How to Make a Dumpsite Disappear?

by Leslie Lytle, Messenger Staff Writer

On the weekend of March 6, more than 50 volunteers joined in cleaning up a massive Grundy County dumpsite in Savage Cove. In a project led by the caving community with the Nashville Grotto spearheading operations, volunteers removed over 300 tires and an estimated seven tons of trash. Cavers from Tennessee, Alabama, and Georgia (TAG) responded to the call for help, many from the Seawanee Mountain Grotto including University student Donnie Rung who brought his fraternity brothers and friends. On March 7 from 10 a.m. until late afternoon, the volunteers toiled trash ranging from tampons to diapers to bottles to bedsprings to stoves. March 6 volunteers rigged a rope and pulley system to transport appliances and large items to the base of the steep trash-covered incline where pickup trucks waited to carry the refuse up to the dumpsters parked at roadside.

However, the behind-the-scenes effort began long before March 6—nine years before. In 2011, Julieanne Ramsey, then a resident of Beersheba Springs, contacted the Tennessee Department of Environment and Conservation about the dumpsite. Uncooperative landowners and lack of funds in Grundy County stalled the effort. In May of 2019, Ramsey learned Grundy County received a $657,000 solid waste and recycling grant. Encouraged by Fennigan Spencer, National Speleological Society Conservation Expo chair, who promised volunteers to help bag trash, Ramsey approached TDEC again.

Harry McCann with the Chattanooga area Division of Solid Waste Management photographed the site and paid a visit to Grundy County Mayor Michael Brady. What began as a hope and a prayer caught fire—fortunately not literally.

An area resident told Ramsey the locals managed the generations-old dumpsite with kerosene and a match. Since Ramsey's first efforts in 2011, the property had changed hands. The new owners, a timber company and Kimball realtor, agreed to cooperate with the cavers' cleanup project to bring them in compliance with TDEC mandates.

Sensitive to the complex relationship between groundwater and caves, TAG cavers have undertaken numerous watershed cleanup projects. A pool at the base of the Savage Cove dumpsite drains into Savage Cove Creek, which in turn feeds into the Collins River and enters the public water supply.

The NSS answered the timber company attorney's demand for liability waivers and insurance. Southeastern Karst Task Force loaned the rope and pulley system. Nashville Grotto chair Caralynn Strand secured a commitment from Mayor Brady to provide dumpsters, and Grundy County Sheriff Clint Shrum offered a deputy to manage traffic. Ramsey arranged for Bridgestone to recycle the tires and for Cumberland River Compact to donate 50 pairs of neoprene gloves and 250 30-gallon garbage bags. When all 250 garbage bags were filled, the volunteers switched to packing trash in plastic mesh feed sacks. The feed sacks were carted up to the roadside, emptied into the dumpsters, and returned to the dumpsite to be filled repeatedly.

Ramsey observed that the nearest convenience center in Altamont was more than five miles away, and most area residents did not travel in that direction when they left home. They preferred the wider shopping and business options in the McMinnville area. McMinnville is in Warren County, and Warren County convenience centers do not welcome trash from out of county residents.

Discussion is underway about a guardrail to discourage dumping at the site. Another suggestion is parking a dumpster there. The volunteers filled nearly two 40 cubic-yard dumpsters, and the job is not done. Grundy County employees will join cavers operating the rope and pulley system to finish cleaning up the site once COVID-19 concerns pass.

Safer at Home Directive for Seawanee

The Ordinances of the University (Section 10) state that "the Vice-Chancellor shall have authority to act to meet any emergency." And so, to combat the spread of COVID-19, I have joined communities across the state and the country by issuing a Safer at Home Directive for Seawanee—directing all residents of Seawanee immediately to limit all movement outside of their homes beyond what is absolutely necessary to take care of essential needs. This directive will remain in force until it is lifted or modified.

Residents of Seawanee should shelter inside their homes unless they are engaged in certain "essential activities" or are outside for exercise and recreation. On those occasions when you are out of your home, the CDC advises you to stay at least six feet away from others.

This message is addressed to faculty, staff, as well as leaseholders on the Domain. It will be forwarded to other community groups, and will appear in the Messenger. If you think that a neighbor in Seawanee will not receive it (because they live off the Domain, do not have email, or do not work for the University and live in a private rental home, for example), please share this important information with them. This message is also addressed to all University students, both those who are on campus by permission and those who might consider returning to campus.

Under this directive, community members may:

Go to the grocery, convenience store, gas station, or warehouse store

Go to the pharmacy to pick up medications and other healthcare necessities

Go to medical appointments (check with your doctor or provider first)

Go to a restaurant for take-out, delivery or drive-thru. To find information about local businesses, including take-out menus and hours for Seawanee restaurants as well as other ways to support downtown businesses, please visit the Seawanee Village website.

Go to and from work as directed by your employer

Care for or support a friend or family member

Take a walk, ride your bike, hike, jog and be in nature for exercise—just keep at least six feet between yourself and others

Walk your pets and take them to the veterinarian if necessary

Help someone to get necessary supplies

Receive deliveries from any business that delivers

Community members should not:

Gather in groups larger than 10 people

Visit friends and family if there is no urgent need

Maintain less than six feet of distance from others when you go out

Visit loved ones in the hospital, nursing home, skilled nursing facility, or other residential care facility, except for limited exceptions as provided on a facility's website

Community Response

As we move towards less social interaction, the Messenger is putting together lists of businesses and organizations open or closed status. The information in this issue is current as of Thursday, March 26, at noon, which is the time we send the newspaper to the printer. If there are any major updates, we will post those on our website <<http://seawaneemessenger.com>> and our Facebook page. Understanding that many do not have reliable internet service or even email, those updates will also be printed in the next regular issue.

In this issue, for meeting cancellations, go to page 3. For Church News, go to page 4. For community and school news, please start on page 5.

If your organization, business or church is operating on a different schedule and is not listed in this issue, please get in touch by phone (931) 598-9949 or via <email news@seawaneemessenger.com>. We need to work together to keep our community up-to-date and informed.

Please follow the recommendations from the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention <<https://www.cdc.gov>>.

1866 Revival will be open by appointment. We will still be selling via Instagram and Facebook @1866revival. We are starting an online auction on Sundays at 7 p.m. <<http://1866revival.com>>.

American Legion Hall will not be available for general use or rental. We will resume normal operations as soon as possible.

Beauty by Tabitha in Seawanee is closing until further notice, 598-5800.

Big A Marketing is operating with regular business hours remotely, Monday–Friday, 10 a.m.–4 p.m. His shop is closed to visitors at this time. <<http://bigamarketing.com>>.

Bodyworks Youniversity will be holding all regularly scheduled classes in Angel Park in Seawanee. I will be using Zoom so that you can see and participate in the class virtually. Call (423) 322-1443. <kim_butters59@hotmail.com>.

Community Action Committee will distribute food to anyone who needs it. Betty Carpenter will be in the office Monday–Friday, 9–11 a.m. as usual, but no volunteers will be coming.

If you know of folks visiting the mountain, there are rooms available at the DeRosset House. Follow them on Facebook.

DuBose Conference Center Taking the advice of the CDC and United States government, groups hosted at DuBose Conference Center have begun canceling or postponing previously scheduled events from now through the middle of April. Call (931) 924-2453. <<https://www.duboseconferencecenter.org>>.

Fine Arts on the Mountain in Seawanee will be continuing lessons at the store. On-line classes are available. Store hours are Monday–Friday 10 a.m.–6 p.m., and Saturday 10 a.m.–4 p.m. <<http://fineartsatthemountain.com>>.

Food Delivery News from Bill Harper: There has been a generous response by students and community members, particularly by the University athletic department, to volunteer for the effort to deliver food to the elderly and medically fragile in our community. Our volunteers have been instructed on CDC recommended hygiene procedures. Our services are being directed by Geoff Badgley, who has extensive disaster relief experience both as a member of the National Guard and as a volunteer. We suggest those needing food delivery check first with <<http://instacart.com>>, which sources food from Kroger in Decherd. We have identified other food sources, should they be required. For those outside Instacart's delivery area, Folks at Home can take delivery and then bring food to your home. If you want our help, call Folks at Home (931) 598-0303.

Folks at Home Though working from home, staff will be available as usual by telephone (931) 598-0303 and by email <folksathomesewanee@gmail.com>. All regularly scheduled activities are canceled at this time. Folks at Home can help with getting set up for food and prescription online services.

Frame Gallery in Seawanee will be open by appointment only. I will continue to work on orders that I have in my shop and customers will still be able to pick up their finished work. With social distancing, I am happy to assist you with new framing projects. You can make appointments via <framegallerysewanee@gmail.com> or you can call me on my cell at (919) 260-2021. <<http://framegallerysewanee.com>>.

Franklin County Chamber of Commerce events are currently canceled. <<https://www.franklincountycommerce.com>>. Downtown Winchester program events are currently canceled.

Franklin County Senior Center in Winchester will be closed until March 31.

Hair Depot in Seawanee is closed until further notice.

Hospital Supporting Efforts to Keep Our Community Healthy

by Cliff Wilson, chief executive officer of Southern Tennessee Regional Health System- Winchester/Sewanee

Our community – along with communities around the world – is navigating unprecedented challenges as the novel coronavirus (COVID-19) continues to spread. The cycle of our lives and neighborhoods has been altered, and we are all working to accommodate an ever-changing new normal. Fear and uncertainty complicate our collective abilities to do this.

Southern Tennessee Regional Health System is dedicated to helping everyone in our region navigate the COVID-19 environment in which we are all living right now. We have received many questions from our patients, partners and neighbors about how people can assist our efforts to keep our community as safe and healthy as possible.

Here are some important actions everyone can take:

Stay home. In times of trouble, our first instinct is to reach out – to come together and help one another. That's why so many people are struggling with the best and most crucial advice healthcare experts are giving: stay at home and keep your distance from friends, neighbors, and even family. But we all must listen to and follow this advice. People's lives depend on it – especially our healthcare workers and those who are over 60 or already live with underlying health conditions.

We encourage everyone to stay in your own home as much as possible. Only go out if you have to, and choose a time to go to the grocery or pharmacy when it's not crowded. If you see other people, try to stay at least six feet away from them, and don't touch them. No handshakes, hug, or kisses. Remember: a lot of people who are carrying this virus won't show any symptoms. So, the surest way to avoid catching it is to maintain social distance and cancel all gatherings, even small ones.

Follow medical guidance. If you believe you have been exposed to COVID-19, we recommend that you self-monitor for fever or symptoms of respiratory illness for 14 days. If you begin to experience fever or symptoms of respiratory illness, and they are mild enough that you can manage them at home, you should remain at home in isolation.

Be alert to any changing symptoms and seek medical attention if your symptoms worsen. If you feel you need to visit your healthcare provider, call ahead before you arrive to tell them you're experiencing symptoms that may be related to COVID-19. This will allow your provider's office staff to properly prepare for your visit and take the necessary precautions to keep others from being infected or exposed.

If you are experiencing a medical emergency, please call 9-1-1 and notify the dispatch agent that your emergency is related to possible COVID-19 symptoms.

Donate medical and protective equipment and supplies. Hospitals across our nation are bracing for shortages of medical and protective equipment and supplies such as disposable masks, gowns, gloves and shoe covers. These are essential in protecting our staff on the front lines of caring for patients. If you have supplies and equipment such as these, please consider donating them to regional hospitals. Those with unused supplies and equipment to donate may contact the STRHS Winchester/Sewanee Incident Command Center at (931) 967-8208 to arrange delivery.

Donate blood. In addition to potential supply shortages, healthcare providers are preparing for blood shortages. Many communities have had to cancel blood drives due to COVID-19, so blood in many regions is in short supply. Donating blood is a safe process, and you can help out by visiting redcrossblood.org to find a donation location near you.

Southern Tennessee Regional Health System is grateful for our community's ongoing support and cooperation as we work to protect local families from the spread of COVID-19. We appreciate all that you do and will continue to provide information on what we know about the virus and how you can help us keep our region healthy. Visit <SouthernTNWinchester.com for more information or call (931) 967-8200 with any questions you may have.

Church News

Worship in All Saints’ Chapel is canceled for March 29.

Christ Church Monteagle is canceling our services for Sunday, March 29. Hopefully, we will have better news by that time.

Good Shepherd Catholic Church and St. Margaret Mary Catholic Church have canceled all church services and activities for this week, including Mass on March 28 and 29.

Morton Memorial UMC has announced the suspension of all activities on the MMUMC campus through the end of the month. We will rely on technology to keep us together and sermons will be available online. We may offer more resources there. Our website address is <www.mortonmemorialumc.com>. We also have a Facebook page and we will work to keep everyone informed.

The Mountain of God Tabernacle, 331 King St., Monteagle, offers Online Worship Services via Zoom. For info call 931-924-5339 or go online to <www.WildfireOn-TheMountain.com>.

This Sunday’s worship service will be available on the Otey Memorial Parish Facebook page and YouTube channel at 8:30 a.m. and will remain available afterward. Godly Play will take place on the Otey Memorial Parish Facebook page at 9:45 a.m. Adult Forum, featuring Rob MacSwain on “Thinking Sacramentally” will take place on Zoom: <https://zoom.us/j/309727520>, Meeting ID: 309 727 520.

Neither worship nor classes will be conducted in person until further notice.

“Each Other’s Keeper: The Church Responds to Violence” is Otey’s noon Lenten study. It is now taking place on Zoom only: <https://zoom.us/j/143863223>.

This Lent we invite people to read “The History of Love” by Nicole Krauss and/or “Songs My Grandma Sang” by Presiding Bishop Michael Curry. Otey will offer facilitated discussions of each book later in Lent.

St. James is suspending public worship for Sunday, March 29.

Services for the Unitarian Universalist Church of Tullahoma and the Tullahoma Sangha (Zen Buddhist) will be canceled until the first week of May due to the coronavirus. Visit <Tullahomauu.org> for more information.

Obituaries

Woodrow Mercer Blettel

Woodrow Mercer Blettel, age 73, formerly of Sewanee, died on Feb. 9, 2020, in Salem, Ore., at his home. He was born in 1946 in Milwaukie, Ore., to VanNoy Pruitt Blettel and Isadore “Bud” Blettel. He graduated from Milwaukie (Ore.) High School in 1965 and received his bachelor’s degree in art from Portland State University in 1970.

He and his wife, Susan, lived and worked on the campus of the University of the South from 1990–1993 and from 2002–2012.

In addition to frequent photo assignments from numerous prestigious clients, including the University of Tennessee Space Institute, he was the photographer for the book “Splendid Audacity: The Story of Pacific University” by Gary Miranda and Rick Read, and contributed photographs to “All Saints’ Chapel” by William Strode and “Ecce Quam Bonum: A Pictorial History of the University of the South” by Emily Senefeld and Eric Wilson. There were solo exhibitions of his photography at the Sewanee Writers Conference and the Quidnunc Café, as well as exhibitions at Portland State University, the National Art Education Conference, and the Salem Art Association Bush Barn Gallery.

He is survived by his wife, Susan Blettel of Salem, Ore.; brother, Dr. M.L. (Patti) Blettel, three nieces and three nephews.

A gathering of friends is planned to celebrate Woodrow’s life at a later date. Memorial donations may be made to: UNICEF’s K.I.N.D. Fund providing desks for school children and secondary education for girls in Malawi, UNICEF USA, 125 Maiden Lane, New York, NY 10038 (msnbc.com/kindfund) or to Willamette Valley Hospice, 1015 3rd St. NW, Salem, OR 97304. Joyce Ann Jackson

Joyce Ann Jackson, age 69 of Sherwood, died on March 19, 2020, at Erlanger Medical Center. She was born on Feb. 12, 1951, in Franklin County to George Houston and Lynda Garner Barnes. She had formerly been employed by Genesco and Lanier, and retired from the University of the South after 20 years in Physical Plant Services. She attended Sherwood Emmanuel Apostolic Church. She was preceded in death by her parents; husband, Donald Jackson; and siblings George Barnes Jr, Dorothy Barnes, and Harold Barnes.

She is survived by siblings GERALINE Garner, Patricia (David) Jackson, Kenneth (Marilyn) Barnes, Carter Barnes, Michael Barnes, and Ronald Barnes, all of Sherwood; sister-in-law, Sue Barnes; and many nieces and nephews.

Funeral Services were on March 22, 2020, at Sherwood Emmanuel Apostolic Church with Bro. Michael Hill and Bro. Bryan Barnes officiating. Interment followed in Mt. View Cemetery. For complete obituary go to <www.moorecortner.com>.

Rea Mingeva

Rea Ching Mingeva, age 66 of Sewanee, died unexpectedly on Feb. 22, 2020. She was born on June 19, 1953, to Judy and Jack Justad; her birth name was Kathryn Ann Justad. She changed it many years ago; the letters of her name can spell out “I am ever changing,” and she was always challenging and changing the norms “with an energy that made you feel that her idea was so right on that no one could question it or argue otherwise.” She previously taught at Savannah College of Art and Design in Georgia and Mankato State University in Minnesota.

She is survived by her husband, Tom Moore of Sewanee; sister, Laura Justad (Geoffrey) Bull; brother, John (Kris) Justad, four nieces, one nephew, several cousins and many friends and coworkers.

Her family will celebrate her life in a private ceremony. She wished medical science and organ transplant recipients to benefit from her earthly remains.

We're in this together.

This unprecedented twin challenges of the health crisis and the economic downturn threaten to destroy Sewanee Village businesses without the support of the University population, visitors and residents. It also threatens area non-profit organizations that are supported by the Sewanee Community Chest, which raises and distributes funds to them.

Information Concerning COVID-19

From the Centers for Diseases Control: <<https://www.cdc.gov>>.

There is currently no vaccine to prevent coronavirus disease 2019 (COVID-19).

The best way to prevent illness is to avoid being exposed to this virus.

The virus is thought to spread mainly from person-to-person, between people who are in close contact with one another (within about 6 feet); through respiratory droplets produced when an infected person coughs or sneezes. These droplets can land in the mouths or noses of people who are nearby or possibly be inhaled into the lungs.

Older adults and people who have severe underlying chronic medical conditions like heart or lung disease or diabetes seem to be at higher risk for developing more serious complications from COVID-19 illness. Please consult with your health care provider about additional steps you may be able to take to protect yourself.

Take steps to protect yourself
Clean your hands often

Wash your hands often with soap and water for at least 20 seconds especially after you have been in a public place, or after blowing your nose, coughing, or sneezing.

If soap and water are not readily available, use a hand sanitizer that contains at least 60% alcohol. Cover all surfaces of your hands and rub them together until they feel dry.

Avoid touching your eyes, nose, and mouth with unwashed hands.

Avoid close contact

Avoid close contact with people who are sick

Put distance between yourself and other people if COVID-19 is spreading in your community. This is especially important for people who are at higher risk of getting very sick.

Take steps to protect others

Stay home if you are sick, except to get medical care. Learn what to do if you are sick.

Cover your mouth and nose with a tissue when you cough or sneeze or use the inside of your elbow.

Throw used tissues in the trash.

Immediately wash your hands with soap and water for at least 20 seconds. If soap and water are not readily available, clean your hands with a hand sanitizer that contains at least 60 percent alcohol.

If you are sick: You should wear a facemask when you are around other people (e.g., sharing a room or vehicle) and before you enter a healthcare provider's office. If you are not able to wear a facemask (for example, because it causes trouble breathing), then you should do your best to cover your coughs and sneezes, and people who are caring for you should wear a facemask if they enter your room. Learn what to do if you are sick.

If you are NOT sick: You do not need to wear a facemask unless you are caring for someone who is sick (and they are not able to wear a facemask). Facemasks may be in short supply and they should be saved for caregivers.

Clean AND disinfect frequently touched surfaces daily. This includes tables, doorknobs, light switches, countertops, handles, desks, phones, keyboards, toilets, faucets, and sinks.

If surfaces are dirty, clean them: Use detergent or soap and water prior to disinfection.

To disinfect:

Most common EPA-registered household disinfectants will work. Use disinfectants appropriate for the surface.

Options include:

Diluting your household bleach.

To make a bleach solution, mix:

5 tablespoons (1/3rd cup) bleach

per gallon of water

OR

4 teaspoons bleach per quart of water

Follow manufacturer's instructions for application and proper ventilation. Check to ensure the product is not past its expiration date. Never mix household bleach with ammonia or any other cleanser. Unexpired household bleach will be effective against coronaviruses when properly diluted.

Alcohol solutions. Ensure solution has at least 70% alcohol.

Other common EPA-registered household disinfectants.

Products with EPA-approved emerging viral pathogens claims are expected to be effective against COVID-19 based on data for harder to kill viruses. Follow the manufacturer's instructions for all cleaning and disinfection products (e.g., concentration, application method and contact time, etc.)

Local Governments

In-person court proceedings are suspended through March 31. Many state and local governments offer a way to conduct business online.

Franklin County Convenience Centers In an abundance of caution we are asking that you bring us your household waste only (kitchen waste basket) during these times of quarantine. Please resist the urge to do spring cleaning and clean out old sheds, out buildings, garages, etc. We are anticipating having a need to hold waste for days at a time if there is interruptions at the landfill or transfer station because of an outbreak of the virus affecting those areas.

The Convenience Center in Sewanee for household garbage, trash and recycling is located on Missouri Avenue. Hours changed on March 14: Monday, 1–6 p.m.; Tuesday through Friday, 3–6 p.m.; Saturday, 8 a.m.–4 p.m. Closed Sunday. Closed on national holidays.

Franklin County Government is currently closed to all in-person business through March 31. You may call the offices, email, or pay online <<http://www.franklincotn.us>>.

Students currently off campus may not return to campus without explicit permission in writing. Those found in violation of this directive will be escorted off campus by the Sewanee Police Department.

This directive is being issued now because it is urgent that each of us do all we can to prevent the spread of COVID-19. The goal is to “flatten the curve” to slow the spread of the virus and ensure we have adequate health care resources for those who get sick with COVID-19 and those who need emergency medical care for accidents, heart attacks, strokes, and other medical events.

I remain exceedingly grateful to all of you for your patience and understanding and cooperation as we continue to adjust our routines and take the steps necessary to fight the spread of this dangerous virus. In this case, the best way to pull together is by staying apart. Please continue to care for and support one another through means that do not involve direct contact—dropping off groceries or other essentials for those who cannot get out and being in touch through the various forms of social media. Thank you for doing what we all must to protect one another and our incredible community. — Vice-Chancellor John McCardell

2020 U.S. Census

The U.S. Census Bureau continues to carefully monitor the coronavirus (COVID-19) situation and follow the guidance of federal, state and local health authorities. We are adjusting some operations with two key principles in mind: protecting the health and safety of our staff and the public and fulfilling our statutory requirement to deliver the 2020 Census counts to the President on schedule.

As of March 15, more than 5 million have responded online to the 2020 Census. Currently, the planned completion date for data collection for the 2020 Census is July 31, 2020, however, that date can and will be adjusted if necessary as the situation evolves in order to achieve a complete and accurate count.

It has never been easier to respond on your own, whether online, over the phone or by mail—all without having to meet a census taker. For more information go to <<https://2020census.gov/en.html>>.

COVID-19 Bulletin #5

On March 24, Governor Bill Lee provided an update on Tennessee's efforts around COVID-19 relief.

Gov. Lee's daily press conferences can be viewed live each day this week at 3 p.m. CDT here. Gov. Lee has also established a website specific to COVID-19 updates which can be found <<https://www.tn.gov/governor/covid-19/covid-19-daily-bulletin.html>>.

Key Updates

National Guard Mobilization
Gov. Lee has mobilized the National Guard to assist with expanded testing efforts. 250 personnel, including 150 medical personnel, are preparing to assist 35 remote assessment facilities in rural areas.

State Employee Workforce
State employees who are currently working from home within the Alternative Workplace Solutions program (AWS) should remain working from home until April 24.

School Closures and Educational Resources

Gov. Lee extended statewide school closure to April 24, 2020.

The Department of Education has secured a partnership with PBS to offer instructional content on television while students are at home.

Administration Actions
Franchise & Excise Tax Deadline Extended
The filing deadline for franchise and excise taxes has been delayed until July 15, 2020. Taxpayers will have until July 15 to file returns and make any payments, including quarterly estimated payments, originally due in April. Additional information can be found <<https://www.tn.gov/content/dam/tn/revenue/documents/notices/fac/20-05fe.pdf>>.

Real ID and Emissions Testing
Drivers Services has suspended issuing REAL ID through May 18, 2020 as the federal government waived the deadline for REAL ID.

Emissions testing requirements have also been waived through May 18, 2020.

Utilities
The Attorney General, in consultation with the Lee Administration, has filed an emergency petition asking the Tennessee Public Utility Commission to prohibit utilities from disconnecting service for non-payment during the state of emergency. More information can be found <<https://www.tn.gov/attorneygeneral/news/2020/3/24/pr20-11.html>>.

Insurance Premiums
Gov. Lee has directed the Department of Commerce and Insurance to issue guidance to insurance providers requesting as much flexibility as possible for employers and individuals during this crisis. Additional information can be found <https://www.tn.gov/content/dam/tn/commerce/documents/insurance/bulletins/03-24-20-COVID-19_Guidance_to_Carriers_.pdf>.

Shop Small. Go Local. Stay Healthy.

This unprecedented time threatens to destroy downtown businesses without students, tourists, and those who would rather not venture out. In the coming days, many of the businesses may be closing their doors to the public. Some may be closing for good.

The Sewanee Business Alliance (SBA) is organizing several ways for neighbors to help neighbors. You can find the options for support by visiting the SBA's website at <www.sewaneevillage.com>. You may choose to donate to a Pay It Forward Sewanee fund, which will be distributed to Sewanee businesses, or to the Sewanee Community Chest which raises money for 25 local charities and organizations. There also are businesses offering online shopping or gift certificate options. Payment options include Venmo or PayPal.

Please check the website often as businesses will be posting new items and promotions regularly.

Thank you all for your generosity during this challenging time for us all.

Community Chest Needs You

The 2019-20 Sewanee Community Chest fund drive is underway through April 2020. Sponsored by the Sewanee Civic Association, the Community Chest raises money yearly for local charitable organizations serving the area. This year's goal will help 25 organizations that have requested basic needs funding for quality of life, community aid, children's programs, and those who are beyond Sewanee but still serve our entire community. Currently, 75 percent of the $105,150 for this year has been reached in donations and pledges.

Now more than ever, these 25 organizations will rely heavily on the annual funding from the Community Chest.

The Sewanee Community Chest is made possible by contributions. All donations are tax deductible. Donations can be made by credit, debit, or PayPal at <sewaneecommunitychest@gmail.com>, either one-time or recurring. Checks may be mailed to Sewanee Community Chest, P.O. Box 99, Sewanee, TN 37375. For more information, go to <www.sewaneevillage.com>.

Meal Pick Up for School Children

All meals will be picked up and not consumed onsite. These are free meals that will continue until the public schools resume classes at the school.

Franklin County School Nutrition Services will provide an opportunity to pick up lunch and breakfast at a drive-through meal service for children 18 and under. These meals will be available at no cost for anyone 18 and under regardless of what school they attend. No paperwork is required. Children must be present in the vehicle in order for meals to be distributed. Meals will be provided based on the number of children present. This program will be solely for the pickup of meals. Meals will not be consumed on site. We encourage families to continue to be proactive in reducing the risk of COVID-19 by not congregating at the school site and utilizing social distancing once meals have been distributed.

This service will be provided through March 31, or until school reopens, from 10 a.m.–noon at the following locations:

Broadview Elementary – back drive-thru
Clark Memorial – drive-thru by kitchen
Cowan Elementary – front drive-thru
Decherd Elementary – back drive-thru
Franklin County High School – front drive-thru
Huntland – back drive-thru
North Lake Elementary – front drive-thru
Sewanee Elementary – front drive-thru

No meals will be distributed at North Middle School, and South Middle School.

Federal Income Tax Deadline Extended

The Treasury Department and Internal Revenue Service announced today that the federal income tax filing due date is automatically extended from April 15, 2020, to July 15, 2020. Go to <<https://www.irs.gov/newsroom/tax-day-now-july-15-treasury-irs-extend-filing-deadline-and-federal-tax-payments-regardless-of-amount-owed>>.

Taxpayers can also defer federal income tax payments due on April 15, 2020, to July 15, 2020, without penalties and interest, regardless of the amount owed. This deferment applies to all taxpayers, including individuals, trusts and estates, corporations and other non-corporate tax filers as well as those who pay self-employment tax.

Taxpayers do not need to file any additional forms or call the IRS to qualify for this automatic federal tax filing and payment relief. Individual taxpayers who need additional time to file beyond the July 15 deadline, can request a filing extension by filing Form 4868 through their tax professional, tax software or using the Free File link on IRS.gov. Businesses who need additional time must file Form 7004.

The IRS urges taxpayers who are due a refund to file as soon as possible. Most tax refunds are still being issued within 21 days.

The IRS will continue to monitor issues related to the COVID-19 virus, and updated information will be posted on a special coronavirus page on <IRS.gov>.

Getting Through

Well, dear readers, here we are in the midst of a dystopian fantasy. Except it's real, something I go in and out of believing.

Way back when China was just another place on the map, James turned to me at supper one night and said, "Not to be Y2K about it, but maybe we should think about stocking up on a few things."

I rolled my eyes: another one of his notions. But the idea of stockpiling took root. I made sure I had plenty of, not oatmeal or, who knew, toilet paper, but library books, collecting stacks to add to the abundance already here.

But I find myself oddly—for me, very oddly—unable to read, and certainly not the escapist fiction I checked out. I find myself craving instead books about people who made it through tough times. My old go-to, Laura Ingalls Wilder's "The Long Winter," her fictionalized account of how her family—and their town—endured eight months of blizzards which cut them off from the rest of the country and immured them in their home. Where they huddled around a stove fueled with sticks of twisted hay, re-reading the few books they had, living on salted beans and coarse brown bread ground from seed wheat. Another obvious choice, "The Diary of Anne Frank." Maybe "The Hiding Place." Anything on life during The Blitz. The lesser known "Left to Tell: Discovering God Amidst the Rwandan Holocaust," Immaculée Ilibagiza's description of 91 days she and seven others hid in a tiny bathroom to escape certain slaughter.

How can I possibly complain about having to stay in a home complete with central heating, light, food, and many, many books?

To be honest, my life isn't all that different. As someone with an underlying chronic illness and immunosuppressed, I'm familiar with avoiding crowds, hibernating. And I've already lived the 24/7 with my kids, after 25-plus years of homeschooling. It can be done. (See tips below.) The difference is, now you're doing it, too (or I hope you are), and we're all scared.

Instead of books, I find myself drawn to online communities. Craving connection, craving comfort. Or yes, sometimes obsessively seeking news, seeking the one thing no one can tell me, which is how long is this going to last, and how much worse is it going to get?

So, getting through? A few thoughts.

If you're telecommuting, get dressed, keep a schedule, and remember that everyone else is as stressed as you are. Be kind. Be aware that you don't have commute time to process work stress, which makes it imperative you figure out ways to prevent that from tainting your home atmosphere.

Use technology in new ways. Read your grandchild to sleep, virtually! Their parents can put their phone on speaker and set you up right there by the child's bed.

Set up an account on Goodreads and join one of hundreds of book groups. One I've been in for years and help moderate is called "House of LitnLife." We're tiny but dedicated, concentrating on 19th century classics. Join us!

Get the Telegram app to keep your extended family close. My kids and I have long taken turns setting a theme for a daily picture, especially precious now. We've also written stories: each person contributes a sentence. This can get wacky fast. And could also be done at home.

Imitate reality TV: create a cooking challenge. What edibles can come out of a limited few ingredients? I'm not talking about wasting large amounts of food here, just enough to experiment with. That's how, decades ago, we came up with a (then) family favorite, Peanut Butter Yummy Balls...

Set a reading challenge for your kids, the way libraries do in summer. Have them keep a list, with a simple reward system for hitting targets. Or do it for yourself.

Remember that homeschooling is less about finishing math pages and more about teaching your children how to live. Do chores together, every day. Talk.

Sort through your stash of books and see what you can donate to someone in short supply. Decades ago, a friend's daughter gave one of my children her collection of well-used Baby-Sitters Club paperbacks, bringing him (yes, him: we were an equal opportunity family) joy for months. Unless we're in total lockdown, you could leave a box on someone's porch, possibly with an extra disinfectant wipe to clean off the covers. Or there's a Little Free Library mailbox in the St. James playground. Share!

Finally, if you sew, check out the online movement to make cotton masks for at-risk workers. Figuring out some way to help others—lifting each other up however we can—is as important to our survival as that stash of bread and books.

How are you getting through? I'd love to hear.

Know I'm thinking of you, down in my quiet cove. Stay in; stay well. As always, I'm at <Mgtstep@gmail.com>.

Access to Materials from duPont Library

The Jessie Ball duPont Library building is closed to the public, with access limited to employees whose offices are there. Starting Wednesday, March 25, the library will offer a weekday pick-up service for library materials requested in advance.

To request library materials from the collection, please email the following information to our circulation staff by noon each day. These items will be available for pickup from 2 p.m. to 4 p.m. the same day. To make a request, email <reserves@sewanee.edu>, or call the circulation staff at (931) 598-1664.

Be sure to include:

The title of the material(s) you want; a call number would be appreciated, but not required.

Your contact information: name, phone number, and email address.

Materials will be checked out to your account by the Circulation staff and then shelved alphabetically by your last name on the book truck. Items will be available for pick up between 2 and 4 p.m. on a book truck on the library's covered front porch. Materials not picked up during that period will be reshelved. If the pick-up time does not work for you, please let us know. We will contact you about an alternative method or time to get materials to you.

Special borrowing policies in place during this period:

You may check out more than the normal number of videos and audiobooks during this time.

Fines will not be assessed for late returns.

You can return library materials 24 hours a day to either of our book drops—on the front porch of duPont Library or at the entrance of the rear parking lot.

We want to remind you about our Overdrive service for easy access to our ebooks and electronic audiobooks. Go to <https://sewanee.overdrive.com/> to learn more. You can make recommendations for purchase through this website also.

The library wants to support your reading, watching, and listening needs during this time. Please let us know if you have any questions, and stay safe.

Summer Meal Program to Provide Free Meals for Local Children

The South Cumberland Summer Meal Program is now seeking partners to provide free summer meals beginning June 8 through Aug. 2. The summer meal program increases access to nutritious meals when school meals are not available. The program delivers kid-friendly meals to a wide range of partner sites such as summer camps, reading programs, sports and enrichment programs, vacation Bible school, libraries, churches or any organization that can benefit from no-cost, nutritious meals for children.

In the face of COVID-19, the South Cumberland Summer Meal Program has been streamlined for easier access. For example, "drive-through" distribution will now be possible. Additionally, a number of previous USDA requirements have been relaxed including the number of meals that can be distributed at one time. Meal sites may register for breakfast, lunch, snack, supper, or a combination including two of these options. Additionally, sites may request meals for any timeframe during program operation—be it only for a few days or the entire summer.

"We served 720 children last summer and expect to increase this number considerably, especially in light of COVID-19. Any organization that wants to provide free meals to local children can contact me today. The program is straightforward and benefits our community tremendously," said Hannah Olinger, Hunger Relief & Literacy Coordinator with the South Cumberland Plateau AmeriCorps VISTA Project.

The South Cumberland Meal Program is administered in Tennessee by the Department of Human Services under an agreement with the U.S. Department of Agriculture (USDA). The program is sponsored by a partnership between the University of the South's Office of Civic Engagement, McClurg Dining Hall and South Cumberland Community Fund. Acceptance and participation requirements for the program and all activities are the same for all regardless of race, color, national origin, sex, age or disability.

If your organization is interested in becoming a meal site, please contact Hannah Olinger before April 1. Email Hannah at <sfpvista@gmail.com> or call (423) 765-6803. We look forward to hearing from you.

We are in business to serve our clients and team. These are a few of the many precautions that we have implemented

1. Anyone who is sick, around sick family members, or thinks they maybe getting sick must stay home. This is a mandatory protocol.

2. We have ramped up hand washing and germ-fighting protocols on job sites and in the office. We have installed portable hand washingsinks on jobsites.

3. We will avoid shaking hands, hugging or sharing food and drinks. :(

4. All team members will wipe down shared tools, steering wheel, knobs, switches, ipads and cell phones several times a day with sanitizing wipes.

5. Gloves and or hand sanitizer are to be used when pumping gas.

6. We will avoid crowds, and try to maintain a distance of 6' from our colleagues as we work.

Sincerely with appreciation for our clients, team, and community,
Joseph and Alyssa Sumpter

Cora

Dracula

Pets of the Week

Meet Cora and Dracula

Animal Harbor will be operating with a limited staff in the coming weeks, we will be operating by appointment only in order to safeguard the staff, public, and the care of the animals. We will be taking phone calls, animals will still be available for adoption (by appointment only), and we will be offering our Pet Pantry services through curbside delivery assistance (you must call in advance to arrange pick-up).

Cora is a five-year-old Catahoula cattle dog that has experienced a tough go at life. Cora was picked up by a lady who witnessed her weaving in and out of traffic, terrified, and unsafe. Cora was on stray watch for two weeks, unfortunately with no one claiming her as their own. Upon medical intake and testing, it was discovered that Cora has a heavy load of heartworms. We hate to say it, but think she may have been abandoned just for that reason alone- for she is a fabulous girl. Since Cora had a heavy parasitic load, her treatment plan was more intensive and took longer for recovery. She has now finished her treatment and is awaiting a negative test result, so she can get on with her life and find her forever home once and for all. Cora is great with other dogs and children, but will not be able to be housed with a cat. If you are interested in meeting Cora, please contact the shelter. We can't wait to find her the perfect match.

Dracula is a seven-month-old black kitten that is a little shy and reserved at first, but opens up to the right person when given time to establish a connection. Dracula rules the roost in the adult cat community room where he eats, plays hard, and cat naps all day long! Dracula is sure to steal your heart with his deep golden eyes and cute kitten antics. Unfortunately, Dracula has recently regressed in the shelter environment, and he has begun to pluck out his hair. He is becoming more and more stressed in the shelter, and is in an immediate need for a low stress home. One with no young children or dogs would be great. He is up-to-date on vaccinations, FIV/FelV negative, neutered and microchipped. Ask us how you can get started with the adoption of Dracula today.

Animal Harbor is located at 56 Nor-Nan Rd., off AEDC Road, in Winchester. Call Animal Harbor at 962-4472 for information and check out the other pets at <www.animalharbor.org>. Enter their drawing on this site for a free spay or neuter for one of your pets. Help Animal Harbor continue to save abandoned pets by sending your donations to Animal Harbor, P.O. Current Status of South Cumberland State Park

The South Cumberland State Park Visitor Center is closed. Exterior bathroom is open. Savage Gulf Ranger Station and restrooms are closed. Stone Door Ranger Stations and bathrooms are open. Grundy Lakes and Grundy Forest bathrooms are closed. Foster Falls bathhouse is currently open from 7 a.m. to 8 p.m.

Trails & Trilliums, Gala Postponed

The 17th Annual Trails and Trilliums festival and related Wild Azalea Gala fundraiser are both being postponed due to the Coronavirus pandemic.

The Friends of South Cumberland State Park (FSC), which offers both events to help raise awareness and funding for its work on behalf of the park, will announce rescheduling plans for both events once the current health crisis has subsided, according to FSC Board President John Hille.

The events, both of which were scheduled for April 17-19, included group gatherings that had potential for facilitating virus spread. FSC Treasurer Rich Wyckoff said the Friends will be refunding fees to guests who have already pre-registered.

For more information about planning a socially-distanced visit to the park, visit <FriendsOfSouthCumberland.org/plan-your-visit>.

Bald Eagle

Early last week several folks saw a bald eagle feeding on a deer carcass at the Sewanee airport, as first reported by Leonard King. Bald eagles do indeed commonly feed on carrion, as well as fish (including dead fish) and some small mammals. Just a few decades ago, we were afraid we might lose this magnificent bird due to pesticides. Now, people are sighting them in our area somewhat frequently.

Tennessee State Parks Announces Temporary Operational Changes

Tennessee State Parks, in an effort to flatten the curve of COVID-19 while continuing to serve Tennesseans, is joining the CDC and the Tennessee Department of Health by encouraging residents not to travel, but to visit only their nearby parks. The park system is also announcing a series of operational changes effective March 26.

Our state parks are part of the fabric of Tennessee communities and have been an important place of renewal during this crisis," Jim Bryson, deputy commissioner of the Tennessee Department of Environment and Conservation, said. "The measures announced today will continue to provide healthy outdoor spaces for Tennesseans while providing more protection for our neighbors and our staff. We can do our part to flatten the curve of COVID-19 while continuing to provide open spaces when our neighbors need it most."

Tennessee State Parks will transition to day-use schedules for all 56 state parks, opening daily from 7 a.m.–6 p.m. The new schedule goes into effect on March 26 and will be in place until at least April 10.

During this period, all public gathering spaces such as visitor centers, shelters and playgrounds at state parks will be closed. Additionally, parks cabins, lodges and campgrounds close. Future reservations with arrival dates between now and April 9 will be canceled. The parks will waive cancellation fees during this time.

Camps catering to large groups will be closed during the same period. Golf courses and clubhouses in the parks will also be closed. Parks events of greater than 10 people will be canceled or postponed, in accordance with Gov. Bill Lee's Executive Order 17. All park-hosted events have been canceled through April 15. Restaurants, cafes and bars will remain closed until at least April 10.

Along with the new schedules and closures, Tennessee State Parks strongly encourage guests to practice social distancing and follow guidelines for hygiene while visiting the parks. Limited restrooms and bath houses remain open that will be cleaned based on established cleaning protocols in the parks.

Tennessee State Parks will continue to assess the implications of COVID-19 and will alert the public when dates are determined for the reopening of public facilities and overnight accommodations. For up to date information about Tennessee State Parks or your local park, Tennesseans are encouraged to visit the Tennessee State Parks website at tnstateparks.com and visit <<https://tnstateparks.com/about/keeping-visitors-healthy>>.

April Fool's Day

T'is midnight and the setting sun
Is slowly setting in the west.
'the rapid rivers slowly run,
The frog is on his downy nest,
The pensive goat and sportive cow,
Hilarious, leap from bough to bough.
