

Sewanee Summer Music Festival students in the concerto competition

SSMF Concerto Finalists Announced

During the past week at the University of the South campus, more than 76 Sewanee Summer Music Festival students competed in the first and second rounds of the 2013 Jacqueline Avent Concerto Competition. Students were required to apply to the competition by May 31. They performed their concerto movements in front of a select group of judges by memory.

After the first round, the semifinalists performed in Guerry Auditorium in front of the entire student body and a wider group of judges. After deliberation and careful consideration, the judging committee announced the repertoire for the competition concert and the student performers who will play their concerto in front of the community. The students will perform with the prestigious Festival Orchestra, an orchestra comprised of faculty guest artists and other guest artists. The event will be held at 7:30 p.m., Thursday, July 18.

The finalists are:

Jill Chronister, cello, Dvorak's Cello Concerto in B minor, Opus 104;
Ryan Snapp, cello, Saint-Saens' Cello Concerto No. 1 in A minor, Opus 33;
Ryan Kirkconnel, tuba, Gregson's Tuba Concerto;
Abigail Kent, harp, Handel's Harp Concerto in B-flat major;
Michael Hoover, flute, H  e's Fantasie.

The Jacqueline Avent Concerto Competition is one of the most unique performances of the whole music festival. The community is encouraged to attend the concert and witness the tremendous talent of these young musicians.

Boy Named Banjo

Boy Named Banjo at Friday Nights in the Park

The band Boy Named Banjo (Barton Davies, William Reames and Will Logan) will perform at 8 p.m., Friday, July 5, at the Angel Park in Sewanee. Community members are encouraged to bring chairs or blankets on which to sit at this free, family-friendly event. University Avenue will be closed off at 6:30 p.m., and food and drinks will be available.

Boy Named Banjo writes and plays music that is strongly influenced by bluegrass and Americana. Davies and Reames are rising sophomores at Sewanee. Their song "This Light" was featured in the Sewanee video filmed by Stephen Alvarez.

Friday Nights in the Park will continue each week through the month of July.

On Friday, July 12, John Michael Hurt and the Jay Faires Band will perform.

The Sewanee Business Alliance is an informal group of business owners and leaders in Sewanee that promote, plan and execute community and business projects to improve Sewanee's image and strengthen the economic welfare locally.

To learn more about or to become a member of the Sewanee Business Alliance, go to <www.sewanee.biz> or contact John Goodson at 968-1127.

Sort Recycling With Care

Joe B. Long reports that residents are not separating materials as carefully as they should. When recycling items are not sorted properly, the items are put in with standard trash, defeating the purpose of recycling. If you participate in the recycling program, Long asks that residents please remember the following guidelines.

All recycled items must be sacked in blue bags, available from the University Lease Office, 110 Carnegie Hall, or at the Physical Plant Services office on Alabama Avenue, or at the PPS warehouse on Georgia Avenue.

Bags should be placed on the side of the road no later than 7:30 a.m. on the morning of pickup. Items to be recycled must be sorted and placed in separate bags. If plastic bottles are mixed in with tin cans, the entire bag goes to the trash.

Aluminum cans: Rinse the cans and store with other aluminum materials such as clean aluminum foil and pie pans. Crushing the cans is optional.

Tin cans: Tin cans need to be rinsed before storing, but the labels do not have to be taken off. The end of the can does not have to be removed. Crushing the cans is optional.

#1 (PET) Plastic: Remove the lid and rinse out the container. This category includes two-liter drink bottles, peanut butter jars and plastics that are stamped with the recycling triangle with the number 1.

#2 (HDPE) Plastic: Remove the lid and rinse. Some examples in this category are milk jugs, detergent bottles and plastics that are stamped with the recycling triangle with the number 2.

Mixed Paper: Flatten paperboard boxes from cereal, crackers and other items.

Among the unacceptable items are plastic shopping bags such as those used at grocery stores and drugstores; cardboard milk or juice cartons; boxes with food products stuck to them; wax-coated cardboard; polystyrene pellets (packing peanuts) and Styrofoam inserts.

MSSA Woman's Association Cottage Tour and Bazaar

The Monteagle Sunday School Assembly Woman's Association will be holding the 50th Annual Cottage Tour and Bazaar on Friday, July 19.

Seven historic cottages located within the Assembly's grounds will be open, as well as the auditorium which was built in 1927 and the gymnasium, built in 1884.

Bazaar shopping, a variety of lunch options and the bake sale will take place on the shady mall at the heart of the Assembly. Tours run from 11 a.m. to 4 p.m. The bazaar is open 9 a.m.-5 p.m.

The ticket price includes a special floral demonstration featuring Ralph Null, a nationally renowned floral designer, at 1 p.m. in Warren Chapel. His beautiful creations will be auctioned at

Civil War Sites in Sewanee

by Marisa Wilson, Messenger Intern

The cornerstone for the University is located on University Avenue by Louisiana Circle. Photo by Marisa Wilson, Messenger intern

With the Fourth of July being the 150th anniversary of the Army of Tennessee battling in Sewanee, I went to see the many Civil War sites in the area. The first historic marker I visited was the sight of the original cornerstone of the University of the South. The school's founders laid the cornerstone of the first University of the South building on October 10, 1860. Although the building, including the cornerstone, was destroyed by Union troops on July 13, 1863, a symbolic cornerstone was placed in the original location. The new cornerstone is found along a short walking path off of University Avenue near the Sewanee Inn.

Another Civil War-related site in Sewanee is Rebel's Rest. The site, located at the junction of Georgia and University avenues, is where the home first stood before the Civil War of one of the University's key founders and lieutenant general in the Confederate Army, Bishop Leonidas Polk. The first two log cabins of postwar Sewanee were also erected on this spot in 1866.

Now located on this historic site is a house which is used to accommodate Sewanee visitors.

Near the intersection of highways US-41A and SH-56 is the site of the last Battle of the Tullahoma Campaign, which took place on July 4, 1863. The battle extended 2 miles southwest of the modern-day plaque, which commemorates the battle. At this battle Maj. Gen. William Rosecrans commanded the Union army while Gen. Braxton Bragg commanded the Confederates. The battle was one of many that took place in the area as the Union Army pushed toward Chattanooga.

Other historic sites in Sewanee include the University of the South cemetery located on Georgia Avenue and All Saints' Chapel located along University Avenue. Gen. Edmund Kirby Smith and the Rev. Francis Asbury Shoup are buried there. They fought as Confederate generals during the war. At the time of his death in Sewanee, Kirby Smith was the last surviving man who had been a full general in the war.

New Event for the Cats' Meow

Only "morose feles" can win the grumpiest competition.

This year's Cats' Meow has a special enticement for animal lovers. For every entry into the contest, an anonymous cat lover will make a $10 donation to Animal Harbor. Bring your cat and help the shelter.

For cats only, the categories to enter include biggest, smallest, look like my human, grumpiest, most impressive ear fur and/or toe fur and the cat with the most "catitude." Humans may have to help their feline friends with the best-decorated carrier category.

See pages 8, 12 and 13 for all of the fun "Apple Pie Fourth of July" information.

HAVE YOU SEEN YOUR BRICK YET?

To the Editor:

More than 200 engraved bricks are in place at the Angel Park with another 140 bricks yet to be placed. Stonemason JR King has done an incredible job putting each brick down. More than 4,000 bricks now cover the dance floor, with 7,000 more bricks available to cover the terrace and the walkways. Custom lighting illuminates the park at night. The pavilion floor will eventually be hand-laid stone. If you get a chance, go by the park and see if your brick is there.

Several concerts and festivals are planned for the near future, including the annual Angel Fest and Friday Nights in the Park (the summer music series), offering the community a safe and fun place to gather and enjoy the park.

If you haven't bought a brick, now is the time. The Sewanee Business Alliance still needs community support to finish the park.

Bricks start at $75 for two lines. The 8"x8" bricks for $250 offer a larger and nicer choice for more words. The stone benches, which are a great choice for memorials and celebrations, are available starting at $2,000. You can order any of the above at our Friday Nights in the Park gatherings or go to <www.sewanee.biz> and click on the Buy A Brick icon.

Thank you for your support.

John Goodson, SBA member ■

CORRECTION

In last week's article on the Community Council, the lease transfer fee was misidentified as 1 percent. The transfer fee is actually 4 percent.

The Monteagle Sewanee Rotary Club meets at the Smoke House Restaurant on Wednesday mornings. Coffee begins at 6:50 a.m.; breakfast and the meeting begins at 7 a.m. and ends by 8 a.m. The Monteagle Sewanee Rotary will not meet on Wednesday, July 3, or Thursday, July 4.

The Wednesday, July 10, meeting will feature a SSMF mini-concert with Francis Cobb playing the harp. Gerald Richardson, the foundations committee chair, will lead the program on Thursday, July 11.

Hospitality Shop Schedule

The Hospitality Shop will be closed on Thursday, July 4, and Saturday, July 6, and reopens at 9:30 a.m. on Tuesday, July 9.

Rape Aggression Defense Course

A rape aggression defense course is being offered this Friday, July 5, and Saturday, July 6, from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. at Bairnwick Women's Center on the University campus.

Sewanee Police Chief Marie Eldridge will lead this course at no charge. In order to teach this course effectively, she needs at least 10 participants. Women of all ages are welcome.

For more information, contact Elizabeth Wilson, <elwilson@sewanee.edu>. For more information about the program, go to <http://www.rad-systems.com/index.html>.

Academy for Lifelong Learning on July 11

The Academy for Lifelong Learning at St. Mary's Sewanee will welcome the Rt. Reverend Henry Parsley at noon, Thursday, July 11.

Parsley will talk about "Surprising Grace in the Writing of Flannery O'Connor." He is the recently retired 10th Bishop of Alabama and was the 22nd Chancellor of the University of the South.

He has offered leadership for the Episcopal Church as a gifted teacher and a person of deep spiritual insight and discerning intellect.

As the Academy approaches its fifth season, the lunch options are changing. St. Mary's Sewanee will no longer offer box lunches. The Blue Chair has agreed to provide this service. Call the Blue Chair (598-5434) by noon the day before the program (July 10) and place an order for either a turkey with cheddar, chicken salad or pimento cheese sandwich. The $9 box lunch includes chips, cookie and fruit. The box lunch will be ready for pickup before the program.

The Academy's monthly program provides opportunities for lifelong learning for local residents and visitors to the mountain. Lectures are on the second Thursday of each month at noon at St. Mary's Sewanee.

Membership to the Academy for Lifelong Learning is $10. New members are always welcome. The 2013-14 season will begin in September, and dues will be collected then for membership renewal.

For more information call Anne Davis at (931) 924-4465, Stephen Burnett at 598-5479 or Debbie Kandul at (931) 924-3542.

Summer Carillon Series

The Summer Carillon Series continues at 1 p.m., Thursday, July 4, with a recital by John Bordley and Raymond Gotko. Patriotic selections include “America the Beautiful” and “Two Sousa Marches.”

At 4:45 p.m. on Sunday, July 7, Anton Fleissner performs in the summer carillon series for the fifth consecutive summer.

Fleissner graduated from the Baylor School in Chattanooga and from Princeton University. He currently teaches mathematics as a fellow at the Lawrenceville School in New Jersey, where he also coaches fencing, plays trumpet in the student orchestra and plays organ for the Catholic Student Organization. Anton studies carillon with Lisa Lonie at Princeton University, where he began playing under the tutelage of Robin Austin.

Annual Mission A Success

The Episcopal Church of the Advent’s annual Cumberland-Sewanee mission cleared a small forest June 16–20, where a new home will be built. The Episcopal Church of the Advent is located in Spartanburg, S.C.

Since the late 1990s, the Advent has sent a team to help with approximately 10 outreach projects of the University of the South, in and around Sewanee. This year’s team members included Associate Rector for Outreach and Missions the Rev. Hal Carter, and parishioners and friends Larry Moore, Bert Knight, Rick Gilliam, Lindsey Little, Bob Page, Dillard Copeland, Marc White, Rick Pennebaker and Wayne Zurenda.

IvyWild Hosts “The Art of ...”

IvyWild is hosting a reception for author Laura Willis from 4 to 6 p.m., Sunday, July 14. This event is the first in IvyWild’s “The Art of ...” artist series.

Willis is the author of “Finding God in a Bag of Groceries,” a book about Willis’ spiritual growth as the former director of the Community Action Committee, sharing food and discovering grace. She will be speaking on the “Art of Outreach.”

The event is also sponsored by Bean’s Creek Winery. You and your friends are invited to attend.

Vacation Bible School will be held at St. James Church, 9 a.m. to noon, starting on Monday, July 22. The program ends Friday, July 26. Registration begins at 8:30 a.m., Monday, July 22.

The “Everywhere Fun Fair!” is sponsored by St. James, Otey Parish, and STEM Churches: Holy Comforter, Monteagle; Christ Church, Alto; Epiphany, Sherwood; and Trinity, Winchester.

Contact Karen Vaughan, coordinator, at (931) 636-1468 or by email, <kvaughan2009@gmail.com>, for more information.

UCC Church Quilt Show

First United Church, UCC, in Belvidere will host a display of heritage quilts and linens on Saturday, July 13, from 2 to 5 p.m. as part of their 140th anniversary celebration.

More than 40 handmade quilts will be on display, as well as sheets, pillowcases, dresser scarves and tablecloths with drawn work, tatting, crocheting and hand embroidery.

The quilts range in dates from the Civil War period through 2013. They hold special memories for the owners. Everyone is invited to come, bring friends and enjoy the handiwork of the ladies that spent many hours making these items.

Refreshments will be served, featuring recipes from their new cookbook which will be on sale for $15.

First United Church, UCC, is located at 4099 Owl Hollow Rd. in Belvidere. For more information call (931) 967-0180 and leave a message.

Welcome Visitors to Campus

Sewanee welcomes more visitors to campus for the summer.

The Sewanee Environmental Institute's Pre-College Field Studies Experience runs through July 13. The SEI is a summer residential program for talented students who are passionate about the outdoors and interested in advancing their knowledge and skills in the study of the environment.

The Sewanee Young Writers' Conference (SYWC) also continues through July 13. The conference offers small workshops devoted to poetry, fiction, playwriting or creative non-fiction to high school students from across the U.S.

Faculty includes poet Nickole Brown, writers Jolie Lewis, Nina McConigley, Derek Palacio, Justin Quarry, Marjorie Gellhorn Sa'adah, and playwright David Roby.

Special guests for the SYWC are playwright Dan O'Brien, poet Wyatt Prunty, and writers Neil Shea and Kevin Wilson.

The Bridge program continues through July 13.

The Sewanee School of Letters continues through July 19.

The Sewanee Summer Music Festival continues through July 21.

The Sewanee Summer Seminar II, July 7-13, is a week-long return to academics for University alumni and friends. University faculty members Linda Lankewicz, Chris McDonough, Jennifer Michael, Stephen Miller and John Willis will give lectures to participants.

From July 23 to August 4, the Sewanee Writers' Conference will hold its 24th session.

the end of the demonstration.

The bazaar will feature many well-known artisans and a few newcomers displaying their fine arts and crafts. The bake sale will include delicious home-baked treats. Advance tickets are $15 and can be purchased at the Assembly Office or by calling (931) 924-2286. Tickets on the day of the tour are $20, available at the North Gate of the Assembly.

This annual fund raising event helps fund ongoing financial support of area nonprofit organizations, as well as the restoration of historic properties inside the Assembly.

Celebrating its 131st year of continuous operation, Monteagle Sunday

School Assembly is interdenominational and fulfills its original charter and mission through a variety of educational, spiritual and cultural activities for all ages. From the hundreds of such Assemblies patterned after the Chautauqua Institution in New York in the late 1800s, only 13 remain active today. In 1982, its 100th anniversary, Monteagle Sunday School Assembly was placed on the National Register of Historic Places by the United States Department of the Interior.

Since its first session in the summer of 1883, the Assembly has run continuously and thrives today. More information about the Assembly can be found at <www.mssa1882.org>.

Civil War (from page 1)

Along the wall facing University Avenue in All Saints' Chapel is a series of stained glass windows chronicling the history of the University, including a window depicting the original cornerstone of the University being blown up by Union troops.

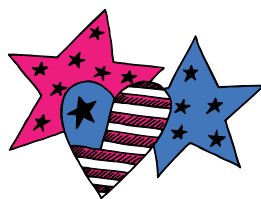

For more information on the history of Sewanee, visit the Sewanee Trust for Historic Preservation located at 400 University Ave. or visit one of the many events about Sewanee and the Civil War that will be held around town on July 4. ## Senior Center News

This Week's Schedule

The Senior Center will be closed on Thursday, July 4, in honor of Independence Day. The following free activities will take place this week:

Mondays at 10:30 a.m., there is chair exercise.

Tuesdays at 10:30 a.m., the group plays bingo with prizes. Blood pressure readings will be taken between 9:30 and 10:30 a.m., and then from 11:30 a.m. to noon.

Wednesdays at 10 a.m., the writing group gathers.

Fridays at 10 a.m. is game day.

Senior Menus

The Sewanee Senior Center serves lunch at noon on weekdays. The suggested donation is $3 (50 or older) or $5 (under 50). Please call by 9 a.m. to order lunch.

July 3: Grilled chicken salad, fruit, crackers.

July 4: Closed for Independence Day.

July 5: Lasagna, salad, garlic bread, dessert.

July 8: Hamburger steak, baked potato, salad, roll, dessert.

July 9: Chicken salad wrap, chips, fruit.

July 10: Shrimp Alfredo, salad, roll, dessert.

July 11: Pinto beans, turnip greens, fried potatoes, cornbread, dessert.

July 12: Chef salad, crackers, dessert.

Menus may vary.

The center is located at 5 Ball Park Rd., behind the Sewanee Market. To reserve a meal or for more information, call the center at 598-0771.

Sales Tax Rate on Food Decreases

On May 13, Gov. Bill Haslam signed into law a reduction in the state sales and use tax rate on sales of food and food ingredients, reduced from 5.25 percent to 5 percent. This law went in effect on July 1.

With the change, food and food ingredients will be subject to a reduced state sales and use tax rate of 5 percent plus the applicable local sales and use tax rate. Prepared food, dietary supplements, candy, alcoholic beverages and tobacco continue to be subject to the general state sales and use tax rate of 7 percent plus the applicable local sales and use tax rate. Existing laws defining which items are considered food and food ingredients remain unchanged by the new legislation.

For more information, go to <www.tn.gov.revenue>.

School of Letters Reading July 10

Author and Sewanee School of Letters faculty member Claire Vaye Watkins will read from her work at 4:30 p.m., Wednesday, July 10, in Gailor Auditorium. Books will be sold at the end of the readings.

Her collection of short stories, "Battleborn" (Riverhead Books), won the Story Prize, the New York Public Library Young Lions Fiction Award and the Rosenthal Family Foundation Award from the American Academy of Arts and Letters.

An assistant professor at Bucknell University, she is also the co-director of the Mojave School, a nonprofit creative writing workshop for teenagers in rural Nevada.

Sewanee's Fowler Center to Host Book Fair in July

The 2013 Tennessee Antiquarian Book Fair will be held July 20-21 at the Fowler Center on the campus of the University of the South in Sewanee. Booksellers from more than half the states east of the Mississippi River and at least one foreign country will exhibit at this year's fair. Virginia, Indiana, Michigan, Ohio, New York and Florida are just some of the states represented by participating booksellers.

For the last three years the fair has been held in Cowan, but the new venue was chosen to allow the Tennessee Antiquarian Booksellers' Association to host more booksellers than in previous years.

The fair will include a variety of collectable and rare books, autographed documents and other ephemera. Bibliophiles will discover modern first editions of literature, mystery, and science fiction. Collectable books and documents concerning the War Between the States, the American Revolution and both World Wars will be available. Dealers specializing in children's literature, art, religion, fine bindings and books about books will also be exhibiting at the fair. Book prices ranging from $10 to $50,000 are sure to pique the interest of the leisure reader as well as the most avid collector.

The fair will be 10 a.m. to 5 p.m., Saturday, July 20, and 11 a.m. to 4 p.m., Sunday, July 21. Admission is $5 for adults and free to those under 18. The price covers both days and includes attendance at all lectures as well as admission to the fair. For more information go to <www.TENNABA.org>.

ANGELWITH AN ATTITUDE

by Virginia Craighill

Dear Angel,

I've really enjoyed seeing the chickens, goats and sheep that are part of the new University farm on Breakfield Road, but I am not sure what is to become of them. Should I resist getting too attached?

Talkin' to the Animals

Dear Dr. Doolittle,

Since the project that brings the animals to our campus is called the University Farm and not the University Petting Zoo, chances are that you should readjust your perspective and envision the animals as livestock and potential produce rather than adorable four-legged (two in the case of chickens) friends. Fortunately for the chickens and goats, they can produce eggs, milk and cheese without having to lay down their lives, but most pigs best serve humanity by becoming bacon and barbecue.

On the bright side, these two small pigs won't go very far as fare at McClurg, and it is my personal hope that the "cuteness factor" will save the farm animals once the students working with them get emotionally attached. Right now the little piggies are pretty adorable, even if they are covered with suspicious-smelling slime, but if they get bigger, stinkier and more ornery, they're going to need to befriend a highly literate spider if they want to maintain the lifestyle they've grown accustomed to at the pig chalet.

While you should continue to enjoy looking at these delightful (and perhaps delectable) additions to our community, beware of naming them, but if you must, call them "Breakfast," "Lunch" or "Dinner."

Dear Angel,

I've been entering my dog in the annual Mutt Show for many years, yet he has never won a prize. The other dogs are always bigger or smaller or look more like their owners. I'm desperate to walk away with a trophy this year, so can you give me some suggestions as to how my mutt can beat the competition?

Tired of Losing

Dear Long-Time Loser,

Coming from a competitive family myself, I can understand your deep desire to bring home the gold (or in the case of the Mutt Show, the reconstituted gold-colored trophy). There are few victories sweeter in this life than having a triumphant canine at the Sewanee 4th of July Mutt show; it is right up there with winning in the Olympics or being awarded the Nobel Prize. Indeed, the dog show has gotten bigger and bigger each year as more people around the country and, I daresay, the world catch Mutt-Show fever, making it harder for local dogs with their eyes on the prize. My own dog had to take an early retirement from the circuit when he decided that his best "trick" was to use the bathroom right in front of the judges. They were not amused.

As for your dog, as you point out, there are always going to be bigger dogs (Mastiffs come to mind) and smaller dogs (miniature chihuahuas, for example, specially bred to sweep this category), so I think your best bet would be to enter the owner-dog look-alike category or the best trick category. It's really too late for you to get plastic surgery in order to look more like your dog, but you could find the most adorable child in Sewanee and dress the dog and the child in matching mock-ups of the vice-chancellor's ermine robe (I've never seen it done). For best trick, you could teach your dog to cook an apple pie in front of the judges, thus proving not only your dog's culinary genius but your own political savvy for knowing this year's theme.

I hardly dare mention it, but there are less ethical ways of winning. You could bribe the other dogs with treats and get them to throw the show by messing up on their trick or having a different facial expression than their owners, but dogs are, by nature, honorable creatures, and the only true victory for your dog is a fair one. Good luck!

AT THE MOVIES

SEWANEE UNION THEATRE
Thursday–Sunday, July 11–14, 7:30 p.m.
42

Rated PG-13 • 128 minutes

"42" is the story of Jackie Robinson, one of the greatest baseball players. In 1946, Brooklyn Dodgers general manager Branch Rickey, (played by Harrison Ford) signed Robinson, breaking the color barrier in major league baseball that had existed for nearly six decades. Robinson faced racism and hostility from both baseball fans and the players. Instead of reacting in anger to the abuse, he let his athletic talent speak for him and forever changed the game of baseball. Part of the movie was filmed in Chattanooga's historic Engel Stadium. Rated PG-13 for thematic elements including language.—KGB

The SUT will not offer a movie during the Fourth of July weekend.

In addition to celebrating our nation's birthday on July 4, there are several events commemorating the 150th anniversary of the Civil War in our area. For more information, go to <<http://news.sewanee.edu/events/2013/07/04/sewanee-and-the-civil-war-exhibit-and-talk>>.

MSSA Events Continue

The Monteagle Sunday School Assembly in Monteagle continues its 2013 summer season of enrichment with several lectures and free events in the coming week.

Performer Bill Barker will bring President Thomas Jefferson to life in two talks at the Monteagle Assembly on Tuesday, July 9. Mr. Jefferson will present a family and youth program at 11 a.m., "A Visit with Thomas Jefferson," and will return at 8:15 p.m. with "An Evening with Thomas Jefferson." Both performances will be in Warren Chapel.

Christi Teasley will co-present with Bettie Hill the work and legacy of her great-grandfather in "Brantley Smith (1874–1947): Art, Life and Love of This Mountain" at 11 a.m., Wednesday, July 10, in Warren Chapel. Smith worked in oil and pastels, and had studios in New York and Florida.

Justin Stelter will present a lecture, "Jefferson and Madison's Garden Tour in England, 1786," at 11 a.m., Thursday, July 11, at Warren Chapel.

In 2012, the Monteagle Assembly became an official Certified Tennessee Arboretum. On Thursday, July 11, Sewanee forestry professor Karen Kuers will lead a tree walk through the grounds, highlighting the arboretum and reforestation program. The tree walk departs from Warren Chapel at 2:30 p.m.

The Sewanee Summer Music Festival Cumberland Orchestra will present a concert at 8:15 p.m., Thursday, July 11 in the Auditorium.

Stelter will present another lecture at 11 a.m., Friday, July 12, "Restoring the Gardens at Historic Carnton in Franklin" in the Warren Chapel.

All events are free and open to the public with a four-hour pass (available at the Assembly gate). A guide to the programs is available at the Assembly Office and on its website, <www.mssa1882.org>.

SSMF Kids Week Set

The Sewanee Summer Music Festival is pleased to announce a special community engagement effort led by Rami Vamos, professor of education and community engagement of the SSMF.

Every day at 11 a.m., during the week of July 8–12, a class will be offered at the University of the South to all children ages kindergarten to 5th grade from all the surrounding communities of Sewanee.

Students will also have the opportunity to interact with instruments, hear music, explore musical themes and emotions, and of course, a chance to participate in group activities.

All the music workshops by Vamos will help prepare students to enjoy a special concert at 8 p.m., Tuesday, July 16, at the Monteagle Sunday School Assembly.

Kids will follow the antics of the zany composer "Wolfgang Amadeus Schmutzinberry" as he creates his masterpiece to the sounds of live music.

Wolfgang Amadeus Schmutzinberry will need help from composers, musicians on stage, as well as the interaction from the children in the audience.

"Apple Pie Fourth of July" Events

July 3 Events

Hike to a Concert

The hike begins at 4 p.m. at The Course at Sewanee. It is led by the Sewanee Outing Program. A bike ride, led by Woody Deutsch from Woody's Bicycles, will start at 4 p.m. The concert begins at 6:30 p.m. People attending the concert are encouraged to bring picnic items and blankets. This concert event is free and open to the public. The event is sponsored by the Monteagle Inn & Retreat Center.

Boogie Shoes

Dry Gin and Whiskey will perform at the street dance, starting at 8 p.m. between the Hair Depot and the Sewanee Market. The street will be closed off.

On the Fourth of July

Oh What A Beautiful Morning

The 40th annual Flag Raising at Juman Bridge in Abbo's Alley begins at 8 a.m. Sing patriotic songs accompanied by the SSMP's brass quintet, enjoy a selected reading and prayer, and watch our local Scout Troop 114 raise the flag. Then join the flag raising sponsors, the Friends of Abbo's Alley, for coffee and juice. Bring your favorite breakfast finger food for the potluck breakfast (or simply make a small donation).

The potluck breakfast will be held at the Smith, Gardner and Beaumont-Zucker homes at 139 and 143 Florida

Ave. For more information or to volunteer, call Margaret Beaumont-Zucker at 598-5214.

Fireworks Fund Donations

Funds to support the annual fireworks display in Sewanee will be collected this year at the potluck breakfast after the flag raising [see adjacent story] and also 10 a.m.–2 p.m. at two tables along University Avenue (one at Elliott Dorm and one in the Village). Donations (payable to Sewanee 4th of July) can also be made by mailing them to Speed Baranco, P.O. Box 3261, Sewanee, TN 37375.

Grumpy Cat in Sewanee?

This year's Cat Show has a special enticement for animal lovers. For every entry into the contest, an anonymous cat lover will make a $10 donation to Animal Harbor. Bring your cat and help the shelter. The Cats' Meow starts at 9:15 a.m. at Manigault Park.

Virginia Craighill will emcee again. There are categories for biggest cat, smallest cat, look-alike cat, best-decorated carrier, most impressive ear fur and/or toe fur, grumpiest cat and the cat with the most "catitude."

And, we hope that the Internet sensation Tartar Sauce, aka Grumpy Cat, will make an appearance.

Arts and Crafts

The Fourth of July Arts and Crafts Fair will begin at 9 a.m., Thursday, July 4, in Shoup Park.

Pat a Cake, Pat a Cake

IvyWild Restaurant and The Blue Chair are firing up the competition for the Fourth of July Cake Contest this year. Ivy Wild will give $100 to the Grand Prize Winner and $50 gift certificates to each of the three winners in the 13 and older group. The Blue Chair will award three $5 gift certificates for ice cream to each of the winners in the 12 and younger group.

Beginning at 9 a.m. at the Blue House at 400 University Ave., contestants may deliver their cakes. Registration for entries will end at 9:45 a.m.

Judges will announce the winners at 10:30 a.m. Cakes will be on display to the public 10:30–11:30 a.m.

All contestants must pick up their cakes at 11:30 a.m. Individual contestants who would like to share their cakes may do so at 11:30 a.m. in the front yard of the Blue House.

Yum-Yum

Good food is always a big part of the Fourth. This year there will be a great variety to suit any taste.

Visit CCJP's July 4 booth for roasted, locally grown sweet corn from Valley Home Farms in Pelham.

Also selling food will be: Preston Greer, lemonade; Sequatchie Valley Holiness Church, hamburgers, hot dogs, cotton candy; New Beginnings Church, hamburgers, hot dogs, drinks; Dessie Taylor, BBQ pork, baked beans, coleslaw, beef hot dogs, fried pies; Dennis Mayfield, kettle corn; Ginny Capel, hot dogs and cold water;

Mike and Shirley Winn, wraps, nachos, watermelon; Suzanne Naumann, Pop Culture popsicles; Dorothy Buck, ice cream (she will be at the fireworks show, as well); and Crossroads Café, chicken, wraps.

Best Friend to All

Registration for the Mutt Show will be from 9 to 9:50 a.m. The show begins at 10 a.m. in Manigault Park. Lizzie Duncan returns as the show's emcee. Judges this year are Stephen Burnette, Shawna Laurendine and Phil White.

Dr. Matt Petrilla's fabulous trophies will be awarded for all the canine categories: best dressed, Yankee doodle doggie, owner/dog look-alike, best trick and judge's choice. Entrants may register for one category or one category plus judge's choice.

Civil War 150th Events

University Vice-Chancellor and U.S. historian John McCardell will offer remarks about the sesquicentennial of the Civil War during the flag-raising ceremony at 8 a.m. in Abbo's Alley.

The University Archives will open a new exhibit, Sewanee and the Civil War, at 10 a.m. The exhibit features Confederate and Union documents, maps, artifacts, photographs and weaponry. The archives will remain open until 1:30 p.m. on July 4 and is open by appointment through July 31.

At 10:30 a.m., also at the University Archives, Merritt Blakeslee will present "A Rite Sharp Little Fight: Skirmish On Sewanee Mountain, July 4, 1863," detailing one of the last engagements in the area.

Even More Events

At the Hair Depot starting at 11 a.m., there will be free nail clippings for your dog. The Animal Harbor will also be on hand with an adoption site. Children's games at the American Legion Hall take place from 11 a.m. to 1 p.m. The Dunking Booth will be at the post office from 11 a.m. to 1 p.m.

Silent Auction for CAST

The Craft Artists of Southern Tennessee (CAST) is having its annual Fourth of July silent auction at Locals Gallery in Sewanee. The event is 11 a.m. to 3 p.m. The CAST silent auction is a fund-raiser for the group's projects throughout the year. CAST is the local chapter of TACA, the Tennessee Association of Craft Artists, whose mission is to encourage, develop and promote craft and craft artists in Tennessee.

The Sound of Music

Want to really stir up those patriotic feelings? The Sewanee Chorale, under the direction of Gary Sturgis, will be performing a short "Patriotic Salute at the Grandstand" at 11:30 a.m. in front of the University Bookstore during Sewanee's "Apple Pie Fourth of July." Plan on hearing the community chorale pay tribute to the Red, White and Blue. The Sewanee Chorale is a dedicated group of 40-plus volunteer members who perform free concerts during the year.

Angel Park = Love Shack?

Davidson Local will play in Angel Park on July 4 from 11:30 a.m. to 1:30 p.m. This band includes the Swallow family of Sewanee. The group plays a variety of genres, including all the original work of songwriter John Wertheimer, rock, folk, pop, English ballad, disco and a Thanksgiving rap—they have it all! Guitar, bass, drums, sax, violin/fiddle, and multiple vocal harmonies round out the group.

It Tolls for Thee

At 1 p.m., John Bordley and Raymond Gotko will present a carillon recital at All Saints' Chapel.

Keep Your Fork! There's Pie.

Fifteen lucky contestants will vie for the $75 prize to see who can eat three delicious pies in the shortest time. There is a $5 entrance fee. The pies have been donated by the Piggly Wiggly in Monteagle.

More great prizes have been donated for the pie-eating contest. Blue Chair, $100 in gift cards to use either at the Blue Chair or the Tavern; Mooney's, $20 gift certificate; Mi Casa, dinner for two; Monteagle Tire, two oil changes; Pizza Hut, free salad bar with lunch; Mountain Outfitters, sports water bottle; and Sewanee Sweets, $25 gift certificate.

I Love a Parade!

"The Apple Pie Fourth of July ... An All-American Fourth" parade will begin at 2 p.m. There will be three trophies awarded in these categories: best float, best decorated vehicle and best horse-drawn entry. Judging for the parade begins at 1 p.m. at Lake O'Donnell Road off Highway 41A across from Finney Lane. This is the end closest to the Sewanee Airport.

It ends at the Sewanee Inn. Ribbons will also be awarded for best-decorated bike. Bicycles will be judged at Woody's Bicycles at 1:30 p.m. Please note that sirens are to be turned off at the Kirby-Smith monument.

Fly Me to the Moon

The Air Show begins at 3:30 p.m. at the Sewanee Airport, weather permitting. There will also be airplane rides available for $10 per person.

More Music

The Sewanee Summer Music Festival Strolling Band will perform during the parade. Then at 7 p.m., there will be a free Fourth of July Patriotic Celebration Concert featuring SSMF students and the faculty brass quintet at Guerry Auditorium.

The Lake Cheston amphitheater will host beloved Sewanee musicians on Thursday evening: Bran Potter, Charlie Smith & Friends will play at 7 p.m.

BOOM Goes the Firecrackers!

The fireworks begin at dark. Texas Avenue will be closed from University Avenue to Lake Cheston for the fireworks. Only handicapped persons will be allowed to drive to the lake. All cars that drive to Lake Cheston will be required to wait until pedestrians are out before they may leave.

Dude! Where's My Car?

As a reminder, there is no parking on University Avenue. All cars parked there in the downtown area will have to be off the street by 1 p.m. Visitor parking is available behind Fulford Hall.

There will be a shuttle running from 11 a.m. to 1 p.m. from the corner of University Avenue and Sartain Place up University Avenue to the Kirby-Smith Monument on Texas Ave.

Tut, tut. It Looks Like Rain.

All events will be held rain or shine, with as few delays as possible.

David Coe/D.B. Jackson Book Signing

Sewanee author David B. Coe will sign copies of his latest novel, "Thieves' Quarry," 11:30 a.m.–2 p.m., Thursday, July 4, at the University Book and Supply Store.

"Thieves' Quarry," Coe's 14th published novel, is the second volume in a historical fantasy series called the Thieftaker Chronicles. Because this project represents a departure from Coe's previous work, the series is being published under the name D.B. Jackson. "Thieftaker," the first volume in the Thieftaker Chronicles, will also be available for purchase, as will copies of Coe's other books.

NATURENOTES

By Harry and Jean Yeatman

Scarlet Tanager

Jean Yeatman reports that late one afternoon last week she and Harry were sitting on their deck when they observed a male Scarlet Tanager feeding a young bird that was trembling its wings, begging for food. They were in the top of some tall trees along the bluff feeding on leaf-eating insects. Soon a female flew up, and the young begged to be fed again, and it was. We watched the family for fifteen minutes and saw other young join the group and get fed.

The Scarlet Tanager is 7-1/4 inches long. The male has a flaming scarlet body with jet-black wings and tail. The female and immature young are dull greenish above, yellowish below, with dark brownish or blackish wings. This is the summer coloration, when the birds fly from Nova Scotia down to South Carolina and Alabama. The Tanagers winter from Colombia to Bolivia and Peru, and their plumage changes color. With the fall molt the male loses its red plumage, and its black wing feathers are edged with green. Its fall body plumage is like the female's, though somewhat brighter; the top of the head, yellowish; and the underparts, a rich almost orange yellow. The males in the middle of this change have an odd, patchy appearance, and the Yeatmans have had many calls from people asking what kind of bird this is. In the fall the female becomes brighter above and more orange-yellow below. The immature look like the females, but the males have jet-black wing covers in the fall. In the spring they assume a more orange body plumage than an older male's for their first breeding season.

Hound Dog

Tonks

Pets of the Week

Meet Hound Dog and Tonks

The Franklin County Humane Society's Animal Harbor offers these two delightful pets for adoption.

Hound Dog is a little 5-month-old Chihuahua-mix puppy who loves to cuddle, chase a tennis ball or whatever else you want to do. He was hand-raised on a bottle, so he is very well socialized with people and other animals. Hound Dog is up-to-date on shots and neutered.

Tonks is a lovable 1-year-old kitty who wants affection and play as often as she can get it. Her beautiful blue eyes are a stunning contrast to her buff/calico color pattern, and her soft, medium-length fur begs to be brushed and petted. Tonks is negative for FeLV and FIV, house-trained, up-to-date on shots and spayed. For a limited time, two kittens may be adopted together for one adoption fee of $75. Having two kittens is better than one because they play together and keep each other company. Adult cats may be adopted for a $40 fee during this special.

Every Friday is Black Friday at Animal Harbor. On Fridays, adoption fees will be reduced 50 percent for black or mostly black pets more than 4 months old who have been at Animal Harbor for more than a month. Pets adopted from Animal Harbor qualify for a free post-adoption wellness exam by local veterinarians.

Call Animal Harbor at 962-4472 for information and check out the other pets at <www.animalharbor.com>. Enter their drawing on this site for a free spay or neuter for one of your pets. Please help the Humane Society continue to save abandoned pets by sending your donations to P. O. Box 187, Winchester, TN 37398.

BARDTOVERSE

by Scott and Phoebe Bates

Not like the brazen giant of Greek fame,
With conquering limbs astride from land to land;
Here at our sea-washed, sunset gates shall stand
A mighty woman with a torch, whose flame
Is the imprisoned lightning, and her name
Mother of Exiles. From her beacon-hand
Glows world-wide welcome; her mild eyes command
The air-bridged harbor that twin cities frame.
“Keep ancient lands, your storied pomp!” cries she
With silent lips. “Give me your tired, your poor,
Your huddled masses yearning to breathe free,
The wretched refuse of your teeming shore.
Send these, the homeless, tempest-tost to me,
I lift my lamp beside the golden door!”

— “The New Colossus” by Emma Lazarus (1883)

A Sewanee fashion statement.

THE BLACK LEATHER ANGEL CUFF.

It is fun to take your Sewanee angel everywhere.
This very special bracelet is adjustable with two snaps, 7” to 8” long and 1/2” wide. The sterling silver oval is hand-etched and stitched with cord to a piece of leather. Artist Wendy Seaborne made these just for The Lemon Fair. The price is $70.
