Local Leaders Celebrate Impact of National Service on the Plateau

On April 6, the Vice-Chancellor of the University of the South, Reuben Brigety and Grundy County Mayor, Michael Brady joined lo-cal leaders across the country in a nationwide, bipartisan initiative to highlight the impact of national service in tackling local problems. This year's event is especially meaningful, as tens of thousands of AmeriCorps members across the country support communities during the COVID-19 pandemic. In lieu of the National Service Recognition Day ceremony, traditionally held on the campus of the University of the South, leaders separately issued proclamations recognizing April 6 as National Service Recognition Day. Now in its ninth year, National Service Recognition Day underscores the positive impact of national service, recognizes those who serve, and encourages more citizens to give back to their communities.

"As the pandemic has upended our way of life in every conceivable way, plateau communities need national service now more than ever. In these tenuous times, Ameri-Corps VISTA members have made our community safer, stronger and healthier. We are deeply grateful for your dedication and sacrifice," wrote Vice-Chancellor Brigety and Mayor Brady in a joint statement. "Let us all pledge to do our part to strengthen our community through volunteering and service."

FC Schools Proposed Budget Highlights by Leslie Lytle Messenger Staff Writer

At the April 5 workshop, the Franklin County School Board reviewed the proposed 2021–22 budget. The budget calls for a 2.5 percent cost of living wage increase for teachers, classified employees, and contract bus drivers. The board discussed allocating special education aides an even higher wage increase due to the demands of the Assistant Superintendent Linda Foster said in addition to the costof-living increase, certified teachers would receive degree advancement wage increases, and increases based on years of service. The new yearsof-service scale proposed by Foster includes an additional 2 percent raise for teachers who have served more than 20 years.

Foster also recommended an $11 per hour starting scale for teachers' aides, slightly more than a 2.5 percent increase. Foster cited a possible federally mandated $15-per-hour minimum wage. "[Aides] are vastly underpaid," Foster insisted.

Board member Sarah Mar-hevsky asked if special education aides should get paid even more. "More goes into those jobs," Marhevsky said.

Director of Schools Stanley Bean said some school systems paid special education aids as much as $6,000 more annually. "Those people do the most difficult things in the school system," Bean stressed, noting special education aides' responsibilities included tasks like changing diapers. Bean suggested special education aides receive an additional $3,000 annually. Bean said money was available in the special education budget to cover

School board Vice Chair Lance Williams calculated an additional $2.50 per hour increase would mean a $3,500 annual increase. The board discussed the different responsibilities of different types of special education aides. Foster will consult with Supervisor of Exceptional Children's Services Toby Guinn, to determine which special education aides should qualify for an additional wage increase. Foster said the wage increase would help to attract and retain staff for chalenging positions.

The 2021–22 budget added one new permanent position, Foster said, an assistant principal to serve at all 11 elementary schools. In the past, the school system employed someone in that role who served primarily at Clark Memorial and Decherd elementary schools, the two elementary schools with the largest enrollment. In addition to assisting the regular principals, the assistant principal could assume the duties of a principal who took medical leave.

Bean said new temporary certified employees hired with Elementary and Secondary School Emergency Relief (ESSER) funds would

Monteagle Planning: Lighting Ordinance, Parks, Tiny Homes

by Leslie Lytle, Messenger Staff Writer

At the April 6 Monteagle Planning Commission meeting, the commission discussed adopting an anti-light-pollution ordinance, applying for a parks and recreation grant, and tiny homes regulations. The commission also took up two zoning questions.

Building Inspector Earl Geary referenced a model lighting ordinance drafted by the Engineering Society of North America and the International Dark Sky Association. "You can see lights 125 miles away," Geary said. The requirements of the ordinance intended "to soften the blow of lighting." Mayor Marilyn Campbell Rodman pointed out this was the lighting ordinance Nashville used and the model RBT Enterprises had agreed to follow in the lighting design at the truck stop RBT hopes to build. "We need to come up with in a tiny-homes subdivision in an some model we can adopt...With area zoned R-4. Monteagle allows future businesses coming in we will need to have [a lighting ordinance] that has some teeth in it," Rodman said. "We would implement ours [anti-light pollution practices] as R-3 zoning, minimum square footwe change our lighting and develop age is 600 feet. R-4 zoning does not lighting for the town.

Geary said the ordinance used lumens-based metrics to measure lighting. The planning commission will hold a workshop to broaden their understanding of the proposed ordinance's provisions.

Revisiting a parks and recreation grant the town might qualify for, Rodman asked town planner Garret Haynes for an update. Hayes explained the deadline was extended to September 2021 for communities, like Monteagle, who did not have a recent parks and recreation plan to allow them time to adopt one. The town will host a public meeting to invite public input on developing a parks and recreation plan suitable to the community.

Responding to planning commission member Dorraine Parmley's question about tiny homes, R-4 zoning, but currently has no property zoned R-4. In R-1 zoning, minimum square footage for a home is 800 square feet; in R-2 and Nearly three years after forming, Stray Fossa, the indie trio are finally releasing their much anticipated, self-produced, debut album "With You For Ever" on April 9. The Virginia-based trio includes brothers, Nick and Will Evans, and childhood friend, ZachBlount, who grew up writing music together. The band's first full-length record, "With You For Ever," was written and recorded entirely in the first half of 2020. The songs do not so much play into the zeitgeist of this period of time as accompany it – weaved in and out of the record arethemes of social isolation, anxiety and dissolution; interindependence; restlessness; nostalgia; and collective memory, the last of which, given the band's lifetime of friendship, has long underlined their writing process. For more information and to order, go to <https://www.strayfossa. com/>. Cover art for the album by LA-based artist, Chyrum Lambert. From his piece, "Oil in the Water" (2014).

South Cumberland Regional Land Trust Donates $6,000 to Local Food Banks

The local nonprofit South Cumberland Regional Land Trust has donated recent fundraising income to three area food banks.

"Considering the events of 2020, our organization has been lucky. The pandemic has not affected SCRLT in drastic ways, however we can't say the same of our neighbors here in the South Cumberland region. Food insecurity has surged this year, and our local food banks are working hard to meet the increased need. That's why, instead of putting membership dollars toward SCRLT, we've elected to donate all membership renewal dollars to three South Cumberland organizations dedicated to feeding the hungry: the Grundy County Food Bank in Tracy City, the Morton Memorial Food Pantry in Monteagle, and the Community Action Committee in Sewanee. All three are local organizations who combat hunger by distributing food to those who need it in our region," said Laura Candler, President of the Board.

Board treasurer Bob Hoagland recently presented $2,000 checks to the Rev. David Goodpastor at CAC, Alyse Getty at Morton Memorial Food Ministry, and Tim Glover at the Grundy County Food Bank.

Established in 1993 to protect property located on or near the Cumberland Plateau, SCRLT's purpose is to preserve existing forest lands, areas with unique geological features, old growth forests and areas with rare or endangered species of flora or fauna. SCRLT is run by an all volunteer board and recently set aside over 1,000 acres in the Jump Off adult who resides in the area and area south of Sewanee into a permanently protected conservation easement. ## Sisters of St. Mary to Offer Virtual Program on Spirituality of Yoga

People often think of Yoga as a type of exercise, but did you know that Yoga is first and foremost a spiritual and philosophical system? Join us for an interactive virtual event on the Spirituality of Yoga. We will begin our morning with a lecture touching on a basic overview of the history of Yoga. We will then explore ways to incorporate aspects of Yoga into our personal spiritual practices. The second portion of our time will consist of a guided practice - bringing together the body, mind, and spirit - that can be done seated in a chair. There will be time for questions and answers at the end of the event.

The presenter, Casey Perkins-Lawrence, is a Spiritual Life Coach and Yoga Teacher who has been teaching students and training yoga teachers for more than a decade. Casey is also a student at The School of Theology and serves as the Communications Manager for the Sisters of St. Mary. This 90-minute session will be held on Saturday, April 24, from 9-10:30 a.m., via Zoom. The cost of the session is $25, and participants can register at <www.communityofstmarysouth.org>.

Geary said International Building Codes had room size requirements that no room could be smaller than 120 square feet and no room can be less than 7 feet in any direction. 'We need to look at [tiny homes] to be consistent with municipal codes and with our own codes," Rodman said.

Geary brought up a request to put a double-wide mobile home on a South Central Avenue lot. The R-3 zoning prohibits double-wide mobile homes. A second problem stems from the proposed mobile home's situation on the lot falling two inches short of the required property line set back. Hayes proposed rezoning the lot to R-2 and a variance on the set back as a possible solution.

Planning commission member MaryJane Flowers suggested the commission take into consideration what they wanted the character of the neighborhood to be, mobile homes, apartments, or single-family residences. "What are we wanting to happen to the property?" Flowers asked.

Hayes will look into possible ways of resolving the issue.

Hayes introduced a related request to rezone a property from C-2 to R-2 so the owner could add on to the residence and possibly build another residence. The commission tabled the issue until the May 4 meeting, since the owner requesting the amended zoning was not present to answer questions.

The commission also anticipates taking up the proposed truck stop site plan on May 4.

Revenue Department Extends Certain Tax Deadlines

The Department of Revenue is extending the filing and payment deadline for Hall income tax returns and, for certain taxpayers, the franchise and excise tax return from April 15, 2021 to May 17, 2021.

This extension follows an announcement from the Internal Revenue Service extending the deadline for federal individual income tax returns to May 17. Under Tennessee law, the Commissioner of Revenue is authorized to extend the deadline for filing a return whenever the IRS extends a federal filing date for a specified group of taxpayers.

These extensions will automatically apply, and no further action is required from the affected taxpayers. The extension applies for all taxpayers that file the Hall income tax. For franchise and excise tax, the extension only applies to individuals who file a Tennessee franchise and excise tax return using Schedule J2 - Computation of Net Earnings for a Single Member LLC Filing as an Individual.

Interest and late filing penalties will not be applied to returns filed and payments made on or before this extended due date. The Oct. 15, 2021, six-month extension date for the calendar year 2020 return

Estimated payments due on April 15, 2021 are not included in this extension. These estimated payments are still due on April 15. For more information about these tax deadline extensions, please read this important notice https://www.tn.gov/content/dam/tn/revenue/ documents/notices/general/gen2102.pdf>.

NATURENOTES

by Yolande Gottfried

Fire Pink

David Rowe has spotted some fire pinks on a property in one of the valley coves. As mentioned in a previous Nature Note on hummingbirds, red flowers with a tube are favorite nectar plants of those birds. It is a member of the Pink or Carnation Family. The family name comes from the notch at the tip of the petals; for those who might remember pinking shears, that could help one remember the name of the family. Fire pink is a short-lived herbaceous perennial, lasting 2-3 years. The sticky hairs on the stems and the calyx at the base of the flower may help deter insects and give it the other common name of catchfly.

In the photo in color, it will be seen that one of the flowers is actually pink, something that David had not seen before. Even though the plant is called fire pink, it is usually a fiery red.

I heard a thousand blended notes, While in a grove I sate reclined, In that sweet mood when pleasant thoughts Bring sad thoughts to the mind.

To her fair works did Nature link The human soul that through me ran; And much it grieved my heart to think What man has made of man.

Through primrose tufts, in that green bower, The periwinkle trailed its wreaths; And 'tis my faith that every flower Enjoys the air it breathes.

The birds around me hopped and played, Their thoughts I cannot measure:-But the least motion which they made It seemed a thrill of pleasure.

The budding twigs spread out their fan, To catch the breezy air; And I must think, do all I can, That there was pleasure there.

If this belief from heaven be sent, If such be Nature's holy plan, Have I not reason to lament What man has made of man?
