Hannah Matis

Hannah Matis Joins the School of Theology as Associate Dean of Academic Affairs

The University of the South is pleased to announce that church historian Hannah Matis, Ph.D., has joined the School of Theology as Associate Dean for Academic Affairs and Associate Professor of Church History.

Matis's academic focus is early medieval biblical interpretation, and the church in late antiquity and the early Middle Ages. She brings extensive administrative experience to her leadership role as Associate Dean for Academic Affairs, in which she will also direct the Advanced Degrees Program.

"I am delighted to be joining the faculty of the School of Theology. As someone who has worked for a decade in clergy formation for the Episcopal Church, I am deeply committed to residential seminary education and I look forward to the work I will do at Sewanee under Dean Turrell's leadership," said Matis.

Since 2014, Matis has taught a wide variety of subjects in church history at Virginia Theological Seminary including the history of spirituality, Anglicanism, the Episcopal Church, and the experience of women in Christianity. Her second and most recent book, "The History of Women in Christianity to 1600" (Wiley-Blackwell, 2022), is built on her years of teaching and was written as a resource for both laypeople and seminarians. She is a graduate of the Medieval Institute at the University of Notre Dame and of the University of Durham in the U.K.

"I am thrilled that Dr. Matis has joined our faculty in this leadership role," said the Very Rev. Dr. James F. Turrell, Vice Provost and Dean of the School of Theology. "Dr. Matis is a first-rate scholar and experienced teacher with a wealth of administrative experience, who cares greatly about the formation of priests to serve God and God's people."

Barn Quilts, Learning from the Land, and the Largest Cave Art in the Americas at the MSSA

The Monteagle Sunday School Assembly in Monteagle continues its 141st consecutive summer season of enrichment through Sunday, Aug. 6, featuring numerous visiting lecturers who will present morning and evening programs in the Auditorium that are open free of charge to the public; unless otherwise noted, morning lectures begin at 10:45 a.m. and evening lectures at 7:45 p.m. Anyone interested in a full schedule of the Monteagle Assembly's 2023 program is welcome to pick one up at the Assembly Office (tel. (931) 924-2286), or to peruse the schedule on the Assembly's website at <www.mssa1882.org>.

Nationally recognized photographer Stephen Alvarez is passionate about preserving and sharing humanity's oldest artworks—that's why he founded the Ancient Art Archive in 2016. The project works to capture the earliest artworks around the globe, using photography and the newest image-based virtual reality technology. Alvarez is also an award-winning National Geographic photographer, filmmaker and explorer. The magazine has featured his work more than a dozen times, including on the cover of the July 2023 issue. Alvarez will share his stories and work in a Thursday evening lecture in the Auditorium: "The Art Beneath Our Feet: Discovering the Largest Cave Art in the Americas is On the Cumberland Plateau."

Surely you've noticed brightly painted patterns on the sides of barns as you're driving around. But how did this movement of quilt-like decorations get their start? Elizabeth Curtis will lecture Tuesday morning on "Barn Quilts: How They Started and Where They're Going." Curtis is the owner of Liz's Barn Quilts. Her passion for this movement inspired her to help establish the St. Claire County Quilt Trail in Michigan, which has resulted in more than 1,000 barn quilts in 45 states.

This week's Plateau talk and excursion features Stephanie Colchado-Kelley, who will lecture Wednesday morning on "What We Learn From the Land: Indigenous Narratives on the South Cumberland Plateau." Colchado-Kelley is no stranger to many of us on the Plateau; through her work with the Office of Civic Engagement at Sewanee, as well as her advocacy for food access and community wellness through the nonprofit Growing Roots. Colchado-Kelley will lead a Plateau walk on the theme of "The Native Plant Space" at 1 p.m., Wednesday; meet at the Front Gate to join the walk.

This theme runs through the week's subsequent morning lectures, too. Jess Wilson will lecture Thursday morning on "The Future of Farming and Rural Communities." Wilson is perhaps best known locally for her years of service in the Rooted Here farmer's market that shares local farmers' bounties at the Sewanee Community Center. She is the president of the Southeast Tennessee Young Farmers Coalition. On Friday, Katharine Ray will lecture on "Navigating Nutrition." Ray is the executive director of the Heimerdinger Foundation, an organization that provides about 800 meals per week to people facing cancer in the Nashville area.

School Supply Drive for SES Needs You!

The Sewanee Civic Association is inviting individuals, local groups and businesses to help with donations for Sewanee Elementary School supplies. There are a couple of great ways to make a gift.

Shop online at the Amazon Wish List: <<https://a.co/iqtF2x5>>.

Sewanee Elementary is located at 209 University Ave., Sewanee. Sewanee Elementary will oversee the distribution of the available donations to those who need it on Friday, Aug. 4, during the welcome back to school social.

The school supply list is located on page 11 of this issue.

This supply drive is part of the Sewanee Civic Association Treasures for the Chest initiative, a campaign to help promote community-wide service of giving time, support and donations. It is sponsored by the Sewanee Community Chest, the Sewanee Civic Association, and the Sewanee Elementary School.

Jessie Ball duPont Library Celebrates 150 Years in the Federal Depository Library Program

The University of the South's Jessie Ball duPont Library celebrates 150 years in the U.S. Government Publishing Office's (GPO's) Federal Depository Library Program (FDLP).

The FDLP ensures the public has free access to Federal documents in participating libraries across the Nation. The libraries, in partnership with GPO, work in support of Keeping America Informed. The Jessie Ball duPont Library has long served the public through the FDLP, carefully selecting and providing access to vital government information resources for students, researchers, businesses, scientists, educators, non-profits, and many others in our region.

To mark our sesquicentennial providing unfettered access to U.S. Government information, the Library hosted an open house on July 20, with cake and a "Documents through the Decades" exhibit.

Kevin Reynolds, Associate Provost for Library and Information Technology Services at the University of the South said, "I am very proud of the fact that the University has participated in the FDLP for so many years. Since it was my job to manage our Federal Depository collection many years ago, I know first hand how extraordinarily important, diverse, and truly fascinating these resources are. Our library was one of the very first Federal Depository Libraries in the state of Tennessee, and I am excited to see how we will continue in the important role of being a conduit to Federal information well into the 21st century."

Through the FDLP, approximately 1,150 libraries nationwide work with GPO to provide public access to authentic, published information from all three branches of the Federal Government in print and electronic formats. The program's antecedents can be traced back to the act of Congress dated December 27, 1813 (3 Stat. 140), which provided that one copy of the journals and documents of the Senate and House be sent to each university and college and each historical society in each state. GPO has operated the FDLP since 1895.

Librarians at nationwide FDLP libraries also offer expert assistance in navigating digital copies of many of the historical and current Government documents through govinfo <www.govinfo.gov> and GPO's Catalog of U.S. Government Publications <catalog.gpo.gov>.

THANK YOU TO THE SEWANEE COMMUNITY AND TN EPISCOPAL DIOCESE

To the Editor:

St. Mary's Sewanee would like to thank those who participated and volunteered at the 2023 TN Episcopal Churchmen Laymen's Conference hosted here at the retreat center. We recognize the difficulty of moving decades of traditions to a new location and putting your trust in someplace new. It was an honor to serve you and SMS is grateful for your partnership. We look forward to building on the existing traditions, creating new memories, and many more years of conferences together.

MARC Continues Vaccine and Microchip Clinics

The free vaccine, microchip, and ID tag clinics sponsored by Marion Animal Resource Connection (MARC) and the South Cumberland Community Fund (SCCF) are going very well. We are please to have had large numbers of families and dogs participating.

These clinics are for dogs of people living in Grundy County and in the counties of Marion and Franklin on the mountain (and down to Sherwood, and Jump Off Road, to around the Franklin State Forest area). One shot including distemper, adenovirus, parainfluenza, and parvo, a microchip, and an ID Tag will be available, free, for dogs of people who cannot otherwise afford them. If any other person wants MARC to microchip their dog, please speak with us. It will cost $25. Distemper and parvo are deadly and contagious to other dogs and mostly are preventable. Microchipping and providing ID tags will help reunite the many wandering or lost dogs seen in our communities with their families.

We have had such a good turn out that MARC had to apply for a Petco Love Vaccine Campaign grant and received more vaccines. Now, for our next and probably last clinic in 2023, Petco Love is a sponsor as well as SCCF.

The next clinic will be on Saturday, Aug. 28, 2023 from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. at the Hannah Pickett Park Pavilion, 24 Dixie Lee Ave., Monteagle. Rain or shine, we will be there. We are hoping for another big turn out.

So far we have done:
Coalmont: 96 families brought their dogs, we provided services for 165 dogs: 127 DAPP vaccines, 106 microchips, 117 ID tags.
Pelham: 55 families, 90 dogs: 66 vaccines, 71 microchips, 51 tags.

Swiss Heritage Celebration, July 29

It's time once again for the annual Swiss Heritage Celebration on Saturday, July 29, 2023, from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. (CDT) at the Stoker-Stampfli Farm Museum in Gruetli-Laager, Tenn. The public is invited to join the fun. You don't have to be Swiss to attend.

The event commemorates the 154th year since families from Switzerland settled the Colony of Gruetli in Grundy County. Last year, nearly 700 people attended.

This year, the Consul General from the Swiss Consulate in Atlanta, Urs Bronnimann, and his wife, Katrin Bronnimann, plan to attend as honored guests. The Swiss Society of Nashville plans to send a contingency and meet during the festival.

The featured musicians will be the Musik Meisters from Nashville, a prominent polka band known in the city's German restaurants. A local group that jams regularly on the mountain will offer additional musical entertainment.

Besides the music and dancing, visitors can glimpse rural life in the late 1800s by touring the historic farmhouse and viewing its furnishings, documents, memorabilia and quilts. Attendees can purchase soaps, crafts, handmade children's toys, mountain plants and herbs. Local artisans will demonstrate soapmaking, woodworking, and carding and weaving of Alpaca wool. The Tullahoma Ham Radio Club, MTARS, will demonstrate how emergency preparedness involves the use of radio communication.

Children will enjoy jumping in the bouncy house and swinging on a tire swing. Kids of all ages can ride a flag-festooned wagon around the grounds.

Vendors will sell beverages, bratwurst, sandwiches, canned goods, fried pies and baked goods, including Swiss cookies and Springerle cookies. A highlight of the day is always the tasting booth featuring locally made wine and cheese.

The cost is $5 per person. Children under 12 are admitted free. Parking is free.

For more information, visit <www.swisshistoricalsociety.org>, the website of the Grundy County Swiss Historical Society.

Author and columnist Bill Carey will take attendees on a journey into the past, exploring stories from 19th-century Tennessee as steamboats, the telegraph and railroads transformed the Volunteer State connecting Tennesseans to each other and the rest of the nation.

Bill Carey is the author of several books about Tennessee and Nashville history, including his new book "True Tales of Tennessee: Earthquake to Railroad," detailing the stories of people and events that have often been overlooked. He has also written "Fortunes, Fiddles and Fried Chicken: A Nashville Business History and Runaways," "Coffles and Fancy Girls: A History of Slavery in Tennessee." Carey is a monthly columnist for Tennessee Magazine. He is also the founder of the Tennessee History for Kids organization.

"We are excited to host Bill Carey to share stories he discovered while doing research at the Tennessee State Library & Archives," said State Librarian and Archivist Jamie Ritter. "Anyone who attends this talk is bound to learn something new about Tennessee's past."

This talk will be at the Library & Archives and is free to attend. Attendees are welcome to bring their lunch. Seating is limited. To make a reservation, visit <bit.ly/TSLAAuthorTalks>.

Volunteers Needed for tnAchieves Mentoring Program

Calling all volunteers. Registration is now open to serve as a tnAchieves mentor in 2024. tnAchieves needs 9,000 volunteers to support the Class of 2024 on their college journey using the TN Promise scholarship. Mentors will ensure each student has meaningful, local support on their way to a post-secondary credential. The deadline to register as a mentor is Oct. 20, 2023. To learn more, visit <<https://tnachieves.org/mentors/apply>>.

In 2023, tnAchieves reimagined its mentor program to better serve both students and volunteer mentors. Mentors gained nearly four extra months to work directly with students on their college-going journey. That included a return to in-person meetings to give mentors face-to-face interaction with each student. Mentors also received increased access to real-time data and progress updates. tnAchieves is eager to build upon these successful changes to offer a high-impact, effective mentor program for the upcoming high school senior class.

Each tnAchieves mentor commits one hour per month to serve a group of 8-10 high school seniors. Mentors attend one in-person meeting hosted at the student's high school and can choose the high school they serve. Volunteers will receive a virtual training, handbook and weekly updates throughout their time serving students. Volunteer mentors do not need a comprehensive knowledge of the college-going process; anyone with a willingness to support and encourage local students will make a meaningful and lasting impact.

tnAchieves is a privately funded scholarship and mentoring program that seeks to provide an opportunity for every Tennessee student to earn a post secondary degree. For more information please contact Tyler Ford at (309) 945-3446 or <tyler@tnachieves.org>.

Manage Back-To-School Energy Use

Even though the kids will be out of the house during the day once school starts, you could see a bump in your energy bills. As the school year begins, busy students will be using computers and laptops more to write papers and complete school assignments. Shorter days mean more lights go on in the evening to do homework, and if everyone is up before the sun, lights go on earlier.

Manage the extra energy use. Here are some tips to conserve energy as your kids head back to school:

Teach your children how to put the computer into sleep mode when they are finished using it, even if they plan on returning later. Electronics in sleep mode use about 80 percent less electricity than when operating at full power.

In the market for new computer equipment this year? Computers with an Energy Star rating use 70 percent less electricity overall, while monitors bearing the label draw 90 percent less.

Desk lamps and other concentrated task lighting create a productive work environment without wasting excess light. If yours are older, replace their halogen or incandescent desk lamps with LED bulbs, which fit most fixtures and produce less heat while using less electricity.

Bicycling or walking to school two days a week can save gas and give kids much-needed exercise now that summer days of play are over. If the commute is too far, organize a carpool with parents in your neighborhood to earn yourself a couple of mornings off.

Do a thorough inventory of school supplies before heading to the store to reduce waste. Supplies often come in bulk packages that will not run out before the end of the school years.

Buy reusable sandwich bags and use lunchboxes instead of brown bags to save money and reduce everyday packaging waste.

For more energy saving tips visit <www.svalleyec.com>.

Angel Designs Wanted at the Lemon Fair

The Lemon Fair is asking students, local artists and other creative folks to submit designs to the Angel Wing Mural Contest called "What Does Your Sewanee Angel Look Like?" by Thursday, Aug. 31, 2023. Submissions may be emailed to <info@thelemonfairsewanee.com> or dropped off at the store at 60 University Avenue in downtown Sewanee. A panel of judges will select the winning design, which will be painted on the side of the building adjacent to the Sewanee Angel Park. All contest submissions will be used to create notecards, greeting cards, coffee mugs, or tea towels, with proceeds going to the Sewanee Community Chest, a nonprofit which supports local organizations who serve the common good. The Lemon Fair is open from 11 a.m. to 5 p.m. weekdays and from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. weekends.

Make a Difference Day at SES

On Saturday, Aug. 5, everyone in the community is welcome to join the Sewanee Parent Organization for Make a Difference Day at Sewanee Elementary School. This event will run from 8 a.m. to noon (if it takes that long). We'll be weeding beds, sweeping gravel off of sidewalks, spreading mulch, and doing more to get ready for the first day of school on Aug. 7. You can sign up at <<https://tinyurl.com/MakeADifferenceDay2023>> or just show up that morning. Bring gloves, and you could bring a yard rake, shovel, wheelbarrow, or other implement to help with yard work. Thank you in advance for joining us in what ends up being a great show of community. Together, we can do more and have more fun doing it.

'Garrison Keillor Tonight' in The Caverns on Sept. 17

Garrison Keillor has been entertaining audiences for more than 50 years, notably with the radio show he created, "Prairie Home Companion," which ran from 1974 to 2016. But on Sept. 17, the author and radio personality will add a new milestone to his career by performing inside a cave for the very first time. Keillor will bring his latest show, "Garrison Keillor Tonight," to The Caverns, a world-famous cave venue located in Grundy County.

Garrison Keillor Tonight is an evening of stand-up, storytelling, audience song, and poetry. One man, one microphone. There are sung sonnets, limericks and musical jokes, and the thread that runs through it is the beauty of growing old — and what better setting to underscore the passage of time than inside a natural Tennessee cave that took millions of years to form?

During the subterranean show, guests will hear news from Lake Wobegon, the fictional Minnesota town Keillor created, booming with new entrepreneurs, makers of artisanal firewood and gourmet meatloaf, breeders of composting worms, and dogs trained to do childcare. But some things endure, such as the formation of the Living Flag on Main Street, citizens in tight formation wearing red, white or blue caps, and Mr. Keillor among them, standing close to old neighbors, Myrtle Krebsbach ("Truckstop") and Julie Christensen ("Bruno, The Fishing Dog") and Clint Bunsen. And an a cappella sing-along with the audience singing from memory an odd medley of patriotic songs, pop standards, hymns, and ending with the national anthem.

Reserved seating, yurt and VIP packages, and camping passes for "Garrison Keillor Tonight" in The Caverns are on sale at <<https://www.thecaverns.com/event/garrison-keillor-tonight-in-the-caverns>>. With limited seating available, guests are encouraged to secure their tickets early.

Located in Grundy County, The Caverns is a world-renowned destination known for live music in beautiful natural settings, the Emmy-winning PBS television series The Caverns Sessions, and a magical cave system for different skill levels of exploration. Inside The Caverns subterranean venue, guests to "The Greatest Show Under Earth" revel in the prehistoric venue's natural acoustics and otherworldly beauty. The outdoor amphitheater sits at the foot of the Cumberland Plateau with the rolling Tennessee hills as a backdrop. Whether underground or above ground, live music at The Caverns is a bucket list experience that keeps fans coming back time and again. On-site camping available after most shows. Daily guided walking tours and adventure cave tours of The Caverns cave system offered 7 days a week. Go to <<https://www.thecaverns.com>> for more information.

"Fugitive Memory" by Margaret Park

'Creating Waves With Wax' at In-Town Gallery

The August show at In-Town Gallery, "Creating Waves With Wax," features the encaustic paintings of Margaret Park. Encaustic is a medium that has undergone a resurgence in recent years. Park brings a modern sensibility to this ancient art, creating abstract and semi-abstract paintings of sensitivity and expression. She will be doing a demonstration 5–8 p.m., Friday, Aug. 4. Beginning with a reception and demo, "Creating Waves With Wax" will run through Aug. 31.

"The ancient Egyptians used it to create funeral portraits that were painted in a person's lifetime and then placed on their mummy after their death," said Park. Indeed, encaustic is one of the oldest artist materials in the world. It is made from beeswax and damar resin, which are melted together in specific proportions. Pigments are then added to create vibrant colors. Encaustic is applied hot and while the beeswax is molten. It is a very permanent medium as long as it's properly cared for.

A lifelong artist, Margaret said, "I was born in West Virginia, grew up in Chicago, learned a lot in the suburbs, and am blooming in Tennessee. A trail of paint was left behind through it all." Known for her work in watercolor and acrylic, Margaret now devotes herself to encaustic. "I find the techniques I used with other mediums enrich my work in encaustic. Sometimes I get a similar effect and sometimes a very different result that causes my art to shift in new directions."

Showing the work of local artists, In-Town Gallery is located 'Between the Bridges' on Chattanooga's North Shore at 26A Frazier Ave. Hours are Monday through Saturday, 11 a.m. to 6 p.m. and noon to 5 p.m. on Sunday. ITG offers a diverse range of original art and fine craft. Visit us at <www.intowngallery.com>, Facebook and Instagram.

'52Frames' at Artisan Depot

MarthaLee McCarthy's photographic show "52Frames" is open at the Artisan Depot in Cowan, sponsored by the Franklin County Arts Guild. McCarthy has enjoyed capturing life's images since she was young. Inspired by her dad's love of photography, she signed up for a darkroom class as a sophomore in college and became hooked on what would turn out to be a life-long passion.

In 2003, her husband accepted a job with the University of the South, and the family moved to Sewanee from Georgia. She began working as an English teacher at Franklin County High School, where she taught photography to her yearbook journalism students.

The current show was born while the pandemic was raging when she joined approximately 3,500 other photographers from all over the world in a photo challenge called 52Frames. Participants in the challenge are given the opportunity to join small groups of other photographers from around the globe to both support and critique one another. She is now in her third year of the challenge, and has friends in Norway, India, England, Australia, New Zealand, France, and Brazil, as well as others from all across the United States.

McCarthy's show will run through Aug. 27 at the Artisan Depot Gallery, 204 Cumberland St., Cowan. The Artisan Depot is open Thursday, Friday, Saturday, and Sunday from noon to 5 p.m.

Art Show at Frame Gallery

Frame Gallery Custom Frames and Art is pleased to host an art exhibit of works by artists who paint with Martha Keeble at Sewanee Art Works in Sewanee. Many of the artists have been painting together for more than 10 years and there are works by new artists, too. From acrylic paintings to collage and Christian icons, the show represents the multi-faceted talents of the students and their teacher. Artists include Tippy Anderson, Betty Barton Blythe, Nancy Burnett, Lacy Camp, Barbara Dwyer, Martha Keeble, Susan Lane, Leslie Lightfoot, Rebecca Miller, Geraldine Piccard, Delanna Rhoton, Barbara Schilchting, Annette Smith, Randa Wells, David Williams and Laura Willis.

The exhibit will be on display through Aug. 11, at Frame Gallery, 12569 Sollace Freeman Hwy., next door to Shenanigans.

NATURENOTES

They are called Fall Webworms but they are really Late-summer Webworms. They are responsible for the large webs or tents seen enveloping branches and extending to the ends of them. They are the larvae of a small (about one inch) white moth in the Tiger and Wasp Moth group. The somewhat similar and perhaps more familiar Eastern Tent Caterpillars appear only in the spring and build their tents in the crotches of trees. Fall Webworms can be found on more than 400 species of woody plants but locally they seem to favor sourwoods, especially on the edges of roads and fields. At this stage of their lives they are feeding at night and resting in their webs during the day, where masses of them may be seen amid their frass (droppings) and dead leaves. Soon they will leave their webs to overwinter as pupae in cocoons on the ground. They are native insects with 36 parasites and 50 or more natural predators, so there is no danger of them getting out of control. Healthy trees usually recover from the defoliation caused by these webworms without permanent damage. The webworms are feeding on leaves that will be dying before too long and do not eat the buds for the next year's leaves. Michigan State University Extension suggests, "Consider fall webworms as a showy display to herald summer's passing.

And just an additional note on the Webb Greenhouse - as he was this past Wednesday, Herbarium Associate Jonathan Ertelt will be at the greenhouse this Saturday, July 29, from 9 a.m. until noon. Though of course the corpse flower is no longer showing off, there are always plenty of other fine plants to see, and always with some in flower or fruit.

Guided Hike to Schwoon Spring—Savage Gulf State Park, Saturday, July 29, 8 a.m. CDT. Cost, $10. <<https://tnstateparks.com/parks/events/savage-gulf>>. Meet Seasonal Interpreter JD 1183 Stone Door Rd., Beersheba Springs, for an estimated an upper-intermediate level 11-mile roundtrip guided hike to Schwoon Spring, which flows from a small cave at the base of the plateau, a very remote location near the center of the Park where Big Creek Gulf, Collins Gulf, and Savage Gulf all meet. We will journey down into the gulf and then hike back out, so there will be a reasonable amount of elevation gain. Please bring or wear shoes suitable for hiking, a backpack, plenty of water, snacks/packed lunch. The areas around overlooks and waterfalls can be treacherous in terms of keeping your footing. The potential to slip and fall exists, and extreme care is needed. This hike is weather permitting. If there are dangerous thunderstorms, a high heat index, tornado warnings, etc., this hike has the potential to be cancelled.

Creek Stomp—South Cumberland State Park, Saturday, July 29, 1 p.m. CDT. Cost, free. <<https://tnstateparks.com/parks/events/south-cumberland>>. Join Seasonal Interpreter Katie at Fiery Gizzard North Trailhead, 131 Fiery Gizzard Rd., Tracy City, for a journey down to the creek to look at its ecosystem. This will include opportunities to explore the different macro-invertebrates in the creek. There will be around a 1-mile hike to the creek and back. Participants should bring water shoes, bug spray, and water.

DIY Bee Hotels—South Cumberland State Park, Saturday, July 29, 1 p.m. CDT. Cost, free. <<https://tnstateparks.com/parks/events/south-cumberland>>. Did you know bees like hotels too? Join Seasonal Interpreter Katie at the Welcome Center picnic area, 11745 US 41, Monteagle, TN 37356, to learn more about our pollinator friends and make your own DIY Bee Hotel! Bring an empty soup/tin can and construction paper if you have it. If not some will be provided.

Sunset at Three Forks—Savage Gulf State Park, Sunday, July 30, 8 a.m. CDT. Cost, $12. <<https://tnstateparks.com/parks/events/savage-gulf>>. Meet Park Ranger Todd Childress at 1183 Stone Door Rd., Beersheba Springs, for a 3-mile sunset hike around the secluded Three Forks Lake. This evening hike may be your introduction to the new addition of Savage Gulf State Park. Bring water, walking shoes, and two light sources (cellphones don't count). NOTE Hiking off-trail is only permitted with authorized park staff and should never be done unsupervised.

Buggytop Cave Tour—South Cumberland State Park, Sunday, July 30, 8 a.m. CDT. Cost, $10. <<https://tnstateparks.com/parks/events/south-cumberland>>. This trip has a maximum of 8 participants, so make sure to register! Join Seasonal Interpreter Katie at Lost Cove West Trailhead, 8398 Sherwood Rd., Sewanee, for a 5-mile strenuous, wet hike (one mile inside the cave) along Buggytop trail and into the cave. Bring: sturdy closed-toe hiking shoes, headlamps and two other sources of light, water/snacks, and clothes you don't mind getting a little dirty. We will be on trail for several hours, so make sure to pack a sandwich to keep your energy up.

The South Cumberland State Park Visitors' Center is located on U.S. Highway 41 South between Monteagle and Tracy City and is open 8 a.m. to 4:30 p.m., seven days a week. For more information call (931) 924-2980.

Percy

Thelma

MARC's Mountain Adoptables

Meet Percy & Thelma

Percy never meets a stranger! He will run right up to you asking for your attention and will stick right by your side. He is around eight weeks old, weighs about 10 pounds, and is black and tan with a white chest. Percy was the sole surviving pup of his litter and thus had a lot of human attention. He loves spending time with people and with gentle dogs. Percy's mom is around 35 lbs. and we expect he'll be that size or a little larger. How can you resist such a cutie?

Thelma is a very sweet little girl. She is a four months old gray Tabby kitty looking for her forever home. Thelma is very cuddly and loves to play. Plus she is litter trained. Think of the fun you and your family will have watching or playing with Thelma. She will make a wonderful addition to your family.

If you would like to learn more about Percy and Thelma, please fill out an Adoption Application on the MARC website <www.marc4change.org> and/or contact Sue Scruggs, cell phone (423) 619-3845. These pets are fostering on the Sewanee-Monteagle Mountain and are easy to meet. All MARC animals ready for adoption are spayed or neutered and up-to-date on their vaccines and preventatives.

MARC - Marion Animal Resource Connection is a 501(c)3 nonprofit animal welfare organization. It is not a shelter and relies on foster homes to save animals. MARC also provides low cost and free spay/neuter procedures for animals and is available for teaching humane care of animals in schools and to community organizations. Volunteers are needed.

FROM BARD TO VERSE

August

I see it as it looked one afternoon
 In August,— by a fresh soft breeze o'erblown.
 The swiftness of the tide, the light thereon,
 A far-off sail, white as a crescent moon.
 The shining waters with pale currents strewn,
 The quiet fishing-smacks, the Eastern cove,
 The semi-circle of its dark, green grove.
 The luminous grasses, and the merry sun
 In the grave sky; the sparkle far and wide,
 Laughter of unseen children, cheerful chirp
 Of crickets, and low lisp of rippling tide,
 Light summer clouds fantastical as sleep
 Changing unnoted while I gazed thereon.
 All these fair sounds and sights I made my own.
