SSMF Faculty Concert

by Bailey Basham
Messenger Staff Writer

Members of the Sewanee Summer Music Festival Faculty will present a concert at 7:30 p.m., Monday, April 29, in Guerry Auditorium. The concert will be followed by a post-concert reception in McGriff Alumni House. The concert is free and open to the public.

"This is a first time effort for the festival to have a presence outside of the summer," said John Kilkenny, artistic director of the Sewanee Summer Music Festival (SSMF). "We're bringing faculty to campus, to play as a thank-you and also as an announcement of the season."

Meant to serve as a preview of the upcoming SSMF season, both longtime and new faculty will perform a varied repertoire, featuring Bill Yelverton playing classical guitar, Paula Bressman, on harp and Hillary Herndon on viola, among others.

Bressman, visiting instructor of harp and second harpist in the Nashville Symphony Orchestra, is one half of the harp duo Beyond Pluck. Bressman will play an original arrangement of The Who's Baba O'Riley with Rachel Miller of the Southwest Symphony and Cincinnati Symphony Orchestras, as well as Parvis: Cortège et Danse by Bernard Andres.

"I grew up on classic rock — my dad had what seemed like every record ever, and driving me to harp lessons, we'd be listening to all classic rock, including the Who. Later on as I got used to the techniques, I was able to do my first rock arrangement," Bressman said. "This song really lends itself well to not only the harp but many other orchestral instruments."

Bressman, who attended SSMF during her high school years, is joining the faculty to revamp the harp program this year. Bill Yelverton, visiting professor of guitar, will be leading a new guitar program this summer as well.

Yelverton will perform as a featured soloist on April 29, presenting a set of variations on a Spanish renaissance piece, as well as Canarios by Gaspar Sanz.

Hillary Herndon, who first joined the faculty in 2006, will be performing alongside Gregory Lee of the University of Oklahoma and Brittany McWilliams of the University of Louisville, presenting the third and fourth movements of Antonín Dvořák's Terzetto in C.

Herndon will also perform with Jason Calloway, cellist from Frost Music School, and Amy Chang, pianist from the University of Michigan, to present Schumann's Piano Quintet in E-flat major.

SSMF organizers will be hosting the newly-formed National Advisory Board for the preview concert. The board was organized to provide the festival with strategic direction, according to Kilkenny.

This year's season of the SSMF will begin at 7:30 p.m., Saturday, June 15. Season tickets ($125) and tickets for individual events ($20) are on sale now at <ssmf.sewanee.edu/tickets>. The season will run through Sunday, July 14.

Council News: Member Election, Parking, Hospital, and Parks

by Leslie Lytle, Messenger Staff Writer

At the April 22 Sewanee Community Council meeting, the council approved on first reading a revision to the constitution to provide for filling vacant seats post election. The council also revisited the parking policy and received updates on the future of Emerald Hodgson Hospital (EHH) and the Parks Committee's work.

A candidate withdrawing just prior to the November council election prompted election officer Charles Whitmer to recommend revising the constitution. The constitution stipulated a special election to fill a vacancy needed to be held within 30 days of the general election. Various, the council could appoint someone to fill the seat. However, by that method, Whitmer noted, residents of the district would not have a voice in the selection process.

The amendment provides for a special election within one year after the regular election. If only one candidate submits a petition for the special election, the council can elect the candidate by majority vote.

The constitution requires two readings for an amendment to go into effect. If the council doesn't meet in May, council members will vote on the amendment electronically.

Revisiting the parking policy, Police Chief Marie Eldridge set June 1 as the deadline for submitting suggestions for revising the policy. Residents can contact their council representative with suggestions or make suggestions online at the police department website. The parking policy can be viewed at the website under the heading "Students."

"We try to be the kinder, gentler police," Eldridge said, stressing that towing vehicles was a last resort. According to Eldridge, state law provides for towing a vehicle blocking a resident's driveway. Asked about obstructions like trailer hitches extending beyond a parking space, Eldridge said the issue was dealt with on a different basis from parking violations.

Addressing rumors about the 2020 expiration of the lease arrangement between EHH and Southern Tennessee Regional Health Systems, Winchester-Sewanee STRHS Chief Operating Officer Cliff Wilson said, "We're very committed to the campus hospital."

Eric Hartman, chair of the STRHS board of directors, concurred. "The Sewanee hospital serves a vital part of the community not served otherwise," Hartman emphasized EHH's financial and quality of care metrics had improved. The hospital is "solvent" Hartman said, and patient satisfaction scores average in the 9-10 range.

SUD's Proactive Plans: Water Loss, Spray Fields

by Leslie Lytle, Messenger Staff Writer

At the April 23 meeting of the Sewanee Utility District Board of Commissioners, SUD manager Ben Beavers alerted the board to the need to make water production more efficient by reducing unaccounted for water loss and to keep the wastewater treatment plant operating at maximum efficiency by remediating the spray fields. Unaccounted for water loss is the difference between the amount of water treated at the plant and amount registered as sold on customer meters. The waste water treatment plant disposes of treated water by spraying it over fields of vegetative growth where the water soaks into the soil nourishing the plants.

SUD's unaccounted water loss for March rose to 30.8 percent. "I don't know why it's up," said SUD manager Ben Beavers.

Zone meters in remote areas such as Sherwood, Midway, and Jump Off aid SUD in detecting leaks, but in town there's no way to get an effective reading because the water lines loop, Beavers explained.

Beavers urged residents to contact SUD if they observe pooling water or other signs of a leak. Even when a suspected leak is reported, it can take SUD employees a day and a half to find its source. Unaccounted for water loss costs SUD 6.8 percent of its operating budget, $38,000 annually.

Proposing a solution, Beavers suggested purchasing strap on meters to detect the leaks in town. The meters cost $4,000-$5,000 each and three would be needed. The alternative would be to hire an outside firm to locate the leaks.

"Paying someone to find the leaks costs about the same as buying the instrumentation," Beavers pointed out, stressing that leak detection was an ongoing process, not something that needed done just once. Another advantage to

SCFM SAYS THANK YOU

To the Editor:

Shopping at the South Cumberland Farmer's Market will be quicker and easier this garden season thanks to the generosity of several local folks who guided us through technology upgrades and donated devices. Customers who shop via the online market pick up their orders Tuesdays at the Sewanee Community Center. Internet traffic on the free service at the center used to slow the check-out process for customers and the check-in process for farmers, sometimes delaying market opening. Wall Wofford guided us through brainstorming possible solutions. When we pitched a fix to center director Rachel Petropoulos, center board member Rebecca Loose and her husband Remington stepped forward offering assistance. Remington resolved the internet traffic problem by setting up a separate network for the market's use. What we anticipated would require an equipment purchase and monthly fee ended up costing nothing. And the recent donation of an iPad by Barbara Carden promises to speed up the check in and checkout process even more.

Thanks also to the dozens of volunteers who help out without compensation and the Sewanee Community Chest whose gift goes a long way toward making this crazy experiment thrive.

SCFM operates on a nonprofit model committed to providing locally grown food for local folks by connecting customers with farmers. We're grateful to have a niche in the community. To everyone who helps make that possible, customers included, thank you.

Lessons from the Post-Cold War Era

On Thursday, May 2, the Sewanee Seminars Academy for Lifelong Learning welcomes Nick Roberts.

The Middle East remains a region in turmoil and the United States policies undergoing shifts. As the Trump administration moves to unveil its Middle East peace proposal, it is important to consider the history of American attempts to bring stability to the region as the world's lone superpower. From the "New World Order" announced by George H. W. Bush in the early 1990s to Barack Obama's "New Beginning" speech of 2009, American presidents have promoted various solutions to the Arab-Israeli conflict, to the challenge of authoritarianism, and to the dual threats of Iran and Iraq. Roberts' talk will discuss how the Trump administration's approach to the region fits with earlier attempts to bring order to the Middle East and will consider the future of America's place in the region.

Roberts received his B.A. in Religion from Carleton College, a M.A. in Middle Eastern Studies from the University of Chicago, and a Ph.D. in Middle Eastern and Islamic Studies/History from New York University. His scholarly interests include the history of European imperialism in the Middle East, the history of Israel/Palestine, modern Islamic movements, and Arab nationalism in the Middle East. He has received several awards including a James D. Kennedy III fellowship from Sewanee and a Fulbright fellowship to conduct research in Israel.

Recently, Roberts published "Islam Under the Palestine Mandate: Colonialism and the Supreme Muslim Council" which analyzes the controversial establishment of the Supreme Muslim Council in British Palestine and considers the politicization of the council under its infamous president, Hajj Amin al-Husayni. Based on research conducted in Israel and Britain, the book uses the fascinating history of the Council as a lens for understanding how Islamic politics, Palestinian nationalism, and colonialism intersected in mandate Palestine. The book shows how British policies in the mandate were informed by approaches towards Islam developed elsewhere in the empire.

This Lifelong Learning session will be held in Lower Cravens Hall at 435 Kentucky Ave. It will begin promptly at noon and conclude at 1 p.m. Coffee and cookies will be available and attendees are invited to bring a lunch.

Parking is available in the adjacent Tennessee Williams Center parking lot. Sewanee parking regulations require that the rear bumper of all vehicles be visible from the parking lot aisles, so please don't back in to a space or pull through.

The cost for a single session is $3 and an annual membership costs $20. For all questions contact John Hille at (931) 924-4302.

Church News

All Saints’ Chapel

Growing in Grace concludes Sunday, April 28, at 6:30 p.m. in All Saints’ Chapel.

There will be a Choral Evensong at 5:15 p.m., Tuesday, April 30.

Christ Church

As has been our custom for the last 25 years, Christ Church will honor the date of the Orthodox Easter, which is April 28 this year. When Christ Church had its first services and was renting the Monteagle Seventh day Adventist Church, a small number of people, who were baptized and raised Orthodox joined us. One of the most memorable was the late Carole Ann Hargis, who brought Easter Bread and red-dyed eggs and other traditions from her childhood in Detroit. Another family from Bell Buckle cleared with their Orthodox Bishop in Illinois the baptism of their children in a font which was shipped down, and then shipped back. The Copts have no church in the area, and they gave Christ Church a special cross to be used in certain services. We will have a feast following the serve this week and use a cope from a Ukraine cloth factory located in a monastery. The gold hangings also come from that factory.

Last Sunday we had a special time of prayer for the Christians in Sri Lanka where over 300 people, including many children, were killed by terrorist bombs. We continue to pray daily for all who are persecuted. Last year, 2018, there were hundreds of churches burned in Nigeria and a vicious attack on Palm Sunday leaving many dead. The cathedral of the Copts in Alexandria, Egypt was bombed on Palm Sunday 2017. While we rejoice in the Easter Season and its beautiful traditions, we join with all people of good will in prayers for safety, and for the arrest and incarceration of those responsible or supportive of such horrors as we see almost daily.

Hopefully, many have enjoyed seeing the Easter Crosses in front of Christ Church. We have enough to give one or more to anyone who wants one for his or her home or church. Just pull up and take one, and we will replace it!

Otey Parish

This Sunday, April 28, infants 6 weeks to children 4 years old are invited to the nursery beginning at 8:30 a.m. There will be nursery for both services and the Sunday School Hour. Youth Ministry meets in Brooks Hall.

Sunday is St. Mark’s Sunday, where we remember the merging of Sewanee’s predominantly African American parish, St. Mark’s with Otey Parish. Last year’s 50th anniversary celebration resulted in the sharing of many memories from descendants of the original St. Mark’s congregation and from local community members. Woody Register from the University’s Slavery and Reconciliation project will be the guest speaker during Adult Forum; he’ll be updating attendees on stories unearthed from the archives of local families and individual black community members, as well as about efforts to archive in audio and video more stories from local citizens. The forum will again be participant-engaged, so it is hoped that everyone will bring photos, memorabilia, stories and questions. The Adult Forum is in St Mark’s Hall from 9:45–10:45 a.m.; brunch will be served at this event.

On Sunday, May 12, a Convocation for Conferring of Degrees will be held at 10 a.m. in All Saints' Chapel and on the Quad for the College of Arts and Sciences and the School of Letters (tickets required). More than 400 students will graduate from the College, and 16 will receive master's degrees from the School of Letters. A luncheon honoring the Class of 2019 graduates will follow.

Roger W. Ferguson Jr., is president and chief executive officer of TIAA, a leading provider of retirement services. He is the former vice chairman of the Board of Governors of the U.S. Federal Reserve System. As the only governor in Washington, D.C., on Sept. 11, 2001, he led the Fed's initial response to the terrorist attacks, taking actions that kept the U.S. financial system functioning while reassuring the global financial community. He served on President Obama's Council on Jobs and Competitiveness as well as its predecessor, the Economic Recovery Advisory Board.

R.F. "Roy" Foster is emeritus professor of Irish history at Oxford and professor of Irish history and literature at Queen Mary University of London. In 1991 he became the first Carroll Professor of Irish History at Oxford and a fellow of Hertford College. He is a fellow of the British Academy, a fellow of the Royal Historical Society, and a fellow of the Royal Society of Literature. His award-winning books include The Irish Story: Telling Tales and Making It Up in Ireland; a biography of W.B. Yeats; and Vivid Faces: The Revolutionary Generation in Ireland 1890-1922.

Matthew Golombek is a senior research scientist at the Jet Propulsion Laboratory—NASA's center for planetary exploration—and a 25-year veteran of America's space missions to Mars. He is the project scientist of the Mars Exploration Rover mission, concluded in February 2019, and he led the landing site selection efforts for the InSight lander that touched down last November. His research focuses on Mars geology and the prediction of surface characteristics. He was the chief scientist for the Mars Pathfinder Mission, which successfully landed a spacecraft and rover on Mars in 1997.

Sherry Magill served from 1993 to 2018 as president and executive director of the Jessie Ball duPont Fund, a grant-making foundation in Jacksonville, Fla. While there, she spearheaded development of the Jessie Ball duPont Center, a nonprofit and philanthropic center. Prior to joining the Fund in 1991, Dr. Magill served as vice president at Washington College, a private liberal arts college in Maryland, where she also taught courses in American Studies. She has served as a senior moderator for the Aspen Institute and as chair of the Council on Foundations board, and is the founding executive director of the Wye Faculty Seminar, an enrichment program for professors at small colleges.

Dr. John R. Seffrin served as chief executive of the American Cancer Society from 1992 to 2015; he also led the Society's nonpartisan advocacy affiliate, the American Cancer Society Cancer Action Network. Seffrin has served as professor of practice at the Indiana University School of Public Health-Bloomington. Among his many appointments, he served on the White House Advisory Group on Prevention, Health Promotion, and Integrative and Public Health; was appointed to the National Cancer Policy Board; and led the creation of the Campaign for Tobacco-Free Kids.

doing the leak detection in house was patterns emerged, according to Beavers, alerting SUD to the types of circumstances or areas where leaks were common.

Speculating on causes, Beavers cited valves wearing out where old out of service lines were not cut and physically separated from the system. Another possible cause is old, deteriorating cast iron pipe.

SUD's long range plans call for replacing the deteriorating cast iron waterlines in the Tennessee Avenue area. Beavers recommended drawing up a five-year budget, prioritizing projects according to "which pays off best," replacing the Tennessee Avenue lines or investing in leak detection equipment.

SUD's spray fields underwent intensive remediation 10 years ago. "When I came on as manager we were under an order from the Tennessee Department of Environment and Conservation (TDEC) to remediate the spray fields," Beavers said. In 2005 TDEC cited SUD because the spray fields were not adequately absorbing the water and runoff was reported.

Nate Wilson, who holds a degree in natural resources management, devised a corrective management plan. Strategies employed ranged from clear cutting to intensive planting and selective timber harvesting.

"We have one of the few spray fields systems in the state that work," Beavers said. "Some were poorly designed. I want to keep ours going. We can get water from Tracy City if we run out, but there are no alternatives for wastewater treatment if our system fails."

Beavers recommended conducting a survey of the spray fields in the near future and budgeting for necessary remediation. "We need to address needed remediation before the spray fields go down."

Updating the council on the work of the newly formed Parks Committee, founding member Dixon Myers said the committee had met with the administrators of the four parks served to determine funding needs, access to funding, and capital improvement needs. Top on the capital improvement list is lights for the Sewanee Youth Ballpark.

Duck River declared the light system dangerous, Myers explained. Ballasts exploded at two ballparks with similar lighting systems. The estimated cost for replacing the ballpark lights is $40,000. "We're putting together a strategy to raise funds," Myers said.

Myers noted the ballpark lights were a capital improvement budget item separate from the operating budget the Parks Committee was working on.

Parks committee member Stephen Burnett commented on the need for a bathroom at Elliott Park and asked if the new Wellness Center could offer facilities.

Austin Oakes, Associate Vice President for Facilities Planning & Operations, said the Wellness Center was "not well designed for that use."

Vice-Chancellor John McCardell acknowledged the need for bathroom facilities serving Elliott Park and said the circumstance "needs to be addressed."

The council also heard an update on the Sewanee Village Plan. Frank Gladu who oversees the initiative outlined five priority projects: narrowing U.S. Hwy. 41A to calm traffic; a village green at the location of the current Sewanee Market; a mixed-use food market and apartment building; housing; and the new bookstore.

Gladu predicted construction of the bookstore would begin in May and projected completion by the end of the year. Development partner BP Construction has taken on the mixed use building, Gladu said. He stressed BP's strategy would be driven by the developer's ability to lease the apartments and retail space.

The council will meet May 20 if agenda items warrant.

School of Theology Awards

The School of Theology holds several events leading up to a Convocation for the Conferring of Degrees. In the weeks prior, senior awards are presented at the community lunch, the Children's Crossing service is held for the families of the seminary community, and a picnic in honor of the seniors takes place at Lake Cheston. It all culminates with the seminary graduating 31 students and conferring four honorary degrees on Friday, May 10, in the University of the South's All Saints' Chapel. The service will begin at 10 a.m. and will be live-streamed for those unable to attend <<https://vimeo.com/event/6312>>. A luncheon for the degree recipients and their families will follow the service in McClurg Dining Hall.

This year's honorary degree recipients are notable servants of the Church and diverse in their respective fields of ministry—the Rev. Canon Gideon Byamugisha, an Anglican priest in Uganda active in HIV/Aids related issues; the Rt. Rev. Maria Griselda Delgado, the first woman bishop to serve the Diocese of Cuba; the Rev. Canon George Frederick Dettwiler II, canon for special projects for the Diocese of Tennessee; and the Rt. Rev. Carl Walter Wright, bishop suffragan for Armed Forces and Federal Ministries of The Episcopal Church. In addition to receiving his honorary degree, Wright will also preach during the commencement service.

During the community luncheon on April 24, the Rt. Rev. J. Neil Alexander, dean of the School, and University Vice-Chancellor John McCardell recognized some of the outstanding achievements by the graduating class.

This year's awards were announced and presented to the following seniors:

School of Theology Prize in Biblical Studies — Kellan Day
School of Theology Prize in Theology and Ethics — Kellan Day
School of Theology Prize in Historical Studies — Hannah Pommersheim
School of Theology Prize in Practical Theology — Mark Nabors
School of Theology Community Service Award — Melissa Kean Episcopal Preaching Foundation Prize in Preaching Excellence — Christopher Dell

Awards previously given to members of the class of 2019 included:

The Woods Leadership Award is presented to a member of the junior class who has most successfully taken the initiative in assuming a leadership role in the class. Kellan Day was the recipient for this award at the DuBose Alumni Gathering banquet in September 2017.

The same evening, Hannah Pommersheim received the Freeman Award for Merit, established by the Rev. Reed H. Freeman and his wife, Nancy. It is awarded to a rising middler who has demonstrated outstanding academic performance and promise in the junior year.

The William A. Griffin Scholarships are given each year to enable students to study in the Holy Land. The fund was established to celebrate the ministry of William A. Griffin, former professor of Old Testament at the School of Theology from 1959–1988, and was endowed by Professor Griffin's wife, Anne Griffin, and her daughter, Shore Griffin, and other donors. Seniors Christopher Dell, Polly Robb, Cameron Spoor, and Marion Sprott-Goldson received the scholarships in 2017–18.

Domain Management Plan Town Hall Meeting

The University of the South, in partnership with The Nature Conservancy and the Forest Stewards Guild, has undertaken a comprehensive management process for the Domain that is designed to improve wildlife habitats, protect fragile species and ecosystems, and set an example of exemplary forest management in the region.

A primary component of the new management plan includes pursuing Forest Stewardship Council (FSC) certification for the Domain. FSC represents a global "gold standard" in forest management that aims to ensure that forests remain productive while protecting local water quality, maintaining a healthy forest cover, prohibiting hazardous chemicals, and respecting local communities.

Over the duration of this plan, most of the Domain's forests will remain undisturbed from timber management. The plan focuses active management on areas where management has occurred previously and where significant deviation exists between current forest condition and desired ecological conditions as articulated by the Nature Conservancy in their climate resilience and vulnerability assessments. The plan includes strategic direction for habitat management using timber harvest, exotic species control, prescribed fire, and provides recommendations for recreational infrastructure improvements across the Domain.

On Thursday, May 2, from 2–4 p.m., at Gailor Auditorium, there will be a community town hall presentation about the plan. We invite the community to be part of this event. Representatives from the Nature Conservancy, along with members of the Office of Environmental Stewardship and Sustainability, will present some of the major components of the plan, and provide opportunity for community input.

HEARING HEALTH NEWS

by Debbie Gamache,
M.S. CCC-A Audiologist

PREVENTABLE HEARING LOSS

In many minds, hearing loss is an age-related phenomenon that is as inevitable as gray hair and wrinkles. The fact is, however, that about 75% of hearing loss in the typical person is preventable. According to research, one of the leading causes of damage to the ear (and subsequent hearing loss) is exposure to excessive noise. More than 20 million Americans jeopardize their hearing by exposing themselves to high levels of noise on a regular basis, and this damage is occurring at increasingly younger ages. Any noise louder than 85 decibels (about the level made by a lawn mower) is a potential hazard to hearing. The louder the noise, the less time it takes to do its damage.

The noise pollution's we constantly expose our ears to in the pursuit of entertainment, in our jobs, or in our normal daily activities is a major reason why the number of hearing impaired persons is on the rise. Debbie Gamache's The Hearing Center LLC presents this column to help you become more aware of the importance of protecting your hearing and the ways you can improve the quality of your life through clear sound and communication. We offer custom hearing protection and musician's ear plugs as well as other devices to provide you with maximum protection. Please stop by Debbie Gamache's The Hearing Center LLC located at 705 NW Atlantic St. Suite B, Tullahoma and find out what is available in hearing protection today. You can call us at 931-393-2051. You can also visit our website at www.thehearingcenterllc.com.

What is a Rigamajig?

In partnership with the Lyndhurst Foundation and the Southeast Center for Education in the Arts at The University of Tennessee at Chattanooga, Monteagle Elementary School (MES) received a Rigamajig Kit as one part of the Arts Pathway Plan to infuse arts experiences throughout the school. The teachers at MES received training on how to use and incorporate "Rigamajig" into their curriculum. Rigamajig is a new large scale kit designed for hands-on free play promoting creativity and innovation with STEAM (science, technology, engineering, art and mathematics) focused learning. The team at the Southeast Center for Education in the Arts have been working with Marion County schools through multiple programs with support from Lyndhurst and the Tennessee Arts Commission, to help incorporate arts of all forms into the classroom. They have been providing materials, training, modeling instruction in the grade-level classrooms and in related arts classrooms. The students at Monteagle have been enjoying working with the Rigamajig kit. They look forward to exploring, problem solving and working together to see what they can create with their hands. We feel very fortunate to be part of the Arts Pathway Plan. Learn more about Rigamajigs at <Rigamajig.com>.

Women's Track and Field Wins Invitational

The Sewanee track and field teams concluded the regular season on April 19, with the Mountain Laurel Twilight Invitational. The women's team won the event with a score of 150, while the men finished third.

During the meet on Friday, seniors Sarah Board, Hannah Faulkner, Adriana Hibarra, Kalon Johnson, Katie Hall, Kelsie Schiavone, and Meredith Stuber were recognized.

Meredith Stuber ran a 13.52-second performance in the 100 meters to win the event. Running in her first 100 meters on the season, the senior is the 22nd-fastest in the conference.

In the 200 meters, Stuber collected the win in that event as well with a 27.52-second time. Despite not being a season-best time, her 26.91-second time last week at Berry is ninth in the conference and 40th in the South/Southeast Region.

In the 100 hurdles, she picked up her third win of the meet. Recording a 16.88-second mark in the event, it is a personal best, and the time is ranked sixth in the league and 30th regionally.

Kelsie Schiavone won the 400 meters with a 1:01.34 mark. The senior remains at fourth in the league and 18th in the region with her season-best time of 1:00.66.

Taking home the win in the 1,500 meters was Clay McKnight, who ran a 5:11.07 time. The sophomore is ninth in the SAA and 37th in the South/Southeast Region with a 4:58.72 mark in the event.

In the 3,000 steeplechase, Perry Gresham knocked 20 seconds off her personal best with a 13:19.92 time in the event. The time moves her up to 12th in the league in the event.

In the pole vault, Anna Hubbard cleared 2.75 meters for a third place finish. The freshman is eighth in the conference and 31st in the region in the field event.

Before running to a 13.58-second sprint in the 100 meters, Haven Watson took home second place in the long jump. The junior cleared 4.77 meters, missing her career-best by 0.11 meters.

Ash Midyett won the 800 meters with a time of 1:58.73, missing his season-best by 0.67 seconds. The junior, with a season-best mark of 1:58.06, is ranked sixth in the league and 28th in the South/Southeast Region.

Letherio Jones ran to a second place finish in the 400 meters with a 53.30-second mark. The sophomore is ranked sixth in the SAA and 41st in the South/Southeast Region with a 51.05-second time earlier this year.

Bram Atkins won the 3,000 steeplechase with a 10:24.84, a personal best mark.

Joshua Bryant missed his season-best by 0.16 seconds with a 12.32-second time in the 100 meters, while Dillon Spann set a new personal mark in the 200 at 24.32 seconds.

Miles Martin won the 110 hurdles at 17.13 seconds, while Rob Ritchie ran a season-best time in the 1,500 meters at 4:41.19.

Men's Lacrosse Advances to Semifinals

The Sewanee men's lacrosse team, for the second straight game against Birmingham-Southern, needed overtime to secure the victory over the Panthers, 13-12, April 20, in a first round play-in game.

Birmingham-Southern, after the home team led 2-1 with 11:16 left in the opening quarter, scored four straight goals to lead 4-2 after 15 minutes of play.

After the visitors made it a 5-2 affair with 12:08 to go in the opening half, the Tigers scored seven straight goals in eight minutes to reclaim the lead with 3:28 left in the half. Daniel Burnum led the Tigers with two goals in the quarter.

Despite the Panthers adding a goal with 1:02 left in the period, the Tigers led 9-6 at the break.

Sewanee hit double digits with 12:52 left in the third with a Henry Burns goal from Thomas Lynde. After four straight goals by BSC, while holding Sewanee to just eight shots in the period, tied the score at 10 goals each after three quarters of play.

The home team, after BSC scored with 10:25 left to lead 11-10, scored two straight goals to reclaim the lead, 12-11, with less than seven minutes to go.

The contest would be squared at 12 goals with 32 seconds left in regulation thanks to a Peyton Taylor goal. That goal forced the contest into overtime for the second straight game in the series.

BSC took the opening face off, one of just four wins out of 29 attempts, and the Panthers took three straight goals, with two saves from Bryce Womack.

With a little over 90 seconds left in the first overtime period, Sewanee had its first possession in the extra period, but it was short-lived thanks to a turnover on a failed clear attempt.

After a blocked shot with 29 seconds left, the Tigers sprinted down the field, looking to end the contest. Thomas Lynde did just that with a game-winning shot from Henry Burns to advance Sewanee into the semifinals for the seventh straight season.

Daniel Burnum led Sewanee with three goals and added an assist to finish with four points. On the defensive side, he scooped up three ground balls and forced two turnovers. Will Pratt also added four points on two goals and assists each.

Bryce Womack (6-4) saved nine shots for Sewanee.

SAS Varsity Tennis Update

On April 16, the St. Andrew's-Sewanee tennis teams faced district foe Chattanooga Christian School, but neither the boys' nor the girls' teams were able to convert a win against this strong team, both falling 0-7. However, the teams rallied the next day, defeating Grace Baptist Academy. The girls' team enjoyed a 7-0 shutout, and the boys' team earned an exciting 4-3 victory. Nathan King and Finn Michler won at No. 1 doubles and then contributed singles wins at No. 1 and No. 2, respectively. The deciding point was won by Tim Nelson at No. 4 singles in an 8-1 decision.

On April 23, SAS hosted Silverdale Baptist Academy. Despite a good performance, the teams were unable to secure the win. The boys' team fell 2-5 with wins from Nathan King at No. 1 singles and Tim Nelson at No. 4 singles. The girls' team won both doubles points with wins from Tessa Shackelford and Anna Post (No. 1) and Jenna Black and Laura Crigger (No. 2), opening the match with a 2-0 lead. Black contributed an additional win at No. 3 singles, but the team was unable to convert another win, falling 3-4. In exhibition play, Saje Mangru won at No. 6 singles and at No. 3 doubles with Hannah Mullens. The boys' team stands at 3-7 and the girls' team at 6-4 on the season. The teams conclude their regular season play on Friday, April 26, at home against Riverside Christian Academy.

MS Soccer Update

On April 18, St. Andrew's-Sewanee middle school boys' soccer team played to a 0-0 draw in their last regular season against South Middle School. The game was a hard-fought match with both teams fighting for possession, but neither team finding the back of the net. "It was our best game of the season," commented Coach Burns. "We played collective defense and did a great job swinging the ball."

On April 22, the Mountain Lions fell to Cascade Middle School 0-1 in the first round of the Central Tennessee Conference Tournament. This was the last middle school soccer game for four eighth grade players who have been an integral part of the SAS team for the past three years. Goalkeeper Ryan Ostrowski and center back Spears Askew anchored the Mountain Lion defense with strong leadership and skill. Midfielder Caleb Palmertree and Luca Malde spread the field and spurred on the attack.

"The growth in these players over the past three years has been tremendous both on and off the field," commented Coach Burns. "It has been an honor to work with them and their presence will be greatly missed. However, we look for them to strengthen our varsity program next year."

SAS Track Team Wins Again at Home

On April 18, the St. Andrew's-Sewanee track team hosted their third home meet of the 2019 season, coming away with the top overall scores in both the boys' and girls' events. Cascade and Silverdale put on great performances as well, but the Mountain Lions still managed to come out on top thanks to many excellent individual performances. First place finishes included Isabelle Gordy and Jalen Tillman in both the boys' and girls' shot put and discus, Sarah Grace Burns in the girls' high jump and 400, Sarah Beth Hobby in the girls' triple jump and 300 hurdles, Davis Gill in the boys' triple jump and long jump, and Anna Freyland in the girls' 800. Additionally, SAS performed well in several relays, taking first in the girls' 4x400, the girls' 4x100, and the boys' 4x200. Previously in the week while visiting Chattanooga Christian School, Tillman and Freyland also set new school records in the shot put and 800, respectively. The Mountain Lions will look to continue their success in their next home track meet on Friday, April 26.

TigerSharks Summer Season

The Sewanee TigerSharks, the local summer league swim team for all area youth ages 4-18, is preparing for an exciting summer season. John Noffsinger returns in his third year as the TigerShark head coach, accompanied by returning assistant coaches Nan Long and Alyssa Summers.

Last summer, the team enjoyed a robust roster of 84 swimmers and hopes to have even more swimmers participating this summer. The Sewanee Tigersharks had a strong 2018 season, finishing second out of 10 teams at the RACE League Championships to the Manchester Makos, and they look to continue improving this summer.

The mission of the Sewanee Tigersharks is to provide a quality amateur competitive swimming experience for Sewanee and the surrounding areas. The team promotes good sportsmanship, individual health and safety through the development of quality swimming skills, self-esteem, and provides a strong community experience in all swimmers through an emphasis on individual progress, team unity, peer mentorship, and family participation.

All experience levels, from the complete beginner to the experienced year-round swimmer, are encouraged to participate. The only requirement is that a swimmer be able to swim 15-feet unaided. New swimmer, Rookie, and Junior evaluations will take place on Monday, May 20, at 3:15 p.m. at the University of the South Natatorium, with regular practices beginning Tuesday, May 21. All interested parents and swimmers should visit the Sewanee Tigersharks website at <www.sewaneetigersharks.com> or email the team representatives at <sewaneetigersharks@gmail.com>.

NATURENOTES

by Yolande Gottfried

David Rowe reports: "Look what I found living in my spring. TN Official State Amphibian. The Tennessee cave salamander has three red external gills, a broad, flat head with lidless eyes, and a tail fin. Gyrinophilus palleucus."

Members of the Sewanee Garden Club report that the Rose-breasted Grosbeaks are in town. They do not breed here (as I understand) but are migrating through. Rose-breasted Grosbeaks are birds of eastern North America. Their song is said to be like that of a robin that has taken voice lessons. They like deciduous woods near open areas and feed on seeds (opened with that stout beak) and insects, including potato beetles. Female plumage is less colorful than the male, with striped heads and sides and/or breasts. The males share incubation with the females, despite their bright plumage. However, the bright colors are on their breasts and would be hidden while on the nest.

Sewanee Herbarium Calendar of Events

Shakerag Hollow—Sunday, April 28, 2 p.m., with Mary Priestley. A walk among the abundant and diverse spring wildflowers of this partly old-growth forest area. Meet at the Green's View parking lot (past the golf course). Two miles, moderate to strenuous, with one fairly challenging incline.

Piney Point—Sunday, May 5, 1:30 p.m., with Yolande Gottfried. The community of plants that grows on the sandstone outcrops along the trail to Piney Point, including the rare elf orpine, is a special one. This moderate one-to-two hour walk begins at the tennis courts at St. Andrew's-Sewanee School (beyond the football field).

The herbarium sponsors a nature journaling group that meets Thursdays, 9–11 a.m. led by Mary Priestley. Come try it out – stick with it if you like. Bring an unlined journal (or a few sheets of unlined paper) and a pen or pencil. No experience needed. The group meets in Spencer room 173. All are welcome. Email Mary at <mpriestley0150@gmail.com> for more information.

Wear appropriate shoes on all of these walks. Risks involved in hiking include physical exertion, rough terrain, forces of nature, and other hazards not present in everyday life. Picking flowers and digging plants are prohibited in all of the above-mentioned natural areas.

For more information on these or other Sewanee Herbarium events, please contact Yolande Gottfried at the Herbarium (931-598-3346) or by email at <ygottfri@sewanee.edu>. A map of meeting place locations is available at <http://sewanee.edu/media/offices/herbarium/sewanee_herbarium_maps.pdf>.

Pets of the Week Meet Ferdinand, Fiona & Queen Lillian

Ferdinand is a four-year-old pit mix with a spunky personality and a sweet demeanor. Ferdinand was pulled from animal control so he could have a better chance of being seen and adopted here at the shelter. Ferdinand has shown to be good around other dogs and listens well to simple commands such as sit and stay. Ferdinand is quite the photogenic guy and even smiles for the camera! Ferdinand is heartworm-negative, up-to-date on vaccinations, and neutered. We hope he finds his forever home in a family that has just as much of a spunky and fun natured personality as himself.

Ferdinand

Fiona and Queen Lillian are 10-month-old beautiful kittens. These two sisters were brought in to us after a feral momma had kittens at the woman's home. Fiona and Lillian lack basic socialization, but the staff and volunteers have worked hard to get them to respond to their attention. They are no longer feral, but still have independent personalities. They have slowly opened up to us, and certainly enjoy the occasional petting. They even become quite vocal and loving when the right person comes along! If your family is looking for an independent cat that wants the occasional bit of attention or a pair of kittens that need extra rehabilitation, they would be a great addition to your family. Both are FIV/FeLV negative, up-to-date on vaccinations, spayed, microchipped, and ready to be in a forever home where they can grow up happy and loved.

Fiona & Queen Lillian

The Sewanee Mountain Messenger • Spread Good News

BARDTOVERSE

by Phoebe Bates

Matilda told such Dreadful Lies,
It made one Gasp and Stretch one's Eyes;
Her Aunt, who, from her Earliest Youth,
Had kept a Strict Regard for Truth,
Attempted to Believe Matilda:
The effort very nearly killed her,
And would have done so, had not She Discovered this Infirmary.
For once, towards the Close of Day,
Matilda, growing tired of play,
And finding she was left alone,
Went tiptoe to the Telephone
And summoned the Immediate Aid
Of London's Noble Fire-Brigade.
Within an hour the Gallant Band
Were pouring in on every hand,
From Putney, Hackney Downs, and Bow.
With Courage high and Hearts a-glow,
They galloped, roaring through the Town,
'Matilda's House is Burning Down!'
Inspired by British Cheers and Loud
Proceeding from the Frenzied Crowd,
They ran their ladders through a score
Of windows on the Ball Room Floor;
And took Peculiar Pains to Souse
The Pictures up and down the House,
Until Matilda's Aunt succeeded
In showing them they were not needed;
And even then she had to pay
To get the Men to go away,
It happened that a few Weeks later
Her Aunt was off to the Theatre
To see that Interesting Play
The Second Mrs. Tanqueray.
She had refused to take her Niece
To hear this Entertaining Piece:
A Deprivation Just and Wise
To Punish her for Telling Lies.
That Night a Fire did break out--
You should have heard Matilda Shout!
You should have heard her Scream and Bawl,
And throw the window up and call
To People passing in the Street--
(The rapidly increasing Heat
Encouraging her to obtain
Their confidence) -- but all in vain!
For every time she shouted 'Fire!'
They only answered 'Little Liar!'
And therefore when her Aunt returned,
Matilda, and the House, were Burned.

Matilda who Told Lies... Hillaire Belloc
