

Community Council Announces Project Funding Review Committee

by Leslie Lytle, Messenger Staff Writer

At the March 27 meeting the Sewanee Community Council reviewed and approved the selection of five council members and two community representatives to serve on the Project Funding Committee, charged with reviewing and recommending community enhancement projects for funding. The council also discussed the implications of a renewed effort to locate a quarry in the Greenhaw community, and reviewed meeting dates for the 2017–18 academic year.

At the discretion of the council, the Project Funding program awards up to $10,000 annually for community enhancement projects. At the January meeting, the council decided a council member should chair the review committee, and the committee should, in addition, consist of four council members and two community members. Council members Annie Armour, Flournoy Rogers, Theresa Shackelford and Charles Whitmer will join council member Pixie Dozier, who agreed to serve as chair.

“No community members responded to the call for committee members,” Dozier said, “so I did some inquiring on my own.” Dozier enlisted St. Andrew’s-Sewanee teacher Jennifer Bachman, and Elizabeth Koella, who was raised in Sewanee, to serve as community representatives. Sarah Marhevsky, chair for the last two years, will serve as ex officio advisor.

Sewanee Pilates Opens in the Village

by Kevin Cummings
Messenger Staff Writer

On a winding path, a mop bucket at sea played an integral role in the recent opening of a new Pilates studio in the Village.

Owner Bruce Manuel, who graduated from the University of the South in 1980 with a degree in English literature, spent 20 years in the Navy before joining the Department of Defense to work in Internet technology. A nagging back injury and a recommendation from a Veterans Administration nurse turned him to the Pilates method about seven years ago.

“I truly feel thankful to have found Pilates because it has greatly improved my quality of life,” he said. “I am stronger, better able to manage my bouts with lower back pain when they occur, less dependent on pain medication and better able to prevent re-injuring my back. It has been a lot of work, but worth it.”

This year, he went back to the VA hospital and an MRI revealed a previous bulge in his L5-S1 vertebrae was gone, the result of providing the right stability and removing pressure on the disc through Pilates.

Because of how the exercise method changed his life, Manuel wanted to train others so he earned his teaching certifications from Body Arts and Science International and the Pilates Method Alliance. He opened Sewanee Pilates in mid-March across from the Sewanee Post Office.

“I’m just real excited; it’s something that I wanted to do for a long time,” he said.

“I enjoy teaching people and I enjoy being my own boss.”

Manuel’s back injury, which led to this path, was the result of a bad-lifting technique early in his Navy career. At sea aboard the USS Raleigh, he wrenched his back picking up a large mop bucket filled with water. Years later, when he was training for a half-marathon, his left foot went numb and doctors discovered the bulge in his vertebrae.

SUD May Offer Leak Insurance, Elects Officers

by Leslie Lytle
Messenger Staff Writer

“I make a motion we pursue offering leak insurance to our customers,” said SUD commissioner Charlie Smith at the March 28 meeting of the Board of Commissioners of the Sewanee Utility District of Franklin and Marion Counties. Smith’s motion followed a lengthy discussion in response to a presentation by insurance provider ServLine. The board unanimously approved Smith’s motion, but a number of details remain undecided.

ServLine offers three levels of protection, $500, $1,000, and $2,500. “Looking at the past three years, the average leak cost the utility $335,” said SUD manager Ben Beavers. By the current SUD policy, the customer was responsible for half the amount.

“We’ve been asked to consider relief for a number of far higher bills,” board President Karen Singer pointed out, “but our policy doesn’t offer relief for leaks inside the residence.” A common cause of unintended high water use is water leaked due to a faulty toilet flapper. SUD’s policy only offers relief for leaks from the meter to the foundation. The ServLine policy covers all leaks beyond the meter, with the customer only responsible for an amount equal to the customer’s average bill.

“The incident rate for auto collisions is the same as the incident rate for residential water leaks,” said ServLine representative Gerry Harstine. “Sixty-two percent of Americans can’t afford a $500 emergency. Homeowners insurance won’t pay for high utility bills resulting from leaks.”

In addition to the level of coverage, the board will need to decide on how often a customer can make a claim—once per year or once every three years.

The coverage will cost customers between $1-$2/monthly, depending on the level of protection and claim frequency. Following a mailing to customers explaining the program, customers will have two months to opt out of the coverage.

Monteagle’s New Margaritas: Real Mexican Food 21st- Century Woman Style

by Leslie Lytle, Messenger Staff Writer

Phoenix Najera, the owner of Monteagle’s new Mexican restaurant Margaritas, describes herself as, “Just a hard working woman trying to take care of my kids.” Although she doesn’t mean it as such, the comment is a gross understatement.

Najera is also the owner of Margaritas in Winchester. She got into the restaurant business 12 years ago following her divorce when she opened her first Mexican restaurant in a mall in Dalton, Ga. “I had to find a way to pay for my kid’s school,” she said. Najera has four children, a daughter and three sons, one a special needs child.

A lock down on I-24 introduced her to the town of Monteagle. She got off the interstate to avoid the traffic and liked the town. “I’m always looking for new places,” she said. “I decided Monteagle would be a good place for us.”

During the interview she takes notes, prompted to reflect on items to add to the menu or ways to make it more customer-friendly.

Asked about her personal favorite, she answers without a moment’s hesitation, “Pollo Margaritas”—it’s a chicken breast topped with shrimp and chorizo cheese sauce.

Najera recommends a Volcano Fajita vegetarian-style for those who prefer “no carne,” describing a lavish assortment of grilled vegetables served in a

THANKS TO THE GAMMAS

To the Editor:

Recently our volunteer organization was called upon to replace a porch at a local resident's house. The porch was in very poor condition and dangerous to the handicapped occupants. However, we needed a little additional help to take the old porch off, so Gabby Valentine, a Sewanee student and marvelous volunteer at the CAC, told us to contact the brothers of Gamma Sigma Phi. Cameron Mason, President of the Gammas, called quickly and said they would be happy to help. So, on a very cold and windy Friday in early March about 12 Gamma guys showed up and with quite a bit of groanin' and swearin' they removed the old porch, hauled it off, and burned it. In addition one of them, Mark Garcia, stayed with us until well into dark-thirty digging holes and pouring concrete for the new posts. On that day the brothers of Gamma really brought their best game to the project and we are very grateful to them. Stars will certainly be in their crowns.

All Saints' Chapel

Growing in Grace, All Saints' Chapel's contemporary worship service, continues Sunday, April 2 at 6:30 p.m. in All Saints' Chapel. The speaker will be Haley Wilbanks, a senior in the college. This semester, Growing in Grace will focus on moments of our life where we have "mountaintop experiences." The question we are asking is "How is your time on the Mountain?" whether it is four years or a lifetime, influencing the message you hope to share with the world. Growing in Grace features a student-led worship team, and a different speaker every week.

The Catechumenate continues this Wednesday, April 5, at 6:30 p.m. in the Women's Center. A catered meal will be provided. Based around fellowship, study, openness, and conversation, the Catechumenate serves as a foundational piece for the Christian faith, as well as a forum for discussion for people of all backgrounds. All are welcome. For more information please contact Lay Chaplain Rob McAlister at <rob.mcalister@sewanee.edu>.

Taizé worship service will be held Friday, April 7, at 7 p.m. in St. Luke's Chapel. All are welcome to this contemplative time of prayer, silence, and song. Contact Melanie Rowell at <rowelmng0@sewanee.edu>.

A Gethsemane Watch—From the close of the Maundy Thursday service, April 13, until the morning of Good Friday, the blessed sacrament will be in St. Augustine's Chapel. Members of the community are invited to take part in this watch, much in the same way as Jesus' disciples kept watch with him the night before his crucifixion. Volunteers are needed throughout the night. A sign up sheet is located on the wall near the chapel office door, or you may call 598-1274 to have your name added. Time slots are an hour in length; these slots are not restricted to just one person. The watch will end at 8:30 a.m. Good Friday morning.

Decorators needed for Easter—On Saturday, April 15, beginning at 9 a.m., you are cordially invited to come and help the St. Augustine's Flower Guild decorate the chapel for the Great Vigil of Easter and the Festival Easter Eucharist to be celebrated the following morning. All levels of skill and talent are needed. Coffee and pastries will be provided. Please call the chaplain's office at 598-1274 for further information.

Easter Lily Offering—A wonderful way to honor a family member or friend (or even an event) is to make an offering towards the flowers that will adorn our Chapel at the Easter celebrations. If you would like to do so, and would like the name(s) noted in the Easter bulletin, please contact the chaplains' office at 598-1274. The deadline to submit your offering is Monday, April 10.

Christ Church Monteagle

For us, there is a little season within Lent called "Passiontide" which begins on this Sunday, April 2. All Anglicans used to keep it. It was a kind of "heads-up" that we were at the final stretch of the Lenten Season. Crosses are still veiled in many churches, for the final two weeks, even beyond Anglicanism.

Palm Sunday services will be at 10:30 a.m., Sunday, April 9. All are welcome. Lunch follows the 10:30 a.m. service and visitors are always expected and welcomed.

Goshen CP Church Hosts Bean Supper Saturday

Historic Goshen Cumberland Presbyterian Church will host a Bean Supper beginning at 5 p.m. on Saturday, April 1. Friends and neighbors are invited to a meal of white or pinto beans and ham, cole slaw, macaroni and cheese, cornbread and homemade peach cobbler.

This community event is organized by the Goshen Cumberland Presbyterian Church to benefit the historic Goshen Cemetery, where the church's Easter Sunrise Service is always held. All donations will go toward its upkeep and maintenance.

Goshen Cumberland Presbyterian Church is located at 1262 Williams Cove Road off Highway 41A between Cowan and Winchester. If you have questions about the supper, please call Bro. Richard Morgan at (931) 349-4474.

Morton Memorial UMC

Morton Memorial UMC is having a 'Service of Prayer and Healing' every Thursday during Lent at 11:30 a.m. in the sanctuary. Holy Communion is being served. The service lasts about half an hour, and along with Holy Communion includes a brief message, prayers, and for those who desire, anointing with oil. All are welcome.

Otey Parish

This Sunday, April 2, in Christian Formation at 10 a.m., the Lectionary Class will explore Sunday's gospel in the Claiborne House, Adult Education Room. Children ages 3-11 are invited to meet their friends for Godly Play. Middle school and high school students have Sunday School in Brooks Hall. Infants 6 weeks to children 4 years old are invited to the nursery beginning at 8:30 a.m. until after the second service.

The Adult Forum Sunday, April 2, is "What Does Bach's St. Matthew Passion Say to Us?" by Ken Miller.

The Adult Forum at Otey Parish Church, Sewanee, meets on Sundays from 10 a.m. to 10:50 a.m. in the Parish House. All are welcome. The Adult Forum will not meet on Palm Sunday.

At 2 p.m., Saturday, April 8, all are invited to join Ken Taylor in Brooks Hall to create palm crosses for Palm Sunday.

Armour brought to the council's attention the renewed efforts of Tinsley Asphalt to establish a rock quarry in the Greenhaw community at the foot of the mountain. Tinsley's efforts in 2008 to have the property rezoned to accommodate the business failed.

"Tinsley brought the rezoning question before the Franklin County Commission again last month," Armour said, "but the vote was postponed."

Council representative Shackelford said the asphalt company was "just one commissioner short of having enough votes to pass the rezoning request."

Armour reminded the council that subsequent to approval of the rezoning request "property adjoining the University domain could easily be rezoned to industrial."

On the suggestion of council representative David Coe, the council will invite Sewanee's Franklin County Commissioners Johnny Hughes and Helen Stapleton to the May 22 meeting to discuss the implications of the renewed Greenhaw rezoning effort.

The council approved a 2017-18 meeting schedule of Aug. 28, Oct. 30, Jan. 22, March 26 and May 21. The council will meet on the intervening months if council business dictates a need.

Council member Barbara Schlichting announced the Trustees Community Relations Committee meeting with council members scheduled for 4:30 p.m., April 27. Community members should contact their council representatives by April 20 to have issues added to the discussion agenda. The public is invited to a community-wide meet and greet with the trustees at 5:30 p.m. the same day, at the American Legion Hall. For planning purposes, an RSVP is appreciated. Contact Tanner Potts by email at <tlpotts@sewanee.edu>.

Customers will also have the option of requesting additional coverage providing for water line repair ($4/month) and sewer line repair ($6/month). The customer will need to initiate the contract with ServLine independently.

The board will vote on the level of protection and claim frequency at the April 26 meeting.

Beavers will prepare a summary of the necessary changes to SUD's Leak Adjustment Policy. Uninsured customers will be responsible for the full amount of the cost of leaked water, not just half the amount as is the case now. How often a customer can make a claim will depend on the term selected. There will be no lifetime limit.

SUD commissioner Art Hanson asked if the policy reimbursed customers for the sewer portion of the water bill beyond the average amount. Beavers will contact ServLine for clarification.

In addition to considering revision to the Leak Adjustment Policy, the commissioners also reviewed five other policies in conjunction with undertaking a full-policy review during the course of the next several months. The board reconfirmed without changes the policies on Roberts Rules, Commissioner Health Care, and Commissioner Travel Expense Reimbursement. The language of the Commissioner Training Policy will be adjusted to reflect Tennessee Association of Utility Districts (TAUD) requirements.

The board will review the TAUD recommended Ethics Policy for possible adoption. SUD is currently governed by the Franklin County Code of Ethics.

The board elected the following officers for 2017: Charlie Smith, president; Karen Singer, secretary; and Art Hanson, vice-president.

Many items are available without meat upon request like the Margaritas' Baked Potato. "Many restaurants have tried to copy this side dish," said Najera. "It's a baked potato filled with fajita-style vegetables, meat and cheese."

The extensive menu features more than 70 entrees with an impressive selection of seafood and chef specialties.

Margaritas' very reasonably priced kids' menu caters to children's tastes by including familiar favorites such as chicken nuggets, cheeseburgers and fries.

The colorful family-friendly décor offers tables, booths, and a shaded outdoor terrace. There's also a full service bar.

Many of the employees are Hispanic and at the present all of the kitchen staff, but not for what would seem the obvious reason. "All employees must cook for one or two years before they come on the floor as servers so they'll know the menu," Najera explains.

Najera calls Munford and Chattanooga, Tenn., home since that's where her grandchildren live. "I have six grandchildren," she says proudly. "My sons are all married. Not my daughter, though." Najera pauses to smile. "She's too smart for that."

Najera jokes good naturedly with the employees who clearly enjoy her company. Asked if she would consent to being photographed, she latches onto the elbows of two servers insisting they join her.

"Margaritas isn't a family business," Najera insists, but it certainly feels like family.

Customers are invited to enjoy Margaritas' hospitality seven days a week from 11 a.m. to 10 p.m. Phoenix Najera runs her restaurants like she raised her children, with tender loving care.

A native of Houston, Texas, Manuel lived in the Denver area prior to retiring and moving to Sewanee last fall. He said he was tired of the traffic and stress that comes from living in a big city. But while in Denver, he started to build his business, training people of various ages and abilities, including a Broncos football player and an elderly man who had polio as a child. Anyone can benefit from the exercise method, Manuel said.

Joseph Pilates, a German gymnast, boxer and trainer, developed what was then called "Contrology," after WWI. The method is designed to increase range of motion, flexibility and core strength. A handful of other benefits include improving postural alignment, balance and coordination, increasing circulation, reducing stress and muscle tension, and decreasing back and joint pain.

Manuel's studio is stocked with Pilates equipment, including the reformer combo, a modern version of Joseph Pilates signature piece of equipment.

"My equipment allows me to create an individualized program for people," he said. "I can accommodate people who have mobility issues."

The equipment and exercises allow a person to stabilize themselves and develop a mind-body connection, he added.

"That translates into functional fitness for the body because if you're working around the house, lifting something, working in the garden, have a physical job or are sitting at a desk, that sense of where your body is at in space and maintaining proper body alignment is very important," he said. "Pilates helps you develop that sense and develop that body awareness, that's why it's so good for so many people."

Manuel is planning a ribbon cutting for Sewanee Pilates the first week in May to coincide with Pilates Day on Saturday, May 6. He is currently offering an introductory rate, which includes four one-hour sessions for $250. The sessions are individual or in very small groups. Private individual sessions are $32.50 for a half-hour or $60 for a full hour, with discounts for session packages. Call (303) 815-7159 for an appointment.

Manuel also teaches group Pilates mat classes on Tuesdays at the University Wellness Center. Public classes are 6:30 to 7:30 a.m. and 5 to 6 p.m. and cost $12 for a drop-in session or five sessions for $50. In addition, he teaches a class for Sewanee students from 7 to 8 p.m. Call (931) 598-1325 for more information.

Carter Named New Shelter Manager

Animal Harbor is pleased to announce the appointment of its new shelter manager, Lane Carter. She lives in Fayetteville with her seven dogs and four cats. She was born and raised in Memphis, and moved to Middle Tennessee in 1997. Carter's son and daughter live in Manchester and Ross-ville respectively with their families.

She worked as a veterinary technician for seven years, and she has had a career as a paramedic for the past 30 years. At this point in her life, she finds working with animals to be more enjoyable than human medicine. "If I had known 30 years ago what I know now," she said, "I would have become a veterinarian." Lane is also the co-author of the book, "Almost a Whisper: A Holistic Approach to Working with Your Horse" (Alpine Publications, 1999), which describes the holistic training methods of her husband.

Lane is excited about joining the staff at Animal Harbor. "I think Animal Harbor is an awesome place and I'm looking forward to working with the team to make it even better," she said. "I would like for Animal Harbor to set the standard for shelter operations and animal care."

Housing Sewanee Accepting Applications

Housing Sewanee, a nonprofit organization helping to provide housing for low-income individuals and families, is accepting applications. A new home will soon be under construction on Sherwood Road. Applications and information can be obtained at the CAC office at Otey Parish Church or by mailing a request to Housing Sewanee, Inc., P.O. Box 817, Sewanee TN 37375.

The deadline for submitting applications is Friday, April 7.

Annual MGT Run and Walk Benefit

The fourth annual Mountain Goat Trail Run and Walk, sponsored by Mountain Outfitters and the Mountain Goat Trail Alliance (MGTA), will be on Saturday, April 8.

The 5-mile run will begin at 10 a.m. in downtown Sewanee; a 2-mile walk will begin at 10 a.m. at Pearl's Fine Dining. Both will finish at Mountain Outfitters in Monteagle. Prizes will be awarded for fastest men's and women's finisher, and for best runner or walker's costume.

Registration is $20 for students; fee for all others is $30 for early registration and $35 the day of the race. Registration forms are available at Mountain Outfitters, Woody's Bicycles and online at <mountaingoattrail.org>.

For more information, call Mountain Outfitters at (931) 924-4100 or email <info@mountaingoattrail.org>.

'Space and Place' Events

The Mellon Globalization Forum, Office of Global Citizenship, and International and Global Studies Program at the University of the South, have organized a month-long series of events on the topic of "Space and Place." The main academic events are conferences April 6-8, starting with Jack Weatherford's lecture on Thursday, April 6 (see page 8) and continuing with 30 presentations April 7-8.

In addition to the conference, there are seven events accompanying the conference: a participatory art event for children and adults on March 31, exhibit opening and dance performance on April 1 (see page 11), a tour of King Farm on April 9, a play reading on April 11, two documentary screenings with discussions on April 20 and April 25, and a featured talk on April 25.

All events are free and open to the public except for the tour of King Farm, which requires signing up at <mgf@sewanee.edu>. For more information go to <http://mgf.sewanee.edu/conferences/2017-conference/> or contact Justyna Beinek at <jabeinek@sewanee.edu>.

Knights of Columbus Spaghetti Dinner

The Knights of Columbus will host a spaghetti dinner at 5-7 p.m., Saturday, April 8, at the Knights of Columbus Hall, 513 S. Jefferson St., Winchester. Proceeds benefit a home for mentally challenged residents in Franklin County.

The dinner includes all-you-can-eat spaghetti, salad, bread, soft drinks, and home-made desserts.

Tickets, $10 for adults and $5 for children, may be purchased after Mass each weekend at Good Shepherd Church or at St. Margaret Mary. Tickets may also be purchased at the door the day of the event.

Justice Hugo Black as a Young Southern Advocate for Social Justice

Friends of the Library of Sewanee: The University of the South invites the community to a lecture by Steve Suitts at 4:30 p.m., Wednesday, April 5, in the Torian Room of the Jessie Ball duPont Library. Suitts will give a lecture on social justice and talk about his book that chronicles the life of Hugo Black, a Supreme Court justice. A reception will follow the talk.

For many years after his death in 1971, biographers and scholars generally thought that U.S. Supreme Court Justice Hugo Black shed his Alabama-bred views once he arrived at the Court in order to become the champion of the Bill of Rights of the U.S. Constitution. Black helped lead the Court in declaring racial segregation unconstitutional. Suitts will explore how Black's social justice advocacy as a lawyer in Alabama actually shaped, in large measure, the social views and judicial philosophy that guided his role and influence on the Court.

Suitts is an adjunct lecturer at the Graduate Institute of Liberal Arts of Emory University, a position he has held for the last 20 years. He is an author of more than 125 articles, monographs, and books about Southern history and trends. His book "Hugo Black of Alabama" earned Suitts the award as Georgia Author of the Year. Suitts also was the executive producer and writer of "Will the Circle Be Unbroken," a 13-hour national public radio series about the local southern civil rights movement that received a Peabody Award in 1998. He is a life member of the Southern Historical Association.

Suitts also serves as the chief strategist for Better Schools Better Jobs, a Mississippi-based education advocacy project of the New Venture Fund. Suitts began his career as a staff member of the Selma Project, a social justice organization begun by the Rev. Francis X. Walter after the Selma March of 1965. Suitts served as the founding director of the Alabama Civil Liberties Union for five years, as executive director of the Southern Regional Council, one of the South's earliest interracial organizations, for 18 years, and for nearly 20 years as program coordinator, vice president, and senior fellow of the Southern Education Foundation, which has worked to advance excellence and equity in education since 1867.

More information about the Friends of the Library can be found at their website <<http://libguides.sewanee.edu/FOL>>. If you have questions about the reading or joining the Friends, please contact Tim Garner at 598-1265 or <tegarner@sewanee.edu>.

'An American Journey' Lecture

U.S. Army Staff Sergeant (Ret.) Adam Keys and his mother, Julie Keys, will present "An American Journey" at 4:30 p.m., Monday, April 3, in Convocation Hall. Their talk will be followed by a reception and the public is invited.

The Keyeses are the 2017 Omicron Delta Kappa speakers at the University. Sewanee's chapter of the national leadership honor society.

U.S. Army Staff Sergeant (Ret.) Adam Keys was born in Halifax, Nova Scotia, and lived there until moving to Pennsylvania at the age of 13. During his childhood, Adam was a member of the Royal Canadian Air Cadets, Boy Scouts, and Civil Air Patrol, and was active in several sports.

Keys had always wanted to be in the military, and he joined the U.S. Army in 2008. Following boot camp, Advanced Individual Training, and Airborne School, he was posted to Fort Bragg, N.C. as a combat engineer. He was deployed to Afghanistan in December 2009 and served there until his injury on July 14, 2010.

On that day, Keys and other soldiers were in an armored vehicle that was hit by an improvised explosive device. He was the sole survivor. After treatment at Kandahar, Bagram Air Force Base, and Landstuhl Medical Center in Germany, Adam arrived at Walter Reed National Military Medical Center. He received medical treatment and physical therapy for five years, and medically retired from the Army on July 27, 2015.

Adam's parents, Julie and Stephen Keys, received a call at 7 a.m. on July 15, 2010, notifying them that Adam had been critically injured. Six days later they were able to visit. Julie Keys has been her son's primary caregiver during the long and difficult road to recovery since that time. They currently live in Maryland as Adam continues to work toward independence.

The national leadership honor society Omicron Delta Kappa was founded in 1914 by 15 student and faculty leaders at Washington and Lee University. It was the first national college honor society to give recognition for meritorious leadership and service in extracurricular activities and to encourage development of general campus citizenship.

Community-Wide Yard Sale

The Sewanee Community Center is coordinating the community-wide yard sales from 8 a.m. to 1 p.m., Saturday, April 29.

To participate, submit the registration form below and the $15 registration fee. This fee will be used to print maps highlighting the sales that day, print an official yard sign for your venue and run advertisements in local papers including Sewanee, Manchester, Tullahoma, Monteagle, Winchester and other surrounding communities.

Deadline for registration is Friday, April 21.

You can participate by either having a sale at your home or join up with others at the Community Center where booth space will be available.

For more information, email Rachel Petropoulos at <rpetropo@gmail.com>.

'Genghis Khan, Thomas Jefferson, and God: A Sense of Place'

Jack Weatherford (Macalester College, Emeritus) will deliver the keynote address "Genghis Khan, Thomas Jefferson, and God: A Sense of Place" at the second annual Interdisciplinary Conference: "A Sense of Space and Place: Global and Local Perspectives", co-organized by the Mellon Globalization Forum, International and Global Studies, and Office of Global Citizenship. The lecture will take place at 4:30 p.m., Thursday, April 6, in Gailor Auditorium. The event is free and open to the public.

In the 18th century, the colonists of North America invented a new nation, the United States. Five centuries earlier in 1206, Genghis Khan created a new nation, the Mongol Empire, on the other side of the globe. One was a sedentary nation of farmers, plantations and merchant cities, and the other was a nomadic empire moving across time and space. Yet, each confronted the issue of religion in society. How should conflicting religious claims be reconciled with issues of religious freedom? What is the place of God in public life? Today, once again the forces of religious fanaticism are attacking the basic principles of religious freedom, and perhaps we can learn from the example of leaders such as Genghis Khan and Thomas Jefferson.

2017 Sewanee Community-Wide Yard Sales – Registration Form sponsored by the Sewanee Community Center Saturday, April 29th – 8:00 am – 1:00 pm

You can participate by either having a sale at your home (feel free to combine your efforts with a friend!) or join up with others at the Community Center. All participants will be listed on the official map that will be distributed that day. Advertising will be in local papers in the surrounding areas. It is the hope that out-of-towners will make the trip to have many shopping stops to visit.

Maybe you don't have many items for sale or would rather be in a larger group. You can reserve space inside the Center.

Yes! I want to participate in the Sewanee community-wide yard sales. Entries due 4/21/17

AT THE MOVIES

SEWANEE UNION THEATRE

Friday–Sunday, March 31–April 2, 7:30 p.m.

Manchester by the Sea

R • 137 minutes

After the death of his older brother Joe, Lee Chandler (Casey Affleck) is shocked that Joe has made him sole guardian of his teenage nephew Patrick. Taking leave of his job as a janitor in Boston, Lee reluctantly returns to Manchester-by-the-Sea, the fishing village where his working-class family has lived for generations. There, he is forced to deal with a past that separated him from his wife, Randi (Michelle Williams), and the community where he was born and raised.

CINEMA GUILD

Wednesday, April 5, 7:30 p.m.

Goodfellas (1990)

R • 148 minutes

A young man grows up in the mob and works very hard to advance himself through the ranks. He enjoys his life of money and luxury, but is oblivious to the horror that he causes. A drug addiction and a few mistakes ultimately unravel his climb to the top. Based on the book "Wiseguy" by Nicholas Pileggi.

SEWANEE UNION THEATRE

Thursday–Sunday, April 6–9, 7:30 p.m. Special matinee at 2 p.m., Sunday, April 9

Sing

PG • 119 minutes

Dapper Koala, Buster Moon, presides over a once-grand theater that has fallen on hard times. An eternal optimist, and a bit of a scoundrel, he loves his theater above all and will do anything to preserve it. Facing the crumbling of his life's ambition, he takes one final chance to restore his fading jewel to its former glory by producing the world's greatest singing competition. Five contestants emerge: a mouse, a timid elephant, a pig, a gorilla and a punk-rock porcupine.

All showings are at 7:30 p.m. unless otherwise noted. Regular feature films are $3 for children/youth/students and $4 for adults. Cinema Guild features are free, as are other special showings unless noted. The SUT is located on South Carolina Ave.

The SAS Players will present selections from The Robber Bridegroom this weekend at McCrory Hall for the Performing Arts. Cheryl Lankhaar and senior Hadley Parsons (seen here) created the show's backdrop.

Selections from 'The Robber Bridegroom' This Weekend at SAS

The St. Andrew's-Sewanee Players present highlights from the 1975 Broadway musical "The Robber Bridegroom" at 7 p.m., today (Friday), March 31 and Saturday, April 1, in McCrory Hall for the Performing Arts on the school's campus. The show is free, open to the public and appropriate for all ages.

The book and lyrics for the show are by Alfred Uhry ("Driving Miss Daisy" and "Mystic Pizza"). The music, which has a decidedly country sound to it, is by Robert Waldman. It is based on the 1942 novella by Eudora Welty.

The show includes performances from students in grades six through 12, including the final SAS performances by seniors Lydia Angus, Erin Berner-Coe, Caroline Graham and Jacob Sanborn. Friday and Saturday nights' performances will be by slightly different casts. The show is approximately 60 minutes. Doors will open at 6:45 p.m.

29th Annual Performance of Perpetual Motion

This year, Perpetual Motion will feature 21 pieces of original student choreography, ranging in style from Afro-Caribbean to Irish to swing to hip hop. The performance will feature more than 60 university student dancers as well as a few high school students from St. Andrew's-Sewanee. Performances are free, and the public is invited to come cheer and enjoy the experience. The performances will be at 7 p.m., Thursday–Saturday, April 6–8, in Guerry Auditorium.

Perpetual Motion is a student-led performing dance company started in 1989 and designed to give students an opportunity to perform for the Sewanee community in many forms and styles of dance. Perpetual Motion is also an adventure. It has elements of surprise. Some pieces are raw expressions of emotion. Others are playful forms of art. Previous styles have included belly dance, salsa, country, modern, Irish, classical and modern ballet, hip hop, lyrical, even disco.

What will Perpetual Motion 2017 bring? Answer: Pure entertainment and joy!

HEARING HEALTH NEWS

M.S. CCC-A Audiologist

FINE-TUNING HEARING

Noise induced hearing loss destroys high-frequency hearing while leaving low frequency hearing intact. This makes it difficult to hear the high-pitched conversation of women and children. The newer digital hearing instruments can be programmed to make a distinction between high and low frequency sounds, fine tuning hearing specific to your hearing loss. Enjoy hearing your spouse, friends, children and grandchildren!

Hearing loss varies by-type and degree. To find the most appropriate hearing instrument for your particular needs, depend on the services of the audiologist at Debbie Gamache's The Hearing Center LLC to perform an accurate hearing evaluation to determine what is best for you. Call for an appointment today, 931-393-2051. You can visit our website at www.thehearingcenterllc.com.

James Wilson in Concert

James Wilson, the acclaimed lead musician of the Americana band Sons of Bill, will be in residency with Sewanee's Department of Music. The residency will conclude with a free concert, open to the public, at 4:30 p.m., today (Friday), March 31, in St. Luke's Chapel. Due to space limitations, a ticket reservation is required and may be found at artssewanee.sewanee.edu/tickets.

The band, which includes Wilson's brothers Abe and Sam, has sold more than 20,000 albums and toured extensively on both sides of the Atlantic. Their latest LP, Love and Logic, debuted at No. 7 on the Billboard Heatseekers chart.

Fundraiser for SOA This Saturday

The Angel Park in Sewanee will be the site of an event Saturday, April 1, 2-5 p.m., to support the work of Sewanee Organize and Act (SOA). Bazzania and Friends is a fundraiser with a twist—an Activism Festival. Besides music and food, there will be multiple opportunities to take political action such as painting, drawing, creative writing, and crafting, as well as signing petitions and writing letters and postcards to your members of Congress.

The event will include five musical groups: Linda Heck and Tom Adamson, Michael Cimino-Hurt, Gottfried & Co, Family Tradition, and the Bazzania Girls Band. Melody Crowder-Meyer will share some words about political activism about what works, and why. Shenanigan's is bringing its food truck. In case of rain, the event will move next door to the American Legion Hall.

Admission is free, but the organizers are asking for a minimum $5 cash donation to help with purchase of materials needed in the effort to reach members of Congress and convince them of the flawed agenda set forth by the Trump administration.

SOA, a grassroots organization with members in Franklin, Grundy and Marion counties, is one of several groups in Tennessee that are following the Indivisible model of resisting the current governmental agenda, which is available at <https://www.indivisible-guide.com>. Cleobury Presents Recital at All Saints'

Stephen Cleobury, director of music at King's College, Cambridge, will present a recital, lectures and conduct Choral Evensong during a three-day visit to the University of the South.

Cleobury attended St. John's College, Cambridge, where he served as organ scholar under George Guest. He became sub-organist of Westminster Abbey and then master of music at Westminster Cathedral in 1979. In 1982, Cleobury was appointed director of music for the Choir of King's College, Cambridge. The Choir of King's College was founded in 1441 by King Henry VI to provide music for daily services in the college. Today, the choir is widely known by the millions who listen to the renowned Festival of Lessons and Carols on Christmas Eve. Cleobury has also served as conductor of the Cambridge University Musical Society and the BBC Singers.

There will be two events open to the public on Tuesday, April 4, both at All Saints' Chapel. Cleobury will perform a 45-minute organ recital at 1 p.m., and at 5:15 p.m. will conduct Evensong sung by the combined University Choir and the Choir of the School of Theology.

Get Ready to Wrinkle in Winchester

The Winchester Downtown Program Corporation (WDPC) is hosting the Downtown Winchester Wrinkle Art & Music Crawl on Friday, April 7, from 6 p.m. to 9 p.m.

The tri-annual art experience guides participants throughout Winchester's Historic Downtown District to enjoy fine art, musical talent and cultural diversity. At each participating business, wrigglers will find a variety of specials, refreshments, art, music and more.

An exciting artist and musician line-up is in the works with art by Melissa Long Krosnick, Debbie Racka, Allie Heffington, Barbara Lancaster, Emily May-Ragland, Eric Nelson, Jennifer Uselton, Janice Grant, Ivy Bailey and music by The Differents, Jefferson Sidewalk, Fuhxe, Allison McCormick, Ky Brazelton & John Cook, and many more. There will be live demonstrations and art installations such as hula-hoopers, video projections, handmade candle demos, essential oil make and takes, community art and live painting. In addition, businesses offer refreshments and special promotions.

Did He Really Say That? by Pat Richards, mixed media

'Wild Mixed Media' Community Art Show Opens

The 'Wild Mixed Media' Community Show opening this week at the Artisan Depot in Cowan includes pieces that mix all kinds of media to produce some really eclectic and interesting art. In the show, artists explore ideas of technique using all sorts of media including wire, paints, fabric and found objects. Interested community members are invited to the opening reception 5-7 p.m., today (Friday), March 31, at the Artisan Depot.

The Franklin County Arts Guild invites original contributions from Franklin County artists of all ages in any media for inclusion in its Community Arts Shows at the Artisan Depot. Individuals wishing to submit work for the next community show "Art as Teacher" should submit their work at the Artisan Depot from May 4-7 during gallery operating hours. Each artist is invited to explore how and what art has taught them in their own interpretation.

The Artisan Depot is operated by the Franklin County Arts Guild and is located at 204 Cumberland St. East in Cowan. Gallery hours are noon to 5 p.m., Thursday, Friday and Sunday, and 11 a.m. to 5 p.m. on Saturday.

For more information about upcoming community art shows, the gallery or the guild go to <www.fcaguild.wordpress.com> or <www.facebook.com/artisandepot> or contact Diana Lamb at (931) 308-4130.

Gordon & Browne Exhibition Opening

All are invited to come to the Greenspace Gallery, 12547 Sewanee Highway, at noon-8 p.m., Friday, March 31, to make art from boxes as part of Pippa Browne's performance and visual art exhibit, "Boxes, Beings and Buying." Children are welcome with an adult and supplies will be provided. Participants will be encouraged to renegotiate the usual space a box occupies into something that inspires them, whether it be two or three dimensional, and these reconfigured objects will form the back drop and props to a dance performance.

On Saturday, April 1 at 4:30 p.m., Brock Gordon will deliver an artist's talk on his "Domestics" painting series, followed by Pippa Browne's talk on the "Boxes, Beings and Buying" project. There will also be a dance choreographed by Ashley McManamay and Courtney World, followed by a reception at the Greenspace Gallery.

The two presentations and the dance performance will celebrate two collections of art that are coming together to create a combined visual comment inspired by the Mellon Globalization Forum's second annual conference: "A Sense of Space and Place: Global and Local Perspectives." The two art collections can be viewed 11 a.m.-7 p.m., Saturday, April 1, at Greenspace.

For more information go to <<http://mgf.sewanee.edu/conferences/2017-conference/>>.

This Week's Trails & Trilliums 2017 Featured Artist and Vendor

Lendon Hamilton Noe is a native of Jackson, Tenn., where she has served as Professor of Art and Chair of the Visual Art Department at Lambuth University. Lendon studied art at Rollins College and Rocky Mountain School of Art prior to obtaining both an M.S. in art education from UT Knoxville and an M.F.A. in painting from Vermont College. Lendon enjoys creating site-specific thematic shows, which include drawings, paintings, collages, image transfers and assemblage. For a sneak peek of Lendon's work, visit <TrailsAndTrilliums.org/Artists>.

The crafters of As the Wood Turns create beautiful and practical lathe-turned wood items including pens, key rings, ice cream scoops, pizza cutters, bottle openers, letter openers and wine bottle stoppers. For a sneak peek of the As the Wood Turns collection, visit <TrailsAndTrilliums.org/Vendors>.

Trails & Trilliums, April 7-9, features 23 guided hikes, workshops and daytime programs, ART for the PARK art sale, and the Wine & Wildflowers celebration. Chiropractic

Kurt A. Shull, D.C.
Shull Chiropractic Clinic, PLLC.
CHIROPRACTORS ARE WELLNESS DOCTORS TOO!

Many people are unaware that when chiropractors remove misalignments or subluxations of the spine, that it can contribute to the wellness of a patient. Subluxations of the spine can put pressure on nerves in the surrounding area of the affected vertebrae. That pressure can cause the function of the surrounding organs to be compromised. When a chiropractor removes the subluxation through a chiropractic adjustment, the pressure can be alleviated and it can help improve normal function and boost the immune system. Chiropractic does not claim to treat or heal diseases, it simply can aid the body in the healing process by removing nerve interference. Well educated chiropractic patients know that at the onset of a simple immune related condition such as a cold or simply feeling run down, it is time for a chiropractic adjustment. They also know that regular maintenance care is very important. The Shull household of course practices this diligently!

Another way in which chiropractors are wellness doctors is that they have been educated to be nutritional consultants. It is the philosophy of chiropractic that the quality of food that a person consumes has a direct effect upon health and the body's ability to function properly and healthfully. The good food is not always enough and we may need vitamin supplementation. We live in such a fast paced society and many Americans are not taking the time to care for their bodies nutritionally or are simply unaware of how to do it. It is evident by the height of obesity and disease in our country. Proper nutrition, water, and exercise, are just a few factors to mention that we all must have to combat this era of high stress and environmental toxins/pollutants.

My message to Franklin County residents and to those of surrounding areas, is that we are here to help you with your wellness at Shull Chiropractic Clinic, PLLC. Call our office at 931-967-4232 for a FREE Wellness Consultation and let us help you get on the path to better health.

SAS Tops Fayetteville City

On March 28, St. Andrew's-Sewanee School's middle school boys' soccer team defeated Fayetteville City School 8-0.

Eighth grade captain Porter Neubauer led the Mountain Lions with four goals. Classmates Sean Willis and Myers Gorrell each racked up one goal and one assist.

In addition, Mac Croom and Caleb Palmertree each scored their first goal of the season, and Payton Zeitler assisted on one goal. Spears Askew and Gus Croom also played well on SAS's back line. With the win, the team moved to 3-1-2 on the season.

Rotary to Host Golf Tourney

The Monteagle Sewanee Rotary Club will host its 29th annual golf tournament on Saturday, April 29, at The Course at Sewanee.

The format will be a three-person scramble, and there will be two tee times, 8 a.m. and 1:30 p.m. The cost is $100 per player, which will include lunch, beverages, cart, use of the driving range, a ditty bag, closest to the pin prizes, door prizes, and a chance to win a car from Russell Barnett with a hole-in-one.

The tournament will feature three paid places in each flight, along with a "Booby Prize" for coming in dead last. To add to the excitement, two three-person teams will play together. To register a team, contact The Course at Sewanee at (931) 598-1104.

The Rotarty appreciates its hole sponsors, people who donated door prizes, golf participants, Rotary volunteers, and co-sponsor Tower Community Bank. Funds raised assist with local youth programs and college scholarships.

Yelverton Wins Gold, Silver at World Meet

William Yelverton of Sewanee claimed a gold medal and a silver medal at the Indoor World Masters Athletic Championships, in Daegu, South Korea on March 21-25.

Yelverton won gold in the 200-meter event with a time of 24.82 seconds, and a silver in the 400m with a time of 55.17. Yelverton competes in the men's 55-59 year-old division. His 400m time was the fastest by an American man in that age group in nine years on the indoor 200m oval.

This year's World Championships included 4,700 athletes from 75 countries.

In February, Yelverton won his fourth consecutive USA Track and Field (USATF) National Masters 400m Championship in Albuquerque. The win was his fifth overall National Championship since beginning Masters Track competition at age 51, three indoor and two outdoor, all in the 400m.

His 400m time in Daegu was his fastest 400m race in a championship event. He has won four individual medals in World Championship competition since his first world meet in Lyon, France in 2015.

Yelverton finishes the indoor track season with the No. 2 ranked times in the world in both the 200m and 400m events for the M55-59 age group.

He will compete at the Penn Relays in April in the 100m individual event, and in relays with the Greater Philadelphia Track Club.

He'll also compete for his third consecutive USATF outdoor title in July at LSU, and the WMA North and Central American Masters Championships in Juarez, Mexico a week later.

The World Indoor Track and Field Championship event for masters athletes is contested in five-year age groups, (35 and up) every other year, alternating yearly with the World Outdoor Masters Athletic Championships.

Next year, Malaga, Spain will host the 2018 World Masters Outdoor Championships.

Yelverton is visiting professor of guitar at the University of the South and a full-time faculty member at Middle Tennessee State University.

Pre-Swim Registration Begins April 10

Swim coach Max Obermiller and the University of the South are offering the following swim opportunities at the Fowler Center. Pre-registration is April 10-11 from 3:30-4:30 p.m. Rookies tryouts for the Sewanee Tigersharks will be at the same time as pre-registration.

The instructions are for five weeks, Monday through Thursday, April 17 through May 18.

3:15-4 p.m., Rookie I: Must be able to swim at least 15 feet on their own, and can swim freestyle and backstroke. This class is for beginning swimmers, and is not a learn-to-swim class. Primary ages are 4-7.

Rookie II: Must be able to swim half a length of the pool easily doing freestyle and backstroke. Will be learning breaststroke and butterfly. Primary ages 5-10.

4-4:45 p.m., JR I: Can swim a length of the pool easily. Teaching will focus on learning breaststroke and butterfly with conditioning to increase strength. Ages 5-10.

JR II: One or two seasons of swim team. Will be refining stroke mechanics for all four strokes with some light training. Primary ages 6-11.

4:45-6 p.m., Pre-SR: Have three to four strokes mastered and will work on establishing a training base. Primary ages 7-12.

SR: Focus will be on training and further stroke development. Primary ages 13-18.

For costs and other questions, contact coach Max Obermiller at (931) 598-1546 or <mobermil@sewanee.edu>.

Sewanee Can't Distill Lynchburg Offense

Playing against Lynchburg College for the first time in the regular season, the Sewanee men's lacrosse team dropped a 15-8 contest to the No. 16 Hornets on March 24 under the lights of Shellenberger Field.

The previous two times the teams played, Sewanee traveled to Lynchburg, Virg., where the Hornets hosted the Tigers for the 2014 and 2015 NCAA Tournaments.

On March 24, the Hornets started quick and led 6-2 by the end of the first quarter. Will Pratt and Jimmy Parker scored the two goals during the opening 15 minutes for Sewanee.

Lynchburg extended its advantage to 7-2 when Logan Adams scored early in the second quarter. The Tigers answered back when Tyler Calnan ripped in an unassisted goal less than a minute later.

Unfortunately, the Hornets scored the next four goals. Down 11-3, Sewanee finally got its offense going midway through the third quarter. Four straight goals, three from Peter Brown and one from Pratt, pulled the Tigers to within four, 11-7.

Any chance of a comeback was quickly shutdown when Evan Lombardo and Kevin Rogers scored for the Hornets. Brown added one more goal before the Hornets netted two more scores with less than eight minutes to play.

Despite the goal differential, Sewanee managed to outshoot Lynchburg 39-35. The Hornets edged the Tigers 35-34 in groundballs. Brown finished with four goals, two assists and 11 shots, and Pratt added two goals and three shots.

Braden Selected as Head Women's Basketball Coach

University of the South athletic director Mark Webb recently named Tracey Braden as the new head women's basketball coach at Sewanee.

"Coach Braden is a highly talented and successful basketball coach. Moreover, she is a proven recruiter and has a strong commitment to the Division III philosophy," Webb said. "I look forward to great success with Coach Braden at the helm of our women's basketball program."

Braden comes to Sewanee after serving as the head women's basketball coach for the past 10 seasons at NCAA Division III institution Westminster College in Fulton, Mo.

"I am grateful to Mark for giving me the opportunity to join the Sewanee family. I look forward to the challenge of taking this team to the next level and recruiting the type of high-caliber student-athlete that this school attracts," Braden said. "This team has so much potential for next season and I am excited to get to work."

As a team, Westminster won the St. Louis Intercollegiate Athletic Conference (SLIAC) regular season championships in 2010-11, 2011-12, 2012-13, and 2015-16. The Blue Jays also won the SLIAC Tournament in 2012 and 2013, earning automatic bids to the NCAA Tournament.

Under Braden, 25 student-athletes were named to SLIAC All-Conference teams since 2007. That includes 2010-11 SLIAC Player of the Year Rachel Backes.

During Braden's tenure, Westminster had a record of 155-100. Braden earned SLIAC Coach of the Year honors in 2008-09, 2010-11, 2012-13, and 2015-16. The all-time winningest coach in Westminster history, Braden also has served as the director of athletics since 2016.

Off the court, Braden's players have exemplified the true meaning of NCAA Division III student-athletes. Her teams have been named a Women's Basketball Coaches Association Academic Top-25 Team Honor Roll selection four times. Additionally, 12 Westminster student-athletes qualified for the SLIAC All-Academic Team, while four players were named College Sports Information Directors of America (CoSIDA) Academic All-District selections.

Prior to her time at Westminster, Braden served as head coach at California High School, Harrisonville High School and Winnetonka High School from 1999-2007. During that time, she was named Tri-County Conference Coach of the Year in 2000, 2001 and 2002.

A 1997 graduate of Central Missouri State University, Braden lettered for three seasons in women's basketball for the Jennies. She is originally from Versailles, Mo.

Rhodes Sweeps Sewanee Softball

Rhodes College completed a three-game sweep of the Sewanee softball team on March 25 at Tiger Field with a 17-3 win.

The day before, Rhodes won game one, 10-0, and game two, 17-7. The losses dropped Sewanee to 1-20 this season, while Rhodes improved to 19-12.

In the final game of the series, Rhodes scored five runs in the first, 10 in the second, and two in the third inning. Sewanee's offense was at its best early with three runs in the bottom of the first.

After Katie Roth and Rachel Hoffman both walked, Caroline Sweetin hit her second homerun in as many games with a three-run blast.

Sweetin finished the day 2-for-2 with a run scored and two RBI. Taylor Wagner also added a Tiger hit. Kirsten Samuels led Rhodes at the plate going 3-for-4 with three runs scored and three RBI.

Shakerag Hollow

On March 25, Mary Priestley and Yolande Gottfried led the current Tennessee Naturalist Program class on a field trip in Shakerag Hollow. The early spring wildflowers were in bloom, including most of the usual suspects: giant or star chickweed, halberd-leaved and smooth yellow violets, Carolina spring beauty, rue anemone or windflower, hepatica, toothwort, bloodroot, trout lily, Dutchman's breeches, harbinger-of-spring or salt-and-pepper, and little sweet Betsy trillium. Some of the others that will bloom later had foliage emerging, such as mayapple, spiderwort, bedstraw, and sweet-cicely. Young yellow buckeyes were also starting to leaf out.

Some of the plants in bloom are true spring ephemerals—they come up, bloom, set seed, store energy for next year's cycle in underground structures such as corms, bulbs, and rhizomes, and then let their leaves die back when the canopy closes over. Some of these are Carolina spring beauty, trout lily, and Dutchman's breeches, so come early if you want to see them. Others, such as trilliums and violets, continue to photosynthesize throughout the growing season, and some even keep their leaves through the winter, such as hepatica. —reported by Yolande Gottfried

Sewanee Herbarium 2017 Spring Events

Roark's Cove—1 p.m., Saturday, April 1, with Yolande Gottfried.

A private property at the base of the plateau is being made available for a wildflower walk to see some species not seen on the upper plateau, such as Virginia bluebells (Mertensia virginica) and possibly some early shooting star (Dodecatheon meadia), as well as trilliums and much more. Meet at the Sewanee tennis courts parking lot (on Green's View Road behind the Sewanee Inn) to carpool or caravan to the location of this easy to moderate walk.

Shakerag Hollow—1 p.m., Sunday, April 2, with Mary Priestley.

This is Sewanee's "Mecca" for wildflower lovers. Go once, or several times to watch the spring come through.

Meet at the Green's View parking lot (past the golf course). Two miles, moderate to strenuous, with one fairly challenging incline.

Yarn Bombing of the Trail

The yarn bombing of the Mountain Goat Trail will be 10 a.m.–noon, Saturday, April 1. The kickoff starts at Pearl's parking lot to Sewanee parking lot with shuttle service, and breakfast items and coffee by The Baking Angel/Sewanee Sweets. The project is sponsored by the Mountain Goat Trail Alliance and the Grundy Area Arts Council.

Yarn enthusiasts from Grundy, Marion and Franklin counties created crocheted and knitted items known as tags. They will be displayed along various trees, posts, benches, fences and rocks along the Mountain Goat Trail from the project's grand opening April 1 through approximately the end of May, when Mother Nature will be expected to take over the color display and the tags will be removed from the 3-mile section of the Mountain Goat Trail.

There is no admission fee but donations to the sponsoring organizations are happily accepted.

Pets of the Week

Meet Tinsel & Sam

Animal Harbor offers these two delightful pets for adoption.

Tinsel is a glamorous young Hound who can't wait to meet you! She is affectionate and gets along well with other dogs. Because of her high energy level, Tinsel will be great with older children and adults. Tinsel is heartworm-negative, up-to-date on shots, and microchipped, and she will be spayed before she goes home.

Sam is an adult Domestic Shorthair kitty who is sweet, outgoing and playful. He is good with people and other cats. Sam is negative for FeLV and FIV, house-trained, up-to-date on shots and neutered.

Animal Harbor offers substantial adoption fee discounts for veterans and seniors. Every Friday is Black Friday at Animal Harbor. On Fridays, adoption fees will be reduced 50 percent for black or mostly black pets more than 4 months old who have been at Animal Harbor for more than a month. Pets adopted from Animal Harbor qualify for a free post-adoption wellness exam by local veterinarians.

Animal Harbor is located at 56 Nor-Nan Road, off AEDC Road, in Winchester. Call Animal Harbor at 962-4472 for information and check out the other pets at <www.animalharbor.org>. Enter the drawing on this site for a free spay or neuter for one of your pets. Help Animal Harbor continue to save abandoned pets by sending donations to Animal Harbor, P.O. Box 187, Winchester, TN 37398.

Register for Trails & Trilliums

Online registration is now open for the 14th annual Trails & Trilliums festival, April 7–9, at the Monteagle Sunday School Assembly. All proceeds benefit the Friends of South Cumberland.

This year promises to be one of the best yet, with guided hikes, programs and workshops. Many hikes and programs will fill up quickly, so please register early to reserve your place in these activities. Events include Friday evening's ART for the PARK gala, and Saturday evening's Wine & Wildflowers celebration to honor the 2017 Trails and Trilliums Tribute Award winner, the Southeastern Climbers' Coalition.

For more information and registration options, go to <www.trailsandtrilliums.org/registration.html>.

BARDTOVERSE

by Phoebe Bates

Our news editor is a Master Mind,
Our artists are truly Renoirs
Our news is like NEWSWEEK and TIME combined and NOBODY's ads can beat ours;

Our business acumen is perfectly grand
Our wit is as sparkling as jewels;
In short we're the best little sheet in the land
And tomorrow is April Fool's...
