

Fourth of July Parade Needs You

The Fourth of July Committee is seeking a person to plan and prepare for the well-loved parade. This person should be able to coordinate the line-up of parade entries to ensure the success and safety of the parade. Help will be provided by the Fourth of July Committee. Contact Jade McBee Barry at <jademcbee@gmail.com> or Erin Kunz at <erinkunz@icloud.com> to volunteer.

The theme for this year's Fourth of July celebration is "30 years of Sewanee 4th of July Celebrations." Parade entries are now being accepted by contacting Erin Kunz at <erinkunz@icloud.com>. Provide a contact person and contact information for the entry, type of entry and approximate length of the entry. Please enter by Thursday, June 30.

T-shirts are available to preorder for $18 each. Contact Jade McBee Barry at <jademcbee@gmail.com> to place your order with the number of shirts and sizes.

The planning committee will be meeting on Mondays through June 27 at 5 p.m. at the Sewanee Senior Citizens Center. Everyone in the community is invited to attend.

Local Volunteers Welcome the SSMF Students

Each year, a faithful band of volunteers begins its work in early summer, weeks before the Sewanee Summer Music Festival (SSMF) students arrive from across the country and around the world. Local residents are an essential part of the SSMF operation, performing a multitude of tasks both seen and unseen by those attending the performances.

The volunteers include faithful friends who return to their duties each year and they always welcome new members to join them. Volunteer Robert Beazley, a recent graduate of the School of Theology, looks forward to his first festival as a volunteer. One of the reasons Beazley came to Sewanee is the vibrant community; staying on another year gives him the opportunity to be part of all Sewanee has to offer in the summer. Wardie Cammack, a young pianist and student at SAS who will head to Alexandria, Va., this fall to attend Episcopal High School is motivated by her love of music and desire to keep a connection to her hometown.

Many SSMF students arrive on Groome shuttles, which operate between Monteagle and the campus on arrival and departure days, courtesy of the company. Laden with instrument cases and luggage for a one-month stay, the students welcome vehicle transportation from registration to a dorm. Scott Sloan, Joseph Pierce and Jim Pierce gladly wear a chauffeur cap to provide valuable assistance. All are returning volunteers with years of experience who enjoy the chance to welcome students and faculty each summer.

While SSMF staff are busy with registration, volunteers hold down the office, answering phones and relaying information regarding the inevitable flight delays and questions from students en route. Sally Hubbard was a piano student in the first two summers of the festival, then named the Sewanee Summer Music Center. She now "plans her summer around the festival," having participated in a variety of roles. This year, Hubbard has organized the first schedule of Sunday afternoon tours, Diversions, recruiting her own cadre of volunteers to act as guides to local attractions.

Each performance requires a minimum of 10 workers to staff the merchandise tables, sell tickets, hand out programs and track the audience numbers. Organizing this committed group is Rachel Lynch, a former Manhattan resi-

Bonnie Bishop to Perform at Angel Park

At 7:30 p.m., today (Friday), June 10, at Angel Park, Thirty Tigers recording artist and Grammy-winning songwriter Bonnie Bishop will perform. A veteran touring musician with five records behind her, Bishop has seen her songs covered by Bonnie Raitt and performed on the TV show Nashville. Her sixth album, "Ain't Who I Was," appeared on May 27 to remarkable acclaim, including strong reviews from the New York Times, Rolling Stone and American Songwriter. The Texas native's roots are in Country music, but the current record—produced by Dave Cobb, fresh from albums with Chris Stapleton, Sturgill Simpson and Jason Isbell—moves toward R&B and draws persistent comparisons to Dusty Springfield's Dusty in Memphis. The Sewanee show, interrupting a very busy tour, will be a homecoming for Bishop, who is a creative writing student in the Sewanee School of Letters. The School of Letters is sponsoring the event, which is free and open to all.

13th Annual Shakerag Workshops Begin on June 12

Nearly 150 artists from around the United States will be at St. Andrew's-Sewanee next week for the 13th annual Shakerag Workshops.

For two weeks every June, the adult studio art workshop program is open to artists wishing to enrich and develop their creative skills.

By day, the workshop instructors offer sessions in songwriting, quilting, photography, painting, tie dying and sculpting. In the evenings, nightly lectures and slideshows will be led by instructors of the Shakerag Workshops. All lectures and slideshows are in McCrory Hall for the Performing Arts and are open to the public.

Shakerag began in 2004 with only six classes. Since 2004 the workshops have more than doubled to the 15 that are planned for this summer. Sessions for this summer are focused on songwriting, quilting, photography, painting, tie dying and sculpting.

Pat Bergeson, a Nashville-based guitarist and harmonica player, has

MSSA 134th Season Begins on Monday

The 134th season of community development sponsored by the Monteagle Sunday School Assembly (MSSA) will begin on Monday, June 12. From June to August, the MSSA honors its charter and history with varied religious, educational, and cultural programs and activities beginning on Sunday, June 12. The MSSA will host eight weeks of events for Sewanee residents and the surrounding community.

The opening week features lectures by Martin Knoll, Hillary Tindle, Liz Norell, June Mays, Scott Zimmer and Tom Mould and a performance by the Chattanooga Symphony and Opera String Quartet.

There will also be a workshop by Chattanooga Symphony and Opera's Bob Bernhardt on Monday, June 12 beginning at 10:45 a.m. Bernhardt will present on compositions from John Williams, composer of themes from "Star Wars" and "Indiana Jones: Raiders of the Lost Ark." "Bob's Bootcamp! John Williams: Star Wars, and Beyond" will be in the Assembly's new Pulliam Center.

Live by Satellite will be the opening band for Friday Nights in the Park.

"Friday Nights in the Park" Return on June 17

The sixth anniversary of "Friday Nights in the Park," hosted by the Sewanee Business Alliance (SBA), begins at 6 p.m., Friday, June 17, at Angel Park on University Avenue in Sewanee. University Avenue will be closed at 6 p.m., so that guests can safely enjoy all the activities, including local vendors offering food and drink. Reverse raffle tickets are still available <sewaneeangelpark.com>.

Live by Satellite is the opening band for this annual event. Live by Satellite is fresh air to rock and roll. Their sound is a modern twist on classic rock, taking inspiration from the intensely catchy guitar riffs, pounding driven drums, and soaring vocals symbolic of artists such as Bon Jovi, Journey and Def Leppard. Mixing those elements with synthesizers and loops used in modern Pop, you get the Live By Satellite signature sound. Their lyrics are deeply personal and bravely honest, pulling the listener in with stories of falling in love and dealing with heartbreak. The result is a cross-generational timeless sound of engaging songs that make you want to come along for the ride that is Live by Satellite.

Band members Mike Collingsworth (singer), Chandler Mills (bass), Corey Lawson (guitar) and Troy Campbell (drums) grew up in north Alabama and became friends at school. After finishing college, the guys quit their day jobs and moved to Nashville, risking it all to devote their full attention to making music and the success of the band.

Through mutual friend and Day of Fire guitarist Joe Pangallo, Mike met producer Rogers Masson. Together, Rogers and the group spent two years writing, rehearsing, and recording, splitting studio time between Ronnie's Place Studio and Warner Brothers Studios in Nashville. They approached the writing and recording process with respect for what came before, and an unwavering dedication to the forward momentum of Pop/Rock.

The lineup for other Friday Nights in the Park is: Men of Soul on June 24; The ConSoulers on July 1; and The Stagger Moon Band on July 8.

"sometimes there's God so quickly" at McCrory Hall

Actor and author David Roby plays 19 different characters in this one-man tour de force. The play will be at 7 p.m., Saturday, June 18, at the McCrory Hall for the Performing Arts on the campus of St. Andrew's-Sewanee School. Sponsored by the Sewanee School of Letters, this event is free and open to the public.

"sometimes there's God so quickly" is a chronicle of Roby's travels through the Mississippi Delta, a quest for the elusive character of the late playwright Tennessee Williams, presented through a colloquy of the voices of those who knew him. The event is free and open to the public.

Roby was the Tennessee Williams Fellow at Sewanee from 2010 to 2012 (when he researched and wrote this one-man show) and is now Artist-in-Residence at the University of Alabama at Birmingham's Arts in Medicine and an acting and playwrighting teacher at U.A.B.'s ArtPlay.

A graduate of the North Carolina School of the Arts and holding an M.F.A. degree from Illinois State University, he has also studied acting and playwrighting at Oxford University, the Woolly Mammoth Theatre School in Washington, D.C. and the Playwright's Intensive at the John F. Kennedy Center. His other plays include "Arts and Science," "Unseen Character" (which concerns characters referred to but not seen in Williams' "The Glass Menagerie") and "Mercy Me."

He earned a B.M. from St. Olaf College, M.M. from Stanford University and a D.Mus. from Florida State University. He studied piano with several famous teachers. He was a beloved professor of music, organist and choirmaster at the University of the South from 1964–1978, church organist and choirmaster for several Episcopal churches and one Lutheran church, and a U.S. Army veteran of World War II. He was preceded in death by three wives, Jeanne Eastman, Judy Russ and Barbara Houser.

He is survived by his son, Joseph M. (Maureen) Running Jr. of Fayetteville; son, Peter Fletcher Stuart of Lincoln, Ala.; daughters, Julia Running of Chula Vista, Calif., Ann Running of Lima, Ohio, Melissa (Jan) Running-Spoor of Chevy Chase, Md., Rebecca Stuart of Spokane, Wash., Mary Stuart Turner of Sewanee, Margaret Stuart Andrews of Seattle, Wash; six grandchildren, six great-grandchildren and one great-great-grandchild.

His ashes will be interred at 11 a.m. on Thursday, June 16 in the University of the South cemetery beside those of Judy and Barbara. Everyone is welcome to attend.

William Lyons Modena

William Lyons Modena, age 87 of Winchester, died on June 6, 2016, at the home of George W. and Patricia Taylor in Altamont. He was born on July 27, 1928, to Robert T. and Lillian A. Modena of Decherd. He was a long-time member of Decherd Church of Christ, serving as deacon. He was a U.S.A.F. veteran. He was preceded in death by his parents; first wife Dorothy Evelyn Arledge Modena; second wife Betty Jean Thomas Trammel Modena; cousins Josie Tipps, Mary Sue Bass and E. C. Carson; aunts, Artie Mary Carson and Grace Hester; great-aunt Elsie Browning; and uncle, Jess Adams.

He is survived by children of his second marriage, Patricia (George) Taylor of Altamont, Larry (Lynn) Thomas of Sewanee, Jerry Thomas of Chattanooga, and Raymond Edward (Sarah) Thomas of Cowan; cousins Harvey Browning of Decherd, Louise Cowan of Decherd, Judy West of Tullahoma, Mary Alice Sells of Winchester, and Grace Whitfield of Fayetteville; sisters-in-law (Dorothy's sisters) Ann Arledge Powell, Dale (Barry) Stewart and Ruth (Tom) Bartek, all of Winchester, and their families; and a caring friend and neighbor, Wayne Johnson.

A graveside service with military honors was on June 7 at Mt. Garner Cemetery in Decherd with Lyle Starnes presiding.

The family thanks the personnel of Moore-Cortner, also of Golden Living Center-Mountain View and the caretakers of Avalon Hospice for their recent care. For complete obituary go to <www.moorecortner.com>.

Disaster Chaplaincy Training Course

The Beecken Center, in partnership with the National Disaster Interfaiths Network (NDIN), invites clergy and lay spiritual caregivers of all faiths to take this two-day disaster chaplaincy training at the Sewanee Inn on Aug. 9 and 10. Participants who complete this certification can volunteer in their own diocese or faith community, or with NDIN and its national partners. NDIN can also assist unaffiliated volunteers in finding disaster spiritual care volunteer opportunities in local communities across the United States.

Emergency managers and disaster mental health professionals may also take this course to develop their knowledge of disaster spiritual care best practices. The cost is $395 and includes breakfast, lunch, afternoon snack and all course materials. Lodging is not included.

This course may also be taken in conjunction with Engaging Faith Communities in Disasters on Aug. 8 at the Sewanee Inn. The combined cost for the two trainings is $500.

The Engaging Faith Communities in Disasters curriculum provides an overview of why and how to engage faith communities during disasters and public health emergencies.

For more information and to register go to <www.beeckencenter.sewanee.edu>.

Dinner & VB-Us

Bible School is not “just for kids” anymore. Otey Memorial is preparing for the first summer of VB-Us, an intergenerational evening learning series at 5:15 to 8 p.m., Monday–Thursday, June 27–30.

Each evening begins at 5:15 p.m. with a community dinner and continues with several activities such as experimenting with contemplative art, learning about social justice on the plateau, or experiencing a walk with story and song. Contact Jeannie Babb <oteyformation@gmail.com>.

present "The Joys of Guitar, Harmonica, and Song Writing for Music Lovers" on Monday, June 13 at 7:15 p.m.

Elizabeth Busch, an internationally renowned artist who has been painting quilts for more than 30 years, will present a lecture titled "Creating a Painted Quilt." Hale Empowerment and Revitalization Organization (HERObike), a company that works for community development to end rural poverty, will also present a session on Monday, June 13, showing participants how to build a custom bamboo bike frame.

On Tuesday, June 14, Diane Hall will present a lecture titled "Sewing: The Art of Making" about how to create garments from commercial patterns and individual ideas. Hall's presentation will begin at 7:15 p.m.

Mary Hettmansperger, author and owner of cooking and creative art studio Gallery 64, will present to Shakerag participants the process of making jewelry. Hettmansperger's "Jewelry: Alternative Surfaces, Expressions, and Designs" will be followed by Matt Kelleher's presentation on throwing and hand building clay pitchers. Kelleher is a member of the ceramic faculty at Alfred University.

Self-trained chef and food writer, educator and activist Nancy Vienneau is a member of the Community Food Advocates and columnist for The Tennessean. Vienneau works as a chef and teacher at Second Harvest Food Bank's Culinary Arts Center and at Magdalene House in Nashville. Vienneau will lecture on Wednesday, June 15 at 7:30 p.m.

On Thursday, June 16, large-format landscape photographer Kenneth Parker will give a lecture titled "Finding Your Voice in Color Landscape Photography." Parker is drawn outdoors, with most of his photographs requiring several day-long treks to places like waterfalls in Myanmar, bayous in Cambodia and rice terraces in Bali. Danielle Roney works with sculpting and time-based medias such as film, video and computer technologies, to create her works. Her project Global Portals was featured at TEDGlobal in 2005. Roney will present "Time-Based Space: Experimentations in Spatial Media Design."

Maggie Steber is a documentary photographer and has worked in 66 different countries, with 30 years experience working in Haiti. Steber's presentation "Photography: Daring to See the World in a New Way" will be Monday, June 20 at 7:15 p.m.

Shoko Teruyama grew up in Mishima, Japan and works as a sculptor of earthenware. Teruyama will present "Clay: Build It, Slip It, Scratch It" on Monday, June 20 at 7:15 p.m.

Students' Work in Local Communities Enhanced by $1 Million Gift

The University of the South has announced the creation of an Office of Civic Engagement, formed by combining the offices of Community Engagement and Chapel Outreach. The new office will continue its ongoing relationship with All Saints' Chapel and will work to develop, support, and create both Chapel and secular civic engagement programs.

The University is also happy to announce the receipt of a gift to support this reorganization and the development of new civic engagement programs. The gift of $1.12 million, given by an alumna and her parents who wish to remain unnamed, creates the Fund for Civic Engagement.

The expanded civic engagement office and its expanded funding will permit a greater impact by the office in the community and for Sewanee students. Students will be able to have additional meaningful experiences of translating theory into practice, and increased understanding of how national and local themes affect people. The University will be able to connect more to its partner communities (local, regional and international), with a better understanding of the opportunities and challenges of each.

"Over the past year, the University has considered the range of projects located in the former Outreach Office and Office of Community Engagement," said Dean of the College Terry Papillon. "These activities, we hope, will continue and grow in their breadth and depth. Reorganization of these programs under a single office will allow the University to take greater responsibility for the community impact of its civic engagement projects."

The new Office of Civic Engagement will include the following staff members: Director Jim Peterman, Dixon Myers, Nicky Hamilton, Robin Hille Michaels and Michelle Howell.

Hilary Tindle, author of "Up: How a Positive Outlook Can Transform Our Health and Aging," will draw on her own experience as a practicing physician and National Institutes of Health-funded research to show that our "unique patterns of thinking and feeling about ourselves, others, and the world... may be the key to how well and how fast we age," according to Tindle's book. Tindle's lecture will be at 8:15 p.m. on Sunday, June 12 at Warren Chapel.

Martin Knoll, professor of geology at the University of the South, will present "Tenneswim: Swimming the Tennessee River in the Name of Water Quality" on Tuesday, June 14. Knoll grew up in Sewanee and is a Sewanee Academy and University of the South alum. Knoll's research includes studies of stormwater hydrology and groundwater dynamics on the Cumberland Plateau, the geology of the Mojave Desert of southern California, the formation of insect-bearing Baltic amber and the geology of southwest Germany. Knoll's lecture will be held at 10:45 a.m. at Warren Chapel.

A visiting assistant of political science at The University of the South, Liz Norell studies mass public opinion, political psychology and political institutions. In 2014, Norell presented a dissertation to the University of Texas at Dallas on Congressional polarization, mass public opinion and the link between elite and mass polarization. Her lecture, titled "Seven Reasons Our Politics Seem So Polarized" will be held at Warren Chapel on Wednesday, June 15 at 10:45 a.m.

June Mays, a graduate of the English Gardening School in London, has designed more than 100 gardens in the southeast. Mays focuses her work in areas surrounding Birmingham, Ala. and Chattanooga, Tenn. May's lecture, "The Gardens of Downton Abbey," will be held at Warren Chapel on Thursday, June 16 at 10:45 a.m. Mays will speak on the gardens of Highclere Castle where Downton Abbey is filmed. Mays is a member of the Garden Writer's Association and the Association of Professional Landscape Designers.

Scott Zimmer, a market researcher and public speaker, will deliver a presentation on key differences between generations and solutions as to how to relieve intergenerational tension and facilitate collaboration. Zimmer's lecture is titled "When Generations Connect" will be Thursday, June 16 at 8:15 p.m. in the Pulliam Center.

Tom Mould, professor of sociology and anthropology at Elon University in Elon, N.C., will present a lecture on Appalachian Folklore on Friday, June 17 at 10:45 a.m. at Warren Chapel. Mould is the author of several books on Mormon and Native American folklore and traditions among pottery collectors, African American steppers, welfare legends and ginseng hunters, according to MSSA's lecturer biography.

On the evening of June 17, The Chattanooga Symphony and Opera String Quartet will perform at Warren Chapel. The performance will take place at 8 p.m.

For a full list of opening week activities, visit <www.mssa1882.net>. Please note the following changes in the schedule for the following weeks of programs and activities:

David Hudgins's lecture "From Book to Screen: A Discussion with David Hudgins and Greg Isles" has been rescheduled from Thursday, June 30 to Friday, July 1 at 8 p.m. in Warren Chapel.

"Daggers Drawn: The Power, Passion, and Pizzazz of Political Cartoons" with Kevin Kallaughier has been rescheduled from Thursday, July 14 to Thursday, June 30 at 8:15 p.m. in Warren Chapel.

dent. Lynch enjoyed music, dance and opera during her time in New York, and continues to make the arts a part of her life through the music festival.

The volunteers enjoy their work together in supporting the festival and representing Sewanee's prime attraction—the remarkable community here. For volunteer opportunities contact Ruth Cobb at 598-1903, or <rscobb@sewanee.edu>.

Smith Lecture at Hargrove

Martin Smith will give a public lecture, "Getting It Together: Our Role in the Remarriage of Spirituality and Mission," on Wednesday, June 15 at 7 p.m. in Hargrove Auditorium.

Smith will offer reflections based on a lifetime exploring the language and grammar of spiritual formation, and struggling with the conventional split between 'spirituality' and the prophetic imperatives of mission. In this lecture he will propose that, after decades restoring the Eucharistic life of the Church, people face the overdue task of re forging a specifically Baptist, Trinitarian spirituality of immersion and depth that recruits us for cocreative mission under the authority of God's future. There will be a book sale and a reception immediately following the lecture.

SCCF to Honor Adams and Ayres Families

South Cumberland Community Fund (SCCF) will honor Madeline and Howell Adams of Beersheba Springs and Pat and Bob Ayres, formerly of Sewanee, at its new fund-raising event, Picnic For the Plateau, on Sunday, June 26. The event is made possible by the generous sponsorship of Tower Community Bank.

South Cumberland Community Fund has been generously supported by these two families, well-known to the Plateau. According to Leah Rhys, SCCF board member and development chair, "This event is an opportunity to recognize Madeline and Howell Adams and Pat and Bob Ayres for their enormous philanthropic commitment to the work of South Cumberland Community Fund and their continuing support of the Fund's ongoing work in the region."

Madeline and Howell Adams provided the initial challenge gift in 2011 at the creation of the South Cumberland Community Fund. The Adamses have supported numerous organizations in the area, and "immediately stepped up to lead this new endeavor," Rhys said. "Howell co-chaired the 2012 Steering Committee and has been a vital member of the board ever since, with an exuberant Madeline at his side. Together they have been extraordinary donors of their time and treasure to this Mountain," she said.

"Pat and Bob Ayres have been generous, faithful supporters of South Cumberland Community Fund since 2012, ensuring SCCF's sustainability," Rhys said. Pat and Bob Ayres served Sewanee through Bob's leadership as the 13th Vice-Chancellor of the University of the South (1977-1988); they are also dedicated to many community initiatives including St. Mary's Sewanee. The Shield-Ayres Foundation has supported SCCF in developing the internal leadership necessary to move the Fund's work forward. "Pat and Bob believe in the power of compassionate community collaborations and their encouragement and assistance have been essential to SCCF's growth."

"These two couples have been key leaders in the development of South Cumberland Community Fund," said Margaret C. Woods, SCCF board chair, "and we are delighted that Tower Community Bank has joined with South Cumberland Community Fund to sponsor this celebration."

Picnic For the Plateau will feature an elegant picnic lunch at Myers Point Barn in Sewanee, a silent auction of five vacation trips and music by Dr. Soul's Wholly Funk Band. The event begins at noon, Sunday, June 26. Reservations are required by Friday, June 17; tickets are $75 per person. For more information or to register go to <www.southcumberlandcommunityfund.org>.

South Cumberland Community Fund works to improve the quality of life across the Plateau by increasing philanthropy and supporting leadership of the area's communities, schools, and nonprofit organizations. Established in 2012, SCCF has reinvested more than $500,000 in projects that benefit the Plateau; it will make another round of grants in July 2016.

Free Public Talk Dispels Myths About Childbirth

A free public talk titled "Three Myths about Childbirth that Hurt our Children ... and What We Can Do to Help" will be offered at 7 p.m., Wednesday, June 15, at the Roots and Wings Yoga Studio on the Winchester Square. Childcare and healthy snacks will be provided.

"This informational program is not only for pregnant women," says Heidemarie Huber. "It's also for anyone who has a loved one who is expecting a baby, now or in the future. Childbirth is a vitally important passage that makes a profound impact on the life of every baby and parent."

Huber is a certified master hypnotherapist, HypnoBirthing® childbirth instructor and doula. She is dedicated to supporting families along the pregnancy, childbirth and infant care journey. Huber recently founded Joyful Birth Family Services. Her mission is to help parents provide their newborn the best, most joyful beginning of life. Upon completion of training this fall she will expand her services to HypnoMothering® classes and lactation (breastfeeding) consulting.

"What most of us have been taught to believe about childbirth," Huber explains, "has been overturned by an overwhelming body of scientific evidence. The bad news is that most current medical practices aren't based on the evidence and can lead to trauma for both baby and mother. The good news," she continues, "is that we can help our loved ones prevent or ease that trauma, while still respecting their choices."

For more information contact Huber at <SUPPORT@joyfulbirth.org>.

F@H Offers New Program

Folks at Home (F@H) is pleased to offer to members and volunteers the Boost Your Brain & Memory Program. This program consists of eight, one-hour sessions that include evidence-based memory strategy activities, a short video, discussion and goal setting.

F@H, in partnership with Mather LifeWays Institute on Aging and the National Village to Village Network, is offering members and volunteers the opportunity to participate in an eight-week program called "Boost Your Brain & Memory." The group meets weekly for an hour. Each week a new topic on brain health is introduced. Sessions are comprised of a review of the previous week's content and goals, a short video with discussion, memory activities, and goal setting for the week ahead. Subjects covered include healthy eating, physical activity, social engagement, stress alleviation, mindfulness and memory strategy activities.

The current program is co-facilitated by F@H volunteer and community member, Tommy Hewitt and Ameri-corps VISTA, Hilda Vaughan.

Developed by Mather LifeWays Institute on Aging, this evidence-based program is designed to help participants learn and practice the most promising strategies for keeping the brain healthy as they age. This program uses a unique, whole-person approach to brain fitness, providing participants with healthy practices that can help them remember things better, be more organized, pay closer attention, and reduce stress—as well as reduce the risk of dementia.

"Promoting lifestyles that encourage health, fitness and community engagement is part of our mission. F@H plans to offer this program to more community members in the future," said Kathleen O'Donohue, F@H director.

To participate, complete this brief online form at <<http://goo.gl/forms/uMcJw8a8lQt7ETy22>> or contact F@H by email <folksathomesewanee@gmail.com> or phone 598-0303.

Lloyd Receives M.D. Degree

Marguerite Cooper Lloyd, daughter of the Rev. Sam and Marguerite Lloyd of Boston, Mass., received her M.D. degree from Vanderbilt Medical School on May 13.

Cooper, as she is known, received the Dean's Award for outstanding service to the Medical School and to the broader community, and will continue her training at Johns Hopkins Hospital in Baltimore in a four-year residency in internal medicine and pediatrics.

Special guests at her graduation ceremony included Sewanee residents Robbie Patton and Robbie's sister, Ann Taylor.

Robbie helped to care for Cooper, and later her brother Gabriel, from the time Cooper was 3-months-old when her parents moved to Sewanee and were employed at the University in the positions of University Chaplain and University Legal Counsel.

Though she moved to Boston at the age of five, Cooper has returned to Sewanee for visits every summer and maintained her close friendship with Robbie for 28 years.

Robbie Patton, left, and Cooper Lloyd hold a photograph of them when they first met.

Sanders Attends Republican Statesmen's Dinner

On May 13, Grundy County High School graduating senior Sierra Sanders attended the 40th Annual Tennessee Republican Statesmen's Dinner held at the Music City Center in Nashville, which included a tribute to Fred Thompson and featured keynote speaker South Carolina Governor Nikki Haley.

Sierra was the guest of the Grundy County Republican Party. Her ticket was sponsored by the Grundy/Marion Conservative Women's Club for her exemplary leadership skills and scholastic achievement, as well as her recent commitment to join the Army Reserve upon graduation.

Sierra plans to attend MTSU, with a year of college credits already completed during her time at GCHS, and then on to Ft. Sam Houston for the Army graduate program in anesthesia nursing to become a certified registered nurse anesthetist.

Will Evans

Evans Graduates with Distinction

Will Evans graduated with highest distinction from the University of Virginia on May 21. He was in the Distinguished Majors Program with a major in political and social thought. He was a Jefferson Scholar, an Echols Scholar and was inducted into the Raven Society, the academic honorary society at UVA. He lived on "The Lawn" during his fourth year at UVA. He is the son of Jon and Amy Evans of Sewanee.

His thesis was titled, "Decolonizing Conservation in Belize," for which he received the Harrison Undergraduate Research Award and a grant from the Institute for Practical Ethics.

In the fall, he plans to pursue a Masters of Science in biodiversity, conservation and management at the University of Oxford, England.

Notes

Summer Conferences Continue

Junior Tennis

This session will run from June 12-18. The Junior Tennis Camps are divided into the Camp of Champions, Tiger Tennis Camp and the College Tennis Recruiting Showcase. The Camp of Champions is for state and sectionally ranked junior players who want high intensity training. Tiger Tennis Camp is for players whose levels range from beginners and intermediates through high school athletes. The College Tennis Recruiting Showcase is for rising junior and senior high school students who hope to compete in college tennis.

Bridge Program

The University of the South will be hosting the Bridge Pre-Health and Field Science Program which runs from June 12 to July 2.

It is designed for rising high school seniors to contribute and enrich the academic community. Students interested in studying Pre-Health sciences will get a firm foundation in mathematics during this three-week program.

The students of Bridge will engage in course work that interests them, receive mentoring from Sewanee college students and experience the Domain.

Childs Announces Candidacy for MC School Board

Teresa Lofty Childs has announced her candidacy for the Marion County School Board District 2 seat, which includes Monteagle Elementary School.

Born and raised in Kimball, Childs was a 1991 graduate of South Pittsburg High School and continued her education at Tennessee Technology University with a degree in family and consumer science. She began working with the University of Tennessee 4-H program in White County while working on her master's degree in education.

In 1999 she became a teacher in the Marion County school system as the county's Jobs for Tennessee Graduates specialist in all three county high schools. She taught home economics and also coached cheerleading at Whitwell High School and Middle School. She currently runs M&J Auto and Auto Tech in South Pittsburg.

"Great school board members, first and foremost, should look out for the students in our schools, by making decisions that will positively impact the student's future," said Childs. "I strongly believe that school board members have to work together as a team, in order to accomplish the goals that are needed for great schools."

"My experience in business has taught me how to work within a budget and gives me the knowledge to be able to develop and work within a changing budget and how to most effectively use our tax dollars."

"Working together will continue to improve the education of our children and the Marion County school system. I truly believe that we have the best students anywhere and I will assist in implementing policies that will ensure success and bright futures for all of our children."

Voting takes place on Thursday, Aug. 4.

THE INSATIABLE CRITIC

by Elizabeth Ellis

The Sewanee Union Theatre has it all this week—sci-fi action, classic Bogart and underdogs! We have current reels in addition to screenings of Cult Classics being shown exclusively on “Throwback Thursdays.” Read on for more details!

The Rating System

Stars are so overused, and there’s nothing on the planet more critical than cats, so one feature each week is rated from one to five Jackaroos. The more Jackaroos there are, the better it is!

Jackaroo

Divergent: Allegiant

7:30 p.m., Friday, June 10 to Monday, June 13
2016, PG-13, 120 minutes

From 80s Chicago to a futuristic, chilling version of The Windy City, this third installment based on the bestselling young adult series by Veronica Roth finally has our heroes breaking outside the suffocating box their world has become. Tris (Shailene Woodley), our genetically perfect heroine, is deemed by authorities to be the only one worthy of saving in the city. Tris must find her way to outwit David, played by a surprisingly nefarious Jeff Daniels, who wants to destroy her “flawed” friends at all costs—including her love, Four (Theo James). Seen by critics as a dwindling franchise that initially succeeded by riding the dystopian wave of “The Hunger Games” popularity, extending the final book across two films—“Ascendant” to be released next year—seems to be bringing an already thin plot to the breaking point. Rated PG-13 for intense violence and action and some partial nudity, this feature is appropriate for older children accompanied by parents as well as teens and adults.

Throwback Thursday Special Screening Only $2 for everyone!

Casablanca

7:30 p.m., Thursday, June 16
1942, PG, 102 minutes

“Play it once, Sam. For old times’ sake.”

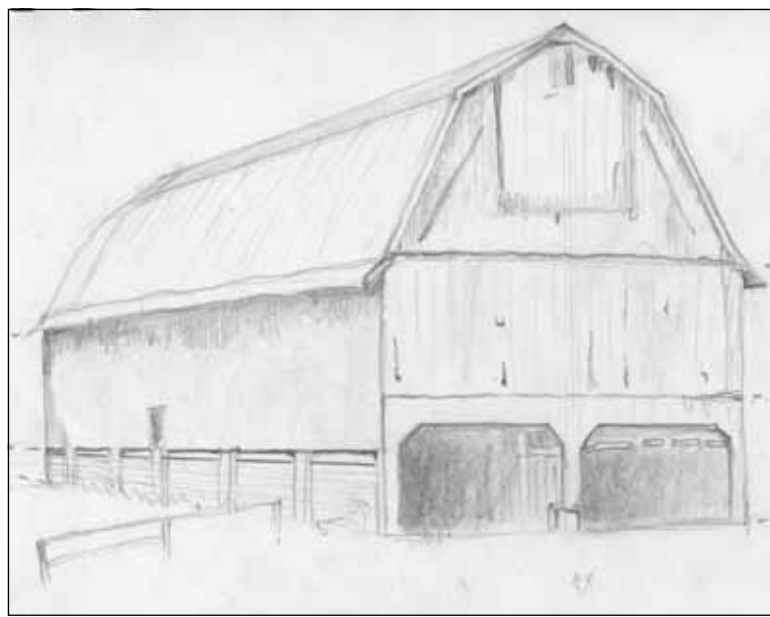

The Summer SUT Cult Classics brings one of the best-known classics in cinema history to the big screen once again! Rick Blaine, played by the unduplicated Humphrey Bogart, is a nightclub owner and former freedom fighter in WWII Casablanca. Disillusioned by the war and humanity in general, Blaine has just resigned himself to a future of comfortable bachelorhood when his old lover Ilsa Lund (Ingrid Bergman) walks back into his life and turns it upside down. Blaine is initially cold to Lund after she abandoned him in Paris, but when he finds out the reason why, the embers of their attraction get rekindled. Filmed in a smoky black and white and set against the tumultuous backdrop of the war and its intrigue, “Casablanca” won three Oscars, including Best Picture and Best Director. Rated PG for mild violence, it is a must-see for cinema lovers everywhere!

Eddie the Eagle

7:30 p.m., Friday, June 17
2 p.m. and 7:30 p.m., Saturday, June 18
7:30 p.m., Sunday, June 19 and Monday, June 20
2016, PG-13, 106 minutes

When the odds seem impossible, true grit and tenacity can take one a long way. This underdog story is based on true events about an athlete named Michael “Eddie” Edwards, who despite all odds became the first competitor to represent Great Britain in Olympic ski jumping in 1988. Edwards, played by Taron Edgerton, is a lovable goofball with very big dreams despite his physical limitations. When Edwards is at his lowest, he happens to meet Bronson Peary (Hugh Jackman); a former pro ski jumper who is initially skeptical about Edwards’ untarnished enthusiasm to the sport, but eventually agrees to be his trainer. Jackman’s cynicism and grumpy demeanor are the perfect foil to the unabashedly enthusiastic attitude Edgerton lends to his character, despite injury after injury. A film that embodies the “never say die” attitude to life, this spotlight on a chapter of British sport history is heartwarming as it is humorous. Rated PG-13 for some suggestive material, partial nudity and smoking, this film is best suited towards young teens and adults and older children accompanied by parents.

Arts Guild to Host “Barns” Show

The Franklin County Arts Guild Community Arts Show “Barns” will have an artists’ reception today (Friday), June 10 from 5 to 7 p.m. at the Artisan Depot in Cowan. This show has inspired a lot of local artists, inspired by local barns, to create some real and some maybe not so real barns.

All interested community members are invited to attend the reception and enjoy music, refreshments and see if they recognize any of the barns. The show will run through Sunday, July 24.

The Franklin County Arts Guild invites original contributions from Franklin County artists of all ages in any media for inclusion in its Community Arts Shows at the Artisan Depot.

For the next community “Human Faces” show individuals should submit their work at the Artisan Depot July 21–24 during gallery operating hours. Each artist is free to interpret the theme of each show as they wish. All work must be submitted ready for display. Membership in the guild and gallery fees is not required for these shows.

The Artisan Depot is operated by the Franklin County Arts Guild and is located at 204 Cumberland St. East in Cowan. Gallery hours are noon–5 p.m. on Thursdays, Fridays and Sundays and 11 a.m.–5 p.m. on Saturdays.

For more information about upcoming community art shows or the guild go to <www.fcguild.wordpress.com> or contact Diana Lamb at (931) 308-4130.

SSMF Opening Concert June 18

To kick off the month-long series of events, the Sewanee Summer Music Festival (SSMF) will present the first faculty chamber music concert at 5 p.m., Saturday, June 18, in Guerry Auditorium. On the program are pieces including Antonín Dvořák’s “Serenade for Strings in E Major, Op. 22” and Franz Schubert’s “Two Marches caractéristiques for four hands, D.968b.”

Tickets for the opening faculty chamber concert are available online for $15 each. Tickets will also be available in the lobby prior to each performance.

Concerts will also be available for viewing via UStream at <stream.tv/channel/sewanee-summer-music-festival> for those interested who are unable to attend the performances.

To purchase season or individual concert tickets or for more information about the Sewanee Summer Music Festival, visit <<http://ssmf.sewanee.edu>>.

Gallagher Art Display at FC Public Library

Margie Lee Gallagher will have her watercolors and pen and ink drawings on display at the Franklin County Public Library in Winchester through Aug. 1.

As a career university researcher studying fish feeding and physiology, she has long been inspired by the natural environment. She is also inspired by the secret workings of nature found in each cell. She has explored these mysteries through biochemical studies and in particular through scanning and transmission ultra-electron microscopy work which allows us to take photographs of the minute working of cells. She is most happy when she can incorporate both the beauty of nature and the scientific knowledge of how it works into a single piece. "Nature and its biology are magical," she says. "And it is my intention to make magic."

Sewanee Alumni to Perform at "Outside Inn Reunion"

More than 20 folk and jazz musicians from as far away as New Mexico, Massachusetts and even Germany will perform in Sewanee on Saturday, June 11 and Sunday, June 12, during the "Outside Inn Reunion." The two-night event will be from 6:15 p.m. to 11 p.m. each night in Convocation Hall on the University of the South campus. The event is free and the public is invited.

The performers entertained in Sewanee primarily during the 1970s, when a program called "Sewanee Arts" produced student-run cabarets, theater and solo performances at the Outside Inn (in what is now the Ayres Multicultural Center). This reunion event features two adult children of the original performers. Whit Taylor, C'78, drummer for the Sewanee Syncopators, will be bringing his son Alex to be the jazz group's bassist. Livingstone Dilworth, daughter of the group's original bassist who died in 1996, will join Em Turner Chitty, C'77, on stage and will play her father's guitar for one of his signature songs.

The night of music will include some light opera with John Prine and Joni Mitchell, jazz from Brubeck and Ellington and perhaps even a protest song here and there.

Every Child in the Park Events

In May, all fifth-grade classes in Grundy County were treated to an all-day hike and picnic at Stone Door as part of the Friends of South Cumberland's Every Child in the Park activities. Every fourth-grade class received a visit from Mary Priestley, FSC member, who rolled out a new park video made by Eric Dempsey.

Dempsey recently completed a new video highlighting the 10 separate parks of the South Cumberland and their many natural wonders. The video is available for viewing at the park's Visitors' Center.

FSC Receives REI Grant

The Friends of the South Cumberland was recently awarded a $5,000 grant from REI (Recreation Equipment, Inc.) through a partnership with the Brentwood REI store associates. The grant will help the rangers purchase much-needed rescue equipment and trail building tools.

South Cumberland attracts a wide range of users including climbers, cavers and backcountry campers. As visitor numbers increase, so do the number of rescues. In 2015, 14 total rescues were conducted during the year. Already this spring, South Cumberland Rangers have conducted seven rescues. The REI grant will allow the rangers to purchase a Rescue Litter (stretcher) for transporting injured or incapacitated hikers and a Universal Litter Wheel that will fit a wide range of litters, including ones now in use at the park.

Additional funds will be used to purchase chainsaws, shovels and other tools needed for the ongoing Fiery Gizzard trail building and for maintenance on other trails. Applying for grants to assist with vital park needs is a significant way the FSC supports the rangers.

Naullain Kendrick, FSC Board member said, "REI has been a wonderful partner to us in the past year, especially helping with the Fiery Gizzard reroute efforts. We are looking forward to continuing our relationship with them on even more projects."

George Shinn, Interim Park Manager, noted that the partnership with REI is very welcome. "What a great company to come alongside our park. They are supporting us with both money and muscle."

"South Cumberland is very appreciative of these funds, which will help with our immediate trail reroute effort and help us care for our 90 miles of trail for years to come. While we hope none of our users ever need to be rescued, we want to have the best equipment available for those moments when it is necessary," said Shinn.

SUNDAY BRUNCH IS BETTER THAN EVER

Sunday Brunch at The Sewanee Inn is fast becoming a tradition, and we've revamped our menu to include exciting new options from classics like omelets and eggs benedict to the unexpected like pasta and shrimp and grits. Make your bloody mary exactly how you like it at our new bloody mary bar or create your own Champagne cocktail. Reservations recommended.

Athletics Hall of Fame Class

The Sewanee Athletic Department and Athletic Director Mark Webb announced that five individuals and one team have been selected for induction into the Sewanee Athletics Hall of Fame. The Class of 2016 will be honored during Hall of Fame Weekend, Sept. 9–10. The class will be introduced at halftime of the Tigers' first home football game of the season on Sept. 10 against rival Washington & Lee.

The 2016 Class inductees are:

Eddie Krenson, C'76—Lettered in basketball from 1973–76; ranks seventh all-time in scoring (1,344); also seventh all-time in career assists (319); holds single-season record for most field-goals attempted (473) while ranking fourth all-time in single-game scoring with 39 points; was a member of the 1974–75, 1975–76 NCAA Tournament teams; member of the 1972–73 team that finished 23–4 and is already inducted in the Sewanee Athletics Hall of Fame; led Sewanee to its winningest four seasons in program history with a combined record of 71–32 (.689 winning percentage); four-time All-CAC selection; two-time CAC Conference Player of the Year.

Larry Majors, C'64—Four-year letter winner in football from 1960–63; part of the 1963 Sewanee Athletics Hall of Fame football team that finished 8–0 and outscored its opponents 275–45; son of legendary Sewanee Head Coach and Hall of Fame member Shirley Majors; coached under his father at Sewanee as an assistant from 1970–77; continues to this day to be the unofficial ambassador and major supporter of the Sewanee football program.

Jetta (McKenzie) Pyatt, C'83—Was a four-year starter and letter winner from 1980–83; finished with 1,045 career points, which ranks 12th all-time; also ranks ninth in career rebounds with 623; when she graduated, her rebound total ranked third in program history.

Phil Savage, C'87—Former Sewanee baseball and football letter winner; was a three-time all-conference selection in baseball for the Tigers; currently the Executive Director of the Senior Bowl; currently the color analyst for the University of Alabama football broadcasts on the Crimson Tide Sports Network; also served for four seasons as the Senior Vice President and General Manager of the Cleveland Browns (2005–2008) and worked the front office with the Baltimore Ravens, first as the Director of College Scouting (1996–2002) and later as the Director of Player Personnel (2003–2004); also served as a player personnel executive with the Philadelphia Eagles; Savage made his move to the NFL in the spring of 1991, joining then-Browns coach Bill Belichick's staff as a defensive assistant; Savage started his career as a graduate assistant under former Alabama head coach Bill Curry during the 1987–1989 seasons; followed Alabama Offensive Coordinator Homer Smith to UCLA for the 1991 season, coaching tight ends as a graduate assistant before a brief stint as an assistant coach with the San Antonio Riders of the World

League of American Football; Savage is a member of the Mobile Sports Hall of Fame (Class of 2010); he also ran a free high school football camp for Mobile and Baldwin County students for 18 years.

Robert Lee Tolley, C'1915—Four-year letterwinner in football and baseball; played center, running back, and quarterback; led the Tigers from 1911–14; was named All-Southern in football 1913 and 1914; also a member of the 1914 All-American Team and Football Roll of Honor; during his career, Sewanee was 20–10–3 with wins over Texas, Tulane, Alabama, UTC, Tennessee, Georgia Tech, Florida, and Vanderbilt; led Sewanee to its first win over rival Vanderbilt since 1909; Tolley was awarded a gold football charm to commemorate the 14 to 13 victory against the Commodores; his performance included a 75-yard punt return for a touchdown against the Commodores; was part of the longest kick return in school history (90 yards against Cumberland in 1914) and part of the first triple pass in school history (20 yards against Alabama in 1913); additionally, had the second longest run on the team in 1914; along with being a WWI veteran, Tolley served as an official for the Southeastern Conference (SEC).

1999 Women's Swimming Team—The Tigers won the 1999 Southern Collegiate Athletic Conference championship; during the SCAC Championships, 14 Tigers won individual or relay titles; Sewanee Athletics Hall of Fame member Jane (Chapman) Fisher was named SCAC Female Swimmer of the Year; Mackenzie Johnson was named the SCAC Diver of the Year; head coach Max Obermiller was named the SCAC Coach of the Year; overall, Sewanee finished with 45 All-SCAC performers; the team also set numerous school and conference records.

Family Bike Ride Series

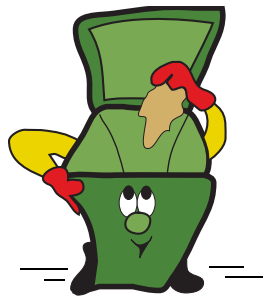

Children and adults of all ages and abilities are invited to ride. Rides start and end at the Sewanee Gardener's Market gravel parking lot, next to Hair Depot. The rides begin at 4:30 p.m. on Sundays through July 31. For more information email <bethpride@att.net>.

Pool at State Park Open

The pool at Tims Ford State Park opened for the 2016 season. Hours of operation are from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m., Wednesday–Sunday. The pool is closed on Mondays and Tuesdays, except for holiday weeks. Please call the park for those schedules at (931) 962-1183.

The Olympic-sized, L-shaped pool area features a 12-foot diving pool, children's wading pool and bathrooms. Lifeguards are on duty. Admission is $4 per person and $2 for campers and cabin guests. Season passes are $80. Credit cards are accepted. Snacks are available for purchase. Swimming in Tims Ford Lake is also permitted.

SUMMER ENRICHMENT DAY CAMPS

—Paid Advertisement—
"MATHISH" CAMP—Students will use Rumi cubes, dice, cooking and even engineering concepts to review basic math skills, studying M.C. Escher, famous for tessellations and patterns. One camp, June 6–8, is for third–fifth grades, 9–11 a.m., and sixth–eighth grades, 1–3 p.m.; the other, June 13–15, is for kindergarten–second grades, 9–11 a.m.

ROUTE 66 CAMP—Students will discover a special feature about each of the states Route 66 goes through, using games and art projects to get a taste of this bygone time in American history, with famous street artist Banksy as the featured artist. Camps will be June 20–22, third grade and up, two sessions, 10 a.m.–12 p.m. and 1–3 p.m., and July 11–13, kindergarten–second grades, 9–11 a.m.

SHAKESPEARIENCE—Featuring Shakespeare and Michelangelo, this program will bring your child a whole new way of looking at these iconic figures. One camp, June 27–29, sixth grade and up, two sessions, 10 a.m.–12 p.m. and 1–3 p.m.

Super Heroes Camp—Focuses on the classic super heroes started in the 1930s. The artist for this camp is Stan Lee. Kids will be inspired by their own everyday heroes to create a super hero and comic strip of their own. July 18–20, first–third grades, one session, 9–11 a.m.

KINDERGARTEN READINESS CAMP (PRE-K)—Shapes, numbers, days of the week, colors, and listening skills are important first steps to getting ready for school; artist Henri Matisse will inspire students to use these very basic aspects of our world to get off to the best start on their educational journey. July 25–28, pre-K, 9–11 a.m.

BACK-TO-SCHOOL ART CAMP—Celebrate the summer with classic art projects which never go out of style. Children will love doing some of these time-honored arts like tie-dye, macrame, string art, steampunk, and yarn bombing. Aug. 1–3, pre-K–second grades, 9–11 a.m.; third grade and up, 1–3 p.m.

Shakerag in June

Walking through Shakerag Hollow near the early part of June contrasted sharply with the spring wildflower walks of April. The true spring ephemerals—spring beauties, Dutchman's britches, trout lilies—were no longer in evidence. Few of that earlier spring flora lingered—the occasional Canada violet, the last blossom at the very tips of some flowering stems of fern-leaf phacelia, a lone celandine poppy. Fruits were beginning to form, but were not yet mature on doll's-eyes, mayapples, yellow mandarin, blue cohosh. Some species were just beginning their flowering time such as Indian cucumber root, tall bluets, partridgeberry, yellow jewelweed. Poison ivy and stinging nettles were starting to crowd the edges of the trail. Everything was very, very green. All these conditions prompted a comment from one of those with whom I was walking, Martha Harris, that we were now in "Ordinary Time." Some churches that follow a liturgical calendar are indeed now starting Ordinary Time and changing to green vestments, so I found the phrase most apt and am delighted to pass it on.

New CEO for The Land Trust

The Land Trust's Board of Directors voted unanimously to appoint Liz Edsall McLaurin, C'90 as CEO at the annual meeting on May 5. McLaurin adds the duties of CEO to her current role as president, an office she has held since July 2015. The Land Trust's founder, Jeanie Nelson, announced her plan to step down as CEO in April 2015, beginning a well-planned transition.

"I'm honored to assume the leadership of this organization at a time of unprecedented growth and interest in conservation," McLaurin said. "When able, The Land Trust responds quickly if development threatens a special place. However, we also keep the big picture in focus. We are called to protect our farms, wildlife habitat, land in critical watersheds and places that capture the spirit of rural communities before there is imminent threat. Thanks to great leadership and generosity, The Land Trust is increasing the pace at which it's conserving land—forever protecting what makes Tennessee the place we love to call home."

McLaurin is a graduate of the University of the South and has been instrumental in a number of successful Land Trust initiatives, including the expansion of the organization's work throughout the state, the revitalization of Glen Leven Farm and the establishment of the Jeanie Nelson Conservation Legacy Fund. During McLaurin's tenure as president, the organization surpassed the milestone of more than 100,000 acres of protected land and began tenaciously implementing the new strategic plan—a plan she spearheaded with organizational leaders.

Jim and Marietta Poteet

FSC to Honor Poteets at Meeting

The Friends of South Cumberland will honor Jim and Marietta Poteet of Monteagle as recipients of the Jim Prince Award for outstanding service during its upcoming annual meeting on Saturday, June 18 at noon at the Park Visitors Center. The public is invited to the annual meeting, for a potluck picnic, an update on FSC and park activities and music by Bazannia. Attendees are asked to bring a side dish.

The renovated Visitors Center will be open before and after the meeting for special viewing. Following the meeting, those interested in a short hike can caravan to two new areas of South Cumberland—Denny Cove and Sherwood. These "off trail" hikes will only be a few miles each. This is a great way to get involved with the FSC, a 20-year-old organization that supports the park.

Inej

Ace

Pets of the Week

Meet Ace and Inej

Animal Harbor offers these two delightful pets for adoption.

Ace is a sweet kitten who loves to play and be petted. He is one of those kitties who likes to feel his feet firmly on the ground (or cat tree or couch) and walk where he wants to go rather than being picked up and lugged around. Ace is heartworm-negative, up-to-date on shots, microchipped and neutered.

Inej is an affectionate, mild mannered, medium-sized Hound mix. She is a young adult who was found as a stray with a whole litter of needy puppies. Now the pups have homes of their own, and mama is ready for her turn for a loving home! Inej is negative for FeLV and FIV, house-trained, up-to-date on shots, microchipped and spayed.

Every Friday is Black Friday at Animal Harbor. On Fridays, adoption fees will be reduced 50 percent for black or mostly black pets more than 4 months old who have been at Animal Harbor for more than a month. Pets adopted from Animal Harbor qualify for a free post-adoption wellness exam by local veterinarians.

Animal Harbor is now in its new shelter at 56 Nor-Nan Road, off AEDC Road in Winchester. Call Animal Harbor at 962-4472 for information, and check out their other pets at <www.animalharbor.com>. Enter the drawing on this site for a free spay or neuter for one of your pets. Please help Animal Harbor continue to save abandoned pets by sending your donations to Animal Harbor, P. O. Box 187, Winchester, TN 37398.

BARDTOVERSE

by Phoebe Bates

I sing of brooks of blossoms, birds and bowers,
Of April, May, of June and July-flowers;
I sing of May-poles, hock-carts wassails, wakes,
Of bridegrooms, brides, and their bridal cakes
I write of youth, of love, and have access
By these to sing of cleanly wantonness;
I sing of dews, of rains and piece
Of balm, of oil, of spice and ambergris;
I sing of times trans-shifting, and I write
How roses first came red and lilies white;
I write of groves, of twilights, and I sing
The Court of Mab, and of the Fairy King;
I write of Hell; I sing (and ever shall)
Of heaven, and hope to have it after all.
—The Argument of his Book,
by Robert Herrick (1591-1674)
