Mike Maxon Is the Parade Grand Marshal

Parade Entries Accepted until June 30

This year's parade grand marshal honor goes to Mike Maxon for his outstanding contributions to the community. He retired as the principal at Sewanee Elementary School in 2015 after a 42-year career of tireless dedication to our children and their education.

As SES principal, he strived to develop important character traits in each of the school's children, including honesty, helpfulness, and empathy. He strongly believes that all children can learn and he spread that mantra throughout the school in a nurturing, encouraging way. The Fourth of July Committee has chosen to honor Mike for his commitment and enthusiasm as principal for so many years by making him the grand marshal.

The theme for this year's Fourth of July celebration is "30 Years of Sewanee 4th of July Celebrations." Parade entries are now being accepted by contacting Louise Irwin at 598-5864. Provide a contact person and contact information for the entry, type of entry and approximate length of the entry. Please enter by Thursday, June 30.

The Fourth of July Panhandlers will be selling various patriotic merchandise and this year's T-shirts ($15) in front of the bookstore Thursday, June 30 through Saturday, July 2 from 9 a.m. to noon. They will also be at the Street Dance on Sunday, July 3 and at the Arts & Crafts Fair on Monday, July 4. Contact Shelley Cammack at 598-5858 for more information.

The planning committee will be meeting on Mondays through June 27 at 5 p.m. at the Sewanee Senior Citizens Center. Everyone in the community is invited to attend. See page 12 for more events.

School Board Reviews Costly Middle School Renovations

by Leslie Lytle,
Messenger Staff Writer

Renovating the county's two aging middle schools would cost between $16,500,000 and $17,500,000 each, engineer Tim Little told the Franklin County School Board at the June 13 meeting. In comparison, a new combined middle school would cost between $29,000,000 and $32,000,000, Little said.

Little represents OLG Engineering, Inc., the Tullahoma based firm retained to guide the Capital Building Planning Committee in drawing up plans for renovating the nearly 50-year-old middle schools. Citing the need for improved security, increased classroom space, especially for the Special Education and CDC programs, and expansion and renovation of the locker rooms, Little proposed increasing North Middle School (NMS) by 25,000 square feet and South Middle School (SMS) by 31,000 square feet.

At 98,000 square feet, NMS is already larger than SMS, at 80,000 square feet, as a result of a 1997 addition.

Other pressing needs at the two schools include reroofing both facilities, replacing corroded plumbing, replacing the inefficient HVAC system, making the facilities ADA compliant, upgrading the fire alarm system, installing a fire control sprinkler system, upgrading classrooms, upgrading kitchen facilities and equipment, improving outside lighting and expanding event parking.

For a new combined middle school, Little proposed a 159,000 square foot facility on a 46-acre site in the vicinity of Franklin County High School on Bypass Road.

The Capital Building Planning Committee recommended the school

MENTAL HEALTH ISSUES

To the Editor:

I know a lot of mental health professionals have written papers and commented on Donald Trump. I recently thought that it was only mental health professionals that truly understand how dangerous he is. Someone with as seemingly little sense of self and so much power is a truly terrifying person.

I want to address his moral development, or lack thereof. Kohlberg's Moral Development looks at three levels of moral reasoning: pre-conventional, conventional and post-conventional. Most children and young adolescents are at the pre-conventional level of moral development (as are some adults). At the pre-conventional level, the individual views what is right as "that which I want or that for which I won't be punished." The person at this level solely acts in accordance with his or her own self-interest. Also, according to Kohlberg's Moral Development, "one is oblivious to their own intentions" and "persons are valuable only for what they do for me." Loyalty or respect are not a part of this stage of moral development.

How many times has Trump said publicly that he is nice to those who are nice to him? Each time I hear him say that, I visualize a two year old living in a large man's body.

Also, at this stage of moral development the world is seen in a "morally relative" way. So self-interest controls how the world is viewed, moment by moment, day by day. Can you imagine a foreign policy that says "If you're nice to me, I won't drop a bomb on you today?" What happens on the day he believes "he is not being treated fairly?"

Think, don't react, before you vote.

Jerry H. Summers

Jerry H. Summers is a practicing attorney in Chattanooga, Tennessee. He has served as an assistant district attorney, criminal defense attorney, and personal injury and labor lawyer since he began the practice of law in 1966. He has argued cases before the United States and Tennessee Supreme Courts and has been involved in numerous landmark decisions in both civil and criminal law.

- Valuable insights into the colorful character and motivations of Raulston Schoolfield. Rush to Justice? captures the rich backdrop of the community and times of this remarkable and complex personality. While Summers' in-depth research is obvious, he weaves the facts into a highly engaging story which reads like fiction, yet it is all too true.
Muecke Barker, retired Chief Justice of the Tennessee Supreme Court
- Remarkable life story of Raulston Schoolfield's journey and struggles for redemption in a legal and judicial career engulfed by the turbulent times of mid-twentieth century politics. Summers presents provocative research for the reader to decide if justice was done in Judge Schoolfield's 1958 Senate impeachment trial, or if he was the uncompromising victim of political enemies abusing executive and legislative powers.
Win, Ralph Hill, Jr., Senior Judge, Superior Court of the State of Georgia
- While reading the story of the colorful and controversial Raulston Schoolfield, I found myself transitioning constantly – at one moment feeling admiration for Schoolfield only to have the admiration replaced by confusion, doubt and skepticism about his choices. Rush to Justice? tells a fascinating story about Tennessee history, politics and law. It is a story much enhanced by Jerry Summers' dogged research and his unique perspective on his beloved home town and profession. We can only hope that Jerry will have mercy on his readers and tell the rest of Schoolfield's story in a subsequent volume.
Perry White, University of Tennessee law professor and former Tennessee Supreme Court Justice
- Provides a full-bodied view of Raulston Schoolfield, a talented trial lawyer whose controversial behavior confounded several members of the legal community. But perhaps most interesting is the delicate, balanced picture that attorney Jerry Summers paints of the state Senate and the connections and events that lead to Schoolfield's impeachment. Was it politics as usual, or the appropriate punishment for a judicial figure accused of bribery and extorting campaign help from racketeers? The reader has all the necessary tools to decide.
Zack Peterson, Courts Reporter, Chattanooga Times Free-Press
- Jerry Summer's life-long passion for - and commitment to the law - shines through in Rush to Justice. Summers, a legendary trial lawyer, defends the poor and innocent and challenges the rich and powerful. He has witnessed true political corruption but also has defended those who were falsely accused. In short, Jerry Summers possesses the unique experiences to tell this story with knowledge and passion. The amazing tale of Judge Raulston Schoolfield, who rose to become one of the most controversial judges in Tennessee, only to fall hard amid allegations of unethical and illegal conduct, should be taught in law schools and in CLE programs across the South. When do we get Part II?

including select prescription medications for those in need, will also be provided by the Dispensary of Hope. Dental services (on-site fillings and extractions) will be offered by the non-profit organization Hope Smiles. A Mobile Mammography Coach will also be on site.

"It is our responsibility as a mission-driven ministry to care for the poor and vulnerable, especially in our own communities. Grundy County has thousands of uninsured residents and has been termed the poorest county in Tennessee. We are compelled as one healing community to serve those most vulnerable and in need and so it is absolutely fitting that we provide these services right here," said Nancy Anness, Vice President of Advocacy, Access and Community Outreach for Saint Thomas Health.

Grundy County is estimated to have a population of 13,441 as of July 2015 (U.S. Census Data). More than 22 percent of Grundy County residents are uninsured and nearly 21 percent of the population under age 65 has a disability.

"We are thankful for the opportunity to serve those needing care so close to home," said Greg Pope, Saint Thomas Health's Chief Mission Officer. "Healthcare is still out of reach for some of our most vulnerable neighbors. We are grateful to carry out our Mission to serve all persons through this Medical Mission."

Medical Mission at Home is part of a national effort by Ascension and its caregivers to host similar events across the country. To date, Ascension has held Medical Mission at Home events in Tennessee, Washington D.C., New York, Alabama, Florida and Connecticut, and plans to expand to other markets in the coming months to meet individual and community health needs.

Support for the Grundy County Medical Mission at Home day is provided by the South Cumberland Health Network, Grundy County Health Council, South Cumberland Plateau AmeriCorps VISTA program, Grundy County Schools, South Cumberland Community Fund and the University of the South Office of Community Engagement. Local community partners providing services are Volunteer Behavioral Health Care System, Delta Dental, Beersheba Springs Medical Clinic, Grundy County Health Department, Grundy Primary Care Clinic and the Grundy County Food Bank.

board host town hall meetings to gather input from the community on the proposals presented by OLG and urged the board not to delay in taking action as the need for renovation at the middle schools was urgent.

Board Chair Kevin Caroland said, "Every day we put this off it costs the tax payer money. We've spent a lot on the roofs just in the past couple years."

Sewanee area school board representative Adam Tucker suggested waiting until school was back in session to hold the town meetings since families were away on vacation.

Director of Schools Amie Lonas set the goal of finishing with the town meetings by the end of September and presenting a proposal to the Franklin County Commission before the end of the year.

Little estimated renovating the schools would take 18 months. Lonas said the students would rotate to portable classrooms during renovation if the school board chose that route.

Asked about the school systems plans for the two facilities if a new middle school was built, Lonas said, "That would be a board decision. We haven't discussed specifics."

Revisiting the topic of disposition of the old Franklin County High School property, school board member Christine Hopkins said, "Chances are better than ever the state will proceed with the proposal to turn the site into a technical college." In July of 2014, the board agreed to wait to see if plans for the technical college materialized and to refrain from disposing of the property for two years. The board would incur no cost in the construction of the technical college except for donating the property. The county has pledged $1,000,000 to the $6,000,000 project. The board approved Hopkins request to delay disposing of the property until July of 2017.

The board reviewed and approved two new policies and seven policy revisions recommended by the Tennessee School Board Association. "The TSBA annually proposes policy additions and revisions based on changes in state law," Lonas said.

The board postponed voting on the Use of Unmanned Aircraft Systems policy, and the Student Discrimination, Harassment and Bullying policy recommended by the TSBA. Lonas will seek advice from school attorney Chuck Cagle on the two policies.

"The unmanned aircraft policy would be difficult to monitor," Lonas said expressing reservations about the policy.

Tucker took issue with the language of the Student Discrimination, Harassment and Bullying policy. "The language is both over and under inclusive," Tucker said. "Teachers, coaches and others discriminate all the time in making decisions with regard to students. The language needs to be cleaned up."

The school board next meets on Monday, July 11.

the University of Minnesota and a Ph.D. in sociology from the University of Michigan. Ringheim has recently consulted with the UN Populations Fund and the Glazier Pediatric AIDS Foundation. She is the author of a book on homelessness and a prize-winning play about addiction.

Current secretary Marilyn Phelps of Sewanee earned a B.S. in psychology and management of human resources with a minor in sociology, and a M.S. in social work. She has a private counseling practice in Sewanee. Her family has been involved in work in Uganda since 1980; her three children have lived and worked in Uganda.

Founder and current treasurer of FOCAGIFO Sally Hubbard of Sewanee began her HIV activism by facilitating a support group for families and friends of people with AIDS in Houston. She crewed, fundraised or rode 12 AIDS bicycle rides primarily in California and Texas. Since meeting Canon Gideon while he was teaching at Sewanee in 2013, Hubbard spent a month in his Hope Institute and returned determined to implement annual fundraisers for his school. She has a B.A. in English and music from Tulane University, and was an associate editor of studies in English Literature 1500-1900 at Rice University in Houston.

Canon Gideon Byamugisha, an HIV-positive Anglican priest, established his Hope Institute near Kampala to provide basic education and job skills for orphans and other vulnerable children aged 14 to 20. What makes his school unique is the extensive, pervasive training about HIV and HIV prevention. His abiding principle is the determination to reduce shame, stigma, denial, and discrimination so that youth who are not infected with HIV can prevent infection, and those already infected (often since birth) can live honorably and to their highest potential. More than 1,000 have graduated from Hope Institute and 86 are currently enrolled. For further information, contact Sally Hubbard at 598-5338 or sally@hubbard.net.

Sewanee Utility District of Franklin and Marion Counties Water Quality Report 2015

Is my drinking water safe?

Yes, our water meets all of EPA’s health standards. We have conducted numerous tests for over 80 contaminants that may be in drinking water. As you’ll see in the chart below, we only detected 11 of these contaminants. We found all of these contaminants at safe levels.

What is the source of my water?

Your water, which is surface water, comes from Lakes O’Donnell and Jackson. Our goal is to protect our water from contaminants, and we are working with the State to determine the vulnerability of our water source to potential contamination. The Tennessee Department of Environment and Conservation (TDEC) has prepared a Source Water Assessment Program (SWAP) Report for the untreated water sources serving this water system. The SWAP Report assesses the susceptibility of untreated water sources to potential contamination. To ensure safe drinking water, all public water systems treat and routinely test their water. Water sources have been rated as reasonably susceptible, moderately susceptible or slightly susceptible based on geologic factors and human activities in the vicinity of the water source. The Sewanee Utility District of Franklin and Marion Counties (SUD) sources rated as slightly susceptible to potential contamination.

An explanation of Tennessee’s Source Water Assessment Program, the Source Water Assessment summaries, susceptibility scorings and the overall TDEC report to EPA can be viewed online at www.state.tn.us/environment/dws/dwassess.shtml or you may contact the Water System to obtain copies of specific assessments.

Why are there contaminants in my water?

Drinking water, including bottled water, may reasonably be expected to contain at least small amounts of some contaminants. Community water systems are required to disclose the detection of contaminants; however, bottled water companies are not required to comply with this regulation. The presence of contaminants does not necessarily indicate that water poses a health risk. More information about contaminants and potential health effects can be obtained by calling the Environmental Protection Agency’s Safe Drinking Water Hotline (800-426-4791).

For more information about your drinking water, please call Water Superintendent James Smartt at 931- 598-5201.

Este informe contiene información muy importante. Tradúscalo o hable con alguien que lo entienda bien.

How can I get involved?

Our Board of Commissioners meets on the fourth Tuesday of every month at 5:00 PM at the Utility Office. Please feel free to participate in these meetings. The SUD Board is elected and consists of five members. Each member serves a four year term. Decisions by the Board on customer complaints brought before the Board under the District’s complaint policy may be reviewed by the Utility Management Review Board of the Tennessee Department of Environment and Conservation pursuant to Section 7-82-703 (7) of Tennessee Code Annotated. You can also visit our website www.sewaneeutility.org for more information.

Is our water system meeting other rules that govern our operations?

The State and EPA require us to test and report on our water on a regular basis to ensure its safety. We have met all of these requirements. Results of unregulated contaminant analysis are available upon request. We want you to know that we pay attention to all the rules.

Other Information

The sources of drinking water (both tap water and bottled water) include rivers, lakes, streams, ponds, reservoirs, springs and wells. As water travels over the surface of the land or through the ground, it dissolves naturally-occurring minerals and, in some cases, radioactive material, and can pick up substances resulting from the presence of animals or from human activity.

Contaminants that may be present in source water:

- Microbial contaminants, such as viruses and bacteria, which may come from sewage treatment plants, septic systems, agricultural livestock operations and wildlife.
- Inorganic contaminants, such as salts and metals, which can be naturally-occurring or result from urban stormwater runoff, industrial, or domestic wastewater discharges, oil and gas production, mining, or farming.
- Pesticides and herbicides, which may come from a variety of sources such as agriculture, urban stormwater runoff and residential uses.
- Organic chemical contaminants, including synthetic and volatile organic chemicals, which are by-products of industrial processes and petroleum production and can also come from gas stations, urban stormwater runoff and septic systems.
- Radioactive contaminants, which can be naturally-occurring or be the result of oil and gas production and mining activities.

In order to ensure that tap water is safe to drink, EPA and the Tennessee Department of Environment and Conservation prescribe regulations which limit the amount of certain contaminants in water provided by public water systems. SUD’s water treatment processes are designed to reduce any such substances to levels well below any health concern. FDA regulations establish limits for contaminants in bottled water which must provide the same protection for public health.

Due to all water containing dissolved contaminants, occasionally your water may exhibit slight discoloration. We strive to maintain the standards to prevent this. We at SUD work around the clock to provide top quality water to every tap. We ask that all our customers help us protect our water sources, which are the heart of our community, our way of life and our children’s future.

Do I Need To Take Special Precautions?

Some people may be more vulnerable to contaminants in drinking water than the general population. Immuno-compromised persons such as persons with cancer undergoing chemotherapy, persons who have under-gone organ transplants, people with HIV/AIDS or other immune system disorders, some elderly and infants can be particularly at risk from infections. These people should seek advice about not only their drinking water, but food preparation, personal hygiene and precautions in handling infants and pets from their health care providers. EPA/CDC guidelines on appropriate means to lessen the risk of infection by Cryptosporidium and other microbiological contaminants are available from the Safe Drinking Water Hotline (800-426-4791).

Lead in Drinking Water

If present, elevated levels of lead can cause serious health problems, especially for pregnant women and young children. Lead in drinking water is primarily from materials and components associated with service lines and home plumbing. The Sewanee Utility District is responsible for providing high quality drinking water, but cannot control the variety of materials used in plumbing components. When your water has been sitting for several hours, you can minimize the potential for lead exposure by flushing your tap for 30 seconds to 2 minutes before using water for drinking or cooking. If you are concerned about lead in your water, you may wish to have your water tested. Information on lead in drinking water, testing methods and steps you can take to minimize exposure is available from the Safe Drinking Water Hotline or at <http://www.epa.gov/safewater/lead>.

Water System Security

Following the events of September 2001, we realize that our customers are concerned about the security of their drinking water. We urge the public to report any suspicious activities at any utility facilities, including treatment plants, pumping stations, tanks, fire hydrants, etc. to 598-5611.

Water Quality Data

What does this chart mean?

- MCLG - Maximum Contaminant Level Goal, or the level of a contaminant in drinking water below which there is no known or expected risk to health. MCLGs allow for a margin of safety.
- MCL - Maximum Contaminant Level, or the highest level of a contaminant that is allowed in drinking water. MCLs are set as close to the MCLGs as feasible using the best available treatment technology. To understand the possible health effects described for many regulated constituents, a person would have to drink 2 liters of water every day at the MCL level for a lifetime to have a one-in-a-million chance of having the described health effect.
- MRDL: Maximum Residual Disinfectant Level: The highest level of a disinfectant allowed in drinking water. There is convincing evidence that addition of a disinfectant is necessary for the control of microbial contaminants.
- MRDLG: Maximum Residual Disinfectant Level Goal. The level of a drinking water disinfectant below which there is no known or expected risk to health. MRDLGs do not reflect the benefits of the use of disinfectants to control microbial contaminants.
- Below Detection Level (BDL) - laboratory analysis indicates that the contaminant is not present at a level that can be detected.
- AL - Action Level, or the concentration of a contaminant which, when exceeded, triggers treatment or other requirements which a water system must follow.
- Parts per million (ppm) or Milligrams per liter (mg/l) – explained as a relation to time and money as one part per million corresponds to one minute in two years or a single penny in $10,000.

- Parts per billion (ppb) or Micrograms per liter - explained as a relation to time and money as one part per billion corresponds to one minute in 2,000 years, or a single penny in $10,000,000.
- Nephelometric Turbidity Unit (NTU) - nephelometric turbidity unit is a measure of the clarity of water. Turbidity in excess of 5 NTU is just noticeable to the average person.
- TT - Treatment Technique, or a required process intended to reduce the level of a contaminant in drinking water.

During the most recent round of Lead and Copper testing, 0 out of 20 households sampled contained concentrations exceeding the action level.

<sup>2</sup> Infants and young children are typically more vulnerable to lead in drinking water than the general population. It is possible that lead levels at your home may be higher than at other homes in the community as a result of materials used in your home’s plumbing. If you are concerned about elevated lead levels in your home’s water, you may wish to have your water tested and flush your tap for 30 seconds to 2 minutes before using tap water. Additional information is available from the Safe Drinking Water Hotline (1-800-426-4791).

<sup>3</sup> Nitrate in drinking water at levels above 10 ppm is a health risk for infants of less than six months of age. High nitrate levels in drinking water can cause blue baby syndrome. Nitrate levels may rise quickly for short periods of time because of rainfall or agricultural activity. If you are caring for an infant, you should ask advice from your health care provider.

<sup>4</sup> While your drinking water meets EPA’s standard for trihalomethanes, it does contain low levels. Some people who drink water containing trihalomethanes in excess of the MCL over many years may experience problems with their liver, kidneys or central nervous systems and may have an increased risk of getting cancer.

Alsup Named New Principal of FCHS

The Franklin County Board of Education (FCBOE) is pleased to announce that Roger Alsup has been selected as the FCHS principal. He will begin on July 1.

He is currently the high school principal at Caruthersville C18 Public Schools in Missouri. He has been in school administration since 1997 with multiple roles as assistant principal, principal and assistant superintendent. He is also a former member of the Missouri Army National Guard where he served as a Combat Engineer Officer in Fallujah, Iraq from June 2005 – May 2006.

Alsup has a bachelor's degree in secondary education and teaching—biology and an M.A. in secondary school administration/principalship from Southeast Missouri State University. He received his Ed.D. from Saint Louis University in educational leadership and administration.

He was selected unanimously by the FCBOE Principal Selection Committee as the first choice for the position, and Lonas fully endorses their recommendation. She feels that Alsup will be an asset to our school system and will provide strong instructional leadership at FCHS.

Scott Wilson to Lead Office of Global Education

Scott Wilson, the Alfred Walter Negley Professor of Politics, was named this spring as Sewanee's new associate dean of global education. He replaces Larry Jones, who retired after more than 20 years of directing the program. Wilson will begin his new role on July 1.

Wilson has taught at the University of the South since 1994 and has chaired the Politics Department since 2004. He lived more than six years in China studying or conducting research—beginning with a study-abroad experience while a student at Oberlin College—and reads, writes and speaks Chinese at an advanced level. Wilson spent two years in China working on his dissertation research while in graduate school at Cornell University and returned there most recently for 10 months of research on a Fulbright Research Scholarship in 2014 and 2015.

"My hope is to shift our focus from just international exchanges to fostering global citizenship," said Wilson. "I would like our programs to prepare students to be contributing global citizens."

"That entails helping students to learn how to communicate across cultures, preparing students to address global problems, and developing a sense of responsibility to shoulder the burdens of working on global problems such as environmental sustainability, poverty alleviation, global health, human rights and conflict resolution."

Sewanee's Office of Global Education addresses many aspects of global studies: internships, study abroad experiences, visa issues, risk assessments and International and Global Studies faculty members. As part of his new role, Wilson will interact directly with international students coming to Sewanee and will assist with the transitions students must make both going away and coming back from abroad.

Tai Chi for Health

Tai Chi for health and fall prevention will continue this summer with two class times. Beginners will meet on Monday and Wednesday afternoons and continuing players on Thursday mornings.

On Wednesday, June 29, from 3 to 4 p.m. at the Sewanee Community Center, Kathleen O'Donohue will start a new series of Tai Chi for Arthritis and Fall Prevention. These classes will start on Wednesdays, June 29 and July 6, and then continue to meet each Monday and Wednesday through August 10. For beginners, this is a 12-lesson series of classes that consist of slow movements, gentle postures and relaxed minds and bodies. Perfect for all ages and levels, this class consists of standing and moving postures.

On Thursdays, 11 a.m.–noon at the Sewanee Community Center is an ongoing opportunity to play Tai Chi for those who have completed both the above series and part two. Taiji Qigong Shibashi is included, in addition to increasing the depth of the known Tai Chi movements.

All ages and abilities are welcome to attend, whether or not you have arthritis or fall risks. A $5 per class donation is suggested.

These classes are sponsored programs of Folks at Home. For more information contact Kathleen O'Donohue, a trained and certified instructor, (931) 598-0303 or <folksathomesewanee@gmail.com>.

Dr. Paul Lam created the Tai Chi for Arthritis (TCA) program in 1996. It is recognized by the Arthritis Foundation, the Center for Disease Control (CDC) and the Administration on Aging as one of their highest level evidence programs for health promotion and disease prevention.

Tai Chi for Fall Prevention (TCFP) is based on the same Tai Chi for Arthritis program developed by Dr. Paul Lam. The TCFP program has been recommended by the CDC as one of the Tai Chi programs anyone can do to prevent falls. Falls in the USA alone was estimated to cost over $28B in 2010 and is expected to reach $55B by 2020. Two very large studies, one dating back into the 1990s, have proven that Tai Chi reduces falls by as much as 49 percent. TCFP focuses on weight bearing exercises in Tai Chi, improved sensory deficits (especially in the feet), neuromuscular coordination, cognitive improvements, multitasking and reducing pain (which is especially helpful in OA and RA patients). These in turn can reduce medications and stress and help to improve quality of life.

THE INSATIABLE CRITIC

by Elizabeth Ellis

The Sewanee Union Theatre has it all this week—sci-fi action, classic Bogart and underdogs! We have current reels in addition to screenings of Cult Classics being shown exclusively on “Throwback Thursdays.” Read on for more details!

The Rating System

Stars are so overused, and there’s nothing on the planet more critical than cats, so one feature each week is rated from one to five Jackaroos. The more Jackaroos there are, the better it is!

Eddie the Eagle

7:30 p.m., Friday, June 17

2 p.m. and 7:30 p.m., Saturday, June 18

7:30 p.m., Sunday, June 19 and Monday, June 20

2016, PG-13, 106 minutes

When the odds seem impossible, true grit and tenacity can take one a long way. This underdog story is based on true events about an athlete named Michael “Eddie” Edwards, who despite all odds became the first competitor to represent Great Britain in Olympic ski jumping in 1988. Edwards, played by Taron Edgerton, is a lovable goofball with very big dreams despite his physical limitations. When Edwards is at his lowest, he happens to meet Bronson Peary (Hugh Jackman); a former pro ski jumper who is initially skeptical about Edwards’ untarnished enthusiasm to the sport, but eventually agrees to be his trainer. Jackman’s cynicism and grumpy demeanor are the perfect foil to the unabashedly enthusiastic attitude Edgerton lends to his character, despite injury after injury. A film that embodies the “never say die” attitude to life, this spotlight on a chapter of British sport history is heartwarming as it is humorous. Rated PG-13 for some suggestive material, partial nudity and smoking, this film is best suited towards young teens and adults and older children accompanied by parents.

Throwback Thursday Special Screening Only $2 for everyone!

The Princess Bride

7:30 p.m., Thursday, June 23

1987, Rated PG, 98 minutes

Miss a big-screen showing of this Summer SUT Cult Classic? Inconceivable! This charming movie is a quirky take on the fairy tale genre—part romance, part comedy and part high adventure. Stuck at home sick in bed, an impossibly young Fred Savage is read the story of “The Princess Bride” by his grandfather, which features the dashing Cary Elwes as Westley and the lovely Robin Wright as Princess Buttercup. What begins as an eye-rolling romance quickly takes off into a tale of intrigue, featuring pirates, bandits and ROUS (rodents of unusual size). The witty screenplay by William Goldman, who also penned the novel the film is based on, has coined such memorable lines as “Have fun storming the castle!” and the ubiquitous “As you wish.” Nominated for one Oscar in the 1988 Academy Awards for best music and original song, this wholly original story has gone on to inspire younger generations as well as remaining a fond bastion of quality cinema for its original appreciative audiences. Rated PG for some moderate sword-fighting action, this film is appropriate for adults and families alike.

Batman v. Superman: Dawn of Justice

7:30 p.m., Friday, June 24

2 p.m. and 7:30 p.m., Saturday, June 25

7:30 p.m., Sunday, June 26 and Monday, June 27

2016, Rated PG-13, 151 minutes

Being a superhero isn’t all its cracked up to be. Following the destruction of Metropolis due to an epic battle waged by Superman (Henry Cavill) that left behind mass casualties, public officials begin to turn a jaundiced eye on the Man of Steel, wondering if it is wise to let a man with such power run free in the streets. Bruce Wayne (Ben Affleck), who has been covertly operating as Batman for nearly two decades in Gotham City, is also horrified by the death count and vows to put a stop to Superman himself. Director Zack Snyder has lofty plans for a film sparking a deep moral philosophical debate that never quite get off the ground due to a jumbled plotline hampered by a plethora of special effects, combined with an extended running time of more than two hours. There are a few inspired performances—Jeremy Irons provides a solid cameo as the long-suffering Alfred, Bruce Wayne’s butler, and Affleck surprised everyone with a somber, serious take on Batman’s character. But far too much energy is expended on trivial things such as an underutilized Lois Lane (Amy Adams) constantly being rescued by ‘Supes.’ However, with top-notch special effects and an all-too-brief entrance of Wonder Woman, it is possible to turn your mind off and simply enjoy it for the popcorn powerhouse that it is. Rated PG-13 for intense sequences of violence and action as well as some sensuality, this film is best reserved for older children accompanied by parents and adults.

School of Letters Free Events Continue

Each summer, the School of Letters invites writers, poets, publishers and scholars to speak each week the school is in session. These events are free and open to the public.

Actor and author David Roby plays 19 different characters in “sometimes there’s God so quickly.” The play will be at 7 p.m., Saturday, June 18, at the McCrory Hall for the Performing Arts on the campus of St. Andrew’s-Sewanee School. Sponsored by the Sewanee School of Letters, this event is free and open to the public.

“sometimes there’s God so quickly” is a chronicle of Roby’s travels through the Mississippi Delta, a quest for the elusive character of the late playwright Tennessee Williams, presented through a colloquy of the voices of those who knew him. The event is free and open to the public.

Roby was the Tennessee Williams Fellow at Sewanee from 2010 to 2012 (when he researched and wrote this one-man show) and is now Artist-in-Residence at the University of Alabama at Birmingham’s Arts in Medicine and an acting and playwriting teacher at U.A.B.’s ArtPlay.

A graduate of the North Carolina School of the Arts and holding an M.F.A. degree from Illinois State University, he has also studied acting and playwriting at Oxford University, the Woolly Mammoth Theatre School in Washington, D.C. and the Playwright’s Intensive at the John F. Kennedy Center. His other plays include “Arts and Science,” “Unseen Character” (which concerns characters referred to but not seen in Williams’ “The Glass Menagerie”) and “Mercy Me.”

Chris Bachelder will give a reading at 4:30 p.m., Wednesday, June 22, in Gailor Auditorium. Bachelder is the author of the novels “The Throwback Special,” “Abbott Awaits,” “U.S.!” “Bear v. Shark” and “Lessons in Virtual Tour Photography.” His short fiction and essays have appeared in a number of magazines and journals including The Paris Review, Harper’s, McSweeney’s, The Believer, The Oxford American, American Short Fiction, Mother Jones, The Cincinnati Review and New Stories from the South. His novel “Abbott Awaits” was published in 2011, to strong reviews: “Not since John Cheever,” said novelist Brock Clark, “has an American male fiction writer written so ingeniously, so beautifully, so heartbreakingly about the pain and sweetness of domestic life.” His acclaimed new novel, “The Throwback Special,” was serialized in The Paris Review. The book follows 22 men who meet each year to reenact the 1985 Joe Theisman football injury. Bachelder was awarded the prestigious Terry Southern prize this year. He received an MFA in fiction from the University of Florida and taught at New Mexico State, Colorado College and the University of Massachusetts before joining the creative writing faculty of the University of Cincinnati in 2011. A book signing will follow in Gailor Atrium.

TINTINNABULATIONS

by John Bordley

Ultimate

"Today is the first day of the rest of my life" There were apparently several songs that used the words "Today is the first day of the rest of my life." YouTube has a version sung by John Denver, with words by the Garveys.

"Today is the first day of the rest of my life.
I awake as a child to see the world begin
On monarch wings and birthday wanderings.
I want to put on faces, walk in the wet and the cold
And look forward to my growing old...
To grow old is to change, and to change is to be new.
To be new is to be young again...I barely remember, when
My memory is stolen by the morning,
Blotted out by the sun's hypnotic LIGHT,
Out by the sun's hypnotic LIGHT.
Today is the first day..."

I have moved to the Deerfield Episcopal Retirement Community in Asheville, N.C., and am getting settled in. It certainly is the beginning of the rest of my life. Also, indeed, this is my ultimate "Tintinnabulations" column. Ray Gotko is going to take over being responsible for the carillon (I think!), and he plans to write a column "Of Towers and Bells" for the Messenger. Just as Laura Hewitt Whipple's "Tower Tidings" changed to "Tintinnabulations" when I took over the carillon in 2003, so Ray's column will have a new name.

The question I address today is: which is/was the first day of the rest of my life? I have puzzled over this quite a bit. At first I thought that the answer was the day I changed my status on Deerfield's waiting list to 'active.' Hmm. Then I thought maybe it was the day that Deerfield offered me the apartment I am occupying, or maybe it was the day I accepted that offer, or maybe even the day that I paid the deposit. Hmm. More probably it was Monday a week ago (June 6) when I actually moved here to Asheville. That seems the most likely, but then maybe it is today or tomorrow or...

The Sewanee Summer Carillon Series for 2016 will start with a concert by Richard Shadinger on June 26 at 2:15 p.m. Nota bene, there is a new time this summer to mesh with various preconcert events for the Sewanee Summer Music Festival. I will play my last formal concert on July 3; the title of my program is "These are a few of my favorite things." I will play some of my favorite carillon pieces during the 30-minute concert. Ray Gotko and I will play at 1 p.m. on July 4. Sam Hammond will play at 2:15 p.m. on July 10 and then again at 6:30 p.m. on Wednesday, July 13, for the Sewanee Summer Seminar. The ultimate concert is on July 17 at 2:15 p.m. when Ray Gotko and Sarah Strickland will play solos and duets. On three of the Sundays, again as part of the preconcert events for the SSME, there will be tower tours at 1 p.m., June 26, July 10 and July 17. If you come to Asheville, look me up. I will also be back in Sewanee from time to time.

Heidi and Sam Rugg of Barefoot Puppet Theatre will perform on Tuesday evening in the auditorium. Heidi Rugg is known for her puppet building and voice work. Barefoot Puppet Theatre will perform at 8:05 p.m.

Sewanee Inn executive chef George Stevenson will demonstrate "Knife Skills and Easy Appetizers" in the Harton Dining Hall on Wednesday, June 22 at 3:30 p.m. Stevenson, a University of the South graduate, was named head chef of the Sewanee Inn in 2014. He oversees the Inn's 1858 Restaurant, Shakerag Pub and the catering for Founder's Hall.

Havighurst will present "Looking Forward to Go Backward: How Music City's Past Is Shaping Its Future." Havighurst's presentation will detail how broadcasting, recording and song publishing began in Nashville.

Closing the second week of the MSSA's eight-week season is the Music City Roots Radio Show on Friday, June 24 at 7 p.m. in the auditorium. to farm renovations, so Chief Marie Eldridge asks that if you need a handicap or special need parking pass for the fireworks show, please go by the Sewanee Police Station. Simply go to the window at the station, give your name, and you will be given a pass. If you have a permanent handicap tag you will not need a temporary one.

Fourth of July Parade Entries

The Sewanee Fourth of July Committee invites everyone to attend the festivities and participate in the parade. They would like to have as many entries as possible. So gather up family, friends or coworkers and come join the fun. All entries are welcome. They can be musical, clowns, bicycles, horses, floats, baton twirlers, beauty pageant winners or cars to name a few.

There will be three trophies awarded in the following categories: best float (an entry is considered a float if it consists of a flatbed trailer being pulled by a vehicle), best decorated vehicle and best horse drawn entry. Ribbons will be given for best decorated bicycle. Judging for the entries will begin at 1 p.m. This year the parade will line up behind Sewanee Market and travel uphill.

A few points about the parade. When throwing candy, please be sure to throw it as close to the curb as you can in order to keep the children as safe as possible by keeping them from running out into the road. Because of insurance precautions, release forms will need to be signed the day of the parade in order to participate. Please wear a helmet when riding a motorcycle or four-wheeler and be very cautious while driving. Remember, there are children all along the parade route. Your help in this will be greatly appreciated.

To enter the parade contact Louise Irwin at 598-5864. She will need to know a contact person and contact information for the entry, type of entry and approximate length of the entry. Please enter by Thursday, June 30.

Lake Cheston in June

At Lake Cheston, two gentlemen saw my cameras and asked if I'm a bird watcher. When I answered "Dragonflies and damselflies," they then asked, "What's the difference?" I had to laugh because I asked an expert the same question when I became interested in odonates.

First appearing about 250 million years ago, dragonflies and damselflies belong to the order Odonata, a term derived from Greek referring to teeth on mandibles (orthodontist comes from the same word). Damselflies belong to the suborder Zygoptera, a reference to their four wings being equal in size and shape. Dragonflies belong to the suborder Anisoptera because their wings are unequal in size and shape. Dragonflies and damselflies are sort of like cousins: they have similar life cycles, behaviors (they're all predators, for example), and body parts. To the viewer, their significant difference is size and wing shape.

In the field, one can distinguish them by their typical postures at rest and in motion. At rest, the damselfly aligns its wings along the top of the abdomen, while dragonflies rest with their wings out at the sides. Dragonflies are strong fliers with generally larger bodies than damselflies, whose size is considerably smaller and whose flying (on the whole) is more tentative. (Naturally, there are exceptions to these generalizations. Some damselflies, for example, are spreadwings who keep their wings out at rest.)

On the Domain, I have photographed and identified 37 dragonfly and 28 damselfly species. Of these, the largest are the Darners (ranging up to about 3.5 inches) and the smallest is the Little Bluet Dragonlet (averaging .9 to 1.1 inches). The largest damselfly here is the Ebony Jewelwing at about 1.5 to 2.2 inches, easily observed along the creek in Abbo's Alley, and the smallest is the Southern Sprite, ranging in size from .8 to 1 inch in length.

For further information, see Giff Beaton's "Dragonflies & Damselflies of Georgia and the Southeast" and Dennis Paulson's "Dragonflies and Damselflies of the East" in the duPont Library. Odonata Central <odonatacentral.bfl.utexas.edu/index.php/PageAction.get/name/HomePage> is a terrific site with plenty of information, photographs and records submitted by users like me. To see photos I've taken of dragonflies and damselflies, go to <rmhood.smugmug.com/Odonates>.

Roarks Cove - Secluded setting at the foot of Shakerag Hollow; with almost 3400 sf of living space, this 4 bedroom/4.5 bath home has a full basement and is ideally situated on 32 acres with panoramic views of the Plateau, fields, woods, and a creek (which flows from its own "Wet Cave") from its many porches and decks.... making for quite a tranquil setting away from the hustle and bustle of city life.

Formerly a B & B known as Full Circle, this custom-built home has hardwood floors, a fireplace, formal dining area, wet bar, a full basement with sauna, a detached artist's studio, and by virtue of its proximity to the University of the South, many other amenities such as golfing, tennis and cultural events.

Adjacent to the University, an additional 120 +/- acres are available for sale, where wildlife abounds and can make for that ideal hunting lodge, horse ranch, or additional home sites. Motivated Seller!

655 Bob Stewman Road - With over 2500 sf of living space, this 3 BR, 2-1/2 bath home is situated on a 2.5+/- acre tract just minutes from the Domain and the Village. No lease fee, no restrictions. # State Park Recreators Announced Tennessee State Parks announced the participants for the 2016 Seasonal Interpretive Recreators (SIR) program. SIRs provide interpretive programs such as guided tours, hikes, slide shows, demonstrations, campfires and other outdoor activities for park visitors during the peak season, which is late spring through summer.

Most of the summer staff are college students studying natural resource, recreation, history or biology-related fields. Tennessee State Parks offers a one-week intense training in interpretive techniques. The goal is to help visitors build emotional and intellectual connections to the park.

SIRs also work closely with the park rangers to assure that park facilities, buildings, grounds and equipment are safe and secure. As most full-time state park rangers start out as SIRs, this program provides a great starting point for a state parks career.

Benjamin Sadler is the SIR for the South Cumberland State Park.

FSC to Honor Poteets at Meeting

The Friends of South Cumberland will honor Jim and Marietta Poteet of Monteagle as recipients of the Jim Prince Award for outstanding service during its annual meeting on Saturday, June 18 at noon at the Park Visitors Center.

The public is invited to the annual meeting, for a potluck picnic, an update on FSC and park activities and music by Bazannia. Attendees are asked to bring a side dish.

The renovated Visitors Center will be open before and after the meeting for special viewing. Following the meeting, those interested in a short hike can caravan to two new areas of South Cumberland—Denny Cove and Sherwood. These "off trail" hikes will only be a few miles each. This is a great way to get involved with the FSC, a 20-year-old organization that supports the park.

Wilder

Pets of the Week Meet Wilder and Dweezil

Animal Harbor offers these two delightful pets for adoption.

Wilder is a recently found stray who is an older fellow with such a mild disposition you are sure to fall in love with him. Animal Harbor is searching for his owner, but if he is not claimed, he will need to find a nice retirement home in which he can spend his golden years. Wilder is heartworm-negative, up-to-date on shots, microchipped and neutered.

Dweezil is a precious little fluff ball of a kitten who likes to spend his time playing with his litter mates, playing with staff and volunteers or playing with shelter visitors. After each play session he enjoys a nice snack and cat nap. Dweezil is negative for FeLV and FIV, house-trained, up-to-date on shots, microchipped and neutered.

Every Friday is Black Friday at Animal Harbor. On Fridays, adoption fees will be reduced 50 percent for black or mostly black pets more than 4 months old who have been at Animal Harbor for more than a month. Pets adopted from Animal Harbor qualify for a free post-adoption wellness exam by local veterinarians.

Animal Harbor is now in its new shelter at 56 Nor-Nan Road, off AEDC Road in Winchester. Call Animal Harbor at 962-4472 for information, and check out their other pets at <www.animalharbor.com>. Enter the drawing on this site for a free spay or neuter for one of your pets. Please help Animal Harbor continue to save abandoned pets by sending your donations to Animal Harbor, P. O. Box 187, Winchester, TN 37398.

PEDESTRIANS and BIKERS – EXERCISE CAUTION!

When you are out getting your exercise, following a few simple rules will keep you on the go. When biking, cyclists should loudly announce their presence about 75 feet before passing pedestrians and slow down, since some may not hear a warning bike bell and know to step to the right. On roadways, walkers should walk on the left-hand side of the road, traveling against the traffic; bicyclers should travel in the right-hand lane, going with the flow of traffic. During the day, both walkers and bikers should wear clothing of bright, easily seen colors, and, from dusk on, wear light, reflective clothing. In any case, don't just assume drivers can see you. Be on the lookout ... for your own safety.
