (TCE) teacher Mrs. Warren involves increasing achievement and success for all students, particularly for those that are struggling in math. TCE is initiating a Math & Movement (M&M) program that can help meet the critical need of helping students learn basic key skills. M&M uses movement-based learning to boost students' achievement, increase their physical fitness, and make learning math more accessible to all. Adding the M&M program to the existing curriculum allows students to physically hop, walk, crawl, dance, or touch the patterns as they learn, using more learning modalities (visual, auditory, motor and kinesthetic) when practicing. Students who have mastered these skills may lead activities for younger students who are beginning to learn the skills, building and cultivating patience, leadership skills, and motivation to help others learn.

Mrs. Marilu Brewster's third grade class at Monteagle Elementary recently completed a study of animals and ecosystems. Students implemented their learning by creating ecosystems including the rainforest, desert, ocean, and forest complete with animals and scenery. MES Pre-K students enjoyed exploring the projects and listening to the third graders describe their ecosystems. Pre-K was able to relate to their projects because they had been learning about animals and their habitats.

AT THE MOVIES

SEWANEE UNION THEATRE

Friday–Sunday, Jan. 25–27, 7:30 p.m.

Venom

PG-13 • 140 minutes

Journalist Eddie Brock is trying to take down Carlton Drake, the notorious and brilliant founder of the Life Foundation. While investigating one of Drake's experiments, Eddie's body merges with the alien Venom, leaving him with superhuman strength and power. Twisted, dark and fueled by rage, Venom tries to control the new and dangerous abilities that Eddie finds so intoxicating.

CINEMA GUILD

Wednesday, Jan. 30, 7:30 p.m., free

Stardust (2007)

PG-13 • 128 minutes

To win the heart of his beloved (Sienna Miller), a young man named Tristan (Charlie Cox) ventures into the realm of fairies to retrieve a fallen star. What Tristan finds, however, is not a chunk of space rock, but a woman (Claire Danes) named Yvaine. Yvaine is in great danger, for the king's sons need her powers to secure the throne, and an evil witch (Michelle Pfeiffer) wants to use her to achieve eternal youth and beauty.

SEWANEE UNION THEATRE

Thursday–Sunday, Jan. 31–Feb. 3, 7:30 p.m.

Fantastic Beasts: The Crimes of Grindelwald

PG-13 • 133 minutes

In an effort to thwart Grindelwald's plans of raising pure-blood wizards to rule over all non-magical beings, Albus Dumbledore enlists his former student Newt Scamander, who agrees to help, unaware of the dangers that lie ahead. Lines are drawn as love and loyalty are tested, even among the truest friends and family, in an increasingly divided wizarding world.

Movies are $3 for students and $4 for adults, unless otherwise noted. Cinema Guild movies are free. The SUT is located on South Carolina Avenue, behind Thompson Union. The SUT accepts credit/debit cards.

'Dancewise: Body and Soul'

The University of the South Department of Theatre and Dance produces the sixth annual performance of DanceWise under the artistic direction of Courtney World. Performances of "DanceWise: Body and Soul" will be given at the Tennessee Williams Center's Proctor Hill Theatre at 7:30 p.m., Friday, Feb. 1; at 2 p.m. and 7:30 p.m., Saturday, Feb. 2; and at 2 p.m., Sunday, Feb. 3. Admission is free, but seating is limited. Ticket reservations at <Eventbrite.com>.

This dance concert will feature performances by 19 Sewanee students, as well as choreographic premieres by Courtney World, assistant professor of dance, and student choreographers Robin Kate Davis, Julianna Morgan, Ashlin Ondrusek and Danielle Silfies. Student dancers will perform the premiere of Flightless, choreographed by guest artist Jenny Showalter, artistic director of New York City-based company Treeline DanceWorks, and World will perform a solo version of "Tintal" (1972), a seminal work by distinguished choreographer Bill Evans.

"DanceWise: Body and Soul" includes a variety of dance styles that celebrate humanity—body and soul—through movement. This year's concert theme draws inspiration from the jazz standard "Body and Soul" by Johnny Green, and appropriately contains several jazzy numbers, including a reprise of dances from the department's fall production of Cabaret.

Student dancers are Darja Bienenson, Taela Bland, Annie Corley, Caroline Gurek, Robin Kate Davis, Margaret Deane, Paige Greenberg, Karen Guevara, Victoria King, Isabella Klitzke, Julianna Morgan, Cameron Noel, Ashlin Ondrusek, Julia Peacock, Danielle Silfies, Julia Thompson and Seriah Wyatt. Students including Bram Atkins and Sarah Mixon will make special musical appearances.

Costume design by Jennifer Matthews, professor of theatre, and student designers Danielle Silfies, Kate Schumaker and Suzanna Yancey. Lighting design by Krystal Fowler, C'19.

'Sweepstakes Red' at Carlos Gallery

The Carlos Gallery in the Nabit Art Building at University of the South is pleased to present "Sweepstakes Red," an exhibition of paintings by Chicago artist Carris Adams. The exhibit will be on display Jan. 28–March 14. An artist talk and opening reception will be at 4:30 p.m., Friday, Feb. 1.

"Sweepstakes Red" presents a series of large scale paintings of text, language and imagery that recall signage indicative of neighborhoods and public spaces. Her work investigates markers such as advertisements, roads, residential structures and commercial structures and the relational threads between ownership in marginalized spaces and politics, class, histories, celebration and resilience. Adams uses bright colors and graphic symbols to visually investigate these signifiers of domesticated space and to pose questions about their associations.

Presented on unstretched canvases, the paintings behave like posters or billboards, aligning themselves with hand-painted insignias found in local communities and neighborhoods. Removed from any specific location, the paintings rely on viewers' recollection of spaces they may have once visited or inhabited, inviting them to consider how mere text and imagery may be indicators of location, race, class or gender. The conceptually multi-layered works ask viewers to recognize their assumptions, recall an experience and perhaps note how societal markers materialize in the landscape.

The Carlos Gallery is at 105 Kennerly Rd., Sewanee. Hours are 8 a.m. to 5 p.m., Monday through Friday, and 1 to 5 p.m., Saturday and Sunday. For more information contact Jessica Wohl at (931) 598-1256 or <jewohl@sewanee.edu>.

SAS to Host 'Screenagers: Growing Up In The Digital Age'

St. Andrew's-Sewanee School is pleased to host a regional screening of "Screenagers: Growing Up in The Digital Age" at McCrory Hall for the Performing Arts at 6:30 p.m., Wednesday, Jan. 30. The film is the first feature documentary to explore the impact of screen technology on kids and offers parents and families proven solutions that work. Parents are encouraged to bring their children to the movie. There will be opportunities for group discussions facilitated by SAS faculty and administrators following the film.

Physician and filmmaker Delaney Ruston decided to make "Screenagers" when she found herself constantly struggling with her two kids about screen time. Ruston felt guilty and confused, not sure what limits were best, especially around mobile phones, social media, gaming, and how to monitor online homework. Hearing repeatedly how other parents were equally overwhelmed, she realized this is one of the biggest, unexplored parenting issues of our time.

Ruston turned the camera on her own family and others—revealing stories of messy struggles over social media, video games, academics and internet addiction. We meet Hannah, a 14-year old victim of social media bullying who struggled trying to hide her social media use from her mom. And Andrew, whose love of video games turned into an addiction taking him from earning straight A's to flunking out of college.

Interwoven into these stories, are cutting edge science and insights from thought leaders Peggy Orenstein, Sherry Turkle, Simon Sinek, as well as leading brain scientists who present evidence on the real changes in the brain when kids are on screens. "Screenagers" goes far beyond exposing the risks of screen time, it reveals multiple approaches on how parents and educators can work with kids to help them achieve a healthy amount of screen time.

There is no admission charged for the movie, but SAS welcomes donations to help offset the cost.

GAAC Sculpture Competition

The Grundy Area Arts Council (GAAC) and the Mountain Goat Trail Alliance (MGTA) are pleased to announce the Old Roundhouse Park & Mountain Goat Trail Sculpture Competition for 2019. The GAAC and the MGTA seek proposals for site specific sculpture from Tennessee and regional artists. The goal is to provide an opportunity for regional artists to create a public work and to enhance the trail with sculpture of exceptional quality and innovation.

The location for the sculpture will be visible from the Mountain Goat Trail in the newly developing Old Roundhouse Park. The 2019 approved site will be central to the proposed completed trail. Works can be in any media, must be suitable for outdoors, must be "sit-able" and should be permanent. Entries should incorporate elements of the story and culture of the Mountain Goat and the Plateau region it served. The selected work will be announced in March 2019 and the finished work will be celebrated in June 2019.

This project is made possible with an Arts Builds Community Grant from the Tennessee Arts Commission. Proposals are due Feb. 15. The full application can be found at <<https://www.mountaingoattrail.org/2019-sculpture-competition/>>. For more information email <grundyareaarts@gmail.com>.

Workshops at Artisan Depot

On Sunday, Jan. 27, instructor Pat Rollie will offer "Palette Knife Tulips" from 1-3 p.m. Class fee is $40 with a $10 materials fee. Beginners and experienced painters will enjoy this opportunity to learn and to grow their palette knife skills. Participants are encouraged to wear work clothes. Class size is limited.

On Saturday, Feb. 9, instructor Christie Teasley brings "Stamp It! Block Printing on Paper & Cloth" from 1-4 p.m. Class fee is $45. Learn to carve designs in linoleum blocks and hand-print onto to both paper and cloth, such as note cards, tea towels, envelopes, flags, whatever time allows. No experience is necessary. Class size is limited.

Kim Phillips offers a "Beaded Magnet Mini-Workshop" from 1-3 p.m., Sunday, Feb. 10. Class fee is $18. Make unique magnets using both new and repurposed materials: glass, beads, wire, old metal, wherever your creative urges take you. Instructor will start you off with lots of bits and pieces, as well as a base and a revolutionary mosaic "grout" that will make your projects a breeze.

Pre-registration is required for all workshops at the Artisan Depot. Online registration is available at <www.franklincoarts.org/workshop-details>.

The Artisan Depot is the gallery and gift shop of the Franklin County Arts Guild and is located at 204 Cumberland St. East, in Cowan. Questions? Call workshop coordinator Kim Phillips at (615) 829-0772.

Stirling's Coffehouse

For the second year, the Sewanee Herbarium is sponsoring an exhibit at Stirling's Coffee House on the beauty of nature, titled "All Things Bright and Beautiful." This year, the show emphasizes the natural sciences and is co-sponsored by the Environmental Arts and Humanities Program and the Sewanee Natural History Society.

Members of the herbarium-sponsored nature journaling group arranged and hung the display. Exhibitors include scientists and naturalists, people who are captivated by different aspects of our physical world. The works will be on display through the month of February.

Stirling's Coffee House is located at 241 Georgia Ave., Sewanee. For more information contact the herbarium curator at <mpriestley0150@gmail.com>.

SAS Filmmakers at Oxford Film Festival

Film shorts by St. Andrew's-Sewanee School senior Houston Sims and 2014 graduate Julia Meriwether Bell will be among the films shown at this year's Oxford Film Festival in Oxford, Mississippi, Feb. 6-10. Both films will be shown on Saturday, Feb. 9.

Sims' film, a short short at 1 minute, is titled "Giant's Juice" and was created as an assignment for his SAS filmmaking class. The film features classmates Davis Gill of South Pittsburg, Tenn., and Alexander Milford of Bentonville, Ark., and was shot on the SAS campus. The video can be viewed online at <vimeo.com/groups/549975/videos/291176798>. Sims intends to continue film studies and filmmaking when he graduates in May. Houston is the son of Stacy and Jane Sims of Memphis, Tenn.

Bell's film, "Mac's Garden Girl," is a 17-minute documentary chronicling the director's third visit to Mac Pigott's work exchange home in Kauai. Mac calls Julia and other female travelers "Garden Girls" who trade gardening and house-keeping for a place to stay. Over the course of a month, Julia discovers that her seemingly nurturing relationship with Mac isn't what she thought it was. This is the film's world premiere. The documentary was completed as Bell's final project as a film student at Pratt Institute in New York City. Bell's films and photography may be viewed at www.juliameriwether.com/. Julia is the daughter of Ward and Shelley Cammack of Sewanee, Tenn., and Scott Bell of New Haven, Conn.

SAS senior Houston Sims

2014 graduate Julia Meriwether Bell

SAS MS Girls' Basketball Update

The Mountain Lions rolled for a Big 8 home win on Jan. 7, over Coal-mont 45-13. Eight SAS players hit the scoring column with Madison King leading the way with 14 points. Lucy Cassell added nine and Laura Crigger chipped in six off the bench.

On Jan. 10, the Mountain Lions suffered a tough road loss at Palmer 44-22. Madison King and Nailah Hamilton led the Mountain Lions with seven points each while Lucy Cassell chipped in four. Sara Knight and Ava Carlos added two points apiece. The Mountain Lions closed out Big 8 regular season play with an 8-6 record and the fourth seed heading into tournament play.

The Mountain Lions were upset by Tracy City on Jan. 15, in the first round of the Big 8 Tournament at Grundy County High School. After jumping out to a 14-11 halftime lead, despite some early foul trouble, the Mountain Lions went cold in the second half as Tracy City scored 11 second half points for the win. The loss concludes Big 8 play for SAS.

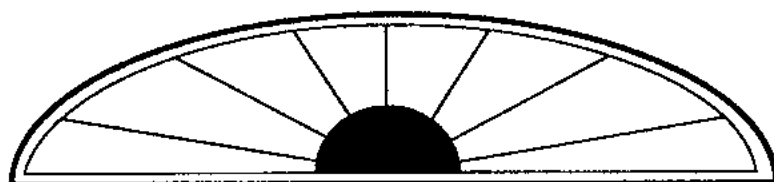

SAS middle school girls basketball players Madison King, Nailah Hamilton, and Lucy Cassell were named to the Big 8 All Conference team. King was the leading scorer for SAS (13 ppg). Hamilton was one of the top defenders in the league, while Cassell was the top rebounder and a force in the paint for SAS.

On Jan. 21, the Mountain Lions closed out the 2018-19 season with a 22-12 road win at Webb School. The Mountain Lions' team defense was stellar as they forced 30 turnovers for the game and held Webb to four, second half points. Madison King led all scorers with 14 points as Nailah Hamilton chipped in four and Lucy Cassell and Ava Carlos added two each. The Mountain Lions finished the season with an overall record of 9-8.

SAS MS Boys' Basketball Advances to Championship Round in Big 8

The Mountain Lions advanced in the semi-final round of the Big 8 tournament Jan. 19, defeating a tough North squad, 38-31. SAS jumped out to an immediate lead off Ethan Hargis' 3-pointer and never looked back. North hovered within striking distance but never closed the gap enough. In the first half Ryan Ostrowski acquired three fouls that sent him to the bench, but in the second half he resumed his sharp mid-range shooting, ending up with a season high eight points. Hargis led all scorers with 12; Kyler Cantrell had nine; Cecil Rodgers five; and Spears Askew and Aiden Tate had two each.

The SAS boys basketball team lost a heartbreaker to Tracy City in the championship game of the Big-8 tournament Jan. 19, 32-31. The game was close throughout, with SAS scoring the first basket, a 3-pointer by Spears Askew. After halftime (16-15), the Mountain Lions effectively stopped Tracy's guard play, but that in turn opened up opportunities for center Brendan Marsh to score all seven Eagle points in the third quarter. The Mountain Lions returned boldly in the fourth quarter, outscoring the Eagles with a balanced attack and two 3-pointers from sixth-grader Robbie Johnston. The lead changed from SAS being ahead with a minute and a half, to tied with under a minute. Then, SAS had to foul Tracy's Jr. Crisp to avoid an open layup at the 15-second mark. He missed the first but made the second. SAS was confident because they had easily gotten open shots through the entire quarter, but at the seven second mark, one slip on the floor and a heads-up play by Eagle eighth-grader Alex Parson gave them the ball, and the game. For the Mountain Lions, Johnston led with 11 points; Askew had seven; Ryan Ostrowski five; Kyler Cantrell, who also dominated the paint, four; and two each were notched by Ethan Hargis and Aiden Tate. Despite the difficult ending, the SAS boys exhibited good sportsmanship as did Tracy City—both played hard and aggressive, and all the fans enjoyed this exciting game. Hargis, Cantrell and Ostrowski were voted to the All-Tournament All-Star team, and Askew earned the singular All-Defensive Player of the Year award, fitting after he effectively contained the leagues' two best guards (North's Isaac Campbell and Tracy's Jr. Crisp). In the same vein, Cantrell's defensive dominance of the paint during the entire tournament did not go unnoticed. SAS finished conference play with a winning 11-3 record.

SAS Varsity Boys' Basketball Update

St. Andrew's-Sewanee varsity boys' basketball team lost to Grace Baptist Academy Jan. 11, 43-36. SAS was led by Jaylen Tillman 14 points; George Meng nine points; Nathan King five points; Jonathan Rwalinda four points; Jeson Rwalinda three points; and Finn Michler two points.

SAS lost to Silverdale Baptist Jan. 15, 57-43. The Mountain Lions were led by George Meng and Nathan King with 16 and 14 points each. Larson Heitzenrater had a strong defensive game and added three points; Jonathan Rwalinda four points; Jaylen Tillman four points; and Finn Michler two points.

MGT Parkrun

The Mountain Goat Trail Parkrun is a free, weekly, timed 5K event. The fun starts on Saturdays at 9 a.m. at Pearl's in Sewanee. All skill levels are welcome and participants can walk, jog or run. The event is stroller and kid friendly. Register at <parkrun.us/register>, print the barcode and show up.

Register for Spring Soccer

The Franklin County Soccer Association (FCSA) Spring Soccer registration is still open. Registration closes Feb. 3. The spring season runs from March 23 to May 11. All practices and games this spring will take place at the Franklin County Soccer Complex at 251 Old Estill Springs Rd., Winchester. Practice times and days vary by team and games are on Saturdays.

For more information and to register go to to <www.fcsoccer.org>.

For families new to the area or newly looking into sports for their children, the FCSA is a nonprofit organization for ages 3-17. The mission is to promote the sport of soccer by providing an organized, safe, fun-filled environment to develop players on an individual and team level.

There will not be a "Sewanee option" for this spring season. It will resume in the fall with the option to practice and play "academy style" in Sewanee.

Preseason Rankings for Tiger Tennis

Announced Jan. 17, by the Inter-collegiate Tennis Association (ITA), Sewanee tennis is ranked in the national and regional preseason polls.

The women's team enters the 2019 season ranked 12th, matching last season's final ranking.

Inside the Atlantic South, the Tigers are third, behind 2018 National Runner-Up Emory and Carnegie Mellon (Pa.).

Millsaps joins Sewanee in the region rankings from the Southern Athletic Association, coming in at 10th.

The women's program will play four ranked teams in 2019, including the top three teams in the nation: defending National Champion and top-ranked Claremont-Mudd-Scripps (Calif.), No. 2 Emory and No. 3 Williams (Mass.). Sewanee will also play No. 15 Bowdoin. That number should rise based on opponents the Tigers will play at the ITA National Indoor Championships in Nashville March 1-3.

Sewanee finished the 2018 campaign with a 22-5 record en route to the team's sixth straight SAA Regular Season and Tournament Championship and 25th appearance in the NCAA Championships. The Tigers finished the season in the third round of the national championship.

The men's team enters 2019 with the same ranking from the final poll in 2018. The team will open the campaign ranked 23rd in the nation.

Announced earlier this year, Jack Gray enters the 2019 season ranked 13th in the Atlantic South region in singles play. The senior is coming off a 12-7 record in singles play en route to the SAA Player of the Year, the ITA Atlantic South Player to Watch and an appearance in the NCAA Singles Championship.

The Tigers will play nine opponents that are in the national rankings: No. 4 Emory, No. 8 Gustavus Adolphus (Minn.), No. 14 Kenyon (Ohio), No. 20 Mary Washington (Va.), No. 22 Tufts (Mass.), No. 25 Kalamazoo (Mich.), No. 27 Denison (Ohio), No. 37 Stevens (N.J.) and No. 38 Carleton (Minn.).

The Purple and Gold earned a 22-6 record last season as the program collected its sixth consecutive SAA Regular Season and Tournament Championship and the team's 16th appearance in the NCAA Championships.

The 2019 season opens on the road in Nicholasville, Ky. with matches against Transylvania (Ky.) and Hanover (Ind.) on Feb. 16.

Men's Basketball Edges Millsaps

The Sewanee men's basketball team survived a last-second rally by Millsaps, defeating the Majors, 68-67, Jan. 20, inside the Hangar Dome. With the win, the Tigers snap a three-game losing streak.

No team had more than a five-point lead in the first 15:30 of the contest. With 4:29 left in the period, the home team went on a 6-0 run to lead 36-29 in a two-minute span.

Sewanee finished the half on a 5-0 run to make it a two-point deficit, 36-34, at the intermission.

With 10 minutes to go, Millsaps made it a nine-point contest, 53-44. The Tigers rallied by going on a 10-0 run to reclaim the lead, 54-53 with 7:20 left in the contest.

The teams stayed within one possession of each until the three-minute mark. Trailing 60-59, Sewanee scored the next five points to make it a four-point lead, 64-60.

With less than a minute to go, leading 66-65, the Tigers made it a three-point game on a Hunter Buescher jumper. Millsaps made it a one-point game with a Justin Van Pelt layup with 25 seconds to go.

After a foul by the Majors, the home team earned a break after two missed free throws to keep the deficit to one point.

On the Majors final possession, they fumbled the ball in the paint and there was a tie-up on the floor. With four seconds remaining, the possession arrow ruled in favor of Sewanee.

The Tigers were able to run the clock out without giving the Majors the opportunity to foul.

Cam Caldwell recorded a career-high performance with his first 20-point game of his career. The senior went 10-of-15 from the field and finished with 27 points. Hunter Buescher added 16 points, five rebounds and four steals. Luke Smith dropped 13 points.

Millsaps Pulls Away from Women's Basketball

The Sewanee women's basketball team concluded a four-game road swing with a 68-55 setback to the Majors of Millsaps College Jan. 20, inside the Hangar Dome.

After a close opening quarter, the Majors, leading 12-10, went on a 6-0 run to start the second quarter.

The Tigers were able to get the deficit to a one-possession game twice, but the home team, leading 20-18 with five minutes left in the half, scored the final nine points of the half to push the lead to double digits.

Sewanee trailed as many as 20 early in the fourth quarter, but they were able to get the deficit down to as low as 10 points with 2:16 left.

Abby Young posted the first double-figure game of her career with a 16-point performance on 7-of-12 shooting.

Kinsley Logan dropped 15 points, all on 3-pointers, while Ellie Treanton corralled nine rebounds.

Sue Kim dished out seven assists in Sunday's contest. The Knoxville, Tenn., native has tied Ashleigh Whitworth (C'05) for second all-time in program history with 342 assists. She needs 29 to match Kayla Goodwin's (C'02) 371.

Swimming and Diving Teams Celebrate Senior Day

The Sewanee swimming and diving teams opened the 2019 portion of its schedule Jan. 19, at the Fowler Center with a defeat to Rhodes on Senior Day. The Lynx women's team came in receiving votes in the national poll from the College Swimming and Diving Association of America (CSDAA) poll and eighth in the West-Midwest-South regional poll.

Prior to Saturday's meet, the Tigers honored their three seniors: Austin Guarisco, Sarah Stackhouse and Bonnie Wakefield.

Lee Haber took home the win in the 200 individual medley with a 2:04.20 mark. The sophomore also finished second in the freestyle (5:04.00) and third in the 200 freestyle (1:48.25).

James Hoyt won the 1,650 free with a 17:21.55 finish. The sophomore earned second place honors in the 100 butterfly (55.58) and the 200 butterfly (2:01.20).

Owen Pearson improved on his season- and personal-best time in the 50 free, swimming to a 23.50-second finish.

Jed Henrichsen participated on the boards for the first time in 2018-19. The junior scored 181.05 points in the one-meter and 170.62 in the three-meter.

Kate Mabry won two events on Saturday: taking home top honors in the 100 backstroke (59.83) and the 200 IM (2:16.85). The Nashville native missed her personal best mark by 0.84 seconds in the 100 back. The sophomore also earned second place in the 200 back (2:12.66).

Gabby Acker picked up where she left off from the fall schedule with wins in the 100 and 200 breaststroke. The freshman swam a 1:10.52 in the 100 and a 2:35.26 in the 200.

On the diving boards, Noel Whitlock and Paisley Simmons returned to form in the one- and three-meter dives. Whitlock won both events with a 247.57-point mark in the one-meter and a 268.35-point performance in the three-meter. Simmons finished behind Whitlock in both events. In the one-meter, she posted 214.57 points, and in the three-meter, the sophomore scored 254.10.

Freshman Gabby Acker won both the 100 breaststroke and the 200 breaststroke in the Jan. 19 meet with Rhodes. Photo by Lyn Hutchinson

Sign-Ups for Little League

The Cowan/Sewanee Little League has announced the schedule to sign up for youth baseball and softball. A birth certificate and three proofs of residence, or a form from the child's school are required to sign up.

The fee is $35 for T-ball, and $55 for coach pitch and up. For families with two children playing, the total fee is $70. For a family with more than two children playing the fee is $85.

Sign-ups will be 3:15-4:30 p.m., Friday, Jan. 25, at Sewanee Elementary School; and 9 a.m.-noon, Saturday, Jan. 26 and Feb. 2, at Cowan Elementary School.

There will not be late sign-ups this year. For more information contact Sarah Gore at (931) 691-5586 or Amanda Knight at (931) 691-0962.

HEARING HEALTH NEWS

by Debbie Gamache,
M.S. CCC-A Audiologist

TURN IT DOWN, KIDS!

Parents should carefully monitor how much noise their children are subject to. Everything from loud toys to loud music can have a harmful cumulative effect on hearing, much in the way that sun exposure harms the skin. How prevalent is the problem of noise-induced hearing loss? Consider the fact that this condition, which begins in childhood, is more common among young adults than obesity, asthma, visual and speech impairments, mental retardation, epilepsy, and diabetes combined.

If you are concerned about your child's hearing, ask yourself the following questions:
Does your child prefer television at louder levels than other family members?
Does your child have inconsistent responses at school and home?
Is your child experiencing academic difficulty?

If you answered yes to two of the three questions, you may want to have your child's hearing evaluated.

Please call us at Debbie Gamache's The Hearing Center LLC for an appointment for a comprehensive hearing evaluation. We work with all ages, infants through adults. We can be reached at 931-393-2051. Come and see us at 705 NW Atlantic St. Suite B, Tullahoma. Be sure to visit our website at www.thehearingcenterllc.com.

Signs of Spring?

We had snowdrops up a week ago today and in bloom earlier this week. Traditionally, they bloom by Candlemas, Feb. 2. Also this week I saw on campus a bittercress in bloom, often our first lawn “weed” to flower. It is a member of the mustard family, as are the toothworts, some of the early bloomers in places like Shakerag Hollow.

A flock of robins was foraging in the woods along our road, in spite of the cold. The bird guides show robins as year-round residents in most of the United States. However, the robins we see locally in the spring and summer may not always be the same robins we see in the winter. In that season, they form large flocks and migrate in a pattern driven more by their food source, fruit such as berries on woody plants, than by the temperature. Consequently, they may also spend more time in the woods where those food sources are than in hunting earthworms on our lawns. When temperatures warm up enough so that those worms, insects, and other invertebrates are active and available, they change from their winter behavior and appear once more in our yards. A good sign that “our” robins have returned to their breeding grounds is when they begin singing. So, seeing migrating flocks is a good sign of spring on the way, but hearing that first robin at dawn will be an even surer sign.

Saturday, Jan. 26

Bushcraft Crafts ($10/adults; $2/children under 12)—Meet Ranger James Holland at 2 p.m. at the Park Visitors’ Center, 11745 U.S. Hwy. 41, Monteagle, to express your artistic side while making useful and decorative items from natural materials. You will be using repurposed wood provided by the local beaver population (the ends have already been pre-chewed by the beavers to save time), downed trees from past storm damage and other materials to create unique items that each participant gets to take home.

Stargazing at Savage Gulf Ranger Station ($5/adults; 12 and under free)—Meet Ranger Dan Wescoat at 7 p.m. at Savage Gulf Ranger Station, 3177 State Road 399, Palmer, for an evening of gazing at the stars and looking for constellations. Due to heavy light pollution in large areas of the country, it has become more and more difficult to see bright vivid stars. Being isolated from city lights. Hot chocolate is available for anyone looking to stay warm on a chilly January evening. (Dress for the weather).

Thursday, Jan. 31

Fire Starting Craft ($5)—Join Ranger Ryan Harris at 1 p.m. at the Park Visitors’ Center, 11745 U.S. 41, Monteagle, to learn to make fire. It’s easy to start a fire with a match, lighter or some form of igniter fluid. Friction fire and flint/steel is the name of this game. Show up and go hands-on with some primitive methods of fire starting.

Savage Gulf Day Loop Woodland Hike ($5/adults; kids free)—Join Ranger Mark Greenwood at 10 a.m. at Savage Gulf Ranger Station, 3177 S.R. 399, Palmer, for a 5-mile roundtrip hike. Attractions of note will include the beautiful overlook Rattlesnake Point, and Savage Falls. (Note: the area around the falls and on overlooks can be treacherous in terms of keeping your footing. Extreme care and appropriate footwear are essential.) Bring water and snacks. There will be photo opp stops at certain intervals.

Sunday, Feb. 3

Sherwood Forest Trail Building (free)—Join with other South Cumberland trail blazers and Ranger Jason Reynolds at 1 p.m. at the Sherwood Forest trailhead, (Jump Off Road to Old CCC Camp Road, to just past Coyote Cove Lane) to continue the work of getting the Park’s newest trail ready for use. If you have favorite trail-building tools or gloves, feel free to bring them. Wear sturdy footwear and bring plenty of water and snacks. And thanks in advance for your assistance!

The South Cumberland State Park Visitors’ Center is located on Highway 41 South between Monteagle and Tracy City and is open 8 a.m.–4:30 p.m. seven days a week. For more information call (931) 924-2980.

Herbarium Winter Events

Herbarium Tour and Mountathon, Sewanee Herbarium, Spencer Hall, Saturday, Feb. 2, 9:30-11:30 a.m., with Herbarium Curator Mary Priestley. Come help us mount our backlog of specimens. Learn methods that have been passed down through generations and are still used today, and take home a guide to mounting pressed plants. Meet in the herbarium on the first floor of Spencer Hall. The main entrance is across from DuPont Library and there is parking behind the library.

Botanical Illustration, Spencer Hall, room 173, Saturday, Feb. 9, 9:30 a.m.–noon, with Mary Priestley. Very little drawing is involved in this easy technique. Participants will photocopy then trace a herbarium specimen of their choice, and use information from published sources to modify and enhance the image before transferring it to acid-free paper and going over it with ink and adding optional color. Space is limited. Email <mpriestley0150@gmail.com> with questions or to reserve a space and so Mary can have the materials ready for each participant.

Winter Trees, St. Mary’s Sewanee, Sunday, March 3, 2 p.m., with Yolande Gottfried. Lovely large trees are silhouetted against the sky on the campus of St. Mary’s Sewanee, giving us a great opportunity to observe branching, twigs, tree shape, bark and more before the leaves emerge. Meet in the main parking area for this easy one-hour stroll. See <<https://www.stmaryssewanee.org>> for directions.

Early Spring Wildflowers, Shakerag Hollow, Sunday, March 17, 1:30 p.m., with Yolande Gottfried. It’s St. Patrick’s Day, a good time to look for early “green” in Shakerag Hollow. If you don’t get out about now you might miss the beginning of the big show—spring ephemerals bloom early and fade fast. Meet at Green’s View for this moderate-to-strenuous 2-mile walk that may include a steep rocky section of the trail.

Nature Journaling. A group meets for nature journaling Thursday from 9-11 a.m. Bring an unlined journal (or a few sheets of unlined paper) and a pen or pencil. No experience needed. The group meets in Spencer room 173. For more information email <mpriestley0150@gmail.com>.

Wear appropriate shoes on all of these walks. Risks involved in hiking include physical exertion, rough terrain, forces of nature, and other hazards not present in everyday life. Picking flowers and digging plants are prohibited in all of the above-mentioned natural areas.

For more information on these or other Sewanee Herbarium events, call Yolande Gottfried at the Herbarium (931) 598-3346, or by email at <ygottfri@sewanee.edu>.

Maria

Daisy

Pets of the Week

Meet Maria & Daisy

Maria is a two-year-old beautiful black and white mixed breed dog. She is very friendly and loves everyone she comes into contact with. Maria is a bundle of energy when she first meets you, but can also be a big couch potato that loves to snuggle. Maria gets along great with other dogs her size that have equal amounts of energy, but may not be well suited for a family with small children at this time. Due to her high energy level, she needs more training before she can be fully trusted around a small child. We think Maria will be a loyal, loving companion to the right owner, offering plenty of companionship and adventure. Maria is fully vaccinated and spayed.

Daisy is a nine-month-old Torbie kitten with a lot of love to give. Daisy loves to be the center of attention, and loves to be petted. Daisy prefers to stay inside and watch outside from a window instead of going out to explore the outdoor patio, so we think she will make a great indoor cat. Daisy has been with us since September, and she has proven to get along with all the cats and kittens very well. Being nine months old, she is starting to lose some of the immaturity and antics of a kitten and has blossomed into a well-behaved teenager. Daisy would love to grow into adulthood in a loving home where she can come into her own and become an integral part of a loving family. Daisy is fully vetted and spayed.

GLASS RECYCLING GUIDELINES

■ Recycle empty glass containers only. Remove caps and lids.

■ Keep it clean. No food residue. No ceramics, mirrors, lightbulbs, drinking glasses.

Glass recycling bins are available on Kennerly Avenue in Sewanee, behind the Facilities Management compound. This effort in landfill waste reduction and glass recovery is provided by the University of the South.

■ Separate by color:
■ BLUE/GREEN
■ BROWN
■ CLEAR

■ Do not leave items outside of bins. Do not leave trash and boxes behind.

BARDTOVERSE

by Phoebe Bates

Robert Burns's Birthday January 25, 1759

When biting Boreas, fell and doure,
Sharp shivers thro' the leafless bow'r;
When Phoebus gies a short-liv'd glow'r,
Far south the lift,
Dim-dark'ning thro' the flaky show'r,
Or whirling drift:

Ae night the storm the steeples rocked,
Poor Labour sweet in sleep was locked,
While burns, wi' snawy wreaths upchoked,
Wild-eddying swirl,
Or thro' the mining outlet bocked,
Down headlong hurl.

List'ning, the doors an' winnocks rattle,
I thought me on the ourie cattle,
Or silly sheep, wha bide this brattle
O' winter war,
And thro' the drift, deep-lairing, sprattle,
Beneath a scar.

Ilk happing bird, wee, helpless thing!
That, in the merry months o' spring,
Delighted me to hear thee sing,
What comes o' thee?
Whare wilt thou cow'r thy chattering wing
An' close thy e'e?

Ev'n you on murd'ring errands toil'd,
Lone from your savage homes exil'd,
The blood-stain'd roost, and sheep-cote spoil'd
My heart forgets,
While pityless the tempest wild
Sore on you beats.

—Robert Burns, "A Winter Night"
