Taiko Drummer Endo Performs Oct. 30

Sewanee's Performing Arts Series will feature Kenny Endo, a leading persona in contemporary percussion and rhythm, in Guerry Auditorium at 7:30 p.m. on Saturday, Oct. 30. Endo's performance is part of the University's 2010-11 Performing Arts Series, bringing a wide array of the world's finest artists to Sewanee. For ticket information e-mail <performingarts@sewanee.edu> or visit <www.sewanee.edu/performingarts/>.

Aiken Taylor Award-Winner Glück Honored Nov. 4

The Sewanee Review is honoring Louise Glück, one of the most lauded poets in the United States today, with the 2010 Aiken Taylor Award in Modern American Poetry.

The public is invited to attend the presentation to Glück on Thursday, Nov. 4, at 4:30 p.m. in Convocation Hall, followed by her reading and a reception. On Wednesday, Nov. 3, David Yezzi will give a lecture, "The Measure of Louise Glück," at 8 p.m. in the McGriff Alumni House, also followed by a reception. Glück's books will be available for purchase at both events.

Glück's poetry, remarkable for its simple lines, painstaking diction and wrenching emotion, has unified themes as broad as disintegrating family relationships and the struggle to find meaning in daily life, with the personae of the Odyssey and the myths of Persephone and Orpheus. Glück's controlled use of language—"sparse lines, simple syntax, beautiful sounds"—has been aptly described as "an aesthetic of reticence." Glück traces her interest in mythology back to her childhood on Long Island, when her father recounted classical Greco-Roman mythology to his two daughters. Her focus on mythological figures and her use of archetypal narratives allow her to explore her own marriage, her own childhood, and her own concerns about and fear of death. By creating a menagerie of classical personae, she is able to universalize the intimately personal. In fact, Glück is troubled by the ego and thinks "most contemporary poetry is horrifically disfigured by it." She says, "I would like to write poetry that was intensely personal and seemed absolutely devoid of egotism."

In addition to her work as a poet, Glück has made a considerable imprint on contemporary American letters as an educator and as a champion of young writers. Aside from teaching in the creative writing programs at Boston University, the University of Iowa and Goddard College in Vermont, Glück taught at

Voters may vote "yes" or "no" on the following proposed constitutional amendment that reaffirms personal hunting and fishing rights, subject to reasonable regulations and restrictions prescribed by law.

Shall Article XI, Section 13 of the Constitution of the State of Tennessee be amended by adding the following sentences at the end of the section:

The citizens of this state shall have the personal right to hunt and fish, subject to reasonable regulations and restrictions prescribed by law. The recognition of this right does not abrogate any private or public property rights, nor does it limit the state's power to regulate commercial activity. Traditional manners and means may be used to take non-threatened species.

Music@Noon

The University's music department will host a Music@Noon recital in St. Luke's Chapel on Thursday, Nov. 4, beginning at 12:20 p.m. The program will feature vocal students of Susan Rupert, University music instructor.

Music@Noon is a monthly series of lunchtime concerts that feature performances by faculty, students and staff. For information contact James Carlson at <jcarlson@sewanee.edu>.

EQB Meets in Different Venue

The EQB Club will meet tomorrow, Oct. 29, at 3:30 p.m. in Otey parish hall. Please note that this is a change from the usual meeting place in the Sewanee Inn because of a scheduling conflict. Vice-Chancellor John McCardell will address the group. After his presentation light refreshments will be served. As always, members of the Sewanee area community are welcome.

Sewanee and Monteagle children will celebrate Halloween by Trick-or-Treating on Saturday, Oct. 30.

Hehmeyer, C'77, Leadership Talk

Chris Hehmeyer, Sewanee class of 1977, will present "If you build it, they will come: Leadership at the heart of entrepreneurship" at 4:30 p.m. on Tuesday, Nov. 2, in Gailor Auditorium. The public is invited. Hehmeyer's talk will address leadership as an integral characteristic of successful entrepreneurs.

Hehmeyer is chief executive officer of HTG Capital Partners, providing strategic direction for the company, whose mission is to maximize return on capital by bringing value to traders, trading partners and employees.

DuBose Lectures and SofT Alumni/ae Homecoming Oct. 28-29

The School of Theology hosts the 2010 DuBose Lectures and Alumni/ae Gathering on Oct. 28 and 29, featuring the Rt. Rev. Thomas E. Breindenthal, bishop of the Episcopal Diocese of Southern Ohio. Breindenthal will base his three lectures around his belief that "the Holy Spirit is clearly driving the churches into new forms and settings of mission." All three lectures will be held in Guerry Hall.

Prior to his election as bishop, Breindenthal served as dean of religious life at Princeton University and the John Henry Hobart Professor of Christian Ethics and Moral Theology at General Theological Seminary. He was rector of Trinity Church in Ashland, Oregon, from 1988 to 1992, senior chaplain at the Harvard School in North Hollywood, Calif., from 1986 to 1988 and Episcopal Church Foundation Fellow in Oxford, England from 1983 to 1986.

After graduating from Portland State University in Oregon, Breindenthal earned an M.A. in English literature from the University of Victoria, an M.Div. from the Church Divinity School of the Pacific, and a D.Phil. in theology from Oxford University.

His publications include "Sacred Unions: A New Guide to Life-Long Commitment" (2006) and "Christian Households: The Sanctification of Nearness" (1997).

On Thursday, Oct. 28, from 1:30 to 3 p.m., Breindenthal addresses "The Blood of Abel: Atonement and the Neighbor." Following a break in Convocation Hall, Breindenthal presents "Outside the Camp: The Church as Body Politic" from 3:30 to 5 p.m. The final lecture, to be given on Friday, Oct. 29, from 9 to 10:30 a.m., is titled "The Festal Gathering: Approaching the Mountain."

A new event has been added to the lecture lineup. Distinguished astrophysicist Arnold Benz will present "Scientific Worldviews, Religion, and the Quest for Meaning" in Gailor Auditorium at 1 p.m. on Friday, Oct. 29.

The annual DuBose lectures are offered to the general public at no charge.

SES Halloween Costume Parade Today!

The Parent/Teacher Organization of Sewanee Elementary School will hold its annual Halloween Costume Parade today. Funds will be collected for UNICEF that evening. Children are encouraged to dress up for the parade and the parade lineup will begin outside the elementary school at 5:45 p.m. Children will follow the Sewanee Fire Department toward Elliott Park. Parents with young children or safety concerns are encouraged to walk with their children in the parade.

Parents and onlookers may join the University's Big People for Little People in tossing candy to the children as they process. Please bring candy or treats for the children and spare change for UNICEF.

Wallace Presents Thailand School's Sustainability Curriculum on Nov. 1

Mae Wallace, University professor of anthropology and chair of the education program, will share her recent sabbatical experiences in a multimedia presentation, "A Local Curriculum for Sustainability: Suwan Elementary School in Thailand." The lecture will be held on Monday, Nov. 1, at 4:30 p.m. in Gailor Auditorium. The community is invited and refreshments will be provided.

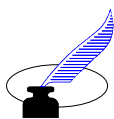

Wallace has been conducting educational and cultural research in Thailand for two decades. This particular case study focuses on the Thai Buddhist meaning of sustainability and its schoolwide curricular themes and activities in agriculture, music, art, language, recycling and Thai massage.

The talk is sponsored by the University's education program, environmental studies department and the Center for Community Engaged Learning.

LAST WEEK TO DONATE TO THE FIERY GIZZARD PROJECT To the Editor:

This Friday, Oct. 29, is the fund raising campaign closing date for 6,200 acres in and around Fiery Gizzard, and we still have $477,000 to raise toward our goal!

Since June, the Land Trust for Tennessee with the Conservation Fund and the Friends of the South Cumberland have taken on the responsibility of raising the funds to purchase this magnificent property—an $8.1 million campaign. With less than a week remaining until the closing date, the Land Trust has $477,000 left to raise toward the $8.1 million goal. The purchase of this land marks the protection of one of Tennessee's most priceless natural resources.

The Fiery Gizzard Project needs your help today! An anonymous donor has made a challenge gift to the Fiery Gizzard project. For every dollar we raise, this donor will generously contribute half of that to the cause. This means that every gift is significant. You can donate online at <www.landtrusttn.org/>. You can make a pledge by e-mailing Beth Thomas at <bthomas@landtrusttn.org>. You can mail a check to: The Land Trust for Tennessee, Attn: Fiery Gizzard Project, 209 10th Ave. S., Ste. 530, Nashville, TN 37203

The Land Trust and our generous donors are committed to ensuring that this land remains intact so that future generations will be able to enjoy Fiery

Gizzard for years to come. This is your opportunity to be a part of saving this special place.

Jeanie Nelson
President & Executive Director
Land Trust for Tennessee ■

GRATITUDE FOR GIFTS To the Editor:

Although I have always looked askance at expressing thanks for individual acts of kindness in a blanket-type newspaper acknowledgement, I am now reduced to doing so by an insoluble mystery. In mid-July I had the pleasure of paying visits to Sewanee and the surrounding area. During the latter part of that delightful respite, I was the guest of friends in the Otter Falls vicinity.

Emerging from my comfortable quarters one morning, I was startled to find wonderful gifts placed next to the driver's side door of my truck: a jar of pears and one of beets. I am most grateful. To my generous benefactors—I have broken into the pears. The beets will soon begin accompanying suppers of greens, dried beans, sweet potatoes and hot-water cornbread. Please know how much I appreciate your kindness.

Serving Where Called

Seven years ago this column began to support the large number of reservists and National Guard members called up for active duty to serve in the war in Iraq. About 50,000 troops remain in Iraq to support and train their military and assist with counterterrorism.

On Dec. 1, 2009, President Barack Obama announced he was sending additional troops to Afghanistan to focus on reversing the Taliban's momentum. Today thousands of our troops are deployed in this volatile area.

This is a reminder that someone else is standing guard and facing fire for us. Please keep the following individuals, their families and all those who fight for freedom in your prayers:

Nick Barry
Robyn Cimino-Hurt
James Gregory Cowan
Robert S. Lauderdale
Alan Moody
Brian Norcross
Christopher Norcross
Dustin "Dusty" Lee Parker
Brandon Parks
Michael Parmley
Greg Rinkes

Fall Deer Pre-Cull Continues

The University is holding a two-phased deer cull on the Domain for the purposes of herd management, ecosystem balance and community safety. The phases consist of a fall pre-cull and a Christmas break cull.

The pre-cull, currently underway, occurs on the following dates: Nov. 6-7, 20-21, 24 and 26-28; and Dec. 4-5 and 11-12. Hunting will begin at sunrise and end at sunset on these dates. There will be no hunting between 10 a.m. and 2 p.m.

During the pre-cull, hunting will be archery only—with no exceptions.

Hunting will be conducted in large perimeter zones. Pre-cull maps of the areas is available on the Messenger website, <www.sewaneemessenger.com>, and displayed at duPont Library, the SPO and the bulletin board at the Sewanee Market.

The following trails will remain open at all times: Tennessee Avenue, Rails-To-Trails bike path, entire Perimeter Trail, Bridal Veil Falls trail, Piney Point trail, Beckwith's Point trail, Caldwell Rim trail, Solomon's Temple trail in Thumping Dick Hollow. Bow hunters will be located at least 100 yards from trails and fire lanes.

In an effort to increase the number of deer taken, two changes have been made to the pre-cull this year. In addition to the dates listed above, hunting will take place between sunrise and 8:30 a.m. on all weekdays and ending Dec. 17, except there will be no hunting on Thanksgiving Day. Second, the hunting area has been increased this year: the zone beyond the Equestrian Center has been extended farther out Breakfield Road and an all-new zone near Lake Dimmick has been added.

Community Council Discusses Nov. 2 Council Election, Rock Quarry

At the Oct. 25 Sewanee Community Council meeting, council representative and election officer Dennis Meeks gave an update on the council member election scheduled for Tuesday, Nov. 2, in the Sewanee Elementary School, coinciding with the state and federal election held on the same day.

In District 1, council representative David Coe will run for reelection. In District 2, which has two open seats, council representative Chet Seigmund is running for reelection, with two other candidates also vying for the open seats, Frederick L. Saussy and Theresa Shackelford. In District 3, council representative Annie Armour is running for the single vacant seat. (Armour, currently a District 4 representative, has moved to District 3.) In District 4, Dennis Meeks is running for reelection, and Andrew Sampson is running for the other open seat. Representative Michael Hurst is assisting Meeks and will oversee voting on election day.

Council representative Annie Armour introduced residents from the Pelham community who provided information about a rock quarry proposed for the Pelham area by Stewart Industries, Inc., owned by Cowan resident Phillip Stewart. The Pelham residents have organized under the name Pelham Valley Preservation and will hold a community meeting to address the proposed quarry tonight at 7 p.m. in the Pelham United Methodist Church Fellowship Hall (next to the elementary school). Representatives from the Tennessee Department of Environment and Conservation (TDEC) will be on hand to listen to residents' concerns.

In early 2009, the council appointed Armour and Richard Winslow, former University Domain manager, to monitor the progress of a quarry proposed for the Greenhaw community, based on Winslow's concern that the industrial rezoning of property in such close proximity to the University (one-and-a-half miles from the boundary) could set a precedent for future industrial rezoning.

Stewart Industries has leased land in Pelham with the intention of locating a rock quarry there. Pelham is not an incorporated municipality and has no zoning laws. The Pelham representatives expressed concerns about damage to wells, caves, streams and sinkholes from the blasting. Pelham resident Arlene Bean drew a comparison to the Oklahoma City bombing, an explosion generated by 5,000 lbs. of ammonium nitrate, which registered 3 on the Richter Scale at seismographs as far as 16 miles away. The average quarry blast uses 4,000 lbs. of ammonium nitrate, Bean said, but for some blasting, larger amounts (5,000–6,000 lbs.) of the compound are used. Pelham resident Quentin Partin pointed out that the proposed site was less than a half mile from the Cooley's Rift and Deep Woods subdivisions, 400–500 feet from a natural gas pipeline, and only 100 yards from a sinkhole. A cave on his property would be in danger of being destroyed by the blasting, Partin observed.

Commenting on the Greenhaw quarry proposed by the Tinsley Group, Pelham resident Jennifer Thompson said that the Tinsley Group had applied for a water permit with TDEC, and a public hearing would be held in the near future. Domain Manager Nate Wilson noted that even if TDEC granted the permit, the Tinsley Group did not have the zoning authority needed to move forward.

The full report of the Oct. 25 Community Council meeting will appear in next week's Messenger.

Plan for the Future: Support the Sewanee Pocket Park!

The Sewanee Business Alliance is back on the fund raising trail for the new pocket park that will be constructed in downtown Sewanee in the vacant lot between the Lemon Fair and the American Legion. "It was a very long, very hot summer and we've already raised $17,000 towards the construction!" said John Goodson, SBA chair.

The new park will house an incredible pavilion made of wood and stone. The pavilion will be used as a musical venue for festivals, dances, concerts and more. Also included will be brick walkways and a patio area made of personalized bricks that can be purchased as tributes or memorials. Community members and visitors will be able to enjoy the park year-round.

The park will be built from donated funds from the community and friends of Sewanee. Naming rights for the park, pavilion, cornerstones, stone benches and bricks are all available. Individuals can name the park for a donation of $25,000, name the pavilion for a donation of $10,000 or have a personalized cornerstone or stone bench made for $1,000–$2,000. A limited number of these are available.

Bricks run from $75–$250 depending on the size and amount of characters imprinted. For as little as $50, a name can be etched in stone. Companies can do the same for $500.

We need the community support to finalize the build out. To donate or purchase bricks, benches or cornerstones, please visit <www.sewanee.biz> or contact John Goodson at (931) 968-1127. Checks can be mailed to Sewanee Business Alliance, P.O. Box 101, Sewanee TN 37375

All Saints' Day Service

In recognition of the University chapel's patronal feast day, All Saints' Day, a late afternoon Eucharist will be celebrated on Monday, Nov. 1, at 4:30 p.m. in the nave of All Saints' Chapel. Members of the Sewanee community are invited to attend this solemn and joyous occasion, with music offered by the University Choir.

Growing in Grace

On Sunday evening, Oct. 31, at 6:30 p.m. in All Saints' Chapel, Growing in Grace's guest speakers will be Haitian artists Jean Paul Joseph, better known as "Jo Jo," and Herald Alveres. The two men are staying in Sewanee until Joseph receives new prosthetics in Huntsville, Ala., to replace those crushed in the earthquake that struck Haiti last January. In addition to their talk, they will have their artwork on display and for sale. Plan to arrive early to see a demonstration on how they create their work! For information about their other speaking dates in Sewanee, see the story on page 8 or visit <media-dis-n-dat.blogspot.com/2010/01/in-haiti-devastation-people-with.html>.

Young People's AA Group Forming

A Young People's AA meeting will take place on Thursday, Nov. 4, at 7:30 p.m. in St. James Episcopal Church on Midway Road, and will continue each Thursday. For more information call Chad at (610) 509-9146.

Catechumenate Meets Nov. 3

Everyone is invited to Catechumenate, sponsored by All Saints' Chapel, on Wednesday night, Nov. 3, in the Bairnwick Women's Center on Mississippi Ave. behind the Bishop's Common. Dinner begins at 6:30 p.m. with a meal catered by Julia's. On the menu: Shepherd's pie with mashed potato crust, vegetarian shepherd's pie, mixed green salad, rolls, oatmeal cookies, and fruited tea.

The presentation, led by University Chaplain Tom Macfie, is called "The Prayer of Jesus: That They All May Be One." The Catechumenate invites students, faculty and staff, seminarians and community members to explore and learn about faith and life in a trusting environment. Following the presentation, participants will form into small groups and discuss their own journeys with God.

For information contact Catherine Outten, lay chaplain, at 598-1251 or the chaplain's office at 598-1274.

Sunday at Otey Parish

Please join the congregation on Oct. 31 for the celebration of the 23rd Sunday after Pentecost at the Holy Eucharist, Rite II, at both 8:50 and 11 a.m. Between services, during the 10 a.m. Sunday School hour, classes are offered for all ages.

For children, nursery care is available for 0-2 years old and three levels of Godly Play classes for 3-year-olds to fifth-graders. Middle school youth are invited to attend "Photography: Grateful Reflections," led by Stephen and April Alvarez. High school youth are encouraged to "Text and Teach," led by the Rev. Joe Ballard and Betty Carpenter.

Adults may choose between four classes: The Seekers class continues an exciting series titled "Saving Jesus." Led by Elizabeth Wilson and Julie King Murphy, this class will view and discuss the video "Who is Jesus?" featuring Matthew Fox. The Adult

Fire on the Mountain Hosts Halloween Party

Members of Fire on the Mountain, the Episcopal Youth Coalition, will host a Halloween party for children and moms of Blue Monarch on Oct. 31 from 2 to 4 p.m. This tradition began many years ago when the youth group looked for ways to help residents of Blue Monarch. Everyone enjoys the good old-fashioned Halloween fun, complete with face painting, apple bobbing, pumpkin carving, games and treats.

Youth are asked to meet in the Sewanee Elementary School parking lot at 2 p.m. on Sunday afternoon and to wear a costume. Fire on the Mountain is sponsored by St. James Episcopal Church and Otey Memorial Parish and is open to all area youth in grades 6-12. For information contact Betty Carpenter, 598-5926.

Forum, hosted by David Bowman and John Bratton, welcomes Billie and Don Weaver of Gospel Partners of Tennessee, who will share and discuss their school and orphanage ministry in India; The Lectionary Class, led by Pete Trenchi, will focus on the Gospel lesson: Luke 19:1-10, the story of Jesus and Zacchaeus; The No-Class Class will meet in the parish kitchen for fellowship time.

Nursery care is available from 8:30 a.m. until 12:30 p.m. for children 0-3 years old and for those children who might not quite be ready to sit through "big church." Coffee hour follows the second service. Questions? Call Robin Reed at 636-0010.

Midway Church of Christ Services

Keith Hamilton, minister of Midway Church of Christ, will be preaching two lessons this Sunday, Oct. 31. The 11 a.m. sermon is titled "A Formula For Honest Living." At 6 p.m. Hamilton will preach "Studies in Daniel: God's Predictions."

The 10 a.m. Bible Study is a continuation of a study on "The Life of Christ." To obtain a CD of sermons, call Hamilton at 454-2196 or listen to his radio program on Sunday mornings at 7:30 on FM 94.5, AM 1440 or online at <wzyxonline.com>.

Visitors are welcome. The Midway Church of Christ is located on 151 Otter Falls Rd., Sewanee.

Environmentalist Addresses Sewanee Woman's Club

The Sewanee Woman's Club will meet on Monday, Nov. 8, in St. Mary's Sewanee conference center located on 770 St. Mary's Lane. The speaker this month is environmentalist Maureen Handler. The social hour begins at 11:30 a.m., with lunch served at noon.

Maureen Handler's talk will be "The Restoration of the Russell Cave Watershed." Handler graduated from Virginia Tech with a degree in civil engineering. Since that time she has worked as an environmental engineer who specializes in the cleaning up of industrial sites. Significant projects in the Chattanooga area include the cleanup of Chattanooga Creek, the demolition of Roper Stoveworks in North Chattanooga and the construction of Renaissance Park at the site. She has worked at Enterprise South Industrial Park (formerly the Volunteer Army Ammunition Plant) since 2002 and has been involved with the construction of the VW plant at that site. She has had her own environmental consulting and contracting business since 1997.

Handler's interest in caving started while in college. As she says, "Little did I know at the time it would become not only my hobby, but my lifestyle." She has been caving for 30 years. Since 2002 she has been involved with the SERA Karst Task Force, a local nonprofit that helps clean up caves and associated watersheds. After moving to Sewanee she and some friends reactivated the Sewanee Mountain Grotto and decided to focus on conservation issues. They adopted the Russell Cave Watershed and have been cleaning it up since 2006. In addition to the typical debris such as furniture, appliances and trash, hazardous materials such as paint and stain cans, batteries and gas tanks have also been removed. This has significantly improved the quality of the water entering Russell Cave. This watershed is a drinking water supply for downstream residents on wells. Maureen Handler is the daughter of Marianna Handler, Sewanee resident and Woman's club member.

This month's menu is cherry-baked ham, scalloped potatoes, cranberry salad, rolls, dessert, tea and coffee. Annual membership dues are $5, and lunches are $13. Reservations for the meeting are due by noon on Friday, Nov. 5. Contact Caroline Shoemaker, 598-0982, Marietta Poteet, (931) 924-7666 or e-mail Marianna Handler at <mariannah@earthlink.net>. Specify a vegetarian meal if preferred and if child care is needed. Members with standing reservations for this year's programs are asked to cancel their November reservations by Nov. 5 if unable to attend. Women in the surrounding area are invited to join and enjoy a great meal and program.

CCJP Election Night Celebration

Celebrate your vote! The Cumberland Center for Justice and Peace (CCJP) will host an Election Night Party on Tuesday, Nov. 2, 7-10 p.m. in the Sewanee Community Center on Ball Park Rd. CCJP extends an invitation to the community to watch the election returns and promises fun, food and camaraderie of the best sort. Two TV viewing rooms will be available, one with a wide screen TV. For those with children, CCJP will provide childcare at the adjoining Senior Citizens' Center. Delicious traditional and vegetarian fare will be offered, courtesy of CCJP board members, as well as an array of beverages. For information contact Leslie Lytle at 598-9979 or <sllytle@blomand.net>.

Civic Association To Hear Weigand

Mark your calendars to attend an important meeting of the Sewanee Civic Association on Wednesday, Nov. 17, in the main dining room of the Sewanee Inn. Beginning at 6:30 p.m., enjoy dinner and complimentary wine for $10.

Joe Wiegand, the premier Teddy Roosevelt repressor in the United States, will be the featured speaker. Wiegand, who is a graduate of the University and a resident of Sewanee, will describe how his Teddy Roosevelt has evolved.

The business meeting will be especially important as this year's Community Chest budget will be presented to the membership for approval. Only current members of the Civic Association are allowed to vote. Membership is open to all. The dues of $5 may be paid at the door.

Volunteer Openings with Folks at Home

Folks At Home (F@H) is a local membership project based in Sewanee that provides services through volunteers and vetted service providers. It is designed to help community members remain in their homes in the community they love by providing transportation and other needed services. Grocery shopping, pharmacy pickups and transportation are a few of the ways volunteers may choose to serve. Communities across the country have created similar support systems in order to offer an alternative to institutional living.

Volunteers are a vital part of this project. Folks at Home is seeking additional volunteers who are willing to become F@H volunteer drivers. Transportation, especially to medical appointments, has been one of the greatest areas of need. "What do you have to offer those of us who are getting out of the driving business?" a man once asked Kathleen O'Donohue, F@H director. Whether reluctantly or willingly, permanently or temporarily, when one is unable to drive oneself, the need to be driven is of great concern. The F@H goal is to facilitate transportation as gracefully as possible for all involved. The organization realizes that volunteers' time is a valuable donation and that fuel costs can add up; therefore, a donation for mileage expenses is paid to the volunteer drivers. Anyone interested in finding out more about F@H services or about becoming a F@H volunteer driver, please call 598-0303 or e-mail <folksathomesewanee@gmail.com>.

F@H is a membership-based, volunteer driven, not for profit organization "developed for and dedicated to assisting its members in continuing a dignified and comfortable lifestyle in their homes through services they need or require." People of all ages are invited to join Folks at Home as members, vendors and volunteers, and as advisors and board or committee members. Your support, questions and suggestions are welcome. For information call, e-mail, come by or visit our website at <folksathome.sewanee.edu>. Folks at Home is located in Brooks Hall, Otey Memorial Parish, 216 University Ave., P.O. Box 291, Sewanee TN 37375.

Williams College for 20 years, and she currently leads seminars in creative writing at Yale University. In 2003, Glück was appointed judge of the Yale Series of Younger Poets; her first selection was "The Cuckoo" by Peter Streckfus. Streckfus will be on campus to introduce Glück at the Aiken Taylor Award presentation.

During a span of more than 40 years, Glück has published 11 books of poetry, most recently, "A Village Life," as well as a collection of essays, "Proofs and Theories: Essays on Poetry" (1994), which won the PEN/Martha Albrand Award for Nonfiction. Her work has received numerous tributes: "The Wild Iris" (1993) won the Pulitzer Prize and the Poetry Society of America's William Carlos Williams Award; "The Triumph of Achilles" (1985) won the National Book Critics Circle Award; and "Averno" (2006) was nominated for the National Book Award. In 2008 Glück received the Wallace Stevens Award for "outstanding and proven mastery in the art of poetry." Along with Guggenheim and Rockefeller fellowships, recognition from the National Endowment for the Arts, the Lannan Literary Award for Poetry, and the Bollingen Prize in Poetry from Yale University, Glück served as chancellor of the Academy of American Poets and as the U.S. Poet Laureate from 2003 to 2004.

Glück is the 24th recipient of this prize and follows such important writers as Donald Hall, Wendell Berry, Gwendolyn Brooks and Maxine Kumin. Through the generosity of K.P.A. Taylor (brother of poet Conrad Aiken), the Sewanee Review established this annual award in 1987, honoring a distinguished American poet for the work of a career. Howard Nemerov was the first poet honored and was followed by Richard Wilbur, Anthony Hecht and W.S. Merwin.

Lecture on the Poetry of Louise Glück

David Yezzi will speak on the work of Louise Glück, winner of the Sewanee Review's 24th Aiken Taylor Award in Modern American Poetry, on Wednesday, Nov. 3, at 8 p.m. in the University's McGriff Alumni House.

Executive editor of the New Criterion, Yezzi has many irons in the literary fire, so to speak: editor, teacher, poet and dramatist. His latest collection of poems is "Azores" (Swallow Press), a Slate Best Book of the Year, and his poetry has been selected for the Pushcart Prize anthology, Best American Poetry and Bright Wings, edited by Billy Collins.

In addition to the Sewanee Review, Yezzi has contributed poems and criticism to the New York Times Book Review, the Times Literary Supplement, the Wall Street Journal, the Paris Review, the New Republic, Poetry, the Yale Review, and elsewhere, and he edited the Swallow Anthology of New American Poets (2009). A former director of the Unterberg Poetry Center, he now teaches in the center's writing program. Yezzi is also recognized widely for his contributions to the world of theatre. His libretto for David Conte's opera "Firebird Motel" received its world premiere in 2003, and a recording was released in 2007. He is currently at work on a libretto of F. Scott Fitzgerald's "The Last Tycoon" for West Bay Opera in California.

A native of Memphis, Hehmeyer was a political science major at Sewanee. He will be visiting Sewanee Oct. 31–Nov. 2 as the inaugural Humphreys Entrepreneur in Residence at the Babson Center for Global Commerce. In addition to giving the public lecture, he will teach classes while on campus and will meet with students individually and in groups to advise about career paths and the characteristics necessary for successful and principled leadership.

Hehmeyer started his career as a runner on the floor of the Chicago Board of Trade and became a floor broker, floor trader and member of the board of directors. He was one of the founding partners of Goldenberg, Hehmeyer & Co., and worked as a managing director of Virginia Trading Corporation in the early 1980s. He was the CEO of Penson GHCO, the futures clearing subsidiary of Penson World-

Former IMF Executive Speaks on International Finance Nov. 4

Anne Krueger, professor of international economics at the School for Advanced International Studies, Johns Hopkins University, will give a lecture on the current international financial situation and the role of the International Monetary Fund (IMF). This event, sponsored by the University's Kennedy Lecture and Seminar Series, will take place in Gailor Auditorium at 4:30 p.m. on Nov. 4. All are welcome.

Krueger has a deep knowledge of international economic issues. She is a senior fellow of the Center for International Development and the Herald L. and Caroline Ritch Emeritus Professor of Sciences and Humanities in the economics department at Stanford University.

Krueger was first deputy managing director of the International Monetary Fund from 2001 to 2006. Prior to that, she had taught at Stanford and Duke universities and was vice president for economics and research at the World Bank. She holds a B.A. from Oberlin College and a Ph.D. from the University of Wisconsin. Over the years, she has published extensively on economic development, international trade and finance, and economic policies of various countries, including India, South Korea and Turkey.

Krueger is also a distinguished fellow and past president of the American Economic Association, a senior research fellow of the National Bureau of Economic Research and a member of the National Academy of Sciences, the American Academy of Arts and Sciences, the Econometric Society and the American Philosophical Society.

wide, before founding HTG Capital Partners.

Hehmeyer also serves as vice chairman of the board of directors of the National Futures Association and as vice chairman of the board of the Futures Industry Association. He is a member of the advisory board for the Master of Science of Financial Engineering Program at Kent State University, the Economics Club of Chicago and the World Presidents' Organization.

The Humphreys Entrepreneur in Residence program was established by David and Debra Humphreys of Joplin, Mo.

Carrie
97 minutes • R • Admission FREE

Carrie (Sissy Spacek) may be ostracized, but the shy teen has the ability to move objects with her mind. So when the high school “in crowd” torments her with a sick joke at the prom, she lashes out with devastating—and deadly—power. William Katt (of television’s “The Greatest American Hero”) co-stars as the object of Carrie’s affection in director Brian De Palma’s deft adaptation of Stephen King’s first novel. (www.netflix.com)

Tim Conrad’s (Paul Rudd) boss hosts a dinner party where he invites his friends to bring along the saddest, most pathetic loser they can find. But when the ultimate schmuck (Steve Carell) arrives, his actions somehow turn everyone else into the losers. Comic heavy hitters Zach Galifianakis and Ron Livingston lend able support in director Jay Roach’s (Austin Powers) darkly humorous film, an adaptation of the French comedy “The Dinner Game.” (www.netflix.com)

Attention Consumers of Duck River Electric Membership Corporation

The three-hour planned power outage previously scheduled for DREMC members living in the communities of Sherwood and Anderson in Franklin County on Saturday, Oct. 23, has been rescheduled for Saturday, Oct. 30, to accommodate the schedule of a large industrial consumer. The outage is now scheduled from 7 a.m. until approximately 10 a.m. and is necessary for TVA to replace damaged utility poles between Sherwood and Cowan, as well as repair a transformer in the Sherwood substation.

This outage will affect all consumers in the Sherwood and Anderson area, but will not affect consumers in the Sinking Cove area.

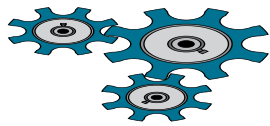

In the event of inclement weather, the outage will be rescheduled for Saturday, Nov. 6, from 7 a.m. until 10 a.m.

Duck River Electric appreciates the cooperation and understanding of its members as a result of this rescheduling.

Outreach Office Hosts Haitian Artists

This weekend the University Outreach Office will be hosting two Haitian artists, Herald Alveres and Jean Paul “Jo Jo” Joseph. Joseph has come to the United States to be fitted for prosthetic arms and legs because his prosthetic limbs were destroyed in the January earthquake in Haiti. Alveres, his accompanying friend, is also without arms.

These two artists will be giving a painting demonstration on Saturday, Oct. 30, at 10 a.m. in the Bishop’s Common. Joseph will be speaking at Growing in Grace in All Saint’s Chapel on Sunday, Oct. 31, at 6:30 p.m. On Tuesday, Nov. 2, from 3–5 p.m. they will be speaking at Well Directed Curiosity in the Hearth Room in the Bishop’s Common.

The two men have incredible stories and beautiful artwork. Come out and see what it’s all about!

Sissom to Hold Art Show and Reception

Ross Sissom will be having an artist reception and gallery showing on Friday, Oct. 29, from 5 to 7 p.m. in the Grundy County Courthouse.

Sissom was born on July 16, 1992, and diagnosed with autism around 18 months of age. He lives in Palmer and attends Grundy County High School. He comes from an artistic family. His mother, Susan, grandmother, Winnie Sissom and aunt, Kathy Cantu, have all painted with oils.

Most of Sissom’s drawings come from things he watches on YouTube. He still-frames what he wants and draws what he sees with great accuracy, using pencil, colored pencil and markers.

Art enthusiasts, as well as his family and friends, are encouraged to come out and meet Sissom on Oct. 29. His artwork will remain on display at the Grundy County Courthouse until after Thanksgiving.

Double Down Cello-Bass Duo to Perform Wednesday

The University department of music is pleased to present Double Down, cellist Paul York and bassist Sidney King, in a wonderfully entertaining program of duos next Wednesday, Nov. 3, at 7:30 p.m. in St. Luke’s Chapel. York and King, both faculty at the Sewanee Summer Music Festival, teach on the faculty of the University of Louisville and are touring the region. Their program includes works by Rossini and Pleyel, as well as several new works.

Bassist King himself “doubles” as a composer in the performance, offering up his own arrangements of three well-known old hymns—“Morning has Broken,” “Oh Love how Deep” and “When Jesus Wept”—in a work that is evocative and hauntingly beautiful. The timbre of low string instruments immediately brings the listener into the pews, arousing images of Sunday services from past generations.

Two Louisville colleagues of York and King contribute works to the program. “Doubling Down,” by Frederick Speck, was written for this duo and gave it its name, and “Street Corner Dialogue,” is by J. Douglas Elmore.

The performance is free and open to the public. The performers will be happy to speak with audience members after the concert.

F.C. Senior Citizens Plan Christmas Craft Fair

The Franklin County Senior Citizens will hold their 23rd annual Christmas Craft Fair on Saturday, Nov. 6, from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m.

Exhibits include ceramics, oil paintings, quilts, jewelry, wood crafts, purses, crocheted crafts, floral arrangements, homemade baked goods, candles, Avon and Mary Kay.

Breakfast and lunch will be served during the fair.

The Franklin County Senior Center is located at 74 Clover Dr., Winchester, behind Southern Tennessee Medical Center.

Thurmond Library News

The Highland Rim Bookmobile has made its quarterly visit and left scores of new books of all genres at the Thurmond Memorial Library, located in Otey parish hall. Many of the books are in large print.

In fiction, there are two titles from the much requested author, Jody Picoult. As always with Picoult, these books deal with current issues, but go beyond the headlines to expose raw and wide-ranging emotions left in the wake of the event. “The Pact” deals with teen suicide and “Harvesting the Heart” tells the story of two souls meant to be together, and the bond between mother and child.

Yann Martel, award-winning author of “The Life of Pi,” returns with “Beatrice and Virgil,” an allegorical novel within a novel about the Holocaust.

Mystery readers will enjoy finding Elizabeth George’s “This Body of Death,” an Inspector Lynley novel. This book has the new larger print type, which is easy for all eyes to read. “The Lost Art of Gratitude” by Alexander McCall Smith is part of a series featuring Isabel Dalhousie. Set in Edinburgh, the New York Times says that this is “the literary equivalent of herbal tea and a cozy fire.”

Thurmond Memorial Library is open Monday–Tuesday, 9:30–10:30 a.m.; Wednesday–Thursday, 10 a.m.–noon; and Friday, 11 a.m.–3:30 p.m.

“Lunch and Learn” Features Brown Patterson

The November speaker for the “Lunch and Learn” monthly series of the Academy for Lifelong Learning at St. Mary’s Sewanee will be W. Brown Patterson, the University’s Francis S. Houghteling Professor of History Emeritus. His lecture, to be held Thursday, Nov. 11 at noon, is titled “C. S. Lewis as a Mentor.”

“Lunch and Learn” provides opportunities for lifelong learning for local residents and visitors in a beautiful bluff setting at St. Mary’s Sewanee. Lectures are held on the second Thursday of each month. Annual dues for the Academy are $10. New members are welcome at any time.

A boxed lunch may be purchased for $10. Lunch reservations for the November program are due by Friday, Nov. 5. E-mail <stmaryssewanee@bellsouth.net> or call Vanessa or Hadley at 598-5342. Reservations are not required to attend the lecture, and participants may bring their own lunches.

In-Town Gallery Celebrates “Artanooga Holidays!”

Chattanooga’s In-Town Gallery invites the public to an open house and reception, part of the North Shore First Friday events, on Nov. 5, 5–8 p.m. (EST) in the gallery. The exhibition “Artanooga Holidays!” features Laurie Hall’s works in clay (at right), Tara Van Meter’s etched glass and Michael Largent’s digital art.

Founded in 1974, In-Town Gallery is one of the oldest cooperative galleries in the nation, offering original work by more than 30 regional artists. Gift certificates, bridal and gift registries, layaway and shipping are available. It is located on 26A Frazier Ave., between Market Street and Walnut Street bridges, adjacent to Coolidge Park. Hours (EST) are 11 a.m.–6 p.m., Monday–Saturday; 1–5 p.m. on Sundays; and until 8 p.m. on most First Fridays. For more information call (423) 267-9214, see <www.intown-gallery.com> or visit <www.facebook.com/intowngallery>.

November Classes in Cowan

The Cowan Community School’s courses and events take place in the Cowan Center for the Arts, 303 Montgomery St. For information on a class, call the instructor or the center at 691-0722, or visit <www.cowancenterforthearts.org>.

Steve Pearson will explain what the Declaration of Independence meant to colonists and to its 56 signers on Sunday, Nov. 28, at 5 p.m. in the center’s theater. Admission is free, and light refreshments will be served.

Acrylic painting will be taught in one “Paint Night” on Thursday, Nov. 11, at 6 p.m. by Jennifer Redstreak Geary. Experienced painters and novices will create a “culinary” work of art while socializing, enjoying good food and listening to music. All supplies are included in the $65 fee. To register call Redstreak at 636-9898.

A Chinese language class for beginners, taught by Amanda Wu, starts Tuesday, Nov. 2, and meets every Tuesday and Thursday, 10–11:30 a.m. The $60 fee covers eight classes. To register call Wu at 691-4401, or e-mail <wu9998@ms74.hinet.net>.

Kundalini Yoga starts Friday, Nov. 5, at 6 p.m. Led by instructor Tammy Badilli, the weekly classes blend postures, deep breathing, the mantra, music and meditation for relaxation and self-healing. The fee is $10 per class. For more information call Badilli at (931) 434-3395.

Clogging, taught by Virginia Sawyer and Ashlie Wells, begins Monday, Nov. 1, and meets weekly. The beginners class, 5–6 p.m., teaches children and adults the eight basic steps of clogging. Intermediate class, 6–8 p.m., is for all who know the basic steps. The $20 fee is paid with registration. This is an ongoing class with new students joining every month. For more information call Sawyer at 967-7519.

Thrifty Shoppers Will Enjoy Holiday Open House!

Winchester’s 18th annual Holiday Open House promises real savings for shoppers on Friday through Sunday, Nov. 5–7. At checkout counters of participating merchants, look for a holiday stocking and “Pick an Ornament”—it may reveal a discount from 5 to 90 percent off the total cost of purchases. Lots of in-store specials and refreshments will keep shoppers from dropping.

Hammer’s and Wenger’s have sponsored the Holiday Open House since it began. Lori Wenger Hayworth says, “We’re looking forward to our biggest Holiday Open House ever! Wenger’s is giving a savings on every purchase made during this three-day event.”

Participating sponsors this year are Bennett’s Pharmacy, Inside Stories, Merle Norman Cosmetics and Anrae & Company, Lily’s Boutique, Whiffenpoof’s and Winchester Antique Mall—plus three new businesses: Anything but Ordinary, an upscale consignment store; Initial It, a boutique offering personalized embroidered items; and Soul Flowers, a boutique-style floral shop.

Great restaurants around Winchester’s renovated square will be open Friday–Sunday: Arezzo’s, Scallywag’s, San Miguel’s Coffee Company, Reggie’s Fish & Chicken and John T’s Smoke House. And JC’s Butcher Block, located one block off the Square, sells build-your-own pizzas and sandwiches.

Kathy Bennett Photographer is offering free Christmas Portrait sittings at her studio on Friday and Saturday of the open house. Wishing Well Antiques & Gifts will pay all the sales tax for their customers on any purchase made at their store during the open house. Plan to enjoy Christmas shopping this year at the Holiday Open House!

For information call Deb Howard, (256) 656-5015, or Janet Torstenson, 967-9930.

School Scoop

SMS Students Create Archaeological Dig

South Middle School students in Coach Johnny Harrison's social studies class have been learning how archaeology helps historians to discover what has happened in the past. The students worked together to plan and execute an archaeological dig. One SMS student may even have found a mine ball, the half-inch lead rifle bullet commonly known as a "minie" and used during the Civil War.

G.C. School Family Resource Center Aids Local Family

Upon hearing that a family was using a hazardous woodstove, the Grundy County School Family Resource Center helped the resident secure a grant through SVEcares for a much newer model stove. Emily Partin, director of the Family Resource Center, wishes to thank Sequatchie Valley and her local volunteers for all of the help.

"The family will sleep more securely knowing the wood stove is no longer a threat," Partin said. "SVEcares has been a great resource for families here in Grundy County. Sequatchie Valley Electric Cooperative members can opt to contribute to this program through their monthly electric bills. A few cents from everyone goes a long way in brightening the day for someone in need," Partin notes.

Casey Receives ODK Scholarship for Graduate Study

Jordan Casey, a 2009 graduate of the University, was recently selected as one of Omicron Delta Kappa's 2010 scholarship recipients. A national committee selected 20 scholarship recipients for the 2010-11 school year.

To qualify for an ODK Foundation Scholarship, a candidate must have attained at least senior standing, maintained at least a 3.5 GPA, and plan to enroll or be enrolled as a graduate student. Students selected as winners exhibited extraordinary commitment to achievement in both academic and extracurricular endeavors.

Casey, a double major in Spanish and biology and a member of the tennis team, was a 2009 Academic All-American, the recipient of an NCAA Postgraduate Scholarship, and a member of Phi Beta Kappa. She won the Robert Woodham Daniel Prize in Expository Writing. She is currently enrolled at James Cook University in Australia, pursuing a Ph.D. in marine biology.

In its announcement, ODK cited both her academic and athletic accomplishments, and her extensive research experience, including biology research at Sewanee, in San Francisco and in the Galápagos Islands, Ecuador.

SAS Teachers to Present at Conference

Teachers from St. Andrew's-Sewanee School will lead seven sessions at the Biennial Conference of the Tennessee Association of Independent Schools Nov. 7–8 at Baylor School. Independent school educators from Tennessee and neighboring states will choose six sessions from more than 170 options.

Christi Teasley, art teacher and chair of the SAS sustainability committee, will direct conversations in sustainability and creativity. The first session, "Developing and Implementing an Action Plan for Eco-Cultural Sustainability" will present SAS's timeline of brainstorming, planning, gathering research, implementing projects, funding and developing community support for eco-cultural sustainability. Teasley will then open the discussion to connect with colleagues working to create sustainable communities in their schools and beyond. Her second session, "Making Stuff in the 21st Century," will explore the paradox of making more stuff in a world that already has plenty of stuff. The group will discuss why people make things, consider what materials they choose to use and explore the role of the hand-made object in a digital age.

Reid Fisher, SAS head trainer and adventure education instructor, is leading two sessions. "Environmental Education in 2010" will consider hands-on approaches to environmental education such as service learning, learning through a sustainable campus and place-based education. Wearing his other hat, Fisher will offer "Injury Prevention through School Intervention." The presentation seeks to explain the basic anatomy of injuries and research-proven approaches to correcting these problems early. He will offer simple, but major, preventive changes that physical education teachers and coaches can implement.

Sharon Zachau, international student coordinator, will lead a roundtable discussion on "Integrating International Students into the School Community." Patrick Dean, history teacher and outing instructor, and Ellis Mayfield, director of athletics, will each lead roundtable discussions. Dean's will tackle "Issues and Best Practices in Outdoor Education." Mayfield will consider "Defining Athletic Success," a roundtable discussion of how various schools define success for their athletic program.

STA Holds Tennis Doubles Fund-Raiser

Eighteen members of the College tennis teams and coaches John Shackelford and Whitt Taber joined with 20 members of the Sewanee Tennis Association for a morning of doubles at the Bruton-Guerry outdoor tennis courts on Saturday, Oct. 23. The STA sponsored the event to raise money for the construction of Sarah's Shade, a pavilion planned for the St. Andrew's-Sewanee School tennis courts. Sarah's Shade will be built as a memorial to Sarah Rudolph, who was an active member of the young tennis players in the area. She died in a tragic automobile accident in the spring of 2009 and was the daughter of Carol Fujiyoshi and Councill Rudolph. Several members of the STA, other community members and college tennis players plan to assist in the building of the pavilion under the capable supervision of Bill Mauzy and Bruce Baird.

Sewanee Swim Opener Tallies Individual Wins

The Sewanee swim teams opened up the 2010-11 season Oct. 24 in a head-to-head meet with the University of the Cumberlands. The Patriot women topped the Tigers with a score of 162 to 100, while the Sewanee men fell by a score of 103 to 159. Courtland Day, Jamie de la Fuente, Sara Neil, Phillip Link, Astrid Escobar and the women's 200-yard medley relay team all took home victories for the Tigers.

The women's 200-yard medley team picked up the Tigers' first win of the day, turning in a final time of 1:55.49. Neil, a sophomore, picked up two wins for the women's team after finishing first in both the 200 free and 100 butterfly. The women picked up two first-place finishes from freshman Escobar, who won the women's 100-yard breaststroke race with a time of 1:09.19. She swept the breaststroke races with a win in the 200-yard swim later in the day. Her time of 2:30.93 was good enough for a nearly four-second win over second-place Elizabeth Horn from the Cumberlands.

On the men's side of things, Phillip Link kicked things off for the men with a win in the 100-yard breaststroke competition. Link finished with a time of 1:02.51. The Tigers finished 1-2 in the race, as Day picked up second place honors with a time of 1:02.38. Link swept the 100 and 200 breast races, as he also won the 200-yard breaststroke with a time of 2:15.28.

Jamie De la Fuente picked up two first-place finishes for the Tigers, winning the 200-yard butterfly with a time of 2:07.05. De la Fuente won the 100-yard butterfly with a time of 55.82.

Day tallied a first-place finish for the Tigers, winning the 200-yard IM with a time of 2:07.17. John Richards completed the 1-2 sweep for Sewanee, finishing second in the same race with a time of 2:08.05. Richards picked up another second-place finish in the 200-yard backstroke with a time of 2:12.32.

Both of the Tiger men's relay teams finished second, as well. The 200-yard medley team of de la Fuente, Link, Anthony Caskey, and Ryan Holody picked up second-place honors with a time of 1:42.29, while the 400-yard medley team of de la Fuente, Day, Link, and Will Overton finished second with a time of 3:30.36.

The Tigers will host the Sewanee Invitational on Nov. 5-6.

Sewanee Women's Soccer Team Tops Rhodes, Henrix

It was a victorious weekend for the Sewanee Tigers in women's varsity soccer action as they defeated visiting Rhodes College, 2-1, on Friday night and Hendrix College, 3-0, on Sunday afternoon. Sewanee moves to 9-5 on the season and 3-3 in SCAC play and have now won five in a row.

Freshman Allie White stole the show on senior night, with two first-half goals against Rhodes. Sewanee held the advantage in shots, 19 to 11, and the Tigers led in corners five to zero.

On Sunday, the Tigers controlled the ball against the Warriors of Hendrix College for nearly the entire first half. Sewanee took 11 shots in the first half, while not allowing Hendrix a single attempt. The offense created several opportunities, but the team just couldn't quite capitalize, and the Tigers and the Warriors headed into the locker room tied at zero. Sewanee dominated Hendrix all afternoon, outshooting the Warriors 28 to four. The Tigers took six corner kicks while Hendrix had none. Virginia Zakas came up with one save and allowed no goals on the afternoon.

Sewanee Equestrian Team Is No. 1

The Sewanee equestrian team earned first-place team finishes, sweeping the weekend at the Maryville (Tenn.) College Horse Show. Lindsay Maxwell increased her lead as regional high point rider by taking home high point rider honors for the second time this year. Chandler Sowden helped Sewanee complete the 1-2 sweep by tallying reserve high point rider honors.

The Tigers finished the weekend with a first-place finish, tallying 39 points as a team, good enough for a 10-point finish over second-place Middle Tennessee State University, and Murray State University tied for second, while Mississippi College took third, host Maryville took fourth, and Vanderbilt, University of Tennessee, Tennessee Tech and Mississippi State rounded out the top eight spots.

As a team, Sewanee increased their lead in the regional team competition to a whopping 43 points over the second-place team. Maxwell remains in the top spot for Regional High Point Rider of the Year with her two first-place finishes Sunday.

Maxwell and Sowden led a strong group of individual performances for the Tigers. Maxwell swept the open flat and open over fences classes, taking home first prize in both categories. Sowden garnered first-place honors in novice flat and second-place honors in intermediate over fences. Lillibet Motion, Saturday's high point rider, continued her strong weekend by finishing first in intermediate flat. The Tigers also got first-place finishes from Sarah Horton (novice flat) and Heather Walsh (walk-trot-canter).

Sewanee gained second-place finishes from Audrey Cooney (novice over fences) and Campbell Frank (walk-trot) to help the effort. Will Burns placed third in beginning walk-trot-canter, while Holly Higgins took home third-place honors in intermediate over fences. Senior Sarah Hope de Mayo placed fourth in intermediate flat and qualified for the 2011 IHSA Zone 5, Region 1 Championship to be held in the spring.

SAS Soccer Team Defeats Webb

On Oct. 12, the St. Andrew's-Sewanee School girls' varsity soccer team completed their regular season play with a breathtaking victory over district rival Webb School.

In the opening half of the match SAS dominated play, but found themselves down a goal when Webb scored on a quick counterattack with just seconds remaining in the half. Despite this emotional letdown, SAS came out strong in the second half and continued to dominate play. Then, at the 60th minute of the match, junior Allyson Ridley scored the equalizing goal off a direct free kick. With only one minute remaining in the match it looked as if the game would end in a draw, despite SAS's multiple near misses and Webb's excellent goalkeeping, when Ridley dribbled through from the back line and slotted it to sophomore Nikki Johnston who, with total composure, sent home the game winning goal.

"I got a few gray hairs," commented coach Margot Burns. "We were playing well, but just couldn't deliver the final punch. I was proud of how we kept working and pressing until the very end, when the ball fell our way. My hat's off to our opponents for a well-fought match."

SAS finished the regular season third in their district, with a record of 8-6-1. On October 16 the Mountain Lions traveled to Nashville to face Franklin Road Academy in the TSSAA regional quarterfinals. The team fought hard against a talented FRA squad, but lost 0-4.

"It was wonderful to see the growth this team made over the course of the season," said coach Burns. "We finished the regular season with six straight wins and came together as a unit. I can't wait till next season!"

Overtime with Coach Shack

By John Shackelford

Athletes spend lot of time trying to prove what they can accomplish in the heat of competition. Unfortunately, some of the biggest stumbling blocks for many of us are the messages we give ourselves about what we think we can't do. None of us are as fast as we'd like to be, or as tall, and not many of us can throw a baseball 96 mph or a football 60 yards. In order to win, we have to take advantages of the strengths we have and try to hide our weaknesses.

Many people in Sewanee this past week had the privilege of meeting Herold and Jo Jo, two artists from Haiti. Herold was born without arms, and Jo Jo without arms or legs. The paintings these two men produce are incredible, to say the least. Herold holds a brush in his toes and moves it across the canvas as deftly as Landon Donovan can bend a soccer ball around a goalie. He opens tubes of paint and squeezes them out as if he never considered that arms, hands and fingers were necessary for the process. In the blink of an eye, a smaller brush is in his mouth and tiny details begin to appear in the colors. Jo Jo can fasten a brush to the short portion of arm below his shoulder and create a masterpiece and does the finish work with his mouth, as well.

What comes out of his mouth, however, is more than art. He gives us a message, a warning really, not to see him for what he cannot do, but to allow him to show you what he can do. On a trip to Huntsville where new prosthetics were being constructed and donated, our Haitian friends stopped at Cracker Barrel for breakfast with Bill Mauzy and Bruce Baird. They would hear nothing of utilizing the handicapped parking space that would allow them to be closer and quicker to the warm pancakes and sausage. "Why? We are not handicapped."

It is a wonderful story, really. These two men lost prosthetics in the earthquake that took so much more. Here are the friendships and goodwill of so many people who want to provide them with the ability to stand and reach and grasp. When I first heard about them, I was thrilled that a prosthetics lab would help them to have what they cannot afford and what nature did not provide. After 15 minutes with them, you quickly forget that they would even need arms or legs. Why would they?

What has been provided is a heart that does not hear what cannot be done and eyes that can see and place colors for us in ways we cannot imagine for ourselves. Jo Jo grew up in a community of people who could not hear or see or walk. He says, "I hear and see for those who cannot, and they will reach, grasp and help wash my back for me." It is this communal goodwill he tells us that will always make America strong. He knows America as Dixon Myers, Bill Mauzy, Bruce and Sandy Baird, outreach students and the many others who have reached out to his island with the strength of love. It is that spirit of love and giving that can truly make us strong as a country.

So whether you are a college athlete or a weekend warrior, do not dare tell me what you cannot do. Show me what you can.

Sewanee Cross Country Report

The Sewanee men's and women's cross country teams were in action on Oct. 23 at the Cherokee Trails Invitational in Decatur, Ala. Junior John Gilmer paced the men's team to a sixth-place team finish by posting a personal best time of 26:52. Gilmer's effort was good for 12th place overall. In the women's race, freshman Willow Smith came across the line in 11th place in a time of 19:56 to lead the Tigers.

Sewanee Football Loss

A 28-point second quarter by Birmingham-Southern doomed the Sewanee football team on Saturday, Oct. 23, as the host Panthers ran away with the win, 50-10. The Tigers turned in a sharper offensive performance than what they've had most of the season, but Birmingham-Southern was able to capitalize on several Sewanee miscues to seal up the victory. The Tigers fall to 1-7 on the season, while the Panthers improve to 5-2.

SAS Moves to 8-Man Play

With an original football roster of 19 whittled down to 11 healthy boys to play the final three games, St. Andrew's-Sewanee School was in a dilemma: take a week off and hope for a miracle or face the hard facts and forfeit the remainder of the season. In the end, SAS ended up forfeiting the last three games. "It was a very difficult situation," said Ellis Mayfield, athletic director and head football coach. "We decided as a team to forfeit the Franklin Road Academy game and see if we could become healthy enough to compete in the last two games, but it became obvious that a week off was not enough to heal some of our injuries. We hated to break our commitments to our fellow region schools, but we could not play our final games safely."

For much of the fall season Mayfield had struggled with a decision: to continue play in the TSSAA Division IIA Middle East Region or to move the team to the Middle Tennessee Athletic Conference's eight-man league. The difficult end to this season made the wisdom of moving to MTAC obvious. "Our boys love football; it is part of our school culture and our 143-year history," said Mayfield, "so when the MTAC invited us to join, we seized the opportunity to continue to play the game, but with fewer numbers."

Nature Notes

Autumn Colors

Autumn color changes in leaves of trees, some shrubs and vines are characteristic of the deciduous woods of eastern North America, Harry Yeatman tells us. This is due to four major groups of leaf pigments—chlorophyll, carotenoids, anthocyanins and tannins—interacting with the environment.

The chlorophylls, essential in enabling the plant to capture the energy of sunlight in the process called photosynthesis, impart the green color to leaves. In the fall, when days are shorter and conditions are cool and dry, a corky layer of cells is stimulated to develop at the base of leaf stems. This layer cuts off water and minerals and leads to the buildup of sugars and the disintegration of chlorophyll in the leaves, which eventually fall. The disappearance of chlorophyll reveals the presence of the other pigments, just as in the ripening of fruit.

Carotenes are yellowish-orange to red in color. Anthocyanins range in color from scarlet to red to purple and blue, and are not present in most leaves in the summer, but develop in the upper leaf cells of certain plants in the fall, favored by the concentrations of sugars, cool air and soil temperatures, water deficiency, and low nitrogen levels. Leaf tannins produce the beautiful brownish bronze leaf color of the beech and some oaks. Combinations of these variable autumnal pigments produce the many shades of the fall foliage. Cool nights, with some rain to freshen the leaves, enhance the beauty of the foliage. Enjoy it, for it is simply a stage passed in leaf pigment degeneration before leaf fall.

Pine trees are dropping their old needles, found in back of the young terminal needles. This is a normal event in September and October and does not mean that the trees are diseased or dying.

F.C. Humane Society Pets of the Week Meet Cyrus & Creamsicle

The Franklin County Humane Society's Animal Harbor offers these two delightful pets for adoption.

Cyrus is a handsome Australian Cattle Dog mix who is smart and sweet, but a little shy. He will be a devoted friend to the family who takes the time to get to know him. Cyrus is up to date on shots and neutered.

Little Creamsicle has been told he's the cutest kitten in the shelter. He is very people- and toy-oriented, and he absolutely loves to be carried and cuddled. Creamsicle is negative for FeLV and FIV, house-trained, up to date on shots and neutered.

Call Animal Harbor at 962-4472 for information and check out their other pets at <www.animalharbor.com>.

Please help the Humane Society continue to save abandoned pets by sending your donations to the Franklin County Humane Society, P.O. Box 187, Winchester, TN 37398.

Fall Creek Falls State Park Features Wild Foods Day

On Saturday, Oct. 30, Fall Creek Falls State Park will host its annual Wild Foods Day. A series of field trips identifying edible wild plants and workshops on preparing wild meats and breads are just part of the activities. The real treat comes in enjoying the wild feast. For information call (731) 235-2700.

Fall Creek Falls State Park is a 25,500-acre paradise on the western Cumberland Plateau. Located just 40 miles south of Cookeville and 65 miles north of Chattanooga, the park offers incredible scenic beauty and recreational opportunities. For information about the park, visit <www.tnstateparks.com/FallCreekFalls>.

Sale Benefits Animal Harbor

On Saturday, Nov. 6, Belk stores throughout the South will hold a special four-hour charity sale from 6 to 10 a.m. Admission is by ticket only, and tickets are only $5. By purchasing a ticket from the Franklin County Humane Society, all proceeds will go to care for the homeless pets at Animal Harbor. Tickets can be used in any Belk store. For tickets, please contact Sue Ridyard at <sridyard@sewanee.edu> or 598-9260, or Mandie Curty at <amanda.curty@gmail.com> or (931) 308-7699.

Herbarium Hike Nov. 7

On Sunday, Nov. 7, at 1:30 p.m., meet at the Sewanee Market to hike the new Caldwell Rim Trail along the rim of Lost Cove. This trail, named for Hugh Caldwell, philosophy professor and founder of the Sewanee Outing Club, was established over the summer by Sewanee Outing Program Director John Benson and summer interns. The trail leader for this easy two-mile hike is Mary Priestley.

For information call the Sewanee Herbarium at 598-3346 or visit <lal.sewanee.edu/herbarium/>.

HEARING HEALTH NEWS

by Debbie Gamache,
M.S. CCC-A Audiologist

ALL THE BETTER TO HEAR

Individuals who do not use hearing instruments or hearing aids to treat their hearing loss risk experience a variety of problems. According to a national survey of 2,300 people over the age of 50 commissioned by the National Council on Aging, untreated hearing loss can lead to depression, anxiety and social isolation. Compared with those who use hearing instruments, hearing-impaired persons who did not use hearing aids were more likely to report worries, paranoia, reduced social activity, emotional turmoil and insecurity. Other symptoms included fatigue and irritability. Positive effects for those who used hearing aids included improved family relationships, a sense of independence, emotional stability and increased social activity. Hearing instruments do, indeed, increase the quality of life for all degrees of hearing loss, from mild to severe.

Hearing loss can impact our ability to communicate with our loved ones to perform well in a work setting and enjoy social activities. The first step involves scheduling a comprehensive hearing evaluation with an audiologist at The Hearing Center, L.L.C., 705B North Atlantic St. Call 931-393-2051 to schedule an appointment today. You can also visit our website at <www.thehearingcenterllc.com>.

From Bard to Verse

by Scott and Phoebe Bates

Yes, my children, there really are shaggy creatures that walk at night, their teeth seemingly tinged with blood. But do not believe the legends that have them sipping dew from a wolf’s footprints, or cringing under a magic spell.

Science tells us they merely suffer (for suffer they do) from a tragic lack of enzymes, which leads to a build-up in body tissue of porphyrins, making their skin painfully sensitive to light. Hence, they tend to be hirsute and stay inside during the day, with drawn shades and covers pulled over their heads. Their reddish grins are another sign that something’s not right.

At sundown, they rise and wander sadly through a pale, hostile world, sobbing or even wailing a little. (Wouldn’t you?) It is not true that they eat bad boys and girls (rodents, perhaps, an excellent source of enzymes), nor that by saying their real names—Mr. Frost! Aunt Mabel!—you could return them to normalcy. Nor would I advise hitting them over the head while making the sign of the cross. They need affection and understanding, just like the rest of us, and the company of their own kind, e.g., Werewolves International.

If you see one in the park, don’t be scared. Act natural. Should a love affair develop between you, I suggest counseling, prayer, tests, and a basement apartment. Should you detect in yourself alarming symptoms—hairy arms, a pink toothbrush, the need to jog after dark—stay calm. Science is finding ways to save us all.
