Meet the Candidates: Monteagle City Council

by Leslie Lytle, Messenger Staff Writer

Editor's Note: This is the second in a series of interviews with some of the local candidates running for office. In alphabetical order, here are the second mitted to a timeline for addressing unresolved zoning issues. The city written opinion was received. The candidates addressed the following queswhich may have been approved tions: How long have you lived in Monteagle? What special qualifications Knoxville office told him there without proper notification. A or past experience will you bring to the council? Why do you want to serve 2019 ordinance rezoned a number on the Monteagle City Council? Read on to learn about the candidates.

Jeffery O'Neal

Jeffery O'Neal has lived in Monteagle for four years, spent most of his life in Whitwell, and as a supervisor for NUCO2 had the opportunity get to know many area restaurant and business owners. In O'Neal's 18 years with the Whitwell Volunteer Fire Department, he served as both captain and assistant chief and often addressed the council about fire department business. That role also found him frequently interacting with police and dispatch. "I have a good feel for the leadership needed to bring safety and security to the city," O'Neal said. "I've seen so much liability the city got into that could have been avoided if someone spoke up or did something sooner." Top on O'Neal's list is making sure "people know what's going on." He wants the city budget available for Communication is key," O'Neal stressed.

Dorraine Parmley

Dorraine Parmley was born and raised in Monteagle and has lived here most of her life. She started working at the Piggly Wiggly two weeks before they opened the doors and has been there 36 years. Parmley has always been actively involved in the town. For many Christmas holiday parades, she and her husband suited up as Mr. and Mrs. Claus. She regards the alderpersons and mayor as servants of the citizens. "People need to know what's going on in the town," Parmley said. She expressed concern about the pre-meeting council workshops. "Everything is settled before the meeting. People don't know how the aldermen feel before they vote. And many people are afraid to ask questions." Why is Parmley running for the council? "I want to be someone people can go to, someone they can phone when they have questions and complaints. I want to represent the people.'

Ron Terrill

Ron Terrill moved to Monteagle 41 years ago when his father retired from the military. In his long career regularly posted on the website. County Schools Director of Special Education, Terrill worked with children, parents, doctors, and county staff and learned to negotiate, compromise and be tolerant of others needs. "I wanted to represent the children to make their quality of life better, and that's what I want to do for Monteagle citizens as an alderman." Terrill advocates involving local talent and expertise in the council's decision making. Monteagle can prosper by "taking complex and arbitrary because

State of Emergency Remains Through October

As a National State of Emergency remains in place, Tennessee Governor Bill Lee announced the State of Emergency in Tennessee will continue through October with adjustments made to previous executive orders.

"Tennessee's response continues to be one of the most targeted in the country and a continued State of Emergency ensures we have access to additional federal funds, ensure our health care capacity is stable and loosen restrictions that would otherwise hinder our response time," said Gov. Lee. "COVÎD-19 is still a serious problem and I encourage every Tennessean to continue social distancing and doing their part to make wise choices and help mitigate the spread of the

Gov. Lee signed Executive Order No. 63 to extend certain, targeted provisions of previous executive orders through October 30, including the authority of local governments to institute mask requirements. Remaining restrictions on businesses and gathering sizes in the 89 counties with a state-run health department have been removed.

Governor Lee also signed Executive Order No. 64, which extends through October 30 provisions that allow for remote notarization and witnessing of documents. Executive Order No. 60, which extends through Oct. 28 provisions that allow for electronic government meetings subject to transparency safeguards, including the requirement of live broadcasts of electronic meetings to the public beginning Oct. 1, remains in effect.

Executive Order No. 63 includes provisions that:

Provide that persons with CO-VID-19 or COVID-19 symptoms are required to stay at home, and pickup at city hall and the minutes in education, much of it as Franklin that employers may not require or allow employees with COVID-19

> Urge persons to wear a cloth face covering in places where in close proximity to others, while facilitating local decision-making concerning face covering requirements;

Urge social distancing from those outside of your household, while eliminating caps on gathering size that have proven overly advantage of what we have," Terrill they do not adequately account

LEAVE THE SIGNS ALONE To the Editor:

The Franklin County Democratic Party believes that in the United States, people can express their views without fear. We are a free country that has room for everyone's beliefs, where we live and let live. Sadly though, in Franklin County, Biden signs are being vandalized and stolen right out of people's yards every day, even the big 4' by 8' signs. If you believe in individual freedom, please leave your neighbor's sign alone. If you believe in law and order, don't trespass in your neighbor's yard. If you are annoyed by "cancel culture," don't cancel your neighbor's views. The Franklin County Democratic Party

REPLACE THE REBEL

To the Editor:

The Franklin County High School's mascot is the Rebel, an older gent, a Confederate officer or plantation owner, standing up for slavery and later rebelling against integration. That is what FCHS African American alumni have thought and have been wanting the Rebel replaced for years. A recent petition and request to the school board has led to escalating anger and threats in the Franklin County community. If you believe that all students should have a mascot they can support and rally behind, please write your school board representative, Director of Schools Stanley Bean and County Mayor David Alexander before Oct. 5 and ask them to retire the Rebel. Mammals make really fun mascots.

Gentry is Vice President for Student Life and Dean of Student Affairs, no small assignment in this unique semester. It will be fascinating to hear his thoughts, experiences, and challenges—and the decisions and solutions found so far that have resulted in Sewanee's extraordinary control of the spread of COVID. The public is invited. Please send an email to <rzachau@sewanee.edu> to receive an access code.

'What is New About this New Direction?' at ALLL

On Sept. 8, 2020, the University of the South's Board of Regents issued a statement that categorically rejected the University's past veneration of the Confederacy, and the University has committed itself "to an urgent process of institutional reckoning in order to make Sewanee a model of diversity, of inclusion, of intellectual rigor, and of loving spirit in an America that rejects prejudice and embraces possibility." Much of the knowledge about Sewanee's history, including its past veneration of the Confederacy, has been gained from the work of the Roberson Project on Slavery, Race, and Reconciliation.

At noon, Monday, Oct. 5, Sewanee's Academy for Lifelong Learning will host, via a webinar, Professor Woody Register, Director of the Roberson Project. Register will discuss "What is new about this new direction? The Roberson Project's view of the Board of Regents' Statement of Equality and Diversity." Those wishing to attend should email <academyforlllearning@sewanee.edu>.

Register has served as director of the Roberson Project on Slavery, Race, and Reconciliation since its launch in July 2017. A graduate of Sewanee (1980), he received his doctorate in history from Brown University and joined the university's faculty in 1992. Today he is the Francis S. Houghteling Professor of American History and teaches courses on 19th and 20th-century American society and culture, popular culture, gender, and slavery's role in the development of American institutions and society. The inspirations for his work with the Roberson Project have come in part from the international movement among colleges and universities to study the history and impact of their institution's indebtedness to slavery — and slavery's indebtedness to their institutions. Register was further moved to pursue the work of the Roberson Project from his own research into Sewanee's history, which revealed to him the significance the website. of race in the formation of the university in its first century.

Walk to School Day

Sewanee Elementary School will join schools around the world to celebrate International Walk to School Day on Wednesday, Oct. 7. Typically, parents, teachers and members of the community join students as they walk to school. Due to COVID-19, this year SES is asking that only teachers and students participate.

Éveryone will meet in front of the Student's Wellness Center at 7:30 a.m. and start walking at 7:40 a.m. on the sidewalk. This event is part of an international week of festivities to encourage physical activity, health, safety and concern for the environment.

This is the 16th year that SES has participated in the walk. Last year the school had 160 people join the walk. For more information about national events, visit <www.walktoschool-usa.org>.

Cowan Elementary School Receives Grant from the Dollar General Literacy Foundation

Dollar General Literacy Foundation recently awarded Cowan Elementary School a $2,000 grant to support youth literacy initiatives. This local grant award is part of more than $4 million in grants awarded this fall to nearly 850 nonprofit organizations, libraries and schools across the 46 states that Dollar General serves.

Cowan Elementary School (CES) has adopted the motto of "Together We Can." Thank you Dollar General for joining us in our effort to reach the literacy needs of our students.

CES will use the contribution to assist in the Accelerated Reading Program that helps to monitor all readers and their progress, with an intense monitoring and intervention with our struggling readers.

The Dollar General Literacy Foundation is proud to support initiatives that help others improve their lives through literacy and education. Since its inception in 1993, the Dollar General Literacy Foundation has awarded more than $186 million in grants to nonprofit organizations, helping more than 12 million individuals take their first steps toward literacy or continued education.

Convent's Virtual Program Series Continues with Session on Food Technology

The Sisters of St. Mary have offered inspiring virtual programs each month since July. In October, the series continues with "Scurvy, She Wrote!" presented by Sarah Ash, Ph.D. The discovery of many of the vitamins reads like a murder mystery, complete with multiple suspects, red herrings, twists and turns leading to dead ends and key clues, and dogged detectives who sometimes had to put their own lives in jeopardy to uncover the truth. Hear the fascinating stories of how cultural and agricultural factors conspired to create single nutrient deficiencies that killed by the thousands around the world, and what it took for scientists to identify the culprits, who weren't even at the scene of the crime!

Sarah Ash, A.B., Biology, Harvard University; M.S. and Ph.D., Nutrition, Tufts University, is a professor emerita in the Department of Food, Bioprocessing, and Nutrition Sciences at NC State. She is also a recipient of the UNC System Board of Governors Award for Excellence in Teaching, the NC State Alumni Distinguished Professor Award, and the USDA Food and Agriculture Sciences Excellence in Teaching Award, among others. The virtual event will take place on Saturday, Oct. 24 from 10-11:30 a.m. Following the presentation, there will be time for questions. The cost of the session is $20, and participants can register at <www.communityofstmarysouth.org>.

VILLAGEREPORT

by Frank X. Gladu

It pleases me to recognize that we are nearing the mid-point of the Advent Semester in the College. This is a significant milestone but way too early to claim victory. We need to be vigilant in wearing masks and distancing to keep the virus from spreading and protecting the bubble. Much has changed with the daily activities and the hustle bustle of an academic year. There are several classroom tents scattered across campus, Sewanee Dining has opened a second dining hall at Cravens, food trucks are present on campus almost daily and students are discovering the Sewanee Village. The new Bookstore, located on University Avenue next to the Sewanee Post Office, has drawn students to the downtown area. Local businesses have benefited from students remaining on the Domain and they are trying to make the best of it. Slower times lie ahead however after the semester concludes on Nov. 20. Downtown businesses are hoping that students can get a jump on their Christmas shopping before leaving for the semester. Now would be a good time to stock up on Sewanee gifts before the holidays. The 2020-21 academic year is proving to be like no other.

Work continues on the Village Development project. We are still focused on achieving substantial completion of the four remaining priority projects by 2022. The Bookstore has been completed leaving the Road, Food Market, Housing and Village Green projects. The narrowing of Hwy. 41A through the center of Downtown project will be sent out for bid by the Tennessee Department of Transportation in October. Once the contact is awarded, a construction schedule will be developed with a hopeful start date in the spring 2021. The Food Market has been delayed due to the pandemic and specifically the tenuous situation of opening a new business when economic conditions are not favorable for a business owner. Hopefully this situation will not persist and we can move ahead with this in the near future. We are doing some site analysis of the 3.5-acre parcel that is bordered by Hwy. 41A, Lake O'Donnell Road and Hawkins Lane. The Food Market is expected to anchor this parcel. We want to be ready with a layout of this area and how it might be configured with additional buildings and businesses when the opportunities present themselves. Housing continues to be a potential project despite the pandemic. Interest rates are low and demand is high. We are pulling together some possibilities to raise capital for more housing. I am hopeful that we can develop a plan by the end of this year. The Village Green will need to wait until conditions improve so that a fundraising effort can be created in an effort to make this project a reality.

The Village Update meeting this month will be a Zoom meeting held at 10 a.m., Tuesday, Oct. 6. It will be a time for those who have questions or comments about the project to talk directly with me. So if there is something on your mind or a question you need addressed please plan on attending this Zoom meeting. If you would like to attend, send a request for the meeting link to <fxgladu@

Take care.....and keep your distance!

Virtual Art Show at UAG

The University Art Gallery is delighted to present "This is Where I Live," a participatory photography project led by acclaimed photographer Wendy Ewald. By means of a collection of approximately 400 photographs, "This is Where I Live" represents experiences and lives from several distinct communities in Israel and the West Bank. The exhibition will be on view through Nov. 20.

To protect the health of those on and off our campus, in-person visits to the exhibition are reserved for students, faculty, and staff of the University already on campus. The University Art Gallery has an additional opportunity to explore "This is Where I Live" remotely, with slideshows of the individual photographs from each of the 14 communities now accessible on the UAG website https://new. sewanee.edu/university-art-gallery/ current-exhibition-2/>.

Ewald does far more than photograph her subjects. Instead, believing that people know their own lives and communities best, she collaborates with groups of people over several months, giving those who want to participate their own cameras. Together they consider images, study the cameras and basics of photography, talk about the photographs taken and the choices made and why, and tell stories. The process is one of learning and exchange, and the results are cumulative and cooperative: collective portraits made up of multiple individual perspectives, and bodies of work created not by one photographer but by many people working together.

For "This is Where I Live," Ewald worked with 14 disparate groups of people in Israel and the West Bank, from Palestinian Arab women elders in East Jerusalem to Jewish Israeli sixth grade students from the Kfar Giladi Kibbutz, Upper Galilee, from Palestinian Arab sixth grade students at the Bir El Amir School in Nazareth to Jewish Israeli stall owners from the Mahane Yehuda market, Jerusalem. "This is Where I Live" presents "a kind of narrative atlas," in which people from a deeply and impossibly divided region share their experiences, and all the places they live, in photographs.

Birdfoot Violet by Valerie Lorenz

Birdfoot Violet and Red Efts

Valerie Lorenz sent this photo of Birdfoot Violet thriving on a bluff off Sherwood Road in late September and wondered if this was unusual. We also saw some in bloom on our Meadow Trail walk a couple of weeks ago, and wondered the same thing. "Birdfoot" refers to the shape of the leaves, as seen in this photo. With a little research I learned that they have been known to bloom in the fall as well as in the spring. Mary Priestley pointed out that Birdfoot Violet, unlike all the other violets, does not have cleistogamous (closed) flowers. In fact, many of those other violet species are also "blooming" in the fall. Look at the base of a clump of common blue violet leaves for numerous green bud-like flowers that self-pollinate to form a split three-parted fruit that releases much seed.

Walking down our road after the copious rainfall of the remnants of Hurricane Beta, we saw many red efts attempting to cross the road, with a distressing number squashed in the attempt. These are a stage in the life of an interesting type of salamander, the Redspotted Newt. They begin life as aquatic larvae, then transform to this eft stage in which they live on land for 1-3 years, returning then to the water as aquatic adults. The adults are yellowish-green, but the efts, especially in moist forested mountains, can be brilliantly colored, orange-red with red spots. Rains like we had can bring them out in large numbers, even in the daytime.

Trail Improvement at Stone Door (Free)—Meet AmeriCorps Member (and Park Ranger) Aus-Rd., Beersheba Springs, to be part of making simple but important improvements to preserve the Stone Door and Big Creek Rim trails: removing the buildup of materials on the lower edges of the trail, in order to allow water to flow off the trail in a downhill direction, thus preventing erosion that can make the trail much more difficult to fix later on. Tools will be provided for this simple but essential project, but be sure to bring water/snacks, and a pair of work gloves. CDC social distancing guidelines will be followed throughout the program.

Sunday, Oct. 4

Trail-building at Grundy Forest (Free)—Join AmeriCorps Gizzard North (Grundy Forest), 131 Fiery Gizzard Rd., Tracy City, to assist in this important improvement of the Grundy Day Loop trail. A section of the trail will be re-routed to allow restoration for the old trail, incorporating a stone staircase along a slope for ease of use, and as a designated path that will prevent erosion. The stones to be moved are large and will require some effort. Tools will be provided for this project, but be sure to bring some work gloves, as well as some water/snacks. CDC social distancing guidelines will be followed throughout this program.

Boots

Pets of the Week Meet Boots & Tortuga

Boots is a unique ginger cat, but not harsh like a red tabby, he is more like the kind of orange you'd see on a beloved old-shirt mixed with heavy cream. He has a soft look about him and he feels like a kitten to the touch, but he is a full grown mature boy at seven-yearsold. Even though Boots sports a distinct grumpy cat face, that is not his true personality! He is just scared of the camera. Boots was surrendered to the shelter when his owner became too sick to care for him properly. Boots can be shy at first, but he quickly warms up to a gentle hand and calm, low voice. Boots is very affectionate once he comes out of his shell. The shelter is just not the place for this older, reserved cat, so he is asking for a hero to give him the new life he desperately deserves. Boots is upto-date on vaccinations, FIV/FeLV negative, neutered, and microchipped. Can your family provide the new, fresh start he deserves? To inquire about Boots, please submit our online adoption application at <www.animalĥarbor.org>.

Tortuga is a beautiful eight-yearold tortoiseshell cat. Although she may take some time to warm up to you, she is very affectionate once she gets to know you. Tortuga suffered from displacement and anxiety when she first came to the shelter, but she has found the shelter to be a safe place for her temporary home and continues to improve the longer she is here. Even though she is doing well here and finally in a secure, safe environment, she still desires and would thrive best in a home of her own with a patient, loving family. Tortuga is up-to-date on vaccinations, FIV/FeLV negative, spayed, and microchipped. To inquire about Tortuga, please submit our online adoption application at <www.animalharbor.org>.

Candidate Announcements

The Messenger accepts candidate announcements, no longer than 500 words, with one headshot photo of the candidate. Releases should be written in the third person. Quotations from the candidate and other endorsers are allowed. We will run the announcement

The release should profile information and the candidate's stance on major issues in the town/county. Announcements are published on a space available basis. The newspaper does not guarantee publication of announcements on any specific date or in any specific position in the editorial news pages.

Political Advertising

Political advertising must have an "advertisement paid for disclaimer" that is readable. Nothing negative should be in the ad. Ads will not be run one week before the Election Day. Each candidate will get equal placement for the advertisement.

Letters to the Editor Policy

Letters to the editor are welcome at the Sewanee Mountain Messenger and are a vital part of our community's conversation. Letters need to be no longer than 250 words and may be edited for space and clarity. We make exceptions from time to time, but these are our general guidelines. Letters and/or their author must have some relationship to our community. We do not accept letters on national topics from individuals who live outside our print circulation area. Please include your name, address and a daytime telephone number with your letter. You may mail it to us at Sewanee Mountain Messenger, P.O. Box 296, Sewanee, TN 37375, come by our office, 418 St. Mary's Ln., or send your email to <news@sewaneemessenger.com>.

The deadline for political letters regarding issues or candidates is one week before Election Day. We strive to print all letters we receive, but publication is not guaranteed. Letters should be factually accurate and reflect the original thoughts of a single writer. Readers are permitted one letter per race. Requests for specific print dates will not be honored. Letters that are deemed unsuitable for publication shall not be printed elsewhere in the newspaper, including as a paid advertisement.

Deadlines

News deadlines are 5 p.m. on Tuesday. Reserving ad space deadline is 5 p.m. on Monday. The ad or copy for the ad must be received by 10 a.m. on Tuesday. The Messenger is printed on Friday.

October

O hushed October morning mild, Thy leaves have ripened to the fall; To-morrow's wind, if it be wild, Should waste them all. The crows above the forest call; To-morrow they may form and go. O hushed October morning mild, Begin the hours of this day slow, Make the day seem to us less brief. Hearts not averse to being beguiled, Beguile us in the way you know; Release one leaf at break of day; At noon release another leaf; One from our trees, one far away; Retard the sun with gentle mist; Enchant the land with amethyst. Slow, slow! For the grapes' sake, if they were all, Whose leaves already are burnt with frost, Whose clustered fruit must else be lost-For the grapes' sake along the wall. --Robert Frost, October

PILATES FOR GOLFER AND TENNIS PLAYERS (ATHLETES)

Fridays at 9 a.m., at the American Legion in Sewanee

Want to take a few strokes off your game? Hit the ball farther and more accurately with less injury risk? Pilates for golfers and tennis players centers around the center line of movement in the body much like a golf swing or the ground strokes in tennis. The core strength that is gained through Pilates aids in hip rotation, range of motion, and spinal stability. Increases in stability and rotation lead to a more powerful and accurate swing or stroke!

Watch your game improve in power, control, and flexibility! The Legion allows for plenty of social distancing room and all windows are open for a continuous flow of fresh air. Rigorous sanitation is observed. Classes are also simulcast on Zoom. Contact for the link.

Cost is $12 per single class or $10 per class if purchased in monthly blocks.

For more info: www.bodyworksyouniversity.com call or text Liza Sweeting, 615-974-5901 or Kim Butters 423-322-1443
