

Light Up the Village Today

The community is invited to the annual Light Up the Village holiday tree lighting. Music will begin in Angel Park in downtown Sewanee around 4:40 p.m., today (Friday), Dec. 1. The Sewanee Chorale will lead everyone in the Christmas caroling.

The tree lighting at Angel Park will be at 5 p.m. Cookies and hot beverages will be available afterward, and Santa and friends will be posing for photos.

University Avenue will be closed, from Regions Bank to State Highway 41A for the event.

Please bring unwrapped toys and monetary donations for Operation Noel. Donations of money and non-perishable food will also be collected for the Community Action Committee.

In case of inclement weather, the post-tree-lighting activities will move inside to the Blue Chair Bakery and Tavern.

This event is sponsored by the Sewanee Business Alliance.

58th Annual Festival of Lessons and Carols

The 58th annual Festival of Lessons and Carols at the University of the South will be celebrated at three services, two on Dec. 2 (5 and 8 p.m.), and one on Dec. 3 (5 p.m.).

At once solemn and joyful, the Festival of Lessons and Carols evokes the meaning of the Advent season through the radiant music of the University Choir and selected readings by members of the University and Sewanee community. The service is based on one that has been sung annually since 1918 at King's College Chapel in Cambridge, England. It features the University Choir under the direction of University organist and choirmaster Geoffrey Ward.

As part of the University's mission and the program of education and formation of All Saints' Chapel, the Festival Service of Lessons and Carols offers students, faculty and staff the opportunity to experience one of the oldest traditions of Anglican music and Advent expectation.

As part of the University's outreach to others, the public is also welcome to attend; tickets were available by reservation in November. All available spaces were reserved quickly, but it still may be possible to attend a service without a reserved seat. The University expects that some people with tickets will decide not to attend, and will distribute those tickets in advance of each service.

There will be a signup sheet in Convocation Hall beginning at noon, Saturday and Sunday. People who wish to attend a service may add their names to the list for a service that day.

Tennessee Craft-South invites the public to the 22nd annual Holiday Studio Tour on the Mountain Saturday, Dec. 2, 10 a.m.-5 p.m. CST and Sunday, Dec. 3, 11 a.m.-4 p.m. CST. Tennessee Craft-South is the regional branch of Tennessee Craft, the statewide organization which supports and promotes all handmade crafts in Tennessee.

There is a group exhibition of artists' work in the St. Andrew's-Sewanee Art Gallery, located in the center of the Simmonds Building at St. Andrew's-Sewanee School.

There are six sponsors for the Holiday Studio Tour this year: the Monteagle Inn, Mooney's, Shenanigans, Locals, the Sewanee Inn and the Blue Chair. Studio Tour brochures are available at each of these local businesses and at all participating studios. A map can be found on page 5.

Bright yellow signs mark the tour route, and maps are available at all locations on the tour as well as at all sponsors' locations, in the Sewanee Mountain Messenger, and on the Tennessee Craft-South website <<http://tennesseecraft.org/members/chapters/south/>>.

Monteagle Council Tackles Yard Problem; Approves Deannexation and Speed Limit Change

by Leslie Lytle, Messenger Staff Writer

At the Nov. 27 meeting, the Monteagle Town Council discussed the possible outcome of issuing citations to owners of three wrecker services for failure to erect a fence screening "junked" conveyances from view. The council also approved deannexation of a portion of Deep Woods, and raising the speed limit to 30 miles per hour on North Central Ave.

Codes Enforcement Officer Earl Geary said the three wrecker service owners in violation of the fencing ordinance passed in August were ordered to appear in court on Dec. 14.

A concerned resident presenting photographs of one lot said, "It's a mess and never been dealt with. It's been an eyesore for years."

Police Chief Virgil McNeese expected difficulty enforcing the ordinance. "The judge is appointed, not elected. He can impose a $50 a day fine, but if they don't pay the fine, it turns into a civil matter," McNeese said the district attorney advised the city to put a lien on the property, clean it up and hold the property until the city was reimbursed for fines and cleanup expenses.

Geary pointed out that following that course of action it was likely "you won't get your money until the property sells."

The resident presenting the photographs said that in the past when there were complaints, the owner of the lot moved wrecked vehicles from one location to another. Numerous residents spoke out objecting to the junked vehicle lots.

McNeese said the hearing would be held at 6 p.m. at the Monteagle City Hall. "If you want to testify, I'll advise the judge why you are there."

Preliminary to approving on a second reading deannexation of the portion of Deep Woods remaining in the Monteagle city limits, Mayor David Sampley asked for comments from residents.

"Why was Deep Woods ever annexed in the first place?" asked a resident who recently purchased a lot in the segment slated for deannexation. "It caused me a lot of grief trying to figure out who my utility service providers are," she said. Her lot is located in Marion County, but her utility service comes from Franklin County. "Is there any benefit to being part of Monteagle?"

"No," answered City Recorder Debby Taylor. She explained the annexation occurred more than 20 years ago under Mayor Charles Rollins. "It had something to do with water service," Taylor said.

The council approved the deannexation unanimously.

Citing an August decision to lower the speed limit on side streets to 20 miles per hour on a trial basis, a resident asked the council to restore the speed limit to 30 miles per hour on North Central Ave. "There is very little pedestrian traffic," she said. "It's hilly and you have to ride your brakes."

Alderman Kenneth Gipson agreed. "It will be hard to get up the hill in the winter."

Another resident said he and his daughter no longer traveled North Central due to the speeding. "I'm not complaining about 20 or 30 miles an hour, but many motorists drive 50 miles an hour."

"Police officers have been writing tickets," McNeese said. "In my opinion 31 miles per hour is too fast on a residential street."

SUD Approves Rate Increase, Employee Retirement Plan; Seeks Commissioner

by Leslie Lytle, Messenger Staff Writer

At the Nov. 28 meeting of the Board of Commissioners of the Sewanee Utility District of Franklin and Marion Counties, the board approved the 2018 budget, which includes a 1 percent rate increase, and approved making the Tennessee Consolidated Retirement System (TCRS) retirement plan available to SUD employees. The board is seeking a district resident to serve as a SUD commissioner. Commissioners received a monthly $50 stipend.

The more than $1.51 million budget prepared by SUD manager Ben Beavers allocates $270,000 to replacing aging cast iron waterlines on South Carolina and Florida avenues. SUD plans to fund the project by drawing on cash reserves rather than taking out a loan. Expenses will exceed projected revenues by $155,649.

"Personally, I'm debt adverse," Beavers said. "I'd like to think we can sell more water. We can if the Cooley's Rift project builds out, but we can't count on that."

The Operations and Maintenance portion of the budget, $1.02 million, increased by $40,600. Beavers said the greatest portion of the increase was due to rising health care premiums. The state offered a less costly plan, according

WHAT WE SHOULD WORRY ABOUT

To the Editor:

That slavery became an issue in the Civil War is undeniable. It is also true that most of those who fought for the Confederacy were not slave owners and many deploring slavery, were there for their state which they regarded as sovereign. Constitutionalists have pointed out that the Constitution was unclear on the question of state sovereignty.

Gen. Robert E. Lee owned no slaves, and before the war pledged in due course to free the slaves bequeathed to his wife. Lee said he was fighting for his "country" Virginia. After the war he opposed Confederate monuments and display of the Confederate flag.

Gen. Edmund Kirby-Smith came to Sewanee and rendered great service as a mathematics professor and to this community, as did his descendants; mostly medical doctors who were invaluable to the University community and freely gave medical care to the Mountain poor. I challenge anyone to find even a clue that the General ever claimed he fought for slavery.

There is no question but were it not for Sewanee's founders, especially Leonidas Polk, we would not be on this Mountain today.

Sewanee's divine William Porcher DuBose, founder of the University's seminary, is regarded as the Episcopal Church's greatest theologian and a saint. As a young man, he was a Confederate soldier and later chaplain.

It is a dangerous thing according to Jesus to judge others, and no doubt this would include those of the past. Today, we support equality and justice for every American and those who deserve to become citizens. That is what should concern us today, also the widespread sexual abuse of women and children.

John Bratton, Sewanee

HEARTFELT GRATITUDE FOR THE COMMUNITY SUPPORT

To the Editor:

The Friends of Canon Gideon want to express heartfelt gratitude to the growing community who support Hope Institute in Uganda. Our project this fall, successfully accomplished, was to hire a business-practices instructor and arrange three $500 enterprise-start-up microloans for selected graduates. The jambalaya dinner was enlivened by Bazzania's gospel songs. Our four speakers—Spike Hosch, Amy Patterson, Joey Adams, and Rebecca Salustri—did a marvelous job of explaining the need for microloans to create new businesses for youth in rural Uganda. Intern Rebecca, C'17, explained her summer work on eye diseases at the Carter Center in Kampala.

Sewanee senior Joey Adams described her two-month internship at Hope Institute and the joy of choreographing and teaching a dance to be performed at the 25th anniversary of Canon Gideon's HIV and vo-tech education efforts, and then she conducted the 21 singers of Sewanee Praise. With Director Kash Wright on the keyboard and a fine drummer, their gospel songs lifted our hearts.

Their vitality, focus, and sense of worship filled St. Mark's Hall and became the heart of the event.

Specifically I need to thank Betty Carpenter, Gary Sturgis, and Dorothy Gates for the dinner, Leah Rhys for passing her team's lovely snacks and desserts, Marilyn Phelps for collecting gift certificates, Rob Lamborn for underwriting the food costs, the Otey Vestry for use of the kitchen and parish hall, Frieda Hawkins for advertising and invitations, and Lucy Carroll and Aidan Smith of the Global Local Outreach group at St. Andrew's-Sewanee for a significant contribution and washing the dishes! Thanks from my heart to all who worked, who came, who contributed.

All Saints' Chapel

The Catechumenate concludes for the semester Wednesday, Dec. 6, at 6:30 p.m. in the Bairnwick Women's Center. A catered meal will be provided. This week we will review the Rite of Admission, which will take place next Sunday, during the 11 a.m. service. Catechumenate, from a Greek word meaning "learning and exploring," is a place where we explore what it means to be a human being and what it means to be a person of faith in our community. This is a great place to meet new people and build relationships. Food, prayer, questions, and conversation power this process. Email Lay Chaplain Kayla Deep at <kayla.deep@sewanee.edu> for directions or more information.

Celtic Communion

The Southeast Tennessee Episcopal Ministry (STEM) will be offering a weekly Celtic Communion Service on Wednesday evenings at 6 p.m., beginning on Dec. 6. The service will be held at Holy Comforter Episcopal Church in Monteagle, and is open to the entire community.

It was conceived as an outreach to those who may not be able to attend services on Sunday, or those who may be seeking an alternative form of worship that is more creation-centered and which gives a more balanced emphasis on the feminine and masculine in the human and divine natures.

The service will feature beautiful Celtic style worship music from Lindisfarne, and seasonal meditations in place of the typical sermon or homily.

Worship leaders will include the Rev. Stephen Eichler, the Rev. Matthew Farr, the Rev. Timothy Hannon, and the Rev. Amy Lamborn, among others.

Morton Memorial United Methodist Church

Morton Memorial United Methodist Church invites the community to attend A Mountain Christmas on Sunday, Dec. 10, at 5 p.m.

The choir will celebrate music of our beautiful mountain by performing Appalachian carols and southern spirituals. The choir will be joined by three special guest musicians this year.

Morton Memorial United Methodist Church is located at 322 West Main St., in downtown Monteagle. Please join us for this exciting concert.

St. James

On Sunday, Dec. 3, the 9 a.m. service begins with the Liturgy of Lighting the Advent Candle followed by the celebration of the Holy Eucharist.

On Sunday, Dec. 8, from 5–7 p.m., "The Celebration of the Feast of St. Nicholas" will be at St. James Midway Community Park. There will be hot chocolate and cookies. Also two very special guests will make an appearance—St. Nicholas and Mrs. Nicholas, who will also have candy canes to share.

to Beavers, but with far higher deductibles and out of pocket expenses.

The Operations and Maintenance budget also included a 1.6 percent cost of living raise for SUD employees based on the Consumer Price Index.

Beavers said the rate increase was needed "to keep up with inflation." The increase applies only to the monthly minimum charge and customer water use. The tap fee, water resource fee, and other fees applicable to new customers will not change. For water service only customers, the average monthly bill increase will be 30 cents. For water and sewer service customers, the average monthly bill increase will be 79 cents.

The state sponsored TCRS retirement plan approved by the board will result in a 42 percent decrease in administrative fees compared to the current employee retirement plan. SUD employees met with representatives from the state and the brokerage firm administering the TCRS plan and "liked their answers," Beavers said. "With some luck, the state plan will be implemented by the first of the year," said SUD Board President Charlie Smith.

SUD is seeking a commissioner to fill the seat of Karen Singer. Singer has served two terms and by law is prohibited from serving another term.

Commissioners must attend monthly meetings lasting one to two hours and complete 12 hours of commissioner training during their first year of service. Commissioners must reside in the district, but need not be SUD customers.

Persons interested in serving as a SUD commissioner should contact Beavers at (931) 598-5611 before Dec. 18.

Turning to an issue brought up at a recent commissioner training session, Smith said inadequate segregation of duties was a recurrent problem for utility service providers.

"It turns up on everyone's audit," Smith said. "The recommendation was to involve a third party in the financial process. It doesn't have to be a CPA. It could be a bookkeeper or any outside person."

"I think it's a great idea," Beavers said. "I included $2,000 in the budget for that purpose. They could audit receipts and the checking account. It wouldn't take someone long to do that."

Persons interested in the position should contact Beavers.

Commissioner Randall Henley asked if there was any news on the Midway pressure boosting project.

"There's been progress in securing an easement," Beavers said. Once the easement process is completed the project can move forward.

The board meets on Dec. 19.

"I think five miles an hour over the speed limit should be reckless driving." By Tennessee state law, 30 mph over the speed limit is reckless driving.

The council approved increasing the speed limit to 30 mph on North Central Ave., with Alderman Anna Zeman opposing.

The board also approved retaining Randy Adams to demolish the large building in the Monteagle Annex previously used for a fire hall. Adams was the low bidder at $17,200, with other bids ranging from $23,000 to $71,000.

Asked about demolition of the smaller building in the annex, Sampley said, "The smaller building was inspected by engineers and determined to be still usable. They said there was no reason to demolish it."

Both the fire department and utility department have expressed an interest in using the smaller building to store equipment.

The council meets next Jan. 29, 2018. The council will not meet in Dec.

O'Donohue Reception

On Nov. 25, St. Andrews-Sewanee students, from left, Zoe Wallace, Aidan Smith, Lucy Carroll and Sophia Paterson presented Sally Hubbard, center, a check for $1,500 from the SAS Global Local Outreach Club, which is advised by Burki Gladstone. The money will be used to support Canon Gideon Byamugisha's vocational school, located near Kampala, Uganda.

Aidan visited the school in 2016, and several University of the South students have interned there over the past three years. Sally runs the fundraising operations for the vocational school in the United States, and the money is needed because the school focuses their efforts on children from disadvantaged families in the Kampala area.

F@H Autumn Actions for Elders 2017

Lambda Chi Fraternity from the University of the South partnered with Folks at Home to participate in Autumn Actions for Elders, an event that helps to reduce falling risks in yards. Thirteen student volunteers came out on Nov. 11, to participate in the event by raking leaves and doing light yard work. The students were split into four groups and most of them completed three households each. Each student completed almost five hours of work and 11 homes leaving homeowners happy with their work. Alice Ramsey said "my group of four volunteers raked my entire yard and I loved watching them have fun while they did it. At one point they made a giant pile of leaves and jumped into it."

Folks at Home (F@H) is encouraged to see such willingness in students to serve in their community. We hope that our continued partnership with Lambda Chi Fraternity helps to develop a strong relationship with the University and more volunteer opportunities for students.

South Cumberland State Park Ranger Park Greer and volunteers have begun mapping the location of building foundations at the site of the CCC camp in Grundy Forest, dating from the 1930s. Volunteers are needed in December to help continue the preliminary site work, the first step in restoring portions of the village for all to enjoy.

Volunteers Needed to Help Rangers Restore the Civilian Conservation Corps Workers' Camp in Grundy Forest

The Friends of South Cumberland are looking for volunteers who would like to help reconstruct and restore an important part of local history. Thanks to the financial support of the South Cumberland Community Fund and other generous donors, SCSP rangers and Friends volunteers will be working this winter on the first phase of an ambitious plan to recreate portions of the village that housed nearly 200 members of Civilian Conservation Corps (CCC) Company 1475 at Grundy Forest, near Tracy City.

In the 1930s, the federal government created the CCC program to provide paying jobs for able-bodied young men needing work during the Great Depression. CCC Company 1475 called this workers' village home. The camp included a number of buildings which housed, fed, hospitalized and stored equipment and supplies for the workers of Company 1475 from the mid-1930s until the start of World War II.

The young men of Company 1475 undertook many projects, which improved the lives of people in this area. One CCC legacy is the chain of Grundy Lakes, now used for swimming, paddling and fishing. CCC personnel built some of the first hiking trails in what would later become South Cumberland State Park. They also erected fire towers, built roads and fought forest fires. They were also instrumental in helping contain a 1935 fire in downtown Tracy City — one of the biggest fires in Grundy County history.

The site of Company 1475's camp is located on what, until recently, was the CCC Campground in the Grundy Forest area of South Cumberland State Park. Phase One of the project will identify, clear and begin to repair some of the aging camp infrastructure — building foundations, cisterns, paths — and to construct a new SCSP camping area near Hanes Hole Falls, also in Grundy Forest, to replace the now-closed CCC Campground.

At present, two volunteer weekends are planned: Dec. 9 and 10, and Dec. 16 and 17. These weekends will primarily involve site clearing, moving construction materials to the site, and erection of support structures for subsequent Phase One work that will be scheduled after the holidays. All ages, abilities and levels of experience are welcome.

Early next year, volunteers will also have a unique and historic way to participate. On certain upcoming work-days, volunteers will be asked to wear CCC-era clothing in order to help re-enact the lives of the Civilian Conservation Corps workers to a visiting audience.

If you are interested in participating, either in the restoration work or as a CCC re-enactor, please volunteer online at <FriendsOfSouthCumberland.org/volunteer-opportunities>. If you have questions, please email Ranger Park Greer <charles.greer@tn.gov>. Make plans now to take part in preserving this unique and important element of our area's history.

Food Forward at McClurg Dining Hall

On Monday, Dec. 4 and Tuesday, Dec. 5, Sewanee Dining in the McClurg Dining Hall will be working with the Humane Society of the United States to promote their program Food Forward, by featuring delicious and nutritious plant-based options at lunch and dinner on both days.

It is a part of Sewanee Dining's continued commitment to provide the community, students, faculty and staff with healthy, sustainable, diverse food while being a good steward to our planet. Forward Food is a program that raises awareness about the environmental, public health and animal welfare impacts of industrialized meat production. Universities, hospitals and even the military have launched Forward Food programs as a way to increase awareness to the benefits of eating more plant-based meals by serving delicious options that feature plants on the center of the plate.

Eating more plant-based meals can help us look and feel better, lighten our impact on the planet and help animals," said Kristie Middleton, managing director of Farm Animal Protection at The Humane Society of the United States.

Diets rich in vegetables, fruits, whole grains, legumes and nuts are consistently linked to lower blood cholesterol levels, blood pressure and obesity rates. The Academy of Nutrition and Dietetics says this type of diet is appropriate for all stages of life, including childhood and adolescence and for athletes, and acknowledges the benefits of eating more plant-based meals, including a lower risk of death from heart disease (our leading cause of death in the U.S.), lower overall cancer rates, lower rates of Type 2 diabetes and a lower body mass index.

According to the Environmental Defense Fund, "If every American skipped one meal of chicken per week and substituted vegetables and grains...the carbon dioxide savings would be the same as taking more than half a million cars off of U.S. roads."

If Americans ate beans instead of beef, the United States would immediately meet approximately 50 to 75 percent of its GHG reduction targets for the year 2020, according to a recent study by Dr. Helen Harwatt, Sustainability Research Specialist at Loma Linda University.

Please come join us for lunch and dinner and sample our new plant-centric recipes as we raise awareness at the same time.

VILLAGE REPORT

by Frank X. Gladu

Sewanee Village Implementation Update

November has been a busy month as we move forward with several aspects of implementing the downtown development plan. Two sessions of the monthly Village update meetings were held on Nov. 7 with the normal 10 a.m. session and an added 5:30 p.m. session to allow for greater participation. The Sewanee Mountain Messenger covered the evening session and reported it in their Nov. 17 edition. Two more sessions are planned for Dec. 5 at 10 a.m. and 5:30 p.m. at the Blue Chair. The second half hour at both sessions will be devoted to the Sewanee Trust for Historic Preservation (STHP). They will review their downtown project and ask for help in locating materials and identifying stories to document Sewanee's past. I hope that many will be able to attend.

Here are updates on the five projects being pursued for substantial completion by 2022:

The Road—The Tennessee Department of Transportation project that will narrow US 41-A along a half mile stretch between Kennerly Road and Kentucky Avenue. The project will include a pedestrian activated traffic signal at the intersection at University Avenue. A right of way meeting was held in November and hopes are to have a finished design by early 2018.

The Bookstore—The location has been identified between the Post Office and Tower Community Bank on University Avenue. Proposals from architects for the project are being evaluated with a selection expected in December with design commencing immediately afterword. Construction could begin as early as July 2018 with completion by August 2019.

Housing—Locations have been identified for apartments, multi-family and single-family units. Discussions are in progress with several developers as the Provost's Housing Study Group continues its work with recommendations due in March 2018. A survey of faculty, staff and alumni has been administered with results due in December. These results will be utilized to define what projects should be tackled first.

One project that continues to be evaluated is the property along Prince Lane between Bob Stewman Road and Bakers Lane. This 2-acre site is earmarked for single family homes and a cottage court. This site is low lying and presents several challenges. There will be some work done to thin out vegetation to better evaluate the area. All trees greater than 3 inches in diameter will remain and the work will be done with a low impact grinder to mulch the cuttings. The work is scheduled for the week of Dec. 4, weather permitting and should take a day or two to complete. As we all know, this is a challenging site and we want to explore all the possibilities to determine if the site can be developed.

The Grocery Store—The selected site is on the corner of Lake O'Donnell and US 41-A. On this site, we are planning a 3-story building with the food market occupying the first level and apartments on the upper two floors. The new market will be completed before the current Sewanee Market closes to make way for the Village Green.

The Village Green—Planned to go on the current site of the Sewanee Market, this area will be the location for events, festivals and informal gatherings.

December will be an active month for the Village development project as the holidays approach. Please plan to attend both of the update sessions held on Dec. 5, at the Blue Chair Café and Tavern in the Village.

Merry Christmas!

Operation Noel

Providing Abundant Holidays for All

In just a few weeks, it will be Christmas. While many are already planning ahead about gifts to buy and food to eat, there are those not so fortunate. In our area, there are children who may not get presents and families that may not have an abundant holiday meal.

Each year the Sewanee Volunteer Fire Department (SVFD), in conjunction with FROST (the department's Fund Raising Operational Support Team), organize the purchasing and distribution of food and toys for these families. All items will be delivered the morning of Dec. 23 by the SVFD and FROST.

But this important program cannot happen without help from the community. Please consider making a donation of money, nonperishable food items or new toys to Operation Noel this year and give back to your community this Christmas season.

Families eligible for Operation Noel must live in the following communities: Sewanee, Midway, Jump Off and Sherwood Road to the top of Sherwood Mountain (but not into Sherwood).

Every family needs to fill out a new application, even if they have received from Operation Noel before. An application ensures organizers have all the pertinent information so they can provide for everyone in need. The application is found to the right. The deadline for returning applications is Monday, Dec. 11.

If you would like to make a donation of money, nonperishable food items or new unwrapped toys, please take items to the Fire Hall or the Police Department, both located behind duPont Library, or Print Services, located in the old Beta House. For more information call 598-3400 and leave a message.

Grundy County Receives Grant for Digital Initiative

The Grundy County Department of Education is pleased to announce it has received a $250,000 grant from the Appalachian Regional Commission. These funds will support the implementation of the district's 1:1 Initiative called Growing, Creating & Innovating (GCI). This initiative will provide a laptop computer for every student in the school system in grades eighth–12th by the spring of 2019. The program also includes a transition to the Google for Education Suite. After the laptop deployment is complete all incoming eighth grade students in subsequent years will receive a laptop computer.

As part of GCI, students pay a small, yearly user charge and family members and students are required to attend an information session to learn about the new curriculum and their responsibilities regarding their computers. Students are not required to accept a laptop and may choose to be a day user instead at no charge. The computer deployment schedule is posted on the district website.

Google for Education is a free service that Google provides to schools. Students, teachers, administrators, and support staff can use Google Classroom, Google Drive, Google Calendar, Gmail and more education focused services.

The Grundy County School System's mission aspires to provide an enriching educational experience that supports all students' academic, social, and emotional development so that they are learners today who become leaders tomorrow. The Growing, Creating & Innovating Program supports the district mission with forward-thinking use and implementation of technology programs.

The Appalachian Regional Commission (ARC) is a regional economic development agency that represents a partnership of federal, state, and local government. Established by an act of Congress in 1965, ARC is composed of the governors of the 13 Appalachian states and a federal co-chair, who is appointed by the president. Local participation is provided through multi-county local development districts. The ARC awards annual grants through a competitive application and review process.

Monteagle Elementary School would like to announce the 2017-2018 student council members: President, Garret Dees; Vice President, Kendal Winton; Secretary, Breezy Rollins; Treasurer, Luke Meeks; seventh grade, Ethan Myers and Ella Masters; sixth grade, Colton Meeks and Kathryn Lusk; and fifth grade, Logan Hammond and Amelia Thomas. MES Student Council would like to thank Mountain Graphics for donating our T-shirts.

Dual Enrollment Program at FCHS

Franklin County High School (FCHS) is pleased to announce a partnership with Medical Response Institute (MRI). In Spring 2018, a dual enrollment program will be initiated allowing FCHS students to attend MRI and earn a certificate in medical assisting and phlebotomy. It is the goal of both parties involved to equip the students with the knowledge and experience to succeed and excel in the program and in the workforce.

In compliance with the recommendations from the TN Department of Education, MRI will modify their current medical assisting/phlebotomy course. For the safety of Franklin County High School (FCHS) students, the course will delay live sticks and clinical hours involving live sticks until after students graduate from FCHS. Prior to graduation, MRI students will be allowed to perform needle sticks and injections on a simulator. Students will begin their course at noon, Jan. 8, 2018, at MRI. Classes will meet Jan. 8–March 16, from noon–4 p.m. After students graduate from FCHS, they will return to MRI to complete the required minimum 25 live sticks, complete the 24 hours of clinical rotation, and take the qualifying tests by June 1, 2018.

'The Sewanee Night Before Christmas' Book Signing

Katie Porterfield, author of the children's book "Sewanee A to Z" (published in 2014), will be signing her new book, "The Sewanee Night Before Christmas," at The Lemon Fair on Saturday, Dec. 2, between 10 a.m. and 1 p.m. "The Sewanee Night Before Christmas," illustrated by Monteagle's Christi Teasley, puts a Sewanee spin on the classic holiday poem, "'Twas the Night Before Christmas." Tigers replace reindeer and fly through the sky. Santa wears purple and fills stockings with items from familiar local establishments. And beloved traditions and buildings appear throughout the book, making it a must-own for anyone who cherishes the magic of the Domain. The book is available online at <atozchildrensbooks.com>, and at local retailers, including the Lemon Fair, Taylor's Mecantile, The Mountain Goat Market, and the University of the South Bookstore.

A writer based in Nashville, Katie Hines Porterfield graduated from the University of the South in 1998. In 2014, she wrote and published "Sewanee A to Z" to share the magic of the Mountain with her twin boys, Shep and Hines. Katie is also the author of "Find Your Heart in Lake Martin," an A to Z book about another place close to her heart. In addition to her B.A. in American Studies, she holds an M.A. in journalism from the University of Alabama. Katie and her husband Forrest own a house in Sewanee with fellow graduates and visit often. See her work and purchase books at <atozchildrensbooks.com>.

Christi Teasley lives in Monteagle, with her husband, Carlton Young. Christi attended St. Andrew's School, Sewanee Academy, and the merged St. Andrew's-Sewanee School from which she graduated in 1983. She received a B.F.A. in Textiles and an M.A. in Art Education from Rhode Island School of Design. She returned to the Mountain and taught visual art at St. Andrew's-Sewanee School from 1989-2016. Christi's studio practice includes drawing, painting, dyeing, printing and stitching.

"Many thanks to the Blue Chair, Shenanigans, and the Lemon Fair, whose goodies and goods dance in children's heads and serve as stocking stuffers," said Porterfield. "I'm grateful for the late Gay Alvarez, Lemon Fair founder, who gave Sewanee angels a place to spread their wings and fly. The Lemon Fair angels led me to the talented Christi Teasley, who masterfully illustrated this little book. Thank you to Gerald Smith, recently retired Sewanee religion professor whose 47-year career exemplifies what makes this place special and unique. Finally, Christi and I couldn't have done this without the superb art direction/design of Laura Deleot, C'96, and Circa Design."

Student dancers will perform Fawning, choreographed by guest artist Banning Bouldin, artistic director of Nashville-based New Dialect, and World will perform the duet Shifting, with guest choreographer and performer Daniel Gwirtzman, artistic director of New York City-based Daniel Gwirtzman Dance Company.

There will be student performances by Annie Corley, Robin Kate Davis, Margaret Deane, Adelle Dennis, Paige Greenberg, Caroline Greenhalgh, Alyssa Holley, Juliana Morgan, Macy Ninness, Julia Peacock, Danielle Silfies and Meredith Stuber.

Fiction and Poetry Reading by Lee Conell and Daniel Groves

Visiting fiction writer Lee Conell and visiting poet Daniel Groves will read from their work on Tuesday, Dec. 5, at 4:30 p.m. in Gailor Auditorium on the campus of the University of the South. The event is free and open to the public. A reception and book signing will follow.

Lee Conell teaches at Vanderbilt University, where she earned her M.F.A. Her debut story collection, "Subcortical," was published this fall by Johns Hopkins University Press. Her stories have appeared in the Chicago Tribune, Kenyon Review, Guernica, The Collagist, Glimmer Train, and elsewhere. Her story "The Lock Factory" won the Chicago Tribune's Nelson Algren Literary Arts Award in 2016 and was noted as a Distinguished Story in Best American Short Stories 2016. In addition to teaching at Vanderbilt, she serves on faculty for the Sewanee Young Writers' Conference and will be teaching this spring at Sewanee as a visiting professor. She is currently working on a novel.

Daniel Groves is the author of "The Lost Boys" (University of Georgia Press) and the co-editor of the forthcoming anthology Jiggery-Pokery Semicentennial (Waywiser Press). His poems have appeared in the Paris Review, Yale Review, and Poetry, among others. He graduated from the Writing Seminars at Johns Hopkins University and holds an M.F.A. from Ohio State University and a Ph.D. from the University of Cincinnati. ## New Children's Book from Thurmond Library

"Little Brown Hen, Librarian" is about a smart, spunky little chicken who, with the help of her community, rose beyond her roots in poverty to become a grown-up who works daily to inspire little ones to succeed. The tale is based on the true story of Iris Winton Matthews, who grew up in Sewanee in the 1950s and 1960s.

In 1887, four sisters founded what would become Thurmond Memorial Library, Iris's refuge from her small house full of noisy siblings. There, the library books opened her eyes to a world of opportunities. When Iris was in elementary school, several local families sued the county to integrate the public schools, so she was among those who transferred to Sewanee Public School from the two-room schoolhouse for African-American children. Later, Iris helped integrate a college in Pulaski. Today she works as a library youth services coordinator in Decatur, Ga.

The book, written and illustrated by Mary Priestley, sells for $10 and is available at local stores, including the Lemon Fair, Mooney's and Taylor's, as well as at Thurmond Library and on <amazon.com>. All proceeds go to support Thurmond Library.

"Little Brown Hen Librarian" was written and illustrated by Mary Priestley.

The Gallery at Tenn Arts in Chattanooga's Southside is holding a Preview of the Art of Will Winton—his furniture, watercolors and epoxy paintings as a prelude to the 2018 shows. The events are this Friday, December 1, 5:30-8:30 p.m. with an artist session, and during the Main x 24 Festival on Saturday, Dec. 2. The gallery is located at 1800 Rossville Ave, Suite 108, just south of Main. Artwork by Will Winton.

Reindeer Fun Run to Help Tullahoma Animal Shelter

The fourth annual Reindeer Fun Run will be held on Jackson Street in Tullahoma on Friday, Dec. 1. The unique, family-friendly run and walk will benefit the Tullahoma Animal Shelter.

Participants are encouraged to dress in their favorite Christmas costume or flair. And new for this year, parade spectators are encouraged to vote on the city's Facebook page for their favorite costume. Register at DW Wilson Community Center or on the day of the race at Frazier McEwen Park starting at 5 p.m. Participants are asked to gather at the park, and the race starts at 6:15 p.m.

"This is another family-fun fitness event to encourage wellness and to encourage our community to get moving," said Tullahoma Mayor Lane Curlee.

The cost for the event is a donation to the Tullahoma Animal Shelter. The minimum recommended amount is $10 (for a single or a family), but anyone is welcome to join the fun run and walk. This money will go to help build a new animal shelter.

"The Reindeer Run is about giving runners the opportunity to run down the middle of Jackson Street while thousands of people cheer you on," said Kurt Glick, Tullahoma Parks and Recreation director. This event is for entry level runners all the way to more experienced fitness levels. It is about dressing up and having fun at the Stan McNabb Christmas Parade."

Glick said his organization is delighted to partner with the Chamber of Commerce and Stan McNabb Automotive.

"The all-ages course is approximately two miles, so it is a great opportunity for first time runners to try out a race event," Glick said. "This race is about helping the animal shelter and enjoying the Christmas themed night. We will not have an official timer, and we ask participants to step out of the road if they can't beat the parade."

For more information, visit or call DW Wilson Community Center at (931) 455-1121.

Middle School Boys' Basketball Recap

The St. Andrew's-Sewanee middle school boys' basketball team traveled to perennial rival The Webb School on Nov. 16 and left with a narrow loss in a low-scoring game, 23-20.

Mac Croom scored seven for SAS, while Elijah Seavey and Ethan Hargis posted four points each. Gus Croom added three and Spears Askew contributed a bucket in the loss.

On Nov. 14, SAS defeated Coal-mont 50-19. The Mountain Lions coasted to an easy win versus Coal-mont, which was missing three of their top players.

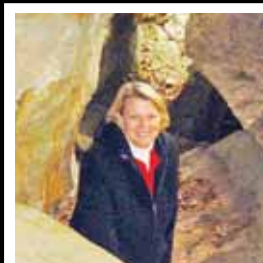

SAS used the bench judiciously, resulting in balanced scoring: Seavey led the team with nine points; Cason Harmon and Hargis each had eight; Raulston Barnett and Mac Croom chipped in six each; Colin DeLorme and Isaiah Gilliam each notched their first 3-pointers of the season; and Gus Croom, Kyler Cantrell and Askew added a deuce apiece. Ryan Ostrowski scored on a free throw.

On Nov. 13, SAS escaped North in Altamont with a narrow two-point win. Mac Croom led a balanced SAS attack with 15 points; Ethan Hargis had 11; Elijah Seavey scored nine; Gus Croom had five, Kyler Cantrell posted four points; Rylan Thomas had three; and Cason Harmon chipped in with two.

SAS lost at Pelham on Nov. 9, 48-26. Chase Layne and Lyden King scored 18 and 16 points, respectively, to lead a quick and pressing Pelham squad.

Mac Croom kept SAS in the game with 14 points, but the Tigers' full-court press made it difficult to earn good shots.

Tiger Men Win Igloo Invite, Women Second

The Sewanee swimming and diving teams wrapped up the weekend of Nov. 17-18 with standout performances in the Igloo Invitational. The women finished second, while the men captured the crown in the Fowler Center pool.

Two new pool records were set on Nov. 18, both coming on the diving board. Noel Whitlock earned the school record in the three-meter dive, scoring a 447.90, surpassing Abigail Nebb's 426.75 in 2011. She also recorded the pool record in the one-meter dive with a 430.42.

Sewanee's Kate del Balzo swam 2 minutes, 15.98 seconds in the preliminaries of the 200-yard fly before winning the final, swimming a time of 2:16.31.

Abby Rapuano posted a 25.70 finish in the 50-yard freestyle, good for third place out of 34 swimmers.

In the 200-yard freestyle preliminaries, Meghan Mulhern clocked a 1:58.52 finish to win the prelim. The senior, advancing to the final, finished third out of 19 swimmers. However, in the 1,650-yard freestyle event, Mulhern touched

Sewanee Women Lose Home Opener in OT

The Sewanee women's basketball program opened its home schedule on Nov. 28 with an 84-80 overtime loss to the Emory Eagles.

Following a slow start, the Tigers (2-3) fought back from a 16-point deficit to send the game into the extra session.

Emory (4-1) made six out of their first 11 shots from the field and sank 8-of-9 free throws to sprint out to a 22-11 lead after 10 minutes of action.

Late in the first quarter, down 16 points, the Tigers answered by going on a 13-4 run in a 5:05 span to cut the deficit to two points, 24-22, before Emory took a timeout with more than seven minutes left in the second period.

Not letting the Eagle's lead stretch to more than six points the rest of the half, the Tigers outscored the visitors, 22-15 in the quarter and trailed 37-33 at intermission.

In the third stanza, the Eagles shot 8-of-15 in the frame, but the Tigers, thanks to three 3-pointers and six free throws to keep it close, trailed 57-50 heading into the fourth period.

Down 64-57 with less than six minutes left, Bella Taylor made the next six points for the Tigers to cut the deficit to one, 64-63, with four and a half minutes to go.

The Tigers would tie the contest at 66 for the first time in the game at the 2:50 mark, on a Hannah McCormack free throw.

From there, there were three ties and three lead changes for the rest of regulation, and tied at 73 apiece, the teams played five more minutes.

The Tigers shot 9-of-14 in the final period of regulation, including a 6-of-7 performance from Taylor, who scored 15 points in the period.

Ahead 80-77 with 50 seconds left in the overtime period, Lindsey Tse made a layup that iced the contest for the Eagles.

"After that first quarter, we told the girls to relax and stick to our gameplan," said Sewanee Head Coach Tracey Braden. "Honestly, I think we felt intimidated. We made a few adjustments on the full-court pressure we saw in the beginning. Once we started relaxing and executing shots, our confidence level went up."

Taylor led all scorers with 29 points, a new season high for the junior. She is now 33 points away from becoming the 13th women's basketball player all-time to reach 1,000 career points.

Taylor shot 10-of-21 from the field, 9-of-10 from the charity stripe, grabbed seven boards and had three steals and assists.

Hannah McCormack posted 16 points and recorded five of Sewanee's 12 steals. Allison Hitchcock drained shots from the charity stripe and beyond the arc, sinking three shots from downtown and going a perfect 5-of-5 from the free-throw line to finish with 14 points.

Ashley Oldshue recorded a double-double for Emory, scoring 21 points and recording 11 boards.

Azzairia Jackson-Sherrod recorded 16 points, grabbed six boards and five assists for the Eagles.

"I just want to thank everybody who came out tonight and supported us," Braden said. "They were on their feet and loud all game long. You all were our sixth man tonight, and we deeply appreciate the support."

The Tigers play a home game against Centre at 1 p.m. on Dec. 2.

Football Tigers Garner Awards

The 2017 Southern Athletic Association recently announced the All-Conference postseason awards. Seven Sewanee football players were selected to the postseason award list, while William Phillips was named SAA Newcomer of the Year.

Named a member of the All-SAA Second Team Defense, Phillips was selected as one of the two safeties. He finished with 32 tackles, 22 solo tackles. He also posted five interceptions, tied for third in the SAA and second in return yards with 101.

The freshman made a huge statement in his first collegiate game in Sewanee's 45-20 victory over Kenyon. With the Lords driving inside the Sewanee five-yard-line, Wesley Porter punched the ball out at the two, and Phillips picked up the pigskin off the turf and ran the ball all the way back to the Sewanee endzone for a 98-yard touchdown, a new school record. He also recorded another fumble recovery in conference play against Hendrix.

In the three 54-hole tournaments in which the Tigers have played, they have averaged a score of 294.8 per round. In 11 rounds this season, Sewanee has averaged 293.8 after each round.

The Tigers are the leading team from the Southern Athletic Association. The fall golf schedule is complete and the first spring poll will be released Feb. 16.

Tiger Men Lose to Maryville

Maryville used a 42-21 run in the final 12:10 of the contest to upend the visiting Sewanee men's basketball team, 81-73, on Nov. 21.

Maryville (1-2) sprinted out to an 8-2 lead early in the contest, but Sewanee (1-3) went on a 17-0 run to surge in front.

The Tigers shot 12-for-31 (38.7 percent) in the opening half, but more importantly, the defense held the Scots to 34.5 percent (10-for-29) from the field, 1-for-10 from downtown.

Leading 35-28 at the halfway point, the Tigers pushed the lead to double digits thanks to a Hunter Buescher three-pointer, 38-28.

With 12:10 left in the contest, Michael Barry drained a shot to push the lead to 13, 52-39, but it was all Maryville from that point on. The Scots outscored the Tigers 42-21, including an 18-6 run to tie the contest at 58.

Sewanee's Hunter Buescher led all scorers with 27 points. He recorded two steals and two assists, while making 11-of-13 from the charity stripe.

The Tigers' Adrian Thomas knocked down 15 points and grabbed seven boards.

Luke Smith made three 3-pointers en route to an 11-point night. The freshman also had five of the team's 14 assists.

For Maryville, Calvin Songster scored 24 points and Emier Bowman had a double-double, scoring 11 and snaring 18 boards.

On special teams, he returned 13 punts and scored a touchdown on a 66-yard return against Hendrix in Week 5.

Joining Phillips on the list are: two Tigers on the All-SAA First Team Defense: Lee Menefee (defensive back) and John Cleveland (safety); one player on the Second Team Offense: John Gaither (offensive line); one as Honorable Mention Offense: James Hewell (tight end); and two as Honorable Mention Defense: Jo Jo Matlock (defensive line) and Wesley Porter (cornerback).

Menefee finished second in the SAA with 95 tackles, 47 solo, and led the SAA with 10.6 tackles per game. Of his 95 tackles, 8.5 were for a loss. He also forced two fumbles.

Cleveland recorded six of Sewanee's 21 interceptions in 2017. Leading the conference in the category, he recorded the most pick offs in a season since 2008 when Chalankis Brown picked off the quarterback seven times. He finished with 76 tackles, 47 solo and 3.5 for a loss.

Gaither was a key member of the offensive line this season. The Cleveland, Tenn., native helped the offensive line allow 424 yards per game, 219.5 through the air, good for third in the SAA.

Hewell caught 12 passes for 125 yards in his senior campaign as a tight end. Hewell had one touchdown reception, a 17-yard completion in Sewanee's 34-13 win at Birmingham-Southern.

Matlock recorded 30 tackles, 10 for a loss, and 4.5 sacks. Against Birmingham-Southern in Week 7, he found the quarterback twice, totaling 25 yards. He finished the game with four tackles for a loss, totaling 28 yards.

Porter joined the interception brigade with the Tigers in 2017, catching the opposing quarterback's pass attempt five times and returning the interceptions for 65 yards. He finished the season with 51 tackles and 11 pass breakups.

Sewanee Swimmers and Divers Sweep SAA Honors

The Sewanee swimming and diving teams swept the Southern Athletic Association (SAA) Player of the Week Awards, the conference office announced on Nov. 15. Lee Haber and Meghan Mulhern were selected as Swimmers of the Week, while Noel Whitlock and Jed Henrichsen were selected as Divers of the Week.

Mulhern had a busy two days on Nov. 10 and 11. The Tiger standout swam the 1000 freestyle (11 minutes, 13.95 seconds) and a season-best time in the 500 freestyle (5:28.75) versus Centre on Nov. 10.

She then posted wins the next day in the 200 freestyle (2:03.98) and the 100 freestyle (58.27) on the road against Transylvania.

Swimming two dual meets in two days, Haber won both the 200 breaststroke (2:13.16) and 200 individual medley (2:00.26) against Centre. After posting season-best times against the Colonels in those events, he swam a 50 freestyle split (23.05) leg in the 200 freestyle relay.

A day later, at Transylvania, Haber showed his versatility and swam a winning time of 10:06.96 in the 1,000 freestyle. He also posted a time of 1:02.44 in the 100 breaststroke for a second place finish. Finally, he followed up the 100 breaststroke swim a few minutes later by swimming a 50.60 split on the winning 400 freestyle relay squad.

Already qualified for NCAA regionals, Whitlock was great in both the one and three-meter events. First, in the one-meter, Whitlock scored 383.01 points against Centre and then added a 248.85 performance against Transylvania.

The two-time SAA Diver of the Week winner compiled a score of 255.375 on the three-meter board against the Pioneers.

Henrichsen, a two-time SAA Diver of the Week, won both diving events on Nov. 10 against Centre. The sophomore totaled an 11-dive score of 331.66 against the Colonels. He then added scores of 203.62 and 195.75 on the one and three-meter boards against Transylvania.

Asbury (Ky.) won the women's event, posting a 902 score. The Tigers came in second place with 659 points.

The men's team won eight events en route to an 843 score and top honors out of seven teams.

In the 200-yard free relay, the quartet of Jacob Finco, Carl Failing, Robert Coles and James Hoyt won the event with a 1:28.40 time.

Lee Haber picked up two more wins with a 4:49.52 mark in the 500-yard freestyle and 4:10.86 in the 400-yard individual medley.

Failing also earned two wins in the 100-yard free and the 100-yard butterfly. After winning the 100-yard free preliminary with a 4:79.1-second time, the freshman swam a bit better in the final. He shed 0.12 seconds off his time in the final, winning the event with a 4:77.9 time. In the butterfly, he took the final with a 52.63-second finish out of 12 finalists.

Hoyt also won an event on his own. The freshman swam a 17:20.18 in the 1,650-yard freestyle.

In the 50-yard freestyle, Finco advanced to the final with a 22.11 time in the prelims before winning the final out of 24 swimmers with a 22.21-second finish.

On the board, Jed Henrichsen captured a pool record of 405.53 points, surpassing 316.65 that was accomplished in 1999.

"We swam and dove exceptionally well this weekend. We swam some times that lead all individual times in the SAA, and the positive team spirit was truly exhilarating to watch," said head coach Max Obermiller.

The Tigers will wrap up the calendar year with a trip to the Transylvania Invitational. The two-day meet begins Dec. 2.

Walking Stick

This past month, walking stick insects have often been seen clinging to walls near outdoor lights, or perhaps already dead on the ground. This is often our best chance to observe these distinctive creatures, for they are mainly nocturnal as adults, feeding on the leaves of trees and shrubs. They are somewhat related to grasshoppers, crickets, mantids, and cockroaches, and, like them, undergo incomplete metamorphosis, with three life stages—egg, nymph, and adult. Their life cycle has some particularly interesting features. In some species, the egg has a fatty body, as do the seeds of some of our spring wildflowers, that is attractive to ants. The ants take the egg underground and eat that part, leaving the egg intact and protected during the winter months. When it hatches, it can even resemble an ant! Even more unusual, these eggs do not even need to be fertilized by a male but can develop on their own, resulting in a copy of the mother. In fact, this is the most common means of reproduction as the males are sometimes rare. This strategy is called parthenogenesis, from the Greek word for virgin, parthenos.

As a group, walking sticks are most abundant in the tropics but are found on all continents except Antarctica. In North America they are more common (and larger) in the South, with one species reaching six inches. A species in Borneo was found to be 22 inches long, with the legs extended. Perhaps we can be glad that ours are not quite that big!

BARDTOVERSE

by Phoebe Bates

Advent Dec. 1; Festival of Lessons and Carols Dec. 2-3

Almighty God, give us grace that we may cast away the works of darkness, and put upon us the armour of light, now in the time of this mortal life, in which thy Son Jesus Christ came to visit us in great humility. ---

—Collect for the First Sunday in Advent

Sound over all waters, reach from all lands,
The chorus of voices, the clasping of hands;
Sing songs of the angels when Jesus was born!
With glad jubilations
Bring hope to the nations!
The dark night is ending and dawn has begun:
Rise hope to the nations!
The dark night is ending and dawn has begun:
Rise, hope of the ages, arise like the sun,
All speech flow to music, all hearts beat as one!...

Blow, bugles of battle, the marches of peace;
East, west, north, and south let the long quarrel cease;
Sing the song of great joy that the angels began,
Sing the glory of God and of good-will to man!
Hark! joining in chorus
The heavens bend o'er us
The dark night is ending and day has begun;
Rise, hope of the ages arise, like the sun,
All speech flow to music, all hearts beat as one.
—John Greenleaf Whittier, A Christmas Carmen
