Lula and James Burnett 2012 Parade Marshals

Lula Mae (Corn) and James Burnett will be the Grand Marshals for the 2012 Fourth of July parade in Sewanee. James, a Franklin County native, was born in Belvidere. In 1965, he moved his family to Sewanee; he and Lula raised their four daughters here. They have four granddaughters and two great-granddaughters. James worked at various jobs on campus for nine years; he retired from B.F. Goodrich in Tullahoma after working there for 30 years.

Both Lula and James have been very active in the Sewanee community. Lula retired from the Sewanee Children's Center after spending 30 years nurturing many children. James was a member of the Community Council for several years.

James oversees the St. Mark's Community Center, as well as helping folks in need. He is a volunteer at the Sewanee Senior Citizens Center, delivering meals to shut-ins. He also volunteers to help with elections in Sewanee. Together, they visit nursing homes in Winchester. James and Lula are members of the Original Church of God in Belvidere.

Alexander Named Dean of School of Theology

University Vice-Chancellor John M. McCardell Jr. announced on June 26 that the Rt. Rev. J. Neil Alexander, bishop of the Diocese of Atlanta, has been appointed dean of the University's School of Theology. The announcement follows a national search that began last fall. Alexander's appointment will be effective Aug. 1.

Alexander had previously announced his intention to step down this year from the Diocese of Atlanta after 11 years as bishop. He succeeds the Very Rev. William S. Stafford, who retires as dean of the School of Theology, effective July 1.

Alexander currently serves as chancellor of the University. He will step down as chancellor, and the chancellorship will transfer to the Rt. Rev. Samuel Johnson (John) Howard, bishop of the Diocese of Florida, until the next election by the University's board of trustees.

"I am delighted to be able to continue my working relationship with Bishop Alexander in this new role," said McCardell. "The years we have served together as chancellor and vice-chancellor have been enormously productive for the university, and his numerous strengths are a perfect match for the School of Theology, which is poised to grow and embrace future challenges."

Alexander has a long record of service to Sewanee, including serving on the University's board of regents since 2005 and as a trustee since 2001. During his tenure as chancellor, the University reduced the 2011–12 tuition in the College and the School of Theology and then froze tuition rates for four years for the college class of 2016 and for three years for M. Div. students. Alexander was the Norma

Council Votes On Quarry, Considers Parking Issues

by Leslie Lytle, Messenger Staff Writer

At the June 25 meeting, the Sewanee Community Council passed a resolution expressing concerns about the Tinsley Company's plans to build a quarry and asphalt company in the Greenhaw community of Franklin County. The council also approved a bylaws change, amending council member's residency requirements. A committee was formed to investigate campus parking issues and the possibility of bike lanes on University Avenue.

The Greenhaw quarry resolution expressed "regret that an industrial development of this size and scope is proposed without a public consideration of all of the costs and benefits, including the impact on the environment, the effect on surrounding communities and the ramifications for proximate landowners, including the University of the South." The resolution recommended "the Tinsley Company, the City of Decherd and other interested municipalities resolve the matter in a democratic process to which all concerned parties, both individual and corporate, have equal access."

At the time of the May council meeting, a request that Decherd annex the proposed quarry site was to be decided in a referendum in which the only eligible voters were two members of the Tinsley family. A court injunction has since placed a restraining order on the referendum, and Decherd city officials are being investigated by the Tennessee Bureau of Investigation for possible bribery charges related to the proposed annexation.

By the provisions of the bylaws change approved by the council, candidates seeking election to the council "shall reside in the district in which they seek election or on either side of a boundary street of the district." By the former rule, candidates were required to reside in the district.

Provost John Swallow proposed a second bylaws revision pertaining to the section providing for one at-large council representative from "the Student Assembly of the College of Arts and Sciences." Swallow pointed out that there was no "student assembly" and recommended the bylaws provide for an at-large representative from the "student body." The council will vote on the proposed revision at the August meeting.

The University's director of physical plant services, John Vineyard, introduced discussion on a proposal to end most of the street parking on University Avenue from the Sewanee Inn to Mitchell Avenue to improve pedestrian safety and allow for bike lanes. Council representative Theresa Shackelford expressed concern that parking in Sewanee, already very limited, posed great difficulties for seniors and handicapped residents. Swallow said there would still be some parking and special arrangements would be made for major events. Council representative David Coe suggested a parking permit for seniors and the handicapped, allowing close-in parking.

Council representative Annie Armour pointed out that Sewanee was the only university she knew of with free parking on campus; Armour said most universities offered parking at a main lot located off-campus and provided free public transportation to on-campus sites. Council representatives Michael Hurst, Dennis Meeks and Chet Seigmund will serve on a subcommittee charged with investigating the parking and bike-lane issues.

The next meeting of the Community Council is set for August 27.

Slow Down!

Sewanee's speed limits across the community have changed, effective immediately, according to Sewanee Police Chief Robert White. The main area of campus on University Avenue, from the Sewanee Inn to the Sewanee Market, now has a 20 mph speed limit. All other streets in Sewanee are 20 mph unless posted otherwise.

Four streets now have a 15 mph speed limit: Texas Avenue (around the Fowler Center), Morgan's Steep Road, Georgia Avenue and Finney Avenue. New signs are posted on these streets. The portion of University Avenue from Emerald-Hodgson Hospital to the University entrance sign on Highway 41A toward Monteagle now has a 35 mph speed limit.

"This makes the campus a much safer place," White said. "And, for practical purposes, it doesn't take any longer to go from one end of town to the other, given the increase in one part of the speed limit and the decrease in the other."

Sewanee police officers who stop speeders have the discretion to write either a University ticket (which carries a $50 fine) or issue a Franklin County citation (which carries a $233 fine).

Heat Cancels Friday Concert

Due to a heat and health warning by the National Weather Service (NWS), the Summer Music Series concert planned for this evening in the Sewanee Angel Park has been cancelled. The series will resume at 6:30 p.m., Friday, July 6, with Slandered Banshee.

"Even folks along the normally cooler Cumberland Plateau will not escape the heat this week," according to the NWS.

If you have to be outside in the heat, the NWS advises people to slow down, drink plenty of non-alcoholic fluids and to wear lightweight, loose-fitting clothes.

BLESSED BY SEWANEE To the Editor:

While we may be hundreds of miles away, our hearts will always be in Sewanee. From St. Andrew's-Sewanee School to the Sewanee Children's Center to St. James Episcopal Church and all the places in between, we have been truly blessed to have had each and every one of you as part of our lives these past 10 years.

Thanks for the friendships and love shared. Thanks for helping us raise our children. Thanks for making Sewanee home.

THANK YOU, SBA To the Editor:

What a fun summer music series the Sewanee Business Alliance put on last Friday. It was one of the largest crowds we've seen, and it is a great thing you are doing at the Angel Park. We can't wait for the other performances.

Reese Michaels and Ada Watkins danced on a beautiful summer evening to the music of their dads and the other members of Broad Mountain Brewgrass at the first Summer Music Series in Angel Park on June 22. These free concerts, hosted by the Sewanee Business Alliance, will resume on July 6. Photo by Sherri Bergman

We have bought bricks for our children and grandchildren, so they will see their names in stone. We hope others will take advantage of this opportunity to honor loved ones and support the park by buying some too.

Thanks again, SBA, for giving something back to our great community.

MUSICAL LOVE LETTER

To the Editor:

This is a love letter to the community.

I have spent the greater part of my life making music of some sort. When I retired to Sewanee, I swore that my days would not include the routine of weekly rehearsals and performances. I thought I wanted to really retire, sit on my porch and read. After a few short months of trying to let music go, I could see that music hadn't let me go. Before long, I was singing in the Sewanee Chorale and the Otey Parish choir. Now I am directing both. All because of you, dear community.

You love and support us at every turn. You come to the concerts, you volunteer to sing, you donate time and money. It's because of you that I am here. Kathy and I knew this was a magical mountain, but we couldn't have possibly understood just how much this community supports the arts. In three more years, the Sewanee Chorale will be 50 years old. Amazing! It's been here to provide to the gift of choral music and with your help, will be here another 50 years or more.

If you haven't heard us yet, we will be singing at 11 a.m. on the Fourth of July in front of the University Bookstore. We will reprise our concert "A Salute to Broadway," at 5 p.m., Friday, July 27, in the new Sewanee Angel Park as part of the Summer Music Series.

Thank you all for coming out and being a part of the magic.

*Gary Sturgis

Butterfly Census Saturday

Biologist David Haskell and author David Coe will lead Sewanee's 16th Annual Census of Butterflies on Saturday, July 30. The census is sponsored by the North American Butterfly Association (NABA). All are welcome to participate in the count. There is a $3 per person administrative fee mandated by NABA.

The count will begin at 9 a.m. at the Lake Cheston pavilion and will continue until late afternoon. Participants can remain with the census organizers for as long as they wish. Those wishing to join the count later in the day can do so at the Cross at 1 p.m. Participants in the census will count not only the number of different species seen, but also the number of individual butterflies. The final count will be sent to NABA, so the results can be tabulated with other censuses taking place throughout the continent around the July 4 holiday.

Last year's count in Sewanee turned up 33 butterfly species and 159 individual butterflies. In past years, counters have seen as many as 350 butterflies.

This is the 38th year NABA has organized the counts. Last year, the Association sponsored 452 counts in 47 U.S. states, two Canadian provinces and one Mexican state.

Participants in Sewanee's count need only a sharp eye, a bit of patience and a willingness to learn. No prior knowledge of butterflies is necessary. A pair of binoculars is recommended, although not required. It is suggested that participants wear long pants and sturdy shoes, and that they bring along insect repellent. Participants should also bring a snack and something to drink. Those who intend to continue counting through the afternoon should bring lunch, as well. For more information call Coe at 598-9775.

ANGELWITH AN ATTITUDE

by Virginia Craighill

Dear Angel,

Recently, I've been considering getting a tattoo. Can you advise me as to the nearest, safest, best tattoo parlor in the Sewanee area?

Thinking About Ink

Dear Inky,

A quick internet Yellow Pages search reveals you'll need to go as far as Tullahoma, Manchester or Chattanooga to satisfy your need for epidermal self-expression. If accidental tattoos—the ones where you wake up to find a big heart with "MOM" or the name of your favorite professor written across it on your bicep—are caused by the combination of heavy drinking and the proximity of a tattoo parlor, then the dearth of tattoo parlors in or near Sewanee might very well explain the generally unsullied flesh of Sewanee students.

Clearly not all tattoos are the accidental type, though. There are just as many tattoos that make me believe the recipient intends to leave his organs to science and his skin to an art museum. These impossibly complex, colorful and intricate tattoos might be what you're after, in which case I suggest you seek out a qualified professional and make sure that both you and the tattoo artist stay sober during the process.

A friend who visited the White Water amusement park in Atlanta sent me an iPhone photo of one such tattoo on a man in line near her. The scene on his back depicted a woman with ripped fishnet stockings tied up to a pole, which was being guarded by two ferocious-looking pit bulls. Surprisingly, the man with the elaborate tatt had a female companion (also tattooed). But, if there is truth in advertising, I suppose she knew what to expect.

Although I have seen more tasteful tattoos than the one described above, my final suggestion would be to wait a little while. Mother Nature is the finest tattoo artist and she will eventually create a colorful constellation of moles on your skin and a finely etched design of lines on your face. They are original, expressive and don't cost a thing.

Virginia Craighill invites your questions and queries on matters of etiquette, style and ethics. Send them confidentially to <messgr@bellsouth.net>.

A Guide to the Fourth of July on the Mountain

Tuesday, July 3

Get Your Dancing Shoes

This year's Sewanee Street Dance has "a little twist to it," according to organizers.

The Rachel Dan Band will perform 6–8 p.m., Tuesday, July 3, at the Sewanee Angel Park. Country is the brand of music they feature.

Afterward, everyone can move across Highway 41A to the Sewanee Market parking lot for Southern rock from the band Dry Gin and Whiskey. Both bands are local, so come out for the fun.

The Sewanee police will be at the intersection to assist people in crossing the highway safely.

Wednesday, July 4

Patriotic Flag Raising

The annual flag raising will be held at 8 a.m. on Wednesday, July 4, at the Juhan bridge in Abbo's Alley, followed by a potluck continental breakfast. The Friends of Abbo's Alley are sponsors of this event and provide coffee and juice. Everyone is welcome. Bring your favorite breakfast finger food and join the celebration. For more information call Margaret Beaumont Zucker at 598-5214.

Parking and Traffic Issues

University Avenue will be blocked to automobile traffic between Highway 41A and the Duck River Electric Membership Co-op from 6:30 a.m. on July 4 to provide for pedestrian travel downtown for the festivities. If you want to visit a downtown business, you can drive up Reed Lane and park in the Regions Bank rear parking lot. Parking will also be restricted around Elliot Park (near the bookstore). Parking will be allowed on University Avenue beyond Duck River until 1 p.m., at which time all vehicles must be removed in preparation for the parade beginning at 2 p.m. There will be signs posted on University Avenue with this information.

Enjoy a Ride on the Shuttle

Event organizers encourage everyone to "Please use the shuttle buses!" They will be run from 9 a.m. until after the parade, from the Duck River office, up University Avenue to the Arts and Crafts Fair, to Fulford Hall and back. Ample parking is available behind Fulford Hall.

Arts & Crafts Fair

Starting at 9 a.m. creative people from across the region will be at Shoup Park with their beautiful offerings: baskets, jewelry, pottery, fiber arts, collage and sculpture, as well as fresh herbs and plants for your garden.

"Cat's Meow" Show

Cat owners, bring your cats or kittens to the Cat Show at Manigault Park to be judged and admired. Please bring all pets in carriers and arrive at 8:50 a.m. to register for the 9:15 a.m. show. Audience members will get to offer cat jokes or short cat poems.

CATegories include: Largest, Smallest, Fluffiest Tail, Longest Hair, Most Unusual Markings, Best Cat/Owner Look-alike and Best Decorated Carrier.

For Freedom's Cake

Calling all cakes with a flair or a flag or a life! Participate in the Fourth of July Cake decorating contest. Participants may choose their own theme or compete in the "Yankee Doodle Fourth" category.

Entries should be dropped off between 9 a.m. and 9:45 a.m. at the Blue House on University Avenue.

Winners will be announced at 10:30 a.m. All cakes will be on display from 10:30 a.m. to 11:30 a.m.

Contest categories are Best Decorated (age 12 and younger), Best Decorated (age 13 and older), and Best Theme Cake (all ages). The Grand Prize Winner will be chosen from among the three categories and will be awarded the Ken Taylor Ribbon, $15, and will ride in the Fourth of July Parade.

"Mutt Show"

The Mutt Show will begin at 10 a.m. This year's show offers a way to help animals in need: participants are asked to give a voluntary $5 entry fee, which will be donated to Animal Harbor, our Franklin County Humane Society animal shelter.

Registration is from 9 to 9:50 a.m. on the grandstand in front of the University Book and Supply Store. Wave a flag and sing along with some of the most favored traditional songs. The Sewanee Chorale is celebrating its 47th anniversary this year and invites everyone to come and sing their Yankee Doodle hearts out.

Please bring water for your pet and keep your dog on a leash.

Music in Angel Park

Free music will play through the day at the new Angel Park. The Culprits will play from 10 a.m. to noon; Broad Mountain Brewgrass will play from noon to 2 p.m. Personalized bricks will be available for purchase to support the park, sponsored by the Sewanee Business Alliance.

Who Will Get Soaked?

Vice-Chancellor John McCardell has gathered a terrific lineup of volunteers for this year's dunking booth, including John Shackelford, John Thomas and Reggie Vachon. See them and others on the "hot seat" beginning at 11 a.m. at Sewanee Auto.

See the Future, Go Fishing

Children's games, face painting and the mystery fortune teller will all begin at 11 a.m. on the American Legion Hall lawn. Volunteers are still needed; call Tracie Sherrill at 598-0040 to help.

Coe Book Signing

Sewanee author David B. Coe will be signing copies of his new novel, "Thieftaker," 11:30 a.m.–2 p.m., Wednesday, July 4, at the University Book and Supply Store. This is Coe's 13th novel and is the first volume in a new historical fantasy series. Because this new project represents a departure from Coe's previous work, the series is being published under the pen name D.B. Jackson. Copies of Coe's other books will also be available for purchase.

Sewanee Chorale

The Sewanee Chorale salutes our patriotic heritage at 11:30 a.m. on the grandstand in front of the University Book and Supply Store. Wave a flag and sing along with some of the most favored traditional songs. The Sewanee Chorale is celebrating its 47th anniversary this year and invites everyone to come and sing their Yankee Doodle hearts out.

Fourth of July Food Treats

Sewanee is in for a delicious, healthy treat at this year's Independence Day festivities. Stop by the Cumberland Center for Justice and Peace booth for locally grown, roasted-on-site sweet corn from Seven Pines Farm of Tracy City.

Other food vendors are getting ready to feed the crowds with barbecue, hot dogs, pizza, lemonade and other tasty delights.

I Hear Bells!

John Bordley and Sam Hammond will offer a carillon recital at 1 p.m. There will be programs and a viewing monitor at All Saints' Chapel.

Everyone Loves a Parade

This year's "Yankee Doodle Fourth" parade begins at 2 p.m.

Entrants must be in the lineup by 1 p.m. to be judged. Follow signs for lineup on Lake O'Donnell Road. Enter Lake O'Donnell Road off Highway 41A across from Finney Lane. The parade begins at Lake O'Donnell Road and ends at the Sewanee Inn. Trophies will be awarded for the best decorated float, vehicle,

Decorated bikes will be judged at Woody's Bike Shop at 1:30 p.m. by Anne and Woody Deutsch. After riding in the parade, all cyclists will have a Popsicle at the Sewanee Inn.

Interested in playing with the Sewanee Kazoo Band? Distribution of kazoos and a quick rehearsal will be at 4:30 p.m., Monday, July 2, at Otey parish hall.

At the end of the parade, floats should not stop at the Sewanee Inn. Either continue onto the highway or turn right on Faculty Circle and then right onto Torian Road. This will help with the flow of traffic.

To enter the parade or for questions, call parade coordinator Tracie Sherrill at 598-0040.

Up in the Air

The annual Air Show begins after the parade, as well as airplane rides for children and adults at the Sewanee Airport. Rides are $10 per person.

SSMF Concert

A free celebration of patriotic music will be performed by Sewanee Summer Music Festival students and faculty at 7 p.m. in Guerry Auditorium.

Potter & Smith, The Culprits & Fireworks at Lake Cheston

The Lake Cheston amphitheater will host two beloved Sewanee music groups on Wednesday evening: Bran Potter and Charlie Smith will play at 6:30 p.m., followed by the Culprits, who will take the stage at 7:30 p.m.

Texas Avenue will be closed from University Avenue to Lake Cheston for the fireworks. Only handicapped persons will be allowed to drive to the lake. All cars that drive to Lake Cheston will be required to wait until pedestrians are out before they may leave.

The Culprits, comprised of Zach Blount, Nick Evans and Will Evans, has had great success. Earlier this month, the indie-pop group was in the studio with renowned producer John Keane (who has worked with R.E.M. and Widespread Panic).

"After a month of intensive preparation for both the four-day studio session and our upcoming concert on the Fourth, I suddenly felt rewarded when I stepped into the same room that was used to record R.E.M.'s iconic hit 'Losing My Religion,'" Nick said recently.

"Working with a Grammy-nominated producer has been thrilling," Will said, and "the sound is coming out beautifully ... especially the drums."

IAMNY magazine wrote about the Culprits: "With elements of pop, funk, Brit-pop and rock, this band shows no signs of slowing down."

"We want all of Sewanee to know how grateful we are for nearly five years of support," Zach said.

"We are pumped to play new material and there is nowhere else we would rather introduce the new songs than in Sewanee," he said.

SUD Considers High Water Use, Low Rainfall and Drought Policies

by Leslie Lytle, Messenger Staff Writer

The recent hot weather and low rainfall was the focus of discussion at the May 26 business meeting of the board of commissioners of the Sewanee Utility District of Franklin and Marion Counties. Lake Jackson is down three feet, and Lake O'Donnell is down one-and-a-half feet. In June of last year, Lake Jackson was full, and Lake O'Donnell was down one foot. Lake Jackson and Lake O'Donnell are SUD's primary and secondary water supply sources.

In March, the University approached SUD about purchasing water to fill the irrigation lake at the golf course. The University has been buying approximately 100,000 gallons of water a day for this purpose. In discussion, the commissioners expressed concern that unusually high usage during this dry period could push SUD to impose conservation measures as stipulated in the shortages and emergencies policy adopted in November 2007 and updated in March 2008.

In Stage One drought, declared at the discretion of the manager, conservation is voluntary. In Stage Two drought, enacted when fewer than 90 days of the primary water supply remains, use for irrigation is restricted, and some recreational uses are prohibited, such as filling swimming pools. In Stage Three, enacted with 60 days of primary supply remaining, most watering and irrigation is prohibited, except for commercial farms and growers, golf courses and ballfields where watering is restricted to the minimum necessary to keep plants alive or subject to a rotation time schedule. In Stage Four drought, with only 30 days of primary supply remaining, all watering is prohibited except for commercial farms and growers who are restricted to the minimum necessary to maintain life.

In all four stages of drought, SUD may impose a water emergency surcharge on water and sewer rates. By policy, when Stage Four drought occurs, SUD will make the necessary infrastructure arrangements to withdraw water from Lake Dimmick. In 2008, SUD signed a contract with the University allowing SUD to tap Lake Dimmick in Stage Four drought. SUD pays the University $10,000 annually for the Lake Dimmick use privilege. Since the contract was signed, Lake Dimmick has not been tapped, but the $10,000-annual fee applies.

At the August meeting the board will review the contract with the University providing for the use of Lake Dimmick and also review the irrigation restrictions and prohibitions defined in the shortages and emergency policy.

The board deferred scheduling a working session to address unaccounted-for water loss until after manager Ben Beavers attends the American Water Works Association conference later in the summer. Commissioner Randall Henley said information from the Tennessee Association of Utility Districts indicated that the association would pay for a study to determine SUD's source of unaccounted-for water loss.

In August SUD will host a dedication ceremony for the new water plant. The next meeting of the SUD board is scheduled for Tuesday, July 24.

McCrory Donates Grand Piano

Music in Sewanee owes much to the generosity of Martha McCrory. Longtime director of the Sewanee Summer Music Festival, McCrory made the lead gift to construct McCrory Hall for the Performing Arts. This beautiful and acoustically-rich performance space on the campus of St. Andrew's-Sewanee School (SAS) has provided the venue for dozens of outstanding student and professional performances. Most recently, McCrory donated her beloved grand piano to the school.

"Martha's lovely Baldwin grand piano will be used on a daily basis for lessons and visiting artists," said SAS music teacher Katherine Anderson. "This donation is yet another example of Martha's passion for the arts and her dedication to music education. We will all benefit from this generous gift!"

I LIKE TO WATCH

by Kiki Beavers

The book-to-movie adaptation can be tricky. It takes a certain amount of movie magic to make the adaptation true to the book. The first step to movie magic is getting the casting right.

When I read a book and then go watch the movie, I always hope for the best book-to-movie character adaptation. For instance, Clark Gable in "Gone With the Wind." No other actor, living or dead, could possibly be Rhett Butler in my mind's eye. With other adaptations, actors who cannot act their way out of a paper bag take away from the movie magic.

One book-to-movie adaptation I want to watch is "Salmon Fishing in the Yemen." This is a delightful story of a British fisheries expert who is employed by a sheikh to bring salmon fly-fishing to the desert. The story in the book is told through emails, diaries and first-person accounts. Because of the very limited release of the movie adaptation [it played on 18 screens in the U.S.], I will have to wait until it is available on Netflix before I can actually watch the movie.

The movie stars Ewan McGregor as Dr. Alfred Jones, whose job it is to make the sheikh's dream a reality. The sheikh wants the people of Yemen to experience the spiritual miracle of fishing, so that all men "will stand side-by-side and fish for salmon." Fish in the desert? The sheikh tells Jones to believe.

There is a miracle in fly-fishing, as described in the book by Paul Torday. A fisherman stands in the water, casts a line and does not know if a fish will be caught. The fisherman takes a chance, proceeds with faith, and maybe a little magic happens. To make the desert a place where all people could fly-fish would require a huge leap of faith.

One of the reasons I want to watch this movie is because of McGregor. McGregor is a magician as an actor. He makes you believe that there is something greater at work in his roles, whether it is the power of imagination, or the ability to do anything when one believes they cannot fail. McGregor portrays characters who show there is magic: in vision, in storytelling, in a guiding way of life. Anything is possible.

In the "Star Wars" movies (I, II and III), McGregor portrayed the young Obi-Wan Kenobi. As Obi-Wan, he showed the power that guides a person can be good and just. McGregor in these movies makes you believe that there is a guiding force. Despite Obi-Wan's efforts, Anakin Skywalker slowly slides to his tragic fate, and you can feel Obi-Wan's sorrow. This version of Obi-Wan did grow up to be the Obi-Wan character as portrayed by Sir Alex Guinness (in "Star Wars" episodes IV, V and VI).

In the film "Big Fish," McGregor stars as the young Ed Bloom in a movie told in flashbacks and memory. The elder Bloom is estranged from his son. Bloom has always exaggerated his life stories: a giant who eats people or a big fish that ate his wedding ring. There is a grain of truth lurking in all the tall tales. But after Bloom dies, his son realizes that in the gift of storytelling, "we are our stories. You become what you always were, a very big fish," says Bloom's son.

As reporter Bob Wilton in the movie "The Men Who Stare at Goats," McGregor is in pursuit of a story about military psych-op spies nicknamed the Jedi warriors. Wilton is skeptical of these paranormal powers as he follows Lyn Cassady around on one more mission. Wilton discovers Cassady has the power to do the seemingly impossible with his mind. Wilton ponders all that he has seen, and he believes he can use this force. "Because when I look at what is happening in the world ... now more than ever, we need the Jedi," says Wilton as he disappears through a wall.

This is the magic of the movies and actors bringing the story to life. Will a gesture alone be able to hide droids in plain sight? "These are not the droids you are looking for," the Star Wars Jedi Master said.

Does a hungry giant eat people because he is too big for this world? "Has it ever occurred to you that maybe you're not too big? That maybe this place is just too small?" says the young Ed Bloom.

Can men use their minds to stop the heartbeat of a goat? "Once you understand the linkage between observation and reality then you begin to dance with invisibility," says Cassady to Wilton.

Can cold-water fish live in the desert? "Without faith, there is no hope," says the sheikh to Jones.

If anyone could make me believe salmon fishing in the Yemen is possible, it would be Ewan McGregor. And I want to watch as he tries.

Grundy County Heritage Center Open House

An open house to celebrate the Heritage Center in Tracy City will be 2-5 p.m., Sunday, July 8. The Heritage Center is located at 465 Railroad Ave., Tracy City, in the former First National Bank of Tracy City building and related structures.

The Grundy County Historical Society purchased the bank property in November 2009 and began its restoration for use as a Heritage Center. The center includes a museum, library and research center.

The museum features eight galleries depicting themes of history about Grundy County and the region that have had national or international impact. Included are galleries devoted to the geology of the South Cumberland Plateau, the Chickamauga story, Summerfield (featuring Lilian Johnson and her agricultural cooperative, May Justus and Vera McCampbell) and Highlander Folk School, the Monteagle Sunday School Assembly and the Chautauqua movement, Beersheba Springs, origins of the New South (the story of coal, coke, iron steel and the Mountain Goat Railroad), the Swiss Colony at Gruetli, and timber, lumber and conservation. The Beersheba Springs Gallery will include a mural to be painted on walls of the museum. A culture center is being developed in the Center's Assembly Hall that will portray life in the communities.

The Library and Research Center is an outgrowth and expansion of the "Root Cellar" operated by the Grundy County Historical Society from 1988 to 2010 in the Tracy City Public Library. It features genealogical research materials and facilities, including computers for public use that connect with records of Grundy County's Register of Deeds and through the internet to the Tennessee State Library and Archives in Nashville.

Silent Auction at Locals to Benefit Artists

Crafts Artists of Southern Tennessee (CAST) will offer unique, regional works of art via silent auction 10 a.m.-2 p.m. Wednesday, July 4, at Locals Gallery, in Sewanee (located between Regions Bank and the Blue Chair). All proceeds will directly benefit CAST.

Bids will be taken on works in wood, clay, fiber, metal, glass and mixed media created by members of CAST, a group of artists from 23 Southern Tennessee counties dedicated to supporting and promoting the arts in the Sewanee region. The silent auction last July 4 was a great success, with bidders showing great patience and strategy in securing their favorite local work of art.

CAST is one of six active regional chapters of artists and craftspeople belonging to the Tennessee Association of Craft Artists (TACA), a statewide nonprofit organization founded to encourage, develop and promote regional crafts and craftspeople.

CAST sponsors the annual Studio Tour in Sewanee and Monteagle, as well as the Full CAST art exhibit at the St. Andrew's-Sewanee School gallery. For more information on CAST go to <www.cast-taca.org>.

New Food Hub To Benefit Area Farmers, Businesses, Schools

USDA Rural Development State Director Bobby Goode joined local leaders at the warehouse next door to the Farmer's Market in Tracy City on June 25 to help launch a new regional farm-to-table project with a unique focus on building the capacity for small farms to meet demand from wholesale buyers.

"We want farmers to concentrate on growing good food," said Goode. "Thanks to this new Food Hub through the Cumberland Farmer's Market, farmers in the South Cumberland region will soon be able to increase their income from farming and ultimately hire more workers."

With help from a USDA Rural Development grant of $43,276, the Cumberland Farmer's Market staff is building on a reputation for community-building and quality regionally produced food to a new level with the Food Hub Project. The Hub expands the idea of a traditional farmer's market by providing small- and medium-sized family farms with ongoing aggregation and distribution services necessary to sell their products to businesses and institutions, in addition to regular online and retail sales on market days.

During the last four years the unique online market has grown to include more than 60 growers offering nearly 700 products, hundreds of regular retail customers and sales of nearly $80,000 a year. The new services to be offered will develop a wholesale network with the capacity to fulfill growing demand from restaurants, businesses and institutions that require quantities and delivery capacity beyond that of an average-size family farmer.

Market customers order online, then pick up their produce and goods at set times. The website, <www.Sewanee.locallygrown.net>, includes individual spotlight pages for participating growers in an easy-to-use, informative format so buyers can get to know more about the people and farms behind what they eat.

According to Goode, "This grant is part of USDA's Know Your Farmer, Know Your Food effort aimed at carrying out President Obama's commitment to strengthening local and regional food systems. We know demand for locally grown food is high across the country."

"Let's face it," he said, "fresher food just tastes a lot better and is better for us."

Rural Development's business grant programs provide assistance to local governments and nonprofits that assist small businesses, develop local business infrastructure, provide job training, conduct feasibility studies or provide technical assistance to businesses and community leaders.

USDA Rural Development invests in jobs, infrastructure, community development, home ownership and affordable rental housing to improve the economic health of rural communities. During the last three years the agency has assisted at least 1.5 million Tennessee families and businesses in 158 communities, investing more than $2.5 billion through affordable loans, loan guarantees and grants.

For more information on Rural Development programs available in south-east Tennessee, contact the Rural Development area office in Chattanooga at (800) 342-3149 ext. 1492 or online at <www.rurdev.usda.gov/tn>.

Blood Donors Needed

Blood Assurance is issuing an urgent appeal for O positive, O negative, A negative and B negative donations. The regional blood center's donations are down due to the normal summer shortages.

The summer months often mean more accidents and trauma, making the need for blood donations even more critical. Area hospitals need a minimum of 400 units of blood donated each day to avoid these critical shortages.

Special blood drives are being hosted by Blood Assurance on July 4; Blood Assurance is also extending its weekend hours at its Chattanooga donation centers. Donors must be at least 17 years old (16 years old with parental consent) and weigh at least 110 pounds.

Blood Assurance is the only source of blood donations for more than 50 hospitals and healthcare facilities in Alabama, Georgia, North Carolina and Tennessee. To find out if you are eligible to donate, please call (800) 962-0628 or go to <www.bloodassurance.org>.

HEARING HEALTH NEWS

by Debbie Gamache,
M.S. CCC-A Audiologist

Not Hitting the High Notes

One of the most common symptoms of age-related hearing loss, presbycusis, is the decreased ability to hear high frequency sounds. Consequently, those with this problem may have difficulty understanding the conversation of children and women (whose voices are naturally of a higher frequency). They may also have difficulty in distinguishing between consonants even though vowels may be heard plainly. As a result, words may be misunderstood, sometimes with embarrassing results. This can make a critical difference in the way we relate to family, friends and co-workers.

At the Hearing Center LLC, one of the most important things we do is educate our patients about their hearing loss and help them to be aware of research, theories and products available today to help improve their lives. It is important that you enjoy the world in which you live. We look forward to servicing the individual needs of the hearing impaired. Can we help you? Please call us at 931-393-2051 or toll-free at 888-303-2051, or come and visit us at 705B North Atlantic St. in Tullahoma. You can visit our website at www.thehearingcenterllc.com.

Tennis Teams Rack Up Honors

The University's tennis teams continued to earn national recognition, after the Intercollegiate Tennis Association (ITA) announced the final 2012 ITA rankings and All-Academic award winners recently.

Sewanee's women's tennis team finished the season ranked 18th in the final ITA poll. Individually, Jenny Liles closed her outstanding year as the 28th-ranked singles player in the country. Additionally, Liles, along with teammate Bronte Goodhue, were ranked 23rd nationally in doubles.

Off the court, both Tiger squads had a number of players earn spots on the prestigious ITA All-Academic Team.

Four student-athletes finished their academic year with a 3.5 grade point average (GPA) or higher. Meredith Lawrence, Liles, Goodhue, and Rand Jackson all received the award, while the women's squad finished with a team 3.2 GPA.

Coaches for these teams are Conchie Shackelford and John Shackelford.

Fowler Center Holiday Hours

The Fowler Center building and pool will be closed all day on Wednesday, July 4.

Monday–Tuesday, July 2–3, and Thursday–Friday, July 5–6, the building will be open 6 a.m.–8 p.m.

The pool will be open those days 12:30–1:30 p.m. for laps, and 1:30–4:30 p.m. for open swim. For more information call 598-1793.

Sewanee Golf Course Renovation Update

Sewanee's nine-hole golf course is in the middle of its major renovation, which began in May. Hanse Golf Course Design is in charge of restoring the Sewanee course, including rebuilding greens complexes, bunkers, cart path systems, the installation of efficient single-line fairway irrigation and the removal of declining trees.

Gil Hanse, who earned Golf magazine's Architect of the Year Award in 2009, has designed some of the nation's finest courses. Some examples of the work of Hanse and his team can be seen at the Taconic Golf Club of Williams College, Castle Stuart Golf Links in Scotland and the Capstone Club at the University of Alabama. Hanse was recently selected to design the golf course for the 2016 Olympic Games in Rio de Janeiro and the Doral Golf Resort's TPC Blue Monster course in Miami.

Originally built in 1915 by the Rt. Rev. Albion Knight, the Sewanee course was laid out as an opportunity to capitalize on the growing popularity of golf. While some modifications and improvements have been made to Bishop Knight's original design, the new course will have both a new look and feel to players.

Overall, the renovation project will strengthen its role as a practice and competition venue for intercollegiate golf at the University, while incorporating environmentally sustainable features to enhance the challenges of the course and preserve the delicate ecosystem of the Cumberland Plateau.

Pre-Fourth Herbarium Cross Hike

Yolande Gottfried will lead a hike at 4 p.m., Tuesday, July 3, beginning at the War Memorial Cross in Sewanee.

Several interesting trails branch off from this beautiful vista. She will take short forays in a number of different directions, as well as talk about the trees and other plants near the Cross itself.

Meet at the Cross (at the end of Tennessee Avenue) for this moderate one-hour walk.

The Sewanee Herbarium is involved in education, research and conservation. It acquires and maintains a collection of pressed and mounted plant specimens with emphasis on the flora of the Sewanee Domain and the immediate four-county area in Tennessee.

Mink Spotted by Local Pond

A few days ago, Jean Yeatman was talking to Buddy Hoosier, and he told her he had been walking in the woods beside a small pond and had seen an animal he did not recognize. It was jet black, larger than a squirrel and had three young following it.

"Of course, it was a mother mink with babies," reported Jean. "We have been seeing mink around for a number of years at Fiery Gizzard, Long's Mill, and many as road kill. It is very nice to know that we have a family in our area.

"Mink live near water," she continued, "and are aggressive hunters, eating muskrat and other mammals, fish, marsh birds, poultry, etc. They are constantly on the go, carrying their young by the scruff of the neck on land, or piggyback in the water. When angry, mink discharge an acrid musk."

Pets of the Week

Meet Theo and Iroh

The Franklin County Humane Society's Animal Harbor offers these two delightful pets for adoption.

Theo and Iroh are adoptive brothers and best buddies. They decided to pose together to be "Pets of the Week" hoping that someone would see how much they love each other and take advantage of the Animal Harbor's June kitten special. Time is almost out to take advantage of this special.

During the month of June, two kittens may be adopted together for one adoption fee of $75. Having two kittens is better than one, because they play together and keep each other company. Theo and Iroh have been raised from a very young age to be gentle and loving. They are negative for FeLV and FIV, house-trained, up-to-date on shots and neutered.

Every Friday is Black Friday at Animal Harbor. On Fridays, adoption fees will be reduced 50 percent for black or mostly black pets over 4 months old who have been at Animal Harbor for more than a month. Pets adopted from Animal Harbor qualify for a free post-adoption wellness exam by local veterinarians.

Call Animal Harbor at 962-4472 for information and check out their other pets at <www.animalharbor.com>. Enter their drawing on this site for a free spay or neuter for one of your pets. Ask about their low-income spay program. Please help the Humane Society continue to save abandoned pets by sending your donations to The Franklin County Humane Society, P. O. Box 187, Winchester, TN 37398.

Outdoor Grilling Safety

Summertime means outdoor grilling time for many Tennessee residents. It is also the peak season for grilling fires. The State Fire Marshal's Office urges outdoor cooks to keep fire safety in mind as they start up the grill this summer.

"Practice safety, whenever you grill," state fire marshal Julie Mix McPeak said. "Place your grill well away from siding, deck railings, eaves and overhanging branches." She added, "Never leave a grill unattended."

Utilize these additional tips to make your summer cookouts fire-safe:

Keep children and pets away from the grill area. Declare a three-foot "safe zone" around the grill.

Periodically remove grease buildup in trays to prevent ignition by a hot grill.

Propane, charcoal and wood pellet barbecue grills must be used outdoors only. Indoor use can kill home occupants by causing either a fire or carbon monoxide poisoning.

Do not store or use a grill on a porch or balcony, including any porch or balcony on an upper level of the building.

Gas grills have a higher fire risk than charcoal grills. Leaks and breaks in the gas cylinder or hose are the leading cause of gas grill fires. Check the gas cylinder hose for leaks before using it for the first time each year.

If you smell gas while cooking, immediately get away from the grill and call the fire department. Do not attempt to move the grill.

Always store propane gas tanks outside of buildings and garages.

Only light a propane grill with the cover open.

When using charcoal grills, avoid using starter fluid; use a chimney starter instead. Never add charcoal starter fluid when coals or kindling have already ignited, and never use any flammable or combustible liquid other than charcoal starter fluid.

Dispose of charcoal coals only after they are cool. Empty the coals into a metal container with a tight-fitting lid that is only used to collect coals. Never empty coals directly into a trash can. Place away from anything that can burn.

According to the Tennessee Fire Incident Reporting System, Tennessee has averaged 33 fire incidents per year for the last five years involving open-fired grills.

BARDTOVERSE

by Scott and Phoebe Bates

...This is Independence Day,
Fourth of July, the day we mean to keep,
Whatever happens and whatever falls
Out of a sky grown strange;
This is firecracker day for sunburnt kids,
The day of the parade,
Slambanging down the street.
Listen to the parade!
There's J.K. Burney's float,
Red-white-and-blue-crepe-paper on the wheels,
The Fire Department and the local Grange.
There are the pretty girls with their hair curled
Who represent the Thirteen Colonies,
The Spirit of East Greenwich, Betsy Ross,
Democracy, or just some pretty girls.
There are the veterans and the Legion Post
(Their feet are going to hurt when they get home).
The band, the flag, the band, the usual crowd,
Good-humored, watching, hot,
Silent a second as the flag goes by,
Kidding the local cop and eating popsicles, ...
All of them there and all of them a nation. ...
