Monteagle: Competitive Bidding; Tent Dwellers; Lost Ring

by Leslie Lytle, Messenger Staff Writer

At the July 31 meeting, city engineer Travis Wilson alerted the Monteagle Town Council to competition for and a likely shortage of contractors to implement the town's grant-funded sewer rehabilitation project. The council also entertained a discussion about affordable housing sparked by reports of people living in a tent. During announcements, Monteagle residents learned about a wedding ring found in the Country Mart parking lot.

The sewer rehabilitation work will be funded by America Rescue Plan (ARP) and Appalachian Regional Commission grants. Explaining the competition for contractors, engineer Wilson said many communities received ARP grant money for sewer rehabilitation. Monteagle must identify contractors by November 2024 and spend the ARP money by November 2026. "We're well posed to proceed," Wilson said. "Your project is not hard, but your location is not easy, and it's going to be a small project. Your location hurts you and the size of the project." He stressed his firm had a good relationship with trenchless contractors who performed the specialty services needed for the project and that would help facilitate scheduling.

Reporting on codes violations, Travis Lawyer said regarding the tent dwellers, "They've been in a tent for a few months. We're trying to remediate it with a heart to get them where they need to go. We're pursuing having the property owner take action." Alderwoman Dorraine Parmley said she found a tent near her house "that had sleeping stuff in it, cooking stuff, and a machete." Mayor Greg Maloof asked Lawyer to "look into" the other instance of tent dwelling, as well. During the comment period, resident Dean Lay said, "According to the census, 25 percent [of area residents] are below the poverty line. Affordable housing is a problem ... There's a dire shortage of workers in the businesses in Monteagle. There're no people up here to work because there's no place for them to live." Alderman Nate Wilson said the Community by Design initiative sponsored by the American Institute of Architects had identified affordable housing as an area needing addressed in the town planning process. Maloof recently signed a $10,000 Lyndhurst Foundation grant to facilitate the planning project.

Resident Katie Trahan reported on finding a wedding ring in the Country Mart parking lot. She advised the person who lost the ring to phone her (931) 924-3301. Trahan will ask for a description.

In other business, the council approved purchasing two low-

Meeks Honored for Coffee With the Coach Program

Former Sewanee coach Dennis Meeks was honored on July 28 with a Blue Chair breakfast for family and Coffee With the Coach friends. During his 10 plus years as a coach, Dennis saw the need to raise awareness of the athletic program with community members. He started the weekly Coffee With the Coach event at the Blue Chair on Monday mornings. During the school year coaches from each of the sports teams are invited to talk about their programs and to answer questions from the audience. For the past several years the coffee hour has been broadcast live on FaceBook and is on file there for viewers to access at their convenience.

The breakfast was attended by Coffee With the Coach friends, and his two daughters and their families who came from four different states to be at the breakfast. Host Jimmy Wilson expressed appreciation to Dennis and to Dan and Carolyn Hatfield who have led the coffee hours since 2018 when Dennis and Martha moved to North Carolina.

Coffee With the Coach sessions will resume on Aug. 28 at 9 a.m. The Blue Chair provides free coffee for attendees. All sports fans are welcome.

Monteagle Planning: Repaving Responsibility; Street Closure

by Leslie Lytle, Messenger Staff Writer

At the Aug. 1 meeting, the Monteagle Planning Commission approved the site plan for a West Main Street strip mall with the condition the Monteagle Council rule on who paid for parking lot repaving costs in the event of sewer main repair. The decision could impact future development along that section of highway where an easement for the sewer main runs alongside the road. The commission gave a preliminary nod of approval to closing West College Street in conjunction with commercial development of three prime business properties.

The commission debated approving the strip mall site plan at great length. Ronak Patel, the owner of the West Main property, agreed to work with the council to reach a mutual agreement about who was responsible for repaving cost in the event of sewer repair. The sewer main easement also crosses the Dollar General property. The council's decision "will impact all future [business] sites all the way down the street," said Commissioner Greg Rollins. "The planning commission does not have the power to say who's responsible for costs," said town planner Chad Reese.

Realtor Tommy Stanfill approached the commission about redrawing the plats for three properties and closing West College Street to allow all three properties to have road frontage for business development. Stanfill said Monteagle was a highly sought after location for commercial development. "This is some of the most valuable property in Monteagle," Stanfill stressed. Reese explained street closing originated with a request to the planning commission for evaluation to determine impact on public utility easements and to ensure no property owners lost road access; the final decision rested with the council. Following the closure, half the road went to each adjoining property owner. "West College is a dead-end street," noted commission Chair Ed Provost. "It's a win-win for Monteagle," said Dean Lay who owns one of the properties, pointing out Monteagle would gain three valuable business properties and no longer be responsible for maintenance to West College. At present, Francis Gilbreath owns the only property with frontage on West Main, but the lot is too narrow for a business. Redrawing the plats and closing West College would give Gilbreath a lot large enough for a business and give Lay and the Harton Family Partners frontage on West Main. No other property

'Woven Wind' Community Clay Workshop

As part of the "Woven Wind" collaborative exhibition, the University Art Gallery invites the Sewanee community to participate in a workshop to produce clay vessels that will be displayed as part of the exhibition. The workshop will be on Saturday, Aug. 12, from 9:30-11 a.m. at St. Andrew's-Sewanee School. No experience or skill in working with clay is necessary.

"Woven Wind" began with a critical investigation of the Lovell family archive held in the University of the South's William R. Laurie University Archives and Special Collections. The family archive includes documentation of enslaved persons held on the family's plantations in Mississippi.

"Woven Wind" invites us to remember together, to activate and read past archival materials, and to work towards community and healing in the present.

Participants in the workshop will build clay vessels representing cypress knees, hear from artist Vesna Pavlović, and listen to the oral histories of the Toles family descendants. The cypress knees, emblematic of memory, will be placed around campus and in the Sewanee community during the exhibition, on view in the University Art Gallery Aug. 23 through Oct. 11, 2023.

All ages and abilities are welcome, and participation is free and open to the public.

Please email Shelley MacLaren at <sjmaclar@sewanee.edu> to reserve one of the open places in the workshop.

The Community Clay workshop has been made possible by Art, Art History, and Visual Studies, the University Lectures Committee, the Roberson Project on Slavery, Race, and Reconciliation, and a Smith Experiential Learning Grant.

TAKE CARE OF THE TRAIL

To the Editor:

We are so lucky that the gorgeous and user-friendly Mountain Goat Trail travels right through our communities. The other day I walked on the trail. In about ¼ mile, I filled a bag with trash, broken glass and plenty of plastic drink bottles. And that's only what I could reach from the trail.

Come on people. The Trail is a wonderful asset to our homes and free to everybody. The least we can do is take care of it. Respect yourself and your neighbors. If you bring it on the trail – take it out with you.

The result: no cut toes, no bike flat tires and a beautiful view. Make a difference. It's that easy.

Candy Pitcher, Monteagle

MARC Continues Vaccine and Microchip Clinic

The free vaccine, microchip, and ID tag clinics sponsored by Marion Animal Resource Connection (MARC) and the South Cumberland Community Fund (SCCF) are going very well. We are pleased to have had large numbers of families and dogs participating.

These clinics are for dogs of people living in Grundy County and in the counties of Marion and Franklin on the mountain (and down to Sherwood, and Jump Off Road, to around the Franklin State Forest area). One shot including distemper, adenovirus, parainfluenza, and parvo, a microchip, and an ID Tag will be available, free, for dogs of people who cannot otherwise afford them. Distemper and parvo are deadly and contagious to other dogs and mostly are preventable. Microchipping and providing ID tags will help reunite the many wandering or lost dogs seen in our communities with their families.

We have had such a good turn out that MARC had to apply for a Petco Love Vaccine Campaign grant and received more vaccines. Now, for our next and probably last clinic in 2023, Petco Love is a sponsor as well as SCCF.

The next clinic will be on Saturday, Aug. 28, from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m., at the Hannah Pickett Park Pavilion, 24 Dixie Lee Ave., Monteagle. Rain or shine, we will be there.

Morton Memorial United Methodist

In today's vernacular, we may say "loaves and fish" to describe something miraculous. So, what is the bigger miracle: two fish and five loaves feeding thousands, or one person offering up a lunchbox of food to inspire others to be generous? And is the Church still interested in the miracle business? The text for the 11 a.m., Sunday, Aug. 6 service is Matthew 14:13-21. Nursery services and a children's program are provided.

This Sunday our worship service will also include the gift of Holy Communion. It's a time of sharing in the mystery of the life, death and resurrection of our Savior and is offered to all persons regardless of age or church affiliation. All are invited, even if it's their first time visiting Morton Memorial.

St. Mark and St. Paul

The 8:30 a.m. Holy Eucharist is in the church and is also livestreamed on our Facebook page and remains available there afterward. The second service is at 11 a.m. This Sunday, Aug. 6, the second service will be an outdoor service, weather permitting.

Nursery services: Infants and toddlers through three year olds are invited to gather on the playground on Sunday mornings from 8:30 a.m. to noon. The nursery will be at the playground of St. Mark and St. Paul, or in the child care classroom at the lower level of Claiborne Hall.

The Sunday Forum and Youth Sunday School are on summer

Godly Play resumes this Sunday at 9:45 a.m. Godly Play is a Montessori based approach to Christian formation for children, age 3 through entering fourth grade. Godly Play meets in classrooms in the parish hall and on the playground.

All elementary school-aged children are invited to join us for our new Children's Choir. Rehearsals begin Wednesday, Aug. 9, at 2:45 p.m. in Kennerly Hall (with possibilities for pickup from Sewanee Elementary school at 2:30 p.m.). We will be learning foundational music skills, good techniques for young singers, and having a lot of fun praising God along the way. Please contact Meghan Mazur <mjmazur@sewanee.edu> if you would like more information, are interested in signing a child up to sing, or would like to volunteer to ensure this program's success.

mileage federal vehicles for use by the police department, cost $14,100. Police Chief William Raline said finding suitable vehicles at such a low cost was "very rare. All we'll need to do is stripe them and put lights on them." The department's current vehicles have 97,000-100,000 miles. One will be rotated out of service. Money in the capital budget will fund the purchase. Raline also reported a significant decrease in the number of calls which he attributed to increased police presence and traffic control. From April 15-May 15, the police made 503 calls. From June 15-July 15 the department made 363 calls. Thefts were also down, Raline said.

The council convened at 4:30 p.m., a change from the regular meeting time of 6 p.m. Maloof said the earlier time was more convenient for department heads who did not "have to hang around until 6 p.m. for the meeting." Alderpersons Jessica Favaloro, Parmley, and Wilson favored returning to the 6 p.m. meeting time. Favaloro and Wilson said they were contacted by residents whose jobs prevented them from attending at the earlier time.

The council deferred approving the new two-year contract with town planners Southeastern Tennessee Development, cost $9,825 annually (a 10 percent increase). The contract with SETD expired July 1, but Alderpersons Favaloro, Parmley, and Wilson insisted they wanted to compare the new contract with the previous contract before approving the agreement.

Save the Date for Fall Heritage Festival

Make plans to go to the 10th annual Fall Heritage Festival. This free community event will be Sept. 15-17, in Cowan.

Year after year, large crowds attend the three-day event that features more than 150 vendors (food, craft and arts); exhibits; entertainment, fireworks and family fun. Approximately 6,000 people attended this event in 2022 with over a dozen states represented. The event is a fundraiser for the Cowan Railroad Museum.

For more information go to <www.fallheritagefestival.org> or follow on Facebook at FallHeritageFestivalCowanTn.

owners border West College. Reese will check on possible easement issues.

The commission took up two zoning related proposals. The commission decided not to allow campgrounds as a special exception on review on C-3 commercial property. "Since were getting ready to do a master plan, I'm not willing to look at rezoning at this point," said Commissioner Katie Trahan. "I'd rather have community input."

The council voted to recommend truck stops be permitted on C-3 property only subject to review, not as an automatically approved use which is the case now. Reese cited traffic congestion at I-24 Exit 135, the location of one truck stop and a proposed site of another, as a reason to consider the change. Final approval must come from the council.

At the request of Monteagle residents, Mayor Greg Maloof introduced a discussion about minimum square footage of single-family homes. At present for R-1 residential, the minimum is 800 square feet and 600 square feet for R-2 and R-3. Commissioners Richard Black and Rollins maintained the 600 square foot minimum was too low. Alderman Nate Wilson said the commission should consider the impact on affordable housing before increasing the minimum. "It will raise the bar for local people to afford housing," Wilson said. Increasing the size from 600 to 800 square feet would increase the cost by $40,000. "What problem are you trying to fix?" Wilson asked. Provost said concerns about tiny homes prompted the discussion. Wilson pointed out Monteagle had size rules for tiny homes, only allowed them in R-4, but had no R-4. The commission will continue the discussion next month.

The planning commission meets next at 5 p.m., Tuesday, Sept. 5. Changing the meeting day and time are being considered.

"A Home for The Aged"

Community Chest Applications Available

The Sewanee Community Chest (SCC) is pleased to announce the beginning of the 2023–24 grant cycle. All nonprofits that benefit the community are encouraged to apply.

The 2023–24 funding application can be downloaded from the website at <<https://sewaneecivic.org>>. The application deadline is Friday, Sept. 15, 2023. Approved grant funds will be distributed starting in April 2024, contingent on funding availability.

This year, organizations can also apply online with this form <<https://forms.gle/LdHvUL8xTccw26yp6>>. It does require you to have a Gmail email account.

The SCC is a nonprofit organization and relies on funding from the community to support charitable programs and initiatives. The SCC supports local organizations that have requested basic needs funding for quality of life, community aid, children's programs, and those who are beyond Sewanee but still serve our entire community. With your support, the SCC will continue to provide aid where it matters most: elder care, food, books, housing, scholarships, spay/neuter programs for animals, recreational spaces and funding for the local elementary school. As the 2023–24 grant cycle begins, the SCC is also kicking off its yearly fundraising campaign.

The SCC urges everyone who benefits from life in this community, whether you live, work, or visit, to give generously. Donations are tax deductible. Contributions, payroll deductions and pledges are accepted at any time at P.O. Box 99, Sewanee, TN 37375. You can also make a gift through PayPal Giving.

For more information, email <sewaneecommunitychest@gmail.com>. The Sewanee Community Chest is sponsored by the Sewanee Civic Association.

Sewanee Youth Soccer Registration Open

Sewanee Youth Soccer registration is open for ages 3+, groups Lil Kickers through U12.

Cost is Lil Kickers, $60 per player, U6+, $75 per player. Uniform included in registration cost. Register online at <<https://www.fcsoccer.org/>> or contact <georgialhewitt@gmail.com>.

Soccer will be at the Sewanee Community Ballfields on Ball Park Rd., on Saturdays, beginning Sept. 9, 2023.

As we continue to build our plateau-based program, Sewanee Youth Soccer will be using the academy soccer model which allows players to participate without following the rules of team formation. Players will gather for practice and game day scrimmages by age group, rather than team, for skill development and small sided games. By having a variety of different groupings during practices and intramural games the kids more touches on the ball while playing soccer with all of their friends. Little Kickers, U6, U8, U10, and U12 age groups are available in Sewanee. Depending on enrollment some age groups may combine. Please consider volunteering when you register your player.

Medical Lab Technology: Where Technology Meets Medicine

Motlow State Community College's Medical Lab Technology degree lets students combine their passion for science with their compassion for others. In just two years, students can enter a career field full of opportunities for exploration, advancement, and growth.

An Associate of Applied Science degree is an expedient pathway to the healthcare industry that gives graduates plenty of options. Students who opt to take this route can expect to study a diverse range of scientific fields, including the physiology of blood, microbiology, chemistry, immunology, and molecular technology. Upon completion of the program, graduates can find employment at hospitals, doctor's offices, extended care facilities, blood banks, or research facilities where they will perform tests and analyses. These life-saving processes lead to the diagnosis and treatment of many critical health conditions.

According to Motlow's new Director of Medical Technology Barbara Lowery, "Medical Lab Technology is a great career path for students to consider. The field is wide open in terms of employment because there is a need for Medical Lab Technicians in most branches of the medical industry. They play a vital part in the medical world, and salaries continue to rise as opportunities become available."

While A.A.S. degrees are designed to prepare students for direct transfer to the workforce, those who obtain a Medical Lab Technology license have the option of pursuing a Bachelor of Science in Medical Laboratory Science or even a Master's degree to advance further in the field.

For more information, contact <mlab@mscc.edu>. Enrolled students can apply for the MLT program by visiting the "Scholarship and Program Applications" section in MyMotlow. Classes start Aug. 21, and there are only eleven seats left in the fall cohort, so apply soon to reserve a spot.

Explore Untold Stories of Tennessee History at the Tennessee State Library & Archives Author Talks Event

From Tennessee's first steamboats to the glory and tragedy of the Nashville and Chattanooga Railroad, explore previously untold stories of the Volunteer State at the Tennessee State Library & Archives' free Author Talks event with special guest Bill Carey noon to 1 p.m., Friday, Aug. 11, 2023.

Tennessee has a rich history of stories, some better known than others," said Secretary of State Tre Hargett. "I encourage anyone interested in discovering something new about the Volunteer State's historical past to join us during your lunch break for this free presentation."

Author and columnist Bill Carey will take attendees on a journey into the past, exploring stories from 19th-century Tennessee as steamboats, the telegraph and railroads transformed the Volunteer State connecting Tennesseans to each other and the rest of the nation.

Bill Carey is the author of several books about Tennessee and Nashville history, including his new book "True Tales of Tennessee: Earthquake to Railroad," detailing the stories of people and events that have often been overlooked. He has also written "Fortunes, Fiddles and Fried Chicken: A Nashville Business History and Runaways," "Coffles and Fancy Girls: A History of Slavery in Tennessee." Carey is a monthly columnist for Tennessee Magazine. He is also the founder of the Tennessee History for Kids organization.

"We are excited to host Bill Carey to share stories he discovered while doing research at the Tennessee State Library & Archives," said State Librarian and Archivist Jamie Ritter. "Anyone who attends this talk is bound to learn something new about Tennessee's past."

This talk will be at the Library & Archives and is free to attend. Attendees are welcome to bring their lunch. Seating is limited. To make a reservation, visit <bit.ly/TSLAAuthorTalks>.

The Library & Archives is located at 1001 Rep. John Lewis Way North on Bicentennial Capitol Mall State Park, across from the Tennessee State Museum. The Library & Archives garage is on Junior Gilliam Way.

‘Garrison Keillor Tonight’ in The Caverns on Sept. 17

Garrison Keillor has been entertaining audiences for more than 50 years, notably with the radio show he created, “Prairie Home Companion,” which ran from 1974 to 2016. But on Sept. 17, the author and radio personality will add a new milestone to his career by performing inside a cave for the very first time. Keillor will bring his latest show, “Garrison Keillor Tonight,” to The Caverns, a world-famous cave venue located in Grundy County.

Garrison Keillor Tonight is an evening of stand-up, storytelling, audience song, and poetry. One man, one microphone. There are sung sonnets, limericks and musical jokes, and the thread that runs through it is the beauty of growing old — and what better setting to underscore the passage of time than inside a natural Tennessee cave that took millions of years to form?

During the subterranean show, guests will hear news from Lake Wobegon, the fictional Minnesota town Keillor created, booming with new entrepreneurs, makers of artisanal firewood and gourmet meatloaf, breeders of composting worms, and dogs trained to do childcare. But some things endure, such as the formation of the Living Flag on Main Street, citizens in tight formation wearing red, white or blue caps, and Mr. Keillor among them, standing close to old neighbors, Myrtle Krebsbach (“Truckstop”) and Julie Christensen (“Bruno, The Fishing Dog”) and Clint Bunsen. And an a cappella sing-along with the audience singing from memory an odd medley of patriotic songs, pop standards, hymns, and ending with the national anthem.

Reserved seating, yurt and VIP packages, and camping passes for “Garrison Keillor Tonight” in The Caverns are on sale at <https://www.thecaverns.com/event/garrison-keillor-tonight-in-the-caverns>. With limited seating available, guests are encouraged to secure their tickets early.

Located in Grundy County, The Caverns is a world-renowned destination known for live music in beautiful natural settings, the Emmy-winning PBS television series The Caverns Sessions, and a magical cave system for different skill levels of exploration. Inside The Caverns subterranean venue, guests to “The Greatest Show Under Earth” revel in the prehistoric venue’s natural acoustics and otherworldly beauty. The outdoor amphitheater sits at the foot of the Cumberland Plateau with the rolling Tennessee hills as a backdrop. Whether underground or above ground, live music at The Caverns is a bucket list experience that keeps fans coming back time and again. On-site camping available after most shows. Daily guided walking tours and adventure cave tours of The Caverns cave system offered 7 days a week. Go to <https://www.thecaverns.com> for more information.

‘52Frames’ at Artisan Depot

MarthaLee McCarthy’s photographic show “52Frames” is open at the Artisan Depot in Cowan, sponsored by the Franklin County Arts Guild. McCarthy has enjoyed capturing life’s images since she was young. Inspired by her dad’s love of photography, she signed up for a darkroom class as a sophomore in college and became hooked on what would turn out to be a life-long passion.

In 2003, her husband accepted a job with the University of the South, and the family moved to Sewanee from Georgia. She began working as an English teacher at Franklin County High School, where she taught photography to her yearbook journalism students.

The current show was born while the pandemic was raging when she joined approximately 3,500 other photographers from all over the world in a photo challenge called 52Frames. Participants in the challenge are given the opportunity to join small groups of other photographers from around the globe to both support and critique one another. She is now in her third year of the challenge, and has friends in Norway, India, England, Australia, New Zealand, France, and Brazil, as well as others from all across the United States.

McCarthy’s show will run through Aug. 27 at the Artisan Depot Gallery, 204 Cumberland St., Cowan. The Artisan Depot is open Thursday, Friday, Saturday, and Sunday from noon to 5 p.m.

“Historic Sewanee Downtown, 150 Years” is currently on display in the Museum Gallery of the William R. Laurie University Archives and Special Collections building through Dec. 15, 2023. The Sewanee Historic Downtown Digital Exhibit and Walking Tour of Historic Downtown Sewanee is available at <https://library.sewanee.edu/archives/exhibits>.

Viewing hours are 1–5 p.m., Monday through Friday, or by appointment. Support from the University of the South and the Sewanee Trust for Historic Preservation made the research for and presentation of this exhibit possible.

Corvin Scott Named Assistant Baseball Coach

Sewanee baseball Head Coach Nate Burns announced the hiring of Corvin Scott as assistant coach. A native of Nashville, Scott has spent the last two seasons as a volunteer assistant coach at Belmont University.

"We are thrilled to bring Corvin Scott to the mountain. Corvin brings a high-level of knowledge teaching the game and on the recruiting trail. He has served in similar capacities at the Division 1, Division 2, and NAIA levels, and I know he will excel given a more hands on role here at Sewanee. We are very excited for his future with Sewanee baseball," said Burns.

At Belmont, Scott primarily worked with outfielders and was the first base coach, and aided in spearheading the Belmont Baseball Camps. He helped develop the talents of center fielder Guy Lipscomb, who in 2022 finished ninth in the country in batting average (.406) and fourth in stolen bases (42) on the way to Ohio Valley Conference Player of the Year honors, an All-Region selection, and Third-Team All-American honors before being drafted in the fifth round in the 2022 MLB First-Year Player Draft by the Cleveland Guardians.

Prior to arriving at Belmont, Scott spent the 2021 season as an assistant coach at King University, worked as a graduate assistant at Campbellsville University for two seasons, and served as an assistant at Volunteer State Community College. During his time at these schools, Scott was a first base coach and worked primarily with outfielders while helping with hitting and base running.

Scott, who played at East Nashville High School (2011-14), graduated from Middle Tennessee State University in 2018 with a bachelor of science degree in leisure, sport, and tourist studies. Scott went on to earn a master's in sports management and administration from Campbellsville in the fall of 2021.

Max Obermiller Retires After Nearly Three Decades of Inspiring Achievement

After nearly 30 years of fostering excellence in and out of the water, Max Obermiller, the revered head coach of the University of the South's swimming and diving program, retired to accept a position as manager of FitWell in the Wellness Commons. Coach Max's impact is unparalleled, leaving an indelible legacy in the greater Sewanee community.

During Obermiller's sterling 29-year tenure as the University's head coach, he has led hundreds of All-Conference athletes, dozens of All-Americans and over 100 Academic All-American teams.

His accomplishments in the Sewanee community have left a lasting impact across generations. He has dedicated his time, passion, and expertise to coaching and teaching swim lessons, an invaluable skill for hundreds of children and teens. From the summer league to high school, Obermiller built confidence and skills in the pool across the greater Sewanee community and beyond.

"It has been a privilege to teach and coach both the community and the students at the University," Obermiller said. "The goal is the same for both groups: to see them grow, actualize their potential and have fun doing it."

What began as a small summer league team for his children to have fun, the TigerSharks team has grown to include thousands of swimmers from ages four to 19. Under his tutelage, the team won 18 titles in the 22 years he coached.

"It makes me happy to think this program has afforded so many children in many communities the chance to learn to swim and benefit from all that sports is able to teach," said Obermiller. "It's been a great ride and I've enjoyed all of this so much."

Obermiller also started St. Andrew's-Sewanee School's high school and middle school swim teams, and though he never coached, he facilitated the training, scheduling the meets for both teams. In short, if you grew up in the Sewanee community and swam, Coach Max was a part of it.

As a community, we want to thank Coach Max for his hard work, dedication and lasting influence. His contribution to our lives on the mountain is truly appreciated.

"My career has been intrinsically rewarding," said Obermiller, "but my greatest accomplishment has been seeing the lifelong relationships fostered through the swimming programs."

Coach Max has shaped many lives, and his legacy will continue to ripple, inspiring future generations of swimmers for years to come. — by Anna Obermiller

NATURENOTES

Giant Silk Moths and a Weasel

National Moth Week last week brought some impressive sightings. Teesha Tiller found three Imperial moths on her porch and a Polyphemus. That same day I found both those species on my porch plus another large, colorful Regal moth. These are all members of the Saturniid or giant silk moth family of moths, named for the rings around the eyespots of some of them, compared with the rings around the planet Saturn. The adults of moths in this family do not eat and therefore live only a short time, their purpose only to reproduce. The Imperial moths have impressive cryptic coloration and can look just like a browning tulip poplar or other leaf. Polyphemus moths are named for the one-eyed giant cyclops in Greek mythology. Teesha noted that the eyespots are transparent and that the feathery antennae of the male are larger than those of the female. All these moths have large, colorful caterpillars with knobs or spines. The caterpillar of the Regal moth is known as the Hickory Horned Devil and is especially impressive.

Join the Trail Friends

The Friends of South Cumberland State Parks, in conjunction with the park managers and rangers, have implemented a volunteer program, called Trail Friends, at five popular trailheads in the parks.

Trail Friends are stationed at these trailheads during periods of high visitor traffic to welcome hikers, provide information and answer questions about the trails.

Since implementation, Trail Friends have assisted thousands of park visitors with information about the special attractions in the parks, the range and specifics of what is here, and about critical safe behaviors. Fall Season 2022 marked the beginning of the sixth year of service to the park.

In Savage Gulf State Park, trailheads Trail Friends typically staff include Savage Gulf North (Stone Door) in the Beersheba area; Savage Gulf West (Greeter Falls), near Altamont; Savage Gulf East (Savage Falls). In South Cumberland State Park, Trail Friends typically staff Fiery Gizzard North (Grundy Forest), in Tracy City; and Fiery Gizzard South (Foster Falls), between Tracy City and Jasper.

Volunteers are generally needed from 8 a.m. to 4 p.m. on weekends and holidays, during peak Park visitation periods. Volunteers sign up on the Tennessee State Parks volunteer website (Galaxy Digital) to work at the trailhead of their choice, at times and on days of their choosing. Trail Friends volunteers wear identifying apparel and identification badges; and set out signage at the trailhead so park visitors know that the Trail Friends are there to help.

To learn more about the Trail Friends program, please go to <<https://www.friendsofsouthcumberland.org/how-to-become-a-trail-friend.html>>.

Cat already knows to use the litter box and is ready to learn all about you and your family so you can be besties.

Rex is such a cutie. He and his siblings are around 10 weeks old and busy playful puppies. Rex is brown with black and white markings. How can you possibly resist those sad eyes. But don't let those eyes fool you. Rex's foster mom says that he is the team leader and is the first to explore. He is also a huge cuddle bug when he is worn out from his adventures. Rex is going to make a great family companion ready for any fun adventure you might suggest.

If you would like to learn more about Cat and Rex, please fill out an Adoption Application on the MARC website <www.marc4change.org> and/or contact Sue Scruggs, cell phone (423) 619-3845. These pets are fostering on the Sewanee-Monteagle Mountain and are easy to meet. All MARC animals ready for adoption are spayed or neutered and up-to-date on their vaccines and preventative.

MARC - Marion Animal Resource Connection is a 501(c)3 nonprofit animal welfare organization. It is not a shelter and relies on foster homes to save animals. MARC also provides low cost and free spay/neuter procedures for animals and is available for teaching humane care of animals in schools and to community organizations.

FROM BARD TO VERSE

by Robin Bates

Back to School

"I only took the regular course," [said the Mock Turtle].
 "What was that?" inquired Alice.
 "Reeling and Writhing, of course, to begin with," the Mock Turtle replied; "and then the different branches of Arithmetic—Ambition, Distraction, Uglification, and Derision"....
 "What else had you to learn?"
 "Well, there was Mystery," the Mock Turtle replied, counting off the subjects on his flappers, "—Mystery, ancient and modern, with Seaography; then Drawing—the Drawing-master was an old conger-eel, that used to come once a week: he taught us Drawing, Stretching, and Fainting in Coils."
 "What was that like?" said Alice.
 "Well, I can't show it you myself," the Mock Turtle said: "I'm too stiff. And the Gryphon never learnt it."
 "Hadn't time," said the Gryphon: "I went to the Classics master, though. He was an old crab, he was."
 "I never went to him," the Mock Turtle said with a sigh: "he taught Laughing and Grief, they used to say."
