Alexander “Lexie” Orr: ‘A Lifetime of Experience’

by Leslie Lytle,
Messenger Staff Writer

Editor's Note: This is the second in a series of interviews of the mayoral candidates for the Town of Monteagle.

In seeking the office of mayor of Monteagle, Alexander “Lexie” Orr brings with him a lifetime of experience and history of commitment to civic duty. Until his retirement in 2003 when he moved to Monteagle full time, Orr served as a mechanical contractor, beginning in his college days working in the family plumbing, heating and air conditioning business. As a Monteagle resident, he joined the Chamber of Commerce and Rotary, serving as president of both, and nine years ago with his election to the city council, he found the opportunity to put his experience as a mechanical contractor to use once again in grappling with the city's infrastructure issues.

Orr cites quality of life as the community's most important need, insisting residents should have good roads, reliable sewer and water service, and the comfort of dependable police and fire protection.

As a council member, he saw the city through the seven-year moratorium on the sewer plant, an injunction by Tennessee Department of Environment and Conservation preventing the facility from adding new customers and halting residential and commercial growth. With the new sewer plant on line and the moratorium lifted, Orr points to the economic potential in the Cooley's Rift development offering lots for sale again.

But Orr stresses growth must be controlled. “The infrastructure can't handle rapid growth,” he insists.

For the past six years, Orr has served as vice-mayor of the council and serves as chair of the planning commission. Crafting a plan is difficult, he acknowledges, since Mon-

STOP OPIOID ABUSE

To the Editor:

The opioid epidemic in Tennessee, driven by the widespread abuse of prescription pain medication, is devastating the state, specifically Grundy County.

The problem is vast; but the most concerning aspect of the epidemic is that the primary source of these addictive drugs is not some criminal enterprise or drug cartel, but the medicine cabinets of family and friends. The Tennessee Department of Mental Health and Substance Abuse found that more than 55 percent of those in Tennessee who report abusing prescription pain relievers—some as young as 12 years old—are getting them from someone they know who has prescriptions. This means there really is something we can do about it—we can take control of the contents of our medicine cabinets.

The Grundy Safe Communities is partnering with the Coffee County Anti-Drug Coalition on an initiative that makes securing medications as easy as counting, locking and dropping. Thanks to the BlueCross BlueShield of Tennessee Health Foundation, Count It! Drop It! Lock It!™ is expanding across the state to raise awareness and reverse the deadly trend of overdoses related to the abuse of medication like oxycodone, hydro-codone and methadone.

Here's how it works:

Count It—Count your prescriptions and over-the-counter pills every two weeks to make sure children, teenagers and adults coming in and out of your home aren't taking them. It will also ensure you are taking medications as prescribed by your doctor.

Lock It—Keep your prescriptions and over-the-counter pills out of reach in a home lock box. Store the lock box in a room others will not think to look.

Drop It—Drop your unused prescriptions and over-the-counter pills in a designated drop box, no questions asked. Safely disposing of pills prevents medicine from falling into the wrong hands. We have three drop boxes in Grundy County located at the Grundy County Sheriff's Office, the Tracy City Police Department, and the Monteagle Police Department. You can find more drop boxes near you and more information at www.countitlockitdropit.org.

Remember, your doctor prescribed your specific medicine for a reason and it should not be within reach of anyone else. Talk with your family and friends about the risks of prescription medication. Take the pledge to count, lock and drop your pills. Don't be an accidental drug dealer.

Chasity Melton, Coordinator,
Grundy Safe Communities Coalition ■

PATIENT OF THE MONTH

Camille Garner

On February 12, 2016 I broke my back in a car accident on my way to work. After a three day hospital stay, I regained my ability to walk and was released. I am so thankful that I am young and healthy and the break was clean that no surgery was needed. I had to wear a custom designed back brace for twelve weeks to aid in the healing process. Once those twelve long weeks were over, the first stop on my agenda was to pay Dr. Shull a visit. Not being able to move my upper body for twelve weeks caused me to have extreme back pain not to mention the pain from breaking a bone. I have never been one to take medicine and I wasn't going to start then and risk the chance of being dependent on pain medication for my whole life. After my initial visit with Dr. Shull and his staff, my back pain decreased tremendously. Since then I have been a regular patient and enjoy my visits!

As a server at a local restaurant, I am on my feet forty plus hours a week which can take a toll on the back. I now experience minimal pain because of Dr. Shull and his team. I can now work, sleep, workout, run and play with my sweet nephew without back pain being an issue in my life. I can't thank Dr. Shull enough for helping me to feel like I have a brand new back and optimistic outlook for my future!

The gift was made possible by a Tennessee benefactor affiliated with the Carson Scholars Fund, an initiative established by Dr. Ben Carson, retired neurosurgeon, author and recent presidential candidate.

Cowan chose the theme Discover America to headline the project. The reading room will include books for all grade levels in all genres. At the end of the 10-year grant cycle, all books and supplies remain the property of the school. "If a reading-room award school closes, the grant stipulates the books and supplies should be transferred to another school in the area," Young said.

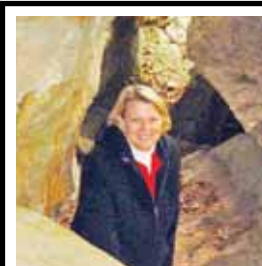

The board also entertained a request from Clark Memorial Elementary Principal David Carson to name the Franklin County High School (FCHS) Gym in honor of high school P.E. teacher and basketball coach Jeff Taylor. Taylor, who has taught and coached at FCHS for more than five years, has cancer. As a FCHS student in the early 1990s, Taylor led the basketball team to 48 wins and is the only FCHS student ever recognized as a Division I player in basketball.

Taylor left the Tullahoma City Schools to come back to teach in Franklin County "because he wants to see Franklin County at its best," Carson said. Carson cited the precedent of naming school venues after members of the school community, giving the examples of James E. Douglas Memorial Stadium and H. Lewis Scott and J.D. Jackson junior high schools. No action was taken on the proposal.

Addressing old business, the board approved the Tennessee School Board Association policies and policy amendments reviewed at the Oct. 3 working session. The board incorporated changes to the Service Animals in District Facilities policy in keeping with the recommendation of Sewanee area school board representative Adam Tucker. To comply with nondiscrimination law, Tucker proposed including the language, "The district may not ask about the nature of extent or a person's disability, nor may the district ask for documentation the animal has been properly trained."

The board also approved an addition to the list of approved electives in the Tennessee Diploma Project. The new focus area allows students with disabilities to earn three elective credits for work-based learning undertaken to explore different types of employment opportunities.

The board meets next on Nov. 7 for a working session.

Swarthmore and Reed colleges. He taught at Sewanee for 39 years where he also served as Associate Dean and Director of Study Abroad.

As a professor of biology, and having served as chair of the Department of Biology, Jones taught topics including genetics, plant physiology, botany, fungi, algae and bryophytes, plant growth and development, biology of lower plants, as well as introductory courses in cellular and molecular biology, population biology. Jones also taught current topics in biology, as well as a course entitled intercultural explorations in living abroad. He is equally productive as a researcher having published a 3,100 page 6-volume set of books entitled, "Fruit of the Pocosin."

He is also listed in "Who's Who in America," "American Men and Women of Science," "Who's Who in the South and Southwest," "Who's Who in American Education," "Who's Who Among Emerging Leaders in America," and "Who's Who in Tennessee."

Jones has also played a very active role in IES Abroad having served on the IES Abroad Annual Conference Planning Committee, the IES Abroad Nominations Committee, and as an institutional representative from the University of the South. He has also participated in 10 site visits all over the world for IES Abroad, and co-chaired the IES Abroad-sponsored Symposium on Science and Study Abroad at the University of Durham. He was also awarded the IES Abroad Volunteer of the Year Award in 2014.

"I have had the great honor of working with Dr. Jones for 20 years, and I have found him to be a gentleman, a scholar, and a renaissance man in the truest sense of those terms," said Mary M. Dwyer, President and CEO of IES Abroad. "He is warm, gracious, generous of spirit, very bright and giving of his time to students and fellow colleagues and has mentored so many professionals in the field during his 23 years within the field."

teagle includes portions of three counties and strip annexation has created gaps in the city's map. "People who work here and shop here, would like to have the opportunity to vote here," Orr said. He favors annexing Clifftops, bringing in residents with talent, fresh ideas and a commitment to community involvement.

He calls Monteagle "the best kept secret" and sees it as a "place of destination" for visitors. Revenue from sales tax doubles during events such as the recent Parent's Weekend at the University of the South, Orr said, and during the July 4 holiday he's seen as many people at the Mall in the Monteagle Assembly as live in the entire town of only 1,300 residents.

"No one who lives here wants Monteagle to become another Dollywood," he stresses. The Mountain Goat Market and Wilco Hess Travel Center "are the right kind of commercial development," Orr said, increasing sales tax revenue without commercializing the town. Similarly, the Mountain Goat Trail is a "dual-purpose" asset, drawing revenue producing visitors and providing residents with a great opportunity for outdoor activity.

Born and raised in Miami, Fla., Orr visited his grandparent's home in the Assembly every summer as a child. He graduated from Baylor Military Academy in Chattanooga (now Baylor School) and majored in mechanical engineering at the University of Florida Gainesville. He plied his trade in Florida, except for 10 years as manager at the Assembly. He and his wife Posey have three children and seven grandchildren.

Posey questions his decision to run for mayor.

For Lexie, the answer is simple. "I love the town. I love the people and I enjoy what I do. I hope to have the opportunity to have a hand in guiding the vision for another four years."

Lexie Orr is running for mayor of the Town of Monteagle, one of three candidates.

Community Chest Spotlight: MARC

The 2016–17 Sewanee Community Chest (SCC) Fund Drive is underway. Sponsored by the Sewanee Civic Association, the SCC raises money yearly for local charitable organizations serving the area. This year's goal is $116,850.

For the next few weeks, the Sewanee Mountain Messenger will focus on some of the organizations supported by the Community Chest. This week we shine the spotlight on the Marion Animal Resource Connection.

The Marion Animal Resource Connection (MARC) is a new applicant to the Sewanee Community Chest. MARC is a 501(c)(3) organization created to assist people and animals to live more humanely in Marion County and to help ease the social burden of too many stray dogs and cats. MARC also provides help to Franklin and Grundy counties and other surrounding areas.

Through its directors and volunteers, MARC provides education for children and adults about humane care and treatment of animals. MARC connects people with affordable spay/neuter procedures to help decrease the number of unwanted and costly litters. MARC works with county and town governments to prevent the needless killing of impounded dogs and cats. MARC also works with individuals and other animal groups to try and find good homes for the animals.

From January through July 2016, 964 animals were helped, including help with spay and neuter costs for low-income families and admissions for rehoming.

MARC is not a shelter. MARC can save only the number of animals for which they are foster homes. MARC is a resource to help area residents find safe places for strays, dumped and unwanted animals. Residents who call MARC for help will be encouraged to foster the animals, while MARC works to find a place to relocate the animals.

MARC is requesting $10,000 to help offset the costs of spaying and neutering, vetting and rehoming animals from Sewanee and surrounding areas of Franklin, Grundy and Marion counties. The average cost for one animal to be spayed/neutered, receive heartworm treatments, vetting and annual shots averages $940. Additional costs include fuel used to run two vans to six different low cost spay/neuter clinics, and to transport animals to be rehomed with animal groups in the northern USA for those animals that cannot find homes in the south.

Since 1908, the goal of the SCC has been to help citizens by funding the community. Through SCC funding, 26 local organizations can help those caught in the cycle of poverty, improve quality of life through outreach and community initiatives, and provide support for children with a variety of programs.

The SCC is a 501(c)(3) nonprofit organization, and donations are tax-deductible. Send your donation to Sewanee Community Chest, P.O. Box 99, Sewanee, TN 37375. For more information, or to make a donation through PayPal, contact <sewaneecommunitychest@gmail.com> or go to <www.sewaneecciv.wordpress.com>.

SCCF and University Begin Joint Philanthropy Project

The University of the South will expand its current partnership with South Cumberland Community Fund (SCCF) to develop a program that gives Sewanee students the opportunity to learn first-hand about community-based philanthropy. Working through the Office of Civic Engagement (OCE), the two organizations are initiating a Community Partnership Philanthropy Internship (CPPI), thanks to a major gift received by the University to support the Office of Civic Engagement and to develop student philanthropy.

"This project adds a new dimension to the programs currently available in the Office of Civic Engagement," said professor Jim Peterman, OCE's director. "Already our students can participate in outreach trips, community-based learning and internships with partners across the region. Now they will be able to learn about philanthropy by observing South Cumberland Community Fund's grant-making program and then using their knowledge to make grants on their own."

SCCF has conducted an annual grant program on the Plateau since 2012, investing more than $450,000 in nonprofit organizations on the Mountain. As part of the CPPI, a selected group of Sewanee students will be introduced to issues in philanthropy through readings, visits and local speakers. They will then shadow SCCF's Grants Committee as it reviews and evaluates proposals in the spring.

SCCF's maximum grant amount is currently $10,000. CPPI will allow the possibility for an organization to receive up to $20,000 in support. Organizations that receive funding from SCCF in May will be invited to submit a related proposal to CPPI in the fall. Working with SCCF staff, CPPI will have up to $30,000 a year to award in grants.

"We believe this is an excellent way to expand the funds available to our community partners and an opportunity for SCCF to share what it has learned about grant-making on the Plateau," said Margaret C. Woods, SCCF board chair. "We are delighted to partner with the University and are grateful that they want to invest in the community in this new and innovative way."

The application process for students is underway. Beginning in January, the students selected for CPPI will learn about the history of philanthropy, learn about different types of charitable giving and learn from guest speakers. They will attend SCCF's grant information sessions to learn about proposal writing and observe SCCF's Grants Committee as it deliberates. In the fall, CPPI will review the invited proposals and make recommendations to SCCF's board for grants that will be awarded in November.

"This is a unique opportunity to engage students' interest and participation in philanthropy by embedding them into the process of evaluating and making grants funds to nonprofit organizations right here in our community," Peterman said.

CPPI expands an already existing and vibrant partnership that was started in 2014 when the University and South Cumberland Community Fund joined in an application for Americorps/VISTA. Nicky Hamilton currently serves at both organizations: as Senior Associate Director of Civic Engagement at the University and as Director of Capacity Building for SCCF, through which she oversees the VISTA program and capacity building work for SCCF.

Established in 2012, South Cumberland Community Fund works to improve the quality of life across the Plateau by increasing philanthropy and supporting leadership of the area's communities, schools, and nonprofit organizations. It works to ensure that the Plateau is a place of hope and prosperity for all its residents and communities.

Local Electric Cooperatives Help Others During Hurricane Matthew

Duck River Electric Membership Corporation (DREMC) and Sequachee Valley Electric Cooperative (SVEC) linemen answered the call for help to restore power in the wake of Hurricane Matthew, a category 3 storm that scraped the Atlantic coast of Florida on Friday after causing death and destruction in the Caribbean.

The Tennessee Electric Cooperative Association finalized the mutual aid plans with electric cooperatives in Tennessee, to provide restoration assistance to cooperatives along the East Coast.

Eight DREMC line workers and two supervisors loaded up eight trucks and went to Clay Electric Cooperative in northern Florida. Clay Electric, headquartered in Keystone, Fla., serves 170,000 members in 14 counties. The co-op has 13,000 miles of line and was gearing up for massive power outages from the hurricane's high-velocity, straight-line winds and spin-off tornadoes.

Eleven line workers and the SVEC vice-president of engineering went to the Berkeley Electric Cooperative, along with 10 trucks loaded with supplies and equipment.

Berkeley Electric Cooperative is located in Moncks Corner, S.C., and serves 85,000 members, of which 63,000 were without power last Saturday. Hurricane Matthew left more than 2 million East Coast residents without power and caused death and destruction in the Caribbean.

Broadband Feasibility Study

Duck River Electric Membership Corporation (DREMC) has launched a broadband feasibility study in its service area. Information will be gathered from various sources, including surveys and meetings with business and community leaders.

The goal is to identify opportunities to help bridge to the "digital divide" that keeps tens of thousands of DREMC members from connecting to the Internet at speeds that meet the Federal Communications Commission's definition of broadband.

The broadband feasibility study will explore how the proposed fiber-optic loop might help improve connectivity in rural areas served by DREMC. A nationally recognized consulting company, Magellan Advisors, will aid DREMC with data collection and analysis. DREMC members, both residential and business, should go to the co-op's website <www.dremc.com> to fill out one of the two special broadband surveys.

THE INSATIABLE CRITIC

by Elizabeth Ellis

The Sewanee Union Theatre eases into fall break this weekend with a family-friendly feature and then amps up the intensity throughout the week with a treasure of classic wartime cinema and a high-octane crime thriller. Read on to see what's lighting up the big screen!

The Rating System

Stars are so overused, and there's nothing on the planet more critical than cats, so one feature each week is rated from one to five Jackaroos. The more Jackaroos there are, the better it is!

The Secret Life of Pets

7:30 p.m., Friday, Oct. 14 through Sunday, Oct. 16
2016, Rated PG, 87 minutes

What do our pets actually do while we're at work all day? Based in a Manhattan apartment complex, this humorous romp explores one dog's dilemma when faced with competition. Max (Louis C.K.) was perfectly happy being top dog in his owner Katie's life, so he's less than impressed when she comes home with a big shaggy mutt named Duke (Eric Stonestreet). However, the two must learn to work together to defeat a nefarious white bunny who, with his team of abandoned pets, plans to wage a war against humans. Rounding out the wacky cast is a fluffy Pomeranian sweet on Max, a head-banging poodle, a little bird with big dreams, and a pudgy cat, among others. Rated PG for action and some rude humor, this feature offers a surprisingly thoughtful story while remaining good fun for all involved. Fun fact: co-director of this feature, Yarrow Cheney, also worked on the visual effects for "The Iron Giant."

Lawrence of Arabia

7:30 p.m., Wednesday, Oct. 19
1962, Rated PG, 216 minutes

When this sweeping epic rolled into theatres, the moving picture industry would never be the same again. Winning an impressive seven Oscars, the story is based on the real life and times of British Lieutenant T.E. Lawrence, played by the legendary Peter O'Toole. Lawrence is stationed in Arabia during World War I to serve as a liaison between the British and the Arabs, who are joining forces to fight against the Turks. Lawrence would eventually rebel against his British superiors, leading unsanctioned daring and vicious attacks against the Turkish tribes — until his capture by the hands of the enemy. Fun Fact: Filmed in the Arabian Desert near modern-day Jordan, the real "Lawrence of Arabia" was only 5 feet, 5 inches tall — a striking contrast between the impressive profile O'Toole cuts with in his 6-foot, 3-inch frame and sky-blue eyes. Rated PG for wartime violence, due to the length of this feature (more than 3 hours) and its stunning but complex plot, this one is best reserved for older teens and adults.

The Infiltrator

7:30 p.m., Thursday, Oct. 20 through Sunday, Oct. 23
2016, Rated R, 127 minutes

Hang onto your seats for this one as this thriller based on a real-life sting goes deep undercover into the world of U.S. drug rings. Bryan Cranston stars as Robert Mazur, a customs agent who in order to bring down top drug lord Pablo Escobar must pose as money-laundering scumbag Bob Musella. Aided by his fellow agent Emir Ebreu (the ever-impressive second banana John Leguizamo), Mazur finds himself in a deadly cloak and dagger plot, where one wrong move could lead to his cover being blown — and certain painful, bloody death. Much like its plot, this film also flew under the radar upon its initial summer release, but still garnered praise from critics and general audiences alike. Rated R for strong violence and language throughout as well as sexual conduct (e.g. strippers) and drug material, this one is strictly reserved for older teens and adults.

For more reviews and fun, visit <<http://theinsatiablenecritic.blogspot.com>>!

Showtimes, unless otherwise noted, are at 7:30 p.m. Ticket prices are $3 for children and students, and $4 for adults. Wednesday night Cinema Guild movies are free of charge.

University Art Gallery

The University Art Gallery presents Jessica Wohl's "Love Thy Neighbor," an exhibition of quilts and drawings that grapples with the fear, intolerance and polarization the artist sees dividing communities and cities across the country, and answers those divisions with objects that evoke empathy and comfort. The exhibition will be on view from Oct. 28 to Jan. 27.

The University Art Gallery is located on Georgia Avenue. Hours are 10 a.m.–5 p.m. Tuesday through Friday and noon–4 p.m. on Saturday and Sunday. Call 598-1223 for more information, or go to <gallery.sewanee.edu>.

'The Good Doctor' at Proctor Hill Theater

The Department of Theatre will present the comedy, "The Good Doctor," written by Neil Simon, based on works of Chekhov. Show times are 7:30 p.m., Friday, Oct. 28 and Saturday, Oct. 29, and Thursday through Saturday, Nov. 3–5, with a Sunday, Oct. 30 matinee at 2 p.m. All performances will take place at the Proctor Hill Theater in the Tennessee Williams Center at the University of the South.

"The Good Doctor" is, by turns, charming, hilarious, sad and touching. It centers around a writer who speaks to the audience and shares his writing with them. He presents the audience with a plethora of scenes—some are from his childhood, others are family and friends and still others are his own life experiences. The audience meets a variety of characters, all of whom are immediately relatable and strikingly human.

The role of the writer is played by Chris Bryan. He is joined by actors Brian Reiss, Alena Kochinski, Quang Tran, Emily Riedlinger, Tori Hinshaw, Vanessa Moss, Balazs Borosi, Huntre Woolwine, Will Burton-Edwards, Donny Abel, Marion Givhan, Lydia Klaus, Emily Daniel, Will Johannsson, Kalynn Harrington, Oliver Heffron and Karissa Wheeler.

"The Good Doctor" is directed by Peter Smith with scenery and lighting by Chynna Bradford, costumes by Liz Estes, technical direction by John Marshall and stage management by Kathleen Graham and Emily Badgett. Music is by Peter Link.

Ticket reservations for "The Good Doctor" are available at <TWCtickets@sewanee.edu>. Admission is free.

Five Functional Clay Artists in SAS Art Gallery

St. Andrew's-Sewanee School's Art Gallery is pleased to present the work of five Southeastern clay artists. Functional Clay: Five Contemporary Artists will be in the gallery through Nov. 14. The exhibition features the work of artists Burki Gladstone, Mary Lynch, Claire Reishman, Merissa Tobler and Ursula Vann. Their works range from pit-fired stoneware to atmospherically fired porcelain; yet, all are functional—intended for use by their owners. And, each negotiates a unique and compelling dialogue between form and function in those works. A reception celebrating the exhibition will be 5–7 p.m., Thursday, Oct. 27, in the SAS Gallery. The public is invited to attend.

The SAS Art Gallery is located in the Simmonds Building on the St. Andrew's-Sewanee School campus. Hours are Monday through Friday, 9 a.m.–3 p.m., and by appointment.

BOOKMARKED

A Column for Young Adult Readers and Adults Who Appreciate The Genre

by Margaret Stephens

The “I’s” Have It

Don’t you find there’s just something about first-person narratives that draws you in? Even the 600-plus pages of “David Copperfield” fly by because narrated by an “I”: “Whether I turn out to be the hero of my own life, or whether that station is held by somebody else, these pages will show.” Something about hearing the main character’s voice straight on gives an intimacy to your reading.

Surely the feisty and endearing voice of eight-year-old Scout helped make “To Kill A Mockingbird” the classic it is. (High school lit students know Lee used both an adult and a child Scout-voice to tell the story.) While the lack of it in the recently-published (though written first) sequel, “Go Set A Watchman,” seems to me to be one of the reasons it feels rather flat.

A first-person YA I highly recommend is “The Hired Girl” by Newbery winner Laura Schlitz. Set in 1911, it’s the story of 14-year-old Joan Skraggs, who decides that as long as she has to be maidservant-of-all-work to her brutal father and indifferent brothers on their Pennsylvania farm, she might as well get paid for it. When her father burns her three precious novels, she escapes to Baltimore where she finds a position with a wealthy Jewish family, the Rosenbachs. Their cantankerous, Yiddish-fluent, elderly cook, Malka, educates her in the ways of a kosher household. The rest of the Rosenbachs educate her in everything else, from philosophy and fashion to anti-semitism and art. The contrast between the naive farm girl with, as she says, a face like a shovel, and her elegant and cultured employers make for continual, often comic, misunderstandings. Because Joan—or, as she re-names herself in honor of Jane Eyre, Janet—is tall and strongly built, the Rosenbachs don’t realize how young she is. This leads to various complications, as does the fact that she’s trying to be a dutiful Catholic, and so wrestles with such questions as, is it her duty to convert her employers? Should she even be working for them?

Each member of the Rosenbach family contributes to Joan’s education in this coming-of-age novel, but it’s equally true that because of Joan’s intelligence, intuition, and common sense, she gives just as much back.

The “Hired Girl” reminds me a little of the Maisie Dobbs books. Do you know them? They’re a series of mysteries by Jacqueline Winspear, also set in the earlier years of the last century, also about a maidservant who wants to better herself. Like Joan, Maisie has intelligence, a yearning for education, and an uncanny ability to read people, traits that lead to her discovering her true profession.

Back to “Mockingbird”: if you want to know more about the ‘real’ Scout, duPont Library has a YA version of Charles Shields’ adult biography (“Mockingbird: A Portrait of Harper Lee”), titled simply “I Am Scout.”

And as long as we’re on the subject, the Millennium Repertory Company will present the theatrical version of “To Kill A Mockingbird” beginning Oct. 14 at the Manchester Arts Center. Somehow, in this time when issues of race and racism keep cropping up in the news, it seems an especially apt opportunity to watch the familiar inhabitants of Maycomb, Ala. wrestle with the subject of prejudice. You can order tickets online at <<http://www.millenniumrep.org>>.

Usherwood Presents Faculty Recital

Jessica Usherwood, soprano, presents her first faculty recital at the University of the South in collaboration with pianist Bernadette Lo. The recital will take place at 3 p.m., Sunday, Oct. 23, in Guerry Auditorium. The concert is free and open to the public.

Usherwood and Lo will present a program of American songs by Andre Previn, Gwyneth Walker, Lori Laitman, Ricky Ian Gordon and H. Leslie Adams. Song settings come from noted American poets Edna St. Vincent Millay, Langston Hughes, Mary Oliver, E. E. Cummings and Toni Morrison.

Usherwood has performed in concert with Richard Stillwell and Samuel Ramey and has sung leading roles in operas such as John Gay’s “The Beggar’s Opera,” Monteverdi’s “The Coronation of Poppea,” Prokofiev’s “The Love for Three Oranges” and Mozart’s “The Impresario.” She appeared with Chicago Opera Theater for several seasons presenting operas including Britten’s “Death in Venice,” Rossini’s “Il viaggio a Reims,” Purcell’s “Dido and Aeneas,” Mozart’s “Le nozze di Figaro” and John Adam’s “Nixon in China.”

Usherwood is visiting assistant professor of voice and holds an M.M. and professional diploma in opera from the Chicago College of Performing Arts, Roosevelt University and a D.M. from Indiana University Jacobs School of Music. She also serves as soprano for the International Chamber Artists (ICA) of Chicago.

Lo, who has extensive experience in both vocal and instrumental accompanying has been engaged by the Sugar Creek Festival, Opera Illinois, Illinois Opera Theatre and the University of Tennessee Opera Theatre. Performances with instrumentalists include Yuri Mazurkevich, Dale Clevenger and David Griffin (Chicago Symphony Orchestra), Ronald Barron (Boston Symphony Orchestra) and flutist Tadeu Coelho. She has concertized nationally with violist Hillary Herndon, with whom she has recorded two compact discs of works. Lo is visiting assistant professor of piano and holds a B.M. and M.M. for the Peabody Conservatory of Music and M.M. and Ph.D. from the University of Illinois.

Shannon is the State Department’s fourth-ranking official. The under secretary serves as the day-to-day manager of overall regional and bilateral policy issues, and oversees the bureaus for Africa, East Asia and the Pacific, Europe and Eurasia, the Near East, South and Central Asia, the Western Hemisphere, and International Organizations. Nearly 500 area elementary school children are invited to the fourth annual Halloween concert at 10 a.m., Friday, Nov. 4, in Guerry Auditorium. The Sewanee Symphony Orchestra (SSO) underwrites this spooky educational concert, including the cost of transportation, as a part of its community outreach.

Then at 7:30 p.m., Nov. 4, in Guerry, the SSO will perform a concert for the community including “Pirates of the Caribbean” by Badelt/Rickets, “Totentanz” by F. Liszt and “Kashmir” by Led Zeppelin/Povey. All SSO concerts are free of charge.

Hochschild to Speak on Political Implications of Class-In-Race Inequality

Political scientist Jennifer Hochschild will give a talk at Sewanee investigating the possibility of the recent marked growth of inequality within non-white groups changing those groups’ political or policy views. Her talk—“Here they treat us like a different race: Political Implications of Class-in-Race Inequality”—is open to the public. It will be at 4:30 p.m., Thursday, Oct. 27, in Blackman Auditorium (in Woods Labs).

Jennifer Hochschild is the Henry LaBarre Jayne Professor of Government and professor of African and African American Studies at Harvard, and the immediate past president of the American Political Science Association. She is the Phi Beta Kappa Society’s Visiting Scholar at the University of the South this year.

Whites in the United States have shown class divisions in politics for centuries, while since the 1960s Asian Americans, Latinos, and especially blacks have generally expressed liberal policy preferences and Democratic Party support regardless of their class position. Hochschild will demonstrate recent growth in class disparities within the four main conventional American racial or ethnic groups, and will show how this growing inequality is reflected in attitudes and preferences. She will include case studies in which these results are borne out by political and policy disputes on the ground.

During her two-day visit to campus, Hochschild also will visit classes, participate in a student dialogue on race and immigration and have a discussion with Politics majors about careers.

SAS Football Team Wins Big Over Central Baptist

The St. Andrew's-Sewanee Mountain Lions returned to the friendly confines of their home football field on Sept. 30 and roared past Central Baptist of Memphis, 62-15.

The victory snapped a three-game losing skid and improved the Mountain Lions record to 2-3 on the season.

SAS has won both of their home contests, so it's definitely better to be at home than on the road for the 2016 edition of the Mountain Lions. After winning their opener, they lost three in a row on the road.

Christian Taylor had a big night in leading the Mountain Lions' explosive offense. He rushed for 269 yards on only 10 carries, almost 27 yards each time he touched the ball.

He was also impressive in the return game as he took a kickoff 71 yards to the house to add to his impressive evening.

Taylor wasn't the only offensive standout. Ben Mathews carried the ball 11 times for 71 yards. Blaise Zeitler had eight carries for 89 yards with a touchdown and he also hit junior Justin Eloughery with a 20-yard touchdown toss for good measure.

Gabriel Stevens scored from 32 yards out with his lone carry on the night, while Emmanuel Thombs had three carries for 13 yards.

"The offensive line of Charlie Jenkins, Max LaFriener, Wyatt Lindlau, Jalen Tillman, Larson Heitzenhater and Justin Eloughery really came to play tonight," said head coach John Hargis. "They opened up running lanes for the backs that I could have run through. This was a really big win for our team."

The Mountain Lions play their final game of the season Friday, Oct. 21 at 7 p.m. against rival Webb School of Bell Buckle at the University of the South's Hardee McGee Field.

Mountain Bikers Ride Strong at Baker Creek

The St. Andrew's-Sewanee varsity and middle school mountain biking team raced the weekend of Oct. 1-2 in the Tennessee High School Cycling League's second event of the season.

The race was held at Legacy Parks-Baker Creek Preserve trail in Knoxville, with more than 160 riders competing. Seventeen SAS varsity and six middle school riders raced on the fast and fun flow trail with a challenging climb and tight switchbacks.

SAS varsity team riders faced tough competition in all divisions. Hanna Rosman earned fourth place in the sophomore girls category, while Aidan Smith fought for his fourth place finish in the freshman boys category. Other top 10 finishers for SAS included Fritz Stine (seventh place, junior varsity boys), Alexander Milford (ninth place, sophomore boys) and Matthew Mollica (10th place, varsity boys).

First-time racers for the SAS middle school group, riding with plenty of excitement and big smiles on the beginner-friendly trail, included Cameron Weaver, Dylan Killingham, Luca Malde and Lindsey McBride.

Coaches Speed Baranco and Beth Pride Ford were pleased with the spirit and determination shown by all SAS riders during the weekend and are looking

SAS Soccer Tournament Action

The St. Andrew's-Sewanee School girls' varsity soccer team lost 2-1 to King's Academy in the district tournament consolation round on Oct. 11, after falling to Donelson Christian Academy 4-0 on Oct. 8 in the semi-finals.

The team played at Battle Ground Academy on Oct. 12 in the opening round of the East/Middle Division II-A Regional Tournament.

To advance against Donelson in the district tournament, SAS defeated Friendship Christian Academy (FCA), 3-0 in the district quarterfinals on Oct. 6 at home.

The Mountain Lions started off with patience, moving the ball through the back line of the defense and attacking up the sideline after distributing through the middle of the field.

Early in the game, SAS's Kyra Wilson passed to Lucy Carroll, who played a strong ball up to Erin Berner-Coe running up the line. Kate Bulter beat the defense but the FCA goalie saved the ball from going into the net.

Mariel Rinck also had a few chances at goal early in the game. Butler finally snuck one in with an assist from Berner-Coe.

Sarah Simons played a good game, sprinting up the line for long balls. Wilson got two free kicks in a row close to the FCA 18-yard line and one bounced off of the far goal post. With five minutes left it the first quarter, Anna Post received a cross in and scored.

The second half continued with high possession from SAS. Rinck received a ball up top and turned a shot from 20-yards out to score.

SAS Volleyball Closes Season Against Friendship Christian

St. Andrew's-Sewanee School's varsity volleyball team lost to Friendship Christian Academy Oct. 3, in the opening round of the East/Middle District tournament, 25-16, 25-9, 25-11. The Mountain Lions finished the season with a 9-12 record.

"These players worked so hard this season and came so far in a very short time," said coach Rob Zeitler. "There were times we had three freshman on the court and played well. I am so proud of this team."

Sewanee Soccer Nipped by Birmingham-Southern

A long clearing kick by Birmingham-Southern College's (BSC) keeper Marvin Castellanos bounced twice and was then kicked in by Patrick Erickson which gave the visiting Panthers a 2-1 overtime win over the Sewanee men's soccer team on Oct. 9 at Puett Field.

In a match of late goals, BSC scored first in the 41st minute of the first half when Dallas Coyne ripped in a free kick from 30 yards out.

BSC continued to lead by the same score until late in regulation. With less than two minutes to play, Sewanee freshman Zach Birkhead tapped in a loose ball to tie the match.

That set up Erickson's game-winner with less than 30 seconds remaining in the first overtime period.

A back and forth match throughout, BSC led Sewanee in shots, 17-10. The Tigers and Panthers each had four corners.

Individually, Sewanee's Reid Turner, Birkhead and Ben Vaeth led the attack with two shots. Erickson, Tylan Jones and Connor Quiggle paced the Panthers with three attempts each.

Sewanee Selected as NCAA Host

Sewanee made history on Oct. 7 when the NCAA selected the University of the South as the host institution for the 2017 NCAA Men's and Women's Tennis Championships that will be played in Chattanooga this spring. This marks the first time Sewanee has ever served as a host for an NCAA Championship.

"We are proud to partner with the city of Chattanooga and excited about the opportunity to host the 2017 Men's and Women's NCAA Tennis Championships," said Sewanee men's tennis head coach John Shackelford. "We look forward to showing our friends from around the country some true Southern hospitality."

The Tigers will also host the 2017 ITA National Indoor Championships in Murfreesboro.

Tigers Tough at Golfweek

Against some of the top NCAA Division III teams and players, the Sewanee women's golf team moved up five spots to finish 11th on Oct. 11 at the elite Golfweek Fall Invitational at the Baytowne Golf Club in Sandestin, Fla.

After finishing with a 343 and a 333 on Oct. 9 and Oct. 10, the Tigers fired a 311 on the final day. Only three other teams had better rounds during the final day, while Washington & Lee tied Sewanee at 311.

Overall, Wittenberg won the event with a 927 total. Methodist was second, 10 strokes behind, while Texas-Tyler and Mary-Hardin Baylor tied for third at 941.

Individually, Jane Hopkins-Wood of Wittenberg completed her wire-to-wire win with a one-over par 215. The medalist winner had the low round each day.

After back-to-back rounds of 81, Meghan Symonds led the Tigers with a final-round 76. Symonds finished tied for 21st in a field that featured the majority of the top-100 players in the nation.

Along with Symonds, Sarah Battye and Sophia Morrill both finished with a final-round 76. Overall, Battye tied for 53rd with a 248 total, while Morrill was 64th with a three-round 252.

Finally, Sewanee's Natalie Javadi closed with a 76 for a 54-hole 253, while Mary Elizabeth Benton tied for 77th after an 83 in the final round.

Sewanee will close out its fall season at the Chick-fil-a Classic in Rome, Ga., Oct. 24 and 25.

forward to seeing continued improvement in skills and fitness over the next month of training. The coaches and team are also grateful to team families for race-day support and volunteer work during the weekend. In current team rankings, SAS has earned fifth place after two league races. The third race of the season will be on Saturday, Oct. 29, at Lock 4 in Gallatin, Tenn.

People interested in volunteering can sign up on the league's website at <TennesseeMTB.org>.

Tiger Women Dominate BSC

The Sewanee women's soccer team controlled the pace and flow of the game on Oct. 9, as the Tigers stayed unbeaten in Southern Athletic Association play with a 2-0 home win over Birmingham-Southern College (BSC).

The Tigers moved to 7-6-1 overall and a perfect 4-0 in league play. Sewanee has not lost a regular season SAA match in more than two years after going 6-0-1 in 2015.

Overall, Sewanee outshot BSC 20-7. The Tigers also had a 7-0 advantage in corners. Individually, Sewanee's Martha Dinwiddie led the attack with four shots while Mary Frank, Katie Morrison, Nikki Johnston, Savannah Williams and Tyler Edell also had multiple attempts.

Eastern Fox Squirrel

On Sept. 26, I went to Abbo's Alley to look for three odonates that emerge this time of year. Before I got out of my car, I saw a reddish brown squirrel basking in a pool of sunlight. I crept across South Carolina, watched the squirrel move about, prepared my camera, and did my best to sneak up without disturbing it. What I photographed was a creature I had never before seen—an Eastern Fox Squirrel. Jill Carpenter, Jeanie Stephenson and Tam Parker tell me these are typically found down the Mountain, and all see the squirrel in Roark's Cove regularly. Jill suggested that this one (and possibly others) had come up to feast on our nuts. I was delighted and surprised by the squirrel's large size and impressive color.

Perennial Program at St. Mary's Convent

The Sisters of St. Mary invite the community to the workshop "Putting Your Perennials to Bed," an installment of their Ora et Labora series.

Led by botanist, gardener and "Plant King," Leonard King, this program will give a step-by-step explanation of how to prepare your perennial plants, which live for several years, for winter. This winterizing process is crucial to caring for plants over the tough winter season, and will ensure that your flower beds are ready to grow after the cold months pass. Everything from eradicating voles to how-to's for trimming plants and mulching will be explained in the workshop. Come enjoy a crisp fall morning outdoors, and learn something, too.

The program will take place 9:30 a.m.–noon, Saturday, Oct. 15, at St. Mary's Convent. The cost of participation is $20. Walk-on participation is welcome, but reservations are encouraged. Call 598-0046 to reserve a spot.

Sewanee Herbarium Events

At 1:30 p.m., Saturday, Oct. 15, meet Yolande Gottfried at the Lake Cheston picnic pavilion for this easy one-hour walk.

Some of the last wildflowers to bloom are found around our lake shores, such as ladies' tresses and perhaps turtlehead. In any case, fall color should be starting to reflect in the water.

Meet in the Herbarium (Spencer 171) for a Homecoming Open House 4–5 p.m., Friday, Nov. 4. There is much to celebrate, including the publication of the "Domain Flora," 20 years of "The Sewanee Plant Press" and the debut of "What If Trees Could Walk?"

For more information on these events call the Herbarium at 598-3346 or go to <<http://lal.sewanee.edu/herbarium>>.

Pets of the Week

Meet Harley and Lady

Animal Harbor offers these two delightful pets for adoption.

Harley is the life of the party! He is outgoing, friendly and always ready to play. He's a little talkative at times and super excited to make new friends! Lady is a sweetheart who adores tummy rubs and is content to sit by your side or on your lap. She will be a perfect companion for a young family or mature pet parent. This sweet, adorable pair are so attached at the hip that Animal Harbor can't imagine separating them. Their adoption fees will be discounted so that they can be adopted together. Harley and Lady are heartworm-negative, up-to-date on shots, microchipped, and neutered/spayed.

Every Friday is Black Friday at Animal Harbor. On Fridays, adoption fees will be reduced 50 percent for black or mostly black pets more than 4 months old who have been at Animal Harbor for more than a month. Pets adopted from Animal Harbor qualify for a free post-adoption wellness exam by local veterinarians.

Animal Harbor is now in their new shelter at 56 Nor-Nan Road, off AEDC Road, in Winchester. Call Animal Harbor at 962-4472 for information and check out the other pets at <www.animalharbor.org>. Enter the drawing on this site for a free spay or neuter for one of your pets. Please help Animal Harbor continue to save abandoned pets by sending your donations to Animal Harbor, P.O. Box 187, Winchester, TN 37398.

October

by Robert Frost

O hushed October morning mild,
Thy leaves have ripened to the fall;
Tomorrow's wind, if it be wild,
Should waste them all.
The crows above the forest call;
Tomorrow they may form and go.
O hushed October morning mild,
Begin the hours of this day slow.
Make the day seem to us less brief.
Hearts not averse to being beguiled,
Beguile us in the way you know.
Release one leaf at break of day;
At noon release another leaf;
One from our trees, one far away.
Retard the sun with gentle mist;
Enchant the land with amethyst.
Slow, slow!
For the grapes' sake, if they were all,
Whose leaves already are burnt with frost,
Whose clustered fruit must else be lost—
For the grapes' sake along the wall.
