

Free Summer Meal Program for Children Across the Plateau

The University of the South, in partnership with the South Cumberland Community Fund, is sponsoring the South Cumberland Summer Meal Program for children this summer, an effort administered in Tennessee by the Department of Human Services under an agreement with the U.S. Department of Agriculture.

Meals will be provided to all children without charge. Acceptance and participation requirements for the program and all activities are the same for all regardless of race, color, national origin, sex, age or disability. There will be no discrimination in the course of the meal service. Liz Sirney, an AmeriCorps VISTA member with the University, is the program organizer.

In addition to the meals, there will be a program at each site that will last a minimum of one hour. Some summer meals are being served in partnership with library reading programs, vacation bible schools and other summer programs, and may include such information as nutrition education, gardening activities and art workshops.

SUD Discusses Finances; Wetlands Progress

by Leslie Lytle, Messenger Staff Writer

"We're not going to postpone what we need to get done," said SUD Manager Ben Beavers on the decrease in water sales at the May 17 meeting of the Board of Commissioners of the Sewanee Utility District of Franklin and Marion Counties.

SUD's water sales for April were 20 percent below budget, with year-to-date water sales down by 21 percent. Year-to-date expenses are 5 percent over budget.

Beavers attributed the decline in water sale to people "conserving more" and the University installing artificial turf, reducing the need for irrigation water. Total revenues are only down by 7 percent, Beavers said. The fees for new water taps have helped offset the decrease in water sales.

Rebuilding pumps at the wastewater treatment plant largely accounted for the increase in expenses over the budgeted amount. If revenues continue to fall short, SUD can draw on its cash reserves to cover expenses, Beavers said, but he stressed, "The decrease in sales will play into constructing our budget for next year."

Reporting on operations, Beavers said unaccounted-for water loss is "moderating," noting a slight decline compared to the year-to-date average. Unaccounted-for water loss is the difference between water produced at the plant and water passing through customer meters, meaning SUD is not paid for the water. Reducing unaccounted-for water loss could help address the revenue-expense shortfall, Beavers explained. "We're concentrating our efforts on the Jump Off community," he said. Through metering, SUD identified a 20-gallon-per-minute leak in Jump Off, but is having difficulty finding the leak, because the service line is so long there.

Updating the board on progress at the constructed wetlands, a research project undertaken jointly by the University of the South and the University of Georgia, Beavers said construction of the cells (ponds) was completed, and all that remained to be done was the electrical work, seeding and laying straw. The University has requested permission to use potable water to saturate the soil for planting. Beavers estimated the cost at $1,500, depending on rainfall.

Reviewing rainfall data, Beavers said the drought index logged the month of April as dry. "That's unusual for this time of year. We had less than an inch-

Sewanee Gardener's Market Opens

Fresh foods grown in the area are plentiful and available in a number of locations.

The Sewanee Gardeners' Market, open from 8 to 10 a.m. every Saturday morning during the summer, will have its opening day on Saturday, May 21.

The market is located on Highway 41A, next to Hawkins Lane and the Mountain Goat Trail. Locally grown vegetables, flowers, plants, homemade items and meat are available from area folks. Come early for the best selection.

The Cumberland Farmer's Market has breads, fruits and vegetables, eggs, coffee and meats available. Learn more online at <<http://sewanee.locallygrown.net>>.

The Monteagle Farmer's Market will be open from 2 p.m. to 6 p.m. each Thursday. The Monteagle Market is at the Monteagle Pavilion behind City Hall.

Bernhardt Offers Look at Composer John Williams

The Academy for Lifelong Learning at St. Mary's Sewanee will meet for a whole day event on Thursday, June 9. Robert Bernhardt will make his fifth appearance at St. Mary's, presenting "John Williams: The Man and His Music."

Bernhardt will offer insight to the career of Academy Award-winning composer John Williams, whom he considers history's most important composer for film. He will lecture on Williams' musical training and influences, his music for television in the 1960s and his early cinematic efforts in music adaptation. Musical examples of Williams' film scores can be heard from before "Jaws" (1975) to "The Force Awakens" (2015), for which he received his 50th Academy Award nomination. Bernhardt will also share some stories of times spent with his friend and mentor. Williams is considered the greatest composer of marches since John Philip Sousa and the greatest composer of fanfares ever. The day will explore the depth and variety of music written by the most celebrated and popular composer of our time.

Bernhardt is the principal pops conductor of the Louisville Orchestra, principal pops conductor and music director emeritus of the Chattanooga Symphony and Opera and artist-in-residence at Lee University. He also guest conducts all across the country.

This special day at St. Mary's Sewanee will begin at 10 a.m. There will be a break for a buffet lunch, and the lecture will continue after lunch. The cost is $35. Register by calling St. Mary's Sewanee at 598-5342.

For more information call Anne Davis at (931) 924-4465.

Sewanee Elementary held the school's annual Mile Walk/Run activity at the University of the South track. Students in first through fifth grades participated in the event. 'Sunday Diversions' Added to SSMF Schedule

The Sewanee Summer Music Festival (SSMF) introduces a new activity to Sunday afternoons in Sewanee. "Sunday Diversions" are free local tours and events to enjoy prior to the student orchestral concerts each week. Festival volunteer Sally Hubbard has organized a team of local experts who will welcome and guide visitors and residents through the treasures of Sewanee.

Outdoor tours include a campus bike tour by Woody Deutsch; a guided walk through the flora and fauna of Abbo's Alley; and the 2:15 p.m. Shapard Tower carillon concerts.

For the avid indoorsman (or in case of uncooperative weather), there's a tour and audio presentation in the Ralston Listening Library; a tour of the windows and sculpture of All Saints' Chapel; and demonstrations of the Bentley Bells in Breslin Tower and the carillon in Shapard Tower. There are rewarding views for those who climb the towers—not to mention a first-hand look at the carillon and change-ringing bells.

The tours are offered at 1 p.m. on Sundays, June 26, July 10 and July 17. Interested persons should meet at the tour locale, which will be marked by purple balloons. Tours will finish in time for participants to attend the Cumberland Orchestra Concert at 3 p.m. followed by the Sewanee Symphony Orchestra at 4 p.m. Further details are available on the website <ssmf.sewanee.edu> or by calling 598-1903.

SAS Graduation Events

St. Andrew's-Sewanee School will host its commencement exercises during the weekend of May 20–22.

The weekend begins with the baccalaureate service at 5:30 p.m., today (Friday), May 20, at the school's outdoor altar. This year's baccalaureate speaker will be SAS English teacher Susan Core. The baccalaureate service is followed by a banquet for seniors, their families and guests in Robinson Dining Hall. The final event of the evening is the senior lead-out and Annie presentations in McCrory Hall for the Performing Arts.

At 10 a.m., Saturday, May 21, the school community will gather under the tent at the outdoor altar for Honors Day, a celebration of student achievements throughout the year and major awards recognizing outstanding leadership, service and scholarship. Following the program, guests are invited to a reception in Simmonds Hall. Student artwork will be on display in the SAS Gallery throughout the weekend.

The weekend and the school year concludes on Sunday, May 22, with a commencement Eucharist and commencement exercises, which begin at 10 a.m. under the tent at the outdoor altar. There will be a reception in the Spencer Room.

WORDS FROM THE EDITOR

by Kiki Beavers

As the new editor/publisher of the Sewanee Mountain Messenger, as of June 1, I thank you for reading this paper for the 32 years it has existed, and for the 17 years before, when it was the Sewanee Siren. I am grateful to be part of the long legacy of publishing responsible information for the community.

I take over the Messenger from Janet Graham and Laura Willis, two outstanding women whose management and guidance of this newspaper will be missed. As I look back at the first issues of the Graham/Willis years, I read what has changed in our community and been reported right there on the front page. A lot has changed at the Messenger office, too. Janet is now a grandmother and is retiring. Laura has embarked on a new career with a local nonprofit. I thank Janet and Laura for all of their work both in the community and at the newspaper. For those interested, the archives are available at the Messenger office and also online at <sewaneemessenger.com> and offer a wonderful glimpse into the ever-evolving life of our Mountain home.

What will not be changing is the mission of the Sewanee Mountain Messenger. The mission of the Mountain Messenger, LLC, is to produce an economically viable weekly newspaper and accompanying website that support the greater Sewanee community by providing news and information that affect residents' lives, to serve as a newspaper of record for the area and to encourage meaningful community engagement.

The Sewanee Mountain Messenger was founded because of the foresight and generosity of the Sewanee Community Chest, the Sewanee Woman's Club and the University of the South. The Messenger remains a business. Advertising revenues, subscriptions, support from the University of the South for printing, and an annual contribution from the Sewanee Community Chest fund the paper's operation. This support means I can continue to provide the Messenger as a free service to the entire community. Thank you.

Thank you to the advertisers. The Messenger publishes 46 issues a year, free to more than 3,700 readers across the Plateau and 400 daily users online, because of the paid advertisements of local businesses and eateries. I am grateful for this continued patronage that keeps the Messenger afloat.

There would be no newspaper without the work of the Messenger staff. I appreciate staff writers Leslie Lytle and Kevin Cummings, photographer Lyn Hutchinson, proofreader Sandra Gabrielle, circulation manager Ray Minkler, movie critic Liz Ellis and office manager April Minkler. Thank you all, and I look forward to working with you.

And there would be no stories and photographs to fill the pages without the wonderful submissions from our local schools, the University, our local organizations and clubs and our community members. The lives of the children and the people in this community are and will remain the most important piece of news I can offer the readers. Together we will continue to spread good news.

I remember as a high school student at the Sewanee Academy holding that lovely typeset, mimeographed Sewanee Siren in my hands and thinking "I want to do this."

And 30-plus years later, here we are.

I welcome your feedback and your suggestions and ask for your support. And make sure you tell them you saw it in the Messenger!

NEW MICROPHONES NEEDED AT GUERRY To the Editor:

I had the good fortune of attending the recent presentation at Guerry Auditorium, "The Art of Conversation: Charlie Rose on Politics, Culture and the Way We Live Now." I have been a fan of Mr. Rose for many years. I was, however, very disappointed in the poor acoustics. I sat about five rows back and could barely hear either participant in the conversation or the introductory remarks by Vice Chancellor McCardell. Mr. Meacham, wearing what appeared to be a centrally placed lavalier microphone, was more easily understood. Mr. Rose, whose clip-on microphone was placed on the left side of his tie, could not be understood well at all. His head was turned to his right, away from the microphone during most of his comments, which were directed to Mr. Meacham.

How is it that a quality university such as the University of the South cannot get this recurring problem resolved? Microphone placement is crucial, as is volume and sound equipment placement. I had the same experience when Wendell Berry spoke. Poor sound quality is a disservice to the presenters and to the audience.

Respectfully,

Eva Malaspino

Disaster Chaplaincy Training Course in August

Now more than ever, communities across the United States are facing unprecedented natural and manmade disasters. Spiritual first aid is an essential part of recovery, and volunteer chaplains are on the front lines in delivering disaster human service operations and disaster site operations.

The Beecken Center, in partnership with the National Disaster Interfaiths Network (NDIN), invites clergy and lay spiritual caregivers of all faiths to take this two-day disaster chaplaincy training at the Sewanee Inn on Aug. 9 and 10. Participants who complete this certification can volunteer in their own diocese or faith community, or with NDIN and its national partners. NDIN can also assist unaffiliated volunteers in finding disaster spiritual care volunteer opportunities in local communities across the United States.

Emergency managers and disaster mental health professionals may also take this course to develop their knowledge of disaster spiritual care best practices. The cost is $395 and includes breakfast, lunch, afternoon snack and all course materials. Lodging is not included.

This training prepares clergy, religious leaders or spiritual care providers to volunteer as disaster chaplains in mass-care settings, or to serve as disaster chaplains within their house of worship, religious community or professional institution. Led by the NDIN team, participants learn about disaster response operations, spiritual care, mental health and self care. Strategies to promote recovery and resiliency are also covered.

This course may also be taken in conjunction with Engaging Faith Communities in Disasters on Aug. 8 at the Sewanee Inn. The combined cost for the two trainings is $500.

The Engaging Faith Communities in Disasters curriculum provides an overview of why and how to engage faith communities during disasters and public health emergencies. The modules demonstrate how diverse religious and cultural practice and collaboration increases partner capabilities and builds whole-community resilience. The course offers tools (tip sheets and a field guide set) and foundational skills to competently engage religious leaders and congregations in the field.

For more information and to register go to <www.beeckencenter.sewanee.edu>.

SUMMA Debate Camp

SUMMA Student Theological Debate Society is inviting students entering grades 9–12 to apply for the 2016 session of SUMMA Debate Camp, July 18–26. Held at the University of the South, SUMMA is a unique opportunity for students to explore their faith through intellectual channels, make lifelong friends and have fun on a beautiful college campus.

For all students, the cost of SUMMA is partially defrayed through donations, grants and an endowment. The cost is $750, which includes room, meals and materials. A limited number of scholarships are available for students with demonstrated need.

For more information and to apply go online to <summa.sewanee.edu>.

Summer Conferences

Leadership Nashville

The Leadership Nashville Foundation will be on the Domain Friday–Saturday, May 27–28. This independent program is designed to cultivate communication between a diverse range of leaders in communities, while emphasizing connections between community issues and these leaders. The members of Leadership Nashville will participate in a number of discussions as they dissect Nashville’s problems such as crime, affordable housing, school finances, racial tensions, transportation and arts funding.

DKG Conference

Delta Kappa Gamma (DKG) will gather at Sewanee on Thursday, June 2, through Saturday, June 4. This international honor society spotlights key women educators who advocate excellence in education. Their conference includes activities, conventions and leadership training, which nurtures personal and professional growth. While on the mountain DKG will attend several talks centered around their goal of having a global impact on education.

Adult Tennis Camp One and Two

The Adult Tennis Camp will take place at the University of the South from today (Friday), May 20, through Sunday, May 22, with a second session that runs from Friday, June 3, to Sunday, June 5. This sports camp is available for ages 21–81 and is open to players of all ability levels. It ensures accessible and friendly staff for matches played on both indoor and outdoor courts. The program is designed to teach technical skills, give the opportunity to improve performance and have fun.

Jerry H. Summers

Jerry H. Summers is a practicing attorney in Chattanooga, Tennessee. He has served as an assistant district attorney, criminal defense attorney, and personal injury and labor lawyer since he began the practice of law in 1966. He has argued cases before the United States and Tennessee Supreme Courts and has been involved in numerous landmark decisions in both civil and criminal law.

- Valuable insights into the colorful character and motivations of Raulston Schoolfield. Rush to Justice? captures the rich backdrop of the community and times of this remarkable and complex personality. While Summers’ in-depth research is obvious, he weaves the facts into a highly engaging story which reads like fiction, yet it is all too true.
Muecke Parker, retired Chief Justice of the Tennessee Supreme Court
- Remarkable life story of Raulston Schoolfield’s journey and struggles for redemption in a legal and judicial career engulfed by the turbulent times of mid-twentieth century politics. Summers presents provocative research for the reader to decide if justice was done in Judge Schoolfield’s 1958 Senate impeachment trial, or if he was the uncompromising victim of political enemies abusing executive and legislative powers.
Witt, Ralph Hill, Jr., Senior Judge, Superior Court of the State of Georgia
- While reading the story of the colorful and controversial Raulston Schoolfield, I found myself transitioning constantly – at one moment feeling admiration for Schoolfield only to have the admiration replaced by confusion, doubt and skepticism about his choices. Rush to Justice? tells a fascinating story about Tennessee history, politics and law. It is a story much enhanced by Jerry Summers’ dogged research and his unique perspective on his beloved home town and profession. We can only hope that Jerry will have mercy on his readers and tell the rest of Schoolfield’s story in a subsequent volume.
Perry White, University of Tennessee law professor and former Tennessee Supreme Court Justice
- Provides a full-bodied view of Raulston Schoolfield, a talented trial lawyer whose controversial behavior confounded several members of the legal community. But perhaps most interesting is the delicate, balanced picture that attorney Jerry Summers paints of the state Senate and the connections and events that lead to Schoolfield’s impeachment. Was it politics as usual, or the appropriate punishment for a judicial figure accused of bribery and extorting campaign help from racketeers? The reader has all the necessary tools to decide.
Zack Peterson, Courts Reporter, Chattanooga Times Free-Press
- Jerry Summer’s life-long passion for – and commitment to the law – shines through in Rush to Justice. Summers, a legendary trial lawyer, defends the poor and innocent and challenges the rich and powerful. He has witnessed true political corruption but also has defended those who were falsely accused. In short, Jerry Summers possesses the unique experiences to tell this story with knowledge and passion. The amazing tale of Judge Raulston Schoolfield, who rose to become one of the most controversial judges in Tennessee, only to fall hard amid allegations of unethical and illegal conduct, should be taught in law schools and in CLE programs across the South. When do we get Part II?

and-a-half of rain last month." So far SUD's water supply is holding steady compared to past years, with Lake O'Donnell down one foot and Lake Jackson overflowing.

SUD efforts to address the low water pressure in Midway continues. "We should know by the end of the month if installing an altitude valve at the St. Andrew's-Sewanee water tank will remedy the problem," Beavers said. If not, SUD will move forward with installing a pressure-boosting station in the Midway community.

The SUD board next meets on Tuesday, June 14, two weeks earlier than usual.

Tennessee DAR Makes Donation to Honor Flight

Representatives of the Tennessee Society Daughters of the American Revolution presented $15,000 on May 9 to the Honor Flight of Middle Tennessee to continue in their endeavor of flying World War II and Korea veterans on a free one-day trip to Washington, D.C., to visit the war memorials.

Anyone who has served in World War II or the Korean War can get additional information and/or a Veterans' Honor Flight application by contacting Sergeant Major Larry E. Williams, U.S. Army retired at (931) 924-3000 or <tennesseans2@blomand.net>.

Vietnam veterans with a significant disability of 70 percent or more due to exposure to the Agent Orange herbicide will be considered to go on a flight on a case-by-case basis.

Honor Flight of Middle Tennessee is a hub of the national Honor Flight network. The Honor Flight of Middle Tennessee is a Tennessee 501(c)(3) non-profit corporation. All donations are tax-deductible, and all funds donated are used to support Honor Flight trips. Donations can be mailed to Honor Flight of Middle Tennessee, P.O. Box 1926, Tullahoma, TN 37388-1926.

Welcome to Messenger Intern

The Sewanee Mountain Messenger welcomes Bailey Basham as its summer intern.

Bailey is from Winchester. She is the daughter of Darryl and Tammy Basham and the granddaughter of Williard and Erleen Basham and Tommy and Betty Yarbrough. Basham is a junior majoring in multimedia journalism at Trevecca Nazarene University in Nashville.

"Before I pack up my office as the editor-in-chief of the TrevEchoes, the student newspaper at Trevecca Nazarene University, it is with excitement and ambition that I write this piece for the Sewanee Mountain Messenger announcing my summer internship," wrote Bailey.

"Beginning in June, I will be working with Kiki Beavers, editor-in-chief of the Messenger and the staff at the Messenger. It is my hope to grow as a journalist, gain valuable experience in the newsroom and learn more about the community in which I grew up."

"I strive to be honest, accurate and fair in my reporting. What I love most about journalism is the opportunity it creates for us to listen and be just and compassionate toward our neighbors and our community. At the Messenger, I hope to find a space to foster my listening ear and enrich the Sewanee community in my role as an intern."

Bailey recently placed second in the Best Newspaper Reporter category and received an honorable mention in Investigative/In-depth Reporting from The Tennessee Associated Press Broadcasters and Media Editors College Contest. Read her story "Growth in student body increases diversity" at <<https://www.scribd.com/doc/293747222/TrevEchoes-November-2015>>.

Policy Change for the “Res”

The St. Andrew's-Sewanee School campus is home to a beautiful man-made lake created decades ago by the monks and students of St. Andrew's School. The “Res,” as it is called, is restricted to school use during most of the year. However, for a small portion of the summer—Monday, June 6, through Sunday, July 31—members of the extended SAS community may use the Res if they have a permit.

To be eligible to apply for and purchase a Res pass and parking permit, community members must have an SAS sponsor employed by the school (signature will be required) and be at least 18 years old. Applications may be printed from <www.sasweb.org/lake>, but must be brought, in person to the SAS academic offices in Bishop Bratton Hall between 8 a.m. and 4 p.m., Monday–Friday, after May 23 to be approved. Please note that the office will be closed on Memorial Day, Monday, May 30. Season permits are $75. A one-weekend permit may be purchased for $25. SAS alumni and current parents may purchase a season permit for $25.

Group rates for those not affiliated with SAS or the University of the South will be $150 per half day for up to 25 individuals. Groups must provide lifeguards and proof of insurance. To apply for group use, contact Andrea Booher at 598-5652.

In addition to having a permit and parking pass, all Res users must abide by the regulations below:

No one may swim alone; no rope swings may be installed or used; use is permitted only between dawn and dusk each day; minor guests must be accompanied by someone over 21; no glass containers, alcoholic beverages or any illegal substance may be brought to or consumed at the Res; fireworks, firearms and other weapons are not permitted; smoking and fires are prohibited; trash is not to be thrown in the water or left on the grounds; conduct befitting a school environment will be displayed at all times; Res pass holder must have pass with him/her when at the Res and display a Visitor's Parking Permit in the left rear window of their vehicle.

The Res will be patrolled for proper use, but lifeguards are not present. Users swim and use the Res at their own risk. For more information contact Director of Business and Finance Sarah Lodge at (931) 463-2163.

Deb McGrath received a $1,000 gift from the Monteagle Sewanee Rotary Club for the Sewanee Haiti Project. The funds will offset costs for students who will be with McGrath this summer to continue planting and monitoring growth of coffee plants and fruit trees. The project is part of a major long-term reforestation effort in Haiti. From left: Rotary member Lynn Cimino-Hurt, Deb McGrath and Rotary member Dixon Myers.

Upgrades Planned on Area Trailheads

Anyone who has hiked the Shakerag Hollow trail this spring has probably noticed some new signs. Those signs are part of a larger effort to upgrade and better communicate the recreational assets of the University of the South campus, known as the Domain. As part of this effort, areas where visitors regularly access the University's trail network will be upgraded to better handle recreational traffic. The University hopes to ensure that the ever-increasing recreational traffic on the Domain can continue to occur safely and without undue impact on natural resources.

The two first locations for these upgrades are Green's View and the Shakerag parking lot at the University Gates.

According to George Fairbanks' “History of the University of the South,” Green's View actually predates the cornerstone as a landmark of Sewanee, having been named in 1859 in honor of Bishop Green, the first bishop of Mississippi. Improvements to Green's View will include adding a vegetated circle to the current gravel area and dedicated parking off of the main view, as well as an additional dedicated viewing area for those who choose to get out of their automobiles. The changes are intended to better focus traffic at the view and to minimize and redirect the runoff from the current parking area; runoff is channeled onto the trail and into Shakerag Hollow.

The parking area for Shakerag Hollow at the University Gates is much newer than that at Green's View, having been formally constructed in 2010 after several years of ad hoc parking near the gate. The popularity of this trail has made it necessary to reconfigure the parking area to more safely accommodate cars and to provide better highway crossing for users of the Perimeter Trail.

Please expect both of these areas to be closed briefly for construction in the coming weeks.

Students perform at the Summer Youth Conservatory.

Cannon County Summer Youth Conservatory

The Summer Youth Conservatory in Cannon County is dedicated to the development of life skills through participation in the arts. In addition to classes, this program offers the opportunity for all participants to appear on stage in a production at the end of each session. This is also a valuable opportunity to be seen on stage by Arts Center of Cannon County directors. Students will audition for roles in performances.

Classes offered are: Fundamentals of Acting/Advanced Acting, Creative Movement/Dance, and Voice/Music.

The first session of Junior Conservatory (rising first–sixth-graders) classes are June 6–17. Session two is June 20–July 1. Senior Conservatory (rising seventh–12th grades) classes are July 11–22.

To sign up visit <artscenterofcc.com>, and download an application, or call (615) 563-2787. The Arts Center is on 1424 John Bragg Highway, just west of the town of Woodbury, approximately 20 minutes from Murfreesboro and Manchester.

Reverse Raffle and Concert Lineup

The Sewanee Business Alliance (SBA) is sponsoring a reverse raffle to benefit Angel Park and Housing Sewanee Inc., with a chance for participants to win up to $10,000.

Tickets are $100 each, and no more than 500 tickets will be sold. Tickets are for sale at the following local businesses: Locals, Mooney's, Regions Bank, Sewanee Auto, Taylor's and University Realty. Tickets may also be purchased online at <sewanee.angelpark.com>.

During each Friday Nights in the Park event, there will be a drawing for a special prize. The ticket drawn will be placed back in the pool for another chance to win. On the last night, July 8, the $10,000 grand prize drawing will be held. Participants do not have to be present to win.

The lineup for Friday Nights in the Park is: Live By Satellite on June 17; Men of Soul on June 24; The ConSoulers on July 1; and The Stagger Moon Band on July 8. University Avenue will be closed at 6 p.m. each of these nights for the annual outdoor family event, with food and drink from local vendors available for purchase. The entertainers play from 7:30 p.m. to 9:30 p.m. in the Angel Park Pavilion. The events are free and open to the public.

Acoustic Jam New Time

Starting Tuesday, May 24, the acoustic music jam at the water building in Tracy City will meet at 7 p.m. instead of 5 p.m. These summer hours will last until the start of the new school year in Grundy County. All ages and skill levels are invited; bring an instrument if you have one, or play one of the organizers' extra guitars.

THE VILLAGE IDIOT

by Peter Trenchi

"Ourcadia"

Our town is bipolar, or at least, it fits the popular misconception of what that condition represents. One moment it is all frenzied joy, the next, empty desolation. Our current joy is to honor parents, students and alumni during their transience through Arcadia. William Alexander Percy, in a romantic musing, likened our community to Arcadia, a mythological wilderness, home to the god Pan, a pastoral creature. Our desolation, perhaps, becomes those moments when frenzied transience quickly fades into unfettered pastoral silence.

Mythology plays large, both in our classic liberal arts roots and in our throwback/fashion-forward behavioral identity. Modern affluence abounds with its attendant ability to buffer the consumer from any intimacy with actual Arcadia. This is easily evidenced, during my afternoon walks, by the number of cars simply driven around the Tennessee Avenue Memorial Cross. A brief quick glance toward the valley below, and all is assuredly well. This allows an expedient return to one's designated stonewalled domain, be it dorm, library or dues-paid social house. Arcadia exists in abstraction, subsumed as an image on the other side of a glass screen.

We pay homage to a cultivated image carefully constructed within the bounds of urbane safety. Inside, we are cloaked, nay gowned, by the heady essence of academic enlightenment. We succumb to the experiential "synesthesia" of tall-shouldered honor, our ears being told that such exists and our hearts feeling that it is so. Frank Baum, in his book "The Wizard of Oz," built just such a world. Transients arrive looking to fulfill specific personal needs. Within the gates, all seems well, yet holes appear in the curtain.

Such an Arcadian hole, for me, is finding an item recently stolen from my property leaning against the back of the Sigma Nu house, much damaged. For others, that hole is the theft of two scooters from in front of the library, depriving children of future use and enjoyment. For others, it is the routine theft and destruction of bicycles. So, I name my outrage "honor," or the lack thereof. This allows my mania to subside enough to where my torn curtain is visible.

Months ago, when I discovered the loss, I pictured some shabby blue-collar male with a dangling cigarette, tepid PBR in a Chevy Blazer with a rough exhaust note pirating away the item. While my outrage at a plausibly obvious student violation of honor and the discovery of an ineffective policing system that appears to allow perpetrator and material witnesses to make their transient exits from the crime scene, my true anger is at myself for my initial explanatory model.

As Pogo might have said years ago, "We have met the bipolar, and it is us." In that long post-mania lull, I must now examine every ingrained preconception. Why does this bipolarity exist? "Poorly processed trauma triggers" seems to be a common answer. As individuals, communities and as a nation, we are failing in our understanding by allowing our simplistic reactivity to pertain.

Please join me in resolving to make personal changes to restore our reactive imbalance back to some semblance of a yin and yang balance. This need not obviate the need to keep a watchful eye on dishonorable fraternities and the system in which they flourish.

Gould's Metal and Wood Art Reception May 27

The Franklin County Arts Guild announces the opening of a new member show by Ken Gould, blacksmith and metal worker, at the Artisan Depot in Cowan. There will be a reception from 5 to 7 p.m., Friday, May 27. Members of the community are invited to attend the opening reception, meet the artist and learn about the processes used in working metal. The show is open now through Saturday, June 25.

Gould has been a blacksmith for more than 15 years, and is a member of the Southern Blacksmith Association, the Appalachian Area Chapter of Blacksmiths (AACB) and the Alabama Forge Council. He is also news editor for the Lynchburg Forge and operates The Iron dovetail as a side business. In addition to instructing beginning blacksmithing classes, he does custom work, ranging from 17th-century hinges, metal tavern puzzles, lighting and hearth ware, gazing ball stands, 10-foot-high yard art, coffee tables, wine racks and other fun things.

Gould has attended several John C. Campbell blacksmithing classes and artistic blacksmithing seminars. He has demonstrated blacksmithing skills at events for the Smithsonian Institute, the Templeton Foundation, Appalachian Area Blacksmith Conferences and AACB member forge meetings, plus several local festivals and events.

In addition, he is a past president and current member of the Tennessee Valley Wood Club. As a self-taught woodworker with more than 35 years of experience, custom pieces include end tables, bookcases and entertainment centers, blanket chests, custom toolboxes, fireplace mantels and a variety of carvings, turnings and other pieces. He does commission work and will provide quotes and rough sketches at no charge.

Artisan Depot is at 204 Cumberland St. East in Cowan. The Franklin County Arts Guild operates the Artisan Depot. Gallery hours are noon to 5 p.m. on Thursdays, Fridays and Sundays, and 11 a.m. to 5 p.m. on Saturdays.

For more information about this show and upcoming art shows, the gallery or the guild, visit <fcaguild.wordpress.com> or <facebook.com/artisandepot>. People can also contact Diana Lamb at (931) 308-4130 or email <franklincountyartsguild@gmail.com>.

Shakerag Starts 13th Season

Each June, St. Andrew's-Sewanee School welcomes accomplished and aspiring artists to Shakerag Workshops.

Beginning its 13th season, Shakerag Workshops attract artists and aspirants from all across the United States for one-week sessions of creativity, instruction, artistic fellowship and gourmet meals on the campus of SAS. This year's sessions will be June 12–18 and June 19–25.

In addition to more traditional arts media, this year's workshops include the fundamentals of songwriting, custom bamboo bike construction and interactive spatial media design. A full list of workshops is available at <shakerag.org/workshops>.

Workshop participants and the public are invited to attend evening artists' talks and the Shakerag Lecture Series. This year's Shakerag lecturers will be the founders of Chattanooga's UNFoundation, an organization that cuts the red tape for funding entrepreneurial ventures.

Another guest lecturer is Nancy Vienneau, food blogger, former restaurant critic for The Tennessean and author of "Third Thursday Community Potluck Cookbook."

The lectures are at 7:30 p.m., Wednesdays, in McCrory Hall for the Performing Arts, followed by a reception in Simmonds Hall honoring the Shakerag faculty.

For more information or to register for Shakerag Workshops go to <shakerag.org>. Local applicants may receive a discount in tuition and meals.

PEDESTRIANS and BIKERS – EXERCISE CAUTION!

When you are out getting your exercise, following a few simple rules will keep you on the go. When biking, cyclists should loudly announce their presence about 75 feet before passing pedestrians and slow down, since some may not hear a warning bike bell and know to step to the right. On roadways, walkers should walk on the left-hand side of the road, traveling against the traffic; bicyclers should travel in the right-hand lane, going with the flow of traffic. During the day, both walkers and bikers should wear clothing of bright, easily seen colors, and, from dusk on, wear light, reflective clothing. In any case, don't just assume drivers can see you. Be on the lookout ... for your own safety.

"Sunlight on Water" at In-Town

In-Town Gallery presents "Sunlight on Water" for July. Perfectly timed for the scorching days of midsummer, the water paintings invite the viewer to relax and imagine a refreshing place to cool off and enjoy the season. The public is invited to meet the artist at the First Friday open house from 5 p.m. to 8 p.m. on Friday, July 1, at 26A Frazier Avenue in Chattanooga.

Oil paintings by Ann Currey are featured at In-Town Gallery's show for July. "Sunlight on Water" portrays scenes of oceans, streams and rivers which flow seamlessly from the brush of the artist.

Currey is an associate member of Woman Painters of the Southeast and Oil Painters of America and a member of American Impressionist Society.

SAS Soccer Team Falls in Regional Quarterfinal

On May 12, the St. Andrew's-Sewanee School boys' varsity soccer team lost to Webb School of Bell Buckle, 3-2, in the regional quarterfinal before an emotional home crowd. SAS finished the season as the district runner-up.

"This doesn't change anything," said SAS head coach Harrison Camp. "I'm proud of what we've accomplished, and I love these players."

The Webb Feet led at halftime, 2-0, with opportunities from a rip on goal and an open back post. The Mountain Lions fought back in the second half with a goal by Steven Zhu, a sophomore boarding student from Shanghai, China.

In the second half, Webb School found a third goal in intense action. But the SAS attacking midfielder and team high-scorer Sam Smith, a junior from Sewanee, battled back and earned a second goal for the Mountain Lions. Smith was recently selected for the Division II-A East/Middle All-Region team.

Captains for the Mountain Lions were Mustafe Deeq Axmed, a senior boarding student from Hargeisa, Somaliland; Tommy Oliver, a senior from Sewanee; Michael Schaerer, a senior from Monteagle; and Jake Wiley, a senior from Sewanee.

The varsity soccer team ends its strongest season since the 1990s, with an overall record of 6-7 (including tournament matches); 6-5 in the regular season (5-1 in district).

Webb-Knoxville 4, SAS 1

In the final regular season match on May 10, the SAS varsity soccer team traveled to Webb School of Knoxville and came up short, 4-1.

"We made them earn everything," Camp said.

The Spartans earned a quick goal in the first half, but the Mountain Lions defended with passion. "Larson Heitzenrater had a 'Tim Howard day' in goal," Camp said, "with many awesome saves."

Webb-Knoxville netted a second goal before halftime, but the Spartans were clearly frustrated by their early results. In the second half, the Spartans found additional goals from an exposed back post and some quick combination play.

Zhu scored for the Mountain Lions from service by Smith, spoiling a string of shutouts for the Spartans.

"I'm proud, but not satisfied," Camp added. "We also have shown that we can compete at the highest level."

SAS Spring Athletic Awards

Varsity athletes at St. Andrew's-Sewanee School were recently honored at the Spring Athletic Awards.

After individual teams met with coaches, all athletes and families met in McCrory Hall for presentation of the Most Improved Player (MIP), the Most Valuable Player (MVP) and the Coaches' Award winners. The players on the teams select the MIP and MVP awards.

SAS celebrated the achievements of the varsity spring teams, including boys' soccer, tennis and track and field.

The varsity boys' soccer team posted the most successful season since the 1990s. The team was district runner-up and made it to the region quarterfinals.

Junior Sam Smith (Sewanee) was named to the Division II-A East/Middle All-Region Soccer Team, and Smith, Tommy Oliver, Jake Wiley and Joe McDonough (all of Sewanee,) were named to the All-District Team.

The team graduates four seniors this year: Oliver, Wiley, Mustafe Deeq Axmed (Hargeisa, Somaliland) and Michael Schaerer (Monteagle).

At awards night, Wiley was named MVP, Oliver received the Coaches' Award, and freshman Seth Walker (Monteagle) was named MIP.

The girls' tennis team posted a 5-5 record under the leadership of captain and two-time state singles qualifier Ester Yang (Nanjing, China) and head coach Kenneth Alexander.

The team graduates seniors Mason Goodson (Sewanee) and Fey Shen (Zhejiang, China).

Yang received the team's MVP award, Hadley Parsons (New Orleans) was named MIP, and the Coaches' Award went to Lea-Sophie Schiemann (Haan, Germany).

The boys' tennis team, under captain and MIP Isaac Tang (Hohhot, China), posted a 2-7 season record. The team loses senior and Coaches' Award recipient Colburn Hassman (Kilmarnock, Va.). Aubrey Black (Sewanee) was named MVP.

Head coach Molly Schaefer presented the girls' track MVP award to Sarah Johnson (Gruetli-Laager), the MIP award to Kate Butler (Sewanee) and the Coaches' Award to Grace Liu (Beijing, China).

The boys' track awards went to MVP Christian Taylor (Sewanee) and MIP Justin Elgouhary (Manchester). Burton Dorrough (Albany, Ga.) won the Coaches' Award. The track team seniors are Liu, Dorrough, Abby Mainzer (Monteagle) and Bre Torres (Nashville).

Taylor (300-meter intermediate hurdles); Dorrough (400m); Bailey McLean (1600m); Jonathan Miller (Pelham), Elgouhary and Johnson (shot put, discus) all qualified to compete at the regional track meets.

OUTSIDEIN

by Patrick Dean

My buddy John O. exposed me to this quotation, which makes me chuckle every time I think about it: "Beware of anyone with bright shiny new equipment."

The idea is that no one is more of a danger to themselves and others than the beginner. Showing up at the climbing area, river put-in or fishing stream with a quiver of pricey, pristine toys announces to the world that you are probably new at this.

And, if those toys are too many or too expensive—if everything is top-of-the-line and there are extras; if it's all made of carbon-fiber or the latest NASA-inspired alloy—then the suspicion will be that the owner might be one of those types who think that they can purchase competence.

So the problem is that the newbie not only doesn't yet know what he's doing; he also doesn't know how much he doesn't know. Or just how difficult, or in what specific ways it will be difficult to achieve what he hopes and plans to do with all that gear.

Hence the saying at the top. The newbie might learn; he might even become skilled; but in the meantime, it's probably going to be messy. And it could be dangerous to bystanders.

Or, as my friend Gordon the fly-fishing guide says, "There is a direct correlation between number of fish caught and humility."

Don't get me wrong. Being a beginner is great. There's nothing more interesting to me than being at the bottom of the learning curve, especially with an able teacher. Especially when you go into the experience remembering that, after all, it's all new. There shouldn't be any expectation of success, or excellence, or achievement, the first time out. That's just setting yourself up for frustration.

Nor is good gear inherently evil or anything. There is a deep satisfaction in having progressed to the point in your chosen activity where a newer, better tool is justified. Earning that right, putting in the time and effort, and knowing that you can actually put that tool to its higher use makes that next small step toward mastery keenly rewarding.

However, when we make equations in our head like "gear = success," or even more dangerously, "success in business/life/something else = success at this new thing," that's when we are liable to be knocked flat. The gods don't like shortcuts.

When I was in my 20s, I played a lot of tennis and considered myself pretty good. One day, my friend Channing and I arranged to meet up on the courts. He arrived wearing khaki pants and old Converse All-Stars, with an ancient, warped wooden racket resembling a Pringles' potato chip.

As you'll probably guess, Channing proceeded to utterly thrash me. His racket didn't keep him from putting the ball anywhere he chose, with speed and grace.

So it's not, finally, about the gear. It's about time spent on the water, on the court, in the field. That new thing might or might not make you better—it's using it, regularly and with attention and humility, that counts.

Meanwhile, you might want to rub a little dirt on it.

Tigers' Golf Finish Seventh at NCAA

With the final round of the NCAA Championships canceled due to bad weather, the Sewanee women's golf team finished its first-ever team trip to nationals in seventh place on May 13 in Houston.

The Tigers finished with a three-round total of 946. Rhodes won the national title with a 904 total. Tigers' senior Emily Javadi capped off the best four-year career in program history with a 15th-place finish.

SAS Tennis Wrap-up

The SAS middle school tennis teams finished their season playing Tullahoma Middle School on April 28. Jenna Black continued her impressive season with a 6-1 win in singles and a 6-4 win in doubles with partner Meredith Foster. SAS lost the girls' match, 2-5. The boys lost their match, 1-6, with the only win coming from the doubles team of Cole Palmertree and Michael Vaughn. No. 1 player Nathan King lost a close singles match, 6-4.

On April 26, the SAS varsity tennis teams hosted the Webb School of Bell Buckle. The girls won their match, 7-0, and didn't give up a single game in the singles. Ester Yang, Paula Gillich, Tessa Shackelford and Lea Schiemann all won their singles matches, 6-0, 6-0, and Izzie Spinelli won her match by default. The doubles teams of Yang/Gillich and Shackelford/Spinelli easily won their matches. The boys lost their match, 2-5, with Michael Hubona at No. 2 and Isaac Tang at No. 5 both securing wins in singles.

On April 28, the varsity teams hosted Tullahoma High School. The girls won, 7-0. The boys won a close match, 4-3; Hubona, Fritz Stine and Zhang Zhang won their singles matches at No. 2, No. 3 and No. 5, and Black/Stine won at No. 1 doubles. The boys' team traveled to Donelson Christian Academy on April 29, where they lost, 2-5. Hubona won at No. 2 singles and Zhang won at No. 5 singles. Both teams lost, 1-4, in their final match on May 2 at home against Franklin Road Academy. Yang secured the only girls win, while Hubona won for the boys. The girls finished the season with a 5-5 record, and the boys had a 2-7 record.

SAS Varsity Track and Field Update

St. Andrew's-Sewanee sent three athletes from the varsity track and field team to Girls Preparatory School to compete in the Division II-A East Regional Meet for Field Events. Justin Elgouhary competed in the shot put and the discus. Jonathan Miller also competed in both throwing events and achieved a personal record in the shot put. Sarah Johnson had especially strong showings in the throwing events, placing third in the discus and fifth in the shot put.

On left, Eric Roddy and Jack Gray won the men's doubles over Trinity University. They will play in the NCAA Doubles Tournament. Women's tennis players Lindsey Liles and Clementina Davila will also play in the NCAA Singles and Doubles Championships. Photo by Lyn Hutchinson

Paw-Paws

In south-central Pennsylvania, where we are visiting, and probably there in south-central Tennessee, the paw-paws are in bloom. They have maroon-colored flowers with six petals and three sepals, quite distinctive.

The paw-paw is a member of the custard-apple family, a mostly tropical family. This could explain the unusual naked leaf buds, conspicuous in the winter, when most of the buds of woody plants in our flora are enclosed in scales for protection. The plant usually flowers before the leaves are fully developed. The fruit is the largest native edible fruit in America and matures in late summer or fall.

Paw-paws do grow in patches, as described in the familiar folksong, spreading by root suckers. They occur north into parts of Canada and into the states bordering the Mississippi River on the west. It is the food plant of the larvae of the zebra swallowtail butterfly. If you find a patch in bloom this spring, make a note to check on it in the fall and maybe have a chance to sample this fruit and see how you describe its taste.

Grilling Safety

When grilling, the National Fire Protection Association suggests the following:

Propane and charcoal BBQ grills should only be used outdoors.

The grill should be placed well away from the home, deck railings and out from under eaves and overhanging branches.

Keep children and pets at least three feet away from the grill area.

Keep your grill clean by removing grease or fat buildup from the grates and in the trays below.

Never leave your grill unattended.

Winchester

Gretchen

Pets of the Week

Meet Winchester and Gretchen

Animal Harbor offers these two delightful pets for adoption.

Winchester is a very smart and affectionate 6-year-old Labrador mix who would like to sit in your lap for an ear massage, even though he's a little big for that. If you like doggy kisses, Winchester can be quite the smoocher. He is heartworm-negative, up-to-date on shots, microchipped and neutered.

Gretchen is a precious little 3-month-old kitten who knows how to get affection when she needs to be petted. Her greatest fear is the vacuum, so she's searching for someone who either doesn't vacuum, or at least has a place for her to hide when that dreaded machine comes out. She is negative for FeLV and FIV, house-trained, up-to-date on shots, microchipped and spayed.

Every Friday is Black Friday at Animal Harbor. On Fridays, adoption fees will be reduced 50 percent for black or mostly black pets more than 4 months old who have been at Animal Harbor for more than a month. Pets adopted from Animal Harbor qualify for a free post-adoption wellness exam by local veterinarians.

Animal Harbor is now in its new shelter at 56 Nor-Nan Road, off AEDC Road in Winchester. Call Animal Harbor at 962-4472 for information, and check out their other pets at <www.animalharbor.com>. Enter the drawing on this site for a free spay or neuter for one of your pets. Please help Animal Harbor continue to save abandoned pets by sending your donations to Animal Harbor, P. O. Box 187, Winchester, TN 37398.

Callie Oldfield, post-baccalaureate Fellow at the Sewanee Herbarium, has produced a poster on rare plants of Sewanee. The herbarium is donating them to interested area teachers for their classrooms. Oldfield (right) gives a poster to Swiss Memorial School fourth-grade teacher Clayta Meeks. Teachers can contact Oldfield at <oldfica0@sewanee.edu> if they would like one of these posters for their classroom.

HEARING HEALTH NEWS
 by Debbie Gamache,
 M.S. CCC-A Audiologist
NOT HITTING THE HIGH NOTES

One of the most common symptoms of age-related hearing loss, presbycusis, is the decreased ability to hear high-frequency sounds. Consequently, those with this problem may have difficulty understanding the conversation of children and women (whose voices are naturally of a higher frequency). They may also have difficulty distinguishing between consonants, even though vowels may be heard plainly. As a result, words may be misunderstood, sometimes with embarrassing results. This can make a critical difference in the way we relate to family, friends and co-workers.

At Debbie Gamache's The Hearing Center LLC, one of the most important things we do is to educate our patients about their hearing loss and help them to be aware of research and products available to help improve their lives. It is important to us that you enjoy the world in which you live. We look forward to servicing the individual needs of the hearing-impaired. Can we help you? Please call us at 931-393-2051 or come and visit us at 705 NW Atlantic St., Suite B, Tullahoma. You can also visit our website at <www.thehearingcenterllc.com>.

SAS GRADUATION WEEKEND

Graduation Day is the climax of a dream.
A parental dream that began when a child is born,
And their hope come true it would seem,
A triumph held after periods of forlorn,
A feeling of pride and euphoria years away
For a daughter or son - Graduation Day.

It is a peak of success for the graduate,
Not only for the graduate but parents too.
A joyful event after many years they had to wait,
Realizing the glorious thrill of a dream come true,
A genuine smile accompanied by a deep sigh,
Often a handkerchief in hand as the class goes by.

Graduation is a deserving, hard earned goal
With mortarboard and gown foretold,
A gratifying service of the mind and soul
In a simple and beautiful sheepskin told
That the graduate fulfilled the educational rule.
At last, for the mother and father, a dream come true.
Graduation Day!

SUMMER ENRICHMENT DAY CAMPS

“MATHISH” CAMP—Students will use Rumi cubes, dice, cooking and even engineering concepts to review basic math skills, studying M.C. Escher, famous for tessellations and patterns. One camp, June 6–8, is for third–fifth grades, 9–11 a.m., and sixth–eighth grades, 1–3 p.m.; the other, June 13–15, is for kindergarten–second grades, 9–11 a.m.

ROUTE 66 CAMP—Students will discover a special feature about each of the states Route 66 goes through, using games and art projects to get a taste of this bygone time in American history, with famous street artist Banksy as the featured artist. Camps will be June 20–22, third grade and up, two sessions, 10 a.m.–12 p.m. and 1–3 p.m., and July 11–13, kindergarten–second grades, 9–11 a.m.

SHAKESPEARIENCE—Featuring Shakespeare and Michelangelo, this program will bring your child a whole new way of looking at these iconic figures. One camp, June 27–29, sixth grade and up, two sessions, 10 a.m.–12 p.m. and 1–3 p.m.

Super Heroes Camp—Focuses on the classic super heroes started in the 1930s. The artist for this camp is Stan Lee. Kids will be inspired by their own everyday heroes to create a super hero and comic strip of their own. July 18–20, first–third grades, one session, 9–11 a.m.

KINDERGARTEN READINESS CAMP (PRE-K)—Shapes, numbers, days of the week, colors, and listening skills are important first steps to getting ready for school; artist Henri Matisse will inspire students to use these very basic aspects of our world to get off to the best start on their educational journey. July 25–28, pre-K, 9–11 a.m.

BACK-TO-SCHOOL ART CAMP—Celebrate the summer with classic art projects which never go out of style.Children will love doing some of these time-honored arts like tie-dye, macrame, string art, steampunk, and yarn bombing. Aug. 1–3, pre-K–second grades, 9–11 a.m.; third grade and up, 1–3 p.m.
