Sue Scruggs was presented the 39th Community Service Award by SCA member-at-large David Michaels and co-president Ken Taylor.

John Solomon was presented the 39th Community Service Award by SCA co-president Ken Taylor.

David Green was presented with the Summa Cum Laude Community Service Award by Sewanee Civic Association co-presidents Ken Taylor and Kiki Beavers.

SCA: A Celebration of Mutual Generosity

by Leslie Lytle, Messenger Staff Writer

"Everywhere you look the civic association is doing something—we're supporting people or people are supporting us," observed Sewanee Civic Association (SCA) Co-President Kiki Beavers, welcoming guests to the 39th annual awards dinner. SCA's interactive role in the community resonated in the aura of mutual generosity evident on the evening of April 26 at Kennerly Hall. SCA members and friends gathered there to celebrate the 2022 Summa Cum Laude and Community Service awardees and the unprecedented success of the 2021-2022 Community Chest fund drive.

Presenting the awards, board member-at-large David Michaels said of David Green, Summa Cum Laude lifetime achievement awardee, "He has lived the message of Love Thy Neighbor." A lifetime resident of Sewanee, known for being a great neighbor, a great friend, a great employee of the University, and a great family man, Green's highest distinction was as a member of the Sewanee Volunteer Fire Department. He served the SVFD 59 years, 49 of those years as chief, building an all-volunteer, multi-racial, and mixed-gender fire department that was the envy of small towns throughout Tennessee.

Introducing the Community

Service awardees, Michaels said the SCA received so many nominations the awards committee decided to honor two individuals: Sue Scruggs and John Solomon.

The nomination letter for Scruggs said, "If the animals on this mountain could pull it off, there would be a Sue Scruggs Day." Director of the Marion Animal Resources Connection, Scruggs has dedicated her life to finding foster and forever homes for stray, abused and neglected animals. Accepting the award, Scruggs thanked the community for being "overwhelmingly helpful and supportive," and, because the animals she rescues are always front and center, she added, "I need fosters."

"Every time I see John Solomon, he is doing something for others," said the nominating letter calling for Solomon's recognition. His volunteer efforts range from helping with packing and pickup at the South Cumberland Farmers Market to translating for Spanish speaking immigrants at the county health department. Solomon lends his efforts to a long list of community initiatives, including the SCA, Monteagle-Sewanee Rotary, Community Council, Bell Ringer, the Arcadia Board, and the Sewanee

Monteagle: Drugs Seized; Streetlights; EV Charging Stations

by Leslie Lytle, Messenger Staff Writer

At the April 25 meeting, the Monteagle Town Council heard updates on the police's efforts to curtail drug traffic, the streetlight inventory underway, and expanding Monteagle's electric-vehicle (EV) charging station resources. The council approved purchases for the police and utility departments.

Reporting on Monteagle's efforts to curtail illegal drug traffic and use, Police Chief Jared Nunley said officers seized one-half pound (231.3 grams) of meth in the last calendar year. "That's a lot," Nunley stressed. "The fentanyl we can't give a gram amount on, because it's in the meth and in the pills. We have enough fentanyl we got off the streets to kill every citizen in Monteagle...You can see what our priorities have been."

The council approved Nunley's request for new software for the reporting system. "Ours is going obsolete," Nunley said. "We've got to have it." The department will share the system with Tracy City, the county sheriff, and the judge and court clerk's offices. "They can pull up [data] and see charges," Nunley explained. The sheriff's department assumed $80,000 of the total expense and paid for Monteagle's server, Nunley said. Monteagle's cost, $16,500, includes a one-time fee of $5,000 for transferring the current software data.

Taking up another "must have" need, the council approved purchase of a manure spreader to replace the Utility Department's out-of-service spreader. The $5,500 cost includes delivery.

In his update on operations, utility manager John Condra said the fire hydrant testing and maintenance recently conducted by an

University Commencement Weekend, May 6–8

The University of the South's 2021-22 academic year comes to a close May 6, 7, and 8 with three ceremonies marking graduation weekend on the Mountain.

The University of the South will hold a Convocation for Conferring of Degrees for the School of Theology on Friday, May 6; the University Baccalaureate on Saturday, May 7; and a Convocation for Conferring of Degrees for the College of Arts and Sciences on Sunday, May 8. All events will begin at 10 a.m. in All Saints' Chapel and will be live-streamed for those unable to attend in person <<https://new.sewanee.edu/parents-families/commencement/live-stream/>>.

Honorary degrees will be presented to the Rt. Rev. Dr. Glenda S. Curry and the Rev. Gay Clark Jennings during the School of Theology Commencement on Friday. Bishop Glenda Curry will give the baccalaureate address at the University's Baccalaureate ceremony on Saturday.

On Sunday, May 8, commencement exercises will be held in All Saints' Chapel and on the Quadrangle for the College of Arts and Sciences. More than 415 students will graduate from the College. The presentation of diplomas will take place on the Quad so that families and guests may see the conferral live, and the entire service on closed-circuit TV.

Awards and honors will be announced, concluding with the Algernon Sydney Sullivan Medallion for character, leadership, and service to the University and the Sewanee community—the University's highest award.

The valedictory address will be followed by the conferral of degrees, and Acting Vice-Chancellor Nancy Berner will read the University's charge to the graduates. The traditional Sewanee recessional takes the new graduates through a corridor of faculty members who line the sidewalk outside the Chapel—and takes them into an outpouring of applause and cheers. The graduates, families, and guests will be able to continue their celebration during a luncheon honoring the Class of 2022.

Per University policy, masking indoors is optional with few exceptions.

Class of 2020 to Celebrate Graduation Weekend

Both events begin at 10 a.m. in All Saints' Chapel and will be live-streamed for those unable to attend in person <<https://new.sewanee.edu/parents-families/commencement/live-stream/>>.

At the University Baccalaureate service, five honorary degrees will be presented, to Susan Binkley, the founder and president of Blue Monarch; Emory Shaw Campbell, president of Gullah Heritage Consulting Service; renowned ragtime/boogie-woogie pianist Bob Milne, founder and director of the Frankenmuth Ragtime Festival; Jack Murrah, former president of the Lyndhurst Foundation; and poet, novelist, biographer, screenwriter, and critic Jay Parini, D.E. Axinn Professor of English and Creative Writing at Middlebury College. Dr. Parini will give the commencement address.

Awards and honors will be announced during Sunday's Commencement service, concluding with the Algernon Sydney Sullivan

Medallion for character, leadership, and service to the University and the Sewanee community—the University's highest award. Caroline Kerrison will give the salutatory address and Taylor Hall will give the valedictory address followed by the conferral of degrees, and Vice-Chancellor Emeritus John McCardell will read the University's charge to the graduates. The traditional Sewanee recessional will take the new graduates through a corridor of faculty members who line the sidewalk outside the Chapel—and take them into an outpouring of applause and cheers. The graduates, families, and guests will be able to continue their celebration during a luncheon honoring the Class of 2020, to be held in Burwell Gardens, behind McClurg Dining Hall.

Tennis Association. He also serves as a University trustee. Accepting the award, Solomon explained modestly, "It's the community that drives me to giving back."

Solomon's comment echoed the generosity evident in the outstanding success of the 2021-2022 Community Chest drive to fund initiatives which enrich the local quality of life. Spokesperson for her fellow co-stewards, John and Kathy Solomon and Clay Yeatman, Paula Yeatman reported the fund drive surpassed its $102,291 goal with bells and whistles. The more than 400 donations totaled over $111,000. "I'm so honored to be part of this community," Yeatman said. The surplus will be used, in part, to increase the award to the Sewanee Elementary Parent Organization by $5,000, for a total of $30,000.

The membership elected the following slate of officers for 2022-2023: President, Kiki Beavers; Vice President, Ken Taylor; Secretary, Millicent Foreman; Treasurer, Husnain Ahmad; Member-at-large, Carl Hill; and Member-at-large, David Michaels. Bentley Cook has agreed to continue as Director of Classifieds, an appointed position. Beavers thanked the officers stepping down from service: Brett Del Balso, vice president; Erin Kuntz, treasurer; Jared Sorenson, member at large; and Brandon Barry, immediate past president.

Summing up the SCA's efforts in the past year, Beavers highlighted the thank-you-note design contest at Sewanee Elementary School and Children's Center, and the March for the Supply Drive partnering with the Community Action Committee and Office of Civic Engagement to collect non-food items to augment the CAC food pantry. In July, the SCA will host a school supply drive to benefit SES. The Community Chest application process will begin again in August. As Beavers observed, the SCA is "everywhere you look."

Community Chest co-stewards John and Kathy Solomon and Paula and Clay Yeatman announce the success of this year's Sewanee Community Chest drive. More than $111,000 was raised for 20 organizations.

outside contractor revealed 24 out-of-service hydrants. Condra will research rehabbing the hydrants to a serviceable condition.

Alderman Nate Wilson said the inventory of the town's 200 streetlights has revealed some are no longer needed and will be turned off to save money. In other locations, streetlights will be added. "We're trying to have lights at most intersections," Wilson said, "but we don't need two." Contact Wilson with questions at <wilsonalderman@benlomand.net>.

Mayor Marilyn Campbell Rodman reported on efforts to increase the town's EV charging station resources. The town is currently considering contracting with Green Spot for relocating the charging stations currently at city hall. The city would receive a percent of the revenue the stations generated. A state program might also provide Monteagle with EV charging stations, Rodman said, but the city would not receive any revenue from the state sponsored units.

Janet Miller-Schmidt reported on the three recent town hall meetings conducted to solicit residents' ideas and suggestion for developing the Main Street corridor. "We need more input from young parents," Miller-Schmidt insisted. To that end, the town will conduct a survey available online and mailed out in residents' water bills.

Updating the council on the baseball program, Alderwoman Jessica Favaloro said umpires were needed. The position pays $25 per game. To serve as an umpire or volunteer to help with the baseball program, contact Favaloro at <favaloroalderman@benlomand.net>.

From May 9-12, Sparkle Week, Monteagle residents can place items they want to discard at curbside for pickup by city employees. The city will not pickup batteries or tires. The mayor asked residents not to put out pickup items until the evening of Sunday, May 8.

'Make Lasting Connections' Symposium an Important Moment

On April 20, community leaders from across the Plateau joined with Sewanee faculty and students and board members of the South Cumberland Community Fund (SCCF) for the "Make Lasting Connections" symposium. The event was cosponsored by SCCF and the University of the South's Office of Civic Engagement.

Many participants responded positively to the program. One participant wrote in the evaluation, "It was an important moment for the health, wealth, and well being of the mountain, and a step forward in improving our social connections and networking. I have already made connections that were not possible without the symposium."

Speakers emphasized the idea of collaboration throughout the day, from an inspiring interactive talk by Karen Proctor to open the conference, to a presentation of model community projects from the Winrock International team of Linsley Kinkade, Michelle Perez, and Jordyn Williams. Whitney Kimball-Coe of Rural Assembly delivered the keynote address. Following the address, Katie Goforth led participants in an exercise modeling collaboration.

"The program had a really nice arc to it," observed Allie Cahoon, a Monteagle resident. "Karen Proctor's talk really helped us understand leadership and collaboration at a personal level—the attitudes you have to cultivate to collaborate with others. The Winrock team then showed us how to do that at a community-wide level and showed some great examples of successful communities in Arkansas. And then Whitney Kimball-Coe brought those lessons together by talking about how community-wide work has an impact on individuals. It was inspiring."

A highlight of the day was a training session for organizations to compete in a $50,000 grant round offered by SCCF. The "Make Lasting Connections" grant is a new grant round offered in celebration of SCCF's 10th anniversary and awarded for collaborative projects. Applications will be accepted this summer from multi-organizational teams working on a significant challenge. "Some of you may have come knowing exactly how you would respond to this opportunity, and some of you came with no idea at all. We hope both those conditions change as you talk to others in the room," said Tom Sanders, executive director of SCCF, in opening the symposium. Evaluations from participants showed that those goals were met.

Truck Stop: Eight Monteagle Residents Sue Planning Commission

by Leslie Lytle, Messenger Staff Writer

At an April 22 hearing in Marion County Chancery Court, attorney Dudley West representing eight Monteagle residents petitioned Judge Melissa Willis for a writ of certiorari "seeking review of the decision [July 6, 2021] by the Monteagle Regional Planning Commission conditionally approving the site plan for the [Petro] truck stop." West said the petitioners believed the planning commission "decision should be reversed." Attorney Philip Wells, representing the town of Monteagle, argued against granting certiorari review. Responding to the arguments presented by the plaintiffs and defendants, Judge Willis identified two questions requiring her adjudication. One, "if there is some way the evidence did not support the finding made by the commission?" Two, "was there a violation of the open meetings act?"

Both attorneys devoted a large portion of their remarks to addressing whether the planning commission had sufficient "material evidence" to determine if the site plan provided a method of treating storm water. West cited a Monteagle ordinance stating, "site plans shall contain plans for collecting storm water and methods of treatment." West contended the "material evidence" presented for methods of treating storm water was "flimsy" and "not substantial." He gave three reasons for his assessment. At the site plan hearing, Jamie Sain, engineer for the Petro developers RBT Enterprises, initially said "there is not a treatment shown in—on the site plan," but later Sain said the detention ponds depicted on the site plan constituted a method of treatment. "Self-contradictory evidence cancels itself out," West insisted. West also noted commissioner MaryJane Flowers repeatedly requested more information on methods of treatment, and the site plan showed the boundaries of the detention ponds, but lacked information on the treatment method. In addition, West contended, inaudible deliberation among the commissioners violated the Tennessee Open Meetings Act. He cited an Ohio case where the court ruled a decision was invalid because of whispering among the commissioners.

In countering West's arguments, Wells disputed the contention the planning commission lacked "material evidence." He paraphrased Sain as stating, "detention ponds and buffers are used to treat storm water...settling through a stabilized detention area is a form of treatment." Wells pointed out detail on the site plan "contains boundaries and structures for the detention ponds." Regarding the inaudible discussion, West said in the Ohio case almost all the commissioners' discussion was "inaudible" which was not the case at the Monteagle planning commission meeting, and that those attending the meeting could have asked the commissioners to "speak up."

At the conclusion of the arguments presented by the attorneys, Judge Willis stressed, "It's not my job to reweigh the evidence that was presented" for the planning commission's review and offer an opinion on whether the commission was right or wrong in approving the site plan, but rather, to rule on the two questions before her. She will deliver a ruling on the material evidence and open meeting act questions at a Zoom hearing at 2 p.m., Wednesday, May 11.

SVFD to Provide Home Smoke Alarm Installations

The State Fire Marshal's Office recently presented the Sewanee Volunteer Fire Department with a supply of 10-year battery smoke alarms to be installed in homes within the community at high risk of fire.

The alarms are free, but must be installed by the fire department or a partnering organization that has been trained by the fire department. Because supplies are limited, the fire department may need to give first preference to those who are not able to otherwise afford smoke alarms.

To request an installation, call (931) 598-1594 and provide your name, address, and phone number. A fire department representative will then contact you to schedule a time for the installation.

For more information on fire safety, visit the State Fire Marshal's Office Get Alarmed Program website at <<https://www.tn.gov/commerce/article/fire-get-alarmed>>.

CFMT's The Big Payback Gears Up for 9th Annual Online Giving Event

There has been one day each May for the past eight years that the community has come together and showered our nonprofits with its generosity. It is 24 hours to celebrate the spirit of giving and collaboration, and ultimately, the extraordinary work that nonprofits do in Middle Tennessee.

This year area nonprofits are busy preparing in a big way for The Big Payback's ninth-annual, 24-hour online giving event on May 4-5.

A total of 978 organizations from 36 counties will be participating in The Big Payback, an initiative of The Community Foundation of Middle Tennessee. First-time participants include 79 organizations.

Categories included human services, education, community improvement, arts and culture, youth development, animal welfare, health, housing and shelter, and the environment.

Starting at 6 p.m. on Wednesday, May 4, there are 24 hours to make donations to a wide array of organizations at <TheBigPayback.org>.

The organizations participating in The Big Payback from Franklin County are:

Franklin County Humane Society (Animal Harbor)

Friends of South Cumberland State Park

Friends of Tims Ford State Park

The Franklin County Educational Foundation for Excellence

Ziggy's Tree Wildlife Rehabilitation Center

Gifts to nonprofits from the public will be boosted with additional financial prizes from sponsors of The Big Payback, and an online leaderboard will track donations in real time.

Donors will be able to search and select organizations based on location and focus area. Donors also can support multiple nonprofits and make gifts of any size with ease, from $10 and up.

Since 2014, The Big Payback has helped to raise more than $25 million — $25,219,297 — in cumulative gifts from 180,583 donations from around the globe benefiting Middle Tennessee organizations.

In 2021, the event raised more than $4.2 million — $4,265,674 — in 32,941 gifts to participating area nonprofit organizations, schools and religious institutions, including prize incentives made available through The Big Payback sponsors.

Generous sponsors of The Big Payback include the Kharis Foundation, The Jane and Richard Eskind and Family Foundation, HCA Healthcare Foundation, Blue Cross Blue Shield of Tennessee, The Danner Foundation, Kraft CPAs, Lipman, Sir Speedy BNA, Jerry and Ernie Williams, and Susan and Luke Simons.

The Cumberland Forest School Summer Programs

The Cumberland Forest School, located in Sewanee, is dedicated to educating students in Sewanee and neighboring communities using the outdoors as the classroom. Our vision is to support students on their journey to becoming compassionate, self-sufficient, and mindful individuals. We accomplish this goal by providing them with a supportive and safe learning environment, trusting them with real responsibility, and establishing everlasting bonds with the natural world.

During the school year, we offer our Forest & Farm Preschool program that is located on 4 acres of private land owned by friends of the Cumberland Forest School. Complete with a covered porch classroom, forested play space, and natural spring, this location is the perfect spot for Forest School. Additionally, students get to experience the magic of farm life, tending to a small flock of chickens and the family greenhouse. At Forest & Farm School, students will receive individualized care and attention with a 1:5 teacher/student ratio, as well as a Reggio-Emilia focused approach to curriculum and learning. Programming each day is largely student-led, focusing on the interests and needs of the children.

During the summer, the Cumberland Forest School is offering three sessions of camp for different age groups: Preschool Forest Play day camp for ages 3-5 (July 11-15), Elementary Outdoor Exploration day camp for ages 6-11 (June 27–July 1), and Cumberland Expeditions overnight expedition-style camp for ages 15-17 (June 14-22).

For more information about the school or summer camp offerings, please visit the website <www.cumberlandforestschool.org> or send an email to <cumberlandforestschool@gmail.com>.

Hospitality Shop News

Perhaps the omission from these notes of the car as an object of cleaning has been obvious. Keeping a car clean in a forest in full spring transformation is not just a Herculean task; it is Sisyphean, done over and over and over again as some kind of punishment for advancement in modern transportation. Add to pollen, sap, and bird droppings the gravel dust from unpaved roads, and one can sometimes lose track of one’s car in the Kroger lot because it’s just not the same color it once was.

How much should we worry about the accumulation of pollen, bird droppings, and gravel dust? Perhaps it depends on whether the car’s trade-in value is important. According to Consumer Reports, tree sap and bird droppings can chemically bond with the paint on a car, though cars manufactured in the past few years have more sophisticated finishes designed to combat acid rain. Tree pollen has microscopic hooks that attach to anything, including car interiors and air filters. All of these natural coatings can crack and stain the car’s exterior and interior finishes.

Concerned car owners should attempt to park the car in a covered area (see last week’s garage cleaning instructions.) Failing that protection, Consumer Reports advises a once a week wash with soap and water. Apply good old elbow grease and specialty tar/spot removing products to small sap or bird dropping areas. A thorough wax job afterwards will thwart those tiny pollen hooks. The Hospitality Shop has soft hand towels and washcloths perfect for applying suds and wax. Those students going home for the summer now know why they have a regular Friday task in the driveway before they get the keys to the car for Saturday night.

Exam week has arrived. Start to bring donations of clean clothing, CDs, or DVDs early before it’s time to leave. If you have unopened boxes of mac and cheese or other edible goodies, the CAC, housed in the parish hall of St. Mark and St. Paul, will gladly get food supplies to folks who can use them. The Shop does not take textbooks, furniture, or electronics.

Spring and summer clothes are on display. Find what you need for the warm days this week. Remember, as you head home, that Chattanooga and Nashville will be 10 degrees hotter than the Mountain. Go prepared. We look forward to your return anytime this summer.

Our hours are 10 a.m. to 1 p.m., Tuesday and Thursday, and 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. on Saturday. We take cash or check. We are always looking for volunteers. Contact Manager Jennifer Janeway at <jejaneway99@gmail.com> if you have a few free hours to help clerk or stock shelves.

Tennessee Craft Fair Returns to Centennial Park

The 51st annual Spring Tennessee Craft Fair returns to Nashville's iconic Centennial Park, May 6, 7 and 8. Join us this Mother's Day Weekend on the Parthenon Lawn for a celebration of handmade art and craft by artists from Tennessee and across the Southeast. Guest Juror David Reyes of the Huntsville Museum of Art will make award selections including Best of Show and Best New Exhibitor.

The popular Demonstration Tent will feature local artists from The Clay Lady's Campus, the Tennessee Association of Woodturners, and Betty Turner from This Little Light Creative Glass Art. Stop by the tent throughout the weekend to see firsthand creation of craft art. The Kids' Tent is another popular stop at the fair. Sponsored by The Community Foundation of Middle Tennessee and Publix Super Markets Charities, our youngest fairgoers can make their own artistic creations to take home.

Artists who are just starting out in their craft careers will be featured in the Emerging Makers Tent (EMT), sponsored by MW Real Estate. The EMT is an opportunity in which mentors shepherd groups of emerging artists through the craft fair process, from set up to chatting with customers to selling their work. This group selling environment is designed to help emerging artisans take the next step toward exhibiting as independent artists on the main tent circle at Tennessee Craft fairs.

Join us at the park to enjoy this Middle Tennessee tradition Friday and Saturday from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m., and on Sunday from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. On Saturday and Sunday, park in the HCA lots on Park Plaza and catch the free shuttle, provided by Gray Line Tennessee, that runs in 15-minute loops. Softball's Tourney Run Ends on Saturday

The University of the South softball team saw its season come to an end in an elimination game of the 2022 Southern Athletic Association (SAA) Softball Tournament, falling to Centre College, 4-0, April 23, from the BSC Softball Field on the campus of Birmingham-Southern College.

Centre earned its first run of the game on a two-out single in the top of the second before adding three in the fifth.

Sewanee, who only had one hit through six innings, made it interesting in the seventh trailing 4-0. Alice Charboneau led off the frame with a free pass, while Sarah Wright earned a base knock to put runners on first and second.

Despite a Peri Prestwood hit to load the bases, the game ended on a lineout double play.

Sarah Wright and Eve Bournias had the two hits for Sewanee, while Peri Prestwood walked in all three plate appearance on Saturday.

Track and Field Ends Regular Season

The University of the South track and field teams wrapped up the regular season on April 23, by hosting the annual Mountain Laurel Invitational.

Prior to the start of the running events, senior Lexi Vanwinkle was recognized as a part of the track and field program's Senior Day festivities.

In the 1,500 meters, Janie Smitt missed her season-best time by 1.31, as she claimed third on Saturday with a 5:18.96.

Lexi Vanwinkle earned her best mark in the pole vault since the Victor Ice Breaker Duals in March, as she recorded a 2.84-meter vault.

Clayton Tillery cleared 1.70 meters in the high jump to post fourth place.

Women's Lacrosse Advances to SAA Tournament Championship Game

The University of the South women's lacrosse team trailed midway through the second quarter, but an 11-1 run by the Tigers sent the Colonels of Centre College home packing in the semifinals of the 2022 Southern Athletic Association (SAA) Tournament with a 14-9 win, April 24, from Puett Field.

The Tigers got the offense going first with three straight goals in the first five minutes of the contest.

Centre, however, was able to take advantage of Sewanee's turnovers, as they went on a 6-0 run to lead 6-3 with 6:26 left in the second quarter.

Following a Sewanee timeout, the Tigers came back to life, as they ended the half on a 6-0 run of their own, led by back-to-back goals by Hattie Fogarty in about a 23-second span. Caroline Harlick added two goals in that stretch as well.

In the third, it was a defensive battle for both teams, but Sewanee scored three goals during the 7-minute mark in the period to lead 12-6 en route to a 13-7 lead for the Purple and White after three quarters.

Men's Lacrosse Opens SAA Tournament with 18-9 Rout of Hendrix

The University of the South men's lacrosse team rocked Hendrix College early and rolled past the Warriors in the opening round of the 2022 Southern Athletic Association (SAA) Men's Lacrosse Tournament, 18-9, April 23, inside historic Hardee-McGee Field at Harris Stadium.

Despite the Jack Westfall goal nearly five minutes into the game, both offenses were sputtering at the start. However, Sewanee saw three straight goals in nearly a two and a half minute span. Luke Valentine went back-to-back to give Sewanee the 4-0 lead with 3:25 left in the period.

Hendrix made it a 4-1 game later in the opening frame, but it was all Sewanee from there. The Tigers outscored the Warriors, 7-1, in the second period, including man-up goals by Valentine and Ryan Hofstetter. Sewanee took an 11-2 lead into the locker room.

Noah Holsclaw won both of his No. 1 singles matches at Berry and Oglethorpe this weekend, and added another win at No. 2 doubles at Oglethorpe. Photo by Lyn Hutchinson

Rose-breasted Grosbeaks

Jim Poteet reports that, “Marietta spotted our first Rose-breasted Grosbeaks of the season this morning (Tuesday), feeding at both sunflower and suet stations. This is about the time they show up each year.” Three were also spotted at Stirling’s by Richard Candler on the same day. In past years Jim has also spotted a black-headed grosbeak. Jim says the rose-breasted usually show up around May 1, which is before the trees are fully leafed out. They breed in Canada and the north-eastern United States and are migrating north from their wintering grounds in southern Mexico, Central America, the Caribbean, and through to Peru and Venezuela. Rose-breasted grosbeaks are birds of eastern North America and black-headed grosbeaks are of western North America. There are many similarities between the two: song, which is said to be like that of a robin that has taken voice lessons; habitat, deciduous woods near open areas; diet, seeds (opened with that stout beak) and insects, including potato beetles; female plumage, with striped heads and sides and/or breasts. In fact, they may interbreed, where their ranges overlap, and produce hybrids. The males of both species share incubation with the females, despite their bright plumage. However, the bright colors are on their breasts and would be hidden while on the nest.

Lola

Carson

MARC’s Mountain Adoptables Meet Lola & Carson

Meet lucky Lola! Lola is an approximately 2 year old grey/brown tabby mix gal. She was rescued as part of an unwanted group of kitties in Grundy County. When she got to her foster home, her foster mom noticed that something just wasn’t quite right. She took Lola to the vet to be evaluated where an X-Ray found she had a large blockage in her intestine and her belly was filled with fluid. Lola immediately went into emergency surgery where a large piece of plastic-type material was found in the intestine and had caused not only the obstruction but also a significant infection. The vet said had she been rescued any later, she probably wouldn’t have survived. That was 6 weeks ago and Lola has now completely recovered and is ready for her fur-ever home. Lola is a little shy when first meeting new people, but once she trusts you, she is a love bug. She does not care for dogs, however, she does get along with other cats after the appropriate adjustment time. Are you ready to make a very special kitty part of your family?

Carson is a happy fellow. He showed up at a home on Easter and did not leave. Carson is a lover and wants to be in your lap. He is house trained and walks well on a leash. Carson is neutered and up-to-date on his vaccines and preventives. He is fostering in a home with six other dogs of large to giant size, three other males and two females. He does well with them all. Carson is probably around 1.5 yrs. old and loves to play. When bored, he looks for things to keep him busy. Carson would really like to have his very own family and to go on great fun adventures like hiking or playing games. If Carson melts your heart, let’s see if he is a good match for you.

If you would like to learn more about Lola and Carson, please fill out an Adoption Application on the MARC website <www.marc4change.org> or contact Sue Scruggs at (423) 619-3845. These pets are fostering on the Sewanee-Monteagle Mountain and are easy to meet. All MARC animals ready for adoption are spayed or neutered and up-to-date on their vaccines and preventatives.

MARC is a 501(c)(3) nonprofit animal welfare organization. It is not a shelter and relies on foster homes to save animals. MARC also provides low cost and free spay/neuter procedures for animals and is available for teaching humane education in schools and to community organizations.

Debris Burn Permits Required through May 15

A debris burn permit is required for leaf and brush piles until May 15 each season.

Debris Burn Permits for leaf and brush piles are available at no charge via the MyTN mobile app or online at <www.BurnSafeTN.org>. Online permits can be obtained daily from 8 a.m. to 11 p.m. Central Time for any size leaf and brush burn pile. Each pile should be completely out by the permit expiration. For larger broadcast burning, such as forestry, agricultural, and land clearing, call the Division of Forestry burn permit phone number at 877-350-BURN (2876) Monday through Friday, 8 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. If you have limited access to internet, this number can also be used for a debris burn permit, but callers can expect lengthy wait times when call volume is high.

Permits are issued only when conditions are conducive to safe burning. If you live inside city limits, check with your municipality for additional restrictions before you burn.

A list of materials that are not allowed to be burned can be found from the Tennessee Department of Environment and Conservation at <www.tn.gov/environment/program-areas/apc-air-pollution-control-home/apc/open-burning.html>.

Burning without a permit is a class C misdemeanor and punishable by up to 30 days in jail and/or a fine. Wildfires caused by arson are a class C felony punishable by three to 15 years in prison and up to $10,000 in fines. Anyone with information about suspected arson activity should call the state Fire Marshal’s Arson Hotline at 1-800-762-3017. The hotline is answered 24 hours a day, and callers may remain anonymous. Cash awards are offered for information leading to an arrest or conviction. Call 1-888-891-TDEC to report illegal burning.

BARDTOVERSE

by Phoebe Bates

May 1 – International Workers’ Day

Men of England, wherefore plough
For the lords who lay ye low?
Wherefore weave with toil and care
The rich robes your tyrants wear?

Wherefore feed and clothe and save
From the cradle to the grave
Those ungrateful drones who would Drain your sweat—nay, drink your blood?

Wherefore, Bees of England, forge
Many a weapon, chain, and scourge,
That these stingless drones may spoil
The forced produce of your toil?

Have ye leisure, comfort, calm,
Shelter, food, love’s gentle balm?
Or what is it ye buy so dear
With your pain and with your fear?

The seed ye sow, another reaps;
The wealth ye find, another keeps;
The robes ye weave, another wears;
The arms ye forge, another bears.

Sow seed—but let no tyrant reap:
Find wealth—let no imposter heap:
Weave robes—let not the idle wear:
Forge arms—in your defence to bear.

Shrink to your cellars, holes, and cells—
In hall ye deck another dwells.
Why shake the chains ye wrought? Ye see
The steel ye tempered glance on ye.

With plough and spade and hoe and loom
Trace your grave and build your tomb
And weave your winding-sheet—till fair
England be your Sepulchre.
—Percy Bysshe Shelley
