Monteagle Planning Goals: UserFriendly and Interactive

By Leslie Lytle Messenger Staff Writer

"We're going to try to make this a lot more user-friendly and interactive," said Monteagle Planning Commission Chair Iva Michelle Russell, summarizing the conclusions reached at the workshop prior to the April 5 Monteagle Planning Commission meeting. During the regular business meeting, the commissioners passed a motion by commissioner Ed Provost requiring that "prior to a vote by this commission, there be an open discussion by the commission and the public." Commenting on the importance of soliciting public in-put and developing a land use plan, Mayor Marilyn Campbell Rodman said, "More commercial land has sold in Monteagle in the last six months than ever." In discussion, the commission highlighted some of the issues confronting the town.

Building inspector Earl Geary stressed the importance of addressing the question of accessory dwelling units, often called "mother-in-law" suites. At present, Monteagle ordinance prohibits two principal dwellings on one lot. A related issue, Geary said, was allowing accessory structures like a pole barn to be built on residential lots prior to a residence. "If you let a person build an accessory structure first, the house never gets built...that's not what R-1 is about."

Geary outlined the differences between manufactured and modular homes. Manufactured homes had a decal certifying they met HUD requirement. An additional decal affixed at installation, registered the unit with the state and noted seller and buyer. Conversely, a modular home was a residence constructed by prescribed rules for a particular zone taking into account factors such as wind and snow load. Moving the home could violate the prescribed construction parameters. Tiny homes manufactured by Clayton Homes had only a recreational vehicle certification and were built to live in less than seven days.

"Two realtors want to develop tiny homes communities," Rodman said, pointing to the need for adopting tiny-homes regulations.

The commission tabled a lengthy Model Lighting proposal for later review, but Alderman Nate Wilson recommended that, given the amount of commercial development, the town "adopt some downlighting guidelines" for "new" development. Wilson will work with town planner Annya Shalun on the project.

Revisiting recently grappled with ag tourism and agriculture uses questions, Shalun said a survey about minimum lot size for agricultural use was inconclusive, with recommendations ranging from five acres to 100 acres. Current ordinance allows ag use only (Continued on page 6)

Lecture by Basque Writer Kirmen Uribe

The Department of Spanish and Italian at the University of the South will welcome the Basque writer Kirmen Uribe for a campus visit and public talk at 7 p.m., Sunday, April 10, in Gailor Auditorium on Sewanee's campus. Uribe's lecture, titled "How to Tell a Real Life: My Year Writing at the New York Public Library," will be held in English. Uribe is a household name in Spain. He's the winner (along with Uribe is a household name in Spain. He's the winner (along with many other accolades) of the Premio Nacional de Narrativa (2009), which is considered Spain's most prestigious literary award, for his novel "Bilbao-New York-Bilbao." He is also one of the leading authors to write in Basque and is translated into Spanish and many other languages, including English. He is a Distinguished Writer in Residence at New York University, where he also teaches, and in 2018–2019 was a Writing Fellow at the New York Public Library. Renowned for his novels, particularly "Bilbao-New York-Bilbao," Uribe has also earned a dedicated following for his poetry, which has been published in the New Yorker and read in multimedia performances at venues including the Bowery Poetry Club in New York.

Uribe will discuss his latest novel, titled in Spanish, "La vida anterior de los delfines" ("The Previous Life of Dolphins"). The book, for which Uribe researched extensively in the archives of the New York Public Library, tells the story of the Hungarian pacifist, feminist, and suffragette Rosika Schwimmer and of Uribe's process writing the book in the midst of the Covid lockdown of 2020.

Town of 'C': Lecture by Photographer Richard Rothman

Richard Rothman's book, "Town of "C"" offers up the American character as something "shaped both by the desire for freedom, epitomized by the expansiveness of the West, and by the harsh realities of the region's terrain, made harsher by extractive capitalism." (Lyle Rexer for Harpers).

This lecture will be at 5 p.m., Thursday, April 14, in Gailor Auditorium

His extraordinarily quiet but lyrical photographs are of import to the Sewanee community because many of our endeavors strive to understand the pathology of race, socio-economic depression, political schisms, and environmental disruption.

Richard Rothman is a photographer living and working in New York City. His work is included in the permanent collections of the Museum of Modern Art, the Bibliothèque Nationale de France, The Brooklyn Museum, The Center for Creative Photography, and the International Center of Photography. He is the author of Redwood Saw, a monograph published by Nazraeli Press, which was listed in many "best photography books of 2011" articles. In 2008, he was awarded a U.S. Department of State cultural-envoy grant to work and teach in the Yucatán, where an exhibition of his photographs was mounted at the Museo MACAY, in Mérida. In 2009, he received a joint commission from the Dutch museum FOAM and the Amsterdam Municipal Archives to create and exhibit a body of photographs in the city of Amsterdam.

His work has been exhibited internationally, and appeared and been reviewed in many publications, including Time, The New York Times, The New Yorker, PDN, TimeOut New York, San Francisco Chronicle, Art Forum, The Village Voice, and Camerawork. Rothman is on the faculty of the International Center of Photography and the School of Visual Arts.

He was a 2015 Guggenheim Fellow and a 2016 resident at MacDowell Colony. Rothman participated in Light Work's Artist-in-Residence program in October 2016.

First grade students at Sewanee Elementary have been learning about animals and their habitats. The students were given an animal, and they had to create a habitat for the animal. Their habitats had to include a source of food, water, and shelter.

Partner with the South Cumberland Summer Meal Program

In partnership with South Cumberland Community Fund, the University of the South's Office of Civic Engagement and Sewanee Dining announce sponsorship of the 2022 South Cumberland Summer Meal Program. This program is part of the U.S. Department of Agriculture's Summer Food Service Program (SFSP). The SFSP program increases children's access to nutritious meals throughout the summer. It is administered in Tennessee by the Department of Human Services under an agreement with the USDA.

The 2022 South Cumberland Summer Meal program will operate from June 6 to July 31, partnering with youth-serving organizations in Grundy County and the towns of Monteagle and Winchester to provide nutritious meals free of charge to children and youth through age 18. Summer meal sites may request meals for any period of time during the program's operation, whether for just a few days or for the entire summer. Sites may request up to two meals per day per eligible child or youth. Meal options include breakfast, lunch, supper and snacks.

The South Cumberland Summer Meal Program is currently seeking organizations across the Plateau to act as summer meal sites. Summer meal sites distribute the free meals provided by Sewanee Dining, and offer learning and enrichment activities to area children and youth. Child-serving organizations hosting programs such as summer reading, summer school, vacation Bible school, summer camp, organized sports, art and enrichment opportunities are encouraged to participate as summer meal sites. Organizations that do not normally host programs for children may still enroll as summer meal sites by partnering with the South Cumberland Plateau VISTA Project to provide these activities.

If your organization is interested in becoming a South Cumberland Summer Meal site, please contact <sfpvista@gmail.com> prior to April 25.

All Saints' Chapel Holy Week Services

April 10 is Palm Sunday, the day when Christians remember Jesus entering Jerusalem and being hailed by his followers who spread palm branches before him. We will bless palm branches and distribute them as we celebrate Jesus as "King of kings." Later, the service will shift in tone, as we hear a dramatic reading of the gospel that recounts Jesus' last days and crucifixion.

Growing in Grace continues this evening at 6:30 p.m. There are just a few weeks left as we wrap up our theme, "Fruits of Our Labor." Our speaker is Rileigh Pack, C'22. If you have questions, email Wallace Benton, lay chaplain.

Lenten Daily Eucharist will be celebrated this week through Wednesday, with a simple communion service in St. Augustine's Chapel at 12:25 p.m. The service is short enough that you can still make a 1 p.m. class or appointment. On Tuesday, the service is in Spanish.

Evensong will be sung Tuesday evening at 7 p.m. in All Saints' Chapel by Schola, the choir of the School of Theology. This worship service includes readings from the Bible and choral music. Those who attend are invited to sit in the main part of the Chapel or in the choir stalls with the singers.

The Catechumenate continues Wednesday, April 13, at 7 p.m. in All Saints' Chapel. This week we will be walking the stations of the cross inside the Chapel. This way of prayer is a devotional walk that recounts Jesus carrying his cross on the way to death. Email Melissa Hartley for more information.

On Thursday, known as Maundy Thursday, our Holy Week services continue at 7:30 p.m. This service remembers how Jesus gave his followers a new commandment to love one another as he loved them. One way that Jesus showed his love was by washing the feet of his disciples. Likewise, we will have and begins with the Liturgy of an opportunity to participate in a the Palms. The reading gives the ceremonial washing of each other's feet during the service.

Gethsemane Watch: From the close of the Maundy Thursday service until the morning of Good Friday, the blessed sacrament will be in St. Augustine's Chapel. Members of the community are invited to take part in this watch, as Jesus' disciples kept watch with him the night before his crucifixion. Volunteers are needed throughout the length; these slots are not restricted to just one person at noon, the Stations of the Cross will be offered for those who wish to observe a devotional walk that will begin at the parish of St. Mark and St. Paul in downtown Sewanee and will end at All Saints' Chapel.

Good Friday observances continue with a service at 1 p.m. with a dramatic reading of Jesus' passion and death. A large cross will be who wish to say a prayer before the cross are invited to do so.

Decorators needed for Easter: On Saturday morning, April 16, beginning at 9 a.m., volunteers are invited to help decorate the chapel for Easter services. All are welcome.

The Great Vigil of Easter brings Holy Week to a close on Saturday evening at 8 p.m., celebrating Jesus' resurrection. This service begins with the lighting of a fire outside the Chapel. We move inside to hear from scripture stories of the times God has acted to save God's people. Several college students and community members have been preparing for Confirmation, Reception, and Reaffirmation that will take place at this service.

Easter Day continues the celebration of Jesus' resurrection with three services at 8 a.m., 11 a.m., and 6:30 p.m.

Retreats at St. Mary's Sewanee

Holy Week is upon us, a time of reflection and contemplation. St. Mary's Sewanee invites you to join Tom Ward and Rebecca Paluzzi online via Zoom, 6:30 a.m. to 5 p.m., Saturday, April 9, as they lead a full day of Centering Prayer. In the comfort and safety of your own home, it is suggested that you create a personal sacred space for your time of silence and prayer. All those attending are asked to fast from technology use and outside distractions such as the news and emails while spending time apart but together in the practice of Centering Prayer.

If you are ready to return to in-person gatherings and seeking set aside time for sacred silence and mindfulness practices, "The Power of Presence" retreat may interest you. Beginning April 28 through May 1, Janka Livoncova will lead a long weekend program in meditation, mindfulness exercises, and silence.

SCCF Announces 'Make Lasting Connections' Grant Round for 10th Anniversary

The South Cumberland Community Fund (SCCF) will add a third grant round in 2022 to its usual spring and fall grant rounds in recognition of the Fund's 10th anniversary. The "Make Lasting Connections" grant will be awarded to 1-3 applicant groups of two or more organizations. A total of $50,000 will be awarded.

A request for proposals which will include more information about the special grant round will be released on April 20, 2022, at the "Make Lasting Connections" symposium, to be held at the Sewanee Inn. Attendance at the symposium by at least one member of an applicant group is a requirement to apply for the "Make Lasting Connections" grant. The symposium will bring together people from across the Plateau, and from all sectors, and will create a space for this kind of cross-pollination of ideas to create solutions.

Applicants will be expected to provide at least a partial funding match for their proposed project, either from institutional funds or from new donors who support the proposed project. The application process will open on June 18 and close on July 31, 2022. Grants will be approved by the SCCF board at its September meeting.

To learn more about the "Make Lasting Connections" symposium on April 20 or this summer's grant round, contact <director@southcumberlandcommunityfund.org>.

on commercial property and stipulates the tract must be 50 acres or more. Aside from the 176-acre Sparacio tract, no commercial tracts in Monteagle met the qualification, Shalun said.

Laureen Sparacio asked if there would be issues with her family building a home on the property, noting by Tennessee law allowable agricultural uses included a residence. Russell said because the property was zoned C-2, not agricultural, "that changes things." Sparacio said the property had been farmland since 1907. Rodman said it was never zoned agricultural. "In 2019 when this was discussed [ag use in C-2 zoning], it was commercial property."

Russell pointed to another ag use question "coming down the pike" about livestock on a 36-acre tract zoned R-1. Shalun said at present the lot size and zoning would prohibit livestock.

Turning to Monteagle's water and sewer capacity, Russell asked if the planning commission should consider this when reviewing site plans. Rodman said the utility department manager "signing off" on a plan indicated both availability and capacity. She noted the town was pursuing water and sewer infrastructure grants and would likely need to expand capacity. At present Monteagle does not have an "impact fee" for new connections, but that was being considered.

connections, but that was being considered.

The planning commission will hold a workshop before its Tuesday, May 3 meeting. The town is hosting a series of town hall meetings, the next one scheduled for 5–7 p.m., Tuesday, April 19, at the Morton Memorial United Methodist Church. Rodman said, the schools, principals, parents, and teachers had been invited. "We're trying to reach out to everyone."

ANGELWITH ANATTITUDE

I have read in The Chronicle of Higher Education about a problem affecting many colleges and universities throughout the country regarding the increase of administrative offices. Recently, I was looking through the Sewanee website trying to find a specific person to communicate with about some issue and noticed how many people have the same title. I became disoriented and gave up. Is Sewanee suffering from this problem, too?

Concerned

Dear Concerned

Like the Omicron variant of COVID-19, administrative positions at Sewanee are highly contagious and spreading rapidly. The medical term for this disease is IVPS, which stands for Increased Vice-President/Vice-Provost Syndrome, and it is a serious condition. Administrative bloating can lead to intestinal discomfort and reflux in faculty members, especially at faculty meetings. Serious side-effects of IVPS include hemorrhaging of money into multiple high salaries, role-confusion, and a proliferation of meetings, which can also induce heartburn and gas.

One way to diagnose IVPS is to check your cabinet levels. An increase in the Vice-Chancellor's Cabinet members to 15 or above can signal the onset of IVPS (Sewanee's Cabinet levels are currently at a dangerous 22). However, increased administrative positions can sometimes be hard to detect, as they rarely appear in any buildings housing faculty. A gentle probing of the website is often the first step, though like the human intestine, the University's website has many twists and turns to explore before you can find a telltale build-up of VPs.

Still, there are solutions to IVPS, including a balanced diet of administrative and faculty hires and a more equitable distribution of salaries between VPs, faculty, and staff.

Excessive weight gain in the administration should not be ignored. IVPS can strike individuals without warning; if you find yourself using words like "facilitate," "strategic," "evaluate," "outcome," and "assess," you might be at risk of becoming a VP. Get help quickly. Stay well,

Angel

Dear Angel,

I'm a senior. The last weeks of the semester are here, and I am, as usual, totally stressed out. There's always a paper or a party or a job application calling my name. Spring is great, but why does it have to be so busy? What should I do to stay balanced???

Buzzy

Dear Buzzy,

Try stepping outside to take a deep breath. Of course, the amount of pollen in the air will turn your lungs yellow, make your eyes red and your nose run, but at least it won't be COVID.

If the great outdoors sets off your allergies, you might go relax

If the great outdoors sets off your allergies, you might go relax at duPont library; take a few laps around the stacks and check out the hilarious titles of books in the anthropology section, then settle down for some quiet reading and a nice nap, face down in your textbook and drooling.

But wait, you say there are no books in the library? That it's become a hive of social activity and anxiety? Well, never mind then.

I have one more suggestion. Baby goats. Take your Claritin and walk out to the University Farm. There's a bumper crop of kids this spring – thirty and counting, and they will give you a sense of Zen like nothing else on campus. Watching the kids is addictive, but you won't have to go to rehab. They are springy and adorable, innocent and sweet, and will remind you of the childhood pleasures of head-butting with your sibling, spontaneously jumping for joy, and pooping wherever you feel like it. Unlike you, these kids haven't a care in the world.

As you gaze over the fence watching them play King of the Rock or just lay blissed-out in the sunshine, remember that this is how you'll feel in just a few short weeks at graduation. At least for a few days. Until your parents tell you to move out of the house and get

Piping on the Green: Celtic Music & Crafts Festival

Saturday, April 23, will mark the Highland Rim Scottish Society's eighth annual Piping on the Green: Celtic Music and Crafts Festival. It will be held on "The Green" at the Celtic Cup Coffee House, located at 106 North Anderson St., Tullahoma. The crafts fairs will open at 8 a.m. and go until 6 p.m. Opening ceremonies begin at 9 a.m. with the HRSS Kilted Honor Guard. Live music starts immediately afterwards.

The Tullahoma A Cappella Singers will present the National Anthem during opening ceremonies and additional performances afterwards. The festival's live music is sponsored by the South Jackson Civic Center and includes The Secret Commonwealth, Piper Jones Band, Triquetra Troupe, Doon the Brae, and festival headliner The Jacobites by Name.

Delayed two years due to CO-VID concerns, the festival is returning in full force with Celtic music, entertainment, food, and crafts. René Cavett, Committee Chairman, expressed enthusiasm, "The Society is excited to bring back Piping on the Green after a two-year absence. We have planned a bigger and better festival that will appeal to all family members. I expect a large crowd at this year's event and encourage anyone with an interest in Celtic music, food, and crafts to spend some quality time with us."

Will Prater returns as Master of Ceremonies of the festival, which celebrates National Tartan Day (April 6), the date in the year 1320 AD when the Declaration of Arbroath (for Scottish independence) was signed.

The Celtic Cup, owned by Chris and Denise Smith, will be abound with Celtic crafts, Highland Pipers, and workshops. They will also have their Medieval Mug eatery outdoors where delicious Scottish and Irish fare such as fish & chips, bridies, scotch eggs and Turkey legs may be found.

For the month of April, The Celtic Cup will also sponsor a Juried Art Show with the theme "Castles of Scotland." Winners will be announced at Piping on the Green. Entry details can be found at The Celtic Cup or on their Facebook page.

Festival admission is free and open to the public. For more information and parking locations, see the Piping on the Green facebook page or contact the Highland Rim Scottish Society, The Celtic Cup or Alan Clark, HRSS Publicity Chair, at (931) 691-1452.

Softball Defeats Millsaps in Pitcher's Duel

In a good old fashioned pitcher's duel on April 3 from the Tiger Softball Field, the University of the South softball team used two first inning runs to defeat Millsaps College, 2-1, in the final game of a Southern Athletic Association (SAA) series.

After a double play by Kendell Goodrum to get out of the top half of the inning, the Tigers' bats went to work. However, they also had a little help with two Millsaps errors in the frame.

After Maggie Willis led off the frame with a base hit, Hanna Judycki reached on a throwing error and pushed Willis to third. After Judycki stole second base, Sarah Wright brought her home on a fielding error. With runners at the corners, Alice Charboneau plated the second run of the frame with a base knock to center field.

From there, each team tacked up zeros on the scoreboard until the fifth. With two outs, the Majors had back-to-back base hits to cut the deficit in half.

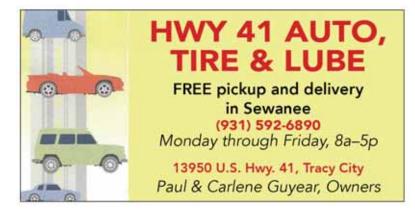

Sewanee had a big opportunity to break it open in the sixth thanks to a lead off free pass by Peri Prestwood, but the Tigers would strand runners at first and second base.

In the seventh, after a one-out, pinch-hit single to put the tying run on base, Michaela Walker slammed the door with back-to-back outs to earn the win for the Purple Tigers.

Alice Charboneau recorded a perfect 3-for-3 at the plate with an RBI, while Zoe Crockett had a two-hit day.

Michaela Walker picked up the win, tossing the complete game in the circle, allowing four hits and one earned run and fanning two batters.

Men's Lacrosse Defeats Berry TigerSharks in SAA Action Dro Swim

The University of the South men's lacrosse team won a Southern Athletic Association (SAA) game with Berry College, 11-8, April 2 from historic Hardee-McGee Field at Harris Stadium.

Both teams got out to a slow start on the offensive end, but it was the Purple Tigers who struck first on an unassisted goal by Jack Westfall with 6:34 left in the opening quarter.

Drew Mullen added a goal at the under-three mark of the frame before Berry hit the scoreboard late in the period to make it 2-1 after 15 minutes. Sewanee, leading 4-2 with 10:26 left in the half, scored five unanswered goals to take a 9-2 lead into the locker room.

Berry would respond with four straight goals in the third quarter to make it a 10-7 affair after three quarters.

Thanks to Berry's 0-for-5 on extra man opportunities, Sewanee was able to hold off for the win.

Sewanee improves to 10-4 all-time versus Berry, including winners of six of the last eight meetings and 6-1 on the Domain.

Davis Gillenwater scored a hat trick on nine shots and added two ground balls.

Drew Mullen added three points on a goal and two assists, while Joe Orem forced four turnovers and scooped up four ground balls. Greg Ix (1-1) made 14 saves in goal.

The University of the South IHSA equestrian team took fourth place at the 2022 Intercollegiate Horse Shows Association (IHSA) Zone 5 Championships, April 2 from the Ronald C. Waranch Equestrian Center, hosted by the Savannah College of Art & Design.

Sewanee finished 11 points shy of second place in the team championships, as the top winners in each of the five regions faced off for the Zone Championship.

Aiken earned her spot at Nationals with a second place finish at the Individual Open Flat, while Shoaf reserved her place thanks to a second place result at the Individual Open Flat.

For the team championships, Nell Grady posted a second place finish for the Intermediate Flat class and third in the Limit Fences portion, while Shoaf (Open Fences) and Aiken (Open Flat) placed third in their respective classes.

Clara Juckett (Intermediate Fences), Mollie McWhorter (Limit Flat) and Shelton Griffith (Novice) earned fourth place, while Tony Calderon Gonzalez finished in fifth in the Introductory Class.

Little Sweet Betsy

Abbo's Alley

I am not getting farther afield than Abbo's Alley these days. However, in addition to the always lovely display of daffodils, there is also a substantial number of native wildflowers to be seen there. The annex, between South Carolina and University Avenue, has an impressive number of the toadshade trillium, Little Sweet Betsy. Flower colors in that trillium range from deep maroon to bright yellow-green. Mixed in with them are a number of Cut-Leaf Toothwort in bloom. In the Alley proper, Virginia Springbeauty is dotted here and there, with pink-striped white flowers open when it is dry and light enough. Also a native, though not conspicuous, is the Kidneyleaf Buttercup or Small-Flowered Crowfoot. Another plant in bloom, with several names, is the Yellow Trout Lily, also known as Fawn Lily, Dogtooth Violet, and Adder's Tongue. The flowers are in large patches of single leaves of that species which are reproducing vegetatively in addition to blooming occasionally. There are several clumps of Virginia Bluebells in full bloom throughout the Alley. Near the large pink Saucer Magnolia is a patch of delicate Bladder or Fragile Fern, also a part of the early spring "flora". Mayapples are coming up all over, some with paired leaves and flower buds. Near the Tremlett Spring turnoff are some Shooting Stars, no doubt planted since they are not seen in places like Shakerag. Violets are represented by Halberd-Leaf Yellow Violet, Common Blue Violet, and Yellow Wood Violet. I'm sure I have missed some, and more will be coming into flower soon.

Jade

MARC's Mountain Adoptables Meet Rider & Jade

Rider here! My foster mom says I am a big ole love bug. I love belly rubs, taking naps in the sun, and going on adventures. I could use some more leash training and to brush up on my house manners. I like to be the only dog in my family and I do not like cats. I like children but sometimes I forget I am a big boy and sometimes little ones get knocked over. I am looking for a family who will have patience with me and help me adjust to family life and a new routine. Could you be my fur-ever family?

Hello, my name is Jade. I started my life with my siblings in the cold and rain. We were starving and covered with fleas. Now I am a happy sweet girl. My foster mom likes to call me "Chunky Monkey" The South Cumberland State because I like to eat. Maybe I should cut back a bit. I like to talk to my people and will carry on a conversation mostly about wanting them to pet me. I am not much on being picked up but I love to lie on your lap and get lots of head and chin scratches. I am around 11 months old, spayed, and up-to-date on my meds. I would really like to have my very own family. Might you like a kitty like me?

If you would like to learn more about Rider and Jade, please fill out an Adoption Application on the MARC website <www. marc4change.org> or contact Sue Scruggs, at (423) 619-3845. These pets are fostering on the Sewanee-Monteagle Mountain and are easy to meet. All MARC animals ready for adoption are spayed or neutered and up-to-date on their vaccines and preventatives. MARC is a 501(c)(3) nonprofit animal welfare organization. It is not a shelter and relies on foster homes to save animals. MARC also provides low cost and free spay/ neuter procedures for animals.

April

Oh, to be in England
Now that April's there,
And whoever wakes in England
Sees, some morning, unaware,
That the lowest boughs and the brushwood sheaf
Round the elm-tree bole are in tiny leaf,
While the chaffinch sings on the orchard bough
In England—now!

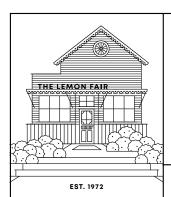

And after April, when May follows,
And the whitethroat builds, and all the swallows!
Hark, where my blossomed pear-tree in the hedge
Leans to the field and scatters on the clover
Blossoms and dewdrops—at the bent spray's edge—
That's the wise thrush; he sings each song twice over,
Lest you should think he never could recapture
The first fine careless rapture!
And though the fields look rough with hoary dew,
All will be gay when noontide wakes anew
The buttercups, the little children's dower
