Priestley's Children's Book to Debut at Trails & Trilliums

Mary Patten Priestley has just published "William's Wildflowers," a children's book narrated by a honeybee named "Bea." Priestley is curator of the Sewanee Herbarium and president of the Friends of South Cumberland. The book will be highlighted during Trails & Trilliums on Saturday, April 16, at the Monteagle Sunday School Assembly, when Priestley will lead a "William's Wildflower Walk" and have an outdoor reading during lunch. Attendees will have a chance to purchase the book and have it autographed.

"William's Wildflowers" is a great children's book. It covers everything from the diversity of wildflowers found in our region to the adaptations between wildflowers and their pollinators. This book is the inspiration for a new wildflower field class that the Chattanooga Nature Center will be offering to schoolchildren this spring," said Kyle Waggener, director of education at the Nature Center.

A new bee exhibit at the Creative Discovery Museum is planned for this summer to coordinate with the book's publication. "William's Wildflowers" is endorsed by the Tennessee Native Plant Society and the Tennessee Valley Beekeepers Association.

The botanical paintings by the late Chattanooga architect William Crutchfield illustrate "William's Wildflowers." Crutchfield completed 460 watercolor paintings of wildflowers, about 50 of which are used in the book.

"My father dreamed of using his watercolors to illustrate a book. I know he would be pleased to see them in this delightful little publication," said his son, William (Bill) Crutchfield Jr.

Crutchfield paintings will also be on display during Trails & Trilliums, and prints will be available for purchase individually or in a portfolio created by Eunice Colmore.

The connection between Mary Priestley and Bill Crutchfield was made during Trails & Trilliums in 2008, when Crutchfield's paintings were on display.

"Meeting Bill and learning that he wanted to find a way to publish some of his father's paintings was the inspiration for the project," Priestley said. "So it is especially great for Bill and me to introduce the book to a new generation of youngsters during the family fun activities we have planned."

Publication of "William's Wildflowers" was made possible by grants from the Lyndhurst Foundation and the Community Foundation of Greater Chattanooga. The grants also provide for related exhibits and educational programs at the Creative Discovery Museum and Chattanooga Nature Center. The book will be used in pilot programs this spring, and in 2012 every fourth-grader in Hamilton County will receive a copy. The Friends of South Cumberland is working to spread the book into schools on the Mountain and in other areas of the state.

Easter Egg Hunt at South Cumberland State Park

The 30th annual South Cumberland State Park Easter Egg Hunt will be held at 10 a.m., Saturday, April 9, at the Visitor Center on Highway 41A in Monteagle. Park manager John Christof and interpretive specialist Jason Reynolds will be joint Masters of Ceremonies.

This event, for children walking age and up, will have five categories, with four prizes awarded in each group to children finding the prize eggs. There will be no "most eggs found" competition. Adults will only be allowed to assist toddler hunters in the "walking to age 2" group.

Because the children will be excited and anxious, extra caution should be taken when driving through the park. Please follow parking attendants' directions. Because spaces are limited, guests should try to carpool and plan to arrive between 9 and 9:30 a.m., and proceed to the ball field for instructions.

In case of rain, the program will be rescheduled for 1 p.m. on Sunday, April 10. The Tracy City/Grundy County Rescue Squad will help with hiding eggs and traffic control. The Friends of South Cumberland State Recreation Area sponsors this event.

4th of July Meeting April 14

The 4th of July planning group will meet at 6:30 p.m., Thursday, April 14, at the home of Louise Irwin, 55 Bob Stewman Road, Sewanee.

The group picked a theme for 2011: "25 Years Celebrating the 4th."

Chairpersons are needed for many of the favorite activities of this celebration including publicity, street dance, children's games, banner carriers, street marshals and other tasks.

If you cannot attend the meeting but would like to help, please call Irwin at 598-5864.

Spring Concerts and Recitals this Weekend

Perpetual Motion Dance Program Tonight and Saturday

Sewanee's annual Perpetual Motion dance performances continue at 7 p.m., tonight (Friday) and Saturday, April 9, at Guerry Auditorium. This year will feature a variety of dance—in fact, more than two dozen dances choreographed and performed by students from the College and the community. The public is invited, and the performances are free. The program will also raise funds for the victims of the tsunami in Japan, with donations accepted at the door.

Perpetual Motion is a performing dance company begun in 1989 and designed to give students an opportunity to perform for the Sewanee community the many forms and styles of dance. Area dancers join Sewanee students in the dance company. After the inaugural Perpetual Motion performance of 1989, Dean "Red" Lancaster called it a "celebration of life." After more than 20 years, Perpetual Motion maintains a certain magical quality.

Sewanee Dance Conservatory Recital Saturday

The Sewanee Dance Conservatory will present its spring recital at 1 p.m., Saturday, April 9, at Guerry Auditorium. Dancers from ages 4 to 18 will be performing ballet, tap, jazz and other dance styles.

David Herriott is the director of the Sewanee Dance Conservatory. This year, he is assisted by student-teachers Chelsey Barry, Megan Burnham, Virginia Flowers, Kristin Hanson, Callie Holloway, Houston Johnson and Emma Kingsley.

Technical support for the recital is provided by Abram Jones, John Marshall and Andy Philpo.

St. Andrew's-Sewanee School Spring Concert Wednesday

The St. Andrew's-Sewanee School middle school and upper school choirs, the SAS Ensemble and the Chamber Orchestra will offer a Spring Concert at 7 p.m., Wednesday, April 13, in McCrory Hall for the Performing Arts. The choirs will perform a variety of folk tunes, popular music and Broadway classics under the direction of Katherine Anderson.

University Choir Spring Concert Thursday

The University Choir, with orchestra and soloists, will present its annual spring concert at 7:30 p.m., Thursday, April 14, in All Saints' Chapel. The program, under the direction of Robert Delcamp, professor of music and University organist, is titled "A Trio of Americans" and will include the "Prelude and Allegro" for organ and strings by Walter Piston, visiting assistant professor of music James Carlson's "Three Psalms" and the evocative "Requiem" by Mack Wilberg. Soloists are assistant University organist Jason Farris, soprano Susan Rupert and baritone Jonathan Carle. The program is free and open to the public.

EDIBLE BOOKS A BIG SUCCESS

To the Editor:

On behalf of the Exhibits Committee of duPont Library, I want to thank all the people who helped make the Edible Books event a fun, foolish and tasty party. Sue Armentrout, Leila Donn, Deon Miles and Tyler Cooney were the clever judges who juggled categories with excellent results. The prizes for the contest were gift certificates generously provided by Crust Pizza, Julia's, Shenanigans, Stirling's and Sweet CeCe's.

We are looking forward to next year when April Fool's Day will fall on a Sunday, so we will have Edible Books on April 2.

LOCAL BAND ASKS FOR HELP TO PLAY AT BONNAROO

To the Editor:

This is a call out to everyone who loves and supports this community. Sewanee is the home of an indie, rock band known as The Culprits. The band is made up of Nick Evans, Will Evans and Zach Blount, and we need your help!

The Culprits are in the running to get a performance slot at Bonnaroo 2011, the largest musical festival around. Bonnaroo will book two of eight top vote-getters in the "Road to Roo" contest to play the festival. As we write this, we are in 5th place!

You can vote by downloading our single "She Loves the Beat" for free! Go to <www.theculpritsmusic.com> and follow the link on the first page. In order to vote, you must have a Facebook account. The contest ends April 15. In addition to the free song, you'll also have the chance to win Bonnaroo tickets.

You can also help by spreading the word to vote to friends, family, and anyone who loves Sewanee and music!

This would be a huge opportunity for us. We would have the chance to play alongside nationally touring acts to a huge crowd of potential fans, a dream gig!

Thank you to all who have already voted, and continue to spread the music! Having all grown up here, we are so thankful for everything this community has given us. We love you all.

SOMEONE, PLEASE NAME NEW PARK IN SEWANEE

To the Editor:

Do you know me? You pass me every time you go to the downtown village. You pass me on your bikes, your cars and when you walk your dog. I see you going into the Blue Chair, Julia's, Sweet Cece's and the rest of the merchants. Your kids have played on me. Do you see me? Have you even noticed me?

I have a new stone sign and a concrete pad is poured for my new pavilion. Everyone in town will enjoy the music that will be played here. There's even a music festival planned for me on Saturday, May 7.

But there's one thing I don't have: A name!

Do you know what it is like to have no name? I've been called the vacant lot between the Lemon Fair and American Legion for such a long time that I'm starting to get a complex. Can someone please find a name for me? I'd personally like MacArthur Park, but I'd be afraid of someone leaving their cake out in the rain.

You can name me. Go to <www.sewanee.biz>. If your entry is chosen, I'll reward you with a personalized brick with your name on it that will be here for all to see.

My new name will be announced at the May festival, and my stone will no longer be blank. Can life get any parkier than that?

PUBLIC AND PRIVATE UNIONS DIFFERENT

To the Editor:

The recent letter intimating that restriction of public employee unions will lead to some form of a second Holocaust was an obvious attempt at squelching discussion and an insult to all those affected by the Holocaust or any other genocide. Perhaps the writer doesn't realize that when Herr Niemoller wrote "They came for the Jews," Niemoller didn't mean the Nazis came for the Jews' 3 percent cost of living increase. He meant they took them away and killed them. It is also worth noting that the Nazis took away those people who wouldn't surrender their registered firearms when it was confiscation time.

There is a big difference between the negotiations by our government with public unions and a company bargaining with its own employees. That difference is costing the states (i.e., all taxpayers) dearly.

From my side of the fence, I see our U.S. government borrowing $4 billion a day and printing $600 billion to loan to itself. I see children who won't have the opportunities we've had. I see foolish charity with other people's money.

Luckily, I also see a wonderful country that can still thrive, but only if we grow up.

THANKS TO SENIOR CENTER HELPERS

To the Editor:

The Sewanee Senior Center is very grateful to all the volunteers who contribute daily in the fulfillment of our mission. Thanks to our drivers who deliver meals: Drew Sampson, Glen Swygart, Bill Keller and Bob and Karen Keele; to our dishwashers: Chris Colane, Dorothy Griggs, Bambi Dunlap, Ann Oliver and Norm Davis; and to our prep persons who work with the cook: Connie Kelley, Shirley Lawson, Bambi Dunlap, Rachel Suarez and Irene Hamer. We couldn't do it without you!

Director, Sewanee Senior Center ■

BUSINESS COSTS PROHIBITIVE

To the Editor:

We are writing this letter so it might help people understand why this plateau does not live or want to live up to its potential. We're not saying it should become a huge metropolis. We did not come here as strangers. We lived in Sewanee in the 1960s while our father went to seminary. It was a fun place for kids to roam and ride bikes, but even then, there were not enough things to do.

We came up here to start a business that we knew had great potential, but when the overhead (mostly rent and utilities) overran us, there was nothing else to do but close. We have had so many of you say how great our food was. Our customer base was

Meetings This Week

American Legion Meets Saturday

American Legion Post 51 will hold its regular monthly meeting at 9 a.m., Saturday, April 9, in the Legion Hall on University Avenue in Sewanee.

McKee at Woman's Club Monday

The Sewanee Woman's Club will meet on Monday, April 11, at St. Mary's Sewanee, located at 770 St. Mary's Lane. The social hour will begin at 11:30 a.m., with lunch served at noon. William McKee, a professor at Cumberland University, will speak on "Ten Tennesseans We Probably Know Nothing About, But Should." Annual membership dues are $5, and lunches are $13. Revenues from the annual fund-raiser and dues are used to support community projects. The Sewanee Woman's Club also sponsors the Book Club and the Garden Club.

Pate at EQB Club Tuesday

The members of the EQB Club welcome Marvin Pate, director of sustainability at the University, who will give a lecture on "Sustainability and Sewanee" at 3:30 p.m., Tuesday, April 12, in the Hearth Room of the Sewanee Inn. Pate's role in this job is to coordinate the growing number of initiatives at the University to make both the campus and the broader Sewanee community environmentally friendly. Nonmembers are welcome. Light refreshments will be served after the talk.

Masons Meet Monday Night

The Summit Masonic Lodge #497 F&AM, a member of the Sewanee community since 1878, meets every second Monday of the month. The next meeting will be held at 7:30 p.m., Monday, April 11, at the Lodge Hall. For more information call Brian Masters at (931) 924-3389 or Joe Milner Sr. at 598-0711.

Sewanee Review Hosts Open House on April 26

The Sewanee Review will host an open house and series of readings at 8 p.m., Tuesday, April 26, in the McGriff Alumni House. Reading selections are still being made, but will include Jay Parini's "A Short Address to the Academy of Silence," Peter Makuck's "Trapping in Foreign Country," verse by David Mason and Robert S. Lancaster, and nonfiction by Wendell Berry.

Robert Benson, a contributor of essays, reviews and verse to the Sewanee Review will read his poem "Spring Rattler," published in the winter 2011 issue. Tennessee Williams Center playwright-in-residence David Roby will perform a selection from one of the dramas published in the Review, and professors Pamela Macfie, George Poe and Bran Potter will read some of their favorite works.

Guests will be eligible to win three DVDs of films based on literary works: Robert Rossen's "All the King's Men," which won the Academy Award for Best Picture in 1950; John Huston's "Wise Blood," based on the novel by Flannery O'Connor, the first chapter of which was originally published by the Sewanee Review under the title "The Train"; and Todd Field's Oscar-nominated "In the Bedroom," inspired by Andre Dubus' story "Killings," originally published by the Review in 1979. Catering will be provided by Julia's.

Diplomat to Speak on World Challenges from the U.N. Perspective

Diplomat Douglas Broderick will visit the University of the South campus, Sunday-Wednesday, April 10-13, and give a lecture, "Major World Challenges and Issues: The UN Perspective," at 4:30 p.m., Monday, April 11, in Gailor Auditorium.

Broderick's 28-year career in international development, primarily with the United Nations in Southeast Asia and China, has encompassed sensitive diplomacy, directing emergency response to catastrophic events and synthesizing the work of diverse agencies to safeguard people and resources. He is currently the U.N. Development Program resident representative in Phnom Penh, Cambodia, the highest ranking U.N. official in that country.

The lecture is sponsored by the University Lectures Committee, the Kennedy-Owen Lecture Series, Babson Center for Global Commerce, the Office of Career and Leadership Development, and the Social Entrepreneurship Education Program.

While on campus, Broderick will speak to students about careers at the U.N., teach classes and meet with students informally, including students participating in an eight-week social entrepreneurship and microfinance immersion program at Sewanee. This program has three components: a summer study-abroad program in Bangladesh and India/Thailand; a four-week internship at the Grameen Bank in Bangladesh or a finance/microfinance institution in the U.S., Latin America, Asia or Europe; and a week of intensive pre-business training on the Sewanee campus. Students have engaged in internships at 13 finance/microfinance organizations in eight countries.

A Connection Between Comics and Icons?

Senior seminarian Josh Bowron, T'11, will give a talk on "Cartooning and Iconography: Seeing and Christian Vision" at 6 p.m., Monday, April 11, in Carnegie room 306.

"What does Superman have to do with 5th-century Byzantine icons?" Bowron said. "Ever wondered how comic books are a lot like, and also, nothing like this centuries-old painting tradition?"

Bowron will explain all this and more in his talk sponsored by the Experimental College: The Fund for Innovation in Teaching and Learning. It is free and open to the public.

Bowron said he'll give a free comic book to the first 120 people!

"Whales in Fjords" Talk by Fulbright Scholar Keen

Sewanee alumnus Eric Keen will give a presentation on "Whales in Fjords: Two Case Studies," at 3:30 p.m., Friday, April 15, in Blackman Auditorium.

Keen will discuss his research experience with humpback whales and orcas in Gitga'at First Nation, British Columbia, and with blue whales in Chilean Patagonia. Keen graduated in 2008 and was an ecology/biodiversity and religion double major. After graduation, he was a Fulbright Scholar in Indonesia, then worked in the Mediterranean and the Pacific as a research assistant on whale studies.

Readings by Authors this Week

Jean McGarry

Award-winning author Jean McGarry will read from her work at 4:45 p.m., Tuesday, April 12, in Gailor Auditorium.

McGarry is the author of eight books of fiction, including "Airs of Providence," which won the Southern Review/Louisiana State University Short Fiction Prize; "A Bad and Stupid Girl," which received the University of Michigan Fiction Prize; and most recently, "Ocean State."

Her short stories have appeared in the New Yorker, Yale Review, Boulevard, and Southwest Review. She teaches in the Writing Seminars at Johns Hopkins University.

The reading is presented by the English department and the Sewanee Writers' Conference and is open to the public. McGarry will sign books after the reading.

Susan Rava

Susan Rava, author of "Swimming Solo: A Daughter's Memoir of Her Parents, His Parents, and Alzheimer's Disease," will read from her memoir at noon and 1 p.m., today, April 8, at Lorena's in Monteagle and at 11 a.m., Saturday, April 9, at Taylor's Mercantile in Sewanee.

Linda Atnip

Linda Atnip will launch her latest book, "Conversations with Mr. Kiki: One Woman's Spiritual Journey with Her Best Friend," at a reading and signing from 2:30 to 3:30 p.m., Saturday, April 9, at the Sewanee Senior Center.

"The Giving Tree" by Meg Armour-Jones, Hadlea Eubanks and Joyce Kuik, selected as Best in Show, and "Rapunzel" by Georgette Huber and Callie Holloway, chosen as the best children's book at the Edible Books contest on April 1. Photographs by Joan Blocher

New Books for the New Look at Thurmond

For the next several months, new books will be arriving weekly at the Thurmond Library, located in Otey parish hall. This week's selections include "The Troubled Man" and "When the Snow Fell," two Kurt Wallander mysteries by award-winning Swedish author Henning Mankell that are the basis for the critically acclaimed BBC series "Wallander," starring Kenneth Branagh.

"Mystery: An Alex Delaware Novel" is the latest installment in the Jonathan Keller franchise which has been going strong since 1985. Alex Delaware, a Los Angeles psychiatrist with a knack for solving crime, and Milo Sturgis, a veteran homicide detective, work together again in a book that is formulaic enough to be comfortable, but with enough twists and surprises to entertain.

Now available in large print: "Unbroken: A World War II Story of Survival, Resilience, and Redemption" by

Franklin County Book Sale Begins

Franklin County Friends of the Library's book sale starts at 9 a.m., Wednesday, April 13. To purchase books on that date you must be a current member of the Friends. Regular membership is $5 for individuals or $10 for a family. Membership dues can also be paid at the library before the sale or the day of the sale.

The regular book sale will continue on April 14-16 for anyone who wants to purchase books. This is a great opportunity to find the books you have always wanted. The group is now accepting donations of books, CDs, videos and DVDs for this sale.

Laura Hillenbrand, author of "Seabiscuit." This nonfiction story has earned rave reviews, such as "One of the most stunning books of the year."

The Thurmond Library Book Sale will be held at Otey Parish hall in conjunction with the Community Yard Sale on Saturday, April 30, from 8 a.m. to 2 p.m. The library welcomes book donations for the sale.

Edible Books Contest Winners

The Edible Books contest sponsored by the Exhibits Committee of duPont Library on April 1 drew an array of creative and tasty entries by Sewanee bakers.

The first-place winners included two collaborations. Best in show was "The Giving Tree" by Meg Armour-Jones, Hadlea Eubanks and Joyce Kuik; Best in show age 12 and under was "Rapunzel" by Jade Sanders. Best banned book was "Harry Potter and the Sorcerer's Stone" by Carolyn Bruce.

Best children's book was "Rapunzel" by Georgette Huber and Callie Holloway. The wittiest entry was "Fanny Hill" by Annie Armour.

Other entries included "The Rainbow Fish" by Meg Armour-Jones, Hadlea Eubanks and Joyce Kuik; "Bill and Pete" by Annie Armour; "If You Give a Moose a Muffin" by Jennifer Bachman; "Little Boy Blue" by Joan Blocher and "Feathers for Lunch" by Annie Armour.

True Grit

110 minutes • PG-13 • Admission $3

Remaking a classic movie is a challenging task, but Joel and Ethan Coen did a splendid job when they took on “True Grit.” Returning not so much to the 1969 movie starring John Wayne but to the book by Charles Portis, this version is understated and strong. Jeff Bridges stars as Rooster Cogburn, the one-eyed Marshall that 14-year-old Mattie Ross (Hailee Steinfeld) hires to help find the killer of her father. Texas Ranger LaBoeuf (Matt Damon) joins them on the journey. The scenery is gorgeous, the acting solid, and the language beautiful. When Rooster said, “I’m a foolish old man who’s been drawn into a wild goose chase by a harpie in trousers and a nincompoop,” I was hooked. Rated PG-13 for some intense sequences of western violence including disturbing images.

Europa, Europa

112 minutes • R • Free

This award-winning 1990 film by director Agnieszka Holland tells the story of a Jewish boy, Solly, who is separated from his family in the early days of World War II. After spending two years in an orphanage, from which the orphans must flee during an attack, Solly hides his heritage and begins a life of lies to stay alive. This true story was highly praised; one reviewer wrote, “There are a great many movies about the tragic experience of the Jews during the Second World War, but only a handful as passionate, as subtly intelligent, as universal as this one. In ‘Europa Europa,’ Holland tackles a great theme and, in the process, has made a great movie.” In German with subtitles. Rated R for mature content.

The Fighter

115 minutes • R • Admission $3

“The Fighter” is the true story of “Irish” Micky Ward, a Massachusetts boxer who won the world light welterweight title in 2000. Ward (Mark Wahlberg) is a fine fighter, but all the people around him want more for him, including his bossy girlfriend (Amy Adams), his demanding mother (Melissa Leo) and his drug-addicted half-brother, Dicky (Christian Bale), who himself beat Sugar Ray Leonard once before discovering crack cocaine. The movie got great reviews for its acting, but the plot was deemed “flat and predictable.” Leo and Bale each won Oscars for their supporting roles, which hold the emotional center of the movie. Directed by David O. Russell. Rated R for language throughout, drug content, some violence and sexuality.

Art Exhibition Open to Community

The Art Forum, a collection of college students interested in art, is sponsoring an art exhibition featuring any artist in the community who wants to display or sell their creations. The exhibition will be celebrated for a day in Guerry Garth on Friday, April 22. Art Forum will assist with the artists’ preparations, as well as provide refreshments.

To participate in the exhibition, artists need to contact Jacqueline Summs by Tuesday, April 12, at 598-2861 or by e-mail to <summsjh0@sewanee.edu>.

Opera and Ballet in Cinema Programs

The Majestic Theater in downtown Chattanooga is part of the projects, “Opera in Cinema” and “Ballet in Cinema,” which offer live telecasts of major dance and opera productions in regional movie theaters.

Boo Cravens and Trink and Gabrielle Beasley of Sewanee report that their recent experience seeing “Coppelia” danced by the Paris Opera Ballet on the big screen was “extraordinary,” and they recommend it to others who love ballet and opera.

In April, Rossini’s opera “The Barber of Seville,” will be telecast from Teatro Regio di Parma at 2 p.m., Tuesday, April 26. Productions are scheduled for broadcast through the summer.

All telecasts are at the Majestic Theater located at 311 Broad St., Chattanooga. All times are Eastern Daylight Time. For more information about these events, go to <www.operaincinema.com>.

Botanical Art and Workshops at SAS

The St. Andrew’s–Sewanee School Gallery welcomes “Studies from Nature: The Botanical Art of Janice Neill Dean and Sculpture of Michael Dean,” on display until May 6.

SAS will host a reception for the artists from 5 to 7 p.m., Thursday, April 14. The reception is free, and the public is welcome.

In addition to working with SAS students, Janice will offer two workshops for the public. Botanical Illustration Workshops I and II will be held on Saturday, April 16; Workshop I will be 9 a.m.–noon and Workshop II will be 1 to 4 p.m. The $30 workshop fee covers all materials and lunch. Participants may sign up for either workshop. Morning participants are welcome to continue in the afternoon to create a more sustained work. For more information and to register for workshops please contact Christi Teasley by e-mail at <sasgalery@sasweb.org> or call 931-598-5651, ext. 3151.

Janice and Michael Dean live and work in Mississippi. Both are graduates of the University of Mississippi. Janice was mentored by a landscape-painting grandmother and a gardening grandmother. Janice is a member of the American Society of Botanical Artists and the Mississippi Watercolor Society. While he has sculpted in bronze, aluminum, clay, and stone, Michael’s currently preferred medium is wood. Both artists are founding members of the Delta Artists Association.

The SAS Gallery is open 9 a.m.–3 p.m., Monday–Friday, and by appointment.

“Cotton Patch Gospel” at SAS

Tom Key brings his one-man dramatic performance of “Cotton Patch Gospel” to St. Andrew’s–Sewanee School’s McCrory Hall for the Performing Arts on Friday, April 15, at 7 p.m. This performance is free and open to the public. No tickets or advance registration are necessary.

In 1979, Tom Key was wondering what he would do next after a successful national tour of his one-man play “C.S. Lewis On Stage,” when he learned of British actor Alec McGowen’s presentation of Saint Mark’s Gospel.

“It had been a highly successful solo dramatization on Broadway and in the West End Theater of London,” said Key, “and it was word for word from the King James Version of the Bible, so I thought, ‘Why couldn’t I do the same sort of thing but, since I’m from Alabama, do it from a down home perspective—that is, dramatize what would have happened if Jesus had been born about 1936 in the middle of the Bible Belt instead of 2000 years ago in Bethlehem?”

Key quickly learned that Clarence Jordan had explored the same idea in his “Cotton Patch” paraphrases of the New Testament.

“As soon as I read Jordan’s Cotton Patch Version of Matthew,” Key said, “I knew I had been provided an authentic and fresh way of seeing the story of Christ.

“The way Jordan respectfully and accurately put the life of Jesus in the context of the American South made what had become safe, familiar, and, most importantly, so of another time and place, suddenly and shockingly relevant with an enormous amount of laughter, moral challenge and wonder.”

This performance is funded in part with an Arts Build Communities grant, funded by the Tennessee General Assembly and administered in cooperation with the Tennessee Arts Commission and the Community Foundation of Middle Tennessee.

Earth Month Events

April is Earth Month, and there are many events planned in Sewanee to celebrate the planet. Here are the upcoming events. More are being added and will be in future issues of the Messenger.

Saturday, April 9, 8 a.m.—Campus bird walk leaving from Spencer Hall. Join David Haskell in a search for resident birds and early migrants. No experience necessary. Canceled in the event of rain.

Friday, April 15, 3:30 p.m., Blackman Auditorium—Eric Keen will talk on "Whales in Fjords" (see page 4 for more details).

The campus-wide Eco Cup competition ends on April 15.

Wednesday, April 20, 2:30 to 4 p.m.—"Show and Tell" at the community garden, sponsored by GreenHouse and Ken Smith's "Soils and Cultivation" class.

Lease Committee March Meeting

The Lease Committee met on March 23 for its regularly scheduled meeting. The minutes of the February meeting were approved with no changes.

The following agenda items were approved: the exterior material samples for the new Duck River Electric building; the request to install a greenhouse at 710 Lake O'Donnell Road; the request to sublease space at IvyWild to Michael Kenney for the operation of a micro-brewery; the request to transfer Lease No. 456 (Babson), located at 190 Kirby-Smith Road, to Jay and Laurie Fisher; the request to sublease the former pharmacy building to Karen Throneberry for operation of a beauty shop; the request for a privacy fence at 640 Georgia Avenue; the request to put an addition on 212 Tennessee Avenue; the request to put an addition on 190 Florida Avenue; the request to install a fence at 121 Virginia Avenue; the request to add a deck and change a window into a door at 370 Tennessee Avenue; and the request for new exterior paint colors for 245 Running Knob Hollow Road.

Leaseholds offered for sale since the last meeting: Lease No. 456 (Babson) 190 Kirby-Smith Road, $150,000.

Leaseholds reduced since the last meeting: Lease No. 566 (Wood), 94 Maxon Lane, from $429,900 to $399,000; Lease No. 983 (Fannie Mae), 188 Bobtown Circle, from $109,900 to $99,900.

A county building permit is required for structures with roofs; call (931) 967-0981 for information. Current policies, meeting dates and other leasehold information are available online at <www.sewanee.edu/leases> or by calling the lease office at 598-1998.

The next meeting is scheduled for Wednesday, April 20. Agenda items are due in the lease office no later than 4:30 p.m. on Wednesday, April 13.

Planning Meeting for Film on Sewanee

University student Peter Kennedy invites community members to a meeting at 3 p.m., Sunday, April 10, at the Bishop's Common, to discuss a proposed documentary film project on town-gown relations and what issues it should address. Kennedy said the film will be an interdisciplinary project that will incorporate multiple community engagement classes that have similar themes; it will be a feature-length documentary that will offer "a critical, introspective reflection on the past, present, and future of Sewanee community relations"; and it will recommend actions that can be taken to make the Mountain a better place to live.

For more information, contact Kennedy via email at <kennepm0@sewanee.edu>.

Civic Association Seeks Nominees

Today, April 8, is the deadline to nominate someone or an organization for the Sewanee Civic Association's 28th annual Community Service Award. The award recognizes the person or organization that has made outstanding contributions to the Sewanee community. The kind of contribution varies widely, but the recipient is one who has helped make Sewanee a better place.

Send the name of your nominee, along with the reasons you are nominating this person and/or group, to Theresa Shackelford, <shackelfordt@bellsouth.net>. The award will be presented at the May meeting.

Highlander Trip on Saturday

Scott Bates, longtime advocate of the Highlander Folk Center, will lead a trip to the former Highlander Folk School on Saturday, April 9.

Meet at 10 a.m. at the May Justus Library in Monteagle City Hall to gather for the trip.

Founded in 1932 to educate union workers who showed promise as labor leaders, Highlander Folk School ultimately shifted its emphasis to aiding southern rural people, including African Americans. Labeled a "communist training school," the state of Tennessee revoked Highlander's charter and confiscated its Monteagle property in the early 1960s. Highlander relocated to Knoxville and later to New Market, Tenn.

The Cumberland Center for Justice and Peace is sponsoring the Highlander Folk School visit. For information, contact Leslie Lytle at 598-9979 or <sllytle@blomand.net>.

Community-Wide Yard Sale

The Sewanee Community Center is coordinating a community-wide yard sale that will be held on Saturday, April 30.

A $15 registration fee is required, as is a completed registration form, which can be obtained by contacting Rachel Petropoulos at <rpetropo@gmail.com>. The funds will be used to publicize the yard sale and to make maps to homes that are part of the event.

People can participate by either having a sale at their home (feel free to combine efforts with a friend!) or join up with others at the Community Center. Spaces are available inside the center and, if weather permits, additional space will be available outside on the basketball court.

AARP Offers Aid for Taxes due April 18

The deadline to file federal income taxes, April 18, is just around the corner, and free tax counseling and tax return preparation for taxpayers with middle and low incomes is still being offered in Winchester and Tullahoma by AARP Tax-Aide. From now until Friday, April 15, trained volunteers will help folks prepare and submit their federal tax returns. You do not need to be a member of AARP or a retiree to use this service.

In Winchester, Tax-Aide will help folks prepare and submit federal tax returns at the First United Methodist Church on Mondays and Wednesdays from 9 a.m. to 1 p.m., and in Tullahoma at the Trinity Lutheran Church every Tuesday and Thursday, from 9 a.m. to 1 p.m. To make an appointment in Winchester, call 967-0741, or in Tullahoma, (931) 455-9475.

Taxpayers have the extension beyond the traditional April 15 deadline because Emancipation Day, a holiday observed in the District of Columbia, falls this year on Friday, April 15. The IRS recommends using e-file as the best way to ensure accurate tax returns and get faster refunds. The Tennessee Department of Revenue reminds taxpayers that they can utilize the department's electronic filing options for sales and use tax, consumer use tax, business tax, estimated payment returns and extension requests. For more information, go to <www.TN.gov/revenue>.

Three SAS Students Earn Governor’s School Invitations

Three students at St. Andrew’s-Sewanee School have received highly coveted invitations to the Tennessee Governor’s Schools.

Helena Hofmeyer-Lancaster, a junior from Sewanee, will attend the School for the Arts in Visual Art at Middle Tennessee State University and Joel Lee, a sophomore from Lavergne, Tenn., will attend the Governor’s School for the Arts at MTSU.

Sadie Shackelford, a junior from Sewanee, received two invitations to Governor’s Schools: the Governor’s School for Humanities at the University of Tennessee-Martin and to the Governor’s School for International Studies, University of Memphis. She is going to attend the Humanities program at UT-Martin.

The state of Tennessee provides 12 summer programs for gifted and talented high school students. These programs provide challenging and intensive learning experiences in the arts, humanities, international studies, engineering, science, prospective teachers, scientific exploration of Tennessee heritage, information technology leadership and agricultural science. The program, room and board are free to the participants, and they may receive college credit.

The South Middle School eighth-grade band performed in Washington, D.C. at the World War II Memorial during spring break. The band performed a patriotic concert as a tribute to U.S. military veterans. The band will perform closer to home for local veterans at 3 p.m., Sunday, April 10, at Monterey Station in Cowan. The public is invited to attend, especially all active duty and retired military and veterans.

SAS Sixth-Graders Learn as They Make Donations to Charities

Each year, under the guidance of sixth-grade teacher Cindy Potter, St. Andrew's-Sewanee sixth-graders sell wreaths at Christmas to the Sewanee community to benefit charity. This year, choosing which charities to support became a lesson in research, web design and public speaking.

The students began by sending $1,080 to the Amazing Grace Orphanage for the continued sponsorship of three students there. The disbursement of the rest of the funds would be determined by the students. Each sixth-grader was given $40 and the opportunity to research three charities and select one for their donation. Using the Internet, students researched nonprofit organizations that were doing work in areas where they had an interest. They looked at who the organization benefited and how much of their donation went to services versus administrative costs.

The students then got down to the work of creating a website to promote their chosen charity. Technology teacher Rachel Malde taught them HTML and the students designed their sites in the code, learning how to lay out a web page and embed links and photographs. The students then presented the information about the charities on their sites to the class.

Students chose their charities for a variety of reasons. Some told moving stories of people who they knew who had benefited from the organization or who might have benefited. One student who had been born prematurely looked at agencies that supported preemies and their families, selecting Newborns in Need. Some students used the opportunity to support organizations that promote causes that are important to them, such as the protection of animals, scientific research and the preservation of the environment.

"We learned that you really need to be aware of the world around you," said sixth-grader Sam Smith, who with two other students pooled their resources to purchase a goat through Heifer International. "Most people don't have what we have."

School Scoop

Education Film Tuesday at Blackman

The documentary "Race to Nowhere" will be shown at 7 p.m., Tuesday, April 12, in Blackman Auditorium.

Made by a concerned mother-turned-filmmaker, the film looks at the high-stakes, high-pressure culture that has invaded schools and children's lives, creating unhealthy, disengaged, unprepared and stressed-out youth.

"Race to Nowhere" is a call to families, educators, experts and policy makers to examine assumptions on how to best prepare the youth of America to become healthy, bright, contributing citizens in the 21st century.

This special showing—the first in our area—is sponsored by St. Andrew's-Sewanee School, the university's education program and psychology club, and as part of the university's ongoing engagement with education issues. Admission is free, and refreshments will be served. For planning purposes, please RSVP at <www.rtnsewanee.eventbrite.com>.

Sewanee Cited for Excellence in Alcohol Awareness Programs

Sewanee was recognized as a Prevention Excellence Award finalist by Outside the Classroom. The organization recently announced the recipients of its 2011 Prevention Excellence Awards honoring individuals, institutions and Greek organizations that have achieved excellence in their alcohol prevention efforts, significantly improving the quality of student life.

Brandon Busteed, founder and CEO of Outside the Classroom, said, "The Sewanee team's ability to develop, implement and sustain comprehensive alcohol prevention and education clearly demonstrates a commitment to creating a healthier, safer campus."

Finalists also included East Carolina University, Eastern Illinois University, Randolph Macon College and Zeta Tau Alpha. Applicants were evaluated on the quality of their prevention programming, including their vision for creating a healthy campus, and the degree of innovation in their work.

In its announcement of the awards, Outside the Classroom said, "With its 'Think First' program, the University of the South emphasized the benefits of a comprehensive approach to responding to alcohol abuse. The Think First strategy begins with education for all students, especially incoming students and others in higher at-risk categories.

Community collaboration is essential; conversations with external stakeholders... reinforce the reality that the community must work with each other to promote a safer environment. The strategy also promotes consistent enforcement, as well as intentional intervention. In the end, Think First hopes to change the perspective of those in the campus community about alcohol use and abuse."

The Prevention Excellence Awards are sponsored by Outside the Classroom, founder of the Alcohol Prevention Coalition and developer of the AlcoholEdu suite of online prevention programs.

More about the Sewanee program is at <students.sewanee.edu/current/thinkfirst>.

Youth Pre-Swim Begins Next Week

Pre-swim team starts Monday, April 11, coached by Max Obermiller of the University of the South, with the TigerSharks swim team starting practice in late May.

Pre-Swim practices will be Mondays–Thursdays, April 11–May 19, with a total of 24 training sessions. The times, divisions, fees and guidelines are:

3:15–4:00 p.m. —Rookie. $160. Must be able to swim at least 15 feet on their own, face and back. This class is for beginning swimmers, not a learn-to-swim class. Ages 4–7.

4–4:45 p.m. —Silver. $110. Can swim a length of the pool easily. Teaching will focus on learning butterfly and breaststroke and conditioning to increase strength. Primary ages 5–10.

4:45–6 p.m. —Gold. $110. Focus will be on training and further stroke development. Primary ages 7–18.

The TigerSharks swim team will compete for eight weeks this summer,

May 23–July 16, practicing Monday–Friday.

TigerSharks is designed to be a developmental progression for competitive swimmers ages 4–18. There will be four meets, plus the championship meet on July 16.

Practice times for the week of May 23–27 are not yet set. Practice times for May 30–July 15 will be Mondays through Fridays, 8–9 a.m., Silver (Ages 4–10); 9–10:40 a.m., Gold (Ages 9–18); and 5–6 p.m., for those able to swim three strokes, one length each.

Fees for TigerSharks are $160 for the first child in a family and $130 for each additional child. Scholarships are available.

Summer swim lessons will be available at the Fowler Center pool, May 30–July 8. There will be three two-week sessions. Dates will be available later in the spring. For more information, contact Obermiller at 598-1546 or <mobermil@sewanee.edu>.

Cornbread 5K set for April 30

The National Cornbread Festival 5K road race has been set for Saturday, April 30. “Will you run for Cornbread?” is the theme for this year’s event. Racers will register at 6:30 a.m. at the Citizens Park Stage, and the race will begin at 8 a.m. The registration fee is $15 until April 18, when the fee is raised to $20.

Racers can register at the website <www.Active.com> and the application for the race is also available at <nationalcornbread.com>.

“The course is a tough one due to some hills, but don’t let it scare you because the finish is downhill and fast,” said race director Mary Katherine Dawkins. “It winds through the neighborhoods of historic South Pittsburg and finishes next to the elementary school.”

The National Cornbread Festival, in its 15th year, is usually held the last full weekend in April, but because of Easter, the festival was moved to April 30 and May 1. It will officially kick off on Friday, April 29, and will continue through Sunday, May 1, with an array of activities and events.

For more information, visit <www.nationalcornbread.com>.

SES Golf Tournament April 16

Sewanee Elementary School will be hosting its 12th Annual Tiger Golf Tourney on Saturday, April 16. The format is three-person scramble, and prizes will be awarded in four flights, five places in each flight. The entry fee is $105 per team. People interested in playing in the tournament should call 598-1104 for reservations.

Sports Scoreboard

St. Andrew's-Sewanee Sports

Softball

The varsity softball team is off to a solid 2-1 start. The team opened the season at University School of Nashville on March 22 with a 14-4 win. The team was led by strong pitching performances from Kelsey Pearson and Courtney Clark. Sierra Williamson scored four runs, and Kate Wiley scored three times.

The team hosted Community High School on March 25. The game was tied at the end of regulation. Community scored in the 8th inning to win, 9-8. Pearson had three hits, while Wiley, Clark, Hannah Wimberley and Sam Stine had two hits each.

On March 28, SAS played Zion Christian Academy and came from behind to win, 6-5. Christiana True had a two-out base hit to drive in the winning run in the bottom of the 7th inning. Wiley, Wimberley, Stine and Britni Nunley each had two hits in the game. Pitchers Clark and Pearson combined for 14 strikeouts.

Baseball

The baseball team dropped a doubleheader on April 5 to region foe Davidson Academy by scores of 17-4 and 11-0.

In the first game, SAS jumped out to an early lead when Alex Tinsley led off the game with a single and scored on Swade Mooney's double. Davidson tied the game in the first and scored two more runs early in the game to take a 3-1 lead. SAS cut the lead to 3-2 in the third inning when Tinsley singled. Evan Morris drove Tinsley home.

The Mountain Lions kept battling back. Sam Howick doubled and scored on back-to-back wild pitches. SAS tallied a run in the sixth inning, as Will Thomas singled and Russell Mayes reached first. Howick then produced an RBI single. However, Davidson closed out the scoring with a seven-run sixth inning for a final score of 17-4. Eighth-grader Casey Willis played excellent defense, recording four putouts in left field.

In the second game, Davidson Academy jumped out to an early 5-0 lead in the first and sealed its win with a five-run fourth inning. SAS was never a threat offensively as they only mustered singles by Howick, Mooney and Justin Thomas. Hunter Craighill was the only other Mountain Lion to reach base. Defensively, the team showed improvement as they had only two errors in the contest. SAS's record dropped to 0-3.

Track and Field

Members of the varsity track squad went to Chattanooga for a meet on April 5 with East Ridge, Chattanooga Christian and host Baylor School. Though both the boys and girls' teams finished fourth, there were a number of notable performances. Donta Oden continues to be undefeated in the shot and discus this year, taking first place in both events. Cody Seals placed fifth in the long jump and in the 100 meters. Elizabeth Gabaud placed second in the 100 meters and anchored two second-place relays. The 4x100 also included Belle Muller, Madison Culpepper and Katelyn Howard, while Lucy Howick replaced Howard in the 4x200. The 4x800 team of Charlene Wang, Kelly Hsu, Eliza McNair and Howick placed third. Sarah Beavers and Joan Park each placed and improved in both the discus and shot.

High School Soccer

Regional play continued for the varsity team on April 5 on the road against Mt. Juliet Christian Academy. The team had great possession for the first half, ending the half in a 0-0 draw. In the second half, SAS was plagued by mishits and anxiousness. Keeper Nick Fletcher had five saves in goal until a blow to the knee took him out in the second half. Joel McGee played valiantly in his place, earning two saves. "Our errors are correctable," said coach Andrea Fisher about the 2-0 loss. "We are going to regroup and get back to the basics."

The varsity and junior varsity teams had a hard week earlier in the season against Warren County on March 29 and Franklin County on March 31. At McMinnville, the defense led by Ethan Burns, Trevor Laymance, Seth Burns and Michael Ross had their best games ever. Dominating much of the play second half, SAS got on the board off a cross from Burns that was finished off by a diving header by Zach Blount. Keeper Nick Fletcher had nine saves in the 2-1 loss. The junior varsity game followed the varsity match. Keeper McGee had 11 saves. Max Richards, Jackson Sanders, Fletcher and Johann Abrahams led the attack while Leo Yoon and Abe Johnson helped with defense control, but the team took a loss, 1-0.

Hosting Franklin County High School, the varsity started off strong but was unable to find the back of the net and took a 4-0 loss. Fletcher earned eight saves in net. In the junior varsity game against FCHS, Abrahams scored two goals, assisted by Fletcher. Fletcher added the final score himself after passes from Ross and Abrahams. McGee had four saves in the 3-0 victory.

University Sports

Equestrian

Sewanee senior Lindsay Maxwell qualified for the 2011 IHSA National Horse Show, May 5-8 at the Kentucky Horse Park, after a second place individual finish in the April 2 IHSA Zone 5 Championships in Sewanee.

Track and Field

At the April 2 Mountain Laurel Invitational in Sewanee, the Tiger women walked away with a first-place team finish, while the men finished second. Sewanee's women totaled seven first-place and 15 top-five individual finishes, while the men grabbed three wins and a total of 12 top-five finishes.

Women's Tennis

The Sewanee women's tennis team defeated Austin College, 8-1, on April 3. With the win, their record stands at 15-4 on the year. The Tigers next play Emory University in Atlanta on Tuesday, April 12.

Men's Tennis

The Sewanee men's tennis team beat Austin College, 9-0, on April 3. Sewanee's record is now 11-5 for the year. The Tigers play next at home, hosting Covenant College at 2 p.m., Wednesday, April 13.

Women's Golf

The Sewanee women's golf team competed in the 2011 Spring Reeder Cup hosted by Covenant College on April 4-5. Led by Lauren Gould's 33rd-place finish, the Tigers finished seventh in the team standings.

Overtime with Coach Shack

By John Shackelford

When professional teams win championships in almost any sport, it never fails to amaze me how often they recount to the media immediately after the game or in the locker room about how "No one respected us," or "No one believed in us." Players like to use this motivational tool to prove to the world that they matter. It's really kind of funny how wrapped up some athletes are about what others think of them. I have known a few teenagers in my time who suffer from the same affliction. Ultimately I think it comes down to the distinction between what constitutes perception and what defines perspective.

My mother keeps a poem on the wall of her house by Jenny Joseph that reads, "When I am an old woman, I shall wear purple." It really is a mature thought. When we reach a certain age, we can do whatever we wish or wear whatever we want without concern for others' perception of us. These professional athletes seem to be overly concerned with everyone's perception of who they are, but no one has really accused these guys of being mature beyond their years. I think perspective may be a more important value.

Good coaches teach their players perspective, win or lose. It is all about where you sit in the room when you are painting the vase. On one side there may be a shadow, or the light may change the color of the finish. And our view of the value of athletics may change depending on where we are for the action. If I ever get the chance to view the action from a post-game celebration in a pro sports locker room, I may be thinking, "Look at me! Look at me! I am champion of the world," but until that unlikely event happens, I can hold these games in a more realistic light.

Sewanee's student-athletes have the advantage of perceiving the court as a fifth class, a chance to learn leadership, teamwork and commitment, without thinking twice about what anyone thinks of them. The distinction between perception and perspective seems to lie in whether we are focusing the lens on ourselves or examining the factors that contribute to all of us. Are we thinking about who is looking at us? Or how we view the world?

Division III athletics is based on participation of the athlete, not the involvement of the fans. When you take the fan out of the equation, when you realize that no one is watching you on TV or maybe not at all, then you gain the perspective that playing is its own reward. There is no real value to what others think of you. The deeper value comes only from the intrinsic rewards earned from a well-fought battle.

So I guess I must be getting old. I am happy to be wearing purple.

Nature Notes

Carolina Wren Nest

Jean and Harry Yeatman received a basket filled with bird nesting material for Christmas. Jean hung it out on their porch this spring, and the birds took lots of it away. Then a few days ago Jean saw a hole made in the remaining bits, with a Carolina Wren using it as her nest. "This wren is one of my favorites," said Jean, "as it sings in the winter with such a loud cheery voice for such a small bird."

Hummingbird Sighting

Freddie Tucker reports that he saw a hummingbird on Kennerly Road on March 23.

Sewanee Herbarium Events

Bird Walk—Saturday, April 9, 8 a.m., with David Haskell (co-sponsored with the Tennessee Native Plant Society). Haskell, ornithologist and Sewanee biology professor, will be looking for spring migrants and year-round residents. Meet at the main entrance to Spencer Hall across from the duPont Library. Walk will last about one hour. Cancelled in case of rain or high winds.

Shakerag Hollow—Sunday, April 10, 1:30 p.m., with Mary Priestley. This is Sewanee's "mecca" for wildflower lovers, and the flowers should be at their peak. Meet at the Green's View parking lot (past the golf course). Two miles, moderate to strenuous, with one fairly challenging incline.

Wear appropriate shoes on all of these walks. Risks involved in hiking include physical exertion, rough terrain, forces of nature, and other hazards not present in everyday life. Picking flowers and digging plants are prohibited in all of the above-mentioned natural areas.

For more information on these events contact Yolande Gottfried at the Herbarium at 598-3346 or by e-mail at <ygottfri@sewanee.edu>. More information is available at <http://lal.sewanee.edu/herbarium>.

Pets of the Week Meet David & Ozzy

The Franklin County Humane Society's Animal Harbor offers these two delightful pets for adoption.

David is an affectionate Jack Russell Terrier who has a big dog personality in a little package. He is full of energy, so he would like an active family to play with him. David is up-to-date on shots and neutered.

Ozzy is a beautiful Russian Blue who is fluent in the language of love. He is declawed, so he needs to be an inside cat. A home without dogs would be ideal because they frighten Ozzy. He is in foster care, so please call Animal Harbor for an appointment to meet him. Ozzy is negative for FeLV and FIV, house-trained, up-to-date on shots and neutered.

Call Animal Harbor at 962-4472 for information and check out their other pets at www.animalharbor.com. Enter their drawing on this site for a free spay or neuter for one of your pets! Please help the Humane Society continue to save abandoned pets by sending your donations to The Franklin County Humane Society, P.O. Box 187, Winchester, TN 37398.

From Bard to Verse

by Scott and Phoebe Bates

Long straggling lines of birds would come
overhead at intervals.
Talk would cease.

Sitting smoking in the dark we listened to the honking of the geese coming over high horizon to horizon

almost invisible
against the moonless sky
faintly silhouetted against the stars.
We didn't talk about the birds;

we talked of more important things like politics, war, and peace.
They interrupted us

and talk would cease.
I can remember
nothing about it now
but the geese.

— "The Wild Geese" by William Hart Smith
