SUD: Smith Reelected, Asset Management Contract Approved

by Leslie Lytle, Messenger Staff
Writer

The first order of business at the Jan. 30 Sewanee Utility District Board of Commissioners meeting was counting the commissioner election votes. In regular business the board turned to review and approval of the Asset Management contract with KCI Technologies needed to satisfy a requirement of SUD's American Rescue Plan Act grant.

Sixty-nine SUD customers cast votes in the election. Current commissioner and board president Charlie Smith bested candidates Randall Henley and Tracy McBee. All three candidates formerly served as Sewanee Fire Department volunteers.

The ARPA grant requires SUD to develop an Asset Management Plan to inventory, record the value of, geographically locate, and track the longevity and depreciation of assets. In support of KCI's qualification for crafting a plan for SUD,

Monteagle: Urgent Water Rate and Wage Increases

by Leslie Lytle, Messenger Staff
Writer

"We're trying to head off the state setting the rates," said Mayor Greg Maloof at the Jan. 29 Monteagle City Council meeting, explaining the need for the water rate increases approved by the council. "If the [Utility Department] shows a loss two years in a row, the state may step in. We're on course for that." The council also voted to increase wages for the police and several other departments to make earnings competitive with neighboring towns.

A 2 percent water usage-rate increase and $5 per customer monthly service fee will go into effect March 1. The service fee will generate $90,000 annual revenue. Alderman Nate Wilson said he initially objected to the service fee because the fee "disproportionately" impacted low-usage customers, but Wilson acknowledged the fee helped shift the revenue-need burden to second-home owners with typically low bills. Maloof does not anticipate additional rate increases for 2024-2025. "This [rate increase] should get us over the hump with the state," Maloof said.

The "bulk" of money allocated for wage increases will go to the police, Wilson said. Monteagle

Lecture on Leading with Purpose and Drive

Simba Chakanyuka, C'18, vice president at BlackRock, will be the Babson Center's Bryan Viewpoints Speaker for the 2024 Easter semester. He will discuss his journey from Zimbabwe to Sewanee and the skills he acquired that launched him into a fascinating career at BlackRock. During his presentation, Simba will reveal current trends in the asset management industry and highlight strategic initiatives that he has led as a manager in the Financial Institutions Group (FIG).

While on campus, Simba will engage with students at several events including a campus lecture, "The Opportunity to Lead with Purpose and Drive: Reflections on the Journey (so far) in Financial Services," at 4:30 p.m., Thursday, Feb. 8, in the Torian Room at duPont Library. All are welcome to attend.

BlackRock is a global investment management company and is the world's largest asset manager with over $9 trillion in assets. Committed to sustainability, BlackRock views "climate risk as investment risk," and its portfolio managers integrate environmental, social, and governance (ESG) factors across their investment platform. Mr. Chakanyuka is a relationship manager in FIG, which provides expertise, advice, and risk analytics to insurance companies who are BlackRock's clients, and his role is to retain and expand those relationships.

Currently, four Sewanee alumni work at the BlackRock office in New York City. Simba feels that their critical thinking skills learned in a liberal arts education and the ability to communicate their thoughts effectively has helped them to stand out and succeed.

Komal Kunwar, C'19, an analyst in the Sustainable Investing Group at BlackRock, said, "Simba was a year ahead of me in Sewanee and also an international student and Carey Fellow so he's been a close friend over the years. Being a diaspora in the US is challenging (as many of us know) but to have seen him navigate Sewanee and, later, BlackRock in New York and London, was incredibly inspiring to me. I admire his resiliency which is reflected in his work, relationships, and friendships."

Remembering his time at Sewanee, Simba acknowledged the challenges of going to college so far from home and expressed his gratitude to Sewanee: "Thankfully, I landed in a great community, where I was able to learn from various friends and mentors and create a foundation for my career in the U.S."

Simba received his B.A. in economics from the University of the South and recently completed his Chartered Financial Analyst (CFA) certification. While attending Sewanee, he was a Carey Fellow business honors student and completed a summer analyst position at BlackRock. Following graduation, he accepted an offer as an analyst in FIG for BlackRock in London and moved to New York City in 2021 as an associate.

This visit is cosponsored by the Department of Economics, the Department of Finance, and Sewanee's Integrated Program in the Environment. The Bryan Viewpoints Speaker Series is made possible by a generous gift from Peggy and J.F. Bryan IV, C'65. For more information about the Babson Center for Global Commerce and our events, please visit: <babsoncgc.sewanee.edu>.

Human Rights Lawyer Sosu to Lecture

The Honorable Francis-Xavier Sosu will speak on the topic "Championing a Free, Fair, Just and Equitable Society through Human Rights Advocacy: Chronicles of a Lawyer, Activist, and Legislator in Ghana" at 7 p.m., Wednesday, Feb. 7, in Naylor Auditorium, Gailor Hall.

Hon. Sosu is a member of the national parliament, a human rights lawyer, and an activist in Ghana. In 2021, he was the recipient of the Timothy Bowles African Human Rights Leadership Award. The lecture will focus on Hon. Sosu's work as a legislator during the last three years, when he championed 17 private member bills dealing with social issues such as support for victims of sexual violence, mental health, climate change, abolition of the death penalty, prohibition of witchcraft accusation, employment of people with disabilities, and community service for those convicted of minor offenses.

Hon. Francis-Xavier Sosu has over 13 years of experience as a human rights lawyer and activist. He is a member of the Ghana Bar Association, Africa Bar Association, International Association of Peoples Lawyers, Lawyers Without Borders, Criminal Justice Reforms Association, and the Commonwealth Lawyers Association.

He has Bachelor of Arts (Hons) in Sociology and Archaeology, a Bachelor of Laws (Hons), a Master of Laws in Oil and Gas Law, a Master of Arts in Economic Policy Management, and a MPhil in Human Rights, Peace and Conflict Studies. He is currently a PhD candidate at the University of Ghana Law School with research interests in Regional Integration Laws.

Hon. Sosu's time in Sewanee will include meetings with students, classroom lectures, and meetings with faculty. His visit is sponsored by the Mellon Grant for Study Abroad in Ghana, the Office of Global Citizenship, the Office of Diversity, Equity and Inclusion, the Office of Civic Engagement, and the Department of Politics.

'Faith, Race & the Lost Cause: Confessions of the Confederate Church' Lecture

Join Chris Graham, Curator of Exhibitions at the American Civil War Museum, for a presentation at 7 p.m., Thursday, Feb. 8, in Convocation Hall. Graham is also a member of famed St. Paul's Episcopal Church in Richmond, Va., which was once known as the Cathedral of the Confederacy.

In the 1890s, St. Paul's members installed led memorial stained-glass windows to Jefferson Davis and Robert E. Lee, and cultivated the connection between the church and the Confederate experience. In 2015, St. Paul's initiated a racial self-study and reflected on its lingering reputation as the Confederate church. In his lecture, Graham will share some of the expected and unexpected findings about the way memorials and ideologies carry different meanings over time, turn into actions that people take, and perhaps even fade into the background for new generations.

"Chris Graham brings uncommon experience to a critical conversation about memory and memorialization. Graham's lecture will help his listeners engage with the complex question of the influence of the past – real or remembered – on the present and future," said the Very Rev. James F. Turrell, dean of the School of Theology.

Church News

All Saints' Chapel

On Sunday, All Saints' Chapel will gather for worship during the academic year at 8 a.m., Holy Eucharist, Rite 1 and at 11 a.m., Holy Eucharist, Rite 2. The 6:30 p.m. service is Growing in Grace, an informal, student-led service.

Christ Church

Americans think of Feb. 2 as Groundhog Day. Bill Murray not only had a child who graduated from Sewanee, but also enjoyed The Dixie Lee Diner in Monteagle more than once. But the real story of Feb. 2 is about the infancy narrative of Jesus. Christ Church will include this story on Sunday. We hope other churches do too, because it is a wondrous reading filled with light and love.

Morton Memorial UMC

On Sunday, Feb. 4, Morton Memorial UMC will emphasize the joy we have in God's good creation. The sermon is titled "Good Business," in which we will be curious about how the life of the Lord Jesus and our lives interact.

Our children will be invited to explore a bit of nature as we learn from their curiosity.

There are several readings suggested by the Common Lectionary for this week. In Isaiah 40:21-31, we are comforted to know that God gives strength to those who feel powerless. Another is Mark 1:29-39. In it, we learn that Simon, newly a disciple, brought Jesus to his mother-in-law's home to heal her, and secured his wife's permission to travel for the next 20 years.

This Sunday our worship service will also include the gift of Holy Communion. It's a time of sharing in the mystery of the life, death and resurrection of our Savior and is offered to all persons regardless of age or church affiliation. All are invited, even if it's the first time visiting Morton Memorial. It's an open table, meaning you do not have to be a baptized believer or a member of any church to receive.

On Tuesday, Feb. 13, Tracey Weibert will begin leading sessions of GriefShare, a weekly seminar and support group that will meet on Tuesdays at 5:30 p.m. at the Wesley House located between CVS in Monteagle and the Church. It's an opportunity to rebuild one's life when struggling with the loss of a loved one. At a GriefShare group, there's understanding, guidance, relief, and a safe place to navigate the challenge of grief.

Come for the music, the prayers and the celebration of worship of God this and every Sunday. Morton welcomes all, regardless of where they may be in their faith journeys.

St. James Episcopal

St. James, located at 898 Midway Rd., is a thriving, growing, and warmly welcoming church. Our weekly service is on Sundays at 9 a.m. followed by a time for fellowship. These services are also live streamed on our Facebook page. There will be a Potluck Supper at 6 p.m., Wednesday, Feb. 7. All are welcome.

St. Mark and St. Paul

The 8:30 a.m. Sunday Holy Eucharist is in the church. The 11 a.m. service will be livestreamed on our Facebook page and remains available there afterward.

Nursery services: Infants and toddlers through three year olds are invited to gather on the playground on Sunday mornings from 8:30 to noon. The nursery will be held at the playground of St. Mark and St. Paul, or in the child care classroom at the lower level of Claiborne Hall.

Sunday School at 9:45 a.m.: Godly Play is a Montessori based approach to Christian formation for children, age 3 through entering fourth grade. Godly Play meets in classrooms in the parish hall and on the playground. Youth Sunday School (grades 5-12) meets in Brooks Hall.

Leslie E. Todd, Assistant Professor of Art History at Sewanee, will talk about Mesoamerican feathered art works in St. Mark and St. Paul's Sunday Forum on Feb. 4 at 9:45-10:45 a.m., in Kennerly Hall.

Todd explains that feathered artworks were created in Mesoamerica before and after the Spanish Conquest in 1521. This talk will introduce the audience to the style and technique of this art form and address the spiritual meaning that 16th century missionaries and Europeans found in their luminescence.

Todd is Assistant Professor of Art History at Sewanee. She received her PhD in Art History from the University of Florida. She works on early modern art history with a specialization in the art of colonial Latin America. She investigates how early modern visual practice enacted and upheld the dynamic relationship between metropole and colony that defined Spanish colonialism in the Americas.

Free Income Tax Prep Available to Local Residents

Beginning next week, the IRS-certified BetterFi Volunteer Income Tax Assistance (VITA) Program will begin processing and filing qualifying residents' income taxes for its 11th year in a row after transitioning from the Sewanee VITA Program. This year BetterFi is working with volunteers from the University of the South through the Office of Civic Engagement's Canale Leaders Program and South Cumberland Plateau AmeriCorps Program to assist local residents in filing their taxes.

BetterFi is working with partner sites to host on-site filing by appointment only. The planned schedule is below, but there is still availability for additional partners to schedule on-site tax preparation on Feb. 7, Feb. 10, Feb. 28, March 21, or March 27. Any potential partner who would like to inquire about hosting tax filing at their location on one of these days should contact our AmeriCorps service member <Georgia at georgia@betterfi.co>.

Any residents of Bedford, Coffee, Franklin, Grundy, Marion, or Moore county who make less than $64,000 a year, are disabled, or are elderly qualify for a free tax return.

Each resident interested in filing must bring proof of identification (a photo ID), social security cards (if filing jointly with another person then bring both social security cards and both individuals must be present), wage and earning statements (W-2, 1099, etc.), dividend and interest statements (if this applies to the resident filing), birth dates of the resident(s) and dependent(s), and banking account and routing numbers for direct deposit (found on a blank check).

If a resident filing does not have a social security card, then he/she must bring an IRS Individual Taxpayer Identification Number (ITIN) assignment letter.

There is no walk-in filing — anyone interested in having their taxes prepared should contact the partner site below to sign up for one of their available time slots. Additional sites and availability will be announced on BetterFi's website <www.betterfi.co/vita> and on the BetterFi Facebook page <www.fb.com/betterfi>.

manager Ben Beavers said the firm served on the state committee that devised the template for the plan — “They [KCI] know what’s supposed to be in there.” Another bidder for the project quoted a $90,000 fee. “Their contract was very unspecific,” Beavers said. By the ARPA grant provisions, SUD must pay 15 percent, $10,729, of KCI’s $71,530 fee. Beavers acknowledged without government funding the cost would be prohibitive for small water utilities such as SUD but cited the Asset Management Plan’s utility in applying for future grants and capital improvement planning.

Beavers hopes once KCI has migrated and mapped all the required asset data to the plan, there will be contract money left for migrating additional asset data into the system. He gave the example of the water plant. All depreciable assets must be listed on the plan, which for SUD means assets costing over $10,000. At the water plant, that would require listing only the building and skids. Beavers would like to add other water plant equipment to the tracking inventory, such as pumps and chemical feed. A detailed plan will give SUD an easily accessed record of “how long things last,” including non-depreciable assets not currently tracked in an all-inclusive data base.

The KCI fee includes training SUD employees to keep the plan updated when the contract period ends. A side benefit will be the ArcGIS geographic mapping software subscription SUD will be required to purchase, cost $1,200 monthly. The mapping software will integrate with SUD’s accounting software and enable quick and accurate determination of which customers are impacted by line breaks or other issues, enabling SUD to notify the customers by email. ARPA grant money will cover all but 15 percent of the subscription cost during the grant period.

Updating the board on the impact of the recent severe winter weather, Beavers said SUD had no service line breaks, but lost 140,000-150,000 gallons of water per day from customer line breaks over a three-to-four-day period. Beavers praised SUD employees, some of whom worked extra shifts. “They all did a great job last week.”

Beavers also reported changing insurance providers. With the new provider, costing $4,500 less, SUD has triple the umbrella coverage and the policy includes cyber insurance at no additional cost. Cyber insurance was typically billed as an add-on, Beavers said.

used Municipal Technical Advisory Service data from the University of Tennessee to compare Monteagle’s wages with towns of similar size and neighboring towns competing for Monteagle’s workers. In addition to the police, fire department, street department, and codes enforcement officers will also receive wage increases drawn from the town’s “General Fund” budget. The financially strapped Utility Department has a separate budget, the “Enterprise Fund,” Maloof said, expressing “regret” only General Fund employees were considered for raises.

After long debate, the council approved on first reading the planning commission’s recommendation to increase the minimum-residence size for free-standing single-family homes from 600 square feet to 800 square feet. At present, R-1 residential has an 800 square feet minimum and R-2 and R-3 have a 600 square feet minimum. The planning commission “wrestled” with the recommendation, Maloof said, and decided the ruling should apply only to free-standing homes, not apartments and condominiums. Wilson argued Monteagle did not need to be concerned about tiny homes, 400 square feet or less, since only R-4 zoning allowed tiny homes and Monteagle had no R-4. Wilson said the ruling allowed residents to live in 600 square foot apartments, but “pushed people out of home ownership ... The price cliff between building 600 square feet and 800 square feet is huge.” He pointed out Monteagle only had about a half dozen 600 square foot homes, but many homes in the 700-900 square foot range that began as smaller homes and were added onto. “It’s a ticklish situation,” Alderman Dan Sargent conceded. Alderwoman Dorraine Parmley insisted she wanted more discussion before deciding. Maloof said if the ordinance failed to pass on the first reading, discussion would end, whereas if the first reading passed, a second reading and public hearing would follow. The council approved the ordinance on first reading, with Wilson voting “no.” The first-reading approval would enable “the council to get more input” before deciding on final approval or denial, Maloof observed.

Commenting on the “unprecedented challenge” of the recent snow, ice, and freezing temperatures, Maloof said, “I’m not sure we’re done with winter.” If extreme winter weather occurred again, Maloof advised “if it’s not absolutely urgent you be out there, please stay home.” He cited several incidents, a car skidding underneath an 18-wheeler and an 18-wheeler truck blocking I-24 traffic towards Nashville. Maloof praised “the above and beyond call of duty” response of city employees. Police officers worked double shifts; the fire department helped remove downed trees and pulled cars out of ditches; and the utility department worked around the clock monitoring pumps and gauges and shutting off meters at residences with leaks due to frozen pipes. Although no main service lines burst, the town lost 800,000 gallons of water from residential leaks.

Steve Lamb with the Marion

County Emergency Management Agency appealed to residents to respond to a four-question survey to collect data to aid the EMA in the required five-year update of the Hazard Mitigation Plan. Lamb stressed “revenue streams” availability hinged on the county having an updated plan in place, and resident data was key. The link for the survey is <https://www.surveymonkey.com/r/MarionEMA24>. It can be found on the Monteagle website <https://www.townofmonteagle-tn.gov>.

A second survey, also available on the Monteagle website Mayor’s Memo, seeks input on what sorts of recreational opportunities residents would like to see in Monteagle. Ty Burnett, heading up the effort, said a public meeting would follow at 5:30 p.m., Thursday, March 7, in the city hall conference room to review the survey responses.

'We Love New Artists!' at In-Town Gallery

This February, In-Town Gallery opens its heart to emerging artists from Hart Gallery! "We Love New Artists" will showcase Anna Mansour, Erica Birch, and Sara Coolidge. Their work is fresh, spirited, and compelling. As they stand on the threshold of their careers as gallery artists, ITG is excited to present them to a wider audience. The reception is Wednesday, Feb. 7, 5-8 p.m., and on display through Feb. 29.

Artists come from many backgrounds, and each one arrives at his or her personal expression by a different path. Hart Gallery fulfills an important role in the Chattanooga arts and social community by offering a creative home to artists from challenging backgrounds and circumstances. ITG is proud to join with Hart Gallery in a celebration of the work of three of its artists.

Nineteen year old Anna Mansour was born in California, raised in New York, and now proudly calls Chattanooga home. Anna sold her first pieces of art when she was only eight years old. She is interested in anime, and collects Manga comics and graphic novels whose style influences her lively 3-D figures.

Erica Birch's paintings are electric with vibrant colors and bold shapes. Her technique is well suited to the fantastic celebratory images she creates. "I have," she says, "gained the courage to create a new soul journey. I choose to create not just art, but happiness, wholeness, and health."

A gentle whimsy pervades the art of Sara Coolidge. Using her technique that is both linear and colorful, her birds, flowers, and figures come from a world of magic and delight. Sara has a degree in Early Childhood Education and is both an artist and author. She co-teaches art on occasion at Mountain Arts Community Center on Signal Mountain.

And this February there's even more going on at ITG!

On Saturday, Feb. 17, you'll want to meet talented pastelist, Linda Coulter, and see her demonstration, "Painting with Pastels." Linda first discovered pastels in a portrait class, and knew she had found her medium. Describing her style as impressionistic realism, she seeks to engage the viewer's emotional imagination, while providing a sense of realism that taps into personal experience. "Pastel is an amazing medium," Coulter says, "that uses the same pigments found in oil or watercolors, but uses them in a more pure form, which allows pastel to have intense color." An associate member of the Pastel Society of America, Linda teaches plein air workshops in Cozumel, Taos, Italy, and Chattanooga.

Showcasing the creativity of local artists for 50 years, In-Town Gallery is located 'Between the Bridges' on Chattanooga's North Shore at 26A Frazier Ave. Hours are 11 a.m. to 6 p.m., Monday-Saturday, and noon to 5 p.m., on Sunday. Visit us at <www.intowngallery.com>, Facebook and Instagram.

'The Ambient Pause' at the Carlos Gallery

The Carlos Gallery in the Visual Arts Building at the University of the South is pleased to present "The Ambient Pause (A Rest from the Noise)" by artist Christina Foard. The exhibit is on display through March. An artist talk and reception will be at 5 p.m., Tuesday, March 5.

Painting interior/exterior scenes and making objects is a necessary personal Christina Foard response to experiences, emotions, and environments. Regardless of shifts in iconography, her work incorporates perceptions about time, memories, and often includes quotidian objects as symbolic placeholders. Foard translates observed scenes and incorporates invented components. Structure and pattern tend to be her preferred starting place, and throughout, she strives to remain in a state of "play," housed in a curiosity and openness. She responds most to marks where there's an intuitive response, a humanness, captured sensitivity, or personification over highly controlled or known outcomes. When Foard gets stuck in the puzzle of formal aesthetic concerns, she finds that altering and experimenting with materials advances and deepens her ideation. The history of the marks and movements within a piece, the history of a specific place, and her own history converge as primary elements in the making of the work.

Foard was born in Panama City, Fla. She has a BFA in Painting and Printmaking at the University of Cincinnati. From 1990-2003 she was a project manager in the budding online learning industry in the D.C. area. In 2003 she moved to Jacksonville, Fla., and until 2014 was a Museum Educator at the Cummer Museum of Art and Gardens. She directed the Arts in Medicine program at UF Medical Center in Jacksonville from 2008-2015. In 2014 she moved to Athens, Ga., and got her MFA from the University of Georgia, and for several years served as a part-time faculty member. Foard is currently a full time studio artist, co-owner of a small communications company, a Clarke/Oconee County CASA advocate in support of foster children, and is the proud mom of three grown children, and two grown step-sons.

Carlos Gallery Visual Arts Building is located at 105 Kennerly Rd., Sewanee. Gallery hours at 8 a.m. to 5 p.m., Monday-Friday, and 1-5 p.m., Saturday.

'Studying the Landscape' at the UAG

The University Art Gallery is delighted to present Philip Juras's "Studying the Landscape: Observation, Conservation, and Restoration," on view in the University Art Gallery through March 31.

Landscape paintings invite and construct a relationship between the viewer and the place depicted.

Philip Juras paints in oil on canvas in a visual language familiar from the American tradition of landscape painting, but turns that visual tradition to close observation of lesser known and forgotten ecosystems, with the purpose of inviting conservation and restoration.

In "Studying the Landscape," Juras portrays fire adapted grasslands, woodlands and savannas in Tennessee, Illinois, and Georgia. Some record the artist's impressions from particular managed natural areas. Some, especially among the larger works, recreate views of sites as they might have appeared before European-American settlement.

When Juras observes and depicts a landscape, he sees things many of us might not — soil type, centuries-long histories of growth and disturbance, native plants and habitats.

His paintings invite viewers to read the landscape differently; to attend to environments that have not historically been the focus of attention, to understand their histories and the disturbances that make them possible, to value the biodiversity they support, as well as to see and enjoy their aesthetic effects.

Halting the decline of these once widespread systems and their diverse plant and animal species depends on continuing and renewed stewardship. For Juras, "in these 'natural' landscapes, humans are very much a part of nature, rather than apart from it."

Please note that the UAG is closed for the University of the South's Spring Break from March 6 through 16.

'One with the Whale' Screening

Environmental Arts & Humanities, Sewanee's Indigenous Engagement Initiative, and the Jessie Ball duPont library present a special public screening of a 2023 documentary centering on indigenous whaling and the conflicting view of environmental engagement that surround it. The screening of the documentary "One with the Whale" will be at 3 p.m., Sunday, Feb. 11, in Naylor Auditorium.

This 2023 film, to be featured on PBS's Independent Lens later this year, is directed by Jim Wickens, Peter Chelkowski, and Yaari Walker and centers on the controversial issue of native subsistence whaling in North America. The film documents a Siberian Yupik whale hunt and its aftermath in Sivuqaq/Gambel, Alaska on St. Lawrence Island.

The film will appeal to faculty, students, and community members engaged with environmental issues, justice, policy, & activism in the age of climate change as well as those interested in Indigenous lifeways and culture: including but not limited to religion and food studies.

Late Run Sends Warriors Past Tigers

Luka Avaliani led Sewanee with 10 points four rebounds, and three steals, but cold shooting from the Tigers and a late run from Hendrix sent the Warriors past Sewanee in men's basketball action, 70-57, on Jan. 28, in Conway, Ark.

The Tigers shot just 5-for-24 behind the arc and were 19-of-55 overall. The Tigers led by two going into half-time thanks to a three from Tre Corrigan with five seconds left in the half for their first lead of the game.

Hendrix had an early eight-point lead but the Tigers went on a 17-to-9 run to tie the game at 21. Fletcher Bigham led the Tigers with six and Graham Smith and Cody Baerlocker with four apiece.

Both teams stayed within one possession of each other throughout the beginning of the second half, but with just under six minutes left, the Warriors pulled ahead by a 17-to-7 run. Hendrix ended the game with the biggest lead of the day.

Bigham led the Tigers in rebounds, with seven. He also posted eight points, two blocks, an assist, and a steal. Rashaun Williams followed Avaliani with nine points, four rebounds, three assists, and three steals. Corrigan tallied eight points, four rebounds, and three assists.

Traditions

This date of Feb. 2 has many associations, related to the first signs of spring and the increasing light of the lengthening days in the northern hemisphere. Indeed, we have been hearing spring peepers on the warmer days this past week and the first snowdrops are opening in the garden. In Celtic times, this was the feast of Imbolc, a mid-season festival, celebrating lambing and spring. There was a goddess, Brigid, associated with the feast, celebrated on Feb. 1. As with many pre-Christian feasts, this one came to be associated with a Christian Saint Brigid, who established a monastery in Kildare and is credited with many miraculous deeds. This year celebrates 1,500 years since her death and there are great doings in Ireland. Here it is more familiar as Groundhog Day. Settlers from Germany were accustomed to watch for a badger to predict whether spring was around the corner (doesn't see its shadow) or winter was going to last six more weeks (does see its shadow). However, there were no badgers in the eastern United States where they settled, so the groundhog became a substitute. It is also celebrated as Candlemas, commemorating the Presentation of Jesus in the Temple, where Simeon calls him "a light to the nations". There is a long custom of bringing candles to church to be blessed on this day, another association with light. This little ditty combines the tradition of Candlemas with that of Groundhog Day: "If Candlemas be fair and bright/Come winter have another flight/If Candlemas bring cloud and rain/Go winter and come not again." In Spanish-speaking countries, the one who found the figure of the baby Jesus in the Rosca de Reyes (King Cake) has to bring food for a party on Candlemas. Also, Christmas decorations are left up until then, a tradition we in fact follow in our home.

Join Park Ranger Mark Greenwood at Savage Gulf East Ranger Station, 3157 SR 399, Palmer, for a 5-mile (round trip, approximate) guided hike of the Savage Gulf Day Loop. Bring along desired water and food, as these are not provided. Wear sturdy shoes in which to hike. Weather permitting. This is a basic, introductory hike to the east side of Savage Gulf. The challenge lies mostly in the overall distance. The areas around overlooks and waterfalls can be treacherous in terms of keeping your footing. The potential to slip and fall exists, and extreme care is needed. This hike will be offered on Tuesday, Feb. 13, at the same time.

Sewanee Herbarium Event, Feb. 3

Winter Green—an Introduction to Mosses and Ferns, Saturday, Feb. 3, 10 a.m.—noon, with Yolande Gottfried. Whether the groundhog told us that winter is here to stay or that spring is just around the corner, winter is a great time to take a look at mosses, some ferns, lichens, and other non-flowering plants. Herbarium Associate Yolande Gottfried will introduce interested participants to some of the "lower plants." Do mosses freeze? What is an Irish valentine? Are lichens really plants? Come with your questions and specimens, if you like! We will meet indoors with specimens provided to examine and, weather permitting, take a short walk outdoors to see them in the field. Meet in the Sewanee Herbarium on the first floor of Spencer Hall, Room 173, on the campus of the University of the South. The main entrance is across from duPont Library and there is parking behind the library. Bring a hand lens or a magnifying glass if you have one.

Ollie

Hannah

MARC's Mountain Adoptables Meet Ollie & Hannah

Ollie is very friendly and a snuggler. He loves to explore and to play with the other kitties in his foster home. Ollie is an Orange Tabby cat with short length hair. He is probably around one year old and weighs about seven to eight pounds. Ollie will make a great addition to your family. Don't miss out.

Hannah is a very nice German Shepherd girl, looking for her forever inside home. She is around three and a half years old and weighs about 75 pounds. She is very loving and wants very much to be near her people. Hannah was an inside dog but got moved around to different families at no fault of her own, and now is an outside dog but cannot be there long. She is good on a leash and knows several commands. Hannah also needs a foster home ASAP. Maybe you would like to let Hannah stay with you while you decide if she is a good fit for your family. Meet her and see if she might be your girl.

If you would like to learn more about Ollie and Hannah, please fill out an Adoption Application on the MARC website <www.marc4change.org> and/or contact Sue Scruggs, cell phone (423) 619-3845. These pets are fostering on the Sewanee-Monteagle Mountain and are easy to meet. All MARC animals ready for adoption are spayed or neutered and up to date on their vaccines and preventatives.

MARC - Marion Animal Resource Connection is a 501(c)(3) nonprofit animal welfare organization. It is not a shelter and relies on foster homes to save animals. MARC also provides low cost and free spay/neuter procedures for animals and is available for teaching humane care of animals in schools and to community organizations.

The Tennessee Wildlife Resources Agency is now accepting entries for its 2024-25 photo contest for publication in Tennessee Wildlife's annual calendar and license cards. All interested photographers are invited to submit up to 10 of their best photos on fishing, hunting, boating, and wildlife species native to Tennessee.

This year's contest returns to a TWRA traditional August-July format by popular demand. The selected winning entries will appear in the 2024-25 calendar which begins in August 2024. Photographers must submit their photo entries by March 29, 2024.

Photos must be horizontal (landscape), in JPEG format, sized to print no smaller than 8-1/2" by 11", and resolution should be at least 300 pixels/inch. Visit <tnwildlife.org> and click the calendar contest button to submit an entry. If a photo is selected for the calendar edition, the photographer will receive a cash stipend of $60.

Tennessee Wildlife is the official magazine for the Tennessee Wildlife Resources Agency. Subscription rates are $10 for one year, $17 for two years and $25 for three years.

FROMBARDTOVERSE

The Groundhog Sees Its Shadow (and has an existential crisis)

What are the roots that clutch, what branches grow
Out of this stony rubbish? Son of man,
You cannot say, or guess, for you know only
A heap of broken images, where the sun beats,
And the dead tree gives no shelter, the cricket no relief,
And the dry stone no sound of water. Only
There is shadow under this red rock,
(Come in under the shadow of this red rock),
And I will show you something different from either
Your shadow at morning striding behind you
Or your shadow at evening rising to meet you;
I will show you fear in a handful of dust.

--T.S. Eliot, from The Waste Land
