Grundy Run Club is one of the programs to be funded by a $450,000 grant awarded to the Mountain Goat Trail Alliance.

Mountain Goat Trail Alliance Receives $450,000 Project Diabetes Grant

The Mountain Goat Trail Alliance (MGTA) has been awarded a $450,000 grant from the State of Tennessee's Project Diabetes program for construction of the trail and support of health initiatives in Grundy County.

"The Project Diabetes grant we received in 2016 was instrumental in helping us build a trail in Tracy City and begin collaborating with the Grundy County Health Council on programs for people of all ages to promote healthy behavior, including using the Mountain Goat Trail for regular exercise. With this new grant, we'll be able to continue those efforts," said Patrick Dean, executive director of the MGTA.

The grant will facilitate construction of the Mountain Goat Trail between DuBose Conference Center and Ingman Farm Road. In addition, the grant provides funding to be used to support programs sponsored by the Grundy County Health Council, including elementary school run clubs, adult walking contests, and creation of exercise/nutrition signage on the Trail. Funds from the grant will also go to the Old Roundhouse Park in downtown Tracy City.

Project Diabetes is a statewide initiative that funds, through the competitive bid process, innovative primary prevention projects to halt the increasing rate of obesity in Tennessee. The fundamental goals of Project Diabetes are to:

- Decrease the prevalence of overweight/obesity across the State and, in turn, prevent or delay the onset of Type 2 diabetes and/or the consequences of this devastating disease;

- Educate the public about current and emerging health issues linked to obesity;

- Promote community, public-private partnerships to identify and solve regional health problems related to obesity;

- Advise and recommend policies and programs that support individual and community health improvement efforts;

- Evaluate effectiveness of improvement efforts that address overweight and obesity;

- Disseminate best practices for obesity prevention and health improvement.

Arrests Made in Guerry Vandalism Case

by Leslie Lytle, Messenger Staff Writer

On May 9, the Seawanee Police Department arrested two University students—a 21-year-old woman and 20-year-old male—for the recent vandalism and malicious destruction at Guerry Auditorium. The pair, a senior and junior respectively, confessed to the crime. They were charged with class C felony vandalism valued at $10,000 to $60,000 and class D felony burglary. Both are free after posting $7,500 bonds.

An individual arriving at Guerry Auditorium mid-morning on April 28 to setup for a rehearsal discovered the doors unlocked, chairs tossed in the aisles, an exit light ripped from the wall, the American flag torn down and the pole broken, spray paint disfiguring the speakers and walls, and an abundance of powder residue from the discharge of fire extinguishers.

An individual with an office in Guerry Hall said all was well when he left the building at 10:30 the night before. A size 12 and half-foot print in the powder residue offered one small clue.

"We always look for motive," said Seawanee Police Chief Marie Ferguson, "but no motive was apparent."

Nor did the police receive any help from the leads attained in response to the $10,000 reward offered by the University. "The information didn't pan out," Ferguson said.

Ferguson attributed "innovative thinking" and teamwork on the part of the officers and investigators in solving the crime. Investigator Jody Bray recently underwent special training which proved "very helpful," according to Ferguson. She declined to reveal the methods

Monteagle Approves Fire Hall, Budget, Zoning Map

by Leslie Lytle, Messenger Staff Writer

At the May 20 meeting the Monteagle City Council approved a bid for construction of a new fire hall, the 2019-20 budget, and an updated zoning map. The council also discussed the need for upgrades at the city dump.

The fire department has operated from a rented facility for more than a year following demolition of the old fire hall. The new fire hall will be constructed at the site of the former fire hall on East Main Street. The council reviewed a design plan in November, but the cost was prohibitive and a downsized version of the plan was considered. The council bid the project three times. The $365,200 bid was awarded to American Engineering Solutions (AES), the only bidder.

The new fire hall will largely conform to the original design. AES built the Whitwell fire hall. AES offers design engineering services as well as construction, resulting in cost savings City Recorder Debbie Taylor explained.

The 2019-20 budget approved on first reading reflects some cost increases, but otherwise differs only slightly from the current budget. Following the second reading, the budget will be posted on the Monteagle website.

Similarly, the updated zoning map approved on first reading differs only slightly from the former map. One change is an additional category, R4 Residential. "R4 is just a modified R3 residential," explained Planning Commission Chair Carter Underhill. R4 allows for a smaller dwelling size.

Underhill introduced a discussion about the need for upgrades at the dump—more dumpsters, recycling bins, fencing, and concrete work. Taylor said Grundy County provided the dumpsters, Marion County provided the trash compactor, and Monteagle provided the employees.

The 30-acre site had harvestable timber, Underhill noted. He suggested a selective timber harvest to raise the money to pay for the upgrade.

SUD Receives Favorable Audit; Closes Waterline Project

by Leslie Lytle

Messenger Staff Writer

At the May 28 meeting of the Seawanee Utility District Board of Commissioners, the board reviewed the 2018 audit and received an update on the completion of the waterline replacement project. The board also voted to hire a summer intern.

The audit performed by the MG Group showed SUD had $102,000 positive change in its net position.

"That's better than I anticipated," said SUD manager Ben Beavers. SUD drew on its cash reserves for the recently completed waterline replacement project, rather than borrowing money. Failure to maintain a positive net position can result in the state comptroller requiring a utility to raise rates or otherwise adjust practices.

For the first time since 2013, SUD did not receive a citation for "inadequate segregation of duties," an audit finding frequently received by small utilities who lack the staff to provide the required degree of financial oversight and lack the resources to hire additional full-time staff. SUD resolved the issue by hiring an accountant to perform a once a month review of financial transactions.

The only audit criticism was "failure to deposit receipts in three days." SUD received the same finding in the 2017 audit and changed practices to correct the circumstance in May of 2018. The finding referenced instances before the May 2018 changes were made. "It won't happen again," Beavers said.

Updating the board on the recently completed replacement of aging, constricted cast iron waterlines on Florida Avenue, South and North Carolina Avenues, and Clara's Point Road, Beavers said all the permits had been closed out and financial arrangements with the contractor were being finalized.

The project came in $71,000 under budget because of cost-saving changes to the original plan and SUD performing inspections and some ancillary work in house.

The intern SUD hires will complete a GPS inventory of fire hydrants, check for leaks, flush hydrants, measure flow, compile a list of worn parts and repairs needed, and weed eat and clear brush in the area of the hydrants.

MITCHELL COVE EASEMENT

To the Editor:

On May 18, the South Cumberland Regional Land Trust and Jumpoff Community Land Trust in partnership with the Tennessee Parks and Greenways Foundation held a gathering of 150 people to celebrate the placement of a conservation easement on its property at Mitchell Cove. The easement protects the conservation value of 1,000 acres of forested bluff and cove land forever. Many people from this community were instrumental to making that happen, through their time, donations, planning, survey work, and other means. On behalf of SCRLT, I want to thank everyone who played a role in this process and all who attended the event to celebrate this conservation success with us.

Church News

All Saints’ Chapel

The 11 a.m. service resumes on Sunday, June 9.

Ascension Day and Expectation Sunday at Christ Church

It is not an exaggeration to say “Christmas is not in the Bible, nor is Easter by name, yet Ascension Day is.” You would think it would be celebrated in every church, and certainly in every church which keeps, or goes by, a liturgical calendar. But the truth is that the day is often ignored. If you are reading this on Friday, May 31, you may have missed it altogether. Christ Church Monteagle had a service at noon and will continue this very short season or “tide” with a celebration of Holy Communion on Sunday morning. This particular Sunday came to be called “Expectation Sunday” because the next Sunday is the Feast of Pentecost. The promise that a new outpouring of the Holy Spirit was on its way was what Jesus told His disciples. We can, with a little imagination, almost see them being changed from students into teachers, from learners into instructors. The Acts of the Apostles is the title we have given to Dr. Luke’s second book. Christ Church wishes you blessings as we all share the joys of summer as well as the traditions and treasures which belong to all who claim them.

Progress on the repairs to our buildings continue. The “cut and come again” zinnias are not yet blooming, but when they do we love to share them and think of people enjoying them in their homes and offices.

Our Sunday service begins around 10:30 a.m. and concludes before noon. Please stop in.

Otey Parish

This Sunday, June 2, in Christian Formation, at 9:45 a.m., the Lectionary Class will explore Sunday’s gospel, in the Hethcock Adult Education Room. Infants 6 weeks to children 4 years old are invited to the nursery beginning at 8:30 a.m. There will be nursery for both services and the Sunday School Hour. Children ages 3-11 are invited to join us in the Godly Play 2 room.

Tullahoma Sangha

Tullahoma Sangha, a Zen Buddhist meditation and study group, meets each Wednesday at 6 p.m. at Unitarian Universalist Church of Tullahoma. The service will consist of zazen (meditation), kinhin (walking meditation) and a short lesson and discussion. Newcomers are welcome; please call ahead and we will have a short orientation at 5:45 p.m. For more information, or if you would like to be added to the email group, call (931) 455-8626.

Unitarian Universalist

The Unitarian Universalist Church of Tullahoma’s speaker this Sunday will be John Lynch on the “Shadows of the Cumberlands.” The service begins at 10 a.m., followed by refreshments and a discussion period. The church is located at 3536 New Manchester Hwy., Tullahoma. For more information, call (931) 455-8626, or visit the church’s website at <www.tullahomauu.org>.

The council tabled a request from the fire department for three sets of turnout gear, cost $9,036.

"We have people dressed out in gear I wouldn't want to go in a house in," said fire department Captain Matt Underhill.

Taylor will check to see if budgeted funds are available to cover the expense.

Police Chief Virgil McNeese asked if the Wi-Fi service at the May Justus Memorial Library could be turned off at night. McNeese said non-residents came to the parking lot and used the service at night, often leaving trash.

"It's a state law if a business is closed and you're on the property that's criminal trespassing," McNeese pointed out. He said the police had been asking the night visitors to leave, but having the Wi-Fi turned off would make their job easier.

Addressing a question about landscaping at city hall, Vice Mayor Tony Gilliam said city employees at a substantial savings were doing the work "in house." Hiring out the project would cost $35,000 according to Gilliam. The rosebushes suffered from blight and were removed, Gilliam explained. They will be replaced with pines, a plant species more suitable for the soil and ambient conditions of the location.

"It will be useful to have a data base so we can prioritize repairs," said SUD Board President Charlie Smith.

The intern will receive no benefits and earn hourly compensation slightly above minimum wage.

"It would be good to hire at least one intern a year to get people interested in the business," Beavers said. "In 10 years we'll be needing people to replace those who retire."

Beavers recommended looking for interns among children of employees first and then the customer base. To comply with federal law, any young person employed by SUD would need to be at least 16 years old. SUD has already identified a person for the intern position for this year.

The part-time position will continue until the job is completed, probably six weeks. Funds for hiring an intern are available from the contract labor budget.

The board will hold a special called meeting June 18, 6 p.m., to review the manager's compensation. The board will use salary and compensation survey data from the Tennessee Association of Utility Districts for guidance.

used to avoid jeopardizing future investigations.

Likewise, Ferguson declined to comment on whether drugs and/or alcohol played a role.

Emily Catherine Culp and Connor Peach will stand trial in Franklin County. A court date has been scheduled for July 11 in the Franklin County General Sessions Court.

Twelfth Judicial District Assistant District Attorney Steve Blount said Culp and Peach would be tried as range one standard offenders, individuals with zero to one prior conviction. For individuals in that range, class C felony vandalism carries a prison sentence of three to six years and a fine up to $10,000. The sentence for class D felony burglary is two to four years and a fine up to $5,000.

However, Blount noted, "We have crimes on the books you can't get probation for. This is a probatable crime."

Blount also pointed out, "The University is continuing to assess the actual dollar amount of the damage. Depending on the final assessment, there could be a modification or amendment of the charges."

As to Culp and Peach's academic standing at the University, University spokesperson Laurie Saxton said, "The University's internal disciplinary process is still underway. We do not comment while these are ongoing."

The good news is Sewanee Summer Music Festival events scheduled for Guerry Auditorium will go on as planned, according to Saxton. All repairs will be completed before the festival begins.

The FC School Board Budget

The Franklin County School Board met in a special called meeting on May 28 to approve the 2019-20 budget for the schools.

The general-purpose school budget for 2019-20 includes a revised scale for certified employees with step increases based on years of service, and degree advancements. It also includes a 2 percent raise for support employees, a 1.5 percent increase for contracted bus drivers; a .17 percent retirement increase for certified; and a 2 percent retirement decrease for support employees.

The school board is requesting new revenue funding from the county to fund 1 percent of the 2 percent raise for support employees and certified employees. The requested funding from the county commission for new raises is $226,784.

"We are still giving some raises from the school budget," said Director of Schools Stanley Bean. "We are asking the county to help pay for half of those raises."

"What is currently in the budget, we meet from the Basic Education Program for the state mandated raises," said County Deputy Finance Director Cindy Latham.

"We cannot pay less than what the state says we have to pay the employees," said Assistant Superintendent Linda Foster.

The school board budget, along with all Franklin County department budgets goes before the Finance Committee on May 30. The total budget is then sent to the Franklin County Commission. Bean said all other departments did one budget with a 2.8 percent salary increase for all employees, and then did a budget without a salary increase. Bean recommended sending the school budget to the Finance Committee with the $226,784 request. The Finance Committee can approve the budget without this request and leave it to the county commission to decide salary increases, according to Bean.

The total requested budget general-purpose revenue for the school budget is $44.67 million. The proposed total expenditures are $47.02 million. The estimated fund balance draw in the proposed budget is $2.25 million.

SAS Alumni Weekend, through June 2

St. Andrew's-Sewanee School will welcome over 250 alumni and their guests for the school's annual Alumni Weekend, May 31-June 2. St. Andrew's-Sewanee, formed by the merger of Sewanee Academy (SA) and St. Andrew's School (STA) in 1981, also welcomes the alumni of its parent schools, including St. Mary's School (SMS) and the Sewanee Military Academy (SMA). Milestone reunions this year (5th, 10th, 25th, etc.) are from the classes ending in 4s and 9s, but many SAS alumni and their families make this an annual pilgrimage.

The weekend begins on Friday, May 31. Highlights of the day include golf at The Course at Sewanee, the St. Mary's Alumnae Soirée, an All-Alumni Jazz Dinner & Lawn Party, and a bonfire.

Saturday morning begins with yoga before the Alumni Association meeting and awards. Alumni celebrating their 50th reunion will receive medallions and Arrie Manning SMA '66 will receive the St. Andrews'-Sewanee Service Award. SMA alumni will gather in Sewanee in the afternoon for their annual memorial service. The evening includes reunion cocktail parties, class photos, and the All-Alumni Dinner. The evening ends with a bonfire.

Alumni Weekend concludes on Sunday after the SMA Alumni March from Quintard Hall to All Saints' Chapel, a Eucharist service in the St. Andrew's Chapel, and a farewell brunch. The preacher will be the Rev. Hallock Martin, StA'69, son of former St. Andrew's headmaster the Rev. Franklin Martin.

Throughout the weekend there will be activities for children.

The community is invited to join us along the march route on Sunday morning beginning at 9:30 a.m. SMA alumni will march from Quintard Hall to All Saints' Chapel led by the Highland Drum and Pipe Corps. The community is also welcome at Sunday's Eucharist service in St. Andrew's Chapel at 10:20 a.m.

Area alumni are asked to register online for all other activities on the school's main website <sasweb.org> or by contacting the Alumni Office at <sasalumni@sasweb.org>. Registration will also be available onsite Friday starting at 10 a.m. and Saturday 9 a.m. – 1 p.m.

Puppetry Camp at the FC Library

Take a trip down memory lane to Sesame Street. How delighted were you when The Count made the thunder roll as he exclaimed, "Alla peanut butter sandwiches!"? Children will learn to delight themselves and others with skills taught at the free Puppetry Camp at the Franklin County Library this summer in June. The camp is offered June 17-22 from 9 a. m. to noon, with free lunch at noon.

James Steward, Outreach Coordinator at the Chattanooga Children's Creative Discovery Museum, will partner with Franklin County's own Al Clark engaging children in creating a puppet show. Children of all ages are welcome to participate. Seating is limited to 20 seats. Register at <www.franklin-countylibrary.org>.

Participants will learn to animate a puppet, formulate a script, and produce a puppet show. Practical knowledge will be exemplified on the Wednesday following the camp, June 26. Camp graduates will perform for the Library Littles at 9:30 a.m. and Preschool Storytime at 10 a.m. at the library. All are welcome!

Puppets provide a perfect medium for a child to use his or her imagination to express ideas, emotions, and creativity. It is thought that by redirecting the viewer's attention to the puppet, the child feels less vulnerable to criticism. By using puppets, a whole world of endless possibilities is presented to the animator! As tools puppets are great, but let's face it—they're just plain fun!

Visit the library at 105 S. Porter St., Winchester, 8 a.m.-6 p.m. daily, 8 a.m.-1 p.m. Saturdays, or online at <www.franklin-countylibrary.org>. Like us on Facebook, find us Snapchat and Instagram. Any location reveals programs galore along with many free services. You may also call 967-3706 for more information.

The South Cumberland Community Fund (SCCF) has approved grants to 15 organizations across the Plateau totaling just over $95,000. With these spring cycle grants, the Fund has awarded more than $800,000 since 2012 through its grants program. Both new and past grant recipients will be recognized at the Celebration for the Plateau at Dubose Conference Center on June 22, at noon.

"We are proud that the 15 applicants chosen for this round of grants will focus on our three new focus areas: education, health, and economic and community building," said Jeff Sholey, SCCF grants committee chair. Established in 2012, South Cumberland Community Fund works to improve the quality of life across the Plateau by increasing philanthropy and supporting leadership of the area's communities, schools, and non-profit organizations. Since its founding, in addition to its grants program SCCF has invested nearly $800,000 in capacity building projects that benefit the Plateau.

IDENTIFYING HEARING LOSS

To help identify hearing loss, try answering the following questions:
Do you have trouble following the conversation when two or more people are talking at one time?
Do people complain that you turn the volume of the radio or television to high?
Do you have trouble hearing in a noisy background?
Do you often ask people to repeat themselves?
Do people you talk to seem to mumble or not speak clearly?
Do you misunderstand what others are saying and respond inappropriately?
Do you have trouble understanding women and children?

If you answered yes to three or more of these questions you should have your hearing evaluated.

Having your hearing tested is the second step toward better hearing. The first step is recognizing a hearing problem. If the signs are there: asking people to repeat, turning up the volume on the TV, or frequently misunderstanding what is being said - please call us at 393-2051. Michael Speaks on ‘Poetry at the Edge of Silence’

Sewanee English professor Jennifer Michael will open the Summer 2019 School of Letters Reading and Lecture Series with “Poetry at the Edge of Silence,” at 4:30 p.m., Wednesday, June 5, in Gailor Auditorium.

The talk will be followed by a reception, which is cosponsored by St. Mary’s Sewanee: The Ayres Center for Spiritual Development.

Michael holds degrees from the University of the South, Oxford University, and Northwestern University. Her teaching includes upper-level courses in late eighteenth-century and Romantic literature, a seminar on William Blake, and a Studies in Poetry course focusing on “Poetry, Nature, and Contemplation.”

While her teaching and research interests tend to focus on late eighteenth-century and Romantic poetry, her current project on poetry and silence is heavily informed by her Studies in Poetry course, “Apprehensions of the Sacred.”

Michael’s poems have appeared in “Mezzo Cammin,” “The Unprecedented Review,” “3 Elements Review,” and the “Cumberland River Review,” among others. Finishing Line Press will publish her chapbook of poems, “Let Me Let Go.”

The Sewanee School of Letters offers Master’s degrees in English and in creative writing to students who have only summers to devote to study. The faculty consists both of Sewanee professors, from English and allied departments, and distinguished faculty from other campuses.

History of Sewanee Schools Out Soon

“March On!” will be published this summer. Nathan Shults is the principal author of the history of the Junior Division, Sewanee Grammar School, and Sewanee Military Academy. Phil White is the principal author of the section covering Sewanee Academy history. Waring McCrady is the principal editor of the book.

Preorders of the book may be made by emailing Phil White at <pwhite@sewanee.edu>.

VILLAGE REPORT

by Frank X. Gladu

The past month has again been a very productive month for the Village Project.

Each of the five priority projects has made progress this past month and are inching closer to being completed by 2022, just 3 years away! Leading the parade has been the New Bookstore. Site work is in progress and the pouring of the slab will happen soon. Once the slab is ready, then actual construction will begin. Sarah Boykin, The University's Director of Planning Design and Construction gave an informative update on the project and it was reported on in the Messenger - page 1 of the May 10th edition. As an aside, when this construction begins then you will see that my commitment to not trimming my beard will have been fulfilled and I will return to my short neatly kept facial growth. Hooray!!!

The next project that has generated some momentum is the mixed-use food market and apartment building on the corner of Lake O'Donnell Road and U.S. Hwy. 41A. BP Construction, our development partner, has costed out the construction and is now working on identifying the costs associated with the preparation of the site. Once the total costs are identified, they will be able to set rental rates and then recruit tenants for the spaces. When 60% of the tenant space has commitments to rent, then they will begin construction.

The road project, that includes the narrowing of U.S. Hwy. 41A between Kennerly Road and Kentucky Avenue continues to be in the design phase with the Tennessee Department of Transportation. As soon as the design is finalized then a construction schedule will be developed.

Both the housing and Village Green projects are awaiting more analysis to determine the appropriate next steps.

Another related project is the creation of about 200 feet of new road on the south side of the Sewanee Market. This road will connect U.S. Hwy. 41A and Lake O'Donnell and be one of the four borders of the Green. We are in discussions with Franklin County about creating this new road.

I want to take a minute to mention some new businesses in Sewanee that have opened their doors over the past several months. They include Fine Arts at the Mountain located at 91 University Ave., Compassionate Home Care and Medical Staffing located at 125 University Ave., and Roots Hair Salon at 12565 Sollace Freeman Hwy. Check them out and offer them a BIG welcome to Sewanee!

The next Sewanee Village Update meeting will be at 10 a.m., Tuesday, June 4, at the Blue Chair. The featured topic for this meeting will be a discussion on the selection of specific items being considered to brighten up the Village funded by the donations generated from the Tiger Tuesday effort. We hope to choose some items soon and demonstrate that there is momentum for the project. With any luck we will also be broadcasting the meeting on Facebook Live. Just tune into the Sewanee Village Project on Facebook. But we also would like to have you there if you can make it.

Also, save the date for the July 4th Village Project open house from noon-2 p.m., on the porch of the Blue House located at 400 University Ave. This is the third time that this event has been held so that you can stop by and check out the details of the Sewanee Village Project.

Frank X. Gladu is a Special Assistant to the Vice-Chancellor and project Manager for the Sewanee Village Development. He can be reached at <fxgladu@sewanee.edu> or (931) 598-3397. More information about the Sewanee Village Project can be obtained at the web site: <www.sewanee.edu/village> and the Facebook page, Sewanee Village Project, and on Instagram at the Sewanee Village Project.

As part of a new leadership consortium with the University, the American Shakespeare Center (ASC) will spend one week with Professor MacDonald's School of Letter's Shakespeare class, engaging "The Merchant of Venice," one of the well-known "problem plays," through a series of exercises intended to translate Shakespeare from the page to the stage.

Midyett Earns All-Region Honor

The U.S. Track and Field and Cross Country Coaches Association (USTFCCCA) announced Sunday afternoon the list of All-Region selections for NCAA Division III Track and Field. Junior mid-distance runner Ash Midyett was named to the All-South/Southeast Region.

The Fairhope, Ala. native finished fifth in the region in the 800 meters, running to a personal-best time of 1:53.92 at the Gregory Invitational last week.

The junior has won the event twice in the last three years at the Southern Athletic Association (SAA) Championships, including this past season where he ran the 800 in 1:55.40. He also captured First Team honors his freshman year before finishing second last season.

Midyett is coming off a year where he also took home an All-Conference selection in cross country in the fall. He ran a 27:03.1 for a 15th place finish, good for an Honorable Mention nod.

Top-5 individuals in each event from each region earned All-Region honors, in addition to each of the members of a top-3 ranked relay teams.

Announced by the American Baseball Coaches Association (ABCA), senior Riley Brandvold was selected to the ABCA/Rawlings South All-Region Third Team.

The Jacksonville, Fla. native earns his first selection to the All-Region Team after garnering a First Team All-Conference selection earlier this month.

In 40 games, the senior had a .318 batting average on 50 hits. He added a .592 slugging percentage, and eight homers, good for second-most in the Southern Athletic Association in each category. Adding 31 RBI, he also recorded 13 doubles, including one three-double game against Hendrix on April 6.

During the season, he recorded the second-longest hitting streak of the season with 15 games, as he posted 13 multi-hit games and nine multi-RBI games.

Brandvold wraps up his career with splits of .264/.332/.444 with 12 homers and 62 RBI.

Small Woodland Snakes

While working in the garden recently, I encountered two small and lovely snakes. The first was a worm snake, seemingly in the soil itself. Worm snakes usually stay hidden under stones or boards or in the ground itself, preferring moist earth, as in a garden. It is, in fact, about the size and shape of a very large earthworm, brown with a small pointed head, which it poked up at me. As well, it eats earthworms and soft-bodied insects. If held in the hand it will push its head and tail between the fingers.

The second was a ringneck snake, under a piece of cardboard. Ringneck snakes are a little larger than the worm snake, up to 15 inches, while the worm snake is well under a foot. They are a solid dark plain color above and yellow below, with the distinguishing gold collar around the neck. They too like to stay under stones or rotting wood, but not actually in the soil, as the worm snakes do. I found a second ring snake inside a stacked flower pot. They also eat earthworms, along with small salamanders, snakes, lizards, and frogs. Be forewarned that if handled, it thrashes about and secretes an obnoxious fluid. These two snakes, along with the pinewood snake of a few disjunct areas of the coastal southeast, make up a group known as small woodland snakes, all secretive and with similar food sources.

National Trails Day Hikes June 1

Tennessee State Parks will celebrate National Trails Day with free guided hikes at all 56 state parks on Saturday, June 1.

"This is an opportunity for people to feel connected to nature and to learn about a Tennessee State Park at the same time with the guidance of a park ranger," said Anne Marshall, acting deputy commissioner of the Tennessee Department of Environment and Conservation. "Whether you're interested in a park's history, seeing incredible views or taking a challenging trek, our parks give everyone that feeling that you can't get anywhere else."

The American Hiking Society designates the first Saturday in June as National Trails Day as a day of public events aimed at advocacy and trail service. Last year, 108,947 people participated in 1,203 events across 50 states.

Tennessee State Parks are offering a variety of ranger led hikes, night hikes, history hikes, nature hikes or trail clean-up hikes. With more than 1,000 miles of trails, ranging from easy paved trails to rugged backcountry trails to scenic waterways, the state parks have something for everyone.

For more information about the hikes visit <<https://tnstateparks.com/about/special-events/national-trails-day-hikes/>>.

Dominic

Ari

Pets of the Week Meet Dominic & Ari

Dominic is a four-year-old pit mix that has lived a life of neglect. Dominic came to us with a neck injury from an embedded chain. He is being treated and continues to heal physically and mentally. Fast forward a few weeks after getting Dominic, and he is interacting with all the staff members and learning to trust people again. Potential adopters will be required to have compassion for Dominic's past and work with him with gentle care and positive reinforcement obedience training. Dominic is heartworm-negative, up-to-date on vaccinations, neutered, and microchipped- all ready to go into his new home where he can be truly loved and cared for.

Ari is a one-year-old torbie cat with the sweetest demeanor and loving face. Ari came to us in very frail condition with a severe upper respiratory infection and ear mites. It took Ari a couple months to fight off the illness, but she is now blooming in a cat community room where she likes to be the center of attention when the right "hooman" comes in! Ari is a small cat with a gentle spirit and striking appearance. Ari would do well in a home with other cats, but does not prefer the company of dogs. Ari is up to date on vaccinations, FEV/FeLV negative, spayed, and microchipped. She is all ready for adoption and longs to be in a home that will value and love her forever.

BARDTOVERSE

by Phoebe Bates

Oh, the butterflies are flying,
Now the winter days are dying,
And the primroses are trying
To be seen.

And the turtle-doves are cooing,
And the woods are up and doing,
For the violets are blue-ing
In the green.

Oh, the honey-bees are gumming
On their little wings, and humming
That the summer, which is coming,
Will be fun.

And the cows are almost cooing,
And the turtle-doves are mooing,
Which is why a Pooh is poohing
In the sun.

For the spring is really springing;
You can see a skylark singing,
And the blue-bells, which are ringing,
Can be heard.

And the cuckoo isn't cooing,
But he's cucking and he's oeing,
And a Pooh is simply poohing
Like a bird.
—Pooh (A. A. Milne), "Noise"
