Bishop Reynolds Forum with Hubbard at SAS

St. Andrews-Sewanee School welcomes the public to its annual Bishop Reynolds Forum on Sunday, March 5, at 3 p.m. in McCrory Hall for the Performing Arts. This year's speaker will be the Rev. Colenzo Hubbard, executive director of the Emmanuel Center in Memphis. Fr. Hubbard's very timely topic, "Encouraging Others to Have a Hope and a Future," is based on his decades of work educating and empowering at-risk youth and adults through Christian ministry. A reception will follow the talk.

A fourth generation clergyman and founding vicar of St. John's Episcopal Church (Memphis), Father Hubbard is a graduate of the University of Alabama, where he was a member of the 1973 National Championship (and three SEC championships) Crimson Tide football team under Coach Paul "Bear" Bryant. He is a founding Board Member of Promise Academy Charter School in Memphis and a founding Board Member of Memphis Opportunity Scholarship Trust.

Fr. Hubbard's visit is made possible through The Bishop Reynolds Forum which brings a prominent speaker to the SAS campus each year to engage students and the community in a topic of current interest. The Forum was established through an endowment in memory of The Rt. Rev. George Reynolds, the late Bishop of Tennessee. A graduate and former chaplain of the Sewanee Military Academy and a former trustee and past parent at St. Andrew's-Sewanee School, Bishop Reynolds was engaged by and involved with the numerous personal and social issues confronting the individual, the Church, and the society he served. In the forums of his ministry he had the courage to ask the difficult questions and the strength and openness of mind to explore the ideas that flowed from response to those questions. He was guided by the belief that thoughtful and open address of issues and conflicts created personal growth, moral strength, and sound judgement. The Forum is a creative way to honor these qualities of mind and heart and to encourage emulation of them by students of St. Andrew's-Sewanee School and the Sewanee community.

In addition to Sunday's talk, Fr. Hubbard will preach at the all-school chapel and visit senior religion classes on Monday.

Register for Trails & Trilliums

Online registration is now open for the 14th annual Trails & Trilliums festival, April 7-9, at the Monteagle Sunday School Assembly. All proceeds benefit the Friends of South Cumberland.

This year promises to be one of the best yet, with 23 guided hikes, programs and workshops being offered throughout the weekend, including complimentary shuttle service to and from most hike trailheads. Many hikes and programs will fill up quickly, so please register early to reserve your place in these activities.

Friday evening's ART for the PARK gala gives you a first look at the dozens of original artworks by area artists. This year's gala is themed "This Land is Your Land," and your admission includes a casual dinner with beer and wine bars. Proceeds from art sales also benefit the Friends of South Cumberland State Park.

Saturday evening's Wine & Wildflowers celebration gives you an opportunity to meet, greet and mingle over wine and appetizers and to honor the 2017 Trails and Trilliums Tribute Award winner, the Southeastern Climbers' Coalition, for their work in helping the Friends protect the new Denny Cove area of South Cumberland State Park. Tennessee State Naturalist Randy Hedgepath will keynote the evening's program with Appalachian storytelling.

For more information and registration options, go to <www.trailsandtrilliums.org/registration.html>.

Aiken Taylor Award Events March 1 & 2

The Sewanee Review's annual Aiken Taylor celebration will take place on March 1 and 2 on the campus of the University of the South. Mary Ruefle is the winner of the 2017 Aiken Taylor Award for Modern American Poetry. Ruefle has authored 12 books of poetry, including "My Private Property" (2016) and "Trances from the Blast" (2013), as well as two collections of prose, and other writings.

On Wednesday, March 1, at 4:30 p.m., poet Michael Dickman will give a lecture in Convocation Hall on Ruefle's poetry. Dickman's most recent collection, "Green Migraine," was published in 2016. At 4:30 p.m., Thursday, March 2, also in Convocation Hall, University of the South Vice-Chancellor John McCardell and Sewanee Review Editor Adam Ross will present Ruefle with the award, after which she will give a reading of her work. Receptions will follow both events.

Michael Klein has said in the Los Angeles Review of Books: "[Ruefle's work] is best enjoyed simply as a sampling of moods and thoughts from the same intelligent, delving mind, the kind of pieces one reads for questions, not for answers." Ruefle has received numerous literary honors, including the Poetry Society of America's William Carlos Williams Award, Guggenheim and National Endowment for the Arts fellowships, and a Whiting Award.

Monteagle Elementary School students competed at the 4-H Public Speaking Contest. From left, Ella Masters, in sixth-grade placed second, Katherine Lusk, in fifth-grade was a participant, Stella Wilson, in fourth-grade was a participant, and Eli Wilson, in seventh-grade placed fourth.

2017 Hiking Challenge: "Hiking in Mack's Tracks"

The Friends of South Cumberland are dedicating their 2017 Hiking Challenge, "Hiking in Mack's Tracks," to Mack Prichard, State Naturalist Emeritus, for all he has done to advocate for nature, both here in the South Cumberlands and at dozens of other special places all across Tennessee.

The day starts with a brunch at 9:30 a.m., Saturday, Feb. 25, at the Dutch Maid Bakery, Tracy City. Prichard will be our keynote speaker. The cost is $12, payable at the door. All proceeds help the Friends of South Cumberland in supporting what is now Tennessee's largest State Park.

Friends memberships will be offered that morning at a $5 discount for all who join or renew at the brunch event.

Around 11:30 a.m., participants will go to the South Cumberland Visitor Center on Highway 41 in Monteagle to catch a courtesy van out to Raven Point on the Fiery Gizzard Trail. Everyone can walk the entirely new, rerouted portion of the Gizzard Trail, and take in all the amazing trail structures and work put in by our awesome Rangers and dozens of dedicated Trail Crew volunteers during the past 18 months.

The van shuttle will return to Raven Point and bring participants back to the Visitor Center in the afternoon. It's an opportunity to experience the re-route without the 8-mile hike-in/hike-out from Grundy Forest, and a day not to be missed.

As with last year's challenge ("Hike into History"), there will be two ways to "Hike in Mack's Tracks"—Our Discovery Series hikes feature family-friendly, easy-to-moderate self-guided hikes on trails in the park that follow many of the same routes as the 1970s-era expeditions Mack organized while building support for the creation of our park. Our Adventurer Series hikes offer more challenging, Ranger-led and often off-trail hikes features generally not visible from the trails. There is both a Discovery and Adventurer version of each hike in this Challenge.

Visit the Friends' website <FriendsOfSouthCumberland.org> and MeetUp page <https://www.meetup.com/Friends-of-South-Cumberland-State-Park/> for more hike details.

NEW SEWANEE REVIEW COVER

To the Editor:

The new Sewanee Review has just been published and I sincerely hope the highly touted contents will be worthy of their inclusion in a publication that has enjoyed such critical acclaim during the past 100 years. I am looking forward to reading it.

However, I do take exception to the equally touted change of cover which I think is in bad taste. Perhaps the "old blue" was a bit frayed by age and repetition, but that does not mean it needs to be literally shredded on the cover of the new.

NEED A TOWN HALL MEETING

To the Editor:

Scott Desjarlais is our congressman, and our voice in Washington D.C., but he seems to be hiding. According to his website, his last public event was in 2014. With all that's happening in Washington we need a chance to let him hear our voices. The best way for him to do that is a town hall meeting.

If you call his office and ask for a town hall meeting his staff will tell you that he prefers to hold telephone town halls. If you have listened in on one of these it is understandable that he prefers this format. These are certainly easier and he benefits by getting to choose who he calls and by having his staff screen the questions that get asked. Nice try, but a telephone town hall is really just a way for him to advertise himself using tools that were paid for with tax money. Regardless of politics, our representatives work for us and it is time that they listen to us. Call (202) 225-6831 and ask for a town hall meeting.

All Saints' Chapel

March 1, marks the beginning of a dramatic transition as we leave behind the season after the Epiphany and enter into the season of Lent. There will be 5:15 p.m. Eucharist offered on Ash Wednesday (with the imposition of ashes). This service will be held in the Nave. Childcare will be provided. Traditionally, Lent is a season marked with prayer, penitence, and fasting. It carries us slowly, yet deliberately, to Palm Sunday, through the events of Holy Week, culminating in the "Great Three Days" in the life of the Church: Maundy Thursday, Good Friday, and the Easter Vigil. During this season, our worship will be simplified: for example, there will be no flowers and no alleluias. We encourage you to engage in these services and invite you into the observance of a Holy Lent.

The Catechumenate will meet Wednesday, March 1, at 6:30 p.m. in the Women's Center. Desserts and coffee will be provided. Based around fellowship, study, openness, and conversation, the Catechumenate serves as a foundational piece for the Christian faith, as well as a forum for discussion for people of all backgrounds. All are welcome. Contact University Lay Chaplain Rob McAlister <rob.mcalister@sewanee.edu> for more information.

Christ Church Montea

Quinquagesima is the only one of these three Sundays with quaint names that is certain in its accuracy. If one remembers that Sundays are not technically "of" Lent, we are 50 days from Easter Day. Fr. Paul Oxner will be the celebrant and preacher on Sunday, Feb. 26, 10:30 a.m.

On Ash Wednesday, March 1, there will be service and Noon and another service at 6:30 p.m. The church will be open for prayer all day, and if anyone desires a prayer, or cannot come for the Ashes at the stated hours call (931) 924-2660, and someone will meet you at the Church. Please do not hesitate to leave a voice mail.

Christ the King Anglican Church

Christ the King will host a Community Open House 1–3 p.m., Sunday, Feb. 26, at 1231 Cumberland Street, Decherd. All are invited for fellowship and a tour. Chili, hot dogs, dessert and drinks will be provided.

Cowan Churches Gather for Community Ash Wednesday Service

The various Cowan churches will hold a Community Ash Wednesday Service 6 p.m., Wednesday, March 1, at the Abundant Life Assembly of God. The Rt. Rev. Paul Lambert, Pastor of St. Agnes' Episcopal Church, will be the speaker and the host church will provide music.

Ash Wednesday marks the first day in the Season of Lent, a 40-day period of fasting, reflection and prayer in preparation for Easter. The service includes the imposition of ashes to represent the reality of sin and death.

The service is sponsored by the Cowan Ministerial Association. For more information go to <www.cowanchurches.org>. The Abundant Life Church is located at 3310 Cowan Highway between Cowan and Winchester.

Lenten Series: Transformed Lives

During Lent, Otey Memorial Parish will offer a dinner (and lunch) series based on Cynthia Crysdale's book "Transformed Lives." Join us Wednesday beginning March 8 at 6 p.m. for a dinner hosted by various parish groups, or Thursdays at 1 p.m., beginning March 9, with a brown bag lunch following a 12:15 p.m. Holy Eucharist.

The book can be purchased through Karen Meridith for $10 or on <Amazon.com>.

Sewanee Organize and Act to Meet Feb. 26

Sewanee Organize and Act will meet at 2 p.m., Sunday, Feb. 26, at Otey Parish Hall. The group was founded to champion progressive values and oppose a governmental agenda that threatens to move the country backward. Since its inaugural meeting in late January, the grassroots organization has grown to 285 members.

Individual working groups have been formed, each concentrating on environment and agriculture, health, education, women's rights, freedom of the press, immigration, civil rights/LGBT rights, local politics, or protesting logistics. Their objective is to engage representatives in Congress and voice their concerns about these issues. Sewanee Organize and Act was instrumental in putting together a vigil in Sewanee in support of immigrants, and members participated in a protest in Murfreesboro of Rep. Dejarlais's stance on the Affordable Care Act.

Sewanee Organize and Act is one of several groups in Tennessee that are following the Indivisible model of resisting the current governmental agenda, which is available at <<https://www.indivisibleguide.com>>. Interested people from Sewanee and surrounding communities are invited to participate in Sewanee Organize and Act. ## Make A Difference Day of Service March 4

The South Cumberland Community Fund (SCCF) will host a Plateau-wide day of service at the local elementary schools on Saturday, March 4, 8 a.m.–noon. Service sites include all six Grundy County elementary schools, Monteagle Elementary and Sewanee Elementary. Each site has a handful of school-chosen projects that will benefit the children, parents and community members. Projects include murals, adding playground mulch, landscaping, library improvement activities and much more.

The day of service is the first special event in a year long celebration of the Community Fund's 5th Anniversary. "We really wanted to involve both students and adults in school improvement projects," said Laura Willis, the Fund's Executive Director. The schools and local VISTA volunteers have been planning the projects for several months. The SCCF is asking Plateau community members to volunteer on March 4 at their neighborhood elementary school and give back a little to make a huge difference in their community and in the daily lives of the local children.

Participants will receive a Make a Difference T-shirt and breakfast and snacks will be served at all sites. Child care will be available for those children too young to assist. In addition to the service activities, each school will host an "Appreciation Table" where cards of thanks can be made for local school personnel and community emergency workers.

All those interested in volunteering may either sign up in their local school office or go to <www.southcumberlandcommunityfund.org> by Feb. 27.

Rotary Hosts Cajun Supper March 4

The Monteagle Sewanee Rotary Club will host its third annual Cajun Supper, 4:30–6:30 p.m., Saturday, March 4, in Claiborne Hall at Otey Memorial Parish. Live music by the Bazzania band will provide a festive atmosphere while diners or take-out patrons can enjoy Cajun crawfish etouffee or vegetarian red beans and rice. Draft beer will be served on-site for the 21 and older patrons.

Tickets are $20 each, $10 for students age 12-22 and children under 12 eat free. Tickets are available from Monteagle Sewanee Rotary Club members or online at <www.monteaglerotary.org>, and at the door.

Proceeds from the Cajun Supper are used for international humanitarian service projects. One project, Heart 2 Heart, is an American/Mexican Rotary Club cooperative effort. Our club partners with other US clubs, and clubs in Mexico's District 4170 to support two signature projects: water tank systems for grade schools and the Holtz-Beahon Kidney Transplant Program. District 4170 is in the central part of Mexico and includes the Mexico City metropolitan area and several hundred square miles of adjacent rural areas.

The Monteagle Sewanee Rotary also supports the Sewanee Haiti Initiative. Last year the club donated $2,500 to the project.

"This fund was so important for helping us support five research interns who worked with four Haitian technicians and 30 Haitian families in two villages to conduct agroecological research," said Deb McGrath, professor of biology. "The research is aimed at better understanding the farming systems so we can find other strategies, in addition to coffee, that work for all households. While Sewanee internships pay the student researchers a weekly stipend, the cost of round trip airfare, in-country transport and room and board in Haiti consume a significant amount of this. The Rotary club gift allowed us to give each intern $400 towards their plane ticket. The students have been very devoted to the project, returning over several summer/spring breaks."

"This year, Duncan Pearce (Biology) and Peter Davis (Natural Resources) will graduate using their work in Haiti as the basis for the senior Honors Theses and Capstone projects. In this way, they leave a base from which future interns can learn about and build upon our work in Haiti. The remaining $500 from the Rotary gift was used to help farmers in Bois Jolie stock their nursery with tree seedlings."

Beverage Industry Executive to Lecture on Water Sustainability

Claude B. Nielsen, chairman of the board of directors of the biggest privately held Coca-Cola bottling company in the United States, will discuss how his company has taken on the challenges of water conservation and sustainability at a public lecture at 4:30 p.m., Tuesday, Feb. 28, in Gailor Auditorium.

Nielsen's lecture, titled "The Real Secret Ingredient," plays off Coca-Cola's legendary secret formula for the iconic soft drink while highlighting the centrality of water resources to the beverage industry.

A 1973 graduate of the University of the South, Nielsen retired as chief executive of the bottler, Birmingham-based Coca-Cola UNITED, Inc., following a 37-year career. He was named CEO of the firm in 1991, and led the company's expansion across the Southeast United States.

His speech is part of Nielsen's two-day Sewanee visit as the Babson Center for Global Commerce's 2017 Graham Executive in Residence. A reception will follow the lecture, which is free and open to the public.

While on campus, Nielsen will guest teach courses in watershed sciences and in marketing. He will also meet students for career counseling.

The Graham Residencies are supported by a generous gift from Diane and Henry H. Graham Jr. The lecture is co-sponsored by the Department of Economics and the Department of Earth and Environmental Systems.

Community Chest Within $19,100 of Goal

Since 1908, the goal of the Sewanee Community Chest (SCC), a 501(c)(3) nonprofit organization, has been to provide crucial support to community initiatives annually. The SCC is raising money for basic needs in the community such as books, food, recreational spaces, elder care, children's programs and more. The goal is $116,850 and to date $97,750 has been donated.

For a majority of the area programs and initiatives, 20 percent or more of the SCC funds are used to maintain their yearly budgets. A majority of the funding is used to help low-income families. Some organizations would not exist without continued SCC support.

You can help: $25 will help to spay/neuter one animal through the Franklin County Humane Society program; $50 will help to buy camping gear for two Scouts; $75 will help pay one month of maintenance expenses for the Sewanee Community Center; $100 will help defray the cost of fireworks for the annual Fourth of July celebration; $250 will help to pay for a scholarship at the Children's Center; $500 will help the Community Action Committee assist 200 households in the community; and $1,000 will help to pay for Sewanee Elementary teachers' professional development.

Send your donation by Friday, March 10, to Sewanee Community Chest, P.O. Box 99, Sewanee, TN 37375. Pledges, payroll deductions and donations made in honor of or in memory of a loved one are also encouraged. For more information email <sewaneecommunitychest@gmail.com>, or go to <www.sewaneeccivc.wordpress.com>.

The Truslow-Elliott House

One of Sewanee's most handsome and substantial houses sits at 147 Louisiana Circle, as grand today as it was when it was first erected in 1887.

The house was owned and occupied from 1924-1958 by a pair of distinguished and artistic women, Marie Jermain Truslow (1871-1958) and Charlotte St. John Elliott (1870-1958). Their surnames have been popularly applied to the house, although many other Sewanee notables have also lived there.

Professors Marvin and Anita Shafer Goodstein bought the house in 1966. After Anita's death in 1998, Marvin and his daughter Sarah Doyi, a teacher at Sewanee Elementary School, lived there. Since 2015 the house has been the residence of Doctors Joe (C '77) and Jan Delozier.

The house is a three-story "Shinglestyle" of wood and sandstone. It was originally built for J. W.S. Arnold, professor of chemistry and geology, by C. F. Scofield who also built the Colmore house.

Professor Arnold had succeeded Dr. John Elliott (the son of founding Bishop Stephen Elliott) as University Health Officer. Arnold had brought a well-appointed scientific research laboratory with him, and housed it in a small building behind the house. Unfortunately, he was not well when he came to Sewanee. He resigned after only one year and died in 1889. His wife continued to live there. A Spencer Judd photograph shows the original fish scale siding and ornate trim.

The house's ownership then passed to Mrs. Henry Edward Young of Charleston, daughter of Arthur Middleton Rutledge, whose brothers had been associated with the University and whose sons graduated from the University in the 1890s.

From 1901-1907, the house was owned by Captain Albert McNeal who served as Dean of Sewanee's law school. Captain McNeal's association with the University had begun as a trustee in 1875. He advised the University on legal matters for 32 years. His sons were University graduates.

In 1907 the house was purchased by the eldest son and namesake of General Edmund Kirby-Smith for about $7,000. The Kirby-Smiths added central heating and gas lighting systems. One of the children, Edmund Jr., remembered a wintertime incident involving the wood-burning stove in the kitchen. The stove's firebox was equipped with a heating coil that heated water for the house. The water heater tank sat next to the stove, connected to the heating coil by a small pipe. The weather was very cold, with temperatures dipping below zero. Ice had frozen in the pipe, and when a morning fire was built, pressure built up in the pipe and the stove exploded. The children's father was in Mexico at the time, where he ran a hacienda. When the family moved to Mexico City to join him, the house was sold to Mr. and Mrs. Grover Sykes, who had Grundy County ties.

In 1924, Miss Truslow and Miss Elliott gave up the music and art school for young ladies that they had founded some years earlier in New York City and bought the house on Louisiana Circle. For Miss Charlotte the move to Sewanee was a return home. A granddaughter of Bishop Elliott, she had been brought to Sewanee as an infant, in 1871. She was later educated at the Atlanta Female Institute and at St. Catherine's School, in Brooklyn, New York. She studied voice in Munich. A dramatic soprano, she sang with the Metropolitan Opera Chorus, was a soloist at the Episcopal Church of Zion and St. Timothy's in New York City, and toured as a soloist with the U.S. Marine Band. She was also affiliated with the music department of the Library of Congress and taught music at the Female Institute in Columbia, Tennessee.

She and Miss Truslow, a sculptor, had been boarding school classmates. Miss Truslow later studied in Florence, Italy but was forced by the events of World War I to return to the United States where she and Miss Elliott founded their Home School in New York City.

The women had a long and active retirement in Sewanee. Their home was a center of the community's musical and cultural activity for more than 30 years. Miss Elliott once taught music and speech at the University. She donated her concert wardrobe to the student dramatic society. Both women were in their late 80's when they died in 1958 within 10 days of one other. Both are buried in the University Cemetery.

Miss Truslow was the last to die, so the house became part of her estate. Many of the Truslow-Elliott possessions were auctioned. Professor Stephen Puckette, another Elliott descendant, and his wife, Upshur, bought the house, but in 1966, when Puckette accepted a position as head of the Mathematics Department at the University of Kentucky, they sold it to the Goodsteins who raised their two children, Sarah and Eban there.

The Goodsteins renovated the area used as a study and replaced the exterior shingles. Heavy draperies that helped the house retain heat from the fireplace were removed, but the chandeliers with gas jets that antedated the Truslow-Elliott days and some of the artistic decorations that the Misses Truslow and Elliott brought back from their European tours were retained. Most recently, the Deloziers made extensive renovations and improvements to the house and its grounds.

Much of the early history of the house and its occupants is found in Charlotte Gailor's manuscript, "Historic Homes of Sewanee, Tennessee, 1860-1910," available in the duPont Library Archives at the University of the South.—Jill Carpenter, May/June 2006

UT Extension Fruit Pruning Demonstration

UT/TSU Extension in Grundy County invites the community to attend a free on-farm Fruit Pruning Demonstration. The demonstration will take place at 3 p.m., Monday, Feb. 27, at High Meadows Farm in Tracy City, 321 Sally Branch Road. Jerry Walling, retired UT Extension Agent and Creig Kimbro, UT Extension Agent, will be on-site to present the demonstration on pruning different fruit types, hands-on fruit pruning training and basic fruit management. The program will focus mainly on brambles, blueberries, and grapes but other fruit types will be discussed. The demonstration will then go to the Suter Farm in Gruetli-Laager, 370 55th Avenue, to look at grape pruning and basic management. Transportation to both farms will be provided for the first seven participants who meet at the UT/TSU Extension Office in Coalmont promptly at 2:30 p.m. and/or carpool to the first farm location. In case of bad weather, the demonstration will take place on March 15. Contact the UT/TSU Extension Office for more details at (931) 592-3971.

Fruit and Vegetable Luncheon Seminars

UT/TSU Extension in Grundy County invites the community to attend Vegetable Luncheon Seminars in the Extension Month of March. A luncheon seminar will take place at the UT/TSU Extension Office every Tuesday beginning on March 7, at 11:30 a.m.–1 p.m. The cost, that includes lunch, is $7 for each seminar or all four seminars for $20. Participants are asked to RSVP the Monday before the program that you wish to attend so food preparations can be made.

Topics for the luncheon seminars will include: Veggie Varieties That Sell and Taste Good Too! – March 7; Online Sales Opportunities for Direct Farm Marketers / Value-Added Food Producers – March 14; Controlling Insects that Invade Your Home – March 21; and Popping the Top on Organics – March 28. Each program will begin at noon and conclude by 1 p.m. but lunch will be available at 11:30 a.m. for those who wish to eat early. Call the Extension Office in Coalmont at (931) 592-3971 for reservations.

These educational programs will be taught by a professional from the University of Tennessee in that field and all participants will receive literature and information for the day at no additional charge. This will be an excellent way to pick up some new information about vegetable production and start the year off with success.

UT/TSU Extension offers its programs to all eligible persons regardless of race, color, national origin, sex, age, disability, religion or veteran status, and is an Equal Opportunity Employer.

SEWANEE UNION THEATRE

Friday–Sunday, Feb. 24–26, 7:30 p.m.

La La Land

PG-13 • 128 minutes

A series of chance encounters aligns Mia (Emma Stone), an aspiring actress, and Sebastian (Ryan Gosling), an aspiring jazz pianist with visions of his own nightclub, in a romance doused with movie magic. The couple dances through a world of exaggerated color themes followed by a camera that at times maintains lengthy side scrolling uncut shots and in other instances leans heavily on fade outs and jump cuts. The resulting viewing experience is a combination of the theatrical and cinematic. The couple willingly embraces the stage and the screen as the plane of their dreams before a reality check threatens their relationship. The ending is a beautiful but heart wrenching compromise between the L.A. dream and the logistics of life and love. “Here’s to the ones who dream, foolish as they may seem.”

CINEMA GUILD

Wednesday, March 1, 7:30 p.m.

The Dark Knight

PG-13 • 152 minutes

In this Batman Begins sequel, the Batman (Christian Bale) faces off against the Joker (Heath Ledger) in an epic battle for the soul of Gotham City. It is not simply the conflict between good and evil that drives this story but the questions such a battle evokes. Are people essentially good or bad? What does justice really mean? Is there morality to be found in a world of chaos? While the Batman is the film’s namesake it is the Joker who steals the show, laughing in the face of man’s lust for control throughout his diabolical acts. The Bat’s acts of courage and self-sacrifice can only bring the viewer partially out of the Joker’s swirling chaos. A film of dramatic visuals and cut-heavy action shots, the dialogue of this film is not to be overlooked. Almost every conversation is worth a careful listen.

SEWANEE UNION THEATRE

Thursday–Sunday, March 2–5, 7:30 p.m.

Fantastic Beasts and Where to Find Them

PG-13 • 133 minutes

Newt Scamander (Eddie Redmayne) is a wizard from the British world of the Harry Potter movies who comes to America with a bag containing an expansive zoo of magical creatures. A conservationist of sorts, Newt makes the trip in search of a particular breed. His arrival coincides with a series of unexplained destructive phenomena occurring throughout New York and the growing hysteria regarding the unknown whereabouts of a dark wizard. In an incident involving a particularly unassuming “no-mage” or non-magical person, the bag releases a number of magical creatures into the City. As Newt moves to recapture the creatures he finds himself in the center of a dark plot. The movie attempts to establish a world that does not simply stand on the shoulders of Rowling’s previous works, while progressing a fairly tangential plot. While this does not leave much room for character development, most of the time one is too enchanted to care.

Benefit Concert for Children’s Center

Drew Bunting and the Beat Creatures will perform a benefit concert for the Sewanee Children’s Center on Saturday, Feb. 25, 10–11:30 a.m. at the American Legion, 36 University Ave., Sewanee.

The show will feature silly songs for kids of all ages and children’s music that adults don’t hate. Bring your dancing shoes, your children and your sense of humor.

Ever questioned the reasoning behind the international ban on banjos in space? Wanted to speak to movie monster Mothra in her native Spanish? Ever woken up with an unexplained cracker in your pants? Plumb the depths of these mysteries and more while you boogie the morning away.

Admission is $5 per person and $20 for a family of four or more. All proceeds will support the Sewanee Children’s Center.

Four Legged Gourds by Margie Gallagher on display at the ‘Four Leggs’ community art show at the Artisan Depot in Cowan. The show will run through March 26. Submit artwork for the next community show, “Wild Mixed Media,” March 23–26 during gallery operating hours. For more go to <www.fcguild.wordpress.com>

Shade Solutions Workshop

On Saturday, Feb. 25, St. Mary's Convent will host garden designer June Mays. She will share planting techniques and design tips for a flourishing garden with rich plant diversity in her Shade Solutions Workshop.

Mays is a part-time resident of the Sewanee community, enjoying her second career as a garden designer, lecturer and writer. She completed her education in garden design at the English Garden School in London, and since then has designed more than 100 gardens. Her workshop at St. Mary's will incorporate her knowledge of plants, her aesthetic eye, and her awareness of how gardens grow and evolve. She will also offer tips that gardeners at any skill level can appreciate and apply.

Mays emphasizes the growth potential of gardens, discussing not just what type of plants are suitable for certain environments, but also where such plants should be positioned. The vastness of what happens below the soil can be daunting to understand, and Mays will address these complexities in her workshop. Understanding rootsystems, root zones, canopy zones, and plant spacing is central to a successful garden. Mays will discuss how to create a garden of intentionality by using space purposefully, whether through placement of paths or plants, fostering reflection and contemplation and making the garden a sacred space.

Mays is exceptionally knowledgeable of climate and plant interactions and attendees can expect her to offer a range of plant suggestions for every type of garden. Attendees should consider their own garden's limitations and assets prior to the workshop. Bring an open mind and perhaps a few questions to take full advantage of Mays' reservoir of planting advice.

The workshop will begin at 10 a.m. and end at noon. The cost is $20 per person. Reserve your space by calling the Convent at 598-0046 or register at the door. For more information about Mays go to <www.junemays.com>.

Vega String Quartet to Perform at McCrory Hall

St. Andrew's-Sewanee School welcomes the public to a free concert by The Vega String Quartet at 7 p.m., Friday, March 3, in McCrory Hall for the Performing Arts.

The Vega String Quartet, Quartet-in-Residence at Emory University, is cultivating a new generation of chamber music lovers through dynamic performances and innovative community engagement. The New York Times raved that "the Quartet's playing had a kind of clean intoxication to it" and the L.A. Times praised their "triumphant L.A. debut." The musicians tour throughout Asia, Europe and North America and have appeared at Weill Hall and Zankel Hall at Carnegie Hall, Bargemusic, and Duke Hall at the Royal Academy of Music, London.

The Vega Quartet has won numerous international awards, including at the Bordeaux String Quartet Competition, as well as top prizes from the Coleman Chamber Ensemble Competition, the Carmel Chamber Music Competition, and the National Society of Arts and Letters String Quartet Competition.

The Vega Quartet's Residency at Emory is supported by the Rebecca Katz-Doff Chamber Music Endowment. The performance at St. Andrew's-Sewanee School is supported by a grant from the Tennessee Arts Commission.

'Moon Over Buffalo' at Manchester Arts Center

Do the cold weather, the bitter politics and the dearth of entertainment get you down? Well, if laughter is the best medicine, you have a cure. A situation comedy, mixed with sexual innuendo and slapstick, that includes wrestling, fencing, fast-paced dialogue, bickering, womanizing, jealousy, and plenty of confusion in "Moon Over Buffalo" might be your remedy.

Millennium Repertory Company presents this Ken Ludwig comedy that started on Broadway in 1995, starring Carol Burnett. The show runs through Feb. 26, Friday and Saturday at 7:30 p.m., and Sunday at 2 p.m. at the Manchester Arts Center, 128 E. Main Street. Tickets are $15 for adults and $13 for students, seniors (65+), and military are available at <millenniumrep.org> and (931) 581-2632. Warning: this show includes mild language that may be unsuitable for children.

Registration Underway for Savage Gulf Marathon

The Savage Gulf Marathon begins at the Stone Door entrance to South Cumberland State Park on March 18 at 8 a.m. Proceeds benefit the Friends of South Cumberland State Park and support Tennessee state park rangers.

Billed as the "most brutal, rocky, unforgiving, steep terrain imaginable," the Savage Gulf Marathon is limited to the first 100 entrants. Participants must have completed one full marathon or longer race in order to compete.

The official race Facebook page is <facebook.com/savagegulmarathon/> and online race registration is through UltraSignup <ultrasignup.com/register.aspx?did=30537>. Registration fee is $85 per entry.

This is a true "bucket list" marathon race. Marathon officials continue to get positive feedback from former race participants, and are confident that the 2017 marathon will be no different.

Tigers Sweep Wilmington

The Sewanee baseball team successfully completed its first three-game sweep under head coach David Jenkins, posting 3-1 and 4-0 wins over Wilmington College on Feb. 19 in Sewanee. The Tigers won the series opener on Feb. 18 with a 19-4 rout of the school from Ohio. The sweep moved the Tigers to 3-5.

Game Two – Sewanee 3, Wilmington 1

Pitching sustained the Sewanee squad. After coming off a quality start the week before at Emory, starter Harrison Lee shined on the mound with another dominant outing. The junior tossed six innings of one-run ball, allowing just five hits while striking out two. Freshman Daniel McDonnell pitched the final three frames, allowing no runs and striking out three.

Lee was matched by Wilmington pitcher Jared Ferenchak, who also threw six innings, allowing just one earned run on seven hits. Reliever Matt Oney struck out the side in the bottom half of the eighth inning in his only inning of work.

Tiger hitters ran wild on the base paths, swiping four bags throughout the game. Their small-ball approach was executed well, culminating in Jackson Cooper's sacrifice fly to score Tyler Minkinen for the go-ahead run in the seventh inning.

Game Three – Sewanee 4, Wilmington 0 (F/7)

Sophomore Josh Roberts was called upon to start his first game of the 2017 campaign for the Tigers and he did not disappoint. The left-hander threw five shutout innings allowing only one hit and one base-on-balls. Minkinen saw two innings of relief in place of Roberts, striking out three Quaker batters.

After loading the bases with no outs in the first inning, Wilmington pitcher Jacob Helterbrand surrendered a walk, scoring Cooper from third. The Tigers pounced on the opportunity, tacking on another run when Bryce Benedict's hard ground ball to the left side of the infield forced a fielder's choice and another Sewanee run.

The bottom of the sixth saw Derek Hullings join the action by recording a single, stealing two bases, and scoring on a failed safety squeeze attempt with home plate unoccupied. Sewanee starts a three-game home series against Wheaton today (Friday).

Women's Lacrosse Wins Big

The Sewanee women's lacrosse team stayed unbeaten during its opening weekend with a 16-2 win at Huntingdon on Feb. 19 in Montgomery, Ala.

Sewanee scored the first seven goals of the match. During that stretch, Meredith Sackett scored twice, while Alden Woolford, Kit Sommi, Preston Cooper, Bridget McConville and Farrell Guest netted one goal each.

Huntingdon finally got on the board when Maddy Morrison scored in the 15th minute. Sewanee answered back with first-half goals from Phoebe Stirm, Hannah Bradley and Hannah Tompkins, along with another from Guest.

Up 11-1 at halftime, Sewanee kept rolling the final 30 minutes. Anna Comer, Temple Moore, Brooke Winfield, Sommi, and Grace Zechman all scored.

Overall, Sewanee led in shots, 25-5. The Tigers also led in draws, 15-6. Individually, Guest finished with two goals, three shots, three groundballs and three caused turnovers. Crigler added four groundballs, one draw and two shots.

Defensively, McConville added two caused turnovers and two groundballs. In goal, Crawford Horan and Brianna Young combined for two saves.

Sewanee next plays a home match against Carthage at noon on Feb. 25.

Sewanee Seniors Lead Win Over Centre

A combined 52 points from the Sewanee men's basketball team's senior class led the Tigers to a 77-73 home win over rival Centre College on Feb. 18 in the regular season finale.

The Tigers enter the Southern Athletic Association (SAA) Tournament with a 13-11 (7-7) overall record. Sewanee is the No. 4 seed and will take on No. 5 Hendrix today (Friday). Rhodes will host the tournament after winning the regular-season crown.

On Feb. 18, it was all Sewanee early. The Tigers built their largest lead, 14 points, right before halftime. After Sewanee made 53.6 percent of its shots in the opening half, it looked like the Tigers would pull away for the Colonels in the final 20 minutes. Instead, Centre clawed its way back into the game over the first three minutes of the second half. A layup by Matt Gump sparked a 15-2 run for the Colonels.

Suddenly ahead by only one, 44-43, Sewanee finally slowed the Centre rally with a three by Clay Born.

From there, the score remained close. With the game tied at 61-61 with 3:47 to play, sophomore Cam Caldwell finished a huge dunk that pushed the Tigers back in front. Sewanee then got a key three by Jordan Williams with 48 seconds remaining, which pushed the purple and gold's lead to four, 71-67.

On the ensuing Centre possession, Williams stripped Perry Ayers and recovered the steal. From there, Sewanee hit 6-of-8 free throws with less than 40 seconds to play.

Overall, Williams led the Tigers with 23 points on 6-of-15 shooting. Born finished with 14 points and five rebounds, while Brody Stone added 11 points and nine boards. Tiger freshman Adrian Thomas scored 12 points.

Tigers Drop Finale to Colonels

Despite 31 points from sophomore Bella Taylor, the Sewanee women's basketball team dropped its regular season finale against rival Centre, 73-66, on Feb. 18 inside Juhan Gymnasium.

The Tigers will head into the Southern Athletic Association (SAA) Tournament with a 9-15 (6-8) record. As the No. 5 seed, the Tigers will take on No. 4 seed Oglethorpe today (Friday).

The tournament will be played at Birmingham-Southern College.

Sewanee's Kelsie Schiavone (right) won the 400-meter run on Feb. 17 in the Sewanee Indoor Invitational. L'Or Puymartin, Will DuBose and the men's 4x400 meter relay team also claimed wins. Photo by Lyn Hutchinson

NATURENOTES

Skunk Cabbage

Back in Pennsylvania this February, I took the opportunity to hike a nature trail in search once more of skunk cabbage. Sure enough, I found some just coming up.

They didn't look like much—a thick, fleshy, twisted, maroon or green and yellow structure called a spathe a few inches high, which you probably wouldn't notice if you weren't looking for it. I was hoping to perhaps see it emerging from the snow itself, because this plant has the ability to generate its own heat. No snow this time, however. A study by biologist Roger Knutson found that the flowering part of the plant within the spathe, called a spadix, can raise its temperature to around 20 degrees above the surrounding air temperature and even melt the snow around the plant. It does this by breaking down carbohydrates stored in its massive root system using large amounts of oxygen, making its metabolism, for that period of time, like that of a mammal of similar size. In Tennessee, skunk cabbage is only found in a few counties in the mountains in the northeastern part of the state. It is in the same family as Jack-in-the-pulpit, whose spathe is the "pulpit" and whose spadix is the "Jack."—reported by Yolande Gottfried

Collins River Canoe Trip

On Saturday, March 4, weather permitting, there will be a canoe float trip down the Collins River led by the Sewanee Canoe Club. Everyone in the community, including students, are invited. We have several canoes and paddles needing someone to use them. It is a beautiful river starting where it bubbles out of its spring and we will take out at Irving college where there is an American Native Temple mound. It is a Class I river with no rapids but it does have a steady rate of flow. More details will be available next week. Call Tom or Marilyn Phelps at (931) 463-2014 for details and equipment needs.

South Cumberland Recognized for Best in Resource Management Statewide

The Tennessee Department of Environment and Conservation (TDEC) recognized South Cumberland State Park for Excellence in Resource Management for park staff's work to improve trails, combat invasive pests and provide richer recreation experiences for visitors over the past year.

"All 56 Tennessee State Parks strive and succeed in achieving our mission to preserve and protect unique examples of natural, cultural and scenic areas," said TDEC Deputy Commissioner of Parks and Conservation Brock Hill. "But South Cumberland went above and beyond in 2016 thanks to the talent and skills of park staff that protected more land and created a better visitor experience."

Park Ranger Jason Reynolds has been spearheading an endeavor to reroute portions of the Fiery Gizzard trail to accommodate for private property, a majority of which was completed in 2016. Ranger Reynolds improved the trail by rerouting it into the gorge and crossing over new water features to provide a more scenic experience for hikers.

Park Ranger Aaron Reid worked alongside a professor from the University of Tennessee to combat an invasive pest – the Hemlock Woolly Adelgid. Park staff worked to clear brush from around the endangered White Fringeless Orchid in the same area. They also repaired deer fences that surround the plant to prevent herbivores from eating the orchids.

South Cumberland also recently acquired more land for conservation and recreation. Roughly 4,500 acres of land has been added to the park, which includes environmentally sensitive and significant areas like bluff lines, viewsheds, woodlands and some of the best outdoor rock climbing areas in the southeast.

BARDTOVERSE

by Phoebe Bates

Black History Month

I, too, sing America.

I am the darker brother.
They send me to eat in the kitchen
When company comes,
But I laugh,
And eat well,
And grow strong.

Tomorrow,
I'll be at the table
When company comes.
Nobody'll dare
Say to me,
"Eat in the kitchen,"
Then.

Besides,
They'll see how beautiful I am
And be ashamed—

I, too, am America.

"I, Too," by Langston Hughes

HEARING HEALTH NEWS

by Debbie Gamache,
M.S. CCC-A Audiologist

LOSING YOUR HAIR CELLS?

Presbycusis, the hearing loss associated with aging, results from changes in the inner ear that may be caused by reduced blood supply to the ear. However it is the result of loss of hair cells that line the inner ear that cause the actual hearing loss. These cells register vibrations created by sound waves and transmit the impulses to the hearing nerve. The damage to these hair cells can be hastened by noise exposure, heart disease, diabetes and certain medications.

If you have tried everything to deal with hearing loss on your own- turning up the volume, avoiding conversations, and withdrawing from social situations-it is time to see a licensed certified audiologist. At Debbie Gamache's The Hearing Center LLC we have advanced education and training to understand and diagnose your hearing loss, state-of-the-art equipment to test your hearing, and the very latest in hearing instruments to correct your hearing impairment. We are located at 705 NW Atlantic St. Suite B, Tullahoma. Call 931-393-2051 to schedule a medical diagnostic hearing evaluation. Please visit our website at: www.thehearingcenterllc.com.
