

Sewanee Summer Music Festival Begins June 23

The Sewanee Summer Music Festival (SSMF) will run this year from June 23 to July 22. One of the nation's premier orchestra and chamber music training festivals, the SSMF has brought the sound of music to the Mountain for more than 60 summers.

A few highlights include the Opening Gala Concert in the Faculty Artist Series, June 23 from 7:30 to 9 p.m.; "Symphonic Sundays," concerts at 2:30 p.m. and 3:30 p.m. each Sunday from July 1-22; the Faculty Artist Series on Wednesday and Saturday evenings; and the annual Fourth of July Patriotic Celebration (attendance is free for this special concert).

In addition to the Fourth of July concert, Friday evening concerts showcasing student chamber ensembles and Saturday morning concerts in Guerry Garth also are free to the community. All are welcome to bring a picnic lunch and enjoy a Saturday outdoor concert.

The full concert schedule and ticket information can be found on the SSMF website <<http://ssmf.sewanee.edu/>>. Tickets are available now online for individual concerts or the full season; season passes are $125.

Friday Nights in the Park and Reverse Raffle

The Sewanee Business Alliance (SBA) is hosting a series of free concerts in downtown Sewanee.

The lineup for Friday Nights in the Park is: Stray Fossa on June 22; Volk on June 29; Little Russell Band on July 6; and JackWagon on July 13. University Avenue will be closed at 6 p.m. each of these nights for the annual outdoor family event, with food and drink from local vendors available for purchase. The entertainers play from 7:30 p.m. to 9:30 p.m. in the Angel Park Pavilion.

On Wednesday, July 4, the Jess Goggans Band will perform from noon-2 p.m. The events are free and open to the public.

The SBA is also sponsoring a reverse raffle to benefit Sewanee Angel Park and Housing Sewanee, with a chance for participants to win up to $5,000.

Tickets are $100 each and are for sale at the following local businesses: The Blue Chair, Locals, Lemon Fair, University Realty and Woody's Bicycles. Tickets may also be purchased online at <www.sewaneeangelpark.com>.

During each Friday Nights in the Park event, there will be a drawing for a special prize. The ticket drawn will be placed back in the pool for another chance to win. The $5,000 grand prize drawing will take place during the 8th annual AngelFest on Sept. 28. Participants do not have to be present to win.

MSSA Opens 136th Program Season

The Monteagle Sunday School Assembly in Monteagle opens its 136th consecutive summer season of enrichment on June 10, with an interdenominational worship service at 11 a.m. in the Assembly's Warren Chapel.

The eight-week season will continue through Sunday, Aug. 5, featuring numerous visiting lecturers presenting morning and evening programs in Warren Chapel that are open free of charge to the public; unless otherwise noted, morning lectures begin at 10:45 a.m. and evening lectures at 8:15 p.m.

Anyone interested in a full schedule of the Monteagle Assembly's 2018 program is welcome to pick one up at the Assembly Office (931-924-2286), or to peruse the schedule on the Assembly's website at <www.mssa1882.org>.

The first week of the season features an eclectic mix of programs, lectures and music, including a lecture from Mike Keith, play-by-play announcer on radio and television for more than 30 years. His work calling the January 8, 2000, Tennessee Titans game against Buffalo Bills made him famous; the "Music City Miracle" last-second touchdown that catapulted the Titans to an improbable playoff win was named by ESPN as one of the 10 best radio calls in American sports history.

Keith will speak on Friday, June 15, at 2:30 p.m. in Warren Chapel.

Thursday evening, June 14, features a musical performance by the Choo Choo Chorus, the Chattanooga chapter of the Barbershop Harmony Society, which performs to raise money for charities such as the Boehm Birth Defects Center. The chorus has donated more than $50,000 to the Boehm Center in the last few years.

Morning lectures in the opening week cover everything from finding peace in a noisy world to wrangling weeds. On Monday morning, Dr. William H. (Bill) Elder III and Linda Elder, longtime Assembly members, will talk about "Finding Hope in Life's Unchosen Journeys."

On Christmas Eve 2009, Bill suffered a major stroke; how the couple wrestled with the chaos that followed serves as the foundation for this powerful talk. Tuesday morning brings the Right Rev. Don E. Johnson to the Chapel, where he will reflect on how we are formed by the places we live and the experiences we share.

Johnson's lecture, "A View from the Flatlands," will also share how he and his wife, Jeannie, are preparing for his pending retirement as the Third Bishop of the Episcopal Diocese of Tennessee. Wednesday morning's lecture with Mary Ellen Brewington, "Living Peacefully in a Restless World," focuses on helping each of us be present, be true, clear our minds and hearts, and incorporate life hacks into our daily habits to live a less-stressful life.

Thursday morning, Cayce McAlister lectures on a project called Weed Wrangle®. This project is a one-day, citywide, volunteer effort to help rescue public parks and green spaces from invasive species through hands-on removal of especially harmful

School Board Struggles to Slash Budget

by Leslie Lytle, Messenger Staff Writer

The Franklin County School Board met for a special called meeting on June 5 in an effort to reduce the budget by $380,000. The County Finance Committee rejected the budget the board approved on May 24.

"They (the committee) sent it back to us and asked us to make cuts," said Director of Schools Stanley Bean. The budget requested $893,883 in new revenue to cover a 2 percent raise for all personnel, certified and non-certified; a 1.5 percent raise for contract bus drivers; $100,000 for Pre-K due to a reduction in state funding; and $175,818 for increased health insurance costs.

"It's our decision what we take back," said Bean. The Finance Committee gave no advice on what to cut.

Bean, Board Chair CleiJo Walker, Assistant Superintendent Linda Foster and County Deputy Finance Director Cindy Latham met to consider possible reductions. The group proposed cutting the Pre-K request in half and reducing all raises to 1 percent, decreasing the total request from the county by $380,000.

"The two percent raise for teachers is the last thing I'd take out," said board member Chris Guess.

Guess proposed using money from the reserve fund balance to pay the raises for personnel and bus drivers. "If we run out of money and the county won't provide assistance, we close the schools."

Drawing on the fund balance to pay the raises would drop the money held in reserve below $2.5 million. Latham previously recommended holding at least $2.5 million in reserve in order for the school system to be able to make payroll, since receipt of projected revenue often lags behind expenses. By law, the school system is required to hold at least 3 percent of operating expenses in reserve (for 2018-19 approximately $1.36 million).

"If we give the raise, it's ours forever," said Bean, offering another caveat to the school system funding the wage increases.

Jimmy Henley: Working Man Wise

by Leslie Lytle

Messenger Staff Writer

Editor's Note: This is the second in a series of interviews with some of the local candidates running for office. General election voting is Aug. 2.

In support of his decision to run for District 5, Seat B county commissioner, candidate Jimmy Henley said, "I know what the county needs, and I know what would benefit the county." Henley speaks from experience.

Raised in the Winchester-Decherd area, Henley graduated from Franklin County High School in 1976 and "went straight to work." After a few years as a truck driver and truck mechanic, Henley turned his knowledge of large equipment into a business specializing in construction, excavation, site preparation, building pads, and drainage, sewer and water line work for utilities. In business for 30 years, the cities of Winchester and Cowan have

by Kevin Cummings

Messenger Staff Writer

The Rotaract Club of Sewanee decided to make its first-ever community service project a big endeavor, aiming to raise at least $20,000 for the American Cancer Society with a Relay for Life this fall.

About 30 University of the South students serve in Rotaract, which is in its inaugural year and under the umbrella of the Monteagle-Sewanee Rotary Club.

Bill Davis, Rotaract advisor and membership chair of the local Rotary, said at least 1,000 people are expected to participate in the event.

"I think it's probably the first time that anything this major has been done to bring students, faculty, staff and community together for a fundraiser potentially of this magnitude on campus," he said.

REMEMBERING BOO CRAVENS

To the Editor:

As former students at Sewanee, from 1990-1994, we remember Boo Cravens fondly, and add the following insights to her wonderful obituary (the Messenger issue Friday, May 18, 2018).

Boo and her late husband Duvie were our home away from home, and became the best of friends to some of us students who came to Sewanee from far away. They frequently invited us to their home, their hospitality will always be appreciated.

*Dinshaw Mistry, C'92, Ph.D.
(Illinois), currently professor at the University of Cincinnati*

Boo did a lot for us international students, back in the days when there were virtually no facilities or support.

Ashok Rao, C'92, M.A. (Princeton), currently at CIBC bank, Toronto

She made us feel at home in Sewanee. I still remember how she got me to get my driving license in a day. I will miss her dearly.

*Nisha Arunatilake, C'93, PhD
(Duke), currently at Institute of Policy
Studies of Sri Lanka*

She was a wonderful friend to all international students. I am glad to hear she had a peaceful passing.

Himalee Arunatilaka, C'94, currently in the Sri Lanka Foreign Service

May her soul RIP. She was a star in all of our lives.

*Arjun Charanjiva, C'93, MBA (Columbia), currently director of Kulture
Shop, Mumbai, India*

MORE ON GUNS

To the Editor:

Howard Franklin's statement, "The time for NRA sanctioned conversations has past" is misguided (Messenger issue June 1, 2018). Two of the basic tenets of the NRA are 1) the right to self-defense and 2) keeping guns out of the hands of the mentally ill, two things that are missing from the vast majority of the school and mass shootings in the U.S.

These murderers choose their targets carefully with the goal of maximum death and notoriety, often comparing themselves to previous shooters. So, they almost always choose "gun-free" (self-defense prohibited) zones.

In the Parkland, Fla., atrocity, exactly what part of the system worked? Certainly not labeling the school as a gun-free zone, not dozens of calls to police over the years, not calling the FBI, not having an SRO who stayed outside, and not "banning" the murderer from campus.

Yes, guns are the common link to shootings, as are cars to drunk driving and knives to stabbings (e.g., London), but with the number of guns in the U.S. doubling in the last 30 years and violent crime rates falling, the mere existence of firearms is clearly not the cause of violence. With 300 million firearms (15 million AR "Armalite Rifle"-15's) and trillions of rounds of ammunition in the citizens' hands, if guns begat murder, we'd be somewhat higher than middle-of-the-pack in the world's murder rate.

The dots to connect in school shootings are between gun-free zones, mental illness and notoriety.

Bill Kershner, Sewanee

Willis to Speak at the Heritage Center

The annual Meeting of Members of Grundy County Historical Society will meet at 2 p.m., Saturday, June 9, at the Heritage Center located at 465 Railroad Ave., in Tracy City. The public is welcome. Membership applications will be available at the meeting for persons interested in becoming members.

There will be a presentation at the meeting by Laura Willis on "Spiritual Richness on the Plateau." The Plateau has an abundance of resources: people, natural beauty and important history. One of the overlooked but valuable assets of the plateau is its abundance in spiritual places and institutions. Laura Willis, the new director of Advancement and Marketing at St. Mary's Sewanee Retreat Center, will speak about how St. Mary's Sewanee contributes to the broader community through its programs and retreats.

Willis is the former editor of the Sewanee Mountain Messenger and was the first executive director of South Cumberland Community Fund. For 10 years, she was the director of the Community Action Committee at Otey Parish in Sewanee, about which she wrote "Finding God in a Bag of Groceries" (Abingdon, 2013).

Gospel and Gumbo

The Community Action Committee invites everyone to a night of old time gospel singing and Louisiana gumbo from 5–7 p.m., Thursday, June 14, at St. Mark’s Hall. The cost is $10 per person or $25 for families. Bring your friends and come enjoy the songs of some of the best gospel singers on the Mountain. For additional information call 598-5927.

Honoring the Life of Dr. Clay Ross

In the early morning hours of June 5, Dr. Clay Ross “passed over the other side.” Clay was the organist at Christ Church Monteagle for more than 20 years. He and his wife, Andrea, had moved to Washington State to be near their daughter, Helen and her family. During his years at Sewanee, Clay wrote a classic Math textbook. In addition to teaching math and computer science, Clay played bass in the Sewanee Orchestra. Clay and Andrea were the main donors of the Johannus organ at Christ Church. His sense of humor was such that he loved opening the transoms so that the cows in the pasture next door could enjoy the music. They pressed themselves against the fence and joined in. He was also a gifted photographer.

The service at Christ Church this Sunday will feature some of his favorite hymns, such as “The King of Love my shepherd is.” We send our love to his family. They send their love to all on the Mountain who have known them.

Grief Recovery Course at St. James

Folks at Home and St. James Episcopal Church are sponsoring an eight-week course on Grief Recovery. Designed and facilitated by compassus Hospice and palliative care, the class is instructed by Jack Kennington, a certified Grief Recovery Specialist. This is not a drop-in group or therapy, but rather a structured action-based educational program. It will take place each Thursday through July 26, from 1–3:15 p.m. at St. James Episcopal Church in Midway. For more information or to reserve your spot, call Folks at Home at (931) 598-0303 or email <folksathomesewanee@gmail.com>.

Lecture Series Explores ‘A Wrinkle in Time’

The theme for this year’s VB-Us at Otey Memorial Parish is “A Wrinkle in Time,” based on the popular book by Madeleine L’Engle. The series runs Monday, June 18 through Thursday, June 21 at the church. Otey announces the following speakers for the series:

Monday, June 18 —The Rev. Dr. Amy Bentley Lamborn is the Vicar of Southeast Tennessee Episcopal Ministry, Visiting Faculty in the School of Theology, University of the South, and member of the Jungian Society for Scholarly Studies. Her lecture is titled, “Longing for Enchantment: The Quest for Transcendence in a Flattened-out World.” Dr. Lamborn will reflect on how such stories/films as “A Wrinkle in Time” compensate for our own secular, disenchanted world. Using key insights of Urban T. Holmes and Walter Brueggemann, she will articulate a vital theological task of the priesthood (of all believers) in our time: re-enchantment.

Tuesday, June 19 —The Rev. Dr. Robert MacSwain will offer a lecture called, “What have I got that IT hasn’t got?” Dr. MacSwain will reflect on his initial reading of “A Wrinkle in Time” as a child, insights gained from subsequent re-readings, and the theological vision of Madeleine L’Engle. MacSwain is associate professor of theology at the University of the South.

Wednesday, June 20 —The guest speaker for Wednesday is Mary Grace Gibbs-DuPree, the Laney Graduate Fellow in Medieval History at Emory University. Her lecture is titled, “Medievals, Madeleine, and Mary: Love and the Feminine Divine in Christian Art.” Madeleine L’Engle emphasizes the centrality of the feminine in the work of redemption—of the individual, and of the universe. Medieval Christians shared that understanding, especially regarding Mary. Gibbs-DuPree will explore some examples of medieval Marian art in illuminated manuscripts, stained glass, and reliquaries, and will discuss ways L’Engle builds on that tradition of honor to the feminine.

VB-Us at Otey Memorial Parish is an intergenerational dinner and learning series offered each summer. Dinner begins at 5:15 p.m., with a short program at 5:45 p.m., followed by a choice of lectures and activities. The activities include games, arts and crafts, and other fun for all ages. Each night will include a short youth theater production directed by Caroline Lamborn, a student at St. Andrews-Sewanee School. Cassie Meyer will lead music. The series will conclude Thursday night, June 21, with dinner and an interactive indoor/outdoor Eucharist, followed by a lawn party with popsicles and an inflatable slide.

There is no cost to attend to VB-Us at Otey Memorial Parish. Participants are encouraged to register online <<http://vb-us2018.eventbrite.com>>, with free T-shirts available while supplies last.

To kick off VB-Us 2018, Otey is sponsoring the Friday, June 8, showing of “A Wrinkle in Time” at the Sewanee Union Theatre at 7:30 p.m. The whole community is invited, and the cost of movie attendance is covered. As always, popcorn is only a dollar.

Invite Welcome Connect Summit

The third national Invite Welcome Connect Summit will be held June 12–14 at the University of the South. Lay and clergy leaders from all across the country are coming to Sewanee to learn about this ministry which focuses on transformational practices of evangelism and hospitality. Invite Welcome Connect got its start in the Episcopal Diocese of Texas but is now a program of the Beecken Center of the School of Theology.

The Rt. Rev. Robert C. Wright, bishop of the Episcopal Diocese of Atlanta, will deliver the sermon at the opening Eucharist at All Saints Chapel; and Mary Parmer, creator and Invite Welcome Connect director, and The Rev. Canon Frank Logue, canon to the ordinary of the Episcopal Diocese of Georgia, will deliver the plenary addresses. Episcopal Church leaders from around the country will lead workshops exploring the ethos and methodology of Invite Welcome Connect.

Invite Welcome Connect is a transformational ministry that equips and empowers clergy and lay leaders to cultivate intentional practices of evangelism, hospitality, and connectedness rooted in the Gospel imperative to “Go and make disciples of all nations” (Matthew 28:19). Designed to accommodate congregations of all sizes, Invite Welcome Connect has been presented in 47 dioceses of The Episcopal Church, seminaries, colleges, and other parts of the Anglican Communion.

frequently relied on Henley for their utility and excavation needs.

Henley met his wife Darlene Barnes in high school. Darlene grew up in Sherwood. The couple moved to Sewanee soon after marrying, where they raised two children. They've lived in the Sherwood area since setting up home on the mountain and currently reside on Sherwood Trail.

The needs of the county's youth top Henley's list of priorities. He'd like to see the county build a recreation center where young people can congregate with adult supervision. Henley points to the two aging middle schools as the county's most pressing needs.

"I attended North Middle School more than 40 years ago," Henley said. "The middle school roofs' leak and the schools are getting old. Something needs to be done pretty quick."

At this point in time, Henley recommends replacing the two aging middle schools with a single consolidated school, but stresses, "If I'm elected I'll go to the people in my district and seek out their opinion."

Henley favors a site near Franklin County High School for the consolidated middle school, pointing to the advantage of the central location.

Asked if he'd support the 10 percent property tax increase likely needed if the county builds two middle schools, estimated cost $48 million, Henley said, "I don't know if would support that much property tax increase. That's something I'd need to look at."

If Henley is elected, he intends to research the issue of middle school funding to explore grant and loan opportunities.

"I'm new to politics," he concedes, "but I've been in business 30-plus years. I know the county. I know a lot of people, and a lot of people know me."

"I want a chance to see what I can do for Franklin County," Henley said. "I've worked all over the county. I'd like to have a chance to make a difference."

The Relay for Life starts at 11 a.m. on Oct. 6 and ends at 9 p.m., featuring team members walking the track at Hardee-McGee Field surrounded by remembrances for those lost to cancer, as well as celebrating survivors and showing support for everyone impacted by the disease. A luminaria ceremony is slated for after dark.

Will Murphy, a Sewanee senior and Rotaract president, said the day will be significant.

"These special moments during the Relay are the most powerful aspects that everyone can look forward to, reflecting on the lives and battles of loved ones," Murphy said. "We will also have food, live music and many fun activities to do while not walking around the track. This event will be a great time to come together as a community for a day."

The event is student-driven with assistance from the Sewanee community and Monteagle-Sewanee Rotary Club. Organizers said efforts are underway recruiting teams to sign up for the Relay, as well as gathering area business sponsors.

"We are hoping to raise $20,000, but more importantly have at least 100 cancer survivors attend so that we can honor their struggles and let them know that the community will always support them in their endeavors," Murphy said.

Rotaract Club initially started gearing up in May 2017 after the Monteagle-Sewanee Rotary decided to help form a group at the University. Rotaract is for people ages 18-30, Davis said, making it ideal for Sewanee.

In addition to Davis and others, Sam Kern, the first Rotaract president, along with W. Marichal Gentry, dean of students and Rotaract's faculty advisor, helped establish the program.

As part of its requirements, the club had to choose an international project in addition to the community project, Davis noted, and "Rotaractors" selected Global Health Charities—primarily providing birth kits for mothers and newborns—as their international effort.

"We can be very proud of what they accomplished in such a short period of time," Davis said.

Additional events the first week include the following:

Monday, June 11, 4:30 p.m., Winfield Porch—Informal lecture by the Rev. Ben Cathey, "Partnering with Unchurched People to Find Jesus."

Tuesday, June 12, 8:15 p.m., Pulliam Center—Documentary moving screening, "Do Not Resist," a 2016 unrated film that examines the implications of police departments acquiring armored vehicles and other military-grade weaponry. The film questions whether this trend serves the goal of protecting the public. Runtime: 1 hour 12 minutes.

Wednesday, June 13, 10 a.m.-noon, and 2:30-4:30 p.m., Pulliam Center—"Space to Shift: A Workshop for Women," with Liz Norell. Gate ticket required.

Friday, June 15, 10:45 a.m., Warren Chapel—Lecture with the Rev. Francis X. Walter, "Two Eccentric Characters and My Mother."

argued for asking the county commission to fund school system personnel raises at the same level as county employees' raises.

County Commissioner Dave Van Buskirk pointed out "the raise could be zero." He advised the board to document the need for a 2 percent teacher raise with data showing Franklin County teachers earned less than teachers in surrounding counties. "That will sell it," Van Buskirk insisted.

"Tullahoma, Manchester and Fayetteville city schools pay much better than we do," said Foster. "We've lost good teachers to these schools."

Rejecting all wage cuts, the board combed the budget for other reductions. The board agreed to cut $5,000 for classroom desks and chairs; $15,000 for athletic field maintenance; $10,500 for tables, chairs and supplies in the Director of Schools budget; $2,500 for equipment in the Human Resources budget; $5,000 for maintenance equipment (i.e., mowers, etc.); and $24,000 for fuel, bargaining fuel costs won't rise.

The board also agreed to cut by half money for proposed construction, including a transportation garage and roof at Huntland School, saving $160,000, and cut money to fund a desperately needed upgrade to the speaker system in the Franklin County High School auditorium, saving $25,000.

Williams suggested the board could direct additional funds to the speaker upgrade if the school system had money left at the end of the year.

With much reluctance, the board reduced certified substitute teachers' pay from $80 to $75, expressing concerns about attracting quality substitutes, which saved $12,000. The board also reluctantly agreed to save $63,000 by eliminating one social worker position and relying instead on support from the non-profit Centerstone, which provides mental health care.

At the regular board meeting June 11, the school board will vote on a revised budget reflecting the agreed upon changes.

Cumberland StoryCorps Project

Folks At Home announces the summer launch of the Cumberland StoryCorps Project.

The initiative is modeled after National Public Radio's StoryCorps. The goal is to capture, preserve and share the community's stories in order to build connections between people. This project allows individuals involved with Folks at Home and the greater community to share their stories so that others may hear and learn from them.

Shared stories foster a sense of shared humanity. Stories create compassionate connections between individuals. Stories teach us to listen.

If you have a life story you would like to share, or want to participate in this project, contact Abbie Warr at <warrak0@sewanee.edu> to schedule an interview or receive more information.

The recorded interviews will be available for listening through the StoryCorps website <https://archive.storycorps.org/communities/sewanee-folks-at-home-storycorps-project/> and shared with the American Folk Life Center through the Library of Congress.

This initiative is made possible through the generous support of Sewanee's Office of Civic Engagement.

Study Calls for More Visitors to the Village

by Kevin Cummings
Messenger Staff Writer

The Sewanee Village will have a different look by 2022, including a new bookstore, added housing and the possible completion of a grocery store four times the size of Sewanee Market.

University of the South leaders have tabbed these projects as three of the primary goals in the Village Implementation Plan, but coupled with retail and housing additions, is the aim to bring in more visitors to help support the local economy.

Frank Gladu, special assistant to Sewanee Vice Chancellor John McCardell, broached the topic of tourists at the monthly Village update meeting on June 5 at the Blue Chair Tavern.

"What does an increase in visitors to Sewanee look like and how can we achieve it?" he asked the eight people who attended the meeting.

The ongoing Market Analysis Demand study from consultant Randall Gross of Development Economics states that Sewanee needs to increase its draw to visitors, Gladu said.

"Randall Gross' premise is that we should be a cultural hub, that we should be a heritage location that capitalizes on what we already have," Gladu said. "To some degree recreation, but more importantly, arts, in the performing arts, the visual arts, and the written, intellectual."

He said Gross may or may not be correct in advising a cohesive plan to promote Sewanee as an arts attraction, but he is right that Sewanee needs more visitors.

Local resident Jane Fort questioned an effort to turn up the tourist magnet.

"Is that kind of development really what Sewanee traditionally would want or should look like? I don't see it as a tourist mecca," she said.

Gladu said Sewanee is not known as a tourist destination, but there is an indication of untapped interest.

"Going back to the premise of the economist, could we be an arts destination?" he asked.

Looking at regional draws that may spill tourist money into Sewanee, former Sewanee resident John Greeter cited The Caverns, a music venue that opened earlier this year in a cave in Pelham, a short drive from Sewanee.

Greeter, who now lives in Manchester, said he attended the update meeting because he's looking to move back to Sewanee.

New housing in the Village's future could help free up space for Greeter's return in what is now a tight housing market. Gladu talked about plans for housing as one of the five primary goals of the Village plan—those goals that could see substantial completion by 2022.

The primary aim of new housing is to help University employees live on the Domain, Gladu noted. He added that among the planned apartments, townhomes and duplexes, there will also be cottage or bungalow style homes, small starter houses that Sewanee is severely lacking.

"That is the low-hanging fruit, smaller homes and, of course, some rental units," he said.

Developers will add additional housing above the new grocery store, which will boast three floors, the upper two containing 18 to 20 apartments, Gladu said.

He noted that the store will be about 10,000 square feet, more than four times the size of Sewanee Market.

Another primary goal of the plan is the Village Green, which will be where Sewanee Market is currently located. Gladu said the space will complement Angel Park and provide a larger area for concerts and events.

Gladu added that the new University bookstore between the Sewanee Post Office and Tower Community Bank building is well past the design phase.

"That project is probably leading the pack; we'll be equipped to break ground this summer on that project," he said. "By August of next year that should be ready to house the new bookstore."

In addition to the bookstore, Village Green, housing and the grocery store, the fifth primary goal of the Village Implementation Plan is the narrowing of U.S. Highway 41A between Kentucky Avenue and Kennerly Road to two lanes. The Tennessee Department of Transportation is leading that revamp, which will slow traffic through the Village, Gladu said.

SoL Lecture with Jafri

Every summer, the School of Letters invites writers, poets, publishers and scholars to speak each week that school is in session. All readings and lectures take place at Gailor Auditorium unless otherwise noted, and a reception usually follows upstairs in the atrium. The public is welcome.

Please join us for Maha Jafri's lecture "Reading for Pleasure, Reading for Spite: Gossip and Victorian Literature." The lecture will be in Gailor Auditorium at 4:30 p.m., Wednesday, June 13. A reception will follow in Gailor Atrium. The lecture is co-sponsored with the Friends of duPont Library.

Jafri is an assistant professor of English at the University of the South. She specializes in Victorian literature, with research and teaching interests in the history of the novel and narrative, psychology, ethics, and intellectual history. She received her Ph.D. from Northwestern University and her B.A. from Johns Hopkins University. Her work has appeared in the Oxford Forum for Modern Language Studies and The Henry James Review. She is currently completing a book manuscript titled "Between Us: Gossip, Sociability, and the Victorian Novel."

Split Vote on Monteagle Town Council Budget; Spray Park on Hold

by Leslie Lytle, Messenger Staff Writer

In a divisive vote at the May 29 meeting, the Monteagle Town Council approved moving $250,000 designated for a children's spray park to the fire department's account. Mayor David Sampley and Alderwoman Susie Zeman opposed the decision, and subsequently, voted against approving the 2018-19 budget.

Prior to the vote, Monteagle resident Dianne Nunn spoke in favor of the spray park. Citing her background in community service, Nunn said, "Pleasant places attract people and help the income level." Nunn recommended grant funding to help finance the spray park and invited those interested in pursuing the project to contact her at (580) 371-5585.

The inadequacy of the current fire hall drove the decision to move the spray park funds to the fire department's account. Sampley said getting the fire hall up to code would cost at least $500,000. The additional $250,000 will bring the fire hall renovation/replacement budget up to $486,000.

Alderman Ken Gipson opposed renovating the old building, which is not owned by the city, and instead recommended applying for grants to build a new fire hall.

Fire Chief Mike Holmes estimated the cost of a new building at $800,000, based on the cost of the new fire hall recently constructed by Winchester. Holmes pointed to Community Development Block Grants and USDA grants as possible funding sources.

Alderman Ron Terrill insisted the need for a fire hall took precedence over the spray park and recommended applying for grants for both the fire hall and spray park projects.

Disagreeing with the spray park decision, Sampley and Zeman also voted against approving the town's budget for 2018-19. The budget passed on a first reading by a three-to-two vote.

In other business, the council approved increasing court costs by $10 to finance enhancing the Courtware software program already in use. The software upgrade will compile state reports for police and enable officers to generate reports from the field.

The board also approved increasing tap fees for new water utility customers to offset the increased cost of parts.

"Water bills won't change," stressed City Recorder Debbie Taylor.

Addressing the need for a city ordinance officer to assist Codes Enforcement Officer Earle Geary, the council voted to post the position with a recommended salary of $10,000 per year, an increase of $7,600 over the current wage. David Meeks, the current ordinance officer, is expected to retire.

As a benefit to city employees, the council also voted to increase holidays from six to 12.

"The change doesn't increase operating costs," explained city CPA Don Mills. "Employees just get to stay home an extra six days."

Taking up another employee benefits matter, the council discussed the practice approved by the council in 2009 of letting police officers take police cars home.

"It's a safety issue," insisted Police Chief Virgil McNeese, explaining when a call for officer assistance came in officers could go directly to the scene rather than drive to the police department to pick up a car.

Mills estimated the fuel cost to the town at $9,100 per year.

Alderman Gibson objected to the practice. "We're spending way too much money. We've bought five police cars in the past two years."

Officers who take cars home must live within 25 miles of the police department.

Alderman Terrill said, "It's a benefit we give to police officers. I was glad to see the fuel cost was no more than it is."

Revisiting an issue raised at the April meeting, Rocky Top Truck Stop and Wrecker Service owner Rodney Kilgore said he had erected a chain link fence and intended to cover it with black plastic to conceal junked conveyances on his property from view. Kilgore also agreed to pay the fines for not erecting the fence in a timely manner.

The council meets next on June 25. The theme for the July 4 Monteagle parade is "Let Freedom Ring."

Arcadia Continues Developer Search

by Kevin Cummings, Messenger Staff Writer

After narrowing the search down to two developers, Arcadia at Sewanee remains without a company to build or operate a senior living facility in Sewanee.

Developers have yet to buy into the idea that Sewanee can support a senior living residence, concerned the relatively remote area doesn't have the needed demographics, said Lane Price, Arcadia Board of Trustees vice president.

"It's been very, very hard to get a commercial developer that really doesn't know one thing about the Mountain to understand the Mountain," she said.

While acknowledging that Arcadia will be a very expensive project, Price said what developers don't understand is that it is not only the surrounding three-county area that factors into supporting a facility, but elderly alumnae who want to return to Sewanee and aging professors who'd like to stay but need extra care.

Price, who spoke briefly during a Village plan update meeting on June 5 at the Blue Chair Tavern, said she is optimistic that Arcadia will come to fruition and the project is moving forward, albeit slowly.

"Arcadia is not floundering, it is going to work," she said. "We thought we had some developers who were really interested, then it kind of slacks off."

The working plan for Arcadia is to begin small with an assisted living facility with memory care, Price noted, and then potentially move into the more complex and challenging operation of long-term care.

The board had previously thinned potential developers to two companies, but were unable to reach an agreement this spring. Linda Lankewicz, former Arcadia board president and current secretary, said in May that finding a developer to construct a facility may not be the main issue.

"Perhaps our biggest challenge is finding that operator," she said. "There's a profit to be made in building and then there's another ongoing, long-term profit from operating and they want to see numbers that are lucrative for their operation."

Another test is finding a developer willing to steer away from a hospital or traditional nursing home design. Board members have stated a preference for a Green House Project model. According to the Green House Project, that style offers a home-type atmosphere as opposed to a hospital or institutional feel, where residents have individual rooms and can enjoy an open layout with a kitchen, hearth and common dining area, among other comforts.

"These big organizations are looking for something that fits their model," Lankewicz said. "Their model isn't necessarily what Sewanee wants."

She added that the effort to find a developer is a complicated process.

"We have to learn from each of these experiences and try to figure out how to make the pieces fit—and we have so many pieces," she said.

Note: At its May 20 meeting, the Arcadia board selected new members and made new appointments. Anne Davis and Greg Maloof rotated off the board and Joel Cunningham and Margaret Barton joined Arcadia leadership. The board selected Pete Stringer as president, replacing Lankewicz, who moved to secretary. In addition, the board tabbed Price as vice president, a post previously held by Tom Phelps, who remains on the board. The board also selected Jane Eaves as treasurer.

The Arcadia Board of Trustees formed in May 2016.

SCCF Announces Spring 2018 Grant Recipients

The South Cumberland Community Fund (SCCF) has approved grants to 15 organizations across the Plateau, totaling more than $97,000. With this year's grants, SCCF has awarded more than $695,000 since 2012. Both new and past grant recipients will be recognized at the Celebration for the Plateau event at Dubose Conference Center on July 1 at 3 p.m.

"We are proud that the 15 applicants chosen for this round of grants will mainly focus on building our sense of community, strengthening the economy, and conserving our local history," said Jeff Sholey, SCCF grants committee chairman. "We hope funding these organizations will not only bring our communities together socially but also promote economic growth across the Plateau."

The following organizations will receive grants in the 2018 spring cycle:

Arts Inside—$3,338 for a support program for children with incarcerated parents to be piloted at Swiss Memorial Elementary and Tracy City Elementary;

Beersheba Springs Medical Clinic—$9,846 for a dental chair and compressor for their new dental suite, the first and only in Grundy County;

BetterFi—$9,932 to expand their financial assistance program and capacity to lend funds to in-need borrowers by supporting their loan fund and their loan-loss reserve;

Coalmont Elementary—$7,023 for multimedia equipment for the school's auditorium, including a projection screen, a projector, and microphones and speakers for their PA system;

Grundy County Department of Education—$9,966 for musical instruments to support the music programs at Grundy County elementary schools and professional development for music for teachers who want to incorporate music into their curriculum;

Grundy County Swiss Historical Society—$9,820 for seven replacement windows for the historic Stoker-Stampfli Farmhouse Museum;

Life Choices Pregnancy Support Center, Inc.—$8,533 for the "Earn While You Learn" curriculum, a class that teaches parenting skills to new parents;

May Justus Memorial Library—$5,600 for a special "Ready to Read" leveled book collection at the library to support building early, independent reading skills for children;

Monteagle Elementary—$5,562 for multimedia equipment for the school's auditorium, including a screen, LCD projector and cart;

Morton Memorial United Methodist Church—$9,050 for an electric pallet jack to allow volunteers at the food ministry to move 12,000-plus pounds of food safely and efficiently for monthly distribution;

Mountain Goat Trail Alliance—$10,000 for design planning, engineering and inspection for six miles of trail between Ingman Farm and DuBose Conference Center, the third and final piece of MGTA's Go Grundy Campaign;

Mountain Heritage Preservation Society—$2,457 for an all-weather roof and lighting and electrical outlets for their outdoor stage;

Mountain T.O.P.—$4,020 for "Home Ownership Mastery Education" workshops for homeowners focused on weatherizing their homes, home safety issues, financing their homes, and DIY home inspections;

S Double A Ranch—$1,200 for gardening supplies and tools to begin a community garden for the sober living program;

Sewanee Community Chest—$1,100 for musical instruments, art supplies and wobble chairs for Sewanee Elementary School.

SCCF, in partnership with the student Philanthropy Internship Program at the University of the South, will make additional funds available in the fall. All organizations who submitted an application in the spring are eligible to apply for a second round of grants by either extending their proposals or applying for a new project that meets SCCF's grant priorities.

Established in 2012, the South Cumberland Community Fund works to improve the quality of life across the Plateau by increasing philanthropy and supporting leadership of the area's communities, schools and nonprofit organizations. Since its founding, SCCF has reinvested nearly $875,000 in projects that benefit the Plateau.

For more information about the South Cumberland Community Fund, go to <www.southcumberlandcommunityfund.org>, visit its Facebook page at <www.facebook.com/southcumberlandcommunityfund/>, or contact SCCF at <info@southcumberlandcommunityfund.org>.

LOOKS AT BOOKS

by Pat Wiser for Friends of duPont Library

Thoughts on Summer Reading

Soon I'll be savoring time with young listeners and discussants as they enjoy a book during breakfast or lunch during Sewanee Elementary School's Read to Be Ready Camp. Several volunteer readers will share books with rising first through third graders as camp themes find expression through literature. During the science themed week, kids will learn how they are like scientists and will practice being scientists themselves. It will be fun to read "Creature Features" by science writers and illustrators Steve Jenkins and Robin Page. The vividly pictured creatures give straightforward answers to questions such as why an Egyptian vulture's face lacks feathers: "I stick my face into the bodies of the dead animals I eat, and feathers would get pretty messy." Jenkins and Page's body of work demonstrates their belief that children must grow up with an understanding of how science works, learning "not to accept things at their face value, to ask questions, and demand evidence ... as {they} confront an increasingly complex world."

For other good books, consider the Vol State 2018 Children's Book Awards. SES younger students' top vote was "Winnie: The True Story of the Bear Who Inspired Winnie-the-Pooh" by Sally Walker. Children love this chronicle of a bear cub's rescue by a young veterinarian in Winnipeg on his way to World War I Europe and a subsequent friendship in the London Zoo with Christopher Robin Milne, whose father transformed their imaginary adventures into the enduring stories. The state winner for this K-2 group was "Stick and Stone" by Beth Ferry. In simple rhyme and clever wordplay, bully Pine Cone inspires Stick to "stick up for" Stone. Kindness rules!

I share librarian Kathryn Bruce's fondness for award nominee Julia Sarcone-Roach's "The Bear Ate Your Sandwich." Kids 4 and up delight in nailing the culprit, a largely invisible canine narrator with a creative story of the sandwich's fate. For other ideas, consult the awards website <<https://www.tasltm.org/vsba>> or contact me.

What shall grownups take on trips or to porch swings? What's waiting on the Kindle? Maybe Alan Bradley's 1950 English village, home to Flavia de Luce, an 11-year-old rambunctious budding scientist. Flavia mysteries are available at duPont Library and as e-books via the Tennessee Regional E-Book and Audio Download System (R.E.A.D.S.). Public library holders may access 100,000 e-books, audiobooks and videos which can be downloaded to most devices, including Kindles. (I bypass e-books for kids.) Set up a free account at <<https://reads.overdrive.com/>> with your library card or ask a librarian to help.

This system was a handy source for works brought to mind by Phillip Roth's recent death. Aware of what's termed his misogyny and "toxic masculinity," I'll keep this significant 20th century writer's own era in mind—and read. Finally, I'll read the first novel of his American Trilogy, "American Pastoral," portraying the 1968 end to a family's idyllic time when their adored teenager decides that bombs can fix injustice. In 2005, "Looks at Books" reviewed "The Plot against America" as "an alternative history tale" of Charles Lindbergh's 1940 victory over Franklin Roosevelt. The "New York Times" called it a "terrific political novel... in which America has gone fascist and ordinary life has been flattened under a steamroller of national politics and mass hatreds." These titles are available at duPont Library and R.E.A.D.S.

Non-fiction on my summer list includes former F.B.I. Director James Comey's "A Higher Loyalty," with accounts of cases, personal events, and analyses of three presidents' leadership styles. Thus far, I've enjoyed anecdotes from his early years, including late childhood, told in a surprisingly candid manner. Also in the non-fiction stack is historian Jon Meacham's "The Soul of America: The Battle for Our Better Angels." The Sewanee alumnus's goal is to draw us into his "declaration of faith in America," with a look at our country's history that I hope to find uplifting and encouraging as we approach Sewanee's own July Fourth celebration.

Diplomas Available for Veterans

For any World War II, Korean War- Era or Vietnam Veterans: If you did not receive your high school diploma due to entry into the Armed Forces of the United States, you may now be awarded a high school diploma by your local high school.

Tennessee state law allows for the awarding of high school diplomas to the honorable men and women who stepped forward to serve their country.

Veterans who fall into this category should contact their local school superintendent to register their name and to request the awarding of a high school diploma. You will have to present your military discharge papers.

For assistance, contact Sergeant Major Larry E. Williams at (931) 924-3000 or (931) 224-3226, email at <tennesseans2@blomand.net>.

Nancy Wallace, president of the Franklin County Arts Guild (FCAG), and Pat Richards, press reporter for FCAG, caught up with the first recipient of the newly endowed Franklin County Arts Guild Scholarship Fund on her last day of high school. Her dad and mom, Gary and Andie Pate, were there to thank them for FCAG's gift to Carly-Grace. The Pates said it would be a great help to Carly-Grace as she starts the next part of her journey into adult life. Carly-Grace plans to attend the University of Alabama at Huntsville to major in Arts-Photography. From left are the Pates, Carly-Grace and Wallace. AVISITING VOICE

by Jill Carpenter

When I edited Sewanee Ladies (Sewanee Trust for Historic Preservation 2007), I was able to find photos or representations of about 90 percent of the 100 or so ladies featured. One for whom I did not locate a photo and included only a brief reference from the "Sewanee Sampler," was Elizabeth Overton Rowe. Her birth and death dates were approximate.

I have since learned that Elizabeth was a granddaughter of Charles and Mazy Huckstep of Albemarle County, Va. She was born in 1824, her mother Sally's only child, and was named for Sally's brother, Overton. Sally died young, and Elizabeth's widower father, Lanson Rowe, came to Franklin County, where he operated a roadside inn on the site of Tremlett Spring, which was destined to become a major water source for early Sewanee residents. Tremlett Spring is behind the present-day Fowler Center.

Elizabeth married Elijah Harrison Ikard on Jan. 26, 1843. Elijah built a house for them between Decherd and Pelham, directly across from what is now the Ikard Cemetery in the Alto area. They had two boys, James Mosley and Lanson Rowe. Unfortunately, young Elizabeth contracted tuberculosis, for which there was no treatment. Her portrait was painted by an itinerant painter while she was wasting from the disease. She died in 1849, when her boys were only 5 and 4 years old.

Her eldest son, James Mosley Ikard, and his wife, Tennessee "Tennie" Elizabeth Gotcher, had eight children. The eldest was Lanson Odell, called "Delly." Delly married Sarah Elizabeth Gilliam, who lived on an adjoining farm. They had one daughter and eight strapping boys. In April of 1905, Delly and Betty and their children chartered a railroad car in Decherd, loaded their two hound dogs and the belongings that would fit into the car, and left for Oklahoma.

The story would end there, except that one of Delly's boys, George, also had a son named George, who became a petroleum engineer. In 1946, after serving in WWII, George Jr. came to a small town in southern Utah with Core Laboratories, to analyze drilling samples brought up by oil exploration. There he met my sister, Jean, and convinced my father to let him marry her. My nieces and their children are descended from Elizabeth Overton Rowe.

All of this information, and much, much more about the Ikard clan, has been published in a book titled For a Better Life, by Mildred Ikard Bourgeois, George Jr.'s elder sister, who lives in Charlotte, N.C.

Sturgis "Senior" Recital: An Afternoon of Song

Sewanee's Gary Sturgis, accompanied by Kathy Sturgis on piano, the Rev. Rob Lamborn on trombone and Tammy Hobbs on violin and viola, will present an afternoon of song at 3 p.m., Sunday, June 10, in St. Mark's Hall of Otey Parish Church, 216 University Ave., in Sewanee.

Sturgis studied opera and German Lieder in South Florida and has performed with the Miami International Opera, West Palm Beach Symphony and was a soloist with the Air Force Academy Chorale out of Colorado Springs, Colo.

Musical selections will include "Songs of Travel," by Ralph Vaughn Williams, Quilter, Copland, Sondheim, and Kander and Ebb.

The afternoon performance of lighter music is suitable for the whole family. All are welcome. A light reception will follow.

Music Through the Years in Cowan

There will be a family friendly event in Cowan from 7–9 p.m., Saturday, June 23, on Tennessee Ave. There will be a costume contest, DJ, prizes, and concession stand. Come and meet your friends and have some fun.

Fourth of July (from page 1)Flag Raising

The morning of the Fourth of July begins with music and song at the 46th annual Flag Raising at Juhan Bridge in Abbo's Alley. Come join us one and all to sing patriotic songs accompanied by the Sewanee Summer Music Festival's brass quintet and watch our local Scout Troop 14 raise the flag. Our sponsors, The Friends of Abbo's Alley, will offer coffee and juice.

To complete the celebration, please bring your favorite breakfast finger food to share (or simply make a small donation). Mark your calendar for Wednesday, July 4, at 8 a.m. for the 46th annual Flag Raising and potluck breakfast amidst the Smith, Gardner and Beaumont-Zucker homes at 139 and 143 Florida Ave. For more information or to volunteer to serve coffee or juice, call Margaret Beaumont Zucker at (931) 598-5214.

After the flag raising, the Sewanee Trust for Historic Preservation (STHP) invites you to "Leave Us a Sewanee Memory - you have 4 Minutes!" Find STHP members in Abbo's Alley after the flag raising to leave a quick story about people, places, or events in Sewanee. You will have another opportunity to participate at 11 a.m. at the Folks at Home office.

Fourth of July Parade Entries Wanted

The 32nd annual Sewanee Fourth of July theme this year is "From Sea to Shining Sea." Parade entries are now being accepted.

The parade begins at 2 p.m., Wednesday, July 4, with line-up on Lake O'Donnell Road starting at noon and ending at 1 p.m. This is when and where the judging will be: trophies for best float, best decorated vehicle and best horse; and blue ribbons for best decorated bicycle, best banner and best costume.

All entrants must fill out and submit an entry form by June 30. There are two ways to submit your entry form: in the From-Sea-to-Shining-Sea jar at the Blue Chair or by email <leighannecouch@gmail.com>.

Fourth of July Cake Contest

Calling all cake bakers! Have a favorite cake recipe or a talent for cake decorating? Put your skills on display by entering your cake in the Sewanee Woman's Club Annual Cake Contest! Entering is free of charge, and the winner of the Best All-Around Cake gets $100 cash, courtesy of IvyWild.

Adult winners of the Best Tasting, Best Decorated, and Best Representation of the Theme cakes each get a ribbon and $50 cash from IvyWild. Under-13 winners of the Best Tasting, Best Decorated, and Best Representation of the Theme cakes each get a ribbon, a $5 cash prize, and a gift certificate to the Blue Chair for two ice cream cones.

Winners of the Best Tasting, Best Decorated, and Best Representation of the Theme contests will be entered in the Best All-Around Competition. Thanks to Ken Taylor for his ribbon sponsorship.

Show up to register and set up your cake between 9-9:45 a.m. on Wednesday, July 4, in St. Mark's Hall at Otey Parish.

Winners will be announced at noon. All are invited to view the cake entries, and there will be a cake tasting party on site afterwards. Enter as an individual or as a team. One entry per person or per team.

Questions? Please call Susan Peek at (615) 504-5404.

Mutt Show

Enter your favorite pooch in the 2018 Fourth of July Mutt Show! All dogs are welcome to compete — no talent necessary. Registration for the Mutt Show will take place from 9-9:45 a.m. in Manigault Park. The show begins at 10 a.m. Trophies will be awarded for these canine categories: Best Dressed, Owner/Dog Look-Alike, Best Theme, Best Trick and Judges' Choice. Entrants may register to compete in two categories. The registration fee is $5 per category, and all proceeds will go to the Fourth of July Fireworks. Audience members may contribute to Animal Harbor and MARC. In case of rain, the Mutt Show will take place in the Equestrian Center.

Arts & Crafts Fair

We invite you to participate in our Arts & Crafts Fair beginning on Wednesday, July 4, at 9 a.m. in Shoup Park, where you can view the parade without leaving your booth, rain or shine. There is a $20 non-refundable fee and spaces are limited and pre-assigned, so sign up early. Contact Bracie Parker at <melaniebracie@yahoo.com> for more information and for your entry form. Come spend the day with us, sell your wares, and enjoy the parade and other fun activities.

For more information and a complete schedule of events, go to <www.sewanee4thofjuly.org>.

Tell them you saw it here!

Stop on in for an iced latte and homemade quiche!

We appreciate your help in making the parade safe and enjoyable for everyone.

*If you will be throwing candy, please be sure to throw it as close to the curb as you can. We want to keep our little ones as safe as possible by keeping them from running out into the road. I know, not an easy task, but we can try. Also, if you have a horn or other type of loud noise, please turn it off when your entry reaches Texas Aveune. There are those who do not like to hear the sirens and they will be seated at or near the hospital. Due to insurance precautions, we will once again be asking that you sign a release form. Someone will be there the day of the parade to take care of this. And last but not least, if you will be riding a motorcycle or 4-wheeler, please wear your helmet and be very cautious in your driving. Remember, there are children all along the parade route. Your help in this will be greatly appreciated.

Sewanee to Enshrine Seven New Members in Athletics Hall of Fame

Sewanee will recognize six former student-athletes and a team manager as the 2018 inductees to the Sewanee Athletics Hall of Fame during Homecoming Oct. 26-27.

The Hall of Fame committee will introduce Hallie Blunck, Laura Fanjoy, Harry Hoffman, Luke Lea, Jerre Maynor, Mike Mondelli and Sally Jackson Williams as the latest inductees.

Hallie Blunck (C'06): women's cross country, women's track and field, women's swimming and diving—Blunck lettered with the cross country, swimming and diving, and track and field teams during her undergraduate career at Sewanee. With the cross country program, she collected two NCAA All-Region honors in 2004 and 2005.

With the track program, she earned second place in the pole vault at the 2004 Southern Collegiate Athletic Association (SCAC) Championships, clearing 2.74 meters (9' 6"). She still holds the school records in the indoor 4x400 relay, 4x800 relay and the pole vault.

Competing on the diving boards during the winter, Blunck finished third in both the three-meter dive (375.20 points) in 2004 and the one-meter dive the next season (358.85 points).

During each season that she lettered with a particular sport, she was selected to the SCAC Academic Honor Roll.

Laura Fanjoy (C'07): women's tennis—Fanjoy was a two-time All-American in singles and doubles during the 2007 season, where the Tigers earned a third place finish at the NCAA Championships. Named the team captain during her senior year, she finished with an 18-6 record in singles and a 23-8 mark in doubles play. In her career, she tallied 68 career wins, eighth-best in school history, and is ninth in doubles wins with 63.

Appearing in back-to-back NCAA Singles Championships in the 2006 and 2007 seasons, Fanjoy was a finalist in the 2006 ITA National Doubles and regional doubles champion that same year. She completed an 18-2 record, a .900 win percentage, good for third-best in program history.

Dr. Harry Hoffman (C'76): men's basketball—Dr. Hoffman was a four-year letterwinner for the men's basketball program in the mid-1970s. He is 10th all-time in points scored with 1,316, and fifth in total rebounds with 647. A two-time NCAA Tournament team member, he shot 49.8 percent from the field and netted 520 field goals during his career. The 1975-76 season saw Hoffman drain 180 shots from the field, as the Tigers earned their third NCAA Tourney appearance.

Off the court, his dedication to academics garnered him an induction into the Order of the Gown after his freshman year. On campus, he served on the Sewanee Honor Council, and Hoffman wrapped up his undergraduate career by becoming the University's ninth recipient of the NCAA Postgraduate Scholarship.

Luke Lea (C'1899): football—Lea was the team manager for the 1899 team, and is known as the schedule coordinator for the six-day road trip that saw the program shut out Texas, Texas A&M, Tulane, LSU and Ole Miss from Nov. 9-14, en route to an undefeated 12-0 season. The team outscored their opponents 322-10 during the 1899 campaign.

After graduating with a bachelor's degree in 1899 and a master's degree in 1900 from The University of the South, Lea attended Columbia Law School, where he graduated in 1903, and began his practice in Nashville the same year. He founded the Nashville Tennessean, where he was the first editor and publisher, and served in Congress at the age of 32. Lea also served with distinction in the military during World War I.

Jerre Maynor (C'06): Men's Golf—Maynor still holds the SCAC record for the lowest score at the SCAC Championships with a 134 (69-65) during the 2006 season. He remains the only golfer to shoot two sub-70 rounds at the Championships. The 65 score he carded in the second round remains the lowest conference score. A three-time All-SCAC First Team selection, he shot a 144 (71-73) for second place honors in 2005 and fired a 145 (76-69) for third place in 2004.

Earning medalist and SCAC Player of the Year honors in 2006, the PING Third Team All-American finished 32nd at the NCAA Championships with a 307 (81-74-76-76) score in the four-round event.

Mike Mondelli (C'93): football—Mondelli was a member of the 1992 SCAC Championship team that finished 8-1 on the season. Playing primarily as a defensive back, he helped his team hold opponents to just 15 points per game, with wins against Davidson (N.C.), Rhodes and Trinity (Texas). He also led his team to a co-Collegiate Athletic Conference Championship (CAC) in 1990 thanks to a 7-1-1 record.

Joining teammates Jason Forrester (C'93), Carl Carvens (C'94) and Frank Greer (C'92) in the Hall, Mondelli was a two-time All-SCAC First Team selection in 1991 and 1992, and was listed as an Honorable Mention with the CAC in 1990.

Sally Jackson Williams (C'06): women's basketball—Williams was a four-time All-SCAC member from 2003-06, finishing sixth all-time in points (1,284) and fifth in rebounds (743). Playing in all 102 games in her career with 101 starts, Williams was a member of the 2004-05 team that finished with a 19-7 record, tying the school record for wins in a season.

A two-time SCAC Academic Honor Roll selection, she blocked 108 shots, recorded 16 double-doubles and averaged 29.7 minutes per game during her career.

NATURENOTES

Yucca bugs

Yucca Bugs

Our yuccas have been looking unhealthy last year and again this year—the leaves are yellowing and covered with brown spots. A closer look revealed tiny black bugs with red heads—lots of them. An internet search for “small red and black bugs on yucca” led me to—wait for it—“yucca plant bugs!” These are, in fact, true bugs in the order Hemiptera (meaning half-winged). They live by sucking juices from the plant and by their great numbers they can dry up and eventually kill the yucca. The dark spots are their feces. These bugs are prolific and can produce several generations in one season.

I hadn’t thought anything could kill a plant as hardy as yucca. Along with daffodils, they persist at old home sites. They can also be a sign of unmarked graves or abandoned cemeteries, a good substitute for a headstone as they are so hardy and persistent. Our local yuccas are a species native to the southeastern U.S. that occurs in coastal areas and other open, dry areas. It has become naturalized north into New York and into the lower Midwest. Native Americans had many uses for the yucca fibers and consumed other parts of the plant. It was even used to stun fish, so we have tried not to plant it near our pond.

Sophie

Ross

Pets of the Week

Meet Sophie & Ross

Animal Harbor offers these two delightful pets for adoption.

Meet Sophie! Sophie is a beautiful 3-year-old Catahoula mix. She is housebroken and plays well with others. Sophie is a fantastic car rider. She is heartworm-negative, spayed, microchipped and current on vaccines.

Say hello to Ross! Ross is one of more than 15 kittens that are still unreserved. Visit the shelter and learn more about our reservation process and select a new kitten that is just purrfect for you.

To see a complete list of our adoptable cats, please visit our website <www.animalharbor.org>.

Our adoption fees always include:

Up-to-date vaccinations, FIV/FelV testing, microchip, spay or neutering, rabies vaccine, clear fecals and a free wellness exam.

From June 9-23 receive 30 percent off any cat adoption (regular adoption price $65-$85).

Animal Harbor offers substantial adoption fee discounts for seniors and veterans. Pets adopted from Animal Harbor qualify for a free post-adoption wellness exam by local veterinarians.

Animal Harbor is located at 56 Nor-Nan Road, off AEDC Road, in Winchester. Call Animal Harbor at (931) 962-4472 for information and check out the other pets at <animalharbor.org>. Enter the drawing on this site for a free spay or neuter for one of your pets. Help Animal Harbor continue to save abandoned pets by sending donations to Animal Harbor, P.O. Box 187, Winchester, TN 37398.

Build the Sherwood Day Loop

Volunteer to help build the Sherwood Forest Day Loop. Sherwood Forest, the newest area of the park, is a completely wild, wonderful wilderness. Construction of a new 3-mile loop trail, out to a spectacular overlook and the Sherwood Natural Bridge, is underway. Volunteer to help Ranger Jason Reynolds create this new trail.

You can only access Old CCC Road from Jumpoff Road; not from Sherwood Road. There are jobs for everyone, and many do not involve moving rocks. Please be prepared with sturdy footwear and plenty of water/snacks. If you have favorite trail-building tools or pairs of gloves, feel free to bring them.

Work days are currently scheduled on: Saturday, June 16, 1:30 p.m., Saturday, June 23, 9 a.m., and Wednesday, June 27, 9 a.m. Meet at the Sherwood Forest Trailhead.

Friday, June 8

Meet Artemis and Cornbread—
Come to the pavilion by the Visitors' Center, 11745 U.S. Hwy. 41, Monteagle, at 11 a.m. to meet SCSP's wonderful animal ambassadors Artemis the Red-tailed Hawk and Cornbread the Cornsnake. Seasonal Interpretive Ranger Will Baxter will fill you in on their vital roles in our ecosystem.

Sunday, June 10

Nature Hike to Denny Falls—
Meet up with Seasonal Ranger Will Stuart at 12:30 p.m. at Denny Lakes parking lot, 5917 U.S. 41, Sequatchie, for a moderate 3-mile hike down the waterfall trail in Denny Cove. Bring water, a snack, and wear sturdy boots and long pants, as the trail is rocky and rugged.

Monday, June 11

Stone Door Geology Hike—
Meet Seasonal Interpretive Ranger Will Baxter at noon at Stone Door parking lot, 1183 Stone Door Rd., Beersheba Springs, for a 2-mile hike to Stone Door overlook to take in the wonderful views while being introduced to the geology of the Park. Half of this hike is paved but sturdy shoes are recommended for walking the trail. In case of inclement weather the program will take place under the Stone Door Pavilion instead.

The South Cumberland State Park Visitors' Center is located on Highway 41 South between Monteagle and Tracy City and is open 8 a.m.—4:30 p.m. seven days a week. For more information call (931) 924-2980.

Fiery Gizzard Trail Closed

The Fiery Gizzard Trail is closed from Sycamore Falls to Raven's Point due to a pipeline safety maintenance project. Both the Dog Hole Trail and Lower Fiery Gizzard Trail are closed. This is a utility company project and they estimate the work to continue through June 30.

ARE YOU REGISTERED TO VOTE?

Register to vote online from your computer, tablet or mobile device. Tennessee's online voter registration system offers a convenient way for people to easily register to vote or change their address if they move. The system allows U.S. citizens with a driver's license or photo ID issued by the Tennessee Department of Safety and Homeland Security to register online.

You can also download a Tennessee voter registration application and submit it to your county election commission.

Tennesseans must still register online or use a paper form at least 30 days before an election to vote.

You can also check your status or learn more about the registration process.

Go to <http://www.govotetn.com> for more information.

Tennessee ranks at the bottom in the nation for voter turnout. Tennessee ranks 40th in the nation for voter registration. More than 838,000 Tennesseans are not registered to vote, and 60 percent are under the age of 45!

GLASS RECYCLING GUIDELINES

■ CLEAR

■ Do not leave items outside of bins. Do not leave trash and boxes behind.

BARDTOVERSE

by Phoebe Bates

...And now the cordial clouds have shut all in,
And gently swells the wind to say all's well;
The scattered drops are falling fast and thin,
Some in the pool some in the flower-bell.

I am well drenched upon my bed of oats;
But see that globe come rolling down its stem,
Now like a lonely planet there it floats
And now it sinks into my garment's hem.

Drip, drip the trees for all the country round,
And richness rare distills from every bough;
The wind alone it is makes every sound,
Shaking down crystals on the leaves below.

For shame the sun will never show himself,
Who could not with his beams e'er melt me so;
My dripping locks--they would become an elf,
Who in a beaded coat goes gayly go.

from The Summer Rain, by Henry David Thoreau
