Reuben E. Brigety II Named University of the South Vice- Chancellor and President

Reuben E. Brigety II, dean of the Elliott School of International Affairs at The George Washington University (GWU) and former U.S. ambassador to the African Union, has been elected the University of the South's 17th vice-chancellor and president.

The University's Board of Trustees elected Brigety today following a national search that began in September 2019. He will begin his term as vice-chancellor on Aug. 1. Brigety succeeds John M. McCardell Jr., who will step down July 31, 2020, after serving 10 years as vice-chancellor.

"It is my honor and privilege to serve as the next vice-chancellor and president of the University of the South, an institution that holds a truly distinctive place in American higher education," said Brigety. "During the search process, I got a glimpse of what makes Sewanee so special—an intellectual rigor coupled with an unparalleled sense of community, and a strong sense of place that is inclusive of everybody who finds their way here."

"Reuben Brigety has spent his life in public service, as a naval officer, as a deputy assistant secretary of state, as an ambassador, and as an educator. Born as a child of the South, Reuben is now a man of the world," said the Rt. Rev. Robert Skirving, bishop of the Episcopal Diocese of East Carolina, chancellor of the University, and chair of the Board of Trustees.

"His service to this nation has taken him to Iraq, Afghanistan, Haiti, the Middle East, and across Africa. Reuben will bring to Sewanee a rich global perspective and a strong record as a servant leader. I am very excited that Reuben has accepted this new call to service."

As dean at GWU, Brigety has led a school of international affairs that is consistently ranked among the nation's 10 best, and is one of the largest by enrollment. Under Brigety's leadership, the Elliott School has created research institutes for every region of the world, launched an incubator for applied ethics education and leadership training, and increased support for student research travel and internships.

Prior to becoming dean in 2015, Brigety served as U.S. ambassador to the African Union for two years. In that role, he managed the strategic partnership between the United States and the African Union with an emphasis on democracy and governance, economic growth, and development. He also served as the permanent representative of the United States to the UN Economic Commission for Africa; and, earlier, as deputy assistant secretary of state in the Bureau of African Affairs, with responsibility for Southern African and regional security affairs.

"This is a great day. In Ambassador Brigety we have been fortunate to find a bold and thoughtful leader who will bring to Sewanee the gifts of insight and of compassion that propelled him to the global stage," said Pulitzer Prize-winning author and historian Jon Meacham, C'91, a member of the search committee. "Reuben's remarkable journey has taken him from the U.S. Naval Academy to Cambridge, from Africa to Washington. Along the way Reuben has mastered the arts of diplomacy, of service, and of critical thinking."

"Ambassador Brigety is a transformational leader who is well-positioned to help us build a distinctive,

The Rev. Peter Gray Elected University Chaplain

The Rev. Peter Whittlesey Gray, rector of the Church of the Nativity in Greenwood, Miss., has been elected the next chaplain of the University of the South. The University's Board of Trustees elected Gray during their meeting on Feb. 28. The election follows a thorough national search that began last summer.

Gray will succeed the Rev. Thomas E. Macfie Jr., who will complete his work as chaplain at the end of the academic year in June. Macfie was appointed chaplain in 2006.

"I am honored to accept Sewanee's call to serve as chaplain. In this role, I hope to help this beloved school exemplify the virtues of the Episcopal Church at its best, namely: generosity and welcome, justice and mercy, and a fearless and humble commitment to the pursuit of the truth," said Gray.

"Together with the outstanding staff of All Saints' Chapel and with every partner we can find in the Sewanee community, I look forward to prayerfully nurturing diverse opportunities in which students, faculty, and staff can grow spiritually. And I look forward to—each of us—challenging ourselves to find how we can help Sewanee live up to its loftiest ideals."

Gray is a 2004 magna cum laude graduate of Millsaps College. He received a Master of Theological Studies degree from Vanderbilt in 2006, and earned a Master of Divinity degree from Virginia Theological Seminary in 2008. He was ordained to the priesthood in December 2008 at St. Anna's Church in New Orleans.

A native of Oxford, Miss., Gray has been in his current role at Nativity in Greenwood since 2013. He founded and serves as co-chair of an ecumenical ministry that builds unity in the Body of Christ across racial and denominational lines.

Local Voting, Super Tuesday

by Bailey Basham
Messenger Staff Writer

Voting numbers are in for Franklin, Grundy and Marion counties.

As of this month's vote, there are 50,277 voters registered between the three counties, and of those voters, 9,611 cast votes in the March 3 Presidential Preference Primary. That comes to just shy of 20 percent, which, compared to numbers from 2016, shows a 3 percent decrease in participation despite an increase of 2 percent in the number of voters registered.

In Franklin County, there are currently 24,750 people registered to vote, and of those voters, 6,705 voted either via absentee ballot, by casting a vote early or on Super Tuesday.

U.S. 2020 Census: Why, Misconceptions, and How

by Leslie Lytle, Messenger Staff Writer

In March, the U.S. Census Bureau will mail postcards to all U.S. addresses inviting them to participate in the 2020 U.S. census. The United States collects census data every 10 years.

"X number of people translates into X number of dollars," said Census Complete Count volunteer Rachel Petropoulos. "For every person that did not participate in the census in 2010, it costs Franklin County $1,000 in federal and state funding. We estimate the county lost over $10 million in funding over the last 10 years due to lack of participation in the 2010 census."

The Franklin County Complete Count Committee is composed of local volunteers representing diverse walks of life including education, hospitals and churches, Petropoulos said. The committee's goal is an accurate census count for Franklin County in 2020.

In addition to determining government funding amounts, census data is used to determine congressional representation and aids businesses in making expansion and hiring decisions, Petropoulos said.

However, Petropoulos stressed, "The census does not want to find illegal immigrants, and law prohibits the government from sharing census data with law enforcement or any other government agencies." Census data is not used to determine eligibility for benefits like SNAP or Social Security. With a goal of wanting non-citizens to respond so the count will be accurate, the census questionnaire does not ask if responders have U.S. citizenship. Nor does the census ask for social security numbers, bank numbers, or political party affiliation.

Providing an overview of the data collection process, Petropoulos said U.S. residents can participate in the U.S. census online, by mail or phone. Those who do not respond to the March postcard invitation to participate online will receive a questionnaire by mail. "There are pockets in the county with poor internet service," Petropoulos acknowledged. A census taker will visit addresses that have not responded by May.

"April 1 is Census Day," Petropoulos said. "You should answer the questions about your primary residence based on where you typically live and consume services as of April 1, even if you are away from home on that date."

Students who reside away from their families for most of the year, and homeless people are counted by a method called "group quarters," Petropoulos said. Families with students who primarily reside away from the home should not count those students when filling out the census form. The students are counted where they attend school.

The U.S. Census Bureau is recruiting census takers for residence visits. The job lasts eight to 10 weeks and pays $14 per hour, along with 58 cents per mile. Many census takers do the job on weekends or during their off time from their regular job. Many states exempt census-taker income when determining SNAP and other benefits, Petropoulos said. To apply to be a census taker, visit <<https://2020census.gov/en/jobs/how-to-apply.html>>.

In the 10-year span between 2000 and 2010, the U.S. population increased 9.7 percent to 308,745,538.

Stressing the importance of the census, Petropoulos said, "How do you plan for the future without knowing how many people there are?"

Highway 41A to Get Makeover in Sewanee

by Leslie Lytle, Messenger Staff Writer

At the March Sewanee Village update meeting, project manager Robert Rogers presented the design for narrowing Highway 41A to two lanes. "We're in the right-of-way phase," said Rogers, a civil engineer and roadway design specialist with Tennessee Department of Transportation. "Once the right-of-ways are acquired and the utilities are moved, we can begin the construction phase."

The half-mile project will reduce the highway from four lanes to two lanes, with curbing from Kentucky Avenue to Trimble Lane,

Rogers said. The University Avenue intersection will have 11-foot wide center turn lanes for traffic turning left. Traveling east, there will also be a center turn lane at Reeds Lane.

On the north side, the construction will include a 6-foot sidewalk and 6-foot planting strip from Kentucky Avenue to Alabama Avenue. On the south side, the plan calls for extending the Mountain Goat Trail. The trail will begin just west of the Sewanee Market and join the existing trail at Hawkins Lane. The 10-foot wide shared-use

THANKS FROM FOCAGIFO FUNDRAISER

To the Editor:

The Friends of Canon Gideon Foundation and Sewanee's Rotaract Club want to thank the many volunteers and donors who made this year's fundraiser for Canon Gideon's Hope Institute, a vocational high school in Uganda, such a heart-warming event. Students of Theta Pi and Rotaract, especially Caroline Sweetin, Olivia Whitcomb, Livia Karoui, Edith Amason, and Stella Brannon, took leadership positions in planning and producing the event, with support from their Rotary sponsor John Solomon. Aaron Welch worked his magic again on the invitations and posters. The African soups made by Gary Sturgis were the talk of the evening.

Harriet Runkle of the Frame Shop framed the major prize of the silent auction, a batik painting of a woman donated by Tom and Marilyn Phelps. Nonie Allen welcomed all at the door and kept the ticket and auction money straight. All Saints Chapel and several campus groups were generous sponsors. Professor Paige Schneider updated us on her research into women's issues and electoral violence in Uganda. We also thank the University for enabling us to use McGriff Alumni House, a lovely and right-sized setting for our gathering of 40 people.

This year's (our seventh) project was to help Canon Gideon purchase land for a business center including classrooms to teach best business practices and a restaurant and shops where students can work. "Earn as you learn," as he says. Our goal was $10,000, and we raised only $7,500. If any community members meant to send a check or were unable to attend, we would happily receive any late donations at FOCAGIFO, P.O. Box 213, Sewanee TN 37375. Free Income Tax Prep

The IRS-certified BetterFi and Sewanee Volunteer Income Tax Assistance (VITA) Program will be processing and filing qualifying residents' income taxes.

Regular morning hours will be maintained at BetterFi in Coal-mont on Monday and Wednesday 8:30 a.m.–noon. BetterFi is located in the old red brick Tower or Citizens State Bank building right near the junction (9933 State Route 56). Walk-ins are permitted, but BetterFi requests that folks planning to come to regular hours register ahead of time for an appointment through the website <betterfi.co/vita>. The VITA program will also host weekend tax sessions at partner sites. These are all first-come-first-served except at Franklin County Library, where individuals looking to file should sign up in advance at the library.

Any resident of Franklin, Grundy, or Marion county who makes less than $55,000 a year, is disabled, or is elderly qualifies for a free tax return.

Each resident interested in filing must bring proof of identification (a photo ID), social security cards (if filing jointly with another person then bring both social security cards and both individuals must be present), wage and earning statements (W-2, 1099, etc.), dividend and interest statements (if this applies to the resident filing), birth dates of the resident(s) and dependent(s), and banking account and routing numbers for direct deposit (found on a blank check).

If a resident filing does not have a social security card, then he/she must bring an IRS Individual Taxpayer Identification Number (ITIN) assignment letter.

If a filer cannot make any of the tax sessions or regular hours at BetterFi, they should email Sam Shaw at <sam@betterfi.co>.

Church News

All Saints’ Chapel

Choral Evensong—Please join us Sunday afternoon, March 8, at 4 p.m. for Choral Evensong featuring the University Choir and St. George’s Choir in Nashville. St. George’s is led by Dr. Woosug Kang, conductor, and Gerry Senechal, C’02, organist.

Growing in Grace continues Sunday, March 8, at 6:30 p.m. in All Saints’ Chapel. Maddie Keller, a senior in the college, will be sharing her reflections with us. This informal worship service is designed for students and community members, featuring student-led acoustic music, a different guest speaker each week, and Holy Communion. This semester, each of our speakers will address our theme, “The Stranger as God.” Together, we will explore how we see God in the stranger, drawing wisdom from Hebrews 3:2—“Do not neglect to show hospitality to strangers, for by doing that some have entertained angels without knowing it.” Email Lay Chaplain Kayla Deep if you have any questions.

The Catechumenate will not meet this Wednesday, March 11. It will resume at 7 p.m. Wednesday, March 25, in the Women’s Center.

The Lenten Daily Eucharist—The Eucharist will be celebrated each weekday, that classes are in session, during the season of Lent beginning at 12:25 p.m. in St. Augustine’s Chapel. The service is designed to last 20–25 minutes, so that you can take part and still make it to your 1 p.m. class or appointment.

Spring Break—Our regular schedule of daily services will be suspended during Spring Break, beginning March 12 through March 22. These services will resume Monday, March 23. The 11 a.m. Eucharist will resume Sunday, March 29.

Celtic Spirituality Group

A Celtic Spirituality Group meets twice a month at St. Mary’s Sewanee: The Ayres Center for Spiritual Development. The next meeting will be at 6 p.m., Wednesday, March 18 in St. Mary’s Hall, the main building of St. Mary’s Sewanee. All are welcome.

The purpose of the group is to study and discuss aspects of Celtic

Christian spirituality, and to support and encourage one another to live faithful Christian lives that are aware of and responsive to the presence of God in all of creation. The group welcomes people who are seeking to honor and serve Christ in all persons and creatures. Presently, the group is reading and discussing “The Universal Christ” by Richard Rohr.

For more information, contact Stephen Eichler at (423) 619-3328 or by email to <stepheneichler@hotmail.com>.

Morton Memorial United Methodist

During the season of Lent, we are urged to refrain from business as usual in order to attend to the body, spirit, mind, soul, and heart. It is a time set aside for worshipers to connect their faith walk with the ways in which they live, move, and have their being throughout daily life. At Morton Memorial United Methodist Church, we take very seriously connecting faith to life. Join us at 11 a.m. on Sunday, March 8, as we explore Psalm 121 and how it can help us deepen our relationships with ourselves, our family and friends and God. You are invited to join us for coffee at 10:30 a.m. before the service. A well-staffed nursery is available.

This Sunday, a new discussion will begin at 9:30 a.m. in the Wesley House across the parking lot from Morton’s Fellowship Center. The book to be discussed will be “Wisdom Distilled from the Daily: Living the Rule of St. Benedict Today” by Joan Chittister. Her book offers an examination of how the Rule of St. Benedict continues to be one of the world’s great models for personal spiritual growth and connecting with God. Each chapter covers a different aspect of the Rule, including such topics as prayer, work, mindfulness, hospitality, peace, and listening.

Otey Parish

This Sunday, youth meet at 9:45 a.m. in Brooks Hall for Sunday Service Hour. Infants 6 weeks to children 4 years old are invited to the nursery beginning at 8:30 a.m. There will be nursery for both services and the Sunday School Hour. Children ages 3-11 are invited to join us in the Godly Play 1 room Claiborne Parish House. Children in second–fifth grade are invited to join us in the Godly Play 2 room Claiborne Parish House.

The Otey Parish Adult Forum meets on Sundays, 9:45-10:45 a.m., in St. Mark’s Hall. All are welcome. On Sunday, March 8, William Brosend will present in the Otey Adult Forum ongoing series “Practicing Our Faith in a World of Need.” He will examine the eighth chapter of St. Paul’s Letter to the Romans in its historical and rhetorical contexts. Together we will then explore the meaning of the chapter for the life of faith today, focusing on Romans 8:18-25, and centering on the stewardship of creation. William Brosend is a priest of the Diocese of Kentucky and Professor of New Testament at the School of Theology.

Thursdays during Lent, March 12, 19, 26, April 2, at 12:15 p.m., Holy Eucharist & Healing Service.

Each Other’s Keeper is Otey’s Lenten Tuesday lunch series. The Rev. Marc D. Smith, Ph.D., began developing Each Other’s Keeper: The Church’s Response to Violence as a Fellow-in-Residence here at the School of Theology in 2018. Otey is honored to have our Lenten Tuesday lunch series serve as a pilot before the new series is published.

The series considers violence in scripture, violence in popular culture, gun violence as a public health crisis, youth bullying and suicide, domestic violence and sexual abuse, and concludes with forgiveness and reconciliation. Each session includes a video presentation, reflection, and discussion.

The community is invited to participate at no cost. Participants gather for a simple lunch of soup (at least one of which is vegetarian) and bread at noon each Tuesday during Lent. There will be a break before 1pm for those who wish to leave then, but discussion time will be available for those who wish to remain until 1:30pm.

On Sunday, March 22, at 4 p.m. Robin Bates will host a discussion of History of Love by Nicole Krauss in Brooks Hall. This is the first of what we hope will become regular invitations to explore the spiritual insights of literature at single-meeting gatherings hosted by a variety of members of the community. Tea and coffee will be served. Books will be chosen by the hosts and will be announced about a month in advance of the meeting. No sign up required. All you have to do is read the book and come to the meeting. The books should be widely available through your chosen bookseller; some may be available through local libraries.

Join your fellow parishioners this Lent in reading "Songs My Grandma Sang" by Presiding Bishop Michael Curry. The book includes a foreword by School of Theology Dean Neil Alexander. Otey will offer a facilitated discussion later in Lent. "Songs My Grandma Sang" is available at <churchpublishing.org>, <amazon.com> (Kindle or hard copy) and other booksellers.

St. James

During Lent there will be an adult class that meets each Sunday, from through April 5, Palm Sunday, beginning at 10:30 a.m. The title of the class is "Walking the Way of the Cross," and it will invite us to walk with Jesus as He journeys from condemnation to crucifixion. Yet we all know the story doesn't end on the cross because we find new life in the power of the resurrection on Easter morning. Please join David Boyd, our seminarian, and Fr. John as we look deeply into the journey Jesus made along the Via Dolorosa to achieve our salvation. As a guide, we will use the book, "Praying the Stations of the Cross: Finding Hope in a Weary Land" by Margaret Adams Parker and Katherine Sonderegger (Eerdmans, 2019).

St. Mary's Convent

Each Friday during Lent (excluding Friday, March 20) the Sisters will have a Stations of the Cross service at noon. They will begin inside the convent and end in procession at the chapel. All are welcome to attend. The convent and chapel will be closed March 14-21.

"Peter Gray will be an excellent chaplain: a wise and faithful priest, a strong spiritual mentor and model, an articulate and compelling preacher, and a caring and welcoming presence for all the members of the University community, but most especially our students," said Vice-Chancellor John McCardell. "Peter's personal connections to the mountain are deep, having spent summers at the home of his grandparents Duncan and Ruth Gray." Bishop Duncan Gray, a School of Theology alumnus, served as Sewanee chancellor.

Professor of Geology Bran Potter and current Regent the Rev. Patty Rhyne, T'06, co-chaired a search advisory committee charged with the task of identifying strong candidates for the chaplaincy. The Ordinances of the University state that upon the nomination of the vice-chancellor, the Trustees elect the chaplain.

"I am grateful to all the members of the advisory committee for their dedication, commitment, and counsel throughout this exhaustive search process," said McCardell.

The Rev. Peter Whittlesey Gray has been elected the next chaplain of the University of the South

More than 97 percent of Franklin County's primary Republican voters cast votes to re-elect president Donald Trump, who received 3,770 votes. A combined total of 71 votes were cast for Republican candidates Joe Walsh (43) and Bill Weld (28), and the remaining 55 Republican voters were either uncommitted or opted to write in the candidate of their choice.

A total of 2,760 people voted as Democrats, with 1,225 votes going to former vice president Joe Biden, 587 to Vermont senator Bernie Sanders, 435 to Mike Bloomberg and 326 to Massachusetts senator Elizabeth Warren. Former mayor of South Bend, Ind., Pete Buttigieg received a total of 70 votes in Franklin County.

In Grundy County, records show a total of 7,817 registered voters, 1,725 of which voted in the primary. President Trump received a total of 1,047 votes, accounting for 98.59 percent of the county's Republican ballots. A combined total of nine votes were cast in support of Walsh (3) and Weld (6), and another six Republican voters were uncommitted.

Biden received the most votes on the Democratic ballot in Grundy County with a total of 265 votes. Bloomberg and Sanders were next with 126 and 116 respectively. Warren and Buttigieg also each received some support in Grundy, with 55 and 19 votes respectively.

Of Marion County's 17,710 registered voters, 4,585 voted in the primary. There were 2,169 votes cast with the Republican party, and President Trump received 2,125 of them. Walsh and Weld received 11 and 12, respectively, and there were 21 uncommitted Republican voters.

Biden also received the votes on the Democratic ballot in Marion County with a total of 1,027 votes. Sanders received 419 votes, and Bloomberg received 441. Warren also received support in Marion with 158 votes. Sixty-five Democratic voters in Marion were uncommitted.

For information about voting rights, visit <www.sos.tn.gov>, and to find out your polling station, contact your county's election commission office. The number for the Franklin County office is (931) 967-1893; Grundy County is (931) 692-3551 and Marion County is (423) 942-2108.

Note: all data was provided either by each county's election commission via an election summary report or by reports from the Secretary of State. Numbers for this year are not yet official as of this writing.

inclusive vision of our university that will appeal to a new cohort of globally-minded students," said Andrea N. Mansker, professor of history and chair of women's and gender studies at Sewanee, and another search committee member. "Proposing to 'bring Sewanee to the world and the world to Sewanee,' he will help us raise our institution's national and international profile as a model of excellence and advocacy in the liberal arts."

Prior to his work in the policy arena, Brigety was an assistant professor of government and politics at George Mason University and before that taught international relations at the School of International Service at American University. Before entering academia, he conducted research missions in Afghanistan and Iraq with the Arms Division of Human Rights Watch.

A native of Jacksonville, Fla., Brigety is a 1995 distinguished midshipman graduate of the U.S. Naval Academy, and holds a master's degree in philosophy and a Ph.D. in international relations from the University of Cambridge. Brigety is a member of the American Academy of Diplomacy, a life member of the Council on Foreign Relations, and a recipient of the council's International Affairs Fellowship.

Brigety and his wife, Leelie Selassie, M.D., have two sons.

path will run along the highway separated by a planting strip six feet to two feet wide. Having a narrower planting strip on the south side made it unnecessary to acquire property from the University and fit in with University's development plans, Rogers said.

"We met with the University four times to make sure our road fit in with the University's plans for the area," Rogers said.

A pedestrian activated crosswalk at the University Avenue intersection will alert traffic with flashers, but there will not be a stoplight, according to Rogers. Signage alerting motorists will comply with federal standards for state highways. As is the case now, the speed limit will be 35 miles per hour.

Area business owner Aaron Welch noted the curb would eliminate parking in front of his businesses and the other two roadside businesses in the strip west of Reeds Lane.

"Parking will be behind the shops and accessed from Reeds Lane," Roberts said.

"We really want to encourage pedestrian activity," said Frank Gladu, who heads up the Sewanee Village plan to renovate and rejuvenate downtown. "Sidewalks, a planting strip, and defined curb are a real advantage to slowing down traffic and allowing pedestrians to navigate without concerns about where the next car will come from."

"I'm glad this is happening," said business owner Harriet Runkle. "People race through there." However, Runkle, like Welch, owns a business that will lose roadside parking. She expressed concern about deliveries to those businesses. "We need to look at that," Gladu acknowledged.

Area resident Mike Roark pointed out making Reeds Lane a two-way street instead of a one-way street would help to accommodate parking behind the businesses fronting Highway 41A.

Gladu noted the Village Plan called for street-side trees, but said, "We'll need work with TDOT on that" to make sure plantings did not impede motorist visibility.

Area resident Sarah Stapleton asked about the impact of the road project on the Sewanee Gardeners' Market held in the parking area between Hawkins Lane and the Hair Depot.

The location would be available for the market and parking "for the foreseeable future," Gladu said. "The parking lot is identified as a development area, and once it's developed, parking would be behind the buildings." However, Gladu noted, "Development will be incremental and take time."

"We're working with the county highway department to build the road," Rogers said. He forecast construction would begin in the spring of 2021.

"I've been meeting with Rogers over five years," Gladu said. "We're very excited about the progress."

St. Mary's Sewanee Announces New Retreats

St. Mary's Sewanee: The Ayres Center for Spiritual Development is pleased to announce three upcoming retreats, including two that are new to the Mountain.

Rising Strong™ Retreat, Friday–Sunday, April 24–26

In this intensive three-day retreat led by Maryellen McCone and Richard Barrali, participants will explore the process of rewriting their stories using the groundbreaking research of Brené Brown. The retreat is based on vulnerability: If we are brave enough, often enough, we will fall. The Rising Strong™ workshop is a research-based program about what it takes to get back up, live a more wholehearted and satisfying life, rise strong and how owning our stories of struggle gives us the power to write daring new endings.

Both McCone and Barrali are certified facilitators for Dr. Brené Brown's workshops. Formerly of Sewanee, they live now in Maine. McCone has a master's degree in psychology and counseling; Barrali is a certified yoga teacher.

Sacred Pathways to your Full Potential, Friday–Sunday, May 29–31

Join the dynamic Susan Packard, co-founder of HGTV, for a weekend retreat, "Sacred Pathways to Your Full Potential." This workshop will explore the noble work of becoming who each of us is meant to be. With greater self-knowledge, acceptance and self-love, growth of all kinds is possible. The group will explore Centering Prayer and the Enneagram as sacred pathways to discovering all the possibilities in one's life.

During the retreat, there will be periods of silent contemplative prayer as well as talks about Centering Prayer and the Enneagram, both of which will give participants the tools to unlock their full promise, and free their interior lives through transforming pain into healing.

Packard is an author, speaker, leader, and coach who lives in Knoxville. In addition to co-founding HGTV, she worked on the startup teams of HBO and CNBC. Packard is the author of "Fully Human: Three Steps to Grow Your Emotional Fitness for Work, Leadership, and Life" and "New Rules of the Game: 10 Strategies for Women in the Workplace."

Drawing Closer to God: Icon Writing in Lent, Friday–Sunday, April 3–5

Icon writing is a rich spiritual practice, a meeting place between the divine and the human. Part of the icon's symbolism is transmitted through the step-by-step technique used to create it. Join Sewanee artist Martha Keeble for this three-day workshop that is an exploration of visual prayer using a traditional Byzantine image to draw closer to God. Participants work on their icons in silence giving the participant an experience of deep contemplation. No prior art experience is necessary.

Keeble has taught art for more than 35 years. She has a BFA in drawing and painting from the University of Georgia and a master's degree in art education from Georgia State University.

For more information about any of these events, including making reservations, go online to <www.stmaryssewanee.org>, call St. Mary's Sewanee at (931) 598-5342, or email <reservations@stmaryssewanee.org>.

St. Mary's Sewanee: The Ayres Center for Spiritual Development is dedicated to providing spiritual hospitality to persons of diverse religious and spiritual backgrounds, in a place of natural beauty, simplicity, silence, tranquility and warm spiritual rest through retreats, renewal and learning. For more than 30 years, St. Mary's Sewanee has welcomed individuals and groups from across the United States and around the world to a place to rest, renew and reconnect.

Fulcher to be Keynote Speaker at Trails and Trilliums

Nationally acclaimed naturalist and folklorist Bob Fulcher will be the keynote speaker at this year's Trails and Trilliums event, set for April 17-19 at the DuBose Conference Center in Monteagle.

Fulcher, manager of Cumberland Trail State Park, will discuss the work of French naturalist Charles Alexandre Lesueur, who, in 1831, sketched his way across the Cumberland Mountains, from Nashville to East Tennessee. Fulcher will present images of his work, kept by the American Philosophical Society, and the Le Havre Museum of Natural History in France, and explain the significance of these rarely-seen sketches. Fulcher's presentation is set for 3 p.m., Friday, April 17.

Fulcher is founder of the Tennessee State Parks Folklife Project, and has spent decades preserving the stories and music of the Cumberland area and training others throughout the park system.

Trails and Trilliums, now in its 17th year, offers three days of guided hikes, workshops, free children's events, seminars and workshops. The festival raises funds to support the initiatives of the Friends of South Cumberland (FSC), working in support of the South Cumberland State Park.

Each day through the weekend, guided hikes will be offered on 28 of the South Cumberland's most scenic trails. A slate of 20 workshops and presentations will be offered during the weekend that cover a variety of topics.

Saturday's activities for children include a wildlife program with snakes, turtles and birds of prey, fort building, hayrides, pioneer activities and fairy houses. The inaugural Family Campout event will be held that evening on the grounds of the Dubose Conference Center.

In addition to the seminars and hikes, Vonore, Tennessee's Overhill Gardens will be offering a wide array of native plants, along with other unique and interesting vendors. The event also features live music on stage and plenty of festival food.

To view a complete schedule of events or to register, visit <www.trailsandtrilliums.org>. Registration to the public opened Feb. 24, and pre-registration is recommended, since many hikes and seminars fill up quickly.

The Wild Azalea Gala, with cocktails, a gourmet dinner, and after-dinner dance music by Nashville dance band "Entice" is set for the evening of April 17. Money raised from the annual gala, the largest fundraiser of the year, provides funding for a variety of initiatives the Friends undertake to support South Cumberland State Park, from educational programming for area school children to trail and bridge maintenance, to land conservation, park visitor information and more. Separate reservations for the gala may be made at <www.wildazaleagala.org>.

Proceeds from the event will benefit FSC, a group of volunteer citizens dedicated to supporting the South Cumberland State Park, which, at 30,837 acres, is the state's largest.

The School of Theology's Women's Lecture

The School of Theology's Women's Lecture will be at 7:30 p.m., Tuesday, March 24, in Hargrove Auditorium, Hamilton Hall. The Rev. Gay Clark Jennings, President of the House of Deputies, will present "Filling the Hungry with Good Things: The Promise of Women's Equality in the Episcopal Church." A reception will follow the lecture in Hamilton Hall foyer.

Nearly 44 years after General Convention approved the ordination of women to the priesthood and episcopate, we have much to celebrate and much work remaining. In her lecture, House of Deputies President Gay Clark Jennings, a priest since 1979, will reflect on how our church has changed as women have gained authority and what our progress can mean for women without institutional privilege.

Jennings was elected president of the House of Deputies at the 77th General Convention of the Episcopal Church in 2012, and was unopposed for reelection in 2015 and 2018. She is the first ordained woman to hold the position. As president, Jennings is committed to fostering a new generation of leaders in The Episcopal Church and encouraging the church's work for justice through the actions of General Convention and the work of Episcopalians throughout the church.

John Wilkes Booth Revisited

The history books tell us that John Wilkes Booth assassinated President Lincoln on April 14, 1865; that he eluded capture for twelve days; and that he was ultimately cornered in the barn of Richard Garrett where he was shot; he died several hours later.

Many of you have probably heard the theory, however, that John Wilkes Booth actually escaped the barn, lived for a short while in Sewanee in 1871-1872, and died under the alias David E. George in Enid, Oklahoma, in 1903. Now there is new evidence supporting this theory.

The story goes that John Wilkes Booth was not shot in Garrett's barn. One witness on the scene insisted the body was not Booth because the person shot had red hair. This was corroborated by two other witnesses who came forward later. All the government witnesses, however, stated that the body was that of Booth. They were each paid approximately $1,600 reward money for their statements.

Booth, the story continues, made his way to Sewanee in 1872. While here, he met Louisa Payne. They were married, and then Booth confessed to Louisa who he really was. She insisted that they go to the courthouse and register under his real name. The name in the court record is Jno. W. Boothe.

Louisa's son, McCager, overheard the confession. Booth warned him never to tell what he heard, but he did eventually confide in a friend. The friend brought it to the attention of Arthur Ben Chitty, then historiographer of the University, and Mr. Chitty spent over twenty years researching the topic.

Louisa and her husband moved to Memphis, but they were watched and followed, and so Booth vanished, leaving his pregnant wife and stepson behind. Louisa returned to Sewanee and gave birth to Ida Booth, who later became an actress.

Booth next surfaced in Granbury, Texas, under the name of John St. Helen. He eventually moved to Enid, Oklahoma under the alias David E. George. Here he took his own life. He confessed four times to people that he was Booth: once to Louisa; once to his lawyer, Finis Bates; once to a woman when he thought he was dying; and finally to another woman when he was on his actual deathbed. He allegedly said to her, "I killed the greatest man who ever lived... Abraham Lincoln."

Finis Bates claimed the body and had it embalmed. It became a mummy. Eventually Bates sold the mummy to a carnival, which toured it around the country as the body of John Wilkes Booth. At one point a team of six doctors examined the mummy and found four features identical to those of Booth: a broken left leg; a crushed finger; a scar over his eye; and a scar on the back of his neck. The mummy disappeared around 1940.

Efforts to exhume the purported body of Booth in order to conduct DNA tests were unsuccessful.

None of this, of course, actually proves that John Wilkes Booth escaped the barn. It does, however, raise intriguing possibilities.

Now facial recognition has come into play. Photos of Booth in 1865, St. Helen in 1877, and the embalmed body of David E. George in 1903 were compared. The photos of George and Booth matched with 99 percent accuracy. They were even within one pixel of having the same eye structure. The photo of John St. Helen was damaged, but it still matched with 97 percent accuracy. Police pay special attention to any match with over 95 percent accuracy. This does not prove unequivocally that Booth escaped, but it certainly gives more credibility to the theory. Will this change what is written in the history books?

A Night on the Town

Tickets are now on sale for the fourth annual Progressive Dinner, sponsored by the Sewanee Children's Center, to be held Saturday evening, April 4. This fundraiser/friendraiser event begins at 5:30 p.m. with hors d'oeuvres and libation at the home of Annwn and Dixon Myers. Participants will then discover who their appointed dinner hosts are and progress to that home for a sit-down, candle-light dinner, complete with wine and conversation. At 8:30 p.m., guests will 'progress' a final time to the top floor of Shenanigans for delectable desserts, music, continued conversation, and a cash bar. All proceeds from the sale of tickets go toward further enhancing the program content offered by the Center.

Tickets are $60 per couple or $35 per single. Individuals may sign up with a friend or family member and be considered as a couple. Tickets can be purchased using Venmo, cash or check at <sewaneechildrenscenter@gmail.com>. Seating is limited, so make your reservation early.

Tigers Don't Leave Tracks!

Tigers Don't Leave Tracks!, a program aimed at educating students about sustainability and helping them reduce their use of single-use plastics, continues at Sewanee Elementary. On Feb. 21, Rachel Petroupolos, a staff member with Facilities Management at the University of the South, spoke with SES students about how to recycle plastics properly in Franklin County. Our clean and dry plastic bottles and jugs are recycled into pellets and then furniture here in the United States.

The Piggly Wiggly is hosting a draw in support of the project. When you bring your own bags to The Pig, write the name of a teacher or a class on the back of your receipt (grade 2, Ms. Walters' class, Principal's Choice, etc.) and put it in the Tigers Don't Leave Tracks! jar at the front of the store. Those receipts are collected periodically and entered in prize draws. The winning classes receive tools for making sustainable habits easier—sturdy Klean Kanteen water bottles or LunchSkins Reusable Sandwich Bags for everyone. On Feb. 17, Kelli Camp's Kindergarten class won LunchSkins for everyone.

Local businesses also support Tigers Don't Leave Tracks! Mooney's, the Lemon Fair, the Sewanee Market, the Piggly Wiggly, Joseph's Remodeling Solutions, Village Wine and Spirits and Montegale Wine and Spirits have offered their generous support to the Tigers Don't Leave Tracks! Reusable Bag project, making donations when you use reusable bags in local stores, and by making possible our student prizes.

Please thank them for their very generous support, and bring your reusable bags when you shop.

Kelli Camp's kindergarten class won the drawing held periodically as part of the Tigers Don't Leave Tracks program at SES.

Art Scholarships Available for Educators

Shakerag Workshops, a program of week-long craft courses held on the campus of St. Andrew's-Sewanee School in Sewanee, Tenn., offers 14-18 all-inclusive scholarships for educators.

Shakerag Educators Scholarship recipients may attend any of the program's week-long classes at no cost. All fees (tuition, all meals, class fees, and housing if applicable) are included in the scholarship opportunity. Scholarship recipients' only expense is transportation to and from Sewanee. Educators in all institutions, at all levels and in all subject areas, as well as administrators and school staff members, are encouraged to apply. No experience in art is necessary.

Shakerag offers week-long classes June 14-20 and June 21-27, 2020, in several different media. Applications for the Educators Scholarships will be accepted through March 31. Applicants should contact Shakerag directly <info@shakerag.org> to be sent an application, or go to the website registration page <www.shakerag.org> to apply online. The deadline for Shakerag to receive these applications is April 1, 2020. Scholarship recipients will be notified by April 15. Most classes still have openings during Shakerag. Prospective applicants should refer to the Shakerag website, <www.shakerag.org>, to determine which class best fulfills their needs.

Arts and Ales Fundraiser

Franklin County Arts Guild is hosting its fifth annual fundraiser Arts and Ales—an over 21 celebration of the visual arts, music and the art of brewing. This ticketed event will be noon–4:30 p.m., Saturday, March 28, at Monterey Station in Cowan.

Benefiting the Franklin County Arts Guild, proceeds are used to promote visual and performing arts in Franklin County. The Franklin County Arts Guild also provides a scholarship for a promising high school senior planning to study art or art education at the university level. The Guild provides local artists an opportunity to exhibit and sell their works through its gallery, The Artisan Depot.

Attendees will be able to spend an afternoon tasting a large variety of micro-brews while viewing the work of local artists. Backwoods Carboys will offer a demonstration on making craft beer. In addition, there will be art demonstrations, mob art projects, food, and live music.

New this year is a VIP ticket for $40 for early bird entrance. Come at 11 a.m. to sample a special beer and food pairing hosted by a local chef, and more.

Tickets, $25 preorder, are available online at <<http://www.franklincoarts.org/arts-and-ales.html>>.

ANGELWITH AN ATTITUDE

by Virginia Craighill

Dear Angel,

I was surprised and excited by the announcement that Ambassador Reuben Brigety would be our 17th Vice-Chancellor last week. Did you have any idea who it would be beforehand?

*Signed,
Who Knew?*

Dear WK,

The announcement and introduction of the 17th Vice-Chancellor last Friday was more highly anticipated than the Final Rose Ceremony of this season's "The Bachelor," but it's no surprise that someone who can rock a purple bowtie as well as Ambassador Brigety would be a good fit for Sewanee. The surprise, however, is not that the search committee made an excellent choice, but that it actually was a surprise.

In a place where rumors spread faster than the coronavirus, where information is traded like Blue Chip stocks on Wall Street, it is almost unimaginable that a secret this big could be kept. And yet it was. Once decided, the University must have sequestered the search committee in the dank crypt beneath Cravens Hall, only to release them last Friday right before the announcement. We also suspect a sophisticated disinformation campaign whereby Marketing and Communications dropped hints that the 17th V.C. would be either Tom Steyer or Mike Bloomberg, depending on who dropped out of the primaries first. Despite implementing professional investigative methods - a Ouija board, waterboarding various low-level administrators, and asking Brian at the Inn if he'd heard anything - to get the scoop, the Angel could learn nothing. All lips were University-sealed.

It took a secret this big, this exciting, and this well-kept to get so many people out to Cravens Hall on a Friday afternoon, and it was worth the journey. Welcome to Vice-Chancellor-Elect Reuben Brigety and Dr. Leelie Salassie, and kudos to the Search Committee on a job well-done.

*Ecce Quam Bonum!
Angel*

Dear Angel,

When the coronavirus hits Sewanee, how will we know whether we have COVID-19 or a hangover, and what kind of preparations can we make in the meantime?

*Signed,
Anxious Prepper*

Dear Prepper,

Common Sense and the CDC would tell you that washing your hands more often than Lady Macbeth is a good start. Stockpiling facemasks from the CVS, however, is not the path to popularity and will eventually lead to angry mobs stoning you to death at Angel Park.

A dormitory is a lot like a Diamond Princess cruise ship without the discos and all-you-can-eat buffet, so if you're a student and live in a dorm, the best way to prepare is a) vacuum-seal your room, or b) check out some gear from the Outing Club and go live off the grid on the Perimeter Trail for a few months. However, if you live in a dorm and have never had the flu, strep, mono, pink eye, sinusitis, any STDs, or the stomach bug, you're probably going to be fine because you're probably not even human. Also, avoid the pangolin and bat tacos at McClurg.

If you're a community member and have a child at SES, then you've already been prepping for the coronavirus since the elementary school has been closed for most of 2020 anyway. Make sure you subscribe to Disney's streaming channel and buy some noise-cancelling headphones. If you have an infant, save a few diapers for homemade masks.

For once, Sewanee's dearth of food courts, multi-plexes, grocery stores, and Super Targets may work as a marketing tool: "Sewanee: We helped you avoid malaria in the 1800s, and we're still that isolated!"

As for knowing the difference between a hangover and COVID-19, if you don't drink, it will be easier to figure out.

*Stay healthy, friends!
Angel*

At the Galleries

Archives and Special Collections

Through July 31, "Menagerie: Selections from the Tennessee Williams Collections at the University of the South" will be on display.

The Archives holds two distinct collections related to Williams: a collection of personal, manuscript, and household items from his estate and a collection of posters and playbills documenting Williams' plays produced around the world. Some of the manuscript materials include his journals, scripts with hand-written notes, and his address book. The household goods range from the personal to the mundane, from a crocheted afghan to a toaster.

Museum Gallery, William R. Laurie Archives and Special Collections normal exhibit hours are Monday-Friday, from 1–5 p.m.

Artisan Depot

The community show "Beertopia" will feature crafts and art, and will run through March 29. The reception is at 5 p.m., March 20.

There will be an all members show "Recycled" on display through April 26. The reception is at 5 p.m., March 20.

The Artisan Depot is located at 204 Cumberland St., Cowan. Gallery hours are from noon to 5 p.m., Thursday, Friday and Sunday and 11 a.m. to 5 p.m. on Saturday.

Frame Gallery

The Frame Gallery is hosting a "Mixed Media Art" show through April 11.

The Frame Gallery is located at 12569 Sollace M. Freeman Hwy., Sewanee. Hours are 10 a.m. to 5 p.m., Tuesday through Friday, and 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. on Saturday.

University Art Gallery

The University Art Gallery is honored to present "Highlander Libraries," through April 8. This collaborative project transforms the University Art Gallery to recall the library of the Highlander Folk School as it existed near Monteagle from 1932 to 1961.

Highlander Libraries is hosting weekly drop-in oral history sessions on Tuesdays from 11:30 a.m. to 1 p.m. Documentaries about social justice and Appalachia will screen every Wednesday, Thursday, and Sunday at noon.

The gallery will be closed during the University spring break. The gallery is open 10 a.m.–5 p.m. Tuesday through Friday and noon–4 p.m. on Saturday and Sunday. The University Art Gallery is located on Georgia Avenue. Visit <gallery.sewanee.edu> for more information.

'Ugly Lies the Bone' at the TN Williams Center

Theatre/Sewanee will present "Ugly Lies the Bone" by Lindsey Ferrentino Thursday, Friday, and Saturday, March 5–7, at 7:30 p.m. with a Sunday matinee, March 8, at 2 p.m. The play will be at the Tennessee Williams Center.

"Ugly Lies the Bone" is the story of a newly discharged soldier, Jess Knox, who has finally returned to her Florida hometown. She brings with her vivid memories of her tour in Afghanistan that have left her physically and emotionally scarred. Jess soon realizes that things at home have changed even more than she has.

The New York Times has described the play as "a bracing drama that confronts an aching topical issue with hardheaded honesty and admirable compassion. Lindsey Ferrentino is a brave playwright and a writer of dauntless conviction."

Heading the cast is Vanessa Moss as Jess. Victoria Kunesch plays Jess' sister, Kaycie, with Jackson Harwell as Kaycie's boyfriend, Kelvin. Tristan Ketcham is Stevie, an old friend from Jess' past. In addition, Karen Pelfrey Smith, Zachary Swafford, and David Shipp are featured players.

"Ugly Lies the Bone" is directed by Peter Smith, with scenery and lighting designed by Dan Backlund, and costumes designed by Jennifer Matthews. Molly Montgomery is production stage manager and John Marshall is technical director.

Free tickets for "Ugly Lies the Bone" are available at <Eventbrite.com>.

Art Display at the Library

Franklin County artist, Sunday Perkins, will have her family portraits, landscapes, Civil War and a variety of other creative subject matter on display at the Franklin County Library now through the month of March.

Perkins received her Bachelor of Fine Arts degree from Kent State University in Kent, Ohio. She is a retired Franklin County art teacher with more than 30 years teaching experience at all grade levels. Library hours are Monday–Friday, 8 a.m. to 6 p.m., and Saturday, 8 a.m. to 1 p.m.

Create at Full Circle Candles

Full Circle Candles will offer Create Healthy Pet Products, 2–4 p.m., Saturday, March 20. The fee is $25. This is going to be a fun class for all. Learn to make some homemade pet products, from making cat toys to homemade healthy soap for a man's best friend bathing experience.

Full Circle Candles is located at 1202 W. Main St., Monteagle. To register, go to <https://www.fullcirclecandles.com/>. For more information email Debbie Blinder at <debbie@fullcirclecandles.com>.

Men's Lacrosse Stumbles to Kenyon in Sunday Matinee

The Sewanee men's lacrosse team suffered a 16-5 loss to the hands of Kenyon College on Sunday afternoon from historic Hardee-McGee Field at Harris Stadium.

Kenyon sprinted to a 5-0 lead before the Tigers got on the board with goals by Thomas Oliver (3:42) and Drew Mullen (1:56).

The Lords kept the contest in their favor after scoring two goals in the second quarter and four of the first five of the third stanza.

Drew Mullen led the Tigers with two goals on seven shots. Hampton Brannon (1-4) saved 13 shots in 56 minutes.

SAS Announces Summer 2020 Camps

Registration is open for SAS Summer 2020, including two new overnight camps, on the St. Andrew's-Sewanee School campus. Each summer the school welcomes close to 200 children and adults to campus for a variety of programs.

In addition to several sports, arts, and outdoors day camps, this year, SAS is offering Youth Folk Camp from July 6-11. Students in grades six-12 will spend a week on the SAS campus exploring folk music, art, farming, and more. Master classes for banjo, fiddle, guitar, mandolin, painting, and farming are offered along with numerous related activities such as concocting salves, lotions and balms, square/ contra dancing, cast iron cooking, jam sessions, hiking, biking, swimming, canoeing, tennis, fishing, and bonfires. Instructors include Ben Ayers, guitar; Bailey Hill, mandolin; Charlie Hunter-Cook, fiddle; Elizabeth Koella, farming; Joyce Morgan, painting; and Evan Kinney, banjo. Camp tuition of $600 includes expert instruction, a five-night dorm stay, all meals, and activities.

A second overnight camp, Intermediate Rock Climbing Camp, will be held June 1-5. Children ages 12-16 who are belay-certified will hone their skills and experience a week of the climbing lifestyle. The group will camp each night, cook their own meals, meet other climbers, and enjoy evening campfires. The destinations are two of the most well-known climbing areas in the southeast: the Obed in Tennessee and the Red River Gorge in Kentucky. Focus for the week will be on top-rope and lead climbing.

The camp is directed by Michael Short, SAS Outdoor Education Coordinator, coach of the school's climbing team, and middle school teacher. Short is a Wilderness First Responder (WFR) and a life-guard. He is an Eagle Scout and Appalachian Trail Thru-Hiker. The program, which costs $500, including gear rental, is limited to eight participants and is already close to full.

Athletics day camps this year include basketball, soccer, and all-sports camps. Camp SAS returns with three sessions of traditional summer day camp offerings such as crafts and games. Sign-up early to secure a spot.

Basketball Camp, May 26-29, 9 a.m.-noon, grades one-eight, $100;

Intermediate Rock Climbing Camp, June 1-5, ages 12-16, $500; Soccer Camp, June 8-12, 9 a.m.-3 p.m., grades three-eighth, $200;

Waterfalls and Swimming Holes June 15-19, full;

Camp SAS I, June 15-19, 9 a.m.-3 p.m., grades three-six, $225;

Camp SAS II, June 22-26, 9 a.m.-3 p.m., grades three-six, $225;

All-Sports Camp, June 29-July 3, 9 a.m.-3 p.m., grades one-six, $200;

SAS Youth Folk Camp, July 6-11, $600, grades six-12, $600;

Camp SAS III, July 13-17, 9 a.m.-3 p.m., grades one-six, $225.

Information on all summer opportunities on the SAS campus and online registration for SAS camps are available at <www.sasweb.org/summer>.

SAS Summer isn't just for children. Adults enjoy Shakerag Workshops <shakerag.org>, three residential programs held in June that welcome instructors and participants from across the country and around the world.

All programs take place on the school's beautiful 550-acre mountaintop campus. For more information, go to <www.sasweb.org/summer>.

MGT Parkrun

The Mountain Goat Trail Parkrun is a free, weekly, timed 5K event. The fun starts on Saturdays at 9 a.m. at Pearl's in Sewanee.

All skill levels are welcome and participants can walk, jog or run. Register at <parkrun.us/register>, print out the bar code and join the fun.

Mountain Goat Trail Race Registration Open

Join us on April 11, for the Mountain Goat Trail Race, sponsored by Mountain Outfitters.

The run/walk on Saturday is the same route as the first 6 years. This year's half-marathon on Sunday starts in downtown Tracy City and ends at Mountain Outfitters.

The seventh annual Mountain Goat Trail Run & Walk will be held on Saturday, April 11. Online registration is through UltraSignup <https://ultrasignup.com/register.aspx?did=74819> until 5 p.m. on Friday, April 10.

Event-day registration Saturday morning will be at Pearl's (walk) or Angel Park in downtown Sewanee (run) between 8:30 and 9:30 a.m. Online entrants will need to check in at the start.

The 5-mile run will begin at 10 a.m. in downtown Sewanee; a 2-mile walk will begin at 10 a.m. at Pearl's restaurant. Both will finish at Mountain Outfitters in Monteagle. Prizes will be awarded for fastest men's and women's 5-mile times. Prize drawings and presentation of winners are planned after the run. All proceeds benefit the Mountain Goat Trail.

Registration for 2- and 5-mile distances is $25 for students; adult registration is $40 until April 10 and $45 on the day of the race. Registration includes Technical T and food at the finish at Mountain Outfitters.

The third Mountain Goat Trail Half Marathon will be held on Saturday, April 11, the same day as the seventh annual 5-mile run and 2-mile walk. Online registration is through UltraSignup until 5 p.m. on Friday, April 10. Event-day registration Saturday morning will be in downtown Tracy City between 6:45 and 7:45 a.m. Online entrants will need to check in at the start.

The run will begin at 8 a.m. in downtown Tracy City, joining the Mountain Goat Trail and finishing at Mountain Outfitters. The race will be timed, and prizes will be awarded. The race route will be announced soon. Prize drawings and presentation of winners are planned after the run. All proceeds benefit the Mountain Goat Trail. Shuttles will be available both days to return runners to the start.

Registration is $35 for students; adult registration is $50, or $60 on the day of the race.

Temple Moore scores in Sewanee's win on Saturday. Photo by Lyn Hutchinson

Women's Lacrosse Team Update

The Sewanee women's lacrosse team overcame a 10-10 tie at the halftime intermission to secure a 15-13 victory over the Yeowomen of Oberlin on Feb. 29, from Puett Field.

The teams played back-and-forth in the early going of the contest. Tied at one goal each, the Yeowomen scored two straight goals by Bette Imhoff to make it a 3-1 advantage.

Sewanee was able to get back into the game with three straight goals. Temple Moore tied the contest at four goals each with 18:19 left in the half.

After Hattie Fogarty won the draw control, Emily Stallings found Fogarty to push the lead back to the home team, 5-4 with 17:52 remaining in the period.

The visitors would score the next four goals, two on man-up opportunities to lead 8-5 with 10 minutes left in the first half.

In the final 10 minutes of the period, the Tigers scored five of the final seven goals to even the score at 10 each at the halftime break.

The Tigers, in the final four minutes of the half, scored two straight goals while man-down.

Sewanee's offense remained strong in the second half, as back-to-back goal by Mary Kate Myers and Sarah Strand gave the home team the lead for good with 24 minutes left in the contest.

Oberlin, after winning 12 draw controls in the first half, won just one in the second half, and thanks to Caroline Roncalli's nine saves, the Yeowomen were 0-for-4 on free-position shots.

Sarah Strand collected a season-high in goals with six on the day, three in each half. The junior added seven draw controls and five ground balls.

Hattie Fogarty also posted five draw controls, forced three turn-overs and totaled five points on three goals and two assists.

Jocelyn Riopel recorded six of the team's 22 caused turnovers, while Logan Bulls had five and added four draws and ground balls each.

Caroline Roncalli (1-0) stopped nine shots in 30 minutes in the second half to help the Tigers secure the win.

The Sewanee women's lacrosse team was left in a fog for most of the contest with the Maroons of Roanoke College. The visitors took the contest, 19-5, March 2, from a foggy Puett Field.

The visitors got out to a 2-0 advantage six minutes into the contest. The Tigers, however, responded with a free position goal by Preston Cooper while the team was man-up nearly a minute and a half later.

Roanoke pushed the lead back to two goals about a minute-plus later, but the Tigers cut it back to a one-goal deficit after another free position goal, this time by Sarah Strand.

The Maroons took over from there, scoring the next 11 goals in the final 17 minutes of the first half to clinch the contest.

Upcoming Aquatic Classes at the Winchester Swimplex

Winchester Swimplex will be offering Lifeguard Training this spring. Lifeguard Training consists of 27 hours of classroom and pool work. Lifeguard Training is designed to teach Lifesaving skills, CPR, First Aid, AED (Automated External Defibrillation) and Oxygen Administration. Classes will be held March 16-21.

You can register in person at the Winchester Swimplex. Cost is $175, which includes a whistle, fanny pack and pocket mask. Registration fee is due in full at time of registration. Check or cash only, please.

After registration, and prior to the class, participants are encouraged to use the pool to practice for Lifeguard Training. The pool is available anytime there is public swim, at no charge to the participant.

Baseball Avoids Series Sweep with Doubleheader Split

The Sewanee baseball team secured a doubleheader split of Sunday's doubleheader with the Colonels of Centre College, but the visitors salvaged the series with a 7-2 win before falling 11-7 in the nightcap from Montgomery Field.

Centre tacked on single runs in the first and second before adding a third run in the fifth.

The visitors ultimately put the contest away with a three-run sixth, capped by a two-run single.

In the bottom half of the frame, Wesley House put Sewanee on the board with a sacrifice fly. Later, Jake Woolard posted an RBI single to bring home Jared Demkowicz.

Just as in the first two games of the series, the visitors raced out to an early lead, 4-0, after a three-run frame in the second, in game 2.

The Tigers responded with a four-run bottom of the fourth inning to get back into the contest. Max Murray and Chris McNulty recorded RBI base knocks to get the home team on the board. After a bases loaded walk by Braxton Swanson, Shane Smith tied the score with a fielder's choice to shortstop.

After a three-up, three-down top of the fourth that saw three straight flyouts, the Tigers secured the lead. After a Jack Galanek base knock and back-to-back strikeouts, Murray strolled to the plate again, launching an RBI double to lead 5-4 after four innings.

The first lead of the series for Sewanee did not last long as a Parker Selin sacrifice fly evened the game again with a 5-5 score after four and a half innings.

The Tigers' bats came out strong in the bottom of the fifth to give the home team the lead for good, posting a five spot in the frame. Smith gave the Tigers the lead with a base hit to bring home Swanson.

Later in the inning, Jake Woolard and Murray posted back-to-back RBI hits to help Sewanee get to double digits in the run column.

Centre tacked two runs in the seventh, but Sewanee avoided the sweep with the game three win.

The Tigers posted 18 hits in the final game of the series on Sunday.

Ruckus

Harriet

Pets of the Week

Meet Ruckus & Harriet

Animal Harbor offers these pets up for adoption. These pets have special needs.

Ruckus is a two-year-old shar-pei mix with an extremely sweet personality and southern charm. Ruckus will require a patient and nurturing adopter. Ruckus is considered a special needs dog for a couple of reasons. First, Ruckus suffers from separation anxiety, and needs to be with a family that understands that condition that spends time training him and making him feel comfortable in his new space. Ruckus also suffers from a medical condition that requires him to be on an enzymatic medication so he can absorb all the nutrients he needs to thrive. Ruckus is great with other animals, and we think being in a home with another pet could really improve his anxiety. Ruckus is in a dire need to be out of the shelter, for the shelter environment is very hard on a dog with his condition. Ruckus is up-to-date on vaccinations, heartworm-negative, neutered, and microchipped. If you have a place in your heart and home for a very special furbaby, please come meet Ruckus today and show him someone really cares.

Harriet is a one-and-half year-old solid black cat with stunning golden eyes. Harriet's unfortunate arrival at the shelter was a result of her owner becoming ill and no longer able to physically care for her. Harriet has had a very stressful experience at the shelter due to her personality being one that is less of the social type. But fear not, if you are interested in adopting her, she has the potential to become a very loving cat outside of the shelter. Our cat caretaker has established a bond with her, so we know that with an adopter that is willing to nurture her needs and be patient she will be a wonderful forever companion. Harriet is up-to-date on vaccinations, FIV/FelV negative, spayed, and microchipped. If you have a place in your heart for a special kitty who just needs extra love and commitment, please contact the shelter to learn more about our adoption process.

Animal Harbor is located at 56 Nor-Nan Rd., off AEDC Road, in Winchester. Call Animal Harbor at 962-4472 for information and check out the other pets at <www.animalharbor.org>. Enter their drawing on this site for a free spay or neuter for one of your pets. Help Animal Harbor continue to save abandoned pets by sending your donations to Animal Harbor, P.O. Hermit and Other Thrushes

Latham and Mary Davis have reported a hermit thrush at their bird feeders this winter. The Cornell Lab's bird website states that these birds rarely visit backyards or feeders, so the Davises must have a special touch. The hermit thrush is the only spotted-breasted thrush seen in the U.S. in the winter, with rare exceptions. The other similar thrushes head much further south in the winter, into Mexico and Central and South America. They are expecting the hermit thrush to head north any day now, to its breeding range in Canada and New England. The thrush that nests in our area is the wood thrush. According to an October 10, 1996, Nature Note by Harry and Jean Yeatman, there are three other thrushes that may be spotted migrating through our area- Swainson's, Gray-Cheeked, and Veery Thrushes. They also breed much farther north, though the Veery may be found in the southern Appalachian mountains. Some say that the hermit thrush has the most beautiful song of any North American bird, but the wood thrush has my vote. It possible that the hermit thrush will sing here in its winter range shortly before it heads north—we can but hope.

Saturday, March 7

CCC Loop Cleanup (or Donations)—Meet Ranger Dan Wescoat at 12:30 p.m. at Grundy Forest Trailhead, 131 Fiery Gizzard Rd., Tracy City, to join in an effort to clean up the Civilian Conservation Corps Interpretative Loop. The loop was hit hard by severe thunderstorms, including heavy rains and strong winds and sustained significant damage. During this volunteer day we will be hauling brush, so make sure to wear sturdy, closed-toed shoes and bring a pair of work gloves and eye protection. Also bring plenty of water and snacks to get you through the day. If you wish to contribute support to the park, but cannot volunteer, we are now offering the option to give a donation, which may be selected as one of the “donation but not attending” options. (Options: free / Volunteer; $5 / Volunteer & $5 donation; $10 / Volunteer & $10 donation; $10 / $10 donation, not volunteering; $20 / $20 donation, not volunteering. Additional opportunities are at 12:30 p.m., on Sunday, March 8, and on Saturday, March 14).

Coffee with a Ranger ($3)—Meet Ranger Ryan Harris at 8 a.m. at the SCSP Visitors' Center, 11745 U.S. 41, Monteagle, for a cup of joe to find out what a Ranger's job consists of and stay up-to-date with what's happening at South Cumberland State Park. Coffee will be provided. You can register by clicking the tickets link, by calling the Visitors' Center at (931) 924-2980, or pay at the Visitors Center the morning of.

Tuesday, March 10

Winter Waterfall Hike ($10)—Join Ranger Dan Wescoat at 8:30 a.m. at Grundy Forest Trailhead, 131 Fiery Gizzard Rd., Tracy City, for a roughly 3-mile hike around the Grundy Day Loop and to Sycamore Falls, past three waterfalls and along creeks for long sections of the hike. The terrain is rocky and covered in tree roots, so strong, sturdy hiking shoes are strongly recommended. Bring along plenty of water and any snacks you may want, as well as plenty of layers for the cooler winter weather.

Friday, March 20

Great American Cleanup (free)—Do you want to help Keep America Beautiful? Meet Ranger Jessie at 1 p.m. at the main Grundy Lakes parking lot, 587 Lakes Rd., Tracy City, for our Great American Cleanup to help clean up the trash that has been left around the beautiful Grundy Lakes! We will be cleaning up the area around the parking lot, playground, and trails. Trashbags and gloves will be provided for this, but please bring sturdy shoes and plenty of water. We hope to see you there!

The South Cumberland State Park Visitors' Center is located on Highway 41 South between Monteagle and Tracy City and is open 8 a.m.-4:30 p.m. seven days a week. For more information call (931) 924-2980.

BARDTOVERSE

by Phoebe Bates

Is this a Fast, to keep
The Larder lean
And clean
From fat of veals and sheep?

Is it to quit the dish
Of flesh, yet still
To fill
The platter high with fish?

Is it to fast an hour,
Or ragg'd to go
Or show
A down-cast look, and sour?

No: 'tis a Fast, to dole
Thy sheaf of wheat
And meat
Unto a hungry soul.

It is to fast from strife
From old debate
And hate;
To circumcise thy life;

To show a heart grief-rent;
To starve thy sin.
Not bin;
And that's to keep thy Lent.

Robert Herrick, To Keep a True Lent
