Grant for Hannah Pickett Park Playground Equipment

by Leslie Lytle
Messenger Staff Writer

On April 21, Monteagle city workers removed the last of the playground equipment from Hannah Pickett Park behind Monteagle City Hall.

"The equipment was condemned five or six years ago," said Vice Mayor Tony Gilliam. In October, the city's insurer Public Entity Partners recommended removal of the 20-year-old equipment. At the October meeting, the Monteagle City Council voted unanimously to have the equipment taken down.

"The city could be fined if we let children play on it and someone was injured," Gilliam stressed. "The equipment was condemned and obsolete."

According to Gilliam, the more dangerous pieces of playground equipment were removed earlier. "We had to take the rest out because children continued to play on it."

"The Hannah Pickett Park pavilion is not affected by this [the insurance company's directive]," said City Recorder Debbie Taylor.

Monteagle has applied for a grant to replace the playground equipment. The Southeast Tennessee Development District is serving as the grant writer. Garrett Haynes, Regional Planner, and Sam Saieed, Setbuilds Assistant Director and Grant Coordinator, are heading up the project.

"The virus has a lot held back," Gilliam conceded. He hopes to have an update on the progress of the grant soon.

The Monteagle City Council did not meet in March and April due to Governor Lee's COVID-19 stay-at-home order.

Grant Awarded for MGT Extension

The Town of Monteagle has been awarded a TDOT Multimodal Access Grant in the amount of $947,737. With this grant, the Mountain Goat Trail will be extended from Tower Community Bank westward across the former railroad bridge to Waffle House. The $50,000 match for this grant will be funded by the Mountain Goat Trail Alliance.

TDOT's Multimodal Access Grant is a state-funded program created to support the transportation needs of transit users, pedestrians and bicyclists through infrastructure projects that address existing gaps along state routes. Multimodal facilities play an important role in providing transportation choices for people across Tennessee. With half of all trips in the United States being three miles or less, good walking, biking and transit facilities are essential to the continued growth and success of our towns and cities.

Neighbors Feeding Neighbors

by Bailey Basham, Messenger Staff Writer

Before the rise of COVID-19, 135 million Americans were struggling with food insecurity. That translated to about one in every nine people, and that was before the disruptions in supply chains and grocery store shortages.

Now, with thousands of workers furloughed across the state, 135 million is just the tip of the iceberg.

At the beginning of April, more than 120,000 people had filed for unemployment in the state of Tennessee, and recent data from the United Nations shows that once-stable families have become food-insecure.

However, thanks to several local churches and the Monteagle-Sewanee Rotary, Franklin County's food-insecure families can trade the worry on their plate for a family meal.

Kenny Green serves as lead pastor at New Beginnings Church in Monteagle, and he said when the pandemic first began, he and his congregation knew they had a role to play as helpers.

"At the beginning, we could foresee it getting worse, so we connected with Feed America First and Second Harvest," he said. "That was 6 weeks ago. We picked up our first load and purchased 6,000 pounds of dry food and frozen meat."

Green said after they started, Grundy County Sheriff Clint Shrum and Mayor Michael Brady got involved. Shrum, Living Water Church, South Cumberland Seventh Day Adventist Church and the Highland Community Church donated funds for Green and his staff to purchase additional food supplies, and thanks to a $4,200 grant from the Monteagle-Sewanee Rotary, more than 320 families have received assistance over the last six weeks. The Monteagle-Sewanee Rotary sponsors the annual Hunger Walk, which aims to raise money to combat food insecurity on the Mountain.

"We've distributed more than 25,000 pounds of food in six weeks," Green said.

Food insecurity on its own is

SAFER AT HOME RECOMMENDATION

To the Editor:

In my role as Mayor and Chair of the Community Council, I write to update the Sewanee community on the latest guidelines from Gov. Bill Lee. As you probably already know, Gov. Lee has allowed his order for Tennesseans to remain at home to expire on April 30 and some businesses now have begun to reopen. The governor has emphasized, however, that Tennesseans must maintain habits like social distancing, working from home when possible, hand washing, and wearing cloth masks. Social gatherings of 10 or more people continue to be prohibited.

Most "Safer at Home" practices are still recommended by both the State of Tennessee and the CDC, and the "Safer at Home" recommendation for Sewanee residents remains in place at this time. Residents are asked to continue to limit movement outside their homes. Keeping space between yourself and others is one of the best tools we have to avoid being exposed to the virus that causes COVID-19.

The CDC asks all of us to slow the spread of COVID-19 by wearing a cloth face covering in public spaces, keeping at least six feet of physical distance between ourselves and others, and frequently washing our hands.

Masks are important, but often misunderstood: The benefit of wearing masks in public is not to protect you from getting sick. It is to protect others from exposure if you are sick or if you are an asymptomatic carrier. Remember that people without symptoms may be able to spread the virus. If we all wear masks, we can help each other.

Please continue to care for and support one another through means that do not involve direct contact—dropping off groceries or other essentials for those who cannot get out and staying in touch through the various forms of social media. Make a "joyful noise" at 5 p.m. on Sundays to show appreciation for health care and other front-line workers.

And please continue to support our local businesses in whatever way you are comfortable doing so and their practices allow.

Thank you for doing what we all can to protect one another and our extraordinary community.

John McCardell, Sewanee

PANTRY/LIBRARY NEWS

To the Editor:

The pantry at Hallelujah Pottery in Monteagle (also a little library) was inspired over two years ago and is still going strong. These pantries are across the whole United States and we are so happy to have one set up in Monteagle. Local volunteers heard of what we wanted to do and built us a pantry for the store.

The pantry/library is an honors program as people take what they want and give when they can. The pantry is small but it helps feed some local individuals and families—a sort of go between with our county food banks. Recently, we have heard from families directly and have begun to personally shop with our donations and get what groceries we can on their list.

We shop every few weeks with what is given and keep staples in the pantry such as pasta, sauce, Mac n' Cheese, peanut butter, jelly, rice, baby food, and other non-perishable items including soaps, toothpaste and other toiletries. We have even had cat and dog food to help the furry friend community.

The little free pantry also has become a part of a donation program through our local online farmers market and we will be able to purchase items such as honey, eggs and some fresh veggies! Looking to our future, we hope to have little free farmers' market days and get goods directly to families when we can.

Actual food and book donations (especially children's books) are always welcome and some have asked to make money donations available, so here it is! You can visit <www.fullcirclecandles.com> to give as little as $5 to help with a meal. Any excess of food we will donate to other local food banks.

Thank you so much for your continued support! We really love running the little pantry and glad it gives a little added help to the mountain community.

Debbie Blinder, Owner

APPRECIATION

To the Editor:

I want to add my voice in support and appreciation to both the Blue Chair and Shenanigans in these incredibly trying times. While my family and I are inconvenienced, businesses and their employees here and across the country are subject to financial distress and ruin. The effort Bill, Jimmy and their employees have expended is very much appreciated and respected. I am very much looking forward to being there in person.

My only complaint is with the onslaught on these great take-out meals - my boyish figure is under duress, but thank goodness Kim Butters and Liza Sweeting of Bodyworks Youniversity do Pilates by Zoom.

A satisfied customer and admirer,

Michael Payne

MISSING MY CUSTOMERS

To the Editor:

Hair salons and barbershops remain closed in Tennessee for the near future. I will be following all the governor's recommendations and guidance from the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention. I look forward to seeing all of my wonderful clientele once we are able to safely do so.

Tabitha Stines, Beauty by Tabitha, Sewanee

THANKS FROM THE SBA

To the Editor:

We are incredibly fortunate to live and work in such a beautiful place where everyone cares so much for one another. Thanks to all of you who took action to help Sewanee businesses last week with great suggestions, support, and purchases. Thanks to Rachel Lynch and all the mask angels, for making masks for those who need them. Thanks to the front-line workers at Mooney's, the farmers' market, Piggly Wiggly, The Blue Chair, and Shenanigans, we have food on our tables.

Soon some other businesses will begin to re-open in a careful manner. As a group and as individual businesses, we continue to adapt to serve our customers. We are trying to respect the spirit and care by which the state, county, and the University leaders are handling this health crisis. We endeavor to follow all guidelines. Please share your concerns with any business owner or me individually so we can share our best practices.

As businesses reopen: If you are comfortable, please visit stores as they open. If not, reach out to local gift shops and stores by calling the businesses and asking them for help

Letters to the Editor Policy

Letters to the editor are welcome at the Sewanee Mountain Messenger and are a vital part of our community's conversation. Letters need to be no longer than 250 words and may be edited for space and clarity. We make exceptions from time to time, but these are our general guidelines. We strive to print all letters we receive, but publication is not guaranteed. Letters should be factually accurate. Letters that are deemed unsuitable for publication shall not be printed elsewhere in the newspaper, including as a paid advertisement.

Letters and/or their author must have some relationship to our community. We do not accept letters on national topics from individuals who live outside our print circulation area. Please include your name, address and a daytime telephone number with your letter. You may mail it to us at Sewanee Mountain Messenger, P.O. Box 296, Sewanee, TN 37375, come by our office, 418 St. Mary's Ln., or send your email to <news@sewaneeemessenger.com>. —KB

Letters (from page 2) – way of patronizing the restaurant at this time. We will begin phasing in on-premise seating, beginning with our outdoor seating areas. Additional seating will be made available in the coming days based on strictly enforced social distancing guidelines in consultation with the CDC, the FDA, the TN Dept. of Health, the Tennessee Pledge, the National Restaurant Association, and the Sewanee Business Alliance.

Shenanigans takes very seriously the current pandemic, and will institute new and sweeping operational procedures to ensure the safety of our employees and customers. All employees that have agreed to work during this time, and through this new change in current operations, have all expressed a deep desire to return to work, and to safely provide the beloved and positive Shenanigans experience to Sewanee and its surrounding communities, even if in a new and heavily restricted way. They, like I, want to get about the task of very slowly and carefully figuring out this new normal, and how Shenanigans will feel and operate in that new normal, until we can someday get back to the bustling and beautiful vibe that Shenanigans is known for far and wide.

We know that personal opinions vary greatly regarding businesses' decisions right now. Please know that Shenanigans' motive is the same as it ever was: to provide food and drink service in a relaxing and fun atmosphere to our communities; and to provide a safe, equitable, and enjoyable work environment for our employees. We will not compromise the safety of any guest or worker in any way, and we will continue to institute more and more policies, equipment and directives as we learn how to best offer the safest environment that we are capable of providing. If during this transition, things move in a direction where any of the above is compromised, or if we see our tri-county area start to have greater vulnerability, we will take swift, proactive steps, reversing course if necessary. We are willing to take the lead in this effort of providing a safe place at which our cherished guests can begin to feel comfortable being out in the world together again, albeit six feet apart.

Every individual has a different way of coming to terms with the advent of the coronavirus. Every business will also have a different way of dealing with it. We feel a responsibility to our community and to our employees that guides our decisions, with safety and public health as our cornerstone.

If you disagree with our decision, please know that we are still here for you for your takeout, curbside pickup, and delivery needs until you are comfortable in the new public environs. We also understand if you decide not to patronize Shenanigans at all during this time. We will happily welcome you back when you are ready. We would politely ask that in your disagreement, you extend us the courtesy of allowing us to try and figure this out, knowing that it is a very difficult task that we are undertaking for our community and employees, and that we are painstakingly making adjustments daily to provide greater safety and assurance. Please also do us the courtesy of voicing any concerns, disagreements, suggestions or other input directly by emailing <goodtimes@shenanigans1974.com>, or by calling Bill at (615) 308-6426.

Also know that if people do not follow our new house rules, we will respond: by refusing service or re-entry, or to close down again. This effort is incumbent on our customers as much as it is our employees. We are serious about our new rules. We will be meticulously focused on making sure that everyone adheres to them; and that we are providing safely the new Shenanigans experience to those who need it in the spirit of caution, safety, respect and professionalism.

We love our Sewanee community, our surrounding communities, our Nashville, Chattanooga, Murfreesboro, and Atlanta communities, our alumni community, and our consummately loyal Shenanigans devotees stretching across this country and around the world. We cannot adequately express the depth of gratitude to all of you who have supported us during this time, and in times past. Our hope is that that love and support is reciprocated every time you walk in this happy place. We reopened Shenanigans in 2014 because we could not bear the thought of a world without it. In that same spirit, we undertake yet another great challenge as part of our continued efforts in keeping things right with the world. A current list of rules and policies can be obtained by emailing <goodtimes@shenanigans1974.com>.

See you at Shenanigans.

Church News

Christ Church

Christ Church Monteagle will have a service of Holy Communion on Sunday, May 3. The service will begin at 10:45 a.m. and conclude well before noon. We are very grateful for the support and good will toward our service of Morning Prayer last Sunday, April 26, as we ventured into careful social distancing and special cautions in what amounts to a reopening, after weeks of having suspended public services. On May 10 and May 17, the Sunday service will be Morning Prayer with hymns and a brief sermon. Several of the services of Christ Church and her sister churches will continue to be available on the internet. As is the case with all churches, we welcome requests for prayer, and we plan to offer a week day Bible Study group by early summer.

Otey Memorial Parish

Sunday worship services will be online at the Otey Memorial Parish Facebook Page and YouTube channel starting at 8:30 a.m.

The Rector's Forum will be offered via Zoom at 9:45 a.m on Sunday: Join Zoom Meeting <https://us02web.zoom.us/j/83159898659?pwd=aTZYaEQ2NThtrekp4ZzlNYTJyYjY3ZUZzO9>

CAC continues to serve the needy while observing sensible precautions, 9-11 a.m., Monday through Friday. Please call (931) 598-5927.

The parish office is closed and staff are working remotely. The office phone (598-5926) and email <oteyparish@gmail.com> are being monitored and messages responded to.

Please join us in praying for our community, our nation and our world.

highly stressful, and coupled with the heightened anxiety that is unavoidable during a pandemic, tensions are high.

According to the United States Department of Agriculture, food insecurity is a health risk linked to chronic diseases like high blood pressure, coronary heart disease, hepatitis, stroke and cancer. In addition, COVID-19 does not discriminate. In fact, those who have been diagnosed with a chronic illness are at higher risk of contracting the virus. Because of this, access to regular, healthy meals is crucial to keeping the virus at bay.

Green said that is why he and the staff at New Beginnings wanted to do something to help.

"We count it a privilege and honor to love, serve and give to the people that Jesus died for — there wasn't a second thought. This was an incredible opportunity to be the hands and the feet of Jesus," Green said.

For those needing assistance, the Community Action Committee at Otey Memorial Parish and the food bank at Morton Memorial United Methodist Church can also provide help. To support the 6th annual Hunger Walk, visit the Montecagle-Sewanee Rotary website and donate to the cause.

Support Local Food Banks and Farms

Local food banks are experiencing peak demand, and due to restaurants and the University operating at greatly reduced levels, local farmers have seen a sharp drop in orders. South Cumberland Farmers Market has implemented an online gift-certificate donation option to help area food banks and farmers. Contributors can select what food bank they want to donate to and determine the amount. Any amount from $1 up is welcome.

To donate, customers simply need to log in to their account at www.sewanee.locallygrown.net, open the Market, and choose "Food Bank Donations." There, customers can choose which food bank to donate to and the amount.

Customers who want to pay by Venmo should email market manager Emily Heid at cumberlandfm@gmail.com. Donations can also be mailed to 696 Garnertown Rd., Sewanee, TN 37375. Make the check payable to the South Cumberland Farmers Market and designate the food bank earmarked for the donation.

SCFM has waived the market-manager fee associated with gift certificate purchases. All donations designated for area food banks are tax-deductible. The food banks will receive notice of who donated.

Vice-Chancellor John McCardell has announced the appointment of Clifford (Chip) Schane as Sewanee's new Public Safety and Emergency Management Director, beginning formally June 1, 2020. Effective immediately, Schane is serving as a consultant to the University and is part of the Emergency Management Executive Team.

Schane has been serving as the Sewanee Volunteer Fire Department's training officer and captain. He has worked in public safety for more than 30 years, most recently as a federal agent with the U.S. Department of Energy and the National Nuclear Security Administration. His jobs include firefighter, police officer, paramedic, and U.S. Marine, and he has written and implemented many safety courses for first responders. In this new position, he will oversee operations for both the Police and Fire Departments, including compliance.

Sewanee Community Chest: Behind the Scenes Need

The Sewanee Community Chest has raised 85 percent towards its $105,140 goal, said Sewanee Civic Association President Brandon Barry. The SCA annual fundraiser provides financial assistance to organizations and programs, providing for behind the scenes needs to ensure the Sewanee area continues to be the rich and vibrant place it is. This year's campaign has pledged support to 25 local initiatives, among them scouts, recreation opportunities, animal welfare, food and nutrition assistance, and help for the elderly. The greater Sewanee community needs the help and support provided by the Community Chest more than ever during these difficult times. To make a contribution go to www.sewanee.org or mail a check to P.O. Box 99, Sewanee, TN 37375. One hundred percent of donations go to the programs awarded funding.

FC Library to Open May 1

The Franklin County Library is set to reopen with limited services beginning Friday, May 1. Due to the quantity of services and programs offered and the usual daily number of visitors when the library is open, social distancing is not possible. To provide what we can, we will offer curbside pickup and computer assistance by appointment.

Customers may call (931) 967-3706 or visit online at <www.franklincountylibrary.org> to reserve up to four items, and schedule a pickup time for next day service between 12:30–3:45 p.m., excluding Saturday and Sunday. The four items may be a combination of books, audiobooks, music, and up to two DVDs per account. Check-out periods remain the same: two weeks for everything except DVDs which are two days. All items may be renewed twice unless on hold for another customer. Overdues do not accrue during closures. To accommodate this service, children's picture books are offered as bundles of four randomly selected titles; individual titles may not be requested. One children's bundle represents one item.

Returning items are placed in the book drop. Items are quarantined for 72 hours when returned. The porch benches will be closed. Wi-Fi is available from the parking lot. We ask that everyone access it from the back parking area as the parking spots next to the library building at the entrance will be used mainly for curb-side pickup. We greatly appreciate cooperation in this matter.

Computer use is limited to unemployment claims, SNAP and emergency benefits assistance, Get My Payment Stimulus check, and Census. Call (931) 967-3706 to schedule an appointment. Appointments are offered between 8 a.m.–1:30 p.m. at one-hour sessions with a limit to three per hour.

The library will take calls between 8 a.m.–4 p.m., Monday–Friday for all services. For next-day pickup customers must call before noon.

Free Stress Relief Class

Bodyworks Youniversity is offering our community members a free Stress Relief class, Friday's at 6:30 p.m. via Zoom. Participants should warm up bath towels in the dryer for about 20-30 minutes before the class. You will also need a strap of some sort for stretching and a tennis or massage ball for fascial release. Instructor Kim Butters will verbally take you through each part of your body, relaxing tensions using visualizations, deep breathing and fascial release techniques. You will finish feeling refreshed, taller and more open and easy in your body.

Please email Kim Butters at <kim_butters59@hotmail.com> for the Zoom link. The normal class price is $12 and participants are encouraged to donate the class price or amount of their choice to the Sewanee Village Fund at <sewaneevillage.com> to help our small businesses.

Bodyworks Youniversity is also offering a physical and mental health break to all our citizens sheltering at home. Beginner and Intermediate Pilates classes are being offered Monday-Friday in Angel Park (weather permitting) where there is plenty of "social distancing" space as well as sunshine to help your body create immune boosting Vitamin D and fresh air to keep your respiratory system in tip top shape. Classes are also being simulcast on Zoom.

Contact Kim Butters, <kim_butters59@hotmail.com> or (423) 322-1443 for more information.

VILLAGE REPORT

by Frank X. Gladu

Spring has sprung and hopefully, with your new found time, you have been able to enjoy it in all its glory!

The Village project, like everything else, is recalibrating by factoring in the impact of the pandemic. However, there are several aspects that continue to move ahead that I would like to share with you, namely the road project and the opening of the new bookstore.

But first I want to applaud the efforts of the Sewanee Business Alliance for their ability to create ways to sustain their businesses and investments in Sewanee. Make no mistake about it, they are the backbone of whatever future development could materialize in Sewanee. It is fundamental that they survive this economic upheaval and continue to serve the Sewanee community. They have demonstrated tremendous resiliency, determination and creativity. In many respects they have reinvented themselves by offering on-line shopping, curbside pick-ups, selling gift cards and various ways to stay afloat. They have raised money in a general fund that is distributed to businesses that apply for grants from that fund. One round of disbursements has already occurred and they are planning a second round with matching gifts from generous donors. So please consider making a donation to the SBA so that they can take advantage of that match and help their members weather the economic impact of the pandemic and continue to serve the Sewanee community.

Go to <www.sewaneevillage.com> to make your donation.

Sewanee businesses are also trying to gradually reopen while ensuring they are following state and CDC guidelines. They will continue to make strategic decisions for their businesses. Customers will be the final judge.

Now for what's happening with the Village project. The road project that will narrow Highway 41A, continues to make progress. The land and utility right-of-way activities by the Tennessee Department of Transportation are underway. It is expected that when this is completed they will bid the project in the fall. That will set up the potential to start the construction as early as the spring of 2021.

The new bookstore is in the final stretch of construction and it is expected to be completed within weeks. The new facility will be a great resource for students, faculty, staff and community members. It will also be a vital link between the campus and the Sewanee Village. Sarah Boykin, Assistant VP for Campus Planning, Design and Construction, has done a magnificent job creating a handsome building as an addition to the Sewanee Village. Look for the Bookstore to be the focus on the June update meeting.

This month's Village Update session will take place on Tuesday, May 5, at 10 a.m., CDT. We will once again hold the meeting on <Facebook.com/SewaneeVillageProject>. The meeting will feature an update from Eric Hartman on the University's response to the pandemic. We will also focus on the Sewanee Business Alliance (SBA) and what they are doing to sustain the businesses in Sewanee. Joseph Sumpter, the President of SBA and owner of Joseph's Remodeling Solutions, will be our guest.

I hope that you will be able to attend.

Wishing you all the best...and remember to keep your distance. Frank

COVID-19 Bulletin #27

On April 28, Governor Bill Lee provided an update on Tennessee's efforts regarding COVID-19. Gov. Lee's daily press conferences can be viewed live Monday through Thursday at 3 p.m. CDT. Visit <tn.gov/covid19> for up-to-date administrative actions.

Executive Order 30

Executive Order 30 supersedes and repeals Executive Order Nos. 17, 21, 22, 23, 27, and 29, effective Wednesday, April 29, but does not affect Executive Order No. 25 concerning dental and medical procedures, which is currently effective until April 30.

The order allows Tennesseans and businesses to return to work in all industries where that can be safely accomplished by following health guidelines, while urging employers to allow or require remote work/telework if possible.

Tennesseans are urged to continue limiting activity and staying home as much as possible to preserve and build on the health progress we've made.

All employers and businesses that choose to open are expected to comply with the Governor's Economic Recovery Group (ERG) Guidelines for operating safely, as well as general health guidelines from the CDC and other government entities.

Social and recreational gatherings of 10 people or more are prohibited, including but not limited to festivals, fairs, parades, youth and adult sporting events, and overnight summer youth camps.

This does not cover places of worship, for which there will be guidelines for safe operation of worship services and gatherings if in-person services are conducted, but the order strongly encourages places of worship to continue virtual or online services where possible.

This does not prohibit weddings and funerals, but encourages postponement of large-gathering components of such events.

Entertainment and recreational gathering venues must remain closed to the public for now, including, but not limited to, bars, night clubs, live performance venues, bowling alleys, arcades, concert and sporting event venues, theaters, auditoriums, performing arts centers, racetracks, indoor children's play areas, adult entertainment venues, amusement parks, senior centers, and skating rinks.

Limited service restaurants can serve food to customers seated at tables but must follow the ERG Guidelines for restaurants in doing so.

Close-contact personal service businesses must remain closed to the public for now, including, but not limited to, barber shops, salons, spas, body-art/tattoo services, tanning salons, and massage facilities.

Nursing homes and similar retirement and long-term-care facilities must remain closed to visitors, except for critical assistance and in end-of-life situations.

Persons and businesses are urged to take special care to protect and provide for the well-being of vulnerable populations, including by offering delivery or special shopping hours if possible.

Persons with COVID-19 or COVID-19 symptoms are required to stay at home, and employers may not require or allow employees with COVID-19 to work.

Persons are urged to wear a cloth face covering in places where in close proximity to others, especially where social distancing is difficult.

Take-out and delivery alcohol sales by restaurants will continue to be allowed to encourage customers to utilize take-out or delivery options.

Local orders regarding medical or dental procedures are prohibited because preserving PPE is a question that is statewide in scale and shouldn't be addressed differently in each county.

For the 89 counties without a locally run county health department (all but Davidson, Hamilton, Knox, Madison, Shelby, and Sullivan), this order supersedes any contrary orders or measures, meaning that the counties cannot issue independent orders regarding the opening, closure, or operation of businesses, organizations, or venues covered by this order, though counties may continue issuing or enforcing orders or measures on other matters related to COVID-19, such as opening or closure of their governmental buildings, governing their employees, or dealing with the operation of their local government.

The county health departments in the six counties with locally run county health departments (Davidson, Hamilton, Knox, Madison, Shelby, and Sullivan) shall have authority to issue orders or measures that permit or restrict to a different degree than this order the opening, closure, or operation of businesses, organizations, or venues, except for places of worship. Otherwise, this order governs on the topics it covers.

The Tennessee Pledge: Exercise Facility Guidance

Tennessee's Economic Recovery Group announced guidance today for gyms and exercise facilities on how to reopen safely. Gyms will be allowed to reopen in 89 of the state's 95 counties beginning Friday, May 1. The counties excluded are those with locally-run health departments: Shelby, Madison, Davidson, Hamilton, Knox, and Sullivan.

In addition to strict adherence to CDC guidelines, the State recommends gyms, fitness/exercise facilities, or substantially similar facilities and activities put into place an assortment of measures to protect consumers and employees, including:

Restrict facility access to staffed hours only (i.e., any unmanned facilities must be manned) and limit facility occupancy to 50 percent of capacity as dictated by fire code (as such capacity is adjusted in consideration of closed areas of the facility pursuant to these guidelines);

Mitigate exposure in the workplace by implementing social distancing guidelines and modify scheduling;

Staff to conduct regular (i.e., every 2 hours) disinfecting of high-touch surfaces, equipment and common areas of the facility using disinfectant cleaning supplies according to CDC guidelines;

Close showers, locker rooms, and lockers until further notice. Ask customers to instead use small gym bags to store personal belongings;

Close all swimming pools, hot tubs, saunas and other recreational water or spa facilities;

Close all basketball courts, racquetball courts, and other places where formal and informal group or team sports may occur;

Any youth or adult team leagues or sports should remain closed;

Only allow group fitness classes if classes can be completed in accordance with social distancing recommendations (including but not limited to: less than 50% capacity and with more than 6 feet of distance maintained between participants at all times; no shared equipment during the class; sufficiently adjusted class schedules to allow for deep cleaning between classes; martial arts and other contact activities should be completed without any person-to-person contact);

Encourage all employees and customers to wear PPE where applicable, and recommend that customers wear a face covering (not N-95 or medical masks, which should be reserved for healthcare workers);

Adjust equipment layout and close or restrict access to equipment to maintain at least six feet of distance between equipment;

Temporarily close water fountains, common areas, break rooms, check-in counters, where customers or employees may congregate.

Encourage users to provide their own water;

No self-service options (coffee bars, smoothie stations and other forms of communal food in facilities). Food retail should follow restaurant guidelines;

Ensure that staffing of facilities is sufficient to enable enhanced sanitization and cleaning measures;

Screen customers for illness upon entry to the gym;

Best practice: Temperature checks for every customer. Persons with temperatures above 100.4 degrees Fahrenheit should not be permitted on premise;

Minimum: Question customers regarding COVID-19 symptoms

Have you been in close contact with a confirmed case of COVID-19?

Are you experiencing a cough, shortness of breath, or sore throat? Have you had a fever in the last 48 hours?

Keep doors and windows open where possible to improve ventilation;

Post signs encouraging social distancing (visible to customers);

Require that customers wash or sanitize their hands upon entering and leaving the facility;

Require customers to clean equipment they come in contact with using disinfecting wipes before and after each use;

Encourage customers to use only one piece of equipment at a time (i.e., no circuits or "super setting") so that machines are cleaned after use;

Consider limiting workout length to avoid unnecessary exposure, decrease congestion, and allow for additional sanitization;

Recommend that persons more vulnerable or at-risk for COVID-19 as identified by the CDC—including those who are over the age of 65 or those who have chronic medical conditions—take extra precaution or refrain from use of the facility during Phase 1 of re-opening.

Employee Protection:

Allow employees to work from home as much as possible;

Screen all employees reporting to work for COVID-19 symptoms;

Staff should wear face coverings (not N-95 or medical masks, which should be reserved for healthcare workers) and other personal protection items as recommended by the CDC;

Provide training on personal protective equipment based on CDC guidelines;

Provide a sanitizing station such as a wash basin with soap and/or bottle of hand sanitizer;

Practice recommended social distancing to the greatest extent possible.

The full guidelines are posted online.

Stimulus Accountability

With over $2 billion in one-time federal relief funds from the CARES Act coming to Tennessee, Gov. Lee is engaging directly with the White House and the federal delegation to reduce the strain on our state and local budgets.

Public Health: Gov. Lee and the state's Unified-Command Group are working to ensure we have a medical and public health response that gets treatment to those who need it, testing to those who want it, and robust contact tracing for those who may have been infected.

Recovery Efforts: Gov. Lee and our Economic Recovery Group are working to ensure that Tennesseans have the resources they need to adapt to a new normal by making sure we get reliable information and guidance out to businesses to operate safely.

Fiscal Stability: This health crisis has placed new demands on our state and local governments, and we have to make sure our taxpayer dollars are used wisely. Tennessee's bi-partisan Stimulus Accountability Group is working to ensure proper stewardship that serves Tennesseans well.

A portion of these federal funds will be utilized to address the costs for COVID-19 treatment for the uninsured. Tennessee will utilize $30 million in state funding through the Division of TennCare to supplement federal dollars if needed. Health care providers treating the uninsured may file claims with the federal government and be reimbursed for treatment provided on or after February 4.

'Highlander Libraries' at Home

Led by artist Greg Pond, "Highlander Libraries" hosted all kinds of events to bring people together, from bookmaking workshops for community members to university classes, from a concert by Sewanee Praise to a weekly Bible Study Group, from film screenings to conversations about voter suppression and voter registration, from visits by Sewanee Elementary School students to meetings by the board of the Grundy County Historical Society, from the Southern Intellectual History Colloquium to an afternoon of rug-hooking with the Broad Mountain Conglomerate Ruggers. It was an exhibition designed for sharing challenges, and books, films, and ideas about how to meet those challenges.

Now we are home and pursuing connections and solutions in new ways. In the spirit of the Highlander Libraries exhibition and the phrase "You Can't Padlock an Idea," here is a link to a catalogue of books shared on the shelves of the UAG: <<https://www.librarything.com/catalog/UAG>>.

May the catalog inspire your reading. To inspire your screen time, here is a list of films screened (or planned for screening) during Highlander Libraries:

Can I Get a Witness? (2014), Gessell Fellowship presentation by Katie Bradshaw & Sara Milford. Available on Vimeo: <<https://vimeo.com/127179426>>

Harlan County U.S.A. (1976), Academy Award-winning documentary by Barbara Kopple about a bitterly fought coal miner's strike.

Highlander and the Local Community (2019), Documentary film of conversations about Highlander Folk School and its neighbors in Grundy County, created by Paul Mueller, C'19.

Mine 21 (2019), Documentary about the deadly 1981 coal mine explosion in Whitwell, TN, featuring Kelsey Arbuckle, C'19, and Alexa Fults, C'21, directed by Stephen Garrett, C'01, and produced by Chris McDonough.

My America Too (2015), Series of guerilla plays commissioned by Baltimore Center Stage to explore the issue of violence against black men in America. Includes the work of Tennessee Williams Playwright in residence, Elyzabeth Gregory Wilder. Available on YouTube: <https://www.youtube.com/playlist?list=PL3kFbuEQNd504PVG8yKbPaSBVc7v\_5YG0>

People of the Cumberland (1937), Short documentary celebrating the work of Highlander Folk School. Available via the National Film Preservation Foundation: <<https://www.filmpreservation.org/sponsored-films/screening-room/people-of-the-cumberland-1937>>

Suppressed: The Fight to Vote (2019), Documentary examining voter suppression by Brian Kemp in Georgia in 2018. Available on YouTube: <<https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=03DGjnIkTdI>>

Testify: Beyond Place (2013), Marie Cochran, founder of the Afrilachian Artist Project, honors the resilience of the congregation of the Mount Zion African Methodist Episcopal Zion Church.

Floating Needles: Graduating Exhibition 2020

The University Art Gallery and the Department of Art, Art History and Visual Studies of the University of the South are pleased to Present online exhibitions by the graduating Art majors of 2020.

Collectively, these six bodies of work address the distribution of tension across and between surfaces. Floating Needles refers to the phenomenon resulting from surface tension, of that moment water supports heavier substances. Similar to needles afloat on water, the works in this exhibition point in different directions, but together exist in a delicate and tense state of balance. The works deal with contradictions and resistance, and vulnerability and resilience. By doing so, this group of Art majors manifests an almost prescient awareness of the stresses and strains precipitated by the COVID-19 pandemic.

With approaches that range from assemblage to video, and drawing to photography, our attention is drawn to end-of-life passages (Heidi Hayne), the commonness of solitude (Malik Hodge), connections between gender and the environment (Hallery Matson and Henry Ray), and the fragmentation and reconstruction of memory (Anna Douglas Smith and Hongyu Zhou). All together the exhibition challenges us not only to think about these issues but also how we frame them.

The COVID-19 pandemic and the resulting closure of our campus leaves us with a shift of all programming and activities to online processes. Final thesis portfolios may be viewed by going to <<http://art3.sewanee.edu/class/430/2020/04/16/floating-needles-graduating-exhibition-2020/>>. The Department encourages visitors to leave comments and messages of support, to help cherish and celebrate our students and this community as we redefine our borders.

Sherwood Forest Trail

A walk earlier this week on the newly opened Sherwood Forest Trail of South Cumberland State Park offered many delights. Although we were walking in the middle of the day, numerous birds were singing, perhaps due to the time of year for establishing territories, nesting, or simply passing through. We even got a glimpse of a male Scarlet Tanager, a striking bird, red with black wings, and heard them calling all around with their “chick-burr.” Two butterflies, also quite striking, were noted. The Pipevine Swallowtail has very iridescent blue coloring on the hindwing and the Zebra Swallowtail is unmistakable with its black and white stripes. The food plant for the caterpillars of Pipevine Swallowtail is, of course, pipevines. The food plant for the Zebra Swallowtail caterpillars is pawpaw, which was indeed growing along the trail. The highlight of the walk was undoubtedly a White Fringetree in full bloom. Also known as Old-man’s-beard and Flowering Ash for its drooping clusters of white flowers with narrow petals, it is indeed in the same family as the ash. There was an impressive variety of wildflowers, many not yet in bloom, so a later walk is definitely on the schedule.

Laura Blackman reported a Rose-breasted Grosbeak at her feeder last week.

Kim Butters has also reported Rose-breasted Grosbeaks at her feeder.

Robin Gottfried identified, with the help of Jim Peters, a bird heard on the Sherwood Forest Trail as a Cerulean warbler. Jim says that they are quite rare here but that they do migrate through in very small numbers.

Volunteers Needed to Help Remove Debris from Destroyed Fiery Gizzard Bridge

On March 24, heavy rains caused high water in Little Gizzard Creek that destroyed the Fiery Gizzard Trail footbridge, cutting the trail off from its northern terminus. Our wet spring has continued to keep water levels in all of the Park’s creeks higher than normal, making them impassible. As a result, until the bridge is replaced — which could take some time — the Fiery Gizzard Trail is closed between Grundy Forest (north) and the Small Wild area (south); through-hiking is not possible. However, there is forecast to be a dry stretch during the first week in May that may allow a crew to get down in the creek to remove the remains of the destroyed bridge, before it is washed downstream by another storm. If you are able-bodied, demonstrably Covid-free, and are willing to practice physical distancing and masking while working, the Friends of South Cumberland and South Cumberland State Park invite you to join us on Monday, May 4, at 9 a.m. at the Fiery Gizzard North (Grundy Forest) trailhead to join our bridge debris removal crew. Anyone who has not yet signed a TN State Parks Waiver of Liability will be required to do so prior to starting work.

We will be working in the waters of Little Gizzard Creek:

Waders or other water gear is recommended, or sturdy shoes you don’t mind getting wet (no open-toed or “beach-style” footwear!).

Work gloves, masks, and eye protection will be required.

Please bring water, a high-energy snack, and, if you wish, lunch.

Water may be up to a foot deep, but will be fast-moving; and rocks will be slippery. Park Rangers will cut debris into manageable pieces. We will be working with nails, splintered wood and other hazards, so please dress appropriately and come prepared.

Go to <<https://www.friendsofsouthcumberland.org>> for more information.

Olive

Daphne

Pets of the Week

Meet Olive & Daphne

Olive is a mature (approximately six-eight years old) brown tabby cat with such a sweet personality! Olive came to us as a stray. Upon arrival Olive had skin wounds, and seemed to have been injured or possibly hit by a car. After medical assessment, it was discovered that the skin wounds were those from a severe flea allergy that had been left untreated for a long time. Once she was properly treated for her ailments, she healed up nicely and is now looking for her forever home. Olive is social and will do well in a home with other feline companions or older children. Olive has some arthritis in her hips, so a gentle, caring home is a must. Olive is up-to-date on vaccinations, FIV/FelV negative, spayed, and microchipped. Come see this precious, loving cat today. She deserves to be in a home after a life of displacement.

Daphne is a four-year-old catahoula mix with a lot of energy and a loving personality. Daphne is very treat, toy, and affection motivated, so we think she will be both an easy to train and easy to love dog! If you are looking for a dog that will be a good exercise buddy or a dog that will lay up on the sofa with you after a long day out on an adventure, she is the dog for you! We think she would do well in a variety of homes, but could be a little too boisterous for a feline companion. Daphne is up-to-date on vaccinations, heartworm-negative, spayed and microchipped. She is all fixed up and ready to be suited for the right family! If you would like to meet her or learn more about our adoption protocol, please call the shelter during open hours.

Animal Harbor is located at 56 Nor-Nan Rd., off AEDC Road, in Winchester. Call Animal Harbor at 962-4472 for information and check out the other pets at <www.animalharbor.org>. ## Tennessee State Parks

Most Tennessee State Parks opened for day-use visitation between 7 a.m. and sunset on April 24. The public will have access to most trails, boat ramps, marinas, golf courses and other outdoor recreation opportunities. Park facilities and overnight accommodations will remain closed, as will playgrounds and other social gathering places.

This day-use opening will allow local visitors the chance to enjoy hiking, cycling and other outdoor recreation. We have implemented policies designed to prevent the spread of COVID-19 and we will monitor all aspects of the issue to ensure continued safety. We urge the public to help us keep our state parks open by doing their part to stay apart, by maintaining proper social distancing and personal hygiene. The CDC has recommendations for those looking to visit public lands. We also have some specific things you need to know as you plan your daytime visits:

Don’t visit if you’re sick or were recently exposed to someone with COVID-19.

Practice social distancing.

Maintain at least six feet of separation between you and other visitors.

Don’t travel long distances to visit state parks.

Look for parks that are a short drive from your house.

Don’t visit crowded areas.

If parks are full, consider coming back at a different time. Consider coming earlier in the day to allow for plenty of time if an area is full and you need to adjust your plans. Tennessee State Parks may limit access to certain parks or areas if capacity is reached.

Only park in designated areas.

Please do not park along the shoulders of roads. If a parking area is full, please adjust your plans and find another area to visit.

Follow all park rules and regulations.

We especially ask that you stay on trail and not enter areas that are closed or restricted.

Plan ahead.

Understand if a park or area of the park you plan to visit is open or closed. Specific details on which parks will reopen will be available on the COVID-19 Closures page later this week.

Bring everything you will need to have a safe and enjoyable day in the park. Here are a few specific points for planning:

Closed buildings. Remember that many buildings will still be closed during your visit. It’s important to bring your own snacks, water and hand sanitizer.

Restrooms. Some restrooms may be open, but many will remain closed. Even if restrooms are open, we ask that you help us keep them clean and practice appropriate personal hygiene in accordance with the CDC’s recommendations.

Masks. We recommend that you bring a mask and wear it when around other people.

Pack out your trash.

When it’s time to leave, please clean up after yourselves. Carry out any trash or dispose of it in the appropriate containers.

For up-to-date information please visit <www.tnstateparks.com>.

MAKE SOME NOISE! SUNDAY 5:00 PM

Show your support of our hospital and EMS employees by making some noise this Sunday!

Step out at 5:00 pm and ring bells, blow a whistle, or just make some joyful music! The plan moving forward would be to do this every Sunday.

Maintain all precautions and stay six feet or more from your neighbors and wear your masks if you have them. This is also a great way to wave from a distance to your neighbor and do a quick check in.

BARDTOVERSE

by Phoebe Bates

A delicate fabric of bird song
Floats in the air,
The smell of wet wild earth
Is everywhere.

Red small leaves of the maple
Are clenched like a hand,
Like girls at their first communion
The pear trees stand.

Oh I must pass nothing by Without loving it much,
The raindrop try with my lips,
The grass with my touch;

For how can I be sure
I shall see again
The world on the first of May Shining after the rain?

May Day, by Sara Teasdale
