Franklin County Schools to Relax Dress Code

by Leslie Lytle
Messenger Staff Writer

At the July 8 working session, the Franklin County School Board gave a nod of approval to the relaxed dress code proposed by middle school and high school administrators. The board also took up 24 proposed policy amendments and additions, many a direct result of state legislation.

North Middle School Principal Holly Eslick said school administrators met to consider revisions to the dress code. The two questions they asked were what was best for keeping the students in class and when did apparel and appearance pose a classroom distraction. The revised dress code allows logos of any size and jeans with holes. Eslick commented jeans with holes were the style, and when shopping, it was difficult to find jeans without holes. The revised dress code also allows piercings. School board member Lance Williams noted the prior prohibition of piercings, other than pierced ears, was adopted for safety reason. "If you want a piercing, you run the risk of having it ripped out," Williams said.

On the suggestion of board member Linda Jones, the reference to hairstyle was removed. "Colored hair is not a big deal anymore," Jones said. Director of Schools Stanley Bean concurred, observing he recently attended a graduation where the valedictorian had orange hair.

FC Schools: Learning Loss, New Administrators, Policies

by Leslie Lytle, Messenger Staff Writer

At the July 12 Franklin County School Board meeting, Director of Schools Stanley Bean provided an overview of the school system's plans for addressing learning loss occurring as a result of the pandemic. The board also met new administrators and approved new and amended policies reviewed at the July 8 working session.

Drawing on federal Elementary and Secondary School Emergency Relief (ESSR) monies for funding, each school will have a learning loss coordinator, Bean said, and the elementary and middle schools will have educational assistants to work one-on-one with students. The ESSR money must be spent within three years. "It will take two years to get back to where we need to be," Bean predicted. Kim Tucker, Elementary Supervisor of Curriculum and Instruction, said assessments would determine which students needed assistance and in what areas. The supplemental instruction will occur during time already built into the school-day schedule for Response to Intervention for at-risk students. The school system hired seven new teachers with ESSR funds. The teachers were made aware the positions could be temporary.

New school system administrators introduced themselves to the board. Holly Eslick, who has been with the county schools 13 years, will be the new principal at North Middle School. Chris Hobbs, who served seven years at Franklin County High School (FCHS) as assistant principal, will move into the principal role at South Middle School. Tara Brewer, with 10 years in special ed at the high school, will be assistant principal at South. FCHS will welcome James Carr and Jeannie Miller into assistant principal roles. Carr and Miller have served as instructors at FCHS since 1996. Sherry Sells, who has taught at North Lake Elementary for 24 years, will rise to the role of principal in the fall. Allison Dietz, who just completed her first year as Sewanee Elementary principal, has been with the county schools for 15 years. Barbara King, who has 20 years' experience as an educator, will take the newly created role of elementary school's assistant principal, filling in when principals are absent and assuming other duties as needed.

as needed.

Turning to the policies reviewed at the July 8 workshop [see "Franklin County Schools to Relax Dress Code"], Human Resources Supervisor Linda Foster called the board's attention to a point of clarification on the Emergency Closings policy. A state law mandated clause in the policy forbids employees from being declared essential and so exempt from emergency school closings. Foster consulted with school system attorney Chuck Cagle who advised the policy "had no bearing" on the director of schools' ability to ask some employees to work on days the schools closed for inclement weather.

On the Code of Conduct policy, Foster moved advice on Trauma Informed disciplinary practices and other more positive methods of discipline to the top of the list of disciplinary options for each category of misbehaviors. On the recommendation of board member Sarah Marhevsky, Foster removed corporal punishment as a disciplinary option for Level 1 Misbehaviors, which includes actions such as classroom disturbances and tardiness.

Board member Sarah Liechty voiced strong approval for removing corporal punishment. Liechty said she would also like to see the policy call for behavior assessment and a behavior plan before punitive measures were taken. Liechty voted against approving the policy.

In discussion about the more lenient dress code policy, board member Chris Guess objected to allowing piercings, pointing to possible injury from nose and tongue rings getting ripped out. Guess voted against approving the revised dress code.

Facilities Supervisor Mark Montoye updated the board on the fire at Decherd Elementary School. Montoye said all contents in the wing where the fire occurred were declared a total loss. Anything that might have absorbed smoke would be replaced. Montoye said he hoped the building would be ready by the time school started but cautioned getting materials to remodel the wing could slow progress. Bean said a power strip exploded causing the fire. Nothing was plugged into the strip when the explosion occurred.

WHERE TO GET MESSENGERS IN TRACY CITY

To the Editor:

A few days ago a friend asked me why we stopped leaving the Messengers at the Tracy City Post Office. This is why: some weeks ago we were notified by the Postmistress that we were no longer allowed to have a box out front of the building in which to leave The Messenger. I obtained the box several years ago as they didn't want items on the counter inside.

Messengers are available at the following merchants in Tracy City: Mike's Pharmacy, Flury's, Dutch Maid Bakery, Annex Cafe, Depot Emporium, both Citizens' Tri-County Banks, Grundy County Heritage Center, Ben Lomand Telephone, Hwy. 41 Auto, Street's Auto Parts, Tracy Library, SVEC, and Tea on the Mountain.

Thank you for reading The Messenger! We appreciate it.

RIGHT ON, BROTHER

To the Editor:

Carl P. Hill's letter of June 25 is indeed "right on." As the saying goes, "why fix it, if it ain't broke?"

Monies wasted on narrowing the 41A highway to make it "safer for pedestrians" will, in fact, create worse problems with traffic flow and safety. Same goes with the reconfigured exit mess on the eastern side of Sewanee, where the view of many drivers coming out of Sewanee is blocked by vehicles coming in.

More times than I can remember I only avoided T-bone collisions by anticipating persons whose vision was obscured pulling out in front of me as I was passing by enroute to the downtown.

Seems like common sense and logic are in short supply these days.

Monteagle*

of writing as a spiritual practice
9:30 a.m.–12:30 p.m., Saturday,
July 24, via Zoom. The cost is $50.

Many of us engage in a variety of spiritual practices, such as Centering Prayer, spending time in nature, and reading religious literature. Writing can also serve us in this way by inviting us to express ourselves from the soul.
In our time together, we’ll experiment with various ways we might incorporate writing into our daily spiritual lives. From writing our prayers to contemplating a piece of poetry, writing can connect us to ourselves, our fellow pilgrims, and the Divine. This is not about critique—it’s about creating in community and supporting one another in our spiritual development.

"This is a policy the students can live with, and the administration will be grateful for," said board chair CleiJo Walker.

Policy changes recommended by the Tennessee School Board Association (TSBA) because of state legislation included the rule students could only participate in athletic events that aligned with the students' sex as indicated on their birth certificate. The Interscholastic Athletics policy also required a code of conduct for coaches. Human Resources Supervisor Linda Foster said the school system already required coaches to sign an ethics code.

Another policy change required by state law forbids employees being declared essential and so exempt from emergency school closings. Williams pointed out maintenance employees were needed during school closings for snow removal. "Can we require some to come if it's safe for them to get here?" Bean asked. Foster will check on the interpretation of the recommended change.

Taking up the policy dealing with student discipline, Foster said the TSBA recommended revisions that stressed positive behavior support and restorative practices. On the advice of board member Sarah Marhevsky, the more positive forms of disciplinary action will be moved up on the list of disciplinary options. "We need to give the people at the schools tools to handle discipline," Marhevsky said. She also asked if corporal punishment as a discipline option could be removed from Level 1 Misbehaviors, which included actions such as classroom disturbances and tardiness. Foster said the principals requested corporal punishment be included in the Code of Conduct policy.

In another discipline related recommended change, to ensure students' safety, the director of schools can refuse to assign a student who committed a violent offense to alternative school.

A brand-new recommended policy requires the school system to accommodate students', teachers', and employees' requests for more privacy when using multi-occupancy restrooms.

Other suggested policy revisions require the school system to develop a cybersecurity plan; reduce the credits needed for early graduation from 18 to 17; and disallow religious exemption from required immunizations "in the event of COVID 19 or any variant outbreak."

Summer Conferences

Thirty high-school students from around the country will gather July 20-28 on the University of the South's campus for the eighth SUMMA Theological Debate Camp. SUMMA, a program of the School of Theology's Beecken Center, is an opportunity for students to develop skills in public speaking and debate. Under the tutelage of University and guest faculty, students will engage with a relevant and complex debate topic for the entire week. Past topics have included capital punishment, separation of church and state, and gay marriage.

Offering workshops in fiction, poetry, nonfiction, and playwriting, the Writers' Conference invites talented writers to come to Sewanee each summer to learn from each other in a welcoming and supportive environment. In addition to workshops led by two exceptional faculty members, the program includes an individual meeting for each participant with a faculty member, numerous readings, open mics, craft lectures, and master classes taught by faculty and fellows. Visiting editors, agents, and theater professionals also meet with participants and teach master classes. The Conference is committed to diversity and celebrating the wide range of writers and backgrounds across the writing community.

The conference will be held July 20 through Aug. 1, and readings will not be open to the public this year.

Week Six of the Monteagle Assembly's 139th Platform Features Music and Lectures

L.C. Fiore, C'00, will present a lecture, "War Now, War Forever, Tecumseh in Tennessee" at 10:45 a.m., Wednesday, July 21, in the Auditorium. Fiore's novel "The Last Great American Magic" won Novel of the Year from Underground Book Reviews. His debut novel, "Green Gospel" (Livingston Press), was named First Runner-Up in the Eric Hoffer Book Awards; short-listed for the Balcones Fiction Prize; and long-listed for the Crook's Corner Book Prize. Fiore received an M.A. from Northwestern University and is a graduate of The University of the South. He is the communications director for the North Carolina Writers' Network and lives in Chapel Hill, N.C. Mary Priestley, curator of the Sewanee Herbarium, will join Fiore on a guided walk of Abbo's Alley Tuesday, July 20, to tell stories and learn about the flora and fauna in the wood path. Those wishing to participate should meet at 3 p.m. at the entrance to Abbo's Alley on University Avenue, near the intersection with Georgia Avenue.

Members of the University Choir, under the direction of University Organist and Choir Master Geoffrey Ward, sing a Taizé service each Monday at 7:30 p.m. in Warren Chapel. Taizé chants are short, quiet, meditative refrains from the international, ecumenical community in Burgundy, France. Sewanee alumnae Bea Troxel leads the Twilight Prayer service on Wednesdays with familiar religious melodies of early American folk style, contemporary pieces, and her own compositions. The Kash Wright Trio has roots on the vibrant U Street Corridor of Washington, D.C. and their popularity has grown since to area clubs and government-sponsored events. Their modern arrangements of jazz standards and pop tunes have gained them notoriety for the commission of original compositions for jazz artists and the release of three CD's. Two of Chattanooga's most in demand musicians, David Schwab on bass, and Jim Crumble on drums, join Prakash in making music for the concert at 8:15 p.m. on Tuesday, July 20, in the Auditorium.

The MSSA presents two lectures related to the annual celebration of the landmark architecture on the Assembly grounds. June Mays will present a lecture "Art in the Garden" at 10:45 a.m. on Friday, July 23 in the Auditorium. June launched a second career studying garden design at the English Gardening School in London and has designed or consulted on over 100 gardens. Although she has retired from garden design, she continues to speak and to write about gardens. June divides her time between Birmingham and Sewanee.

At 10:45 a.m., Thursday, July 22, preservation architect Al Cox will discuss the influence of building technology on architectural styles in his lecture, "How to Read a Building." He was Director of the Dallas Historic Preservation League and served on the Dallas Landmark Commission. Cox later took a position with the historic city of Alexandria, Va., and became its first city architect, retiring last year. On Tuesday afternoon, Cox will lead a guided Walk and Talk observing and answering questions from 3-4:30 p.m. Those interested in the tour should meet on the porch in front of Warren Chapel.

The community is welcome to attend lectures and performances throughout the summer. Visitors may request a four hour guest pass at the main gate and attend events free of charge.

The Assembly is a Chautauqua organization founded in 1882 to be a welcoming community of Christian faith where people gather to engage in spiritual growth and renewal, lifelong inquiry and learning, recreational and cultural enrichment, while being good stewards of our natural resources and our Assembly heritage.

Free Meals for Children Available Through July 30

The South Cumberland Summer Meal Program will continue to serve free summer meals to plateau children through July 30. Along with free summer meals, free books for children of all ages will be available while supplies last. Families are encouraged to come and receive free meals and books, before the summer ends. See schedule below for exact times and locations.

The program has served more than 40,000 free meals to children, far exceeding expectations. “As pandemic restrictions lifted this summer, it was difficult to estimate participation in the grab-and-go meal distribution format,” said VISTA Coordinator, Vicki Borchers. “We expected a decrease in participation, but the opposite has happened. We sincerely thank plateau families and countless volunteers for supporting this critical program.”

Free meals are available for all children 18 and younger, regardless of need. All families are encouraged to participate. At most locations, meals are distributed in drive-thru, grab-and-go fashion with as many as 10 meals per child available at one time. Children need not be present during meal distribution and any adult may pick up meals for children. This means grandparents, neighbors, and parents are welcome to pick up free meals for children in their home or neighborhood.

The popular program prevents summer learning loss in children by providing nutritious meals and supplementary reading materials during the summer months. The program is a joint venture of the University of the South, the University's McClurg Dining Hall, the South Cumberland Community Fund, and the South Cumberland Plateau AmeriCorps VISTA Project. The VISTA Project administers the USDA-funded program and staffs meal distribution locations across the plateau each summer with up to 20 AmeriCorps Summer Associate VISTAs.

The University of the South in partnership with the South Cumberland Community Fund, operates the Summer Meal Program. The program is participating in the Summer Food Service Program (SFSP) administered by the Tennessee Department of Human Services under an agreement with the U.S. Department of Agriculture (USDA). The program operates through July 30, 2021.

Meals are available on a first-come, first-served basis at the sites and times as follows:

57th Annual Cottage Tour & Bazaar at the Assembly

The Woman's Association of the Monteagle Sunday School Assembly will host its 57th annual Cottage Tour & Bazaar on Friday, July 23. In light of current COVID restrictions, the day will include small-group, guided walking tours of historic buildings; the always-popular bazaar with fine art, jewelry, home décor and much more; a white elephant sale; lunch options from the Corner Market; and the "famous" Bake Sale.

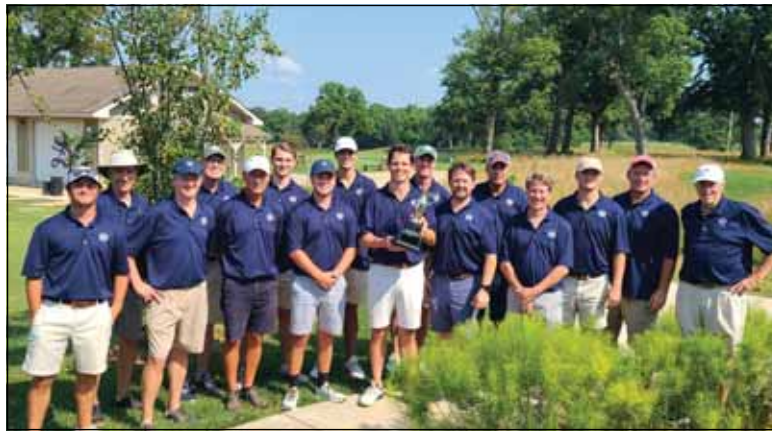

The bazaar, open 9 a.m.–4 p.m., will feature local arts and crafts and splurge-worthy fine art and jewelry from more than 40 selected local and regional artisans. The nearby white elephant sale of donated items from members and friends is a bargain-lover's delight held in the Writers' Grove located near the Woman's Association Winfield House.

Emily Frith of Corner Market Catering in Nashville will offer box lunches (must be pre-ordered for $15). The grill at Harton Hall will also be offering meals to go. Lunches can be enjoyed in one of the Assembly's green spaces. Guests will also enjoy the annual bake sale where the Assembly's best cooks bring their sweet and savory specialties, and the Snack Shop will be open for popcorn, chilled candy bars, bottled water and souvenir T-shirts.

Be sure to stop in at cottage 116, The Gallery. In addition to art and gifts, the Gallery is one of a select few to carry award-winning McCarty's Pottery. Created by Assembly members, the late Lee and Pup McCarty, it has earned international recognition and is now owned and operated by longtime Assembly members, Jamie and Stephen Smith. This mainstay of the Assembly history is a must-stop, must-shop during any visit!

Walking tour tickets ($5 per person) and box lunches ($15) must be reserved and paid for in advance on the MSSA website, <<https://monteaglesundayschoolassembly.org/programs-events/>>, using PayPal or by calling the MSSA office at (931) 924-2286 or by stopping by the office. Parking passes ($5 per car) can be purchased on the day of the tour at the North Gate entrance.

Schedule of events: Walking tours (four options): 9:30 a.m., 10:45 a.m., 1 p.m., and 2:15 p.m.; Bazaar, white elephant and bake sale: 9 a.m.–4 p.m.; Harton Hall: meals-to-go will be available 11 a.m.–1 p.m.; pre-ordered box lunches will be scheduled for pick-up, 11 a.m.–1 p.m.; The Gallery, cottage 116, 9 a.m.–4 p.m.

MSSA Prevails in Annual Shake Rag Classic

The Monteagle Sunday School Assembly scored a decisive victory in the annual tournament. The morning competition played using a Best Ball format was closely contested with the MSSA team finishing with a slight lead. After lunch, play resumed using a Scramble format and the MSSA team was able to pull ahead and score a much needed win. Captain David Peacock, pictured above with his team, said they had worked hard to be competitive this year following the Sewanee Team's win in the 2019 tournament. The Shake Rag Classic has become one of the highlights of the area's Fourth of July activities for both organizations. The teams plan to renew the competition next year and are discussing some changes to the format.

This year's Closest to the Pin contest was won by MSSA's Andy Wildman with a drive finishing 4 feet by 6 inches from the cup on the course's signature number five hole, which was recently featured on Nashville's Channel Five news. Both teams noted the excellent condition of The Course at Sewanee and lauded course Superintendent Justin Browning and his staff for their efforts in preparation for the tournament and maintaining one of Tennessee's premiere golf courses at a top level.

NATURENOTES

by Yolande Gottfried

A 17-year cicada, Magicicada, Robert Evans Snodgrass, 1930. The periodical cicada (Magicicada septendecim) A female inserting eggs with her ovipositor into the under surface of an apple twig. (Enlarged two times). <https://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Cicada>

Cicadas

We seem to have been spared the damage from the Brood X periodic cicadas, the largest group of 17-year cicadas, in Sewanee. As we drove north, though, on the interstates through Virginia and Pennsylvania on our first post-vaccination trip to visit family, we saw many trees with numerous dead brown leaves on the tips of their branches. This is called flagging and is caused by the female cicada making a slit in the twig to lay her eggs. Flagging generally does not cause significant harm to older trees, because the female prefers twigs about the size of a pencil. In smaller or younger trees, though, the damage can be significant. The young cicada nymphs hatch and chew through the twig, allowing them to fall and burrow underground, where they feed on the fluids in the tree roots for another 17 years before they emerge as adults. The adults then die and fertilize the tree that is feeding their offspring. The huge numbers of adults emerging at once is a strategy known as prey satiation. Their predators have more than enough prey, still leaving sufficient numbers of cicadas to mate and reproduce.

The folks we are visiting in Pennsylvania told us that the noise from the singing of the cicadas was incredible. It is the loudest sound known in the insect world. The males sing to attract the females, who respond with a clicking sound. The loudness of the singing is thought to protect the insects by hurting the ears of their predators, which include frogs, fish, and raccoons, among many others. The large amount of prey available allows the populations of these predators to increase.

Our area will have another chance to experience periodic cicadas with brood XIX of 13-year cicadas projected to emerge in 2024 and brood XIV of 17-year cicadas to emerge in 2025.

Astrid

Sage

Pets of the Week

Meet Astrid & Sage

My name is Astrid, the beautiful soft cream cat with piercing blue eyes. I am not like those other kittens that romp and play heavy. I am more of a peace loving, mellow gal that would love to be a part of your quiet home. Give me a cat tree and a nice viewing window, and I will be very happy. Upon coming to the shelter, she was very shy, as many cats are when they are surrendered to the shelter. With much care and gentle persuasion, she is warming up to the staff—so much so that she rubs her body up to the kennel bars yearning for love and attention. Can you be that home she needs? Astrid is FIV/FelV negative, up-to-date on vaccinations, spayed, and microchipped. Let Astrid be the “star” of your life. Apply for adoption here <<https://www.animalharbor.org/adoption-application>>.

Sage arrived at Animal Harbor heartworm-positive and seemed shut down, sad, and defeated. He is a gentle soul, but was unsure of who he could trust. Sage is now on the other side of his treatment and has learned from the amazing employees at Animal Harbor that he has nothing to fear. He has blossomed into a happy, loving boy, while still maintaining his gentle personality. Now when he sees his caretakers every day, there's a waggy booty awaiting them and lots of Sage kisses. Sage is a male, 5 year old, 50 lb hound/terrier mix. He is neutered, up-to-date on vaccines, preventatives, and microchipped. Sage has had every reason to not trust people, but instead loves everyone and has an awesome temperament. He is great with not only dogs, but cats too. Do you need a little Sage in your life? Apply here <<https://www.animalharbor.org/adoption-application>>.

Registration Open for the Tennessee Naturalist Class

Registration is now open for the upcoming year of the Tennessee Naturalist Program (TNP), to be held in and near South Cumberland State Park.

With a mission of teaching Tennesseans about our natural world, instilling an appreciation of responsible environmental stewardship, and channeling volunteer efforts toward education of the general public and conservation of Tennessee's natural resources, TNP consists of 10, four-hour courses held over two semesters, and covers a wide range of interesting topics and disciplines.

Topics include geology and ecology, plants, forests, birds, mammals, invertebrates, reptiles & amphibians, aquatic environments, nocturnal organisms, and naturalist skills. Each class in the course features both classroom lecture and outdoor field components. All classes are integral to the core course and may not be taken individually. In order to become a certified Tennessee Naturalist, 40 hours of volunteer work are also required. There is a $250 tuition fee, per person, for the course.

Class size is limited to the first 20 people who register online. Go to <<https://www.friendsofsouthcumberland.org>> for more information and to register.

Denny Cove Closure

Denny Cove will be closed from through July 31 for road repairs. The climbing areas at Foster Falls will remain open. Contractors will be removing trees on the Denny Cove Access Road in preparation for widening and improving the roadway. Following that effort, and through July 31, the National Guard will take over the project and bring in large, earth-moving equipment to remove tree stumps and create the improved access roadbed.

During these time periods, the Denny Cove Access Road will be closed, with no public access to Denny Cove. This is necessary to ensure a safe construction site, as many trees will be coming down to widen the one-lane road from Highway 41 to the Denny Cove parking lot, and large earth-moving machines will be in use to create the grade for the new road. Climbers and other visitors will not be allowed to enter the area, but instead are encouraged to climb and hike at neighboring climbing areas such as Foster Falls.

BARDTOVERSE

by Phoebe Bates

Birthday of journalist, suffragist, and anti-lynching activist Ida B. Wells, 1862-1931

The streets and the sidewalks
Were smooth and wide,
But a Negro still had to step aside.
The mockingbirds sang
As back home they'd sung,
And sometimes from lamp posts
Dark shadows were flung
Just as magnolias had heavily hung
When some special weight
On the branches
Swung...
Ida B. couldn't learn
To hold her tongue.

--Eve Merriam, Ida B. Wells
