

Ayres Center Ground Breaking on Sunday

The St. Mary's Sewanee board of trustees will break ground for the new campus, the Ayres Center for Spiritual Development, at 5 p.m., Sunday, July 3, at 770 St. Mary's Lane in Sewanee.

The Ayres Center, named in honor of Robert M. and Patricia S. Ayres of Austin, Texas, will be built adjacent to the current location of St. Mary's Sewanee. It will include 50 guest rooms with private baths, meeting spaces in a variety of sizes, a modern kitchen and dining facilities, four Hermitage houses, a welcome center, a chapel, and a library.

"The Ayres Center for Spiritual Development is a long-deserved tribute to a couple whose care and generosity have touched countless lives around the world for so many years," said Dale Grimes of Nashville, board president. "The number of organizations and institutions these two remarkable persons have served, together and individually, and the number of lives they have touched in God's name are almost without number."

St. Mary's Sewanee now welcomes 5,000 guests annually. Because religious beliefs can both unite and divide, St. Mary's Sewanee places an emphasis on conversations that can draw people together, said Thomas Morris, executive director of St. Mary's Sewanee.

The public is welcome at this free event.

Weekend SSMF Concerts

The Sewanee Summer Music Festival will present three concerts this weekend. On Saturday, July 2, at 7:30 p.m., the Faculty Chamber Music concert will include Bach's "Cello Suite No. 1 in G Major," Farkas' "Early Hungarian Dances" for woodwind quintet and Mendelssohn's "Sextet for Piano and Strings in D Major."

On Sunday, July 3, at 2:30 p.m., SSMF Faculty Artist John Kilkenny will conduct the Cumberland Orchestra in Dvorak's "Slavonic Dance No. 1," Verdi's "Overture to Nabucco" and Smetana's "Moldau."

At 3:30 p.m. Sunday, Maestro Kenneth Kiesler will conduct the Sewanee Symphony as they perform Brahms' "Academic Festival Overture," Mahler's "Totenfeier" (which later became the opening movement of his "Second Symphony") and Theofanidis' "Rainbow Body." Prior to the concert, at 1:30 p.m., Kiesler will give a free conductor talk.

On Monday, July 4, at 7 p.m., the Festival Orchestra will present a free Fourth of July concert conducted by Maestro Kiesler and featuring pianist Gary Hammond and baritone Jonathan Estabrooks. The program will include Copland's "An Outdoor Overture," "Quiet City," "Old American Songs" and "Hoedown" from "Rodeo," as well as Gershwin's "Overture to Girl Crazy" and "Piano Concerto in F Major."

All concerts will be held in Guerry Auditorium. Tickets can be purchased at the door or online at <sewanee musicfestival.org>.

WUTS 91.3 FM, the University's campus radio station, is "Sewanee Summer Music Festival Radio" this year. WUTS will offer live broadcasts of most of the major concerts of the festival. These concerts will also stream live over the internet, so anyone anywhere in the world can listen via the station's website, <www.wutsmf.org>.

Each summer at Sewanee, more than 150 talented young musicians gather to study, perform, and share their musical lives. Faculty mentors work closely with their students, and learning takes place across a full spectrum of activities. Students perform at least twice weekly, in both orchestra and chamber music, and attend faculty and guest artist concerts, master classes, and other special events.

Nick Flynn

Flynn to Read at Gailor

Acclaimed writer Nick Flynn will read at 4 p.m., Wednesday, July 6, in Gailor Auditorium as part of the series of readings and lectures sponsored by the Sewanee School of Letters.

A poet, playwright and memoirist, Flynn has worked as a ship's captain, an electrician and a caseworker at a homeless shelter. He currently teaches at the University of Houston's creative writing program.

Flynn's works include his recent memoir, "The Ticking is the Bomb." The prequel to that book, "Another Bullshit Night in Suck City," was described as "a stunningly beautiful memoir ... a near-perfect work of literature" by Stephen Elliot in the San Francisco Chronicle. The account of Flynn's chance reunion with his long-lost, alcoholic father at a homeless shelter where Flynn worked and his father was a resident is being made into a motion picture starring Robert DeNiro.

Flynn's reading is open to the public, a reception will follow. Readers later in the month will include David Wyatt, who will read at 5 p.m., Thursday, July 14, and Mark Rasmussen and Jenn Lewin, who will read at 4 p.m., Wednesday, July 20.

Piccard and Green named Grand Marshals for Fourth of July Parade

Sewanee Fire Department Chief David Green and Geraldine Hewitt Piccard, publisher emerita of the Messenger, will be the Grand Marshals in this year's Fourth of July parade.

"Since our theme is 'Celebrating 25 Years of the Fourth of July,' we wanted to honor two people who have been involved from the beginning of this event," said Tracie Sherrill of the organizing committee.

"Both David and Geraldine represent the best of our community," she said.

Chief Green was honored earlier this year for his 40 years of service to the Sewanee Fire Department.

In the early days of Sewanee's Fourth of July celebration, there was often little else in the parade but the engines of the Sewanee Fire Department. In addition to the parade, the Fire Department handles all the arrangements for the fireworks show each year.

Piccard retired in December 2010 after 26 years as editor and publisher of the Sewanee Mountain Messenger.

"Geraldine's enthusiasm for the Fourth through her leadership at the Messenger has been key to building support for this event," said Bill Barton of the organizing committee.

"Both of these people have been wonderful supporters of our community," Sherrill said. "They are models for the rest of us and we wouldn't have this wonderful community celebration without them."

Sewanee's "25 Years of Celebrating the 4th" pre-parade activities begin at 1 p.m., when floats must be in line to be judged. Follow signs for lineup on Lake O'Donnell Road. Enter off Highway 41A across from Finney Lane. The parade begins at 2 p.m. at Lake O'Donnell Road and ends at the Sewanee Inn.

Sewanee Butterfly Census Results

Sewanee's 15th Annual Butterfly Census on June 25 was a great success and demonstrated that the Mountain continues to support a diverse and vibrant butterfly population. Despite heavy rains in the days leading up to the count, observers identified 33 different species of butterfly and 160 individual butterflies.

The census, led by biologist David Haskell and author David B. Coe, covered most of the Sewanee area. Counters started the day at Lake Cheston and made stops at several sites, including the University equestrian center, the War Memorial Cross, the Mountain Goat Trail, Abbo's Alley, Green's View, Lake O'Donnell and the St. Andrews-Sewanee School campus. In all, the counters logged 20 miles by car and more than seven miles on foot.

The 33 species seen during the census represented one of the highest totals in the count's history, missing the count record by only one. On the other hand, the 160 individuals seen was somewhat low when compared with other years.

Last year, for instance, the count recorded over 300 individual butterflies. "The weather we've seen in recent weeks certainly held down our numbers. Had we enjoyed a bit of clear weather this past week, we might have surpassed last year's numbers," said Coe.

Highlights of the day included a Goatweed Leafwing, an uncommon butterfly, large and orange, that had never before been seen on the Sewanee count, and a Gulf Fritillary, which is also large and orange, with bold silver spotting on its wings.

The census organizers were fortunate to receive help from so many enthusiastic volunteers. They would like to thank the following people for participating in the count: Kathleen O'Donohue, Karen Cooper, Constance Cooper, Wills Cooper, Tara Wegdam, Kiki Wegdam, Paris Wegdam and Karen Dismukes.

RECOGNIZE ALL STUDENTS

To the Editor:

I would like to say "thank you" to the staff of the Sewanee Mountain Messenger on behalf of the parents who live in the Sewanee community and surrounding areas on the Mountain who have children who attend South Middle School and Franklin County High School. It has been a pleasure to see articles and pictures of children from the entire Sewanee community who are excelling in academics and sports. Some of these children may not attend school on the Mountain any longer, but most of them attended Sewanee Elementary, and all of them are a huge part of the Sewanee community.

Many people may not realize that attendance of Sewanee community children at South Middle School and Franklin County High School has grown in recent years. These children are excelling in academics and going on to college to pursue careers. They need to be recognized for their hard work and dedication by our local paper.

The children who live on the Mountain are the future of this Mountain, no matter what school they attend. Thank you for recognizing all the children in our community, whether they attend St. Andrews-Sewanee School, South Middle School, Franklin County High School or a private school far away. It is good that the newspaper is not showing prejudice because of what school the child attends. The articles that you publish help the Sewanee community celebrate the success of our local youth!

CAC FEEDS CHILDREN ALL SUMMER

To the Editor:

The Community Action Committee received a big shipment of food last week, filling our bare shelves once again.

Special thanks to June Mays and Roy Millar for retrieving the food from Second Harvest in Nashville. We were blessed to have "youth power" help us unload the food when it arrived. Thanks to Elan Klipper, Nicholas Mays, Russell Mays, Christian Taylor and Thomas Goldsmith for their muscles and great disposition. This food was expensive to buy and heavy to unload.

The CAC does not hold fund-raisers, so we are dependent upon our community for gifts. We appreciate donations of food, as well as financial contributions to help pay for the food we buy.

Many families in our community are struggling to keep children fed through the summer. CAC is the place they turn for help. Please help us help them.

Feel free to contact me if you have any questions about CAC or how you can help out. My sincere thanks to the entire Sewanee community for its generous support.

Kana Goldsmith
CAC Director, Sewanee

SUD Reviews Purchase Requests, State Legislation

By Leslie Lytle, Messenger Staff Writer

At its June 28 business meeting, the board of commissioners of the Sewanee Utility District of Franklin and Marion counties reviewed three purchase requests recommended by SUD manager Ben Beavers and discussed pending legislation initiated by the Tennessee comptroller that would require that commissioners for single-county utility boards be appointed rather than elected.

The three purchase requests were related to the new water plant and could be paid for with the unspent portion of SUD's loan for the project: buying spare parts, automating the chemical feed control system (now a manual system) and modifying the electric service to shift part of the load to the old water plant meter. Beavers made the requests following the advice of George Garden, engineer for Barge Waggoner Sumner and Cannon, the engineering firm overseeing construction of the water plant. Garden said that the total cost for the water plant changes would be approximately $120,000; $157,000 in unallocated funds remained in SUD's loan from the State Revolving Fund. If SUD did not spend the excess amount, the fund would return the interest paid on the excess, Garden noted. Maintaining a spare parts inventory was the most critical purchase request, Garden said, followed by the electrical service.

Beavers explained that because of the new block-pricing rate structure implemented in April by TVA/Duck River Electric, electricity usage at the new water plant is exceeding the monthly maximum load for its rate class. As a result, SUD is being assessed a monthly surcharge. Shifting part of the load to the meter at the old water plant would keep the new water plant within the load range, Beavers said. Gardner added that the new water plant used more electricity than the old plant because the raw water had to be pumped to the site and pumped through the membrane filters, which was not the case with the old system.

Beavers said that the only remaining expenses in the new water plant budget were for landscaping, estimated at $5,000. Plans call for fall plantings and reviewing the acceptability of the landscaping than the neighboring residents in the spring. On Beavers' suggestion, the board postponed approving the purchase requests until Beavers had firm prices and permission from the State Revolving Fund to spend a portion of the money remaining in the loan on the requested items.

Beavers introduced a discussion on legislation initiated by Tennessee Comptroller Justin P. Wilson that would mandate that the county mayor appoint utility board representatives for utilities serving a single county. Right now, Gardner said that about half of utility boards are elected, and half are appointed. The legislation was tabled but will be reintroduced in the next legislative session, according to Beavers. Asked about the rationale behind the legislation, Beavers said the intent was to reduce fraud and improve accountability. Several SUD commissioners opined that elected officials could be expected to exhibit a higher degree of integrity and accountability than appointed officials. Because SUD serves Franklin and Marion counties, the proposed legislation would not affect SUD. However, passage of the single-county law could prefigure legislation eliminating elected utility boards for multi-county utilities. Beavers and several SUD commissioners plan to attend the public hearing on the proposed law in mid July.

The next meeting of the SUD board of commissioners is scheduled for Tuesday, July 26, at the SUD office building. Meetings are on the fourth Tuesday of each month unless otherwise announced.

Abigail Lake Gamble

Abigail Lake Gamble was born on June 24, 2011, at Southern Tennessee Medical Center, to Angel Valdez and Cody Gamble of Sherwood. She weighed 6lbs., 7 oz., and was 19.5" long. She is the couple's first child. Maternal grandparents are Melinda and Mario Valdez. Paternal grandparents are Angela and Cameron Gamble.

Storytelling at July Lifelong Learning Meeting

Storyteller Violet Reid will present "The Legend of the Blue Bonnet" at the July meeting of the Academy for Lifelong Learning at St. Mary's Sewanee at noon on Thursday, July 14. Reservations for a box lunch for the meeting are due by Friday, July 8.

Reid has been a storyteller since 1990. She is currently a middle school mathematics teacher at St. Andrew's-Sewanee School. She earned a B.S. from Middle Tennessee State University in and an M.A. from Murray State University in Murray, Ky. She has spent 24 years teaching mathematics and serving as a school librarian.

"My storytelling career began with my own children," Reid said recently. "I would try to read books to them at night, and then I would lose their attention. I learned to put the book down and tell the story instead."

Reservations are not necessary to attend the lecture. However, if you would like to reserve a box lunch ($10), e-mail Ivey Lowry at <stmarys.sewanee@bellsouth.net> by Friday, July 8. Guests are also welcome to bring their own lunch.

The Academy for Lifelong Learning at St. Mary's Sewanee sponsors a monthly luncheon lecture for members of the community interested in continuing their education on a variety of topics. New members are always welcome.

Franklin County School Board Work Session Thursday

The Franklin County School Board will hold a work session at 6:30 p.m., Thursday, July 7, at the Board of Education office, 215 S. College St., Winchester. The meeting is open to the public. Chris McDonough is Sewanee's representative on the board.

Stewart to Host Town Hall Meetings Across Area

State Senator Eric Stewart will hold town hall meetings across his district (Senate district 14) in July to address the recently completed legislative session and priorities for 2012.

Eric Stewart

"During the last election cycle, everyone running for office talked about jobs, jobs and more jobs. That's what the legislature should have made its top priority this year, but unfortunately, that wasn't the case," Stewart said. "This first round of meetings will focus on how to improve the economy and get our rural communities up and running again."

Stewart will hold 11 public question-and-answer sessions from July 7-25. For more information, call (615) 741-6694.

On Thursday, July 7, he will be in Dunlap and Pikeville. On Monday, July 11, Stewart will hold meetings in Coalmont and Spencer. On Thursday, July 14, he will be in Tullahoma and Manchester. On Monday, July 18, he will be in Estill Springs and Winchester. On Thursday, July 21, Stewart will have meetings in Viola and McMinnville. His final meeting will be in Gruetli Laager on Monday, July 25.

Stewart represents Franklin, Bledsoe, Coffee, Grundy, Sequatchie, Van Buren, and Warren Counties. For the specific times and locations of these town hall meetings, contact Stewart's office via e-mail at <sen.eric.stewart@capitol.tn.gov> or by calling (615) 741-6694.

Weather Alerts in Sewanee

Guests on campus and visitors to our area should be aware that the Sewanee Police Department can inform residents in a variety of ways in case of severe weather or other emergency.

Voice sirens now provide clear, uniform warnings instantaneously. The wailing tone is used when there is a severe weather warning issued by the National Weather Service, such as a tornado warning or a severe thunderstorm warning. The alert tones are the same for tornado warnings and severe thunderstorm warnings and will always be activated when there is dangerous weather.

The new sirens are located in front of Elliott Hall and near McGee Field.

Otey Parish

Otey Parish will celebrate Holy Eucharist Rite II at 8:50 a.m. and 11 a.m., Sunday, July 3.

Sara Margaret Roberts, the granddaughter of Kathy and Gary Sturgis of Sewanee, will be christened at the 11 a.m. service. Sara was born Feb. 5, 2011, to Gary and Kathy's daughter, Jennifer, and her partner, Michelle; the family lives in Atlanta, Ga.

Between services, everyone is invited to Sunday Summer Brunch, where Joan Hurst and her crew of "kitchen magicians" will prepare a delicious meal. Brunches will continue each Sunday through August 14. Donations for brunch are welcomed, but not expected.

Adults who wish to attend the Lectionary Class can get a plate and "brunch and learn" with Pete Trenchi who will explore Matthew 11:16-19, 25-30. After brunch, children may have supervised play on the playground.

Childcare is available all morning from 8:30 a.m. to 12:30 p.m. in the church nursery.

Pantry Sunday at Area Churches

Pantry Sunday for the Community Action Committee (CAC) is Sunday, July 3, for participating churches: St. James, Otey, Cumberland Presbyterian and All Saints' Chapel. Please bring your food offerings to Sunday services.

This month, CAC needs powdered laundry detergent, toilet paper and feminine hygiene items.

The CAC is an outreach ministry of Otey Parish with generous support from the Sewanee Community Chest and individuals across the Mountain. The CAC provides food, financial assistance and educational support for persons in the greater Sewanee community. For more information, contact the CAC at 598-5927.

Christ Church, Monteagle

Christ Church Monteagle will be the site of a Memorial Service for Alexander "Sandy" G. Higgins at 9:55 a.m., Sunday, July 3. Steve Higgins will offer a brief homily and tribute to his brother. Their parents, now deceased, Charles and Mary Tyng Higgins, lived in Sewanee for many years.

At 10:30 a.m. the Sunday service of Holy Communion will begin and patriotic hymns from the 1940 Hymnal will be sung, along with other great hymns of the Trinity season. The hymn "Stand up, stand up for Jesus" was written by George Duffield as a tribute to the faith and life of Stephen Tyng, an ancestor of Mary Tyng Higgins.

Christ Church serves lunch each Sunday and invites all to join them.

VBS Begins in Two Weeks

Vacation Bible School in Sewanee will be the week of July 18-22 for area youth ages 5 to 11.

"Jungle Adventure" is the title of this year's program, an experience in faith-building that organizers describe as "wild!" The program mascot for the week will be a friendly gorilla.

The half-day program is at St. James Church in Midway and is jointly hosted by St. James, Otey Parish, Christ Church in Alto and Holy Comforter in Monteagle. Daily activities begin at 9 a.m. with lunch provided.

Registration is at 8:30 a.m., Monday, July 18, at St. James Church.

Meditation Series Opens July 12

"Commitment to Love: Four Weeks of Meditation to Enhance Your Life" a series offered at St. Mary's Sewanee will begin on Tuesday, July 12, 7-8:30 p.m.

Professor Sid Brown will teach fundamental practices of love revealed in Buddhist texts. Through short talks, discussions, guided meditation and silent meditation, the course will look at texts and offer support as participants explore a daily practice of meditation. "One need not be a Buddhist to benefit from these practices," she said. "They are easily part of anyone's everyday commitment to living a happier life."

Brown is an associate professor of religion at Sewanee. The fee for this course is $75. To register or get more details call 598-5342.

This Month at Shenanigans Gallery

The paintings of local artist Bob Askew and wooden boxes constructed by local craftswomen Susan Church and Jeanie Stephenson will be the featured work at Shenanigans Gallery for the month of July.

Askew paints in both watercolor and oil. His paintings of local landmarks and landscapes have graced the walls of Shenanigans gallery for ten years; his renderings are also available as small prints or notecards. Askew cites as his major influences early 20th century American painters like Charles Hawthorne, Émile Gruppé and California Impressionists Edgar Payne and Maurice Braun. "These painters were not only masters," Askew says. "Many of them unselfishly taught and published their ideas, thus preserving their methods for future generations."

Jeanie Stephenson learned the "lost wax" casting method of sculpting bronze as an undergraduate at the University of the South. She has been selling sculptures of people, birds, animals, insects and reptiles for nearly two decades, and her work is some of the most recognized and beloved in the gallery. Susan Church began working with wood several years ago, turning the scraps from her husband Tom's woodwork into colorful and functional boxes. Together, she and Jeanie have created a beautiful, whimsical collection of hardwood boxes and tops with sculpted bronze handles.

Shenanigans Gallery is located in the back of Shenanigans Restaurant at 12595 Sollace M. Freeman Highway in Sewanee. The gallery is open every day from 11:30 a.m. to 9 p.m. For more information, please visit the Shenanigans Art Gallery page on Facebook.

Artists with work in the gallery include: Bob Askew, watercolor and oil paintings; Larry Carden, weaving; Jill Carpenter, patchwork and quilting; Tom and Susan Church, woodwork; David B. Coe, photography; Ginger Freeman, mixed media; Diane Getty, fibers; Robley Hood, handmade books; Barbara Hughes, ceramic sculpture and painting; Diane Jones, calligraphy; Sanford McGee, copper and mixed media; Dan Pate, painting and sculpture; Claire Reishman, pottery; Peggy Solomon, fiber art; Jeanie Stephenson, bronze; Christi Teasley, textiles; Merissa Tobler, pottery; Mae Wallace, pottery; and Laurel York, printmaking and basketry.

AT THE MOVIES

Sewanee Union Theatre will be dark the month of July and will reopen in August with new films as the college students return to campus.

Modern Dance Coming to Sewanee in September

Modern dance classes will begin at the Sewanee Community Center starting in September. Debbie Welch, who has a B.A. in dance, has been teaching children and adults for more than 21 years. She is originally from New Jersey, where she danced with the Vineland Regional Dance Company and worked with choreographers from the Alvin Ailey Dance Company, Pennsylvania Ballet Company and many other noted companies.

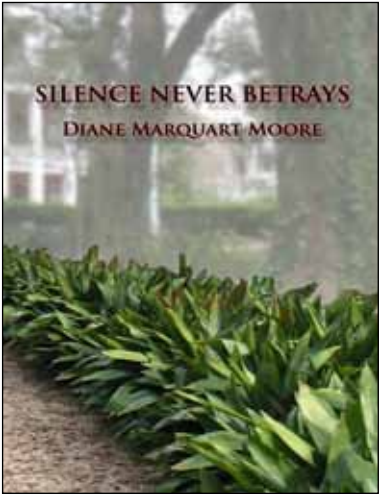

The classes will consist of the techniques of Isadora Duncan, Jose Limon and Martha Graham, mixed with Welch's own style. Students will also learn improvisation, how to create dances, different styles of music and costume design. Performances will take place twice a year.

Classes will be offered for ages 12 and up on Mondays from 5:45–6:45 p.m. and ages 7–11 on Fridays from 4–5 p.m. Adult classes will be on Fridays from 5:15–6:15 p.m. Fees are $7 per class or $25 per month. For more information, call (423) 637-3849 or e-mail <knowledgetree4u@yahoo.com>.

New Mystery by Sewanee Author Published

Sewanee resident Diane Marquart Moore's latest mystery, "Silence Never Betrays," has just been released. The book is about a mischief-maker, Hadrian, who perpetrates pranks in order to assuage his fear of ghosts in his antebellum mansion. When a starving young art student moves into the mansion, Hadrian's manservant feels betrayed. The mystery surrounds the death of Hadrian: was he pushed or did he fall from his second-story gallery?

"Silence Never Betrays" is available as a multi-format e-book through <smashwords.com> or in hard copy from Border Press, <www.borderpressbooks.com>.

Cowan Community School Offerings

Cowan Community School, part of the Cowan Center for the Arts, will offer lectures and classes throughout July.

Sewanee resident and native Tennessean Mark Edens will give a lecture at 4 p.m., Sunday, July 10, on "An Insider's Look at How and Why Television Shows and Movies Get Made." Edens has been writing for television and movies for more than 20 years.

An acrylic painting class, "One Night Stand" will be taught by Jennifer Redstreak at 6 p.m., on Wednesday, July 13, or Saturday, July 16. "One Night Stand" is open to beginners and experienced artists alike. Artists will finish a painting in one sitting. The cost is $50. All supplies are included. For questions or to reserve a space call Redstreak at (931) 636-9898.

Clogging classes are offered at the center by Virginia Sawyer and Ashlie Wells 5–8 p.m., Mondays. The first hour of class is for beginners of all ages. Students will be taught the eight basic clogging steps. The last half of class is for intermediate cloggers of all ages. Students may join these classes at any point in the summer. The cost is $20 for four weeks. For more information call Sawyer at 967-7519.

For information about Cowan Community School go to <www.cowancenterforthearts.org>. If you are interested in teaching a class, call the Center at (931) 691-0722.

Market at Artisan Depot

The Franklin County Arts Guild's Second Saturday Art Market will take place 9 a.m.–3 p.m., July 9, in the parking lot of the Artisan Depot, 201 E. Cumberland St., Cowan. The market showcases the arts and crafts of local artists with paintings, pottery, photography, jewelry and carvings on display.

The event welcomes the Franklin County Photographer's Club and will have "Jazz in the Valley" radio host Sonny Elliott's barbecue sandwiches.

The Franklin County Arts Guild is a nonprofit organization that has promoted the arts in Franklin County for 30 years through various events, activities, the Artisan Depot and scholarship fund-raisers.

The Second Saturday Art Market takes place every second Saturday from May through September. For more information contact Frances Perea at (931) 308-9510, or visit <www.fcaguild.wordpress.com>.

OUR SEWANEE

by Annie Armour
The Cowan Tunnel

Nearly all major advancements are the result of more than one person's idea. Usually a diverse group of people are involved. Space travel and gene-mapping come to mind. The University is a great example of one such endeavor. But before the University was more than a seed of an idea in Bishop Otey's mind, brilliant planners and strong, determined men were at work together building a major transportation connection to the wider world right in Cowan.

The railroad tunnel from Cowan to Sherwood was a risky venture, but was nevertheless embraced by investors and by the hundreds of people who worked on it, many of whom died in the dangerous process. Three engineers, with advice from others, first plotted the route from Nashville to Chattanooga using crude surveying instruments and hand calculations. Then A. E. Barney determined the exact placement of the 2,200-foot tunnel that bored through the tough limestone.

Beginning in 1849, workers dug the tunnel from both ends at the same time, and from three intermittent shafts, removing more than 80,000 cubic yards of rock by hand (more than 200,000 tons). The tunnel was completed in 1852, before the rail line from Nashville to Cowan was finished.

These men walked to work with picks, ropes and other tools, sometimes walking the eight miles down the Mountain to the site. Then they spent the day chipping stone in a dark tunnel in close quarters and hauling the loose rock out to waiting mules. Imagine walking home again at night after that "hard day at the office."

To make the shafts, the men first had to "drill" three feet down into the rock. One man held the giant drill bit while the other hit it with a sledgehammer. As one hit the bit, the other turned it a little, like a screw. Once they got down the initial three feet, they used blasting powder (dynamite had not been invented) to take the shaft to 150–170 feet down and make a hole large enough for two men to stand. They moved up and down the hole by hemp rope, removed rock piece by piece. There were no hard hats or hiding places for protection from flying debris.

If you walk down the trail where the rail lines were and peer into the tunnel (which is still in use and is too dangerous to go inside, as you might have to flatten yourself against the wall for a passing train), remember the intense work it took to get the tunnel as long and as wide as it is. Be glad that people worked together as a team to create such an enormous tunnel and were progressive enough to risk so much for a fledgling technology.

Folk Arts and Crafts School Begins in Altamont

Laurel Leaf Studio and the Grundy County Arts Council are hosting the first annual Cumberland Folk School of Arts and Crafts, from 9 a.m. to 2 p.m., Thursday–Saturday, July 7–9, and Saturday, July 16, at Laurel Leaf Studio, 2197 Main St., Altamont.

The four-day program designed for all ages will include classes such as sketching, watercolor, banjo, creative writing and cup weaving. Students will also tour the studios of other local artists. Each evening of the school, in "Culture and Cuisine," students will enjoy delicious Southern food at Laurel Leaf Studio. The program is open to anyone from the age of 4 to 104, organizers said. Classes will have age designations based on the nature of the class.

Classes include two six-hour intensive sketching classes, taught by Dan Hosse, a portrait artist and graphic designer. Beginner banjo lessons will be taught by Don Clark to children ages 10–12. Other instructors include Jana Barrett, owner of Laurel Leaf Studio, soft-sculpture artist Reenie Fulton, Monteagle Elementary School art teacher Jacqui Maycann, who will lead the children's classes, and author Weldon Payne, who will teach creative writing.

Studio tours are open to the public. Dinners will cost $5 for adults and $2.50 for children 8–11 not enrolled in the program. Children under 7 eat free.

"This is going to be a very quality art experience for anyone who attends," Barrett said. For more information about the program, visit <www.msbarrettsartcart.com> or contact Barrett at (931) 692-3879 or via e-mail at <barretthair@blomand.net>.

Thurmond's Summer Story Time Continues

Bonnie McCardell and Mike Maxon were the featured readers at Thurmond Library's Story Time in recent weeks, sharing stories with delighted children.

On Wednesday, July 6, the readers will be Bobbye Ballard and the Rev. Joe Ballard. They will meet at 10 a.m. on the porch of Brooks Hall.

Assistant Chief of Police Marie Ethridge will read on July 13; July 20, readers will be members of the Sewanee Fire Department. Thurmond Library Story Time is at 10 a.m. each Wednesday through July 20.

Anna Kasprzycka

Guest Carillonneur Visits Sewanee

Anna Kasprzycka, a carillonneur from Gdansk, Poland, will give a carillon performance at 5 p.m., Wednesday, July 13. Kasprzycka attended the Guild of Carillonneurs in North America and World Carillon Federation congresses this past week in Bloomfield Hills, Mich., and is making a tour while she is in the country. Her varied program includes arrangements of five Chopin piano selections and several popular pieces and Polish and American compositions for the carillon. For further information, read "Tintinnabulations" in next week's Messenger.

CAST Auction at Locals

The Crafts Artists of Southern-Tennessee (CAST) will offer unique, regional works of art at a silent auction 10 a.m.–2 p.m., Monday, July 4, at Locals in Sewanee. Locals is located at 49 University Avenue between Regions Bank and Blue Chair. All proceeds will benefit CAST.

Bids will be taken on works in wood, clay, fiber, metal, glass and mixed media created by members of CAST, a group of artists from 23 southern Tennessee counties dedicated to supporting and promoting the arts in the Sewanee region. Each year, the CAST silent auction has been a great success, with bidders showing great skill and strategy to secure beautiful works created by local artists.

CAST is one of six active regional chapters of the Tennessee Association of Craft Artists, a statewide, nonprofit organization founded to encourage, develop and promote regional crafts and craftspeople. CAST sponsors the annual studio tour in Sewanee and Monteagle as well as the CAST art exhibit at the St. Andrew's-Sewanee School gallery.

Sewanee's Fourth of July Activities

Open or Closed on Monday?

Open on July 4 (check on holiday hours): Blue Chair, Julia's Fine Foods, Sewanee Market, Shenanigans, Sweet CeCe's and University Book and Supply Store.

Joe B. Long wants the community to know that the garbage will be picked up on Monday, July 4, along the regular route.

Closed on July 4: All banks, utilities, post offices and government buildings; CAC, the Lemon Fair, Senior Center, Sewanee Mountain Messenger and Taylor's Mercantile. Sewanee Auto will be closed July 4–8, reopening for business at 7 a.m. Monday, July 11.

Dancing under the Stars Saturday Night

Ginger and Live Wire will be the band at the Saturday night street dance near the Sewanee Market. The music will begin at 8 p.m. and will wrap up around midnight.

Round, Round Get Around, I Get Around: Parking and Traffic

Event organizers encourage everyone to "Please use the shuttle buses!" They will run from 9 a.m. until after the parade, from the Duck River office, up University Avenue to the Arts and Crafts Fair, to Fulford Hall, to the Kirby-Smith Monument at Texas Avenue, and back. Ample parking is available behind Fulford Hall.

University Avenue will be blocked to automobile traffic between Highway 41A and the Duck River Electric Membership Co-op from 6:30 a.m. on July 4 to provide for pedestrian travel downtown for the festivities. Look for signs posted on University Avenue with further information.

Calling Creative Cake Cooks!

Join the fun by entering the Fourth of July cake contest. Cakes should be dropped off, 9 a.m.–9:45 a.m. that day, at the Blue House on University Avenue. Only one cake per entrant is allowed. Winners will be announced at 10:30 a.m. Cakes will be displayed from 10:30 to 11:30 a.m. The contest will not include a cake auction or distribution of cake to eat, but contestants who would like to share their cakes with others may do so at 11:30 a.m. in the front yard of the Blue House.

Arts & Crafts Fair

Starting at 9 a.m. creative people from across the region will be at Shoup Park with their beautiful offerings: baskets, jewelry, pottery, fiber arts, collage and sculpture, as well as fresh herbs and plants for your garden.

Cats Rule, Dogs...

Cat owners, bring your cats or kittens to the Cat Show at Manigault Park to be judged and admired. Please bring all pets in carriers and arrive at 8:50 a.m. to register for the 9:15 a.m. show.

The Mutt Show will begin at 10 a.m. This year's show offers a way to help animals in need: participants are asked to give a voluntary $5 entry fee, which will be donated to Animal Harbor, our Franklin County Humane Society Animal Shelter.

Registration is from 9 to 9:50 a.m. The registration form is on this page. The show begins at 10 a.m. in Manigault Park. Don't forget water for your pets.

The Crystal Ball Says....

Bobbie Ballard, Susan Holmes and Barbara Prunty have organized a terrific set of children's games, face painting and fun activities, including the annual "Mystery Fortune Teller." All this fun begins at 11 a.m. at the American Legion Hall yard.

A Splash-Dunk Lineup

Members of The Culprits band (Zach Blount, Nick Evans and Will Evans) are among those who will take a turn at the Dunking Booth, beginning at 11 a.m. at Sewanee Auto. Vice-Chancellor John McCardell has also persuaded Jerry Forster, Jeff Mallory, Ellis Mayfield, Anna Obermiller and a few other special guests to take a turn.

Sewanee Chorale Concert

At noon on Monday, head to the University Bookstore to hear the Sewanee Chorale offer a patriotic salute to our country in song. "Yankee Doodle" has never sounded this great.

Fourth of July Food Treats

Fire on the Mountain will be serving authentic Louisiana jambalaya on the lawn of Brooks Hall on Monday, 10:30 a.m.–12:30 p.m. Proceeds will fund outreach activities for the youth group. Chef Russ Wray is cooking up Cumberland Center for Justice and Peace will be offering locally grown, roasted-on-site sweet corn from Seven Pines Farm of Tracy City. Other food vendors will include Dessie Taylor and family, Misty Seagroves and the Barrys.

These Bells Toll for Thee

John Bordley will offer a carillon recital at 1 p.m. There will be programs and a viewing monitor at All Saints' Chapel.

More Fourth Celebrations

There are many other exciting celebrations of Independence Day across the area.

The Culprits of Sewanee kick off Monteagle's "Red, White & Blue Weekend" on Friday, July 1, with a concert at 7 p.m. in Harton Park.

The parade will be at 10 a.m. on Saturday, July 2, with lineup at 9 a.m. at the Smoke House parking lot. Music can be heard throughout the afternoon at Harton Park, including a Street Dance and concert by Big Creek. On Sunday, July 3, Monteagle will have its fireworks show at the ballpark (next door to Shan's Chinese Buffet) at dark.

Tracy City will have its parade on Monday, July 4, with lineup at 5 p.m. at the old Save-a-lot, and the parade starting at 6 p.m. At 7 p.m. Southern Cowboys will perform in the mini-park in the middle of town, and the fireworks will be at 8:30 p.m. at the fairgrounds.

Also on Monday, there will be fireworks by the lake at Winchester City Park starting at dusk, as well as a fireworks show in Huntland.

The Culprits, Charlie & Friends and Fireworks

The Culprits and Charlie Smith and Friends will play music at Lake Cheston, beginning at 7 p.m. Texas Avenue will be closed from University Avenue to Lake Cheston for the fireworks. Only handicapped persons will be allowed to drive to the lake. All cars that drive to Lake Cheston will be required to wait until pedestrians are out before they may leave. The Culprits will play after the fireworks, too.

Lease Agenda Items due July 13

The next meeting of the Lease Committee will be on Wednesday, July 20. Agenda items are due in the Office of the Superintendent of Leases in Carnegie Hall by 4:30 p.m., Wednesday, July 13.

SUD Hydrant Flushing in July

The Sewanee Utility District (SUD) will continue its flushing of fire hydrants in July. During flushing, the hydrant is opened to allow any sediment and stale water to be removed from the main water line. Flushing must be performed annually to comply with state law and to ensure the highest quality of water possible.

Flushing takes place between the hours of 9 a.m. and 3 p.m. to reduce inconvenience. If you have any questions, please contact the utility at 598-5611.

F@H Ramp Team Needs You!

Time is running out to be a part of the Folks at Home new Ramp Team. The team will travel to Madison County, Ala., on Saturday, July 16, to learn from an experienced CASA ramp team leader. The goal of this program is to have a local team to construct wheelchair ramps in Sewanee.

To volunteer or get more information, contact Folks at Home director Kathleen O'Donohue at 598-0303 or by e-mail to <folksathomesewanee@gmail.com>.

Barry Earns Dean's List at UT

Hannah Barry of Sewanee was named to the Dean's List at University of Tennessee-Knoxville for the spring 2011 semester. She is a rising sophomore majoring in agricultural science/natural resources. To earn a place on the Dean's List, a student must have a GPA of 3.8–4.0.

Hannah is the daughter of Dan and Arlene Barry of Sewanee. She was a 2010 graduate of St. Andrew's-Sewanee School.

CCJP Seeks Young People for Leadership Program

The Cumberland Center for Justice and Peace is seeking delegates to attend Camp Anytown, a weeklong human relations and leadership program for high school students. CCJP funds Camp Anytown delegates through its Dora Turner Scholarship, established in honor of the Franklin County civil rights activist and long-time CCJP member.

Students who attend the residential camp in White Bluff, Tenn., will gain awareness about stereotypes and discrimination while examining their own identities and experiences. They will gain skills in leadership, conflict negotiations, communications and the importance of advocacy.

Applications are due July 15. Camp Anytown will take place Aug. 1–6 at Hillmont Camp in White Bluff, Tenn. Contact Leslie Lytle at <sllytle@blomand.net> or by phone at 598-9979 for the application forms.

National Book Fair in Cowan

The 2011 Tennessee Antiquarian Book Fair will be held July 16–17 at Monterey Station in Cowan. More than 50 booksellers from at least 12 states are expected to participate in this year's fair, and more than 1,000 book collectors and readers from all over North America are expected to attend the event.

The fair will include lectures by authors and scholars on many different topics of interest to collectors and book lovers in general. The keynote speaker will be bestselling author Nicholas Basbanes. Basbanes is best known for his book, "A Gentle Madness," in which he relates stories about book collectors from antiquity to the 1980's. Other topics for lectures include children's literacy, the Civil War in Tennessee and beginning book collecting.

Cowan may be the smallest town in America to host such a large book fair. The town is best known for its railroad depot museum and the nearby 2200-ft long, hand-drilled tunnel. It is the unique venue that makes this national event possible. The building now known as Monterey Station was built in the 1920s and was originally used as a shoe factory and a yarn mill. With more than 20,000 square feet, it is one of the largest indoor event complexes in southeastern Middle Tennessee.

The fair will include a variety of collectable and rare books, autographed documents and other ephemera. Bibliophiles will discover modern first editions of mystery, science fiction and literature. Dealers specializing in children's literature, art, religion, fine bindings and books about books will also be exhibiting at the fair.

The fair will be open 10 a.m.–6 p.m., Saturday, July 16, and 11 a.m.–5 p.m., Sunday, July 17. Admission is $5 for adults; children under the age of 18 are free. Admission covers both days and includes attendance at all the lectures as well as admission to the fair. Seating in the lecture hall is limited and will be filled on a first-come, first-served basis.

GLASS RECYCLING GUIDELINES

at the Franklin County Convenience Center in Sewanee

- ~ Sort glass into four colors: green, brown, clear, blue
- ~ Bottles must be EMPTY, but washing out is not required. You must WASH food out of food jars.
- ~ REMOVE all ceramic, wire, metal, plastic caps, lids, collars or neck rings. Paper labels are allowed.
- ~ The following glass containers are recyclable:
 - Iced tea and soda bottles
 - Food jars
 - Beer bottles
 - Wine and liquor bottles
 - Juice and water containers
- ~ The following glass is not recyclable:
 - Ceramic cups, plates and pottery
 - Clay garden pots
 - Laboratory glass
 - Windshields and window glasses
 - Crystal and opaque drinking glasses
 - Mirrors
 - Heat-resistant ovenware (e.g. Pyrex)
 - Light bulbs

At the recycling site, please fill the collection container for each color before starting a new one.

Good Grilling Guidelines

Nice weather, holiday cookouts and family gatherings are the perfect recipe for summer good times. The Tennessee Fire Marshal's Office wants to remind people that cooking safety is important, indoors and outdoors.

According to the National Fire Protection Association, gas and charcoal grills cause an average of 900 home structure fires and 3,500 home outdoor fires each year.

Gas grills have a higher fire risk than charcoal grills. Leaks and breaks in the gas cylinder or hose are the leading cause of gas grill fires. Check the gas cylinder hose for leaks before using it for the first time each year. If you smell gas while cooking, immediately get away from the grill and call the fire department. Do not attempt to move the grill.

Be sure to practice the following safety guidelines no matter what type of grill you are using:

—Position the grill away from siding, deck railings, overhanging eaves and overhanging branches. Half of all gas and charcoal grill fires begin on an exterior balcony or unenclosed porch.

—Place the grill a safe distance from lawn games, play areas and foot traffic and keep children and pets away from the grill area: declare a three-foot "safe zone" around the grill.

—Periodically remove grease buildup in trays to prevent ignition by a hot grill.

—When using charcoal grills, avoid using starter fluid and use a chimney starter instead. Never add starter fluid when coals have already been ignited, and never use any flammable or combustible liquid other than charcoal starter fluid.

Fowler Summer Hours and Memberships

Summer memberships to the Fowler Sport and Fitness Center are available for purchase, good from now until August 1. Individual memberships are $150; family memberships (includes dependents up to age 21) are $200. To learn more, call 598-1323.

The summer hours at Fowler are 6 a.m.–8 p.m. on weekdays, 10 a.m.–7 p.m. on Saturdays, and 11 a.m.–7 p.m. on Sundays. It will be closed on July 4.

The Fowler Center pool hours are 1–2 p.m. lap swim and 2–4:30 p.m. open swim on weekdays; 2–4 p.m. open swim on Saturdays and Sundays. The pool will be closed on July 4 and July 16.

Welcome Center Opens on I-24

After more than a year of construction, the Tennessee Department of Transportation (TDOT) has opened the new welcome center on Interstate 24 near Chattanooga.

Designed as a log cabin and featuring nearly 5,000 square feet, the facility combines the charm and appeal of Tennessee with modern construction.

"This new welcome center sets the stage for our visitors to enjoy the perfect combination of Tennessee hospitality and helpful tourist information," said TDOT commissioner Susan Whitaker. "The log cabin-style center is a beautiful setting in which to welcome visitors and offer travel planning assistance."

Tennessee has 14 welcome centers primarily located along the interstate highway system. The centers are constructed by TDOT and operated by the Tennessee Department of Tourist Development.

BE SAFE! OBEY THE BICYCLE HELMET LAW

Tennessee law requires all persons under the age of 12 to wear a helmet while riding a bicycle on any state road. University Avenue is a state road and, therefore, subject to the law. The act also contains provisions requiring restraining seats on bicycles for passengers who are children under 40 pounds or who are less than 40" tall.

Youth Soccer Registration Continues

Mountain Youth Soccer, an American Youth Soccer Organization (AYSO) member region, is extending early registration for the upcoming fall season.

It is critical to the formation of possible teams in Tracy City and Monteagle, as well as the older age groups, that players be signed up during this early time period. There are some age-group teams that will not form if there is not enough interest.

Registration is $45, and scholarships are available. After July 15, the fee goes up to $65. Mountain Youth Soccer is open to all players, ages 4–14. The child must be age four by July 31, 2011, and must not turn 14 until after July 31, 2013, in order to participate.

To register now, send an e-mail to Ty Burnette at <burnette@blomand.net> and put "soccer registration" in the subject line.

Happy Birthday

by John Shackelford

I have watched more than my share of tennis balls traveling through the air in my life. I can usually tell where they will land long before they have reached their destination. My head doesn't need to swivel back and forth as you so often see depicted when someone is watching a tennis match. Instead my eyes just shift from side to side like a cartoon owl hidden in his dark hole. My wife, Conchie, who is a more astute observer than I, watches from a different perspective. Her focus is solely on the opponent, probing for the hidden weakness to reveal itself. I often watch my own player trying to will them into utilizing their own strengths and trying to minimize their weaknesses.

Last week, Conchie and I sat together in the sun of Willet Stadium watching a tennis match between 11-year-old Nelson Tyer-Jones of Atlanta and 11-year-old Caroline Adams of Mobile, Ala., two young participants in our tennis camp. I don't know what it means to be a grandparent yet, but I can imagine there is a great deal of pride in observing a life that stands in representation of the fact that yes—you were here, and your life meant something. Conchie's and my interest in that youthful battle between Miss Tyer-Jones and Miss Adams was the fact that each of their mothers played tennis for us here at Sewanee in the early 1990s. Cameron Tyer was a four-time All-American, National Senior Player of the Year, and Sewanee Hall of Fame member both as an individual and as a member of the women's team of 1990 that finished fourth in the NCAA National Championship. Her doubles partner in 1990 was Laura Middleton, now Laura Adams, who had the highest singles winning percentage of any player we ever coached.

Cameron would chuckle if I told you that she was not the most coachable player we ever had. Players who are ranked No. 1 tend to be on the high side of the "maintenance" issue and are high-strung when they don't get their own way. That is what makes them so good: they want their own way. Laura, on the other hand, was not a No. 1 singles player. She was the kid who never turned in a paper on time or took a test when it was scheduled, but her professors were usually smiling when she convinced them to give her another extension. Her practice habits were just better than horrible, and she occasionally stayed out too late on school nights. Yet if you were keeping score, she was the one that would always make the last shot. Laura was the horse to bet on, and Cameron was an all-time great.

As for their daughters.... Cameron's daughter, Nelson, could not have been more coachable. She was impeccably polite and well-mannered, and was as sweet a girl as you will find. Laura's daughter, Caroline, and her younger sister, Emily, who also came to camp, were really no different. All three girls reminded us of the reason we have a tennis camp year after year. I watched with a disbelieving laugh as Emily and Caroline asked their mother to bend the rules to get some yogurt before dinner or to stay out late one night. A firm but gentle and knowing "no" was the answer given, one that Laura had rarely heard while living on this campus. Wisdom from two mothers who had created perfect little replications of the best part of themselves.

That match was nothing but a joy to watch as we sat there in the stands, seeing our past wrapped into our future. Two lives landing in a destination that I clearly lacked the ability to foresee. I felt the pride that a grandparent must feel. Yes, all of this does matter.

NATURENOTES

By Harry and Jean Yeatman

Phoebe Flycatchers

Phoebe flycatchers are all-year residents in Sewanee. Look for a gray-brown bird with a white breast and a wagging tail and listen to its voice. James Russell Lowell describes it: "Phoebe is all it has to say, in plaintive cadence o'er and o'er, Like children that have lost their way, and know their names, but nothing more." They like woodland retreats, often near water. They sit on a tree branch, wagging their tails, and quickly leaving to catch a flying insect. In winter, when insects are not available, they substitute berries of trees for food. Originally, Phoebe's built their nests of moss and various weeds on a rock ledge. Now they build upon rafters of houses, under bridges, in cave entrances, and under porch eaves. Often chicken feathers are used. These items are usually infested with lice, mites and other parasites that may destroy the young birds. Rats in barns are sometimes nest-detroyers and baby bird-eaters. Phoebe's will sometimes build a second nest near the first. Four or five white eggs are laid. The breeding season is from April to the end of May.

Stroll Lake Cheston with Jean and Harry

Join Jean and Harry Yeatman at 4 p.m., Tuesday, July 5, for a stroll around Lake Cheston with these eminent Sewanee naturalists and see what can be found: wetland and aquatic plants, meadow plants, trees and shrubs, maybe even some bird-watching. Meet at the Lake Cheston pavilion for this easy one-hour walk. Bring a hat and insect repellent, if desired.

Nature journaling continues on Thursdays, 8:30-11:00 a.m., with Mary Priestley. Meet at the gazebo in Abbo's Alley with paper, a pen or pencil, and something to sit on.

For more information on these or other Sewanee Herbarium events, contact Yolande Gottfried at 598-3346 or by e-mail at <ygottfri@sewanee.edu>.

James

Cliff

Pets of the Week: James & Cliff

The Franklin County Humane Society's Animal Harbor offers these two delightful pets for adoption.

James and Cliff were rescued by a fisherman, then brought to Animal Harbor where they are now ready for their forever homes. James is a handsome classic brown Tabby and Cliff is a striking silver Tabby with white. These kittens may be adopted separately, but Animal Harbor offers a substantial discount when litter mates are adopted together. James and Cliff are negative for FeLV and FIV, house-trained, up-to-date on shots and neutered.

Call Animal Harbor at 962-4472 for information and check out their other pets at www.animalharbor.com. Enter their drawing on this site for a free spay or neuter for one of your pets! Please help the Humane Society continue to save homeless pets by sending your donations to the Franklin County Humane Society, P. O. Box 187, Winchester, TN 37398.

Fresh, Local Food Options

Summer has begun and farm-fresh foods are plentiful. On Thursday mornings in the Monteagle Assembly, growers have a produce market on the MSSA mall. It opens at 7 a.m.

The Grundy County Farmers' Market, located in front of the old high school in Tracy City, is open 2:30-5:30 p.m. on Fridays and 8-11 a.m. on Saturdays.

The Sewanee Gardener's Market is held every Saturday, 8-10 a.m., rain or shine, next to the old pharmacy.

The Cumberland Farmer's Market is available online at <<http://sewanee.locallygrown.net>> or contact Jess Wilson at (931) 924-4539.

I asked my mother for fifty cents
To see the elephant jump the fence;
He jumped so high
He reached the sky
And never came back till the Fourth of July.

You can always tell the Irish,
You can always tell the Dutch.
You can always tell a Yankee;
But you cannot tell him much.

Oh Burr, oh Burr, what hast thou done,
Thou hast shooted dead great Hamilton!
You hid behind a bunch of thistle,
And shooted him dead with a great hoss pistol!
(Aaron Burr killed Hamilton on July 11, 1804)

Soldiers who wish to be a hero
Are practically zero,
But those who wish to be civilians,
Jesus, they run into the million.
