Sewanee Village Quality of Life Priorities

by Leslie Lytle, Messenger Staff Writer

“What are the important things to consider in setting guidelines for how things look and feel in the Village?” asked Frank Gladu inviting residents’ input on quality of life consideration at the Feb. 5 Sewanee Village update meeting. Residents’ priority concerns included lighting, both too much and not enough, promoting foot and bike travel, and parking.

Sid Brown championed “dark sky lighting” like that in the area of the observatory which “protects the light from going up into the sky so we can see the stars. There’s already too much light in my neighborhood.”

Others like Sandra Johnson pointed to inadequately lit walkways. “My granddaughter said it was scary at night going from the dorm through alleyways to some buildings.” Johnson recommended increasing “indirect lighting” like that she’d encountered on other campuses that lit the walkway but not the sky.

Discussing how to encourage people to walk rather than drive, Stephen Burnett said, “A big part of walkability is destination, somewhere to walk to.”

“One of the principles of the Village Plan is to create walkability,” Gladu said, “walkability defined as a five-minute or quarter mile walk.” He suggested remote parking might have the goal of conforming to this criterion.

Brown stressed “the importance of making the trip from the remote parking pretty so you want to park there and walk.”

Brown also suggested “promoting exercising and health by encouraging self-awareness of how

SSO and CSO, ‘Side-by-Side’ Concert

by Bailey Basham
Messenger Staff Writer

A partnership years in the making between the Sewanee Symphony Orchestra and the Chattanooga Symphony Orchestra (CSO) and Opera, will culminate with a 7:30 p.m. performance on Saturday, Feb. 9, in Guerry Auditorium. The concert is free and open to the public.

Sponsored by the Office of the Dean of the College, the concert will highlight University students in principal roles playing alongside professional musicians from one of the leading orchestras in the region. Visiting assistant professor Peter Povey will play a violin piece inspired by the opera Carmen.

“In 2017, with the support of John Kilkenny, we created partnership with the Sewanee Summer Music Festival, and last year, some of the CSO youth orchestra students attended,” said César Leal, artistic director of the Sewanee Symphony Orchestra (SSO) and assistant professor of musicology at the University. “The Chattanooga Symphony and Opera is a large organization. It oversees the professional orchestra as well as the youth orchestras and we’re talking about hundreds of kids that might find Sewanee a viable institution to pursue musical studies. It’s logical to connect these two organizations.”

Leal said the opportunity for the Sewanee students to maintain their leadership roles while playing alongside professionals is a unique opportunity and one that he sees as invaluable for the students.

“Students get the chance to see how professional musicians approach their métier, to observe the work ethic of professional musicians and to experience their incredible sense of responsibility and love for music. Sewanee students see a role model and point of reference outside of what is familiar to them in their teachers, and it’s a way to feel mentored as well,” Leal said. “The Chattanooga Symphony and Opera members are here to mentor and play alongside students. The center of the concert is the Sewanee Symphony Orchestra. Multiple solo passages, for instance, feature mostly our amazing students.”

Leal also spoke of what a rare opportunity it is to share the podium with a female leader in the music industry. He said the impact of seeing Kayoko Dan, musical director of the Chattanooga Symphony Orchestra and Opera, at the podium is immense to the young female musicians.

“In southern culture, and in the world of orchestra conducting in general, it is uncommon to see women as conductors or artistic directors. It is really important for our culture as a whole and empowering for our students and for women of all ages to be able to see a woman at the podium,” he said.

In addition to learning from partnerships like that with the Chattanooga Symphony Orchestra

A New Way to Think About Addiction

by Leslie Lytle, Messenger Staff Writer

For the Rev. Bude Van Dyke, recovering from addiction can hinge on embracing “spirituality without a religious bias,” a life view he calls “pre-interpretive spirituality.” Since 2014, Van Dyke has been the spiritual director for a large southeast provider of addiction services. His new personal mission is to reach out to Plateau area residents “to connect them” to a new way of understanding addiction as a path to recovery.

Van Dyke employs the 12-Step addiction treatment framework, but he points out people are often repelled by the references to “a higher power” which seems to require them to identify with a particular religion. He sees pre-interpretive spirituality as a way to overcome this roadblock.

“Therapy is absolutely important in treating addiction,” Van Dyke acknowledged, “but there’s also a spiritual piece which is just as essential that doesn’t fit the therapeutic and physical model.”

Van Dyke conceives of spirituality as “the nature of our relationship with what is sacred to us. Sacred is what communicates value. Sometimes it’s just there. Sometimes it happens to us or finds us.”

Van Dyke gives the illustration of a biology professor who took offense at the notion of a supreme being, but the man had little trouble identifying what was sacred to him: “life.” The biology professor and Van Dyke went on to discuss “his relationship with life and how his passion for it led to the study of biology, the study of living matter.”

Our relationship with what’s sacred to us includes our relationship “with other people, places, and events,” according to Van Dyke, “and also our relationship with ourselves.”

“During active addiction we demolish our relationship with ourselves.” Van Dyke describes the addict brain as a “brutal opportunist” that seizes on every opportunity to interject “negative self-talk. The addict self says, ‘You’ll blow it. You’ll fail. You always do.’ Dismantling self betrayal is the addict’s biggest challenge.”

“Society doesn’t see addiction as a disease,” Van Dyke stressed. “Many people believe the addict just needs to buck up. Just say, no.”

He explains the physical component of the disease as impaired delivery of endorphins, a brain hormone with calming, energizing, and pain relief attributes.

George Stevenson at Shenanigans.

Coming Full Circle: Stevenson Returns to Shenanigans

by Sarah Beavers, Messenger Staff Writer

There are some big changes coming to Shenanigans Restaurant in downtown Sewanee, and “they are all positive, exciting new efforts as part of the natural progression of Shenanigans,” said Bill Elder, owner of the 45-year-old restaurant.

At the core of these upcoming initiatives are a few key new team members: catering and events coordinator Sunshine Heath; Nalin King, a pastry and dessert specialist; and chef George Stevenson, C’90.

George is no stranger to the food community on the Mountain. Sitting at the comfort of the L-bar at the restaurant, George recounts his first experience working at Shenanigans, back in the late 1980s.

“Todd, C’87, and Katherine, C’88, Kaderabek, the third owners, would not hire me,” said George. “I began picking up my friend’s shifts. Todd saw me one night and wanted to know what I was doing down there. I told him I was working for Will Houseman.”

“I was hired immediately on the spot,” said George.

George has worked all the jobs one could imagine at Shenanigans, opening, closing, general prep, working the grill, making sandwiches, and running the register.

SHERRILL FAMILY THANK-YOU

To the Editor:

We would like to take this opportunity to say thank you to everyone for the prayers, calls, visits, cards, flowers, and food we received after the loss of our Papa. Your thoughtfulness was very much appreciated.

A special thank you to Avalon Hospice, the Sewanee Police Department, and the Sewanee Fire Department for their kindness and support.

The Family of James William "Papa" Sherrill

CELL TOWER TIMELINE

To the Editor:

I want to make clear the timeline of the notifications we received concerning the proposed cell tower. There was never a notice in the Messenger of any zoning meetings, nor did the Messenger have an article about the proposed cell tower until after the zoning commission had passed the appeal vote on Jan. 17, 2019. The first article about the cell tower appeared in the Jan. 25, 2019 Messenger.

Timeline of notifications concerning the cell tower:

April 27, 2018, Messenger—In the last paragraph of a long article, Community Council Establishes Parks Committee, was an announcement by Provost Nancy Berner to the Community Council of a group working on locating a second cell tower in Sewanee that had identified an area behind the football field.

August 2018—We received a notice (as an adjoining property owner) from the zoning commission with the proposal from Vogue Towers to allow the construction of a cellular communication tower at Texas Avenue and Curlicue Road. The Zoning Commission met on Aug. 16, 2018. The Richardsons attended the meeting. At that meeting, the Zoning Board rejected the University's rezoning proposal because the fall radius of the Texas Avenue location did not meet the requirements stated in the regulations.

Oct. 2, 2018—The Franklin County Regional Planning Commission met in a regular session to consider the fall radius and a motion was made to reject the proposal and the motion failed for a lack of a second. Then the Planning Commission was reminded by a member that it is a recommending body and that the proposal for a variance on the fall radius would have to go to the Franklin County Commission for approval. The issue was then tabled.

Oct. 30, 2018—The Franklin County Regional Planning Commission met and Vogue Towers asked that the wording in the proposal be changed to include "A Variance may be granted on special consideration given when the proposed tower is needed for emergency communications, verified by the Franklin County Emergency Management Communications Director." New wording was offered and additions made to the amendment.

Dec. 3, 2018—The Franklin County Commission approved the zoning changes for the tower fall radius.

Dec. 21, 2018 Messenger—There was a public notice on the classifieds page from Retel Services on behalf of Vogue Towers LLC to construct a 199 foot overall height monopole telecommunications tower located off Texas Avenue. A name and phone number was given for "comments from interested parties on any districts, sites, buildings, structures or objects significant in American history, archaeology, engineering or culture that are listed or determined eligible for listing in the National Register of Historic Places." No meeting was listed, but comments were to be received within 30 days of the notice.

Jan. 10, 2019—We received a mailing (dated Jan. 3, 2019) from the Franklin County Planning and Zoning Department announcing a Public Hearing to be conducted Jan. 17, 2019 with two notices for the following actions:

1. To allow the construction of a cellular communication tower. Location: Texas Avenue; 2. Variance: To allow a cellular communication tower to be within the required minimum fall radius. Location: Texas Avenue.

Approximately 14 concerned residents attended this meeting. All expressed their concerns but the Zoning Commission passed the proposals. The Zoning Chairman allowed us to voice our concerns but explained that the landholder (the University) has the right to make the request and the board is there to consider the request and that we should voice our concerns to the Community Council and/or the University. We would have appreciated the opportunity to express our concerns prior to the first Zoning Commission Meeting, but we had not been notified by the University nor was it on the Community Council Agenda prior to the Jan. 28 Community Council Meeting.

Monthly Health Care Services at Morton Memorial

On Saturday, Feb. 9, beginning at 8:30 a.m., St. Thomas Health will be providing medical services every second Saturday of the month in their Mobile Medical Van at Morton Memorial UMC in Monteagle.

St. Thomas's medical outreach program is to provide medical services to those who do not have insurance or are underinsured. Their medical staff will provide routine physicals, well-child care exams, immunizations, and sick visits for chronic and acute illnesses. St. Thomas partners with RX Outreach to provide free prescriptions as needed and those prescriptions will be mailed to the patient's home address. They are not able to provide prescriptions for pain medications.

At this time, St. Thomas has funding to cover copay's, deductibles, etc. Insurance claims will be filed for those who have insurance. Co-pays will not be charged. All who fall within or near the poverty guidelines are eligible for services. No one will be turned away for not being able to pay.

St. Thomas is the leading faith-based health care system in Tennessee and is part of Ascension, the largest nonprofit health system in the U.S. and the world's largest Catholic health system. Their mission is as follows: "We are committed to delivering compassionate, personalized care to all, with special attention to persons living in poverty and those most vulnerable."

The ministry will coincide with Morton's monthly food ministry distribution. Please note that anyone in the community is eligible for these medical services. It is not required that anyone be a Food Ministry recipient to receive these services. For more information, please contact Reverend Jodi McCullah at Morton Memorial UMC or Karen Noffsinger at (931) 636-8474.

Keep the Mountain Beautiful!

Please Don't Litter!

Sewanee Emeritus Meeting

The Sewanee Emeritus group will meet on Thursday, Feb. 14. Meetings are held in the Torian Room of DuPont Library and begin at 3:30 p.m. The speaker will be Bran Potter, professor in the Earth and Environmental Services department. Potter, who has taught geology here for almost 40 years, will introduce to us the program "Finding Your Place," which has been offered over the past six years to incoming freshmen. Deborah McGrath of the biology department was the founding director, and the program has been a rousing success from both student and faculty perspectives.

Over a week before most students arrive, about 100 incoming freshmen, who choose to begin their academic experience here by learning about the "place" in which they will be living, learn about Sewanee through large group meetings, but mainly small interest groups of about 14, each with a faculty member as convener. These groups study and experience the local area's history and geography within a particular context, such as public health, art, literature, history, etc. One of the popular interest groups is "Walking in Place," and Potter leads that group, hiking on and off the campus. The classes continue to meet during first semester.

All are invited to the meeting to hear about this successful program, what places Potter's students hike to, and to enjoy refreshments.

2019 Presidents' Day Spelling and American History Bee

The Franklin County Democratic Women invite students, parents and adults to a night of food, fun, and friendly competition on President's Day at 6 p.m., Monday, Feb. 18, at the Franklin County Annex. For just $10/person (kids 12 and under eat free) you can enjoy an all-you-can-eat soup/salad/sandwich buffet. Your child can win a cash prize in one of two Spelling Bees. Adults can enter the American History Bee to win a gift certificate for dinner for four at an area restaurant. Spelling lists will be grade/age-appropriate (K-third, fourth-eighth). Register at the contest. For more information contact Sandy at (678) 613-5574.

All Saints’ Chapel

Taizé will take place in St. Luke’s Chapel at 7 p.m., Friday, Feb. 8. Taizé services are a form of group meditation that uses repeated, simple chant-like melodies, brief Scripture reading, silence, and prayer. The atmosphere is quiet and contemplative, using candlelight and icons as a devotional focus. The service will last about 45 minutes. All are welcome.

Growing in Grace continues Sunday, Feb. 10, at 6:30 p.m. in All Saints’ Chapel. Molly Elkins, a member of the class of 2018 and a GIS technician, will be sharing her reflections with us. This informal worship service is designed for students and community members, featuring student-led acoustic music, a different guest speaker each week, and Holy Communion. This semester, each of our speakers will meditate on the theme of Moving Mountains. Inspired by Matthew 17:20, “...if you have faith the size of a mustard seed, you will say to this mountain, ‘Move from here to there,’ and it will move; and nothing will be impossible for you.” Our speakers will consider when they have witnessed God move mountains. Together, we will reflect on times that our own mustard seed-sized faiths have been catalysts for growth, gratitude, and love in our communities and within ourselves.

E-mail Lay Chaplain Kayla Deep if you have any questions.

The Catechumenate will meet Wednesday, Feb. 13, at 7 p.m. in the Women’s Center. Based around fellowship, study, openness, and conversation, the Catechumenate serves as a foundational piece for the Christian faith, as well as a forum for discussion for people of all backgrounds. This week we will explore the sacraments of the Church. All are welcome. For more information, please contact Lay Chaplain Kayla Deep <kayla.deep@sewanee.edu>.

Otey Parish

This Sunday, Feb. 3, infants 6 weeks to children 4 years old are invited to the nursery beginning at 8:30 a.m. There will be nursery for both services and the Sunday School Hour. Children ages 3-11 are invited to join us in the Godly Play 2 room, next to the Adult Education room. Youth Ministry meets in Brooks Hall.

At the Adult Forum, Andrew Thompson, who teaches Theological Ethics at the School of Theology of the University of the South, will speak on “The Role for Christians in the Environmental Crisis.” Thompson’s presentation will discuss the theological foundations for the care of creation and challenge some of the ways we, as Christians, typically think about our relationship with our environment. There will be an opportunity for questions and comments. The Adult Forum meets from 9:45 to 10:45 a.m. in St. Mark’s Hall in the parish house at Otey Memorial Parish. Coffee and tea are provided. All are welcome.

St. James Episcopal Church

St. James Church in Midway is celebrating the long Epiphany season this year with joy-filled worship each Sunday, beginning at 9 a.m. At the same time, we are looking forward to a holy and prayerful season of Lent beginning March 6, with Ash Wednesday. St. James is located at 898 Midway Rd., in the heart of Midway. Come, join us!

Unitarian Universalist

Tullahoma Sangha, a Zen Buddhist meditation and study group, meets each Wednesday at 6 p.m. at Unitarian Universalist Church of Tullahoma. The service will consist of zazen (meditation), kinhin (walking meditation) and a short lesson and discussion. Newcomers are welcome; please call ahead and we will have a short orientation at 5:45 p.m. For more information, or if you would like to be added to the email group, call (931) 455-8626.

The Unitarian Universalist Church of Tullahoma speaker this week is Lis Ann Morehart on “Defending Intellectual Freedom.” The service begins Sunday at 10 a.m., followed by refreshments and a discussion period. The church is located at 3536 New Manchester Hwy., Tullahoma. For more information, call (931) 455-8626, or visit the church’s website at <www.tullahomauu.org>.

Wings of Hope

The Wings of Hope Widows Ministry will meet at 1 p.m., Monday, Feb. 11, at Christ the King Church located at 1241 Cumberland Street in Decherd. Christine Hopkins will speak on the “Re-entry Program.” Please bring two dozen cookies.

If your church is in our print circulation area and you would like to be listed in the calendar, email <news@sewaneemessenger.com>

Stephen Austin Farris

Stephen Austin Farris, age 61 of Decherd, died on Jan. 25, 2019, at his home. He was born on Oct. 24, 1957, in Sewanee, to Carole Dawn Johnson Farris and Jackie Austin Farris. He spent his working years as a tool and die maker and farrier. He was an avid hunter, fisherman, and horseman. He was preceded in death by his father; sister Misty Sweeton; brother, Roger Wells; mother-in-law, Marjorie Slinkard; and brother-in-law, Warren Slinkard.

He is survived by his children, Philip Farris, Stephanie (Josh) Ellsworth, Daniel Farris, Jared (Ashley) Farris, Ezra (Gayle, ex-wife of 25-years) Farris; sister Susan (John) Cordell, and nine grandchildren.

If you wish to remember Stephen, a donation to the Franklin County Animal Shelter in his name would be appreciated. For complete obituary go to <www.moorecortner.com>.

Alice Joyce Snelson

Alice Joyce Snelson, age 79, of Cowan, died on Jan. 30, 2019, at Centennial Medical Center in Nashville. She was born on April 24, 1939, in Lamesa, Texas, to Irlene Thomas Stotts and Alice Kidd Stotts. She was a homemaker. She and her late husband were owners of the former Corner Market in Cowan for approximately 10 years. She was preceded in death by her parents; husband, Bobby Snelson; and sister Jonell Hodges.

She is survived by her children, Cindy (William) Greer, Belinda Gass, and Teresa Marion, all of Cowan; brothers, Richard (Wanda) Stotts, Tommy (Brenda) Stotts; sisters Bobbie (Kenneth) Frank and Cecilia Bryant, all of Texas, five grandchildren, and three great-grandchildren.

Funeral services were on Feb. 2 from the Chapel of Grant Funeral Services with The Rev. Ross Peterson officiating. Interment followed in Cowan Montgomery Cemetery. For complete obituary go to <https://www.grantfuneralservices.net>.

Bude Van Dyke

"In the addict, normal brain channels for endorphin delivery aren't open," Van Dyke said. "Drugs and alcohol open the channels."

"The addict brain is a thinker," Van Dyke insisted. "When the addict decides to change and get sober, the addict brain rationalizes addiction based on past behavior. 'The person who wants to abstain, who wants to get sober, has nothing to hang the belief on that getting sober is possible.'"

"Christianity is all about thinking. The Christian faith is just a cerebral enterprise, just head space stuff. I've always been in the church, but that didn't help me get sober."

Van Dyke found his sacred footing in his Cherokee roots. His great grandmother resided in Tennessee illegally. "She was supposed to be on the reservation," Van Dyke said. "Initially, my addict brain used that against me—'You're not good enough.'"

Then Van Dyke began finding sacred solace in rising before sunrise, "to sit outside and smell and observe." He embraced Cherokee morning rituals. "My native heritage became a way to make my Christian faith useful to me."

Van Dyke's advice to family and friends of addicts is "learn the disease." He highlighted the importance of understanding addiction as a "broken brain."

"I want people to see another way to look at addiction. Pre-interpretive spirituality may not be the only approach to spiritual recovery, but it's the one that's worked for me for 29 years."

Legend has it he could pour three pitchers of beer at a time while answering the phone to take an order, and barking out instructions to those working in the front. His made-from-scratch soups were sublime.

He also worked at Shenanigans with another two owners. "I came with the purchase of the building on a couple of occasions," said George.

Cooking is in George's blood. He said he got his love of food from his mother, "who is an extraordinary cook."

Following his passion to work as a professional chef, he left the safety of his home in Sewanee to attend the New England Culinary Institute in Montpelier, Vt. He graduated from there in 1998.

"I enjoy the energy of working in an active business, being able to make decisions and the pressure of working in a kitchen," said George. "Attending culinary school seemed to be the logical next step."

He then moved to Seattle, Wash., where he had an internship with the Sheraton Hotel and James Beard Award winner Monique Barbeau. He worked for a number of restaurants including Boom Noodle, Luc Bistro and Bis on Main, plus catering gigs in the Woodinville wine community and at the Chateau Ste. Michelle Winery Amphitheater. He also picked up some prep work at another restaurant during the week, where he made the soups. "They were very well received," said George.

Soup is one of his favorite things to make, and the key is in the stock. "Who does not like a veal demi-glace?" asked George.

"It does take a certain talent to make a pot of soup, and it is what you do up front that makes a recipe work," said George. "You cannot put a bunch of stuff into a buffalo chopper and expect to get good results."

After years in the Seattle food scene, he traveled for a while before returning to Sewanee in 2012. He worked as the head chef at Pearl's Fine Dining and then at the Sewanee Inn.

After George left the Sewanee Inn, Bill called George to see if he was interested in coming back to Shenanigans. "Bill wanted to see if I would help with some new concepts at the restaurant. Plus, work on existing food quality and what we eventually want to do upstairs."

"Everyone is familiar with George's immense talents and his contributions to the food community," said Bill. "I was fearful he would go back to a big city market. I started talking to him about what it would mean for him to stay in Sewanee. We discussed the Shenanigans' food truck, and dug a little bit deeper about the concept for upstairs. Why shouldn't that space be food related?"

"Another thing is George is coming back to his roots. It's my hope that the upstairs space at Shenanigans gives George his next step as a chef," said Bill. "He'll have a space where he can experiment with a number of things, and he'll also be heavily involved with our new catering arm. We've batted around several food ideas for the upstairs, and we're in the process of working those into various concepts. The end goal there is having a consistently open space upstairs with some really great food."

Bill and George both agree there will be some improvements to the existing downstairs Shenanigans menu in the future. "But nothing is going away," said Bill. "You will still be able to get a Shenaniwich, a bowl of peanut chicken soup, a patty melt on a paper plate, or that all-important spicy turkey melt."

"We'll be going through all the current recipes and tweaking them with George to make sure they are the best they can be and up to the quality everyone knows at Shenanigans," said Bill.

George agrees about getting back to Shenanigans' original food roots. "Shenanigans is a home to everybody whether you live here or go to school here," said George. "I enjoy cooking food for people and the importance of doing that well."

George starts to work again at Shenanigans on Monday.

"The first thing I am going to do is make a turkey melt," he said.

African American History Event Feb. 23

Mt. Sinai M.B. Church in Cowan is celebrating African American History and Culture at 5 p.m., Saturday, Feb. 23. This is a free event with food, photo opportunities and prizes.

Mt. Sinai M.B. Church has offered Black History programs for more than 30 years. This event will cover the roles that black soldiers played in the United States Civil War and specifically the Nashville Battle on Dec. 15, 1864.

Gary Burks is a re-enactor from the 13th Regiment Union soldier. He dresses out in the uniform of that time period. He has been re-enacting for more than 10 years now. He is a storyteller, singer and poet for that time period. There will also be a surprise guest.

Mt. Sinai M.B. Church is located at 132 Walnut St., Cowan.

far you walked, for example, from here to here is a quarter mile."

While advocating walking, Greg Maynard drew attention to the danger to walkers at pedestrian crosswalks, especially at night for walkers dressed in dark clothing.

"I almost hit someone," concurred Lynn Stubblefield.

Brown proposed pedestrian activated motion detectors to alert motorists.

Stubblefield expressed concern about lack of parking, citing the example of the pilates studio slated for construction on University Avenue. "The Lease Committee approved the design without parking," Stubblefield said.

"There are county parking requirements and the owner of the studio will have to conform to those requirements, just like the new bookstore will need to conform," Gladu said. He went on to point out, "There will be parking opportunities for a fairly long time in areas of the Village that may be developed in the future."

Greg Maynard noted that adding a bike lane in the downtown area would result in additional loss of parking.

"Why not put the bike lane on Alabama Avenue," Stubblefield suggested. "Cyclists could enter University Avenue from Sartain Road and other adjoining streets."

Gladu noted that, like parking, bike lanes would need to be adhered to county regulations since most of the streets in Sewanee were county roads.

Residents also recommended shaded areas and comfortable places to sit.

Offering an additional suggestion to making downtown a welcoming place, Brown said. "I hope the speed limits are lowered and enforced, especially in residential areas. Research shows you're more likely to know your neighbor where speed limits are lower."

The next Village update meeting is March 5. Gladu hopes to have results from the storm water study.

Senior Center Seeks Backup Cook

The Sewanee Senior Center is looking for a backup cook for days that Jodean may have to be off because of sickness in her family. There would not be a guaranteed schedule of days, just on an as-needed basis. Preference would be for someone who has experience in food preparation for at least 20–30 people. Two days of training prior to actual workday will be paid. If you are interested please contact Jodean Wade, Monday through Thursday, (931) 598-0771.

and Opera, students in the SSO also participate in the Artistic Leadership Program (ALP), which provides training in management and leadership.

"Students from the ALP have been attending professional trainings by Samantha Teter, CSO executive director, and Dr. Dan, and that is truly important because ALP students run the Sewanee Symphony Orchestra, and they do so in a very professional manner," he said. "Something that I find really important, and I can't emphasize this strongly enough, is that these trainings were led by women. Music is still a male-dominated field and, unfortunately, there are not women in charge of professional orchestras. We are very lucky to have women in such high-profile roles empowering our students."

It is the influence of guest conductors like Dan and partnerships with professionals at the CSO that Leal said he hopes to see foster growth among the student musicians in the orchestra.

"Ours is the only orchestra in 20-30 miles around and to work to establish a regional presence is a good way not only to expose the students to a larger audience but to teach them about the role of music in social transformation," Leal said. "This is one of the few classes that students are able to take eight times. In a way, it's a 4-year course. We are aware of the importance of music in the community, and this is an opportunity for us to think about the responsibilities we have as an orchestra within this region."

Vienna Boys Choir to Perform in Sewanee

The Vienna Boys Choir, with Jimmy Chiang, conductor, will perform in Sewanee at 7:30 p.m., Friday, March 1, in All Saints' Chapel. Tickets are $20. Call Hilary Ward at (931) 598-1225 or email <hrward@sewanee.edu> to purchase tickets. Tickets for Sewanee students, faculty and staff are free.

Boys have been singing at the Viennese court since the 14th century, and in 1498, Holy Roman Emperor Maximilian I moved his court and his court musicians to Vienna. Historians have settled on 1498 as the foundation date of the Vienna Chapel Imperial (Hofmusikkapelle) and thus the Vienna Boys Choir. Until 1918, the choir sang exclusively for the imperial court, at mass, concerts, private functions, and on state occasions.

Today, the Vienna Boys Choir consists of 100 boys between the ages of 10 and 14, from dozens of nations, divided into four touring groups. Each group spends nine to 11 weeks of the school year on tour. Between them, the four choirs give 300 concerts and performances each year before almost half a million people. They visit virtually all European countries, and are frequent guests in Asia, Australia, and the Americas.

The choir's repertoire includes everything from medieval to contemporary and experimental music. Motets and lieder for boys' choir form the core of the touring repertoire, as do the choir's own arrangements of quintessentially Viennese music like waltzes and polkas by Lanner, Lehár, and Strauss.

The Vienna Boys Choir performs major choral and symphonic works as part of the Hofmusikkapelle, and with other orchestras and adult choirs. They are regularly asked to supply soloists for large choral and orchestral works, such as Leonard Bernstein's Chichester Psalms. Both the choir and the Chapel Imperial have a long tradition of commissioning new works, going back to Imperial times, when composers like Mozart, Haydn, and Bruckner wrote for the ensemble. Austrian composers Heinz Kratochwil, Balduin Sulzer, Wolfram Wagner, and Gerald Wirth have written works for today's boys. Benjamin Britten penned a vaudeville which could be performed on tours, and Australian composer Elena Kats-Chernin wrote her Land of Sweeping Plains for them. Over the last century, the choir has worked with some of the greatest conductors of the genre, for example Böhm, Furtwängler, Karajan, Mitropoulos, Toscanini, Walter, Bernstein, Boulez and Harnoncourt. In more recent times, the boys have been invited to collaborate with Mariss Jansons, Zubin Mehta, Marc Minkowski, Riccardo Muti, Kent Nagano, Seiji Ozawa, Christian Thielemann, Michael Tilson Thomas, Franz Welser-Möst, Simone Young and many others. The choir also takes part in opera performances at the Vienna State Opera, the Vienna Volksoper, and the Salzburg Festival.

Smith Named Interim Dean Of Students

St. Andrew's-Sewanee School (SAS) is pleased to announce history department chair Geoffrey Smith will assume the role of Interim Dean of Students for the 2019-2020 school year. Smith succeeds Laura Clay who is stepping down from the position at the end of the school year to return to North Carolina.

Smith, who holds the Fort Chair in Writing at SAS, joined the SAS faculty as a history teacher in 2014. In the intervening five years, he has instituted a multi-day Martin Luther King, Jr. celebration at the school, advised the school's Debate Club and Christian Athletes' Club, and led a Bible Study group. He recently coached the school's inaugural Ethics Bowl team to a state championship. His Winterim course, Art of Manliness: Skills Every Young Person Should Know, is a perennial favorite with students. He is also a lead house parent, assistant coach of the boys' varsity soccer team, and leader of the ninth-grade Grade Level Program team. Smith has introduced several electives to the curriculum, including a Special Studies course that teaches students research skills and guides them through independent, cross-disciplinary research projects. Last year, he was elected by his fellow faculty members to be their representative to the school's Board of Trustees.

"There's an old joke that those who can't teach become administrators," said Head of School Karl Sjolund. "In Geoffrey's case this is definitely not true. He is a star teacher and an inexhaustible source of inspiration and energy in the classroom, in our residential houses, and in our extracurricular activities. I am pleased that he is interested in testing out this new role which provides opportunities for spreading his talents and enthusiasm to all of our students."

Smith received one of six 2016 Outstanding Educators Awards from Humanities Tennessee and the 2016 Belz-Lipman Holocaust Educator Award sponsored by the Tennessee Holocaust Commission. Smith spends his summers honing his teaching skills and expanding his breadth of knowledge. Among other projects, his summer professional development activity has included researching the life and work of Pulitzer Prize winner James Agee, examining themes of religion, education, childhood, labor, and the transition to adulthood.

Smith formerly taught at the All Saints' Academy in Winter Haven, Fla. He is a graduate of the University of the South.

Lecture by Sewanee Graduate and Google Engineering Leader

Katharina Probst, C'00, a senior engineer manager at Google will be the Babson Center's Graham Executive-in-Residence for the Easter semester. She will share her journey from computer science major at Sewanee to leadership positions in Netflix and Google.

Probst will deliver a presentation, "Sewanee to Silicon Valley: Lessons in Leadership and Change," at 4:30 p.m., Monday, Feb. 18, in the Torian Room of duPont Library. All are welcome.

One of the first women to graduate with a computer science major from Sewanee, Probst was a visionary in her field when the program was in its infancy. She attended programming competitions and received grants for women in computing. Linda Lankewicz remembers Probst being a part of a "talented group of students who energized us with their enthusiasm" and "did far more than the normal load for a course." For a CREW (Collaborative Research Experience for Women) grant, Lankewicz recalls, "The three of us worked many hours on a project involving the use of neural networks for data mining."

Probst continued her pursuit of computer science at Carnegie Mellon University, receiving a Ph.D. in 2005. She began her career at Google in Atlanta as a software engineer, developing new features in Gmail and "having a lot of fun and learning a lot." Seven years later, she relocated to San Francisco and was an Engineer Manager responsible for Google Cloud Platform and Google Compute Engine.

As her career soared, Probst realized that she wanted to move into a leadership position and manage teams, merging her two passions: leadership and technology, her "sweet spot." Using her interpersonal skills (soft skills) that she learned at Sewanee, Probst said that she could make a positive impact by bringing people together. Harkening back to her psychology classes at Sewanee, Probst said, "I do have a lot of interest in that, and I do think back to that a lot. People at my company have technical depth, which is great, but they have not focused so much on psychology and that is what a lot of this is really about, because my job is about people as much as it is about tech."

Netflix, Inc., an online streaming, media-services provider with 139 million paid users world-wide, took notice of Probst talent. As Director of Engineering, she navigated the engineering cultures of bottom-up innovation that prevails at Netflix and Google—teams creating ideas and initiatives. By inspiring and motivating team members at every level to act like leaders, Probst realized that teams could have a transformative impact on their organizations.

Probst returned to Google last October as an Engineering Leader for Google Kubernetes Engine. She has used her leadership skills to smash the glass ceiling for women at Google and in the technology field. Google's 2017 diversity data for their global workforce revealed that 31 percent of all employees were women, 20 percent were technology workers, and 25 percent held a leadership role.

At Sewanee, Probst will share her insights with students and classes on how her liberal arts education provided the foundation to chart a successful career at Netflix and Google. This visit is cosponsored by the Babson Center for Global Commerce, Women's and Gender Studies, and the Department of Computer Science. The Graham Executive-in-Residence program is made possible by a generous gift from Diane and Henry H. Graham Jr.

For more information about the Babson Center for Global Commerce and the events, go to <www.business.sewanee.edu>.

New Lifelong Learning Courses

The Center of Lifelong Learning at the University of the South is excited to announce our new courses. Please contact Dan Backlund at <lifelong@sewanee.edu> for further information and to register for these exciting classes before they are full. The enrollment fee for each course is only $60 and includes six hours of formal learning time.

“Third Time’s the Charm: Three Scripts, Three Discussions, and Three Designs,” Instructor, Dan Backlund, Professor of Theatre, 2–4 p.m., Wednesday, Feb. 20, 27, March 6 and 13. This course will explore scripts and produced scenic designs for three different productions, “Crimes of the Heart” by Beth Henley, “Proof” by David Auburn, and “The Rimers of Eldritch” by Lanford Wilson. We will read each script, discuss the play, and then discuss a realized production design in the Tennessee Williams Center.

“Literary Wizards and Enchantresses, From Merlin and Morgan Le Fay to Gandalf and Galadriel (and beyond),” Instructor, Robin Bates, Professor of English, 2–4 p.m., Tuesday, Feb. 19, 26, March 5 and TBD. British and American literary fantasy have long been fascinated with wizards (also known as magicians, sorcerers, necromancers, magi) and enchantresses (also known as sorceresses, witches, wise old women). In this course we will look at why these figures have so captured the public imagination, whether it was because of medieval tensions between Christianity and Celtic fertility cults, the rise of Renaissance science, or the crisis of modernism (especially as experienced by J. R. R. Tolkien, C. S. Lewis and those who came after). The meaning of fantasy and the symbolic significance of magic will be a key focus, and special attention will be devoted to some of your own favorite characters.

“Thinking BIG About Open Spaces,” Instructor, Daniel Carter, Professor of Environmental Studies, 2–4 p.m., Thursday, Feb. 14, 21, and March 7. Participants in this course will discuss the complicated dilemma of balancing growth and development with natural resource protection in the local region. The Chattanooga region is expected to grow in population by a minimum of 400,000 people in the next 40 years. How can we think “BIG” about conservation without preventing quality growth and development? This course will cover environmental issues associated with rural and urban sprawl, agriculture policy and working landscapes, and the role of resource protection as a community development strategy.

SCCF Grants Information Meetings

South Cumberland Community Fund invites potential applicants to a series of informational sessions for our 2019 spring grants cycle. All grant applicants must attend one of the information meetings before submitting a proposal. Please note that we will explain our three new funding focus areas at these sessions.

The sessions will be at the Grundy EMS office in Coalmont, across from the Coalmont Community Center. Meet at 6 p.m., Monday, Feb. 25; noon, Friday, March 1; or 10 a.m., Saturday, March 2.

The application deadline is April 3, 2019.

For more information, go to <southcumberlandcommunityfund.org> or email <grants@southcumberlandcommunityfund.org>.

Community Service Nominees Wanted

The Sewanee Civic Association invites nominations for the 36th annual Community Service Award. The award recognizes the person or organization that has made outstanding contributions to the community. The kind of contribution varies widely, but the recipient is one who has helped make Sewanee a better place and improved the quality of life for everyone in the area.

Nominations are due by Friday, March 15.

Past recipients are not eligible to receive the award again. Send the name of your nominee, along with a brief paragraph of why you are nominating this person and/or group, to <sewaneecommunitychest@gmail.com>. Nominations can also be mailed to the Sewanee Civic Association, P.O. Box 222, Sewanee, TN 37375. The award will be presented at the SCA’s April 4 annual membership meeting.

FROM THE HERITAGE CENTER

by Lucas Myers, Grundy County Historical Society

Mary Noailles Murfree

In the late 19th century and early 20th century, Mary Noailles Murfree was among the best known and most widely read American novelists. She was born in 1850 on what was to become the site of the Battle of Murfreesboro, or Stones River, fought between Dec. 31, 1862 and Jan. 2, 1863. The family home, Grantland, which was on the battlefield, was destroyed and the estate entirely devastated.

Mary’s father, William Law Murfree, was a lawyer, the author of widely used legal manuals, a planter and a linguist. Her mother, Priscilla Dickinson, practiced the piano four hours a day and taught her children music and singing. A sister, Fanny, was three and half years older than Mary, and brother, William, four years younger.

The family built Craig-Wilde, their summer home in Beersheba Springs, just before the Civil War, and for 15 years Mary spent May to October there. At Beersheba and on one expedition into the Great Smokey Mountains, Murfree found the material that informed her most popular and realized work. This was the life, the speech, the folkways and struggles of the Anglo-Saxon and Scotch-Irish settlers of the Tennessee mountains, illiterate or scarcely literate mountain people notable for their independence, their violent and indomitable ways, and their dour and fiery religious inheritance.

Murfree published 25 books in the course of her life. She wrote under the pseudonym Charles Egbert Craddock, but after a visit to her publishers, Houghton and Mifflin of Boston in 1884, her identity became generally known. Her first book, a collection of stories title “In the Tennessee Mountains” came out that year and went into 22 printings in several years. Her novel “Where the Battle was Fought” set on the site of the Battle of Murfreesboro, also appeared that year and had similarly good reception.

In 1922, Murfree was awarded the honorary degree of Doctor of Letters by the University of the South in Sewanee. Two months later, in July 1922, she died. The times were changing and tastes were changing. The work of the once famous novelist was already starting to be neglected, but her personal distinction is known to all scholars who have examined the story of her life.

Readers are invited to visit the Heritage Center Monday through Friday from 10 a.m.–4 p.m., and Saturday from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. The Heritage Center is located at 465 Railroad Ave., Tracy City. Go to <www.grundycountyhistory.org> for more information.

Donate Today to the Community Chest

Beginning in 1908, the Sewanee Civic Association's (SCA) primary purpose was to raise money the town could not raise in taxes because it was unincorporated, in order to make municipal improvements. Since 1943, the SCA has sponsored the Sewanee Community Chest, a local 501(c)3 nonprofit organization, led by volunteers. In the last decade, the Community Chest has raised more than $1 million to support local organizations and initiatives.

The Sewanee Community Chest raises funds to meet basic needs in the community: food, books, elder care, children's programs, recreational spaces, animal care and more. Every dollar raised goes directly to the organizations. To date, 75 percent of the $110,623 goal has been reached in donations and pledges.

You can help to make a difference. Send your donation to P.O. Box 99, Sewanee, TN 37375, or go to <www.sewaneecivic.org> to make a donation through PayPal.

Anniversary of the 1985 Ice Storm

This marks the 34th anniversary of the 1985 ice storm. Annie Armour, former archivist of the University, described it this way in a Messenger column in 2012:

Anyone who has lived around Sewanee for any amount of time knows that the Mountain can have some extreme winter weather. We might see snow, and a lot of it, while Winchester gets only a dusting. Snow offers opportunities to skip studying and take a dining hall tray to the nearest hill, to make snow angels and forts and have snowball fights or to snuggle up with hot chocolate and a good book.

Ice, on the other hand, can strike terror into any sane person's soul. Ice-covered trees might glow and reflect beautifully in the sun, but too much ice causes big trouble. Sewanee has had three major ice storms in the last 50 years. One, however, on Feb. 1, 1985, made national news.

The storm struck during the night, and upon waking nothing appeared out of sorts. It was just another dreary, rainy winter's day. But schools were closed, even St. Andrew's-Sewanee School, which was odd. Unprecedented, in fact.

Soon the thrill of an unexpected holiday gave way to trepidation as ice began collecting rapidly on everything. Sewanee was having an ice storm.

Sparks danced off electric lines in spectacular fireworks, and soon the electricity went out altogether.

With it went furnaces and water pumps. The eerie silence inside was punctuated by frequent loud popping and crashing outside, as trees and branches fell in quick succession. Cars were sealed into big ice cubes. When the cold rain stopped, several inches of ice coated the Sewanee area. Nearly every electric line on the Mountain had snapped. Hundreds of trees lay across roads and on houses and cars. Temperatures plunged. Ironically, Martin Springs had no ice whatsoever.

The community rallied to put the pieces together again while millions watched on national television. The National Guard came by convoy to supply generators, trucks, water, diesel fuel and extra workers, while students lined the streets to welcome them. With classes canceled, many students escaped to more hospitable climates. The rest compacted into the few dorms with heat. The University's physical plant department worked to clear hazards and keep heat going manually in dorms.

Every resident with a four-wheel drive vehicle and a chainsaw braved the frigid temperatures to help clear trees. There were at least 50 downed trees across Jump Off Road alone.

Oaklawn Baptist Church hosted several refugees. The hospital kept others. Gailor Dining Hall served food to anyone who came in. Other folks cooked on their grills or over fireplaces. The police and others checked on the elderly. Many opened their homes to neighbors. DREMC and TVA crews came to help rewire the community, which took several days. The fire department fought three fires. The EMTs took a resident to the hospital for smoke inhalation and stayed with the firefighters to help and deliver Gatorade.

In the end, then Vice-Chancellor Bob Ayres summed it up: "The spirit of cooperation in every segment of the community was a marvel to watch and experience. People showed great care for one another. They thought of others before themselves, and this was evident everywhere I went."

Debby Stirling wrote an account of the 1985 storm. It is available in the University Archives.

Japanese Cooking Instructor Leading Workshops

Japanese cooking instructor Sonoko Sakai will be leading a series of cooking workshops Feb. 14 through Feb. 16. These events are limited to the number of participants, so participants will really learn how to make these wonderful dishes. Registration is required. For tickets go to <<http://www.sequatchiecovefarm.com/all-products-1/>> or contact Bill Keener at Sequatchie Cove Farm (423) 710-0140.

Sakai is a cooking teacher based in Los Angeles. She is the author of three books, "The Poetical Pursuit of Food: Japanese Recipes for American Cooks" (Potter), "Rice Craft" (Chronicle Books) and "Japanese Home Cooking: Simple Meals, Authentic Recipes" (Roost Books November 2019). Sakai is dedicated to providing a deeper understanding and appreciation for Japanese food and culture, with grains and plants at the heart of a meal. She has taught cooking workshops at the Bread Lab at Washington State University, The Grain School at the University of Colorado in Colorado Springs, USC, UCLA, Culinary Institute of Charleston, S.C., Anson Mills and King Arthur Flour and many museums and cultural and community centers around the country and overseas. Her recipes have been featured in Saveur, Lucky Peach, Los Angeles Times, and San Francisco Chronicle.

On Thursday, Feb. 14, from 3–6 p.m., CST, at Sequatchie Cove Farm, Sakai will lead a Soba & Ramen Workshop. She will teach the group how to make Authentic Japanese-style ramen from scratch including the noodles, broth, and toppings, and how to serve it. The menu includes vegetable gyoza, ramen with braised sequatchie cove pork belly (yakibuta), seasoned bamboo (memma), marinated eggs (nitamago), Sequatchie Cove greens, scallions, nori, and citrus sorbet. The cost is $75 per person.

From 10 a.m.–noon CST, Friday, Feb. 15, at McClurg Dining Hall, ABC Rooms, at Sewanee, Sakai will teach a Hands-on Soba Making Workshop. The cost is $75. In this class you will prepare and taste the soba as a soba salad lunch with market fresh vegetables.

At Sequatchie Cove Farm from 9:30 a.m.–12:30 p.m., Saturday, Feb. 16, there will be a Hands-on Soba Making Workshop. In this class you will prepare and taste the soba and soba broth for lunch with a pork and vegetarian option. Cost is $75 per person.

There will be a Children's Onigiri (Rice Ball) Class for 5-12 year olds from 2:30–4:30 p.m., CST, Saturday, Feb. 16, at Sequatchie Cove Farm. There's not a lunch box, birthday party, or afternoon snack that isn't made more delicious and fun with onigiri. These bite-size balls of rice can be made with favorite and nutritious ingredients, and are easily shaped and decorated to make animals, flowers, and more. This class is for the child in all of us. Parents are encouraged to participate. Some of the ingredients might include smoked salmon flakes, braised mushrooms, sesame seeds, ham, cheese, and umeboshi. The cost is $10 for each child/parent pair.

Sequatchie Cove Farm is located at 320 Dixon Cove Rd., Sequatchie, Tenn.

2nd Annual Chocolate Walk

The Winchester Downtown Program announces the second annual Chocolate Walk from 10 a.m.–2 p.m., Saturday, Feb. 9, in downtown Winchester. Tickets must be purchased in advance and are $5 per person. Tickets are limited and may be purchased at <<https://downtownchocolatwalk.eventbrite.com>>.

On the day of the event you will check in at the Winchester Livery at 122 North Jefferson St., to receive your first treat, treat box, and map. As you tour the historic downtown district, visit participating businesses to receive more than 10 different chocolate themed treats.

Sewanee Hearts and Grocery Carts at Otey

Sewanee Hearts and Grocery Carts, an annual event held by the ladies of Kappa Omega, raises money and collects canned goods for the Community Action Committee. All community members are invited to Otey Parish to celebrate Valentine's Day and the spirit of service and helping others. This event is from noon to 2 p.m., Sunday, Feb. 10, at Otey Parish, 216 University Ave.

At the event, each donor receives tickets that can win gift cards from local businesses such as OctoPi, The Sewanee Inn, Mountain Goat Market, and Mooney's. Attendees can also participate in a silent auction to bid on creative baskets made by local organizations. The event includes free, family-friendly, Valentine-themed activities such as cookie decorating, as well as food.

State Museum Quilt and Story Exhibition

The Tennessee State Museum's first new exhibition since its grand opening will be "Between the Layers: Art and Story in Tennessee Quilts." Slated to open Feb. 8 and run through May 27 with quilts selected from the Museum's vast collection, the show will highlight Tennessee's quilt artistry and the stories embedded in those quilts, across more than two centuries and all three grand divisions of the state.

The Tennessee State Museum, on the corner of Rosa L. Parks Boulevard and Jefferson Street at Bicentennial Capitol Mall State Park, is home to 13,000 years of Tennessee art and history. Through six permanent exhibitions titled Natural History, First Peoples, Forging a Nation, The Civil War and Reconstruction, Change and Challenge and Tennessee Transforms, the Museum takes visitors on a journey—through artifacts, films, interactive displays, events and educational programming—from the state's geological beginnings to the present day. Additional temporary exhibitions explore significant periods and individuals in history, along with art and cultural movements. The Museum is free and open to the public Tuesday, Wednesday, Friday and Saturday from 10 a.m.–5 p.m., Thursday from 10 a.m.–8 p.m. and Sunday from 1–5 p.m. For more information on exhibitions and events, go to <tnmuseum.org>.

Kathy and I decided to support the Sewanee Community Chest when we moved here in 2009. We have questioned the need to give to the Community Chest in light of the numerous requests for donations from so many other local entities; but, when we look at the list of the 30 organizations supported by the Community Chest, the reason for donating becomes very clear, even though we also support some of these directly. All of these grant recipients are an integral part of building and supporting the wonderful community in which we live: our youth, our elderly, our community members in need, our Sewanee pooches, our parks and wellbeing, our local food market. These are the reasons why we gladly support the Community Chest every year.

Sign Up for the Honor Flight Veterans Trip

Honor Flight of Middle Tennessee invites World War II and Korean War-era veterans, and Vietnam War veterans with a 70 percent or higher VA disability, to sign up for the 2019 flight to Washington, D.C. The event is on Wednesday, May 1.

Veterans on the free one-day trip fly to the Capitol, and visit the World War II Memorial, the Korean War Memorial, the Vietnam War Memorial, the 9/11 Memorial at the Pentagon and Arlington National Cemetery.

Honor Flight of Middle Tennessee makes two trips each year. Each costs about $17,000, which comes from generous individuals, companies, churches and organizations. Donations may be sent to Southern Middle Tennessee Honor Flights, P.O. Box 1926, Tullahoma, TN 37388.

Wheelchairs are provided on an "as-needed basis," and guardians are assigned to provide assistance during the day for each veteran.

For additional information and an application, contact Sergeant Major (E-9) Larry E. Williams, U.S. Army/retired at (931) 924-3000, 1-833-HONORUS (toll free) or cell phone (931) 224-3226 or email <Tennesseans2@blomand.net>.

From last year's Make A Difference Day.

Save the Date: Make A Difference Day Moved to July 20

Since 2017, South Cumberland Community Fund has partnered with the eight elementary schools on the Plateau to sponsor Make A Difference service day in March. This year, at the request of school leadership, Make A Difference Day has been moved to July so that families and community members can assist in preparing the schools for the start of the academic year.

Local residents are asked to mark their calendars for Saturday, July 20, to participate in this half-day, Plateau-wide project. As in the past, schools will determine the projects most needed. Past projects included garden clean-up and planting, mural painting, library organization, school painting, playground clean-up, and a variety of other special projects identified by each school. Holding Make A Difference Day in July will make it possible to include additional activities to ready schools for the start of the school year.

The eight participating schools include Coalmont, Monteagle, North, Palmer, Pelham, Sewanee, Swiss Memorial, and Tracy City elementary schools. As always, volunteers from the community are needed in both leadership and supporting roles to work with the school committees in planning the day. If you would like to be on a planning committee or would like additional information, please contact AmeriCorps VISTA Lucas Crossland at <scfvista@gmail.com>.

SAS Announces Summer 2019 Camps and Program

Registration is open for SAS Summer 2019, a variety of camps on the St. Andrew's-Sewanee School campus. Each summer the school welcomes close to 200 children and adults to campus for a variety of programs.

Athletics day camps this year include basketball, soccer and all-sports camps. Camp SAS returns with traditional summer day camp offerings such as crafts and games. Sign-up early to secure a spot.

Basketball Camp, May 28-31, 9 a.m.-noon, grades 1-8, $100;

Waterfalls and Swimming Holes, June 3-7, full;

Soccer Camp, June 10-14, 9 a.m.-3 p.m., grades 3-8, $200;

Camp SAS, June 17-21, 9 a.m.-3 p.m., grades 3-6, $200;

All-Sports Camp, July 1-3 and 5, 9 a.m.-3 p.m., grades 1-6, $200.

This summer, SAS will also host Little Bellas Mountain Biking Camp and the Sewanee Summer Music Festival String Academy. Information about all summer opportunities on the SAS campus and online registration for SAS camps are available at <www.sasweb.org/summer>.

TDOE Awards $8.9 Million for Read to Be Ready Summer Programs

Education Commissioner Candice McQueen announced the 218 public school recipients of the 2019 Read to Be Ready Summer Grants, which will provide a total of $8,900,000 in funding for tuition-free, month-long literacy-focused summer camps for 8,910 students in need across the state. For summer 2019, the fourth year of the grant program, the department expanded students' access to the program by changing the student-to-teacher ratio from 1 to 5 to 1 to 6. This allows more students to participate without sacrificing the quality and close-knit nature of camps.

Among the area recipients are Broadview Elementary, Clark Memorial Elementary, Cowan Elementary, Decherd Elementary, Huntland School, Sewanee Elementary, Coalmont Elementary School, Swiss Memorial Elementary School, and Pelham Elementary School.

Over the past three years, the Tennessee Departments of Education and Human Services has partnered to expand the Read to Be Ready Summer Grant program. In summer 2018, about 7,700 rising first, second, and third grade students collectively spent over 6.8 million minutes reading and over 4.6 million minutes writing. Students participating in 2018 summer camps saw statistically significant increases in reading comprehension, accuracy, and motivation. Additionally, through the 2018 summer grant program, more than 193,000 high-quality books were sent home with students, and each student, on average, received 25 new books for his or her home library.

Students who attend Read to Be Ready summer camps generally are economically disadvantaged and not reading on grade level. Rather than sliding backward, students in Read to Be Ready camps have a chance to keep learning and advance their reading skills through a variety of literacy experiences over the critical summer months. For summer 2019, there will be 218 summer programs in 114 districts across the state, including 56 camps located in economically distressed or at-risk counties.

All Tennessee public schools were eligible to apply for the Read to Be Ready Summer Grant program. Prospective applicants were asked to design summer camps that were at least four weeks in length and at least four hours per day—providing students with access to at least 80 hours of literacy-focused instruction and enrichment during the summer. The summer camps will use high-interest books, authentic literacy experiences, and engaging field trips to help increase students' motivation.

To celebrate World Read Aloud Day, Mrs. King's class at SES had volunteer parents and grandparents share their enjoyment and love of reading by reading to our students throughout the day. Parent Julie Elrod reads to the class.

SCC Summer Day Camp

Sewanee Children's Center is now taking applications for children ages 2-6 for its Summer Day Camp. A minimum of 20 need to enroll.

The Summer Day Camp will run for 8 weeks, from June 3 through July 26 from 7:45 a.m. to 5 p.m. Program tuition is $1,500 with a $200 non-refundable deposit due with the application that will be applied to tuition. Scholarships are available.

The program includes a combination of structured learning activities along with supervised play and time for exploration outdoors and in centers. Each week, themes such as "Wonderful World of Water," "Bugs Galore," and "Exploring Rainbows" will guide the planned activities.

To request an application, or for more information, contact Sandy Glacet at (931) 598-5928 or <sewaneechildrenscenter@gmail.com>. Applications and deposits are due by March 1.

Diplomas Available for Veterans

For any World War II, Korean War-Era or Vietnam Veterans: If you did not receive your high school diploma due to entry into the Armed Forces of the United States, you may now be awarded a high school diploma by your local high school.

Veterans should contact their local school superintendent to register their name and to request the awarding of a high school diploma. You will have to present your military discharge papers.

For assistance, contact Sergeant Major Larry E. Williams at (931) 924-3000 or (931) 224-3226, email at <tennesseans2@blomand.net>.

Tutoring at St. James

After-school tutoring for children in grades K-5, sponsored by the Community Action Committee of Otey Parish Church, continues on Thursdays at 3:30 p.m., at the Parish Hall of St. James Episcopal Church. There is no charge. All are welcome. Sessions will last until 5 p.m., when promptness in pickup of children will be greatly appreciated.

The tutoring schedule will follow the Franklin County School System's calendar, so if there is no school, there will be no tutoring.

SCC Open House

The Sewanee Children’s Center will open its doors from 9–11:30 a.m., Saturday, Feb. 9, welcoming the community and interested families to tour the facilities and meet the leading members of this cooperative preschool and after-school program. The director, Sandy Glacet, the teachers, and many parents and enrolled children will be available to answer any questions about their experience at SCC, which provides developmentally appropriate teaching and learning for children ages 2 to 5 in the preschool program and for children in kindergarten through second grade in its after-school program. SCC is located at 216 University Ave., and is supported by Otey Parish and the Sewanee Community Chest.

MES Character Winners

Each month, Monteagle Elementary School focuses on a specific character trait. The character trait for the month of January was self-control. One student is chosen from each homeroom class to receive the character award for the month. The students receiving the self-control award are being recognized for their ability to be in charge of themselves. They are aware of classroom expectations and control their own behavior, without the need of redirection from an adult. These students also turn work in on time, complete necessary assignments, and come to school prepared for their day. The recipients of the self-control award received a certificate and Wendy’s coupon.

Tigers Don’t Leave Tracks! Recycle Program

Tigers Don’t Leave Tracks!—aimed at educating students about sustainability and helping them reduce their use of single-use plastics, continues at Sewanee Elementary.

Show your support by continuing to bring your reusable bags to local businesses. Bring your reusable bags to the Piggly Wiggly and other local businesses. Mooney’s, The Lemon Fair, Village Wine and Spirits and Monteagle Wine and Spirits are all making donations to the school every time you do.

The Piggly Wiggly is hosting a draw in support of the project. When you bring your own bags to The Pig, write the name of a teacher or a class on the back of your receipt (grade 2, Mrs. Camp’s class, Principal’s Choice, etc.) and put it in the Tigers Don’t Leave Tracks! jar at the front of the store. Those receipts will be collected periodically and entered in prize draws. The winning classes will receive sturdy Klean Kanteen water bottles for everyone. Together, we can give reusable water bottles to all the children in the school and help them in their efforts.

Thank you for supporting Tigers Don’t Leave Tracks! and Sewanee Elementary.

Innaugural SAS Ethics Bowl Team Wins State Championship

St. Andrew’s-Sewanee School’s first-ever Ethics Bowl team, the Thomists, consisting of Sophia Patterson, Sarah Beth Hobby, Justine Rogers, and Jayla McLaurin, took first place in the state championship on Feb. 2 at University of Tennessee-Knoxville. The team, which is coached by SAS history department chair Geoffrey Smith, will compete at the national championships at the Parr Center for Ethics at UNC-Chapel Hill in April. In addition to winning the championship, the SAS team won the award for Dialectical Excellence. The SAS team prevailed over 17 other teams.

Like many student activities at SAS, Ethics Bowl participation began at the instigation of a student. Senior Sophia Patterson learned about the opportunity at Governor’s School and proposed putting together a team. The SAS team includes one senior, two juniors, and a sophomore. The students gathered on Sundays throughout the fall and early winter to prepare cases. Cases discussed at the state competition included private money in academia, China’s social credit system, gerrymandering, organ transplant allocation, and more. The team presented or commented on a total of 12 different cases during the daylong competition.

The National High School Ethics Bowl (NHSEB) promotes respectful, supportive, and rigorous discussion of ethics among thousands of high school students nationwide. Each Fall, the NHSEB releases a set of cases covering a broad range of issues, which then serve as the focus for the year. Teams meet together regularly, with a coach, to research the cases, to discuss the issues they raise, and, to identify clearly how they think those issues should be addressed. Teams are judged on the depth of their thought, their ability to think carefully and analytically about complex issues, and the respect they show to the diverse perspectives of their peers. As a result, the NHSEB cultivates the virtues central to democratic citizenship, and prepares students to navigate challenging moral issues in a systematic and open-minded way.

GAAC Sculpture Competition

The Grundy Area Arts Council (GAAC) and the Mountain Goat Trail Alliance (MGTA) seek proposals for site-specific sculptures from Tennessee and regional artists to provide an opportunity to create a public work and to enhance the trail with sculpture. Proposals are due Feb. 15.

The location for the sculpture will be visible from the Mountain Goat Trail in the newly developing Old Roundhouse Park. The 2019 approved site will be central to the proposed completed trail. Works can be in any media, must be suitable for outdoors, must be "sit-able" and should be permanent. Entries should incorporate elements of the story and culture of the Mountain Goat and the Plateau region it served. The selected work will be announced in March, and the finished work will be celebrated in June 2019.

This project is made possible with an Arts Builds Community Grant from the Tennessee Arts Commission. The full application can be found at www.mountaingoattrail.org/2019-sculpture-competition/.

G. Sanford McGee

SAS Gallery to Feature Copper and Clay

More than 20 years ago, G. Sanford McGee went looking for a piece of copper he'd stowed a few years earlier on the edge of his yard while working on building his off-grid home near Sewanee, Tenn. McGee, a science teacher and artist, was finally ready to begin the copper-faced architectural frieze he had planned for his new home. After locating the copper panel and pulling away the layers of plants and leaves, McGee noticed the added layers of patina to the copper, colors and forms telling the story of the particular plants it had touched. McGee, with his artist's eye and deep knowledge of the plants of his native Cumberland Plateau, recognized the possibility of an artistic collaboration with nature.

In the years since, McGee has continued the dialogue between his art and nature. His works have been exhibited across Europe and the U.S. and can currently be found in the SAS Gallery, along with another artistic collaboration: Annie Hanks Ceramics Studio of Chattanooga, Tenn., the joint project of Stephanie Anne Martin and Katherine Hanks.

Their sculptural works combine a contemporary aesthetic with timelessly simple forms. Matte finishes and pale neutral colors add to the elemental character of their porcelain and stoneware.

Hanks, a Texas native with a lifelong affinity for the natural world, recognizes the influence of her native Country landscape on her work. Meanwhile, Stephanie Martin's connection to clay is more inwardly-focused; she describes her ceramic work as a manifestation of internal growth into tangible form.

In the five years since its founding, the studio has flourished, with its work featured in Scenic City Supper Club and Wildflower Tea Shop in Chattanooga, as well as the Hunter Museum of Art's popular Examinations project.

There will be a public reception for Annie Hanks Ceramics and G. Sanford McGee's works on copper on Saturday, Feb. 9, from 4–6 p.m.

Contact Gallery Director Julie Jones at sasgallery@sasweb.org for more information.

RALSTON ROOMNOTES

by Isaac Sligh

The Ralston Library is happy to announce that we are open for the coming semester. Stop by and visit us during our weekly hours of 3–9 p.m., Monday through Thursday, 3–6 p.m., Friday, and 6–8 p.m., Sunday.

This semester is shaping up to be a great one. We now have 15 volunteers and student workers, our biggest team ever. Our schedule is chock full of interesting listening sessions and shows from our volunteer team and curating staff, so be sure to check out a session soon.

I'll resume my longer biographies of interesting composers soon. For this week, I'd like to share with you a little about the life of Fernando Sor, a Spanish composer who lived from 1778 until 1839. The majority of Sor's music is for the guitar, and he is often called the "Beethoven" of his instrument. An accomplished virtuoso, Sor fought as a partisan against the French army during Napoleon's invasion of Spain, only to change sides later and move to France, never to return to his home country again. Sor lived a cosmopolitan life, residing in Moscow, Paris, and London, but never found outstanding success with his compositions.

Sor's attitude grew bitter towards the end of his life; he even went so far as to title his Op. 43 Mes Ennuis ("My Annoyances"). Sor's music was intricate, challenging and beautifully crafted; unfortunately, the public wanted music that was easy to play, light, and catchy. Sor resented this. The following forward to his Op. 45 speaks to his feelings:

"Let's see if that's that. Six short and easy pieces in stages, which aim to lead to what has generally been agreed are difficulties. Composed and dedicated to the person with the least patience, by Fernando Sor. Opus 45."

Sor composed his last work, a mass in memory of his deceased daughter, shortly before his own death in 1839. He left behind a small but respected body of work for the guitar, beloved to this day by masters such as Andrés Segovia.

Stop by Monday, 3–4 p.m. and Friday 4–5 p.m. to explore some of the highlights of Sor's oeuvre with me. I also highly recommend that you come by for Annie Bowers' presentation of Gabriel Fauré's lovely String Quartet in E minor from 5–6 p.m., on Wednesday and Caiti Berends presentation of Bellini's Norma on Sunday, Feb. 17, 6–8 p.m.

Isaac Sligh lives in Sewanee and works as the Head Curator at the William Ralston Listening Library. The hi-fi listening room is open for visits 3–9 p.m., Monday–Thursday, 3–6 p.m., Friday, and 6–8 p.m., Sunday.

Arts & Ales Returns to Cowan

For the fifth year, the Franklin County Artisan Depot will host Arts & Ales, an event to fund the promotion of visual and performing arts in Franklin County.

Arts & Ales will be March 9, from noon to 4:30 p.m. at Monterey Station in Cowan. The event will feature pieces by local artists for purchase, as well as a selection of craft beers for tasting.

Creations by over 17 local artists will be sold at the event. The Fairies of Lullymore, created by Winchester artist Frances Perea, will be on display and for sale. In addition to the art for sale, there will also be 75 craft beers to taste.

Returning to Arts & Ales this year are The Secret Commonwealth and James Patton & the Synchronomatics. Floyd's Farm Food Truck from Fayetteville will provide food for the event.

Artisan Depot Gallery member Margie Gallagher will be creating a Blue Tape Mob Art Tree, and participants who make the artist trading cards will have an opportunity to show them off by pinning them to the tree. In addition to Fairy Trading Cards, Mob Art participants will also be able to see demonstrations on fairy house and fairy tree house construction using found natural materials.

The Franklin County Arts Guild provides a scholarship for a promising high school senior planning to study art or art education at the university level. The Guild also provides local artists an opportunity to exhibit and sell their works through its gallery, The Artisan Depot, at 204 Cumberland St. East, Cowan, and at other venues in the region.

For ticket information, visit <<http://franklincoarts.weebly.com/arts-and-ales.html>>. Must be 21 to attend. Monterey Station is located at 104 Monterey St., Cowan.

At the Galleries

The Carlos Gallery

The Carlos Gallery in the Nabit Art Building at University of the South will present "Sweepstakes Red," an exhibition of paintings by Chicago artist Carris Adams. The exhibit will be on display through March 14.

The Carlos Gallery is at 105 Kennerly Rd. Hours are 8 a.m. to 5 p.m., Monday through Friday, and 1 to 5 p.m., Saturday and Sunday. For more information contact Jessica Wohl at (931) 598-1256 or <jewohl@sewanee.edu>.

The Frame Gallery

For the month of February, Mary Priestley will be showing illustrations from her new book "Sewanee Wildflowers in Watercolor." The Frame Gallery is located at 12569 Sollace M. Freeman Hwy., Sewanee. The frame shop and gallery's regular hours are 10 a.m. to 5 p.m., Tuesday through Friday, and 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. on Saturday.

Stirling's Coffeeshouse

For the second year, the Sewanee Herbarium is sponsoring an exhibit at Stirling's Coffee House on the beauty of nature, titled "All Things Bright and Beautiful." This year, the show emphasizes the natural sciences and is co-sponsored by the Environmental Arts and Humanities Program and the Sewanee Natural History Society.

University Art Gallery

The University Art Gallery presents "Familiar Faces," an exhibition by Atlanta-based artist Jiha Moon. The exhibit will be on display through March 11.

The University Art Gallery is located on Georgia Avenue. The gallery is free, accessible, and open to the public. Hours are 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. Tuesday through Friday and noon–4 p.m. on Saturday and Sunday.

University Archives

Historic Houses of Sewanee is on display through July 31. This event is co-sponsored by Sewanee Trust for Historic Preservation (STHP). Commemorative posters are available, as are historic plaques for houses on the domain. For more information, contact STHP by email <coachwil@bellsouth.net>. Orders need to be placed by March 15.

Normal exhibit hours are Monday–Friday, from 1–5 p.m. The Archives is located between duPont Library and the Police Department. Parking is available on Georgia Avenue.

Local and Regional Artists Needed for the Tennessee Craft Fair

Local and regional craft artisans are invited to submit their artwork for the 48th annual Spring Tennessee Craft Fair by Feb. 15. This show presents around 200 of the region's finest craft artists on the lawn in Centennial Park, May 3, 4, and 5.

The Tennessee Craft Spring Fair is open to artists 18 years of age or older who are Tennessee residents, residents from neighboring states (no guild affiliation required), as well as artists studying at Tennessee institutions. Contiguous states include Alabama, Arkansas, Georgia, Kentucky, Mississippi, Missouri, North Carolina, and Virginia. Also, any exhibitor who participated in the 2018 Spring Tennessee Craft Fair who moves out of Tennessee or its contiguous region may exhibit for this one year only following the screening procedure.

For more information go to <tennesseecraft.org>.

Workshops at Artisan Depot

Kim Phillips offers a "Beaded Magnet Mini-Workshop" from 1–3 p.m., Sunday, Feb. 10. Class fee is $18. Make unique magnets using both new and repurposed materials: glass, beads, wire, old metal, wherever your creative urges take you. Instructor will start you off with lots of bits and pieces, as well as a base and a revolutionary mosaic "grout" that will make your projects a breeze.

The February paint-and-sip is "You Float My Boat" on Thursday, Feb. 14 at 6 p.m.

Pre-registration is required for all workshops at the Artisan Depot. Online registration is available at <www.franklincoarts.org/workshop-details>.

The Artisan Depot is the gallery and gift shop of the Franklin County Arts Guild and is located at 204 Cumberland St. East, Cowan. Questions? Call workshop co-ordinator Kim Phillips at (615) 829-0772.

Men's Basketball Fends Off Rhodes in OT

After the Rhodes Lynx forced overtime, the Sewanee men's basketball team rallied to fend off the home team, 61-59, Feb. 3, inside Mallory Gymnasium.

The game featured five ties and six lead changes, and the Lynx had a nine-point lead, 15-6, with 12 minutes left in the first half.

Sewanee had a cold start from the field. They trailed 21-12 with under eight minutes left in the opening half, but went on a 9-2 run with three minutes left in the period.

Rhodes got its lead back to five, but it was wiped away quickly as the Tigers took a 28-27 lead into the locker room thanks to a trey by Michael Barry.

The Lynx followed the same script as the Tigers did in the final 20 minutes. Trailing by eight, 50-42, with 6:28 left in regulation, the home team went on a 10-2 run to even the score at 52 with 2:30 left.

Sewanee reclaimed the lead, 56-54, on a three-point play by Luke Smith with 41 seconds left, but the Lynx's Bryce Berry drained two free throws on the next possession with 25 seconds left to even the score once again.

The Tigers had a chance to win the game, however, as Cam Caldwell drove inside the paint, he was called for an offensive foul with less than two seconds left.

The home team tried for a half court miracle, but it was for not and the game went into overtime.

After a 3-pointer by Daniel Darst to start the Rhodes scoring in the extra stanza, the Purple and Gold did not allow their opponent to score the rest of the period. Sewanee scored the final five points, as the Tigers took the lead for good on a Joey Knox layup with two minutes to go.

Luke Smith dropped his 10th 20-point game of the season with a 21-point effort on Sunday. The sophomore went 7-of-16 from the field and added six rebounds and three steals. Cam Caldwell added 18 points and five boards. Jonny Crumly contributed nine rebounds, while Joey Knox scored nine points.

Track and Field Opens Indoor Slate

The Sewanee track and field teams started the 2019 indoor season at home with the Tiger Indoor Invitational Feb. 2, inside the Fowler Center. Sewanee women's track and field finished seventh out of eight teams. Sewanee men's track and field finished eighth out of eight teams.

Meredith Stuber won the long jump event with a 4.70-meter clearance in the event. In the 200 meters, she missed her indoor best by 0.09 with a 28.46-second time.

Haven Watson finished behind Stuber in the long jump, clearing 4.67 meters. The junior sprinted to a new indoor personal best in the 55 meters with a 7.87-second time.

Kelsie Schiavone set two new personal marks in indoor competition Saturday. In the 200 meters, the senior ran a 28.48-second time, and in the 400, she finished with a time of 1:03.77.

Justin Pignocco cleared a new indoor personal best in the shot put with a distance of 10.72 meters.

Letherio Jones finished with a 54.26-second time in the 400 meters.

Taylor Drops Season Best in Loss to the Lynx

The Sewanee women's basketball team were downed by the Lynx of Rhodes College, 72-60, Feb. 3, inside Mallory Gymnasium.

Rhodes sprinted out to a 21-9 first quarter lead, as the home team forced five Sewanee turnovers and shot 8-of-16 from the field.

Sewanee cut the deficit from 20 at the end of the third quarter to 12 at the final buzzer thanks to a 27-19 fourth quarter.

The Tigers did most of their work from the free throw line. As a team, they went 18-of-20 (90 percent), the highest mark for the Purple and Gold this season (minimum 10 attempts). In the fourth quarter, 11 of the team's 27 points came at the charity stripe.

Bella Taylor dropped a season-best 23 points on 8-of-14 shooting and added six boards. The senior is now 36 points away from tying Kim Faults Parlett's (C'97) 1,559 career points.

Ellie Treanton, who went a perfect 6-of-6 from the charity stripe, and Bella Bombassi each added eight points.

Register for Mountain Goat Trail Race Weekend

Mountain Goat Trail Race Weekend, sponsored by Mountain Outfitters, will take place April 13-14.

The sixth annual Mountain Goat Trail Run & Walk, featuring a 5-mile run and 2-mile walk, will be held on Saturday, April 13. The second annual Mountain Goat Trail Half Marathon will be held on Sunday, April 14. All proceeds will go to the Mountain Goat Trail Alliance (MGTA) to aid their efforts to complete the Trail.

The 5-mile run will begin at 10 a.m. in downtown Sewanee; the 2-mile walk will begin at 10 a.m. at Pearl's Fine Dining. Both will finish at Mountain Outfitters in Monteagle. Prizes will be awarded for fastest men's and women's finisher. Drawings for outdoor gear from Mountain Outfitters and presentation of awards are planned after the finish of the run & walk.

The half-marathon (13.1 miles) will begin at 7 a.m. in Sewanee and follow the Mountain Goat Trail and approximately two miles of public roads before finishing on the newest section of the Mountain Goat Trail in downtown Tracy City.

Saturday night's event features music and food at Baggenstoss Farms, in a collaboration between the MGTA and Friends of South Cumberland to raise funds for a connector between the Trail and the Fiery Gizzard Trail. More details and activities will be announced as they are added.

NATURENOTES

by Yolande Gottfried

Groundhog

Olde Groundhog Day

Last week, on Feb. 2, we celebrated Candlemas and/or Groundhog Day. Next week, on Feb. 14, we mark Valentine's Day or Olde Groundhog Day. Early settlers brought this European tradition of celebrating a mid-season festival to our shores. It probably had its roots in the Celtic festival of Imbolc, associated with various fertility rites and fire/light imagery. When Pope Gregory adjusted the calendar in 1582, 11 days were skipped, so that Feb. 2 in the old Julian calendar fell on Feb. 14 in the new Gregorian calendar, a reform that was accepted in the colonies in 1752. Some old settlers in isolated areas, notably the Appalachian, Cumberland, and Ozark Mountains, still celebrated Olde Groundhog Day on Feb. 14 (and Olde Christmas on Jan. 6, for that matter). As Jack Lorenz observed in earlier editions of the Messenger, these settlers were descendants of isolated farmers in western New York and Pennsylvania who emigrated to the Southern Mountains (after George Washington's suppression of the Whiskey Rebellion) and continued to observe the Julian date for Groundhog Day. Many folks in the older generations in the Sewanee area shared this belief in Olde Groundhog Day. So if you were dissatisfied with the groundhog's prediction on Feb. 2, you can get a second opinion.

Valentine's Day has its own association with courtship practices, as did the festival of Imbolc. There was a medieval belief that birds chose their mates on this date and indeed birds seem to be more active and vocal now than they were in the depths of winter.

Tom Kandul spotted two Hooded Mergansers on the lake in Clifftops on Jan. 30, along with a bald eagle that may have had its eye on the mergansers.

State Park Offerings

Please note: To confirm that these events will occur as listed go to <http://tnstateparks.com/parks/levents/southcumberland/#/?park=south-cumberland> or call (931) 924-2980.

Wednesday, Feb. 13

Sherwood Forest Trail Build (free)—Join in with other South Cumberland trail blazers at 1 p.m. at the Sherwood Forest parking lot, (go out Jump Off Road to Old CCC Camp Road, and go just past Coyote Cove Lane) to help finish a brand new loop trail at the park. The trail is now open for a variety of public uses, but your help is needed to continue the work. Please be prepared with sturdy footwear and plenty of water/snacks. If you have favorite trail-building tools or pairs of gloves, feel free to bring them. Note: You can only access Old CCC Road from Jump Off Road, not from Sherwood Road!

Saturday, Feb. 16

Grundy Forest Waterfall Tour (free)—Meet Ranger Ryan Harris at 12:30 p.m. at the Grundy Forest trailhead, 131 Fiery Gizzard Rd., Tracy City, for an adventure on one of the Park's most scenic and visited trails. This Grundy Forest day loop is the head of the famous Fiery Gizzard trail and it offers a series of beautiful cascading and plunge pool waterfalls. This is a difficult-to-strenuous 3-mile hike. Be sure to dress for the weather, wear sturdy shoes suitable for hiking, bring snacks and water, and don't forget your camera to take the memory home with you!

Sunday, Feb. 17

Cold Weather Survival: Wilderness Survival/Bushcraft (free)—Join Ranger James Holland at 2 p.m. at Grundy Forest trailhead, 131 Fiery Gizzard Rd., Tracy City, to learn about some of the challenges of being outdoors in cold weather and how to prepare for them. Instruction will include proper clothing and equipment, preventing and treating cold weather injuries, and emergency shelters.

Tuesday, Feb. 19

Nature Hike to Suter Falls (free)—Join Ranger Dan Wescoat at 9 a.m. at Collins West trailhead, 2689 55th Ave., Gruetli-Laager, for a short, (roughly 2-mile) roundtrip hike to see beautiful Suter Falls. The hike will begin and end at the Collins West trailhead. On the way back there'll be a quick detour to a beautiful overlook just past the Collins West campsite. There is some tough footing, with some boulder crossings and slippery areas of the trail. Make sure you bring sturdy shoes with good support for hiking, as well as any water and snacks you may want as well as cameras for pictures along the way.

The South Cumberland State Park Visitors' Center is located on Highway 41 South between Monteagle and Tracy City and is open 8 a.m.–4:30 p.m. seven days a week. For more information call (931) 924-2980.

Herbarium Winter Events

Botanical Illustration, Spencer Hall, room 173, Saturday, Feb. 9, 9:30 a.m.–noon, with Mary Priestley. Very little drawing is involved in this easy technique. Participants will photocopy then trace a herbarium specimen of their choice, and use information from published sources to modify and enhance the image before transferring it to acid-free paper and going over it with ink and adding optional color. Space is limited. Email mpriestley0150@gmail.com with questions or to reserve a space and so Mary can have the materials ready for each participant.

Winter Trees, St. Mary's Sewanee, Sunday, March 3, 2 p.m., with Yolande Gottfried. Lovely large trees are silhouetted against the sky on the campus of St. Mary's Sewanee, giving us a great opportunity to observe branching, twigs, tree shape, bark and more before the leaves emerge. Meet in the main parking area for this easy one-hour stroll. See <https://www.stmarys-sewanee.org> for directions.

Early Spring Wildflowers, Shakerag Hollow, Sunday, March 17, 1:30 p.m., with Yolande Gottfried. It's St. Patrick's Day, a good time to look for early "green" in Shakerag Hollow. If you don't get out about now you might miss the beginning of the big show—spring ephemerals bloom early and fade fast. Meet at Green's View for this moderate-to-strenuous 2-mile walk that may include a steep rocky section of the trail.

Nature Journaling. A group meets for nature journaling Thursday from 9-11 a.m. Bring an unlined journal (or a few sheets of unlined paper) and a pen or pencil. No experience needed. The group meets in Spencer room 173. For more information email mpriestley0150@gmail.com.

For more information on these events, call Yolande Gottfried at the Herbarium (931) 598-3346, or by email at ygottfri@sewanee.edu.

Squeak

Sandy

Pets of the Week

Meet Squeak & Sandy

Squeak is a 1-year-old orange tabby with a free spirit and wild side! Squeak was a very tame stray that was brought in by a sweet couple that wanted to him find a forever home. We believe Squeak was dropped off by his owners for whatever reason, and left to fend for himself. Squeak loves to interact with other cats, but can sometimes be a little too playful for the more laid-back cats. Squeak came to us with a very gentle demeanor and he continues to be a sweetie pie and has established his confidence here at the harbor. We know he will make someone a very proud cat parent. Squeak is fully vaccinated, neutered, and FIV/FelV negative. He is just waiting for his forever home with an upbeat family that will mesh well with his spunky personality.

Sandy is a 2-year-old mixed breed medium-sized dog with a sweet spirit and kind demeanor. Sandy is a very friendly dog once she gets to know you. She can be shy at first and may need multiple visits before she is truly comfortable with you, but once she opens up she is super playful and very vivacious. Sandy loves treats, stuffed toys, and tennis balls. We think she can be well trained given her motivation to please, if she is worked with diligently. She has a ton of energy and will be such a good play buddy for your family. Sandy is fully vaccinated, heartworm-negative, spayed, and ready to go to her forever home!

Animal Harbor offers substantial adoption fee discounts for seniors and veterans. Pets adopted from Animal Harbor qualify for a free post-adoption wellness exam by local veterinarians.

BARDTOVERSE

by Phoebe Bates

Valentine's Day, Feb. 14, 2019

There is some kiss we want our whole lives, the touch of spirit on the body. Seawater begs the pearl to break its shell.
And the lily, how passionately it needs some wild darling! at night I open the window and ask the moon to come and press its face against mine Breathe into me. Close the language-door and open the love-window. The moon won't use the door, only the window.

Some Kiss We Want, by Rumi, translated by Coleman Bark
