

The Sewanee Mountain MESSENGER

VOL. XXVI No. 30

Thursday, August 26, 2010

Published as a public service for the Sewanee community since 1985.

Civic Association to Host New V-C John McCardell

The 2010–11 season of the Sewanee Civic Association begins on Tuesday, Sept. 7, in the Sewanee Inn with John McCardell, Sewanee's new vice-chancellor, as guest speaker. This year marks a break with tradition, as this historic Sewanee group moves its meeting schedule to a more flexible and shortened calendar.

The Civic Association is the governing body for the Sewanee Community Chest, the charter organization for Sewanee Boy Scout Troop 152 and the selection committee for the annual Community Service Award.

The association will meet four times for dinner with a speaker program during the academic year: September, November, February and April.

President Elizabeth Duncan says, "We try to discern topics that will be of interest and timely to the Sewanee and area communities, and suggestions are always welcome. We have had many fine speakers over the past several years and are grateful that Dr. McCardell can be with us in September."

"It is also my pleasure to welcome new leadership to our Civic Association board this year: Theresa Shackelford, co-president and program chair, and Bobbye Ballard, secretary. We welcome back Rocky Sewanee's new first family, Bonnie and John McCardell.

Morris as treasurer and Elizabeth Koella as member-at-large. Jay and Laurie Fisher serve as our leads for the Community Chest and have secured Susan and Bob Askew as their co-leads. With our new format and leadership, this year promises to be most successful."

September's meeting will begin with wine and dinner at 6:30 p.m. in the main dining room of the Sewanee Inn. The menu created by SAS Aramark director and chef Emily Wallace will feature mixed green salad, tomato and goat cheese tarts, spinach aida, salmon filet with strawberry balsamic vinaigrette, wild rice, dessert and tea and coffee. Cost for the meal is $10 and may be paid at the door.

The cost to join the Civic Association has been changed to a yearly fee of $5. Reservations are welcomed, either for a standing reservation or for individual dinners, and at this time may be sent to <eduncan44@gmail.com>. All are welcome and a reservation, while helpful for planning purposes, is not required.

Contradancing Returns Friday

The first contradance of the fall season, sponsored by the University's Cumberland Contra Clan, will be held Friday at 7:30 p.m. in the Mary Cushman Room in the University's Bairnwick Women's Center on Mississippi Avenue. The evening will include live music by Just Folks, starring Bob Townsend on fiddle, with caller Chrissy Camp-Davis. There will be instruction and free refreshments. Both beginners and experienced dancers are welcome. Admission: nonmembers, $7; members, $5; students, $3; University of the South students, free. Call 598-5327 for more information.

Beersheba Springs Arts & Crafts Fest This Weekend

The 44th annual Beersheba Springs Arts and Crafts Festival will be Aug. 28–29 at the Beersheba Springs United Methodist Assembly Grounds in Beersheba Springs. The festival is open to the public from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. on Saturday and 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. on Sunday. Up to 130 exhibitors will be present. Several new food booths will be on the grounds, and the hotel dining room will serve breakfast and lunch both days.

Entertainment on Saturday night will be by Jimmy and the Hobos from Hobo Junction, starting at 7 p.m.

The historic town of Beersheba Springs is located on U.S. Hwy. 56, 25 miles from Monteagle.

Sen. Corker Slates Town Hall Meeting in Sewanee

United States Senator Bob Corker will be in Sewanee on Monday, Aug. 30, at 8:30 a.m. for a Franklin County public town hall meeting in the University's Convocation Hall, 758 University Ave. During the Senate's recess, Corker is visiting 26 counties across the state to listen to Tennesseans' concerns, answer questions and talk about the nation's debt crisis.

Corker was elected to the U.S. Senate in 2006. He is a member of the banking, energy and foreign relations committees and the ranking member of the special committee on aging. Corker, a University of Tennessee graduate, was a successful businessman before serving as Tennessee's commissioner of finance and as mayor of Chattanooga.

"Boldly Gone Before" installation by Mike Calway-Fagen

Calway-Fagen Exhibition Artist's Talk and Reception Friday in Carlos Gallery

The University Art Department presents "too soon. too much. too soon.", a diverse solo exhibition by Mike Calway-Fagen, a mixed media artist based in San Diego, Calif. The artist will present a lecture about his work, followed by the opening reception on Friday beginning at 4:30 p.m. in the Carlos Gallery of the Nabit Art Building, 105 Kennerly Road.

The artist describes this exhibition: "There are the forces that we wield and the systems we have irreversibly altered that will eventually unravel humans. The failure of humans comes much in the same way one's life passes; once you're born you begin to die." The exhibition runs through Oct. 3.

Calway-Fagen is a native of Tennessee and has exhibited his work across the United States and in Canada, including Brooklyn, Philadelphia, Asheville, Miami, Los Angeles and San Francisco, in venues such as The Banff Center for the Arts, Vox Popoli Gallery, Possible Projects, QED Gallery, the Yerba Buena Center for the Arts and numerous others.

Bran Potter Kicks Off Academy for Lifelong Learning Program Sept. 9

The Academy for Lifelong Learning at St. Mary's Sewanee is pleased to announce that its second season of "lunch and learn" programs begins on Sept. 9 with Bran Potter, Snowden Professor of Geology at the University, who's talk is titled "Sewanee Was a River: The Geology of the Cumberland Plateau."

Annual dues are $10 per person, and luncheon prices are $10. Bringing your own lunch is still an option. Reservations are only necessary if you wish to purchase a box lunch. Lunch reservations for the Sept. 9 program with Bran Potter are due by Friday, Sept. 3.

Potter received both his master's and his doctorate degrees from the University of Massachusetts. He was recognized by the Society of Sewanee Scholars as the Professor of the Year 2009–10. In 2002, he was named Tennessee Professor of the Year by the Council for the Advancement and Support of Education. His primary research interest is documenting the Cumberland Overthrust of the Southern Cumberland Plateau.

For lunch reservations, call St. Mary's Sewanee at 598-5342 or e-mail <stmaryssewanee@bellsouth.net>.

Community E-Mail Update

The Community E-mail System has experienced an unexpected number of weeks being offline. Service creator and manager Elizabeth Duncan apologizes and reports that it should return to working order by the end of the week. Please continue to send announcements.

Anyone may send announcements to the service and anyone may join, keeping in mind that those on the University Classifieds system already receive the information via that service. The Community E-mail does not post advertisements for for-profit businesses, or for other "for sale or yard sale" items. Please send announcements or a request to be added/removed to <community@cafes.net>.

Missioners Repair Crow Creek Valley Community Center

On July 18, members from the Episcopal Church of the Advent in Spartanburg, S.C., arrived in Sewanee to spend a week repairing the Crow Creek Valley Community Center in Sherwood.

The construction specialists from Spartanburg were Charles Minch, leader and retired mechanical engineer; Larry Moore, public school educator and administrator; Bob Page, retired school principal; Parker Champion, building contractor; Rick Gilliam, accountant; Bert Knight, pulmonologist; Mac Davis, retired pathologist; and Jim Elliott, retired businessman. The mission trip represented the 12th trip from the Church of the Advent to the Cumberland area to assist in the University of the South's outreach program, coordinated by Dixon Myers.

The men lodged at St. Mary's Sewanee Retreat and Conference Center. Each morning they drove down to the work site, starting at 6:30 a.m. to beat the summer heat wave. The contacts in Sherwood were the Rev. Bill Barton and Kathy Pack, director of the center. The center provided lunches and all supplies for the work.

Volunteers replaced weathered outside plywood sheets over the gymnasium windows and covered the entire window area with vinyl siding. They scraped and painted the outside windows for three classrooms. They removed flooring tiles from one classroom and painted the walls. In the kitchen, they repaired and painted a cabinet. Barton held a Eucharist service for the volunteers at the local church, the Episcopal Church of the Epiphany, and asked a blessing for their work. Short prayer meetings were held nightly.

Letters

OMISSION To the Editor:

In my recent letter, I omitted the name of one of the Community Action Committee's newest and most active board members: Tommy Hewitt. Tommy's leadership and service to our community includes organizing the bread drivers to Kroger, hauling groceries to and from CAC, and figuring out the plan to keep everyone at the Mobile Food Pantry hydrated. Thanks, Tommy and all the CAC Board, for caring for others in the greater Sewanee community!

Laura Willis, CAC Director
Sewanee ■

THANKS TO ALL WHO PARTICIPATED To the Editor:

On behalf of all of the Sewanee Elementary School Parent Teacher Organization, we would like to thank everyone who attended the annual Open House. It was a good opportunity to see the school and your child's classroom. The SES PTO served more than 260 hot dogs, met some new people and got some new volunteers. Thank you. This is a great way to start off the new school year.

Special thanks to Chasity Williams for letting the SES PTO come and mess up her kitchen. We could not have done this dinner without you.

Leanne McCullough
SES PTO President ■

UNWANTED SUMMER VISITORS To the Editor:

The summer belongs to the insects, snakes and all kinds of four-legged critters. As long as we humans stay out of their way, everything is fine. Just wander into their habitat, your yard, you will find out quickly whose land this is. Try to sit on your un-screened porch and the mosquitoes, gnats, ants and other insects will soon send you into your house searching through the medicine cabinet seeking some type of cream to relieve itching and burning. Please do not tell me earth belongs to man. I have always found summer uncomfortable due to the pollen, but this summer I have actually been afraid for my life, as well as the lives of my pets.

I have seen coyote, large wild cats that can't be identified, poisonous snakes, skunks, fox, etc. There are those who have seen mountain lions and black bear. I live on Alabama Avenue, and I don't know what I will see come out of the wilderness.

There also seems to be a debate about the fox relationship with your pets. Some say a fox will very seldom eat a cat but do agree the fox loves the blood sport of killing small animals.

The rattler says, "I will rattle so that you will move. But I'm not moving."

Well, Old Man Winter, I will be glad to see you. I wish you would come a little early.

Mary Kennerly
Sewanee ■

NEW ARBITER OF FASHION? To the Editor:

As most any true Southerner would know, there are some certain sartorial practices regarding proper dress that distinguish the cognoscente from the less informed. Among them are that white shoes for women and seersucker suits and straw hats for men are worn only between Easter and Labor Day. Southern Living Magazine, that estimable arbiter of things genuinely Southern, recently reported that a new norm has been promulgated, one which allows the fall date for the wearing of such dress be extended to the day of the Tennessee-Alabama football game.

Now I have no investment in either of those schools, but if this is what it takes to allow one to wear such comfortable and distinctive attire for a few weeks longer, then I'm all for it. So, don't store 'em yet, Joe Ballard, Michael Hurst, John Grammer, Dave Spaulding, George Ramseur, Wyatt Prunty, et al; enjoy the cultural reprieve. And ladies, white sandals will look mighty nice with a pretty sundress until that big game, also.

Serving Where Called

Seven years ago this column began to support the large number of reservists and National Guard members called up for active duty to serve in the war in Iraq. About 50,000 troops remain in Iraq to support and train their military and assist with counterterrorism.

On Dec. 1, 2009, President Barack Obama announced he was sending additional troops to Afghanistan to focus on reversing the Taliban's momentum. Today thousands of our troops are deployed in this volatile area.

This is a reminder that someone else is standing guard and facing fire for us. Please keep the following individuals, their families and all those who fight for freedom in your prayers:

Ron Bailey
Nick Barry
William H. Barton IV
James Gregory Cowan
Robert S. Lauderdale
Alan Moody
Brian Norcross
Christopher Norcross
Dustin "Dusty" Lee Parker
Brandon Parks
Michael Parmley
Greg Rinkes
Charles Schaerer
Charles Tate
Jeffery Alan Wessel

We are pleased to report that James Smith has returned home from his tour of duty.

If you know of others in our Mountain family who are in harm's way, please give their names to American Legion and Auxiliary member Louise Irwin, 598-5864.

Quick Response

At the Community Council meeting on Monday night, it was reported that shrubs and brush had grown up at the corner of Kennerly and U.S. 41A causing a visibility/safety problem. At 7:30 a.m. Tuesday morning Sewanee Police Chief Robert White contacted Franklin County Sheriff Tim Fuller requesting assistance in clearing the trees and brush, and by 9:30 a.m., one of the sheriff's work crews was on site. Above, Chief White and University Physical Plant Services Director John Vineyard walk over to consult with the workers. Messenger photo by G.H. Piccard

Reminder of University Dog Policy

Recent community concerns have prompted the University to issue this reminder about the policy governing dogs on campus and in University facilities. According to the Dog Control Policy, all dogs must be under obvious and effective control of their owners at all times while on the Domain. No dogs other than guide dogs are allowed in University buildings.

The Sewanee Police Department

is authorized to pick up dogs that are not under their owners' control, found in University buildings, or that constitute a hazard or nuisance. The complete policy may be found here: <http://www2.sewanee.edu/provost/dog_policy>.

Dogs have long been welcome members of the Sewanee community, and everyone's understanding and support of this policy will help continue that tradition even as the community grows and legal requirements change.

Parents' Morning Out Openings

The St. Luke's Parents' Morning Out Program housed at the School of Theology has a few rare openings for children this fall. Parents' Morning Out (PMO) is a ministry of the School of Theology for the seminary and greater Sewanee community. PMO accepts children ages 6 weeks-4 years. PMO is on Tuesday and Thursday mornings from 8 a.m. to noon and will begin on Tuesday, Aug. 31.

Current openings are in the baby room (ages 6 weeks-15 months) and in the preschool room (2-4 years). If you or someone you know might be interested, please contact the director, Brittany Bowron, for more information and enrollment information at <bbowron@gmail.com>, or at the PMO room at 598-3239.

Church News

Otey Parish

Otey Parish will celebrate the Holy Eucharist at 8:50 and 11 a.m. on Sunday. Between services at 10 a.m. the final Sunday Summer Brunch, led by Joan Hurst and friends, will be held. Enjoy a delicious meal and help welcome newcomers to Otey.

For those who like to “munch and learn” during the Sunday School hour the Lectionary Class, led by Peter Trenchi, will study the Gospel lesson, Luke 14:1, 7–14, where Jesus says,

“For all who exalt themselves will be humbled, and those who humble themselves will be exalted.”

Mark your calendars for Sunday School registration next Sunday, Sept. 5, and the first day of Sunday School classes, Sunday, Sept. 12.

Childcare is provided each Sunday morning from 8:30 a.m. until 12:30 p.m. Questions? Robin Reed-Spaulding (636-0010).

Growing in Grace Resumes Sunday

You are invited on Sunday evening, Aug. 29, at 6:30 p.m. to another year of Growing in Grace in All Saints’ Chapel. With a new leadership team in place, this year’s offering of music and speakers will only improve upon last year’s. Celebrant Annwn Myers, associate University chaplain, will introduce the chapel’s new lay chaplain, Catherine Outten.

Outten (C’09) was actively involved as a student-athlete, a member of the chapel’s Sacristans’ Guild and a regular participant on many of the outreach office’s mission trips. She spent this past year in Springs, South Africa (a small town just outside Johannesburg), serving as a missionary at an elementary school.

Growing in Grace is an informal, come-as-you-are Eucharist, celebrated around the nave altar platform. Speakers often come from the community; music is student-led, a combination of voice, guitars and drums; and children are always welcomed. Refreshments are offered following the Eucharist.

Catechumenate Meets Wednesday

If you can answer YES to any of the following questions, then attending the Catechumenate this year might be just the thing for you: Are you interested in learning more about the life of the Church? Are you recognizing a need for spirituality in your own life? Are you baptized but don’t really understand what this means?

A new Catechumenate season, sponsored by All Saints’ Chapel, begins on Wednesday, Sept. 1, in the Bairnwick Women’s Center on Mississippi Avenue behind the Bishop’s Common. All members of the community (townspeople, faculty/staff and students) are invited to gather at 6:30 p.m. for a simple dinner catered by Julia’s Fine Foods, and then listen as University Chaplain Tom Macfie offers a short presentation/description of the catechumenal process.

On Wednesdays thereafter, the group will gather for conversation beginning at 7 p.m. Following a short presentation on a given topic, participants will break into small groups for reflection and conversation. Emerald-Hodgson Hospital News

Employee Recognition

Emerald-Hodgson Hospital (EHH) selected Melissa Gilliam as the employee honoree for July. Melissa has been with EHH since 1992. She currently works as a Registered Nurse/Certified Emergency Nurse in the emergency department. She also serves as a house supervisor at EHH. Melissa and her two sons, Mathew and Madison, reside in Sewanee. She spends her free time with her family and especially enjoys outings to the beach with her sons. Melissa was chosen for recognition in a random drawing among all employees having July birthdays. Her award includes use of a close-in parking space for the month and a gift basket with movie tickets and other goodies. Congratulations, Melissa Gilliam!

EHH also salutes Hazel Hawkins, Employee of the Quarter. Hazel's contribution to EHH was celebrated at a reception in her honor. Hazel joined the EHH team in January 1991, working initially in the environmental services department before transferring to the dietary department in 1995, where she was promoted to the EHH dietary supervisor in 1996.

In Hazel's nomination letter, fellow EHH employee Laura Knight states, "Hazel knows how to make our employees, patients, physicians and community members feel important, appreciated and respected. She is always going above and beyond to help others in our hospital and our community at large. She organizes fund-raisers, donates time and resources to those in need and coordinates events to honor employees. Hazel may hold a non-clinical position, but she is improving the lives of those around her every day. She is a vital part of what makes this hospital unique and special to our small town community."

Hazel resides in Sewanee with her husband, Marshall, who is also a devoted supporter of the community. Asked how she spent her leisure time, Hazel replied that she didn't really have any hobbies. Organizing fund-raisers and special events and finding ways to help others in the community, whether in conjunction with her job or outside of it, is what Hazel Hawkins loves to do most.

State of the Hospital

EHH Administrator Ralph Underwood reported that emergency room visits increased compared to July of 2009, but in all other departments, utilization of EHH declined compared to last year. Underwood attributed the "volume shortfall" to physicians being out of the office taking vacation time.

Grandchildren Remember

A Celebration of Life was held Aug. 21 to remember Vera Alvene Rollins (1924–2006). The family gathered at Harton Park in Monteagle, where a bench with plaque was placed in her memory. The bench was given by 18 of her grandchildren through the City of Monteagle, reports Melissa Reid Goodloe for the family.

The bench and its placement speak to Rollin's character. She was a lady who enjoyed being among friends and visiting with those in her community. She enjoyed going to Hardee's for an occasional breakfast, attending church at Monteagle First Baptist, lunching at the Senior Center and getting her nails done. She did not drive but she loved to be out, even if only for the weekly grocery trip.

There were many evenings and holidays when her family would go for walks, and Rollins would go along and wait on one of the benches in the park. She would enjoy the sounds of nature around her, wave to friends and neighbors passing by and smile brightly as her children and grandchildren would make the loop.

Her life was not always easy but as the family celebrated, her character shone through in each person. Her memory will live forever in the hearts of her family.

Five thefts were reported. Fifteen moving violations and 18 nonmoving violations were ticketed; 22 warnings were issued. Two animals were picked up for Animal Control.

Local Authors' "Chant of Death" Published

Sewanee-based writers Diane Marquart Moore and Isabel Anders have published a new mystery, "Chant of Death," released by Pinyon Publishing, 2010.

In "Chant of Death," the traditional Seven Deadly Sins are fleshed out in a complex, unfolding narrative of suspicion, darkness, and deceit. In a story straight from the headlines—of monks becoming rock stars, the novel is set in a fictional Benedictine Abbey in southern Louisiana.

When a sudden murder breaks the ordered, prayerful sequence of the monks' dedicated days, Father Malachi finds his powers stretched to the limit in an effort to protect the innocent and identify the killer. Lives and philosophies conflict, setting off deadly sparks—where pious faith and ancient superstition often mingle seamlessly; where Spanish moss veils the landscape, and a murderous soul has found a cloistered refuge.

Diane Marquart Moore is a writer of fiction, non-fiction, poetry and news articles. She has published 26 books, and her short stories and poetry have been featured in publications including the Southwestern

Review, Interdisciplinary Humanities and the Xavier Review. Her young adult fiction, "Martin's Quest," was a finalist in the Heekins Foundation Award for Best Children's Fiction. Moore studied creative writing with Ernest Gaines at ULL. She was a former editor of Acadiana Lifestyle and has written for The Daily Iberian, The Acadiana Profile magazine and the Yaddasht Haftegy. She authors a blog entitled A Words Worth and is a retired archdeacon of the Episcopal Diocese of Western Louisiana.

Isabel Anders is the author of more than 20 books for adults, children and young adults, including the award-winning book "Becoming Flame: Uncommon Mother-Daughter Wisdom," "Awaiting the Child: An Advent Journal," "Soul Moments: Times When Heaven Touches Earth," "The Faces of Friendship" and "40-Day Journey with Madeleine L'Engle." "Black Hole Sun" by Doug McCoy

In-Town Gallery Features Work by Doug McCoy

Doug McCoy's new collection of acrylic paintings and ink drawings titled "Myth of Man" will be exhibited during September in the In-Town Gallery, located on 26A Frazier Ave., Chattanooga.

McCoy's dramatic detailed pieces invite the viewer to look closer and celebrate creativity and imagination. A reception will be held on Friday, Sept. 3, from 5 to 8 p.m. in the In-Town Gallery. The event is open to the public at no charge.

"The Myth of Man exhibition is simply about my love of ink and creating interesting art," said McCoy. "As a child my imagination was a constant companion, and I have strived to maintain it through the years. The dramatic nature of the work is intended to provoke a smile or contemplation on the subject while inviting the viewer to look as close as possible."

After graduating from the University of Tennessee at Chattanooga,

McCoy has exhibited in numerous shows and galleries.

University Art Gallery

The University Art Gallery will open the 2010-11 exhibition season with Pradip Malde's "Reflectance," a series of evocative platinum-palladium prints that juxtaposes uncanny images of ancient Greek sculpture with intimate photographs of the artist's family members. Malde will present his work in an artist's talk on Friday, Sept. 3 at 4:30 p.m. in the newly renovated gallery, located on Georgia Avenue. A reception will follow and the public is invited. The exhibition will be on view Sept. 3 through Oct. 3.

SAS Football Opens with Win

St. Andrew's-Sewanee raced to a 32-8 halftime lead, then coasted to a 54-36 win over Tennessee School for the Deaf at Sewanee's Hardee Field on Thursday afternoon, Aug. 19.

The Mountain Lions were led by junior tailback Kendall Kinslow, who rushed 16 times for 155 yards and scored 28 points. Sophomore Robert Post rushed 17 times for 134 yards and eight points, as SAS had 392 yards of total offense, all on the ground. Credit seniors Storm Hill, Justin Thomas, Allan Duggar, Trevor Laymance and Moe Andreiev for paving the way with strong blocking.

Quarterback Evan Morris led the potent offense and scored a touchdown himself. Will Thomas scored a defensive touchdown on a long fumble recovery, while Justin Thomas, Duggar and Hunter Craighill all had two-point conversions.

SAS now has an open week and will incorporate new players onto the roster. Play will resume Sept. 3 at region foe Mt. Juliet Christian.

SAS Varsity Volleyball Team Wins Season Opener

The St. Andrew's-Sewanee varsity volleyball team opened the new season with a win over Richard Hardy Memorial School, 25-15, 25-16 and 25-19. Freshmen Jenna Burris and Sam Stine led the way for the young Mountain Lions. Burris led the team with 13 kills and seven digs, while Stine had 16 assists and two aces. Senior Elle Gilbert had a strong game at the net, adding eight kills and two blocks; sophomore Allyson Crandall added three digs; Christina True had two aces and four digs; Emily Thomas added seven assists; Catelyn Hutcherson had one ace and three digs; Hannah Wimberly added two kills and one ace.

SAS plays today at 4 p.m. in its home opener against Berean Academy.

SAS Varsity Soccer Scores Victory Over Huntland

After weeks of preseason training the Mountain Lion girls' varsity soccer team traveled to Huntland, where they opened the regular season with a 6-2 victory over the Lady Hornets.

Junior Sadie Shackelford of Sewanee was the first to put SAS on the scoreboard with two goals in the first half, one of which was assisted by freshman Michaela Shackelford.

Three minutes into the second half the Mountain Lions struck again, when sophomore Nikki Johnston of Sewanee fired a shot right outside the penalty box. At this point in the game SAS seemed to have control of the match, when suddenly the Hornets' Chelsea Clark scored two quick goals with only 10 minutes remaining. The Mountain Lions found themselves back on their heels in a tight battle.

Rebels Crush White County

The Franklin County High School Rebel football team defeated White County, 52-14, last Friday evening. The Rebels' next home game will be against Shelbyville on Friday, Sept. 3, at 7 p.m. Come out and support the team.

SAS's Rhoton Wins 2010 Murrell Finchum Award

Every year, on the last day of the regular season, the Winchester Little League takes time to remember a very special man. Murrell Finchum was one of the coaches for many years, raising three sons who played in the league. Finchum enjoyed baseball, coaching and enjoyed the young people. Overtime with Coach Shack

By John Shackelford

School is starting and for a coach, it feels like springtime. Everything is new, every team is undefeated and the new freshmen are ready and excited about being on the Mountain.

I went for a run early this past Saturday morning (technically I am not sure you can classify my pace as a run). The sound of volleyballs echoed from the gym in the Fowler Center, the field hockey team was just finishing a hard run, and the football team was scrimmaging on the game field.

The soccer teams have begun practice at the University, the local schools and the AYSO league, up at the ballpark. The SAS football team has already won the opening game of their 2010 campaign. The beginning of a season is filled with hope and anticipation of what the next few months will bring. Practice, conditioning, coaching, meetings, all designed to lead us to victory. We must, however, also prepare for defeat and how to deal with the setbacks along the way. The season will present us with a great many coaching opportunities, chances to take the moment and turn it into an occasion where real learning takes place.

Seasons often begin with lofty goals and the hope of reaching new heights. As I drove my daughter off to college last week and considered what her future may bring, I was also thinking about the length of the journey. Not only the length of our car ride for the next nine hours but also the length of her new path, wherever that may lead her. As car rides go, soon you begin counting down the hours until you reach your destination. It began to rain and rain hard. My concentration was forced to be much more focused on the road immediately in front of me and my thoughts were limited to those 15 feet that were within my vision. Soon time evaporated and we had arrived at her new home—a gentle reminder of how important it is for us to live in the now, not in the future. Athletes are successful when they can translate that into action on the field and in their lives.

During Avery's orientation process, Edward Ayers, the University of Richmond president, welcomed the new freshmen by cautioning them against thinking of themselves as pre-law, pre-business, or pre-med. He explained that they are not pre-anything. Just make the most of every second of this day. That is great coaching advice on the court, while driving in the rain, and throughout our journey.

Nature Notes

Hognose Snake

On Aug. 17, Jean Yeatman observed a 6-inch young snake lying on a flat rock by the porch. It was examined by Jean and Harry, because it resembled a young rattlesnake in head shape, flattened body and black markings on the head and body. No rattles were seen, so it was scraped into a milk jug that was used to carry bird feed. Its unique head markings and upturned nose showed it to be a Hognose Snake of the eastern United States of America. Its color variations can be totally black or black marked on a light background. A black one inhabits the woods near the lake at St. Andrew's-Sewanee School. When disturbed this snake sometimes attempts to strike at the disturber, but never bites. Then it attempts to play dead by turning over on its back with its mouth open and tongue hanging out. If it is turned upright by the observer, it will turn upside down again, ruining its disguise. When it is left alone it will crawl away. It is harmless, but has been misidentified as a venomous snake and called "puff adder." Its food consists of toads, frogs and, rarely, grasshoppers. It has enlarged adrenal glands that produce cortisone to counteract toad and frog poisons. The Yeatmans' snake was photographed and returned to the flower garden.

To Everything a Season

We regret to report that our friend, lifetime birder and longtime "nature noter" Jerry Ingles died Saturday, Aug. 21. A memorial service will be held Friday at 12:15 p.m. in All Saints' Chapel.

HEARING HEALTH NEWS

by Debbie Gamache,
M.S. CCC-A Audiologist

NOISE, NOISE AND MORE NOISE

In many minds, hearing loss is an age-related phenomenon that is as inevitable as gray hair and wrinkles. The fact is, however, that about 75% of hearing loss in the typical person is preventable. According to research, one of the leading causes of damage to the ear (and subsequent hearing loss) is exposure to excessive noise. More than 20 million Americans jeopardize their hearing by exposing themselves to high levels of noise on a regular basis. Any noise louder than 65dB (about the level made by a typical lawnmower) is a potential hazard to hearing. The louder the noise, the less time it takes to do its damage.

The noise pollution to which we constantly expose our ears in our pursuit of entertainment, in our jobs or normal daily activities is a major reason why the number of hearing-impaired persons is increasing annually. At The Hearing Center LLC, we want to make you aware of the importance of protecting your hearing and give you specific ways they you can improve your quality of life through clear sound and communication. We offer custom hearing protection, as well as musician's earplugs and musician's monitors to help provide you with maximum protection for your specific situation.
