Published as a public service for the Sewanee community since 1985.

Sewanee Performing Arts Series Announces Season

The Sewanee Performing Arts Series is pleased to announce an exciting lineup of events for this season. This year's series truly offers something for everyone. The season opens with Paul Taylor 2 Dance Company on Friday, Oct. 1, at 7:30 p.m. in Guerry Hall. Virtuoso modern dancer Paul Taylor, now age 80, formed Taylor 2 in 1993 for smaller venues. The troupe of six dancers brings repertoire from his work, characterized by athleticism, humor and adventuresome musical accompaniment, to communities as small as Sewanee.

British organist, composer and author John Scott Whiteley will perform in All Saints' Chapel on Wednesday, Oct. 6, at 7:30 p.m.

The drums of Kenny Endo will fill Guerry stage on Saturday, Oct. 30, at 7:30 p.m. Trained as a jazz musician, Endo is now a leading force in contemporary Japanese drumming, or taiko. His performance features musicians from Japan and the U.S., and blends traditional Japanese music with percussion and rhythm styles from around the world.

After the holidays, the Academy of St. Martin in the Fields Chamber Ensemble will perform on Thursday, Feb. 10, at 7:30 p.m. in Guerry Hall. The Chamber Ensemble of the Academy of St. Martin in the Fields honors the Academy's original intent of performing smaller works without a conductor. The ensemble of five to eight musicians plays together daily, tours yearly and has recorded 30 CDs.

On Tuesday, Feb. 22, at 7:30 p.m. in Guerry Hall, violinist Nadja Salerno-Sonnenberg and pianist Anne-Marie McDermott will banish the seasonal fog. The duo-performers appear with major orchestras and are widely known for their dynamism and fiery creativity.

The SF Jazz Collective will complete the concert season in performance Tuesday, March 22, at 7:30 p.m. in Guerry Hall. These eight musicians celebrate jazz as an evolving and relevant modern art form.

Sewanee faculty, staff and students are admitted free with ID, along with spouses and minor children of employees. Individual tickets are $25/adult; $20/senior; $10/other students. Children under 12 are admitted free. Tickets may be purchased at the door, cash or check only, starting at 7 p.m. Doors open at 7, and all seating is general admission.

Visit the Sewanee Arts & Crafts Fair on Saturday

Oct. 2 Gardeners' Market Last Day

Cornerstone for Tomorrow: Installation Preparations Underway

The events of the installation for John M. McCardell Jr., the 16th vice-chancellor and president of the University of the South, formally begin with the Oct. 10 commemoration of the cornerstone dedication, 150 years to the day after the laying of the cornerstone.

All are invited to the event on Louisiana Circle, and then to process to All Saints' Chapel for Holy Eucharist at 11 a.m.

Looking back 150 years reveals that Colonel John S. Preston of South Carolina, who later served as a brigadier general in the Confederate Army, was the principal orator on October 10, 1860, as a crowd variously estimated at between 500 and 5,000 gathered on a clearing in Sewanee for the dedication of the cornerstone of the University of the South.

The event took place three years after the founding bishops of the southern dioceses of the Episcopal Church gathered at Lookout Mountain, Tenn., to formally establish what one called "a truly national university"—modeled on the great universities of Europe and a symbol of the intellectual and cultural attainments of the southern United States. Despite the looming threat of secession at the cornerstone ceremony, that same spirit of optimism and determination prevailed.

"There is no antiquity here," Preston said. "All is new, fresh from the forming hand of God. We are the first. We are primeval here. Our only calendar is the annulation of the oak, our only history is the bud, the leaf, and the autumn wind. We have come to the heights of Sewanee to begin an Epoch."

Six months later, Fort Sumter was fired upon and South Carolina seceded from the Union. Plans for the opening of the University were delayed for the duration of the war, and not until 1867 were the first classes held. During the campaign in Tennessee in 1863, the cornerstone was destroyed; today only fragments remain in the University archives and on a plaque in All Saints' Chapel.

Enjoy Sewanee Family Weekend!

University North Highway Entrance Construction Continues

The project underway to modify the University's north (Monteagle-end) entrance at the intersection of University Avenue and Highway 41A is on schedule with completion anticipated in three weeks, according to John Vineyard, director of University physical plant services.

The new entrance configuration is expected to improve the safety of the intersection, as well as its appearance. In order to complete the project as safely and efficiently as possible, the University Avenue entrance is closed to traffic for the duration of the project. Traffic entering and exiting the north end of campus has been detoured to Missouri Avenue. Vineyard reminds the community to pay attention to all highway signs and use extra caution in the construction zone.

Letters

A Letter to Readers from the Editor

It is my pleasure to announce that effective Dec. 1, 2010, I will retire, and I have tapped Laura Willis to be the new editor of the Sewanee Mountain Messenger. A journalism graduate from Baylor University, Laura worked in Texas as a reporter before moving to Sewanee to accept a position in the Development Department of the University, and for 10 years she was the Messenger's movie reviewer. Her call to ministry led her to take the position as director of the Community Action Committee, a service she has led brilliantly for the past decade. I am joyful and grateful that Laura has accepted this new call to ministry. Janet Graham, Messenger graphics artist extraordinaire and Web master, will share the publishing responsibilities.

STATEMENT FROM CCJP BOARD OF DIRECTORS To the Editor:

Re: Statement from the Board of Directors of The Cumberland Center for Justice and Peace concerning anti-Muslim activities.

This organization stands with our Muslim brothers and sisters in Rutherford County in affirming their right to freedom of religion and their right to practice their religion without fear or harassment. We call upon all Tennesseans to reaffirm their commitment to these bedrock principles of our American democracy, and we petition local and state government to take whatever action is necessary to protect the constitutional rights to religious freedom of Muslim residents and citizens.

We are mindful of shameful periods of religious and ethnic bigotry that blight our country's history—discrimination against Native Americans, African-Americans, Irish-Americans, Chinese-Americans, German-Americans, Japanese-Americans, Latino-Americans, Jews, Mormons, and Roman Catholics—and we urge our fellow citizens to reject calls to indulge in such bigotry again. As our Pledge of Allegiance so profoundly states, we are "One Nation, under God, with Liberty and Justice for All."

We ask that all citizens, regardless of their political affiliation or religious creed, who believe in the core principles upon which this country was founded to speak and act to support the constitutional rights and freedoms of our Muslim fellow citizens.

UPCOMING ELECTIONS ADVICE To the Editor:

At the risk of being laughed out of town as a newly returned resident of Sewanee who does not recognize local comedy, I must respond to the letter from Helen Stapleton [the Sept. 23 issue of the Messenger], which urges area residents to vote "D." Two bizarre and extreme Ds, Dennis Kucinich and Alan Grayson, were cited as politicians to fantasize as votes are cast, which further indicates that I might be falling for a joke. Recently, this same Helen Stapleton wrote a letter to another newspaper expressing a view that those who make over $250,000, should not have a tax break. Most of the employment I have had in my 45 years of working were, thankfully, with private companies that made above that amount. Is it any wonder that small businesses are fearful of hiring new employees with higher taxes looming? Ironically, Stapleton claims that Democrats are supportive of working people and the middle class.

If you are excited about "progressives" like Helen Stapleton, Barack Obama, Nancy Pelosi and Harry Reid progressing America further into Socialism, where billions have been spent for political paybacks while unemployment continues to climb and the number of citizens on government assistance continues to rise, choose the D in November. If you choose to have the government telling you what you can eat, drink, drive, what you can watch or listen to on TV, the radio and the internet, and force you to buy health insurance, close your eyes, envision Kucinich, Wasserman-Schultz or Grayson, and hit the D. I hope you won't fall for the excuse that the current outrageous budget deficits were inherited from Bush, and that you will remember that all spending bills originate in the House and all taxes are voted into law by Congress. The Ds, including Barack Obama, were in charge of both the originating and the voting into law since 2006. (The Rs controlled the House of Representatives—remember, where all spending bills originate—when there was a budget surplus while Clinton was president.) I hope you will envision the Constitution before you vote.

Serving Where Called

Seven years ago this column began to support the large number of reservists and National Guard members called up for active duty to serve in the war in Iraq. About 50,000 troops remain in Iraq to support and train their military and assist with counterterrorism.

On Dec. 1, 2009, President Barack Obama announced he was sending additional troops to Afghanistan to focus on reversing the Taliban's momentum. Today thousands of our troops are deployed in this volatile area.

This is a reminder that someone else is standing guard and facing fire for us. Please keep the following individuals, their families and all those who fight for freedom in your prayers:

Ron Bailey
Nick Barry
Robyn Cimino-Hurt
James Gregory Cowan
Robert S. Lauderdale
Alan Moody
Brian Norcross
Christopher Norcross
Dustin "Dusty" Lee Parker
Brandon Parks
Michael Parmley
Greg Rinkes
Charles Schaefer
Charles Tate
Jeffery Alan Wessel

If you know of others in our Mountain family who are in harm's way, please give their names to American Legion and Auxiliary member Louise Irwin, 598-5864.

Sewanee Business Alliance Pocket Park Fund Raising

The Sewanee Business Alliance is back on the fund raising trail for the new pocket park to be constructed in the vacant lot between the Lemon Fair and the American Legion. "It was a very long, hot summer, and we've already raised $17,000 toward construction!" said John Goodson, SBA chairman. "We are seeking bids for the pavilion foundation, and that part of the park should be completed shortly."

The new park will house a wood and stone pavilion that can be used as a venue for music festivals, dances, concerts and more. Brick walkways will run through the park, and a patio area will be built with personalized bricks that can be purchased as tributes or memorials. Community members and visitors will be able to enjoy the park year-round.

The park will be built from donated funds from the community and friends of Sewanee. Naming rights for the park, pavilion, cornerstones, stone benches and bricks are all available. An individual or family may name the park for a donation of $25,000, name the pavilion for $10,000 or have a personalized cornerstone or stone bench made for $1,000–$2,000. A limited number of these are available.

Bricks run from $75 to $250, depending on the size and number of characters imprinted. A person's name may be etched in stone for $50 and a company's name for $500.

The community's support is needed to finalize building of the park. To donate or purchase bricks, benches or cornerstones, please visit <www.sewanee.biz>, or phone John Goodson at (931) 968-1127. Checks may be mailed to P.O. Box 101, Sewanee, TN 37375.

The Sewanee Business Alliance is an informal group of business owners and leaders in Sewanee who promote, plan and execute community and business projects to improve Sewanee's image and strengthen local economic welfare. The SBA's first successful program was the SHOP SEWANEE campaign to promote local businesses. Many other projects are on the planning docket. The SBA is funded by community and personal donations. To learn more about or become a member of the Sewanee Business Alliance, send an e-mail to <sewaneebiz@yahoo.com>, or contact Goodson. The SBA is also on Facebook and Twitter under Sewanee Biz.

Vice-Chancellor To Be Installed During Founders Day Celebration

The formal installation of John M. McCardell Jr. as 16th vice-chancellor and president of the University of the South will be held on Tuesday, Oct. 12, during the annual Founders' Day Convocation in All Saints' Chapel, beginning at 12:30 p.m.

The convocation is the centerpiece of a series of events in October celebrating McCardell's installation and will include the convocation address by McCardell; the awarding of honorary degrees to the Most Rev. John Sentamu, archbishop of York, and Emory Thomas, Regents Professor of History emeritus at the University of Georgia and the father of John Thomas, headmaster of St. Andrews' Sewanee School; and the conferral of gowns on new members of the Order of Gownsmen, the University's society recognizing outstanding academic achievement.

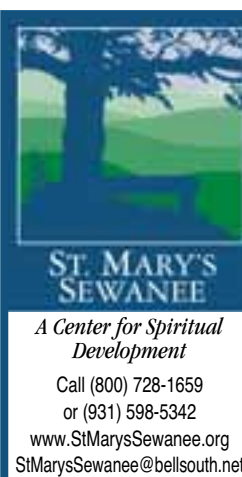

A highlight of the convocation will be the procession of delegates repre-sending colleges and universities from around the country and the world.

With the theme "Cornerstone for Tomorrow," the installation events include academic, cultural and social opportunities for the University and broader communities. These include the commemoration (150 years to the day) of the laying of the original cornerstone, which will take place on Louisiana Circle, site of the original University cornerstone, on Sunday, Oct. 10, at 10 a.m. Attendees will then process to All Saints' Chapel for the 11 a.m. Holy Eucharist service.

The week's formal events conclude with the dedication of Snowden Hall on Wednesday, Oct. 13, at noon. Snowden Hall has served as the home of the forestry and geology departments since 1962, and an extensive renovation and expansion was completed in time for the 2010-11 academic year.

For information and the calendar of events visit <www.sewanee.edu>.

Edward Carlos, retired University art professor, displays many of his drawings and paintings in IONA: Art Sanctuary—his studio-gallery.

IONA: Art Sanctuary Welcomes Visitors During Family Weekend

IONA: Art Sanctuary, located on Garnertown Road in Sewanee, will be opening its studio/gallery doors to the public during the University's Family Weekend. Visitors are welcome on Friday–Saturday, Oct. 1–2, from 4 to 5:30 p.m., and Sunday, Oct. 3, from 10 a.m. to noon.

This studio-gallery of Edward Carlos, has on display many of Carlos' drawings and paintings, as well as various artworks by Adam W. Carlos. Featured is a life-sized, figural, walk-through crèche titled "Creation: Nativity," inspired by western mesas.

The art barn sits on an orchard hill facing due west and overlooks a lovely field with ample parking and a 25-ft. high, Buddhist-styled Torii Gate. Rose of Sharon bushes that fill the periphery of IONA are still blooming, as they have most of the summer months. Other seasons will find other flowers, both wild and domestic in bloom. Lighted stairs lead from the field, parking area and Torii Gate to the western veranda, where 20-ft. high curtains blow in the breeze between arches designed to correspond with the gate and lightposts, all based on the locust tree beside IONA that is more than 100 years old.

IONA opened four years ago as a project that spearheaded Carlos' retirement from the University art department. The area is available for rent during warm weather for graduation parties, weddings, family reunions and other social events.

The Sarah Balcony (Carlos' gift-gesture to his wife, Sarah, on her 70th birthday) was added over the western entrance interior and offers an aerial view of the entire Celtic-cross shape nave-gallery. A security system, stanchions for storage of artworks, and a bathroom have been added in recent months. A guest-gallery space will hold the first art exhibit during the 2011 University Homecoming weekend, featuring the mandala watercolor paintings of Ginny Deck Runge, a Sewanee fine arts graduate.

This October—in keeping with the new spirit of IONA—a private soiree will feature Peruvian whistles with presentation on their tradition in rituals. In November, monthly poetry readings will begin, featuring a guest poet followed by shared poetry from attendees.

For information or a private viewing and tour of the artworks call 598-0203.

Directions to IONA from Sewanee for Family Weekend visitors: turn left while on top of the Mountain, from 41A onto Route 56 South (Sherwood Rd.) for 2.8 miles; bypass the first right lane (St. Mary's Conference Center) and turn right onto either of the next two right lanes (both are Garnertown Rd.) either of which brings the guests to IONA. A sign indicates the entrance through a small wooded area to the field for parking. The building is clearly visible atop one of the two Garnertown hills. All are welcome.

CCJP Will Hold October 7 Peace Vigil

The Cumberland Center for Justice and Peace invites the community join in the Oct. 7 Peace Vigil at 5 p.m. on the corner of University Ave. and Highway 41A. Oct. 7 marks the ninth anniversary of the U.S. invasion of Afghanistan, the longest war in U.S. history. According to a recent poll by CBS News, 54 percent of Americans think the U.S. should set and hold to a timetable for withdrawal of U.S. troops.

The vigil is being sponsored by the Afghanistan War Opposition committee of the Cumberland Center for Justice and Peace. Participants are encouraged to wear black and to display a sign expressing their opposition to the war. Signs will be available at the vigil site. Participants may park in the Sewanee Gardener's Market lot at the corner of Highway 41A and Hawkins Lane. For information contact Leslie Lytle at 598-9979 or <sllytle@blo-mand.net>.

Sewanee Woman's Club Birthday

The Sewanee Woman's Club will meet on Monday, Oct. 11, in St. Mary's, Sewanee. A social begins at 11:30 a.m. followed by the noon luncheon. Club members and guests will celebrate their 80th year with a special presentation of the club since 1930. The club appreciates the help of John Tilford in University archives in gathering information from each decade of those years. The party will be the program (with a few surprises), so come and join the fun and celebrate our birthday.

The menu for this month will be chicken a la king and lemon jello with grated carrot and pineapple salad. Dessert will be a cake on each table provided by member Myrna Nesbit. This menu reflects luncheons that were served in the early years.

Reservations for the meeting are due by noon on Friday, Oct. 8, by calling Caroline Shoemaker, 598-0982 or Marietta Poteet, Monteagle (931) 924-7666 or e-mailing Marianna Handler at <mariannah@earthlink.net>. Child care is available during lunch. Please request it at the time of your reservation. If you have made a standing reservation for this year's programs, remember to cancel your reservation if you cannot attend.

Annual membership dues are $5 and the cost of the lunches is $13. Revenue from dues and the annual fund-raiser is used to support community projects. The Sewanee Woman's Club also sponsors two groups. The Book Club, which meets the third Monday of each month at 1:30 p.m., and the Garden Club, which meets the fourth Monday of each month at 1:30 p.m.

Thurmond Library's First Mini Book Sale Friday

Thurmond Memorial Library, located in Otey parish hall, will not hold its annual book sale in November. Instead, the library plans the first of many mini book sales on Friday, Oct. 1, from 11:30 a.m. to 5:30 p.m. Patrons can browse among a variety of titles and purchase books at prices drastically reduced from the cover price, and less than online book sellers.

The library is also adding more hours. The library is now open Monday and Tuesday, 9:30-10:30 a.m.; Wednesday and Thursday, 10 a.m.-noon; and Friday, 11 a.m.-3:30 p.m. The new hours will make visiting Thurmond easier for the parents picking up children at the Sewanee Children's Center and Sewanee Elementary School.

ECW Meets Monday

The Episcopal Church Women of Otey Parish and the Sewanee area will meet at noon on Monday, Oct. 4, in Otey parish hall. The theme for this year's programs is "Notable Women of Faith." Isabel Anders, author of "40-Day Journey with Madeleine L'Engle," will give the presentation.

All women of the community are welcome and encouraged to come. Reservations must be made for the luncheon meeting. Please call Gail Watson at 598-0120 or e-mail her at <gailwatson@bellsouth.net>.

Cellist Ben Sollee to Headline Chickstock Festival

On Sunday, Oct. 10, 11 a.m.–7 p.m., at Greenway Farm, Ben Sollee, genre-bending cellist, will be featured, along with favorite local and regional bluegrass musicians at Chickstock—a day of free outdoor activities and family-oriented fun benefiting the North Chickamauga Creek Conservancy (NCCC). Greenway Farm is located north of Chattanooga in Hixson, Tenn.

"We're really excited to have Ben Sollee headline this year's Chickstock," said Larry Cook, executive director of the NCCC. "He's a phenomenal artist, and his music is a great complement to the other artists."

The lineup for Chickstock, part of Chattanooga's River-Rocks celebration, includes Lou Wamp and Bluetastic Fangrass, Gerle Haggard, Lone Mountain Band, New Binkley Brothers, Bluegrass Pharaohs, Blue John, OGYA and Slim Pickins. Local storyteller Jim Pfitzer and the Folk School of Chattanooga will also take part in the festivities. The event also showcases local artists' works, food and outdoor activities.

"As in past years, Outdoor Chattanooga will offer festival-goers free canoeing, kayaking and biking. We're also planning a number of special events and activities just for kids. Chickstock is a wonderful way to get the whole family outside to enjoy the beauty of Greenway Farm and the North Chickamauga Creek. Last year we had about 1,200 people come out, and we're hoping for an even bigger crowd this year," said Cook.

Advance discount tickets are available at <www.northchick.org> for $8 through Thursday, Sept. 30. As of Oct. 1, the regular adult ticket price will be $10. Children's (ages 6–13) tickets are $5, and kids 5 and under are free. For more information, including how to sign up to volunteer, visit <www.northchick.org/greenway.html>.

To get to Greenway Farm from Sewanee, take I-24 East exit for Hwy. 153 and follow it to the Lake Resort Drive/Access Road exit on the north side of the Chickamauga Dam.

All proceeds from Chickstock support the conservation efforts of the North Chickamauga Creek Conservancy. The presenting sponsor of Chickstock is Greenlife Grocery. Big Frog Mountain Solar's rig will provide power to the stage. Outdoor Chattanooga and the Friends of the Cumberland Trail are event partners.

The North Chickamauga Creek Conservancy is a citizen-created nonprofit 501(c)(3), dedicated to conserving the significant natural, historic and cultural resources located within and near the watershed of the North Chickamauga Creek, including areas of the Cumberland Trail and other wilderness areas in and around Chattanooga. The conservancy is a partner in the South Cumberland Conservation Action Plan, led by the Sewanee Environmental Institute and the Land Trust for Tennessee.

Organist Performs Oct. 6

John Scott Whiteley, recently retired organist of York Minster, York, U.K., will perform in All Saints' Chapel on Wednesday, Oct. 6, at 7:30 p.m. The concert is part of the Kenneth H. and Frances S. ## "Lunch and Learn" Features Keele on Oct. 14

The October speaker for the Academy for Lifelong Learning at St. Mary's Sewanee will be Robert Keele, University Alfred Walter Negley Professor of Political Science Emeritus. With midterm elections just around the corner, his topic, "An Historical Perspective on Midterm Elections," is especially pertinent. His lecture will be held Thursday, Oct. 14, at noon.

Keele was on the faculty of the University for 42 years, and he specialized in American politics and constitutional law. He received his B.A. degree from Sewanee, and his M.A. and Ph.D. from Emory University. He was chair of the political science department and dean of the College of Arts and Sciences. In 2005, he was the recipient of the distinguished faculty award from the Associated Alumni of the University.

The "Lunch and Learn" monthly series provides opportunities for lifelong learning for local residents and visitors in a beautiful bluff setting at St. Mary's Sewanee. Lectures are held on the second Thursday of each month. Annual dues for the academy are $10. New members are welcome at any time.

A boxed lunch may be purchased for $10. Lunch reservations for the October program are due by Friday, October 8. ## “Smile” Exhibition

The University art department presents “Smile,” a solo exhibition by Jessica Wohl, visiting assistant professor, from Friday, Oct. 8, through Sunday, Nov. 21, in the Carlos Gallery. Wohl will speak about her work on Friday, Nov. 12, at 4:30 p.m. in the Nabit Art Building, followed by a reception.

“Smile,” an exhibition of drawings, paintings, photographs and collages exploring modern portraiture, takes its name from the word often associated with posing for a photograph. “Smile” investigates the ritualistic behavior of posing for, creating, commissioning and displaying portraits. Inspired by found and discarded photographs, each work alters the original found images to raise questions about reality, authenticity and the genuine.

Regarding her work, Wohl says, “There is a familiarity we seek and feel with conventional portraiture. I play with the predictability of these images by duplicating and manipulating that which is extremely familiar. These uncanny manifestations of the family speak to the strangeness and discomfort that may lie behind the façades of those smiling faces inevitably frozen in time.”

Wohl comes to Sewanee from the University of Georgia in Athens, where she earned a master of fine arts degree in drawing and painting. A native of Minneapolis and graduate of the Kansas City Art Institute, her exhibitions include shows in New York, Miami, Atlanta, Kansas City and most recently in Trondheim, Norway, and Helsinki, Finland.

The Carlos Gallery is located in the Nabit Art Building at 105 Kennerly Rd., between Georgia Avenue and Kennerly Road. Gallery hours are 8 a.m.–5 p.m., Monday–Friday, and noon–5 p.m., Saturday and Sunday.

University Art Gallery Presents Breyer’s “After Disappearance”

The University Art Gallery announces Nell Breyer’s art exhibit, “After Disappearance,” an exploration of human movement through live streaming and video installation. Breyer will present her work in an artist’s talk on Friday, Oct. 8, at 4:30 p.m. in the University Art Gallery, followed by a reception. The exhibition will be on view Oct. 8–Nov. 21.

Breyer explores the experience, understanding and representation of movement. Beginning from the premise that the most essential element of movement is change, Breyer worked with software engineers to develop a video-processing program that captures and displays only those elements that change between frames.

Visitors to “After Disappearance” will experience an interactive environment that makes their own actions part of the artwork. Gestures and motion will be captured and projected, “creating a living, unfolding and ephemeral drawing.” Breyer seeks to “reveal what is both vibrant and evasive about the moving body” and to make us more conscious of our own physical experience.

Breyer is an artist and research affiliate at Massachusetts Institute of Technology’s Center for Advanced Visual Studies and the MIT Program for Art, Culture and Technology. She received a bachelor’s degree in art and humanities from Yale, an M.Sc. in cognitive neuroscience from Oxford University and a master of science degree in media arts and sciences from MIT.

Her work has received wide national and international recognition, with choreographic works performed in locations from the Institute of Contemporary Art in Boston, to the Haymarket Theater in London, to the Bangladesh National Museum Auditorium. Her commissioned public art and video installation works have appeared in the Contemporary Art Museum, St. Louis, and the Museum of Contemporary Art in Rovereto and Trento, Italy.

The University Art Gallery is located on Georgia Avenue and is free, accessible and open to the public Tuesday through Friday, 10 a.m.–5 p.m., and Saturday and Sunday, noon–4 p.m. For more information call 598-1223 or visit <www.sewanee.edu/gallery>.

TINTINNABULATION

By John Bordley

Phased Retirement—A New Schedule

I started phased retirement last year, but since I wound up teaching almost full time, there was not much change in my schedule. This year is different. I am not teaching this fall, and I plan to play the carillon more than in the past.

Sam Hammond, university carillonneur at Duke University and frequent visitor and performer here in Sewanee, plays a recital every weekday afternoon for 30 minutes. Taking the cue from him, I will play for 15 or 20 minutes on Wednesday afternoons, starting at 4:30 p.m.

Jeff Davis, who was university carillonneur here in Sewanee for the 1999–2000 school year, is university carillonneur at the University of California at Berkeley. He schedules recitals several mornings a week from 7:45–8 a.m. My version of this will be to play on Friday mornings from 7:45–8 a.m. In fact I have already played on two Friday mornings and actually received a couple of comments from appreciative listeners.

I will continue the Tuesday and Thursday (12:15–12:30 p.m.) recitals. Since I cannot see who might be passing by and/or listening in the vicinity, I would, as always, appreciate feedback from you readers. Are these times good ones? Do you listen? Are there pieces you would like to hear?

Thomas Receives National Merit Commendation

The Rev. John Thomas, head of St. Andrew's-Sewanee School, has announced that senior Justin Thomas of Monteagle has been named a Commended Student in the 2011 National Merit Scholarship Program. Commended Students represent the top five percent of the more than 1.5 million students who entered the 2010 competition by taking the 2008 Preliminary SAT/National Merit Scholarship Qualifying Test.

An honors student and outstanding athlete, Thomas is a member of the Cum Laude Society and a proctor. His junior year he received the Spanish IV, the Frank Phillips White American Literature and the 11th grade Honor Student awards. A three-season athlete, he was awarded the Football Coaches' Award last year and was nominated to the Division IIA East All Region Football Team and has received Most Improved Player awards in basketball and baseball. In summer 2009, Thomas attended the Governor's School for Emerging Technologies at Tennessee Tech. Following graduation he plans to study engineering and would like to attend a university that has a top rated engineering program.

FCHS Student Hall Commended

Principal Diana Spaulding of Franklin County High School has announced that Sarah E. Hall has been named a Commended Student in the 2011 National Merit Scholarship Corporation (NMSC). A letter of commendation from the school and NMSC, which conducts the program, will be presented by the principal to this scholastically talented senior.

About 34,000 Commended Students throughout the nation are being recognized for their exceptional academic promise. Although they will not continue in the 2011 competition for National Merit Scholarships, commended students placed among the top five percent of more than 1.5 million students who entered the 2011 competition by taking the 2009 Preliminary SAT/National Merit Scholarship Qualifying Test (PSAT/NMSQT®).

School Scoop

SAS students (L-R) Vivien Sun of Shanghai, China; Courtney Clark of Adelaide, Australia; and Fiona Chang of Township Yilan County, Taiwan, review calculus problems with their teacher Elizabeth Quinn-Stine, who was named the new holder of the Cissy Patterson Chair in Mathematics.

Quinn-Stine Named SAS Cissy Patterson Chair in Mathematics

St. Andrew's-Sewanee School mathematics teacher Elizabeth Quinn-Stine was named the new holder of the Cissy Patterson Chair in Mathematics for 2010-11. The Cissy Patterson Chair, St. Andrew's-Sewanee's first endowed chair, was established in 1987 and was named in honor of Eleanor Medill "Cissy" Patterson, longtime editor and publisher of the Washington Times Herald.

Quinn-Stine rejoined the faculty this year as a calculus, algebra, math analysis and trigonometry instructor. While at SAS from 2003 to 2005, she taught math at many levels, including pre-calculus, college algebra, geometry, and probability and statistics. Quinn-Stine received her B.A. from Brown University and an M.S. from the University of Washington.

The chair was given as a way to recognize the recipient's contributions to the teaching of mathematics; as a way to recognize the importance of teaching mathematics; and as a way to fund the professional development of all math teachers. The person who holds the chair provides leadership for the development of the math curriculum at SAS.

Past recipients of the Cissy Patterson Chair are Jerry White, Patty Milner, Doug Burns and Allison Paterson.

Kelsea Jackson, president of the Franklin County High School HOSA chapter, displays the group's first-place ribbon.

F.C. High School HOSA Chapter Wins First Place

The Franklin County High School Health Occupations Students of America (HOSA) chapter recently won first place at the Tennessee State Fair for their exhibit. The students competed against at least 10 other schools in the Creative Arts competition.

Winning this competition has been a goal of HOSA president Kelsea Jackson since she was in eighth grade. This is the first time FCHS has achieved first place in this event. The HOSA theme this year is "HOSA: The hearts that believe, and the hands that achieve!" HOSA is a student-led organization that aids in the development of leadership and employability skills for students interested in health care. This year's FCHS HOSA has more than 100 members and is still growing. The chapter plans to incorporate the middle schools into this youth organization this year.

SAS Collecting Books for "Ride for Reading"

The St. Andrew's-Sewanee School Fall Outing Program, along with Woody's Bicycles and "Ride for Reading," is sponsoring a children's book drive from now through Oct. 8. Collection bins are set up in the Simmonds and Langford buildings on the SAS campus and at Woody's Bicycles. New and used books for children are welcome.

Students from the SAS Outing Program will deliver the books by bicycle (and probably car) to Tracy Elementary School on Wednesday, Oct. 13. The books will be placed on display to allow students to choose books to take home.

More information about "Ride for Reading" is available at <rideforreading.org>.

Sewanee Elementary kindergarteners were treated with a visit by "Prince," a miniature horse belonging to SES student Ava Sanson and her family. Christy Sanson, Ava's Mom, talked to the kindergarten classes about miniature horses and how to care for them.

Sanders is National Merit Semifinalist

St. Andrew's-Sewanee School senior Marianne Sanders, daughter of Tom and Andrea Sanders of Sewanee, has been named a National Merit Semifinalist, an award given to 1 percent of the high school seniors in the nation.

Sanders, who has attended SAS for six years, is a member of the The Société Honoraire de Français and Cum Laude, the school's honor society. She has served on the Honor Council and is a senior class officer. Sanders was on the technical crew for the theatre productions of "A Touch of Broadway" and "Little Shop of Horrors." She is a member of the Mountain Lion girls' soccer team and has competed in track. Last year Sanders took a University forestry course, "Forests as Food & Medicine." This past summer she attended the Governor's School for the Arts at Middle Tennessee State University.

Sanders is interested in pursuing research in environmental sustainability. Her current plan is to participate for the summer or for a gap year in the Worldwide Opportunities on Organic Farms program, which links people who want to volunteer on organic farms or small holdings with people who are looking for volunteer help. Following that experience she hopes to explore her interests and further her education at Evergreen State College in Olympia, Wash.

Only 16,000 of the 1.5 million students who took the 2009 Preliminary SAT/National Merit Scholarship Qualifying Test last year received this designation. These academically talented seniors will continue to compete for National Merit Scholarships worth more than $36 million.

Wade Hall for the Sciences to Be Dedicated Oct. 9

St. Andrew's-Sewanee students and faculty heated up Bunsen burners and filled hot-air balloons to celebrate the recent opening of Wade Hall for the Sciences. The public is invited to the building's dedication on Saturday, Oct. 9. At 1:30 p.m. a procession from the Chapel to Wade Hall will begin, followed by the ceremony in Wade Hall and a reception on the patio of the outdoor classroom.

The $2.1 million environmentally focused facility is the latest addition to campus improvements, following the McCrory Hall for the Performing Arts. The new science center, named in honor of the Rev. William S. Wade, retired head of school, is a showcase for SAS's innovative science faculty and the students they inspire.

Located between Simmonds Hall, the school's core academic facility, and the edge of the SAS forest and outdoor laboratory, Wade Hall forms the junction where knowledge meets the environment. The 8,200-sq.-ft. facility includes bright, naturally lit science classrooms and laboratories.

The structure of the building, a case study in the applied sciences, is being used as an instructional tool, illustrating a variety of engineering and scientific principles and options for environmentally conscious design, including its energy-efficient heating and air-conditioning systems. The facility's inverted roof and storage tanks collect rain to water the lawn and plants around the building and to flush the toilets. Framing and components of the mechanical and electrical systems in the ceiling are exposed, designed to be used as teaching tools. Franklin Associates Architects Inc. of Chattanooga is seeking a LEED Gold certificate for the project, one of the highest possible environmental certifications.

Members of the SAS science faculty worked closely with the architects to develop labs and classrooms that reflect the needs and dreams of their demanding, hands-on teaching style. Now that Wade Hall is complete, the school is exploring ways to renovate the former science wing into larger spaces for middle school classes and to make improvements to the library, bringing the total project cost to $2.7 million.

Lead donors for Wade Hall include trustees Doug Campbell (SMA '59) of Naples, Fla., and Doug Ferris of Memphis, Tenn.

SES Peace Pole Ceremony Friday

Sewanee Elementary School will hold its annual Peace Pole ceremony on Friday, Oct. 1. Guests are invited to assemble at 8 a.m. on the playground with students and staff to join in the celebration.

A first grader will recite "May peace prevail on earth," in Nepali, in recognition of the Nepali language plaque that will be added to the SES Peace Pole. A musical tribute to world peace will be presented by the children.

This annual ceremony for peace was initiated by the Cumberland Center for Justice and Peace in 2002.

Please come early and park out of the way of school traffic or walk, if at all possible. The program will be held in the gym if weather is inclement.

Field Hockey Team Defeats Transy

The Sewanee field hockey team played host to visiting Centre College Sept. 24, and after falling behind 1-0 early on, the squad was unable to recover before losing 2-1 in the SCAC contest.

Sewanee Crew to Compete Oct. 9

The University's fall rowing season is off to a great start, says coach Donnie Jones. Sewanee Crew has nearly 60 members; more than 30 are new rowers. Boats are on Lake Dimmick and underway by 6 a.m. daily.

The team also has indoor workouts twice a week in the Fowler Center, with a mix of calisthenics, ergometer training and weight work. Although rowing at Sewanee is a club sport, the teams and Jones take pride in their varsity mindset.

This season Sewanee's nine crews will compete at three demanding regattas across the Southeast. They will participate in the Chattanooga Regatta on Oct. 9, competing with UT, Alabama, Vanderbilt and Clemson. In Oak Ridge, Tenn., on Oct. 30, they will compete in the Secret City Regatta against 10 Division I NCAA schools.

The team will then face its toughest fall challenge at the Head of the Hooch Regatta in Chattanooga on Nov. 7, one of the largest, most competitive regattas in the country. More than 5,000 rowers from 50 Division I NCAA universities are expected to compete.

The public is encouraged to attend all of these events.

Kudos to FCHS Golfers and Band

Congratulations to the Franklin County High School girls' golf team for finishing second and to the boys' golf team for finishing third in the district tournament in Lawrenceburg on Sept. 27. Chloe Rogers was medalist and finished third overall; Seth Hall shot 78 and finished fifth overall. Logan Dudley shot 79. Both teams will advance to the region tournament in Smyrna on Thursday, Sept. 30.

Congratulations also to the FCHS band for receiving six superior ratings and one excellent rating at the Dixie Pride Marching Contest this past Saturday. The Flag Corps was chosen the Best in Class.

School of the Good Shepherd 5K Run/Walk 4 Education

The School of the Good Shepherd will hold a "5K Run/Walk 4 Education" on Saturday, Oct. 9, beginning at 9 a.m. Runners will start from the Good Shepherd Pavilion, located on the church campus at 2037 Decherd Blvd., Decherd.

Participants are encouraged to preregister before Oct. 1 for a discounted fee of $15. The registration fee after Oct. 1 and during the day of the run will be $20. Families can participate for a group registration price of $30. To register call Linda Clemens at (931) 962-9865 or visit <www.active.com>.

Medals will be awarded in five categories with an overall winner of the 5K run. All proceeds from the event will support the School of the Good Shepherd.

Stewart Earns First Place in Cross Country Meet

The St. Andrew's-Sewanee School cross country team had its first home meet on Sept. 23 against Webb School. It was a beautiful but warm day, and the team turned in a great performance. The men's team was outscored by Webb 34-21, but captured the third-, fourth-, and seventh-place finishes. Luis Solis had a time of 23:30; Mario Koelbel, 23:46; Conrad von der Tann, 26:18; Du Bin Nam, 27:27; Max Richards, 27:33; Mitchell Foster, 28:28; Jay Faires, 31:18; and Johann Abrahams, 31:28.

Keeley Stewart led the women's team and placed first with a time of 24:14. At first glance, these times seem a bit slower compared to other courses the SAS teams run. This is due to the challenge of the SAS course and the nature of trail running. Great showing Mountain Lions!

Tiger Football Drops SCAC Opener

Despite a beautiful fall day and several bright moments, both offensively and defensively, All-American Alex Koors and DePauw University were simply too much for the Sewanee Tigers on the afternoon of Sept. 25. Sewanee gave up a turnover on each of their first two drives of the day and were never able to recover, as they dropped their SCAC opener to host DePauw University 35-7.

Sewanee falls to 1-3 on the season and 0-1 in SCAC play. DePauw moves to 3-0 on the year and 1-0 in conference play. Sewanee hosts SCAC foe Centre College on Saturday for Family Weekend. Centre is 2-2 after a 42-40 win over Austin College this afternoon. Game time is set for 1 p.m.

SAS Golf Team Wraps Up Season

Four St. Andrew's-Sewanee School golfers traveled to Shelbyville on Sept. 20 to participate in the TSSAA Division II-A Region Golf Tournament at River Bend Country Club. It was the first time during the season that the young team played a full 18-hole round during competition. Tenth-grader Addison Beene had the best finish for the team with an individual round of 119, followed by eighth-graders Justin Stubblefield (120), Andrew Heitzenrater (121) and Casey Willis (147).

Mtn. Lions Smack Down Kings Academy

St. Andrew's-Sewanee School Mountain Lions smacked arch rival Kings Academy in Seymour on Friday night, Sept. 24, coming home with a hard-fought 14-12 football victory. It was the Mountain Lions first victory over Kings since 2004.

SAS scored first on an 11-minute drive capped by Seth Burns' one-yard run. Kings responded in the second quarter, and the teams went to half-time knotted at six.

In the third quarter, the Mountain Lions capitalized on a turnover, as Burns intercepted a pass at the Kings 29 and returned it to the two. On the next play, Burns punched it in for the lead. Evan Morris passed to Will Thomas for the all-important two-point conversion.

Kings scored with four minutes to go in the fourth quarter, but SAS stopped the two-point try, then rushed for two first-downs to run out the clock and preserve the win.

On offense, Morris rushed 16 times for 62 yards, completed five of 10 passes for 40 yards and had an interception on defense. Will Thomas had four receptions for 34 yards.

The Mountain Lion line of seniors Justin Thomas, Storm Hill, Allan Duggar, Trevor Laymance and Moe Andreiev, along with sophomore Russ Mays, had a strong effort on both sides of the ball. Duggar led the team with 10 tackles, while Justin Thomas had nine and Will Thomas, seven.

SAS Girls' Middle School Soccer Report on Final Week's Play

Sept. 20-24 was the final week for regular season play for St. Andrew's-Sewanee School's Lady Mountain Lions in middle school soccer. First up was Liberty. The girls came out prepared for a fight, but were hampered by mental mistakes. Liberty got on the board early in the first half, but SAS fought hard to keep the score 0-2 going into the halftime break.

Ready to push the envelope in the second half, the attack was led by eighth-grader Cameron Azarbarzin and seventh-graders Anna Stapleton and Sam Weigand. With strong outside shots and the ability to disrupt defensive rhythm, Liberty was too much to handle that day, as SAS fell 0-5. Eighth-grader Emory Babcock kept goal for most of the match, while sixth-grader Kyra Wilson handled the closing minutes. The duo earned 11 and one saves, respectively.

Sore from the loss, the team regrouped the following day to host Huntland. The first half was unproductive for either team. Sixth-grader Erin Berner-Coe and Azarbarzin both had opportunities, but were unable to convert as the girls entered halftime in a draw. The fire, however, could not be smothered. Azarbarzin took her chances to heart in the second half, scoring the opening and second goals with the assistance of Weigand. Two were not enough, as seventh-grader Emma Zeitler completed a beautiful pass to Weigand for the third and final goal. Babcock kept a clean sheet in net.

This was the grunt week for the Lady Mountain Lions, as they took on their third opponent in three days Sept. 23. On the road to North Middle School, SAS was mentally tired but knew they needed to focus. After letting in two goals early, the girls pulled themselves back together and worked hard to keep North from getting in behind them. Eighth-grader Anne Russell Webb played her best ball of the season in the second half at midfield, locking down the passing lanes on the right side. Babcock was determined to do her team proud and saved five shots. While Azarbarzin came close two times in the second half, the late push was not enough for SAS to find the win. The 0-2 loss closed out their regular season.

SAS Varsity Volleyball Wins One, Loses One

The St. Andrew's-Sewanee School varsity volleyball team defeated Riverside Christian Academy 26-24, 25-10, and 25-23, improving their record to 13-7, 2-4 on the season. Freshman Jenna Burris had a solid game at the net, recording 15 kills and one block; junior Hannah Wimberley had seven kills, four blocks and eight aces; sophomore Emily Thomas had eight assists; Sam Stine added three aces; sophomore Allyson Crandell had 10 digs; Catelyn Hutcherson added 11 digs; and Madison Culpepper had a strong defensive game and clutch serves.

Previously, SAS lost to Davidson Academy on Sept. 23 in a Division II-A district match-up, 25-15, 25-12 and 25-11. Burris had eight kills, Culpepper had five digs, Hutcherson had eight digs and Wimberley had five kills and two aces.

Overtime with Coach Shack

By John Shackelford

I love Family Weekend in Sewanee. You will see fathers and mothers, brothers and sisters, and many grandparents this weekend on the sidelines cheering on our soccer, tennis, volleyball, field hockey, football and cross country teams. Sewanee is fortunate to have so many wonderful and supportive parents that are involved with our athletic programs. Their presence represents thousands of hours spent previously watching, coaching and driving to so many youth soccer leagues, tennis tournaments and Pee Wee football games.

If you have read this column previously, you have heard me mention my own father more than once. He is the guy who threw the ball endlessly with his son, rebounded my errant shots on the basketball court, took me to Braves games and sat in the living room cheering for the Packers on TV with me like we were freezing right there in Lambeau Field. When I was 10 years old, my father volunteered to coach my Little League baseball team. At that time Asheville was still a fairly segregated city and the process of integration was just beginning. The night he went to a league meeting to choose the players for the team, one of the other coaches advised him "not to pick any of the black kids that lived over in the projects." He was told that none of them had a father, and he would be spending all of his time giving them rides to practices and games. Of course my father then picked every kid he could find that lived in public housing and away from our privileged and snow-white side of town. His old station wagon was filled every practice and every game with kids who did need a ride and with kids who loved to play ball. I was one of the few white faces crammed in the back of that old Torino wagon. He never failed to stop at Howard Johnson's to buy ice cream cones for everyone in the car. My dad grew up dirt poor in Wisconsin without a father for most of his life and double-dipped chocolate cones were hard to come by. The smiles and laughter that were returned on those baseball days were all he ever needed. There was one boy on the team that Papa-Shack always took home last and dropped quietly at the street corner instead of his door even if it was raining. When I asked why, he explained to me that the boy could not bear for us to see where he lived.

For my father, tennis was a game that taught honesty, baseball was for thinking, basketball took dedication, running was a matter of perseverance, and the Packers were always about loyalty—a life's worth of lessons through the games we play. I am fortunate enough to be his son and for many years, his best friend.

If you are without your dad this family weekend or just need a ride to the next game, please give me a call. There is room in the back of the van, and Mountain Breeze is on the way. I would love to spring for a couple of double-dipped chocolate cones on the way home.

Nature Notes

Screech Owls

Last week, Darlene Amacher asked Harry Yeatman to identify the call of an owl that she has been hearing every night. Harry whistled a loud “whinny,” ending in a trembling repetition of the call. She said, “That is exactly what I hear.” This call is produced by a Screech Owl, which should have been named “whistling owl!” Screech Owls are small in size and can be rusty, red, brown or gray in color, not related to the sex or size of the bird. Some young can be any of these colors, even in the same nest. Their eyes are yellow and a conspicuous “ear tuft” is on each side of the head. The true ears are lower on the head, one ear lower than the other to enable the bird to locate prey—mice, shrews, large insects and even small birds lost at night. The eyes are set firmly in sockets, necessitating turning the head to see in different directions. All owls do this, but don’t turn the head all the way around. Screech owls nest in holes in trees and large Wood Duck boxes. Try peeking in one of these nest boxes and get startled by the face of an angry owl. Harry has done this many times. These birds sometimes get in the Yeatmans’ basement and like to be stroked behind the head. (Jean Yeatman is pictured stroking one, above). They are usually tame, but will attack people and knock their hats off when in the vicinity of their nests. They are very beneficial because of their diet, mentioned above. Blue Jays and many other “songbirds” harass them in the daytime. Barred Owls catch and feast on Screech Owls, so where these large predators are numerous, Screech Owls are usually silent. Enjoy hearing them when enemies are scarce.

F.C. Humane Society Pets of the Week Meet Smokie & Lucian

The Franklin County Humane Society’s Animal Harbor offers these two delightful pets for adoption.

Are you interested in a mature canine companion who enjoys a laid-back lifestyle? Look no further. Smokie will be there to greet you with a smile, play with you, walk devotedly by your side or patiently sit at your feet. She is up to date on shots and spayed.

Lucian is a sweet, calm kitten who loves to be a “rag doll” cat. He’s more than happy to be carried around as he hangs limply from your arms. It’s very hard to put him down, as he’d much rather be cuddled! Lucian is negative for FeLV and FIV, house-trained, up to date on shots and neutered.

Call Animal Harbor at 962-4472 for information and check out their other pets at <www.animalharbor.com>.

Please help the Humane Society

From Bard to Verse

by Scott and Phoebe Bates

On warm days in September the high school band
Is up with the birds and marches along our street,
Boom boom,
To a field where it goes boom boom until eight forty-five
When it marches, as in the old rhyme, back, boom boom,
To its study halls, leaving our street
Empty except for the leaves that descend to no drum
And lie still.
In September
A great many high school bands beat a great many drums,
And the silences after their partings are very deep.

HEARING HEALTH NEWS

by Debbie Gamache,
M.S. CCC-A Audiologist

WHY TWO EARS?

Humans are equipped with two ears as an efficient system to gather information about their environment. With two ears, we can distinguish the direction of sound (for example, the direction of a truck's approach, a calling voice or train whistle). This is nature's way of protecting us. In addition, processing sound from both ears helps us to understand speech better, especially in background noise. Not only is hearing with two ears immeasurably better with one—it is nature's way!

Hearing is very important to our daily living. If you suspect that you or a family member has hearing loss, please contact us at The Hearing Center, LLC. Our audiologist can explain your hearing loss and how your hearing loss affects your hearing needs. Solutions that are most appropriate for you will also be discussed. We are located at 705B North Atlantic St. in Tullahoma. We can be reached at 931-393-2051 or 888-303-2051. Please visit our website for more information at <www.thehearingcenterllc.com>.
