Sales Tax Holidays

The first tax-free holiday weekend in Tennessee focuses on clothing and other back-to-school items. It begins at 12:01 a.m. on Friday, July 31, and ends Sunday, Aug. 2, at 11:59 p.m. During this time, consumers may purchase clothing, school supplies, and computers and other qualifying electronic devices without paying sales tax. Exempt items sold online are also eligible. Consumers must purchase items for personal use, not business or trade.

The second sales tax holiday weekend focuses on restaurant sales. It begins at 12:01 a.m. on Aug. 7 and ends Sunday, Aug. 9, at 11:59 p.m. During this time the retail sale of food and drink by restaurants and limited service restaurants is exempt from sales tax.

For more information about the sales tax holiday weekend, visit <www.tntaxholiday.com>.

Flying with Cavagnaro

by Bailey Basham
Messenger Staff Writer

Catherine Cavagnaro readied Niky for the flight. Niky is her 4-seat Beechcraft Bonanza, one of two airplanes she uses to teach flying lessons and practice her aerobatics for stunt flying. She inspected the body of the craft before moving into the cockpit to check the controls, the flight software and the communications system.

Next, she prepped her passenger, Vice-Chancellor Reuben Brigety, to see Seawanee from the sky.

Cavagnaro has been flying since 1999, but she said she got a bit of a late start. She moved to the Mountain from California in 1993 to take a position as professor of mathematics at the University. She didn't learn to fly until she was 34. But that didn't stop her from going full throttle.

Since she learned to fly in 1999, her flight path has been direct. In 2001, after encouragement from a friend, she became certified to instruct aspiring pilots.

"Once I became a private pilot, I started taking lessons from Bill Kershner, and after a few years, he asked me to teach with him. I started teaching with him and that's the point where I specialized in aerobatics. He passed away in 2007 and over those years, I kept doing more and more teaching and flying. I never meant to do it, but people kept calling me. I've run the school at the airport by myself since," she said. "I've had people come here from all over the country and the world. Student pilots all the way to airline and military pilots. They come here to learn and it's just been great."

Cavagnaro said she'd seen Brigety exploring the Domain, riding horses and jogging around campus. She said when she suggested the two of them go flying, he immediately agreed.

"He really seems like he's enjoying the gifts that this Domain has

Moving Service Lines Will Cost SUD $288,000

by Leslie Lytle, Messenger Staff Writer

Moving service lines to accommodate the narrowing of Hwy. 41A will cost the Seawanee Utility District approximately $288,000, manager Ben Beavers informed the board of commissioners at the July 21 meeting. How to pay for this unbudgeted expense in the midst of suffering heavy revenue losses due to the COVID-19 pandemic focused much of the board's discussion. The board also addressed financial planning and approved a revised Sewer Adjustment Policy that will benefit pool owners.

Narrowing Hwy. 41A is a priority initiative of the University's Seawanee Village Project. A Seawanee resident who attended the meeting said, "I think it's terrible... measuring up to somebody else's vision, that's what I object to. And the money."

"It wipes out our cash on hand," said Commissioner Paul Evans.

Beavers said the cost could be reduced slightly from the $288,000 figure by eliminating two service lines that loop back to other lines. However, the modification would negatively impact fire flows, and SUD's cost would still be $220,000.

To pay for moving the lines SUD will need to "reduce expenses or raise rates," said Board Chair Charlie Smith.

In the past month SUD has experienced significant unexpected expense on two fronts: $7,000 for an air compressor at the water plant and repairing water lines busted in the Ben Lomand fiber-optic installation process.

"The contractors were not liable except in one instance," Beavers said.

Meanwhile, due to the pandemic, SUD's revenue is almost $60,000 below the year-to-date budgeted projection. Beavers said June water sales were 25 percent below 2019, and sewer sales were down 33 percent. The May decrease in revenue was even greater. "It's

Mountain Market Adjustments for COVID-19

The annual Mountain Market for Arts & Craft will take place during the last weekend of the month on July 25 and July 26, Saturday 9 a.m.-5 p.m. and Sunday 10 a.m.-4 p.m. This event, located outdoors in Hannah Pickett Park (16 Dixie Lee Ave. Monteagle) is one of the longest running markets in the Southeast. This event brings together craftsfolk and artisans to the Mountain each year to showcase one-of-a-kind, handmade items and art pieces. The market also hosts a handful of plant and food vendors.

A number of changes and precautions will be in place due to the COVID-19 pandemic. Go to <<http://southcumberlandchamber.com/mtn-market/>>.

Below is a list of Market adjustments that are in place due to COVID-19, developed by consolidating information from the Tennessee Health Department, the TN Governor's COVID-19 Economic Recovery Group, other crafts festivals, and industry partners:

The Mountain Market will be encouraging a directional flow of traffic using additional signage, arrows, and maps.

There will be only one pedestrian entrance into and out of the Park - this will be located near City Hall on the DuBose Street side. This will have directional flow, hand sanitizer, and a reminder sign listing the symptoms of COVID-19. Chamber volunteers will be monitoring the flow of traffic and limiting the total number of people in the park at a given time.

Signage will also include information to encourage customers to be aware of CDC guidelines.

Masks are strongly recommended in compliance with current CDC and TN Government regulations. By adhering to this request, you are helping to make the market safer for the vendors, you and your family, and your fellow customers.

Because of COVID-19, there will not be prize giveaways this year. This is to help limit the transfer of items between persons, reducing potential exposure.

To account for social distancing guidelines, the total number of vendors has been capped, and there will be ample space on walkways. Vendors will be encouraging social distancing within their vendor booths.

All restrooms will be cleaned every hour; trash will be emptied regularly.

There will be hand sanitizer stations available throughout the Park. Also, we have secured a donation of individual hand sanitizers to pass out to family groups as they enter the Park.

We understand the ongoing pandemic is a new and unusual situation. We are doing all we can to work with vendors to provide flexibility as they monitor how COVID-19 affects their individual situation. Vendors are asked not to attend if they or someone they have been in contact with have exhibited COVID-19 symptoms within the past two weeks.

We will be following any new CDC, state or local government guidelines that are added between now and the Mountain Market.

The Mountain Market wants to thank you. Vendors and chamber volunteers alike are approaching this year with cautious optimism. The Mountain Market values and appreciates all of its customers, and cares for the health of everyone involved. If you are exhibiting symptoms of COVID-19, or if you have been around someone who has, we ask that you forgo this year's Market.

Ace Hardware, located at 829 W. Main St., Monteagle, celebrated its grand opening last weekend with a ribbon cutting ceremony.

Vice-Chancellor Brigety says welcome to Seawanee! Please wear your mask.

Seawanee Masking Directive Reminder

Earlier this month University Vice-Chancellor Reuben Brigety, acting in his capacity as Seawanee mayor, instituted a mandatory mask directive for all persons on the Domain, including residents, visitors, students, faculty, and staff. The directive went into effect July 3, 2020, in response to the serious threat to public health posed by the increasing incidence of the novel coronavirus in Tennessee.

Signage reminding customers of the directive is posted at downtown businesses and additional, larger signs will soon appear to make visitors aware.

Security officers are in the downtown Seawanee area to help remind visitors and Domain residents to wear masks when they are within six feet of other people. The officers will not use force to bring about compliance, but will issue a friendly reminder and offer a mask to someone who is not wearing one.

"Our strategy for keeping our community safe as we prepare to welcome back students from around the country is to keep transmission of the virus to a minimum and to be able to track the virus so that we can stop its transmission," said Brigety. "A universal testing regime and masking requirement are essential to this effort. If it fails, we may be forced to go into lockdown

AUG. 3 WORKSHOP POSTPONEMENT

To the Editor:

I have requested the board to postpone the Aug. 3 School Board Workshop to discuss the Mascot at FCHS, due to:

School opening on Aug. 5, and with all the plans that are still up in the air concerning the physical opening which involves questions and things that still have to be worked out concerning transportation, maintaining clean and safe schools and many other logistical problems that we will have this year due to the COVID-19 concerns. We need 100 percent focus on these.

Opening of two new schools on or about this very week. We still have furniture and finalizing plans along with putting in parking which will run into this week and beyond.

Virtual learning implementations. This is going to be huge undertaking to make sure those students are given proper instructions on the instruction and how to properly use our technology.

Feeding programs will need extra help in making sure all children have the opportunity to be fed. There are still many plans that need to be worked out after we determine the numbers of students who will be at home.

At this time, over the next two months, the Central office and myself have many things that will deserve our total concentration, without interruptions.

I think we will be best served to wait until October, so we can be fully engaged with this discussion of such importance. This will also give us time to hear from our community and make a more informed decision. Also, the community as a whole can give input to Board Members.

*Stanley Bean,
Director of Schools*

THANKS FROM ROOTED HERE

To the Editor:

From all of us at Rooted Here, thank you! We hit a milestone—over 200 customers ordered this week on the South Cumberland Farmers' Market. Since 2007, Rooted Here has connected our community to quality food and other products that enrich our lives. And 2020 has been a remarkable year, filled with heaviness and hope.

We'd like to add some positive notes to the news cycle—we are proud to report that already over $200,000 has stayed in our local economy in payments to our local growers this year. And as part of our food bank initiative which started in early March, you've donated over $7,500 to fight hunger in our community AND support our wholesale Food Hub farmers affected by decreased sales due to COVID-19.

We are so grateful to each of you and your commitment to our local food system. And many thanks to all the volunteers that make market run smoothly every week.

Emily Heid, Market Manager

NEEDLE & THREAD CLOSED

To the Editor:

I regret to announce that the alteration service, Needle & Thread, which I have operated for many years in Sewanee, is closing, due to uncertainty around the current public health situation.

I want everyone who has been a customer in the past to know how much I appreciate knowing you, and assisting with your alteration and upholstery needs.

Thank you so much!

Shirley Mooney, Sewanee

Messenger Break Ahead

This is the last issue for July. The Messenger will be on break July 27–31. We will return to work on Monday, Aug. 3, and in print on Friday, Aug. 7.

As we approach the start of school in the fall, a number of organizations and churches change meeting schedules. Please let the Messenger know either by phone 598-9949 or email <news@sewaneemessenger.com> if your organization's schedule will differ from the one published regularly in our printed and online calendar.

The Messenger staff is still working remotely. Emails and phone calls are being monitored and answered.

The Messenger website <www.sewaneemessenger.com> and the Messenger Facebook pages will be updated regularly with important news of the day, even though a printed issue will not be available until Aug. 7.

Hospitality Shop Sale

Weather permitting, the Hospitality Shop will have a Yard Sale 10 a.m. to 1 p.m., Saturday, July 25. In accordance with University rules, face masks must be worn on the property, and there will be temperature screening as you enter the property. Correct change will be greatly appreciated. No early birds please.

The Hospitality Shop is located at 1096 University Ave. The Yard Sale will be postponed in the event of rain.

Raffle to Benefit the Mountain Goat Trail

The Mountain Goat Trail Alliance (MGTA) is partnering with The Retreat at Water's Edge to offer chances to win a property lot in the development in Tracy City. All proceeds from the raffle will go to the MGTA.

The lot, worth approximately $25,000, is one of 140 properties at The Retreat at Water's Edge, a luxury tiny home community opened in 2019 on the Tracy City Reservoir. The Retreat at Water's Edge, still in development, will offer community firepits, pavilions, a saltwater pool, playground, private trails, access to the 95-acre calm water lake, and more. Water's Edge residents also have access to all of the amenities at The Retreat at Deer Lick Falls, their sister community down the road in Monteagle.

Chances will be offered online at the MGTA website, <mountain-goattrail.org> at $5 for one chance, $50 for 12 chances, and $100 for 30 chances. The chances will be numbered and gathered into a random digital generator; on Aug. 8, a number will be chosen by the owner of the Retreat at Water's Edge onsite, and the winner announced. You need not be present to win.

More information can be found at <mountain-goattrail.org/watersedge/>.

Animal Harbor's Golf "Fore" Paws

Animal Harbor will host a four-person scramble at the Bear Trace at Tims Ford to benefit the work at the shelter. There will be an 8 a.m. shotgun start on Saturday, Aug. 1. The cost is $300 per team, or $75 per player. Prizes will be awarded. For more information, go to <www.animalharbor.org>, or call Phyllis Larson at (954) 895-1384.

Animal Harbor Bone Drop

Animal Harbor is hosting its annual Bone Drop on Saturday, Aug. 8, at noon. Participants purchase a bone for $100 for a chance to win $3,000. No more than 150 bones will be sold. Proceeds benefit the work at the shelter.

Bones are tagged and dropped 50 feet from a Duck River Electric bucket truck. The bone that falls closest to the center of the target wins. Participants do not have to be present to win.

For more information or to purchase a bone, get the sign up form at <www.animalharbor.org>, drop off payment at the shelter, or mail in payment with the form to P.O. Box 187, Winchester, TN 37398. For more information call the shelter at (931) 962-4472, or email <sheltermanager@animalharbor.org>.

Church News

Christ Church

On this last full weekend in July, when Monteagle features the Arts and Crafts Market, Christ Church features a Sung Service of Morning Prayer on Sunday morning. The service starts at 10:45 a.m. and concludes well before noon.

On the First Sunday in August, the Holy Communion will be celebrated. Special precautions have been taken since the spread of COVID-19 began. We respect all who have “stayed home,” and we are still providing sermons and services on Facebook and through the internet. Booklets are available at Christ Church Monteagle, which are guides to both Morning Prayer and Evening Prayer so that anyone can enjoy them at home.

Aug. 6 is the Feast of the Transfiguration and will be honored, both on the nearest Sunday and the day itself. It has been a part of the tradition of our mountain, as well on mountains all over the world because of the Gospel accounts themselves. Hymnals of many denominations feature special hymns for the day, as we remember that Jesus was seen “wonderfully transfigured” and in the company of Moses and Elijah on a mountain. Peter and James and John witnessed this, and it has been such a great part of the history of paintings that almost every major museum has paintings of “The Transfiguration.”

Good Shepherd

Good Shepherd Catholic Parish has resumed a schedule of Masses, with many changes to the services to safeguard the health of those participating. Mass is at 5 p.m. on Saturday and 8 a.m. and 10:30 a.m. on Sunday, with a 2 p.m. Spanish Mass on Sunday. St. Margaret Mary Mission Church is temporarily meeting at Good Shepherd Church.

Morton Memorial UMC

This week we begin looking at the stories Jesus told in Matthew, the parables he used to try to tell us what it is like to live in his “kingdom.” God’s “kingdom” is the world in connection to God where we begin to live the life God meant for us. Join us online at our website, as we learn together.

During the pandemic, Morton Memorial has suspended worship in the Sanctuary but makes the weekly service available through Morton’s web page and Facebook. You can view the July 26 service any time after 8 a.m. on Sunday via a link at <Mortonmemorial-umc.com>. Past messages are also available. Prayer requests can be sent to <mortonmemorialumc@gmail.com>.

This weekend has for years been the time of the Fish Fry, one of the premier events of the summer. Regretfully, due to the pandemic, Morton has canceled the Fish Fry and encourages everyone to go to a local restaurant and order catfish and hushpuppies. See you next year.

Otey Memorial Parish

Our Sunday worship service will stream live at 8:30 a.m. on our Facebook page. The service recording will also be available at 11 a.m. and afterward on our YouTube channel and our Facebook page.

The Community Action Committee continues to serve the needy while observing sensible precautions, 9–11 a.m., Monday–Friday. Please call (931) 598-5927.

The parish office is staffed limited hours and staff members are working remotely. The office phone (598-5926) and email <oteyparish@gmail.com> are being monitored and we are responding to messages. To arrange to meet with a staff member, please call or email in advance.

Sisters of St. Mary

What is the spirituality of this pandemic? That nothing will be the same after the coronavirus pandemic dawns upon us gradually. Walking into so utterly new a reality must be a walk in the dark. Let’s look into the unknowable future by considering what we know about the past, for this is not the first time the world has changed suddenly. How did people of the past handle it? Think of the destruction of the temple in Jerusalem, the Black Death, the American Civil War, the First World War. Each of these changed the people who lived through it and those who came after. How did their faith sustain them? And how can our faith sustain us?

These are the questions we will explore in our first virtual retreat, led by the Rev. Barbara Crafton who has offered well-received retreats for our Community and guests in the past. This half-day retreat will be held on Saturday, July 25, from 9 a.m.–noon, and will include three addresses from Rev. Crafton along with periods for reflection and contemplation.

The cost of the retreat is $25. Register at <www.communityof-stmarysouth.org>.

Obituaries

Anita Celeste O’Neal-Green

Anita Celeste O’Neal-Green, age 52 of Sewanee, died on July 18, 2020 at her home. She was born on Aug. 3, 1967, in Opelika, Ala. She loved arts, crafts, reading poetry, attending art festivals and the great outdoors. She was preceded in death by her father, Robert Culbertson; stepfather, Charles Miller; and daughter Cassidy O’Neal-Maddox.

She is survived by her husband, Charles “Tony” Green; mother, Edith Miller; son, Brandon Brackman; daughters Krystle (LJ) Alonso-Chandler and Jennifer Alonso; brother, Bryan Culbertson; sister, Teresa (Gary) Montgomery, five grandchildren, and many great nieces and nephews.

Funeral Services will be at 11 a.m. today, Friday, July 24, 2020, from the Chapel of Cumberland Funeral Home, with the committal service at 2 p.m. at the Derryberry Cemetery in Columbia, Tenn. Family and friends are asked to meet at the cemetery. For complete obituary go to <www.cumberlandfuneralhome.net>.

Joel “Joe” Truman Johnson

Joel “Joe” Truman Johnson, age 80 of Winchester, passed away on Tuesday, July 21, 2020 at St. Thomas West in Nashville. A native of Franklin County, he was born in Sewanee on Feb. 5, 1940 to the late Charlie W. and Gladys May (Rousey) Johnson. Joe was a veteran of the United States Navy and was retired from Colonial Bread Company, where he had been employed for over 25 years. An avid sportsman, Joe played baseball for twenty years in the Sewanee League. He also enjoyed cheering for University of Tennessee sports teams and the Atlanta Braves, as well as golfing and fishing. Joe was a dedicated member of Winchester First Baptist Church.

In addition to his parents, he was preceded in death by his brothers, Charles Johnson, and Jackie Johnson. Joe is survived by his wife of sixty-two years, Jean Johnson of Winchester; children, Joey (Donna) Johnson of Winchester, Carol (David) Knies of Alpharetta, Ga., and Lesli (Brian) Moore of Murfreesboro; grandchildren, Chesley (Nathan) Glassco, Alex Johnson, Sloan Moore, and Zane Moore; and siblings, Ruby Johnson, Buddy Johnson, Betty Johnson, Jim Johnson, Johnny Johnson, and Judy Johnson; and many nieces and nephews.

Private services are planned with burial at Eastern Star Cemetery. The register book and memorial cards will be available under the carport of Moore-Cortner Funeral Home from 10–11 a.m., on Friday, July 24, 2020. An attendant will be available to assist you. For complete obituary go to <www.moorecortner.com>.

Barbara Kelley Register

Barbara Kelley Register, age 83 of Evergreen, Ala., died on July 13, 2020.

She is survived by her son, William W. (Julie) Register of Sewanee; daughter, Kelley Register (Mike) Adams of Evergreen; brother Bryan R. (Melva) Kelley of Kingwood, Texas; sister, Sandra Kelley (Tommy) Watts of Madison, Ala., and three grandchildren.

Private grave side services were at Magnolia Cemetery in Alabama. In lieu of flowers, memorial contributions may be made to Evergreen Animal Shelter or to St. Jude’s Children’s Hospital. For complete obituary go to <www.copefuneralhome.com>.

a slightly better picture than it was in May, but there's no way we can recover," Beavers insisted.

"Even if we borrow money [to pay for the road project], we'll still have to raise rates," said Commissioner Doug Cameron.

"It's not fair the customers have to pay for what nobody else wants," said Commissioner Randal Henley.

The board agreed with Beavers' recommendation to appeal to the University for financial relief. Beavers will speak with Frank Gladu, who heads up the Sewanee Village Project. If that fails to yield results, a commissioner delegation will seek a meeting with the vice chancellor.

Following up on investigation into Long Term Financial Planning by Evans and Smith, Smith proposed SUD accept the offer of the nonprofit Communities Unlimited to perform a three-part study for SUD. The board approved moving forward with the project. The study will include an asset management plan (i.e., determination of the longevity of tangible assets and replacement cost); a rate study; and a vulnerability assessment.

There will be no cost to SUD. Beavers already tracks tangible assets' longevity, but concurred the supplemental information provided by the study would be useful. He pointed out a rate study normally costs $10,000-$12,000.

The revised Sewer Adjustment Policy provides for a sewer adjustment for customers with pools. Normally, customers pay sewer charges based on their water usage. If the pool water does not drain into the sewer, the water used to fill the pool will be deducted from the customer's sewer bill. One pool adjustment per year will be allowed, pools must be filled all at one time, and customers must notify SUD when they plan to fill their pool. SUD will base the adjustment on the pool's estimated size.

Meals and Mail: A Folks at Home Community Collaboration

In collaboration with McClurg Dining Hall, the Folks at Home Community Collaborative has, since early April, had the privilege of delivering more than 400 meals to elders in the community who are sheltering in place. During that same time period, in collaboration with the Sewanee Post Office, F@H has delivered mail to high risk individuals more than 200 times. F@H has made more than 200 phone check-ins to our service members since April, and continues to run errands, provide tech support, check out durable medical equipment, and to make home visits from a safe distance.

We miss our programs and certain services we feel we cannot currently provide safely. Someday they will return. In the meantime, thanks to all of those individuals and organizations who have helped us to provide assistance during these difficult times.

and/or evacuate students from the Mountain."

"I am asking everyone in our community to encourage others to comply. Please remind others to wear a mask when they are within six feet of one another and to have a mask handy at all times when they are in public."

The University posts frequent updates to its COVID-19 website <www.COVID19.sewanee.edu> to keep the campus and Sewanee community informed.

The masking directive states: All residents of, and visitors to, Sewanee are required to wear face coverings over their nose and mouth when in public or inside buildings other than private residences, with five exceptions: when they are alone; when they are asleep; when they are eating or drinking; when they are maintaining a physical distance of six feet or more from any other person; and if they have a documented medical condition that precludes their wearing a face covering. If in doubt, individuals should wear a mask. Everyone is asked to have a mask on their person at all times so that they may don it when circumstances require.

to offer, and one of the most unique of those gifts is our airport. I asked him if he would like to take a flight, and he jumped at it. I showed him his kid's schools and his new house. He absolutely loved it," she said. "Where else but Sewanee can you do this?"

Brigety echoed her sentiments and said seeing Sewanee from the top down is something everyone should have the chance to do.

"It was a great experience to fly with Dr. C, as her students call her. She took me up in one of her airplanes and asked me if I wanted to do any aerobatics. I said no thank you," he said. "To see the true glory of the Domain was fantastic. There are lots of schools that have libraries and football teams and orchestras, but very few have their own airport. That is something we absolutely have to use to our advantage. Mark my words -- we are going to develop it."

Over the years, Cavagnaro has become an expert in aviation, getting involved in research with the University of Tennessee Space Institute and writing a monthly column for the Aircraft Owners and Pilots Association magazine, which has the highest circulation of any aviation magazine in the world, about the science of flight, proficiency, efficiency and safety.

"I'm also a designated examiner for the Federal Aviation Administration, which allows me to occupy a unique role in encouraging safety. I want to know our pilots are going to be safe to themselves and their passengers," she said. "I feel like I'm forever a student of aviation. Everything I do in math and aviation makes me love the other field more. Being able to fly, it's like a roller coaster where you determine the course. Every week, I learn something about the science of flight that I didn't know before. It's a never ending opportunity to learn and study and become better."

Holland Named Animal Harbor Executive Director

Emily Holland has been named as Executive Director of the Animal Harbor. Holland has the training, knowledge, skills, and passion to lead Animal Harbor into the next decade.

Holland received her Bachelor of Science degree in Zoology and Animal Biology at Auburn University in 2010, specializing in conservation and biodiversity. Her passions include ecological research, wildlife conservation, and ornithology. Upon graduating, she was immediately accepted into a graduate research program at Alabama A&M University where she earned a Master of Science degree in 2014.

Holland's experience of leading research teams, teaching high school science, and successfully fulfilling the role of shelter manager at Animal Harbor has prepared her for this next level of leadership and management as Executive Director.

"The work our shelter does is very rewarding and satisfying," said Holland. "The staff prides ourselves in the hard work we have accomplished to provide more animals with quality care and emergency care. Each year of our existence, we have been able to help more animals in our community and improve and elevate our protocols and programs to assure our pets are placed into the best fit homes. We deeply feel each and every pet that comes through our doors deserves the best care while here and also top-quality forever homes outside of our facility. The most rewarding part of rescue is seeing an animal through its lowest to the highest of highs in their life- free of stress, anxiety, and fear- at pure peace settled into their new homes. Seeing adopters with pets they have adopted with us at the beginning of our days as a shelter is pure satisfaction. Knowing that Animal Harbor played a huge role in each and every rags to riches' story is blissful."

"It is my hope as Executive Director to elevate Animal Harbor to a new level of presence in our community and nurture program success and operational excellence. As Animal Harbor grows to new heights, the sky is truly the limit, and I am so blessed to be a part of the growth process and maturity of the organization."

New South Birth in Tracy City

Following the Civil War, with its economy in ruins, many of the South's leaders developed the notion that rebuilding of the economy of the South should include modern industrialization and diversification of agriculture. This meant moving from a mono agricultural economic base of the prewar period with occasional cottage industries to the development of factories that could produce products en masse. One of the principal advocates of a New South economy was Arthur St. Clair Colyar, a prominent Tennessee attorney, politician, newspaper editor, and industrialist. He encouraged industrial development through the promotion of northern capital, and immigration, particularly to the Cumberland Plateau.

Colyar represented Tennessee creditors in a lawsuit in a Tennessee state court against Sewanee Mining Company for debt incurred in the building of a railroad, named the Mountain Goat, from Cowan to the Sewanee Coal Seam of the Cumberland Plateau at a town established in 1858 called Tracy City, named for the company's president, Samuel Tracy. In a separate Federal lawsuit, New York bondholders foreclosed on defaulted bonds issued by Sewanee Mining Company. Colyar engineered a settlement wherein the New York bondholders agreed to accept $220,000 in new mortgage bonds issued by a reorganized Sewanee Mining Company named Tennessee Coal and Railroad Company (TCR). Four hundred thousand dollars in common shares were issued and purchased by Colyar to pay the Tennessee creditors. He thus became the sole equity owner of the reorganized company.

In 1873 TCR officials James W. Warner and Alfred Montgomery Shook traveled north to iron works in St. Louis to learn the process for iron manufacture from use of coke. Having learned the process, Samuel E. Jones, a foundry man in charge of the machine shops suggested he could improvise a blast furnace to test the coke and ore. He built the Fiery Gizzard Furnace that produced 15 tons of pig iron from coke burned on the ground from Sewanee Seam bituminous slack (waste). The furnace blew up after 3 days production but the experiment was a success, having proved that Sewanee Seam bituminous coal waste could be successfully used in blast furnaces to smelt iron ore into pig iron used in the manufacture of iron and steel products. The company constructed 120 coke ovens at its Wooten Mine site in Tracy City. 200 convicts from the state penitentiary were sub leased to work in the mine and tend the coke ovens.

In 1881 Sewanee Furnace Company was organized and merged with TCR which then consisted of 4 coal mines in Tracy City and a blast furnace at Cowan producing pig iron with coke from Tracy City.

In 1882 TCR was reorganized as Tennessee Coal, Iron and Railroad Company (TCI). It acquired Southern States Iron and Land Company in South Pittsburg, Tennessee. This included a partially developed iron ore mine at Inman, two blast furnaces at South Pittsburg and coal mine and coke ovens at Whitwell. These locations were in relative close proximity to TCI's central location in Tracy City. Southern States Iron and Land Company was listed on the New York Stock Exchange. After the merger TCI was so listed.

In 1886 TCI acquired Pratt Coal and Coke Company that was renamed Pratt Coal and Iron Company and included Alice Furnace Company and Lynn Iron Company among its holdings. The Associated Press announced that the acquisition "... has brought together under one management probably the largest and most valuable coal and coke property in the world ... " The consolidated companies owned 200,000 acres of coal and iron land in Tennessee and 70,000 in Alabama.

Alfred M. Shook, General Manager of TCI,

Alfred M. Shook

brought an engineer from England, Benjamin Talbert, to devise a means whereby basic iron could be made profitably from southern ores, and good basic steel could be produced in commercial quantities. Talbert developed the open hearth process. First basic iron was made at South Pittsburg, Tennessee. Shook organized a company in Chattanooga that erected several open hearth furnaces for the production of steel.

In 1892 TCI purchased DeBardeleben Coal and Iron Company and Cahaba Coal Mining Company (owner of Excelsor Coal Company). With the acquisition of these companies TCI nearly doubled its capital stock, landholdings, and daily coal extractions. It gained the third position in the nation's production of pig iron following only Illinois Steel and the industrial empire of Andrew Carnegie. TCI now controlled 60% of the coal and iron reserves in Alabama and Tennessee.

The New South had been born in Tracy City with the genesis of the southern industrial enterprise that was TCI.

Stimulated by an adverse court ruling in 1894 that the taxable situs of its intangible assets was in Grundy County, Tennessee, regardless of where the operations that generated such assets were located,, and therefore subject to Grundy County, Tennessee taxation, TCI began moving toward the relocation of its headquarters to Alabama.

TCI continued acquisitions in 1898 with Robinson Mining Company and Alabama Steel and Shipbuilding Company and in 1899 with Sheffield Coal and Iron Company and the assets of Bessemer Rolling Mill Company.

In 1904 the offices of TCI in Tracy City were closed and moved to Ensley Town near Birmingham, Alabama. The company became a subsidiary of United States Steel Corporation in 1907 after approval of the transaction as not being violative of the Sherman Antitrust Act by President Theodore Roosevelt.

MARC Preparing New Resource Center

MARC - Marion Animal Resource Connection in Jasper, Tenn., is getting a new building and asks for your help.

MARC is a 501(c)3 non-profit animal welfare organization helping animals and people in a rural part of Southeast Tennessee, which has little to no animal control. Its mission is to improve the lives of animals by spay/neuter, humane education, and rescue/rehoming.

For several years MARC has been looking for a building or property to allow for the expansion of its mission. In March 2020, Eddie, Jr. and Russell Bell, sons of the beloved late Eddie Bell Sr. of Jasper, donated a fixer-upper house in honor of their father. Eddie Bell, Sr. was a lover of animals and rescued many dogs.

This new space will serve as MARC's new Animal Resource Center. It will allow a better layout and space for the animals in emergency situations or over night before transporting to spay/neuter clinics or on their way to their new homes. It will allow more quarantine space to keep animals healthy and better facilities for volunteers to do the work so desperately needed. This will not be an animal shelter. MARC will remain foster based meaning that all rescue animals need foster homes in order for MARC to treat them and find them good forever homes.

MARC's new Animal Resource Center is in Sequatchie, Tenn. It is a 3,300 square foot house sitting on a half acre of land. In addition, Tommy Stanfill is graciously allowing MARC to use a one acre adjacent lot, which will be used for parking and dog exercising. The new facility is planned to have a lobby, office area, a medical intake room, supply rooms, food rooms, laundry room, kitchen, large meeting/activity room, two cat rooms and enrichment areas, a cat quarantine room, five adult dog kennels, four puppy pen kennels, a dog quarantine area, and a dog bathing area. Outside there will be fenced in areas to allow exercise of dogs and a place to conduct meet-and-greets with prospective adopters.

The house needs a lot of work to make it animal-friendly. Drains and concrete will be installed in the basement for easier cleaning. A new roof, new flooring, electrical work, paint, a gravel parking lot, and fencing are some of the improvements being made. The total investment required to accomplish the necessary work is estimated at $30,000.

The opportunities presented by this very generous gift of a house and property are huge. In order to make this a reality, MARC asks for your help. A Go-Fund-Me campaign was started and so far has raised $10,260. (Go Fund Me Marion Animal Resource Connection). Donations may also be made by check made payable to MARC and mailed to MARC, P.O. Box 153, Jasper, TN 37347 or by PayPal through the MARC website <www.marc4change.org> and indicating the purpose of the donation.

Here are some specific items for which donations can be made. We especially need $3,820 to pay for the shingles and materials used to replace the roof. Approximately $1,000 each for seven more dog kennels/runs and puppy kennels (two already donated) and $1,500 each for two cat enrichment rooms. Donors may have their names posted on these kennels and rooms. MARC welcomes donations towards other specific items or rooms.

Before MARC started in October 2011, many dogs and cats were left abandoned and injured without the help they needed. Over the years MARC's mission has spread beyond Marion County to include the needy animals of Grundy, Sequatchie, Franklin (on the mountain), and Jackson, Ala., counties. MARC has gotten approximately 9,817 dogs/cats spayed/neutered, taught humane education to at least 12,000 students in the local schools, and rescued 6,769 animals since its start. With the COVID-19 shut downs there has been an increase in need by families and animals, and MARC is meeting that need.

MARC asks for your help, the animals ask for your help. With your help, MARC can do the work needed for years to come. Thank you in advance for your generosity.

Dietz Named SES Principal

Franklin County Director of Schools, Stanley Bean, announced the new principal for Sewanee Elementary. "It is my pleasure to announce Allison Dietz as the Sewanee Elementary School Principal," said Bean.

Dietz has her Masters of Education in Administration and Supervision from MTSU.

Dietz has served several years in the district as a first-grade teacher at Decherd Elementary School from 2007-2014. She also served as an instructional coach from 2014-2016. In June 2016, she became the assistant principal for Clark Memorial and Decherd Elementary Schools. While in this role she served as an interim principal at Sewanee Elementary for two months in Spring of 2017.

In 2019, she was also the RTI coordinator in which she helped the district with implementing RTI for the elementary and middle schools. She became the assistant principal and athletic director at South Middle school in February 2020 where she has been working until she was selected as principal at Sewanee Elementary school.

Princess Community Theatre Camp News

On July 6, the first ever Princess Community Theatre Camp opened with enrollment limited to 31. The Tennessee Arts Commission awarded an Arts Education Community Learning Grant which, with support from the South Pittsburg Historic Preservation Society, Inc., underwrote the eight sessions for two groups of students. Class size was reduced to 15 and 16 campers due to COVID-19 requirements. The final day of camp ended with a performance limited to family and friends on July 16.

Wesley Brewer, music education instructor at Jasper Elementary and Marion County High Schools, was the director. Isaac Blevins and Kerri Brewer assisted. During eight sessions held the first two weeks of July, the campers learned basic skills in different areas of the theatre, especially theatrical and singing techniques.

The 31 campers will be upcoming third through 12 graders in Marion County schools. A teacher's recommendation was a component of the application process. Applications received on a first come basis determined admission. An enthusiastic response produced an immediate waiting list.

The 2019 success of Marion County High School production of "9 To 5" before sold out crowds contributed to the decision to hold a summer camp for students. Just as motivating was the opportunity for the Princess Theatre, a significant community facility, to provide an authentic stage experience for elementary and secondary students of the county.

The performances on the last day of camp were videotaped and will be screened at a later date at the Princess for the general public.

NATURENOTES

by Yolande Gottfried

Dragonflies and Damselflies

We've been enjoying watching the dragonflies and damselflies on our pond lately. Here is part of a Nature Note by Robley Hood from a few summers ago about these colorful and fascinating insects:

"At Lake Cheston last week, two gentlemen saw my cameras and asked if I'm a bird watcher. When I answered "Dragonflies and damselflies," they then asked, "What's the difference?" I had to laugh because I asked a expert the same question when I became interested in odonates.

First appearing about 250 million years ago, dragonflies and damselflies belong to the order Odonata, a term derived from Greek referring to teeth on mandibles (orthodontist comes from the same word). Damselflies belong to the suborder Zygoptera, a reference to their four wings being equal in size and shape. Dragonflies belong to the suborder Anisoptera because their wings are unequal in size and shape. Dragonflies and damselflies are sort of like cousins: they have similar life cycles, behaviors (they're all predators, for example), and body parts. To the viewer, their significant difference is size and wing shape.

In the field, one can distinguish them by their typical postures at rest and in motion. At rest, the damselfly aligns its wings along the top of the abdomen, while dragonflies rest with their wings out at the sides. Dragonflies are strong fliers with generally larger bodies than damselflies, whose size is considerably smaller and whose flying (on the whole) is more tentative. (Naturally, there are exceptions to these generalizations. Some damselflies, for example, are spreadwings who keep their wings out at rest.)"

We have been seeing a lot of the little blue damselflies in the Bluet group and a variety of the large skimmers (dragonflies), such as the Slaty Skimmer and the Blue Dasher, as well as the striking red and green Comet Darner.

Keep up with the latest updates on the Sewanee Messenger website and Facebook!

State Park Offerings

Please note: To confirm that these events will occur as listed go to <<http://tnstateparks.com/parks/events/southcumberland/#/?park=southcumberland>> or call (931) 924-2980.

Friday, July 24

Primitive Native American Traps (free)—Meet Ranger Austin Holman at 1:30 p.m. at Foster Falls parking lot, 498 Foster Falls Rd., Sequatchie, to get acquainted with some of the common primitive traps used by indigenous people, how the traps were used, and what they were designed to catch. CDC social distancing guidelines will be followed throughout this program.

Saturday, July 25

Grundy Lakes Night Exploration (free)—Come out to South Cumberland's Grundy Lakes, 587 Lakes Rd., Tracy City, at 8:30 p.m. to join Ranger Austin Holman for a short, easy evening walk with a guide. Bring a flashlight or headlamp.

Sunday, July 26

Hike to Ranger Falls (free)—Meet Ranger Austin Holman at 8:30 a.m. at Stone Door Ranger Station, 1183 Stone Door Rd., Beersheba Springs, for a very difficult 8.5-mile hike with lots of elevation change and rocks, following the Big Creek Gulf trail for 3.5 miles down to Ranger Falls and returning on Big Creek Rim (another 5 miles). Bring at least 84 oz. of water and a snack or lunch. Closed-toed shoes or boots are strongly recommended, plus bug and sun protection. CDC social distancing guidelines will be followed throughout this program.

Monday, July 27

Buggytop Caving ($10)—Meet Ranger Jason Reynolds at 8:30 a.m. at Carter State Natural Area parking lot (mile marker 10 on Tn. Hwy. 156) for a multi-hour visit to Lost Cove Cave, known locally as Buggytop. Start by hiking the strenuous 2-mile trail to the giant cave entrance. Once inside, explore the nooks and crannies, rimstone pools, flowstone slabs, secret rooms and other hidey-holes the cave offers. This is a difficult trip, so be prepared: bring water, snacks, three sources of light and appropriate clothing/footwear. Bring a change of clothing and review "clean caving" protocols at <https://tnstateparks.com/assets/pdf/additional-content/Clean_Caving_Guidelines.pdf>.

Tuesday, July 28

Grundy Lakes Morning Hike ($5)—Join Ranger Dan Wescoat at 8:30 a.m. at Grundy Lakes parking lot, 587 Lakes Rd., Tracy City, for a peaceful, wasy 2.4-mile hike around the Lakes. Enjoy morning air and while you're taking in the beauty of the lake, learn some history of Grundy County by checking out the historic Coke Ovens along the route. Bring water, snacks, and wear closed-toed shoes.

Wednesday, July 29

Volunteer Trail Day at Chain-Link Falls (donation $1-$20)—Join Ranger Ryan Harris at 9 a.m. at the State Park Visitors' Center, 11745 U.S. Hwy 41, Monteagle, for some trail maintenance on the Fiery Gizzard Trail, cutting back vegetation and removing brush from the trail. Bring at least 64 oz. of water, snacks/lunch, closed-toed shoes/boots, and gloves. You are welcome to hand tools. Donations help buy trail equipment.

Atta

Sabrina

Pets of the Week

Meet Atta & Sabrina

Atta is a red and white three-year-old pittie mix. Atta is the definition of a dog that shows clear physical and emotional signs of abuse and neglect, but this does not determine her fate or future. When first visiting Atta, she is very reserved and intimidated by the presence of an unknown human, and especially the human touch, but with each additional minute spent with her, you start to see slivers of her true personality come to life. Her ears swiftly go from tightly laid back to bravely on top of her head, her tail quickly goes from tucked under her behind to gently swaying back and forth, gaining momentum with every nice word spoken to her. Once she gains your trust she begs for your affection and of course for a play session with a tennis ball! This is when you start to see the life and zest of a happy dog full of hope for her future come out. Many times the shelter is a scary place for a dog that has been used to living in a home, but for Atta the shelter is truly a place of safety and security she has never experienced before. Her gratitude for a safe shelter and caring, loving humans shows. We can't imagine how beautiful her transformation will continue outside of the shelter. Atta is up-to-date on vaccinations, heartworm-negative, and patiently awaiting her spay and microchipping procedure. If you think your family would be a good fit for Atta, please fill out our online adoption application at <<https://www.animalharbor.org/adoption-application>> and our adoption coordinator will be in touch with you.

Sabrina is a seven-year-old tabby and white cat that was brought in after the owner moved out. Sabrina deserves to have a family that will love her forever, especially in her golden years. Sabrina is a gentle and kind cat, but she doesn't like to be held, so she may not be an ideal lap cat. Older cats that find themselves in the shelter tend to show more stress signs, and for that reason we are not able to get a full picture of her true personality, but feel that in a home she will blossom and her true personality will show more when she is more comfortable. She is up-to-date on vaccinations, FIV/FelV negative, spayed, and microchipped. If you think your family would be a good fit for Sabrina, please fill out our online adoption application at <<https://www.animalharbor.org/adoption-application>> and our adoption coordinator will be in touch with you.

Animal Harbor is located at 56 Nor-Nan Rd., off AEDC Road, in Winchester. Call Animal Harbor at 962-4472 for information and check out the other pets at <www.animalharbor.org>. Enter their drawing on this site for a free spay or neuter for one of your pets. Help Animal Harbor continue to save abandoned pets by sending your donations to Animal Harbor, P.O. Box 187, Winchester, TN 37398.

Area photographers are invited to submit their most picturesque photos of the South Cumberland State Park (SCSP) to the annual Picture the Park photo contest sponsored by the Friends of South Cumberland (FOSC).

Winners will be named in several categories, and the photos will be used on the Friends' website, in printed literature, in physical products offered in exchange for donations to the Friends, or to sell in order to raise money for projects facilitated for the SCSP.

"By entering our contest and donating your photos to the Friends, you'll help us tell the amazing story of the park and receive much-deserved recognition for your photographic talents," said Friends board member Rick Dreves.

Deadline to submit photos is midnight on Sept. 13. More information, submission requirements and categories are available at <www.friendsofsouthcumberland.org>.

BARDTOVERSE

by Phoebe Bates

I will arise and go now, and go to Innisfree,
And a small cabin build there, of clay and wattles made;
Nine bean-rows will I have there, a hive for the honey-bee,
And live alone in the bee-loud glade.

And I shall have some peace there, for peace comes dropping slow,
Dropping from the veils of the morning to where the cricket sings;
There midnight's all a glimmer, and noon a purple glow,
And evening full of the linnet's wings.

I will arise and go now, for always night and day
I hear lake water lapping with low sounds by the shore;
While I stand on the roadway, or on the pavements grey,
I hear it in the deep heart's core.

—W. B. Yeats, The Lake Isle of Innisfree
