Sewanee Fourth of July Committee Announces the 2022 Theme

The Fourth of July Committee is proud to announce the theme for the 2022 celebration: "Hot Diggity All-American Dogs!" The theme can encompass all things "dog" — from our beloved pets to the All-American favorite food, hot dogs, and anything and everything in between.

We invite everyone to join us on Sunday, July 3, and Monday, July 4, to commemorate the formation of the United States of America and celebrate with fun, food, family, and friends.

Start brainstorming your ideas for a Hot Diggity celebration like no other with creative parade floats, imaginative cakes, and artistic costumes for you and your dogs. Look out for more information announcing event registration, the grand marshal, and schedule details.

Need in the Shadows: March for the Supply Drive

by Leslie Lytle, Messenger Staff Writer

People with limited financial resources typically come to the Community Action Committee (CAC) ministry of St. Mark and St. Paul for groceries and help with utility bills. But now, thanks to the recent March for the Supply drive, CAC clients can receive assistance with equally important and often unrecognized needs—needs not met by food banks and what people can purchase with Supplemental Nutrition Assistance Program (SNAP) benefits—what CAC Director David Goodpaster calls "the need in the shadows."

Circumstances surrounding the pandemic brought "the need in the shadows" to Goodpaster's attention. In the spring of 2020, the University made funds available to aid students who could not leave campus. "They blew through that money in no time," Goodpaster said. "That told us there was a need in the shadows on campus, so there must be a need in the community at large as well." Goodpaster was aware of the University funding because his wife Lauren worked for the Dean of Students. The stranded students had shelter and food, but lacked other basic necessities, those items found in the two or three in-between aisles in the grocery store, things such as feminine hygiene items and toiletries. And for the community at large, the list expanded to include cleaning supplies, paper products, household supplies, detergent, diapers, other personal care items, and pet food—necessities people cannot purchase with SNAP benefits and not available from food pantries.

When the CAC launched a campus-focused drive to collect nonfood necessities for students and community members in need, faculty, staff and students embraced the effort donating enthusiastically. A few months ago, the Sewanee Civic Association (SCA) board approached the CAC about hosting the same sort of drive as the first program in its Treasures for the Chest initiative. "The SCA reinvigorated the previous attempt and made it even larger scale bringing the entire community on board," David Goodpaster said. Lauren Goodpaster, now with the Office of Civic Engagement, coordinated students and Bonner scholars to help with promoting and collecting items on campus and the SCA handled the non-campus community leg of the program. Some donors gave monetary gifts, but most contributions were "shadow" needs items found in those two or three non-food grocery store aisles.

Speculating on the March for the Supply drive's tremendous success, Goodpaster said, "Perhaps it

Climate Accountability Plan: What Do You Think?

by Leslie Lytle
Messenger Staff Writer

The University recently drafted a new Climate Accountability Plan (CAP) and invites the community to comment and make suggestions. "We have a 2030 carbon neutrality goal," said Amy Turner, director of the Office of Environmental Stewardship. Turner tapped her watch, "It's 2022. It's time to rethink and retool. Every few years we need to look back and ask what we have accomplished and how we are going to move forward."

"The CAP builds on the 2008 Climate Action Plan and the 2013 Sustainability Master Plan," Turner explained. The University committed to carbon neutrality in 2007 and has reduced emissions by 36 percent since then. The question: How to get to zero?

Highlighting up front the importance of TVA's commitment to provide cleaner energy, the CAP identifies five strategies. One, implement energy efficiency projects across central campus; two, establish renewable energy sources; three, transition heating, cooling and campus fleet vehicles away from fossil-fuel-intensive systems; four, implement policies and procedures to mitigate carbon impacts from commuting, air travel and waste management. If aggressively pursued, these first four strategies would reduce carbon emissions by 10,400 metric tons. "The remaining 4,200 metric tons of carbon emissions is cost-ineffective to mitigate at this time with the available

by Leslie Lytle, Messenger Staff Writer

In her work for a nonprofit tasked with addressing the needs of Plateau residents, Mountain T.O.P. Program Director Julie Keel hit on a difficult truth: "Housing is hard, and housing is always part of the conversation." Regardless of the challenge — education, work force development, climate change, helping those in recovery reenter society — "You always bump into housing," Keel insisted. Acknowledging the critical role housing plays, Mountain T.O.P. recently hosted a Housing Summit. Among the 44 attendees were representatives from the sheriff's office, the Grundy County mayor, SE-THRA, mental health and social service agencies, Catholic Charities, Housing Sewanee, the University Office of Civic Engagement, the Tennessee Housing Development Agency (THDA), USDA Rural Development, as well as architects, sustainability coordinators, and loan agencies. "It was a group of people I've never seen together before in my experience," Keel said.

The total absence of affordable homes on the market tops the list of problems the group addressed. Even if prospective homeowners educate themselves about the challenges of home upkeep and mortgages and qualify for a low-income loan, "they can't qualify for purchase because the cost of homes has increased so much," Keel said. A once "affordable" home costs two to three times what it did before the housing boom. "We couldn't build homes fast enough" to meet the need, she observed.

Grundy County has only 220 "affordable rental" units available on a sliding scale with a SETHRA housing voucher. "We often don't see the problem of homelessness here," Keel said. "People live in crowded conditions and the woods hide things." Many who own property or whose families own property, but no house, live in campers, cars, and sheds. The Chattanooga Homeless Coalition offers help for those homeless because of circumstances such as a house fire or an abusive relationship, but the closest shelter is in Cleveland, Tenn.

Grundy County is unique for having both a high level of poverty and a high level of home ownership, but the homes are frequently old and unsound making the occupants especially vulnerable to high utility bills, storm damage, and

WOLVES VS. TIGERS

To the Editor:

I took a field trip to Chattanooga last fall to see the endangered Red Wolves. I learned they used to live in Sewanee. There are only a few of them left. Sewanee used to have red wolves, but we never had tigers. Sewanee should change its mascot to red wolves instead of tigers because this is their native habitat. Red wolves used to live here until the settlers, farmers and hunters drove them off this land. Sewanee could keep its colors of purple and gold if we changed the mascot to the Sewanee Mountain Wolves. Making the wolves a mascot would teach people about these apex predators which are so endangered. Also some people like wolves instead of tigers.

SAFETY ISSUES AT THE INTERSECTION OF UNIVERSITY AVENUE AND 41A

To the Editor:

On March 4, 2022, I wrote Tennessee Department of Transportation (TDOT) Commissioner Joe Galbato seeking TDOT's approval for an urgent public safety initiative that would be of real, immediate, and measurable benefit to all of the residents, businesses, and the University of the South community here in Sewanee.

Given the high speeds of trucks and other vehicles on Tennessee Highway 41A in the Sewanee traffic corridor, I shared some relevant information with Commissioner Galbato on the public safety challenges facing Sewanee residents along Highway 41A as well as to request installation of public safety improvements at the intersection of University Avenue and Highway 41A during the current construction process of narrowing Highway 41A between Kennerly Road and Kentucky Avenue in Sewanee. TDOT Commissioner Galbato responded to me with a March 21, 2022 letter summarizing the history of the Sewanee road project, and he reacted to my concerns about high traffic speeds and the safety of the intersection by stating: "Stepping up enforcement and other measures are a better way to deal with those immediate speed concerns."

I requested TDOT's support for funding some or all of the following proposed public safety options along the Sewanee traffic corridor at the intersection of Highway 41A and University Avenue:

1. Installation of a four-way stoplight at the intersection of University Avenue and Highway 41A;
2. Installation of two traffic cameras (one camera facing east on Highway 41A and one camera facing west on Highway 41A) at the intersection; or,
3. Installation of four-way stop signs at the intersection.

I sincerely hope that TDOT will approve and fund implementation of one or more of these public safety and community improvement measures at the intersection of Sewanee's University Avenue and Highway 41A.

Sincerely,
Christopher Barton, Sewanee

SVFD to Provide Home Smoke Alarm Installations

The State Fire Marshal's Office recently presented the Sewanee Volunteer Fire Department with a supply of 10-year battery smoke alarms to be installed in homes within the community at high risk of fire.

The alarms are free, but must be installed by the fire department or a partnering organization that has been trained by the fire department. Because supplies are limited, the fire department may need to give first preference to those who are not able to otherwise afford smoke alarms.

To request an installation, call (931) 598-1594 and provide your name, address, and phone number. A fire department representative will then contact you to schedule a time for the installation.

For more information on fire safety, visit the State Fire Marshal's Office Get Alarmed Program website at <https://www.tn.gov/commerce/article/fire-get-alarmed>.

Growing in Grace continues Sunday at 6:30 p.m. ”

The Catechumenate continues Wednesday, at 7 p.m. in All Saints’ Chapel.

Centering Prayer is a simple method of Christian meditation that builds on an ancient contemplative tradition, offering the chance to rest quietly in the presence of God. A Centering Prayer group meets Thursdays at 4:30 p.m. in St. Augustine’s Chapel. All are welcome.

Christ Church

On April 24, the Rev. Mike Agerton and his wife, Lisa, will be our special guests. Mike is a graduate of Nashotah House. Lisa has had a career in care for the elderly and now devotes her gifts to the Sunday School at Holy Family Anglican Church in Hendersonville, Tenn. Because there were two Orthodox families among the founding generation at Christ Church, we are known as “the church which keeps two Easters.” Christ Church was presented with Gold Vestments and some Ikons from an Orthodox Bishop.

At the time of the horrors in Libya, an ikon was sent to Christ Church. It depicts the young men who were beheaded there. It is from a Coptic family in Texas and hangs in the hall by the Christ Church library. With all this in mind, the Sunday sometimes called “Low Sunday” becomes a second Easter. Eastertide itself is Forty days.

The service is Holy Communion and it begins at 10:45 a.m.

St. Mark and St. Paul

The 8:30 a.m. Holy Eucharist is in the church for those fully vaccinated plus at least 2 weeks. Masking indoors is now optional. The 8:30 a.m. service is also livestreamed on our Facebook page.

The 11 a.m. Holy Eucharist for all is in the church.

Sunday Forum: 9:45-10:45 a.m., in Kennerly Hall. The forum also streams on our Facebook Page. Our theme is “A Year with St. Mark & St. Paul” and explores Christian life in light of our previous and present/future patrons.

Godly Play for Children: Two Montessori-based classes meet 9:45-10:45 a.m. inside with open windows and masks. We will go to the playground, weather permitting.

Nursery: Sunday, 9:30 a.m. until noon. The nursery room is in the basement of the parish hall (in Sewanee Children’s Center). Masks are required indoors for those age 2 and above. The children will be taken outside in nice weather.

Youth Sunday School: 9:45-10:45 a.m. on the upstairs porch of Brooks Hall and in the upstairs youth room.

Tullahoma Sangha

Tullahoma Sangha, a Zen Buddhist meditation and study group, meets each Wednesday at 6 p.m. at Unitarian Universalist Church of Tullahoma. The service will consist of zazen (meditation), a short lesson, and discussion. Newcomers are welcome; please call ahead and we will have a short orientation at 5:45 p.m. The church is located at 3536 New Manchester Hwy., Tullahoma. For more information call (931) 588-8935.

“Introduction to Centering Prayer.” For mindfulness practices, consider an online 5-week series led by Janka Livoncova beginning Tuesday, April 26, with “Mindfulness 201.” Janka will also be leading an onsite 4-day retreat, “The Power of Presence” April 28 to May 1.

Gordon Peerman and Ryan Black are scheduled to lead “Mindfulness on the Mountain: The Posture of Meditation” on campus May 6–8. Join us for lodging, meals, and mindfulness practices including QiGong.

Martha Keeble will return for the icon writing retreat, “Drawing Closer to God” May 13–15. This retreat is full, but you can call to be added to the waiting list.

May will close out before Memorial Day with a women’s writing program led by Amy-Lyles Wilson, May 23–26. Commuter packages are available for local ladies who want to join.

was because it offered people an opportunity to give something besides checks and canned food and loaves of bread." On-campus donation boxes were located at high-traffic areas like the Bishops Common, McClurg Dining Hall, and Fowler Center; off-campus collection sites included money collection boxes at Taylor's Mercantile, the Blue Chair and the Frame Gallery and donation bins at the Messenger office and Regions Bank. Sewanee Elementary School and the Interact Club at St. Andrew's-Sewanee School also accepted donations.

When clients come to the CAC office for groceries, they often stay and chat the way people do when shopping, David Goodpaster pointed out. A few days after the drive concluded, a woman came for groceries and inquired about the large supply of cat food. Goodpaster urged her to help herself. "It warmed her heart," he said, knowing both her and her pets' needs were met.

The highly successful drive will become a twice annual event held in both the spring and fall. Now when people stop by the CAC for groceries, they can select from the stockpile of other items desperately needed in their homes. The need in the shadows occurs year-round.

Scholarship Sewanee, April 22

Scholarship Sewanee, the university's annual celebration of undergraduate research, scholarship, and creative activity will be held on April 22. Students will be giving oral presentations much of the day in Spencer Hall, Guerry Auditorium, and Convocation Hall. The McCrady lecture, "The Secret Stories of Biology: Evolution, Experience, and Life," to be presented by Dr. Brandon Ogbunu of Yale University, will be held in Blackman Auditorium at 1 p.m., with a brief reception to follow. Research posters will be on display in Harris Commons all day, but the official poster session will be held from 2:30–5 p.m., during which student researchers will be standing by their posters to interact with you and explain their work. Light refreshments will be available for the morning presentations and the poster session. For more information, please contact <undergraduateresearch@sewanee.edu> or visit <new.sewanee.edu/academics/undergraduate-research/scholarship-sewanee>.

Partner with the Summer Meal Program

In partnership with South Cumberland Community Fund, the University of the South's Office of Civic Engagement and Sewanee Dining announce sponsorship of the 2022 South Cumberland Summer Meal Program. This program is part of the U.S. Department of Agriculture's Summer Food Service Program (SFSP). The SFSP program increases children's access to nutritious meals throughout the summer. It is administered in Tennessee by the Department of Human Services under an agreement with the USDA.

The 2022 South Cumberland Summer Meal program will operate from June 6 to July 31, partnering with youth-serving organizations in Grundy County and the towns of Monteagle and Winchester to provide nutritious meals free of charge to children and youth through age 18. Summer meal sites may request meals for any period of time during the program's operation, whether for just a few days or for the entire summer. Sites may request up to two meals per day per eligible child or youth. Meal options include breakfast, lunch, supper and snacks.

The South Cumberland Summer Meal Program is currently seeking organizations across the Plateau to act as summer meal sites. Summer meal sites distribute the free meals provided by Sewanee Dining, and offer learning and enrichment activities to area children and youth. Child-serving organizations hosting programs such as summer reading, summer school, vacation Bible school, summer camp, organized sports, art and enrichment opportunities are encouraged to participate as summer meal sites. Organizations that do not normally host programs for children may still enroll as summer meal sites by partnering with the South Cumberland Plateau VISTA Project to provide these activities.

If your organization is interested in becoming a South Cumberland Summer Meal site, please contact <sfpvista@gmail.com> prior to April 25.

technologies,” the CAP acknowledges. “The plan calls for either carbon sequestration on the Domain or purchasing carbon offsets to neutralize the remaining 4200 metric tons, as a fifth strategy.”

Looking to specifics, the CAP calls for maximizing the number of systems connected to the highly efficient chilled water plant loop which already cools over 500,000 square feet of campus buildings. The University also intends to pursue “utility scale solar” to address 90 percent of the Domain’s load profile, to electrify the vehicle fleet, and to provide a commercial-scale digester with campus wastes to produce pipeline quality biogas as a natural gas replacement on campus. This list offers only a sampling of the complex and interrelated tactics and techniques the University intends to employ. At the Stewardship, Community, and Leadership level, the CAP invites individual decisions and action: increased reliance on regionally and locally grown food; reducing or increasing reuse of food waste by 90 percent; capturing and reusing rainwater; and decreasing water consumption.

In response to the CAP, the recent “Action by Design” exhibit at the University Art Gallery, featured displays by four classes—Art History, Earth Art and Eco-Action, Sustainable Structures, Costume Design—and research by the Babson Center’s Carey Fellows. “It was all about making things visible and making a space where people could all join in the conversation and build bridges across faculty, staff, community, and students,” said Shelley MacLaren, UAG Director. The displays featured interactive storyboards where visitors responded to prompts with notes about how to “Design your plate,” “Design your outfit,” “Design your village” and more. An intriguing response to “Design your route” read: “If cars are the problem, electric cars aren’t the solution.”

The call for comments and suggestions continues. To view an interactive CAP document allowing page by page commentary, visit <<https://new.sewanee.edu/offices/university-offices/environmental-stewardship-sustainability/>>.

other climate change factors. Auburn University’s Front Porch initiative designs energy efficient small one-and-two-bedroom homes as a housing solution, arguing the higher monthly mortgage payment is offset by lower utility and maintenance expenses. Green Space, a Chattanooga nonprofit committed to regional sustainability, plans to pilot a program showing the cost benefits of health care insurance providers investing in sustainable housing to keep people healthy and safe. Keel cited “Housing First” homelessness assistance data which shows providing a person with a safe, affordable residence made them far more successful in addressing other life hurdles such as substance abuse. Critical to understanding the problem, a mortgage that eats up more than 30 percent of a family’s income qualifies as “substandard housing,” Keel said.

What is on Mountain T.O.P.’s housing-solution horizon? With continued funding from USDA Rural Development and THDA now a funding source, Mountain T.O.P. will continue its home repair mission and possibly build a home from the ground up. Call (931) 692-3999 or visit the website <mountain-top.org> to request home repair help. With Grundy County lacking resources such as Housing Sewanee and Habitat for Humanity, Mountain T.O.P. wants to launch a Housing Subsidiary Development Organization or attract a HSDO to the area.

Mountain T.O.P. hosts a monthly Housing Advisory Council and offers Housing Counseling, 2-5 p.m., Wednesdays, at the Littel-Partin Building (old Grundy County High School). Walk-ins welcome or phone (931) 692-3999 for more information.

Keel stressed housing solutions differed from case to case. If the hurdle to home ownership is a low credit score, the first step may be to remedy that problem. For the homeless who own land, “It makes no sense to say sell the land,” Keel said. “Home ownership is the biggest builder of wealth.”

SUD Frustrated Over ARP Funding; Amending Charter

by Leslie Lytle, Messenger Staff Writer

The Sewanee Utility District Board of Commissioners spent a good portion of the April 19 meeting discussing allocation of American Rescue Plan (ARP) matching-grant funds and the board’s efforts to seek legislative action to amend the private act that chartered the utility. Neither initiative is moving forward as the board hoped.

SUD Board President Charlie Smith and Manager Ben Beavers recently attended a meeting of the Franklin County Commission Finance Committee to present SUD’s request for ARP funding for five projects costing just over $655,000. According to a letter from Franklin County Mayor David Alexander, “Franklin County has $3,738,000 available from the Tennessee Department of Environment and Conservation (TDEC) for Water Projects.” For utilities receiving matching-grant funding, “the Utility providers part would be 20 percent.”

Smith said the finance committee could not answer a question “about TDEC money versus ARP money.”

The committee did not have a clear explanation for allocations totaling over $1 million, Beavers concurred. What appeared to be the case was, “They [the county] already gave 30 percent of the [ARP] money to one utility. We get there, and suddenly the rules change.”

“Two point four million or $3.5 million [available] is a big difference,” said SUD Commissioner Johnny Hughes, who also serves on the Franklin County Commission.

“I’m not optimistic we’ll get a substantial portion of what we asked for,” Beavers conceded. He proposed the fair way to divide the ARP funds among utilities would be based on number of customers served. “If they don’t give us any money, how will they justify that, but in the end, what can we do.”

SUD’s request included $325,000 for identifying and replacing lead service lines to comply with federal law. Cowan requested $9 million for replacing lead service lines. “I asked for what I thought was our share,” Beavers said.

Beavers stressed the top-shelf item in SUD’s ARP request was purchase of a hydro-excavator to dig up service lines to inspect them for lead connections. SUD has 600 services which were installed when lead connections were commonly used. Beavers said if SUD did not receive funding for the excavator, the utility would need to purchase one.

Other projects in SUD’s ARP request include installing “variable frequency drive” controls at the water plant to reduce energy consumption, a $25,000 expense that would pay for itself in savings in 18 months; $24,941 to upgrade the SCADA system at the water plant to heighten cyber security; $150,000 to upgrade the 12-year-old membrane filtration module at the water plant; and $130,000 for a new bar screen at the main sewer pumping station to prevent disposable wipes and face masks from clogging and damaging pumps and creating a health hazard for employees tasked with repair.

Smith introduced a discussion revisiting SUD’s efforts to amend the private act that chartered the utility, striking the line prohibiting commissioners from serving more than two consecutive terms. Center Grove Utility District (CGUD) has pursued the same course of action to remedy the difficulty of finding people to serve as commissioners. (SUD’s recent election had five candidates for two seats, but in the past SUD has had difficulty finding commissioner candidates.) SUD sought the assistance of State Representative Iris Rudder and Senator Janice Bowling with no results. Smith said, CGUD recently received a reply from Rudder’s office stating, according to the legal department, the 2004 passage of Public Chapter 618 addressed the issue. In doubt, CGUD consulted with Tennessee Association of Utility Districts attorney Don Scholes who insisted the 2004 legislation did not remedy the problem. Smith said SUD would keep “nibbling away” at finding a solution. If the utility elected a candidate for a third consecutive term, a lawsuit would need to be initiated by a SUD customer for the utility to suffer negative repercussions, Beavers noted.

Now Don't You Feel Better? The Benefits of Spring Cleaning

British Vogue recently ran an article on the mental health benefits of spring cleaning. Marni Amsellem, Ph.D. and clinical psychologist notes that in spring we are willing to shed layers of all kinds of things such as coats, stocking caps, sweaters, socks, and flannel shirts. Similarly, we are ready to ditch clutter at home like the paperwork from doing taxes, piles of old magazines, three-week-old newspapers that are no longer needed to start the wood fire. Or maybe the pile is pizza boxes from last weekend's take out.

But beyond responding to warmer weather, cleaning can be a coping mechanism for daily stress and anxiety. First, cleaning can give a sense of control. No, clothes hangers do not reproduce in the closet. Take them out 10 at a time, tape them together, and donate the bundle. One hidden monster (yes, scary as closets were in our youth) mastered. Amsellem calls this kind of direct-action demonstrating mastery.

Dawn Potter, a Cleveland psychiatrist, notes that regular cleaning routines are rituals. A decluttered space creates an aesthetically pleasing place for work, study, or de-stressing at the end of a long day. Regular simple tasks like sweeping floors or wiping counters can become motions of mindfulness. Initiates in abbeys are given such tasks to ground them in both place and their own bodies. Amsellem notes that the visual feedback from a cleaner space can be calming and affirms our own efficacy. We can produce results in a complex world. A clean room might equal a clear mind as exam week looms.

Let the Hospitality Shop be a partner in your new world order. We can handle the abundance that manifested over the past two years of isolation. We connect with the Salvation Army and Good Samaritans to share the abundance with most of Franklin, Grundy, and even Marian counties.

Another way to come out of isolation is to work at the Shop. Join the fun that comes from volunteering. We can use all manner of skills to sort, shift, and sell as we too work to keep the Shop rooms organized. Contact Manager Jennifer Janeway at <jejaneway99@gmail.com> if you have a few free hours.

Twenty percent of all profits go into scholarship funds that are given to high school seniors as they enter health care fields and to local health workers as they advance their credentials through advanced training. We are located on the edge of Sewanee, across the street from the Sewanee Inn. Hospitality Shop hours are 10 a.m. to 1 p.m., Tuesday and Thursday, and 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. on Saturday. We take cash or check. Drop in regularly. New goodies go out every day.

Off the Map

This month's theme is "lost." I was on a recent solo road trip, my first in years, when I drove to Kentucky to be with my daughter as she picked out her wedding dress, detouring first to Knoxville to visit the grands.

The trip began ominously when I stopped to pick up prescriptions, only to find the pharmacy had lost them.

I pushed down my foreboding and got on I-24, to discover that a wreck in Chattanooga had closed it down. (And why was I surprised?)

I had my Waze app and the phone guidance of my husband, so I swung onto a side road and forged on.

Only to be steered off that already-minor road onto an even smaller one somewhere outside Crossville that led apparently nowhere, which I didn't figure out until I found myself headed down a mountain with no cell reception (so much for app guidance and husband help) and no signs of civilization anywhere.

Panic.

The trip continued in that vein, finishing with a freak snowstorm on the way home, with snow so heavy my wipers were flinging chunks of it off the windshield.

So much for illusions of security and control.

Our foremothers knew better than to expect either.

I'm thinking of Caroline Ingalls, the "Ma" of those Little House books which depict one family's journey from the security of home after home as they moved ever westward. Sarah Miller's "Caroline: Little House, Revisited," gives us a fictionalized account of what all that uprooting was like for Caroline, and it doesn't sound fun.

In Miller's version, Caroline, pregnant with the baby who will turn out to be Mary and Laura's little sister Carrie, leaves behind not only family she doesn't know if she'll ever see again, but all items of stability. The stove, the table and bed, and, above all, the rocking chair in which she soothed her babies to sleep. And herself.

The ever-optimistic Charles promises to build all they need, but a lot of other necessities have to be constructed first. Miller's narrative makes clear what the children's version does not: it's hard to rock a baby to sleep sitting on a bare dirt floor. And it's terrifying to anticipate giving birth without a place for a bed, without your mother or sisters at your side, without even knowing if any other woman will be at hand, either.

Charles, that blue-eyed, jaunty "Pa," is jubilant at the prospect of adventuring off into the wild. Caroline is all too aware of everything she's lost.

This book is rich in domestic details which reveal just how frightening it is for a young mother to launch off into the middle of nowhere. Where will her baby be born, and who will help? Where will milk for the other children come from? How do you cook them a needed hot meal when cowering from torrential rain for days on end inside a mud-mired wagon, and where in the tiny space not occupied with damp family, mildewing supplies, and soggy clothes, do you put the chamber pot?

Caroline knows that her every word and facial expression shape not only the security of her ever-observant girls, but the confidence of her husband. So no matter her own doubts and fears—and she has plenty—she maintains a calm and loving exterior.

Her courage, self-control, and fortitude make her the rock-solid center of that family of travelers.

Her daughter Laura wrote so prolifically of her family, perhaps you wonder what more there is to add. Miller's book reminds us that adventures come at a price, that terror and potential tragedy are often inseparable from achievement, and that the women perched in the wagon alongside their pioneering husbands are likely braver than the men whose visions push them on.

My suggestion: read this book. Celebrate your ancestors, especially the female ones. And keep a paper map in the glove compartment.

CFMT's The Big Payback Gears Up for 9th Annual Online Giving Event

There has been one day each May for the past eight years that the community has come together and showered our nonprofits with its generosity. It is 24 hours to celebrate the spirit of giving and collaboration, and ultimately, the extraordinary work that nonprofits do in Middle Tennessee.

This year area nonprofits are busy preparing in a big way for The Big Payback's ninth-annual, 24-hour online giving event on May 4–5.

A total of 978 organizations from 36 counties will be participating in The Big Payback, an initiative of The Community Foundation of Middle Tennessee. First-time participants include 79 organizations.

Categories included human services, education, community improvement, arts and culture, youth development, animal welfare, health, housing and shelter, and the environment.

Starting at 6 p.m. on Wednesday, May 4, there are 24 hours to make donations to a wide array of organizations at <TheBigPayback.org>.

The organizations participating in The Big Payback from Franklin County are:

Franklin County Humane Society (Animal Harbor)
Friends of South Cumberland State Park
Friends of Tims Ford State Park
The Franklin County Educational Foundation for Excellence
Ziggy's Tree Wildlife Rehabilitation Center

Gifts to nonprofits from the public will be boosted with additional financial prizes from sponsors of The Big Payback, and an online leaderboard will track donations in real time.

Donors will be able to search and select organizations based on location and focus area. Donors also can support multiple nonprofits and make gifts of any size with ease, from $10 and up.

Since 2014, The Big Payback has helped to raise more than $25 million — $25,219,297 — in cumulative gifts from 180,583 donations from around the globe benefiting Middle Tennessee organizations.

In 2021, the event raised more than $4.2 million — $4,265,674 — in 32,941 gifts to participating area nonprofit organizations, schools and religious institutions, including prize incentives made available through The Big Payback sponsors.

Generous sponsors of The Big Payback include the Kharis Foundation, The Jane and Richard Eskind and Family Foundation, HCA Healthcare Foundation, Blue Cross Blue Shield of Tennessee, The Danner Foundation, Kraft CPAs, Lipman, Sir Speedy BNA, Jerry and Ernie Williams, and Susan and Luke Simons.

National Cornbread Festival Set for April 23 and 24

The National Cornbread Festival Committee is excited to announce that the National Cornbread Festival will return for its 25th year this April 23 and 24, in South Pittsburg. More than 25,000 festival-goers from throughout the southeast are expected to gather here to enjoy the sights, sounds and tastes of the 25th National Cornbread Festival (NCF). Located 30 miles west of Chattanooga, this quaint southern town hosts a celebration of cornbread, often considered the cornerstone of southern cuisine.

Admission to the NCF is $10 (Preschool & under Free), with the option to purchase a 2-day pass for $15. Tickets will be sold in advance at the National Cornbread Festival Office, online, or at the festival gates.

One of the highlights of the festival is the National Cornbread Cook-off sponsored by Lodge Cast Iron, Cracker Barrel, Bush's Beans, Jack Daniel's, and Martha White. The contest features 10 finalists from throughout the United States. The cook-off is a main dish or entrée contest, with a packet of Martha White Cornmeal and a piece Lodge seasoned cast iron cookware as the required tools. The finalists' recipes are selected by the Cornbread Cook-off committee before the event.

Fans of cornbread will enjoy a wide range of delicious cornmeal creations in Cornbread Alley (admission to Cornbread Alley is $8). Each year the recipe variety changes, and they are always lip-smacking good. Next to Cornbread Alley is a food court with vendors selling southern favorites like barbecue, funnel cakes, fried turkey legs, water/soft drinks and much more.

From Cedar Avenue's 1st Street to 4th Street, five stages, including the historic Princess Theatre, feature more than 50 musical acts on Saturday and Sunday. Additionally, the streets of the festival are filled with the sounds of country, bluegrass, blues, old-time fiddlers, southern gospel, jazz and rock throughout the weekend. Check out <www.nationalcornbread.com/music> for updates in late March.

Other activities at the NCF include more than 100 arts and crafts vendors and a themed children's corner with games and inflatables.

The NCF features exhibits like antique tractors, blacksmith and glass blowing demonstrations, plus a huge carnival. Other attractions are tours of historic South Pittsburg, a 5K road race, and, new this year, a Gran Fondo bike ride.

Sunday's schedule includes an ecumenical service and pancake breakfast as well as the other events featured on Saturday.

If attendees are courageous, they can compete in cornbread eating contests, buttermilk chugging races or a frozen T-shirt contest.

Be sure to tour the Lodge Cast Iron Cookware foundry. The company is the oldest family-owned cookware company in the U.S., and Festival weekend is the only time that the foundry is open to the public.

The Cumberland Forest School Summer Programs

The Cumberland Forest School, located in Sewanee, is dedicated to educating students in Sewanee and neighboring communities using the outdoors as the classroom. Our vision is to support students on their journey to becoming compassionate, self-sufficient, and mindful individuals. We accomplish this goal by providing them with a supportive and safe learning environment, trusting them with real responsibility, and establishing everlasting bonds with the natural world.

During the school year, we offer our Forest & Farm Preschool program that is located on 4 acres of private land owned by friends of the Cumberland Forest School. Complete with a covered porch classroom, forested play space, and natural spring, this location is the perfect spot for Forest School. Additionally, students get to experience the magic of farm life, tending to a small flock of chickens and the family greenhouse. At Forest & Farm School, students will receive individualized care and attention with a 1:5 teacher/student ratio, as well as a Reggio-Emilia focused approach to curriculum and learning. Programming each day is largely student-led, focusing on the interests and needs of the children.

During the summer, the Cumberland Forest School is offering three sessions of camp for different age groups: Preschool Forest Play day camp for ages 3-5 (July 11-15), Elementary Outdoor Exploration day camp for ages 6-11 (June 27-July 1), and Cumberland Expeditions overnight expedition-style camp for ages 15-17 (June 14-22).

For more information about the school or summer camp offerings, please visit the website <www.cumberlandforestschool.org> or send an email to <cumberlandforestschool@gmail.com>.

Sponsored by The Community Foundation of Middle Tennessee and Publix Super Markets Charities, our youngest fairgoers can make their own artistic creations to take home.

Artists who are just starting out in their craft careers will be featured in the Emerging Makers Tent (EMT), sponsored by MW Real Estate. The EMT is an opportunity in which mentors shepherd groups of emerging artists through the craft fair process, from set up to chatting with customers to selling their work. This group selling environment is designed to help emerging artisans take the next step toward exhibiting as independent artists on the main tent circle at Tennessee Craft fairs.

Join us at the park to enjoy this Middle Tennessee tradition Friday and Saturday from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m., and on Sunday from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. On Saturday and Sunday, park in the HCA lots on Park Plaza and catch the free shuttle, provided by Gray Line Tennessee, that runs in 15-minute loops. 'Anamnesis' at the UAG

The University Art Gallery is thrilled to present "Anamnesis," an exhibition of painting, drawing, video, sculpture and installation by the University of the South's graduating senior art majors: Ned Adams, Josh Bryant, John Godbold, Emma Jewell, Olivier Mbabazi, Phoebe-Agnès Mills, Ellie Pedersen, Emilea Thrasher, and Megan Vlahoplus.

"Anamnesis" will be on view until 1 p.m., Saturday, May 7.

On April 26 at 5 p.m. we will celebrate the senior art majors with a reception in the UAG!

On April 22 the artists will present their work in Convocation Hall as part of Scholarship Sewanee:

9 a.m., Josh Bryant, "A Tale of Cross Hatching"
9:30 a.m., Emilea Thrasher, "Bye-Bye Little Butterfly"
10 a.m., John Godbold, "Man to Man"
10:30 a.m., Phoebe-Agnès Mills, "In the Light of Loss"
11 a.m., Olivier Mbabazi, "Bridging Cultures Through Visual Arts"
11:30 a.m., Megan Vlahoplus, "Pause of Time"
1 p.m., Ellie Pedersen, "Mental Struggle"
1:30 p.m., Emma Jewell, "Nest"
2:00 p.m., Ned Adams, "Past Voices"

"Anamnesis" is the introspective process of remembering a past existence. This process uncovers innate truths through the exploration of the mind.

In this exhibition, the artists use art as a tool for reflection, and as a way to better understand their experiences and evolving identities. Their works are a product of the juncture between their individual memories and universal notions such as loss, trauma, gender, displacement, environments, narrative and fantasy.

SAS Varsity Boys Soccer Ties One, Loses One in District Play

On April 18, the SAS varsity boys' soccer team hosted Grace Baptist Academy of Chattanooga. The closely fought match ended in a 4–4 tie.

The SAS Mountain Lions were caught flat-footed at the start, and Grace Baptist scored first only 30 seconds into the match. SAS answered at 16:24 minutes with a goal by Cyril Adipo, assisted by Ethan Allen. Adipo scored again with 4:48 minutes left in the half, assisted by Mac Croom. Grace Baptist scored shortly before half-time with the 2:20 mark. SAS dominated play in the second half, with Adipo scoring twice more, assisted by Croom on both goals. Grace Baptist was also able to score twice on breakaways. SAS outshot Grace Baptist 41 to 16.

In a prior district match on April 13, the SAS boys' soccer team hosted Notre Dame High School of Chattanooga. Notre Dame defeated SAS 2–1 in a closely fought match.

The first half of the game was an evenly matched, scoreless battle, with neither SAS nor Notre Dame being able to gain dominance over the other. SAS came out strong at the beginning of the second half, however, controlling the ball and dominating play. Senior striker Cyril Adipo scored first, assisted by sophomore Raulston Barnette, 10 minutes into the second half. SAS continued to dominate play until there were 12 minutes remaining, when Notre Dame scored two goals in rapid succession for the win.

SAS currently stands at 0–2–3 on the season, and 0–2–2 in the district. They travel to Chattanooga to take on Silverdale on Thursday, April 28 at 7 p.m. Eastern.

Softball Splits Saturday Doubleheader with Centre

The University of the South softball team used a big seventh inning to earn a doubleheader split of Centre College in the regular season finale. Sewanee took the opener, 4–3, before falling in the final game of the series, 9–6, April 16, from the Centre Softball Field.

The Colonels picked up where they left off Friday night with a two-run single to lead 2–0. The home team added a sacrifice fly in the fifth to make the contest, 3–0 in favor of the Colonels.

In the seventh, Branan Cobb came in to earn the save for Centre, but the Purple and White had other plans. Zoe Crockett and Michaela Walker came up and put together back-to-back base knocks.

With Jenna Speer taking over at first as a pinch runner, freshman Kaila Seger came up to the plate as a pinch hitter with nobody out. After fouling off two straight pitches, Seger sent a fly ball over the right center field fence for a game-tying, three-run home run.

After that, Centre went back to their starter in Andrea Searcy, and, thanks to Hanna Judycki reaching on Searcy fielding error, she would later score on Sarah Wright's sac fly to give the visitors the 4–3 lead.

The Colonels would get a base runner on at first with one out, but a popout and groundout to both Eve Bournias sealed the deal for the Tigers in the opener.

With the final game of the series the rubber match, Sewanee got the bats going early in the second game of the twin bill. Sarah Wright laced a base hit up the middle to score Hanna Judycki. Later, Peri Prestwood brought Alice Charboneau home on a base hit.

Centre dented the scoreboard in the bottom second with a one-out home run by Sam Rogers.

The Purple and White got the run back in the third thanks to an Eve Bournias sacrifice fly to improve the lead to 3–1.

Centre made it a 3–2 deficit thanks to an RBI single in the fourth. However, Sewanee would tack on another insurance run of their own in the sixth. After a two-out triple by Zoe Crockett, Michaela Walker followed with an RBI base hit.

The lead would not last for the visiting Tigers, as the Colonels flipped the scoreboard with a seven-run inning to make it a 9–4 score.

In the seventh, Sewanee responded with three runs, but the bright side, all of the offense came after the first two batters were retired. Charboneau started the rally with an eight-pitch free pass. She would later score thanks to a fielding error in left field.

Bournias followed with a base hit to center to score Wright, and Prestwood followed with a base knock to bring the tying run to the plate. Unfortunately, the runners were stranded at first and third.

SAS Track and Field Update

On April 15, St. Andrew's-Sewanee School's varsity track and field team competed in the Webb School's Invitational. Both the girls' and boys' teams finished fourth out of a field of 13 teams. Luke Morrison led the team with first-place finishes in the 110m high hurdles and the 300m low hurdles. Morrison broke the school record he set earlier in the season in the 110m HH with a time of 16.47 seconds. Verena Pate led the girls' team. She placed first in the triple jump with a PR distance of 30' 0.5" and second in the 100m high hurdles. Ellie Jenkins, Sarah Knight, and Elijah Seavey earned second place finishes in the discus, 300m low hurdles, and the 200m dash, respectively. Two relay squads set season-best times: boys 4x100m relay consisting of Graeden Miller, Kyler Cantrell, Isaac Pauley, and Tom Karanja; girls 4x800 relay consisting of Charlie Barron, Siella Wilson, Sarah Knight, and Sarah Grace Powell. A total of 19 athletes set new personal records: Thomas Billups, Sevie Griswold, and Hadlee Hale in discus; Sarah Grace Powel in long jump; Caleb Simmons and Ellie Jenkins in shot put, Isaac Pauley in 100m, and Elisabeth Perkins in 400m; Josie Willis and Taylor Wells each dropped more than 20 seconds on the 1600m run; Lexi Phares, Hatch McNabb, Graeden Miller, and Pierra Mutavu in both the 100m and 200m; and Tom Karanja in the triple jump.

SAS Track & Field will finish its regular season at home on Friday, April 29 starting at 3:15 p.m.

Three More SAS Middle School Track and Field Records Fall

On April 12th, out of a field of four teams (Franklin Classical School, Providence Christian Academy, SAS, Webb) St. Andrew's-Sewanee girls' middle school Track & Field team finished first and the boys' team finished second. Eli McLean broke two middle school records: the long jump with a distance of 15'9" and the 200m dash with a time of 26.35. Kiran Malde improved on his previous record set earlier in the year in the 800m with a time of 2:28.55.

Both Ketiah Inganji and Keziah Inganji ran hard, finishing first and second in the 100m dash respectively. Caroline Naubauer placed second and just missed the school record in the 800m run by 1 second. Anabelle Close, Ketiah and Keziah showed great courage, determination and willingness to support the team by running in the 4x400m relay right after completing the 200m race.

Baseball Celebrates Senior Day

The University of the South baseball program dropped a doubleheader to Centre College from Montgomery Field on April 16, 8-4 and 2-0.

In between games, Sewanee celebrated its 11 seniors on Senior Day: Jack Ahlum, Dalton Buckingham, Benny Ennis, Wesley House, Carter Huffman, Sully McCreery, Foster Olson, Daniel Pritchett, Wade Sansone, Holden Shell and Hayden Swisher.

In game one, Centre sent 11 batters to the plate in the top half of the first and scored five times, despite getting the ball out of the outfield once.

The Colonels added a run in the second, sixth and eighth innings to push the lead to 8-0.

Sewanee would string together a rally in the ninth to avoid the shutout. Jack Roode recorded an RBI groundout, and later, Wade Sansone scored a Karson Thompson wild pitch.

Mike Lewishall followed with a two-bagger to the right-center field gap to bring home Wesley House. Lewishall would later score Sewanee's fourth run of the inning thanks to a wild pitch and an errant throw by Will Kempf.

In the nightcap, it was your typical pitcher's duel. Sewanee had an opportunity to dent the scoreboard in the bottom of the first. However, it was for naught, as the Tigers stranded runners at first and third.

In the fourth, Centre put together three straight base knocks to load the bases. Jamie Laframbois sent a fly ball deep enough to bring in the Colonels' first run.

In the seventh, Patrick Hope gave the Colonels a little breathing room thanks to a one-out RBI double.

On the mound, Carson Werrmann set down the last 16 batters he faced to secure the seven-inning, complete game shutout.

Simpson Resigns as Head Field Hockey Coach

The University of the South Department of Athletics has announced on Monday that Steve Simpson will step down as head field hockey coach.

Simpson spent three seasons with the Tigers from 2019-21 with two semifinal appearances in the Southern Athletic Association (SAA) Tournament.

The program saw two huge victories under Simpson's tenure. On Oct. 27, 2019, Sewanee took down Concordia Wisconsin after a seven-round stroke-off battle. Later that season in the SAA Tournament, the Tigers used a penalty stroke in double overtime to advance past Transylvania.

"We want to thank Steve for his dedication and service to the University and to his student-athletes," said Director of Athletics John Shackelford. "Steve is a leader in the field hockey community and remains one of the nation's top tacticians."

During his time at the helm, Simpson totaled eight selections to the All-SAA field hockey team, and there were four selections to the All-Region team by the National Field Hockey Coaches Association (NFHCA).

In the classroom, the program has achieved the NFHCA National Team Academic Award each of the three seasons, while 19 were selected to the National Academic Squad. Additionally, 25 athletes were listed on the SAA's Academic Honor Roll.

Sewanee will begin a national search for its 14th head field hockey coach immediately.

Women's Lacrosse Explodes for 24 Goals in Rout of Centre in Season Finale; Locks Up No. 2 Seed in SAA Tourney

The University of the South women's lacrosse team set a SAA-era record in goals in a conference game with a 24-11 thumping of Centre College in the regular season finale, April 16, from the South Turf Field.

After each team traded a goal in the first two minutes of the game, Sewanee went on a 5-1 run to lead 6-1 with eight minutes left in the quarter.

Centre made it a 12-9 game at the halftime break, but Sewanee pulled away thanks to a 7-0 run.

The Tigers dropped 24 goals on Saturday, the second-most goals scored in a game in program history, matching the team's 24-20 win over Greensboro in 2015. Additionally, it is the most goals scored in a regular season SAA game since the inception of the league in 2013.

Sewanee picks up its first win in Danville in the regular season for the first time since 2012. The Tigers' last win at Centre came in 2014 in the SAA Tournament Championship Game with an 11-8 victory.

Haley Lewis recorded a new career-best in points (eight) and assists (seven) in the win.

Hattie Fogarty matched a career-best 10 draw controls and added five goals and three assists.

Emma Burns scored four goals and added two assists, while Brooke Sigmon also scored four times and added an assist.

Casey Thomsen and Hadley Meadows each posted four goals each, while Cat Lamm added two.

Sigmon and Jocelyn Riopel each forced four turnovers, while Molly Morris (10-4) won her fourth decision in a row in goal with 10 saves.

Sewanee locked up the No. 2 seed in this year's SAA Tournament and will earn a first-round bye. The Tigers will await the winner of the No. 3 versus No. 6 match-up on Sunday, April 24, at noon from Puett Field.

NCEA's Inaugural Season Comes to a Close

The University of the South's National Collegiate Equestrian Association (NCEA) team saw its inaugural season of NCEA competition come to a close April 15 at the 2022 NCEA Single Discipline National Championships, falling to Lynchburg College in the Semifinals, 6-2, from the World Equestrian Center.

The Hornets took all four points in the fences portion. Liza Shoaf led the Tigers in scoring with a 220.

Sewanee and Lynchburg split the flat portion, winning two points each. Shoaf, riding Granit, defeated Kelley McCormick, 206.5-179.5.

Gigi Aiken led the Tigers with a combined score of 235.5 on Swag, as she beat Lucy Metzler of the Hornets.

Princess Tree

As I was driving down the mountain toward Nashville on the interstate earlier this week, I could see the Princess Tree in bloom all along the way down. The large upright clusters of purplish flowers are quite notable in the spring, along with the large brown capsules of last year's fruits, and folks often wonder what they are. Paulownia tomentosa is a native of China and Korea and was introduced in the United states in the 1840s as an ornamental. It has become naturalized in the Mid-Atlantic and Appalachian regions in disturbed areas. The "princess" for which it is named is Anna Pavlovna of Russia (1795-1865), a queen consort of the Netherlands in the 1800's. The Tennessee Invasive Plant Council lists this tree as an established threat to intact plant and animal communities. It is probably the tree you might have seen advertised in the backs of magazines as "fast-growing." Indeed, it is — up to 15 feet a year — and is considered one of the fastest growing trees in the world. The seeds are produced in the millions and are tiny and dispersed by wind and water, allowing the tree to colonize easily, and it is tolerant of a broad range of soil, moisture, and light conditions, making it a nearly "ideal" invasive species. The purple flowers are foxglove-like and the heart-shaped leaves can be more than 12 inches across. In Japan, there has been a custom of planting seeds of this tree when a daughter is born so that the tree will be mature when the daughter is ready to marry and its wood will be used to make a traditional piece of furniture for her wedding gift.

Add Electrical Devices to Spring-Cleaning List

After an especially cold winter, everyone is ready for spring. Is your house ready, too?

As the weather warms up, add these items to your springtime to-do list:

Make an appointment with a licensed service technician to give your air conditioning system a once-over. Paying for a maintenance check now could prevent a bigger expense this summer if your system breaks down on a hot day and requires an emergency replacement. Regular maintenance also can extend the life of your system.

Clean the area around your air conditioner's outside condenser unit. Brush dirt and leaves off the unit and pick up tree limbs that landed on it over the winter. Resist the urge to plant bushes and flowers around the unit. Anything that touches it could prevent air from circulating around it causing the unit to perform inefficiently.

Scrub the winter grime off your home's windows—inside and out. Sparkling-clean windows let more sunlight into your house, which means you won't have to turn on as many lights.

Dust hard-to reach ceiling fans. Remove the lint from your dryer hose and vent. Wipe down heating grates and radiators now that heating season is over. Look around your house for infrequently cleaned electrical devices and remove dust and dirt.

Clean the lint buildup in your dryer. Even if you clean your dryer's lint trap after every load of laundry, lint that gets stuck in other areas of the appliance can cause problems. Here are some tips from dryer manufacturers that can help keep laundry day productive and safe:

A clogged dryer vent and exhaust duct could overheat and send dirty, moist air back into your home—or even catch on fire. Tip: Give that unit a good cleaning once a year. You might have to disconnect the exhaust duct from the dryer and from the vent to remove a blockage.

If your clothes are still damp at the end of a drying cycle, that could mean your lint screen or exhaust duct is blocked.

Take a broom to the area behind your dryer. Lint always finds its way back and that can build up. If you can't move the dryer to get behind it, call a service tech for help.

Squeaks

Odie

MARC's Mountain Adoptables

Meet Squeaks & Odie

Hello, my name is Squeaks. I am a sweet 4-year-old female cat looking for a home where I can be the queen of the castle. I got my name because of my vocal personality. I am ok with older cats and with dogs who are calm, but I don't like kittens. I like to be inside and outside, but given the right home I would be satisfied being an inside cat. I don't particularly like getting my flea treatments or meds and I hide when I think my foster mom is going to give those to me. I love to lie in your lap and get lots of pets. Do you have room in your home and heart for me? You won't regret giving me a chance.

Hi there, I'm Odie. I was stray on Lake O'Donnell Road in Sewanee. After a couple ladies befriended me I ended up in a good foster home and I am really enjoying being part of a family. I am a busy fellow keeping an eye on my people in case they need my help. I get along fine with the five other male and female dogs in my household. And I really like to play with toys (although this home needs some new ones.) I have heartworms and I am being treated for them. I will be ready for my forever home around May 31, 2022. Put your application in now otherwise I might be traveling to a new home in New England.

If you would like to learn more about Squeaks and Odie, please fill out an Adoption Application on the MARC website <www.marc4change.org> or contact Sue Scruggs at (423) 619-3845. These pets are fostering on the Sewanee-Monteagle Mountain and are easy to meet. All MARC animals ready for adoption are spayed or neutered and up-to-date on their vaccines and preventatives.

MARC is a 501(c)(3) nonprofit animal welfare organization. It is not a shelter and relies on foster homes to save animals.

Summer Camp Counselor

The Sewanee Children's Center is seeking creative, fun, organized and responsible camp counselors for the summer. In this position, you will play a key role in shaping and educating our children by teaching them on numerous indoor and outdoor activities and experiences. You will also collaborate with other counselors, create plans and activities, and lead children in fun-filled projects for ages 3 to 8. Camp is Monday through Friday from 8am to 5pm for 8 weeks starting June 6th. But, you will start working May 31, 2022, to have the classroom and activities ready, and continue until July 29, 2022, to close out the summer. Camp is closed on Monday, July 4th.

Summer Camp at SCC provides an environment that uses the constructivist theory of learning to address our children's intellectual, emotional, physical, and social growth. Constructivist learning is based on children's active participation in problem-solving and critical thinking in a learning activity that they find relevant and engaging. They are "constructing" their own knowledge by testing ideas and approaches based on their prior knowledge and experience and applying these to a new situation that they then integrate with what they already know.
