Experts Debate Hydraulic Fracturing

How is hydraulic fracturing done in Tennessee? What are the benefits to the state and what hazards does the process pose? Geologist Scott Gilbert and anti-fracking activist Eric Lewis will address these questions at a debate-style panel discussion at 7 p.m., Tuesday, April 16, in Convocation Hall. Sewanee geology professor Martin Knoll will present an introduction to the hydraulic fracturing process to provide context for questions posed to the two panelists.

Concern about the possibility of hydraulic fracturing in this region is increasing since a swath of East Tennessee (including Hamilton, Marion, Franklin and Grundy counties), Alabama and Kentucky was found to rest on a rock formation known as "Chattanooga Shale." Chattanooga Shale is an extension of the formation that has sparked a natural gas boom in Pennsylvania and triggered complaints about environmental damage and health hazards.

The program is sponsored by the Babson Center, the environmental studies department, the forestry and geology department, the Green House and the Cumberland Center for Justice and Peace. For more information contact Leslie Lytle at 598-9979 or email <sllytle@blomand.net>.

Gilbert has a B.S. in geology from Tennessee Tech University. During his 22-year career with Highland Drilling, he oversaw casing programs and supervised drilling and rig deployment for hundreds of oil and gas wells in Tennessee and Kentucky and helped implement Highland's contract with the Department of Energy to plug and abandon more than 600 wells. In 2002, he joined Nami Resources, which later became Vinland Energy, to serve as chief geologist and vice president of exploration. At present, Gilbert is manager of exploration for Monteagle Oil & Gas, LLC, where he generates prospects and oversees leases, acquisitions, well planning and permitting.

Lewis holds a B.S. in political science from the University of Illinois. He has three decades of experience working to address environmental issues. Lewis served on the Governor's Panel on Forestry Management in the early '90s. He is president of the Swan Conservation Trust established to preserve forest lands in Tennessee and administrator of the Cumberland Green Bioregional Council, which works to promote environmental education. Lewis is a founding member of the Coalition for a Frack-Free Tennessee, the Tennessee Forest Defense Council and the Nashville Peace and Justice Center. His green construction business, Solar Works, has been building energy-efficient residential and commercial structures since 1979.

County School Board Approves Grant for Teleconferencing

by K.G. Beavers, Messenger Staff Writer

The Franklin County school board met in regular session on April 8 to vote on the Telehealth Grant and the proposed 2013-14 school budget.

The school board also learned that it won an award from the Cenergistic company for its energy conservation program. For the last 15 months, all of the schools have been working on energy conservation as a way to save money on utility bills. In the last 15 months the Franklin County schools has reduced its carbon footprint by 2,570 cubic tons or a savings of approximately $484,523.

The school board voted 7-0 to approve the Telehealth Grant, a two-year $499,000 telemedicine grant from the U.S. Department of Health and Human Services. The telemedicine program is a way to connect a student to medical providers while the student is at school. The equipment can also be used for teleconferencing.

In the budget discussion, Director of Schools Rebecca Sharber reported on the Basic Education Program (BEP) estimates. The BEP is Tennessee's funding formula for public education. "The 1.5 percent increase for salaries and the capital outlay in inflationary funds have been added together. This means we will receive less money than last year. Because of the change in revenue, we will need to use more of our fund balance," said Sharber.

The school board is projecting $41,799,205 in revenue and $44,044,692 in expenditures, leaving a $2.2 million deficit. The estimated undesignated

Civic Assn. Gathers for Final Meeting

The Sewanee Civic Association's final meeting for the Easter term is Wednesday, April 17, at the EQB House.

The program will be the presentation of the 30th annual Person of the Year Award. Past recipients include Dr. Matt Petrilla, Harry and Jean Yeatman, Marshall Hawkins, Karen Keele, Tom Watson, Susan Binkley and Blue Monarch.

Social time with wine begins at 5 p.m., and a buffet dinner begins at 5:30 p.m. The business meeting begins promptly at 6 p.m., followed by a brief program. Please note that the meeting will begin an hour earlier so guests can attend the St. Andrew's-Sewanee School Spring Concert at 7 p.m. that evening.

The program portion of the evening is free and open to the public. Dinner is available for $12 per person.

The business portion of the meeting will include election of officers for 2013-14, an amendment to the bylaws for the fiscal year and an update on parks. The Sewanee Civic Association is also seeking nominations for the 2013-14 Community Chest stewards.

The Sewanee Civic Association brings together community members for social and community awareness. Any adult who shares concerns of the community is invited to attend and become a member.

Sewanee Children's Center Offers Summer Program

The Sewanee Children's Center (SCC) will offer half-day and full-day (8 a.m.-5 p.m.) weekly summer experiences June 3 through Aug. 2 for children from 18 months to 8 years of age. Sign up children for one or more weeks right away; discounts are offered for participation in four or more weeks.

In addition to the summer program, SCC is now registering children for the 2013-14 school year. The school-year program begins on Aug. 12. Full-day child care is available for children from 18 months to 5 years old, and the after-school program is available for children ages 6 to 8.

The SCC's teaching staff draw from developmentally appropriate preschool pedagogies such as Reggio Emilia, Montessori and Waldorf to provide a high-quality, child-centered and fun-infused approach to learning. While awaiting the renovation of its long-time home at Otey Parish, SCC is currently located in Lower Cravens Hall on Kentucky Avenue in Sewanee. The Children's Center began in 1948.

The center will host a nationally known family and children's music act, "Farmer Jason" (Jason Ringenberg from Jason and the Scorchers) at 1:30 p.m., Saturday, May 4, in Upper Cravens as a fund-raiser for the Center. Mark the date on your calendar; there is advertising space available on the promotional items for this event. Contact Paige Schneider by email at <pschneid@sewanee.edu> about the May 4 performance.

For more information or to register a child for the summer or fall program, call SCC director Larry Sims at 598-5928 or email <sewaneechildrenscenter@gmail.com>.

CAC GATHERS PAPER GOODS To the Editor:

Thank you to the community for your generous response to our recent plea for paper products for the clients of the Community Action Committee. We collected 376 rolls of toilet paper, 26 rolls of paper towels, a dozen boxes of Kleenex and assorted packages of napkins and paper plates. These necessary household items are not covered by the food stamps on which many of our clients rely.

Your generosity to CAC allows us to continue to provide for those in need throughout the Sewanee community. Thank you!

EASTER PARTY GRATITUDE To the Editor:

Our family would like to thank the African American Alliance at the College for the Easter party they hosted at the Bishop's Common on Holy Saturday. While it was a relaxed, low-key event, the students obviously put a great deal of thought and effort into planning the activities and refreshments. Our son thoroughly enjoyed himself, and we received wonderful (free) photos of him sitting on the Easter Bunny's lap. As we visited with other parents, we could tell that the other children of various ages were having a great time as well. We appreciate the students' gift of their time, when they could otherwise have been with their own families or friends.

SEEKING MISSING HIGHLANDER BOOKLET To the Editor:

On March 16, three weeks ago, two persons from Sewanee came to my Grundy County Historical Museum to see some material on Highlander Folk School of Monteagle. I have a lot of Highlander material. The lady borrowed one of the items to copy and has not returned it. Stupid me, I did not get a phone number or name, so I can't find who to get in touch with about returning this small booklet, which was a gift to my history collection from Mr. Myles Horton.

She said she was a teacher and planned on taking some people out to the Highlander property. They said they were both pastors.

If you are this person or know who this is, please return this material, as you should have copied it by now. If anyone can help locate this couple, call me collect, (931) 592-6557, or write me at 3066 Browns Hollow Rd., Tracy City, TN 37387. I need this material back. Maybe someday I'll learn.

Thank you.

Parents Learn The Value of Reading with Kids

At an event held on March 25 at the Tracy City First United Methodist Church, nationally recognized arts education expert Michell Korn led a workshop for parents, caregivers and educators that focused on creative and interactive ways to engage a child in the love of reading.

The workshop was co-hosted by the Rotary Club of Grundy County, the Grundy County Imagination Library and the Governor's Books from Birth Foundation (GBBF). Covering a wide spectrum of topics—musical and dramatic approaches to reading; visualization, repetition, parallel arts and crafts activities; how to use music from radio, TV and CDs to tell stories and boost listening skills—Korn's primary emphasis was on equipping attendees with skills and strategies designed to maximize a child's engagement during reading time.

"We know that children whose parents assist them in developing a love of reading and its parallel literacies of writing, communication and comprehension will fare far better in academic performance," Korn said. "We also know that if we help a child reach literacy at third-grade standards by third grade, the child is likely to graduate high school, find a profession and be a contributor to society: early childhood pre-literacy is essential."

Emily C. Partin, director of the Grundy County Schools Family Resource Center and president-elect of the Rotary Club of Grundy County, coordinated the event with an eye toward helping parents get the most out of time spent reading with their children.

"It is so easy to set a child in front of a computer or in front of the television and expect him to develop the skills necessary to succeed," Partin said. "The truth is that children need their parents to be fully engaged and to use the time spent reading together to form a meaningful connection, because this connection is what ultimately fosters success."

Theresa Carl, GBBF president, noted that this workshop—the first of three to be held throughout the state—fits squarely within her organization's mission to sustain and strengthen Tennessee's statewide Imagination Library program.

"We are thrilled that parents and caregivers from Grundy County and surrounding counties were able to attend Mitchell Korn's unique workshop and learn from his expertise," Carl said. "The Rotary Club of Grundy County works to raise the profile of early childhood literacy, and Mr. Korn's strategies and techniques for reading to children formed a perfect complement to the Grundy County Imagination Library program."

All of Tennessee's 408,000 children under age five have access to the Imagination Library, and an Imagination Library program affiliate exists in all 95 counties in the state. Begun by Dolly Parton in 1996 as a gift to the children in her hometown of Sevierville, Tenn., the Imagination Library mails one new, high-quality, age-appropriate book every month to registered children, from birth until age five—at no cost to families and regardless of income.

Lectures & Meetings

Area Rotary Club Meetings

The Grundy County Rotary Club meets at 11:30 a.m. on Tuesdays at the Dutch Maid Bakery in Tracy City.

The Monteagle-Sewanee Rotary Club Wednesday morning meeting will not gather on Wednesday, April 17; members are encouraged to attend the Peace Forum (see below).

The Monteagle-Sewanee Rotary Club hosts a noon Thursday meeting at the Blue Chair Tavern. Lane Yoder of Integrity Time, Inc., will be the speaker.

Rotary Club Peace Forum Wednesday

The Rotary Club of Monteagle-Sewanee is sponsoring a Peace Forum at 4:30 p.m., Wednesday, April 17, in the Torian Room of the Jessie Ball duPont Library.

"Coping with a More Peaceful World" is the topic for the forum. Speakers will include Bill Longwell, retired senior lecturer in African and Middle East history at Vanderbilt University; James Quirin, professor of history at Fisk University; and Nicholas Roberts, assistant professor of history at the University of the South. Quirin is an African historian, and Roberts focuses on the modern Middle East.

This forum is part of an international initiative by Sakuji Tanaka, the president of Rotary International, to strive for "Peace Through Service." As part of this, local Rotary Clubs are encouraged to sponsor Peace Forums to engage the community in looking at ways to reflect on and/or encourage world peace. The format will be informal, all are welcome, and the audience will be encouraged to participate.

Wings of Hope Meeting April 15

The Wings of Hope Widow's Ministry will meet at 12:30 p.m., Monday, April 15, for "Aprons and Desserts." Gather at First United Methodist Church, Winchester, to carpool to the Cowan Community Center. For more information or to arrange a ride, call (931) 636-4359.

Book Club Gathers on Monday

The Sewanee Book Club will meet at 1:30 p.m., Monday, April 15, at the home of Jane Flynn. Theresa Shackelford will review "In the Garden of the Beasts: Love, Terror, and an American Family in Hitler's Berlin" by Eric Larson. Also at this meeting, members will choose a chairman and a list of books to read in 2013-14. For more information contact Flournoy Rogers at 598-0733 or email <fsrogers@wildblue.net>.

Improving Communications Lecture Tuesday

Medical anthropologist Nat Kendall-Taylor will talk about "Framing Social Issues: Using the Science of Understanding to Improve Communications Practice" at 4:30 p.m., Tuesday, April 16, in Blackman Auditorium.

Kendall-Taylor is the director of research at nonprofit think tank the FrameWorks Institute, which designs, conducts and translates communications research to explain social issues to the public and advance the resolution of social problems. His past research has focused on child and family health, and understanding the social and cultural factors that create health disparities and affect decision-making.

Health Care Expert on Reform Thursday

Vicky Gregg will share her perspective on the likely impact of the 2010 Affordable Care Act at 4:30 p.m., Thursday, April 18, in Gailor Auditorium. It is free and open to the public, and will be followed by a reception in the auditorium foyer.

Gregg recently retired as chief executive officer of BlueCross Blue Shield of Tennessee. Her talk is part of the Babson Center's spring Bryan Viewpoints Series.

Gregg's talk, "The Affordable Care Act: Expanding Coverage and Improving Care?" will address two of the biggest challenges facing the health care reform effort: cutting the number of uninsured Americans and making sure that healthcare spending actually improves patients' health.

Sewanee Garden Club Meets April 22

The Sewanee Garden Club will meet at 1:30 p.m., Monday, April 22, at the Shakespeare Garden on Tennessee Avenue. Marcia Mary Cook will present a program, and there will be a dedication of boxwoods. The community is invited and encouraged to bring folding chairs. Refreshments will be served after the meeting at the home of Flournoy Rogers, 226 Highland Terrace. For more information call Judy Magavero at (931) 924-3118.

Frank Stitt to Speak at Rivendell on April 27

Chef and author Frank Stitt will speak at the first public event of Rivendell Writers' Colony in Sewanee at 10 a.m., Saturday, April 27. This event is free, but reservations are required because of limited seating. Call 598-5555 or email <carmen@rivendellwriterscolony.org> to make a reservation. Stitt will discuss the writing of his cookbooks and the literary tradition of culinary writing. There will be a question-and-answer session after his talk. Go to <www.rivendellwriterscolony.org> for more information.

Hudson Stuck

Hudson Stuck Lecture at Friends of the Library

The Friends of the Library of Sewanee will meet for a talk by Patrick Dean on the 100th anniversary of Hudson Stuck's ascent of Mt. Denali. The meeting will be at 4:30 p.m., Monday, April 22, in Convocation Hall. This event is co-sponsored by the Sewanee Outing Program (SOP). John Benson, SOP director, will also talk about the art and skill of mountain climbing, including a demonstration of ice-climbing equipment.

This lecture is a part of the University's campus-wide celebration of Earth Day and occurs on the day the Episcopal Church has set aside as a Feast Day to honor both Hudson Stuck and John Muir, both early advocates for environmental issues.

In 1913, Hudson Stuck, an Alaskan missionary, led the first successful ascent of Mt. McKinley, the highest point on the American continent at 20,320 feet. He attended seminary at Sewanee's School of Theology, became the archdeacon of the Yukon and all the territory to the north thereof, was an admirer of Native Indian culture and traveled Alaska's difficult terrain to preach to villagers and establish schools. Stuck referred to the mountain by its Athabaskan Indian name, Denali, meaning "The High One."

Dean is a freelance writer and social-media creator. He is a climber, backpacker, caver and cyclist. He earned an M.A. in theology from Sewanee's School of Theology; his thesis was on Hudson Stuck.

The Friends of the Library will have Stuck T-shirts for sale at the event, and there will be a reception following the lecture.

Information about the Friends of the Library can be found at its website, <http://libguides.sewanee.edu/FOL>, or by contacting Judy Rollins at 598-1265 or <jrollins@sewanee.edu>.

Historical marker about Betsy Pack

Betsy Pack Descendants to Gather in Jasper April 20

The forming Association for the Descendants of Betsy Pack have planned an event at 2 p.m., Saturday, April 20, at the Jasper courthouse. Participants and guests are requested to wear red and white at the event to show solidarity. Red represents life, and white represents peace.

Family and friends of Betsy Lowery Pack, a Cherokee woman, will gather to honor her memory and to celebrate the survival of her descendants and of the Cherokee people. Flowers will be placed at the marker beside the courthouse.

Born Elizabeth Lowery, a daughter of prominent Chief John Lowery of the Cherokee, Betsy Pack lived in a house about 60 yards southeast of the present-day Jasper courthouse after her marriage. She donated the ground on which the town of Jasper was laid out in 1820, when the county seat was moved to Jasper from Cheekville, near Whitwell, about 12 miles northeast.

Pack established a ferry on the Tennessee River, according to Vicki Rozema in her book, "Footsteps of the Cherokees." Her land dwindled under the treaty of 1819; she sectioned off the land with her home and the burial sites of her children to about 40 acres, which she deeded to the commission of the town for $1.

Betsy then sold the other 600 acres and moved to Wills Valley in Alabama, where many other Cherokee had gathered. Wills Town is where the town of Lebanon, Ala., was later developed. There, she is said to have lived in great style until she and many other Cherokee were forced to emigrate west in 1838.

She was preceded in death by her husband, Preston Walls; son Ronnie Walls; and sisters, Emma Lindsey, Tressie Partin and Caldonia Knight.

She is survived by son Dennis (Lola) Walls of Decherd; daughter, Freda (Robert) Clark of Decherd; and four grandchildren, nine great-grandchildren, and several nieces and nephews.

Funeral services were held on April 7 in the funeral home chapel with the Rev. Mickey Henley officiating. Interment followed in Mt. Garner Cemetery, Decherd. For complete obituary visit <www.moorecortner.com>.

Mary Margaret Willems

Mary Marguerite McKendrick Willems, age 66 of Tracy City, died on April 4, 2013. She was born May 4, 1946, in West Palm Beach, Fla.

A celebration of Mary Margaret's life was held on April 8 at Morton Memorial United Methodist Church in Monteagle.

In lieu of flowers, Mary Margaret requested that donations be made to Mountain T.O.P. Day Camps (P.O. Box 128, Altamont, TN 37301), Morton Memorial Mountain Christian Center Food Ministry or Morton Memorial Gospel Partners (322 W. Main St., Monteagle, TN 37356).

Sons and Daughters of Abraham Gather

About 75 young people of Muslim, Christian and Jewish faith will gather today and Saturday, April 12–13, at the DuBose Conference Center in Monteagle to share stories about their faith and learn about their different cultures. The event is organized by Betty Carpenter, director of Fire on the Mountain, the Episcopal Youth Coalition on the Mountain; Sabina Mohyuddin, a Muslim who is a youth advisor for the Islamic Center of Nashville; and the Rev. Joe Porter, a retired priest who lives in Sewanee.

The project, called “The Sons and Daughters of Abraham,” has met for three years. The purpose is for the young people to gain an appreciation of each other's traditions and backgrounds.

Carpenter witnessed a similar event when representatives of the Jerusalem-based organization Kids-4Peace gathered at a church in North Carolina. She thought it would be good to start a similar event for Fire on the Mountain. She met with Mohyuddin, who agreed.

Some attendees, who range in age from junior high school to college, will be coming for the third time. In addition to talking, the participants will play soccer and hike together, break bread and talk about the rituals and traditions in their respective faiths.

Church News

All Saints’ Chapel

Growing in Grace will be at 6:30 p.m., Sunday, April 14, in All Saints’ Chapel, with speaker Mary Kingsley, author of the novel “Angel.” Set in east Tennessee, it is the poignant story of a young girl's longing and struggle for the truth of her family's past. Mary is the mother of Mary Emma Kingsley (C'13).

All are welcome to this informal Eucharist.

Catechumenate will gather at 7 p.m., Wednesday, April 17, at Bairnwick Women's Center. Chaplain Tom Macfie will lead a presentation on how our lives intersect with the story of God's people in the Bible.

All are invited.

Christ Church Monteagle

On Sunday, April 14, Christ Church Monteagle will celebrate the Feast of the Good Shepherd.

Historically, this feast was on the second Sunday after Easter Day, but now many churches have moved it forward to the fourth Sunday. Some still keep it on the basis of the older liturgical calendar. What matters is that the imagery be kept before people so that more can learn about one of the most important themes in art and literature.

According to Bishop William Millsaps, when the U.S. Army (whose tradition of chaplaincy goes back to 1775) chose to develop a shield or heraldic presentation of the chaplaincy in an increasingly varied nation, what was added was a crozier or “shepherd's crook.” The previous symbols of the dove and the open book were retained, and the crozier and the year 1775 were added. All of these things will be a part of the celebration at Christ Church.

Otey Parish

Otey Parish will celebrate Holy Eucharist at 8:50 a.m. and 11 a.m., Sunday, April 14.

Between services, the Confirmation and Lectionary classes will meet.

Adults and youth are invited to the first in the “End of Life Issues” series. Attorney Bob Burns will discuss, “Wills and Estate Planning: Why have a will?” On April 21, Burns will discuss probate and administration of estates; on April 28, Dr. Zell Hoole will talk about “The Five Wishes: Making a Living Will.”

Children ages 3–11 will have Godly Play. Nursery care for infants 6 weeks to children 5 years old begins at 8:30 a.m., and continues until after coffee hour that follows the 11 a.m. service.

The Bible challenge group will meet at 4 p.m. at the church.

fund balance on June 30 would be $1,490,698. The school board approved the budget and the cafeteria budget.

"As all of the budgets go through the process, there may be changes," said Sharber. The budget process includes department heads meeting with the county commission's finance committee and the finance committee presenting the budgets to the county commission. Final approval of the budgets is scheduled for July.

The board also approved revisions to the Section 4 and Section 6 policies, and the 2013–14 and 2014–15 school calendars. The biggest change was to Policy 4.600, Grading System, where grades K–2 move toward the common core transitional grading scale. This consists of numerical grades of 4, 3, 2 and 1 to be used in ELA (English, Language Arts) and math. For grades 3–12, students will still receive grades of A through F.

To allow for students, faculty and staff to attend the 2013 Franklin County Fair, Friday, August 23, will not be a school day. May 27, 2014, is now the abbreviated day. In 2014–15, August 22, 2014, will not be a school day and May 29, 2015, is the abbreviated day.

The board also approved the Tennessee Education Association resolution after amending the language that included reference to the Fair and Clear Teacher Evaluation Act. The school board amended the language to the resolution because most of the board members had not read the act in its entirety. For more information on the act, go to < <http://wapp.capitol.tn.gov/apps/BillInfo/Default.aspx?BillNumber=HB0537>>.

The next school board meeting will be at 6:30 p.m., Monday, May 13, at the board office, 215 S. College St., Winchester.

Youth Fishing Rodeo on Saturday

The first Sewanee Youth Fishing Rodeo, sponsored by the Sewanee Sportsman group, will take place on Saturday, April 13, at Hidden Hollow Lake in Sewanee.

Parking will be available at 311 Running Knob Hollow Rd. (from University Avenue, turn onto Green's View Road, take a left on Running Knob Hollow Road, and 311 will be about three-tenths of a mile on the left).

Registration begins at 8 a.m., fishing will begin at 8:30 a.m., and the award ceremony will be at 11 a.m. There will be awards in two age group divisions: K–2nd grade and 3rd–5th grade. There is no admission charge.

Organizers hope that people from all across the Mountain will take advantage of this great opportunity to introduce their children to the recreation, sport and very useful skill of fishing!

Bring a chair, fishing pole if you have one, tackle box and sunscreen. Bait (worms and crickets), tackle (hooks, bobbers, weights), cane poles and breakfast will be provided. For more information call Jase Brooks at (678) 414-5505 or email him, <sewaneesportsmanshouse@gmail.com>.

County Committee Reviews Decherd Boundary; Quarry Opening Affected

The Franklin County Coordinating Committee, comprised of County Mayor Richard Stewart (chairman), city mayors Terry Harrell of Winchester, Robin Smith of Decherd, Terry May of Huntland, Jo Ed Williams of Cowan, Lane Curlee of Tullahoma, Tony DeMatteo of Estill Springs, Marilyn Nixon of Monteagle and Director of Schools Rebecca Sharber, met on April 10 in the County Annex Building.

The purpose of this meeting was to begin to review the request by the city of Decherd to open and expand its Urban Growth Boundary (UGB) to include, among other property, the proposed quarry site in the Greenhaw community. This is the first step toward annexation by ordinance, which does not give any voice to citizens either in or out of the city. If the UGB were expanded as requested, Decherd could then annex the property by ordinance, which only requires a simple majority vote of the four alderman and the mayor. Once annexed, they could rezone the property, reopening the way for the quarry.

The following is a summary of the Coordinating Committee and ratification processes:

1) Decherd submits its UGB amendment to the chairman of the coordinating committee, Franklin County Mayor Richard Stewart; this was completed on Feb. 12.

2) Stewart has 60 days to hold the first meeting of the coordinating committee; this was the meeting scheduled for April 10. They may approve it as written, or they may modify it. They are not required to take action at this meeting. Action must be taken on or before Aug. 12.

3) If approved, the coordinating committee submits the final amendment to the various municipalities and the county for the vote. Every city—Decherd, Winchester, Cowan, Huntland, Estill Springs, Monteagle, Tullahoma and Franklin County—must ratify the amendment for it to pass. This vote would be taken at the normal legislative bodies of each entity. The Board of Aldermen of each city would vote whether to ratify it, and the county commissioners would decide for the county.

4) If the amendment fails to pass unanimously in the cities and county, it goes back to the coordinating committee for modification. The committee would have to send a modified version back to the cities and the county for approval.

5) The cities and county would have another 120 days to vote on ratification; a unanimous vote is still required. If only one entity votes not to ratify the amendment, the process moves to the state for arbitration.

Safety Guide for Spring Electrical Storms

In preparation for Severe Weather Preparedness Week, April 15–19, Sequachee Valley Electric Cooperative urges everyone to be aware of the dangers associated with lightning and how to protect themselves.

Often underrated, lightning kills more people per year than either tornadoes or hurricanes and causes billions of dollars in damage. Given these statistics, it's extremely important to take lightning seriously and to stay educated on lightning safety.

Plan outdoor activities around the weather and be prepared to seek shelter if the weather turns threatening. If thunderstorms and lightning are approaching, the safest location is indoors away from doors and windows with the shades drawn. Avoid water, electric appliances and other objects that could conduct electricity, and use only cordless or cell phones to make emergency calls. Phone use is the leading cause of indoor lightning injuries in the United States. A direct strike is not necessary for lightning voltage to enter your home through phone lines, electrical wires, cables and plumbing. Other recommendations to avoid lightning shock and damage include:

Turn off and unplug appliances well before a storm nears—never during. Don't expect a surge protector to save appliances from a lightning strike; unplug it as well.

Stay away from electrical outlets, appliances, computers, power tools, and TV sets. Take off headsets and stop playing video games.

Turn off your air conditioner to protect the compressor from a power surge and avoid a costly repair job.

Avoid water and contact with piping, including sinks, baths and faucets. Don't wash dishes, shower or bathe during a thunderstorm. Also avoid washers and dryers since they not only connect with the plumbing and electrical systems, but also contain an electrical path from the outside through the dryer vent.

Lightning can strike up to 10 miles from the area in which it is raining, and you do not have to see clouds. This means that if you can hear thunder, you're within striking distance.

Mohiuddin Will Attend Yunus Event

Sewanee professor Yasmeen Mohiuddin of the economics department will attend the Congressional Gold Medal Ceremony in honor of Professor Muhammad Yunus, Nobel Peace Laureate, on April 17. Mohiuddin was invited by Speaker of the House John A. Boehner at the request of Professor Yunus.

Yunus is the founder of the world-renowned Grameen Bank of Bangladesh and is known as the father of social entrepreneurship. He and Mohiuddin are long-time friends and colleagues. Every year since 2003, Sewanee students have participated in the study-abroad program to Bangladesh, which is based on experiential learning. Numerous students over the past 10 years have completed internships at the Grameen Bank. All of them have come back deeply inspired by Yunus and their experience working in this international entrepreneurial environment.

BOOKMARKED

A Column for Young Adult Readers and Adults Who Appreciate The Genre

by Margaret Stephens

April in the Stands

Two beautiful sports are underway, and (with apologies to March aka April Madness) I don't mean basketball. This weekend showcases the incredible work and dedication of Sewanee's Perpetual Motion. And, it's finally baseball season! My dancer-daughter is happy, and my Red Sox-obsessed son is in heaven. Though he'd possibly be more blissful at Fenway. So, a couple of dance books this month, and a book on baseball for those of us who aren't all that sure what a change-up is.

[Note: I do know dance is usually considered an art form. But the physical condition a dancer has to be in and stay in, all the while making every gesture look airy and effortless? A ballet dancer is in my opinion one of the greatest of athletes. Try running a marathon in shoes that make your feet bleed while not appearing to breathe heavily; try weight-lifting while you maintain an infatuated smile.]

For younger readers, there's no one better than Noel Streatfeild to describe the strenuous schedule of a dancer-in-training. "Ballet Shoes, Dancing Shoes, Skating Shoes," as well as the non-shoe series, "Gemma and Sisters." Streatfeild does for dance what the Sue Barton books did for the nursing profession.

There aren't a lot of books about male dancers, which is sad considering that classical ballet is one area where being a young man has a huge advantage on the job market. I did find a Young Reader's edition of the autobiography "Mao's Last Dancer," which describes the transformation of 11-year-old Li Cunxin from Chinese peasant to international ballet phenomenon.

Most students don't go on to dance professionally, a good thing given the injury rate and limited number of years the human body can tolerate the rigors of daily class. Cynthia Voigt's "Come a Stranger" portrays a teen who has to give up ballet. Better known for her Newbery-winning "Dicey's Song," in "Stranger," Voigt provides the backstory for one of Dicey's friends. Mina Smiths, bright, exuberant daughter of the town's one black pastor, devotes her considerable energy to ballet. Until she hits puberty, when it's made clear to her at summer dance camp that she's there less because of talent and more because of color—she's the token minority student. Mina has to come to terms with the reality that both her color and her rapidly developing body bar her from a future in classical ballet. And discover what all dancers have, eventually, to learn: what else can she do? What else does she care about? What else does life hold? Useful questions for any teen who is coming of age.

Back to baseball.

The two are related, if you'll look down at the whole ballfield and see the ordered choreography. Baseball even has its own music: that wonderfully, soothing, nonstop patter of the sportscaster, with his occasional crescendo into enthusiastic shout when there's a spectacular play.

And what's he talking about all those many innings? "Watching Baseball Smarter: A Professional Fan's Guide for Beginners, Semi-experts, and Deeply Serious Geeks" by Zack Hample, will tell you. Hample explains everything from the most basic:—Why is the hitter digging a hole in the dirt—to the fascinating but obscure (Did you know that to eliminate potential glare from a new baseball's whiteness, it's always rubbed with specially-manufactured, top-secret-ingredient mud beforehand?).

Understanding the rules and peculiar quirks may not automatically make you a fan of the sport. You may not end up taking your engagement pictures on a ball field, as did my eldest son. But this book will enhance what you do watch, as do the program notes of a ballet's story.

Six SAS Students Earn Governor's School Invitations

Six students at St. Andrew's-Sewanee School recently received invitations to the Tennessee Governor's Schools, and three students have been named alternates.

Emily Blount, a junior from Sewanee, will attend the Governor's School for Technical Theatre at Middle Tennessee State University (MTSU), Murfreesboro; Yuke He, a junior from Chengdu, China, was accepted to the School for Musical Performance, MTSU; Aubrey Hobby a junior from South Pittsburg, was chosen to attend the School for Humanities at the University of Tennessee, Martin; Rebecca Lundberg, a sophomore from Decherd, was accepted to the School for Emerging Technologies at Tennessee Technological University, Cookeville; Sophie Starks, a junior from Santa Fe, N.M., will attend the School for Prospective Teachers at the University of Tennessee, Chattanooga; and Ruth Swallow, a junior from Sewanee, will attend the School for Humanities.

Three students were named alternates to the Governor's Schools: Spencer Fugate, a junior from Tracy City, Sciences at the University of Tennessee, Knoxville; Margarita Parris, a junior from Gruetli-Laager, Information Technology Leadership at Tennessee Technological University; and Marisa Wilson, a junior from Sewanee, International Studies at the University of Memphis.

The state of Tennessee offers 12 summer programs for gifted and talented high school students. These programs provide challenging and intensive learning experiences in these disciplines: arts, humanities, international studies, engineering, science, prospective teachers, scientific exploration of Tennessee heritage, information technology leadership and agricultural science. The program, room and board are free to the participants and they may receive college credit.

Winchester Fire Dept. Education Project

The Winchester Fire Department will be providing fire safety educational materials for children, ages pre-kindergarten through 5th grade, in all Franklin County schools and day care centers.

These materials have been designed by the National Fire Safety Council, Inc.

To help cover the cost, the fire department is raising funds for the materials. The cost is about $1.75 per child.

Donations are tax-deductible and need to be made before June 20.

Checks should be made payable to National Fire Safety Council, Inc. and mailed to Winchester Fire Dept. Attn: Gary D. Greeson, Fire Chief, 115 First Ave., NW, Winchester, TN 37398.

Community Events

Free Lunch at Food with Friends Saturday

Sewanee's student-led organization Food with Friends will host a hot meal, noon–1:30 p.m., Saturday, April 13, at Holy Comforter Church in Monteagle. All are welcome to come share in a delicious, homemade lunch.

Children's Fair and Animal Harbor Fund-Raiser Saturday

A fair for children will be 2–5 p.m. on Saturday, April 13, in the University Quad. The event, a fund-raiser for Animal Harbor, is presented by ATZ sorority with sponsors from across the campus. Activities for kids will include an inflatable bounce house, dunk tank, ring toss, balloon darts, corn-hole game, face painting, a cake walk, an egg toss, a three-legged race, a tie-dye station, multicultural food and more. There will be food, prize drawing tickets, event cups and other items for sale to support the animal shelter.

High on the Hog Festival April 16–20

Winchester's annual High on the Hog Barbecue Festival is April 16–20 at Winchester City Park. The event will include barbecue contests, activities for all ages and a carnival.

For the complete schedule of events visit <www.highonthehogfestival.com>.

Herbarium Shakerag Walk April 21

Shakerag Hollow is Sewanee's "mecca" for wildflower lovers, and the warm weather should ensure diverse and abundant displays.

Meet Mary Priestley at 1:30 p.m., Sunday, April 21, at the Green's View parking area, past the golf course. The walk is two miles, moderate to strenuous, with one fairly challenging incline. Wear appropriate shoes. Picking flowers and digging plants are prohibited in all-natural areas where Herbarium events take place.

"The Other Side of the Mountain" Play April 27–28

Grundy Area Arts Council presents "The Other Side of the Mountain," a play adapted from the novel of the same name by May Justus, at 7 p.m., April 27, and 4 p.m., April 28, at Coalmont Elementary School. This is a Grundy Area Creative Endeavors (GrACE) pilot project, made possible by the Community Fund for the South Cumberland Plateau.

The play is adapted and directed by Catalina Jordan Alvarez. Production assistance includes: sound design by Linda Heck and Addison Willis; set design by Ruth Isabel Guerra; lighting design by Dan Pate; and production facilitation by Linda Heck.

Three SAS Students Qualify for Duke TIP

The Duke Talent Identification Program's Seventh Grade Talent Search recently recognized three SAS students for Grand and State Recognition: Andrew Bachman, Carolyn Bruce and Genevieve Rogers. Talent Search identifies students in sixteen states who have scored in the 95th percentile on a grade-level achievement test. These students are invited to take college-entrance exams (SAT or ACT) to achieve State and/or Grand Recognition.

Andrew, Carolyn and Genevieve will be honored at the Grand Recognition Ceremony at Duke University on May 20. To receive Grand Recognition they scored in the 90th percentile. The recipients will be honored at a state ceremony to be held at Vanderbilt University on May 16.

The State Recognition Ceremonies honor seventh-graders who have earned scores equal to or better than half the college-bound seniors who took the tests. They are invited to the Academy Summer Programs, intense three-week programs held on college campuses. Academy students have scores in the top 5 percent of the students who participated in TIP this year.

Duke TIP's Seventh Grade Talent Search is the largest program of its kind in the nation. Since its inception in 1980, more than two million students have participated.

Eligibility for enrollment is an honor and indicates outstanding intellectual ability. Duke TIP provides participants with an exciting, stimulating and challenging opportunity to augment their capabilities. For more information, go to <www.tip.duke.edu>.

AT THE MOVIES

SEWANEE UNION THEATRE

Thursday–Sunday, April 11–14, 7:30 p.m.

Silver Linings Playbook

Rated R • 122 minutes • $3

Actor Bradley Cooper displays his talents in this David O. Russell film about mental illness, growing up and love. Pat (Cooper) moves home after eight months in a hospital. As he struggles with his mental illness, he lives with his parents (Robert DeNiro and Jackie Weaver) and meets an amazing young widow (Jennifer Lawrence) who changes his life. Lawrence earned an Oscar for her great performance. Rated R for language and some sexual content/nudity.

CINEMA GUILD

Wednesday, April 17, 7:30 p.m.

Rear Window (1954)

PG • 112 minutes • Free

One of Alfred Hitchcock's greatest movies (and it is hard to pick one over the others), "Rear Window" is appealing because it is smart, sexy, mysterious and frightening. Jimmy Stewart plays a professional photographer who is home-bound with a broken leg. Gracy Kelly is his beautiful girlfriend, who helps him try to solve a crime that he has witnessed through the rear window of his apartment. And, you have to love any movie with characters named Miss Torso and Miss Lonelyhearts. Rated PG for some frightening moments.

SEWANEE UNION THEATRE

Thursday–Sunday, April 18–21, 7:30 p.m.

Zero Dark Thirty

Rated R • 157 minutes • $3

Maya (Jessica Chastain) is a CIA agent who has spent her career trying to track down Osama bin Laden. She divides her time between the Middle East to work with a team of agents, and Washington, D.C., where she is not taken seriously at the agency (maybe because she is young or maybe because she is a woman). Chastain offers a terrific performance, and director Kathryn Bigelow ("The Hurt Locker") gives the film a gritty, realistic look. "Zero Dark Thirty" was controversial because many thought that it misrepresented an actual event; others defended it as a work of fiction informed by history. Either way, be prepared for some very graphic scenes of torture and death. Rated R for strong violence, including brutal, disturbing images and for language. —LW

Sewanee Union Theatre is changing its ticket prices beginning on June 1. Students (through college) will be $3, but non-students will be $4. (Concession prices will remain the same, though, with popcorn still only $1!)

Once SUT has changed its ticket prices, it will introduce new passes. After June 1, SUT will not accept any passes currently in circulation.

Registration Due for Community Yard Sale

The 2013 Sewanee Community-Wide Yard Sale will be 8 a.m. to 2 p.m., Saturday, April 27. Registration is required; the deadline is Wednesday, April 17.

This annual event, sponsored by the Sewanee Community Center, brings together people who are having sales to share publicity and advertising. Participants can either have a sale at their home or join with others at the Community Center. All participants will be listed on the official map that will be distributed on April 27 and will be in the advertising that is done in area newspapers. There is a $15 fee to be part of the event, which covers advertising, maps and yard signs.

For folks who don't have many items for sale or would rather be in a larger group, they can reserve space inside the center. And if weather permits, additional space will be available outside on the basketball court.

To participate, contact Rachel Petropoulos by email at <rpetropo@sewanee.edu>.

Call for Art for Earth Day Show

Both professional and amateur artists (whether students, faculty or community members) are invited to submit their work to the Environmental Art Show, which will be held 3–5 p.m., Earth Day (Sunday, April 28) on Spencer Lawn and in Harris Commons of Spencer Hall.

All works will be eligible for gift card awards up to $50. If artists choose to do so, their work may be entered in a silent auction; proceeds from the sale will go to Zanmi ak Ayiti, a tree-planting initiative in Haiti led by Sewanee professor Deb McGrath.

For more information or to register email Marci Weber at <webermc0@sewanee.edu>.

The Environmental Art Show is sponsored by the Environmental Residents, the Art Forum, and the Living and Learning Communities for Values, the Arts and Policy, and Change.

Musical Events on the Mountain

Organ Recital Series Continues Today

The Easter Term Organ Recital Series continues at 4:45 p.m., today (Friday), April 12, in All Saints' Chapel. Choir president Michael Petrosch will present his senior recital, which will include works by Denis Bédard, Dietrich Buxtehude, George Frederic Handel, J. S. Bach, Gerald Near and Louis Vierne. Come enjoy an hour of organ music played on the magnificent Casavant organ in the glorious ambience of All Saints' Chapel. The programs are free and open to the public.

Ryan Currie Senior Vocal Recital Today

Ryan Currie will present his Senior Vocal Recital at 7 p.m., today (Friday), April 12, in St. Luke's Chapel. Currie will sing selections by Schubert, Delibes and Paladilhe, as well as songs from Vaughan Williams' "Songs of Travel," and the aria "Avant de quitter ces lieux," from Gounod's Faust. Currie is a student of professor Susan Rupert and will be accompanied by Jason Farris. The recital is free and open to the public.

SAS Spring Concert Wednesday

The St. Andrew's-Sewanee middle school and upper school choirs and the Chamber Ensemble will offer a Spring Concert at 7 p.m., Wednesday, April 17, in McCrory Hall for the Performing Arts. The choirs will perform a variety of pop standards and Broadway classics under the direction of Katherine Anderson. The Stage Band will perform under the direction of Chaplain Bude Van Dyke.

University Choir Spring Concert Thursday

The University Choir presents its spring concert at 7:30 p.m., Thursday, April 18, in All Saints' Chapel. The program, "Around Britten," will include "Rejoice in the Lamb," by Benjamin Britten. Two other works by British composers are also on the program: "A Little Jazz Mass" by Bob Chilcott for choir and jazz trio and John Rutter's "Magnificat" for choir, orchestra and soloist. Joining the choir will be soprano soloist Susan Rupert, organist Jason Farris and a jazz trio led by professor Kash Wright.

Jay Faires at Miss Gracie's April 19

Musician Jay Faires will perform 6–8 p.m., Friday, April 19, at Miss Gracie's in Cowan.

Jay will be donating all of the proceeds from this event to the St. Andrew's-Sewanee School Fringe Fund, which will support the SAS Theatre Department's trip in August to the Edinburgh, Scotland Fringe Festival. Come enjoy the music and food, and support this great cause.

Chorale and Symphony Perform April 25

The Sewanee Symphony Orchestra presents its final concert of the season at 7:30 p.m., Thursday, April 25, in Guerry Auditorium. This concert, led by Joseph Lee, features the symphony, the Sewanee Chorale (Gary Sturgis, music director) and soloists from Sewanee, Nashville, and Murfreesboro in Mozart's "Coronation Mass in C Major, KV 317."

The evening will also feature the world premier of James Carlson's "Cricket and Snail Concertino," a work for solo violin, solo accordion and orchestra, with James and Lucie Carlson as soloists.

The evening's program will also include Rimsky-Korsakov's monumental "Capriccio Espagnol."

Joe Wiegand as Teddy Roosevelt

Wiegand Brings TR to Life at McCrory Hall

In a performance that will leave audiences believing they have just heard from the Rough Rider President, actor and historian Joe Wiegand will bring Theodore Roosevelt to life in his one-man performance at 7 p.m., Friday, April 12, in St. Andrew's-Sewanee School's McCrory Hall for the Performing Arts.

Wiegand, an SAS parent and alumnus of the University of the South, has entertained audiences nationwide with the wit and wisdom that endeared Theodore Roosevelt to the American people.

Wiegand is donating this McCrory Hall performance to help SAS Theatre raise funds to perform at the 2013 Edinburgh Fringe Festival in August. Suggested admission is $15/person and $25/family.

As a one-man theater show, Wiegand shares stories full of adventure, laughter and inspiration. "Audiences will enjoy hearing stories from T.R.'s youth, his time in the Badlands, his adventures in Cuba and Africa, and the delightful time he had in the White House," said Wiegand. "Did you know that T.R. and his wife, Edith, reared six children in the White House? T.R. said he thought nobody ever had so much fun being president, and that no family enjoyed themselves so much in the White House as did the Roosevelt family."

SAS Theatre will take its original production, "The Ants," to Edinburgh. In May, community members will have the opportunity to see the production on the McCrory stage.

Raconteur Book Signing at University Bookstore

Fantasy writer and publisher Honor Raconteur will have a book signing 2-4 p.m., today (Friday), April 12, at the University Bookstore.

She is the founder of the publishing company, Raconteur House, which has published fantasy novels and children's books. She has also written several books, including the "Advent Mage Cycle," a four-book series, and "Special Forces 01," a novel about the struggles of a child soldier.

SAS Gallery Talk and Reception

The St. Andrew's-Sewanee School Gallery is hosting two events on Saturday, April 13, as part of "Art on the Rise: Celebration of Young Artists," a regional student art exhibition hosted by SAS for student artists in grades 8-12.

Artist Andrew Saftel will give a talk at 9 a.m. in McCrory Hall, and there will be a reception for the artists and their families, 3-5 p.m., in the gallery.

Students with art in the exhibit represent schools including Grundy County High School, Franklin County High School, Harpeth Hall, Independence High School, McCallie School, St. Andrew's-Sewanee School and Webb School.

For more information go to < www.sasweb.org/sasgallery/index.aspx >.

Perpetual Motion Dances

Sewanee's annual Perpetual Motion performances are at 7 p.m. tonight (Friday) and Saturday, April 12-13, in Quarry Auditorium.

The show will feature a variety of dances choreographed and performed by students from the College and the community.

The public is invited, and the performances are free.

Perpetual Motion is a performing dance company begun in 1989 and designed to give students an opportunity to perform for the Sewanee community the many forms and styles of dance. Area dancers join Sewanee students in the dance company.

Trails & Trilliums Events

Sponsored by the Friends of South Cumberland State Park and held at the historic Monteagle Sunday School Assembly grounds, the 10th Trails & Trilliums begins today (Friday), April 12, and continues through Sunday, with guided hikes, workshops, a native plant sale, a talk by David Haskell, children's activities and more.

A complete schedule of the three-day event can be found at < www.trailsandtrilliums.org >. Children's events are free, general admission is $10, and a $20 donation provides entry to all hikes, workshops and Gardens Gone Wild events.

Children's activities will take place 10 a.m.-2 p.m., Saturday at Warren's Point, the bluff behind the Monteagle Assembly. Ramble, the State Parks' raccoon mascot, will be on hand, along with activities that will spark kids' interest in the out-of-doors—snakes, turtles, owls, hayrides, hikes on the bluff, a giant swing, an introduction to rappelling, marshmallow roasting, kinder gardening and more. Children's events are free. Directions to Warren's Point will be available at the Monteagle Assembly front gate.

A highlight of the 2013 event will be the Saturday evening keynote address by David Haskell, author of the acclaimed book "The Forest Unseen" during Wine and Wildflowers. Pre-registration for this event is not required; tickets are $10.

There will be 15 guided hikes on some of parks' most beautiful trails. The "Brush with Nature" art exhibition and sale will continue through Sunday, with more than 100 selected paintings, photographs and sculptures from top regional artists.

Proceeds from Trails & Trilliums support the Friends of South Cumberland, one of the leading land preservation groups in Tennessee.

For the full schedule go to < www.trailsandtrilliums.org/ >.

David Haskell, author of "The Forest Unseen," will give the keynote address at Trails & Trilliums Saturday night. This is an edible version of his book cover, executed by Sarah King Gunn of Sewanee Catering, that won an award in the Edible Books Contest earlier this month.

SAS Varsity Soccer Update

The St. Andrew's-Sewanee varsity boys' soccer team took on their big rivals April 5 when they played Webb Bell Buckle at home. It was a tight first half, but Webb outplayed SAS in most aspects of the game. In the 33rd minute, SAS's Takumi Morozumi capitalized on a defensive mistake and calmly placed the ball in the corner to put his team ahead.

After the half, Webb came out quick, scoring the equalizer within five minutes. The rest of the match Webb threatened and finally broke the deadlock in the last two minutes of the contest when Webb player Dapo Omitowoju beat the SAS back line to put home the winner.

SAS traveled to Ezell Harding on April 9 to play a big regional matchup. The first 20 minutes were back and forth, with both teams creating chances. In the 25th minute, after a defensive mixup, Ezell's Austin Gee pounced on the ball and slotted home the opener after beating the keeper one-on-one.

SAS continued to play well, pressing the ball and creating chances, but could not find that final finishing touch. In the 70th minute, the speedy Gee struck again. SAS responded well. They pushed forward and found Morozumi, who fired home a beautiful curling shot into the corner. SAS kept the pressure in the attack, which left holes in the defense and Gee once again capitalized in the 76th. Four minutes later, he would add a fourth, and the game would end 4-1. The scoreboard did not reflect the balance of play, and SAS felt they deserved more from the game.

SAS MS Volleyball, 4-0

The St. Andrew's-Sewanee middle school volleyball team defeated Monteagle Elementary School on April 4, 25-18, 25-22 and 25-9, to improve to 3-0 on the season. Lexie Laurendine had a strong serving match, scoring 17 points in a row in the last game; Mary Katherine Jolly and Carolyn Bruce had strong games at the net, recording five kills; Erin Berner-Coe led the team in kills, with eight; Madison Gilliam and Hannah True had strong passing games. Aria Tucker, Ade Babcock and Liesal Wall came off the bench to contribute to the victory.

The volleyball team defeated Jasper Middle School April 9, 25-16 and 25-18. Laurendine recorded five aces, five assists and one kill; Berner-Coe had three kills; Jolly had five digs; Hannah True had two kills; Tucker recorded two aces. The Mountain Lions are 4-0 on the season.

SAS Track and Field Places in Two Meets

The St. Andrew's-Sewanee track and field team competed in the Chattanooga Christian School Charger Relays on April 5.

Highlights for SAS at the event included a second-place finish in the coed shuttle hurdle relay and a third-place finish by the boys' sprint medley relay.

The hurdle relay team included Lindsay Rhys, Helen Wilson, Eric Baynard and James Beasley.

The sprint medley team included Baynard, Beasley, Jake Mallory and Moe Hunt, who ran a blistering 400-meter anchor leg, passing two teams in the process.

Apart from the relay portion of the meet, Sarah Beavers placed fourth in both the shot and discus.

The SAS track and field team turned in some outstanding performances April 9 at the Signal Mountain four-way meet, competing against Brainerd, Bradley Central and the host school.

Wilson swept the high and intermediate hurdles, while Rhys was third in both races. Eighth-grader Evelyn Seavey broke her own middle school 800-meter record. Beavers placed third in the discus and shot.

On the boys side, Lucas Lu placed second in the long and triple jumps. Beasley tied a school record in the 300 intermediate hurdles and came close in the 110 high hurdles, placing third in both. Jacob Schott ran his best 400 meters of the year to place third. Baynard, Beasley, Moe Hunt and Schott placed second in the 4x400, just short of a school record.

SAS Tennis Update

The St. Andrew's-Sewanee School tennis teams faced a tough University School of Nashville team last week in region play. Despite competitive play by Justin Stubblefield (No. 1), Patrick Toomey (No. 2) and Joel Lee (No. 4), SAS was unable to capture a win, losing 0-6.

Despite a good effort, the girls' team had a difficult time, losing 0-7. Both boys' and girls' teams rebounded on April 5 against Curry Ingram, with the boys winning 7-0 and the girls winning 9-3. The boys' record is 4-1, while the girls' record is 2-4.

The middle school team topped Curry Ingram 7-1. Contributing wins were Aubrey Black, Fritz Stine, Yudong Yin, Blake Drinen and Ashton Milford. The middle school team is now 2-0.

SAS middle school soccer player Sam Smith scored the lone goal in the 1-1 tie versus North Middle School on April 5.

TigerShark Pre-Swim Dates

The TigerSharks swim team announces the following important dates.

Pre-swim team starts April 15 and runs through May 16. This is not a learn-how-to-swim class. Practices will be held Monday–Thursdays. The times, divisions, fees and guidelines will be announced soon.

Stroke and turn, and computer training on Hytek (running the swim meet) will be held for parents at 10 a.m., Saturday, May 18.

The TigerSharks swim team will compete for eight weeks this summer, May 20–July 13, practicing Monday–Friday. The times, divisions and fees will be announced soon.

TigerSharks is designed to be a developmental progression for competitive swimmers ages 4–18. There will be five meets, plus the championship meet on July 13. A two-meet minimum is required to participate in the Race League Championships. All meets are open to anyone, so each swimmer can qualify even if they're out of town for Sewanee competitions.

Mountain Lions Drop Double

The St. Andrew's-Sewanee varsity baseball team had their best effort by far this season in a losing effort on April 9. SAS fell to a strong host Donelson Christian Academy (DCA) team by the score of 4-2 in the first game of a doubleheader. Alex Tinsley pitched a brilliant game in allowing only two earned runs in six innings of work. Defensively, the Mountain Lions committed two costly errors but made defensive plays throughout the contest to keep the game in striking distance. Edwin Ashcraft, Nick Mays and Addison Beene stood out defensively.

DCA opened the scoring with three runs in the first inning with two of the runs unearned. SAS settled down defensively, and DCA scored a single run in the second inning to increase the lead to 4-0, but that would be the last run Tinsley and the SAS team would allow DCA.

SAS finally got the bats going in the sixth inning, as Sam Thomas singled with one out and scored on a long triple by Tinsley. Levi Higgins followed Tinsley's triple with his own triple to the same part of the ball park, but the rally fell short as Higgins was left stranded at third base.

SAS fell to DCA in the nightcap by a score of 17-0. SAS could not retain the momentum from the first game, as they fell behind 3-0 in the first inning due to control problems by starting pitcher Casey Willis. After walking the bases loaded to start the game, Willis was able to limit the damage to three runs and retired the home team in order in the second inning. DCA extended the lead to 7-0 in the third inning, as again walks came back to haunt SAS. A 10-run fourth inning closed out the scoring for the contest.

Thomas led the Mountain Lions in hitting, as he went 2-2. Tinsley also doubled in the contest.

Tiger Baseball Wins

Behind a career-high six RBIs by Nate Barnett and season-high 21 runs, the Sewanee baseball team rolled over visiting Rust College on April 9.

The Tigers jumped on the Bearcats early with a seven-run first inning and never looked back, cruising to the 21-3 win.

Barnett led the Sewanee offensive outburst with three hits, including a pair of triples and six runs driven in.

Jack Rogers pounded out three hits in four trips to the plate.

Ben Clune, Blake Williams, Jacob Walker and Jack Whaley each had two hits in the game. Whaley also picked up three RBIs, while Rogers and Michael Walker drove home two runs apiece.

Starting pitcher Lee Schurknight picked up the win for the Tigers. Schurknight pitched three strong innings, allowing no runs on only one Bearcat hit.

Charlie Morrow and Jimmy Robbins also pitched, in relief, for Sewanee.

With the win, Sewanee ups its record to 7-19 on the season.

Levi Joy won in both singles and doubles matches against Rhodes on Saturday.

Tiger Track and Field

Wins by Justin Taylor and Amiel Emerson led an outstanding performance by the Sewanee track and field team on April 5 at the Hilltop Twilight Classic at Birmingham-Southern.

Taylor earned a pair of victories as he dominated the men's shot put and men's discus throw. In the shot put, Taylor's third attempt of 12.95m earned the Tigers 10 team points. Moments later, Taylor was at it again when his first attempt in the discus landed at 39.04m.

Joining Taylor with top medalist honors was Emerson, who crossed the finish line of the men's 800-meter run in a time of 2:00.04. Bradford Lepik finished third when he finished in a time of 2:04.22.

Also on the track for Sewanee, Hudson Robb finished second in the men's 1500-meter run with a time of 4:15.66.

Sewanee kept gaining points when Terry Cronin placed third in the men's 5000-meters.

Another notable performance came in the men's 110-meter hurdles. With a second-place finish in the event, Josh Hirakawa pushed the Tigers' team total further with eight additional points.

In the women's 800-meter run, Caroline Brooks finished second with a time of 2:33.90. Emma Horgen finished fourth for the Tigers in the same event with a mark of 2:39.51.

In the women's field events, Arden Jones and Amelia Gray finished second and third in the women's pole vault. Jones earned the silver medal on her fourth attempt with a height of 2.45m. Gray was third after she cleared the bar at 2.30m on her third attempt.

Amy Nelson then earned eight team points for the Tigers when she placed second in the women's hammer throw with 38.08m.

Tennis Gets Past Rhodes and Hendrix

The Sewanee men's tennis team earned a pair of wins over Southern Athletic Association programs Rhodes and Hendrix this past weekend.

The Tigers first earned victories over the Lynx by a close score of 5-4 on April 6. Sewanee rolled past the Warriors, 8-1, on April 7.

Sewanee Sports Briefs

Men's Lacrosse

Strong first and fourth periods lifted Southern Athletic Association (SAA) rival Berry past the Sewanee men's lacrosse team, 11-10, on April 6. The loss dropped the Tigers to 9-3 overall and 4-1 in league play. The loss ended Sewanee's five-match winning streak.

Sewanee Crew

The Sewanee Crew team won 25 medals, including 10 golds, on April 6 at the Gunterville Sprints in Huntsville, Ala.

Women's Golf

Against some of the toughest teams and players in the NCAA Division III women's golf, Sewanee golfer Emily Javadli led the Tigers on the final day of the Washington University

Spring Invitational on April 7. Javadli finished second individually with a 36-hole 154.

Women's Lacrosse

A strong offense lifted regional power Wooster past the Sewanee women's lacrosse team, 21-9, on April 7. Molly Arnold, Olivia Vietor and Ellie Murphy scored two goals each. Mallory Grimm, Sally Anne Greenwood and Chelsea Staunton each found the back of the net once.

Men's Golf

The Sewanee men's golf team wrapped up the 2013 Reeder Cup with a second-place finish behind host Covenant College on April 8.

The Tigers finished with a team score of 346, 28 strokes behind the Scots.

OUTSIDEIN

by Patrick Dean

At the first annual dinner of the Scottish Mountaineering Club on December 12, 1889, its first-ever president, Professor G. G. Ramsey of Glasgow University, gave a speech. I want to quote pretty extensively from it, because it can teach us quite a bit, even today, about how people should and should not relate to the outdoors.

"What are we to say of the mountaineer?" Ramsey asked. "For, like all fair objects, mountains have their false as well as their true admirers. "First, there is the finely fashionable sort who wish to do as others do. They look at the mountains, because others do so, and because they can find nothing else to look at..."

"We then have the mere curiosity tourist, who notes all that is remarkable or out-of-the-way in scenery, but admires nothing; and never walks a yard that he can avoid.

"Then we have the American mountaineer, who checks off the mountains, one by one, as he sees them, guide-book in hand, just as he does with the statues in the Vatican.

"And then comes the class who look upon mountains simply and solely as a field for exercising or gaining muscle, or the glory which muscle-culture brings. These men care for no ascent which is not difficult or new, and measure mountains solely by their height. These men are not so much mountaineers as mountain acrobats."

Did any of those ring a bell? Those sorts of people aren't just in the mountains, it seems, nor did they vanish after the 19th century.

Having described the less desirable ways of going to the mountains, Ramsey then spoke memorably of the good:

"Well, gentlemen, our mountaineer must be something different from all these, though he may borrow something, in moderation, from them all. He will not despise a good novel in a day of rest; and none like he can enjoy a good dinner and a good glass of wine when he has done good work upon his mountain.

"He delights in the difficulties and dangers of a new route; and he is fully sensible of the pride of finding his legs firm beneath him, his wind sound within. But his main and great joy is in the glory of the scenery through which he climbs.

"He likes fine weather, but he will not be turned by a shower; he likes a big hill, but will delight in a little hill when there are none other; but, above all, whether his climb be difficult or easy, he will carry to it the same sense of joy in nature, of love of her milder as well as of her sterner phases.

"And whatever his mountain, he will leave his load of trouble at the bottom, and find himself gaining a larger heart, a calmer nerve, a more hopeful and trusting spirit, as he climbs upwards.

"The glory of the hills, then, gentlemen, the beauty of natural scenery, must be our motto."

Amen, Professor Ramsey, for us gentlemen and gentlewomen too.

NATURENOTES

By Harry and Jean Yeatman

Barred Owl, illustration by Allan Brooks;
Inset, Pine and Prairie Vole skulls.

Barred Owl

Jean Yeatman reports that for the last few weeks Harry has been examining owl pellets that he picked up a few years ago. These pellets are formed when owls regurgitate bones and hair of prey. Harry knows that these pellets are from a Barred Owl, because he found Barred Owl feathers under the tree where he found the pellets. There were two kinds of skulls found, some from a Pine Vole and others, a Prairie Vole. The Barred Owl has dark eyes, and is frequently found hunting in daytime. Its prey includes mice, frogs, lizards, fish, insects, crawfish and other mammals. It is preeminently a bird of swamps and heavy woodlands. The Yeatmans see it along Eva Road and hear it down in Lost Cove. Its call sounds like "Who cooks for you; who cooks for you all." Its nest is usually in a hollow tree, although now and then it will be in an old crow's or hawk's nest. Its range is throughout eastern North America, from Manitoba to the Gulf of Mexico. Here, young are in the nest now, as they start nesting in February. Barred Owls are large, with no ear tufts on the head, and they can be either gray or brown in color. There are spots under the chin, the breast is streaked, and the back is spotted with white. At one time she and Harry had one as a pet, and it liked to be scratched under the chin.

Lou Ann Partington with Ziggy's Tree Wildlife Rehabilitation Center recently rehabilitated a baby owl found in Decherd. She can be reached at (931) 393-4835 or (931) 841-9781.

Jean joined a group for a herbarium-sponsored wildflower walk in Henley Hollow (in Roark's Cove) on April 7. The stars of the show were the bluebells, at the peak of their pink-and-blue splendor, massed on a small "island" between two dry creekbeds. Shooting star, false garlic, and trout lily were also in bloom among the bluebells. Along the trail were many Virginia spring beauties (the narrow-leaved species) and rue anemones or windflowers, with a few hepatica still flowering. Bright splashes of red-purple phlox flowers dotted the woods. Mayapples were in bud, and wild comfrey was in leaf. The resemblance of the leaves in size, shape, and texture led to the genus name Cynoglossum or hound's tongue. Notable woody plants were trifoliate orange (in the same family as edible oranges) and Osage orange (not an orange), both introduced in the area as living fences. The red buckeye was present and in bud. The winged bark of numerous sweet gums and the warty trunks of hackberries also stood out in the still bare woods.

Jean also reports that they have Canada Goose nesting beside their lake. David Kearley reports he has a Red Fox family living in his yard; there is a vixen and four pups.

Ash Tree Study Begins

A study of area ash trees needs help from community members across the Mountain. College student Emma Mitchell is conducting a research project to map ash trees around campus so these trees can be monitored. "Any community help is much appreciated," Mitchell said.

The Emerald Ash Borer is an exotic and invasive beetle that eats and eventually kills ash trees.

The first Emerald Ash Borer to be found in Tennessee was discovered in the eastern part of the state in Monroe County several months ago.

It has also been identified in Kentucky and Ohio.

The beetle is currently moving south from the Great Lakes region of the United States at a rate of one-half mile per year. At this rate, there is a possibility that Sewanee may not have to face infestation for 50 years; however the rate of spread can increase significantly by means of transporting firewood.

However, because of the increase in spread by firewood transport, the Emerald Ash Borer may already be in the area. The Hemlock Woolly Adelgid, an invasive insect also moving slowly across the country, has recently been found in Sewanee, marking a 40-mile jump in the range of this insect.

It is important to note that ash trees can live for up to five years without significant evidence of Emerald Ash Borer infestation.

In order to protect the area's ash trees, which play an invaluable role in the ecosystem dynamic, burn firewood where you buy it. Also, watch for the signs of infested ash trees:

- "D"-shaped holes in bark,
- "S"-shaped tunnels under the bark, or
- Crown dieback or death of outermost leaves.

Ash trees can be identified opposite compound leaves, as well as opposite branches and light-colored, diamond-patterned bark.

If you have any ash trees in your backyard or notice any of these signs in ash trees around campus or in the community, please contact Domain Manager Nate Wilson by emailing <wnwilson@sewanee.edu> or Mitchell by emailing <mitchep0@sewanee.edu>.

Molly

Ryder

Pets of the Week

Meet Molly & Ryder

The Franklin County Humane Society's Animal Harbor offers these two delightful pets for adoption.

Molly is a quiet Yellow Lab who is addicted to tennis balls. Sometimes she will carry one around all day. Molly is very sweet and will be a good companion for children, as well as adults. She is up-to-date on shots and spayed.

Ryder is a nice, calm cat who is very grateful to be off the streets. He was a bit battered when he was rescued, but his wounds have healed, and he is ready for his forever home. Ryder is negative for FeLV and FIV, house-trained, up-to-date on shots and neutered.

Every Friday is Black Friday at Animal Harbor. On Fridays, adoption fees will be reduced 50 percent for black or mostly black pets more than 4 months old who have been at Animal Harbor for more than a month. Pets adopted from Animal Harbor qualify for a free post-adoption wellness exam by local veterinarians.

Call Animal Harbor at 962-4472 for information and check out their other pets at <www.animalharbor.com>. Enter their drawing on this site for a free spay or neuter for one of your pets. Please help the Humane Society continue to save abandoned pets by sending your donations to the Franklin County Humane Society, P. O. Box 187, Winchester, TN 37398.

BARDTOVERSE

by Scott and Phoebe Bates

Taxman

Let me tell you how it will be
There's one for you, nineteen for me
'Cause I'm the taxman, yeah, I'm the taxman

Should five per cent appear too small
Be thankful I don't take it all
'Cause I'm the taxman, yeah, I'm the taxman

If you drive a car, I'll tax the street,
If you try to sit, I'll tax your seat.
If you get too cold, I'll take the heat,
If you take a walk, I'll tax your feet.

Don't ask me what I want it for
If you don't want to pay some more
'Cause I'm the taxman, yeah, I'm the taxman

Now my advice for those who die
Declare the pennies on your eyes
'Cause I'm the taxman, yeah, I'm the taxman
And you're working for no one but me.
