Franklin County Arts Guild is hosting its third annual fundraiser Arts and Ales—an over 21 celebration of the visual arts, music and the art of brewing. Attendees will be able to spend an afternoon tasting a large variety of micro-brews including Ballast Point, Catawba, Dogfish, Highland, Laguna's, Blue Moon, Leine DFT, Ole Shed, Sam Adams, Sierra Nevada, Singing River and Yee-Haw—while viewing the work of more than 30 local artists. In addition, there will be art demonstrations, and brewing demonstrations by Backwoods Carboys, Southern Middle Tennessee Brew Club.

Arts and Ales will take place at noon–4:30 p.m., Saturday, March 11, at Monterey Station, 104 Monterey Street, in Cowan. Tickets, $25 preorder, are available online at <www.artsandales.com> and at the Artisan Depot in Cowan, or $35 at the door.

Friends of Canon Gideon Silent Auction

The community is cordially invited to a Silent Auction, March 11, 5 to 7 p.m., in St. Mark's Hall of Otey Parish Church, benefitting Hope Institute, a vocational high school near Kampala, Uganda. Now in its 25th year, the school was founded by the Rev. Canon Gideon Byamugisha, who was a Brown Foundation Fellow at Sewanee in 2013 and has since welcomed Sewanee interns to work in the school every summer. African dresses and purses, platters and plates carved by Elvin King's famous chain saw, pictures made with butterfly wings, antique and contemporary African jewelry, a 12-piece carved soap stone nativity scene, a Thistle Farms gift basket, and a Duluth leather back pack are among the treasures you could claim. Tickets are $25 for adults and $10 for students at the door. Call Sally Hubbard at 598-5338 for more information.

Spring Ahead on March 12

Make a Difference Day: Life-Changing Improvements

by Leslie Lytle, Messenger Staff Writer

"Sure, I can do that," said Michael Church, owner of Triad Machine, when asked if he could make a frame and sign for the metalwork sculpture mounted on the front of Monteagle Elementary School (MES). Church's easy-going enthusiasm echoed that of the more than 300 volunteers who turned out at the Plateau's eight elementary schools to tackle school improvement projects at the March 4 Make a Difference Day (MADD) event sponsored by the South Cumberland Community Fund (SCCF).

"It's a great way to give back to the community," said Kai Koopman looking up from firming soil around a lettuce plant in the new vegetable garden at Sewanee Elementary School (SES). Participation far surpassed expectations. Like Church and Koopman, many of the volunteers had no parent-student connection with the school where they served.

"I'm really pleased with the turnout," said MES principal Janet Layne. She estimated more than 50 community members helped with the three projects: refurbishing the metalwork sculpture, establishing and relocating raised beds, and constructing a 900-foot trail, complete with a bridge crossing the creek, from the school to the ballpark.

SES principal Kim Tucker said 60 people registered, but throughout the morning people kept wandering up from the street offering help. In addition to planting vegetable and herb gardens, SES volunteers readied a bed for azaleas and hydrangeas, replaced the pea gravel in the reading nook, created a fairy garden, and planted a border of flowers lining the front sidewalk—"104 flowers" said a young boy who counted them.

The most ambitious endeavor, the MES ballpark trail, required easements and liability waivers. MES parent Nate Wilson handled legal details, material acquisition, and prep work, arranging for volunteer Geary Rose to bush-hog the route.

Armed with rakes and shovels, some volunteers spread gravel while others assembled and leveled the bridge. (Continued on page 6)

Helpers of all ages joined in at Sewanee Elementary School. This bed will be the home of azaleas and hydrangeas.

STRHS Sewanee Achieves Status as Accredited Chest Pain Center

Southern Tennessee Regional Health System Sewanee (STRHS Sewanee) has received Chest Pain Center Accreditation from the Society of Cardiovascular Patient Care (SCPC), the accrediting arm of the American College of Cardiology. SCPC is an international not-for-profit organization focused on transforming cardiovascular care by assisting facilities in their effort to create communities of excellence that bring together quality, cost and patient satisfaction.

Hospitals receiving SCPC accreditation have achieved a higher level of expertise in dealing with patients who arrive with symptoms of a heart attack. They emphasize the importance of standardized diagnostic and treatment programs that provide more efficient and effective evaluation as well as more appropriate and rapid treatment of patients with chest pain and other heart attack symptoms. They also serve as a point of entry into the healthcare system to evaluate and treat other medical problems, and they help to promote a healthier lifestyle in an attempt to reduce the risk factors for heart attack.

To become an Accredited Chest Pain Center, STRHS Sewanee engaged in rigorous evaluation by SCPC for its ability to assess, diagnose and treat patients who may be experiencing a heart attack. This means that processes are in place that meet strict criteria aimed at:

Reducing the time from onset of symptoms to diagnosis and treatment; treating patients more quickly during the critical window of time when the integrity of the heart muscle can be preserved; and monitoring patients when it is not certain that they are having a heart attack to ensure that they are not sent home too quickly or needlessly admitted to the hospital.

Dedication Set for Denny Cove, State Park's New Addition

by Kevin Cummings, Messenger Staff Writer

Project partners will host a dedication ceremony on Friday, March 17 to celebrate Denny Cove, a new 685-acre section of South Cumberland State Park.

Visitors have lauded the cove for its rock climbing opportunities, raw beauty and 70-foot waterfall. The Tennessee Department of Environment and Conservation and other projects partners will hold the dedication event at 2 p.m., followed by optional hiking and climbing demonstrations at 3 p.m.

"Denny Cove is special not only for its climbing and recreation, but its significant natural and cultural resources," said Zachary Lesch-Huie, Southeast regional director of Access Fund. "Climber or not, you go out there and it's just an inspiring part of our landscape here, home to important flora and fauna."

Access Fund is a national climbing advocacy group that was heavily involved with other conservation organizations in purchasing Denny Cove from a timber company.

"The project brought together all these interests and values, creating an amazing coalition of climbers, conservation groups and the state," Lesch-Huie added. "Ultimately that diverse coalition is what ensured we could protect this place forever." (Continued on page 6)

THANK-YOU FOR THE DIFFERENCE

To the Editor:

South Cumberland Community Fund would like to thank all the folks who helped Make a Difference day on March 4 work so beautifully this year! We had more than 300 volunteers working at eight elementary schools: Pelham, Palmer, Swiss, North, Coalmont, Tracy City, Monteagle and Sewanee. To all of you who gave your time and talents, we offer our gratitude. The Community Fund asked each school about needs it had, and how we could help. The projects included organizing and reactivating school libraries, clearing walking trails, playground improvements, working in school gardens, and large murals at three schools.

It is impossible to name everyone who helped. But I offer a special thank you to the principals and teachers/project leaders at each school, to Jessie Kinsey, director of Grundy County Schools; Jeff Sholey, maintenance supervisor of Grundy County Schools; and Grundy County Sheriff Clint Shrum. This day was also made possible because of the Community Fund's partnership with the University of the South's Office of Civic Engagement and the AmeriCorps VISTA program.

"Serving together, we are united together." This is how Coalmont Elementary School Principal Russell Ladd described the Make a Difference project as it wrapped up on Saturday afternoon. Russell captured the very essence of South Cumberland Community Fund in his words. The Community Fund works at strengthening our home through philanthropy and leadership, connecting our Mountain by encouraging collaboration across the Plateau, and envisioning our future as one of hope and prosperity.

Thank you.

Laura Willis, Executive Director,
South Cumberland Community Fund, Monteagle ■

Remnants of a former bridge showed where the trail crossed the creek when kids used that route to the ballpark 50 years ago—a history footnote Wilson uncovered when researching the project.

The MADD event grew out of SCCF's 2015 Make a Difference grant program that invited schoolchildren to propose how they would use $1,000 to spend in their community. "We funded four of those projects, and it was very successful," said SCCF Executive Director Laura Willis. "This year we wanted to find a way to involve more schools, more students, more parents, and more community members. And it worked. It was truly a Plateau-wide event!"

The SCCF paid for the supplies needed by the eight MADD schools as well as for snacks, T-shirts for participants, and publicity at a price tag totaling more than $13,000.

"We are especially grateful to our board member and capacity building chair, Bonnie McCardell, whose enthusiastic leadership was the driving force behind Make a Difference Day," Willis said.

People gave a variety of reasons for participating. Lisa Summers who helped in the fairy garden said her granddaughter Julie Sells came home from school one day and announced, "Nanny, we need to sign up! Who could say no to that?"

"It's nice to see such a wide range of people," said SES parent Sarah Marhevsky commenting on the large number of University and St. Andrew's-Sewanee students volunteering.

A number of the volunteers commented on the importance of setting an example for the children.

"The kids need to see us doing it," said MES parent Jerry Layne pausing from raking gravel on the ballpark trail.

Marhevsky shared Layne's sentiment. "It's a way to model for the kids."

"Most of the students who signed up to volunteer are ones whose parents volunteer," said University professor Jim Peterman, who oversees the AmeriCorps VISTA service program, partners with SCCF in coordinating the event.

The greatest difference made by the MAAD community volunteers may well be the longest lasting one. The joy of giving back is learned.

There are more than 150 climbing routes for various skill levels along the bluffs of the cove, with ratings ranging from 5.7 to 5.14.

"I've climbed at Denny Cove quite a lot and needless to say it's fantastic. Beautiful orange rock, great scenery, and top-notch climbing—it's the kind of climbing area locals and out-of-town visitors will love to keep coming back to," Lesch-Huie said. "There's an enormous variety of climbing routes there, and whatever your ability level, there's always a good, challenging route to try."

The acquisition of Denny Cove helped make South Cumberland State Park—which covers more than 30,000 acres in Franklin, Marion, Grundy and Sequatchie counties—the largest state park in Tennessee.

Currently, Denny Cove is only open on weekends and trails are still under construction, said Park Ranger John Ball.

"We still have a lot of work to do to complete the trails, but it is walkable," Ball said. "It does get rough and pretty technical the closer you get to the waterfall."

Ball noted that trail work began in August 2016, with Access Fund and the Southeastern Climbers Coalition hosting work days to clear the trail corridor every weekend until October. After the initial work, the park began hosting trail work the first and third Saturday of each month.

The trail distance from the parking lot to the waterfall is 1.5 miles, a three-mile round trip, Ball noted. Other site improvements so far include an access road and a 100-space gravel parking lot. Future plans include doubling the number of climbing routes, building restrooms, offering primitive camping, and continuing trail development, according to officials.

Denny Cove is off U.S. Highway 41 in Marion County, about two miles south of the Foster Falls entrance. The parking lot gate is open around 7:30 a.m. on weekends and closes 30 minutes after sunset.

Project partners that helped make the park addition possible include Lyndhurst Foundation, Land Trust for Tennessee, Riverview Foundation, Access Fund, Southeastern Climbers Coalition, Friends of South Cumberland State Park, Open Space Institute, The Conservation Alliance, Tennessee State Land Acquisition Fund, Tennessee Heritage Conservation Fund, Stone Summit Climbing and Fitness, High Point Climbing and Fitness and River Rocks.

"Earning Chest Pain Center accreditation is a testament to the hard work and dedication of our clinical team, our community partners and the SCPC, who have been working collaboratively to ensure our hospital is prepared to provide high quality care to patients when heart attacks strike," said Rob Followell, CEO. "STRHS Sewanee's top priority is to provide quality healthcare close to home, and this accomplishment demonstrates one of the many ways we continually work to enhance and improve our service."

STRHS Sewanee addresses the entire continuum of care for the heart patient, including important areas such as dispatch, Emergency Medical System, emergency department, quality assurance plan, and the STRHS Sewanee community outreach program. By becoming an Accredited Chest Pain Center, STRHS Sewanee has enhanced the quality of care for the cardiac patient and has demonstrated its commitment to higher standards.

Part of LifePoint Health, STRHS Sewanee is one of many facilities recently pursuing SCPC accreditation, demonstrating the company-wide commitment to enhancing quality and ensuring excellent service and care in the emergency department. With this designation, STRHS Sewanee joins the group of 24 LifePoint facilities that earned accreditation in 2015. The partnership between LifePoint Health and SCPC for collaborative training and hospital accreditation demonstrates the organizations' common focus on high quality medical care for patients.

"People tend to wait when they think they might be having a heart attack, and that's a mistake," said Rob Followell, CEO. "The average patient arrives in the emergency department more than two hours after the onset of symptoms, but what they don't realize is that the sooner a heart attack is treated, the less damage to the heart and the better the outcome for the patient. With our new accreditation, we hope to bring greater awareness to the importance of timely care and help even more people in Sewanee and the surrounding area."

Demonstration Forest Call to Action

To help the community become more involved in management of the Domain, Sewanee's Office of Environmental Stewardship and Sustainability is sponsoring events to get the community out in the woods and engaged. We are developing a citizen science program focused on monitoring birds and other flora and fauna to help us quantify the effects our management practices are having on Sewanee's Demonstration Forest and the Domain at large.

As part of this outreach effort, we will offer a series of workshops for the community to discuss the types of management practices we are undertaking and explain why they are necessary. The first of these will be from 1–5 p.m., Friday, March 17, and will focus on several small reforestation efforts off Breakfield Road. The planting location is behind gate number 3 and a shuttle will run between the gate and the planting location. During this event our goal is to have community members and students plant roughly 1,200 Shortleaf pine trees in two small clearcuts beyond gate four. Hand tools will be provided. Participants should bring gloves. Water and snacks will also be provided.

This planting of Shortleaf pine, Pinus echinata, is part of a larger regional Shortleaf restoration movement. Shortleaf pine has the largest historic geographic range of any of the southern pines, at one point covering 22 states throughout the Southeast. Today, its extent has been reduced to less than 10 percent of its historic range. For more information on Shortleaf restoration, visit <http://shortleafpine.net/>.

Sewanee's Demonstration Forest Initiative seeks to leverage the Domain as a teaching laboratory by establishing a structured program to engage our students and community in active forest and ecosystem management. The Demonstration Forest combines activities such as carbon sequestration, ecosystem restoration, fire management, wildlife ecology, and active timber harvesting focused on a portion of the Domain landscape. Activities are focused on helping both our students and community understand and be a part of landscape scale management.

While an ever-shrinking proportion of our society is directly engaged in land management, we all remain dependent on the land and the benefits it provides. It is important that people understand land management concepts in order to be informed citizens in current and future natural resource debates. If you would like to participate in the tree planting, or learn more about our citizen science initiatives, please drop us a line at <domain@sewanee.edu>.

CHIROPRACTIC OUTLOOK By Dr. Kurt Shull

BUY APPROPRIATE SHOES FOR SPORTS

We all know that a foot injury can be one of the most debilitating injuries of all. The feet, after all, support the body; being able to distribute weight and stress on them equally is essential to our overall equilibrium. So don't skimp on the cost of shoes.

That doesn't mean that more expensive is automatically better. It means find a good sturdy, supportive shoe and consider the cost well spent. That's particularly true if you're an active sporting type.

Not all athletic shoes are created equal. Tennis shoes, for instance, are designed for tennis. Running shoes are not. Their construction is designed for running—running straight ahead. They're not meant for the lateral movement involved in tennis. Cross-trainers provide a bit more flexibility in their use.

The tread on athletic shoes is different, depending on the basic function of the shoe. The arch supports can vary, as can the pattern of lacing. Talk with a knowledgeable shoe sales person when buying a shoe for your particular sport. And talk with your chiropractor for suggestions on footwear in general.

We are now accepting new patients. Call our office for a free consultation.

Engineers Week Activities Include Students from 15 Local Schools

The theme for this year's Engineers Week was "Dream Big!"

Many high school and middle school students took part in local events designed to help them dream big.

The first event, MATHCOUNTS® competition, took place Jan. 28 on the University of Tennessee Space Institute (UTSI) campus.

Middle school students from Highland Rim Elementary in Lincoln County, the Webb School in Bedford County, East and West Middle Schools from Tullahoma, and St. Andrew's-Sewanee in Franklin County participated in the event, which consisted of three rounds—a sprint round, a target round and a team round.

Third place went to Highland Rim Elementary, second place to East Middle School and the first place team was from The Webb School.

The competition was sponsored by the Tullahoma chapter of the Tennessee Society of Professional Engineers as a local competition. The winning team and four high-scoring individuals will compete as the Tullahoma team at the state competition in Nashville, March 18, at the Tennessee Engineering Center.

The Tullahoma team will include The Webb School team members Nicky Dai, Barrett Melson, Nathan Xing and Zia Wang; Franklin Zhang, Kyler Parker and Jake Bennett of East Middle School; and Preston McGee of West Middle School. Sam Robinson from Highland Rim Elementary will be an alternate.

Students from Cascade High School, Coffee County Central High School, Community High School, Franklin County High School, Huntland High School, Lincoln County High School, Shelbyville Central High School, St. Andrew's-Sewanee School and The Webb School competed in the 22nd Tullahoma Area Student Design Competition Feb. 22 at UTSI.

This year's project was to design, build, market and compete a wind-powered craft to transport a payload of golf balls, or kyber crystals, across a body of water. A Star Wars-based theme was used as the backstory for the project.

Third place went to Sarah Clarnau and Joe West of Coffee County Central High School, and they each received a $50 Amazon gift card. The second place team was Trey Levy and Austin Mills of Community High School; they received $75 Amazon gift cards. First place went to Kyra Wilson and Ester Yang from St. Andrew's-Sewanee School. They received $100 Amazon gift cards, a first place trophy and they will have their names engraved on the Spirit of St. Louis model that is on display at the Hands on Science Center in Tullahoma.

AT THE MOVIES

SEWANEE UNION THEATRE

Friday–Sunday, March 10–12, 7:30 p.m.

Nocturnal Animals

R • 117 minutes

“Nocturnal Animals” is an extravagant thriller that takes clear notes from the suspense canon of directors like Hitchcock and Lynch. In this film, Susan Morrow (Amy Adams) lives a stale disingenuous life as a gallery owner having given up her own creative musings. Upon receiving a manuscript from her ex-husband Edward (Jake Gyllenhaal), Susan becomes hooked by the dramatic story of a man’s loss and his search for revenge. The two narratives intertwine as Susan imagines herself and Edward as characters within the novel. The absolutely primal story of loss and revenge within the manuscript awakens Susan from her lifelessness only to leave her stranded by the author’s final most bitter construct. While the film can come across as self-indulging, one is inevitably stirred. To the soft hearted one: immensely.

CINEMA GUILD

Wednesday, March 15, 7:30 p.m.

The Shining (1980)

R • 146 minutes

Jack Torrance (Jack Nicholson) finds a job as the winter caretaker of the isolated Overlook Hotel, intending to use the secluded space to work on his writings. His son Danny (Danny Lloyd) and wife Wendy (Shelly Duvall) accompany him. Their arrival, however, is preceded by Danny’s vision of a wave of blood erupting from a hotel elevator. This uncomfortably colorful, baroque imagery sets the stage for Stanley Kubrick’s venture into the horror genre. Overflowing with dramatic imagery, “The Shining” dives into the hidden chaos of this nuclear family. The satirically dull and domestic characters of Wendy and Danny contrast Jack’s satirical, outburst prone character. Specters and visions crowd Jack’s expected seclusion, eventually grooming cliché family conflict into horrifying rage. For better or for worse, this film does not so much cause the viewer to jump in his seat as it does cultivate a discomfort that re-emerges unexpectedly several days after viewing.

The SUT will be closed uring spring break, March 16–26. Movies will begin again with the Cinema Guild showing of “Goodwill Hunting,” Wednesday, March 29, and March 30–April 2, “Manchester by the Sea.”

Mountain Goat Trail to Be Yarn Bombed on April 1

Yarn bombing, an international movement of knit and crochet graffiti, will arrive at a 3-mile section of the Mountain Goat Trail between Pearl’s Restaurant and downtown Sewanee beginning Saturday, April 1.

Yarn enthusiasts from Grundy, Marion and Franklin counties are creating crocheted and knitted items known as tags. They will be displayed along various trees, posts, benches, fences and rocks along the Mountain Goat Trail from the project’s grand opening April 1 through approximately the end of May, when Mother Nature will be expected to take over the color display and the tags will be removed.

Parking on April 1 will be available at Mooney’s Market, Pearl’s, and the trail head parking area in Sewanee. There is no admission fee but donations to the sponsoring organizations are happily accepted.

Yarn bombing may have started in Houston, Texas around 2004 with a knitted item placed over a car antennae. It is now an international movement of knit and crochet graffiti intended to inspire feelings of surprise, joy. Some bombers may see it as taking a stand against the mass production of goods, others as taking a traditional feminine hobby and elevating it to an art form or bringing a solitary activity to a public forum. Knitted and crochet items remind the viewer of handcrafted sweaters, scarfs and afghans—soft, warm, comforting, useful.

The project is sponsored by the Mountain Goat Trail Alliance and The Grundy Area Arts Council. For more information, or if you would like to participate by making a tag or donating yarn, please contact project organizer Sandy Rice at <sandrafrice55@gmail.com>.

The Mountain Goat Trail Alliance works to create a walking and biking path along the route of the historic Mountain Goat Railroad. The multiuse trail will eventually be 35 plus miles in length and link three counties and seven towns. More information can be found at <mountaingoaattrail.org>.

The Grundy Area Arts Council provides coordination, communication, promotion, and development of cultural activities in Grundy County and the Southern Cumberland Plateau. Emphasis is on efforts to reach under-served populations and to support indigenous arts, artists, and resources. To learn more, visit <grundyareaarts.org>.

The film will be shown at 11 a.m., Saturday, March 11, at the Sewanee Union Theatre.

The adaptation, tailored for families, runs less than two hours and was created for the Metropolitan Opera’s English-language holiday production. Seasoned opera-goers will also be enthralled by the winning ensemble cast under the baton of James Levine, including Nathan Gunn, Ying Huang, Matthew Polenzani, Erika Miklosa and Rene Pape.

OFTOWERSANDBELLS

by Ray Gotko

Across the street behind our neighbor's house was the entrance to the forest—a mixture of pines and hardwoods set in sandy soil. An old tree, at least old to us, offered a forked footstep and branches low enough for us to climb above the cares of the world. Upward we went to our nest of old boards laid across two strong limbs. It was a pleasant place to dream dreams on a summer's afternoon. We did not talk much. Mostly the journey to the nest was solitary. Too far from home for a shout, we or I, were safe from adult intrusion. Being alone together with a friend is good life, especially hidden in a tree watching the wind gently sway the leaves and branches.

The silence of the forest, punctuated with bird calls and far away dog barks, was usually ended by the distant ringing of a small bell. The nest was too far for a shout, but not too far for mother's bell. The clear high note signaled that the dreams were ended and the busy world of adults was calling. It was time for this or that. So much for solitude.

The bells in Sewanee have a similar effect. The clock bells remind us of the progress of time. Change-ringing bells in Breslin Tower announce that the Sunday service is nigh. The carillon plays the hymns from Shapard Tower signaling that the mass is ended. Hearing the bells we gather our stuff and move on to the next thing, or not. That others are moving on is not a sign that such should be our response. Solitude is always an option.

Monteagle Elementary first-graders have been studying Native American Tribes in the U.S. They learned about the false face legend of the Iroquios Tribe. They made masks as a culminating task to the end of their studies.

Art Program for Women in the Grundy County Detention Center

Grundy County Sheriff Clint Shrum is pleased to announce the development of an art program for women in the Grundy County Detention Center. The program is organized by Dana Rasch, Americorps VISTA Recovery and Reentry Coordinator, and led by former South Cumberland Community Fund Americorps VISTA, Hilda Vaughan. The program was initially funded by generous contributions through crowdsourcing with <gofundme.com>.

Class participants apply and go through a selection process before admission to the program. The class meets weekly on Friday afternoons and each week participants create a different form of art including collage, sculpture, Mandala drawings, and acrylic paintings. The program teaches participants to tap into their creative potential to create beauty and joy in their lives.

At the conclusion of the first program, the Sheriff's Office, the Mayor's Office, and the South Cumberland Community Fund will co-sponsor a reception for program participants to allow them to display and talk about their artwork as a way for them to 'reintroduce' themselves to the world through art. Desserts and refreshments will be provided by the University of the South's Sewanee Dining.

The reception will be on Saturday, March 18 from 2–3 p.m. in the Grundy County Courthouse. The public is cordially invited to attend.

The art program is a new initiative of the Grundy County Sheriff's Office Recovery and Reentry Program which already offers inmates an opportunity to participate in educational programs, career readiness courses, a greenhouse and gardening program, a meditation program and peer-based recovery groups.

Then, in the first minute of the second half, Neubauer struck again. The Mountain Lion's final goal was scored by Payton Zeitler, who struck a wicked shot from 20 yards out.

On March 2, SAS suffered their first loss of the season to Westwood, 3-0. The Mountain Lions are 2-1-1 this season as of March. 7.

Roanoke Throttles Tigers

Two seasons ago, the Sewanee men's lacrosse team earned its best win in program history when the Tigers defeated Roanoke at historic Hardee-McGee Field in Sewanee. On March 4, for a quarter, it seemed like the Tigers might have that same magic in 2017. However, after a slow start, the Maroons stormed back for a 14-5 win in Sewanee.

With the loss, Sewanee is now 2-2 this season. The nationally-ranked Maroons are 3-1 with their lone loss coming against Denison in double overtime.

After Roanoke scored the first goal, Sewanee's offense got going. The Tigers tied the game when Tristan Robinson netted a goal from Hayden Byrd midway through the first. Late in the quarter, Sewanee took a 2-1 lead when Pat DiMento fired home an unassisted goal.

Unfortunately, Roanoke answered back with goals by Jason Sarro, Brendan Devane, Peter Lindley and IV Stucker in the second.

The Maroons kept rolling after halftime, outscoring the Tigers 8-3. The three Sewanee goals came from Hayden Hunt and Robinson.

Overall, Roanoke outshot Sewanee 47-33. The Maroons also finished with more clears and edged Sewanee in groundballs, 45-44. Individually, Hunt and Robinson paced Sewanee with two goals each.

Sommi Named Player of the Week

On March 6, the league named Sewanee lacrosse player Kit Sommi as the Southern Athletic Association Women's Lacrosse Defensive Player of the Week.

Sommi finished with one goal, one assist, three groundballs, three draws, and three caused turnovers in the Tigers' March 4 win at Hendrix. She leads the league in caused turnovers with 16. She also ranks fifth in groundballs. Sommi has been outstanding on defense against opponents' top players.

Tigers Finish Fourth at Callaway Gardens

Led by a third-place finish from No. 77-ranked Gray Matthews, the No. 25 Sewanee men's golf team finished fourth on March 7 at the Callaway Gardens Intercollegiate.

Sewanee fired rounds of 300 and 301 for a 601 total. The Tigers were tied with No. 1 Huntingdon, while No. 10 Oglethorpe was just ahead of both teams by a single stroke. No. 13 Emory won the event with a 596.

Matthews led Sewanee with two rounds of 73. The freshman's 146 total was only a stroke off the lead.

After an outstanding first-round 71 on March 6, freshman Tommy Oliver fired an 80 on round two. His total of 151 was tied for 21st.

Nick Powell finished tied for 32nd with rounds of 79 and 74. Two strokes behind Powell was Taylor Mottern, who was tied for 43rd. He fired rounds of 77 and 78.

Alex Wedding tied for 53rd with a 157 total after he finished with rounds of 81 and 76, respectively.

Women's Golf Team Ninth at Callaway

A tough first round hampered the Sewanee women's golf team at the Callaway Gardens Intercollegiate, March 6-7.

After the Tigers fired a 337 total in the first round, Sewanee rebounded on March 7 with a final-round 323. The purple and gold squad finished ninth with a 660 total. No. 4 ranked Rhodes won the event with a 618.

Individually, Sydney Weaver of No. 6 Berry and Johnna Beehner of No. 7 Methodist earned medalist honors with 146 totals.

Sophomore Sarah Battye led Sewanee with a tied for 16th finish. Battye fired an 82 and then improved with a 76 on March 7.

Along with Battye, Meghan Symonds finished 24th with a two-day 162. Sophomore Natalie Javadi was eight strokes behind Symonds with a 170 total.

Finally, sophomore Mary Elizabeth Benton finished 45th with a 36-hole 171, while sophomore Sophia Morrill was 49th with a 173 total.

Sewanee Sweeps Earlham

The Sewanee baseball team earned a three-game sweep of visiting Earlham with a 13-9 win on March 5 at historic Montgomery Field.

Sewanee is now 7-7 overall with all seven victories coming in the last nine contests.

Sewanee lefthander Josh Roberts got the nod in game three and fought for 5.1 innings, giving up six hits and six runs. He was relieved by Daniel McDonnell in the sixth inning, who gave up three runs (one earned).

The Tigers battled back from an 8-4 deficit in the sixth inning with nine runs over the next two innings.

Sewanee outfielder Jared Demkowicz continued to play well, as the freshman roped three hits and knocked in four runs on the day. Beau Allen stroked a clutch two-out double, scoring Max Murray and adding to the Sewanee lead in the fourth inning.

The offense was capped by Trey Akins, who laced a single in the seventh to plate Allen, helping solidify the Tigers' victory.

Men's Tennis Team Tops Washington & Lee

For the third straight season, the No. 28 ranked Sewanee men's tennis team defeated rival No. 38 ranked Washington & Lee, earning a 5-4 win at W&L on March 5.

Sewanee is now 8-1 on the season with ranked wins over Swarthmore (March 4) and W&L. The Tigers' lone loss came in a long, close 5-4 match at No. 21 Mary Washington.

The Tigers opened against W&L by winning two out of three doubles matches. At No. 1, Jack Gray and Fletcher Kerr hammered Bannister and Kirtledge, 8-1. Avery Schober and Andres Carro earned the other victory at 8-4, after Aubrey Davis and Jordan Brewer lost at No. 3.

In singles, Sewanee took control early when Gray continued to roll with a 6-1, 6-4 straight set win at No. 4 over Mitchell Thomas. After W&L won at No. 2, Sewanee pushed its lead to 4-2 when Schober topped Jordan Krasner at No. 1 with a pair of 6-4 set wins.

W&L pulled back to within one after Mac Zheng defeated Davis at No. 5, 6-4, 6-1. However, after losing the first set 5-7, Davis Owen again rallied when the Tigers needed a win. Owen answered back by winning the second set against Zack Ely at No. 3, 6-4. He then closed the match out after two match points with a 6-3 win in set three. After four straight victories, Sewanee will look to extend its winning streak with a match at Redlands on March 18 in California.

Women's Tennis Team Earns Split at ITA

On the second day of the Intercollegiate Tennis Association (ITA) Division III Women's Indoor National Championship on March 4, the No. 13 ranked Sewanee women's tennis team fell just short against No. 14 Johns Hopkins in an epic match in Murfreesboro.

The Tigers and Hopkins played one of the longest matches in ITA Indoor history. The contest started at 8:30 a.m. and finished at 4 p.m. There were two delays because of lights going out and another delay with the match tied at 4-4, when the No. 6 singles player for Hopkins had to stop for an injury.

With another match starting on the other side of the Adams Tennis Center, players also had to change courts.

Despite all this, the actual play was outstanding. With the score tied at 4-4, all the drama turned to No. 6 singles. In the first set, Sewanee freshman Darby Duval took an early lead after topping Kimberly Zou, 6-2.

Zou rallied back in the second set, finally outlasting in a back-and-forth, long tiebreaker. Then in the pivotal third set, Zou took an early lead, before Duval answered back. Finally, after breaking Duval at 5-4, Zou won 6-4 on a close shot that was ruled out.

After their long morning match, Sewanee showed its heart in the seventh place contest against No. 15 Mary Washington.

After traveling to the Nashboro Village Athletic Club in Nashville, Sewanee earned its first point at No. 2 doubles.

The Tigers pulled to within 3-2 when Clementina Davila won at No. 1 in straight sets. After Mary Washington extended its lead, Sewanee tied the match when Maggie Crumbliss won at No. 5.

Like the first match of the day, it again came down to Duval at No. 6. After winning the first set 6-4, Duval closed out the second set 6-4 to earn the victory.

Equestrian Team Excels

The Sewanee equestrian team performed well at the Intercollegiate Horse Show Association (IHSA) Murray State show on March 4-5.

The Tigers were led by Sophie Streitweiser, Ruthie Carey, Delaney Evans, Madison Baugh, Aelin Hill, Michael Wallace, Lindsay Stevenson and Mary Marshall Fariss, who all qualified for upcoming regionals, which Sewanee will host at the Howell Equestrian Center on March 11.

In the final regional standings, Hill finished second, while Wallace came in third. As a team, Sewanee came in third, missing reserve by just eight points.

At the March 4 show, Wallace continued his outstanding season by winning the Open Over Fences. Hill, who finished fifth, followed Wallace in the same event. Hill then went on to win the Open Flat, while Wallace placed third.

Overall, Wallace earned high point rider of the day and the Tigers took first place as the team champion. In Novice Over Fences, Sewanee had a pair of riders that finished second. In the A Division, Catherine Bruch was second, while in the B Division, Evans came in at the same spot. Sewanee earned another second place finish when Caroline Godsey finished as the runner-up in the Walk/Trot.

On March 5, Sewanee opened with a win as Wallace took first in the Open Over Fences. Hill followed with another win in the Open Flat. Wallace finished fourth in the same event.

After a successful showing in the Walk/Trot on March 4, Godsey finished third on March 5.

Overall, Sewanee finished third on March 5.

Leslie Goodman earned enough points in various events to finish as the reserve high point rider.

Angels Defeat Tigers

A huge advantage in draw controls and shots led visiting Meredith College to a 17-7 win over the Sewanee women's lacrosse team on March 6.

The loss was Sewanee's first defeat of the 2017 season, as the Tigers fell to 4-1. Meredith, which has earned back-to-back trips to the NCAA Tournament, had a huge advantage in possession. The Angels finished with 44 shots and a 19-7 advantage in draws.

Meredith took an early 2-0 lead after goals from Maria Codispoti and Carlee Joseph. Sewanee answered with back-to-back goals from Sydney Beldock.

The score remained close over the next five minutes. After two more goals from Meredith, Mary Kate Myers scored off an assist from Brooke Winfield.

Unfortunately, the Angels stayed on the attack. After winning multiple draws and taking advantage of a few Sewanee miscues, the Angels led 9-4 by halftime.

In the final 30 minutes, the Tigers pulled to within four when Meredith Sackett scored. The Angels responded with four straight goals. A goal by Winfield, and another from Sackett, pulled the Tigers to within seven before Meredith responded with a 4-0 run to close the match.

Sackett led the limited offense with three goals, one assist, one groundball and two draws. Beldock finished with two goals, while Kit Sommi played well on defense with four groundballs, and three caused turnovers.

Winfield also had a full stat line with a goal, an assist, a groundball, and two caused turnovers.

Colors

There is finally some color in the forest canopy, most notably the flowers of the red maple. Look closely to admire these tiny flowers in clusters opposite each other on the twig, several flowers in each cluster. Male and female flowers are in separate clusters or sometimes on separate trees. The flowers may also be yellowish-these are often but not always the male flowers. The long stamens on the male flowers may also be red or yellow. There are probably many of these flower clusters on the ground, especially after the rainfall of the past week. Some female flowers will remain on the tree to produce the familiar winged red fruits early in the season.

Another source of color in this early part of spring is the purple that covers some of the farm fields in the valley—henbit or henbit dead-nettle, also blooming in our lawns and along walkways and parking areas. Again, a close look will be rewarded with a beautifully colored, two-lipped tubular flower, with a spotted lower lip. This plant is probably a native of the Mediterranean region but has now spread around the world. Since it blooms so early, it is an important nectar source for bees.

BARDTOVERSE

by Phoebe Bates

Dear March, come in,
Put down your hat—
You must have walked—
How out of breath you are!
Dear March, how are you?
And the rest?
Did you leave Nature well?
Oh, March, come right upstairs with me,
I have so much to tell!

I got your letter, and the bird's;
The maples never knew
That you were coming,—I declare,
How red their faces grew!
But, March, forgive me—
And all those hills
You left for me to hue;
There was no purple suitable,
You took it all with you.

Who knocks? That April!
Lock the door!
I will not be pursued!
He stayed away a year, to call
When I am occupied.
But trifles look so trivial
As soon as you have come,
That blame is just as dear as praise
And praise as mere as blame.
— Emily Dickinson, 1924
