

Housing Development Agency Helps Local Resident with Repairs

by Josh Collins, Special to the Messenger

A stone's throw away from the main campus of the University, the home of longtime Sewanee resident Mary Collins has undergone a much-needed renovation. Collins, who was born in July 1921, has lived in the same house on Oak Street for more than 60 years. As the years came and went, her home on the Plateau became dangerously dilapidated. From the roof caving in to the siding and drywall falling down, Collins' home was in desperate need of repair. When the wind finally blew her wooden windows out, Collins decided she needed some help. She called a friend, retired Episcopal priest Joe Porter, who told her about the Emergency Repair Program (ERP) administered by the South Central Development District and funded by the Tennessee Housing Development Agency (THDA).

Mary Collins and Mike Marks

"When I heard about the condition of her home, I knew we had to help her," said Porter. "The first thing I did was contact Mike Marks over at South Central to see what they could do. Mike told me about this ERP program funded by THDA. He told me his organization could provide $10,000 of emergency repair funding with the condition that a 50 percent match be contributed by a third party."

Porter got to work and made it his mission to raise the $5,000 in matching funds needed to assist Collins. "I sent out letters all across the community."

State Honors Keele for Work at SES

At its meeting on Oct. 14, the Franklin County school board recognized volunteer Karen Keele of Sewanee. Rebecca Sharber, director of schools, presented Keele with the award.

Keele, a volunteer at Sewanee Elementary, was selected as the South Central Volunteer of the Year by the Tennessee School Board Association. In May, she was nominated for a school volunteer recognition award. Keele organizes a tutorial-enrichment program matching retired citizens with students who need extra academic help at SES. As the statewide award winner, she received a $1,000 grant to the public school of her choice, plus a plaque.

School Board Changes Policy to Allow PTOs Independence

by K. G. Beavers
Messenger Staff Writer

The Franklin County school board met in regular session on Oct. 14 and approved a change in the status of all Franklin County parent-teacher organizations (PTOs), making these organizations volunteer groups rather than school-supported organizations. The vote was 7-0, with Chris McDonough abstaining. In making this distinction, the PTO at North Lake Elementary should be able to open its meetings with prayer and not be in direct violation of the school board's policies.

For this meeting, two people filled out the necessary paperwork to speak before the board: Jason Griffey, a librarian at the University of Tennessee at Chattanooga, who is a parent and lives in Sewanee; and Winston Tipps, a minister with the Church of Christ in Estill Springs.

"I hope that the North Lake PTO and any organization affiliated with public education can see the issues that are involved in the insistence of an opening prayer, and choose to end the practice," said Griffey.

"One is the insistence of having a prayer prior to a meeting of an organization that has such close ties to our public education system steps much too close to the legal line between church and state," he said. There is a clear legal line that has been drawn repeatedly over the years through case law, as it relates to the protection of a central tenet of our Constitution, that the prejudicing of a single religion in affairs of the State is simply not allowed.

"The second reason is that not only do I think it's the practical thing to do, but it's also the right thing," Griffey said.

"The priority of everyone

Community Chest Spotlight Sewanee Elementary School

The 2013-14 Sewanee Community Chest Fund Drive is underway. The power of people helping people makes a difference in the life of the community. Sponsored by the Sewanee Civic Association, the Community Chest raises money yearly for local charitable organizations serving the area. This year's goal is $108,000.

Since 1867 there has been a long-standing relationship between the community and the public school. For years this voluntary community commitment maintained the educational system, such as St. Paul's on the Mountain school and the school on Billy Goat Hill.

When the Sewanee Civitan Club (now the Sewanee

Civic Association) was first organized, its objective of good citizenship included "a comprehensive program for the betterment and improvement of every phase of community activity" (from the "Sewanee Sampler" by Arthur Ben and Elizabeth N. Chitty, 1978). This included providing school facilities. At that time, the Franklin County Board of Education agreed to pay the salaries of teachers, but did not provide the buildings; the University was unable to help with the expenses. Funding for a new public school became a community goal. The school building would be on University leasehold land, owned by the Sewanee Civitan Club and operated by the Franklin County School Board. Funds were raised in the community and the Sewanee Public School was completed in 1927. In 1933, the community built the Roosevelt Addition. In 1943, more than half of the town's Community Chest budget went to maintain the school and fund programs for enrichment and the purchase of supplies. The county took over the maintenance of the school in 1955, when the building and land were turned over to the county as long as a school remained on that site.

The Sewanee Elementary School (SES) continues to rely on yearly funding from the Community Chest to meet the school's needs. Money from the Community Chest is used for technology and software purchases, professional development, classroom supplies, new books for the library and school operations. This funding commitment "has served the intentional purpose of eliminating the door-to-door fund-raising," (Chitty)

"Sewanee's Community Chest goes far beyond what any public school could imagine," said SES principal Mike Maxon. "While most schools are seeking ways to raise additional revenue by having their students participate in magazine sales, candy sales, etc., the Community Chest raises money for us. The teachers can concentrate on teaching, not collecting money each morning. The students can concentrate on learning, not selling products. Donations through the Community Chest do support the school," said Maxon.

The Sewanee Elementary Parent Teacher Organization (SES PTO), a 501(c)(3) nonprofit organization, requests

New Play at SAS Oct. 25

"Crimson Fairy Tales," the new play by the St. Andrew's-Sewanee Players, will open at 7 p.m., Friday, Oct. 25, in McCrory Hall for the Performing Arts at SAS.

A collaborative venture with the 32 cast members, director John Holleman sent each of the actors home with a copy of one of Andrew Lang's "Color Fairy Books" earlier in the semester. The assignment was to select any story, read it and then tell it to the cast the next day. Many stories later, Holleman and the ensemble knitted together their own take on the fairy tales. This is the SAS Players' first home production following their critically acclaimed performances at the Fringe Festival in Edinburgh, Scotland, this summer.

The play will also be performed at 7 p.m., Saturday, Oct. 26, and 4 p.m., Sunday, Oct. 27. Tickets will be available at the box office; they are $7 for adults and $5 for children under 10; SAS students get in for free.

More than 200 Sewanee Elementary School students, parents, staff and community members enjoyed the half-mile walk from the University Book and Supply Store down University Avenue to SES on Oct. 9, International Walk to School Day. Fifth-graders (from left) Porter Neubauer, Camden Eslick, Cole Palmertree, Mary B. Smith, Delana Pierce, Meredith Foster and Zolon Knoll led the way.

RACISM IN SEWANEE?

To the Editor:

On Oct. 14, I attended the "Push Your Limits" panel discussion sponsored by the African American Alliance. The topic was racism in the U.S. and Sewanee. The panel members represented the diversity of the campus and did an excellent job of sharing experiences that were honest and sometimes heartbreaking.

The follow-up question for the audience was "What does racism look like at Sewanee?" I was stunned. There were stories of white students being unwilling to ride in a Bacchus van with students of color. Another story of a professor being unable to tell two African-American students apart in class and making a comment to the effect of "You all look the same to me." There was the foreign student who joined the University choir and was harassed because some thought an Asian non-Christian had no right to be in the choir.

The students attending the panel discussion had no end of ideas on how to increase diversity at Sewanee, as well as ways students can get to know each other better to reduce racism. Many ideas and thoughts were shared, all good, all positive, and all doable.

Despite the terrible stories, I came away feeling really proud of the outstanding Sewanee students that filled the room and felt that everyone was committed to working toward change in a positive way despite any hurt they had encountered. I hope other students, faculty and community members join in and support the fight against racism.

OCTOBER AT IONA

To the Editor:

October at IONA: Art Sanctuary has been extraordinary with a variety of art and writing. We heard the dramatic fervor of Jeannie Babb's memorized poetry slam into theater, Kevin Cummings' tale of family antics, Virginia Craighill's satire on sustainability. Plus, Kate Murray Brown's lively fantasies for young imaginations and Laura Lapins Willis' touching and emotional expression of faith and grace.

The following week brought a sharing of artistic premises for the artworks of Jessica Wohl and her students (George Stevenson, Yunxin Xing, Anne Bagay, Mimi Middlebrooks, Margaret McClain, Whitt Sellers, Joshua Colton Treadwell and Trigg Summs), with a lively reading on the art of writing by Leah Terry, and moving tributes to the love within family by Chris McDonough sharing his gifted verse and David Landon's beautiful poetry.

Jim Davidheiser of Sewanee was the featured speaker at the October meeting of the AEDC Woman's Club. Joining him here Denise Pierre (left) and Sande Hayes, who is the club president. Davidheiser discussed the history of fairy tales and how they relate to Halloween stories in the United States.

This past Sunday David Bowman offered insightful shenanigans behind campus sandstone buildings, the Rev. Francis Walter's humorous novel about boot-legging, and Rosalynn Cimino-Hart's lovely, sensitive poetry. For each a large audience reinforced the genuine creativity with appreciation for those willing to share their amazing talents.

Nearing the end of Autumn Assembly of Authors and Artists' season, only two more events will occur: The Carlos Family poetry readings (Carlos, Malia, Camila, Aaron and Bennett Bridger-Carlos with a short St. Andrew's-Sewanee theater offering at 2 p.m., Sunday, Oct. 20, directed by Robie Jackson and John Holleman. At 3:30 p.m., Homecoming, Friday, Oct. 25, will be Tom Fennell's presentation of his architectural triumphs and two novels being shared by Benjamin Walker and Salley McAden McNerney. Thank you all.

ANOTHER VIEW ON HEALTHCARE

To the Editor:

The Oct. 11 edition of the Messenger contained a letter from Dr. Charles Sienknecht that praised Obamacare and criticized opponents as having... "shrill voices [that] have the ring of hypocrisy." Additionally, Sienknecht stated that there will be "...a positive impact on healthcare costs."

He supported this by cherry-picking one article from the New England Journal of Medicine. Almost daily, there are news stories replete with horror stories of just the opposite.

On the same day that the Sienknecht letter appeared, Dr. Ben Carson gave an address with a much different perspective. Carson is a well-known retired pediatric neurosurgeon from Johns Hopkins University in Baltimore. Carson noted in his remarks that Obamacare was "the worst thing since slavery. It is slavery, in a way, because it is making us all subservient to the government."

"It was never about healthcare. It was about control," Carson said. He also questioned why the Obama administration wanted the measure to pass so badly. In answering this, he noted a comment from Vladimir Lenin, "He said that socialized medicine is the keystone to establishment of a Socialist state." Carson additionally said "[Health] is the most valuable thing you have. Everything else pales into insignificance, compared to your health. And that's the reason why your health should be controlled by you and not the government."

Carson's remarks are well thought out, insightful and wise. They should be heeded and alert all to the unthinkable tragedy that Obamacare will unwillingly inflict upon this nation.

SUPPORT FOR BURNETT

To the Editor:

Thank you, Sewanee Community, for your support of the Charliss Burnett benefit yard sale. There are so many ways you helped meet the goal. Thanks to those who made monetary contributions. Thanks to the University students who helped cart in the goods and set up the tables. Thanks to the ladies who stayed all day unpacking the goods and marking their prices.

Police News

In compliance with the provisions of the federal Jeanne Clery Disclosure of Campus Security and Campus Statistics Act of 1998, the Sewanee Police is giving notice of criminal activity reported to have occurred at two different residences on Roarks Cove Road and one residence located on Morgan Steep Road. Police Chief Marie Eldridge said, "Please keep in mind that crime is not always reported to the police department on the day the crime actually occurred. Often the police aren't notified until days or weeks after a crime takes place."

Residents reported that unknown person or persons entered a Roarks Cove Road home between 10:30 a.m. and 1 p.m. on Oct. 11. According to the resident, the doors were locked when they left and when they returned, both the front door and back door were open. Nothing was reported taken from the residence, and there was no sign of forced entry.

On Oct. 16, the Sewanee Police Department was notified that another home on Roarks Cove Road was entered by unknown person or persons. According to the resident, he left at 5:30 a.m., Sept. 17, after locking the doors to the residence. When he returned at 5 p.m. he found the front door ajar. Nothing was reported taken from the residence, and there was no sign of forced entry.

A resident living in the area of Morgan's Steep reported on Oct. 16 that an unknown person or persons entered the residence between 8 a.m. and 9 a.m. The resident returned home to find the door to the house open. Nothing was reported missing, and there was no sign of forced entry.

Anyone with information about any of these offenses should contact the SPD at 598-1111.

Eldridge offers these reminders about home safety:

Make your home look occupied, and make it difficult to break in. Lock all outside doors and windows before you leave the house or go to bed. Even if it is for a short time, lock your doors.

Leave lights on when you go out. If you are going to be away for a length of time, connect some lamps to automatic timers to turn them on in the evening and off during the day. Keep your garage door closed and locked.

Don't allow daily deliveries of mail, newspapers or flyers to build up while you are away. Arrange with the post office to hold your mail or arrange for a friend or neighbor to collect it regularly.

Check locks on doors and windows and replace them if they aren't working properly. Sliding glass doors are vulnerable. Special locks are available for better security.

If you come home to find an unexplained open/broken window or door, do not enter as the perpetrator may still be inside.

Use a cell phone or a neighbor's phone to call police. Do not touch anything or clean up until the police have inspected for evidence.

Write down the license plate numbers of any suspicious vehicles. Note the descriptions of any suspicious persons.

Never leave keys under doormats, flowerpots, mailboxes or other "secret" hiding places—burglars know where to look for hidden keys.

Keep a detailed inventory of your valuable possessions, including a description of the items, date of purchase and original value, and serial numbers, and keep a copy in a safe place away from home.

Be a good neighbor. If you notice anything suspicious in your neighborhood, call 598-1111 immediately.

Use an engraver to mark your valuables with your driver's license number.

New construction at St. Mary's Sewanee

St. Mary's Sewanee Additions

Following the completion of the new lodging building and 40-person McRae Meeting Room last spring, St. Mary's Sewanee: The Ayres Center for Spiritual Development is pleased to announce that thanks to a very generous anonymous donor, it has started work on some new projects. The center is putting a covered porch on the bluff side of St. Mary's Hall, as well as energy-efficient heat and air systems in all of the common spaces for St. Mary's Hall.

"We are very excited about this project," said John Runkle, St. Mary's Sewanee's executive director. "These new improvements to St. Mary's Hall will help our building to be more comfortable and efficient, and allow us to provide a more pleasant experience for all of our guests."

Church News

Otey Memorial Parish Church

On Sunday, Oct. 20, Otey Parish welcomes the Rev. John Runkle, who will preach and celebrate at both services.

Betty Carpenter, director of the Community Action Committee, will talk about the CAC's ministry at 10 a.m., Sunday, Oct. 20, as part of Otey's year-long "Hunger: Faith in Action" series. The group will meet in Brooks Hall.

The Lectionary Class and Godly Play (ages 3–11) will also meet at 10 a.m. Nursery care is available from 8:30 a.m. until the coffee hour, which follows the 11 a.m. service.

Rutledge Falls Baptist Ladies Conference

The Rutledge Falls Baptist Church SonShine Sisters Women's Ministry invites all women to its third annual Ladies Conference, 9 a.m. to noon, Saturday, Nov. 9. Lunch will be served, and childcare will be available.

The theme of this year's conference is "Harvest of Prayer." The speaker will be Candice Farmer, author of "Green Pastures in a Barren Land" and founder of Enough Grace Ministries.

Tickets for the event are $10 per person for preregistration; they will be $15 at the door. Preregistration deadline is Oct. 31. Tickets may also be ordered for a group by email to <RFBcwomensministry@gmail.com> or by calling Tina Barton at (931) 607-4596 or Rose Mines at (931) 409-7799. The church is located at 1289 Rutledge Falls Rd., Tullahoma.

Organ Concert at St. Paul's, Chattanooga

Assistant University organist Jason Farris, will present works by Dupré, Back, Widor, Grigny and D  thier in a concert at 4 p.m. (EST), Sunday, Oct. 27, at St. Paul's Episcopal Church in Chattanooga.

The concert is part of the 2013–14 Season of the Music and is presented during the exhibition of Icons in Transformation. St. Paul's Episcopal Church is located at 305 W. Seventh St., Chattanooga. For more information call (423) 266-8195 or go to <www.stpaulschatt.org>.

Unitarian Universalist, Tullahoma

At the 10 a.m., Sunday, Oct. 20, gathering at the Unitarian Universalist Church of Tullahoma, Doug Traversa will offer a talk on "If a Unitarian Universalist was Invited to Speak to a Conservative Christian College, What Would I Say?" Following the service, there will be refreshments and a discussion period.

associated with the educational system, whether formally or informally, should be to make the best use of the resources we have to ensure the excellence of the education of our children. Opening organizational meetings with a prayer is, by its nature, exclusionary to any Franklin County taxpayer of any differing faith. As we are a multi-denominational society, continuing on the existing path simply ensures a lack of multiple voices, as it indicates to those of differing faiths that their beliefs are not considered or respected. A multiplicity of voices is necessary in order to fully grasp an issue, to talk through and see all sides of a problem, and to ensure that the most effective and efficient solutions are pursued," Griffey said.

Tipps then spoke: "We need both sides of the issue spoken so we can decide what is best to do," said Tipps. "Our freedoms have been taken away from us slowly, starting in 1963 with the end of prayer in school. Our freedom has been taken away by the Supreme Court.

"We were founded with Christian principles. The Constitution gives no right to force someone, but we are smart enough to work something out. We can work within our Constitution and still have prayer at the meeting," said Tipps.

Discussion included clarification on school board policies 2.404, School Support Organizations, and policy 3.206, Community Use of School Facilities. Policy 4.805, Prayer and Period of Silence, was on the agenda, but was not discussed.

The school board approved a change in the status of all Franklin County PTOs, specifying that these organizations are volunteer groups, not school-supported organizations, and not officially affiliated with the school system.

Policy 2.404 will now include the language that "Parent Organizations and Parent-Teacher Organizations are neither school-sponsored clubs nor student-initiated clubs. They are considered independent, 'outside clubs or groups,' which must meet the terms of this policy to be able to use the name, mascot or logo of a school or the school district to solicit or raise money, materials, property, securities, services, or other things of value. Neither principals nor teachers of any school shall be on any parent organization or Parent-Teacher Organization board of directors."

PTOs still must have documentation confirming the status as a non-profit organization, a written statement of the goals and objectives of the group, and a written policy specifying procedures for accounting.

Policy 3.206 was changed to include "School facilities shall not be used primarily for religious purposes on a permanent basis (as determined by the Board)."

"Community use of a building is not primarily used for religious purposes," said Rebecca Sharber, director of schools.

"The majority wants to allow the PTO to conduct business as they always have," said Chris Guess. "The PTO will be a separate and stand-alone organization from the school as a 501(c)(3)."

"The PTO will have nothing to do with the school system," said chairman Kevin Caroland. "They will be free to do what they will."

The parent organization or the parent-teacher organization will still be allowed to use the school facilities. Teachers and principals will be volunteers only, and not be mandated to serve on the organization board. These organizations will also have to pay their own liability insurance.

North Lake PTO was administratively dissolved in February 2012 by the state of Tennessee. As of Oct. 9, 2013, it was reinstated as an active business entity, according to state records available online.

In other business, the board addressed two matters of policy.

School board policy 1.404, Appeals to and Appearances Before the Board, was changed to align the policy with the corresponding form. Individuals wanting to appear before the board may request placement on the agenda seven calendar days before the meeting. Remarks will be limited to five minutes.

Policy 3.208 is a new policy concerning facility planning as recommended by the Tennessee School Board Association. The policy calls for the director of schools to annually assess the facility needs as one of the initial steps in the annual budget process. The assessment shall include a review of every work site with specific input from the school principals and appropriate supervisors. This includes an asbestos management plan, maintenance concerns, safety concerns, and building and site deficiencies.

CAC Fund-Raiser Nov. 10

The Community Action Committee is hosting a meal at 12:30 p.m., Sunday, Nov. 10.

The event, "Hunger is NOT a Game," will be at Cravens Hall.

Tickets are $10 per person and are available at the CAC office (in the Yellow House at 258 Lake O'Donnell Rd.) or at the Otey Parish office in Brooks Hall.

All proceeds will benefit CAC's work to end hunger and poverty in the greater Sewanee community.

For more than 35 years, the CAC has provided food, financial assistance and educational support for persons in the greater Sewanee community.

For more information contact the CAC at 598-5927.

and disburses the Community Chest funds each year for SES. All money received from the Community Chest is used for yearly support to the school. The Community Chest currently funds almost 90 percent of the SES PTO operating expenses for the school. The SES PTO also receives money through annual dues and small fund-raisers such as T-shirt sales. SES receives additional money from school pictures, two book fairs, and BoxTops for Education. This year the SES PTO will receive $20,000 if the Community Chest goal is met.

SES always welcomes community members to art shows, musicals and science fairs. Volunteers are always needed to help in the library, teach Friday School or read to the children. For more information, go to <http://www.edline.net/pages/Sewanee_Elementary_School>.

The goal of the Sewanee Community Chest is to help citizens by funding the community. The Community Chest is a 501(c)(3) non-profit organization, and donations are tax-deductible. Send your donation to Sewanee Community Chest, P.O. Box 99, Sewanee, TN 37375. Ragnar Relay on the Mountain Oct. 25

The Tennessee Ragnar Relay will come across the Plateau again this year on the afternoon and evening of Friday, Oct. 25. Because of the increased traffic due to University Homecoming, the route will follow the Mountain Goat Trail rather than coming through Sewanee on University Avenue. Runners are expected to arrive in Sewanee between 3:30 p.m. and 10:30 p.m.

The relay is a two-day, one-night road race from Chattanooga to Nashville. Teams of 12 runners compete with one runner from each team on the road at one time. More than 220 teams are registered for this year's race.

This year's route takes runners from Tracy City through Sewanee and on to Cowan and Lynchburg. Relay exchange points (where runners will be changing places and vans will be parked) will be located at Mountain Outfitters, the Hair Depot in Sewanee, and South Middle School. For detailed route maps and more information go to <www.ragnarrelay.com/race/tennessee>.

Safety Tips for Driving on Foggy Days

Autumn is here, and that means the beginning of the Mountain's infamous dense fog. And with the fog comes greater concerns about traffic safety.

The Sewanee Police Department reminds folks of the following safety recommendations for driving in the fog. Tennessee state law requires that car headlights be turned on for rain, fog or precipitation. "When in doubt," she said, "turn those headlights on." Drivers should not use their emergency flashers unless their vehicle is stopped. Driving with the flashing lights on confuses other drivers.

Other safety tips for driving in the fog include:

When visibility is limited, turn off any music, roll down your car window and listen for traffic you cannot see.

Stay on the roadway by following the white stripe adjacent to the right shoulder of the road.

Remember that other drivers have a limited sight distance, and fog can leave roadways slick. Use your turn signals, and when you use your brakes, don't stomp on them.

When in doubt, turn on your car lights, but make sure your high beams are not on.

Word began to travel and money came rolling in from as far as Virginia and New Hampshire," Porter said.

Over the past 40 years, Collins has provided childcare and housekeeping services to many people in Sewanee. Well-known and beloved by all, generations of individuals seized this opportunity to help someone who has been an inspirational and motherly figure in their lives.

After the funds were raised, work commenced on her house. The roof was repaired, and the drywall and siding were replaced. New, energy-efficient windows were installed, and fresh paint was applied throughout the house. Through the course of renovation, it was discovered that her plumbing lines had collapsed. "It used to be that it would take two hours for my washing machine and my toilet tank to fill up with water," said Collins. "Now my washing machine works really well, I have great water pressure, and my toilet works perfectly!"

In addition to the work and commitment of Marks and Porter, one individual comes to the forefront of Collins' mind when she thinks about the many people she has met through this experience. Rickie Meeks, the contractor on the project, devoted countless personal hours to ensuring Collins' needs were met and that her fears and apprehensions were eased. From working around Collins' desire to stay in her house while repairs were conducted, to bringing her a biscuit every morning for breakfast, Meeks quickly became one of her favorite people.

On a cool October day, Collins sits warmly and comfortably in her home reminiscing with friends about her experience and beaming with appreciation.

She is just one of the many faces behind the Emergency Repair Program funding provided by THDA and the South Central Development District. People across the state now live in safety and warmth because of the work of ERP.

For every individual such as Mary Collins who receives assistance, there are countless more who need help. The Emergency Repair Program is currently funded with proceeds from the THDA first-time home buyer loan program.

THDA's board of directors voted in September 2006 to allocate $12 million to establish the Tennessee Housing Trust Fund. The four-level model for funding includes any state appropriations, THDA funds, private sector investments and matching funds from local grantees. The purpose of the Housing Trust Fund is to serve the needs of very low income, elderly and special needs Tennesseans. As the State's housing finance agency, THDA is a self-sufficient, independently funded, publicly accountable entity of the State of Tennessee. THDA's mission is to ensure that every Tennessean has access to safe, sound, affordable housing opportunities.

More information about THDA programs can be found online at <www.thda.org>.

More Information about the Affordable Care Act

[Editor's Note: On Oct. 1, the Affordable Care Act went into effect. This is the fourth in a series of Messenger articles about how the law will be implemented, with citations for additional information.]

How to apply for insurance through the public health insurance exchange?

People can apply for insurance through the public health insurance exchange online, by phone or by mail. To apply online, go to <www.healthcare.gov>. To apply by phone or to request an application by mail, phone (800) 318-2596 or (855) 889-4325 for the hearing impaired. When applying, you will need Social Security numbers or immigration document numbers for every member of the household who needs coverage; employer and income information for every person who needs coverage; and policy numbers for any current health insurance plans covering members of the household.

For every job-based plan you or someone in your household is eligible for, you'll need to complete an Employer Coverage Tool, which asks questions regarding employer provided health care. (Applicants may need to consult with their employer to answer some of the questions.)

Once the application is complete, you will receive by email or postal mail, according to your preference, information on the health coverage options available in your area. You can compare plans based on what your premium and out-of-pocket expenses will be, along with other information such as the healthcare providers in the network identified by each plan.

All public health insurance exchange plans are required to offer the following essential health benefits: ambulatory patient services (i.e. outpatient care); emergency services; hospitalization; maternity and newborn care; mental health and substance use disorder services, including behavioral health treatment; prescription drugs; rehabilitative and habilitative services and devices; laboratory services; preventive and wellness services and chronic disease management; and pediatric services, including oral and vision care.

Enrolling in plans offered by the exchange began on Oct. 1, 2013, for coverage starting as early as Jan. 1, 2014. The enrollment period for 2014 coverage ends on March 31, 2014. In subsequent years, the enrollment period will be Oct. 15–Dec. 7. Source: <www.healthcare.gov>.

SAS to "Pink Out" Saturday

St. Andrew's-Sewanee School students are having a Pink Out Day on Saturday, Oct. 19.

At 2 p.m., SAS will host the second annual Pink Out football game, as the SAS Mountain Lion take on Riverside Christian Academy.

Admission to the football game is $5. There will be a bake sale at the game. Following the game, there will be a Pink Party Dance for students.

"Go Pink" at Hair Depot

Hair Depot is "going pink" for the month of October in support of breast cancer awareness.

Participants can have their hair streaked pink or their nails painted pink for a minimum $5 donation. Hair Depot will make a $5 donation for everyone who participates.

All proceeds from this event will be distributed locally this year.

Stop by the Hair Depot, 17 Lake O'Donnell Rd., or call Danielle at 598-0033 for more information.

Coat Drive Ends Thursday

St. Andrew's-Sewanee students Grace Liu, '16, and Vanessa Luo, '16, are sponsoring a coat drive at SAS to benefit Mountain T.O.P. SAS is one of the donation sites for this coat drive.

Gently used coats for children and teens are now being accepted on the SAS campus. Donations of coats may be left in green baskets by the picnic tables, located by the SAS gym parking lot. Coat donations are accepted at SAS through Thursday, Oct. 24. For more information on the SAS coat drive, contact Liu at <gliu@sasweb.org> or Luo at <vluo@sasweb.org>.

SAS Students Attend Leadership Event

On Sept. 21, St. Andrew's-Sewanee School students Lindsay Rhys and James Beasley traveled to Camp Nakanawa in Crossville to participate in the Rotary Youth Leadership Awards. They spent the day engaging in leadership activities with fellow high school juniors from all across the state.

"The experience at RYLA [Rotary Youth Leadership Awards] was amazing. I had the absolute best day with a wonderful group of people who have forever changed my perspective on what it really means to be a leader," said Rhys.

The Rotary Club of Monteagle Sewanee sponsored the trip for the students. They were chosen for their qualities of leadership and how they represent the St. Andrew's-Sewanee School student community.

Beasley said, "My experience at RYLA was truly life-changing. I learned leadership skills that I can use effectively in and outside the classroom."

Both students have spoken to the meetings of the Rotary Club of Monteagle Sewanee about their experiences.

Police & Fire Reports

The Sewanee Police Department (SPD) recently issued a report on its activities for the month of September 2013.

Last month, the SPD patrolled 4,216 miles, investigated 13 vehicle accidents and issued four moving violations. It also issued 596 non-moving traffic violations and 22 warnings.

It made two arrests for drug law violations, 22 arrests for liquor law violations and filed eight theft reports.

The department offered mutual aid three times last month. SPD physically checked buildings on 729 occasions and assisted with locking or unlocking buildings 57 times.

In the month of September, the Sewanee Volunteer Fire Department answered 17 calls: 15 to University dorms, fraternity or sorority houses (all with no apparent cause, burnt food or trivial); three to University buildings (alarm malfunction or no apparent cause); two to community residences (sparks near clothes dryer; brush fire); three to community businesses (burnt food, alarm servicing) and one for a vehicle fire. Four calls were for helicopter landings at Emerald-Hodgson Hospital.

The total number of calls to SVFD in 2013 through Sept. 30 is 178.

Emergency Alert System

The University and the Sewanee Police Department have a new emergency alert messaging system.

To receive text and email messages from the new alert system, residents will need to register by going online to the link below. Even if you have signed up before, you will need to do it again to verify your information.

Go to <<https://public.coderedweb.com/CGE/7640BCD161D4>>.

New users will be asked to create an account and enter a password. There are a number of contact options, including text via cellphone, email and recorded telephone messages.

To participate, you must be a student or employee of the University or have a Sewanee address.

Each year all contact information will be removed from the emergency alert database.

To continue to receive alerts participants must log on to the website and sign up on an annual basis.

Fall Box Tops Due Oct. 28

Box Top submission time is here once again.

“Box Tops for Education” is an easy way to support Sewanee Elementary School. Take a few minutes and clip the Box Tops from many of the groceries you already buy at the store.

SES may only submit collected Box Tops twice a year; once in the fall and once in spring.

Box Tops expire, and Bonus Box Tops expire earlier than regular ones, so it is important that they get collected now.

All fall submissions must be post-marked by Nov. 1.

Organizer Erin Cassell will be making a final collection on Monday, Oct. 28, so they can be sorted, counted and mailed by the deadline.

Please drop off all of the Box Tops that you’ve clipped, either at SES or the lobby of the Sewanee post office. This year’s goal is $930.

SES also collects Labels for Education. Drop them off at SES or place them in the collection box at the Sewanee post office.

For a list of participating items go to <www.boxtops4education.com/products/participating-products> or <www.btfe.com>.

Beef & Goat Producer Classes Beginning

The Franklin County Extension Service will have classes for Master Beef Producer and Master Meat Goat Producer this fall.

The Master Beef Producer program is $150; producers will pay $50 at sign-up and the other $100 will be paid by the state if the participant completes the required coursework. The course will meet at 6 p.m., for twelve sessions, beginning on Oct. 29. A companion notebook is included in the course. This program meets the requirements for the Tennessee Dept. of Agriculture Ag Enhancement grants. Deadline for registration is Wednesday, Oct. 23; please have your farm premise ID number prior to the start of the course.

The extension service will also hold a Master Meat Goat Producer Program. The program will be conducted on Nov. 8 and 9 at the Franklin County Farm Bureau Building in Decherd. This two-day course meets the 50 percent cost requirements for the Tennessee Agricultural Enhancement Program for Goat and Sheep producers. There will be classroom, as well as on-farm training. The cost for this program is $70 if applicants acquire their premise ID. Ann Peishel will teach FAMACHA, which is a visual method to measure parasite levels, and other small ruminant production topics. Deadline for registration is Monday, Oct. 29. For more information about either class or to register call 967-2741.

I Am Cuba* (1964)
 Unrated • 140 minutes • Free

This study of Cuba—partially written by renowned poet Yevgeny Yevtushenko—captures the island just before it made the transition to a post-revolutionary society. Moving from city to country and back again, “I Am Cuba” examines the various problems caused by political oppression, as well as by great discrepancies in wealth and power. Beginning in Havana in the pre-Castro era, we see how foreigners contributed to the city’s prostitution and poverty; this sequence features dreamy, hallucinogenic camera work that creates a feeling of unease and dislocation. Then, in glorious images of palm trees and fertile land, the film looks at the sugar cane fields in the countryside and the difficulties faced by peasants working the land. Finally, back in the city again, leftist students battle the police and a corrupt government—and pay a high price for their rebellion.—summary from <IMDB.com>

SEWANEE UNION THEATRE
Thursday–Sunday, Oct. 24–27, 7:30 p.m.
Mud
 Rated PG-13 • 130 minutes

Two young boys discover a boat in a tree on a mud island in the middle of the Mississippi River, and then find the man who is living in it. Thus begins an adventure that is both terrifying and exhilarating for young Ellis and Neckbone. Matthew McConaughey stars as the mystery man with just the right mix of charisma and bravado in this beautiful and thoughtful modern take on a fairy tale; Reese Witherspoon and Sam Shepard co-star. Part “Night of the Hunter,” part “Huck Finn,” “Mud” is a small gem of a film worth seeing before it slips away. Rated PG-13 for some violence, sexual references, language, thematic elements and smoking.—LW

“Proctors Hall” by Tony Winters

Winters Gives Talk on Oct. 25 About Paintings

Sewanee alumnus and architect Tony Winters, will give a talk at 4:30 p.m. Friday, Oct. 25, in conjunction with his show, “Sewanee Trails and Coves,” followed by a reception. The event will be held in the Carlos Gallery in the Nabit Art Building at the University.

The exhibition features a series of paintings that portrays the bluffs, forests and coves surrounding Sewanee, where Winters grew up and studied. Through his art, Winters portrays the interaction between natural and man-made environments. His paintings are attempts to capture and communicate the feelings experienced in the presence of nature and they involve a sense of wonder and awe as well as tranquility. He is fascinated by the architecture of nature.

The Carlos Gallery is located in the Nabit Art Building, at 105 Kennerly Rd., Sewanee.

Poetry and Theatre at IONA

The Autumn Assembly of Authors at IONA: Art Sanctuary continues with a full slate of readings and art exhibits. The public is welcome, all events are free, parking is available, and refreshments are served.

At 2 p.m., Sunday, Oct. 20, members of the Carlos family will offer poetry readings: Edward Carlos, Camila Hwang-Carlos, Malia Carlos, Bennett Bridgers-Carlos and Aaron Bridgers-Carlos. Art banners created by Adam Carlos will be on display.

Following the poetry, there will be a 10-minute preview presentation of the upcoming play at St. Andrew’s-Sewanee School, “Crimson Fairy Tales,” under the direction of Robie Jackson and John Holleman.

On Friday, Oct. 25, IONA will focus on Sewanee graduates. At 3:30 p.m., Tom Fennell will discuss the architecture of Fennell-Purifoy, Salley Aden McNerney will read from her novel, “Journey Proud,” and Benjamin Walker will read from “Winds of the South.”

IONA: Art Sanctuary is located at 630 Garnertown Rd. in Sewanee.

“Faulkner to Film in the Fifties” Talk

Faulkner scholar John Matthews, professor of English at Boston University, will speak at 4:30 p.m., Wednesday, Oct. 23, in Gailor Auditorium, about film adaptations of William Faulkner’s fiction in the 1950s, particularly two films by director Martin Ritt: “The Long, Hot Summer” (1958) and “The Sound and the Fury” (1959).

The two films will be screened in Gailor Auditorium in advance of the Oct. 23 lecture. At 7 p.m. Tuesday, Oct. 22, all are welcome to watch “The Long, Hot Summer” starring Paul Newman, Joanne Woodward, and Orson Welles and “The Sound and the Fury” starring Yul Brynner.

Walker Percy Film at Gailor

Rivendell Writers’ Colony and the Sewanee School of Letters will present a screening of “Walker Percy: A Documentary Film” by Win Riley at 7 p.m., Friday, Oct. 25, in Gailor Auditorium.

A reception and conversation with Walker Percy’s grandson, Jack Moores, will follow the screening.

“We are thrilled to be able to honor the Percy family connection to Sewanee, Brinkwood and Rivendell by hosting this event with the Sewanee School of Letters. We’re especially glad that Jack Moores is joining us to discuss his grandfather,” said Carmen Thompson, director of Rivendell Writers’ Colony.

Brinkwood, formerly owned by William Alexander Percy, was home to Walker Percy in his first year of marriage, as he began his writing life.

“Walker Percy: A Documentary Film” tells the story of the writer’s life with archival film, excerpts from Percy’s work and interviews with family, friends and scholars. The film won the Louisiana Endowment for the Humanities Documentary Film of the Year award and was a 2010 Official Selection of the New Orleans Film Festival.

Benefit for Sewanee Children's Center

Oboist Rebecca Van de Ven will perform a recital at 3 p.m., Sunday, Oct. 27, in St. Luke's Chapel. The event is free, and all donations will benefit the Sewanee Children's Center.

Van de Ven will be joined by the principal bassoonist of the Huntsville Symphony Orchestra, Hunter Thomas, as well as Sewanee faculty members Bernadette Lo on piano and Katherine Lehman on violin. The performers will collaborate on two trios with a variety of other pieces.

The first trio is by G.F. Handel and was written originally for two oboes and bassoon. It will open the program with altered instrumentation using violin, oboe and bassoon. Lo and Van de Ven will play their first performance of the virtuosic "Kalliwoda Sonata," and Thomas will share another lively sonata by Bourdeau. The program will also include a few Chopin preludes. Finally the program will end with the dramatic and lovely crowd-pleasing Poulenc "Trio for Oboe, Bassoon and Piano."

Come support the Sewanee Children's Center and enjoy an afternoon of music.

Animal Harbor Party for Paws

The 2013 Fall Party for Paws and Silent Auction for Animal Harbor will be 6-8:30 p.m., Saturday, Nov. 9, at IvyWild Restaurant in Sewanee.

There will be food, wine and conversation.

The silent auction will feature works by area artists.

Tickets are $35 per person ($40 per person at the door) and are available at Animal Harbor by calling 962-4472, online at <www.animalharbor.com>, at area veterinarians or from Gail Castle at (931) 636-0388.

Frances Perea at her "Dia de los Muertos" show

Artisan Depot Hosts Angel Art Show and "Dia de los Muertos"

The Franklin County Arts Guild's "Angel" community art show is on exhibit now until Dec. 28 at Artisan Depot, 201 Cumberland Street East, in Cowan. The community is invited to the gallery during regular hours to vote for their favorite Angel artwork for the People's Choice Blue Ribbon Award. The show features works depicting all sorts of angels, including the storied Sewanee angel, Christmas angels and angels found in nature. All work in the exhibit is contributed by local community artists.

The artist's wine and cheese reception will be 5-8 p.m., today (Friday), October 18, at the gallery. Bazzania will perform at the reception. The community is invited to come and enjoy the music and meet the artists.

Local artist Frances Perea will exhibit her latest mixed media show, "Dia de los Muertos," from now through Nov. 8. An artist's reception will be 5-7 p.m., Friday, Nov. 1, with Mexican refreshments. All are invited to come in costume and participate in a costume contest. Winner of the best costume will receive $100 worth of art by the artist. This is a free event and is open to the public.

Dia de los Muertos aka Day of the Dead is a traditional Mexican celebration that takes place annually on Nov. 1-2. This lively and colorful fiesta honors the spirits of the dead by inviting them to visit on those days. Ofrendas, which are shrines or altars, are set up with an abundance of flowers, candles, sugar skulls, pan muerto, food offerings, gifts and photos of their loved ones who have passed away. Families visit the graves, clean them and decorate them with candles and flowers, play music and recall memories of times spent with them.

As a part of her exhibit Frances has also erected a Community Ofrenda/Shrine and invites members of the community who wish to participate to leave photos of their loved ones who have passed away, as well as small offerings. Photos of beloved pets who have died are also welcome.

The Artisan Depot community art shows welcome original contributions from Franklin County artists of all ages in multiple types of art media. All work in the show is for sale. The Artisan Depot is operated by the Franklin County Arts Guild.

Gallery hours are 12 p.m. to 5 p.m. on Thursdays and Fridays and 11 a.m. to 5 p.m. on Saturdays.

SAS Volleyball Ends Season

The St. Andrew's-Sewanee varsity volleyball team's season came to an end as they lost to Friendship Christian School in the district tournament, 25-22, 23-25, 25-21 and 25-23. Despite a strong effort on the road, the Mountain Lions came up short.

Strong performances were turned in by Sierra Mushett, with 13 kills and four aces; Sam Stine, with 13 kills and eight assists; Allison Bruce, with four blocks; Aly Barry, with 20 assists; Madison Culpepper, with 12 digs; and Lexie Laurendine, with three aces. SAS finished the season 16-13 and fourth in the district.

Senior Sam Stine was selected to the Division II-A all district team and all-tournament team.

The SAS varsity football team will host Riverside Christian Academy on Oct. 19 in the second annual Pink Out Day. Admission is $5 and benefits the Susan G. Komen Breast Cancer Foundation.

SAS Soccer Ends Season

The St. Andrew's-Sewanee girls' soccer team traveled to Ezell-Harding Christian School on Oct. 10 for their first district tournament game.

"The SAS team played their best game of the season tonight. I'm so proud of the progress they've made this season," assistant coach Molly Schaefer said of the group.

During most of the first 20 minutes, SAS controlled possession of the ball, creating play after play to create scoring opportunities. During the course of the game, the Mountain Lions had a grand total of 14 shots on goal, a record for the season. After several attempts, Sam Wiegand finished a ball off of Eliza McNair, making SAS the first team on the scoreboard.

Before the end of the first half, however, Ezell-Harding answered, scoring two goals and putting them ahead 2-1.

In the second half, both teams continued to fight hard. The seniors on the SAS team played with spirit, inspiring the rest of the team with their perseverance and tenacity.

Early in the second half, the Ezell-Harding team was able to finish another well-placed shot. This fueled fire for the Mountain Lions, and Katelyn Howard soon made a shot from the 18-yard line that sailed smoothly into the back of the net. By the end of the game, Ezell-Harding had managed to sink one more shot, bringing the final score to 4-2.

Coach Fritsl Butler said that this was "the very best game our girls played this season—it's so fulfilling to see them put into practice what they've worked so hard to learn this season."

Sewanee Soccer Teams Win

Women's Team

Two goals by Shelby Meckstroth and one by Jamie Samociuk led the Sewanee women's soccer team to a 3-1 victory at Southern Athletic Association rival Millsaps on Oct. 11.

The Tigers, winners of six straight matches, improved their record to 9-1-1 overall and 2-0 in conference action.

Sewanee got on the board first when Meckstroth beat the Millsaps keeper in the 32nd minute.

After Millsaps netted its lone goal six minutes later, Meckstroth broke away from the defense and chipped in her second goal right before halftime.

In the second half, Samociuk pushed a late insurance goal into the back of the net in the 75th minute.

Sewanee outshot Millsaps 15-5.

The Tigers also finished with a 7-4 advantage in corner kicks.

Men's Team

A late first-half goal by Harrison Williams pushed the Sewanee men's soccer team past Southern Athletic Association (SAA) rival Millsaps on Oct. 11.

With the win, the Tigers improved to 6-4-2 overall and 1-1-0 in SAA play.

In a hard-fought battle throughout, Sewanee broke through late in the first half when Williams netted a goal off a corner kick from Chris Haberstroh.

On defense, goalkeeper Holden Foster and a strong Tiger backline posted the shutout after stopping eight shots on-goal.

Berry Downs Sewanee, Tigers Rebound Over Oglethorpe

Southern Athletic Association (SAA) member Berry College quickly defeated the Sewanee volleyball team 3-0 on Oct. 11.

The Tigers dropped the first set by a close score of 25-22 and then lost the remaining two sets by a 25-15 score.

The biggest difference in the match was Berry's ability to score off the attack. The Vikings put down .300 percent of their attempts while the Tigers finished with a .097 attack percentage.

Kayla Sewell led Sewanee with eight kills and nine digs. Jamie Kosman finished with 15 digs and a surprising one kill from her back row libero position.

On Oct. 12, the Sewanee volleyball team rebounded with a 3-0 win against Oglethorpe.

The Tigers (13-7, 4-5 SAA) came away with 25-23, 25-18 and 25-17 set victories.

As a team, Sewanee finished with a .298 attack percentage while limiting the Stormy Petrels to only 36 kills on 126 attempts.

Sewanee also made it difficult for Oglethorpe with a match-high seven blocks. Jamie Sue Wilson finished with 14 kills and a .480 attack percentage. Caroline Montgomery added six kills on an efficient eight attempts (.750). Rachel Schuman dished out 17 assists, while Sewell added a team-high 15 digs.

Smith Wins Women's Race at Tiger Twilight Invitational

Led by winner Willow Smith, the Sewanee men's and women's cross country teams had a pair of season-best performances at the annual Tiger Twilight Invitational on Oct. 11.

On the men's side, the Tigers finished second on the 8k course. Led by Mark McAlister's fourth-place individual finish, Sewanee ended with an average time of 28:03.00.

Jason Grimes also finished in the top-five in 27:34.00, while Alec Hill (28:16.00) was one spot behind Grimes in sixth.

In the women's race, Sewanee dominated with three of the top-five finishers. Sewanee ran away from the field with eight runners inside the top-10.

Along with Smith's (23:31.00) top honor, the Tigers had strong finishes from second-place medalist Ansley McDurmon (23:53.00) and third-place finisher Amy Lee (24:43.00).

Parker Goss (25:37.00), Alexandra Bingham (25:50.00), Haley Wells (25:50.00), Caroline Roberts (26:02.00), and Shelby Koebler (26:16.00) all placed inside the top-10.

Rhodes Retains the Orgill Trophy

Rhodes quarterback Blake Box finished with 239 passing yards and four touchdowns, as the Lynx retained the Orgill Trophy with a 50-23 win against the Sewanee football team on Oct. 12.

After Sewanee jumped out to a 3-0 lead, Rhodes quickly answered with a 74-yard touchdown run.

After Sewanee failed to move the ball on its next possession, the Lynx added their second touchdown.

Another Callum Wishart field goal cut the lead to 14-6; however, Rhodes scored on its next possession on a 73-yard touchdown pass.

Sewanee would climb back into the game in the second quarter.

Wishart scored another field goal. The Tigers scored their first touchdown when Charlie Powell hauled in a 59-yard pass from quarterback Curtis Johnson with 2:45 left before halftime.

Unfortunately, from there, things would not improve. Rhodes came out in the third quarter and scored 21 unanswered points to take a commanding 42-16 lead. Powell would score one final touchdown for Sewanee, when Johnson found the receiver in the end zone with 14 seconds left in the third quarter. Rhodes also added a late touchdown from five yards out.

Johnson finished with 153 yards of total offense and two touchdowns. Powell also played well with a career-high 83 receiving yards and two scores.

Wishart connected on three field goals from 43, 46, and 46 yards.

OVERTIME

by John Shackelford

Jenny Liles, C'13, was back on campus this past weekend taking a break from medical school at the University of Arkansas to gown her younger sister Lindsey, C'16 at the Founder's Day Convocation and also to take part in the celebration of our new tennis facility enhancements on Saturday morning. You may remember Jenny from last spring as the outstanding student-athlete who was selected as her class valedictorian and qualified as an All-American in singles and doubles at the NCAA championships in the same week. All of this recognition cumulated in her selection as an NCAA post-graduate scholar and the Southern Athletic Association Conference Woman of the Year. As Jenny drove up to the Bruton-Guerry tennis courts where she spent so many hours practicing and competing during the past four years, she admitted to a small dose of jealousy that her younger sibling and former teammates would reap the benefits of the two new courts and beautiful new stadium. That morning I was also passing out new sweatshirts for the team with their names embroidered on the back. As Lindsey put on her new personalized hoodie, Jenny's envy was evident as you might imagine from two sisters who are so successful and competitive in every challenge they undertake.

We had several recruits visiting campus that day, and the members of the tennis teams, along with Jenny, all explained to the prospective students about the great opportunities that lay ahead in the coming years. As we paused to thank the donors for their generosity, I reflected on what these tennis courts and the program looked like when Conchie and I first arrived in the winter of 1985.

During that first month, recruiting meant locating the intramural champion from the previous year and begging him to try out for the tennis team so we would have enough players to play a match. Our first real recruit was a young man from Cookeville named David Dye. At that time the University had seven courts with only a dirt parking lot as our finest amenity. The Guerry family helped that seven grow to 10 and now, thanks to David and a few of his teammates, we've expanded to 12. That dirt parking lot now houses a tennis pavilion through the generosity of former football and tennis star John Guerry, C'49, and a tennis stadium given by the Willet family whose twin daughters, Lauren and Molly, graduated in 2007 after leading their team to a third-place NCAA finish. Our newest twin stadium was a gift from Sherri and Mark (C'81) Lawrence, whose daughter Meredith also graduated in 2013. Jim Scott, C'58, father of former player Fairlie Scott Herron, C'92, made the new plaza and seating area adjacent to the new courts possible. In another predictable evolutionary twist, now there were 35 sweatshirts to pass out rather than the six we needed back in 1986.

I discussed with Jenny that each generation has left this place better than they found it. I know that she was not really jealous. Jenny felt pride in watching her sister take her turn in the donning of a gown and growing into the role of replacing her as a team and campus leader. She can know that her success on the court led to the growth of the tennis program and the desire of many prospective students to follow in her footsteps in this remarkable place. Just as I have found with each and every player, Jenny has grown and matured since we first met her five years ago. Institutions like Sewanee grow and advance in the same way that people develop. (We've had a lot of practice since 1858.)

Bricks and mortar represent only one kind of growth. We can truly witness Sewanee's maturation in the ideas of so many bright people, the creativity of each generation, the relationships between teachers and students, and the personal connections we make throughout the community. Roads have been redirected and sidewalks have been poured with concrete over the years, but all of these paths lead us to the same place. Our destinations are never an ending, they are just someone else's beginning. I'm thankful that people like Jenny, David, Meredith, the Willets, and the Guerrys, who I was supposed to coach and teach, ended up educating me. I think I need to go buy a few more sweatshirts with all of their names on the back.

NATURENOTES

By Harry and Jean Yeatman

Coyotes!

"About 3 a.m. on Oct. 9," Jean Yeatman reports, "I was awakened by what I thought was a scream, but as I went to the window I realized there was a large pack of coyotes yipping and howling below my window. They were very loud, and in the distance others were howling. It was an eerie experience, and it made me wonder if the deer in our pasture had fled in terror. I believe that it did, as we have not seen any around our area in days.

"In appearance," she continued, "the coyote is rather like a small German Shepherd with long hair and a bushy tail, but it has a very narrow muzzle and nose pad, and carries its tail down when running. In color it can be a grizzled buff, or blackish, reddish or grayish. Coyotes will breed with dogs, and when I was fox hunting, we regularly chased a black coyote, which our huntsman said was probably part dog. Coyotes' tracks are more angular and less rounded than dogs'; their fur is coarse and used chiefly for trimming garments. About 75 per cent of the food of this omnivorous canine is rabbits and rodents.

"There is a large and growing folklore about the coyote," she concluded, "apparent by its symbolic use in Aztec design and its role as a 'trickster' in North American Indian legends."

Pets of the Week

Meet Country and Lilac

The Franklin County Humane Society's Animal Harbor offers these two delightful pets for adoption.

Country is a very large, very handsome German Shepherd who was found as a stray. He has a great deal of energy and would do best in a home with adults and older children who can exercise him and love him. Country is up-to-date on shots and neutered.

Lilac is a darling teenaged kitten with stunning blue eyes and a sweet personality. She enjoys all of the normal kitten hobbies—hunting toy mice, lounging, pouncing on unsuspecting jingle balls and sleeping. Lilac is negative for FeLV and FIV, house-trained, up-to-date on shots and spayed.

For a limited time, two kittens may be adopted together for one adoption fee of $75. Having two kittens is better than one because they play together and keep each other company. Adult cats may be adopted for a $40 fee during this special.

Every Friday is Black Friday at Animal Harbor. On Fridays, adoption fees will be reduced 50 percent for black or mostly black pets more than 4 months old who have been at Animal Harbor for more than a month. Pets adopted from Animal Harbor qualify for a free post-adoption wellness exam by local veterinarians.

Call Animal Harbor at 962-4472 for information and check out the other pets at www.animalharbor.com. Enter their drawing on this site for a free spay or neuter for one of your pets. Please help the Humane Society continue to save abandoned pets by sending your donations to the Franklin County Humane Society, P. O. Box 187, Winchester, TN 37398.

Battlefields License Plate Available

The Tennessee Civil War 150th license plate is now available at county clerk's offices across the state.

The Civil War 150th Battlefield preservation plate includes the official Tennessee Sesquicentennial logo. The Tennessee Civil War Preservation Association (TCWPA) will use proceeds from the sale of the plate to interpret and preserve Tennessee's most important and endangered battlefields. The annual specialty plate fee is $35 and may be purchased anytime during the registration year.

"Purchasing this plate is a wonderful opportunity to help preserve Tennessee's endangered Civil War battlefields for our children and future generations," said Joe Smyth, TCWPA president.

For more information about the Tennessee Civil War Preservation Association and the license plate program, visit www.tcwpa.org. For questions about getting the plate, contact the county clerk's office.

The TCWPA, a nonprofit partner organization with the Tennessee Civil War Sesquicentennial Commission, is the sponsor of the plate designed to honor the memory of the 230,000 Tennesseans who fought in the Civil War. The proceeds will support Civil War battlefield preservation in Tennessee.

Chanson des escargots qui vont à l'enterrement

A l'enterrement d'une feuille morte
Deux escargots s'en vont
Ils ont la coquille noire
Du crêpe autour des cornes
Ils s'en vont dans le noir
Un très beau soir d'automne
Hélas quand ils arrivent
C'est déjà le printemps
Les feuilles qui étaient mortes
Sont toutes ressuscitées
Et les deux escargots
Sont très désappointés
Mais voilà le soleil
Le soleil qui leur dit
Prenez prenez la peine
La peine de vous asseoir
Prenez un verre de bière
Si le coeur vous en dit
Prenez si ça vous plaît
L'autocar pour Paris
Il partira ce soir
Vous verrez du pays
Mais ne prenez pas le deuil
C'est moi qui vous le dis
Ça noircit le blanc de l'oeil
Et puis ça enlaidit
Les histoires de cercueils
C'est triste et pas joli
Reprenez vos couleurs
Les couleurs de la vie
Alors toutes les bêtes
Les arbres et les plantes
Se mettent à chanter
A chanter à tue-tête
La vraie chanson vivante
La chanson de l'été
Et tout le monde de boire
Tout le monde de trinquer
C'est un très joli soir
Un joli soir d'été
Et les deux escargots
S'en retournent chez eux
Ils s'en vont très émus
Ils s'en vont très heureux
Comme ils ont beaucoup bu
Ils titubent un petit peu
Mais là-haut dans le ciel
La lune veille sur eux.

English translation:

Song of the snails on their way to a funeral

Two snails were going to the funeral of a dead leaf.
Their shells were shrouded in black,
and they had wrapped crepe around their horns.
They set out in the evening,
one glorious autumn evening.
Alas, when they arrived
it was already spring.
The leaves who once were dead
had all sprung to life again.
The two snails were very disappointed.
But then the sun, the sun said to them,
“Take the time to sit awhile.
Take a glass of beer
if your heart tells you to.
Take, if you like, the bus to Paris.
It leaves this evening.
You'll see the sights.
But don't use up your time with mourning.
I tell you, it darkens the white of your eye and makes you ugly.
Stories of coffins aren't very pretty.
Take back your colours,
the colours of life.”
Then all the animals,
the trees and the plants
began to sing at the tops of their lungs.
It was the true and living song,
the song of summer.
And they all began to drink and to clink their glasses.
It was a glorious evening,
a glorious summer evening,
and the two snails went back home.
They were moved,
and very happy.
They had had a lot to drink and they staggered a little bit, but the moon in the sky watched over them.

—Jacques Prévert
