Updates on New Middle Schools, the 2019-20 Budget Deficit

by Leslie Lytle
Messenger Staff Writer

“We’re making good progress,” said construction manager Gary Clardy, updating the Franklin County School Board on progress in the construction of the new middle schools at the June 10 meeting. The optimistic news contrasted the anxiety expressed by the board about the $2.28 million draw on the school system’s reserve fund balance to keep the schools operating next year. Director of Schools Stanley Bean called the situation, “Sad.”

Clardy said the pads for the new construction were 95 percent complete. He noted “asbestos abatement” has to be done at both schools due to discovery of asbestos on the gym ductwork. According to Clardy, there are sufficient funds in the contracts to cover the $3,500 cost, explaining there was some money set aside for unanticipated expenses. “We should be very successful in keeping the project in budget.” The schools are expected to be student-ready by the beginning of the 2020-21 school year.

Urging board members to attend the upcoming county finance committee meeting, Bean said, “I’m fairly certain our budget will pass,” but added, “I don’t think the county commission realizes how dire it is. We can’t keep drawing down the fund balance.”

At the June 4 meeting, the finance committee refused the board’s request for $226,784 to cover one-third of the cost of pay raises, 1.5 percent for contract bus drivers, 2 percent for support employees, and an average 2 percent for certified employees based on years of service and degree advancement salary increases.

At a special called meeting June 6, the board voted to fund the pay raises by cutting funds designated for technology, elementary and secondary curriculum, and the long-overdue improvements to the Franklin County High School auditorium PA system.

To keep the schools operating, the 2019-20 budget will draw

1866 Revival Set to Open

by Bailey Basham, Messenger Staff Writer

Mandi Oakes has had a love of antiques since she was a little girl. She remembers fondly the first piece of antique jewelry she found, and now years later, old rhinestone brooches have a way of catching her eye.

Oakes owned her own antique store in Chattanooga until she met her husband, Joseph Oliver. He also had an antique store. With the two businesses between them, there was little time for breaks.

To settle into a slower way of living, Oakes and Oliver moved to Sewanee. They brought with them their love of antiques, something they hope to share with the rest of the Mountain by way of a new store opening this month, 1866 Revival.

Drawing inspiration from the second founding of Sewanee, 1866 Revival will offer primitives, industrial, mid-century modern design, as well as other home decor pieces and locally-made soaps, candles and art.

Oakes said the couple found the building, which is the former location of Julia’s, about three months ago. Ever since, they have been transforming 24 University Ave., into their vision for the store.

“My husband and I have done similar stores on larger scales before, but we’re just trying to slow it down. We were open 7 days a week previously. We’ll only be open Wednesday to Saturday in Sewanee,” Oakes said. “We adopted a 2-year-old and we’re trying to step back. Coming to Sewanee was really about us looking for the small town atmosphere and the community. We’re also just trying to bring in something different to the area.”

Oakes and Oliver plan to open the store toward the middle of the month. For updates, visit <www.instagram.com/1866revival/> or call (931) 463-5001.

Hammer’s Department Store, located on the square in downtown Winchester.

Hammer’s in Winchester is Closing

by Baily Basham, Messenger Staff Writer

After nearly 65 years in business, Hammer’s Department Store on the square in Winchester is closing.

Hammer’s is a chain of family-owned department stores with locations in Ft. Payne and Scottsboro, Ala., and in Winchester, Clinton, Wartburg, South Pittsburg and Sevierville, Tenn.

The Winchester store has been under Earl Hammer’s ownership since 1955. Joshua Hammer, spokesperson for the store, said the store is closing to allow his dad to enjoy his retirement.

Other store locations will remain open.

Joshua Hammer said there is no specific timeline for when the family will turn over the closed sign on the doors for the last time, but discounts will continue.

“Discounts will be getting deeper every week as we try to get dad’s money out of it and get it back to him,” he said. “When we get to that point, we’ll close the doors and be done.”

In 1942, A. B. Hammer Sr. opened the first store in Guntersville, Ala. In 1947, the second store was opened in Haleyville, Ala. One year later, the Scottsboro location was opened. Fast forward to 1955, Winchester’s landmark location opened its doors on the square. Today, all remaining locations are operated by second, third and fourth generations of the Hammer family.

“We appreciate all the customers we’ve had over the years. We’ve really come to love everyone,” Hammer said. “We appreciate this community and all the opportunities they have made possible. We are still here even after the store is gone.”

SSMF Celebrates 63rd Season

by Bailey Basham, Messenger Staff Writer

This weekend, more than 200 young musicians will gather on the Domain to settle into their summer homes in campus dorms. The students, however, are not on the Mountain for summer classes at the University. They are here to take part in one of the nation’s premier summer training programs in orchestra and chamber music.

Since 1957, musicians from all over the world have converged on the Mountain for the Sewanee Summer Music Festival (SSMF), which serves as a home for students to work closely with renowned artist-faculty, develop leadership skills and refine their approach to repertoire.

Each summer, the festival maintains two full orchestras, each rehearsing daily. The orchestras perform weekly to promote high standards of performance and introduce a distinguished array of internationally renowned guest conductors to the community.

Held the first week of the festival is the Jacqueline Avenet Concert Competition, which was established by Walter E. Nance and Mayna Avenet Nance in memory of Jacqueline Avenet. The competition serves as an opportunity for students to earn scholarships for future seasons. Winners are featured with the orchestra during the final week of the festival.

The festival also promotes student learning through chamber music ensembles, which develop leadership skills, foster collaboration among artists and promote high-level musical thinking.

In addition to orchestral and chamber music opportunities, students selected to study composition at Sewanee will see their own compositions performed, work shopped and coached. This program is capped at four student composers in the composition track to allow ample time for reading sessions, rehearsals and performances.

During the 2019 season, the Sewanee Summer Music Festival will explore the beauty of the natural world and the initiate connection between music and nature. Orchestral literature and chamber music programming will reflect a broad range of music that is inspired by the beauty of the natural surroundings.

Every SSMF student receives several chamber music assignments during the festival working regularly with a faculty coach, along with time to work independently.

At the end of each week, ensembles perform for the public on Student Chamber Music night at 7 p.m. each Friday.

This year’s season of the SSMF will begin at 7:30 p.m., Saturday, June 15. Season tickets ($125) and tickets for individual events ($20) are on sale now. For a complete list of events or to purchase tickets, visit <www.ssmf.sewanee.edu>. The season will run through Sunday, July 14.

FROM IONA

To the Editor:

At IONA: Art Sanctuary's Summer Festival, Bruce Manuel reviewed pop culture's negative effect on empathy. Brooks Edgerton read an effective set of three related terse, tense, short stories about human relationships.

Biologist Brett Scheffers offered a significant commentary on global warming/climate change already present. Scheffers' listing of various efforts individuals might consider, are:

1. Reduce our calorie intake, skipping one meal a day.

2. Population control by making fewer children, such as two to family.

3./4. Although at present counter to traditional conservation ethics, Genetic Modification thereby combined with Land-use intensification for food production is in keeping with population control; i.e., we might be eating inefficient foods such as beef, dairy, salmon, for instances. Supporting modification will save species.

5. Switching to nuclear technology that stresses safety and efficiency, underway currently and more effective; increase support for study of hydrological power, wave energy and wind power (although presently affecting diversity-impacts on rivers, birds and bats).

6. Be realistic and empathic about migrations, poverty, and wealth redistribution due to climate and political ramifications. (Population is predicted to double over the next 50-100 years).

7. Eat, buy local, and vacation locally to reduce our footprints in travel using huge amounts of carbon (international flights, for an example).

8./9. Plant trees rather than cutting them. Exemplifying effects of tree planting, carbon is thereby sequestered and provides life to degraded landscape, food security, and jobs.

10. A website "Project Draw-down" offers guidance to additional valuable information as to personal reduction of the carbon footprint.

Ed Carlos, Sewanee

We will be having a pick-up choir for the 11 a.m. Eucharist this Sunday, June 16. If you are interested in leading music for the service please come at 9:45 a.m. and meet in the choir chancel at All Saints’ Chapel. The choir will be singing anthems for the offertory and communion. If you have any questions please contact University Organist and Choirmaster Geoffrey Ward at <ghward@sewanee.edu>.

Choral Evensong this Sunday at All Saints’ Chapel

We are thrilled to welcome the treble choirs from the Choir School of Saint Peter’s Episcopal Church in Charlotte to sing Choral Evensong on Sunday afternoon at All Saints’ Chapel. The service is at 4 p.m., June 16. Evensong is being sung as part of the tour that brings the choirs to Sewanee and the surrounding area. The choirs will be conducted by Artistic Director Elizabeth Lenti, and Garrett Law will be the service organist. The mission of this program is to enrich and strengthen young lives through excellent, rigorous music education and choral performance.

Friday Nights in the Park and Reverse Raffle

The Sewanee Business Alliance (SBA) is hosting a series of free concerts in downtown Sewanee.

Kicking off the event on Friday, June 21, is The Secret Commonwealth. The Secret Commonwealth has been Middle Tennessee's most enduringly popular Celtic band since their inception in 1993. Influenced by The Pogues, The Chieftains, and traditional Irish pub bands, The Secret Commonwealth's music mixes original material with traditional music and many styles of American and European folk.

The rest of the lineup for Friday Nights in the Park is: VOLK on June 28; Jess Goggans Band on July 12; and Towson Engsberg on July 19.

University Avenue will be closed at 6 p.m. each of these nights for the annual outdoor family event, with food and drink from local vendors available for purchase. The entertainers play from 7:30 p.m. to 9:30 p.m. in the Angel Park Pavilion.

The events are free and open to the public. Rain location is the American Legion Hall.

The SBA is also sponsoring a reverse raffle to benefit Sewanee Angel Park, Community Action Committee and Housing Sewanee, with a chance for participants to win up to $5,000.

Tickets for the reverse raffle are $100 each and are for sale at the following local businesses: Beauty by Tabitha, Big A Marketing, The Blue Chair, Fine Arts at the Mountain and the Lemon Fair. Tickets are also available at the Friday Night in the Park events.

During each Friday Nights in the Park event, there will be a drawing for a special prize. The ticket drawn will be placed back in the pool for another chance to win. The $5,000 grand prize drawing will take place during the ninth annual AngelFest on Oct. 4. Participants do not have to be present to win.

nearly $2.28 million from the reserve fund balance, leaving only $2.3 million in the account. State law requires the Franklin County Schools keep 3 percent of its budget in the fund balance account. A similar draw next year will drop the account to nearly zero. The board would need to authorize a $1.38 million reduction in educational service to meet the state requirement.

"The only place we can get more money is property taxes," Bean said. He cited statistics demonstrating the schools' percent of the property tax revenue divided among county departments had steadily decreased over the past seven years.

Board member Sara Liechty bemoaned the loss of Sewanee's Pre-K program due to lack of funds. "Pre-K has been our one avenue to make a difference in how children do in second and third grade," Liechty stressed.

"When people go to work at Nissan, they look at which county has the best schools to decide where to live," board member Chris Guess said, pointing out failure to fund the schools ultimately resulted in less property tax revenue for the county.

Addressing regular business, Bean announced the decision to switch from six weeks to nine weeks grading periods at all schools. Huntland School and FCHS already have nine weeks grading periods. Bean said he consulted school principals who favored the change.

"Nine-weeks grading periods result in more instructional time since teachers spend less time on testing and end-of-period progress reports," Bean said.

The board thanked Adam Tucker for his service on the board. Tucker turned in his resignation, citing occupational commitments as city attorney for Murfreesboro requiring him to move his primary residence to Rutherford County.

"We hate to see him go," said board Vice-Chair Lance Williams.

Imitating History: Selective Memory in Ritual Practice

The Rev. Canon Lizette Larson-Miller will be giving a public lecture on Wednesday, June 19, at 7 p.m. in Hargrove Auditorium, Hamilton Hall. She will be in Sewanee teaching a course in the Advanced Degrees Program at the School of Theology. The lecture has been made possible by the Arrington Lecture Fund.

Larson-Miller's lecture will detail how, in liturgical history, foot-washing has had many different ritual settings and theological interpretations. Late antique and early medieval Gaul knew foot-washing as both a baptismal practice and a means of humble service toward the forgiveness of sins. This lecture presents an overview of the interwoven rituals of baptism and penance in a time of great change, both in the church and in society, before asking what contemporary Christians might learn and inwardly digest from the practices of our ancestors in the faith.

Larson-Miller is an Anglican priest and the Huron Lawson Professor at Huron University College (University of Western Ontario, London, Ontario). Her degrees, in music, liturgical studies and sacramental theology, are from the University of Southern California, St. John's University in Minnesota, and the Graduate Theological Union in Berkeley, California. She is particularly interested in liturgies and rituals with the sick, the dying, and the dead, early church/late antique liturgical history, as well as contemporary questions of culture and worship. She has published in these interests, including The Sacrament of the Anointing of the Sick, "The Liturgical inheritance of the Late Empire in the Middle Ages" in A Companion to the Eucharist in the Middle Ages, Drenched in Grace: Essays in Baptismal Ecclesiology (ed), and her most recent book Sacramentality Renewed: Contemporary Conversations in Sacramental Theology.

Her interest in liturgies in times of crises began with work on roadside memorials, and after receiving a Henry Luce Fellowship to study why people create and maintain the memorials, she continued to work with memorials to untimely deaths and broader disaster rituals in the Netherlands, publishing several times in the Liturgia Condenda series with a group of Dutch, U.S., and German colleagues, serving as plenary speaker on disaster rituals at the Canadian National Worship Conference in summer 2018. In addition to teaching and researching, she is the chair of the International Anglican Liturgical Consultation, the liturgical officer and canon precentor for the diocese of Huron, and co-editor of the forthcoming Oxford Handbook on Liturgical Studies.

VB-U's 2019: The Sheep and the G.O.A.T.

On Monday to Thursday, June 17-20, from 5-7:30 p.m., Otey Memorial Parish will offer its fourth summer of Vacation Bible School that flips the concept on its head. Rather than a daytime VBS program for children, this dinner and learning series appeals to all ages and brings families together. The theme this year, "The Sheep and the G.O.A.T." will look at the greatest commandment of all time.

The series, which includes a community style dinner, takes place with camp-style worship, a theatre program, and a choice of activities. Each night, the church will offer art projects, discussion groups, and kinesthetic activities. People of all ages can choose where to spend their time based on interest.

The guest speakers and workshop hosts this year will include Becky Wright on goats in the Hebrew scripture, Mary Grace DuPree on The Good Shepherd, Rick Wright on the theology of eating dinner, Jennie Turrell on her book "Let Us Pray," Millicent Foreman on the healing power of making art with prisoners, and many others. Our visitors will also include some actual goats!

VB-U's is open to all. There is no charge for dinner or the program. Donations are accepted to cover the cost of the meals. Registration is here <<https://thesheepandthegoat.eventbrite.com>>. For more information contact Jeannie Babb at <oteyformation@gmail.com>.

St. Mary's Sewanee: The Ayres Center for Spiritual Development will host various workshops this summer.

Two sessions of the Eight-Day Centering Prayer Workshops will be held this summer, the first beginning Friday, June 21 and running through Friday, June 28. The next will be from Aug. 4-11. This long-form retreat, led by Brad Smith in June and Tom Ward in August, is an opportunity for practitioners of Centering Prayer to deepen their contemplative journey in the contemporary world.

Spiritual Direction and Accompaniment will be held from Friday, June 28 to Sunday, June 30. The workshop is being offered in conjunction with the Metagem Institute and is for anyone interested in the practice of spiritual direction or spiritual accompaniment. For those new to the practice, the conference includes an element of "taste and see" with topics such as: "What is Spiritual Direction/Accompaniment?" and "How do I discern a call to spiritual direction?"

A one-day workshop called Forest Bathing with Painting Response is scheduled for Saturday, July 13. Attendees will be invited to listen to the voice of the forest, or the voice within you that the forest inspires during a slow, safe, sensory-rich guided walk, known as Forest Bathing. Led by Connie Keetle, this day-long workshop is an invitation to slow down, become fully present in the moment, and have a full sensory experience of the forest. After time in the woods, participants will recollect their experience painting what they observed.

Join naturalist Mary Priestley for a day of exploring the forests areas around St. Mary's Sewanee on Saturday, July 20, to learn about the area's remarkable collection of native plants in Native Plants 101. Participants will acquire tools for identifying and becoming familiar with plants of the local area, including making simple drawings of some plants.

An introduction to centering prayer will be held on Saturday, July 20, and again on Saturday, Aug. 3. In these day-long introductory workshops, participants will learn the method and principles of Centering Prayer, a form of Christian silent meditation where one lets go of thoughts during periods of prayer typically lasting 20 minutes.

For more information about these workshops and retreats, call St. Mary's Sewanee at (931) 598-5342, or go online to <www.stmaryssewanee.org>.

MSSA Program Highlights for June 16-22

The Monteagle Sunday School Assembly in Monteagle continues its 137th consecutive summer season of enrichment with an interdenominational worship service at 11 a.m. in the Assembly's Warren Chapel. The eight-week season will continue through Sunday, Aug. 4, featuring numerous visiting lecturers who will present morning and evening programs in Warren Chapel that are open free of charge to the public; unless otherwise noted, morning lectures begin at 10:45 a.m. and evening lectures at 8:15 p.m. Anyone interested in a full schedule of the Monteagle Assembly's 2019 program is welcome to pick one up at the Assembly Office (tel. 931-924-2286), or to peruse the schedule on the Assembly's website at <www.mssa1882.org>.

This week at the Assembly is the Wayne & Virginia Jervis Bible week, with daily lectures focused on a particular theme in the scripture. This year, Lee Jefferson joins the Assembly on the theme: "Paul and Jesus: A Journey Through the Canonical and Non-Canonical New Testament." This series looks at the role Paul plays in the development of the Christian faith. Paul arguably impacted the growth of the Christian religion greater than any other figure, and some would argue, even Jesus. His letters formulate some of the most complicated documents of the Christian scriptures. Jefferson's lectures occur on Tuesday-Friday mornings in Warren Chapel.

Wednesday evening, Rick Crown and Richard Simpson will take attendees on a pictorial tour through the country, from The Everglades to The Olympics, in a lecture called, "A Closer Look at Our National Parks: The Grandeur and Challenges Embodied by 'America's Best Idea.'" Crown and Simpson, lifelong visitors to the nation's treasured parks, will also consider the growing threats to these unique places, especially those problems humankind brings about. Join them in Warren Chapel for this journey through the parks.

In a rare out-of-Nashville performance, the radio program Music City Roots brings its show to the Auditorium on Friday, June 21, for a 7 p.m. show, with doors opening at 6 p.m. The Music City Roots will feature music, interviews, and everything fans of the show have come to expect. Artists performing this year are Bill Davis, Greg Hall, Lauren Morrow, and Annie Sellick & Pat Bergison.

Additional events the second week of the Monteagle Assembly's 2019 season include the following:

Monday, June 17, 8:05 p.m., Auditorium–Documentary moving screening, "Won't You Be My Neighbor?," winner of the Independent Spirit Award for Best Documentary Feature, about the life of Fred Rogers.

Thursday, June 20, 2:30 p.m., Warren Chapel–Floral lecture/demonstration with Treadwell Rice (Rick) Crown, "Keeping the 'Green' in Flower Arranging: The Growing Emphasis on Sustainable Décor."

Thursday, June 20, 2:30 p.m., Writers' Grove–Informal lecture with the Rev. John White, "What Kind of Jesus?"

Thursday, June 20, 8:15 p.m., Warren Chapel–Sewanee Summer Music Festival Faculty Concert.

Friday, June 21, 3:30 p.m., Warren Chapel–Lecture with Richard Simpson, "Why Preserve the Outmoded? The 'When, Why, and How' of Preserving Outdated Architectural Elements."

Puppetry Camp at the FC Library

Take a trip down memory lane to Sesame Street. How delighted were you when The Count made the thunder roll as he exclaimed, "Alla peanut butter sandwiches!"? Children will learn to delight themselves and others with skills taught at the free Puppetry Camp at the Franklin County Library this summer in June. The camp is offered June 17-22 from 9 a. m. to noon, with free lunch at noon.

James Steward, Outreach Coordinator at the Chattanooga Children's Creative Discovery Museum, will partner with Franklin County's own Al Clark engaging children in creating a puppet show. Children of all ages are welcome to participate. Seating is limited to 20. Register at <www.franklincountylibrary.org>.

Participants will learn to animate a puppet, formulate a script, and produce a puppet show. Practical knowledge will be exemplified on the Wednesday following the camp, June 26. Camp graduates will perform for the Library Littles at 9:30 a.m. and Preschool Storytime at 10 a.m. at the library. All are welcome!

Puppets provide a perfect medium for a child to use his or her imagination to express ideas, emotions, and creativity. It is thought that by redirecting the viewer's attention to the puppet, the child feels less vulnerable to criticism. By using puppets, a whole world of endless possibilities is presented to the animator! As tools puppets are great, but let's face it—they're just plain fun!

Visit the library at 105 S. Porter St., Winchester, 8 a.m.-6 p.m. daily, 8 a.m.-1 p.m. Saturdays, or online at <www.franklincountylibrary.org>. Like us on Facebook, find us on Snapchat and Instagram. Any location reveals programs galore along with many free services. You may also call 967-3706 for more information.

Summer Reading Program at Monteagle Library

Turner Graduates

This May, Sharon Turner finally finished a dream that she started more than 25 years ago. In 1994, after working at First National Bank in Tracy City for 20 years and attending night school from Tennessee Tech, she became a stay-at-home mother to her daughter, Sara Beth.

"Finishing my college degree was always something in my heart that I wanted to do," she said. So last August with the help and encouragement from her niece, Rain Higgins, she took a leap of faith and enrolled at Chattanooga State Community College in the TN Reconnect program.

"I remember on the first day of chemistry, I felt totally lost," Turner said. She said her niece Rain would gently encourage her by saying, "You can do this Aunt Sharon, you can do this." Despite being older than her classmates, Turner said she always felt welcome and included by the faculty, the staff, and especially the students at Chattanooga State.

"Learning to study again after all these years was my biggest challenge," Turner said. With the help of her husband and daughter, going back to school became a reality, not just a dream. "It was hard with a lot of sacrifices, but earning a degree at my age came with an amazing feeling of accomplishment. It is never too late to accomplish a dream," she said.

Turner graduated cum laude with a cumulative grade point average of 3.6. She is the wife of Travis Turner and the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Golan Childers of the Flatbranch Community.

Sharon and her niece Rain were among the 1,490 graduates during the May 4, 2019 53rd annual Commencement exercises from Chattanooga State Community College at the historic Soldier's & Sailor's Memorial Auditorium in Chattanooga. While at Chattanooga State, Rain was a member of the Phi Theta Kappa Honor Society and had perfect attendance. Rain graduated magna cum laude with a cumulative grade point average of 3.8. She will be attending Middle Tennessee State University pursuing a degree in Speech Pathology. She is the daughter of Pamela Scott and Daniel Higgins, both of Tracy City. She is the granddaughter of Mrs. Donnie Higgins and the late Mr. Dan Higgins also of Tracy City, and is the granddaughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Golan Childers.

Flag Day Celebration

There will be a Flag Day Celebration, 6 p.m., today (Friday), June 14, in the Cowan Railroad Park. Join with friends and neighbors for a special celebration of Old Glory in historic downtown Cowan. The ceremony will be led by Sargent Major Larry Williams and Rev. L.Z. Johnson. Jerry Anderson will lead in music and song and students from Cowan Elementary School will make a special presentation under the leadership of Emily Ezell. Kids in attendance will receive a free flag.

Make A Difference Day Moved to July 20

Since 2017, South Cumberland Community Fund has partnered with the eight elementary schools on the Plateau to sponsor Make A Difference service day in March. This year, at the request of school leadership, Make A Difference Day has been moved to July so that families and community members can assist in preparing the schools for the start of the academic year.

Local residents are asked to mark their calendars for Saturday, July 20, to participate in this half-day, Plateau-wide project. As in the past, schools will determine the projects most needed. Past projects included garden clean-up and planting, mural painting, library organization, school painting, playground clean-up, and a variety of other special projects identified by each school. Holding Make A Difference Day in July will make it possible to include additional activities to ready schools for the start of the school year.

The eight participating schools include Coalmont, Monteagle, North, Palmer, Pelham, Sewanee, Swiss Memorial, and Tracy City elementary schools. As always, volunteers from the community are needed in both leadership and supporting roles to work with the school committees in planning the day. If you would like to be on a planning committee or would like additional information, please contact AmeriCorps VISTA Lucas Crossland at <sccfvista@gmail.com>.

Shakerag Workshops Continue

Shakerag Workshops began its 16th season of arts workshops for adults on the St. Andrew's-Sewanee School campus in Sewanee. This year, Shakerag will welcome a record number of 250 artists from across the United States for classes in a variety of arts media. The second regular week-long sessions runs June 16-22.

The weeklong classes include courses in textiles, natural dyes, painting, sewing, book arts, digital arts, clay, printmaking, jewelry, mixed media, quilting, photography, and furniture making.

Shakerag Workshops attracts a diverse group of artists who enjoy the gourmet meals and social gatherings surrounding the classes almost as much as they enjoy the workshops themselves. Most classes are open to a wide range of participants, and beginners and professionals take classes together.

The general public is welcome to join workshop participants for faculty artists' talks each evening at 7:15 p.m. in McCrory Hall for the Performing Arts on the St. Andrew's-Sewanee campus. Everyone is welcome to a reception and exhibition of Shakerag faculty work in the SAS Gallery at 8:30 p.m., Wednesday, June 19. The SAS Gallery is located in the Simmonds Building, a short walk from McCrory Hall.

Artists' talks—Monday, June 17, Jason Schneider and Michael Brenand-Wood; Tuesday, June 18, Liz Willoughby, Valerie Maser-Flanagan and Sandra Johnson; Wednesday, June 19, Keiko Hara and Sylvia Plachy; and Thursday, June 20, Ron Roy and Christel Dillbohner.

Art Camp for Kids

There is something new and exciting happening at the Artisan Depot in Cowan, this summer!

The Franklin County Arts Guild is hosting a summer Art Camp for Kids the week of June 24-28, and there are still spots available. The cost is $125.

This camp is geared towards kids ages 8-12 who are interested in getting their creative juices flowing and having fun. The theme for the week is Natural World, Natural Me. Campers will develop observation and imagination skills while learning art techniques that include papier-mache, drawing, painting, printing, mixed media and weaving. To celebrate our time together at camp there will be a Camper Art Show on the last day for families and friends to come support the kids and see their work.

Two local artist/art educators will be leading this camp, Pippa Browne and Tanya Ingvaldstad Otero.

Pippa Browne is a fine artist who has exhibited paintings nationally and internationally for the last 30 years. She taught Art to Middle and High schoolers in Zimbabwe for 10 years and, since coming to the USA, she has designed and lead creativity workshops for adults and young people at schools, libraries, galleries and festivals.

Tanya Ingvaldstad Otero is a creative artist who has taught art to young children through adults in formal classes, workshops and camps over the past 20 years. In addition to having fun, her desire is to encourage kids to find joy and meaning in their own creative expression.

Our hope is to connect with area youth and families and encourage more art and creativity in our community.

For more information and to register, go to <www.franklincoarts.org/kids-art-camp>.

OFTOWERSANDBELLS

by Ray Gotko

On July 4, 1900 the clock in Breslin Tower first struck the hour and marked the quarter hour with the Westminster Chime, which now is a well known sound of electronic door bells. Three times in its life it has been silent: once in 1930 to add electric motors to replace the hand operated winding mechanism that raised the weights; later in the 50s for maintenance; and then in 2004 as the Bentley Bells were being hung in the tower.

In the past few weeks the clock has not struck the hour. After 119 years, the tip of the arm that controls the hour strike wore to the point of needing repair. Fortunately, the clock master, Keith Henley, is well connected with others who keep the historic clocks in the nation functional. A machinist is adding the necessary metal to the worn area. Replacement of the entire arm is not necessary. The clock will once again strike hour in the near future. Until then, listen closely for the Westminster Chime. When the clock sounds the entire tune, the hour has come full circle.

Parade Entries

The Fourth of July Parade Committee has been working for months on the biggest, best, most arms-open-wide parade Sewanee has ever seen. There will be fire engines, police cars, the grand marshal (soon to be announced), candy galore, and this year they want you and your organization to be recognized and cheered on in the Peace, Love, and Fireworks parade.

Sewanee's Fourth of July Parade celebrates America and its origins at a time when the ideals of freedom and good citizenship were agreed upon by all. The parade is an event where everyone feels welcome and respected—where spectators and participants alike feel proud of our town for its creativity, diversity, and mutual respect.

The committee wants you to know there are so many creative ways to strut your stuff up University Avenue, and they range from traditional and elaborate to simple, elegant, memorable, and bizarre. Anything with wheels is good: flatbeds, cars, convertibles, golf carts, wagons, wheelbarrows, bikes, big wheels, scooters; but on foot (or hooves) could be even better, especially if you've got a colorful banner (and/or signs, big hats, confetti, giant pinwheels) declaring who you are and what you do for this diverse community. The parade committee will do all it can to help you find materials and get you organized on the big day.

The parade begins at 2 p.m on Thursday, July 4, with line-up on Lake O'Donnell Road starting at noon and ending at 1 p.m. This is when and where the judging will be: trophies for best float, best decorated vehicle, and best horse; and blue ribbons for best decorated bicycle, best banner, and best costume.

If you're interested in showing how your organization keeps alive the American spirit of opportunity and hope for all, please fill out the entry in the Messenger or register online at <sewanee4thofjuly.org> under Event Registration. Let's see what Sewanee comes up with in the name of Peace, Love, and Fireworks!

Parade Observers

PLEASE DO NOT PARK ON UNIVERSITY AVENUE. All vehicles must be moved before 1 p.m. to make room for the parade.

The parade will begin at 2 p.m., starting at the Sewanee Market and will travel through town, turning on to Hall Street and ending in the parking lot behind the Hospitality Shop. All sirens will be turned off at Texas Avenue.

Air Show

Weather permitting, the Air Show will take place at 3:30 p.m. at the Sewanee Airport.

Airplane Rides

Airplane rides will be available for adults and children after the parade until 6 p.m. at the Sewanee Airport. Parents must be present to give written permission for children ages 16 and under to ride. A $20 donation is requested.

Volleyball Tournament

Everyone ages 13 and up is invited to participate in a volleyball tournament starting at 5 p.m. at Lake Cheston. Each team must have at least four players and at least two females. Register online at <sewanee4thofjuly.org> under Event Registration to reserve your team's spot in the tournament or register on July 4 at the event. There is no fee to participate, and the grand prize is $100 cash.

Patriotic Celebration

The Sewanee Summer Music Festival students will perform a Patriotic Celebration at 7 p.m. in the Quad.

Fireworks

After dark, the Fireworks Show will be at Lake Cheston. There will be a suggested donation of $1 to contribute to next year's fireworks. Parking at the Lake will be limited to handicapped and special needs only. Chief Marie Ferguson asks that if you need a handicap or special need parking pass for the fireworks show, please go by the Sewanee Police Station. Simply go to the window at the station, give your name, and you will be given a pass. If you have a permanent handicap tag you will not need a temporary one.

A shuttle will be available at the EQB Monument to transport people to and from the fireworks. The cost per person is $3.

Cowan Celebrates Fourth of July

Get ready for Cowan's Big Bash! Downtown Cowan will get an early start on Independence Day with a July 3 Street Dance and celebration. Come to Tennessee Avenue at 7 p.m. for music, dancing, BBQ, hotdogs, and snow cones. We appreciate your help in making the parade safe and enjoyable for everyone.

If you will be throwing candy, please be sure to throw it as close to the curb as you can. We want to keep our little ones as safe as possible by keeping them from running out into the road. I know, not an easy task, but we can try. Also, if you have a horn or other type of loud noise, please turn it off when your entry reaches the EQB Monument on Texas Avenue. There are those who do not like to hear the sirens and they will be seated at or near the hospital. Due to insurance precautions, we will once again be asking that you sign a release form. Someone will be there the day of the parade to take care of this. And last but not least, if you will be riding a motorcycle or 4-wheeler, please wear your helmet and be very cautious in your driving. Remember, there are children all along the parade route. Your help in this will be greatly appreciated.

Skinks

A fast-moving lizard with a blue tail, seen sunning itself or scurrying away when disturbed, is a skink. There are three species of skinks in Tennessee that are very similar to each other, the Southeastern Five-lined Skink, the Common Five-lined Skink and the Broad-headed Skink. Unfortunately, to tell them apart, they have to be examined for details of their scales on their underparts and/or their jaws. And if they are handled, they will respond with a painful bite. And their tails tend to break off. So, since they are so similar, I will describe them in a general way. All three have blue tails when young and five yellow stripes. As they age, the tail darkens and stripes and coloring vary widely. Breeding males can be quite impressive, with reddish-orange coloring on their heads, especially in the Broad-headed Skink, sometimes known as the “red-headed scorpion.” This skink is also the one most likely to climb trees, though the other two may do this as well. The courting behavior of the Common Five-lined Skink consists of rushing at the neck of another skink with open mouth. If that skink attacks, then it reveals itself as a male. If not, then it is a female. The female lays eggs in rotten wood or humus and guards them in the nest until they hatch. These three skinks feed on small arthropods and earthworms, and generally live in some sort of damp or decaying vegetation.

Patient of the Month

“I awoke one day unable to stand up and I had a lot of pain. I had been complaining about an uncomfortable spot near my tailbone prior to this day. This day I could hardly walk and needed a cane. I called a neighbor and asked if she had a cane I could borrow. I had been to a chiropractor before and was convinced I wouldn’t need it long. I had the severe pain for about two days before I could get help. In about three chiropractic visits, I was better but the pain was too much so I went to the doctor. I was given pain pills and sent to get an MRI of which I found it impossible to get done because of the pain. After the fourth chiropractic treatment, I was so much better and could sit and play cards and Bingo. I could also walk without a cane. I am so much better now and can do more than just walk to the bathroom and kitchen. I hope to be completely healed but there is no cure for old age. Chiropractic has certainly made a difference in a short time. I can also go with half the pain pill and able to get more done. I am grateful for Dr. Shull’s treatment and would always recommend chiropractic treatment. I need to keep up on my treatments to avoid such a problem again.” — Dixie Koehler

Alura

Pets of the Week Meet Mamie & Alura

Mamie is a nine-year-old senior chihuahua that was picked up as a stray in very bad physical condition resulting from human neglect. She has skin allergies that will require ongoing medical attention. Currently her skin allergies are being controlled, and we think in the right home, she will thrive. Mamie has been in our facility for over four months, and we feel the shelter is no place for a senior dog. Mamie is a timid chihuahua, as many dogs of this breed are. She has warmed up to most of the staff here, and is just looking for the right person to love her back and take her under their wings to show her that all humans aren’t bad. She has such a cute personality and has the spunk of a young dog—so don’t let her age fool you! Mamie is up-to-date on vaccinations, spayed, microchipped, and heartworm-negative. Mamie is patiently awaiting a home that will spoil her in her senior years. Will it be yours?

Alura is a three-year-old short haired grey tabby with stunning green eyes. Alura is now our longest standing resident cat of 10 months, and we would love for her to get out of the shelter so she can finally live a fulfilled life. Alura is a large cat with a very laid back personality. Alura enjoys the back cat patio and lounging in her special spot in the cat tree. Alura does not mind other cats, but does not enjoy the company of dogs. Alura loves attention on her terms and tends to find her person of choice rather quickly. If your family is looking for a low maintenance, laid back cat, Alura is the perfect choice! Alura is up-to-date on vaccinations, spayed, and ready to go home to her rescue. Come see Alura and let her eyes enchant you.
