

Santa Claus Comes to Sewanee for Two Tree Lightings on Dec. 6

The University and the Sewanee Business Alliance have joined together to host the first annual Mountain Lights Festival. Two Christmas trees will be lit, and the shops of downtown Sewanee will light up on Friday, Dec. 6.

Students and community members will gather at 5 p.m. to light a tree in the Quad. Santa will then lead a procession down University Avenue with the Sewanee Cambiata and the Sewanee Chorale singing Christmas carols.

At 5:30 p.m. in Angel Park in downtown Sewanee, folks will gather for the lighting of the Village Christmas Tree.

Bonnie and John McCardell will be on hand to help light the trees. Santa Claus will be available for photos with the kids under the music pavilion. There will be cocoa and cookies.

Please bring unwrapped toys for Operation Noel. Gifts of money and non-perishable food will be collected for the Community Action Committee (CAC).

Decorating of the Christmas tree at Angel Park will be at 1 p.m., Wednesday, Dec. 4. All are welcome to come help with this festive activity.

Operation Noel Providing Abundant Holidays for All

In just a few weeks, it will be Christmas. While many are already planning ahead about the gifts to buy and the food to eat, there are those not so fortunate. In our area, there are children who may not get presents and families that may not have an abundant holiday meal.

Each year the Sewanee Volunteer Fire Department (SVFD) in conjunction with FROST (the department's Fund Raising Operational Support Team) organizes the purchasing and distribution of food and toys for these families. All items are delivered Christmas Eve morning by the SVFD and FROST.

But this important program cannot happen without help from our community. Please consider making a donation of money, nonperishable food items or new toys to Operation Noel this year and give back to your community this Christmas season.

Families eligible for Operation

Noel must live in the following communities: Sewanee, Midway, Jump Off and Sherwood Road to the top of Sherwood Mountain (but not into Sherwood).

Every family needs to fill out a new application, even if they have received from Operation Noel before. An application ensures that organizers have all the pertinent information so they can provide for everyone in need. The application is on page 6 of this week's issue of the Messenger. The deadline for returning applications is Monday, Dec. 9.

If you would like to make a donation of money, nonperishable food items or new toys, please take items to Fire Chief David Green's office, located in the Sewanee Police Department building or Print Services in Van Ness Hall.

For more information call 598-3400 and leave a message.

Civic Association Hears Updates on Parks and Community Chest

Learns about SAS Players' Trip to Scotland

by Leslie Lytle, Messenger Staff Writer

Members and guests attending the Nov. 13 dinner meeting of the Sewanee Civic Association heard updates on the Community Chest fund drive, the historical marker commemorating the desegregation of Sewanee Elementary School and the renovation of Elliott Park. Robie Jackson, performing arts coordinator for St. Andrew's-Sewanee School (SAS), gave a slide show presentation about the SAS Players' summer trip to the Edinburgh Fringe Festival in Scotland.

The Community Chest fund drive, sponsored by the Civic Association, has reached half of the $108,000 goal for the 2013-14 academic year. Civic Association Vice President Kiki Beavers stressed that every dollar donated to the Community Chest "stays here" and will help finance the needs of 28 area organizations and programs, if the goal is met.

The Civic Association has received approval from the Tennessee State Historical Commission for a historical marker to commemorate the 50th anniversary of the desegregation of Sewanee Elementary School (SES). The 1963 lawsuit brought by eight Sewanee families was unique for involving both black and white plaintiffs. The marker will be unveiled at a commemorative ceremony at 2 p.m., Sunday, Jan. 19, at SES. Elizabeth Clark Duncan and Cameron Swallow chair the planning committee and invite community involvement.

The marker was paid for with subscription fees to Sewanee Classifieds, a community email list sponsored by the Civic Association. To subscribe to Sewanee Classifieds ($10/annually) visit the Civic Association website, <sewaneecivic.wordpress.com>. For more information email <sewaneecivic@gmail.com>.

Board member Steve Burnett said the Parks Committee was researching playground equipment for the renovation of Elliott Park. The committee sent a Request for Information to several playground equipment companies. Burnett

Families Share Camp Discover Reunion

Tracy Elementary School students who participated in the 2013 Camp Discover in June gathered with their families and community members on Nov. 11 to share memories of camp and enjoy a variety of activities.

The mission of Camp Discover is part of an ongoing community partnership project designed around the natural connections that exist between literacy and the development of social connectedness, with an emphasis on exploring, sharing and celebrating the community's stories and heritage.

"The excitement about the reunion had been building for weeks at Tracy," said Emily Partin, coordinator of the Grundy County Schools Family Resource Center and a community partner. "The kids remember so much about the summer camp and can tell wonderful stories about their time in the community. They are already anxious to learn where we will visit next year!"

Community volunteers who participated in the reunion also included wildlife rehabilitator Margaret Matens, who brought snakes and turtles for students to hold; State Park Ranger George Shinn, who provided information about their different habitats on the Plateau; and A.J. Gulley, who cooked up a large kettle of mulligan stew for the group to sample and told the history of frontier cooking.

Photographs were collected to create a community calendar that celebrates the camp and provides additional information on locations campers visited and books they read for families that may want to visit or read together. Students and their families had a chance to see the calendar on Monday for the first time and were encouraged to reflect on and write about some of their special memories.

In addition, student photographs were on display in an exhibit in Tracy Elementary's new Learning Lab. Sewanee art professor Pradip Malde and College student Chandler Sowden worked with students this fall to write reflections on the photos they took. The exhibit will move to the University in January for a show at Stirling's. In the future, the Learning Lab will offer a space for students and families to complete school project assignments in a supportive environment.

Franklin County School Board Reviews Policies

by K. G. Beavers, Messenger Staff Writer

The Franklin County school board met in regular session Nov. 18 to discuss new policies and changes in existing policies, including facility planning, student transportation and curriculum.

Prior to the meeting, James Leonard Clark was awarded an honorary high school diploma. Clark is a Vietnam veteran and served his county instead of graduating from high school. High school diplomas may be issued to veterans whose education was interrupted by service in World War I, World War II, the Korean War or the Vietnam War.

Louise Cromwell spoke before the board concerning the mold problem at Clark Memorial School. Director of Schools Rebecca Sharber said appropriate measures are being taken, including suggestions from the EPA such as removing wet carpet and thoroughly cleaning. Sharber said the board of education and the school would continue to monitor the mold problem.

A new policy recommended by the Tennessee School Board Association (TSBA) is Policy 3.208 Facility Planning. This policy allows the director of schools to assess the needs of each facility including building and site deficiencies, technology or utility needs, safety concerns, maintenance concerns and special community needs. Also included in this new policy is an Asbestos Management Plan. Sharber said the school system is already incorporating most of these things to help with long-range maintenance planning. The school board approved this new policy.

School board Policy 2.404, School Support Organizations, and 3.206, Community Use of School Facilities, were approved on second reading. Policy 2.404 includes the language that "Parent organizations and Parent-Teacher Organizations are neither school-sponsored clubs nor student-initiated clubs. They are considered independent, 'outside clubs or groups,' which must meet the terms of this policy to be able to use the name, mascot or logo of a school or the school district to solicit or raise money, materials, property, securities, services or other things of value. Neither principals nor teachers of any school shall be on any parent organization or Parent-Teacher

CELEBRATE HUGHES BOOK To the Editor:

Once again, an opportunity to celebrate one of the multiple expressions of creativity, that makes our community so vibrant, is at hand. I had long been looking forward to Barbara Hughes' exquisite and heart-opening offering, "Enfolded In Silence." She has truly crafted a radiant light into the world from her own healing journey. This book is just another chapter in her years of service to helping others awaken to their own healing journey. In my practice, there seems no end to the number of individuals I work with who have experienced sexual abuse. Barbara's book will be a very valuable resource that I can direct my clients to explore. Deepest thanks to Barbara for her courageous dedication!

THE CATASTROPHISERS To the Editor:

The catastrophisers are trying to synthesize catastrophes out of Obamacare, where no such catastrophes exist. Those who realize the importance of Obamacare are upset about the early glitches, but they are not catastrophes, and they are not irreparable. The website will be fixed, and those who have had their inadequate healthcare coverage canceled will get better coverage. A catastrophiser political cartoon shows zombies labeled Obamacare coming after us. Zombies aren't real.

There are real catastrophes. There is the young mother with lupus kidney damage who does not have healthcare coverage. There is the young self-employed plumber, impaired by rheumatoid arthritis, who can't get the treatment that would keep him on the job because he can no longer obtain healthcare. There is the 60-year-old man whose body is covered with psoriasis, but who is unable to get treatment.

There are millions of other such real catastrophes, and these are the ones the Obamacare will prevent.

What the catastrophisers fear most is that Obamacare will be good for us. They prefer chaos and failure. They love un-success.

There is presently a lot of noise diverting us from the real issue, noise that is drowning out the voices of millions of Americans without adequate healthcare. The catastrophisers have nothing to offer but further disorder and a lot of noise. We can ignore them and get down to the business of getting our house in order.

Community Chest Spotlight Housing Sewanee

The 2013-14 Sewanee Community Chest Fund Drive is underway. The power of people helping people makes a difference in the life of the community. Sponsored by the Sewanee Civic Association, the Community Chest raises money yearly for local charitable organizations serving the area. This year's goal is $108,000. To date, 54 percent of the goal has been reached.

This week's recipient spotlight is on Housing Sewanee.

Housing Sewanee is a nonprofit organization modeled after Habitat for Humanity.

Since 1993, Housing Sewanee has built one house per year for an area family in need. These families include the elderly, the sick, the physically or mentally disabled and grandparents raising their grandchildren.

Housing Sewanee accepts applicants and selects recipients based on need and ability to sustain a no-interest mortgage. Recipients are expected to help with the building of their house when possible. Many times, their neighbors and families pitch in to help. Housing Sewanee provides the capital and volunteer labor to get the house built. Currently, two houses are in the process of being built.

Housing Sewanee is requesting $4,000 from the Community Chest to help with expenses. This organization receives other funding from individuals, concession sales, summer work groups and poster sales. Housing Sewanee's expenses last year totaled approximately $25,000.

The goal of the Sewanee Community Chest is to help citizens by funding the community. The Community Chest is a 501(c)(3) nonprofit organization, and donations are tax-deductible. Send your donation to Sewanee Community Chest, P.O. Box 99, Sewanee, TN 37375. For more information, or to make a donation through PayPal, contact <sewaneecommunitychest@gmail.com> or go to <www.sewanee.org>.

Perkins, a fellow and tutor at Cambridge University in the reign of Queen Elizabeth I, was the best-known religious writer in the late sixteenth century. He has been miscast by historians as a Puritan. Patterson's book is the first full-scale treatment of his writing and preaching.

The Ecce Quam Bonum Club (EQB), founded in 1870, takes its name from the first three Latin words of the first verse of Psalm 133. The entire verse is the motto of Sewanee: The University of the South, "Behold, how good and how pleasant it is for brethren to dwell together in unity."

Originally a male society made up of faculty members, administrators and some Sewanee residents, the club met fortnightly to hear presentations from its members. The "leads," as they were called, were traditionally outside the field of the presenter's academic training.

Curbside Recycling Next Friday

Residential curbside recycling pickup in Sewanee is on the first and third Friday of each month. Friday, Dec. 6 will be a pickup day. Recyclable materials must be separated by type and placed in blue bags by the side of the road no later than 7:30 a.m.

11:30 to 4 Thursday through Saturday

DINNERS BY RESERVATION
(931) 592-4832
298 Colyar Street, US 41, Tracy City

Changes took place gradually. Women were invited to be members. An effort was made to make the club into a faculty club. A luncheon series, first popular in the 1970s and 1980s, continues today. Dinners were sometimes planned for members, and at least since the 1970s a popular mint julep party has taken place on the afternoon of the Kentucky Derby.

Membership is open to everyone in the wider Sewanee community. Currently the club is meeting at St. Mary's Sewanee for lunch every Wednesday from late August until mid-May, except for Thanksgiving and Christmas breaks. Leads are presented about once a month, sometimes following lunch and sometimes at 3:30 p.m., Tuesdays. Shorter "cameo appearances" follow some lunches and typically are about some current topic. The various presentations are announced in the Messenger and are open to all.

ANGELWITH ANATTITUDE

by Virginia Craighill

Dear Angel,

I am distraught. I always intended to write to Dr. Yeatman, Dr. Cushman and Dean Cushman and tell them what they meant to me. But now they have died. What's the protocol for writing my former professors? I don't want to write Dr. Mohiuddin and tell her what she meant to me and make her think I fear she's near death, but I also am sad I didn't convey my devotion to my beloved teachers.

Signed, Waited Too Late

Dear Never Too Late,

The whole community grieves over the loss of these great citizens, but it's also an appropriate time of year to be thankful for them, and you can still voice your thanks to those who have survived them. Your sorrow is shared with so many people who loved and appreciated Professor Yeatman, Dean Cushman, Professor Cushman and Professor Bates, as well as others lost in recent years. It's no wonder we neglected to tell them how we felt; they seemed like the pantheon of immortals on our mini-Mt. Olympus. Even after retirement, they were omnipresent and accessible. Anyone who saw Joe Cushman wrangling his big yellow lab Hercules on a walk through Abbo's Alley, or saw 90-something-year-old Harry Yeatman working out in the Fowler Center in his white T-shirt could not doubt that they would live forever. It was impossible to imagine that someday these extraordinary professors would not be here for us when we returned to Sewanee.

While it is a generous thought to want to write a note of personal appreciation to those teachers who are still with us, it's not something they expect. Professors do not teach because they require devotion, praise and expressions of gratitude. They teach because they love it, because they love the subject matter and because they love to share their passion with their students.

Show your appreciation when you are out in the world by remembering what they taught you. Send a postcard to your art history professor if you see Van Gogh's paintings at the Musee D'Orsay and are moved; send a note to your English professor when you recognize the two Shakespeare quotations in the movie "Lincoln"; send a picture of an interesting roadkill you come across to your biology professor and ask him to identify it. Let them know that what they've taught you has made a difference, and they'll know that they have made a difference.

And even if you do not send a postcard or a note, keep their lessons always at hand. If Harry Yeatman taught you biology, look at the natural world with delight and curiosity; when you see a rattlesnake, instead of shrieking, admire it, from a safe distance. If Scott Bates taught you French, occasionally go see a French film without subtitles and think of him. If "Jolly" Joe Cushman taught you Southern History, visit the battlefields of Gettysburg or Antietam and remember his words. If you break through a glass ceiling or make other strides for gender equality, know that in doing so, you honor Mary Sue Cushman and her work.

Tell their stories to people who didn't have the good fortune to know them; teach others what they taught you. Most of all, to honor all of your professors and mentors here, living and dead, live with integrity and respond to the world, as they did, with openness, compassion and generosity. Be thankful.

received an inquiry about the disrepair of the grills in the pavilion at Lake Cheston. The grills have since been removed. Burnett will look into possible remedies.

SAS Performing Arts Coordinator Robie Jackson teaches theater to sixth-through twelfth-grade students. Jackson praised the SAS theater program for making it possible to nurture aspiring actors over the course of six years. In 2011 and again in 2012, SAS was nominated to participate the Edinburgh Fringe Festival. In 2012, Jackson "felt like we were ready" and undertook the demanding application process. SAS was among only 50 high schools accepted to participate out of 1,099 applicants.

The next hurdle was financing the trip. The cost was $6,075 per student with each student's family required to contribute $2,000. The SAS theater program raised $68,000 through benefits, a rummage sale, theater productions and an online campaign.

The 12 students and their SAS chaperones arrived in the United Kingdom on July 30 and after two days in London, headed for Edinburgh. The Fringe Festival includes over 1,800 performances of theatre, dance and comedy during its three-week run. The SAS players gave four performances of "The Ants" on four consecutive days. SAS film instructor (and Jackson's husband) John Holleman wrote the play.

The next meeting of the Sewanee Civic Association is scheduled for Feb. 5.

Organization board of directors."

Policy 3.206 was changed to include "School facilities shall not be used primarily for religious purposes on a permanent basis (as determined by the Board)."

Policy 3.400, Student Transportation Management, is a new policy recommended by the TSBA. It includes that school buses shall be maintained and operated in accordance with state laws and state board rules and regulations. The policy also included a plan for replacement of buses. It was approved on the first and second reading.

Policy 3.600, Insurance Management, was changed to include payment of 100 percent of annual premiums for single medical insurance for qualifying full-time classified employees. The change in the policy was approved on first and second reading.

Regarding Policy 6.304, Student Discrimination/Harassment and Bullying, "We had already clarified some of this language in a previous meeting," said Chris McDonough, school board member. "This includes that students would be provided a learning environment 'free from discrimination/harassment based on gender, sexual orientation, race, ethnicity, religion and physical condition or appearance.' That needs to be put back into the policy." The policy was approved with those changes.

For the review of Section 4 Instruction Services policies, "these changes are being recommended to continue to align our policies with practice and changes within rules and laws," said Sharber. All section 4 policies were approved with the exception of 4.200, Curriculum Development, and 4.203, Advanced College Placement. For policy 4.203, the criteria defining an academically gifted student had been removed. The board wanted exactly what determined a gifted student back in the policy.

Most of the language in Policy 4.200 was removed; the state board of education adopts the curriculum standards for each subject area in grades K-12. These approved standards are the basis for planning instructional programs for the school system. Experimentation with newer concepts of curriculum designs, scheduling and instructional techniques is encouraged but must have prior approval of the principal and director of schools.

Most of the school board members objected to the removal of "a presentation be made to the school board."

"So much of the curriculum is decided by the state already, and we have little input or control," said McDonough. "In light of the new reading program, more information is warranted before such programs are put into place. A full, formal presentation is probably not necessary, but the board needs to be fully informed."

Discussion will continue at the next board meeting, to be held in January. For more information, go to <www.fcstn.net>.

Sewanee Theologian Lectures on C. S. Lewis

The Rev. Robert MacSwain, assistant professor of theology and Christian ethics at The School of Theology, has been a leading figure in recent discussions on the work of C. S. Lewis. In 2010, MacSwain co-edited the highly acclaimed "Cambridge Companion to C. S. Lewis." This has led to numerous invitations to give talks and lectures in relation to the 50th anniversary of Lewis's death on Nov. 22, 1963.

According to MacSwain, Lewis's huge popularity today as a mass-media cultural icon presents considerable challenges to scholars seeking to understand his work.

"Few people are neutral about Lewis: he tends to generate either extreme devotion or intense dislike. Most people latch onto one aspect of Lewis and make their assessment on the basis of that, but he is a complex figure and often more interesting than either his friends or foes realize," MacSwain said.

"He's also undoubtedly the most influential Anglican author of the 20th century," MacSwain continued, "and perhaps even the most influential Christian writer of the 20th century, so whether we like him or not, his legacy needs to be taken seriously."

On Nov. 20, MacSwain delivered a lecture at Duke University titled "Rational and Imaginative Persuasion: Reflections on the 50th Anniversary of the Death of C. S. Lewis." He also preached during a service commemorating Lewis held in the Duke Divinity School Chapel.

On Nov. 22, MacSwain traveled to Baltimore to contribute to a panel discussing Lewis's continuing significance with fellow panelists Michael Maudlin, senior vice-president and executive editor of HarperOne, and N. T. Wright, professor of New Testament and early Christianity at the University of St. Andrew's. This event was part of the annual American Academy of Religion/Society of Biblical Literature conference and will also mark the launch of a new collection of Lewis's literary essays, "Image and Imagination," published by Cambridge University Press.

On Nov. 26, MacSwain chaired an interdisciplinary session in Baltimore, sponsored by the Arts, Literature, and Religion section of the American Academy of Religion, focused on Lewis's anniversary. The panelists were Wesley Kort of Duke University, Robert Song of Durham University, William Abraham of Southern Methodist University and Douglas Hedley of Cambridge University, with Stephanie Paulsell of Harvard Divinity School responding.

Chef Rick Wright shared a no-bake apple cookie activity, and Christopher Faults told stories of Tracy's history as students rode a hay wagon around the town.

The evening ended with a barbecue dinner for everyone prepared by Priscilla Graham, while the Bazzania band provided entertainment. Sherry Guyer, one of the camp's lead teachers, shared the book "Owl Babies," and all students received a bag of books and calendar provided by Scholastic, along with some special treats.

More than 60 Tracy Elementary students in grades 1-7 participated in the 2013 Camp Discover, which is part of an ongoing collaboration between the University, Yale Child Study Center, Scholastic and Tracy Elementary. Funding from the Friends of the South Cumberland and University of the South Environmental Studies, rangers from South Cumberland State Park, and curriculum, program materials, and books supplied by Scholastic supported the two-week program. Plans are underway for the 2014 Camp program. For more information email <southcumberlandfamilies@gmail.com>.

AT THE MOVIES

SEWANEE UNION THEATRE

Wednesday, Friday–Monday, Nov. 27, Nov. 29–Dec. 2, 7:30 p.m.

Monsters University (No show on Thanksgiving)

Rated G • 95 minutes

Mike Wazowski and James P. Sullivan are an inseparable pair, but that wasn't always the case. From the moment these two mismatched monsters met, they couldn't stand each other. "Monsters University" unlocks the door to how Mike and Sulley overcame their differences and became the best of friends. Billy Crystal and John Goodman reprise their roles as Mike and Sulley; this time they are joined by Steve Buscemi, Helen Mirren and Sean Hayes.

Reviewers were a bit tepid about this sequel; but this is Pixar, so the standards may be unreasonably high. One reviewer wrote, "An amusing and amiable addition to Pixar's roster of animated coming-of-age stories." Rated G.

CINEMA GUILD

Wednesday, Dec. 4, 7:30 p.m.

It's a Wonderful Life and How the Grinch Stole Christmas

Unrated • 156 minutes

Put yourself in the holiday spirit with two free shows at the SUT. Start the night with a holiday favorite—the 1966 cartoon version of "How the Grinch Stole Christmas!" featuring Boris Karloff. Then enjoy the classic feature film "It's a Wonderful Life." An angel helps a compassionate but despairingly frustrated businessman (Jimmy Stewart) by showing what life would have been like if he never existed. Unrated.

SEWANEE UNION THEATRE

Thursday–Sunday, Dec. 5–8, 7:30 p.m.

The World's End

Rated R • 109 minutes

Twenty years after attempting a marathon pub crawl, a group of friends reunites to give it another shot. Their ultimate destination is the World's End pub, whose name turns out to be rather literal as they unwittingly become humankind's only hope for survival. Rated R for pervasive language, including sexual references.

For A Good Cause

Paws for Pennies

The annual "Paws for Pennies" campaign at Sewanee Elementary School begins on Monday, Dec. 2. Paws for Pennies began more than 25 years ago at SES. This campaign is a project of the Sewanee Volunteer Fire Department and F.R.O.S.T. (Fund Raising Operation Support Team) to support Operation Noel.

Representatives of F.R.O.S.T. will be in the front school lobby each morning to collect the donations. Donations may also be dropped off at SES at any time. Donations will be accepted until Tuesday, Dec. 17. Sewanee Volunteer Fire Department representatives will be at SES to receive the final check on Wednesday, Dec. 18.

"Light Up Lives" Cards

The Community Fund of the South Cumberland Plateau is offering holiday cards as a creative alternative to empty holiday gift giving. For a $10 donation, folks will receive a "Light Up Lives" card that reads: "A gift to the Community Fund of the South Cumberland Plateau has been made in your honor." The person who purchased the card fills in the name of the family member or friend they want to remember and mails the card in the envelope provided. Light Up Lives cards are available for purchase at businesses across the Plateau.

SAS Wreath Sale

The last date for ordering from the SAS sixth-grade holiday balsam wreath sale is Wednesday, Dec. 4. Proceeds from the sales will benefit several different outreach projects. The wreaths ($24) measure at least 22 inches and will arrive during the week of Dec. 11–15. To order wreaths, contact any St. Andrew's-Sewanee sixth-grade student or contact Cindy Potter by email <cpotter@sasweb.org> or call 598-5651, ext. 1019.

St. Mary & Thistle Farm Baskets

The Community of St. Mary and Thistle Farms are joining together to create gift baskets for Christmas. Each basket will include Thistle Farm soap and lotion, a pressed flower card, two mixed-fruit jams, a hand-drawn card, a bookmark, and a mug filled with homemade hot cocoa and marshmallows. The baskets are $50.

To order, go online to <st-mary-sewanee.org>, order through the Cumberland Farmer's Market or email Eileen Schaeffer <schaeem0@sewanee.edu>. The baskets will be available in early December.

I LIKE TO WATCH

by Kiki Beavers

This year, I am thankful for my digital video recorder. So often I get asked what shows and movies I like to watch, followed by how do I have time to watch all of those. I record my nighttime soap operas on the DVR and watch them whenever I want. These include the terrific spy vs. FBI agent drama "The Blacklist" on Monday night or the new take on Sherlock Holmes, "Elementary," on Thursday.

This week, my shows are being interrupted because of the annual "get your feed on and sit" Thanksgiving extravaganza. It is okay; the TV network and movie bigwigs always have a plan during the holiday season to keep you awake and entertained. Never mind the tryptophan from eating too much turkey. That is what coffee after dinner is for. And if there is a TV time or getting to the movie conflict, the handy dandy DVR is there to help.

Friday night started with the movie "The English Patient" followed by "Cold Mountain." While I own these movies, there is something really satisfying about being able to fast forward through commercials.

Even though I was bleary eyed, the Beavers clan was watching the Dr. Who 50th anniversary special on Saturday. It was already marked on all of our calendars, and everyone had claimed his or her spot in front of the boob tube. We could not miss it if we tried. If "Dr. Who" was not your cup of tea, I hope you at least watched the "Big Lebowski" on Flix or Bill Cosby's stand-up comedy return on Comedy Central.

Don't even think about calling me on a typical Sunday night. "Revenge" is on ABC, at the same time as "Walking Dead" on AMC. This Sunday, you may have been watching football. I hope you watched "A Knight's Tale" instead. That is the way to combine new music with a period piece, something the latest "Great Gatsby" should have paid attention to.

This Monday was a tough choice between the news show "Anderson Cooper 360," "Toy Story," or my recorded "Blacklist." Anderson, I see in my dreams, and "Toy Story," I have memorized from years of sleepless nights with the kids, so "Blacklist" was the winner. I watched "Sleepy Hollow" first.

Tuesday, my other soap opera aired, "Chicago Fire." BBC America was showing "Star Trek" episodes, and AMC was showing "Miss Congeniality." I watched the now-recorded Dr. Who special again.

This Wednesday gets really interesting. "Gone with the Wind" is playing all day long, which means I can watch the movie two-and-a-half times before having to go to bed, as each viewing is almost five hours long, including the commercials. CW is playing "Planes, Trains, and Automobiles." TCM counters with "Field of Dreams." My regular programming is not on that night, which normally includes "Revolution" and "Nashville."

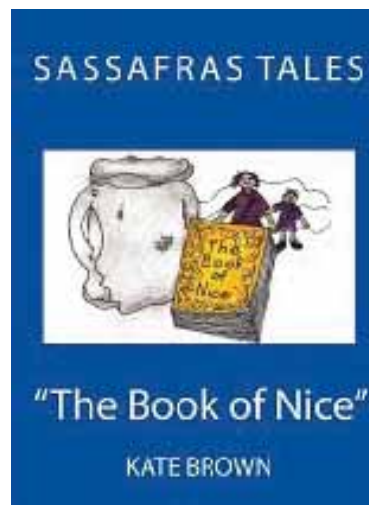

Thursday, I will wake up early to watch the Macy's Day Thanksgiving Parade, which is followed by the annual, since 1934, Detroit Lions football game versus somebody (this year it is the Packers). I almost don't care that the "Godfather" movies are showing on AMC all day. Plus, "A Charlie Brown Thanksgiving" is on, and I love watching Snoopy make toast for Thanksgiving dinner. If only life was as simple as a cartoon.

"Shut up. I am not going shopping on Friday, there is an Alfred Hitchcock movie marathon on AMC" is what I am going to tell my sister-in-law. Plus, it is time for Christmas shows, starting with "How the Grinch Stole Christmas." Spike is also showing all of the "Star Wars" movies.

I may just leave the house to go to the movie theatre this weekend to watch "Thor: The Dark World" and "Catching Fire" at the local movie theatres. At the drive-in, "Enders Game" is playing on screen two.

And the real reason to own a DVR while you are at the movie theatre during the holidays is you do not want to miss the "Charlie Brown Christmas" airing on Dec. 2. Which means I will probably have to stay up late so I can watch my other recorded shows.

Happy holiday and happy watching!

Local author Kate Murray Brown will read and sign her children's books, 11 a.m.– 3 p.m., Thursday, Nov. 28, at the Smoke House in Monteagle.

Area Holiday Activities

Cowan businesses invite area residents to "Shop Small" on Nov. 30, the Saturday after Thanksgiving.

The local shops will be having Christmas Open Houses, 10 a.m. to 7 p.m., with special offers, refreshments and a delightful small-town shopping experience.

Among the participants is the Artisan Depot, which will be open 10 a.m.–5 p.m., with many items in the gallery for sale. The Artisan Depot is operated by the Franklin County Arts Guild.

The Cowan Christmas Market will be open 4–9 p.m., Friday, Dec. 6, and 10 a.m.–4 p.m., Saturday, Dec. 7, at Monterey Station, 104 Monterey St., Cowan.

There will be a variety of hand-made items available for purchase, as well as children's games, face painting and Santa Claus.

The 49th annual Cowan Christmas Parade begins at 1 p.m. on Saturday, Dec. 7. This year's theme, "Racing to Christmas," is in honor of this year's Grand Marshall, Ryan Gifford, Drive for Diversity and NASCAR Next driver from Winchester.

Monteagle Mountain Chamber of Commerce and the Town of Monteagle will have its 2013 Christmas Parade of Lights beginning at 4:30 p.m., Saturday, Dec. 7. This year's theme is "Winter Wonderland."

Parade registration will be at 4 p.m. between the Smoke House/Best Western and Piggly Wiggly. Line-up and judging for the parade will be behind the Smoke House, where the parade will begin.

The parade will end at Monteagle City Hall. Meet Santa Claus and Mrs. Claus after the parade at Harton Park and enjoy hot chocolate and cookies.

Winery Open House & Book Signing Dec. 7–8

Beans Creek Winery is having a weekend open house, 10 a.m.–7 p.m., Saturday, Dec. 7, and 1–5 p.m., Sunday, Dec. 8, at the winery in Manchester. Jane Banks Campbell and Lori Jill Smith, the authors of "Postcard History Series—Manchester," will have a book-signing, 2–4 p.m., as part of the festivities on Sunday. Campbell and Smith used more than 200 vintage postcards to show the history of Manchester from the early 1900s through the 1970s. The postcards depict every aspect of the town: the square and downtown, restaurants and other businesses, country life, scenic roads, the Duck River, lakes, waterfalls and much more.

The winery will offer a variety of hors d'oeuvres and wine tastings throughout the weekend. Winemakers Tom Brown and Josh Brown will also give champagne tours each afternoon. Beans Creek Winery is located at 426 Ragsdale Rd., Manchester. For more information call (931) 723-2294 or go to <www.beanscreekwinery.com>.

Sewanee Football Ends Season with Big Victory

Led by quarterback Curtis Johnson, the Sewanee football team rushed past conference rival Hendrix College, 35-9, on Nov. 16.

Johnson capped off his outstanding career by rushing for a career-high 159 yards and a touchdown on 30 carries. On the first play from scrimmage, Johnson took off for a 28-yard gain. Five plays later, he capped off the drive with a two-yard touchdown run.

After stopping Hendrix for the second time on a fourth-down attempt, Sewanee looked to extend its lead. The big play on the ensuing drive came on second-and-four, as Johnson completed a 31-yard pass to Cody Daniel.

Two plays later, fullback Andrew Keenan found the end zone from six yards out, which pushed the lead to 13-0. Kicker Callum Wishart had his extra point attempt blocked, which maintained the score. On the Tigers' next drive, Wishart extended the lead to 16-0, with a 24-yard field goal. Sewanee continued to play well when Grant Fuller stopped a fourth-and-three attempt by Hendrix on the Warrior 48-yard line.

On the ensuing drive, Sewanee scored again when Barrett Goodson rushed into the end zone from 11 yards out. Unfortunately, the extra point attempt was blocked. This time, Hendrix picked up the block and raced 98 yards for a defensive point after touchdown. Hendrix scored its first offensive touchdown, when Dayton Winn scored from 1 yard out with 12:50 left in the third quarter. After an interception put the Tigers in business at their own 49-yard line, Sewanee scored two plays later when Cortez Brown rushed in from 6 yards.

Sewanee would add one final touchdown, as Daniel capped off an 11-play, 63-yard drive with an 18-yard scamper late in the fourth quarter. Daniel finished with 181 yards of total offense and a touchdown.

On defense, linebackers John Paul McDonnell, Dave McKeithen and defensive back Alex Kops led Sewanee with seven stops.

Wishart closed his first season as the Tigers' kicker scoring 50 points and making eight of 10 field-goal attempts.

Tigers Fall at LaGrange

Despite a career-high 23 points from Keshonn Carter, the Sewanee men's basketball team dropped a 69-65 decision at LaGrange on Nov. 23.

Carter made nine of 12 shots, while grabbing a team-high eight rebounds.

The Tigers (2-2) opened the game on a 12-2 run. During that stretch, Carter scored six points, while Jorden Williams and Marcellus Caldwell also had makes.

Sewanee continued to lead 18-11 when Carter made another jumper with 11:38 left.

LaGrange rallied during the final 10 minutes of the first half. LaGrange eventually led by two, 31-29, at half-time.

The Panthers continued to lead in the second half, opening the half on a 10-4 run.

During the next three minutes, Leo Born got Sewanee back into the game. He hit three 3-point shots during the next five possessions, which helped Sewanee pull to within two, 48-46, with 10:24 to go. The Tigers then forced three straight turnovers, which led to a free throw and jumper by Carter.

A layup by Caldwell then pushed the Tigers' advantage to three, 51-48, with 7:25 left.

Down the stretch, both teams continued to trade scores. LaGrange took back the lead at 56-54 with a layup. That started a 10-5 LaGrange run. With less than a minute remaining Born cut the Sewanee deficit to five, 66-61, with a pair of free throws.

After a turnover by LaGrange, Williams made it a one-possession game with a jumper with 37 seconds to play.

However, free throws allowed LaGrange to hold on for the win.

Overall, Sewanee made 40.4 percent of its attempts. LaGrange was red-hot after the Panthers made 51.2 percent of their shots.

Born added 18 points and three rebounds. Williams also pitched in nine points, while Caldwell added eight points and six boards.

Women's Basketball 2-0 During Recent Play

Behind its best defensive effort of the season, the Sewanee women's basketball team rolled over visiting Warren Wilson College, 58-39, on Nov. 22.

Making their home debut, the Tigers (2-2) quickly raced out to a 12-0 lead after Hayley Lyerly, Jamie Chauvin and Kayla Sewell all scored field goals. During that early six-minute stretch, the Tigers also forced four turnovers.

The Tigers shot 41 percent in the first half to go along with 11 forced turnovers. That helped Sewanee build a 30-14 lead at halftime.

Out of the locker room, back-to-back jumpers by Chauvin and Paige Lowe pushed the lead to 20, 34-14, with 18:27 to play.

Moments later, Lowe extended the lead again with a 3-pointer off of a defensive rebound by Sewell.

Warren Wilson briefly got back in the game, after a series of 3-point baskets. Four consecutive makes from outside the arc cut the Owls' deficit to 15, 41-26, with 11:52 to go.

Sewanee would answer with another three by Lowe two possessions later. The Tigers would push their lead up to 21, 50-29, when Chauvin connected on a jumper at the 7:18 mark.

During the final minutes of the game, Warren Wilson closed the contest on a 10-8 run.

Overall, Sewanee made 40.7 percent of its attempts, including 11-of-27 shots in the second half. The Tigers also out-rebounded Warren Wilson by three, 42-39.

On defense, the Tigers limited Warren Wilson to a 21.1 field goal percentage and forced 16 turnovers.

Chauvin led all scorers with a game-high 19 points. Lowe also finished in double digits with 18 points. Sewell pitched in six points, a game-high 13 rebounds, two steals, and three blocks. Casey Hassett added one point, 10 rebounds, three steals and two blocks.

After a strong 17-0 run to start the game, the Sewanee women's basketball team breezed to a 62-38 win over visiting Wesleyan College on Nov. 23.

The Tigers (3-2) quickly built their lead over the first eight minutes. During that stretch Sewanee held Wesleyan scoreless, while Sewell, Chauvin and Hassett all scored for the Tigers.

Sewanee kept rolling when Savannah Rose hit a jumper and Emily Culbertson netted a 3-pointer, which pushed the lead to 17, 22-5, with 10:19 left in the half.

Wesleyan finally found its offense midway through the half. The Wolves used a 15-5 run over the next eight minutes to pull within seven, 27-20.

The Tigers would close the half on an 8-2 run, which gave Sewanee a 35-22 lead at the break.

Out of the locker room, Sewanee continued to pull away. After limiting Wesleyan to a 29.2 field goal percentage, the Tigers outscored the Wolves by 11, 27-16, in the second half.

Sewanee made 38.7 percent of its attempts, which included a season-high 39.1 percent from outside the 3-point line.

Chauvin led all scorers with a game-high 20 points on seven-of-13 shooting. Paige Lowe also finished in double figures with 10 points.

On the glass, Sewanee out-rebounded Wesleyan 46-31. That total included a game-high 12 rebounds by Hassett, nine by Sewell and eight by Chauvin.

NATURENOTES

By Jean Yeatman

Pileated Woodpecker

"The Pileated Woodpecker was Harry Yeatman's favorite," Jean Yeatman said recently, "and we are so lucky to live in its favorite type of range. It prefers dense mature forest, wooded lots, park lands, such as our pasture, and deep woods. Listen for its loud, resonant, territorial drumming from both sexes, but less frequently from females. Its call is a loud "wreck wreck" series of notes heard all year long, often while it is in flight.

"This is the largest woodpecker now seen in North America," she continued. "It is 17 inches in length. The male has a large red crest and a red mustache, black back, white neck stripe and underwing. The female lacks the red mustache, and her red crest does not extend to the beak. They are fairly numerous, being most common in the southeast.

"Carpenter ants are their favorite food," she concluded. "They also eat other insects, acorns and fruit. One year a pair raised some young, and we saw the male feed its young as shown in this picture by Connie Wells."

Pi

Manny

Pets of the Week

Meet Pi and Manny

The Franklin County Humane Society's Animal Harbor offers these two delightful pets for adoption.

Pi is a darling little Chihuahua-mix puppy who was rescued with her sister Punkin'. If you would like to meet them, please call Animal Harbor to set up an appointment with their foster parent. Pi and Punkin' are up-to-date on shots and spayed.

Manny is a very handsome kitty who is around 8 months old. He has a lot of personality, and he loves attention. Manny is negative for FeLV and FIV, house-trained, up-to-date on shots and neutered.

For a limited time, two kittens may be adopted together for one adoption fee of $75. Having two kittens is better than one because they play together and keep each other company. Adult cats may be adopted for a $40 fee during this special.

Every Friday is Black Friday at Animal Harbor. On Fridays, adoption fees will be reduced 50 percent for black or mostly black pets more than 4 months old who have been at Animal Harbor for more than a month. Pets adopted from Animal Harbor qualify for a free post-adoption wellness exam by local veterinarians.

Call Animal Harbor at 962-4472 for information and check out the other pets at <www.animalharbor.com>. Enter their drawing on this site for a free spay or neuter for one of your pets.

Please help the Humane Society continue to save abandoned pets by sending your donations to the Franklin County Humane Society, P. O. Box 187, Winchester, TN 37398.

Safety Tips for Fog

Wintery weather is here, and that means more of the Mountain's infamous dense fog. And with fog comes greater concerns about traffic safety.

The Sewanee police department reminds folks of the following safety recommendations for driving in the fog.

"People need to really slow down, turn on their headlights and use extreme caution," said Sewanee Police Chief Marie Eldridge. Tennessee state law requires that car headlights be turned on for rain, fog or precipitation. "When in doubt," she said, "turn those headlights on."

Other safety tips for driving in the fog include: When visibility is limited, turn off any music, roll down your car window and listen for traffic you cannot see.

Stay on the roadway by following the white stripe adjacent to the right shoulder of the road. This is easier to see than the middle stripes in dense fog, and oncoming headlights are not in your eyes.

Remember that other drivers have a limited sight distance, and fog can leave roadways slick. Use your turn signals, and when you use your brakes, don't stomp on them.

If an accident occurs, pull as far off the road as possible and turn on your flashing emergency lights. If there is no safe place to stand, stay inside your car.

Before getting in to drive, make sure your car is defrosted and the interior windows are defogged.

BARDTOVERSE

by Phoebe Bates

We all look on with anxious eyes
When Father carves the duck
And mother almost always sighs
When Father carves the duck
Then all of us prepare to rise
And hold our bibs before our eyes
And be prepared for some surprise
When Father carves the duck.

He braces up and grabs a fork
Whene'er he carves a duck
And won't allow a soul to talk
Until he's carved the duck.
The fork is jabbed into the sides
Across the breast the knife he slides
While every careful person hides
From flying chips of duck.

The platter's always sure to slip
When Father carves a duck.
And how it makes the dishes skip!
Potatoes fly amuck!
The squash and cabbage leap in space
We get some gravy in our face
And Father mutters Hindu grace
Whene'er he carves a duck.

We then have learned to walk around the dining room and pluck
From off the windowsills and walls
Our share of Father's duck
While Father growls and blows and jaws
And swears the knife was full of flaws
And Mother laughs at him because He couldn't carve a duck.
