

Tom Sawyer Comes to SAS Stage

Mischievousness comes to stage this weekend, as the St. Andrew's-Sewanee Players present "The Adventures of Tom Sawyer," Friday-Sunday, Oct. 12-14, at McCrory Hall for the Performing Arts on the St. Andrew's-Sewanee campus. Friday and Saturday nights' performances begin at 7 p.m., and Sunday's matinee is at 4 p.m.

Close to 40 students are involved in the production, including veteran SAS players Lauren Baulch (Huckleberry Finn), Karen Bjerre (Tom Sawyer), Lucas Crossland (Injun Joe) and Carter Demartini (Judge Thatcher). The script was adapted by John Holleman and Emma Clare Holleman. The show is directed by John Holleman and Robie Jackson.

The SAS theatre program will perform at the prestigious 2013 Fringe Festival in Edinburgh, Scotland. To help raise funds for this tremendous opportunity, SAS Players Productions will raise ticket prices this year to $20 for adults and $10 for children. However, if the ticket price is outside a family's budget, the SAS Players will accept what a family can donate. Robie Jackson promises, "We never want to turn anyone away—ever." Tickets are available at the door.

Other fund-raising events will be scheduled throughout the school year. To learn more, email Jackson at <rjackson@sasweb.org> or call (615) 554-2860.

School Board Revises Bid Package for SES Renovation

by K. G. Beavers, Messenger Staff Writer

The Franklin County school board met in a regular session on Oct. 8. Discussion included the renovation bids for Sewanee Elementary School and a district Race to the Top grant application.

After discussing a number of alternatives about the SES renovation, the board decided to remove the water-harvesting system from the bid and rebid the project with a metal roof. New bids will be ready by the work session on Nov. 5. "We are interested in the metal roof, and the rain water harvester is not cost-efficient," said Chris McDonough, school board member. "We all agree we must repair Sewanee Elementary. Since we are displacing water from a county property to property on the Domain, we need to talk with the Domain manager and make sure what we are doing is correct," he said.

"In light of the large-scale construction project going on at the Sewanee golf course and what happened with water runoff into Shakerag Hollow, we need to have that conversation with the Domain manager," said McDonough.

The plans for the water runoff at SES is to have the water discharged slowly back into the natural water table on the playground side of the building. The rest of the water runoff will be taken underground to the back part of the site towards the creek.

The school board budget will have to be amended by moving money from the fund balance to a budget line item. The county commission will also have to approve the money being moved from the fund balance.

In another matter, Director of Schools Rebecca Sharber reported that the school system is in the process of applying for a district Race to the Top grant from the U.S. Department of Education. Even if the Franklin County system does not receive the grant, she said, the process of writing the proposal has been helpful for long-range planning goals.

"This grant is a long shot, but we have to try," said Sharber.

In the grant application, Franklin County has three goals. One is to hire and train teachers to be a professional learning community. With the grant money, Franklin County would build a science, technology, engineering and math (STEM) community center. The third goal would be to extend the reach of the best Franklin County teachers to the STEM center. The grant

Civic Association Sets 2013 Community Chest Goal at $90,000

by Leslie Lytle, Messenger Staff Writer

The Sewanee Civic Association voted at its Oct. 3 meeting to set the 2013 Community Chest goal at $90,000.

More than 40 people attended the dinner meeting at the Sewanee Inn. In setting the goal for the Community Chest, the membership approved funding for 25 organizations and initiatives in Sewanee and surrounding communities, assuming the full goal amount is met. The Community Chest board prepared the budget after evaluating the applications. Vice President Susan Holmes said the board was leading the fund drive this year, rather than appointed chairs and co-chairs, as in the past. The board will solicit gifts from past contributors and will extend the request for donations via social media, the Sewanee Classifieds email list and the Sewanee Mountain Messenger. New this year will be a mailing to all 37375 and 37383 zip-code residents asking for donations. Also new this year, contributors may donate through PayPal. (Go to the PayPal website, select "transfer," then "send someone money," and when prompted, enter the email address <sewaneecommunitychest@gmail.com>.)

At the meeting, members also discussed the option of charging fees for the Sewanee Classifieds email that the Civic Association administers. The membership approved charging non-Civic Association members a $5 annual fee for the Sewanee Classifieds beginning in January 2013.

Sewanee Classifieds was created last May from a merger between the University Classifieds and the community email electronic mailing list; the combined list now has 1,020 members. The Civic Association agreed to administer the new Sewanee Classifieds, with past Civic Association president Elizabeth Clark Duncan acting as manager. The web service GroupSpaces hosts the account at a cost of $200 annually. Sewanee Classifieds users will be able to pay the fee at the GroupSpaces website.

The "announcements only" option for Sewanee Classifieds will continue to be free, since only public service announcements and safety bulletins are sent.

Holmes pointed out that since Civic Association annual dues are only $5, and the Sewanee Classifieds fee is waived for Civic Association members, Sewanee Classifieds users might want to consider joining the Civic Association. The organization plans to use revenue from Sewanee Classifieds to pay for board insurance and to help fund the Community Chest and future Civic Association projects.

Kim Seavey was elected secretary of the Civic Association, replacing Louise Irwin, who asked to step down.

Bishop Howard of Florida Elected Chancellor

The Rt. Rev. Samuel Johnson (John) Howard, Bishop of the Diocese of Florida, was elected the 24th chancellor of Sewanee: the University of the South at the Oct. 9 meeting of the University's board of trustees. Howard succeeds the Rt. Rev. J. Neil Alexander, who served as chancellor from October 2009 through July 2012. Alexander stepped down to become dean of the School of Theology.

Howard, a native of North Carolina, was elected bishop coadjutor of the Episcopal Diocese of Florida and was consecrated in 2003. He was ordained as bishop of the diocese in January 2004. He has been a member of Sewanee's board of trustees since 2004 and the board of regents since 2007, and received an honorary degree from the University in 2004.

Howard previously served as vicar of Trinity Church Wall Street in New York City. Active in church and community activities, Howard served as president of John Heuss House, a homeless shelter in Manhattan, and as a board member of St. Margaret's House, which furnishes housing for the elderly and mobility-impaired.

He was one of the leaders of the congregation and staff of Trinity Church Wall Street and St. Paul's Chapel in the wake of the events of Sept. 11, 2001. He assumed a leadership role in the city, speaking on a variety of issues regarding redevelopment of the World Trade Center site, transportation and public services.

Prior to moving to New York, Howard served in Charleston, S.C., and in Charlotte, N.C. Howard graduated from Virginia Theological Seminary and was ordained in 1989. He practiced law before attending seminary, serving as an assistant U.S. attorney and federal public defender for the Eastern District of North Carolina. He also served as an attorney on the staff of the U.S. Senate Commerce Committee.

In addition to being an alumnus of Virginia Theological Seminary, he is a graduate of Williams College and of the Law School of Wake Forest University.

The chancellor is elected from the bishops of the University's owning dioceses for a term of six years. The chancellor is president, ex officio, of the board of trustees and a member of the board of regents.

The Rt. Rev. Samuel Johnson Howard,

More than 200 students, parents and friends walked to Sewanee Elementary School on Oct. 3, in conjunction with International Walk to School Day. The event began at the University Book and Supply Store, and the walkers made their way to school.

PEACE POLE THANKS

To the Editor:

On Oct. 5, the students of Sewanee Elementary School held the annual Peace Pole ceremony. What a delight it was to share this event with so many community members! Thank you to the Cumberland Center for Justice and Peace for initiating this ceremony; the school is pleased to continue this tradition.

Special thanks also goes to the families of the fourth-grade students who researched various aspects of Denmark and learned to speak the phrase "May peace prevail on earth" in Danish. Thank you also to Pia Bjerre and Karen Bjerre of St. Andrew's-Sewanee School for helping the students learn the correct pronunciation.

Events such as this require the coordination of many groups and individuals. What a tribute it is to our community that such cooperation is commonplace and happens with ease!

On behalf of the entire school, I extend sincere wishes to our community for a peaceful day today and always.

Kathryn Bruce
Librarian

Sewanee Elementary School ■

Curbside Recycling Next Friday

Residential curbside recycling pickup in Sewanee is on the first and third Friday of each month. Friday, Oct. 19, will be a pickup day.

Recyclable materials must be separated by type and placed in blue bags by the side of the road no later than 7:30 a.m. Please do not put out general household trash on this day. Blue bags may be picked up in the University Lease Office, 110 Carnegie Hall, at the Physical Plant Services administrative office on Alabama Avenue or at the PPS warehouse on Georgia Avenue.

Area Police Report

On Oct. 8, at approximately 12:30 p.m., personnel from the Franklin County Sheriff's Office, in conjunction with agents from the 12th Judicial Task Force, Tennessee Highway Patrol and the Grundy County Sheriff's Office conducted a search on Big Pond Road in Grundy County. The search resulted in law enforcement recovering a stolen motorcycle, four-wheeler and a Stihl chainsaw. Also discovered during the search were five marijuana plants with a street value of approximately $4,000 and the components of a working methamphetamine lab and meth paraphernalia. Law enforcement personnel also recovered 12 firearms from the scene.

Sgt. Chris Guess of the Franklin County sheriff's office said, "There is an ongoing investigation concerning this case and future criminal charges are anticipated."

New Messenger Emails

In an effort to make the Sewanee Mountain Messenger more user-friendly, we are in the process of updating a number of things, including email addresses and the website. The process is not complete, and we appreciate your patience as we fine-tune.

The new email address for Laura Willis, the editor, is <news@sewaneemessenger.com>.

Display advertising emails should now be directed to Janet Graham at <ads@sewaneemessenger.com>.

Classified ads, circulation and billing questions or concerns should be sent to April Minkler at <classifieds@sewaneemessenger.com>.

Kiki Beavers will continue to gather sports news at <sports@sewaneemessenger.com>.

Anything that does not fall into one of the categories mentioned above should be sent to <info@sewaneemessenger.com>.

Mail sent to the old addresses will be forwarded, but we encourage you to note the changes and update your address book if you correspond on a regular basis.

Correction

The Oct. 5 issue contained a news story about the Franklin County School Board meeting and the proposed water harvesting system for the Sewanee Elementary renovation project.

In that article, Steve Morris, representing the firm of Kaatz, Binkley, Jones & Morris (KBJM) Architects, Inc., said, "The real purpose of this water system is to relieve some of the water drainage coming into the building."

David Brown with KBJM Architects has since reported that the water harvesting system is a "green solution" to capture water for irrigation purposes and deleting it from the project will not impact the drainage at Sewanee Elementary. We regret the error.

Sewanee Herbarium Fall Events

Fiery Gizzard

Sun., Oct. 21, 1:30 p.m., with Nathan Bourne—Bourne, a Sewanee grad, is working in a post-baccalaureate position in the herbarium this semester and will lead a walk through Fiery Gizzard, South Cumberland State Park. Meet at the pavilion at Grundy Forest for this two-hour moderate to strenuous walk. For directions, contact the Park office at (931) 924-2980.

Wear appropriate shoes on this walk. Risks involved in hiking include physical exertion, rough terrain, forces of nature, and other hazards not present in everyday life. Picking flowers and digging plants are prohibited in all natural areas.

Watercolor Workshop

Sun., Oct. 21, 1:30-4:30 p.m., with Margaret Patten Smith—This workshop led by Chattanooga watercolorist Margaret Patten Smith gives people of all ability levels an opportunity to try their hand at capturing some of autumn’s beauty in watercolors. Participants are invited to bring botanical or other natural objects to paint, or choose from a variety provided. Bring your own painting materials and meet in the herbarium on the first floor of Spencer Hall. The workshop is free, but space is limited, so reservations are necessary (see below).

Nature Journaling

9 -11 a.m. Thursdays, with Mary Priestley—The nature journaling group that has been meeting throughout the summer will continue into the fall. The group will meet at the gazebo in Abbo’s Alley (near the entrance from South Carolina Avenue) as long as the weather permits, then move into the herbarium.

For more information on any of the above-mentioned programs, call the herbarium at 598-3346 or go to its website, <http://lal.sewanee.edu/herbarium>.

New State Program Allows Voters to Honor Military

Voting and paying tribute to the nation's active and retired armed services personnel are two of the most patriotic acts citizens can perform, according to Tennessee Secretary of State Tre Hargett. A new program launched by the secretary of state's office this week allows people to tie the two together.

Hargett announced the "Tennessee Honor Vote" program, which will provide citizens with an opportunity to dedicate their votes in the upcoming election to the servicemen and servicewomen of their choice.

A new page has been developed on the Secretary of State's website where people may sign up and dedicate a personal message to one or more active or retired members of the armed forces.

Once the messages have been reviewed, they will be posted online. Each participant in the program will receive an "Honor Vote" button and a letter of appreciation from Hargett. The program will begin with dedications for the upcoming Nov. 6 election, but it will continue for future elections, as well.

"Members of our armed services fight and sometimes make the ultimate sacrifice to protect our freedoms," Secretary Hargett said. "Their service highlights how important it is for us to exercise our constitutional right to vote. I encourage Tennesseans to participate in this program, which is absolutely free of charge. It only takes a few minutes to sign up and prepare a message. And those messages to our active military and veterans may mean more to them than we'll ever realize."

"More than 27,000 members of the Tennessee National Guard have deployed since 9/11, making Tennessee the fourth largest National Guard state for deployments," according to state records. To participate in the program, go to <www.GoVoteTN.com/honor> or call (877) 850-4959.

October Is Fire Safety Month

October is Fire Prevention Month, and the state fire marshal's office is launching an effort to help local communities learn and address the factors that too frequently contribute to fires that take the lives of Tennesseans.

"For too many years, Tennessee has occupied an undesirable ranking in the country for fire deaths. The state fire marshal's office is on a mission to change that," State Fire Marshal Julie Mix McPeak said.

"We want Tennesseans to be aware of risks in the home that can lead to fatal fires. For example, falling asleep while smoking in bed or in a comfortable chair remains a major cause of fire deaths in Tennessee," McPeak said. "Having operable smoke alarms in the home makes a significant difference in enabling someone to escape a burning home."

Other practices that can quickly become hazardous are: keeping space heaters too close to bedding or drapes; burning candles or incense near flammable materials; using frayed cables, extension cords or holiday lighting sets and overloading wall outlets and surge protectors; improperly storing or disposing of chemicals; and leaving food on the stove unattended when frying or grilling.

McPeak urges Tennessee families to practice their home escape plan this month. Residents also should replace smoke alarms' batteries when adjusting clocks for daylight saving time on Nov. 4.

For more information, download the state fire marshal's office fire safety home checklist at <http://tn.gov/commerce/sfm/fsk/documents/checklist.pdf>.

Church News

All Saints' Chapel

There will be no 11 a.m. Holy Eucharist or Growing in Grace on Sunday, Oct. 14, and no daily services on Monday and Tuesday, Oct. 15-16, due to fall break.

Catechumenate continues at 7 p.m., Wednesday, Oct. 17 at 7 p.m. in the Bairnwick Women's Center.

Chaplain Tom Macfie will present "Our Victories and Defeats: The Confession of Peter" over dessert and coffee. Small groups then gather to discuss the presentation.

proposal is due at the end of this month and will be awarded in December to between 15 and 25 school districts.

The Department of Education expects to make four-year awards ranging from $5 million to $40 million to those districts "that have the leadership and vision to implement the strategies, structures and systems needed to implement personalized, student-focused approaches to learning and teaching that will produce excellence and ensure equity for all students."

For more information, go to <<http://www2.ed.gov/programs/racetothetop-district/index.html>>.

In order to help the longrange planning with the county commission and county departments, Richard Stewart, the mayor of Franklin County, has appointed a commissioner to each of the departments. This was done to help the commissioners better understand the departments' budgetary processes. Commissioner Sherwood Ebey has been assigned to the school board.

Lease Committee Sept. Report

At the Sept. 19 meeting of the Lease Committee, the following agenda items were approved: August minutes; request to transfer Lease No. 880 (Cammack) located at 115 North Carolina Ave. to Paul Todd and Julie Nicks; request to transfer Lease No. 621 (Natal) located at 231 North Carolina Ave. to Katherine Mulloy (also approved were exterior colors and roof material); request to transfer Lease No. 756 (Mignery) located at 32 Abbott Martin Lane to Kathryn and Ronald Henslee; request from Otey to modify its building plan by removing the cupola and defer the covered walkways in front of the building; and request from Bubba and Courtney Smith for Lot #44 located on John Allin Drive in Wiggins Creek II, along with approval of house plan and materials, pending site plan approval from the Domain manager.

The next meeting is scheduled for Oct. 17. Leaseholds offered for sale, current policies, meeting dates, and other leasehold information are available at <www.sewanee.edu/leases> or by calling the lease office at 598-1998.

DuBose Lectures and Seminary Alumni Events

Thomas Long, Bandy Professor of Preaching and coordinator of the initiative in religious practices and practical theology at Emory University's Candler School of Theology, is the featured lecturer for the 2012 DuBose Lectures at the School of Theology, Oct. 31–Nov. 2.

In 1996, Long was named one of the 12 most effective preachers in the English-speaking world. Preaching magazine named his book "Witness of Preaching," one of the 25 most influential books on preaching in the past 25 years.

Highlights of this year's DuBose Lectures and alumni gathering include: a reception hosted by Education for Ministry to introduce the EfM Alumni/ae Association; continuing education workshops on "New Generation Latinos" and "Being a Clergy Spouse: Calling, Job or Annoyance;" a question-and-answer session with the Rt. Rev. Neil Alexander, dean of the School of Theology; Holy Eucharist in Spanish; dedication of a new icon in the Chapel of the Apostles, and the All Saints' Day service with Long as the guest preacher.

For a more detailed schedule or to register for events, go to <<http://theology.sewanee.edu/academics/2012-dubose-lectures>>.

Utility Scam Reaches Area

A scam that has been sweeping across the United States since this summer has made its way to at least one Duck River Electric Membership Corporation (DREMC) member. The scam originates with a criminal informing a consumer that President Obama has authorized the federal government to create a program that will pay a person's electric bill. Then the criminal states that the consumer must provide personal information such as their social security number or bank information to process the payment. Reports on the method of luring a consumer to offer personal information in exchange for assistance in paying their electric bill have ranged from telephone to social media to email.

DREMC urges its members to take precautions in protecting their personal information. Anyone receiving a request for personal information related to their electric service, such as account number, social security number or bank information should hang up the phone and call their local DREMC office.

DREMC offers the following tips. Members should initiate a phone call to DREMC by using a published phone number when sensitive information is being shared. DREMC employees request entry into a home only in response to a request for service. If a request for service has not been scheduled, do not allow the person to enter your home. When an employee does come in response to a service call, check identification and make sure the service vehicle is clearly marked with the DREMC logo. For more information please contact Duck River EMC by calling (931) 684-4621 or going to <www.dremc.com>.

Senior Center News

Flu Shots Still Available

A flu shot clinic will be set up at the center from 10 a.m. until noon on Friday, Oct. 19. CVS Pharmacy in Monteagle will be sponsoring the clinic; Doug Dye will give the shots. Please bring your Medicare card.

All out-of-date prescriptions or medicines no longer being used may be brought in at the same time. An officer of the Sewanee police department will be available to accept them.

Covered-Dish Luncheon Oct. 20

A covered-dish luncheon will be held at noon, Saturday, Oct. 20. College students who went to St. Catherine's Island this past summer will present the program.

Dishwashers Needed!

The Sewanee Senior Center needs volunteers to help wash dishes on Tuesdays and Thursdays. If you can help, please call 598-0771 and leave your name and phone number. Someone will get back to you as quickly as possible.

Senior Menus

The Sewanee Senior Center serves lunch at noon Monday through Friday. The suggested donation is $3 ($0 or older) or $5 (under 50). Please call by 10:30 a.m. to order lunch. This week's menus are:

- Oct. 15: Turkey, gravy, sweet potatoes, broccoli casserole, roll, dessert.
- Oct. 16: Barbecue pork sandwich, fries, slaw, dessert.
- Oct. 17: Meatloaf, fried okra, pinto beans, cornbread, dessert.
- Oct. 18: Potato soup, peaches, cottage cheese, cornbread, dessert.
- Oct. 19: Steak, gravy, mashed potatoes, green peas, roll, dessert.

Menus may vary.

The center is located at 5 Ball Park Rd. (behind the Sewanee Market). To reserve a meal or for more information, call the center at 598-0771.

Energy Aid Available

The South Central Human Resource Agency is accepting applications for low-income home energy assistance in Franklin County.

Assistance is provided through direct energy payments to the energy provider for households with income below 150 percent of the federal income guideline. Proof of the total household income for the past eight weeks is required to determine eligibility. The Social Security card for each household member must be provided, along with a current energy bill.

Entrepreneurship Week in Sewanee Oct. 22-25

Sewanee's first-ever Entrepreneurship Week is set for Oct. 22-25. Events include a lecture by the 2012 Humphreys Entrepreneur-in-Residence, Brian Reynolds, offered in collaboration with the philosophy department, an Entrepreneurial Challenge and a series of presentations on entrepreneurial success.

The activities are sponsored by the Babson Center for Global Commerce. The events begin at 6:30 p.m., Monday, Oct. 22, with a presentation on elements of entrepreneurial success by Cliff Oxford, founder of Atlanta's Oxford Center for Entrepreneurs.

On Tuesday, Oct. 23, professor Yasmeen Mohiuddin, founder of Sewanee's Social Entrepreneurship Education program, will discuss principles and developments in social entrepreneurship at 12:15 p.m., in the Bishop's Common.

Reynolds (C'90), a pioneer in the development of computer gaming who now is the chief designer for Zynga, (FarmVille, CityVille and FrontierVille), will speak at 4:30 p.m., Tuesday, Oct. 23, about "Gaming Your Way to the Top." This lecture will be at McCrory Hall on the St. Andrew's-Sewanee School campus and will be followed by a reception. At 6:30 p.m. on Tuesday, Dirk Brown, CEO of Pandoodle and director of the Faber Entrepreneurship Center at the University of South Carolina, will discuss intellectual property strategies for new ventures.

On Wednesday, Oct. 24, students will participate in the inaugural Sewanee Entrepreneurial Challenge by presenting their business plan proposals. Top-ranked teams are eligible for cash prizes, and the winning team will have the option of a grant with up to $5,000 to fund development of their proposal. The Babson Center is also sponsoring an entrepreneurial challenge for St. Andrew's-Sewanee School students.

At 12:15 p.m., Thursday, Oct. 25, Ashley Logsdon (C'07) and Arden Grady (C'09) will discuss start-up business principles at McClurg Dining Hall. Logsdon launched a jewelry company after graduation, while Grady manages entrepreneurship programs for the Stanford University Graduate School of Business.

For the full schedule of events, go to <<http://business.sewanee.edu/news/sewanees-inaugural-entrepreneurship-week-opens-october-22>>. The Humphreys Entrepreneur-in-Residence series is supported by a generous gift from David (C'79) and Debra Humphreys.

Conference on Economic & Community Development

The 59th annual Governor's Conference on Economic and Community Development (ECD) will be Thursday and Friday, Oct. 18-19, at the Renaissance Hotel in Nashville.

The conference will focus on thinking globally in terms of economic development and the impact that will have locally in Tennessee communities.

"In today's global economy, it's important to understand that economic development is no longer a competition amongst neighboring states but with countries around the world," Bill Hagerty, ECD commissioner, said. "Governor Haslam and I look forward to another successful conference this year and hope that attendees are inspired by fresh ideas, resources and initiatives that can make their community more competitive in this global race for new investments."

The two-day conference includes multiple educational sessions with the latest on economic development topics including entrepreneurship, exporting, incentives, research and development, site certification, online marketing, workforce development, agribusiness and more.

Sewanee Union Theatre This Week

Friday–Saturday, Oct. 12–Oct. 13, 7:30 p.m.

Brave

Rated PG • 100 minutes • $3

Set in Scotland in a rugged and mythical time, “Brave” features Merida, an aspiring archer and impetuous daughter of royalty. Merida makes a reckless choice that unleashes unintended peril and forces her to spring into action to set things right. This animated film, a co-production of Pixar and Disney, features the excellent voices of Emma Thompson, Billy Connolly, Robbie Coltrane and Kelly Macdonald. My favorite reviewer wrote, “The good news is that the kids will probably love it, and the bad news is that parents will be disappointed if they’re hoping for another Pixar groundbreaker.” Rated PG for some scary action and rude humor.

Cinema Guild

Wednesday, Oct. 17, 7:30 p.m.

Milk

R • 128 minutes • Free

Sean Penn won an Academy Award for his portrayal of Harvey Milk in this bio-pic about the first openly gay elected official. “Milk” the movie is a powerful portrayal of the struggles that BGLTs had in the 1970s. Using real interviews taped by Milk, blended with news footage from the period, the movie works both as a compelling narrative, as well as a lesson about how far our country has come in the area of gender and sexual orientation. Rated R for language, some sexual content and brief violence.

Sewanee Union Theatre Next Week

Thursday–Sunday, Oct. 18–Oct. 21, 7:30 p.m.

Moonrise Kingdom

Rated PG-13 • 94 minutes • $3

Wes Anderson has made another delightful, quirky movie, “Moonrise Kingdom,” set in the mid-1960s about two 12-year-olds who fall in love. There are adults in the film (Bill Murray, Edward Norton, Francis McDormand, Bruce Willis), but the focus is on the two very precious children. Each of them is trying to run away from something, perhaps growing up, and together they find adventure and wonder. With gorgeous cinematography, terrific music and period-perfect accents, “Moonrise Kingdom” is enchanting. Rated PG-13 for sexual content and smoking. —LW

IONA Readings Continue

IONA: Art Sanctuary's Autumn Assembly of Authors continues with readings by local authors. At 6:30 p.m., today, Oct. 12, Helen Stapleton, Waring McCrady and David Haskell will share their work. The public is welcome; all events are free, parking is available, and refreshments are served.

Stapleton is the secretary of the Franklin County Democratic Party. She will offer some insights into her attendance at the Democratic National Convention.

McCrady has taught French in the college for 50 years. He will read from an early 17th-century baroque oratory that was published in a two-volume collection of historic sermons.

Haskell's work integrates scientific and contemplative studies of the natural world. In addition to numerous scientific articles, he has published essays and poems about science and nature. In 2012, Viking published “The Forest Unseen: A Year's Watch in Nature.”

On Friday, Oct. 19, at 6:30 p.m., the readers will be Peter Trenchi and Virginia Craighill. Concluding this season's presentations will be poet Richard Tillinghast reading at 4 p.m., Friday, Oct. 26, during the viewing of mandala watercolor paintings by Ginny Deck Runge.

IONA: Art Sanctuary, founded by Sewanee artist Ed Carlos, exists “to offer a place for writers and artists to share their creative work with each other and the community, and our emphasis is the source: creativity and spirituality.”

IONA: Art Sanctuary is located at 630 Garnertown Road in Sewanee.

Local Art Selected for Museum

Claire Reishman's “Porcelain Bowl,” now on display in the 2012 TACA Biennial Exhibition, has been chosen to be purchased by the Tennessee State Museum in Nashville. The piece is a small bowl, glazed with a shino glaze and decorated with three simple lines created with a deer-tail brush. The bowl is fired in a “reduction” atmosphere that produces carbon trapping within the glaze itself.

“It is an honor to be a part of the group of Tennessee artists whose work will be on permanent display in the museum,” Reishman said. Local artist Tom Church also had a piece chosen for purchase, “Vulcan's Crucible,” that was also on display at the TACA Biennial.

Reishman exhibits her work at the Lemon Fair and at her own studio on Curlicue Road. Church's work can be seen at Local's. Both Reishman and Church are part of the CAST Studio Tour held during the first weekend in December in Sewanee.

Angel Festival Oct. 20

The second annual Sewanee Angel Festival will be at 7 p.m., Saturday, Oct. 20, at the Angel Park in downtown Sewanee. The village will transform into a musical venue with vendors, artists, local craftsman plus great food and drink.

Grammy Award-winning singer Ashley Cleveland will be headlining the evening's entertainment, along with Towson Engsberg & Friends.

Donations to the Sewanee Angel Park will be matched by an anonymous donor. Brick purchases ($75) are included in the matching gift offer.

Personalized bricks can be purchased online at <www.sewanee.biz>, or visit businesses in Sewanee and pick up an order form. Checks may be mailed to the Sewanee Business Alliance, P.O. Box 182, Sewanee, TN 37375. For more information contact John Goodson of the Sewanee Business Alliance at 968-1127.

SSMF Seeks New Venues

The Sewanee Summer Music Festival invites ideas for community concerts for the 2013 season.

Throughout the 2012 season of the festival, students and faculty conducted seven concerts in venues such as Monteagle, Cowan, Beersheba Springs and Sewanee. These community events spread arts awareness and contribute toward the mission of the SSMF.

A formal process for receiving, reviewing and implementing community ideas for special concerts has been created for the 2013 season.

During October and November, the SSMF staff will be reviewing all ideas for the upcoming season. Events ranging from dinner gatherings to performances in unusual venues will be considered. The more creative and community-oriented the proposal, the more likely it is to be chosen. The SSMF staff wants community input on how it can be involved in a range of summer activities.

People who submit proposals will be contacted to discuss the possibility of participation. For events free to the community, SSMF asks that organizers provide funds for transportation of the students. For private events or gatherings, SSMF requests that the host donate a sum to benefit the student musicians and faculty.

To submit an idea, got to <www.sewaneemusicfestival.org/support-ssmf/community-engagement>.

Gladstone Holds Sewanee Book Signing

Fantasy novelist Max Gladstone will be signing his debut book, "Three Parts Dead," at 10 a.m., Saturday, Oct. 20, at the University of the South Book and Supply Store.

Gladstone is a Sewanee native. He is a graduate of St. Andrew's-Sewanee School and Yale University. He is the son of Burki and Tom Gladstone.

In "Three Parts Dead," Gladstone creates a tale of intrigue, a murdered god and necromancy set in an urban alternate reality.

The book has received rave reviews, including one from Publisher's Weekly: "The combination of legal thriller and steam-powered fantasy may seem improbable, but Gladstone makes it work with an appealing cast and a setting rich with imaginative details ... The story remains suspenseful and fast-paced throughout."

Gladstone lives in Sommerville, Mass.

Orchestra & Jazz Band Concert

The Sewanee Symphony Orchestra, under the direction of Joseph Lee, and the University Jazz Band, under the direction of Prakash Wright, will present their first concert of the academic year at 7 p.m., Saturday, Oct. 20, in Guerry Hall.

This concert, "The Music of Film," will feature music made famous by great movies. The Jazz Band will open the program and will play selections of "Somewhere Over the Rainbow" and "My Favorite Things."

The Sewanee Symphony Orchestra will present selections from "Pirates of the Caribbean," "Harry Potter and the Sorcerer's Stone," and "Schindler's List." Selections from "Schindler's List" by composer John Williams will feature violinist Katherine Lehman.

This concert is free and open to the public.

Dress-Up Fun for Pets

The Franklin County Humane Society will be taking pictures of pets in their Halloween costumes at Tractor Supply in Winchester to raise money for Animal Harbor.

A professional photographer will take pictures 10 a.m.-4 p.m., Saturday, Oct. 13, and 1-4 p.m., Sunday, Oct. 14. There will be costumes available for pets who don't have their own. Pet owners can have photos made without costumes.

All proceeds from this event will be used to care for the homeless pets at Animal Harbor.

Make Plans to See the Nutcracker: A Yuletide Ballet

"The Nutcracker: A Yuletide Ballet" will be performed in Sewanee at 2:30 p.m. and 7 p.m., Saturday, Nov. 17, in Guerry Auditorium. This event is produced by Alabama Youth Ballet Theatre and AYB-Sewanee Dance Conservatory under the direction of David Herriott.

"The Nutcracker, A Yuletide Ballet" will include local dancers from the AYB-Sewanee Dance Conservatory who range in age from 7-year-olds to high school age and beyond, including some University students and staff.

In Act I, the local dancers will take all the roles in the party scene, including all the children and parents at the Christmas party; local dancers will also be the mice in the battle scene. In Act II, more local dancers will perform the Spanish Dance and Shepherd Scene, complete with sheep and shepherdesses. The remainder of the roles will be performed by dancers from Huntsville who are members of Alabama Youth Ballet Theatre.

BOOKMARKED

A Column for Young Adult Readers and Adults Who Appreciate The Genre
by Margaret Stephens

Easy Readers

When my son's girlfriend cleaned out her closet recently, I inherited some of her castoffs. (And now you know more than you need to about the way I shop.)

My favorite is a lime-green T-shirt she made that reads, "There Are 10 Types of People" on the front.

On the back: "Those Who Get it, and Those Who Don't."

I struggled with that for days before I gave up and asked her what it meant.

Hint: one of her majors was computer science. (Answer below.)

My brain felt the same way—challenged with a language that looks familiar but really isn't—when confronted with Gertrude Stein's poetry in the Course Era MOOC (Massive Open Online Course) class in Modern and Contemporary Poetry that my daughter and I are taking.

Try it for yourself:

Water Raining

Water astonishing and difficult altogether makes a meadow and a stroke.

That's it. The whole poem.

It took me most of my mile-long swim this morning before I started to appreciate the watery rhythm of the first half of the poem (those four-syllable repetitions: astonishing/and difficult/altogether.)

It's going to take several more miles before I'll be able to sort through what it is that Stein is saying, since she was one of the Picasso-era poets determined to remake the way we understand and use words. To jolt us to "see" them in a new way, somewhat as painters of the time were doing with visual images. She challenges us to not assume anything about what words mean. To not jump to conclusions. To, well, slow down, stop and think.

This is exactly what most of us prefer not to have happen. I like sentences that flow along and let me restfully float right along with them. Reading this kind of poetry is work. A lot like swimming laps.

Yet that's what writing, good writing, should do: make us work a little. Get us thinking and questioning not just the ideas, but the ways the ideas are presented. Poetry won't let you skim it the way you do a newspaper (though never this one!) or a web page, looking for information or the one right answer. Poetry won't let you skip words the way you might in a blockbuster novel where you already know where the author is going, anyway. You have to stop and think, look up words, ponder alternate definitions and their subtle connotations.

Before you dismiss all this as high-falutin' fluff, let me remind you that in the next weeks we'll be choosing the man who will become our nation's leader, handing him more power than just about anybody in the world. The skill developed in reading poetry is one we all really need right now as we try to decipher not just what our political candidates are saying, but how (and therefore why).

We'd do well not to assume that the words our politicians use convey what we think they do. You're likely too young to remember the famous line attributed to President Nixon: "I know you believe you understand what you think I said, but I'm not sure you realize that what you heard is not what I meant."

Poets want you to dig deeply into their words. Politicians probably don't. Which is all the more reason to know how to. If we're to vote intelligently—choose for ourselves, that is—and not let a party line choose for us, we need to know how to examine the meaning behind some of those fulsome phrases. Reading poetry is the perfect training for this work.

Though poets may not appreciate that I'm advising you to read poetry because of its utilitarian value. "A poem should not mean/But be," says Archibald MacLeish.

Well, read it for whatever reason. The Poetry Foundation will email you a poem every day, as will the Writers' Almanac. The Kelly Writers' House at the University of Pennsylvania (the people, led by English professor Al Filreis, who offer our online class) provides wonderful podcasts (Google KWH/PennSound). And of course our own Messenger provides you a poem a week, thanks to Scott and Phoebe Bates.

Finding poetry is not what's going to take the work. But reading it is so worth the effort. Let me know what you discover!

You can reach me at <mgtstep@gmail.com>.

(The solution to the T-shirt puzzle: The front of the T-shirt refers to the mathematical language Base 2 or the Binary Code. Our usual calculations are in Base 10.)

For more information call Robin Mays at 967-3706.

Sewanee Joins Bonner Foundation Initiative

Sewanee was accepted earlier this year as one of nine schools to participate in the Bonner Foundation High Impact Initiative. Sewanee was already part of the Bonner Foundation network of "Bonner Leaders" schools; Bonner Leaders schools recruit students to participate in a program that includes a paid service internship in a local educational, government or non-profit agency. The High Impact Initiative is intended to create a national consortium of campus-community teams committed to developing the best practices of student engagement designed to foster citizen leaders.

Other colleges represented at a recent High Impact Initiative meeting were Allegheny College, Berea College, Berry College, Carson-Newman College, Saint Mary's College of California, Siena College, Stetson University, and Washburn University.

Sewanee's Bonner High Impact team consisted of the University's Bonner Program administrators, Jim Peterman and Robin Hille Michaels; community member Emily Partin, director of the Grundy County Schools Family Resource Center; Mary Beth Williams, assistant dean of students; Deborah McGrath, chair of the biology department and associate professor of environmental studies; Richard O'Connor, professor of anthropology; Will Watson, C'13, student representative on the college curriculum committee; and Gabrielle Spangenberg, C'14, intern in the Bonner Leader program.

Each campus-community team was charged with developing a strategic plan for improving community service opportunities. Sewanee's team developed a plan to pilot community engagement living-learning communities that would be associated with a new place-based seminar for freshmen expected to begin in the fall of 2013. These living-learning communities will take up a range of local issues that emerge from the freshman seminar.

St. Andrew's Sewanee School senior soccer players were honored at their last home game Oct 5. Katie Craighill (#1), Helen Wilson (#10) and Alex-Berner Coe (#9) are surrounded here by their families and SAS soccer coaches Fritsl Bulter and Molly Schaefer (far right).

Chikamaka Band Installs Officers

Chikamaka Band, an American Indian tribe as acknowledged by the Tennessee Commission of Indian Affairs in June 2010, installed new officers on Oct. 6 at the Grundy County Historical Museum. The Chikamaka Band people are descended from groups of American Indians, who came together resisting the encroachments of European-descended settlers. Their alliance, known as the Chickamauga Confederacy, was made up of people from the following American Indian groups: Chikamaka, Catawba, Cherokee, Chickasaw, Choctaw, Muscogee Creek, Delaware Indian, Mohawk nation, Natchez, Saponi and Shawnee. They have continued to reside in southeast Tennessee, northwest Georgia and northeast Alabama.

The new officers are principal chief, Tim King; vice-chief, Jennie Lowrie Cooley; and secretary, Nadene Moore. King, also known as Ozark, has served the community as constable and as an organizer of public events to draw interest to the area. Cooley has been the secretary of the Chikamaka Band for the past two years. She brings with her experience in dealing with tribal business, as well as dealing with local, county and state officials. Moore serves on the Tracy City Public Utility Water Board and has represented the tribe before county commissions, regional government authorities and Tennessee state senators and representatives.

For more information about the Chikamaka, go to <<http://www.chikamakaband.com>> or <<http://www.chikamaka.org>>.

Historical Group Seeks Nominees

The Tennessee Historical Commission is now accepting nominations for its Certificate of Merit Awards to honor individuals or groups that have worked to preserve Tennessee's cultural heritage during 2012. The deadline for submissions is Nov. 30.

"Although much of our work at the Tennessee Historical Commission focuses on efforts to preserve and to restore historic structures, we also want to recognize people for the work they do in the areas of publication, commemoration, and education to safeguard our history and heritage," said Patrick McIntyre, executive director of the Tennessee Historical Commission.

The awards recognize historic preservation projects, as well as work in the field of history. Award recipients will be honored in 2013.

To make a nomination for a Certificate of Merit Award, go to <www.tnhistoricalcommission.org>, email <angela.staggs@tn.gov> or by phoning (615) 532-1550.

SES Punt, Pass and Kick Winners

Sewanee Elementary PE teacher David Gilliam announced that several SES students earned ribbons in the National Football League Punt, Pass and Kick competition. Ribbons were awarded to first-, second-, and third-place finishers in each age group. Students who finished in first place in each group represent SES in the sectional competition held in Chattanooga in November.

Div. II-A Volleyball Tournament

The Lady Mountain Lion volleyball team lost to Knox Webb (25-6, 25-7, 25-12) and Ezell Harding Christian School (25-8, 25-19, 25-19) on Oct. 9 in the East/Middle Division II-A District Tournament.

The Lady Mountain Lions finished the season with a 15-11 record. Sam

Stine was selected to the All District team.

"I am proud of how far we came this season. We had two new middle hitters and two new outside hitters. It was great to watch our steady progress from July to October," said head coach Rob Zeitler.

SAS Volleyball Wins Two

The St. Andrew's-Sewanee varsity volleyball team defeated Marion County High School (25-22, 25-20 and 26-24), finishing the regular season with five straight wins on Oct. 4.

Rita Parris had her best match of the season, recording six kills; Sam Stine had six kills, two blocks and nine assists; Stella Parris had four kills; Emily Thomas had two kills; Aly Barry had 12 assists; Ashley Barry had four digs; and Madison Culpepper had nine digs.

On Oct. 8, the volleyball team defeated Mount Juliet Christian Academy in a TSSAA Division II-A East district match-up (22-25, 26-24, 25-9, 16-25 and 14-16).

SAS was down 14-12, when Culpepper served the next four points to get the win, serving three aces for the game. Stine had 27 kills, 13 assists, six digs and two aces; Culpepper had 17 digs; Aly Barry had 24 assists; R. Parris had eight kills; S. Parris had seven kills and three digs; Ashley Barry had four digs; and Thomas had three digs and two assists.

Goal Line Stand Sparks SAS Win

SAS defeated previously unbeaten Christian Community, 44-40, to spoil homecoming for the White House team. A goal line stand by the Mountain Lions in the final 30 seconds preserved a hard-fought victory on Oct. 5.

The teams were tied at halftime, 24-24. After trading scores through the fourth quarter, it came down to which team would have the ball and score last. After Levi Higgins raced 75 yards for a score to put the Mountain Lions up by four, Community took over and methodically drove the field and ran the clock. Facing a decisive fourth and goal at the five-yard line, a scrambling Christian Community quarterback was stopped on the one-foot line by Russell Mays. The Mountain Lions needed only a quarterback sneak to run out the clock and seal the victory.

Kendall Kinslow sparked the Mountain Lion offense, rushing for 150 yards and four touchdowns and throwing for 56 yards. Higgins rushed for 80 yards, while JR Clay rushed for 75 yards and a touchdown. Alex Tinsley caught four passes for 47 yards.

Clay, Tinsley and Josh Owens led the team in tackles and Michael Minton had a first-half safety. Tinashe Zimbwa consistently placed kickoffs in strategic spots, denying the speedy CC team the opportunity of hurting SAS on returns.

Women's Cross Country
Ansley McDurmon took first place in Sewanee's women's cross country meet Friday. Photo by Lyn Hutchinson

McDurmon is SAA Runner of the Week

The Southern Athletic Association has announced that Sewanee women's cross country student-athlete Ansley McDurmon has been named the SAA Runner of the Week.

McDurmon led the Tiger cross country team on Oct. 5 with an individual win at the Tiger Twilight Invitational. Her time of 19:33.46 on the 5k course was a collegiate personal best and led the Tigers to a team victory in the women's race.

SAS Soccer Ends Regular Season Play

St. Andrew's-Sewanee soccer team had their last home game of the season against Chattanooga School for the Arts and Sciences on Oct. 5. Although SAS wasn't able to pull out a win, it was a hard-fought game that ended in a score of 2-0.

Goalie Katie Craighill had 14 saves, one of which was a penalty kick. Marissa Wilson had a great game on defense, and Katelyn Howard fought hard in the positions of outside mid and forward.

At halftime, seniors Helen Wilson, Alex Berner-Coe and Craighill were recognized for their dedication and contributions to the St. Andrew's-Sewanee women's soccer program.

The Lady Mountain Lions played their last game of the regular season against Community High School of Unionville. While the SAS team played a hard-fought game, they lost 3-0. Mira Dedes adapted her style of play very well to a new position of center mid. Eighth-grader Erin Berner-Coe proved herself to be more than capable of playing at the varsity pace in one of her first varsity games.

Javadi Demolishes School Record

Sewanee women's golfer Emily Javadi demolished her own 36-hole school record by 13 strokes, as she led the Tigers at the BSC Southern Shootout on Oct. 9.

As a team, Sewanee (18th) broke its own 36-hole team record with a two-day 678. National Association of Intercollegiate Athletics schools Lee University and the University of the Cumberlands finished first and second with a 587 and 594.

Southern Athletic Association member Centre, who is ranked third nationally, had the best finish among the NCAA Division III programs with a 603. No. 1 Methodist was three shots behind the Colonels, while Birmingham-Southern (6th-612), Wittenberg (7th-616), Rhodes (10th-621), and Texas-Tyler (12th-623), rounded out the teams ranked in this week's GolfWorld/Women's Golf Coaching Association top 25 poll.

Javadi capped off an outstanding fall season with rounds of 68 and 72. Her first-round 68 tied her own 18-hole school record and was the only sub-par round on Sunday.

Nationally, Javadi ranks second in scoring average, versus par, and lowest single round. Javadi does lead all D-III student-athletes in greens in regulation (63.9 percent).

Javadi was joined by teammates Jenna King, who finished 68th with a career-low 163, and Helen Kennedy, who fired a 178.

Ellen Ruppert and Makayla Cardwell closed out the scores with a 198 and 199, respectively.

Women's Soccer Goes 1-1

An early first-half goal lifted Birmingham-Southern to a 1-0 victory over the Sewanee women's soccer team on Oct. 5.

BSC scored the only goal of the match on a corner kick.

Sewanee was led by forward Bobbe Chaffin, who finished with three shots and midfielder Jamie Samociuk, who fired two attempts.

On Oct. 7, a goal by Ellie Quinn lifted the Sewanee women's soccer team past Millsaps, 1-0.

Quinn scored off a beautiful corner kick from Samociuk in the 85th minute.

As a team, Sewanee dominated in both shots (21 to seven) and corner kicks (12 to two).

Chaffin led all players with five shots, while Samociuk finished with four. Other shots came from Quinn (three), Olivia O'Brien (three), Allie White (two), Izzy Correa (two), Emily Harvey (one) and Caroline Burkholder (one).

Women's Team Dominates Tourney

Led by winner Ansley McDurmon, the Sewanee men's and women's cross country teams had a pair of season-best performances at the annual Tiger Twilight Invitational on Oct. 5.

The men finished second on the 7.2k course. Led by Hudson Robb's second-place individual finish, Sewanee ended with a time of 25:35.27.

Robb finished just off the pace set by winner Robert Willett (Birmingham-Southern) with a time of 24:05.69. Clay Bond also finished in the top five with 24:34.89, while Alec Hill (26:15.22) closed out the top 10.

Along with McDurmon's (19:33.46) top honor, the Tigers had strong finishes from second-place medalist Amy Lee (19:47.71) and fourth-place finisher Cara Martin (20:17.47). Willow Smith (20:24.49), Zoe Dubin (20:41.29), Cate Hargrove (21:05.16), and Victoria Ports (21:05.69) all placed inside the top 10.

Centre Gets Past Sewanee

A late touchdown by Centre lifted the Colonels to a 10-7 victory over the Sewanee football team on Oct. 6.

Sewanee opened the 70th meeting between the two schools with the first touchdown. With 8:11 left in the first half, Jase Brooks capped off a 15-play, 68-yard drive with a three-yard touchdown run.

After the Colonels recovered a Sewanee fumble with 7:21 to play, the Centre kicker booted a 42-yard field goal with 5:57 left. With 12:55 to play in the fourth, Centre scored with a 13-yard touchdown run.

Despite three late possessions,

Sewanee's offense failed to gain much traction, moving the ball just 32 yards on 16 plays in the fourth quarter.

The Tigers, averaging 326 rushing yards per game, finished with 210 yards on the ground.

Defensively, the Tigers limited Centre to 240 total yards. Sewanee finished with one sack, four pass breakups and five tackles for a loss.

Tiger quarterback Curtis Johnson had a team-high 90 rushing yards on 25 carries. Defensive back Quentin Jones and linebacker Dave McKeithen led the defense with six tackles each.

Lady Tigers in Dig Pink Rally

Starting this Friday the Sewanee volleyball team will look to create success both on and off the court, as the Lady Tigers partner with the Side-Out Foundation for a series of Dig Pink National Breast Cancer Awareness matches.

The Lady Tigers will take on Birmingham-Southern with a 6 p.m. contest today, Oct. 12, followed by a 3 p.m. match against Millsaps on Saturday, Oct. 13. The Rhodes match, Saturday, Oct. 20, and the Hendrix contest, Sunday, Oct. 21, will be Dig Pink games.

The Side-Out Foundation was established in 2004 to unite volleyball players and coaches toward the common goal of furthering breast cancer awareness, research, education and patient services.

This fall, thousands of teams from around the country will be participating in the Side-Out Foundation's Dig Pink National Breast Cancer Awareness Rally. Dig Pink events give spectators the opportunity to become involved by making donations to the cause and by pinking out the events. There is no admission fee to attend matches held at Juhan Gymnasium. The Lady Tigers will also be selling T-shirts and pink breast cancer awareness ribbons.

All proceeds from all the donations will benefit the Side-Out Foundation.

For more information about the event, contact head coach Shawna Laurendine or assistant coach Krystin Loyd at 598-3361. Fans can also donate by visiting Sewanee's team page at <http://www.side-out.org/application/ous/fundraising_page/56906>.

Marsh Hawk

On Friday, Oct. 5, Jean and Harry Yeatman saw one of their favorite hawks floating low to the ground across a pasture in Pelham Valley. This hawk is known as the Northern Harrier or Marsh Hawk. It has come from southern British Columbia to its winter hunting grounds, the Bahamas, Cuba and Colombia, South America. In summer it breeds throughout the northern United States and Canada.

The Marsh Hawk is easy to identify in flight. The female is a rufous brown, and the male is gray-white. Both male and female have a large white patch at the base of the tail. The hawk takes a few easy strokes in succession, then a graceful sail on motionless wings, staying low to the ground as it looks for its prey—field mice, crickets, grasshoppers and other pests. The male is 19 inches in length; the female is 22 inches long.

FSC "Walk on the Wild Side" Oct. 20

The Friends of South Cumberland (FSC) second annual "Take a Walk on the Wild Side" on Sat., Oct. 20, will include a guided hike, Fiery Gizzard Sunsets made with Prichard Rum, live music and a visit from Tennessee State Naturalist Emeritus Mack Prichard as the FSC honors those who join the Mack Prichard Circle for 2013.

This "low-key, wear-your-hiking-boots, relax-on-the-bluff" event will be held at the Clifftops home of Charles and Lynn Blankenship.

Members and people interested in learning more about the Friends of South Cumberland are invited to attend. The honorees will be those who "Follow in Mack's Tracks" by making a donation of $250 or more to the FSC. Guests may join the Friends (annual dues $25 per person or $35 per couple) or the Mack Prichard Circle during the event.

A short hike will begin at 2:30 p.m., and the party is 3–5:30 p.m. Guests will enjoy hors d'oeuvres, wine, Fiery Gizzard Sunsets and music by Mary Priestley and Mike Roark.

If you cannot attend but want to support the work of the FSC, go to <www.friendsofscsra.org>. For more information about the Wild Side event, contact Margaret Matens (931) 924-2623 or <margaretmatens@gmail.com>.

BARDTOVERSE

by Scott and Phoebe Bates

There were saddened hearts in Mudville for a week or even more;
There were muttered oaths and curses—every fan in town was sore...
All his past fame was forgotten; he was now a hopeless “shine,”
They called him “strike-out Casey” from the mayor on down the line...

A dismal groan in chorus came—a scowl was on each face—
When Casey walked up, bat in hand, and slowly took his place;
They hissed and groaned and hooted as they clamored, “Strike him out!”
But Casey gave no outward sign that he had heard that shout.

No roasting for the umpire now—his was an easy lot;
But here the pitcher whirled again—was that a rifle shot?
A whack! a crack! and out through space the leather pellet flew,
A blot against the distant sky, a speck against the blue...

Oh, somewhere in this favored land dark clouds may hid the sun,
And somewhere bands no longer play and children have no fun;
And somewhere over blighted lives there hangs a heavy pall;
But Mudville hearts are happy now—for Casey hit the ball!

—From “Casey’s Revenge” by James Wilson, a pseudonym Grantland Rice used before acknowledging the poem as his creation.
