

SCA Honors O'Donohue and Ingle

by Leslie Lytle, Messenger Staff Writer

"Kathleen O'Donohue's background in community building spans decades in diverse organizations and settings," said Sewanee Civic Association (SCA) President Lynn Stubblefield at the April 19 meeting lauding O'Donohue as the recipient of the 34th annual Community Service Award. High praise also went out to Summa Cum Laude Award recipient Carol Ingle who has served as the Community Chest treasurer for 37 years.

O'Donohue's 25-year career as a licensed Physician's Assistant made her particularly well suited to assume the role in 2009 as founding director of Folks At Home, a unique Sewanee nonprofit dedicated to assisting elderly community members to continue to live safely and comfortably in their own homes. But O'Donohue's care-giving roots go much deeper. O'Donohue is a longtime board member of the South Cumberland Regional Land Trust whose stated purpose is to preserve area forest lands. And more recently, O'Donohue signed on to serve as a founding board member of Arcadia, the Sewanee senior living facility initiative. Others know "Kat" as their Tai Chi instructor or through her work on the boards of the Sewanee Community Center and the Cumberland Center for Justice and Peace.

The SCA has only twice before honored community members with the Summa Cum Laude Award, applauding dedicated and longstanding service. In presenting the award to Ingle, Stubblefield said, "Carol Ingle is the unsung hero of this organization. She keeps up with all Community Chest checks, pledges, payroll deductions, stock sales, and PayPal donations. The Community Chest awards on average $100,000 annually to more than 25 organizations. Carol knows to whom every one of the $3.7 million dollars has been allocated and who donated the money."

Workshop Offers Tools for Fighting Fake News

by Kevin Cummings, Messenger Staff Writer

Three Sewanee librarians provided insights into detecting fake news during a public workshop on April 18 at the Jessie Ball duPont Library.

Following a well-attended workshop in March, only a few people stepped out into the rain to attend the encore. But, as they munched on cheese and strawberries, attendees learned tools to weed through nefarious information on the Internet.

Fake news sites make money from advertisers based on clicks and often provide misleading information as part of scams or for political, social or other reasons.

"It's not just about spotting fake news, that's only half of what we want to do; the important thing is we want to find reliable news," noted Dann Wigner, instruction and information literacy librarian.

The library's website on fake news, <library.sewanee.edu/fakenews>, offers plenty of resources, including a list of more than 900 fake news sites, a graph on media source biases, and numerous fact-checking tips.

Amanda Sprott-Goldson, learning and access librarian, noted that fake news is not a new concept and cited the Great Moon Hoax of 1835, where "The Sun" newspaper in New York City printed articles featuring outlandish claims of life on the moon like man-bats, unicorns and bi-ped beavers. She said false information in print seems to have spiked in the 19th Century.

"Things like transatlantic and transcontinental cables, linotype and high speed electric presses coupled with a larger population and a larger reading population created this perfect storm for lots of fake news," she said. "There was an appetite for fake news and they had the technology to carry it out."

31st Annual Fourth of July Celebration

Planning continues for the "May the 4th Be With You" celebration. The next planning meeting is at 5 p.m., Monday, May 8, at the Sewanee Senior Center.

Food Vendors Wanted

The Fourth of July committee calls for food vendors to provide a varied menu for our events. Food vendors are welcome at the street dance on Monday, July 3, during the day on Tuesday, July 4, and that evening at the fireworks. Any interested vendors can contact Charles Whitmer at <charles.whitmer@gmail.com>.

For the Children

The Fourth of July committee requests volunteers for the children's games. If you can do face painting, fortune telling for the children, or if you are available to help run one of the games, please contact Nancy Mann at <nancy.mann@sewanee.edu>. We are also working on rebuilding some games and building new ones, so if you are a handy-man or -woman and would like to help in that regard, contact Nancy.

Donations

The Fourth of July committee asks for your monetary help for this year's festivities. Although some activities charge a small fee, covering the cost of the day, especially our fantastic fireworks show, requires extra funding from the community. If you would like to donate to support your Fourth of July celebration, contact Louise Irwin at 598-5864 or Tracie Sherrill at 598-0040 for more information.

Questions?

If you have any questions regarding specific information about the Fourth of July, contact Jade Barry at 636-9829 or <jademcbee@gmail.com>.

'Light Fare for Spring'

The Sewanee Chorale presents a concert of women's voices, "Light Fare for Spring" at 7:30 p.m., today (Friday), April 21, at Otey Memorial Parish Church. The concert is free and open to the public.

The concert includes works by Vivaldi, Mendelssohn, Purcell, Lassus, Dawson and others. Zixin (Alex) Ding, a student at the University of the South, will accompany the concert with guest conductor, Caroline Carson.

Carson has taught music for 19 years, most recently as conductor and professor of music at the University of New Orleans and assistant conductor of the New Orleans Civic Symphony. Carson is currently a postulant for the priesthood and seminarian at the School of Theology.

Community-Wide Yard Sale

The Sewanee Community Center is coordinating the community-wide yard sales from 8 a.m. to 1 p.m., Saturday, April 29.

To participate, submit the registration form and the $15 registration fee. This fee will be used to print maps highlighting the sales that day, print an official yard sign for your venue and run advertisements in the surrounding community newspapers.

Deadline for registration is today (Friday), April 21.

You can participate by either having a sale at your home or join up with others at the Community Center where booth space will be available.

For more information, email Rachel Petropoulos at <rpetropo@gmail.com>.

Trustee Community Meeting

The Trustee Community Relations Committee will be in Sewanee on Thursday, April 27. It will meet with the Sewanee Community Council, who will update the trustees on topics of interest and concern to our community.

The community is invited to a meet and greet with a casual supper prepared by IvyWild at 5:30 p.m., April 27, at the American Legion Hall in downtown Sewanee. For planning purposes, please email Tanner Potts at <tlpotts@sewanee.edu> with your name and number in your party by today (Friday), April 21.

DO NOT LITTER

To the Editor:

Is it just me, or do beer cans thrown out along the roadside bother you? Could not the perpetrators carry a trash bag in their vehicle or wait to get home to recycle the cans? If you love the beauty of this mountain, do this one little thing: Do NOT litter.

Thanks in advance.

THANK-YOUS FOR TRAILS AND TRILLIUMS

To the Editor:

A picture-perfect weekend was the setting for the 14th Trails and Trilliums Festival, April 7–9. While Nature was responsible for the weather, the many details of the event were graciously addressed by a host of dedicated volunteers.

Thank you first to our host, the Monteagle Sunday School Assembly, and our sponsors Lodge Manufacturing and Tower Community Bank.

To our local artists and vendors who said yes when invited to participate in ART for the PARK.

To our amazing volunteers, who presented programs, led hikes, created a dazzling art exhibition, hosted two evening events, and registered attendees for this event.

To Dede Clements, Betty Barton Blythe, Rich Wyckoff, Ty Burnette, Jessie McNeel, Rhonda Atkins and Scott Parrish who generously donated their leadership to the Trails and Trilliums Committee.

And, to each of you who came out to celebrate wonderful weather, our woods, our talents and the worthwhile cause of the Friends of the South Cumberland, our heart-felt thanks. Join us next year, April 13–15, for Trails and Trilliums 2018!

Linda Parrish, Chair, Trails and Trilliums 2017 ■

SUICIDE PREVENTION

To the Editor:

During the last two weeks our community of Sewanee has been devastated by the deaths of two young people by suicide. Across the country we are experiencing an alarming increase in suicide, particularly in the young population. This horrible trend can be corrected.

On April 12, I attended a three-hour training session on suicide prevention at Trinity Episcopal Church, Winchester. Though attendance was disappointing, those of us who were there received a lot of very helpful information on detecting signs of suicidal behavior and interventional techniques. The training was done by the Tennessee Suicide Prevention Network.

I believe this training program, which is readily available, could be a great asset to all of us, especially schools, the University, and churches. We never know when such training might be the difference between another needless tragedy and the heartbreak which follows.

SPD March Report

The Sewanee Police Department (SPD) recently issued its report on its activities for the month of March 2017.

Last month, the SPD patrolled 4,809 miles, investigated five vehicle accidents and issued 38 moving violations. It also issued 390 non-moving traffic violations and 22 warnings.

It made three arrests and issued seven citations for drug law violations, 19 citations for liquor law violations, and filed six theft reports.

SPD offered mutual aid to other jurisdictions twice last month.

SPD physically checked buildings on 1,356 occasions and assisted with locking or unlocking buildings 81 times.

All Saints' Chapel

Growing in Grace, All Saints' Chapel's contemporary worship service, will resume Sunday night at 6:30 p.m. in All Saints' Chapel. The speaker will be John Benson, Sewanee Outing Program director. This semester, Growing in Grace will focus on moments of our life where we have "mountaintop experiences." The question we are asking is "How is your time on the Mountain?" whether it is four years or a lifetime, influencing the message you hope to share with the world. Growing in Grace features a student-led worship team, and a different speaker every week.

The Catechumenate will continue Wednesday, April 26, at 7 p.m. in the Women's Center. Based around fellowship, study, openness, and conversation, the Catechumenate serves as a foundational piece for the Christian faith, as well as a forum for discussion for people of all backgrounds. All are welcome! For more information please contact Lay Chaplain Rob McAlister at <rob.mcalister@sewanee.edu>.

Cumberland Presbyterian Church

For the last few weeks, a large number of cars have been seen parked in front of the Monteagle Cumberland Presbyterian Church on Sunday mornings. Turns out they have a new pastor, Clayton Jones, and he's drawing a crowd. In recent years, with members moving away or dying, attendance has dwindled to just a small handful, and this is a welcome change.

Ralph Patrick has joined us as pianist, and brings exceptional musical talent with his wife and daughter, who all together provide some excellent music and singing.

The Church is beginning a fund-raising campaign to repair and restore the historic building (built in 1896) as much as possible to its original appearance.

Monteagle Cumberland Presbyterian Church is the only CP Church in Grundy County, and meets for worship services at 11 a.m. each Sunday, with coffee, donuts, and fellowship available 9–11 a.m. See the Church website at <http://moncpchurch.org/.

Daughters of the King Meet April 25 and 27

Daughters of the King will meet at 5:30 p.m. on Tuesday, April 25, in the sanctuary of St. James Episcopal Church in Midway, and also on Thursday, April 27, in the St. James parish hall. All women are invited to attend to learn more about the organization, the oldest Order for Lay Women in the Episcopal Church, established in 1855.

Mt. Olive Missionary Baptist Anniversary Celebration Slated

Mt. Olive Missionary Baptist Church in Decherd will celebrate the 15th anniversary of their pastor, James L. Johnson, on Sunday, April 23, 2017.

The worship service at 11 a.m. features guest speaker Rev. Henry H. Adkisson Sr. of Christian Fellowship Outreach Ministries in Bells, Tenn.

The afternoon service begins at 2:30 p.m., with featured guests Pastor John W. Patton Jr. and the congregation of Mt. Sinai Missionary Baptist Church of Cowan. Lunch will be served between the morning and afternoon services. All are invited.

Otey Parish

On Sunday, April 23, there will be a combined service at 10 a.m. on the occasion of Bishop John Bauerschmidt's visitation to Otey. A festive reception will follow. The undesignated offering on this Sunday will be for the Bishop's Discretionary Fund. Lectionary Class, Godly Play and Youth Sunday School, will be at 9 a.m. There will be no Adult Forum.

The Adult Forum on April 30 will be St. Mark's Community Sunday.

Unitarian Universalist

The Unitarian Universalist Church of Tullahoma's speaker this Sunday will be Peter Kindfield on "Being Happy Being Ourselves Together: Techniques and Exercises." The service begins at 10 a.m., Sunday, followed by refreshments and a discussion period. The church is located at 3536 New Manchester Hwy., in Tullahoma. For more information, call (931) 455-8626, or visit the church's web site at <www.tullahomauu.org>.

Raulston Memorial Service Set

Memorial services for Jean Carter Raulston, of the Alto community, who died on Dec. 18, 2016, will be at 2 p.m., Saturday, April 22, at Christ Church Episcopal in Alto, 9616 Old Alto Hwy. (Hwy 50), Decherd.

Jean was a former teacher and eventually director of the University's Equestrian program. All are welcome.

If your church is in our circulation area and would like to be listed in the church calendar, please send service times, church address and contact information to <news@sewaneeemessenger.com> or phone 598-9949.

SUMMA Debate Camp

Applications are now being accepted for the 2017 session of SUMMA Debate Camp at the University of the South, July 18–26. This year, camp will feature keynote speaker Leah Libresco, contributing editor of America, and—as an undergraduate—a member of Yale University's Political Union (a debating society).

SUMMA is open to high school students of any faith entering grades nine–12 in the fall of 2017. SUMMA offers students a unique opportunity to explore faith through intellectual channels while making lifelong friends and having lots of fun on one of the most beautiful college campuses in the country.

At SUMMA Camp, students learn valuable skills for debate, public speaking, and theological reflection. No previous debate experience or formal theological study is necessary. Campers have a true collegiate experience, but it's not all work! There is plenty of time left over for swimming, sports, movies, bowling, and lots of great summer fun.

For all students, the cost of SUMMA is partially defrayed through donations, grants, and an endowment. The cost to parents is $750, which includes room, all meals, and all materials.

A limited number of scholarships are available for students with demonstrated financial need.

For more information and to apply, visit <summa.sewanee.edu>.

In the business portion of the meeting, Community Chest steward Susan Holmes said the fundraiser was $2,200 short of reaching its ambitious $116,850 goal, which will fund 26 community organizations this year. "This is the largest Community Chest goal ever," Holmes said urging those who hadn't yet donated to do so by sending a check to PO Box 99, Sewanee, TN 37375 or visiting <<https://sewaneeccivc.wordpress.com>>. All donations are tax deductible. The projects earmarked for basic needs funding include elder care, food, books, housing, scholarships, Sewanee Elementary School, recreational spaces, and spay/neuter programs for animals.

Reporting on the SCA Parks Program, Director Stephen Burnett said Joseph Sumter would take over from Rob Matlock, conducting the required periodic inspections of Elliott Park, a recent SCA project.

The SCA Parks Program is developing a business plan and mission statement to coordinate rehabilitation of the Sewanee Ballpark, Burnett said. In the most recent crisis, the roofs blew off the dugouts. Burnett speculated the University would offer assistance, but "they'd like to see an entity coordinating the effort."

Stubblefield expressed "heartfelt gratitude" to Doug Myers and Kiki Beavers who were retiring from the board. Myers volunteered in the capacity of Sewanee Classifieds director, coordinating the SCA's online community messaging service. Praising past president Beavers, Stubblefield said, "We would not be where we are today without her leadership, wisdom and persistence."

The SCA elected the following slate of officers to serve in the coming year: Lynn Stubblefield, president; David Michaels, vice-president; Megan Roberts, secretary; Diane Fielding, treasurer; and Aaron Welch, member at large.

The SCA does not meet during the summer.

Amanda Sprott-Goldson, learning and access librarian, starts the workshop on fake news on April 18 at the Jessie Ball duPont Library. Photo by Kevin Cummings

The presenters summarized the top three checks for spotting fake news, including a "visual check" for fakes with questions like: Is the website poorly designed? Are there ads for products not easily recognizable? Does the headline use all capital letters and provoke strong emotions?

The second check is to "site check" by looking for Internet addresses similar to popular news outlets, but not the same. For example, <nbc.com.co> is meant to mimic <nbc.com>.

"The imposter news sites are probably the most insidious," Wigner said. "They look like real news sites and are usually pretty deep into the concept until you say, 'I'm not sure about that.'"

Also, the librarians recommended reading the "about us" section on websites and considering who wrote the article and if it is biased. They recommended doing a Google search on authors.

The third is to "fact check," which includes checking other reliable sources on the same issue and finding out if other sources are even covering the story; if not, then the article is likely fake.

Another tip from presenters included researching pictures from an article; some fake news sites will swipe pictures from other sources. Right-click on the image and choose "search Google for image."

Also, check the dates for old stories that are not current to relevant events and utilize experts like librarians and established fact-checking websites, they said.

Another important aspect is for someone to consider their own biases and whether they believe a story only because it supports their views.

Heidi Syler, instruction and information literacy librarian, said there are several reasons why people believe and share fake news. Some of those include being in an echo chamber, where a person reads only the types of news that support their views, which are shared among friends of similar views and fed to them constantly because of website algorithms.

Another reason Syler said fake news becomes believable is through repetition and information overload, as well as avoidance of news that doesn't satisfy what people want to believe.

Jump Off resident Marianna Handler, who attended the workshop, said she prefers the lighter side of social media, like puppies and kittens.

"There's just so much stuff I'm not sure about," she said. "There's obviously a lot of fake news around and I usually trust my instincts. I have found that you click on something and it takes you to something totally different, like 'Trump is getting a divorce.'"

Workshop organizers, in addition to identifying fake news with a darker purpose like click bait, hoaxes and imposter sites, also pointed out that satire websites such as "The Onion," publish fake news as humorous entertainment.

Rotary and Haiti Institute in Sewanee Collaborate

The Cajun Supper at Otey Parish on March 4 sponsored by the Monteagle Sewanee Rotary Club raised $2,500 for the University's Haiti Institute in Sewanee (HIS). This represents the third year of this partnership where HIS earmarks these funds to assist farmers in the Bois Jolis Zone in the Central Plateau of Haiti.

"We have been working in conjunction with Haitian agronomists and a 40-farm cooperative in Bois Jolis for five years," said Dixon Myers, associate director of Civic Engagement and co-founder of HIS. "This joint venture fund-raiser is a key component in making this project work."

Students going on the Spring Break Haiti Outreach Trip this past March helped sell tickets to the event and helped to set up, serve and clean up. They normally sell tickets to their peers, which helps bring together a mix of town and university student participation. "The food was delicious, and the music and atmosphere were the best," one student commented. "I wish there were something like this every weekend and what a great cause."

During Spring Break, the students went out to each farm and measured elevation, slope, soil depth, canopy density, disease rates and set up rain gauges on farms where Coffee, Ced, Acajou and Mango were planted four years ago.

"All of these factors play into the success of these plants and the continued monitoring is what most reforestation projects don't have the capacity to do," said Deborah McGrath of the University's biology department, and another co-founder of HIS. "It is amazing to have young people engage in these communities and offer their youthful services in this way. This is what invigorates me as a teacher. The data being collected is the foundation for making sound decisions in coordination with our Haitian partners. The Rotary fundraiser helps in making all of this work."

Farm Produce Handling Safety Workshop

UT/TSU Extension office in Grundy County would like to invite the community to attend a Vegetable Handling Safety Workshop at 5 p.m., Thursday, April 27. The workshop will take place at the High Meadows Farm in Tracy City at 321 Sally Branch Road.

Annette Wszelaki, UT Extension Vegetable Specialist, will be on-site to help present the workshop that will include ways to wash produce, sanitizers to use on equipment and in wash water, and how to measure sanitizer concentrations. This is a great opportunity to get a better understanding of how to improve your packing facilities on your farm or operation.

Meet at the UT/TSU Extension Office in Coalmont promptly at 4:15 p.m. to caravan or carpool to the location. In case of prediction of bad weather or for any questions please contact the UT/TSU Extension Office at (931) 592-3971.

National Cornbread Festival

The 21st annual National Cornbread Festival will be Saturday and Sunday, April 29-30, in South Pittsburg. Saturday hours are 9 a.m. to 6 p.m.; Sunday, the festival will be open 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. Admission is $7 per person each day.

Contestants from all across the country entered their best recipes with the hope of becoming the next National Cornbread Cook-off Champion. This event inspires a wide range of recipes, from traditional southern cornbread, to creative flavors from maple bacon, to sweet Georgia peach cornbread, along with many other unique recipes, all served up with a smile as you stroll along Cornbread Alley. Join one of the cornbread eating contests or buttermilk chugging races, while the crowd laughs and cheers you on.

There are five stages including the historic Princess Theatre, to feature more than 50 acts throughout the weekend. Featured artists will fill the streets with the sounds of country, bluegrass, blues, Christian rap, old-time fiddlers, southern gospel and rock music.

The National Cornbread Festival will include more than 70 arts and craft vendors, a farm-themed children's corner with fun games and inflatables, the best festival concessions, a general store, antique tractors, blacksmith and glass blowing demonstrations, a huge carnival, a musicians' jam tent, along with other events, such as a beauty contest, a classic car show, historic South Pittsburg tours, Lodge Manufacturing tours, a pancake breakfast, SK road race and a Sunday morning church service. For a full schedule go to www.nationalcornbread.com.

Welcome to our good neighbor pharmacy, where you can take a step back in time at our old time soda fountain and enjoy delicious food from our menu while getting your prescription filled. In addition to our soda fountain, we offer a wide selection of gifts for every occasion such as Vera Bradley, Willow Tree, Simply Southern T-shirts, Girlie Girl T-shirts, A cheerful giver candles, and more!

Gessell Fellowship Presentation

Arthur Jones, T'18 will present the Gessell Fellowship Presentation: "Homelessness in Sewanee and Franklin County, Tennessee" at 4:30 p.m., Wednesday, April 26, in the Hargrove Auditorium, The School of Theology. Homelessness is an urgent problem in every city, town, county, and state in America, and the Sewanee and Franklin County areas are no exception. We may not see the homeless, but they are there. What are the factors that cause homelessness in our area? What local support is available to homeless people? Jones will discuss his research on these questions, as well as ideas of ways to bring the leaders of local charities, organizations, and institutions together in an effort to create an interconnected network.

The Gessell Fellowship in Social Ethics, established by John M. "Jack" Gessell in 2006, provides funding for Sewanee students to do an independent research project in social theory or social ethics. The project may be an academic research paper or field experience. For more information, please contact Career and Leadership Development 598-1121.

Wilkinson Lecture On Climate Change

Climate change is the greatest challenge ever faced by human civilization, but there has not been a clear, comprehensive plan to address it until now. Sewanee alumna and Rhodes Scholar Katharine Wilkinson will share the pioneering work of Project Drawdown—a global coalition that has mapped, measured, and modeled the 100 most substantive solutions to global warming. Wilkinson will speak at 5:30 p.m., Thursday, April 27, in Gailor Auditorium.

A book, digital platform, and call to action, Drawdown is a compelling case for what is possible and the essential tool humanity needs to address climate change.

Katharine Wilkinson, D.Phil., is strategist, writer, and speaker whose work aims to explore, amplify, and invigorate action to address climate change. Currently a senior writer at Project Drawdown, Katharine has collaborated with thought leader Paul Hawken and a global team of researchers to produce "Drawdown: The Most Comprehensive Plan Ever Proposed to Reverse Global Warming," which is a book, digital platform, and call to action for humanity. Wilkinson published her first book "Between God & Green" in 2012, based on her doctoral research at the University of Oxford. Her work has been shared widely, including at the Decatur Book Festival and on the campuses of Columbia, Princeton, and Yale. She holds a B.A. in religion from the University of the South.

Grief Recovery Seminar

Folks at Home will host the Grief Recovery Method in collaboration with Compassus Hospice & Palliative Care.

An introduction seminar will take place at noon, Tuesday, April 25, with a lunch provided by Compassus. Please RSVP to Folks at Home (931) 598-0303 or <folksathomesewanee@gmail.com> for the seminar by noon on Monday, April 24.

The eight-session series will begin at 1 p.m. on Tuesday, June 6 and end on August 1 (no session July 4). Each session is about 1.5 hours at the Sewanee Community Center. Whether your loss is from death, divorce or end of a relationship, loss of a career or job, loss of trust, loss of faith, or loss of health/independence, grief is the normal and natural reaction to any loss. The problem is that we have been socialized to believe that these feelings are abnormal or unnatural. Register by Monday, May 22 by calling or emailing Folks at Home.

Sessions of the Grief Recovery Method are free of charge.

Low Country Boil

The Rotary Club of Winchester is having its annual Low Country Boil fundraiser at the Franklin County Country Club on Saturday, April 22. Doors open 5–7 p.m. You may dine in or take out.

Tickets are available from any Rotary Club of Winchester member. The cost is $20 per person, $35 per couple or $60 for a family of four.

Rotary to Host Golf Tourney

The Monteagle Sewanee Rotary Club will host its 29th annual golf tournament on Saturday, April 29, at The Course at Sewanee.

The format will be a three-person scramble, and there will be two tee times, 8 a.m. and 1:30 p.m. The cost is $100 per player, which will include lunch, beverages, cart, use of the driving range, a ditty bag, closest to the pin prizes, door prizes, and a chance to win a car from Russell Barnett with a hole-in-one.

The tournament will feature three paid places in each flight, along with a "Booby Prize" for coming in dead last. To add to the excitement, two three-person teams will play together. To register a team, contact The Course at Sewanee at (931) 598-1104.

Funds raised assist with local youth programs and college scholarships.

Bailey McLean

Jack Simons

McLean and Simons Accepted at Summer Service Academy Programs

St. Andrew's-Sewanee School juniors Bailey McLean and Jack Simons have both been accepted to the Summer Seminar at the U.S. Naval Academy and the Summer Leadership Experience at the U.S. Military Academy (West Point).

The summer programs are intended for high achievers who have completed their junior year in high school. The seminar teaches participants about life at the service academies, including the schools' academics, athletics, and professional training play. The program is intended for students interested in pursuing an appointment to one of the nation's service academies and serving the U.S. as a military officer.

Selection for the programs are based on superior high school performance; demonstrated achievement in athletics and extracurricular activities, especially demonstrating leadership potential in these areas: physical fitness; a positive attitude; self-discipline; and good moral character. There are six applicants for each summer spot.

Bailey is the son of Brian and Beth McLean of Manchester, Tenn. Jack is the son of Rebecca Evangelista of Sewanee, Tenn., and Thomas Mondragon of Edina, Minn.

Summer Enrichment Day Camps at the Knowledge Nook

Gene and Joy Snead are heading up a series of day camps to assist area young people to keep their learning skills sharp while having summer fun. Each camp will feature a famous artist, projects, games and movement.

The week long day camps will be offered during the second, third and fourth weeks in June and July. The camps are 10 a.m.–noon daily. Cost for each camp is $25 per day or $100 for the entire week. Costs include all supplies and materials.

Bugs and Botanicals—June 12–16: Inspired by artist M. C. Escher our Bugs and Botanicals art camp will kick off the Summer Art Camp series. Campers will learn about Escher and make beautiful, graphic tessellations inspired by him.

Freedom—June 26–30: Freedom is the theme of this art camp inspired by artist Jasper Johns. This artist used flags, numbers, and even targets in his art. We will make colorful art with these elements as well.

Me, Myself and I—June 26–30: Artist Frida Kahlo will provide the inspiration for our Me, Myself, and I art camp. This Mexican artist painted her self portrait some 55 times. We are going to use various mediums to create images of ourselves.

Nature—July 10–14: The Nature themed art camp will feature Andy Goldsworthy. He collaborates with Nature to create his unique art. He often lets his art remain in nature so it changes and ultimately disappears. Artists at this camp will use elements from Nature to discover, create and let go.

Circus—July 17–21: The Circus art camp will feature the work of Alexander Calder. He believed art should move and be viewed from all angles. We will use his inspiration to create mobiles and playful Circus characters.

Superheroes—July 24–28: Superheroes is always a very popular art camp. This year's camp will feature artists Stan Lee and Roy Lichtenstein. These two artists used their talent to create some of America's most beloved Superheroes. We will create our own comic strip and use words in an onomatopoeia offering of our own.

For more information email <sneads@edge.net> or call (931) 205-3529.

Summer Activities for All Ages at St. Andrew's-Sewanee School

St. Andrew's-Sewanee School has opened registration for SAS Summer 2017, another exciting season of camps and arts programs.

Athletics day camps this summer include basketball, soccer and all-sports camps. Choir camp returns to the SAS campus for its second year. New offerings include Creative writing camp and an overnight high adventure camp. Information about these camps and online registration are available at <www.sasweb.org/summer>.

Adults attend Shakerag Workshops, two one-week residential arts classes beginning in June that welcome instructors and participants from across the country and around the world.

The school will also be offering an academic residential program for middle school and high school English Language Learners (ELL). For more information about this program, contact Director of Admissions Anneke Skidmore <askidmore@sasweb.org>.

AT THE MOVIES

SEWANEE UNION THEATRE
Friday–Sunday, April 21–23, 7:30 p.m.
The Lego Batman Movie
 PG • 129 minutes

Will Arnett voices the moody caped crusader, in this plastic brick re-imagination of the DC Batman Universe. Perhaps traumatized by the early loss of his parents, Lego Batman establishes in a series of comically apathetic feats of heroism, that he doesn't have the need to rely on anyone but himself. The irony of a character reluctant to stick with his friends in a world of plastic bricks that literally stick together is not lost on the writers. In fact the movie explores the age old question of how many puns is simply too many. Nevertheless, this film is sure to bring a laugh as Batman and his friends unite in an epic gag filled battle against the most infamous villains of the sci-fi and fantasy universes. Rather than hinder the script, the forming and reforming Lego architecture the characters inhabit rolls with the action and is sure to impress.

CINEMA GUILD
Wednesday, April 26, 7:30 p.m.
How to Train Your Dragon (2010)
 PG • 98 minutes

Hiccup (Jay Baruchel) is a Norse teenager from the island of Berk, where fighting dragons is a way of life. His progressive views and weird sense of humor make him a misfit, despite the fact that his father (Gerard Butler) is chief of the clan. Tossed into dragon-fighting school, he endeavors to prove himself as a true Viking, but when he befriends an injured dragon he names Toothless, he has the chance to plot a new course for his people's future.

SEWANEE UNION THEATRE
Thursday–Sunday, April 27–30, 7:30 p.m.
Split
 PG-13 • 117 minutes

True to form, M. Night Shyamalan keeps one guessing in the new suspense thriller "Split." James McAvoy stars as a captor with numerous split personalities. The movie kicks off when three teenage girls find themselves in a windowless room with the shave-headed McAvoy and his many characters as the door keepers. In contrast to the heavy use of special effects in Shyamalan's previous mega budget films, the constrained space of this film relies heavily on the delivery of the lunatic lead. Apparently tired of playing the stale handsome white boy, McAvoy absolutely delivers. The movie derives some of its most thrilling moments from his masterfully slight changes in expression. The intimate and steady handed camera work allows McAvoy's character to consume the screen and mock our shakes of fear and anticipation.

'Common Threads' 2017 Senior Art Major Exhibition

The University Art Gallery proudly presents "Common Threads," an exhibition of work by the University of the South's graduating senior art majors: Elizabeth Bleynt, Catherine Estes, Douglas Fout, Mary Margaret Johnson, Mary Perez and MaryBeth Yancey. "Common Threads" will open today (Friday), April 21 at 4:30 p.m. with a reception and brief remarks. The artists will present their work formally on April 28, beginning at 9 a.m., in Convocation Hall. The show will continue through May 13.

With works created in diverse media, including analog and digital photography, painting, and traditional fabric craft, "Common Threads" pursues understanding of difference and the reconciliation of conflicting ideas and spheres.

The University Art Gallery is located on Georgia Ave. The gallery is free, accessible and open to the public. Hours are 10 a.m.–5 p.m., Tuesday through Friday and noon–4 p.m. on Saturday and Sunday. For more information go to <gallery.sewanee.edu>.

'Space and Place' Events

"A Sense of Space and Place: Global and Local Perspectives" second annual interdisciplinary conference continues April 25.

On Tuesday, April 25, Lucia García-Santana will deliver the lecture "My Place is the Space in my Suitcase: Reflections on Galician Cultural Heritage in Argentina" at noon at McClurg Dining Hall, Room 206.

On Tuesday, April 25, there will be a free screening of the documentary "Fire at Sea," at Gailor Auditorium at 4:30 p.m. A discussion moderated by Abby Colbert, Mila Dragojevic and Lucia García-Santana will follow.

The conference and associated events have been co-organized by the Mellon Globalization Forum, International and Global Studies Program, Office of Global Citizenship, and Sewanee Writers' Conference.

Sewanee Folk Music Collective Spring Concert

Sewanee Folk Music Collective will present a spring concert at 6:30 p.m., Wednesday, May 3, in St. Luke's Chapel.

Come hear a mix of folk music styles including Klezmer, Celtic, French, Cajun and Highlander Folk School music.

The SFMC is made up of students, faculty and members of the Sewanee community and is directed by James Carlson from the University of the South Music Department.

Performers include:

SSMF Offers Pre-Season Ticket Sales

The 61st annual Sewanee Summer Music Festival (SSMF) will begin on Saturday, June 17, with nearly 200 students arriving for four weeks of instrumental lessons, classes and performance opportunities. Students from across the country and around the world participate in the festival.

As incentive to attend multiple concerts, SSMF is offering a limited-time opportunity to purchase a season ticket for only $70. Season tickets are available from April 20 through May 10; after May 10, the price will be $90. Tickets may be purchased through the website <ssmf.sewanee.edu>, or by check made out to SSMF and mailed to 735 University Ave., Sewanee, TN 37383. SSMF is unable to accept orders placed by email or phone.

Admission to a total of 12 concerts is included in the price of the season ticket. The concerts include seven Faculty Chamber Music Concerts, four Sunday afternoon orchestra concerts, and the Jacqueline Avenet Concerto Competition. Individual tickets may be purchased in advance for $15 each or $20 at the door.

Art on the Rise at SAS

St. Andrew's-Sewanee School welcomes the community to the annual spring celebration of the arts. The SAS Art Department is hosting Art on the Rise: A Celebration of Young Artists. Art on the Rise includes a month-long exhibition of student works, and a culminating day of public workshops, public address and a reception on Saturday, April 22.

This year's exhibition features paintings, photos, hand-made books, ceramics and multi-media works created by students from five area schools. The show was juried by artist and educator, Jessica Wohl. Wohl will offer a public lecture in McCrory Hall on the SAS campus at 9 a.m., Saturday, April 22.

After Wohl's talk, the celebration will continue with an array of one-day public workshops. This year's workshops include: a collage workshop with Jessica Wohl; a giant sand-sculpture workshop with James Shin and the Sand Squirrels; a plein air painting workshop with Cheryl Lankhaar, and a natural block-printing workshop with Sabeth Jackson. The workshops are from 10:30 a.m.-3 p.m. Following the workshops, there will be a public reception from 3-4 p.m. in the SAS Art Gallery in the Simmonds Building on the SAS campus.

The fee for the workshops is $15, which includes lunch and materials. There are scholarships available for art educators for the workshops. Participants can register online at <www.sasweb.org/art-on-the-rise> or by emailing their request to Julie Jones at <sasgallery@sasweb.org>.

Singing and Dancing Your Way Up the Corporate Ladder

The Broadway musical "How to Succeed in Business without Really Trying" is a fun trip back to the 1960s, with jazzy songs, sharp dialogue, and dancing galore. First National Bank of Manchester is sponsoring the Millennium Repertory Company production at the Manchester Arts Center, 128 E. Main St. Performances are April 21-30, Friday and Saturday at 7:30 p.m. and Sunday at 2 p.m.

Danelle Afflerbaugh of Duck River Dance in Manchester directs and choreographs the show. She says, "Audiences can expect to tap their toes during the show and leave laughing," Afflerbaugh says she especially enjoys highlighting the male cast members in this production with song and dance.

The show, which won seven Tony Awards in 1962, including Best Musical, tells the story of J. Pierrepont Finch (played by Landon Spangler) and his topsy-turvy rise from window washer to chairman of the board as he follows a satirical book of instructions. Along the way, Finch falls for Rosemary Pilkington, a secretary (played by Amanda Nellie Jean Wright) who dreams of nuptials as she sings "Happy to Keep His Dinner Warm."

Afflerbaugh declares that "theatre goers will be treated to a silly production filled with talented cast members and familiar faces, some of whom you'll see dancing on tables." Tickets for the production are $15 for adults, $13 for students, seniors, and military, and may be purchased online at <millenniumrep.org> or by leaving a message at (931) 570-4489.

Audiences are warned that the show contains language and some comical situations that may be unsuitable for some audiences.

Veasey Featured at Meet the Author Night

Humor writer Karen Veasey will be the featured author at Meet the Author Night on Monday, April 24, at Decherd Presbyterian Church, 4th and Broad streets in Decherd. The event begins at 7 p.m. The author says that she, like many others, grew up during the 1960's, 1970's and 1980's watching a variety of great situation comedies on television. One thing all these shows had in common was that each episode always concluded with a lesson the viewer should have learned from the events of that thirty minute show. The lessons the author learned were not usually the lessons intended by the shows' writers. Because her deductions often differed from others, Veasey has written a collection of funny, true stories and strange lessons she learned from this funny reality sitcom called "Life."

Veasey is employed in the Human Resources department at Motlow College and is a life-long resident of this area. Her book "Lessons Learned From a Sit-Com Life" has been well received both locally and over a wider area. Veasey will discuss her book, share some of the amusing "lessons" she learned, and will respond to questions from the audience. Following her presentation her books will be available for purchase for $10 and the author will sign copies.

Meet The Author is a quarterly event sponsored by Decherd Presbyterian Church. The purpose of the evening is to introduce a local audience to local authors. The event is free of charge and is held in the Parish Hall at the church. All are welcome.

SAS Middle School Track Athletes Set Personal Bests

The Saint Andrew's-Sewanee middle school track team traveled to Baylor School in Chattanooga on April 6 to compete in the first away meet of the season.

Several SAS athletes set new personal bests and school records, including Elijah Seavey who finished first in the mile with a school record of 5 minutes, 48.0 seconds. Sarah Grace Burns had a strong performance running the 100-meter hurdles in 19.60 seconds and the 400m in 1:08.80, setting school and personal records in each event.

Curtis Gill also set a school record in the 200m dash with a time of 27.77. Other standout performances included Hannah Warmbrod who passed eight other runners in the second lap of the 800m to take fourth place for SAS; Riley Burnette set personal bests in the 100 hurdles and 200m dash; and Shy Cleek set personal bests in both the 100m and 200m dash.

"It was a great day for many of our athletes. We are proud to see new school records set by this group and thank you to Baylor for hosting a great meet," said coach Jake Miller.

SAS middle will compete next at home on April 27.

Women's Soccer to Host Summer ID Camp

The Sewanee women's soccer team and head coach Patrick Johnston have announced the Tigers will host its annual elite prospect ID camp, July 9–12.

The camp is limited to 35 participants.

"This is definitely the No. 1 way I find my players and they discover the wonderful atmosphere Sewanee has to offer," Johnston said.

Check-in will be July 9 from 1–2 p.m. and an admissions tour will be provided for any interested recruits and their families after check-in. The camp will conclude on July 12 at 11 a.m. There will be a shuttle provided to and from the Nashville Airport. The cost of camp is $495.

To register visit <sewaneetigers.com/sports/wsoc/2016-17/Summercamp>.

SAS Tennis Challenges Warren, Donelson and Notre Dame

The St. Andrew's-Sewanee varsity tennis teams saw a busy three days of action recently.

Both the girls' and boys' team hosted Warren County High School on April 13, with each team winning 6–1.

On the girls' side, SAS posted victories from their No.1–4 singles players: Ester Yang, Tessa Shackelford, Bea Jaenicke Gonzalez and Anna Post.

The No. 1 doubles team of Yang/Shackelford and the No. 2 doubles team of Jaenicke Gonzalez/Post also won.

For the boys, No. 1 Aubrey Black, No. 3 Zhang Zhang, and No. 5 Tim Nelson easily won their matches. Nathan King also pulled out a tough, close match at No. 4 singles.

The No.1 boys' doubles match was also tight. Black and Fritz Stine were down early but fought back to win 8–6. Zhang and King at No.2 doubles won 8–3.

The SAS varsity girls' tennis team hosted Donelson Christian Academy on April 11. The girls avenged last year's loss by defeating DCA 7–0. Yang, Shackelford, Jaenicke Gonzalez, Anna Post and Jenna Black all earned singles wins.

Jaenicke Gonzalez had a close match and fought hard to win in a tie-breaker. Yang/Shackelford as well as Jaenicke Gonzalez/Post added doubles wins.

On April 12, the varsity boys' and girls' teams played Notre Dame at SAS. For the girls, Yang had the only singles victory, but all played hard, and Shackelford and Post both had close matches.

The girls split the doubles matches with Yang/Shackelford winning a close one 9–7. The boys ran into tough competition and lost the match 7–0. The SAS boys played each point with great effort and represented the school well, coaches said.

The boys' team record stands at 1–2, while the girls' record is 3–1.

Ester Yang of SAS.

Middle School Soccer Team Shuts Out Webb

The St. Andrew's-Sewanee middle school boys' soccer team blanked The Webb School on April 12 at Webb, 3–0.

Porter Neubauer scored two goals, Sean Willis scored one and classmate Myers Gorrell earned an assist.

The team closed out the regular season with a record of 6–1–2, which is the best regular season record since 2007. The Mountain Lions move into tournament play on April 21 at Westwood Middle School.

Tigers Win Five Events in Track

Led by wins from Kelsie Schiavone, Logan Stockton, Miles Martin, and Ridge Davis, the Sewanee track and field teams finished third on April 14 at the annual Sewanee Mountain Laurel Invitational.

In addition to the individual wins, the Tiger women's 4X400 relay team of Schiavone, Haley Lyerly, L'Or Puymartin and Meredith Stuber also earned first with a time of 4 minutes, 25.19 seconds.

Along with the victories, Puymartin broke the school record for the women's 3000-meter steeplechase with a new time of 12:01.72.

As a team, Sewanee finished third in the men's competition ahead of rivals Oglethorpe, Millsaps, Emory, North Alabama and Berry. On the women's side, Sewanee topped Millsaps, Reinhardt, North Alabama, Oglethorpe and Berry. Overall, Sewanee had 14 top-five finishes.

Schiavone won her event, the women's 400 meter, in a time of 1:01.30. Teammate Adriana Hibarra was

Men's Tennis Squad Downs Rhodes to Close Season

The No. 18-ranked Sewanee men's tennis team closed out its regular season at home on April 15 with a 6-3 win over Rhodes College.

The Tigers head into the postseason as the Southern Athletic Association regular season champion for the fifth straight year.

The Tigers opened by winning two out of three doubles matches. At No. 1, Jack Gray and Alejandro Becker continued their great season with an 8-4 victory over Vacheron and Oliver. Andres Carro and Jordan Brewer earned the other win with an 8-3 triumph over Morton and Hogan at No. 2.

In singles, Avery Schober pushed the Tigers' lead to 3-1 with a key 6-3, 6-1 win at No. 1 against Vacheron.

Sewanee's Jordan Brewer then defeated Hogan at No. 5, 6-1, 6-4, while Gray outlasted Morton at No. 3, 6-4, 7-5.

The final Tiger win came from Scott Gallimore at No. 6. The Tiger senior lost the first set 6-2 but rallied back in the second for a 6-4 win. Then in the third set tiebreaker, Gallimore closed out Shaw, 10-8.

Rhodes earned wins at No. 2 and No. 4 singles, as well as No. 3 doubles.

fourth in the same race at 1:07.68.

In the men's 3000 meters, Stockton took first place with a time of 8:48.48. That was just ahead of teammate Mark McAlister (9:07.75), who finished sixth. Overall, four Tigers finished in the top 20.

Martin won his event, the men's 110-meter hurdles, in a quick time of 17.81 seconds. Additionally, Davis Couch finished second in the men's 400-meter hurdles and sixth in the 400 meter. Jourdan Redden finished third in the men's 3000-meter steeplechase with a time of 10:39.12.

In the field events, Davis won the men's javelin with a throw of 52.49 meters.

Sewanee Falls Against Rhodes in Lacrosse Finale

In a game of runs and momentum, the Sewanee women's lacrosse team lost the regular season finale on April 15 against Southern Athletic Association regular season champion Rhodes, 17-11.

The Tigers finished their regular season with a 13-4 record and finished second in the Southern Athletic Association. Sewanee could not have gotten off to a better start in the home match. After winning the opening draw, Catherine Crigler scored for the Tigers. After another Sewanee win at midfield, Molly Elkins scored, which pushed the Tiger lead to 2-0.

Rhodes got on the scoreboard when Ashley Doyle ripped a low shot in after she intercepted a pass on a clear attempt. Sewanee answered back when Grace Zechman scored off a pass from Kelly Thomsen.

After two straight goals by Rhodes, Brooke Winfield scored off a great pass from Anna Comer. Unfortunately, the Lynx responded with four goals.

Sewanee closed the half with back-to-back goals from Kit Sommi.

Rhodes answered back to start the final 30 minutes. The Lynx pushed their advantage to five after three straight goals. Sewanee responded with another goal by Sommi, which sparked a 3-0 Tiger run and pulled Sewanee to within three, 11-8. Unfortunately, Rhodes took control over the next seven minutes.

Overall, Sewanee was undone by 31 turnovers and a 14-of-23 effort on clears. Brianna Young played well for Sewanee with 10 saves. Crigler and Sommi led the offense with three goals each.

Tigers Handle Hendrix in Lacrosse

A big second half led the Sewanee men's lacrosse team to a 14-6 win at Hendrix on April 16.

The Tigers closed the regular season with an 8-6 record and enter the SAA Tournament as the No. 2 seed.

Kip McGuire led the offense with three goals, nine shots and two groundballs.

In the circle, Cason Liles finished 8-of-12, while Ryan Stubits went 9-for-11.

In net, Selby Austin and Tal Wharton combined for 14 saves.

Women's Tennis Team Sweeps Lynx

The No. 16-ranked Sewanee women's tennis team closed out its regular season with a 9-0 sweep of Rhodes on April 15.

The Southern Athletic Association regular season champion Tigers wrapped up their season with a 16-5 record. Sewanee has won 10 out of its last 11 matches.

In doubles, Sewanee won both its matches by 8-0 scores. Clementina Davila and Darby Duval defeated Doherty and Arnold, while Taylor Sprouse and Sara Thompson topped About and McDonald by the same score. Sewanee also won by default at No. 3 doubles.

In singles, Christina Merchant won at No. 1 against Doherty, 6-2, 6-2. Crumbliss then topped Arnold at No. 2, 6-3, 6-1.

After Meredith Heitland swept Abbott at No. 3, 6-0, 6-0, Abbie Vaughn rolled over McDonald at No. 4, 6-4, 6-2. Finally, Maura McCrary defeated Mullen at No. 5, 6-1, 6-2.

Pierson Resigns from Sewanee

Sewanee men's basketball coach Bradley Pierson, C'09, recently resigned to accept the head coaching position at his high school alma mater, the Darlington School, in Rome, Ga.

The announcement comes after Sewanee finished 15-12 under Pierson in 2016-17. Pierson finished with the most wins as a first-year head coach in program history.

Prior to being named the 22nd head coach for the Tigers on April 8, 2016, Pierson served an assistant coach, lead recruiting coordinator, and basketball strength and conditioning coach at Sewanee from 2012-2016.

Southern Adder's Tongue

Strolling Through Abbo's Alley

You never know what you are going to find in Abbo's Alley! Strolling through on Holy Thursday, I came across a patch of Southern Adder's-Tongue fern, which I haven't seen there before. It is an unusual-looking fern, with one small, undivided sterile frond and a narrow "tongue" bearing the spores rising from the base of the frond. Not necessarily uncommon, just inconspicuous.

Then, I watched for quite a while at close quarters a thrush with a spotted breast, perching on low branches and occasionally flicking its tail. Alas, I did not have binoculars with me, but the tail-flicking leads me to believe it was a hermit thrush, maybe on its way north to its summer range (the Yeatmans would have known for sure).

Much easier to identify was the pair of pileated woodpeckers that swooped in close by and started foraging in the down, dead wood, perhaps for carpenter ants, a favorite food. They are such handsome, striking birds, no matter how often one sees them. And, isn't it interesting that some of the larger animals feed on such small prey (think blue whales and krill)?

Our native Virginia bluebells were still in bloom, along with the garden-cultivated common or English bluebells. The swath of blue-purple in the lawn by the gazebo was the non-native Japanese Mazus, with an unusual and lovely flower, nonetheless.

As a final treat, the silverbells near the turnoff to Tremlett Spring were in full bloom.

Ricky

Jeremy

Pets of the Week

Meet Ricky & Jeremy

Animal Harbor offers these two delightful pets for adoption.

Charming, vigilant, and a constant companion are just a few words to describe Ricky. He is a young adult Shepherd mix who loves to go for walks and play, and especially loves attention. Ricky is heartworm-negative, up-to-date on shots and neutered.

Jeremy is a talkative, handsome guy who will always be a kitten at heart. He is very playful and incredibly affectionate, and he never turns down a belly rub. Jeremy is a very special kitty due to an unfortunate incident that has left him needing a little extra attention using his litter box. He is negative for FIV/FeLV, up-to-date on shots and neutered.

Animal Harbor offers substantial adoption fee discounts for veterans and seniors. Every Friday is Black Friday at Animal Harbor. On Fridays, adoption fees will be reduced 50 percent for black or mostly black pets more than 4 months old who have been at Animal Harbor for more than a month. Pets adopted from Animal Harbor qualify for a free post-adoption wellness exam by local veterinarians.

Animal Harbor is located at 56 Nor-Nan Road, off AEDC Road, in Winchester. Call Animal Harbor at 962-4472 for information and check out the other pets at <www.animalharbor.org>. Enter the drawing on this site for a free spay or neuter for one of your pets. Help Animal Harbor continue to save abandoned pets by sending donations to Animal Harbor, P.O. Box 187, Winchester, TN 37398.

Herbarium Spring Events

Shakerag Hollow—1 p.m., Saturday, April 22, with Jon Evans. Celebrate Earth Day with a walk among the abundant and diverse spring wildflowers of this partly old-growth forest area.

For all walks, meet at the Green's View parking lot (past the golf course). 2 miles, moderate to strenuous, with one fairly challenging incline.

Garlic Mustard Pull—2–5 p.m., Tuesday, April 25, Office of Environmental Stewardship and Sustainability-sponsored activity. Join in the annual campaign to control this invasive exotic plant that is threatening to take over some sensitive areas of our forest. It is easy to pull (even good to eat when young and tender!). No equipment is necessary but work gloves would be a good idea. Meet at Morgan's Steep. Come when you can and work as little or as long as you wish.

Piney Point—1 p.m., Saturday, April 29, with Yolande Gottfried.

The community of plants that grows on the sandstone outcrops along the trail to Piney Point, including the rare elf orpine, is a special one. This moderate one-to-two hour walk begins at the tennis courts at St. Andrew's-Sewanee School (beyond the football field).

Nature Journaling—A nature journaling group, sponsored by the Herbarium, meets Thursdays, 9–11 a.m. in the Herbarium. Participants share observations and writing, and sketch plants or other natural objects. Everyone is welcome. For more information contact Mary Priestley at <marypriestley@bellsouth.net>.

Planned TVA Outage Scheduled for Sherwood and Anderson Communities of Franklin Co.

The Tennessee Valley Authority (TVA) has scheduled a power outage for DREMC members living in the communities of Sherwood and Anderson of Franklin County.

The outage is scheduled for Saturday, April 22, from 6:00 a.m. until approximately noon.

This outage is necessary for TVA to replace several bad poles. This outage will affect all consumers in the Sherwood and Anderson area but will not affect consumers in Sewanee, Cowan and Sinking Cove. In the event of inclement weather, the outage will be rescheduled for April 29.

Duck River Electric appreciates the cooperation and understanding of its members during this planned outage as we strive to improve the reliability of the electric system.

Earth Day, Saturday, April 22

Spring was moving in the air above and in the earth below and around him, penetrating even his dark and lowly little house with its spirit of divine discontentment and longing. It was a small wonder, then that he suddenly flung down his brush on the floor, said, “Bother” and “O blow!” and also “Hangspring-cleaning” and bolted out of the house without even waiting to put on his coat...
