Sewanee Film and Discussion: A Response to “Islamophobia”

The award-winning documentary “Divided We Fall: Americans in the Aftermath” will be shown in Sewanee on Tuesday, Sept. 28, at 7 p.m. in Hargrove Auditorium at the School of Theology, followed by a discussion. Admission is free, and the public is invited to attend.

Screening of the film is part of the national grass-roots response to anti-Muslim rhetoric and violence. “Divided We Fall,” the first feature-length documentary on hate violence following the events of Sept. 11, 2001, is being shown throughout the country as a catalyst for community dialogue following a recent wave of hate speech and unlawful actions against Muslims in the United States.

Recent controversy over the construction of an Islamic community center in lower Manhattan, two blocks from Ground Zero, has sparked violence against Muslim communities. On Aug. 28, arson destroyed equipment at the construction site of a mosque in Murfreesboro, Tenn. Muslim-American residents had received county permission to build a community center and mosque to replace the one where they have worshipped for 29 years.

In response to events in Murfreesboro and the larger context of “Islamophobia,” the Cumberland Center for Justice and Peace and the School of Theology are hosting the film’s (continued on page 8)

Vice-Chancellor Installation to Highlight Founders’ Day Celebration

The formal installation of John M. McCardell Jr. as 16th vice-chancellor and president of the University of the South will be held on Tuesday, Oct. 12, during the annual Founders’ Day Convocation in All Saints’ Chapel, beginning at 12:30 p.m.

The convocation is the centerpiece of a series of events in October celebrating McCardell’s installation and will include the convocation address by McCardell; the awarding of honorary degrees to the Most Rev. John Sentamu, archbishop of York, and Emory Thomas, Regents Professor of History emeritus at the University of Georgia and the father of John Thomas, headmaster of St. Andrews’-Sewanee School; and the conferral of gowns on new members of the Order of Gownsmen, the University’s society recognizing outstanding academic achievement.

A highlight of the convocation will be the procession of delegates representing colleges and universities from around the country and the world.

With the theme “Cornerstone for Tomorrow,” the installation events include academic, cultural and social opportunities for the University and broader communities. These include the commemoration (150 years to the day) of the laying of the original cornerstone, which will take place on Louisiana Circle, site of the original University cornerstone, on Sunday, Oct. 10, at 10 a.m. Attendees will then process to All Saints’ Chapel for the 11 a.m. Holy Eucharist service.

The week’s formal events conclude with the dedication of Snowden Hall on Wednesday, Oct. 13, at noon. Snowden Hall has served as the home of the forestry and geology departments since 1962, and an extensive renovation and expansion was completed in time for the 2010–11 academic year.

For information and the calendar of events visit <www.sewanee.edu>.

Federal Reserve Head to Speak on Economy, Monetary Policy

Dennis P. Lockhart, president and chief executive officer of the Federal Reserve Bank of Atlanta, will speak at 4:30 p.m. on Tuesday, Sept. 28, in Convocation Hall on the University campus. The public is invited to Lockhart’s talk, “Sizing up the U.S. Economy and Monetary Policy”

Community Council Meets Monday

The next meeting of the Sewanee Community Council is scheduled for Monday, September 27, at 7 p.m. in the Sewanee Senior Citizens’ Center. Items on the agenda include: 1) Approval of the August minutes; 2) Leaseholders Association follow-up, submitted by Jerry Forster, University chief operating officer; 3) Proposed new location for the Duck River Electric building, submitted by Jerry Forster; 4) Federal Aviation Administration mandated clearing at the airport follow-up, submitted by David Coe, Community Council representative; 5) Unsightly entrance to the campus from Cowan, submitted by representative Pamela Byerly; 6) Creation of a dog park in Sewanee, submitted by representative Phil White; 7) Deer Cull, submitted by Marvin Pate, University sustainability coordinator, and Nate Wilson, Domain management manager; 8) Upcoming elections status update, submitted by representative Dennis Meeks; 9) Announcements.

Two representatives from Duck River Electric—Lee Pettes, area manager for Sewanee, and Bill Elliott, district manager, will be present to answer questions. Community Council meetings are open to the public.

Sewanee Police, EMS Emergency Response Exercises Friday

The University’s Police Department and Emergency Medical Services will hold a joint exercise on Friday, Sept. 24, beginning at 2 p.m. in Cravens Hall on Kentucky Ave.

Police Chief Robert White reports that some 40 police officers and EMTs will practice a series of emergency response techniques both inside and outside Cravens Hall. Ambulance and police cars used in the joint exercises will be in the area.

SUD Meeting Changed to Oct. 5

The Sewanee Utility District Board of Commissioners will meet in regular session at 5 p.m. on Tuesday, Oct. 5, rescheduled from their regularly scheduled Sept. 23 date. The meeting will be held in the utility office on 150 Sherwood Rd. The agenda will be posted on the utility website <www.sewaneutility.org>. The public is invited.

Campaign Underway to Protect Fiery Gizzard Area

The Land Trust for Tennessee and The Conservation Fund, with support from the Friends of South Cumberland State Park, have announced the Fiery Gizzard Project, a campaign to protect approximately 6,200 acres of high conservation value forest on the South Cumberland Plateau in Marion and Grundy counties. Upon completion, the campaign will cap a multiyear effort to raise $8.1 million to protect the property, half of which has been committed by the state of Tennessee through the State Lands Acquisition Fund and federal grants.

The land links together nearly 10,000 acres of forest land between Grundy Forest State Natural Area and TVA’s Foster Falls Small Wild Area. Under Gov. Phil Bredesen’s leadership, the state’s investment will purchase approximately 2,900 acres to be incorporated into the South Cumberland State Park system; the other half will be protected through a working forest conservation easement and remain privately owned.

The Fiery Gizzard area has been an urgent priority for protection within the conservation community for several decades. In addition to its exceptional biological diversity, Fiery Gizzard provides incomparable recreational opportunities while serving as an important resource for water quality protection and the local forest products industry.

The Fiery Gizzard trail system is managed by the state of Tennessee as part of South Cumberland State Park, an area visited by more than one million people each year. The trail (continued on page 6)

Upcoming Discussions on Food: How, Then, Shall We Eat?

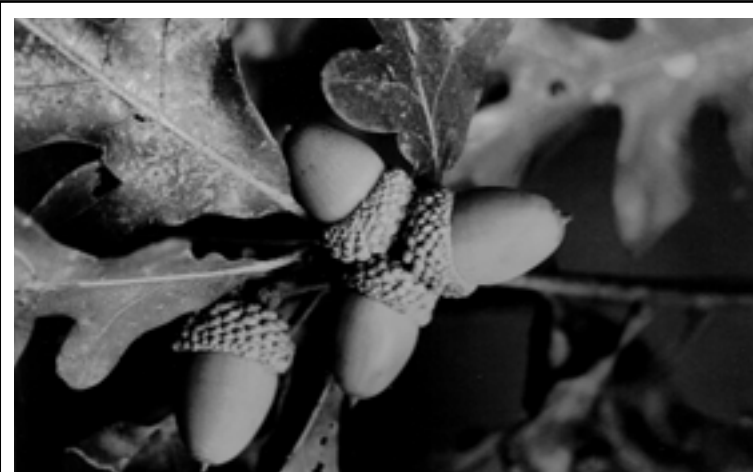

Two upcoming panel discussions on the Sewanee campus will address the question: “How, then, shall we eat?” Panelists will share their thoughts about the future of food in our region and explore how the University might connect to the regional food economy. Both panels will be held at 7 p.m. in Convocation Hall; the first on Thursday, Sept. 23, and the second on Thursday, Oct. 7. The community is invited to attend.

Sept. 23 panelists for “Campus Dining and Local Food” include Rick Wright, executive chef at McClurg dining hall; Ansley Wilder, food service director for Aramark at Sewanee; Andrew Bird, Dixie Produce; Christi Teasley, St. Andrew’s-Sewanee School; and Jess Wilson, manager of Cumberland Farmer’s Market.

Oct. 7 panelists for “The Regional Food Economy” are Jeff Pfitzer, director of the Gaining Ground initiative of the Benwood Foundation; Laura Willis, director of the Community Action Committee; Steve Ford, agricultural economist and farmer; and Bill Keener, C’83, Sequatchie Cove Farm.

The panel discussions are sponsored by the University’s Living and Learning Communities; the Food Working Group of the Sustainability Steering Committee; the “How, then, shall we live?” speaker series; and the Office of the Dean of Students; with special thanks to Chelsea Askew. The discussions will complement the University’s summer reading assignment, “The Omnivore’s Dilemma.”

CIVIC ASSOCIATION SUCCESSFULLY BEGINS NEW YEAR To the Editor:

I wish to thank everyone who joined us at our first Sewanee Civic Association meeting as we welcomed John and Bonnie McCardell to our community. If Sept. 7 was any indication, the new format and flexible meeting schedule now in place for this fine historic group is working well. Extremely well! I wish to encourage all community members to join us in November as we socialize and dine together, approve the Community Chest budget, and welcome Joe Weigand as our guest presenter. I especially urge those organizations who receive Community Chest funding to join the Civic Association—we welcomed five out of 22 in September and hope to see more of you among our ranks this year. If every organization joins the association, our new format will remain secure. We do have one change from the very accurate report in last week's Messenger—our next meeting on Wednesday, Nov. 17, will again be held in the Sewanee Inn, beginning at 6:30 p.m. A fabulous dinner, with complimentary wine, is served for $10 per person and may be paid for at the door. With many thanks to all,

Elizabeth Duncan
Co-president,

HELP GLENN MCBEE FUND To the Editor:

A "Help Glenn McBee" fund has been opened at Regions Bank [Ed. note: This fund is sponsored by McBee's family and friends]. This account has been opened to help with Glenn's medical expenses. Glenn is a resident of the Jump-off community, and he does his own dialysis four times each day. He is the single father of two grown sons. His younger son, Brett, lives with his dad and helps with Glenn's care. His older son, Chris, lives in Winchester with his wife, Keri, and son, Gavin.

Glenn was born and raised in Sherwood. His father and mother are the late Leonard and Linnie McBee. He has brothers, George McBee of Jasper, Tenn., and Bobby McBee of Stevenson, Ala.; and sisters, Betty Sue Rollins of Midway and Mary Lou McCarver and Carlyne Garner, both of Sherwood.

A benefit for Glenn is planned for Oct. 23 at the American Legion Hall in Sewanee. Everyone is invited to attend. If you wish to donate to the fund to help Glenn you can do so at Regions Bank. Every dollar will help. For information call 598-5238 or 691-0811.

THE CONCEPT OF HUMAN RIGHTS To the Editor:

This is an open letter to all you old-time Sewanee residents, most of whom know me, and to all of you newcomers who don't. It is offered as one man's opinion—mine—and I invite your responses, both personal and public.

Now that Labor Day has passed, we have entered the season of football and politics. Since the former is too controversial, let me just address the latter. The preamble to our Constitution begins with the words, "We the people of the United States of America." Having myself been born back in the first half of the last century, I have witnessed decade after decade after decade in which politicians and some preachers have managed successfully to fractionalize "We the people..." into splinter groups. The result of this process is that we have all been made into artificial minorities of one kind or another! (You may belong to more than one of them; in fact I belong to several and if you really think about it, you probably do, too. Even in the Sewanee community, PhDs, blue eyes, natural red hair and B+ blood types are four different types of minorities.) Using our differences, they pit us one against the other into this voting block or that voting block. I have witnessed skilled, unskilled and agricultural workers fighting for living wages and

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR:

Mail your letter to the Sewanee Mountain MESSENGER, P.O. Box 296, Sewanee TN 37375, or come by our office, 418 St. Mary's Ln., or send your e-mail to <news_messgr@bellsouth.net>. Please include your name, address and daytime telephone number. Preference is given to letters under 250 words. Unsigned letters will not be used. Letters are edited for space and clarity.

safe working conditions; blacks fighting for equal rights; women fighting for equal rights; Hispanics fighting for equal rights; gays fighting for equal rights; et al.

It is my belief that every citizen of the United States of America belongs to just one family and that is the human race! Thus, does it not all boil down to human rights? And is this just not a shorter way of stating the Golden Rule? "Do unto others as you would have them do unto you." An acceptance of this premise not only grants us all the rights to "life, liberty, and the pursuit of happiness," but also demands of us the equal consideration of others and their rights.

Only when we as a society, as "We the people..." embrace this concept, will we truly be a nation "with liberty and justice for all!" Only when we embrace this worldwide, will we reach or at least approach "true peace with justice!"

VOTE FOR DEMOCRATS IN NOVEMBER To the Editor:

It is hard for a progressive Democrat to get fired up to vote for our U.S. Representative, Lincoln Davis. However, imagine if he loses, and Republicans control the House and John Boehner is the one setting the agenda. By many people's reckoning, Lincoln Davis has not earned that D by his name, but it's that D that gives Democrats the majority that allows them to chair the committees and set the legislative agenda to make life a little easier for working and middle class folks.

Furthermore, we have no one but ourselves to blame if we don't have a "real" Democrat to vote for since, obviously, no one stepped up to fund and sponsor a more progressive candidate to oppose Davis in the primaries. If not us, then who? So, I'm urging all Democrats to PLEASE get out and vote in November. You aren't just voting for a man. You are voting

Serving Where Called

Seven years ago this column began to support the large number of reservists and National Guard members called up for active duty to serve in the war in Iraq. About 50,000 troops remain in Iraq to support and train their military and assist with counterterrorism.

On Dec. 1, 2009, President Barack Obama announced he was sending additional troops to Afghanistan to focus on reversing the Taliban's momentum. Today thousands of our troops are deployed in this volatile area.

This is a reminder that someone else is standing guard and facing fire for us. Please keep the following individuals, their families and all those who fight for freedom in your prayers:

Morning Yoga Resumes

Morning Yoga classes will start at the Sewanee Community Center on Sept. 28. The classes will be held on Tuesday and Friday from 8:30 to 10 a.m. These classes are appropriate for students of all levels of experience. The style of yoga taught is an eclectic mix of Yin Yoga, Slow Vinyasa Flow and Iyengar inspired static poses. The aim of the classes is to improve joint mobility, muscle flexibility, balance, strength and general energy level.

The classes are taught by Carolyn Fitz. She is a 230-hour certified Hatha Yoga instructor through the Asheville Yoga Center and is a member of Yoga Alliance. She has completed a 100-hour training program in Yin Yoga with Paul Grilley and has recently studied Insight Yoga 101 with Sarah Powers. For information call Fitz at 598-0597.

Animal Care Center and Animal Harbor: Partners in Rabies Prevention

Animal Care Center and Animal Harbor will be promoting rabies prevention awareness and education by celebrating World Rabies Day on Tuesday, Sept. 28. Rabies shots will cost only $5 at the rabies vaccination clinic to be held at Animal Harbor that day from 10 a.m. to 7 p.m. Animal Harbor is located at the corner of Highway 64 and Walnut Grove Rd., Belvidere.

Despite being 100 percent preventable, it is estimated that 55,000 people die worldwide from rabies each year—approximately one person every 10 minutes. World Rabies Day is a global rabies awareness campaign organized by the charity, Alliance for Rabies Control, and the U.S. Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC). Events are planned throughout the world to increase awareness about rabies, and to raise support and funding towards its prevention and control.

Animal Care Center and Animal Harbor will join the list of international partners that are working together to educate the public about the dangers of rabies to people, pets and wildlife.

For information visit <www.accvets.net> and <www.worldrabiesday.org> or call Amanda Curty at the Animal Care Center (931) 967-6345.

Starbird to Deliver Sherwood Ebey Lecture on "The Fourth Dimension"

The annual Sherwood Ebey Mathematics Lecture will be given on Monday, Sept. 27, at 7:30 p.m. in Gailor Auditorium. Michael Starbird of the University of Texas at Austin will speak on "The Fourth Dimension." The public is cordially invited, and a reception will follow.

The fourth dimension conjures eerie, mysterious associations—untying knots, stealing gold bricks from closed iron safes and unfolding hypercubes are all part of the journey. We are transported to this abstract domain by a powerful method of creating ideas, namely, thinking insightfully about the world we know well. The key to exploring complex and mysterious events, illustrated by the fourth dimension, is a deep understanding of simple, familiar concepts.

Starbird is professor of mathematics and a Distinguished Teaching Professor at the University of Texas at Austin. He earned a bachelor's degree from Pomona College and a doctorate in mathematics from the University of Wisconsin, Madison. Starbird joined the department of mathematics at UT, where he has stayed except for leaves as a visiting member of the Institute for Advanced Study in Princeton, N.J.; a visiting associate professor at the University of California, San Diego; and a member of the technical staff at the Jet Propulsion Laboratory in Pasadena, Calif.

This annual lecture was founded by Sherwood Ebey, professor emeritus, as a gift to the entire Sewanee community with the goal of presenting mathematically sound ideas in a manner that makes them accessible to a general audience.

The 10 a.m. Bible Study is a continuation of a study on "The Life of Christ." To obtain a CD of sermons, call Hamilton at 454-2196 or listen to his radio program on Sunday mornings at 7:30 on FM 94.5, AM 1440 or online at <wzyxradio.com>.

Visitors are welcome. The Midway Church of Christ is located on 151 Otter Falls Rd., Sewanee.

Growing in Grace Welcomes Moon

Growing in Grace will be held in All Saints' Chapel on Sunday, Sept. 26, at 6:30 p.m.

This week's speaker is Abi Moon, a senior in the School of Theology. She is an alumna of the University, class of 1997. Prior to returning to Sewanee for a master of divinity degree, Moon worked in youth ministry in Augusta, Ga., and Spartanburg, S.C., taught middle school geography in Miami, and was a Peace Corps volunteer in Guinea, West Africa. When she is not studying in the library, Moon loves to go for runs, dabble in photography and watch movies with her husband, Rob. This Sunday she will speak about the Gospel from Luke 16:19-31, and what that means "If we are the Body of Christ ..."

Growing in Grace is an informal Eucharist with acoustic guitar and drum music with refreshments following the service. Everyone is welcome. For information contact Catherine Outten, lay chaplain, at 598-1251 or the chaplain's office at 598-1274.

This Sunday at Otey Parish

Everyone is welcome to join the congregation on the 18th Sunday after Pentecost to celebrate the Holy Eucharist, Rite II, at 8:50 and 11 a.m. Between services at 10 a.m., everyone is encouraged to join a Christian formation class for fun, fellowship and learning.

Otey Parish offers Christian formation classes for youth preschool through high school age. This week the Adult Forum in the parish hall presents the second of a two-part series, "Islam Through the Eyes of Two Muslim Women," a discussion with Sabina Mohyuddin and her sister-in-law, Tasneem Ahmed. Adults may also choose to attend the Lectionary Class, which meets in Brooks Hall Parlor and will explore this week's Gospel lesson: Luke 16:19-31, the Parable of the Rich Man and Lazarus.

Everyone is welcome and encouraged to attend Otey Parish. Nursery care is available each week from 8:30 a.m. until 12:30 p.m. Coffee hour follows the second service each week. Questions: Robin Reed (636-0010).

Community Action Committee Seeks New Director

The Community Action Committee, an outreach of Otey Memorial Parish Church, is seeking a part-time director. For more than 35 years, CAC has provided food, financial assistance, and counseling to residents of the greater Sewanee community. CAC is supported by generous contributions from Otey Parish, the Sewanee Community Chest, the University of the South and from many individuals and groups across the region.

Interested persons must complete an application form by Oct. 7, 2010. The application form and job description are available at the parish office or by sending an e-mail request to <otey.parish@bellsouth.net>.

Native American Prayer Retreat

You are invited to join earth teachers Tal Quetzal and Flying Red Horse in a retreat at Rivendell Friday-Sunday, Oct. 15-17, beginning Friday at 7 p.m. and ending Sunday at noon. Rivendell is located on Natural Bridge Rd.

This is the third season Tal Quetzal and Flying Red Horse have visited the Mountain. The focus of this retreat is the Red Lodge of Autumn and a different understanding of prayer, learning what it is to pray to the Mother Earth and life in a more natural way.

An ordained student of Zen and formerly ordained priest, Billy Flying Red Horse Starnes is a student of Hymeyohsts Storm and author of "Seven Arrows and Lightning Bolt."

Accommodations and meals are included in the price of $250 for the weekend. Call Joan Thomas at 598-0535 for more information or to register.

An Invitation to Join a Bible Study

A Bible Study Group is being formed by the Cowan Fellowship Church for its members and anyone else in the community who would like to participate in a study titled "Good News for All: The Gospel of Luke," a study of the Gospel of Luke, chapters 1-11.

The study group will meet from 6:30 to 8 p.m. on the seven Thursday evenings from October 7 to November 18, meeting at the Fellowship Church, located on East Cumberland Street in Cowan. There are plans to complete the study of Luke's Gospel with seven sessions during Lent in the Spring.

The study leader will be Sherwood Ebey, who is a Commissioned Lay Pastor in the Presbyterian Church and a retired professor of the University of the South.

If you wish to accept this invitation to participate in the Thursday evening Bible Study Group, please contact Sherwood Ebey (at 598-5883 or <sebey@cafes.net>) so you can obtain a copy of the study book which will be used.

Brosend Named Acting Director of Episcopal Preaching Foundation

The Rev. William Brosend, associate professor of homiletics at the School of Theology, has been named acting director of The Episcopal Preaching Foundation (TEPF). Brosend will remain a full-time member of the School of Theology faculty.

As a member of the foundation's board since 2007, Brosend has helped lead the expansion of its work to include national and diocesan conferences for clergy, and has served on the faculty of the foundation's annual Preaching Excellence Program (PEP) for seminarians.

TEPF is an independent foundation formed in 1981 to improve and enhance preaching in the Episcopal Church. In addition to the PEP, the foundation provides resources and encouragement to preachers at all levels throughout the church.

Brosend's appointment was effective Sept. 1, 2010, and comes after the departure of the Rev. Michael Morgan as the foundation's executive director. The newly created acting program director position will aid the transition after Morgan's departure.

A priest of the Episcopal Diocese of Kentucky, Brosend was ordained in 2005, following more than 20 years of ordained ministry in the American Baptist Churches. Brosend earned a B.A. from Denison University, an M.Div. from Vanderbilt Divinity School and a Ph.D. from The University of Chicago. He is the author and co-author of five books, most recently "The Preaching of Jesus" (Westminster John Knox Press, 2010), and contributed articles, chapters and essays for The Christian Century, Interpretation, and the New Interpreters Bible Dictionary, among many others. He serves on the editorial board of the new "Feasting on the Gospels" series.

The Very Rev. William Stafford, dean of the School of Theology, enthusiastically endorsed Brosend's appointment. "Nothing is more important in the church's life than profound and effective preaching of the Gospel," he said. "Developing sound preaching skills is a top priority for the School of Theology. That is why Dr. Brosend, a full-time New Testament scholar devoting himself to building up the church's preaching, is at the heart of our faculty. Our students have benefited from their work with PEP. That is why we welcome the opportunity to share in the wider mission of The Episcopal Preaching Foundation through this extension of Dr. Brosend's leadership."

Island Ecology Program Marks 25 Years

The University's Island Ecology Program celebrates its 25th session in the summer of 2011, marked by both change and continuity. Professors Tim Keith-Lucas and Bran Potter (pictured at right with students)—the two original faculty members in the program—will teach in it again this year, along with Martin Knoll, Ken Smith and Kirk Zigler. Four visiting faculty members and one staff person will assist them.

In summer 2012, following Keith-Lucas's retirement, program co-directors will be professors Ken Smith (forestry and geology) and Kirk Zigler (biology).

The interdisciplinary summer field school is held on St. Catherine's Island, an undeveloped barrier island off the coast of Georgia, where the University has use of a new laboratory and classroom built by the St. Catherine's Island Foundation. Almost 250 Sewanee students have completed the program, which has four sections: geology/hydrology; plant communities; invertebrate and marine zoology; and wildlife ecology. The program is open to students from all academic majors and interests, and successful participants have included majors in subjects as diverse as philosophy, theater, chemistry and political science.

Students in the program engage in short research projects and come to understand how the ecology of the island functions from the perspective of each academic discipline. The experience emphasizes the interdependence of the various disciplines by exploring how the fragile ecosystem of the island functions. The long history of short studies means that several have been published as longitudinal studies by students who have updated earlier work.

For a closer look at the Island Ecology Program, go to <www.sewanee.edu/magazine/Fall2006?id=15578>.

system is approximately 17 miles long and is one of the top hiking trails in the nation, according to Backpacker magazine. With more than 250,000 visitors annually, Fiery Gizzard is essential to the tourism economy in the South Cumberland region.

The Fiery Gizzard Project total cost is $8.1 million. The project is the Tennessee Department of Environment and Conservation's highest priority project, and they have committed to contributing over $4 million. With the expected sale of half the property to a conservation buyer for $2 million, $2.1 million will need to be raised from private sources.

Once the campaign secured over $1 million through private donations, an anonymous donor offered a challenge grant to encourage the community to complete the campaign. Once an additional $767,000 is raised, the donor will provide a gift of $333,000, ultimately matching 50 cents for every additional dollar contributed. The support from the community has been substantial, and the project has $650,000 left to raise.

In 2008, developers had moved forward with plans to purchase the property for a second-home development. Fortunately, the transaction was not completed and there was another opportunity to protect this critical property. This will likely be the last opportunity for Tennesseans and the communities of the South Cumberland region to protect this amazing resource.

Although frequently listed as one of the premier backpacking destinations in the country, the Fiery Gizzard Trail is surprisingly vulnerable. Until recently, most of the trail system and its associated views traversed through private lands. In 2008, The Conservation Fund and The Land Trust for Tennessee, with assistance from the Friends of South Cumberland State Park, preserved nearly a third of the Fiery Gizzard Trail and 2,400 acres of the viewshed from fragmentation and development.

At a time when federal, state and local governments confront budget deficits amid economic recession, conservationists' work is unquestionably affected. But the risk to open space, wildlife habitat and scenic recreation areas remains, and in the South Cumberlands, conservation organizations, government agencies, local private landowners and political leaders are forging unique partnerships and finding creative solutions that advance conservation in the region.

For more information about the Fiery Gizzard campaign, or to donate, visit <www.fierygizzard.org>.

Business Clothes Drive

Sewanee's Kappa Delta Sorority Eta Epsilon Chapter and the Bairnwick Women's Center will celebrate International Women's Friendship Month by sponsoring a Business Clothes, Purse and Hygiene Drive during September.

These items will be donated to the Appalachian Women's Guild, which will distribute the items to women in the region who are in need of these products.

Drop off items in the Mary Sue Cushman Room of the Bairnwick Women's Center. For information contact Mary Emily Christiansen at <chrisme0@sewanee.edu>.

Be a Wizard for the Gizzard

The Friends of South Cumberland State Park are sponsoring Half Moon Mountain Magic, an event to benefit the Fiery Gizzard Project, for Friday, Oct. 15, 5–9 p.m., in the DuBose Conference Center. Music by several bands, food by Lupi's Pizza and an appearance by the Wizard of the Gizzard himself—Harry Yeatman—will make for a great evening. Mark your calendar—details to follow.

This Saturday, Sept. 25, the Friends will sponsor a one-mile, round trip, ranger-led hike to Raven's Point to see the land that the project will protect. Meet at the park visitors' center at 10 a.m. Contact Jennie Murray (615) 385-7286 or <murraybush@gmail.com> if you would like to go.

Of the $8.1 million needed to purchase the property, the Fiery Gizzard Project reports that $620,000 is left to raise. Donations may be sent to Friends of South Cumberland, P.O. Box 816, Sewanee, TN 37383.

For more information about the Fiery Gizzard Project, visit <www.fierygizzard.org>.

Old Jail Museum Rummage Sale Sept. 29–Oct. 2

Each year Winchester's Old Jail Museum Board of Directors and community volunteers conduct two rummage sales to support the museum.

The upcoming fall rummage sale will begin on Wednesday, Sept. 29, through Saturday, Oct. 2. Hours for the sale will be Wednesday–Friday, 9 a.m.–5 p.m. Saturday hours will be 9 a.m. to noon.

The fall rummage sale will be held in the American Legion building on N. Cedar Street, directly across from Moore-Cortner Funeral Home's parking lot.

The next rummage sale is scheduled in the spring, usually the first weekend in April. Funds received from these sales are used for the general upkeep of the Old Jail Museum, in order to keep it open to the public. Items for sale are donated from local citizens and are very reasonably priced for shoppers.

Come and enjoy a day of shopping and fun. For information pertaining to the sale or museum, call 967-0524 (museum) or Nancy Hall at 967-2749.

F.C. Democratic Women Meet

The Franklin County Democratic Women's meeting will be held on Tuesday, Sept. 28, at 6:30 p.m., in the Democratic Headquarters located on 110 2nd Ave., Winchester. Everyone is invited to attend. For information call 967-7583.

University North Entrance Roadwork, Detour

A project is underway to modify the north (Monteagle-end) entrance to the University of the South at the intersection of University Avenue and Highway 41A. Work will continue for the next four to five weeks.

The University Avenue entrance will be closed to traffic for the duration of the project. Traffic entering and exiting the north end of campus will be detoured to Missouri Avenue.

The Convenience Center will be open on its regular schedule during the construction, with access from the highway via Missouri Avenue.

Animal Alliance-South Cumberland Announces Spay Tennessee

There is a crisis of pet overpopulation in middle Tennessee. The answer to many of the animal problems is prevention. Spaying and neutering pets is the best way to stop the continuing flow of unwanted litters in our area. The Animal Alliance-South Cumberland (AASC) has announced that it has been included in Spay Tennessee, a state-wide database to help all Tennessee residents find affordable spay/neuter services in their area. Spay Tennessee is a partner of Spay USA, and AASC is now part of this nationwide effort.

PetSmart Charities recently released the results of a nationwide study on attitudes towards spay and neuter and pet overpopulation. Most people have no idea of the magnitude of the pet overpopulation crisis in the country. National statistics on pet ownership do not reflect the Tennessee reality or consider how many people adopt pets as found stray animals. The study discovered that more than 50 percent of litters are accidental. People intended to spay or neuter their pets, but were not aware of the appropriate time to do it, or had simply procrastinated.

According to veterinarians, owned pets are best scheduled for surgery at four months of age to allow vaccines to take full effect prior to surgery. Spaying females prior to their first heat cycle practically eliminates the likelihood of developing mammary tumors or breast cancer in their lifetime. Cats and dogs up for adoption are best spayed or neutered prior to adoption, even as early as six weeks of age, as behavior associated with being sexually intact is the primary reason for owner relinquishment of pets at shelters nationwide. The PetSmart survey reinforces this by also proving that less than one-half of the people who adopt intact animals ever get them spayed or neutered after adoption.

Please sterilize your own pets and encourage your friends and neighbors to do the same. Consider the gift of a spay/neuter for a pet you love, perhaps belonging to a friend or family member who cannot afford it. One simple action can end the suffering and deaths of thousands of homeless pets.

Check out <www.spaytennessee.org> and click on Grundy, Marion or Franklin counties to be linked to Animal Alliance-South Cumberland or call AASC at (931) 235-9006.

Presentation on “Sewanee Water Story: Sustainability Achieved?” Sept. 30

The Center for Watershed Studies presents “The Sewanee Water Story: Sustainability Achieved?” at 4:30 p.m. on Thursday, Sept. 30, in room 215 of Snowden Hall on the Sewanee campus. Martin Knoll, professor of geology and hydrology, and Ben Beavers, general manager of the Sewanee Utility District, will chronicle the rise of Sewanee’s water supply and sewage treatment systems, examine local environmental topics related to water (including drought) and address water plans for the future. All are invited to attend.

The Center for Watershed Studies was launched at the University in 2010 as a research, teaching and community engagement program centered on the use, management, protection and analysis of watersheds. Work is beginning locally with the Sewanee Utility District and the Monteagle Utility District.

EQB Schedules First Events of the Year

The first EQB Club-sponsored program for the academic year 2010–11 will be on Tuesday, Sept. 28, at 3:30 p.m. in the Hearth Room of the Sewanee Inn.

John Tilford, the Information Technology Fellow in duPont Library, will give a talk titled, “Treasured Works from University Archives and Special Collections,” which will be accompanied by a PowerPoint presentation on some of the archives’ most interesting material. He has previously served as research assistant at the Somerhill Gallery in Chapel Hill, N.C.; curatorial intern at the Memphis Brooks Museum of Art; and curatorial intern at the British Museum. He received an Institute of Museum and Library Sciences Conservation grant in 2009.

Tilford has been president of the Sewanee Trust for Historic Preservation since 2008.

His presentation will be followed by refreshments and is open to the public.

On Wednesday, Sept. 29, the EQB luncheon at the Sewanee Inn begins with a hospitality reception at 11:30 a.m. Julia’s will cater the meal of Vietnamese chicken curry. The cost is $10 per person. Please call Caroline Shoemaker (598-0982) no later than Sunday, Sept. 26, by 8 p.m. to reserve lunches as a member or visitor.

On Thursday, Sept. 30, the club will gather for a “Wine at Sunset” event at the Templeton Library from 5 to 7 p.m. The library is a highly visible, but not so often visited, structure prominently situated on the bluff near St. Mary’s. Camille and Richard McClure, Templeton residents, will host this event.

Sewanee’s longest continuous organization, EQB, has begun its 139th year. For those who do not know, for many years this group was the University of the South faculty club. Now its members include retired University faculty and a diverse group of others from the broader Sewanee area.

EQB stands for “ecce quam bonum,” the University’s motto taken from the opening words of Psalm 133 in Latin and translated, “Lo, how good it is when kindred live together in unity.”

Further information about joining EQB is available by calling Pat Kelley, president, 598-0915.

“1940s Radio Hour” Promises WWII-era Music and Comedy

The Community Playhouse of Tullahoma presents “1940s Radio Hour” Friday–Saturday, Sept. 24–25, at 7:30 p.m. and Sunday, Sept. 26, at 2 p.m.

It's Dec. 21, 1942, and Tullahoma was the training hub for the U.S. effort in Europe. A tiny New York radio station is about to broadcast its musical variety hour for a live studio audience.

This wacky music and comedy revue features big band songs, like “Boogie Woogie Bugle Boy,” and ballads, such as “Blue Moon” and “How About You?” The comedy comes from commercials located in radio archives by the musical's writer, Walton Jones, and from backstage controlled chaos.

The Mitchell Museum will be open 30 minutes before each show, with photos and memorabilia of Tullahoma during the war years. Special guests will be on hand each evening to share their memories of WWII, including Camp Forrest and how it relates to the show. The snack bar will serve typical 1940s snacks before each show.

Tickets are $15, adults; $13, seniors; and $12, students. For reservations call (931) 581-7767. The Community Playhouse of Tullahoma is located at 404 S. Jackson St., Tullahoma. For more information see <www.communityplayhouse.org>.

screening, followed by a community dialogue session facilitated by Tracy Wells Miller, a second-year seminarian and former communications director of “Divided We Fall.” Wells Miller holds a master's degree in theological studies in world religions from Harvard Divinity School, where she was a classmate of Valarie Kaur, the creator, writer and co-producer of “Divided We Fall.” Sharat Raju, director and co-producer of the film, has a master of fine arts in directing degree from the American film Institute Conservatory.

Screening of the film is part of the Common Ground Campaign, a national grass-roots coalition of young people recently formed by Yale Law School students to respond to the “Ground Zero mosque” controversy. The coalition's charter states, “We are the generation that has come out of the ashes of 9/11... We grew up with radical diversity and know how to form common ground. Our campaign aims to help transform polarization in America through creative action and compassionate dialogue.” Wells Miller is a signer of the Common Ground charter.

“Divided We Fall” follows the journey of college student Kaur, a third-generation Sikh American, as she documents hate violence against Muslims and Sikhs in the immediate aftermath of Sept. 11, and examines the larger question of “who counts” as American. On a two-year international tour, 2006–08, the film won more than a dozen awards and reached 150 campuses and communities in 90 cities across the United States.

“This stunning film could not have arrived at a more significant time in our nation's history,” said Phillip Zimbardo, professor emeritus of psychology at Stanford University. “It brilliantly conveys the dynamic tensions we all share over racial and religious differences that can be transformed into new visions for an American mosaic more richly textured than ever before.”

Hargrove Auditorium is located in Hamilton Hall, the School of Theology's main building on the south side of campus, at 335 Tennessee Ave. Parking is available in the lot in front of the Tennessee Williams Center, off Kentucky Avenue.

For more information on the Sewanee event, contact Leslie Lytle at <sllytle@blomand.net> or 598-9979. ## Old Stone Fort Archaeoskills Weekend

Visit Old Stone Fort State Archaeological Park on Friday through Sunday, Sept. 24–26, for three days of discovery during their “Archaeoskills Knap-In Weekend.” Discover the significance of Old Stone Fort, the culture and lifestyles of the Woodland Indians and the goals and techniques of archaeology. In addition to the Atlatl competition, there will be darts and throwing sticks, pottery demonstrations, dugout canoe demonstrations and other archaeoskills. The park campground, which has full facilities, is within one-half mile of the museum and knapping area.

The Old Stone Fort is a 2,000-year-old Native American ceremonial site. The hilltop enclosure mound site consists of mounds and walls that combine with cliffs and rivers to form an enclosure measuring one-and-a-quarter miles around. The enclosure was used for approximately 500 years and includes the remains of parallel walls oriented to the summer solstice sunrise.

Old Stone Fort State Archaeological Park and museum are located in Manchester on U.S. Highway 41. For information about Old Stone Fort's “Archaeoskills Knap-In Weekend” call (931) 723-5073 or visit <www.tnstateparks.com/OldStoneFort>.

Cowan Community School October Classes and Programs

On three Sundays—Oct. 24, Nov. 28 and Dec. 5—at 5 p.m., the Cowan Center for the Arts will sponsor “America's Road to Independence,” a series of one-hour lectures presented by Steve Pearson in the theater. The first lecture covers significant events from the mid-1700s through the Battle of Bunker Hill. Admission to all lectures is free, and refreshments will be served.

Pearson's second lecture will review events following Bunker Hill through the signing of the Declaration of Independence. The third lecture will review the Revolutionary War, post-war America and the creation and ratification of the U.S. Constitution and Bill of Rights. Pearson is a member of the Franklin County Historical Society.

A paint night, “One Night Stand,” taught by Jennifer Redstreak Geary, will be held on Thursday, Oct. 7, at 6 p.m. Collage techniques, using old book pages, scrapbook paper and acrylic paint, will be taught. All supplies are included in the $65 fee, and participants do not have to be artists to attend. Each student will complete a collage-painting. Space is limited to 12. To register call Redstreak at (931) 636-9898.

Kundalini Yoga will be taught by Tammy Badilli on Fridays, at 6 p.m., beginning Oct. 1. Kundalini yoga classes are a dynamic blend of postures, pranayam, mantra, music and meditation. Students will learn the art of relaxation and self-healing and to balance their bodies and minds. No previous experience in yoga is required. The fee is $10 per class. For more information call Badilli at (931) 434-3395.

Clogging, taught by Virginia Sawyer and Ashlie Wells, begins on Monday, October 4, with the beginners' class meeting 5–6 p.m., and intermediate class, 6–8 p.m. Each class meets four Mondays, and the fee is $20, to be paid with registration. Both classes are ongoing, with new students joining monthly. Beginning adults and children will learn the eight basic steps of clogging. The intermediate class is for children and adults who know the basic steps of clogging. For more information call Sawyer at 967-7519.

“Oil Painting like the Masters,” taught by Jennifer Redstreak Geary, begins on Wednesday, Oct. 6, 2–4 p.m. This fun, easy class is for those who have taken the beginner class and want to learn the many techniques of oil painting. The class will select one painting by a master artist, such as Rembrandt or Vermeer, and recreate the work. Bring a suggestion to the first class. Artist Redstreak Geary will focus on extending students' knowledge and creativity through oils. A painting will be completed during the class. The two-hour class meets once a week for four weeks; the fee is $50 to be paid with registration. Storage for students' wet works-in-progress is available, but not for their supplies. A supply list is available by e-mailing <redstreak@yahoo.com> or by calling 636-9898.

For more information on any of the classes or to express interest in teaching a class, call (931) 691-0722. Cowan Community School is located in the Cowan Center for the Arts and Training Center, 303 Montgomery St., Cowan, TN 37318; <www.cowancenterforthearts.org>.

Sewanee Presents Hunter Poetry Lecture Today

The public is invited to attend the University's Stacy Haines Memorial Lecture featuring J. Paul Hunter, professor of English at the University of Virginia and the Barbara E. and Richard J. Franke Professor Emeritus at the University of Chicago. The lecture, titled "Seeing Poetry: Reading Couplets and Other 'Traditional' Poems on the Page," will take place in Convocation Hall on Thursday, Sept. 23 at 4:30 p.m.

A popular and engaging lecturer and a well-respected scholar of Restoration and 18th-century literature, Hunter has written on the cultural contexts of the early English novel, on Henry Fielding, and on the cultural history of the Anglophone couplet. A reception will follow the lecture.

Music@Noon

The second Music @ Noon concert will be held Thursday, Oct. 7, at 12:15 p.m. in St. Luke's Chapel.

Music@Noon is a monthly series of lunchtime concerts hosted by the music department featuring performances by faculty, students and staff.

Future concerts are set for Nov. 3 and Dec. 2. For more information contact James Carlson, <jcarlson@sewanee.edu>.

Concert, Guitar Workshop Friday

The University's department of music presents visiting artists John McMurtery, flute, and Mark Volker, guitar, in a concert on Friday, Sept. 24, at 7:30 p.m., in the University Art Gallery on Georgia Ave.

Volker will also lead a guitar workshop at 4 p.m. in St. Luke's Chapel on Sept. 24. Guitarists of any level of experience are welcome to participate and should bring their instruments. The workshop and the concert are free and open to the public.

For information on the concert or workshop, contact James Carlson at <jcarlson@sewanee.edu> or 598-1538.

TACA Fall Fair This Weekend

The Tennessee Association of Craft Artists (TACA) will hold its annual Fall Fair in Nashville's Centennial Park on Sept. 24-26. Artists will be on site with their crafts available for purchase from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. Friday and Saturday and from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. on Sunday. Parking and admission are free and open to the public.

The TACA Fall Crafts Fair is one of the biggest outdoor events for American fine craft artists in Tennessee. The popular event attracts some 45,000 people, who come to the fair to view the works of 200 of the finest artists and crafts people. The fair offers shoppers the opportunity to meet and talk with exhibiting artists, eat and drink from an international food court, enjoy live music and children's activities, visit special exhibits and demonstrations, and purchase a wide-variety of unique handcrafted works.

Performance by Acclaimed Organist Oct. 6

John Scott Whiteley, recently retired organist of York Minster, York, UK, will perform in All Saints' Chapel on Wednesday, Oct. 6, at 7:30 p.m. The concert is part of the Kenneth H. and Frances S. Kerr Organ Recital Series, the University's 2010-11 Performing Arts Series and the celebration of John M. McCardell's installation as 16th vice-chancellor and president of the University.

Whiteley is widely known for his performances on BBC television's "21st-Century Bach" series, the organ music of Johann Sebastian Bach. He has performed extensively as a solo recitalist in the UK and abroad and performs at organ and Bach festivals throughout Europe. He has recorded more than two dozen CDs, including several award winners. Whiteley also has written books and articles about the music of Bach and Belgian composer Joseph Jongen, has composed organ music and has taught at the University of Hull and the Royal Northern College of Music.

The Performing Arts Series brings a wide array of the world's finest artists to Sewanee. General admission tickets are $25 for adults, $20 for seniors and $10 for students. Children under 12 are admitted free. Season tickets for all six Performing Arts events are available from <www.sewanee.edu/performingarts>. For more information e-mail <performingarts@sewanee.edu>.

Sewanee Performing Arts Series Announces Season

The Sewanee Performing Arts Series is pleased to announce an exciting lineup of events for this season. This year's series truly offers something for everyone. The season opens with Paul Taylor 2 Dance Company on Friday, Oct. 1, at 7:30 p.m. in Guerry Hall. Virtuoso modern dancer Paul Taylor, now age 80, formed Taylor 2 in 1993 for smaller venues. The troupe of six dancers brings repertoire from his work, characterized by athleticism, humor, and adventuresome musical accompaniment, to communities as small as Sewanee.

British organist, composer and author John Scott Whiteley will perform in All Saints' Chapel on Wednesday, Oct. 6, at 7:30 p.m. (See story at left.)

The drums of Kenny Endo will fill Guerry stage on Saturday, Oct. 30, at 7:30 p.m. Trained as a jazz musician, Endo is now a leading force in contemporary Japanese drumming, or taiko. His performance features musicians from Japan and the U.S., and blends traditional Japanese music with percussion and rhythm styles from around the world.

After the holidays, the Academy of St. Martin in the Fields Chamber Ensemble will perform on Thursday, Feb. 10, at 7:30 p.m. in Guerry Hall. The Chamber Ensemble of the Academy of St. Martin in the Fields honors the Academy's original intent of performing smaller works without a conductor. The ensemble of five to eight musicians plays together daily, tours yearly and has recorded 30 CDs.

On Tuesday, Feb. 22, at 7:30 p.m. in Guerry Hall, violinist Nadja Salerno-Sonnenberg and pianist Anne-Marie McDermott will banish the seasonal fog. The duo-performers appear with major orchestras and are widely known for their dynamism and fiery creativity. Together they engage audiences while remaining true to the composer.

The SF Jazz Collective will complete the concert season in performance Tuesday, March 22, at 7:30 p.m. in Guerry Hall. These eight musicians celebrate jazz as an evolving and relevant modern art form. Each year they perform their own compositions and also spotlight the work of a modern jazz master. Their focus this year is on Horace Silver, whose blues music defined soul-jazz.

Volunteers are welcome to assist with ticket sales on event days and are admitted free to that event. Contact <performingarts@sewanee.edu> for more information or to volunteer.

Sewanee faculty, staff and students are admitted free with ID, along with spouses and minor children of employees. Season tickets are available for $90/adult, $75/senior; and $40/student. Individual tickets are $25/adult; $20/senior; $10/other students. Under 12 admitted free. Tickets are available for online purchase at <www.sewanee.edu> or by sending a check to the Performing Arts Series, SPO, Sewanee TN 37383. Tickets may be purchased at the door, cash or check only, starting at 7 p.m. on event nights. Doors open at 7, and all seating is general admission.

F.C. Parents to Receive Students' Individual TCAP Test Reports

Parents of students who attend Franklin County public schools will receive their children's Individual Student Performance reports early this fall. The report is a comprehensive review of how each student performed on the Tennessee Comprehensive Assessment Program (TCAP) tests.

Several schools will provide the reports to parents during parent-teacher conferences over the next two weeks. Parents will notice some changes due to reforms at the state level.

Tennessee adopted revised academic standards through the Tennessee Diploma Project in 2008. During the 2009–10 school year, students completed their first year of learning and testing based on those standards. The tests given in 2009–10 reflect higher academic standards and a much higher expectation for students to earn "proficient" and "advanced" performance levels.

Higher standards equals higher expectations

The performance report this year includes new levels of performance, called "basic" and "below basic," used to help identify how much further students need to progress to be proficient in a particular subject area.

The new definition of "proficient" means able to prove that one has mastered a subject instead of having only minimal understanding of it. In previous years, students were scored as proficient even if they had only gained minimal understanding of the subject matter.

On the new test, for students to score at the proficient level, they must have mastered the subject matter; that is, they must understand the material very well. Higher standards that require more complete knowledge to meet proficiency levels mean that students who achieve these levels will be ready to succeed in college and careers. However, the higher standards also mean harder tests, with many students earning lower test scores and lower grades until the higher proficiency levels are attained.

"We began to prepare for the changes in the required standards and the new test over a year ago. We provided the new standards to the teachers, and we implemented an ongoing testing program to help teachers determine how students were learning throughout the year. We provided an immense amount of professional development to the teachers concerning the new standards and how they needed to be taught. I believe that these strategies helped, but this is a new process for all of us. We still have a great deal of work to do to prepare our students for their futures," says Rebecca Sharber, Franklin County director of schools.

The Franklin County school system is dedicated to helping parents as well as students during this transition. If parents have questions about students' test scores, they are asked to contact the schools. Sharber says, "We will work together for each student's success."

Thurmond Memorial Library to Expand Hours, Host Mini Book Sales

Thurmond Memorial Library, located in Otey parish hall, is adding more hours. The library is now open Monday and Tuesday, 9:30–10:30 a.m.; Wednesday and Thursday, 10 a.m.–noon; and Friday, 11 a.m.–3:30 p.m. The new hours will make visiting Thurmond easier for the parents picking up children at the Sewanee Children's Center and Sewanee Elementary School.

The library will not hold its annual book sale at the end of the year. Instead the library plans the first of many mini book sales on Friday, Oct. 1, from 11 a.m. to 5:30 p.m. Patrons can browse among a variety of titles and purchase books at prices drastically reduced from the cover price, and less than online book sellers.

SES Hosts Book Fair Next Week

Sewanee Elementary School will host a Scholastic Book Fair Sept. 27-Oct. 1. The fair will be open Monday-Thursday, 8 a.m.-3 p.m. and Friday, 8 a.m.-noon. Funds raised will help purchase books for the library. Families, faculty and the community are invited to attend this fun reading event with the theme "Here's to Our Heroes! Reading Saves the Day!"

The fair offers specially priced books and educational products, including children's classics, award-winning titles, new releases, interactive software, adult best sellers and other great reads from more than 100 publishers.

Book Fair customers may help the school build classroom libraries and improve children's reading skills by purchasing books through the Classroom Wish List and One for Books programs.

The Book Fair will feature a special Family Event in conjunction with parent/teacher conferences on Monday, Sept. 17, from 3 to 7 p.m.

Contact Cheryl King or Amy Dye at 598-9163 with any questions.

Hoagland named National Merit Scholarship Semifinalist

The National Merit Scholarship Corporation (NMSC) recently named Dale Hoagland of Sewanee a semifinalist in the National Merit Scholarship Program. Hoagland has attended Sewanee Elementary School and St. Andrew's-Sewanee School and has completed her high school degree through a course of self-study sanctioned by The Farm in Summertown, Tenn.

Hoagland was chosen as a semifinalist out of more than 1.5 million students who entered the 2011 National Merit Program. Students are considered for the program when they take the Preliminary SAT/National Merit Scholarship Qualifying Test (PSAT/NMST) as high school juniors. Along with 16,000 other semifinalists, Hoagland now has the opportunity to advance to the finalist level and compete for one of 8,200 National Merit Scholarships that will be offered next spring.

LIGHTS ON!!!
It is state law to have your headlights on in fog and rain.

At Sewanee Elementary School, Beth Charlton's pre-K students and Kim Foster's 5th-graders team up every Thursday afternoon and recently visited Regions Bank in Sewanee. The children made pretend checks and cashed them at the bank, each receiving a penny and a green lollipop!

Franklin County High School students recently celebrated their homecoming theme by dressing in Mardi Gras finery. The winners from each class were Logan Maze (9th), Elizabeth Preston (10th), Joshua Nungaster (11th) and Millie Beth Wilson (12th).

SAS Cross Country Teams Compete Strongly

The St. Andrew's-Sewanee School cross country teams traveled to Chattanooga on Sept. 16, to race in the second race of the Chattanooga Cross Country League series. The race was run at the River Park against 44 other teams from the area and offered a challenging course and open terrain.

The men's varsity team was led by Mario Koelbel, who finished the 5K course in 20:34. Luis Solis ran well and cut his time by 29 seconds, finishing in 21:01. This was the first varsity meet for Max Richards, Du Bin Nam, Conrad von der Tann, and Johann Abrahams. Each finished strong and had a great showing. Richards finished with a time of 26:00, Nam with a time of 25:34, von der Tann in 22:48, and Abrahams in 22:48.

This was the first team-scoring opportunity for the Mountain Lions, who posted a team average of 23:11 and scored a team time of 1:55:58.

Women's varsity runners Keeley Stewart and Lauren Stocke ran a great race on this demanding course. Stewart finished fourth overall with a time of 21:24. Stocke, in her second varsity race, knocked 8:38 from her time two weeks ago, finishing in 27:00. Great job, Mountain Lions!

Fowler Center Hours

The fall schedule for the University Fowler Center building is as follows: Monday-Thursday, 6 a.m.-11 p.m.; Friday, 6 a.m.-9 p.m.; Saturday, 8 a.m.-9 p.m.; Sunday, 1-7 p.m. For information call 598-1284.

Hampden-Sydney Sweeps Sewanee in Football Action

The second quarter proved to be a killer for the Sewanee football team Sept. 18 against Hampden-Sydney College. After holding the Tigers of Hampden-Sydney to just three points in the first quarter, Sewanee gave up four touchdowns in the second period as Hampden-Sydney went up 31-0 and never looked back.

Curtis Johnson led the Sewanee rushing attack with 35 yards on nine attempts, including a long run of 23 yards. Senior John Ugorji paced the Tiger receiving corps with one reception for 28 yards. Freshman quarterback Lee Schurlknight finished the day two for five passing, with one interception. Defensively, Alfonza Knight led the Tigers with 11 tackles, followed by J.D. Crabtree with six tackles and one interception. J.P. Boudreaux tallied four tackles, including one for a loss, and two pass breakups.

Sewanee Cross Country Teams Compete in Nashville

The Sewanee men's and women's cross country teams were in action Sept. 18 at the Vanderbilt Invitational cross country meet held at Percy Warner Park in Nashville. The event featured several Division I teams, including Vanderbilt University, the University of Tennessee (Knoxville and Chattanooga campuses) and Middle Tennessee State University.

Sewanee's Willow Smith of Rhinelander, Wisc., turned in another excellent performance in her second collegiate race as she came across the line in 19:34, good for 33rd place in the women's 5K race. Following Smith for the Tigers was Cara Martin of Oklahoma City, Okla., at 20:59. Sarah Haroldson of New Bern, N.C., and Caroline Roberts of Atlanta turned in identical times of 23:05. The Sewanee women finished 12th in the team competition. Vanderbilt captured the women's team title. Rita Jorgenson of MTSU was the individual champion with a time of 18:01.

In the men's 8K race, John Gilmer of Mobile, Ala., paced the Tiger effort with a 50th place finish and a time of 27:25. Gilmer was followed by Chris Hague of Kensington, Md., who finished at 20:59 and Will Mohr of Roanoke, Va., who rounded out the Sewanee top three with a finishing time of 28:59. Sewanee finished 11th in the men's team competition. UT-Knoxville was the men's team champion. The Tiger teams will return to action on Oct. 1, when they host the Tiger Twilight Invitational at the Sewanee Golf Club.

Sewanee Women's Soccer Team Force Overtime

The Sewanee women's soccer team battled hard through 90 minutes of play with the Buffaloes of Milligan College before falling in overtime, 3-2, on Sept. 17.

Sewanee's Layne Ezzell opened up the scoring for the visiting Tigers, knocking in an unassisted goal to put Sewanee up 1-0 early in the first half. After Milligan evened the score at 1-1, neither team could find the net before the half.

Junior forward Faith Spencer recorded an unassisted goal in the 46th minute, putting the Tigers up 2-1, but the lead was short-lived. Milligan knotted the game at 2-2.

The score remained tied through the end of regulation, as neither the Tigers nor the Buffaloes were able to find the back of the net for the rest of the second half. The Tigers worked hard to create opportunities, taking 15 shots in just the second half, but weren't able to capitalize on any.

In overtime, Milligan scored the game-winner. Sewanee finished 27 shots on goal, compared to 24 for the Buffs. Saunders tallied six saves in the keeper spot, while Britt Williams added five in 30 minutes of play.

SAS Girls' Varsity Soccer Team Falls to Marshall County and Ties Cascade

The St. Andrew's-Sewanee School girls' varsity soccer team lost to Marshall County, 0-1, on the road in a hard-fought battle on Sept. 14. SAS fell behind in the opening eight minutes of the match on an own goal. However, the team was relentless in their desire to push forward. They outshot Marshall 10 to 5, but couldn't find the back of the net.

Two days later, SAS battled at home to a 1-1 draw with Cascade High School. The team conceded an early goal in the opening eight minutes, but didn't back down. In the second half, SAS outshot Cascade eight to four, but could not find the net until the last minute of the match when junior Allyson Ridley scored the equalizing goal. Sophomore goalkeeper Katie Craighill had an excellent performance; she saved a penalty kick and recorded six other saves.

"We are struggling to not give up early goals," said coach Margot Burns, "but I was proud of how we fought hard until the end."

SAS is now 3-4-1 on the season.

South Downs SAS in Soccer

The St. Andrew's-Sewanee School girl's middle school soccer team faced South middle school on Sept. 16. The start of the match was even, with both sides getting scoring opportunities.

Sam Weigand used her wheels to challenge the South goalkeeper more than once. Abigail Owsley and Anna Stapleton both had chances on net, as well. However, SAS was unable to find their rhythm collectively, falling 0-3. Emory Babcock had a superb game in goal, earning 10 saves.

SAS enters their last week of regular season play with three matches. Playoffs begin on Tuesday, Sept. 28, with the league quarterfinals. We can do this! Let's make some noise, fans!

Overtime with Coach Shack

By John Shackelford

Imagine if you will—a boy, barely 18 years old, hundreds of miles away from home, on his first day of college, making the decision to try out for Sewanee's tennis team. He is unknown, a little unsure about whether or not he will fit in, or even make the team. Within seconds of his arrival at the courts, this new coach sends the team on what is supposed to be a two-mile run. He hears the words: Green's View, Running Knob, Roark's Cove, French House and return. Unsure of what any of it means, he's off chasing the other 16 boys. Below is his account:

1:58—Coach gives everyone at the tennis practice the route that we will be taking on our run. It sounds complex, but as long as I remain with the rest of the group I feel things will be alright.

2:00—We're off!

2:05—We are making good time, and the pack is beginning to disperse. There is a group that I cannot keep pace with, and a group that is lagging behind.

2:08—I've lost sight of the people ahead of me, and can't see the people behind either. I continue galumphing down the steep mountain road, thinking I'll surely find the obvious and well-marked turnoff soon.

2:15—My pace is now a half loafing jog, and I decide it best to just hang out for a bit and wait for the stragglers to catch up and show me way.

2:20—"OK, they must have given up." Now here's where I should have just gone back, for clearly I had missed the turnoff.

2:25—Against all good sense, I'm still going downward. There's a road sign! ... "Junk Road" ... hmmm, I'm pretty sure I would have noticed if the word "junk" was in the directions. Oh well, going downhill is fun! Onward I trudge.

2:30—Usain Bolt couldn't run this in 20 minutes!

2:40—There was orange graffiti on the road. It read, "How do you like me now?"

2:45—Several homes nestled in the trees are giving me vivid recollections of "Winter's Bone."

2:55—Something that looked like a brown bear crossed the road a hundred yards ahead of me. It was probably just the Sasquatch.

3:00—Each step is a hardship. I am now taking breaks every few minutes.

3:15—I get a good view outside of the woods and realize I'm in the valley looking up at the mountain. I turn back. (ABOUT TIME!!!)

3:30—I'm like a horizontal Christ on the Cross, sprawled out on the road. I really want some water.

3:45—Recalling Sam's perseverance in "The Return of the King," I start jogging again. I make it about 30 feet.

3:55—I spot a tepid and disgusting stream, and douse my face with the water, but am not desperate enough to drink it.

4:00—There are minuscule clear boils on each of my arms that I had previously thought were sweat droplets.

4:05—I am picked up by a police car, as Coach Shackelford has put out a search party for me. Pretty embarrassing, I must admit.

The team is going for an hour-long swim tomorrow. I'll surely drown.

Many thanks to freshman Andrew Lyman for reminding us that when we can laugh at ourselves, trying out for a new team or even a run up Roark's Cove Road is as easy as finding a deer enjoying a rhododendron salad in your backyard.

Southern Tennessee Plunge Marathon Oct. 2

Winchester is the site for the Southern Tennessee Plunge Marathon and Half Marathon to be held Oct. 2. The event is co-sponsored by the Southern Tennessee Medical Center, Emerald-Hodgson Hospital and the City of Winchester. Both the marathon and half marathon will begin at 8 a.m. CST at 1 South Jefferson St.

Runners can pick up their race packets on Friday, Oct. 1, from 2 to 7 p.m. or on Saturday, Oct. 2, from 6 to 7:30 a.m. at the Oldham Theatre, located on the downtown square in Winchester. There will be cash prizes and awards in several categories.

This event is certified and sanctioned, making it a qualifying race for the Boston Marathon. The course runs through the scenic countryside of southern middle Tennessee, with majestic views of the Cumberland Mountains and beautiful Tims Ford Lake.

Information and registration is available on the event website <www.southerntennesseemarathon.com> or <www.active.com>. Registration fees are $70 for the marathon and $50 for the half marathon.

The Southern Tennessee Plunge benefits multiple local charities, including Volunteers in Medicine and the Prevention Coalition.

AYSO Soccer Report

Sewanee's U-12 boys' soccer team defeated Lincoln County 6-0 in a game this past weekend in Fayetteville. Sewanee was led in scoring by Sam Thomas, Jacob Hanson, Zachary Taylor, Blaise Zeitler and Sam Smith. Dan McNair, Joseph McDonough and Draven Tate were exceptional at midfield and on defense. Taylor and Hanson alternated at goalie and contributed greatly to the shutout. The U-12 boys' team are now 2-1 and will be back in action on Oct. 2 against Kimball at Sewanee's home field.

SAS Falls Hard to DCA

The Mountain Lions dropped a region football game to Donelson Christian Academy on Sept. 17 with a score of 44-0. Though the final score was lopsided, the Mountain Lions' efforts throughout the game were outstanding. Will Thomas led the defensive effort with 10 solo tackles, a tackle for loss and four assists. Justin Thomas had a five tackles, while Storm Hill had two tackles for loss and caused a fumble.

Bryce Taylor helps to collect books for the Ride for Reading drive at St. Andrew's-Sewanee School.

SAS Collecting Books for "Ride for Reading"

The St. Andrew's-Sewanee School Fall Outing Program, along with Woody's Bicycles and "Ride for Reading," is sponsoring a children's book drive from Sept. 20 to Oct. 8. Collection bins will be set up in the Simmonds and Langford buildings on the SAS campus and at Woody's Bicycles. New and used books for children are welcome.

Students from the SAS Outing Program will deliver the books by bicycle (and probably car) to Tracy Elementary School on Wednesday, Oct. 13. The books will be placed on display to allow students to choose books to take home.

More information about "Ride for Reading" is available at <rideforreading.org>.

Nature Notes

It's Migration Time!

Harry Yeatman reports that some species of birds are still migrating southward from nesting sites in Canada and northern states. Some will remain here all winter, but many will fly further south.

Some dragonflies and butterflies also migrate. During the past week, the large orange, black-veined Monarch butterflies are still flying in groups to winter in the highlands of Mexico, where they may live in large numbers for the next six weeks, mainly existing on stored fat. A few may winter in Florida, Texas and California. In the spring, they start moving northward, sometimes producing broods on the way. The female lays her eggs mainly on Milkweed plants. In the Yeatman yard, the conspicuous orange-blooming Butterfly Weed (one of the milkweeds) is used as food by the large black, white and yellow-banded caterpillar. Milkweeds contain poisonous cardiac glycosides that are incorporated into the bodies of the caterpillars, and eventually into the green chrysalis and adult male and female butterflies. This substance does not harm the butterflies, but makes predators that try to eat them very sick. Life Magazine published some photos of a very sick Blue Jay getting rid of its intended food—a Monarch. The color pattern of Monarchs is therefore a warning to avoid catching and eating them. Over hundreds of years, natural selection has favored survival of anything that looks like a Monarch. The Viceroy Butterfly (bottom illustration) looks like a small Monarch, and is avoided by birds and other predators. This is a good example of mimicry. Monarch caterpillars have been reared in the laboratory on some plants lacking the poison and are avoided by predators until all the butterflies' wings are removed. Then a feast is enjoyed without sickness. The Viceroy butterflies also are not eaten unless their warning wings are removed. The colors and color pattern of the wings only act as warning flags. Milkweed poison is in the butterfly body, which is accepted without wings, then quickly rejected by taste.

F.C. Humane Society Pets of the Week Meet Wishbone & Tokkie

The Franklin County Humane Society's Animal Harbor offers these two delightful pets for adoption.

Wishbone is a darling little Jack Russell Terrier/Chihuahua mix. He is very smart and loves to play. Wishbone is up to date on shots and neutered.

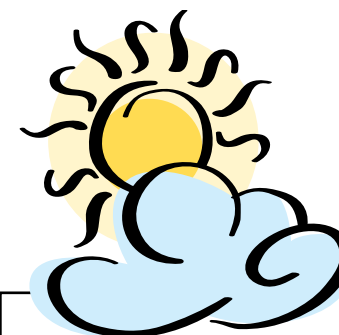

Lovely Tokkie is a sweet girl who wants someone to snuggle with. She had to have a rear leg amputated, but don't try to tell her that she's handicapped—she can do nearly everything the other cats can do. She is negative for FeLV and FIV, house-trained, up to date on shots and spayed.

Call Animal Harbor at 962-4472 for information and check out their other pets at <www.animalharbor.com>.

Please help the Humane Society continue to save abandoned pets by sending your donations to the Franklin County Humane Society, P.O. Box 187, Winchester, TN 37398.

From Bard to Verse

by Scott and Phoebe Bates

Sept. 23, 2010: Ninetieth birthday of Mickey Rooney

The great stars come, the great stars go,
Some like a sunset, with a slow,
Rare spread of color and of light;
Some like a comet in the night.

The great stars dawn and die—some pass
Like dim shapes in a looking glass.
And some there are who laugh and stay,
Because the public smiles their way...
