by Bailey Basham, Messenger Staff Writer

The 32nd season of the Sewanee Symphony Orchestra (SSO) will begin on at 7:30 p.m., Tuesday, Nov. 6, at Guerry Auditorium on Georgia Avenue. The concert is free and open to the public.

The first event of the season will feature Kaitlyn Vest, visiting instructor of cello at the University, performing the Céllo Concerto Ňo.1 in C major by Haydn.

This year, we focus on bringing artistic collaborations to the forefront of our artistry. Each concert experience of the season will feature guest artists from the national and international music scene," said César Leal, artistic director and assistant professor of music history. Leal has been with the orchestra for 6 years, and he said planning for the next season starts about a year in advance. "Dr. Vest is a cello teacher and a wonderful first-class cellist. The orchestra has never sounded better."

"We select the music, audition the musicians and choose the music based on the students' technical level and musicianship. We design a program that challenges their artistic techniques and enables them to play music successfully," he said. "We schedule all the production dates, spaces, collaborations, contracts with guest artists, and a group of students from the Artistic Leadership Program manages the orchestra."

Monteagle Approves Codes Officer, Changes Tree Management

by Leslie Lytle, Messenger Staff Writer

At the Oct. 29 meeting, the Monteagle City Council voted to hire John Knost to serve as Codes Enforcement Officer. The Council also decided to adopt new tree management practices for the 2018 Christmas lighting display.

John Knost will handle enforcing property maintenance violations, previously the charge of building inspector Earl Geary who issues buildng permits.

Addressing Knost's need for a vehicle, Police Chief Virgil McNeese proposed he be given use of the Police Department's Crown Victoria. The department recently purchased a new Ford Explorer and has three backup vehicles, the Crown Victoria, a Tahoe, and a non-working Explorer.

"The old Explorer needs a starter and has nearly 200,000 miles," Mc-Neese said. The council approved McNeese's recommendation to declare the old Explore surplus and sell it on GovDeals. The police department firearms instructor and fire investigator needed to haul apparatus and used the Tahoe, McNeese explained.

THANK-YOU

To the Editor:

St. Mary's Sewanee would like ments to thank everyone who came to New Hope Bluff on a breezy Saturday afternoon to celebrate the life and faith of our beloved friend, Bob Ayres. Joined by his closest family and friends, we shared memories Independence and the Constituabout the remarkable impact Bob had on St. Mary's Sewanee and on every American was to fall heir,"

One of Bob's favorite places on this Mountain was at the bluff of St. Mary's Sewanee. He began coming here for quiet and for prayer when he was Vice Chancellor of the University. Because of his love for this place and his vision of it as a place for others to find peace and hope, he helped create St. Mary's Sewanee retreat center. It was such a delight for us to gather outside after a day of foggy rain to see the clouds break open for an extraordinary sunset. Bob was surely pleased.

St. Mary's Sewanee exists to offer people a place to rest, renew, and reconnect to their deepest selves. condition. Thank you to all those who make this place possible.

MONUMENTS

To the Editor:

It's surely worth addressing Mr. Shannonhouse's concerns about the SOARING COST OF removal of monuments (Oct. 19, 2018), since so many of our fellow Americans see us on the same slippery slope as he does.

With these two men's words in mind, I would argue that monuments to our Founders, flawed men though they were, nonetheless are St. Mary's Sewanee monuments for a united American people in a way that Confederate monuments can never be.

CONSTITUTIONAL LAW

To the Editor:

On Oct. 30, Donald Trump announced that by executive order he will end birthright citizenship. Birthright citizenship, guaranteed by the Constitution, means that if you are born in this country, you're a citizen of this country.

Trump stated that the U.S. is the only country that has birthright citizenship, which is untrue. Thirty other countries, such as Mexico and Canada, have such a policy.

Please think about this as you vote in the midterm elections.

Ministry Center Expansion to Open at MMUMC

by Bailey Basham, Messenger Staff Writer

Morton Memorial United Methodist Church (MMUMC) will celebrate the completion of a 3,000-square-foot expansion at 12:15 p.m.,

The Ministry Center expansion, which was the first since the education building was added to Morton in the 1950s, features the same Sewanee stone that was used to build the sanctuary.

'We are planning a consecration service in the United Methodist tradition, which will involve prayers and music, followed by a meal," said MMUMC Reverend Jodi McCulluh. "We've invited past ministers and members, and we're are also inviting all who worked on the addition and those who are connected to the ministries at the church."

The church expansion, connected to the front portion of the existing sanctuary by a hallway, was done by RVC Construction in Winchester. Estimates for the project were at $900,000, and the project totaled around $980,000, including furnishings.

Rich Wyckoff, who is on the church's building committee, said one of the main goals of the expansion is to increase accessibility on the Music Festival (from page 1)

'The sanctuary was built in 1902 and is not handicap accessible," he said. "The new addition provides an accessible pathway into the sanctuary, and it also provides accessible restrooms.

The church's food ministry program, which was previously held upstairs in the education building, will be relocated to the Ministry Center.

"We do the food ministry, and roughly a third of our recipients were not physically able to go up the stairs. The food ministry will now be on one level, enabling everyone to shop for their food. Previously, many year. folks couldn't navigate the steep stairs to the old gym, and now, the new facility enables us to grow our other ministries and provide a meeting space for community gatherings," Wyckoff said.

In addition to providing accessibility to the church's programs and congregation, fellowship lunches on Sundays will be made easier — Sunday morning worship averages around 85 people, and instead of being spread over three different rooms for the post-service meal, all members will have a space to fellowship together. The facility is able to accommodate 150 people.

The expansion also features a walk-in cooler, which will allow food ministry volunteers to broaden the types of food available.

'[Before the expansion,] if food needed refrigeration, we couldn't store it. Now, we'll have fresh produce and dairy offerings for our recipients. The expansion is going to really help us with our different ministries,"

McCullah said it is the hope of the congregation that Morton continues to be a space of welcoming in the community.

We will be more welcoming to our community because we will be more accessible, and all visitors and members will be able to enjoy the activities, fellowship and worship," McCullah said. "Folks on the mountain are already so active in showing their great care for one another and for those who pass through, and in the future, we expect to be able to better support the ministries that already use our facilities and to be open to other ministries and activities that will serve area residents and visitors."

Leal said in addition to collaborations, the program this season will include performances of the Nutcracker Suite by Tchaikovsky stein's Overture to West Side Story.

The council also approved allocating $5,000 for Christmas lights and not trimming the Main Street trees before installing the lights.

Monteagle resident Nate Wilson who oversees Domain managetakes more than a year in advance ment for the University said the because they're so busy performing annual trimming was causing the oaks to develop a fungus infection at the wound where the trimming was done.

> In the past, the trees were trimmed to facilitate decorating. Vice Mayor Jessica Blalock who oversees Parks and Recreation will look into net type lighting as a possibly less harmful alternative.

> Wilson suggested the council also consider fiber optic displays that mount to the bottom of the > Acknowledging the tight schedule, with the Christmas parade planned for Dec. 1, decorating priority will be given to the park. The parade theme is "A Charlie Brown Christmas," Blalock said. Awards will go to the best themed float and the best decorated float. Awards will also go to the best decorated residence and business. Blalock is looking for judges for both categories. Citizen's Tri-County Bank will donate the trophies and plaques. Tower Bank will donate the hot chocolate and cookies for the Harton Park meet and greet with Santa after the parade.

> The parade starts at 4:30 p.m., with lineup at 3:45 p.m. at the old VFW for vehicles and at the Depot for walkers and bicycles.

> Revisiting the Seventh Day Adventist Church's request to put a sign in the median, Alderman Ron Terrill pointed out that unlike the other churches, the Seventh Day Adventist Church was located on Main Street and their sign was visible. Terrill none the less recommended allowing the signage since all the other downtown area churches had median signs.

> The council approved the Seventh Day Adventist Church's request, but Terrill said, "I hope we can protect the area from additional signs in the future."

> Reporting on operations, Fire Chief Mike Holmes said the department received a $1,500 traffic safety grant, which would be used for the purchase of traffic safety vests and a portable radio. The department has applied for a $99,000 FEMA Assistance to Firefighters Grant to purchase 14 air packs. If received, the grant will require a 5 percent match ($4,700). Holmes said the department's $19,000 budget for air packs could be used to cover the match.

The council meets next Nov. 26.

Student Mentoring Program Coming to FCHS

by Leslie Lytle, Messenger Staff Writer

Franklin County High School (FCHS) will soon launch a new program pairing students and adult mentors. There are a lot of students with limited experiences, said FCHS teacher Anna Mullin who designed the program, "students who have never left Franklin County."

The program will match students and mentors with shared interests in the hope of broadening students' horizons and offering them a nontraditional source of adult support. Mullin wants students to have the opportunity to connect to adults outside the typical parent-teacher dynamic.

Mullin also started the Transition from School to Work program at FCHS. "We engaged with students over several years. It took a while to get to the point where students would communicate, but eventually they began to reach out to us."

Mullin served as a mentor in the Tennessee Promise college scholarship program, and while acknowledging the benefits, she regretted "there was no time for developing a relationship. I really served no purpose other than to send out reminders. My mentees didn't stay in touch with me after they left the program."

Mullin plans for mentors and mentees to have once a month contact through group activities such as hiking and going out to eat, "fun stuff," she said. Mullin referenced a mentor-style program her son participated in at Sewanee Elementary School where University students were paired with SES students. "My son loved it."

Those interested in serving as mentors should contact Mullin at <anna. mullin@fcstn.net> or by phoning FCHS, (931) 967-2821.

Potential mentors will participate in an orientation and those who decide to continue in the program will undergo a background check followed by mentor training.

We'll need to pay for the background checks," Mullin said. Several area churches are considering funding the program. Mullin also plans to reach out to area businesses for financial support as well as for potential

The mentor program is not a religious initiative," Mullin stressed. Mullin emphasized in the planning stages a program "needs to be reflective of many groups."

The working committee assisting with developing the program includes FCHS Principal Roger Alsup as well as Chelle Daniels (STEM teacher); Angelia Hannah (resources English teacher); B. J. Mathis (youth pastor at Winchester Cumberland Presbyterian Church); Eric Vanzant (director of the Campora Family Resource Center); Brenda Welch (FCHS guidance counselor); and Urla Wolkonowsky (current director of the FCHS Transition from School to Work program).

Alsup signed on as supervisor of the project in its incipient stages. 'The project never would have gotten off the ground without his help,' Mullin said. The committee both provides feedback and engages in planning, taking on tasks that range from identifying curriculum resources

Mullin has appealed to the Franklin County School Board for assistance in addressing legalities such as transportation and mentors engaging with students in non-group settings.

Students will be invited to apply for the program based on referrals from guidance counselors, teachers, and school administrators. "They have a good handle on who will benefit," Mullin said.

Mullin plans for the first mentor orientation to take place in November with the first mentor-mentee activity occurring before the Christmas

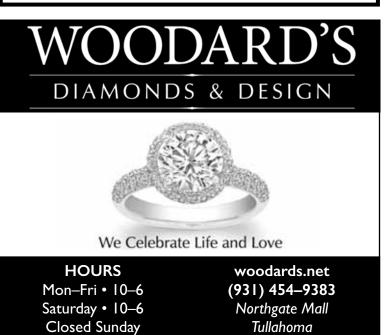

Mullin came to education after several other careers and acknowledges in the past "I felt like I was only working to make money."

The over arching goal of the program is for mentors and mentees to develop a long term relationship that extends beyond high school. I want to make a difference."

PIP, an expansion of the partnership between SCCF and the University of the South, was developed to provide an opportunity for University students to learn firsthand about community-based philanthropy. As part of the PIP, participating students were introduced to the history and practice of philanthropy through readings, workshops, and local speakers. Every taxdeductible dollar contributed will reach Hope Institute.

Please join us. For information and to RSVP, contact Sally Hubbard at <sally@hubbard.net> or Betty Carpenter at <camppc2@ msn.com>.

Grown-Up Show and Tell at Sewanee Elementary

The children of Sewanee Elementary want to know more about their world beginning with their neighbors. If you have a special interest, passion, skill, or knowledge and would be willing to share it with the teachers and students of SES, please contact Sarah Marhevsky, the president of the Sewanee Parents' Organization. This year the SPO is reaching out to pull the town into the children's lives by compiling a directory of visitors and speakers from the community. Maybe you are an herbalist, a modern-day Johnny Appleseed, a local historian, a ballroom dancer, a fly fisherman, a train-spotter, a collector. There is nothing like the wide-eyed wonder and curiosity of a five to ten-year-old child. Teachers are hoping to use a directory of local speakers to supplement their curriculum, giving life to chapters in a textbook. Such a directory will be invaluable to the SPO as it organizes two of its most popular programs: Wednesday Wonderings and Friday School. Please write Sarah Marhevsky at <sesptonews@gmail.com> or leave your name at the front desk of SES if you would be willing to share your own curious nature with some young explorers.

Grundy County Imagination Library on the Move!

In August of 2011, the Rotary Club of Grundy County adopted the Dolly Parton Imagination Library program as a club program for the benefit of Grundy County children. Seventy-six percent of Grundy County children age 0 to 5 are currently receiving a free Imagination Library book every month. This program, which costs $24 per child per year, half of which is paid by the Governor's Books from Birth Foundation and half paid by local donations, is one of several Rotary Club initiatives for improving learning and work habits of our county's youth. Tax deductible donations to the Grundy County Imagination Library may be made to the Grundy Rotary Service Fund, P.O. Box 1903, Tracy City, TN, 37387.

Eighty percent of the brain development of a child occurs before age three. Learning to read during this period enormously increases the chances of success for the child. Reading with the child increases parent involvement which further leads to better family relationships and less behavioral problems for the child. Children who have been engaged in the program also have better relations with peers when they start school. A child who is read to by a parent three or more times a week is twice as likely to achieve reading scores in the top 25 percent of students. Reading skills are essential to the success of individuals, regardless of trade or profession. Sadly, nearly one-half of correctional facility inmates cannot read or write and 85 percent of juvenile offenders have reading problems.

The Rotary Imagination Library committee is committed to enrolling every child in Grundy County in this program. We regularly ask parents with young children if their child is enrolled in Imagination Library. The answer is mostly yes. The parents are quick to point out how greatly this program has contributed to their child's development. Every parent interviewed has said that their children anxiously look forward to receiving their personally addressed book each month in the mail. They express their appreciation for the efforts of the Rotary Club of Grundy County to keep this program available for their children.

SAS Players Present 'Leaving Iowa'

This weekend, the St. Andrew's-Sewanee School theatre program presents "Leaving Iowa," a comedy about family vacations written by Tim Clue and Spike Manton. Performances will be Friday, Nov. 2 and Saturday, Nov. 3 at 7 p.m. and Sunday, Nov. 4 at 4 p.m. at McCrory Hall for the Performing Arts on the SAS campus (290 Quintard Rd., Sewanee). Admission is available at the door and is $7 for adults and $5 for children. SAS students, faculty, and staff are admitted for free. The show is appropriate for all ages.

Twenty-seven students in grades six-12 are participating in the production. "I chose 'Leaving Iowa' because it is a delightful ensemble piece that can support a large cast," said SAS theatre teacher and director, Robie Jackson. "I saw a production of it at the Edinburgh Fringe Festival when we took the SAS production of 'The Ants' in 2013, and I made a mental note that it would be a great show for our students in the future." The SAS production stars John Beavers and Pete Haight of Sewanee, Jayla McLaurin of Las Vegas, Nev., and Palmer Whittington of Memphis.

"Leaving Iowa" is a toast to the idealism and character and a little roast of the "greatest generation's" undying dedication to the classic family road trip. Don Browning, a middle-aged writer, returns home and decides to finally take his father's ashes to his childhood home, as requested. When Don discovers Grandma's house is now a grocery store, he begins traveling across Iowa searching for a proper resting place for his father. This father-and-son road trip shifts smoothly from the present to Don's memories of the annual, torturous vacations of his childhood. Don's journey leads him to reconcile his past and present at the center

"Leaving Iowa" is a postcard to everyone who has ever found themselves driving alone on a road, revisiting fond memories of their youth.

American Shakespeare Center Returns to Sewanee, Nov. 7–8

The American Shakespeare Center returns to Sewanee Nov. 7-8 with Sophocles' "Antigone" and Shakespeare's "The Winter's Tale." The performances in Guerry Auditorium are free and open to the public.

"Antigone"—Wednesday, Nov. 7, at 7:30 p.m. Doors open at 7 p.m. with period music from the company beginning at that time.

In the aftermath of her brothers' bloody war, Antigone is left torn. Her brother Eteocles will be honored, but her brother Polyneices will be shamed and denied funeral rites. In this ancient tale, Antigone stands for morality in spite of punishment as one of the earliest heroines in drama. Sophocles' drama from 441 BC holds startling relevance today, examining divinity, obedience, and law—and how love overcomes them all. "The Winter's Tale"—Thursday, Nov. 8, 7:30 p.m. Doors open at 7 p.m. with period music from the company beginning at that time.

Shakespeare's magnificent late play is a roller-coaster ride from romance to tragedy to comedy and finally to a place of transcendent beauty that few other works of art have ever achieved. "A sad tale's best for winter," but after unleashing a wintry tempest onto his characters, hakespeare ultimately conjures spring's miraculous rebirth.

The performances are thanks to a generous donation to the School of Letters, and are sponsored by the School of Letters, the Sewanee Performing Arts Series, the office of the Dean of the College, and the Classics, English, and Humanities departments.

St. Andrew's-Sewanee cruised to 34-24 win over Swiss Memorial Oct. 25, at home. Tyler Cantrell dominated the inside for SAS, ending up with 15 points. Ethan Hargis contributed to the offensive efforts as well with seven points including a 3-pointer. Aiden Tate and Cecil Rodgers both chipped in four points each, and Ryan Ostrowski added two along with several key rebounds.

The Mountain Lions faced a finely-tuned Tracy City squad Oct. 29, and fought hard but fell short of a win, 40-24. The fast-paced game was much closer throughout, with both teams playing tough defense and sprinting to fast-break baskets. The Eagles converted theirs more often, especially Sam Parson with off the glass lay-ups. Parson finished with 21 points. For SAS, Kyler Cantrell and Aiden Tate led with nine points each, followed by Ethan Hargis, Spears Askew and Cecil Rodgers with two each. It was an unusual shooting night for SAS, who could not seem to find the basket and turned the ball over too team. The Mountain Lions look forward to improving between the

Field Hockey Wins on Senior Day Enters SAA Tourney as No. 3

The Sewanee field hockey team used a three-goal second half to defeat the Falcons of Concordia Wisconsin, 3-1, Saturday afternoon at a chilly Puett Field.

In the 14th minute, off a Concordia Wisconsin corner, Rachel Larson found Sam Dunn's pass for her second goal of the year to give the visitors the early 1-0 lead.

That lead would hold until the halftime intermission, but it did not last long in the second half. 59 seconds into the period, Ceara Caffrey scored her 18th goal of the season off an Alex Hornsby assist to even the contest at a goal each.

Sewanee found the lead for the first time in the contest in the 53rd minute thanks to a Molly Wheeler

In the 63rd minute, Alex Hornsby notched her first goal of the season thanks to Hannah Tompkins 'pass off the penalty corner.

Sewanee has reached the doubledigit mark in the win column for the first time since 2015 when they won 11 contests.

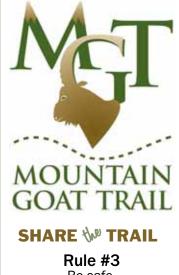

The Southern Athletic Association has announced the seedings for the 2018 SAA Field Hockey Championship. The Tigers will enter as the three-seed, and they will face Transylvania in the opening round Friday afternoon at 4 p.m.

Sewanee finished with a 10-5 record and a 3-2 conference mark. Sewanee has reached the doubledigit mark in the win column for the first time since 2015 when they won 11 contests.

Transylvania and Sewanee met twice in the regular season. In the non-conference matchup on Oct. 14, the Tigers used a 13th-minute goal from Milly Etheridge and a defense that allowed five shots and no goals in 70 minutes to win the contest, 1-0.

In the regularly scheduled conference meeting in Lexington, Ky., Elisabeth Domittner scored the game-winning goal in the 55th minute to lift Sewanee to a 1-0 win over Transy.

The three-day, six-team tournament will be hosted by Hendrix College in Conway, Ark. The winner of Friday's contest will face Rhodes, who earned a first round bye, Saturday at 2 p.m. The SAA Field Hockey Championship Game will be played at noon Sunday, with the winner earning the automatic bid to the NCAA Cnampionsnips

Edmund Orgill Cup Returns to Sewanee

For the first time since 2011, the Edmund Orgill Cup returns to the Cumberland Plateau, as the Sewanee football team captured a 27-14 win on the 70th Homecoming at the University of the South, Saturday afternoon from Historic Hardee-McGee Field at Harris Stadium. Final score was 27-14.

A total of 22 seniors between the football team and the cheerleading squad were recognized prior to kickoff: Karim Antoine, Daniel Armagh, Elle Barnes, Sabrina Caldwell, Trey Claus, Anna Kate Foshee, Tristan Fuller, John Gaither, Chris Howe, Michael Jacobs, Kalon Johnson, Zach Keller, Conoly Koontz, Jo Jo Matlock, Lee Menefee, Travis Nadalini, Allan Parrott, Brinley Rhys, Jack Spencer, Will Sutton, Rocky Tips and Melanie Vaughn.

On the opening drive, Rhodes was threatening to strike first. However, on the 11th play of the drive at the Sewanee 11-yard-line, PJ Settles was picked off by Pierce Johnson to keep the Lynx out of the end zone.

From there, each team was forced to punt the ball away for most of the opening half. With two minutes left in the second quarter, Rhodes' Cameron Cluney punted the ball away to their own 49. However, the visitors were guilty of holding the facemask, which gave the Tigers great field position.

efensive holding, which gave Sewanee the ball at the Rhodes 24.

On the next play, Grayson Baker connected to Micah Maes for the touchdown as Sewanee struck first on the scoreboard, leading 6-0 with 1:48 left in the half.

On the ensuing drive, after a completed pass by Settles, he was picked off again, this time by Wesley Porter.

Sewanee responded on the next drive that saw the Tigers find the end zone again. Maes caught his second touchdown reception with a 13-yard catch from Baker. Sewanee took the 13-0 lead into the locker room.

Sewanee started with possession to start the half and attempted to get the lead to three scores, but a blocked 50-yard field goal gave Rhodes ossession.

The Memphis institution responded with a seven-play, 67-yard drive to cut the score to 13-7 on a one-yard run by Settles.

On the next Sewanee possession, the Tigers used a 13-play, 75-yard drive to push the lead back to 13. Zach Milan punched himself across the goal line for the score.

Early in the fourth quarter, Rhodes made it interesting. The Rhodes offense found themselves at the Sewanee 21, but after the Warren Matthews sack that pushed Settles back nine yards, the quarterback took the rest of the drive in his hands. He called his number not once, but twice, first on a 21-yard run, followed by a nine-yard touchdown run to make 28.23 seconds. In the 100 IM, the freshman swam to a 1:03.01, second it 20-14 in favor of the Tigers.

However, as they did earlier in the half, after Rhodes scored, Sewanee responded with a touchdown of its own. Another 13-play drive, Warren Holland capped the drive with a two-yard run to make it 27-14.

Getting it down to a first and goal from the 10-yard-line, Settles and his offense was able to get nine of the 10 on three downs.

On the fourth down play, Settles, who is the all-time Rhodes holder in passing and rushing yards with over 10,000 yards in his four-year career, could not gain the one yard needed for the touchdown with 1:57 left.

That stop by the defense sealed the contest for the Purple and Gold, as they win their first game against Rhodes since 2011 and their first win over the Lynx at home since 2002.

Some fall colors

Reports from the Field

Linda Matherly on Midway Road, a friend of the Yeatmans (who wrote Nature Notes for so many years) writes: "I have two distinctly different persimmon trees. One is just starting to ripen and puts out runners as you describe. It has squat, orangey fruit, The other is finishing up, and doesn't eagerly put out runners. It has more elongated brownish fruit, and far surpasses the squat one in flavor." In "A Natural History of Trees," author Donald Culross Peattie comments on this variability in persimmons, in quality and size of fruit and in the season of ripening.

More late-breaking hummingbird sightings:

Olline Summers saw one on the feeders she hadn't taken down yet on October 23. She said it looked rather thin and wondered if it was going to make it. She noted that she had significantly fewer hummers this year than in past years.

Frank and Barbara Hart had one at their feeder on Oct. 26. From the tiny to the great:

Linda Boynton called to report a sighting of a bald eagle flying overhead on the Summerfield Road on Monday morning, Oct. 29, the first she had ever seen. The adult bald eagle is distinctive, with its white head and tail. It develops this plumage at 4 to 5 years of age. Fall foliage color:

Leaf color changes are late this year, with the main factor being warmer than average temperatures, especially warmer lows. Sunny days and cool nights usually bring out the brightest colors. We crossed the mountains from Tennessee to North Carolina on I-40 on Oct. 26, and saw only muted colors. However, returning five days later, colors were noticeably more brilliant. Maybe we'll get some color yet in our area.

Deer hunt map

Sewanee Deer Hunt

The 2018 hunting season in Sewanee runs discontinuously until Jan. 11, 2019. This year marks the 16th year of organized hunting on the Domain

This year the largest change to the hunt is map-related. In previous years, there have been two maps; one for hunting while students are on campus, and another map for when students leave. While the rules for the two time periods remain largely unchanged, we have combined the two different maps to minimize confusion for the general public.

There are minor changes to the hunting hours. During the week, hunters must be out of the woods by 10 a.m., the same as on weekends. As always, all trails and firelanes remain open to recreational use during the season and hunters maintain a 100-yard safety zone around all recreational trails.

As in previous years, there may be a surplus of animals available for local families. If you are interested in picking up a field-dressed deer for processing, please email <domain@sewanee.edu>. For more information on the University hunting program and specific rules and times, please visit http://sustain.sewanee.edu/domain/ecosystem-management/deer-hunting/>.
