Volume XXXVIII No. 11

Published as a public service since 1985

Friday, March 25, 2022

Sewanee Elementary first graders enjoyed meeting children's book author and Miss Middle Tennessee, Karissa Wheeler. Wheeler read her book, "The Reveal of the Royal Puppy" and introduced the students to Chai Rose. Like the puppy in the story, the students were grateful for many things, including the chance to meet an author.

SCCF Announces 'Make Lasting Connections' Grant Round for 10th Anniversary

The South Cumberland Community Fund (SCCF) will add a third grant round in 2022 to its usual spring and fall grant rounds in recognition of the Fund's 10th anniversary. The "Make Lasting Connections" grant will be awarded to 1-3 applicant groups of two or more organizations. A total of $50,000 will be awarded.

"When we tap into the experiences and expertise of others, it creates opportunities for the development of even greater and more innovative approaches for solving complex problems," said Katie Goforth, director of community development, speaking of the new opportunity.

A request for proposals which will include more information about the special grant round will be released on April 20, 2022, at the "Make Lasting Connections" symposium, to be held at the Sewanee Inn. Attendance at the symposium by at least one member of an applicant group is a requirement to apply for the "Make Lasting Connections" grant. The symposium will bring together people from across the Plateau, and from all sectors, and will create a space for this kind of cross-pollination of ideas to create solutions.

Applicants will be expected to provide at least a partial funding match for their proposed project, either from institutional funds or from new donors who support the proposed project. The application process will open on June 18 and close on July 31, 2022. Grants will be approved by the SCCF board at its September meeting.

"We are really hoping that partners in the community will respond to this opportunity with exciting and forward looking projects that address SCCF's priorities of health, education, and economic development," said Tom Sanders, executive director of the Fund. "We are particularly interested in ideas to address food insecurity, housing insecurity, transportation difficulties on the Plateau, and social connectedness, as those problems affect all three of our priorities."

'Eurydice' Takes the Stage March 31

by Bailey Basham, Messenger Staff Writer

Making its Sewanee debut is "Eurydice," a play written by Sarah Ruhl focused on retelling the myth of Orpheus from the perspective of Eurydice, his wife. The story follows Eurydice as she decides to choose between returning to earth with Orpheus or remaining in the underworld with her father.

The performance, which will be directed by senior Nathaniel Klein, will run from March 31 to April 2 in the Tennessee Williams Center.

"My take on 'Eurydice' is that the play is not a modern retelling, as I have often heard it described, but rather it is the true, occult history of Eurydice, Orpheus, and Eurydice's father, this last figure being one whose story and identity has been totally lost to history. Ruhl's script is brimming with magic in every page, and I wanted to push that and see what that magic could accomplish for us that nothing else can," Klein said.

Klein said he has long been drawn to Ruhl's work and her unique use of language.

"About two years ago, I became particularly attached to her 'Passion Play,' which works with history, religion and identity in really beautiful ways. I [eventually] arrived at 'Eurydice' as a piece which was very different from other plays I've directed but still had several strands that I could personally and artistically connect to," Klein said.

For the last seven years, Klein has been directing in some capacity, and he said directing has always seemed like the most straightforward method of giving life to his ideas.

"With 'Eurydice,' visually, we played off the fantasticism that I think is inherent in Art Nouveau and Art Deco and how those visual forms can evoke the past, which I connected to visions of underwater worlds and different interpretations of Atlantis. Water is a motif that runs strongly through the entire piece, and looking at the underworld as in being in some way under the land of the living opened numerous possibilities for what our world would look like physically," Klein said.

Jim Crawford, associate professor of theatre at the University, added that the Sewanee community is perfectly suited to host the performance.

"There's such reverence for classics here, and at the same time, an eagerness to see these ancient stories told from a fresh perspective," Crawford said. "I'm thrilled we're producing 'Eurydice' – Sarah Ruhl is a truly great writer, probably my very favorite living American playwright. Every play she writes is unlike all of the others, they seem to spring forth from her extraordinary imagination. Her dialogue is sharp and poetic, sometimes enigmatic. Her plays are full of words and images that stay in the mind of an audience for a long time. I'm equally delighted to see what Nathaniel brings to 'Eurydice.'"

The performances will be at 7:30 p.m., Thursday, March 31 and Friday, April 1, and at 2 p.m., Saturday, April 2. Tickets may be reserved at <<https://www.eventbrite.com/e/eurydice-tickets-302910652917>>.

Monteagle Planning Approves 'Barn-on-a-Farm'

by Leslie Lytle, Messenger Staff Writer

Following lengthy discussion at a March 22 special called meeting, the Monteagle Planning Commission approved a site plan for a barn to be used in conjunction with agro-tourism on an approximately 175-acre farmland tract. Impacted property owners complained about lack of communication.

At the March 1 meeting, the council initially approved the site plan titled "Barn on a Farm," then rescinded approval when neighboring Country Mart property owner Tim Trahan raised objections.

"We're not opposed to what they're doing," Trahan insisted at the special called meeting. "The unknowns are what the issue is." The town planner refused to return Trahan's phone calls and to provide him with a copy of the site plan. However, when Trahan contacted Mayor Marilyn Campbell Rodman, she honored the site plan request.

"I don't like the way the way it was done," said farm owner Matt Sparacio. Sparacio first approached the planning commission about the project in November 2021. He said he never heard from town planner Garret Haynes or building inspector Earl Geary about how to proceed. At the January planning commission meeting, he sought a building permit and was told he needed a site plan. Again, he was informed he would be contacted with advice on how to proceed, but never was. And when approval was rescinded, it was two weeks before he received official notification.

"We want to do it right...that's the reason for going a bit slower," said Rodman. "I've heard three nights in a row there is an issue with our planning process," she acknowledged. "I didn't know Garret wasn't talking with you." [See "Monteagle: Critical Fire Department, Water Plant Needs"].

Monteagle: Critical Fire Department, Water Plant Needs

by Leslie Lytle
Messenger Staff Writer

At the March 21 Monteagle Town Council meeting, the council took up critical fire department expenses and water plant grant applications. The council also received an update on the baseball program and considered an objection to the site-plan approval process.

At the request of Fire Chief Travis Lawyer, the council approved spending $1,500 for the required annual certification of the department's Cascade System for refilling firefighters' air tanks; $3,000 for software to track fire department business; and $4,300 for 1,000 feet of 2-inch hose to bring the truck up to ISO standards. The expenses fall within the department's budget allotment. Lawyer said he had tabled the request for turnout gear for himself, due to delivery delays stretching into December.

"We can't send a man out without gear," Mayor Marilyn Campbell Rodman responded, noting Lawyer's gear was "worn out." Lawyer will pursue acquiring "get by" gear, possibly used. The council approved up to $2,500 for the purchase, which may require a budget amendment.

City engineer Travis Wilson said he had applied for both a State Revolving Fund (SRF) grant and a Community Development Block Grant (CDBG) for rehabilitating the town's water tanks, estimated cost $1.5 million. The SRF grant was more flexible, Wilson said, allowing the funds to be used to purchase a new tank or for water line upgrades. From a financial perspective, however, the CDBG would better serve the town, offering more principal forgiveness. But Wilson stressed the CDBG grant was highly competitive. Alderman Nate Wilson said the town needed to budget for big projects to avoid potentially "catastrophic" consequences.

"When should we work on paying for [the water tank rehabilitation] ourselves?" Alderman Wilson asked. "It will only get more costly."

"Sooner rather than later," engineer Wilson replied. He proposed considering a low interest SRF loan with a 20-year payback as a solution, with the town possibly qualifying for some principal forgiveness, as well.

WHY I FAVOR REPARATIONS

To the Editor:

In the early 1990s, probably in '91 or '92, by chance I was seated next to an elderly black man on a train going north from Birmingham, Ala. He was 75 or 80 perhaps older, and we talked off and on during the 2 1/2 or 3 hours we traveled together. Among the things he said was that he had been born in a sharecropper's shack in South Carolina. His mother and father had been illiterate beyond the point of being able to write their names, and when he was young his grandmother had lived with them. His grandmother has been born a slave but had been too young to remember it, but she did remember the 1870s, '80s, '90s, etc. He spoke with great affection about his grandmother, but near the end said that she had been afraid her whole life. I owe his grandmother something. We owe his grandmother something. It's just that simple.

Christ Church

Long before the American Mother’s Day was founded, some of our ancestors celebrated Mid-Lent Sunday as “Mothering Sunday.” The lesson from the Epistles read in many churches was from Galatians, chapter 4, and included the words...” Jerusalem which is above is free, which is the mother of us all.” Apprentices were often given the day off to go visit their mothers. Sometimes there were pilgrimages to the cathedrals, the Mother church of a diocese. Hymns were written which seemed to fit the Sunday.

One of them is “Oh Mother dear Jerusalem, when shall I come to thee?” During World War II, when so many young American servicemen were spending time in England, thousands of them fell in love with the idea of an ancient Mother’s Day with little emphasis on commercial things. Yes, there were greeting cards available, but there was no pressure to buy anything.

The Gospel read in the Church of England and in all the liturgical churches was the account of Jesus feeding the five thousand, with the story of the boy who brought his lunch. This had given the Sunday an added name: Refreshment Sunday. It is a springtime story. How do I know? I know because of the phrase about there being a lot of grass. In Israel, it is only in the spring that such a point would be made. As we move toward one of our loveliest months, may we all open our eyes to the dogwoods and all the garb of spring.

There is even more to this particular Sunday. In Latin there are at least three words for “joy” or “rejoicing.” There is the joy of anticipation: Gaudete. We see this in Advent. There is the joy of triumph: Jubilate. This is the joy of Easter Day. And there is the joy called “Laetare.” Latin scholars describe this as finding an oasis in the desert. This was an ancient name for this Fourth Sunday in Lent, and it fits very well.

Finally, this Sunday came to be called “Rose Sunday.” The Bishop of Rome used to give a Golden Rose to some individual or community he wished to honor, and the wearing of Rose-colored vestments became a custom and roses were allowed on some altars. All these traditions, and a few other ones, led to a kind of break in what used to be a rather rigorous season. The service at Christ Church will be Holy Communion and begins at 10:45 a.m.

Sisters of St. Mary Offers Event on Indigenous Communities and the Church

Participants for the April presentation with guest speaker Adam Dawkins can choose to attend in-person at the Convent or online via Zoom. The talk, titled "Indigenous Communities & the Church: The Journey of Reconciliation," will discuss the recent discovery of unmarked burial sites containing the remains of hundreds of children at residential schools in Canada which shocked communities throughout North America. The reporting of horrors of abuse and brutality at residential schools is not new to Indigenous communities, but these burial sites have brought into sharp focus the structural disrespect, cultural violence, and cruelty that has taken place for hundreds of years. Dawkins said: "A journey is taken one step at a time, and the journey of reconciliation is a lifetime pilgrimage of truth telling, not something quickly done and finished. We are on that journey and we must seek ways to continue and never give up."

Come and learn how the Anglican Church is responding to these painful truths and taking steps toward reconciliation, and how the lessons learned can help us move forward in ways that honor renewed relationships with Indigenous communities across North America with renewed determination for healing and restorative justice.

The presentation will take place from 9–10:30 a.m., Saturday, April 2, at St. Mary's Convent or online. The cost is $15, and participants can learn more and register at <www.communityofstmarysouth.org>.

COVID-Precautions: This in-person event is open to individuals who are fully vaccinated. Masks will be required whenever indoors.

Updating the town on the baseball/softball program, coordinator Dominic Gialdini said 34 players signed up and three teams had formed. When finalized, the schedule will be published on the website, with the first game set for April 4. Volunteers are needed to serve as umpires and work in the concession stand. To help, contact Gialdini through Monteagle City Hall.

Dean Lay, who for the past three months had pursued “minor subdivision” of a tract of land, said the process “needs to be more user friendly.” Town planner Garrett Haynes repeatedly raised issues with the site plan and the related attorney fees had cost the town over $800. “It doesn’t need to be this complicated,” Lay said.

Concurring, Alderman Wilson said on a Mountain Goat Trail site plan, Haynes had asked for things not required by ordinance. “Maybe a solution is to define exactly what goes in a site plan,” Alderman Wilson suggested.

Lay provided the council with a copy of the site plan “checklist” used by Franklin County. Rodman proposed the town consider a checklist as a possible solution to Monteagle site plan issues.

In other business, the council approved the name Monteagle Square for the street officially authorized in February. The name Monteagle Square appeared in 2008 documents when the street used to access the Sonic was first proposed. The street was never officially approved.

Rodman asked the council to consider participating in a state sponsored program to appoint a county-wide parks director. The county and participating towns would share the cost of funding the director position. Rodman also brought to the council’s attention a proposed contract to relocate the electric-vehicle charging stations at city hall to other city-owned sites. The town would receive a share of the proceeds from use of the stations.

The Monteagle Easter Egg Hunt will be at 10 a.m., Saturday, April 9, at Hannah Pickett Park. A special surprise is planned for the event.

In response to a suggestion at a town hall meeting, the council meeting agenda will be published on the website. The next town hall meeting is scheduled from 5–7 p.m., Tuesday, April 19.

Planning Commission Chair Iva Michelle Russell observed in February the town planners presented a workshop on agricultural uses in municipalities. “I don’t think they [the planners] knew how to deal with it [the Sparacio project],” Russell said.

At the special called meeting, Sparacio provided a more detailed site plan for the commission’s review. “If I’d known this is what you wanted five months ago, I would have given it to you.”

Upon questioning by the commission, Sparacio verified the ag-tourism project would be restricted to the fenced 7.5 acres shown on the plan and not expanded. The farm uses rotational grazing, moving animals to a new site every three days, so animal waste did not present a concern.

Russell said no fencing requirements applied to the project. In response to a question about noise, Monteagle Alderman Nate Wilson said the town ordinance governing noise referenced decibels, not distance from other property owners.

Trahan pointed out the current ordinance allowing agricultural uses on commercial property prohibited “agricultural business.”

Commissioner Ed Provost concurred. Provost made the motion to approve the site plan but stressed the inconsistency in the ordinance needed addressed. “It will have to be presented in April,” Rodman said.

“Agriculture is a business,” commented commissioner Peter Beasley following the meeting.

The ordinance allowing agricultural uses specifically prohibits “agricultural industry or business, such as fruit or vegetable packing plants, animal hospitals, or similar uses.”

Haskell to Highlight Wine & Wildflowers

David Haskell’s new book, “Sounds Wild and Broken,” has received highest accolades since its release on March 1. The New York Times called it “A glorious guide to the miracle of life’s sound,” and noted that this book “affirms Haskell as a laureate for the earth.” Haskell, a Sewanee biology professor, will talk about his new book at Wine & Wildflowers on April 8. Haskell is a longstanding supporter of the Friends of South Cumberland State Park and a past recipient of the FSC Yeatman Environmental Educational Award. His first book “The Forest Unseen” was a finalist for the Pulitzer Prize. According to Trails and Trilliums chair Margaret Matens, “David is a masterful storyteller, both on paper and in person. We deeply appreciate his willingness to donate his time to support the Friends and our great state park. We are also grateful to Tower Bank, our Wine & Wildflowers sponsor.”

Wine & Wildflowers is a wine and cheese reception that kicks off the Trails & Trilliums festival and naturalist rally. It will be held at the DuBose Conference Center. Tickets ($25) are limited and must be reserved online. Music will be provided by Bran Potter, Mary Priestley, Tom Sanders & Friends; and books will be available for signing.

Find a complete schedule and registration information at <www.trailsandtrilliums.org>.

The Rev. Dr. Gayle Fisher-Stewart to Give the Kean Memorial Lecture

The Rev. Dr. Gayle Fisher-Stewart will give a lecture in the University of the South’s Convocation Hall on April 5 titled “Preaching Your Authentic Self.” The lecture will be held at 4:30 p.m. CDT. A reception and book sale and signing will follow.

The lecture will focus on the art of preaching. She will explore the basics of the craft—what makes a preacher and what do they bring to the message they give? How can preachers ensure that the message received and the person delivering it presents an authentic self?

Fisher-Stewart was ordained in 2015 and has served as the interim rector of St. Luke’s Episcopal Church in Washington, D.C. Prior to accepting the call to ordained ministry, she served the Washington D.C. Metropolitan Police Department as a captain. She is the president of the Washington, D.C. chapter of the Union of Black Episcopalians and also serves as the chaplain for the Takoma Park Police Department in Maryland.

She was the 2015 recipient of the Director’s Award from the Episcopal Evangelism Society. In 2017, she was awarded an honorary doctorate of divinity from Colgate University. She has written on race, policing, and The Episcopal Church. “To Serve and Protect: Race, the Police and the Episcopal Church in the Black Lives Matter Era” was published in the Summer (2017) edition of the Anglican Theological Review. Her book, “Preaching Black Lives (Matter)” (2020) asks and answers the question, what would the church look like if black lives mattered? Her newest book, “Black and Episcopalian: The Struggle for Inclusion” (2022) asks the question—can she be both Black and Episcopalian?

The Rev. Melissa L. Kean, T’19, Memorial Lecture was created in 2021 to honor School of Theology seminarian Melissa Kean. The annual lecture series has been funded by generous donors wishing to continue Kean’s work to elevate women priests. The women lecturers for this series are selected by the School’s Florence Li Tim-Oi student committee.

If you cannot attend in person, the lecture will be live-streamed. You can register here: <shorturl.at/tvN45>.

McCoy to Lecture on Reducing Waste

Lindsey McCoy, C'96, co-founder and CEO of Plaine Products, will discuss "Using Business as a Force for Good: Creating Circular Packaging to Reduce Waste," at 5 p.m., Thursday, April 7, at Convocation Hall.

McCoy is the Babson Center's Humphrey's Entrepreneur-in-Residence for the 2022 Easter semester. Plaine Products is a zero-waste body care brand that adopted a circular, earth-friendly business model working to eliminate single-use plastics. This company's circular system has allowed the elimination of almost 400,000 plastic bottles from the waste stream, and they are on track to hit 500,000 by the end of 2022. All of the Plaine Products are vegan, non-GMO, cruelty-free, biodegradable, color-safe, and free of parabens, sulfates, and toxins, good for the body and the planet.

McCoy's visit will be featured in the University Art Gallery's exhibition and workshop, Action by Design. Action by Design is structured around the nine elements of the University's sustainability plan and will feature community actions and student research contributions under each element. The Office of Environmental Stewardship and Sustainability will lead conversations about the University Climate Accountability Plan as part of the exhibition's events.

The event co-sponsored by the Babson Center for Global Commerce, the University Art Gallery, the Office of Environmental Stewardship and Sustainability, the Office of Civic Engagement, the Departments of Politics and Economics.

Macfie to Read from Forthcoming Memoir

Pamela Royston Macfie, the Samuel R. Williamson Distinguished University Professor, will read from a section of her memoir slated for publication in the summer 2022 issue of the Sewanee Review.

Macfie joined the English Department in 1984 and has enjoyed a lively career teaching Dante, Shakespeare, and Early Modern Verse. This term, she is teaching a new course, "The Literature of Memoir," which has a special focus on writers who have published memory pieces in the Sewanee Review. To her students' instructive delight, Review authors Justin Taylor ("Riding with the Ghost"), Stephanie Danler ("Stray"), Melissa Febos ("Girlhood"), and Garrett Hongo ("Perfect Sound: A Memoir in Stereo") have joined her seminar via Zoom.

Macfie, who was the first woman tenured in the English department, will retire at the end of this term. "I look forward to expanding my work in creative non-fiction in retirement. My debt to students, colleagues, and members of this community will certainly be part of my exploration."

This reading, sponsored by the English Department and its Conversations in Literature initiative, will be in-person at 4:30 p.m., Thursday, April 7, in Gailor Auditorium.

March for the Supply Drive

The Sewanee Civic Association is inviting individuals, local groups and businesses to help collect donations of nonfood items for the Community Action Committee (CAC). This collection will augment the services provided by the CAC food pantry. Supplemental Nutrition Assistance Program benefits cannot be used to purchase any nonfood items, which includes pet food; cleaning supplies; paper products; household supplies; detergent; menstrual products; diapers; or other personal care items.

This is where you can help. Collect nonfood items and then deliver from 1–3 p.m., Thursday, March 31, to the CAC at 216 University Ave., Sewanee. Individuals may also take their nonfood donations through March 30 to donation bins located around campus, and at Regions Bank and the Sewanee Mountain Messenger. The Sewanee Elementary School and the Interact Club at St. Andrew's-Sewanee will also be gathering nonfood donations. For those who wish to make monetary donations, money is accepted through March 30 at the Blue Chair Bakery, the Frame Gallery and Taylor's Mercantile. Please make checks payable to the CAC.

The CAC will oversee the distribution of the donations to those in need. Spring Cleaning: the Junk Drawer Junk drawers are ubiquitous. Most kitchens have one. But drawers with random bits of flotsam and jetsam crop up in any room. The family room may have a drawer with pieces of games and puzzles long abandoned. The study has at least one drawer filled with CVS receipts that expired two years ago. Carry three bags with you from drawer to drawer, one for paper to be recycled; the second for any sort of metal (paper clips, odd screws, mysterious keys, links of broken chain) which can also go to the recycling center; and finally a throw away bag for dried up pens, old corks (were you really going to make one of those cork lined wine trays so popular in the 1960s?), single work gloves with holes in the fingers, and the plastic fork with the broken tine washed after the last party.

Like panning for gold, the drawers now reveal their treasures. However, does a family need 25 beer bottle openers? Start a box for donations of your multiple gems for the Hospitality Shop. Our kitchen room has stashes of silverware, kitchen gadgets, and Tupperware for anyone starting out on their own. The gift room has entire sets of china, glasses, mugs, placemats, and napkins. There is also Easter themed decor including rosaries and crosses for Holy Week devotions. The religion section of the book collection has multiple Bibles and meditation texts.

The Hospitality Shop welcomes everyone back from spring break. Spring and summer clothes are on display. Check out the Easter dresses hanging in the children's room. Many still have the original price tags, but we are selling them for $5-$10. We are open from 10 a.m. to 1 p.m., Tuesday and Thursday and 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. on Saturday. Volunteers are needed. Contact Jennifer Janeway at <jejaneway99@gmail.com> if you have a few free hours to help clerk or stock shelves.

Community-Wide Yard Sale

The Sewanee Community Center is coordinating the community-wide yard sales, from 8 a.m. to 1 p.m., Saturday, April 30.

A $15 registration fee and form is required. This fee will be used to print maps highlighting the sales that day, printing an official yard sign for your house, and placing advertisements in local papers.

You can participate by either having a sale at your home or join up with others at the Community Center. Maybe you don't have many items for sale or would rather be in a larger group—you can reserve space inside the Center.

Deadline to register is April 21.

For more information and a form, email Rachel Petropoulos at <rpetropo@gmail.com>.

Center of Lifelong Learning Announces New Classes

The Center of Lifelong Learning at the University of the South is resuming classes. Modern Astronomy: From the Moon to the Multiverse

Instructor: Frank Hart, Professor Emeritus of Physics and Astronomy, Tuesdays, 3–5 p.m., on March 29, April 5, 12, and 19, 2022 in Wood Lab 123.

The four classes will cover the major topics in Astronomy today.

Topic 1: Our Solar System, we will discuss the latest findings regarding the planets (major and minor) and their moons, the Sun's structure and the effects of 'solar weather' on the Earth, and finally, the most likely places for the existence of extraterrestrial life will be considered.

Topic 2: Our Galaxy, we will examine the structure of the Milky Way and how dark matter and the large black hole at its center determine it. The various evolutionary paths of stars, especially, the Sun, will be discussed. Finally, the possibility of life on extra-solar planets will be investigated.

Topic 3: Our Universe, we will cover the large-scale structure of the Universe, in particular, its origin and evolution. Special attention will be given to the Cosmic Microwave Background, gravitational waves and dark energy. Finally, we will consider the anthropomorphism/multiverse debate.

Topic 4: New Developments.

Crime Scene Chemistry

Instructor: Bethel Seballos, Thursdays from 9–11 a.m., on April 7, 14, and 21, 2022 in Woods Lab.

A wide array of laboratory techniques and instrumentation is used in forensic studies. The knowledge of and technology associated with crime scene chemistry is one of the most important advances in criminal investigation. Investigations often begin at the end of the story. In many instances, information about the final event and the starting event is known reasonably well but information about what occurred between these bookends is often unclear, confusing, and perhaps contradictory. The application of scientific principles to criminal and civil laws within a criminal justice system is the heart of forensic science.

In-Person Retreats at St. Mary's Sewanee

St. Mary's Sewanee: Ayres Center for Spiritual Development invites you to come back to the campus and enjoy "Rest, Renewal and Reconnection."

On April 28 to May 1, enjoy the "Power of Presence" in this meditation retreat with Janka Livonova. Gordon Peerman will lead a popular retreat, "Mindfulness on the Mountain," from May 6–8. Silent retreat offers a time to rest in the space of the heart. Sitting meditation alternating with walking meditation form the basic structure of this retreat in the Insight Meditation tradition.

"Come Home to Your Heart" in this women's writing retreat led by Amy-Lyles Wilson, May 23–26. In this four-day retreat, we'll gather in community to write those stories we've been meaning to get to all our lives: the stories that matter to us.

TDEC to Host State's Inaugural Food Waste Awareness Week April 4-9

The Tennessee Department of Environment and Conservation (TDEC) and partner agencies will host the state's inaugural Food Waste Awareness Week April 4-9 through TDEC's Get Food Smart TN program.

TDEC will partner with the Tennessee Department of Agriculture, the University of Tennessee Agriculture Extension, Clean Memphis, The Nashville Food Project, the City of Knoxville, green|spaces, the Society of St. Andrew and other organizations for a week of virtual education and outreach. The effort will focus on awareness of the significance of food waste and encourage organizations to take action to reduce waste and increase food recovery and diversion. According to the Environmental Protection Agency, food waste accounts for the largest percentage of what is thrown away in the United States.

"We are excited to partner with organizations across the state to bring awareness to this issue,"

TDEC Commissioner David Salyers said. "Businesses and community partners are taking steps to make a difference. Together, we will share tips that can help households reduce food waste and save money."

"Anytime we work together on food issues, it's beneficial for everyone," Agriculture Commissioner Charlie Hatcher, D.V.M. said. "Bringing awareness and working together are essential in finding and employing remedies for food waste. The Tennessee Department of Agriculture is proud to support hunger relief efforts and the food waste initiative will continue that legacy."

The Food Waste Awareness Week will consist of daily themes centered on strategies for addressing food waste with tips, resources highlighting best practices, a daily food hero photo challenge, and a statewide food drive for hunger relief.

The week will culminate with End Food Waste TN events in Memphis, Nashville, Chattanooga and Knoxville at local breweries. Brewers are partnering with local bakeries to take unsold bread and turn it into a brew to raise awareness about food waste. The events will inform local citizens about the importance of reducing food waste, increasing food recovery, and other strategies. All events for the week, both virtual and in-person, are free, open to the public and intended to be family-friendly.

For more information on efforts in Tennessee please visit <http://www.getfoodsmarttn.com/content/page/food-waste-awareness-week>.

Action by Design, Sustainability Planning in Sewanee at the UAG

Action by Design, Sustainability Planning in Sewanee at the University Art Gallery will be on display through April 9. “By design” simply means on purpose, thoughtful, and intentional.

Making ideas visible, inspiring visitors, and bringing people together across areas of study and interest are all essential to the mission of the University Art Gallery.

Action By Design is part exhibition and part workshop. It is intended to share pieces of sustainability planning on our campus and in our community—especially our new Climate Accountability Plan (CAP)—and to invite visitors to participate.

The exhibition is divided into three kinds of stations. “Know Your ...” stations offer information about our campus, village, local alternative transportation networks, food, stuff, and the CAP. “Design Your ...” stations invite visitors to consider existing plans, and to contribute their own ideas. Stations dedicated to ongoing courses (Art History 336: Earth Art and Eco-Action, Art 228: Sustainable Structures, and Theatre 361: Costume Design) display student work. Research by the Babson Center’s Carey Fellows in Business 353 is accessible via QR codes throughout the exhibition.

Sustainable Planning and Design best begins with an integrative workshop (charrette) process that brings everyone along for the conversation. This exhibition is inspired by that process.

There will be multiple events in the UAG in affiliation with ABD:

5–6:30 p.m., Wednesday, March 30, Design Your Ride: Biking As Action. Come and hear from local cycling advocates, and consider how we might support alternative transportation in and around Sewanee.

11 a.m. to 1 p.m., Tuesday, April 5, Drop-in Climate Accountability Plan information session.

5 p.m., Thursday, April 7, in Convocation Hall, Lindsey McCoy, C’97, CEO and co-founder of Plaine Products, will speak about “Using Business as a Force for Good: Creating Circular Packaging to Reduce Waste.” Co-sponsored by the Babson Center for Global Commerce.

1:30–3:30 p.m., Friday, April 8, Drop-in Climate Accountability Plan information session.

The project will be on view at the University Art Gallery during regular hours, 10 a.m. to 5 p.m., Tuesday through Friday, and noon–4 p.m. on Saturday and Sunday. The University Art Gallery is located on Georgia Avenue. Call (931) 598-1223 for more information, visit the website at <gallery.sewanee.edu>, or follow them on Facebook.

“The Green Staircase.” 2021. Acrylic, pen, paint marker, colored pencil, and marker on canvas. 32 x 36 inches. By Emma Jewell

‘Nest,’ a Solo Exhibition by Emma Jewell

The Carlos Gallery in the Visual Art Building at University of the South is pleased to present “Nest,” an exhibition of mixed media installations by artist and Sewanee student Emma Jewell, C’22. The exhibit will be on display March 28 through April 3. There will be a reception 4–6 p.m., Friday, April 1.

Emma Jewell invites viewers into an imagined world jam packed with planes and spaces of community, comfort, and hope. Taking inspiration from our world and its infinite complexities, these works acknowledge the overabundance of information coming from all directions. With all these swirling concerns about the state of our world, each piece serves as a blank slate on which the chaos of the mind is free to unfold. Feeling scatterbrained about global conditions is mimicked through the excessive variety of media used and the plethora of bold color present in each piece.

In this exhibition, Jewell explores the collective definition of home, communicating that home is both our man-made dwellings and Earth. Through the use of scribbly gestural marks, a broad spectrum of intense color, and formal elements like shape, texture, and line, Jewell draws connections between the natural world and humankind to highlight the importance of cherishing this relationship. Repurposing found and recycled materials, Jewell mitigates a portion of her personal waste and comments on the anthropogenic practices that exploit our shared home, Earth.

“Nest” is a whistle blow to remind society what is common; it’s about communal space and mutual qualities. Simple shapes suggest the building blocks of life, reminding viewers of the intricate characteristics that are true for all living beings. Humans have a tendency to focus on differences rather than similarities, but without improving our relationships it is impossible to begin working on the planet in a meaningful way. A myriad of layers in each piece channel the reality that solving global issues is complicated and multifaceted. While most of these conflicts are outside the individual’s direct control, “Nest” demonstrates that artistic expression and the way we regard our collective home are two variables within one’s control. Approaching serious and timely matters, these works maintain a playful and nostalgic impression.

Emma Jewell was born in Little Rock, Ark., and currently attends the University of the South. Jewell received a Fellowship of the Arts from Sewanee, and in May of 2022 she will graduate with a BA in Art. In the Mountain Goat Journal’s February 2022 edition, Jewell was highlighted as the cover artist. Her works presented in the “Faces of Sewanee” exhibition were acquired by the University of the South for their private collection. Spending time in nature is Jewell’s most valued pastime, as much of her work is inspired by the vastness of our Earth and its infinite intricacies. Following graduation, Jewell will study abroad in Florence, Italy where she plans on studying art history and Italian.

The Carlos Gallery is located at 105 Kennerly Rd. Hours are 8 a.m. to 5 p.m., Monday–Friday, and from 1–5 p.m., on Saturday.

‘Runonko,’ a Solo Exhibition by Olivier I. Mbabazi

The Art, Art History and Visual Studies Department at The University of the South is pleased to present “Runonko,” an exhibition of sculptural and painting installations by interdisciplinary artist, scholar and student Olivier Mbabazi, C’22. The exhibition will be on display April 5–9, at the Carlos Gallery.

Mbabazi mediates abstract and figurative paintings, wood, and metal sculptures, moving images, sound, and performance to construct a multi-dimensional experience. Drawing from personal and collective experiences as an immigrant and once a refugee, this work combines genuine emotional content to generate a path for transcending memory loss. In this exhibition, he utilizes delicate structures built from ephemeral materials such as unbaked bricks, soil, bones, and remnants of dry plants as metaphors for the fragility of the passing of time. While “Runonko” is grounded in historical narratives, it also features performance video work that showcases the slow and sacred act of building, demolishing uncanny miniatures of artificially imagined realities. Adorning the pertinence of fleeting structures, “Runonko” attempts to bridge fragmented memories with current realities and following delicate gestures, restraint, and spontaneity recreate lost narratives using visual clues and contradictions.

Olivier Mbabazi was born in Zaire, now the Democratic Republic of Congo to a family of Rwandan refugees. He trained in sculpture, ceramic, and music at Ecole d’Arts de Nyundo, completed a filmmaking course at IBTC Film School in Rwanda, and studied stone sculpture with Greg Davertzhofen at Kunst Gymnasium in Germany. In 2021, Mbabazi partook in a marketing management course at the University of Chicago, and in the spring of 2022, he will graduate from The University of the South with a Bachelor of Arts in Art and French and French Studies. He is a Bonner Leader, a Beckeen Scholar, a 213-A Leader, a French tutor, and a singer and songwriter and a Thomas J. Watson Fellow. His works have been exhibited in Rwanda, Germany, and the United States.

The Carlos Gallery is located at 105 Kennerly Rd. Hours are 8 a.m. to 5 p.m., Monday–Friday, and from 1–5 p.m., on Saturday.

'In the Light of Loss,' Solo Exhibition

The Carlos Gallery in the Visual Art Building at University of the South is pleased to present "In the Light of Loss," an exhibition of oil paintings and ink drawings by artist and Sewanee student Phoebe-Agnès Mills, C'22. The exhibition will be on display through March 26.

Phoebe-Agnès Mills is a figurative oil painter whose painterly and colorful pieces meditate on ephemerality and loss in an optimistic light. Through dissolved boundaries, obscured figures, and experimental play with light, she attempts to capture the melancholy joy of existing in a world that changes from one moment to the next.

In this exhibition, figures are depicted outside, in various seasons, melding with their surroundings, and stamped with the light of the environment. Painted with urgent, expressive brushstrokes and thick paint, this body of work condenses the human experience of life and loss into tangible, material images. Thick paint that rises from the surface resists illusionism, making the bodies that are depicted appear both more tangible and less real. A desire to exercise control and capture moments is evident through the use of selective rendering. Some moments in the pieces are rendered clearly, making them feel still and held, while others are rendered loosely, dissolving and falling apart. The figures are framed in environments that are fluid and ephemeral, indicating that the world around them is unstable and changeable. Spaces are not only defined by change but also by absence, using marks that carve out shapes using negative space, defining a thing by what isn't there.

Bright, vibrant colors characterize this impermanent world, indicating that a world full of change and loss is not purely dark and painful. Through broken forms, convoluted environments, and the use of negative space, these paintings reconcile apparent contradictions of light and darkness, change and stability, and past and present using bright colors and musical brushstrokes. Through the resolution of these contradictions, this work depicts the human experience of ephemerality and mortality as bright and beautiful, even in the light of loss.

Men's Lacrosse Dominates Stormy Petrels in SAA Opener

The University of the South men's lacrosse team ended its three-game losing skid in dominating fashion with a 22-4 roasting of the Stormy Petrels of Oglethorpe University in the Southern Athletic Association (SAA) opener for both teams, March 19, from historic Hardee-McGee Field at Harris Stadium.

Despite the two teams trading early goals in the first three minutes of the game, Sewanee nipped that in the bud right away and went on a 21-0 run for 36 minutes, as they led 10-1 after one period and 18-1 at the break.

The Purple Tigers achieved 20 goals in a game for the first time since 2019, and it is the 14th time in program history the team has achieved this feat in a game.

Sewanee has won the first 10 meetings all-time versus Oglethorpe. Men's Lacrosse became a varsity sport at the University of the South in 2008.

Freshman Devon Root recorded a five-goal performance in the win as he finished the day with six points.

Davis Gillenwater tallied seven points thanks to four goals and three assists, while Phelps Thomas assisted on four goals and scored two of his own.

Luke Valentine also contributed five points on three goals and two dimes.

Sewanee forced 10 turnovers in the game, led by Will Wyckoff's three. On face offs, Sewanee was 22-of-30, as Charlie Warren went 12-of-14.

Hampton Brannon (3-3) played the first 25 minutes of goal, as he, Burke Tilton, C.J. Mezzatesta and Jay Campbell all were between the pipes in the win.

Fogarty Eclipses 100 Career Goals

The University of the South women's lacrosse program took down Oglethorpe University in the Southern Athletic Association (SAA) opener, 18-8, March 19, from Puett Field.

Sewanee came out hot in the opening quarter, as Ellie Tate Schutte netted the first two goals of the game in a 12-second span to give Sewanee the 2-0 edge with 13:43 left in the opening quarter.

The Tigers made it a 9-2 affair after one quarter before making it a 12-5 lead at the break.

The Purple and White limited the Petrels to 17 shots on the day. Sewanee dominated the midfield as OU went 7-of-16 on clears and they coughed up the ball 33 times.

In the second quarter, Hattie Fogarty's third goal of the game at the time was the 100th in her career at the University of the South. The Memphis native became the seventh player in the program's history to achieve this milestone.

Currently sitting at 163 career points, she will need 37 before the end of the season to join the 200-point club, where there are only four in program history.

Hattie Fogarty set a new career-best nine points on the day as she matched her personal best in goals with six and added three assists.

Emma Burns scored five goals, two via free position, and assisted on three more for eight points. She also added two forced turnovers.

Jocelyn Riopel forced three turnovers, while Hadley Meadows added seven draw controls.

Molly Morris (6-3) stopped five shots in 55 minutes.

Baseball Succumbs to Warriors in Sunday Doubleheader

The University of the South baseball team suffered a doubleheader sweep to Hendrix College, 12-0 and 4-2, March 20, from Montgomery Field as the Warriors swept a three-game Southern Athletic Association (SAA) series.

Hendrix is receiving votes in the latest <D3baseball.com> national poll.

Hendrix used three straight two-run innings in the second, third and fourth to essentially put game one away.

The Warriors had two home runs in the sixth and ninth.

The offense stayed with the Warriors to start game two as a leadoff double came around and scored the first run of the game for the visitors.

In the bottom half of the first, with two outs, Wesley House sent a double to straight away center field to score Sully McCreery.

For Logan Martin and Jack Hodgins, the strikeouts were adding up, and the zeros were going across the line score. The Tigers were able to get the go-ahead run in scoring position in the third and fourth innings, but the runners would be stranded.

In the fifth, the visitors used a three-run inning to reclaim the lead for good.

The Tigers' bats came to life in the bottom half, as Mac Gortney laced a double down the right field line to make it a 4-2 affair as the Warriors were forced to go into their bullpen. Unfortunately for the Purple Tigers, the threat would be halted with a groundout to shortstop.

Mac Gortney led the Tigers with two hits in the night cap with a double and an RBI.

Wesley House also added a double and RBI.

Logan Martin (0-3) threw 112 pitches as he tossed the complete game in the night cap, allowing two earned runs and fanning 11 batters.

Charboneau's 5-Hit Performance Highlights Softball's Doubleheader Split of Dallas

The University of the South softball team recorded a split of a March 19 doubleheader with the University of Dallas, falling 7-2 in game one before storming back to take the nightcap, 10-2.

In the opening game, with two runners on, Kendell Goodrum shot a double to left field to score Sarah Wright in the top of the second. Thanks to a Sam Dean fielder's choice, Sewanee scored its second run of the frame via Eve Bournias.

UD responded with a run in the bottom half of the inning, but it could have been a lot worse as the Crusaders left the bases loaded.

Dallas tacked on a run in the bottom of the third and fourth innings to claim the lead for good. They later added three runs in the fifth and two in the sixth.

The nightcap saw the Sewanee offense explode for 10 runs, as they scored in every inning but the second. The run total is the most for the team this season.

With two outs in the opening inning, Alice Charboneau sent a deep fly ball to right field for a triple to score Maggie Willis. She would later score thanks to a Dallas miscue.

Despite Dallas getting back into it with a sacrifice fly in the bottom of the first and a RBI double in the second, the Purple and White reclaimed the lead for good with a three-run inning. After Charboneau hit another triple to score Sarah Wright, Hanna Judycki posted a two-run single to give Sewanee the 5-2 lead.

In the fifth, Willis laced a two-run single to give Sewanee the 7-2 edge. In the sixth, Peri Prestwood had a base hit to the right center field gap to score Wright.

Alice Charboneau, went 5-of-5 in the nightcap with three extra base hits, including two triples, and missed the cycle by a home run. The Manassas, Va. native scored twice and had four RBI. For the doubleheader, she finished 6-of-8.

Maggie Willis recorded three hits in the two games, including a multi-hit game in the opener. She added two RBI and runs scored each in the second game.

Hanna Judycki recorded a 2-for-4 day at the plate in game two with a pair of RBI.

Kendell Goodrum recorded a double and RBI in the opener, and in the closing game of the twin bill, she tossed a complete game in the circle, allowing one earned on five hits with no walks for her second win of the season.

NCEA Falls in ECAC South Region Title

The University of the South National Equestrian Collegiate Association (NCEA) team finished as a finalist in its first season of competition at the Eastern College Athletic Conference (ECAC) South Regional Single Discipline Championships on March 19, falling to top-ranked Sweet Briar College, 8-0.

In the fences portion, Liza Shoaf led the Tigers with an 83 riding on Dorado, but she was edged out by Paige Kennedy, who scored an 84.

In the flat section, Gigi Aiken, riding on Sven, recorded a 79.

The defending NCEA Champions in single discipline, Sweet Briar is the top team in the nation this season.

Track and Field Competes in Memphis

The University of the South track and field teams participated at the Rhodes College Invitational on March 18 and 19.

Brianna Fee improved her outdoor mark in the 800 meters with a 2:30.43 for a fifth-place finish overall.

Jocelyn Covaney posted a season-best in the 100 hurdles with a 17.36-second performance. In the 400 hurdles, the freshman clocked in a 1:12.96 for third place.

Janie Schmitt led the Tigers in the mile with a ninth-place time of 5:43.16, while Charlotte Ganter clocked in at 19:43.62 in the 5,000 meters.

Carson Coody posted a season-best in the 100 meters with an 11.81-second sprint, while Ford McGovern (23.36) and Travis Steele (23.85) set new season bests in the 200.

Christian Shushok (17:18.58) and Patrick Rodriguez (17:53.68) set new season marks in the 5,000 meter.

Men's Golf Fends Off Emory and Methodist to Win Jekyll Island Collegiate

The No. 16 University of the South men's golf team took home the team championship at the Jekyll Island Collegiate from March 18-20, firing a 54-hole score of 851.

Pearse Lucas finished three strokes behind medalist Alex Price of Christopher Newport with a 54-hole score of 208 (69-69-70). The freshman led the field in Par 4 scoring with a 3.83 and finished with 14 birdies, sixth best in the field of 150.

Zack Russell had a memorable tournament as he took home a fifth place finish with a career-low score of 209 (70-67-72). In Saturday's second round at Pine Lakes, the senior fired an ace on the par-3, six. The Charlottesville, Va., native averaged 3.87 on Par 4s and posted 37 pars.

Grayson Maddox fired a 210 (70-69-71) to earn a new career-low for the junior. He led the field in Par 5 scoring with a 4.33 average, and on Saturday, he opened the day with an eagle on the first tee, a par 5.

Michael Olmsted (225 | 74-76-75) and Ryan Demit (228 | 74-75-79) round out the Sewanee team scoring.

At the Individual Invitational, which was shortened to 36 holes due to weather, Grant Mahaffey posted a sixth place score of 149 (76-73), six strokes behind winner Michael Rosenbloom of Emory.

The Tigers, whose best finish at Jekyll was 14th in 2019, won the championship. After posting a 283 on Friday for fourth place, the Tigers carded a round-low 280 to ascend to second place on Saturday. Sunday, the Tigers scored a 288.

Trailing by one stroke to top-ranked Emory heading into Sunday's final round, Sewanee stepped into the lead thanks to Emory struggling on the front-nine. At one point, the Eagles were +10 on the day.

However, the Eagles would claw back to tie the Tigers with the 18th hole left. Maddox and Lucas chipped in birdies to push the lead to two strokes.

Despite a Russell par and a rally by No. 2 Methodist that saw four of its five members birdie the par-5, 485-yard 18th, Sewanee won the event by two strokes.

Register for the Mountain Goat Trail Race

The Mountain Goat Trail Race returns in-person on Saturday, April 16.

The day features the seventh annual Mountain Goat Trail Run & Walk, featuring a 5-mile run and a 2-mile walk, and the third annual Mountain Goat Trail Half Marathon. All proceeds will go to the Mountain Goat Trail Alliance (MGTA) #ShovelReadyMGT campaign, to prepare the entire Mountain Goat railbed for construction.

The 5-mile run will begin at 10 a.m. in downtown Sewanee; the 2-mile walk will begin at 10 a.m. at La Bella Pearl's Fine Dining. Both will finish at Mountain Outfitters in Monteagle. Prizes will be awarded for fastest men's and women's 5-mile finisher. Drawings for outdoor gear from Mountain Outfitters and presentation of awards are planned after the finish of the run and walk.

The half-marathon (13.1 miles) will begin at 8 a.m. in downtown Tracy City and follow the Mountain Goat Trail and approximately two miles of public roads before finishing at Mountain Outfitters. Drawings for outdoor gear from Mountain Outfitters and presentation of awards are planned after the finish.

Covenant Takes Down Baseball in Midweek Battle

The University of the South baseball team dropped a 4-3 decision to the hands of Covenant College in a March 22 battle.

The teams racked up the zeros in the first four innings of play. That would change for the visiting Tigers in the fifth. After Mike Lewishall led off the frame with a triple, Luke Short, on the next pitch, laced a single to put Sewanee on the board first.

After two Covenant wild pitches to push Short to third, he would later score thanks to a productive out by Jack Roode.

Covenant would respond in the bottom half to even the score at two after five full frames.

The Purple Tigers reclaimed the lead thanks to a lead-off walk by Lewishall. TJ Meyn recorded a sacrifice fly to give the visitors the 3-2 edge.

Unfortunately for the Sewanee bullpen, they were not able to produce the shutdown inning, as Covenant produced back-to-back base hits to reclaim the lead for good.

Sewanee had the opportunity to tie the game in the eighth after a pinch hit double. Later, the tying run was gunned down at the plate.

Wade Sansone led the Tiger offense with one of Sewanee's three doubles on the day as he finished with a 2-for-3 afternoon at the plate and reached base three times.

Luke Short also posted a 2-for-3 effort with a run scored and an RBI each.

Jack Roode and TJ Meyn each drove in a run.

March Notes

David Rowe writes, “I would like to report that the 2022 morel season has officially started on the Cumberland Plateau.”

John Palisano reported that a couple of weeks ago, he “saw two killdeer eating in a small, snow-free area on the rugby field located behind Quintard Dormitory this morning (Saturday) at 6:30 a.m. Before the University began mowing the grass on the rugby field every week, killdeer built nests in the grass of the current rugby field. The last year that I can remember a nest with babies was over 20 years ago and the last nest was built on the roof of Cravens. I often wonder if the babies survived their first flight from the roof. It was a joy to see the two killdeer on the field Saturday even though it was 20F and wind was blowing snow across the field.” Killdeer are plovers, found in flat, open areas, often near water. The name comes from its loud, persistent call. This is the bird that will feign injury, hobbling and dragging its wing to draw predators away from its eggs or young.

Last Tuesday, March 22, was World Water Day. We often are not aware of the life in our rivers and streams, and little brown fish are not very “charismatic.” Yet, Tennessee is in a global hotspot for aquatic biodiversity. In the waterways of the Southeast live two-thirds of the fish species in the U.S., half of the crayfish species in the world, and 90 percent of the mussel species in the U.S., 130 out of 300 here in Tennessee. Just a couple of examples: in the Duck River can be found the endangered Pygmy Madtom (a fish) and the endangered Birdwing Pearly Mussel, each found in only a very few other spots.

State Park Offerings

Please note: To confirm that these events will occur as listed go to <<https://tnstateparks.com/parks/events/south-cumberland/#/?park=south-cumberland>> or call (931) 924-2980. Please note that all programs, events and tours require masks for all participants.

Saturday, March 26

Sherwood Sunrise ($5)— Greet the Spring by joining Ranger Jason Reynolds at 5:45 a.m. at Sherwood Forest Parking lot, (take Jump Off Road to Old CCC Camp Road, go just past Coyote Cove Lane) for an early-morning walk on the moderate Sherwood Forest Dayloop. This 2.9-mile trail gently undulates through the woods and passes by interesting geologic formations and beautiful overlooks.

Grundy Lakes Cleanup Day ($0–$20)—Meet Ranger Dan Wescoat at 8:15 a.m. at 587 Lakes Rd., Tracy City, to help with a major cleanup project that has begun, to improve the quality of the historic Grundy Lakes Coke Ovens. Several trees have been cleared as the beginning phase of this project, so now it is time for the beautification phase of the project. This work will be physical and strenuous. It will include, but not be limited to, pulling vines, clearing brush, raking leaves, and moving tree stumps. Work will be hands-on, so closed-toe shoes are required, and gloves and eye protection are strongly recommended (eye protection is a must for some of the tasks being done). Also be sure to bring plenty of water and food to get you through this work day. This volunteer opportunity is a great way to give back to the park, and also be a part of the conservation of major historical landmarks. (Note: This event will be repeated at the same time on Sunday, March 27.)

Monday, March 28

Bark Ranger Hike ($10)—Meet Park Ranger Jessie DeRight and one of her fur-children at 1:15 p.m. at Grundy Forest Parking Lot, 131 Fiery Gizzard Rd., Tracy City and bring a fur-child of your own, for a 2 mile hike around the Grundy Forest Day Loop. On this hike you’ll learn about the flora and fauna in the area as well as the history of the Fiery Gizzard. You’ll also see some beautiful waterfalls. This hike is rated as moderate-to-strenuous due to the rocky terrain, exposed roots, and slight elevation change. This hike is dog friendly, but dogs must be leashed at all times and owners must clean up their pet’s waste. When the hike is over, your dog will be sworn in as a new South Cumberland Bark Ranger and receive a Bark Ranger tag to proudly display on their collar!

Tuesday, March 29

Denny Falls Mid-week Hike ($7)—Meet Park Ranger Ryan Harris at 11:45 a.m. CDT at Denny Falls Parking Lot, 5949 Hwy. 150, Sequatchie, for an early spring 3-mile roundtrip moderate-to-difficult hike out to Denny Falls. Sturdy shoes, weather-appropriate apparel, water and snacks are recommended.

Volunteer Days

South Cumberland State Park has a new portal for people who wish to contribute their time and energy to actively improving and maintaining the Park’s many venues. To see the opportunities and dates, go to <https://tnstateparksvolunteer.galaxydigital.com/agency/detail/?agency_id=116370> and register yourself. The Ranger in charge of that particular event will contact you the day before it happens.

The South Cumberland State Park Visitors’ Center is located on Highway 41 South between Monteagle and Tracy City and is open 8 a.m. to 4:30 p.m., seven days a week. For more information call (931) 924-2980.

Otis

Jasmine

MARC’s Mountain Adoptables Meet Otis & Jasmine

Otis is the cutest fellow with his long low body and large head. It is impossible not to love this maybe 1.5-year-old guy because he endears himself to you with actual hugs. He is very smart and gets along with other dogs, cats, and humans. Otis is house trained and knows his inside manners. He has a big bark but does not use it often. Otis would really like to be your lap dog.

Jasmine and her five siblings were found abandoned. They were starving, wet, cold and covered in fleas. Even though life started out rough, Jasmine is sweet and a little shy. She will curl up beside you, purring and falling asleep while you pet her. Jasmine loves boxes and blankets. She is good with other cats, and ok with calm dogs. Jasmine is looking for her furever home where she can get the attention and love she deserves.

If you would like to learn more about Otis or Jasmine, please fill out an Adoption Application on the MARC website <www.marc4change.org> or contact Sue Scruggs, cell phone (423) 619-3845. These pets are fostering on the Sewanee-Monteagle Mountain and are easy to meet. All MARC animals ready for adoption are spayed or neutered and up-to-date on their vaccines and preventatives.

Marion Animal Resource Connection is a 501(c)(3) nonprofit animal welfare organization. It is not a shelter and relies on foster homes to save animals. MARC also provides low cost and free spay/neuter procedures for animals and is available for teaching humane education in schools and to community organizations.

Summer Camp Counselor

The Sewanee Children's Center is seeking creative, fun, organized and responsible camp counselors for the summer. In this position, you will play a key role in shaping and educating our children by teaching them on numerous indoor and outdoor activities and experiences. You will also collaborate with other counselors, create plans and activities, and lead children in fun-filled projects for ages 3 to 8. Camp is Monday through Friday from 8am to 5pm for 8 weeks starting June 6th. But, you will start working May 31, 2022, to have the classroom and activities ready, and continue until July 29, 2022, to close out the summer. Camp is closed on Monday, July 4th.

Summer Camp at SCC provides an environment that uses the constructivist theory of learning to address our children's intellectual, emotional, physical, and social growth. Constructivist learning is based on children's active participation in problem-solving and critical thinking in a learning activity that they find relevant and engaging. They are "constructing" their own knowledge by testing ideas and approaches based on their prior knowledge and experience and applying these to a new situation that they then integrate with what they already know.

Camp Counselor Duties and Responsibilities

Plan and oversee children activities
Guide and teach a range of indoor and outdoor activities
Instruct and organize children projects (arts, crafts, dramatics, etc.)
Ensure children safety and monitor their activities
Follow DHS rules and regulations
Come to camp rested and able to deal with the demands of children
Supervise children during meals and naps
Follow safety and emergency procedures and guidelines
Maintain a clean environment
Respect the confidentiality of all children, families, and colleagues
May perform administrative tasks (accident report...) as needed

Ideal Candidates

Have experience working with kids
Are at least 18 years old and a High School Diploma
Have been vaccinated against COVID-19
Hold First Aid Certification (would be ideal)

Interested applicants should send a cover letter, resume, and references to Sarah Ralston Stark at sewanee-childrenscenter@gmail.com or apply online at www.sewaneechildrenscenter.org/careers.
