

Sewanee Deer Hunt Begins Sept. 23

The 2017 hunting season in Sewanee begins Sept. 23 and runs discontinuously until Jan. 12, 2018. Hunters approved by the University may take part in this hunt. This year marks the 15th year of organized hunting on the domain after a resolution passed by the University Trustees in 2001 requested that the deer herd be controlled.

Since that beginning, the program has continually evolved in response to herd populations, community input, and ever-expanding datasets on the impacts of the herd on the ecological and human community.

The current hunt is organized around the 2016 White tailed deer management plan, <<http://www.sewanee.edu/media/offices/do-> main-management/White_tail_deer_management_plan_Final_1_26_2016.pdf>. This document outlines both the population and habitat goals, and the steps involved to reach those goals. In general, our goal is to bring the population down to the population the Tennessee Wildlife Resources Agency feels is sustainable (approximately 25-30 deer per square mile) in a way that maximizes safety, minimizes impacts to the non-hunting members of our community, and maximizes student-led monitoring of the ecological and social impacts.

This year there are significant changes to some of the hunting areas around Brakefield Road and a newly formatted community map to ensure

by Leslie Lytle, Messenger Staff Writer

Accessibility issues dominated the Franklin County School Board's discussion about proposed sites for the new middle school at the Sept. 14 meeting. Research by board member Lance Williams identified four prospective sites: Bible Crossing Road, Sharp Springs Road, Baxter Lane in the vicinity of Franklin County High School, and a site near North Middle School.

Tim Little representing the engineering firm Oliver, Little, and Gipson (OLG) said three of the proposed sites met the 40-acre minimum requirement.

Board member Christine Hopkins said the site that was too small was "the most accessible," offering three entrance opportunities.

"Purchasing adjoining parcels is a possibility," Williams said. The school system would need to purchase four parcels to put together 40-acres at the 28-acre Baxter Lane site. The site also borders Hwy. 64 and Modena Road. Franklin County owns the 28-acre tract.

Hopkins stressed the importance of determining whether the sites under consideration were serviced by city, county or state highways. Board member Chris Guess will research the issue. The board will continue the discussion at the Oct. 2 work session.

The board elected Cleijo Walker to continue as board chair and Lance Williams to continue as vice chair for the 2017-2018 school year.

The board approved several minor policy revisions. Significantly, the revised School Support Organizations policy requires a school system employee to serve as a liaison between support organizations and the school system.

Assistant Superintendant Linda Foster stressed the "vital role" parent organizations and parent teacher organizations played. The policy, however,

County Commission Grapples with Rezoning

by Bailey Basham, Messenger Staff Writer

September's County Commission meetings saw the appointment of Carolyn Wiseman to the seat left vacant in District 2 after Director of Schools Stanley Bean's departure in July.

Commissioner for District 3 Dave Van Buskirk, who nominated Wiseman, said she will be a great addition to the commission.

"Carolyn ran in the election last time against Stanley Bean and narrowly lost. This is basically the way the commission has replaced the candidates who move on, at least for the last two years. I know her very well from working with her through the Chamber of Commerce, and I know she is very passionate about Franklin County. She is very thorough on the things she investigates, and above all, she has great common sense. I think she will be a great addition," said Van Buskirk.

Also heard at the meeting was the highly disputed request for rezoning by Woody Ashley of Woody's Tree Service. The Franklin County Regional Planning Commission recommended the rezoning of 5.63 acres of land near Highway 64 from agricultural and residential to industrial.

Back in July, the county purchased land from Ashley to prevent the smoke from his tree service making its way through the county.

"He owned a parcel of land that joined the industrial park. He had the property up for sale. Purchasing the property did help the atmosphere in the park since he did burn there," said County Commission Chairman Eddie Clark. "No one complained to me, but my understanding is that the high school is right behind it, so there were some complaints."

John Meeks, a self-proclaimed lifetime resident of Franklin County, was against the rezoning.

Jail Art Program Show and Sale

Grundy County Sheriff Clint Shrum in partnership with the local nonprofit organization, Arts Inside, is pleased to announce an art show created by the women in the detention center's art program. The event will be at 1 p.m., Saturday, Sept. 30, at the Grundy County Courthouse in Altamont. The public is cordially invited to attend to enjoy refreshments and the art display. Artwork created by the women will be displayed and offered for sale. Prices range from $5 to $50.

Class participants apply and go through a selection process before admission to the program. The class meets weekly and at each session participants create a different form of art including basic line drawing, weaving, basket making, painting and more. The program teaches participants to tap into their creative potential to help bring beauty and joy into their lives.

The art program is offered through the Recovery and Reentry program at the jail. The Recovery and Reentry program is led by Alicia Shadwick, Pre-Release Case Manager and Americorps VISTA, Tim Moser. Arts Inside is led by former South Cumberland Community Fund Americorps VISTA, Hilda Vaughan and local resident and volunteer, Millicent Foreman.

The art program began in January 2016 and is a new initiative of the Grundy County Sheriff's Office Recovery and Reentry Program, which offers inmates educational programs, a dog training program, career readiness courses, a greenhouse and gardening program, a brain health program, and peer-based recovery groups.

The art show is co-sponsored by the Sheriff's Office, the Mayor's Office, the South Cumberland Community Fund, the Americorps VISTA program, and The University of the South. Refreshments are provided by Chef Rick from Sewanee Dining.

Sewanee and Zipcar Offer Car Sharing On Campus

Sewanee has launched a new partnership with Zipcar, the world's leading car-sharing network, to offer a car-sharing program on campus. The service gives students the freedom to get off campus without the hassles of owning a car, while also helping Sewanee meet sustainability goals by reducing the need for personal vehicles and parking spots on campus.

The convenient, self-service transportation option is available 24 hours a day, seven days a week for students, faculty and staff ages 18 and older, and members of the local community ages 21 and older. Cars can be reserved for as little as an hour or for multiple days.

Two vehicles are now available. The Zipcars have designated parking spots located on University Avenue in front of the Sewanee Book and Supply store and on Georgia Avenue in front of the Bishop's Common, across from duPont Library.

Wondering how it works? There are just a few simple steps to using Zipcar. Join at <www.zipcar.com/sewanee>. Members may reserve a car online or using the mobile app for as little as an

by Kevin Cummings, Messenger Staff Writer

The University of the South Choir will sing a special evening service at All Saints' Chapel on Sunday, Sept. 24, at 4 p.m.

Part of the Anglican tradition, Choral Evensong, essentially singing the evening prayer, dates back to the Reformation in the 16th century. Sophomore Oliver Postic, the choir's bass section head, said Sunday's service will be moving and sacred.

"Our purpose of leading worship every Sunday morning becomes more important during Evensong because the music is the focal point of the service," he said. "I believe that by singing the evening prayer, a choir is able to make the words transcend the books that bind them."

Soprano section leader Matti Hitel, a sophomore from Riverside, Conn., and daughter of a choirmaster, said she loves the experience of performing.

"The feeling of singing during Evensong is unlike any other service," she said. "Whether we are singing an eight-part blaring anthem or a unison plainsong chant, there is something so meditative about it all. To me, the silence is the most mesmerizing. In the rests of a piece, even more so than the notes, I feel chills in my bones."

Geoffrey Ward, University organist and choirmaster, explained what people can expect on Sunday.

"People will experience a service that is primarily sung from different parts of the chapel," he said. "The University Choir will sing an introit from the back of the chapel before processing to the front of the chapel leading a congregational hymn. Most of the service is sung from the front of the chapel, both accompanied by the organ and acappella."

Rev. Melissa Hartley is officiant for Evensong and William Stokes, seminarian and 2016 Sewanee graduate, is the service organist, Ward said.

The University Choir has about 50 members and about half of them are singing their first Evensong.

THANKS FOR THE REMINDER

To the Editor:

I'm frequently delighted and equally often moved to searching reflection by the poems chosen by Phoebe Bates for the "Bard to Verse" feature. I'm in awe of Bates gift for choosing poems exquisitely appropriate to the circumstances of the moment. One of Bates' finest picks was the profound excerpt from Shakespeare's King Lear in last week's Messenger (Sept. 15). With the nation still reeling from the devastation wreaked upon our complacency by two back to back hurricanes, "ungrateful man" would do well to consider that we likely brought this down upon ourselves. Thank you Phoebe Bates for reminding us.

Red Cross Blood Drive Sept. 27

The University of the South and the American Red Cross are hosting a blood drive from 10 a.m.–3 p.m. on Wednesday, Sept. 27, in the Hearth Room of the Bishop's Common.

The need for blood is constant and only volunteer donors can fulfill that need for patients in our communities. Nationwide, someone needs a unit of blood every two to three seconds and most of us will need blood in our lifetime.

Schedule some time to go by the Bishop's Common and be a donor. Eat a snack and be well hydrated before you go. Walk-ins are accepted or make an appointment at <Redcrossblood.org>, search for nearby drives, and the Sewanee drive will show up.

Church News

All Saints' Chapel

Growing in Grace will continue Sunday evening at 6:30 p.m. in All Saints' Chapel. Kayla Deep, Lay Chaplain and a member of the class of 2015 will be the speaker. This informal worship service is designed for students and community members with student-led acoustic music, guest speakers, and Holy Communion. This Advent semester, our Growing in Grace speakers will address the times in life in which we are compelled to take "The Long Road." What pushes us to take the more arduous path when a shortcut is readily available? What do we encounter when we take a "scenic route" on our journey? We hope to explore these questions and many more this semester at Growing in Grace. We hope to see you there.

The Catechumenate will continue Wednesday, Sept. 27, at 7 p.m. in the Bairnwick Women's Center with desert and coffee. Catechumenate, from a Greek word meaning "learning and exploring," is a place where we explore what it means to be a human being and what it means to be a person of faith in our community. This is a great place to meet new people and build relationships. Food, prayer, questions, and conversation power this process. Email Lay Chaplain Kayla Deep at <kayla.deep@sewanee.edu> for directions or more information.

Chapman's Chapel

Chapman's Chapel Church of the Nazarene at 273 Chapman Chapel Road in Pelham, extends a special invitation to the public for a day of worship and fellowship at their 2017 Friends' Day and Annual Homecoming celebration on Sunday, Sept. 24. Sunday School classes for all ages begin at 9:30 a.m. Special music will begin at 10:15 a.m. with the Homecoming Service starting at 10:45 a.m. A fellowship meal will be provided at noon.

Christ Church Monteagle

Being just off the Interstate means both opportunities and burdens for communities. The impact of Irma on Tennessee has brought both for churches, and Christ Church Monteagle has been hosting friends and family and also complete strangers during recent days.

This has been a blessing for us to be of direct help, in addition to giving to organizations which are on the scene.

Our Sunday service begins at 10:30 a.m., but our doors are open well into the afternoon.

First Baptist Church Monteagle

Monteagle First Baptist Church is having Friends Day on Sunday, Sept. 24, at 11 a.m. Herb Hester from Tullahoma will be preaching. Please bring a dish to share for lunch. Everyone is welcome.

Humanistic Jewish Community

People of the Mountain (Am HaHar) Humanistic Jewish Community will observe Yom Kippur on Friday, Sept. 29, with simple meditations at 7 p.m. This group is affiliated with the Society for Humanistic Judaism. For location, information or reservations, and other High Holiday events, please see <www.amhahar.com> or email <humanisticjewishsewanee@gmail.com>.

Otey Adult Forum

This year the theme for Adult Forum is Contemporary Christian Voices. The intention of this year's series is to express a diversity of Christian points of view, especially in relation to topics of compelling interest. The leaders who will be dealt with range from Pope Francis to prominent theologians to the organizers of local charitable enterprises and social services. Some of the subject-matter will be controversial.

The Adult Forum at Otey is delighted to welcome Bishop James Tengtenga to speak on "Voices from the Anglican Communion about its Future" on Sunday, Sept. 24. Bishop Tengtenga was until 2013 bishop of Southern Malawi in Africa and served until recently as chair of the Anglican Consultative Council. He now teaches at the School of Theology in Sewanee. Deer Hunt (from page 1) that hunting areas are easier to locate. The changes are intended to: 1) focus hunting in areas where census data shows unsustainable populations; 2) pause hunting in areas where population targets have been met; and 3) provide non-hunted recreation areas when possible.

The area north of the water tower on Brakefield Road, including the water tower trail, KA Point and all firelanes around the equestrian center, are closed to hunting this year. This area has seen significant hunting pressure over the last 10 years and census data indicates the population is at a healthy level. Hunting continues this year on the south side of Brakefield Road from just past Wiggins Creek subdivision to Gate 11, and on the north side of the road from Gate 3 to beyond Gate 7. These areas are expanded from last year's hunt to reduce browse pressure on the forest understory. The hours of hunting will remain unchanged from last year and as always, all trails and firelanes remain open to recreational use during the season.

As in previous years, there may be a surplus of animals available for local families. If you are interested in picking up a field dressed deer for processing, please email <domain@sewanee.edu>. For more information on the University hunting program and specific rules and times, please visit <<http://www.sewanee.edu/offices/oess/the-domain/ecosystem-management/hunting/>>.

prohibits school employees from serving as officers in support organizations, since the organizations frequently collect donations and make contributions to the schools and school programs. For a school employee to serve as an officer "would make this a school activity," Foster said. The liaison "cannot touch the money" and serves in an advisory capacity.

Having a school employee liaison also has the advantage of providing continuity, Director of Schools Stanley Bean pointed out, since support organization governing officers often change from one year to the next.

The board also approved a Voluntary Pre-K Attendance policy recommended by the Tennessee School Board Association. The new policy sets criteria for student dismissal in cases of repeated absence.

Pre-K is voluntary, and there are limited spaces available. The new policy provides a means of making spaces available if students are not attending, board member Sara Liechty noted.

The board reviewed suggested policy changes streamlining the approval process for field trips and excursions. Bean recommended further simplification. He proposed assigning final approval for overnight trips to the director of school and final approval of day trips to the principal. The board will revisit the policy amendment at the Oct. 2 working session.

Kelly May, director of the nonprofit Rain Unlimited, appealed to the board to transfer ownership of the Townsend School property to the organization for use as a teen center and hub for nonprofits, providing office and meeting space. The board received a similar request from a group seeking to establish a Head Start program at the former Townsend School. Other entities have expressed an interest in purchasing portions of the property. The neighboring community favors tearing down the building and using the site for a park and memorial.

The board's next regular meeting is Oct. 9.

"My property is the next house down, and in that area, within a half mile radius, there are three churches and approximately 30-35 homes. That's where I was raised, that's where I raised my family, and that's where we're raising our grandkids," he said. "I don't want to wake up in the morning and smell smoke. That's why you moved it from Winchester. I oppose it, and I want it to be known that I do."

Also against the rezoning was resident Randy Butner.

"The only objection is that we don't need the health hazard going to all the homes. You know what it did to Medina Road. That smoke is going to go all over and surround even more than a half mile if the wind blows," said Butner.

Russell Leonard, Ashley's attorney, told the commission the land is needed for Mr. Ashley's work.

"To prevent this gentlemen from operating his business is a bit drastic. There's burning all over the county on occasion. I see it from where I live. There are all kinds of industries and individuals who burn often. I hope you would consider the need that this man has for disposing of these materials in a fashion that is not bad for the county and necessary for him to complete his work. Unless the county is willing to donate grounds for Mr. Ashley and others with a tree service, then I would suggest that burning is the most efficient and logical way to dispose of these things," he said.

State representative and Franklin County resident David Alexander said his recommendation would be to vote no on the rezoning.

Ashley's motion for rezoning failed.

"I'm happy that it was rejected and I don't want to get up every morning and smell smoke. It affects the whole community. They bought the property to get rid of him, and they're wanting to send him out to our area. They're no better than we are. We're tax payers just like them," said Meeks.

Approved at the meeting was a contract between Franklin County and Simplex, a company specializing in sprinkler systems for protection in the case of fires.

"This has to do with the sprinkler system in the Senior Citizens' Center," said Clark. "Their system wasn't working, and we have an agreement with these people in some other county buildings."

Finance Director Andrea Smith said there is an annual maintenance fee over the length of the contract.

Several elections and appointments were made before the conclusion of the meeting.

Eddie Clark was appointed to serve another year as chairman. Angie Fuller was appointed as chairman pro temp. Lindsay Ladd was appointed to serve the rest of Brandi Scott's term on the Animal Control Board. Barbara Lucas was appointed to a 4-year term with the Board of Zoning Appeals, and David James to the Regional Planning Commission.

The next county commission meeting will be Monday, Oct. 16 at 7 p.m.

Sewanee members can join for $15, with rates starting as low as $7.50 per hour and $69 per day. After the first year, members will pay an annual membership fee of $25. Gas, maintenance, insurance, and up to 180 miles of driving per day are included in Zipcar rates.

"The partnership with Zipcar provides our community access to affordable, sustainable transportation," said Becky Spurlock, senior associate dean of student life at the University. "Having Zipcars on campus will give students an easy way to get to town for groceries, the drugstore, or just a break from the dining hall. Long term, we hope it will help reduce the number of cars on campus."

"In addition to giving students the freedom to go where they want, when they want, Zipcar will also help the University of the South become a more sustainable university," said Katelyn Bushey, director of university programs at Zipcar. "Car sharing encourages students to leave their car at home or get rid of it altogether, which reduces carbon output, making campuses cleaner and healthier."

And students who join report an increased quality of life with greater accessibility, according to a first-of-its-kind academic study by UC Berkeley.

Zipcar is the largest and most long-standing campus car-sharing provider with a presence on more than 600 colleges and universities across North America, from small private colleges to large public universities.

Savage to Speak on Alabama Football

Phil Savage, color analyst for the University of Alabama football broadcasts and executive director of the Senior Bowl, will speak at noon, today (Friday), Sept. 22, in Convocation Hall on the University of the South campus. Savage's book, "4th and Goal Every Day: Alabama's Relentless Pursuit of Perfection" (with co-author Ray Glier), was released last month.

The public is invited to this inside look at the most successful program in the game today, which will be followed by a Q&A and a book signing.

No program in college football positions itself to contend for a national championship year in and year out better than the Alabama Crimson Tide. Savage and Glier's book shows how Alabama made adjustments to the way the game would be played well ahead of their competition. It also includes insider nuggets, such as:

The fact that the seeds of the Alabama process go back 57 years to the Dallas Cowboys.

Coach Nick Saban's attention to detail and devotion to game-tape reviews (during a flight to the White House where his team would be honored, Saban continued to watch tapes of their opponents).

Saban's hands-on techniques in practice and how involved he is in teaching fundamentals.

Alabama's unique "non-offensive" touchdowns approach in 2017, as the team made a conscious effort to help its freshman quarterback by drilling on how to create turnovers.

Sewanee alumnus Phil Savage has provided color commentary for Alabama football games since 2009. He worked in the NFL as a coach, scout and executive for 20 years after beginning his career as a graduate assistant at Alabama.

He moved to the NFL as a defensive assistant for Nick Saban under Cleveland Browns' then-coach Bill Belichick. He became the general manager of the Browns and worked in the front office with the Baltimore Ravens and Philadelphia Eagles.

McIntosh to Deliver the 2017 DuBose Lectures

The annual DuBose Lectures will be held on Sept. 27 and 28, at the School of Theology. The Rev. Mark McIntosh, Endowed Chair of Christian Spirituality at Loyola University, Chicago, will lecture on "Green Trinity: Creation's Mending and Trinitarian Life in an Age of Environmental Crisis."

McIntosh's three lectures explore Christian theological and mystical traditions that affirm the Trinitarian origin and destiny of the created universe, its inherent goodness, and the human vocation towards our fellow creatures.

Lecture 1, Sept. 27, Guerry Auditorium, 9–10:30 a.m.—The Book of Creation: The Disenchantment of Nature and the Silencing of the Supernatural;

Lecture 2, Sept. 27, Guerry Auditorium, 2–3:30 p.m.—Deeper Magic: The Mind of God and the Mystical Life of Creation;

Lecture 3, Sept. 28, Guerry Auditorium, 9–10:30 a.m.—Everlasting Day: The Resurrection of Christ and the True Life of all Creatures.

The general public is welcome to attend the three lectures in their entirety or individually. There is no admittance fee or reservation required; however, meals and other events associated with the lectures are reserved for the School's alumni.

For additional details about the lectures and the lecturer, go to <<http://theology.sewanee.edu/seminary/academics/dubose-lectures-alumni-gathering/>>.

Seventh Annual Angel Fest

The seventh annual AngelFest will be Friday, Sept. 29, at Angel Park and throughout downtown Sewanee. Joseph's Remodeling Solutions is sponsoring the family fun and children's activities, beginning at 4:30 p.m.

The children's events will end at 7 p.m. New this year will be an Arts and Crafts market, and the local farmers' market.

LeRoux, a seven-piece band out of Baton Rouge that has been firing up crowds with their Cajun mix of blues, R&B, funk, jazz and rock, will take the stage at 7 p.m.; bring a chair or a blanket. There will be food and drink for purchase from local businesses.

The Reverse Raffle drawing, a chance to win up to $10,000, will be held during the event. Tickets for the raffle drawing, $100, are available from local businesses and online at <www.sewaneevillage.com/park/>. Proceeds benefit the Sewanee Angel Park and the Community Action Committee.

Student Essay Contest to Focus on Citizenship

The Tennessee Secretary of State's office is kicking off its second annual student essay contest to encourage students to be actively engaged citizens. The essays will focus on citizenship with length requirements varying by grade level.

Schools may submit two essays for kindergarten through second grade, third through fifth grade, sixth through eighth grade and ninth through 12th grade. All submissions can be submitted online now through Friday, Nov. 10.

Winners will receive a TNStars $29 College Savings Program scholarship and a trip to the State Capitol next spring. First place winners receive a $500 scholarship, with second and third place winners receiving $250 and $100 respectively.

"The essay contest was developed to encourage greater civics understanding in Tennessee's future leaders. I was encouraged by the quality of work from last year's students, and I am excited about this year's contest. We are proud to partner with educators from across our great state to offer these valuable resources," said Secretary of State Tre Hargett.

Last year's first-ever essay contest on voting garnered nearly 250 submissions from across the Volunteer State with top honors going to students in Madison, Moore, Shelby and Sumner counties.

The essay contest and last year's successful Student Mock Election are part of the office's civic engagement program.

The program also offers lesson plans based on the Tennessee Blue Book created by Tennessee teachers. The goal is to offer an easy way for teachers to incorporate civic engagement and citizenship into their curriculum.

'Anton in Show Business' Begins Oct. 6

Anton in Show Business is a madcap comedy which follows three actresses across the footlights, down the rabbit hole and into a strangely familiar wonderland that looks a lot like the American theatre. In the tradition of great backstage comedies, Anton conveys the joys, pains and absurdities of producing Chekhov's "The Three Sisters" in Texas.

Kalynn Harrington, Lydia Klaus and Kate Schumaker play the three actresses. They are joined by Marion Givhan, Alena Kochinski, Emily Riedlinger, Sarah Mixon, Will Burton-Edwards, Nick Govindan, Cameron Noel, Jonathan Herring, David Provost, Jack Riordan and Jim Crawford.

Anton In Show Business is directed by Peter Smith, with scenery designed by Elijah Brooks-Davis and Dan Backlund; costumes designed by Jennifer Matthews; and lighting designed by Liam Corley and Backlund. John Marshall is technical director, assisted by Chynna Bradford. Krystal Fowler is production stage manager. Admission is free and reservations are available at eventbrite.com

Sewanee Spoken Word is Sept. 26

In full swing of its fall season, Sewanee Spoken Word welcomes the community to the Blue Chair Cafe at 7 p.m. on Sept. 26.

The evening's roster begins with two of Spoken Word's favorite locals, David Landon and Christopher Bryan.

David, actor and retired theater professor for the University, will share a newly written story: "My Zebra Story: A Confession."

Chris, priest, editor, novelist and academic, could read from one of his DCI Cecilia Cavaliere novels, if the crowd is so fortunate.

Frequently, Rivendell residents will sign up for the roster, as well as favorite local wordsmiths and student poets.

The theme, Truth or Dare, seems fitting for the days just past the autumnal equinox, when life takes on a sense of both paradox and duality. The microphone is open for spontaneous readers and performers.

As is tradition, this event is open and free to the public. For more information visit Sewanee Spoken Word on Facebook.

The Dog Branch Cats to Perform

North Carolina string band the Dog Branch Cats will give a special performance at 5 p.m. on Thursday, Oct. 5, in Gailor Auditorium on the University of the South campus.

The Dog Branch Cats were originally formed in 1992 with fiddles, banjo, guitar, bass and banjo ukulele. The community is invited to hear the string band (with members Jan Davidson, Bob Dalsemer, Emelyn Liden, Chloe Davidson and Lindsey Liden) from Brasstown, N.C., play a mix of traditional mountain music.

Band member Jan Davidson will receive an honorary degree during the University's Founders' Day Convocation on Friday, Oct. 6. He is an accomplished writer, musician, speaker, and the recently retired longtime director of the John C. Campbell Folk School in Brasstown.

ANGELWITH AN ATTITUDE

by Virginia Craighill

Dear Angel,

The idea was thrown out in a recent “Town Hall” meeting at the University that in order to bring in more students, and thus more income, we might be considering some new majors and programs that seem pretty antithetical to the liberal arts vision, in my opinion. Some of the choices provided include cybersecurity ethics, a business major and social entrepreneurship. Can you tell me what dark path Sewanee might be heading down?

Signed,
Harry Humanities

Dear Human Harry,

An analogy could be made to current fashion trends: just because everyone else is wearing expensive torn-up jeans and the “cold-shoulder” peasant blouse this season doesn’t mean it looks good on you. This desire to tart up Sewanee’s curriculum with high-priced, au courant majors just to lure some full-pay students to our campus seems ill-considered. The business major, or the-program-that-shall-not-be-named, has been lurking around in the shadows for quite some time, and if the goal is to have better Lacrosse recruitment, then I say go for it!

However, any of these new majors would be a major financial drain—cybersecurity ethics professors don’t come cheap—and would dilute the already excellent departments for which Sewanee is well-known. If the administration really wants some hot new departments, they could be more creative. What about starting a School of Hospitality, complemented by a major in Global Club Management and Tourism? Why not consider a Department of Social Networking? And, if the school offers cybersecurity ethics, imagine the marketing bonanza of a cross-listed philosophy/computer science course titled “Ethical Hacking,” which sounds like something your cat does when it has a hairball.

It would be infinitely easier, not to mention more fiscally responsible, to simply incorporate some of these fun-sounding titles into courses we currently teach. A colleague is already working up a course on the American Business Novel, and it is not hard to imagine the popularity of a class entitled Nietzsche, Nihilism, and Philosophical Entrepreneurship. Perhaps Principles and Problems of Cybersecurity in Milton’s Paradise Lost?

A liberal arts education may not be trendy right now, but if we wait long enough and focus on our strengths, the humanities (not to mention humanity), like the peasant blouse or gaucho pants, will come back in style.

Angel

This is a real major at Florida State University. Here’s the description: “The private club and golf resort industries are experiencing tremendous international growth, creating a demand for leaders with business skills and knowledge to manage organizations in multi-cultural environments in the U.S. and abroad. If you are a business-minded individual with a passion for international travel, the Global Club Management and Leadership major at the Dedman School of Hospitality is your ticket to an exciting and successful career.”*

Dear Angel,

I went to check out the renovation of duPont library, and it is really slick! The big open space, the mod new furniture, and the user-friendly Learning Commons make me proud. But as I settled down to peruse my textbooks in this pleasant space, I began to feel a little uneasy. Upon further analysis, I realized my apprehension came from having dozens of portraits of big white men looking down at me as I studied. Is there anything to be done about their somewhat discomfiting presence?

Signed,
P.C. McJust

Dear P.C.,

I am sure the gallery of Vice-Chancellors and Chancellors in their puffy pirate shirts, starched white gowns, and lush velvet robes are only gazing down at you with Paternal Beneficence. Instead of feeling oppressed by the vision of so many powerful white males watching your every move, you should feel safe and protected, as if these well-dressed men have everything under control.

When asked about the portraits, one female student working in the library stated, “It’s just kind of what I’ve gotten used to at Sewanee.” So, get used to it! When queried about what they might like to see on the walls besides the Never-ending Procession of Patriarchs, some students suggested mirrors, Sewanee landscapes (but noted we already have plenty of those), or maybe hire a street portrait artist to sit outside the library and sketch pictures of people coming into duPont that could be changed out every day or so for variety.

On the other hand, if the homogeneous nature of the faces on the walls of duPont and elsewhere make you and possibly others uncomfortable, then maybe there are ways to diversify the artwork the way Sewanee is diversifying the college. It is a fact that the Vice-Chancellors and Chancellors have all been male and Caucasian, and they’ve earned their prominence, but there are others who’ve also made a mark on Sewanee who didn’t wear the ermine, say, for example, Willie Six, Sada Elliott, Ely Green, or Gertrude Kennerly. But if making portraits of people of different colors and genders takes too long, you may just have to ignore the Big Guys, stoke up on caffeine at the new cafe, and focus on your work.

In the meantime, be sure to note the four sketches of Frederick Douglass, who President Trump said “is getting recognized more and more,” hanging on the wall facing the library entrance. It’s nice to see that Douglass gets recognized at Sewanee, too.

SAS Mountain Bikers Race at Chickasaw

The St. Andrew's-Sewanee School varsity and middle school mountain biking teams competed in their first race of the Tennessee High School Cycling League's 2017 season on Sept. 9-10.

The competition was held on the Chickasaw Trace trail in Columbia, Tenn. The course featured tight turns, short uphill sections, a large roller drop and a fun log obstacle. There were 251 riders from Tennessee and Kentucky competing in gender- and grade-related categories.

SAS fielded its largest group in the history of the program, with 17 varsity and 10 middle school student-athletes competing. The team has student-athletes from countries all over the world, including Kenya, Rwanda, Vietnam, Germany and China.

Riley Burnette and Madeline Sumpter rode competitively in the middle school girls' race, with Burnette earning third place. Gus Croom fought for seventh place in the boys eighth grade race. Eli Thompson and Jon Mark Wert also rode well in the eighth grade group.

Five SAS riders competed in the boys' seventh grade race. Dylan Kinningham, Caleb Palmertree and Spears Askew finished only seconds apart in their sprint to the finish line, with Alex Waldrup and Luca Malde finishing close behind.

In high school races, Matthew Mol-lica earned a third-place spot on the podium in the varsity boys' race, while Aidan Smith posted an eighth-place finish out of 43 riders in the highly competitive junior varsity boys' race. Zhaoqi Zhang, Jack Gu and first-time racer Ivan Akiri also competed well in the JV boys' category.

SAS had six riders in the sophomore boys' category, with Evan Fox and Gabriel Pongdee riding hard early in the season.

First-time racers Michael Chen, Gabriel Bartolome and Huy Cao showed grit and determination in completing their laps in the sophomore boys race. Zolon Knoll led SAS riders in the freshman boys' race, finishing the race in 13th place.

Jason Rwalinda and first-time racers Oscar Jing and Gus Goldsmith also worked hard to complete their laps in the freshman boys' race. Emma Diamond and Luciana Mollica participated in the sophomore and freshman girls' categories, respectively.

Coaches Speed Baranco and Beth Pride Ford are proud of all the SAS athletes for their effort, enthusiasm and positive attitudes. They also appreciate volunteer coaches Rob Bachman, Michael Short, John Fox, Pete Mollica, Jill Mollica and Robin Mainzer for their time and effort spent training with the team.

They also are appreciative of SAS families for providing race day support for the team and the Tennessee High School Cycling League.

The next mountain biking race will be at Lock 4, Saturday, Sept. 23, in Gallatin, Tenn.

Sewanee Football Defeats Kangaroos in Texas

The Sewanee Tigers football team deowned Austin College, 29-17, on Sept. 16 at Apple Stadium in Sherman, Texas, to open Southern Athletic Association (SAA) play.

After Austin College punted the ball to start the game, Sewanee started the contest from their own 38 yard line. After a 28-yard pass from Alex Darras to Warren Holland to get the ball in Kangaroo territory, Austin's defense held their ground and forced the Tigers to make a decision at the Kangaroos' 34-yard-line. Michael Jacobs attempted a 51-yard field goal, but he was unable to split the uprights as the ball went wide right.

Austin College (2-1, 0-1) then charged down the field and recorded the first score of the contest on a Drew Bicknell two-yard touchdown run.

After a Tigers (2-1, 1-0) punt on their next possession, the Purple and Gold brought out their tough defense from Week 1 when they recorded five interceptions. Freshman William Phillips earned his second pick of the year with a 34-yard return to the Austin 41.

After Cyrus McCullough caught a 35-yard pass to the six from Darras, Warren Holland punched it in for the score to make it 7-6 in favor of the home team.

Jacobs' point-after-attempt was blocked, and Austin College's TJ Melontree ran the ball all the way back for

SAS Middle School Soccer Earns Draw, Falls to Huntland

On Sept. 19, the St. Andrew's-Sewanee middle school soccer team tenaciously fought Community Middle School to a 0-0 draw.

Community outshot SAS, 21-1, but The Mountain Lions resisted the attack. SAS's goalkeeper Lakin Laurendine earned 13 saves and strong play was seen from center back Sophia Carlos. The Mountain Lions moved to 3-2-1 on the season.

"We battled hard and fought to the end," said coach Margot Burns.

On Sept. 15, the team lost to Huntland middle school, 4-0. The Hornets scored two goals in each half. Despite the loss, strong play was seen from Laurendine, who racked up 10 saves, and from forward Lauren Cecilia Schutz who worked hard to pressure the Huntland back line.

Sewanee Volleyball Players Honored

The Southern Athletic Association (SAA) on Sept. 18 named Sewanee volleyball players Destiny Stewart (offensive) and Peyton Parent (defensive) as SAA Players of the Week.

Men's Golf Team Plays at Tunica

The 25th-ranked Sewanee Men's Golf team competed in their second tournament in the 2017-18 season, and for the second straight week, the Purple and Gold finished in the top 5 with a fifth place finish at the Rhodes College Fall Classic at Tunica National.

The 19-team, 99-player tournament was designed as a three-round, two-day event, with the first and second rounds on Sunday and the final round on Monday.

As a team, the Tigers finished 16-over-par, 880, but Sewanee totaled the third-lowest score in the final round, posting a 289, two strokes behind eventual champion Emory, and six strokes behind UT Tyler.

Sophomore Gray Matthews led Sewanee with a tie for 17th place, firing a total two-over-par, 218.

Tigers Turn Back Agnes Scott, 4-1

Three different Tigers scored on Sept. 16 at Puett Field, as Sewanee's women's soccer team defeated the Agnes Scott Scotties, 4-1.

Sewanee would score right out of the gate off a corner kick; Dayla LaRocque netted her first goal of the season in the second minute.

The Purple and Gold (2-3-1) found the net again in the 18th minute, as Walker Poe, who netted the game winner against Covenant on Sept. 13, netted her second goal of the 2017 season off a LaRocque assist.

Agnes Scott (0-5-1) broke the shutout late in the first half with a 41st-minute goal from Jasmine Young to make the score 2-1 headed into halftime.

Elizabeth "Clay" McKnight netted two goals in the second half, one in the 63rd minute off a Mary "Sissy" Frank assist and the other in the 83rd minute.

Overall, the Tigers took 12 shots, nine on goal, both season highs, and the Purple and Gold outshot the Scotties 12-1.

Samantha Bourgeois (2-3-1) earned the win in goal for Sewanee.

Sewanee Women's Golf Finishes 10th

The Sewanee women's golf team competed at the NCAA Division III Fall Preview at the El Campeon Golf Course in Howey-in-the-Hills, Fla., where the Tigers finished 10th at the event.

Sewanee's Meghan Symonds had a fantastic second round at the event. Finishing in a tie for 16th with an 80 in the opening round, the Cary, N.C., native jumped eight spots in the final round with a 74, which was the second-lowest score in the round. The junior finished eight-over-par, 154, to finish eighth overall out of 77 golfers.

a safety to make it 9-6.

With 11:26 left in the first half, Sewanee had a quick possession thanks to a lost fumble by Sam Hearn. It was recovered by Austin's Mason Binder at the Tigers' 48 yard line.

The Kangaroos used a nine-play drive that took 3:42 off the clock, but at the Sewanee 17, the Tigers picked off the opposing quarterback again, this time, John Cleveland caught the pass in the endzone and ran it 31 yards.

After that, each team was forced to punt the football, and the Tigers had the ball with 3:09 left in the half looking to strike before intermission. Darras used a 26-yard rush, followed by a 19-yard pass to Calid Shorter and Allan Puri's 23-yard touchdown reception to give the Purple and Gold the lead for good, 13-9, as the teams headed into the locker room.

Sewanee started the second half with the ball, and they cashed it in effectively. The Purple and Gold used a 10-play, 75-yard drive, capped by a Holland one-yard touchdown run to make it 20-9 with 11:24 remaining in the third stanza.

Austin would respond on their next possession, using a 46-yard field goal by Cesar Ruiz to make it a one-score contest, 20-12, with 8:19 left in the third.

On the next drive, the Kangaroos defense recorded a fumble, and their offense turned it into points. With Austin starting at the Sewanee 26 yard line, the Tigers defense held tough, including three stops near their own goal line.

With a fourth and goal play, the Kanagaros played it safe and Ruiz chipped in an 18-yard field goal to make it a five-point Sewanee lead with 3:11 left in the third.

On the next possession, the Tigers were able to get the lead back to eight points thanks to a 27-yard field goal by Jacobs. The Tigers led 23-15 heading into the fourth quarter.

With 10:39 left in the game, after a Wesley Porter interception, the Tigers played fourth quarter offense, going on a 15-play, 72-yard drive that took over five minutes off the clock. The drive led to a touchdown by Holland, but Jacobs' point-after-attempt was blocked again and returned by Austin College for another safety. However, it would not be enough as the Tigers outlasted the Kangaroos 29-17.

Darras, who spent most of the playing time at quarterback for Sewanee, went 15-for-23 for 215 yards and a touchdown. He also ran the ball eight times for 33 yards.

Puri, Holland and Micah Maes each caught three of Darras' passes, with Puri leading the way with 63 receiving yards and a score.

Holland led the running game for Sewanee, carrying the ball 24 times for 92 yards and three touchdowns.

Glenn Ireland, Cleveland and Porter each picked off the Austin College quarterbacks once, while Phillips found the football twice in the secondary.

Pierce Johnson recorded a game-high 12 tackles.

Tristan Fuller also helped Johnson on the sack, while Elijah Brooks-Davis and Jared Lyons each recorded a sack in the win.

As a team, the Tigers mustered 400 yards of total offense, 160 on the ground, to the Kangaroos 174 total, 55 on the ground.

With the win, the Purple and Gold now trail Austin College in the season series, 14-12, winning the last three meetings.

In Week 1, the Tigers snapped a 19-game overall losing streak, but with the win over Austin College they ended a 17-game SAA losing streak. Their last win in conference play came on Nov. 8, 2014, when Sewanee defeated Berry 31-26.

The Tigers wrap up their three-game road swing with a trip to Jackson, Miss., to take on Millsaps, Saturday, Sept. 23. Kickoff is scheduled for 1 p.m. from Harper-Davis Field.

Dogwood tree.

Early Fall Color

Driving along the road toward Jump Off, some early fall color is quite evident, as it must be elsewhere. The earliest trees to show red are usually dogwoods, black gums, and sourwoods, with the occasional sweet gum. The color highlights them amidst the general greenery, bringing them to our notice, and perhaps to the notice of birds that eat and then disperse their fruits, at least in the case of dogwoods. Each of these trees has been used in particular ways. Dogwood was used to make shuttles in the textile industry, as well as heads of golf clubs, handles of chisels, and other items that need to stand up to sudden shock. Black gum trunks often become hollow and these hollow trees were felled and sawed into sections to use as beehives, hence the name bee-gums for hives. Sourwood, of course, is known for its honey, made perhaps in the bee-gums?

The dogwoods were showing color at least a month earlier last summer and they usually start to change a couple of weeks earlier than they did this year. This could possibly be due to the very dry summer last year and the much wetter summer this year. The Yeatmans in past years have offered in this column the best explanation I know as to what causes fall colors—carotenoids and xanthophylls from orange and yellow pigments always present in the leaves that are exposed when the green chlorophyll decreases, combined with reds and purples from anthocyanins caused by chemical reactions with sugars in the leaves. Also, tannins, especially in oaks, show as brown. However, there seems to be little agreement on how temperature, rainfall, and other factors combine in any one year either to bring us a brilliant or a drab fall.

Volunteers Needed to Finish Two New Trails

Ranger Jason Reynolds is leading a volunteer team building an incredible new trail in the recently-acquired Sherwood Forest area of the park. The trailhead for this new 3-mile loop trail, featuring panoramic bluff views of Lost Cove and surrounding areas, will be off Old CCC Road, south of Sewanee on Jumpoff Road. Ranger Jason will be working on the Sherwood trail each weekday starting at 9 a.m., with a goal of completing the loop in time for the Oct. 20 dedication of Sherwood Forest.

Denny Cove, the newest area of the park, is now officially open (weekends only, until the trail build is complete!). Help us complete the 1.5-mile main access trail out to Denny Falls, so this area of the park can be open on a daily basis. We need volunteers to help Ranger John Ball get the job done. Trail work will primarily be moderate to strenuous and will involve working on loose/uneven ground. Meet at 9 a.m., every Saturday, at the Denny Cove parking area. Look for a gravel road with a small brown park sign and bar gate, across from the Foster Falls Volunteer Fire Department on US 41, about 1.5 miles south of Foster Falls. Follow the gravel road about 3/4 of a mile to the Denny Cove parking area, on your right. The trailhead is at the far corner of the parking area, opposite where you drove in. Learn more about Denny Cove <<http://www.friendsofsouthcumberland.org/denny-cove-acquired.html>> or call the Park office at (931) 924-2980 if you have questions about this opportunity.

If you would like to volunteer to help get either of these trails built, please visit the Volunteer Opportunities page of the Friends' website <<http://www.friendsofsouthcumberland.org>>.

BARDTOVERSE

by Phoebe Bates

Autumn Equinox, Sept. 22, 2017

Now watch this autumn that arrives
In smells. All looks like sumer still;
Colours are quite unchanged, the air
On green and white serenely thrives.
Heavy the trees with growth and full
The fields. Flowers flourish everywhere.

But I am carried back against My will into childhood where
Autumn is bonfires, marbles, smoke;
I lean against my window fenced
From evocations in the air.
When I said autumn, autumn broke.

—Elizabeth Jennings,
Song at the Beginning of Autumn
