Celebrating Savage Gulf at Trails & Trilliums

Several months ago, the original South Cumberland State Park was divided in two, creating South Cumberland State Park and Savage Gulf State Park. During Trails & Trilliums, the Friends of South Cumberland (FSC) will be celebrating Savage Gulf as the 57th (and newest) state park in Tennessee. Savage Gulf is home to Stone Door, Greeter Falls, and many other spectacular spots. Trails & Trilliums is being held this year April 21-23, in Beersheba Springs, which is adjacent to Savage Gulf. FSC will continue to support both of these amazing wilderness parks on the Cumberland Plateau. Show your support for our parks and rangers by attending Trails & Trilliums, which is a fund-raiser and friend-raiser for the parks. Details and registration at <www.trailsandtrilliums.org>.

Hideaway Developers Challenge Monteagle Planning Commission Decision

*by Leslie Lytle
Messenger Staff Writer*

At the April 4 meeting, the Monteagle Planning Commission grappled with legal counsels' opinion asserting the commission did not have the right to alter the proposed site plan for the Hideaway subdivision requiring the Wren's Nest Avenue entrance be used for emergency access only. The commission also took up the long-discussed ordinance amendment on building permit expiration and developing a comprehensive master plan.

Commission Chair Ed Provost said the Hideaway developer's attorney and the city's attorney agreed the town "was in error when they tried to modify [the developer's] plans." Supporting the legal opinion, developer Tom Kale commented the commission "tried to grant 12 property owners more rights than future property owners," and the Harton family had the right to develop their property. A Monteagle resident countered a developer did not have the right "to materially diminish the property rights of others."

Mayor Greg Maloof proposed the Wren's Nest exit be full access and be moved "closer to McDonald's to alleviate traffic." The commission voted four to two against approving Maloof's proposal, with Richard Black, Dan Brown, Alec Mosley, Greg Rollins, and Katie Trahan voting "no." The commission will hold a special called meeting with attorneys present to attempt to resolve the issue.

Provost said the city's attorney had sanctioned the proposed ordinance amendment stipulating if a contractor did not "put in place 10 percent of the work" on a project in the first 12 months, the building permit would be rescinded. The contractor would be assessed a fee for having the permit reinstated to cover costs to the city. The amendment would not apply to existing permits. A resident pointed out, and Building Inspector Travis Lawyer concurred, the RBT truck stop building permit had expired. In that case, "the truck stop may fall under [the amendment's] jurisdiction," Provost said. Lawyer also pointed out International Building Codes called for permit expiration after 180 days. Lawyer will review the amendment before the commission votes on approval.

The commission approved moving forward with developing a master plan for the town under the direction of Community by Design, a free public service offered by the American Institute of Architects. Alderman Nate Wilson said Community by Design asked

May Justus the Subject of Upcoming Book

Former Monteagle resident, Kim Phillips, is working on a new book about local writer May Justus. The book is currently being researched, and the writer is interested in speaking with anyone who knew May Justus personally. On Thursday, May 18, 2023, at the May Justus Memorial Library in Monteagle, the author will be reading to children from May Justus' children's books at 10 a.m.; at 2 p.m., adults are invited to a discussion group with the writer. The public are invited to both events, and refreshments will be served.

Miss Justus came to Monteagle Mountain in 1925 and settled in the Summerfield community of Grundy County. She was recruited by renowned educator, Dr. Lilian Johnson, to teach at Summerfield School. She and her companion, Vera McCampbell, were then teaching at a Presbyterian mission school in Kentucky, and they agreed to come to Summerfield (now a part of Monteagle) for a year. They liked the area so well that they made the mountain their permanent home. May Justus taught Sunday School on the mountain for more than 50 years.

In her little grey house in Summerfield, Miss Justus wrote more than 60 children's books, all well-received. One of her books, "The New Boy in School," was included on the New York Times bestseller list. Over her writing career, which went well into her eighties, Miss Justus won numerous awards. Her writings were also included in textbooks and various anthologies.

When asked why she was interested to write a book about May Justus, first-time author Kim Phillips said, "I have a deep respect for teachers of any stripe. Whether writing books and poetry, reading to children in her home, actively teaching her Sunday school class or elementary school students, May Justus was, first and foremost, a teacher. Her books were meant to delight and entertain, and also to carry important messages about how people should treat each other."

May Justus' work, whether teaching or writing, was inspired by her deep religious faith. When Dr. Johnson asked her to come to the mountain to teach at Summerfield, Miss Justus told her that she was doing "God's work" in Kentucky. Dr. Johnson was said to have replied, "Is there any reason you can't do God's work up here?" May Justus' last work was a booklet called "The Lord and I," published for residents of rest homes.

Almost all of May Justus' books draw on her life in Appalachia. As

ADDITIONAL DETAILS ABOUT THE SEWANEE ANGEL TRADITION

To the Editor:

Hats off to Andrea Woodard-Evans, for her plan to build on the resonance of the original angel's myth and the "Protected by a Sewanee Angel" story. When founder and former owner of The Lemon Fair, Gay Alvarez, asked my nephew, Rob Keele, to write a story about the angels, he gathered a group of his St. Andrew's-Sewanee friends. They tossed around ideas, some of which found their way into the story Rob wrote for Gay. In the group was Christi Teasley, who drew the beguiling illustrations around the text of the story and then drew the Sewanee Angel at Gay's request. (She had been working at the Lemon Fair). Along with the rest of the community, I look forward to the Angel Wing Mural Contest and the mural which will amplify the tradition further.

Leah Rhys, Sewanee

FUNDRAISER SUCCESS

To the Editor:

Wow! What a success story. Our barbeque supper and auction to support the new soon-to-be Crow Creek Valley Community Center left us all with our mouths hanging wide open. We are so grateful for those who attended and enjoyed the wonderful barbeque provided by two of our board members. Many donated items for the auction and to try and list them all would be impossible, but know we are overwhelmed with gratitude. A special thank you to Suzanne Cahoon, Betty Carpenter, April Minkler, Mary Priestley, and Elizabeth Koella, members of Bazzania, who entertained us with their wonderful music.

The use of Kennerly Hall by St. Mark and St. Paul Episcopal Church was an outstanding venue for the event. Our thanks go out to them and those who helped make it possible.

The Lhoist Plant in Anderson is responsible for setting in motion this project and no amount of thanks will suffice. A special thanks to Drew Ressor who has been our go-to-guy and moved this venture along.

Our heartfelt thanks from members of our Board:

Teresa Smith, Bryan Wells, Kathy Pack, Melissa Hoosier, Steve Roberts, Danny Cunningham, Terry Pack, Scott Guess, Jason Guess, and Vernon (Buddy) Miller

'The Archaeology of Cherokee Resistance to the Trail of Tears' Lecture

Dr. Lance Greene will present an invited lecture "The Archaeology of Cherokee Resistance to the Trail of Tears" at 4:30 p.m., Thursday, April 20, in Gailor Auditorium. The public is welcome.

In 1838, hundreds of Cherokees in the mountains of Southern Appalachia avoided the invading U.S. Army and remained in the region, including a community of about 100 Cherokees hiding in the steep mountains of North Carolina. During the 1838 forced Cherokee removal by the US government, a number of close-knit Cherokee communities in the Southern Appalachian Mountains refused to relinquish their homelands, towns, and way of life. Using a variety of tactics, hundreds of Cherokees avoided the encroaching US Army and remained in the region. In this presentation Greene will share the remarkable story of a North Carolina Cherokee community who avoided forced removal on the Trail of Tears. He will explore the complexities of race and gender in this region of the antebellum South and the real impacts of racism on the community.

Greene's career has been dedicated to the interdisciplinary study of indigenous peoples, especially focused on history and archaeology. Greene received his doctorate from the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill and is a professor of Anthropology at Wright State University. The lecture is based in part of his recent book "Their Determination to Remain: A Cherokee Community's Resistance to the Trail of Tears in North Carolina," published by the University of Alabama Press in 2022. This lecture is sponsored by a grant from the University Lectures Committee, The Departments of Anthropology, History, Earth and Environmental Systems, and the Roberson Project. All are welcome.

such, her work is considered a repository of mountain culture, language, values, and history. She described herself as a "mountaineer."

An important aspect of May Justus' life was her association with the Highlander Folk School in Summerfield. While she never taught at Highlander, she believed in the school's mission and was a volunteer secretary/treasurer for the organization for many years. After the Highlander school moved to Knoxville, Miss Justus continued to teach children in her home and to share her attic library with them.

Phillips describes the book she is writing as "fictionalized history." When asked why she has chosen that format for the book, she says, "I love novels told in the first person, like 'To Kill a Mockingbird,' and 'Huckleberry Finn.' It really makes the characters, historical or not, come alive."

"I want the world to know more about May Justus. She cared about people, especially children. She also cared about education, social justice, and moral behavior. She was an avid gardener, needleworker, and scout leader. We need more people like her," Phillips said. Many of the details of Miss Justus early life have been lost, but the upcoming book will, the author hopes, capture her spirit.

Anyone who knew May Justus personally may contact the author directly at <mayjustusbook@gmail.com> or via the website <www.mayjustusbook.com>. Anyone attending the May 18 event is encouraged to bring their memories and any materials associated with May Justus.

Suicide Prevention Walk

A life is lost to suicide every 12.8 minutes in the United States. Suicide is the third leading cause of death among 15- to 24-year-olds and the second leading cause of death among college students. However, most people remain unaware that suicide is a national health problem. On Saturday April 22, the American Foundation for Suicide Prevention (AFSP) will host the Out of the Darkness Community Walk on campus at Sewanee. A major goal of this event is to show support for the families and friends of the more than 41,000 Americans who die by suicide, and the 20 million people who suffer from depression each year. Support of the community walks also helps to raise funds for suicide prevention research and educational programs, erase the stigma surrounding suicide and its causes, and encourage those who are suffering from mental illness to seek treatment.

On-line registration is now available at <www.afsp.org/sewanee>. You may register individually or as part of a team. We hope you will consider walking with us as we walk to raise awareness and funds for suicide prevention. Please consider inviting your family, friends, neighbors, and co-workers to walk with you or to support your walk. If you are not able to join us, perhaps you would consider sponsoring a walker or making a donation to this walk. Thank you for your support in bringing suicide Out of the Darkness.

We're glad you're reading the Messenger!

ANGELWITH AN ATTITUDE

by Virginia Craighill

Dear Angel With an Attitude,

Sewanee seems to be filled with important people. Everywhere I go I meet a “vice President of so and so” or a “vice Provost of such and such” or an “Associate vice President in charge of _____.” Are there vice deans too? It seems that there is too much vice at the University these days. Do you know the ratio of administrators to faculty here at the University of the South? With so many chiefs, who is teaching my kid?

Signed,
Awed and Curious

Dear Awed and Curious,

As far as I know, there are no Vice Deans, or Deans of Vice, unless that is an alternate title for the Assistant Dean of Students for Community Standards, the person in charge of student conduct, so they're more of an Anti-Vice Dean.

There are a plethora of administrators (71, according to the organizational chart), but a limited number of appellations for them, so it's difficult to know exactly what they do. What is the difference between a Vice-President and a Vice Provost, or between an Associate Vice-President, an Associate Provost and an Assistant Vice-President? What's a Special Assistant? What makes them so Special? And don't forget the Directors, so many Directors we might as well be in Hollywood. The mind boggles. Perhaps what is needed is a Chief Title Officer in charge of creating more obvious designations.

The problem may arise with the Chancellor / Vice-Chancellor labels. A visit to Quora only complicates matters, as some say a Chancellor oversees multiple campuses. Where are our other campuses? The Vice-Chancellor is known at other universities as the president, a term with which we, in our faltering democracy, are more familiar. What if Sewanee exchanged “Vice-Chancellor” for “Supreme Leader” or “CEO” (which would make Sewanee seem more business-oriented)? That would eliminate some confusion as to who's the boss. Or we could just go with Big Boss and Little Bosses. Or taking a tip from the Brits, use Prime Minister and sub-prime Ministers of things like Promotion Denial, Penny-Pinching, Bad Behavior, Silly Walks. Whatever. Just make it clear.

While I can't give you the exact ratio of administrators to faculty, you can rest assured that, at present, there are more faculty members than administrators. So your kid is being taught, and is being taught by someone who cares, whether they are a professor, an associate or assistant professor, a teaching professor, or a visiting assistant professor (faculty have their own title issues).

Yours in Academia,
Angel

Angel Wing Mural Contest at the Lemon Fair

The Lemon Fair is asking students, local artists and other creative folks to submit designs to the Angel Wing Mural Contest called “What Does Your Sewanee Angel Look Like?” by Friday, May 19, 2023. Submissions may be emailed to <info@thelemonfairsewanee.com> or dropped off at the store at 60 University Avenue in downtown Sewanee. A panel of judges will select the winning design, which will be painted on the side of the building adjacent to the Sewanee Angel Park. All contest submissions will be used to create notecards, greeting cards, coffee mugs, or tea towels, with proceeds going to the Sewanee Community Chest, a nonprofit which supports local organizations who serve the common good. Past recipients include Sewanee Elementary School, Folks at Home, Sewanee Senior Center, the Community Action Committee, and the Mountain Goat Trail Alliance. Monteagle (from page 1) only for travel expenses such as food and lodging. Wilson suggested community groups could host the planners giving them an opportunity to meet local people.

After long debate, the commission approved the site plan for an 85-unit Marriot Hotel next to the Sonic, pending the Board of Zoning Appeals (BZA) granting a variance allowing a four-story structure. Adequate water supply for firefighting and Monteagle not having a sufficient ladder truck concerned the commissioners. By city ordinance, it falls to the BZA to determine if fire protection will be adequate. Black and Trahan voted against approval.

The commission also approved the site plan for a laundromat requiring an extension of the sewer line. City engineer Travis Wilson said the developer would pay for the extension. T. Wilson confirmed, based on projected growth, water and sewer capacity were adequate for the laundromat and motel; currently Monteagle is at 50-60 percent capacity for both utilities.

The commission asked Volunteer Behavioral Health architect Greg Stamps to alter the site plan for the six-bedroom addition at the substance abuse treatment facility, decreasing the building size to allow for an adequate setback. Stamps said the footprint decrease would decrease the communal living space. Town planner Anya Shalun expressed concern no city ordinance governs parking for group homes. Shalun will research state law. Stamps said only staff needed parking, since residents did not bring cars.

Taking up a zoning question, the commission approved an ordinance amendment allowing self-storage units, industrial warehouses and propane distribution storage on C-3 commercial property. At present, only C-2 zoning allows self-storage units and only I-1 industrial allows warehouses and propane storage. A request for self-storage and propane distribution businesses on C-3 property prompted the commission to propose the amendment. Final approval must come from the council.

The new zoning map can be viewed at <<https://www.sedev.org/monteagle/>>. The revised map reflects only actions approved by the council.

Earth Day 2023, a Celebration of Birds and Birding

The convergence of the release of “Birding Sewanee” by Richard Candler and Angus Pritchard, and the upcoming construction of a bird viewing platform on the coffeehouse grounds inspired this show that celebrates, as always Mother Earth.

Several artists from across Middle Tennessee, anchored by the Sewanee Herbarium’s nature journaling group, have come together to produce this “all things avian” exhibit. (Even Stirling’s resident insect, Lampy, is getting into the act!) Birds depicted range from arctic owls to tropical tanagers; from common crows to beloved bluebirds, all beautiful winged things.

A reception and book signing will be at Stirling’s 4–5:30 p.m., Thursday, April 13.

The Tennessee Craft Fair Returns to Centennial Park

The 52nd Annual Spring Tennessee Craft Fair returns to Nashville’s iconic Centennial Park, May 5, 6 and 7. Join us on the Parthenon Lawn for a celebration of regional one-of-a-kind craft art by artists from Tennessee and across the Southeast. Guest Juror Erin Castellan, Gallery Coordinator at Penland School of Craft, will make award selections including Best of Show, Best of Tennessee and Best New Exhibitor.

Our popular Demonstration Tent will feature local artists from The Clay Lady’s Campus, the Tennessee Association of Woodturners, and Betty Turner’s This Little Light Creative Glass Art. Stop by the tent throughout the weekend to see firsthand art in the making! The Kids’ Tent is another popular stop at the fair! Sponsored by The Community Foundation of Middle Tennessee and Publix Super Markets Charities, our youngest fairgoers can make their own artistic creations to take home.

Artists who are just starting out in their craft careers will be featured in the Emerging Makers Tent, an opportunity in which mentors shepherd emerging artists through the craft fair process, from set-up to chatting with patrons to selling their work. This group environment is designed

Each team secured a goal in the first four minutes of the game, but the Vikings secured the 3-1 lead with 8:31 left in the opening period.

Baseball Clinches Series with 7-5 Sunday Victory Versus Vikings

The University of the South baseball team defeated Berry College, 7-5, in the rubber match of a Southern Athletic Association (SAA) series, on April 2, from Montgomery Field.

Berry got out to a strong start in the second inning with three runs in the inning.

In the fourth, it became a 4-0 deficit after a wild pitch scored the run.

Sewanee began the rally in the bottom half of the frame. After Hunter Herndon reached on an error and a Will Yarbrow hit-by-pitch, Mike Lewishall slugged his fourth homer of the season to cut the deficit to a run, 4-3.

In the sixth, the Purple Tigers took the lead and did not look back. Charlie Teel brought Jaden Fetrow home on a base knock, and, thanks to a fielding error in the outfield, Yarbrow scored the go-ahead run on the play.

Next, Owen Andress added two insurance runs with a two-run base hit to clear the bases.

Berry added a run in the ninth, but that would be all Jake Nevle would surrender for his second save of the season.

Will Yarbrow went 2-for-3 with two runs scored, while Owen Andress had a two-hit day with two RBI.

Mike Lewishall had a three-RBI day with his home run.

Coming out of the bullpen, Aiden Lenzen (2-5) picked up the win, tossing six innings and allowing two earned runs.

Men's Tennis Shuts Out Rhodes, Hendrix, Piedmont

The No. 15 University of the South men's tennis team picked up three wins over the weekend from the Bruton-Guerry Tennis Center. After blanking Rhodes College, 9-0, on April 1, the Tigers came back with shutouts versus Hendrix College and Piedmont University on April 2.

Versus Rhodes, Jordan Theron and Quinn Wicklund (11-1) made quick work of Daniel Trudel and Christian Mainella, 8-1, at the top doubles flight.

In singles, Theron (16-3) picked up his 11th straight win with a 6-2, 6-1 score at the top flight.

Noah Holsclaw (10-3) earned his sixth in a row, defeating Oliver Bonovich, 6-1, 6-3, to clinch the match.

On April 2, Talman Ramsey/Gil Weston (9-3) edged Agustin Kalinowski/Eric Meyne, 8-7 (5) to complete the sweep in doubles versus Hendrix.

In singles, Jackson Davis (3-2) earned the clincher at the No. 6 with a 6-2, 6-1 victory.

The final match of the weekend saw the Tigers sweep doubles again versus Piedmont, as the team is now 40-8 in spring duals. Hugh Graham/Mark Motlow (1-0) broke out the brooms with an 8-6 win at the No. 3.

In singles, Jax Harbour (7-3) clinched the Tigers' third win of the weekend with a 6-1, 6-1 at the No. 3.

Late Rally by Softball Secures Series Victory Versus Centre

The University of the South softball team picked up its second conference series of the season after defeating Centre College in the rubber match of a Southern Athletic Association (SAA) series, 6-5, April 2, from the Tiger Softball Field.

Sewanee got on the board first in the opening frame. After a wild pitch brought Zoe Crockett in for the Tigers' first run, a Maggie Barker RBI single made it 2-0.

The Colonels cut the deficit in half with an RBI single in the third.

Sewanee made it a 4-1 lead in the bottom of the fourth thanks to an RBI single by Zoe Crockett and a fielder's choice by Hannah Wilson to score Sam Dean.

Centre responded in the fifth in a loud way, as they started the inning with a leadoff home run. Two batters later, Emily Lammers made it a 4-3 score on another solo shot. The visitors tied the game on an error in the field.

In the bottom half of the inning, Sewanee loaded the bases with two outs, but they were left loaded on a fly out.

The teams stayed all knotted up at four runs each going into the bottom of the sixth. After back-to-back free passes by Crockett and Wilson and a double steal to put runners on second and third, Alice Charboneau gave Sewanee the lead on a sacrifice fly.

After a pop-up for Sewanee's second out of the inning and Wilson at third, a wild pitch saw her scamper home for the 6-4 lead.

In the seventh, after a leadoff single and a sacrifice bunt to move her up 60 feet, a strikeout by Hanna Hollis and a pop-up ended the game and secured the series victory for the Purple and White.

For the Tigers, eight of the nine players in the lineup reached base on the day, including seven walks.

Zoe Crockett and Sam Dean each posted two hits in the victory. Crockett and Hannah Wilson each scored two runs as well.

Hannah Hollis (4-5) tossed 1.2 innings of relief to pick up the win.

Men's Lacrosse Undefeated in League Play

The University of the South men's lacrosse team used an overtime goal by Ashton Anton to lift the Tigers to a 9-8 victory over Rhodes College on April 2, from Crain Field.

Now 4-0 in Southern Athletic Association (SAA) play, the Tigers can clinch the regular season crown with a win on Saturday, April 8 against Berry and a Centre loss versus Oglethorpe.

Tied at two goals apiece late in the first quarter, the Lynx used a Connor Casey goal to make it 3-2 with less than a minute remaining in the stanza.

In the second quarter, after a delay of game penalty, Rhodes took advantage of the man-up opportunity to improve the score to 4-2.

The Lynx made it 6-3 with a late goal by Dylan Farley at the halftime horn.

Trailing 7-4 with four minutes left in the third, after Rhodes turned the ball over on the face-off, Will Wyckoff scored the Tigers' fifth goal of the afternoon and trailed 7-5 after 45 minutes.

In the first five minutes of the fourth stanza, Davis Gillenwater and Luke Valentine helped even the score at seven goals apiece.

However, after a Sewanee violation on the face-off, the Lynx reclaimed the lead.

The Purple Tigers evened the game with an Ashton Anton goal with 5:40 remaining.

From there, neither team could find the back of the cage, and the contest was forced into overtime.

For Sewanee, it is the third overtime game of the season, and the Tigers started the extra period off strong by winning the opening face-off.

Forty five seconds later, Anton's second goal of the game and 20th of the season gave the Purple and White the victory. For Anton, it is the third game-winning goal of the 2023 campaign.

Devon Root laced a hat trick on seven shots to pace the offense. Luke Valentine and Ashton Anton each had two goals.

Jack Selner led the defense with three caused turnovers, while Joe Orem added two forced turnovers and four ground balls.

Drew Perun won 8-of-17 on the face-off, and Greg Ix (8-3) stopped 12 shots in the overtime win.

Emma Smith winning in No. 1 tennis doubles and singles in Sewanee's three weekend wins over Rhodes, Hendrix and Piedmont College. She won No. 1 singles in each contest, and doubles in different positions in each. Sewanee's men also defeated Rhodes on Saturday and Hendrix and Piedmont on Sunday. Photo by Lyn Hutchinson

Women's Tennis Goes 3-0 on Weekend

The No. 10 University of the South women's tennis team secured three wins over the weekend on campus. On April 1, the Tigers defeated Rhodes College, 9-1. April 2, in a doubleheader, Sewanee defeated Hendrix College, 8-1, and Piedmont University, 9-0.

Sewanee rolled to a sweep in doubles, allowing Rhodes to win just four games. Ansley Carpenter/Natalia Nassar (8-4) and Nicole Nowak/Emma Smith (12-4) earned identical 8-1 wins at the No. 1 and No. 3, respectively.

In singles, Emma Caldwell (7-1) rallied to win a third set tiebreak, 10-7, at the No. 6. Carpenter (6-7) posted a 7-6 (4), 6-1 win at the No. 2. Against the Hendrix Warriors, Smith/Nowak secured the dub at the top flight, 8-2.

In singles, Caldwell blanked Campbell Christensen at the No. 2, while Carolyn Reid (2-1) secured the 7-6, 6-3 victory at the No. 4.

In the finale versus the Lions, Carpenter/Caldwell (1-0) rolled to an 8-0 victory at the No. 3.

In singles, Katherine Petty (7-4) cruised to a 6-0, 6-2 win against Marion Sloyan.

Dogwoods and Redbuds

The dogwoods seem to be flowering especially abundantly this year and just in time for Easter. In some places they are making a glorious show with late-flowering redbuds. There are legends associating the trees with the Easter story.

The dogwood was said to be a tall, strong tree at the time of Christ and was thus used as the wood for the cross. The tree was so ashamed of this that it became small and spindly so as never to be used that way again. In addition, the “flower” was made to be in the shape of a cross, with two larger “petals” and two smaller ones. The brownish notches at the tips of these are said to represent the wounds of Christ and the cluster of flowers in the middle, the crown of thorns. The tiny flowers in that cluster are the true flowers of the dogwood. The “petals” are actually bracts that surround those flowers all winter and then open and expand, turning white to draw attention to the small, greenish-yellow flowers. The brown notches perhaps come from the weathering those bracts endured — take a good look at a dogwood near you to see the bracts on the closed bud and watch them as they open. Interestingly, though the tree is small, the wood is quite strong and resistant to shock, and has been used for such things as heads of golf clubs, handles for chisels, and shuttles for looms.

The redbud is also known as the Judas tree. It too was supposedly once tall and strong, with white flowers, and was the tree from which Judas hanged himself. Again, the tree was so ashamed of this that the flowers blushed red and tree never grew tall and strong again. This probably referred originally to another species of redbud that grows in the Mediterranean region. Redbuds are in the “bean” family, as can be seen from the shape of the flowers and the fruiting pods. One interesting feature is that the flowers will grow straight out of the bark of larger branches and even the trunk of the tree.

Hummingbirds are back! Carol Paris reported one on March 31 and Barbara Hart on April 1 — I don’t think it was April Fool’s!

Penny

Lila

MARC’s Mountain Adoptables

Meet Penny & Lila

Penny is a spunky and sweet orange tabby girl. She started life outside, scared and unsure. Her foster family took her in when they heard she was dumped. Now Penny is a snuggle bug and loves attention. She loves to play with strings, balls and springs, and when she gets the “zoomies” look out because she is all over the place. She is great with other cats and even good with dogs that are good with cats. If you are looking for a kitten who will snuggle and love you forever, then Penny is your girl.

Lila, an 8-year-old, 85 pound, white and brown probably Boxer/American Bulldog mix. Lila has been waiting for so long for a family of her very own. Lila was left in a hot car, the cops came and foster mom ended up taking Lila to find her a home. She is the sweetest, kindest girl! Lila loves to cuddle and sleeps with her female human teenager. In fact, her main activities are taking naps and being near her people. She adores for you to scratch her behind. She also likes to play for short periods. Lila is still a strong girl and can pull hard on a leash when walking. If you are looking for a good laid back companionable best friend, Lila is your girl.

If you would like to learn more about Penny and Lila, please fill out an Adoption Application on the MARC website <www.marc4change.org> or contact Sue Scruggs at (423) 619-3845. These pets are fostering on the Sewanee-Monteagle Mountain and are easy to meet. All MARC animals ready for adoption are spayed or neutered and up-to-date on their vaccines and preventatives.

MARC - Marion Animal Resource Connection is a 501(c)(3) nonprofit animal welfare organization. It is not a shelter and relies on foster homes to save animals. MARC also provides low cost and free spay/neuter procedures for animals and is available for teaching humane care of animals in schools and to community organizations.

Herbarium Wildflower Walks

The Sewanee Herbarium is offering two wildflower hikes this spring: On Saturday, April 8, meet Mary Priestley at 9:30 a.m. at Green’s View for a hike in Shakerag Hollow. The hike is 2 miles, moderate to strenuous, with one fairly challenging incline.

Sunday, April 16, Yolande Gottfried will lead a hike on the Turkey Hollow Trail at St. Mary’s-Sewanee Conference Center. Meet at 1:30 p.m. in the parking lot in front of the main building for this moderate one-hour walk below the bluff.

Times are CDT. Wear appropriate shoes on these walks. Risks involved include physical exertion, rough terrain, forces of nature, and other hazards not present in everyday life. Picking flowers and digging plants are prohibited in these natural areas.

Nature Journaling Continues

The Nature Journaling group, sponsored by the Sewanee Herbarium, meets Thursdays, 9-11 a.m., at Spencer Hall Room 164. Grab a pencil and paper and plan to join us. Email <mpriestley0150@gmail.com> for more information.

FROM BARD TO VERSE

by Robin Bates

Easter

The silver trumpets rang across the Dome:
The people knelt upon the ground with awe:
And borne upon the necks of men I saw,
Like some great God, the Holy Lord of Rome.
Priest-like, he wore a robe more white than foam,
And, king-like, swathed himself in royal red,
Three crowns of gold rose high upon his head:
In splendor and in light the Pope passed home.
My heart stole back across wide wastes of years
To One who wandered by a lonely sea,
And sought in vain for any place of rest:
“Foxes have holes, and every bird its nest,
I, only I, must wander wearily,
And bruise My feet, and drink wine salt with tears.”

--Oscar Wilde, Easter Day
