Welcome to the High Score Arcade

by Bailey Basham, Messenger Staff Writer

At one point in time, the local grocery store parking lot had nothing on the local arcade — kids could spend hours hanging out with friends and playing games like Ms. Pac-Man, Pong and Galaga, all on just a couple of dollars or less.

That nostalgia of simpler times and having a safe place to go have fun is something that was important to Andrea McEwan when she and her family moved from the Jersey Shore two years ago.

Coming from New Jersey, she was used to being able to take her family to walk the beach and boardwalk, to amusement parks, to trampoline parks, arcades — about anywhere her young sons might want to go. When the family got to Franklin County and discovered that there weren't many options for family fun, she started thinking. That is when she said she first had the idea for High Score Arcade and Gaming Lounge.

"When we moved our family here, we realized that anytime we wanted to take our kids out, we had to drive about an hour away. There was not really a place for them to hang out locally. We saw a need for a safe, fun place for them, and we thought about different options, but we don't have any investors — it is just us," McEwan said. "Once we made the decision to open the arcade, it took about three months of planning and about a month of getting the location ready."

The arcade opened in early February, and since then, McEwan said the gamers have come in droves. Some come to check out the PlayStation 5, which is still tough to find despite having been released in November 2020, and others flock to the retro classics, like Qbert, Mortal Kombat, NBA Jam and Centipede.

"We have the PS5 and the Xbox1 for people to play Fortnite, Apex, Call of Duty Warzone and most of the newest year's sports games. We also have two virtual reality rooms where you can try out boxing, shooter games, football and fishing," she said. "The idea was to have games for people of all ages. That's why we incorporated retro games with the newest consoles and game titles. We want the parents to be able to play and show their family what they used to play when they were younger, while the kids can show the parents the new style of consoles."

Play at the arcade is $8 for one hour or $15 to play for the entire day. All the games are set to free play. Gamers can also purchase popcorn, chips, hotdogs and sodas to fuel their play. McEwan said she hopes to add other concessions down the line.

"We are so excited to have our business here in Franklin County and are looking forward to what the future holds for our family and the community," she said.

High Score Arcade is located at 110 1st Ave., Winchester. To keep up with the arcade, follow their Facebook page at <<https://www.facebook.com/HighScoreArcadeTN>>.

Sewanee Council Welcomes New District 4 Representative

by Leslie Lytle, Messenger Staff Writer

At the March 28 meeting, the Sewanee Community Council welcomed a new District 4 representative and announced meeting dates for 2022-2023. The council also heard updates on project funding grants and the cell tower.

Acting Provost Scott Wilson introduced Marilyn Phelps, the new District 4 representative. The council held a special election in February to fill the seat vacated by Mary Priestley who moved out of the district. Phelps vied against not just one, but two other candidates, unusual for a council election. Phelps has a professional background in clinical social work, served on the board of directors of Folks at Home and as a cochair for the Sewanee Community Chest.

In the 2022-2023 academic year, the council will meet Sept. 12, Oct. 24, Jan. 23, Feb. 27, March 27, April 24, May 22, and June 26. The dates in February, April and June are reserved dates for a possible meeting in the event the council has business to be adressed before the next meeting.

Committee chair Kate Reed reported the Community Funding initiative was still receiving applications for the spring cycle. The grant program has more than $15,000 available to fund improvements and amenities that enhance the community and improve the quality of life in Sewanee. Visit the Community Council page on the University Lease Office website for the application form at <<https://new.sewanee.edu/offices/university-offices/leases-and-community-relations/community-council/>>.

Updating the community on the cell tower, Wilson said the provider "was waiting for the final piece of equipment to arrive. As soon as it's put up, they're ready to go." Asked who the provider would be, acting Vice-Chancellor Nancy Berner said the tower owners contracted first with Verizon. Other providers can also contract to put equipment on the tower.

The council meets next on May 23.

Choral Evensong on April 3

The University Choir will be singing choral evensong at 4 p.m., Sunday April 3, in All Saints' Chapel. The choir will be singing music by Kenneth Leighton, Bernard Rose and Philip Stopford. The choir is under the direction of Geoffrey Ward, university organist and choirmaster, and accompanied by Adam Cobb, assistant university organist. There will be a preservice performance of music for harp and violin featuring Molly Morgan, C'22 and Cooper Paddison, C'22. The choir is currently preparing to go on tour to England in May. Cathedrals for the tour itinerary include Chester, Liverpool, Saint Paul's in London and Hereford.

Trails & Trilliums: Adventure for Every Age

Nature lovers of all ages will find something to enjoy at the 18th annual Trails & Trilliums festival, April 8-10. This weekend-long naturalist rally, put on by the Friends of South Cumberland State Park and sponsored by Lodge Cast Iron, is held at the DuBose Conference Center in Monteagle. Schedules, details and registration are found at <www.TrailsAndTrilliums.org>.

Adults can sign up for more than 100 offerings spread over three days: guided hikes by expert leaders to learn about wildflowers, geology and archeology; a nighttime Star Party; author talks (including David Haskell on his latest book and Patrick Dean on his forthcoming book on Marck Catesby for whom the Catesby trillium is named); workshops from Nature Journaling to Trail Building; and 25 presenters on topics such as Monarch Butterflies, Planting for Pollinators, Shade Gardening, and Hummingbirds. Saturday's keynote address by State Naturalist Randy Hedgepath is "Favorite Places in South Cumberland."

Young naturalists are invited on Saturday and Sunday to build forts, make their own fairy house, cook over a campfire, start a nature journal, hold snakes, turtles and other critters, bike to the State Park, and throw hatchets. Programs on stage in the pavilion include Hands-on Wildlife, "Owl-ology" with a rescued owl, and Davy Crockett telling pioneer stories. A "Nature Night" Family Campfire on Saturday will include a night hike, roasting marshmallows and a moth adventure. All Family Fun events are free but some require pre-registration to secure a spot.

All festival-goers will enjoy an expanded number of vendors and four food trucks. Overhill Nursery will return with an excellent selection of native plants. Other offerings include worm castings from the Boy Scouts, hiking sticks, birdhouses, leather works, candles, soaps, rock jewelry and garden sculpture. Vendors are open Saturday and Sunday.

Sewanee Elementary first grade students created leprechaun traps to celebrate St. Patrick's Day. Unfortunately, no leprechauns were caught, but they did cause lots of mischief!

'BIRD' Takes the Stage April 5 and 6

by Bailey Basham, Messenger Staff Writer

At the start of the pandemic, when most of us anticipated little more than a couple of weeks of mask-wearing and working from home, the world slowed down, and a lot of people turned to forgotten or long-abandoned hobbies.

For some, there was a certain appeal to bread-baking. For others, the great outdoors called. And for others still, the arts begged for attention.

Kylie Vincent, a New York City-based comedienne, found herself writing of her experience with childhood abuse, sexual violence, and survivorship. When she sent the finished project to Barbara Pitts McAdams, director and producer best known for her work on The Laramie Project, Pitts McAdams said she had no intention of moving forward with the project — that is, until she read it.

"When she sent me the first draft of 'BIRD,' I thought, 'Okay I'll read it and say a few encouraging things to be supportive,' but as I read it, I was so moved by the moments with strong imagery, especially as they were juxtaposed by what I call Kylie's 'Gen Z dark humor,'" Pitts McAdams said. "I think women are carving out an interesting performance style to tell their personal stories that then expand beyond the individual narrative."

Written during the pandemic and workshopped in 2021, a first version of "BIRD" ran at the Kraine Theater in New York City in November. Reworked, "BIRD" has now toured venues around the country including a sold out performance in Los Angeles at the Lyric

SVFD Partners with State Fire Marshal to Provide Home Smoke Alarm Installations

The State Fire Marshal's Office recently presented the Sewanee Volunteer Fire Department with a supply of 10-year battery smoke alarms to be installed in homes within the community at high risk of fire.

This statewide distribution of smoke alarms launched in November of 2012 and is part of the State Fire Marshal's effort to both educate and equip Tennesseans to incorporate fire safety into their daily lives.

"We want residents to make sure they have functional smoke alarms in their homes, as well as a rehearsed fire-escape plan. These are tools proven to save lives – because even one fire death is one too many," says State Fire Marshal Julie McPeak.

The alarms are free, but must be installed by the fire department or a partnering organization that has been trained by the fire department. Because supplies are limited, the fire department may need to give first preference to those who are not able to otherwise afford smoke alarms.

"We are excited to be able to partner with the State Fire Marshal's Office in providing these smoke alarms for the citizens here in Sewanee and the surrounding communities said Jeff Hackworth, Compliance Officer of the Sewanee Volunteer Fire Department. "Fire can spread through a home in a matter of minutes and smoke alarms can give residents the warning needed to get out safely."

To request an installation, call (931) 598-1594 and provide your name, address, and phone number. A fire department representative will then contact you to schedule a time for the installation.

For more information on fire safety, visit the State Fire Marshal's Office Get Alarmed Program website at <<https://www.tn.gov/commerce/article/fire-get-alarmed>>.

Sisters of St. Mary Offers Event on Indigenous Communities and the Church

Participants for the April presentation with guest speaker Adam Dawkins can choose to attend in-person at the Convent or online via Zoom. The talk, titled "Indigenous Communities & the Church: The Journey of Reconciliation," will discuss the recent discovery of unmarked burial sites containing the remains of hundreds of children at residential schools in Canada which shocked communities throughout North America. The reporting of horrors of abuse and brutality at residential schools is not new to Indigenous communities, but these burial sites have brought into sharp focus the structural disrespect, cultural violence, and cruelty that has taken place for hundreds of years. Dawkins said: "A journey is taken one step at a time, and the journey of reconciliation is a lifetime pilgrimage of truth telling, not something quickly done and finished. We are on that journey and we must seek ways to continue and never give up."

Come and learn how the Anglican Church is responding to these painful truths and taking steps toward reconciliation, and how the lessons learned can help us move forward in ways that honor renewed relationships with Indigenous communities across North America with renewed determination for healing and restorative justice.

The presentation will take place from 9–10:30 a.m., Saturday, April 2, at St. Mary's Convent or online. The cost is $15, and participants can learn more and register at <www.communityofstmarysouth.org>.

COVID-Precautions: This in-person event is open to individuals who are fully vaccinated. Masks will be required whenever indoors.

Partner with the South Cumberland Summer Meal Program in Summer 2022

In partnership with South Cumberland Community Fund, the University of the South's Office of Civic Engagement and Sewanee Dining announce sponsorship of the 2022 South Cumberland Summer Meal Program. This program is part of the U.S. Department of Agriculture's Summer Food Service Program (SFSP). The SFSP program increases children's access to nutritious meals throughout the summer. It is administered in Tennessee by the Department of Human Services under an agreement with the USDA.

The 2022 South Cumberland Summer Meal program will operate from June 6 to July 31, partnering with youth-serving organizations in Grundy County and the towns of Monteagle and Winchester to provide nutritious meals free of charge to children and youth through age 18. Summer meal sites may request meals for any period of time during the program's operation, whether for just a few days or for the entire summer. Sites may request up to two meals per day per eligible child or youth. Meal options include breakfast, lunch, supper and snacks.

The South Cumberland Summer Meal Program is currently seeking organizations across the Plateau to act as summer meal sites. Summer meal sites distribute the free meals provided by Sewanee Dining, and offer learning and enrichment activities to area children and youth. Child-serving organizations hosting programs such as summer reading, summer school, vacation Bible school, summer camp, organized sports, art and enrichment opportunities are encouraged to participate as summer meal sites. Organizations that do not normally host programs for children may still enroll as summer meal sites by partnering with the South Cumberland Plateau VISTA Project to provide these activities.

If your organization is interested in becoming a South Cumberland Summer Meal site, please contact <sfpvista@gmail.com> prior to April 25.

TDEC Hosts Virtual Lecture Series On Recent Archaeological Research

The Tennessee Department of Environment and Conservation (TDEC) has announced a free virtual series of speakers including researchers, resource management professionals and archaeology students to highlight archaeological research in Tennessee.

The series, organized by TDEC's Division of Archaeology, begins at 6 p.m. (CDT) on Thursday, April 21 and will be held at the same time on the third Thursday of each month from April to October. The first speaker in the series will be Dr. Kevin Smith of Middle Tennessee State University on "Exploring Native American Foodways in Ancient Tennessee: More Than Just Corn, Beans, Squash."

On Oct. 20, Camille Westmont, from The University of the South, will present "Hell Holes of Rage, Cruelty, Despair, and Vice: Archaeological Findings from the Lone Rock Convict Labor Stockade (40GY78), Grundy County, Tennessee."

"With so many events canceled over the last two years, including our own current research conference, we're excited to launch a virtual lecture series," State Archaeologist Phil Hodge said. "The series will provide an opportunity for the public to learn about new archaeological research in Tennessee and meet the archaeologists leading some of the most important research in the Volunteer State."

Details for each of the events can be found at <<https://www.tn.gov/environment/program-areas/archaeology/current-research-in-tennessee-archaeology--crita/upcoming-meeting1.html>>.

Anyone who has questions about the series are invited to contact Hodge by email at <Phil.Hodge@tn.gov>.

Hyperion. As a part of the current tour, Vincent will bring "BIRD" to the Mountain.

"I think women's stories, especially in comedy, are not often amplified, and especially childhood sexual abuse – it's often never talked about in a public setting, but it happens so frequently. I think we need to hear from young artists that are in tune with all the darkness happening in the world about how we cope through a dark sense of humor," Vincent said. "My hope is that people can laugh and see the beauty in sharing such a hard topic onstage, for the issue to become less taboo and for long-form comedy that also has an artistic and dramatic element to reach a bigger audience. I hope that audiences feel empowered and find a little piece of 'BIRD' in them."

Jim Crawford, associate professor of theatre at the University, said with April being Sexual Assault Awareness month, Vincent's performance is particularly relevant.

"I'm really proud that we're bringing "BIRD" to the Tennessee Williams Center. I have enormous admiration for Barbara Pitts McAdams, who was one of the creators of "The Laramie Project," a landmark play that deals with hate crimes and the LGBTQ+ community, and she now works with college students across the country to create theatre pieces that address a variety of topical subjects," Crawford said. "The writer and performer of the show, Kylie, is just 21-years-old and describes herself as a 'stand-up activist'. Her show begins as a comedy routine, but evolves, and takes on serious topics in a challenging way."

The current leg of Vincent's tour will culminate in May with a 3-night, fully produced performance with the New Jersey Theater Alliance at Mile Square Theater in Hoboken, N.J. This performance will be done in preparation for a month-long run in Edinburgh, Scotland at the Fringe Festival.

"I make and direct a lot of interview-based plays, and I love theater that exposes social ills through personal narratives. You can quote statistics all day, but people aren't moved to action by spreadsheets. Hearing Kylie's authentic, personal journey makes the topics in the play so human. There is a saying: 'Sunlight is the best disinfectant.' By bringing the issue of child sexual assault out in the daylight, we destigmatize the trauma..." said Pitt McAdams.

And in the process, both Pitt McAdams and Vincent both hope to help make space for other survivors to heal through sharing their stories.

"I have built a community of survivors around this show and people who resonate with it and that's one of the most important parts about it. It's been emotionally draining as well, it's the first time in my life I've been open about being a survivor, but sharing my art with others who have been through the same thing is what makes it all worth it," Vincent said.

Vincent will perform two shows in Sewanee, one at 7:30 p.m., Tuesday, April 5, and another at 7:30 p.m., Wednesday, April 6. The show is free and open to the public. For more information about Vincent's work, visit <<https://www.kylierosevincent.com/bird>>.

Arts Amplified – Arts Across Campus

by Bailey Basham, Messenger Staff Writer

Arts Amplified is the latest project to come from the University Art Gallery. This week, the exhibit will be presented in conjunction with the theatre department's performance of "Eurydice," a play written by Sarah Ruhl focused on retelling the myth of Orpheus from the perspective of Eurydice, his wife. The story follows Eurydice as she chooses between returning to earth with Orpheus or remaining in the underworld with her father.

The performance, which will be directed by senior Nathaniel Klein, will run through April 2 in the Tennessee Williams Center.

"The Arts Amplified series was launched this academic year to activate campus with moments of surprise and fun, to offer students more opportunities to perform and to show their work and to encourage collaboration and conversation between different disciplines in the arts," said Shelley MacLaren, director of the University Art Gallery. "Among other things, the series has brought us tap dancing in the arcade outside Guerry, Shakespeare in the University Art Gallery and screenings of short student films in dialogue with the Sewanee Symphony Orchestra concert before the holidays."

MacLaren said this week, she and the others working on Arts Amplified are delighted to present a small exhibition of paintings by three senior art majors in the lobby of the Tennessee Williams Center, all offered in dialogue with "Eurydice."

"Considering the possible themes of the play – divided loyalties, family relationships, loss, moments of decision – three of our senior art majors, Emilea Thrasher, Ellie Pedersen and Megan Vlahoplus – have offered individual paintings for a pop-up exhibition in the lobby of the Tennessee Williams Center, to be on view while the play is running," MacLaren said.

MacLaren posed two questions to encourage reflection: How do the students' works change how you think about the play? How does the play change how you see their works?

"Eurydice" will be performed at 7:30 p.m., Friday, April 1, in the Tennessee Williams Center and again at 2 p.m., Saturday, April 2. Tickets are free and available for reservation at <www.eventbrite.com/e/eurydice-tickets-302910652917>.

McCoy is the Babson Center's Humphrey's Entrepreneur-in-Residence

Lindsey McCoy, C'96, co-founder and CEO of Plaine Products, will be the Babson Center's Humphrey's Entrepreneur-in-Residence for the 2022 Easter semester. Plaine Products is a zero-waste body care brand that adopted a circular, earth-friendly business model working to eliminate single-use plastics.

While on campus, McCoy will deliver a presentation titled, "Using Business as a Force for Good: Creating Circular Packaging to Reduce Waste," at 5 p.m., Thursday, April 7, at Convocation Hall. All are welcome to attend this event co-sponsored by the Babson Center for Global Commerce, the University Art Gallery, the Office of Environmental Stewardship and Sustainability, the Office of Civic Engagement, the Departments of Politics and Economics.

McCoy's visit will be featured in the University Art Gallery's exhibition and workshop, Action by Design. It is structured around the nine elements of the University's sustainability plan and will feature community actions and student research contributions under each element. The Office of Environmental Stewardship and Sustainability will lead conversations about the University Climate Accountability Plan as part of the exhibition's events.

Founded in 2017, Plaine Products was inspired from the time McCoy spent running an environmental education nonprofit in the Bahamas. Seeing the consequences of our world's disposable lifestyle on the beaches and in the waters, she became committed to eliminating all of the plastic bottles in the shower and developed Plaine Products to help others have less single-use plastic in their lives.

All of the Plaine Products are vegan, non-GMO, cruelty-free, biodegradable, color-safe and free of parabens, sulfates and toxins, good for the body and the planet. They come in aluminum bottles that can be sent back and refilled any time. This company's circular system has allowed the elimination of almost 400,000 plastic bottles from the waste stream, and they are on track to hit 500,000 by the end of 2022. It is estimated that 552 million shampoo bottles end up in landfills yearly, which is enough bottles to fill 1,164 football fields.

At Sewanee, McCoy was a writer and layout editor for the Sewanee Purple, was member of the PKE sorority, and worked as a lifeguard at the pool and Lake Cheston while attending summer school. Speaking of her time on campus, McCoy said, "Being a founder and CEO of a startup means you have to be a jack of all trades, constantly learning and adjusting as the company grows. My time at Sewanee taught me how to learn, to be curious about the world, and to believe that I could find solutions to problems. Having the freedom to study a number of different subjects was invaluable to prepare me for a career that requires accounting, public speaking, writing, analysis, and visionary thinking."

The Humphreys Entrepreneur-in-Residence program is made possible by a generous gift from Debra and David Humphreys, C'79.

The Rev. Dr. Gayle Fisher-Stewart to Give the Kean Memorial Lecture

The Rev. Dr. Gayle Fisher-Stewart will give a lecture in the University of the South's Convocation Hall on April 5 titled "Preaching Your Authentic Self." The lecture will be held at 4:30 p.m. CDT. A reception and book sale and signing will follow.

The lecture will focus on the art of preaching. She will explore the basics of the craft—what makes a preacher and what do they bring to the message they give? How can preachers ensure that the message received and the person delivering it presents an authentic self?

Fisher-Stewart was ordained in 2015 and has served as the interim rector of St. Luke's Episcopal Church in Washington, D.C. Prior to accepting the call to ordained ministry, she served the Washington D.C. Metropolitan Police Department as a captain. She is the president of the Washington, D.C. chapter of the Union of Black Episcopalians and also serves as the chaplain for the Takoma Park Police Department in Maryland.

She was the 2015 recipient of the Director's Award from the Episcopal Evangelism Society. In 2017, she was awarded an honorary doctorate of divinity from Colgate University. She has written on race, policing, and The Episcopal Church. "To Serve and Protect: Race, the Police and the Episcopal Church in the Black Lives Matter Era" was published in the Summer (2017) edition of the Anglican Theological Review. Her book, "Preaching Black Lives (Matter)" (2020) asks and answers the question, what would the church look like if black lives mattered? Her newest book, "Black and Episcopalian: The Struggle for Inclusion" (2022) asks the question—can she be both Black and Episcopalian?

The Rev. Melissa L. Kean, T'19, Memorial Lecture was created in 2021 to honor School of Theology seminarian Melissa Kean. The annual lecture series has been funded by generous donors wishing to continue Kean's work to elevate women priests. The women lecturers for this series are selected by the School's Florence Li Tim-Oi student committee.

If you cannot attend in person, the lecture will be live-streamed. You can register here: <shorturl.at/tvN45>.

Lecture by Basque Writer Kirmen Uribe

The Department of Spanish and Italian at the University of the South will welcome the Basque writer Kirmen Uribe for a campus visit and public talk at 7 p.m., Sunday, April 10, in Gailor Auditorium on Sewanee's campus. Uribe's lecture, titled "How to Tell a Real Life: My Year Writing at the New York Public Library," will be held in English.

Uribe is a household name in Spain. He's the winner (along with many other accolades) of the Premio Nacional de Narrativa (2009), which is considered Spain's most prestigious literary award, for his novel "Bilbao-New York-Bilbao." He is also one of the leading authors to write in Basque and is translated into Spanish and many other languages, including English. He is a Distinguished Writer in Residence at New York University, where he also teaches, and in 2018–2019 was a Writing Fellow at the New York Public Library. Renowned for his novels, particularly "Bilbao-New York-Bilbao," Uribe has also earned a dedicated following for his poetry, which has been published in the New Yorker and read in multimedia performances at venues including the Bowery Poetry Club in New York.

Uribe will discuss his latest novel, titled in Spanish, "La vida anterior de los delfines" ("The Previous Life of Dolphins"). The book, for which Uribe researched extensively in the archives of the New York Public Library, tells the story of the Hungarian pacifist, feminist, and suffragette Rosika Schwimmer and of Uribe's process writing the book in the midst of the Covid lockdown of 2020.

Macfie joined the English Department in 1984 and has enjoyed a lively career teaching Dante, Shakespeare, and Early Modern Verse. This term, she is teaching a new course, "The Literature of Memoir," which has a special focus on writers who have published memory pieces in the Sewanee Review. To her students' instructive delight, Review authors Justin Taylor ("Riding with the Ghost"), Stephanie Danler ("Stray"), Melissa Febos ("Girlhood"), and Garrett Hongo ("Perfect Sound: A Memoir in Stereo") have joined her seminar via Zoom.

Macfie, who was the first woman tenured in the English department, will retire at the end of this term. "I look forward to expanding my work in creative non-fiction in retirement. My debt to students, colleagues, and members of this community will certainly be part of my exploration."

This reading, sponsored by the English Department and its Conversations in Literature initiative, will be in-person at 4:30 p.m., Thursday, April 7, in Gailor Auditorium.

SCCF Announces 'Make Lasting Connections' Grant Round for 10th Anniversary

The South Cumberland Community Fund (SCCF) will add a third grant round in 2022 to its usual spring and fall grant rounds in recognition of the Fund's 10th anniversary. The "Make Lasting Connections" grant will be awarded to 1-3 applicant groups of two or more organizations. A total of $50,000 will be awarded.

"When we tap into the experiences and expertise of others, it creates opportunities for the development of even greater and more innovative approaches for solving complex problems," said Katie Goforth, director of community development, speaking of the new opportunity.

A request for proposals which will include more information about the special grant round will be released on April 20, 2022, at the "Make Lasting Connections" symposium, to be held at the Sewanee Inn. Attendance at the symposium by at least one member of an applicant group is a requirement to apply for the "Make Lasting Connections" grant. The symposium will bring together people from across the Plateau, and from all sectors, and will create a space for this kind of cross-pollination of ideas to create solutions.

Applicants will be expected to provide at least a partial funding match for their proposed project, either from institutional funds or from new donors who support the proposed project. The application process will open on June 18 and close on July 31, 2022. Grants will be approved by the SCCF board at its September meeting.

"We are really hoping that partners in the community will respond to this opportunity with exciting and forward looking projects that address SCCF's priorities of health, education, and economic development," said Tom Sanders, executive director of the Fund. "We are particularly interested in ideas to address food insecurity, housing insecurity, transportation difficulties on the Plateau, and social connectedness, as those problems affect all three of our priorities."

To learn more about the "Make Lasting Connections" symposium on April 20 or this summer's grant round, contact <director@south-cumberlandcommunityfund.org>.

SEWANEE NOW AND THEN

Sewanee Trust for Historic Preservation

The following is from The University of the South Magazine Vol. 1: No. 1 1890

Reasons Why Your Sons Should Be Sent to the University of the South, Sewanee, Tennessee

1. The location upon the Cumberland Plateau, dry under foot, yielding chemically pure freestone water, and bathed in fresh, bracing air, is the healthiest in the United States.
  2. The students are not herded together in commons and dormitories, but are broken up into families, being subject to Christian refining influences.
  3. The tradition of the school is to make Christians and gentlemen as well as scholars of its students.
  4. Owning a domain four miles in each direction, and having absolute control over it, it can guard students against temptations that surround them at other institutions.
  5. Owing to its remoteness from cities and large towns, there is not the same inducements for its students to spend money outside of the regular college charges that exist elsewhere; hence, the University of the South is really cheaper than most other colleges. The fees and charges for board are greater than at some other schools, but when we consider that there are no saloons, billiard-rooms, nor gambling places allowed within four miles of Sewanee, we can see that in its higher charges for board and tuition the University of the South can afford to give its students the best tuition, and better guard them against evils that beset other institutions.
  6. It is the conclusion of the best medical minds that boys from hotter and malarial regions should spend several years of their lives between the ages of ten and twenty, in such an invigorating climate as that of Sewanee.
  7. The conclusion is also beginning to obtain in regard to youths living in the North and East, who are predisposed to pulmonary troubles, asthma, and catarrh.
- For information address, Rev. Telfair Hodgson, D.D., Vice Chancellor.

Getting Really Clean: the Bathroom

Bathrooms tend to accumulate lots of bottles of cleaning supplies. As we think of the gyres of plastic spinning in the Pacific, perhaps we can vow that these will be the last plastic bottles to grace that awkward space between the toilet and tub. Consider the lowly scouring powder, around since 1886, though the Greeks and Romans used pumice and sand thousands of years ago. Scouring powders tend to come in cardboard tubes which are recyclable. With a bit of elbow grease, they are as effective as the more expensive plastic bottles of creams and bubbles and can be used on tubs, toilets, and sinks.

The Hospitality Shop has towers of towels, batches of bath mats, and super shower curtains. Reimagine your color scheme and make a splash. In the kids' area there are floating bath toys and baby towels with the cute little hood.

Spring and summer clothes are now on display. Check out the Easter dresses hanging in the children's room. Many still have the original price tags, but the Hospitality Shop is selling them for $5 to $10. There are Easter baskets in the gift room and lots of small toys to fill them. Fancy Easter eggs are in the front room. All you need is candy.

The Hospitality Shop is open 10 a.m. to 1 p.m., Tuesday and Thursday, and 10 a.m. to 2 p.m., on Saturday. Volunteers are needed. Contact Jennifer Janeway at <j-janeway99@gmail.com> if you have a few free hours to help clerk or stock shelves.

TDEC to Host State's Inaugural Food Waste Awareness Week April 4-9

The Tennessee Department of Environment and Conservation (TDEC) and partner agencies will host the state's inaugural Food Waste Awareness Week April 4-9 through TDEC's Get Food Smart TN program.

TDEC will partner with the Tennessee Department of Agriculture, the University of Tennessee Agriculture Extension, Clean Memphis, The Nashville Food Project, the City of Knoxville, green|spaces, the Society of St. Andrew and other organizations for a week of virtual education and outreach. The effort will focus on awareness of the significance of food waste and encourage organizations to take action to reduce waste and increase food recovery and diversion. According to the Environmental Protection Agency, food waste accounts for the largest percentage of what is thrown away in the United States.

The Food Waste Awareness Week will consist of daily themes centered on strategies for addressing food waste with tips, resources highlighting best practices, a daily food hero photo challenge, and a statewide food drive for hunger relief.

The week will culminate with End Food Waste TN events in Memphis, Nashville, Chattanooga and Knoxville at local breweries. Brewers are partnering with local bakeries to take unsold bread and turn it into a brew to raise awareness about food waste. The events will inform local citizens about the importance of reducing food waste, increasing food recovery, and other strategies. All events for the week, both virtual and in-person, are free, open to the public and intended to be family-friendly.

For more information on efforts in Tennessee please visit <<http://www.getfoodsmarttn.com/content/page/food-waste-awareness-week>>.

‘Runonko,’ a Solo Exhibition by Olivier I. Mbabazi

The Art, Art History and Visual Studies Department at The University of the South is pleased to present “Runonko,” an exhibition of sculptural and painting installations by interdisciplinary artist, scholar and student Olivier Mbabazi, C’22. The exhibition will be on display April 5–9, at the Carlos Gallery.

Mbabazi mediates abstract and figurative paintings, wood, and metal sculptures, moving images, sound, and performance to construct a multi-dimensional experience. Drawing from personal and collective experiences as an immigrant and once a refugee, this work combines genuine emotional content to generate a path for transcending memory loss. In this exhibition, he utilizes delicate structures built from ephemeral materials such as unbaked bricks, soil, bones, and remnants of dry plants as metaphors for the fragility of the passing of time. While “Runonko” is grounded in historical narratives, it also features performance video work that showcases the slow and sacred act of building, demolishing uncanny miniatures of artificially imagined realities. Adorning the pertinence of fleeting structures, “Runonko” attempts to bridge fragmented memories with current realities and following delicate gestures, restraint, and spontaneity recreate lost narratives using visual clues and contradictions.

Olivier Mbabazi was born in Zaire, now the Democratic Republic of Congo to a family of Rwandan refugees. He trained in sculpture, ceramic, and music at Ecole d’Arts de Nyundo, completed a filmmaking course at IBTC Film School in Rwanda, and studied stone sculpture with Greg Davertzhofen at Kunst Gymnasium in Germany. In 2021, Mbabazi partook in a marketing management course at the University of Chicago, and in the spring of 2022, he will graduate from The University of the South with a Bachelor of Arts in Art and French and French Studies. He is a Bonner Leader, a Beckeen Scholar, a 213-A Leader, a French tutor, and a singer and songwriter and a Thomas J. Watson Fellow. His works have been exhibited in Rwanda, Germany, and the United States.

The Carlos Gallery is located at 105 Kennerly Rd. Hours are 8 a.m. to 5 p.m., Monday–Friday, and from 1–5 p.m., on Saturday.

The showcase is 7–9 p.m., Friday, April 1, at Guerry Auditorium.

It features the students of Dr. Kerry Ginger and Erik Gustafson, with Dr. Adam Cobb, piano.

Action by Design, Sustainability Planning in Sewanee at the UAG

Action by Design, Sustainability Planning in Sewanee at the University Art Gallery will be on display through April 9. “By design” simply means on purpose, thoughtful, and intentional.

Making ideas visible, inspiring visitors, and bringing people together across areas of study and interest are all essential to the mission of the University Art Gallery.

Action By Design is part exhibition and part workshop. It is intended to share pieces of sustainability planning on our campus and in our community—especially our new Climate Accountability Plan (CAP)—and to invite visitors to participate.

The exhibition is divided into three kinds of stations. “Know Your ...” stations offer information about our campus, village, local alternative transportation networks, food, stuff, and the CAP. “Design Your ...” stations invite visitors to consider existing plans, and to contribute their own ideas. Stations dedicated to ongoing courses (Art History 336: Earth Art and Eco-Action, Art 228: Sustainable Structures, and Theatre 361: Costume Design) display student work. Research by the Babson Center’s Carey Fellows in Business 353 is accessible via QR codes throughout the exhibition.

Sustainable Planning and Design best begins with an integrative workshop (charrette) process that brings everyone along for the conversation. This exhibition is inspired by that process.

There will be multiple events in the UAG in affiliation with ABD: 11 a.m. to 1 p.m., Tuesday, April 5, Drop-in Climate Accountability Plan information session.

5 p.m., Thursday, April 7, in Convocation Hall, Lindsey McCoy, C’97, CEO and co-founder of Plaine Products, will speak about “Using Business as a Force for Good: Creating Circular Packaging to Reduce Waste.” Co-sponsored by the Babson Center for Global Commerce.

1:30–3:30 p.m., Friday, April 8, Drop-in Climate Accountability Plan information session.

The project will be on view at the University Art Gallery during regular hours, 10 a.m. to 5 p.m., Tuesday through Friday, and noon–4 p.m. on Saturday and Sunday. The University Art Gallery is located on Georgia Avenue. Call (931) 598-1223 for more information, visit the website at <gallery.sewanee.edu>, or follow them on Facebook.

'Nest,' a Solo Exhibition by Emma Jewell

The Carlos Gallery in the Visual Art Building at University of the South is pleased to present "Nest," an exhibition of mixed media installations by artist and Sewanee student Emma Jewell, C'22. The exhibit will be on display through April 3. There will be a reception 4–6 p.m., Friday, April 1.

Emma Jewell invites viewers into an imagined world jam packed with planes and spaces of community, comfort, and hope. Taking inspiration from our world and its infinite complexities, these works acknowledge the overabundance of information coming from all directions. With all these swirling concerns about the state of our world, each piece serves as a blank slate on which the chaos of the mind is free to unfold. Feeling scatterbrained about global conditions is mimicked through the excessive variety of media used and the plethora of bold color present in each piece.

In this exhibition, Jewell explores the collective definition of home, communicating that home is both our man-made dwellings and Earth. Through the use of scribbly gestural marks, a broad spectrum of intense color, and formal elements like shape, texture, and line, Jewell draws connections between the natural world and humankind to highlight the importance of cherishing this relationship. Repurposing found and recycled materials, Jewell mitigates a portion of her personal waste and comments on the anthropogenic practices that exploit our shared home, Earth.

"Nest" is a whistle blow to remind society what is common; it's about communal space and mutual qualities. Simple shapes suggest the building blocks of life, reminding viewers of the intricate characteristics that are true for all living beings. Humans have a tendency to focus on differences rather than similarities, but without improving our relationships it is impossible to begin working on the planet in a meaningful way. A myriad of layers in each piece channel the reality that solving global issues is complicated and multifaceted. While most of these conflicts are outside the individual's direct control, "Nest" demonstrates that artistic expression and the way we regard our collective home are two variables within one's control. Approaching serious and timely matters, these works maintain a playful and nostalgic impression.

Emma Jewell was born in Little Rock, Ark., and currently attends the University of the South. Jewell received a Fellowship of the Arts from Sewanee, and in May of 2022 she will graduate with a BA in Art. In the Mountain Goat Journal's February 2022 edition, Jewell was highlighted as the cover artist. Her works presented in the "Faces of Sewanee" exhibition were acquired by the University of the South for their private collection. Spending time in nature is Jewell's most valued pastime, as much of her work is inspired by the vastness of our Earth and its infinite intricacies. Following graduation, Jewell will study abroad in Florence, Italy where she plans on studying art history and Italian.

The Carlos Gallery is located at 105 Kennerly Rd. Hours are 8 a.m. to 5 p.m., Monday–Friday, and from 1–5 p.m., on Saturday.

Spring-beauties

On sunny days, we have been enjoying the masses of spring-beauties in bloom in the lawns of campus and town. If you are lucky and hit the day and weather just right, you may also see masses of them in Shakerag Hollow. These are two different species. In Shakerag you are seeing the Carolina spring-beauty, a more northern species (ironically) reaching here the southern end of its range in the higher elevations. The leaf is more oval and has a distinct stalk. The Virginia spring-beauty is more widespread and has a narrower, almost grass-like leaf. They are in the family Portulacaceae and, like the portulacas in your garden, are only open when conditions are warm (to conserve heat) and are good for visits from pollinators, so nectar and pollen won't be wastefully washed away during a rainstorm, for example. The pink lines on the white petals guide bees to the nectar at the flower's center. Another insect, the ant, helps disperse this flower's seeds. These seeds, like those of trillium, bloodroot, and some of our other early spring wildflowers, have a fatty appendage that is attractive to ants. They carry the seeds to the nest, feed the fatty part to their larvae, and discard the actual seed in their trash piles, giving it protection from predators and nutrients for growth. These flowers are among the true spring ephemerals, blooming and setting seed early while the sun still reaches the forest floor and storing energy in their underground corms, then dying back, ready for the big show next spring.

This is a basic, introductory hike to the east side of Savage Gulf. The challenge lies mostly in the overall distance. We sometimes discuss what we see, sometimes just chat, and sometimes just enjoy what we see around us.

The areas around overlooks can be treacherous in terms of keeping your footing. The potential to slip and fall exists, and extreme care is needed.

Cancellations must be made no later than 48 hours prior to the program's scheduled conclusion in order to receive a refund. (This hike will be offered again at the same time of day on Thursday, April 7).

Debris Burn Permits Required through May 15

A debris burn permit is required for leaf and brush piles until May 15 each season.

Debris Burn Permits for leaf and brush piles are available at no charge via the MyTN mobile app or online at <www.BurnSafeTN.org>. Online permits can be obtained daily from 8 a.m. to 11 p.m. Central Time for any size leaf and brush burn pile. Each pile should be completely out by the permit expiration. For larger broadcast burning, such as forestry, agricultural, and land clearing, call the Division of Forestry burn permit phone number at 877-350-BURN (2876) Monday through Friday, 8 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. If you have limited access to internet, this number can also be used for a debris burn permit, but callers can expect lengthy wait times when call volume is high.

Permits are issued only when conditions are conducive to safe burning. If you live inside city limits, check with your municipality for additional restrictions before you burn.

A list of materials that are not allowed to be burned can be found from the Tennessee Department of Environment and Conservation at <www.tn.gov/environment/program-areas/apc-air-pollution-control-home/apc/open-burning.html>.

Burning without a permit is a class C misdemeanor and punishable by up to 30 days in jail and/or a fine. Wildfires caused by arson are a class C felony punishable by three to 15 years in prison and up to $10,000 in fines. Anyone with information about suspected arson activity should call the state Fire Marshal's Arson Hotline at 1-800-762-3017. The hotline is answered 24 hours a day, and callers may remain anonymous. Cash awards are offered for information leading to an arrest or conviction. Call 1-888-891-TDEC to report illegal burning.

Visit <www.BurnSafeTN.org> for additional tips to burn safely and to protect your community.

For more information on the Division of Forestry, go to <www.tn.gov/agriculture/forests> for more information.

MARC's Mountain Adoptables

Meet Wilson & Sherman

Hello, I am Wilson. My foster mom says that I am a sweetie. I am around 4 or 5 years old, neutered, negative for feline AIDS and Leukemia, and up-to-date on vaccines and preventatives. I like to play and at times I can be wild and crazy. I like to be inside and outside and I get along fine with non-alpha cats. I definitely am not an alpha kitty. And ohhhhhh I sure do love catnip! I am eager to find my forever family and get settled in. We could be super friends. How about it?

My name is Sherman and I am a lover. I am really looking forward to having my very own family to love and with whom to go on neat adventures. I should be ready for adoption in May 2022 after I get rid of these nasty heartworms. I love to play with toys and other dogs and humans. Hiking sounds like fun and definitely cuddling up with my people to watch TV is top on my list. I am working on learning better house manners and should have several commands mastered and on my resume. I am told that I am very good on a leash. I'd love to meet you and see if we could be buddies.

If you would like to learn more about Wilson or Sherman, please fill out an Adoption Application on the MARC website <www.marc4change.org> or contact Sue Scruggs, at (423) 619-3845. These pets are fostering on the Sewanee-Monteagle Mountain and are easy to meet. All MARC animals ready for adoption are spayed or neutered and up-to-date on their vaccines and preventatives.

MARC is a 501(c)(3) nonprofit animal welfare organization. It is not a shelter and relies on foster homes to save animals. MARC also provides low cost and free spay/neuter procedures for animals and is available for teaching humane education in schools and to community organizations.

I'm going to put down a few words in a

and if they
some will think they're

But they aren't.
