Sewanee Elementary School held its annual Peace Pole Assembly on Sept. 24. The fourth grade led the school in saying "May peace prevail on Earth" in Spanish and sharing their research about Venezuela. The fifth grade showcased their percussion skills with a Venezuelan folk song. The cereal boxes that students collected for the local food bank were set up in the shape of a peace symbol "dominoe style" to remind us that kindness has a rippling effect.

Francis to Receive the Aiken Taylor Award

The Sewanee Review is pleased to announce that Vievee Francis is the recipient of the 2021 Aiken Taylor Award for Modern American Poetry. Vievee Francis is a poet whose work is suffused with abundance: of what emerges from earth, of stories told by those who live upon it, and of the ravages visited on the same, all shaped by a singular voice expressing the full range and intensity of human feeling. A Texas native who has lived in Michigan, North Ćarolina, and most recently New Hampshire, Francis reveals in her work the pastures, fields, and forests of these places she has called home. Her poems also work and tend that ground in order to reveal its histories, its traumas, and the revelatory truth of her own experience. Her work reminds us that the question of who we are is often answered as much by one that asks where, and how we attend to and care for the place we call our own. Her poems are, in the fullest sense, acts of cultivation. She is the author of three collections of poetry, including "Blue-Tail Fly" and "Horse in the Dark." Her most recent collection, "Forest Primeval," received the Hurston/Wright Legacy Award and the Kingsley Tufts Poetry Award.

University Vice Chancellor Reuben E. Brigety, II and Sewanee Review editor Adam Ross will present Francis with the Aiken Taylor Award at 4 p.m., Wednesday, Oct. 13, in Convocation Hall, after which Francis will read from her body of work

As part of this year's award celebration, poet Phillip B. Williams will lecture on Francis' poetry at 4 p.m., Tuesday, Oct. 12, in McGriff Alumni House. Williams, a 2020-21 Fellow at Harvard University's Radcliffe Institute for Advanced Study, is the author of "Thief in the Interior," winner of the Kate Tufts Discovery Award and the Lambda Literary Award for Gay Poetry. He currently serves as Professor of English at Bennington College.

Every year since 1987, the Sewanee Review has honored a distinguished poet in the maturity of their career with the Aiken Taylor Award in Modern American Poetry. Established by the physician and poet K. P. A. Taylor in honor of his elder brother, the modernist poet and story writer Conrad Aiken, the Aiken Taylor Award has celebrated poets such as Howard Nemerov, Gwendolyn Brooks, Wendell Berry, Louise Glück, and Billy Collins.

Film Fundraiser for Communities Hit by Hurricane Ida, Oct. 1-3

The Academy Award-winning 1951 film of Tennessee Williams's "A Streetcar Named Desire," set in New Orleans and starring Vivien Leigh, Marlon Brando, Kim Hunter, and Karl Malden, will be shown at 7:30 p.m., Oct. 1-3. Friday and Saturday's screenings will be in Blackman Auditorium, and on Sunday, Oct. 3, there will be an outdoor screening in front of the B.C. Rain location is Blackman Auditorium.

At the Sunday evening screening, Professor Jim Crawford of the Theatre Department and Professor Virginia Craighill of the English Department will lead a discussion and Q&A after the film.

Admission is free. All audience donations and proceeds from concession sales will go to Post-Hurricane Ida Relief Effort (PHIRE) of the Coastal Community Relief https://www.coastalcommunityrelief. org/>, where funds will be divided between the Mayor's Community Fund for the Town of Grand Isle, and the Grand Caillou/Dulac Band of Biloxi-Chitimacha-Choctaw's nonprofit organization, and to Lower Nine <lowernine.org>, a nonprofit group dedicated to restoring the New Orlean's historic Lower Ninth Ward from damage caused by

Monteagle: Stormwater, Police Recognition, Grants, Zoning

by Leslie Lytle Messenger Staff Writer

At the Sept. 27 meeting, the Monteagle Council addressed two tormwater issues: American Recovery Plan funding for stormwater control and stormwater pollution entering Laurel Lake from the Petro project site during a recent heavy rainfall event. In a busy meeting, the council took time out from regular business to recognize police officer Chad Locke for service above and beyond the call of duty.

Updating the council on grant requests for sewer system remediation, city engineer Travis Wilson said he expected the city would receive $1.3 million in Appalachian Regional Commission and Community Development Block Grant funding. Mayor Marilyn Campbell Rodman pointed to American Recovery Plan (ARP) money as another funding source. Alderman Nate Wilson stressed the need for stormwater management.

Engineer Wilson said ARP funding was highly competitive and would go to shovel-ready projects. Monteagle would need to do mapping and data collection about water lines, sewer lines and stormwater patterns.

We need to spend money to get a shot at getting money," Alderman

Alvin Powell observed. Rodman asked engineer Wilson to determine the cost of a Geographic Information System (GIS) study for water, sewer and stormwater. The council will hold a special called meeting at 8 a.m., Monday, Oct. 18, to vote on a budget amendment to allow the GIS project to go forward.

Taking up a current stormwater problem, structural engineer and Monteagle resident Jim Waller

SSO Presents the 'We Are' Concert

The Sewanee Symphony Orchestra (SSO), under the direction of Tiffany Lu presents the "We Are" concert. The concert is free and open to the public. It will take place at 3 p.m., Saturday, Oct. 2, in Guerry Auditorium. Masks are required. The concert will be preceded at 2:30 p.m. by our first Arts Amplified event—featuring students of Theatre, Dance, and Music and incorporating a sneak preview of Hamlet—in the arcade quality of life on the Plateau through the annual Community Chest fund drive. The SCA also on Georgia Avenue and the UAG.

The SSO concert will feature Georges Bizet's "L'Arlésienne Suite No. 2," and a symphonic suite from "Lord of the Rings: The Fellowship of the Ring," by Howard Shore, arrangement by John Whitney.

Tiffany Lu is the new conductor of the Sewanee Symphony Orchestra and teaches in the music department. Lu earned her doctorate in 2019 and comes to Sewanee with extensive conducting experience. She currently serves as conducting associate of the Pierre Monteux School and Music Festival (Maine) and assistant conductor with the Prince George's Philharmonic (Maryland). In a just-concluded five-year stint as music director of the Wilmington Community Orchestra, Lu won praise for groundbreaking and creative programming. Her past conducting posts include guest or assistant slots with the Capital City Symphony, Symphony New Hampshire, and the Millikin-Decatur Symphony Orchestra. She was Conducting Fellow with the Allentown Symphony in 2019 and 2020. She also has professional experience as a violinist, music librarian, and recording producer.

A native of Tampa, Fla., and most recently resident in the D.C.-Maryland region, Lu holds degrees from Princeton University, Ithaca College, and the University of

Flu Shots Available

Folks at Home is partnering with the Sewanee Senior Center, Sewanee Business Alliance, and Walgreens of Decherd to offer flu shots in Angel Park on Tuesday, Oct. 12. The shots will be offered between 10 a.m. and 2 p.m.

Bring insurance cards or pay $25 out-of-pocket for the vaccination. If it rains, the shots will be offered at the Blue Chair. Masks and physical distancing are recommended.

Volunteers Needed at Elliott Park

In almost two weeks, the Sewanee Parks organization will receive 90 cubic yards of certified playground chips to resurface the Elliott Park Playground on central campus (next to the Wellness Center)

A similar refresh was completed 3 years ago in order to maintain the surface at a safe level and to continue to provide a soft cushion on the various landing zones around the play elements. The surface now is a level "hard-pack."

Facilities Management will assist in the offload as the tractor trailer arrives in the adjacent parking lot. Their staff will transfer the chips onto the playground surface into 10-12 "haystack-style" piles and leave them intact for the next phase of the "spread." This is the point where volunteers are needed.

Approximately 15 to 20 volunteers are needed from 10 a.m. to noon, and then 1–3 p.m. The target spread date is Oct. 15 or Oct. 16.

Volunteers will need to bring work gloves, rakes, shovels and, hopefully, wheelbarrows. Cold water will be available.

For more information or to volunteer, contact Stephen Burnett via email at burnett4343@bellsouth.

Rodman updated the council on plans for a native plant garden along the Mountain Goat Trail. Rodman said the project, sponsored by the nonprofit Growing Roots, had expanded from the original design. "This is not just a garden. There are multiple structures." She expressed concerns about maintenance. "We don't need anything else pulling at our staff ... We need something more substantial than just volunteers."

Revisiting a discussion about tiny homes, building inspector Earl Geary said more was at issue than home size, defined as under 600 square feet by Monteagle ordinances. International building codes stipulate minimum room size and other floor plan rules for fire safety. Monteagle only allows tiny homes in R-4 zoning and currently has no R-4 zoning. Alderwoman Dorraine Parmley asked where Geary would recommend R-4 zoning. Geary said he wanted guidance from the state fire marshal before offering recommendations.

University Announces Names & Places Committee

University of the South Vice-Chancellor Reuben Brigety and Board Chair Reid Funston have announced the formation of an ad hoc committee authorized by the University's Board of Regents to consider the names and stories behind buildings, monuments, and places on the Domain. "The committee's work follows the path that the Board of Regents and the University laid out in September 2020 of evaluating our past while affirming who we are and who we aspire to be," said Brigety and Funston.

The work of the Names and Places Committee will support the Regents' plan for evaluating the University's past ties to the Confederacy. The committee, made up of faculty, staff, students, alumni, and community members, will identify naming principles and practices and ensure that there is an appropriate balance between the contribution of the namesakes and the values of the University. The committee is cochaired by the Rev. Dr. Gene Manning, T'01, and Professor Deon Miles.

The committee will work over the course of the academic year with a goal of providing a naming framework and recommendations to the oard of Regents next summer. They will be learning more about the University's history and will be gathering input from various University constituencies to inform their work.

Presence of the Absence of Color

To avoid the cost and hassle of buying a new bathroom vanity, I have been painting mine white to 'upgrade' its look. I am not unfamiliar with the painting process, having done most of our house when we built it, and, back in grad school, clambering up one of those scary-tall extension ladders to paint the outside of our landlord's 3-story Victorian in lieu of rent.

But despite scrupulous sanding, priming, and other prep, I am still seeing glimmers of wood beneath. So, I keep layering on more white. The whole process is starting to remind me of the pandemic—tedious, repetitious, and no end in sight.

It has allowed me time to meditate on whiteness, however, that "absence of color" we were taught about in elementary school science or art, I cannot remember which.

What it means to be white—or not—is at the heart of the study group, Sacred Ground, hosted by St. James-Midway that James and I are doing now.

In one of our assigned books, "Waking Up White," author Debby Irving describes her gradual awakening from the belief she doesn't have a race (and wasn't affected by it) because white is a "raceless race—just plain, normal...

Which is kind of like saying that vanilla is not a flavor, just ʻplain ordinary ice cream."

Through a lot of hard work, she becomes able to see all the ways "white" shaped and privileged her life. To understand also why all her previous sincere efforts to engage in anti-racism activity were

It is a book that reads easily and thinks hard, provoking the reader to contemplate the role their own socialization plays in their attitudes, actions, and, above all, achievements.

On a lighter note, in the ongoing work of exploring racism's shadows is the delightful YA novel "You Should See Me in a Crown" by Leah Johnson. Liz Lighty is talked into running for prom queen, an annual competition which, in her small Indiana town, holds the importance and hype of the Superbowl and the ruthlessness of The Hunger Games. Liz needs to win the scholarship money if she wants to go to college, so despite a history of panic attacks and a habit of avoiding attention of any sort unless she is playing her clarinet in the school orchestra, she agrees to run. Her candidacy is challenged from the get-go as this town has never had a black prom queen, and certainly not one like Liz.

The competition—and Liz's life—and, oh, yes, our society—is much marred by racism and homophobia, but this book is so rich in its portrayal of friendship, family love, and dogged courage that it is unputdownable. It is not just "about" any "isms" any more than it is just "about" a popularity contest, and I cannot recommend it enough. I have just finished it, but I'm so reluctant to leave Liz and her companions behind that I'm ready to read it again.

However, I am going to get it to duPont so you can check it

Thanks for reading and keep on! More on Instagram at @ megstereads.

CDC Approved Booster Dose Recommendations for Certain Populations

The Tennessee Department of Health is offering booster doses of COVID vaccine to certain populations.

A single dose booster of the Pfizer-BioNTech COVID-19 vaccine can be administered for individuals who met these criteria:

People 65 years and older and residents in long-term care settings should receive a booster shot of Pfizer-BioNTech's COVID-19 vaccine at least 6 months after their Pfizer-BioNTech primary series,

People aged 50–64 years with underlying medical conditions should receive a booster shot of Pfizer-BioNTech's COVID-19 vaccine at least 6 months after their Pfizer-BioNTech primary series,

People aged 18–49 years with underlying medical conditions may receive a booster shot of Pfizer-BioNTech's ČOVID-19 vaccine at least Tent and the Demonstration Tent! 6 months after their Pfizer-BioNTech primary series, based on their individual benefits and risks, and

People aged 18-64 years who are at increased risk for COVID-19 exposure and transmission because of occupational or institutional setting may receive a booster shot of Pfizer- BioNTech's COVID-19 vaccine at least 6 months after their Pfizer-BioNTech primary series, based on their individual benefits and risks.

More information on the CDC's recommendation for a booster dose is available online https://www.cdc.gov/media/releases/2021/p0924- booster-recommendations-.html>.

Local health departments across the state will be administering the booster dose. Information on appointment availability can be found at https://covid19.tn.gov/covid-19-vaccines/availability/>. Appointments are not required. The Federal Pharmacy Partnership (FPP) for Long-Term Care (LTC) Program is facilitating on-site vaccination for residents in long-term care facilities. Additional vaccine providers offering the Pfizer vaccine can be found by visiting http://www.vaccines.gov. Patients do not need to prove their diagnosis or health condition to be eligible for the booster dose.

Fire Prevention Week Theme: Learn the Sounds of Fire Safety

Every year during Fire Prevention Week (Oct. 3-9), fire departments across the country unite to raise awareness about a crucial fire safety message that can help save lives and property. This year's fire prevention theme is "Learn the Sounds of Fire Safety" where all Americans are urged to focus on the importance of learning the sounds that their smoke and carbon monoxide alarms make. I remind Tennesseans to install working smoke alarms inside and outside every sleeping area and on every level of your home. Test your smoke alarms monthly and change the batteries at least once a year. Replace your smoke alarms every 10 years. Conduct family fire drills and make sure everyone living a house knows the way

Since 2012, the Tennessee State Fire Marshal's Office has provided smoke alarms to fire departments and volunteer organizations across Tennessee through our "Get Alarmed, Tennessee!" smoke alarm program < https://www.tn.gov/commerce/fire/prevention-education-and-outreach/ get-alarmed-tn.html>. To date, more than 254,000 smoke alarms have been distributed and 324 lives have been saved by smoke alarms installed through the program.

Providing smoke alarms to fire departments in order to help reduce fire deaths is just one part of the mission of the Division of Fire Prevention, also known as the Tennessee State Fire Marshal's Office (SFMO).

Tennessee Craft presents the Fair, Oct. 8, 9 and 10, in Nashville's ing the fair! Artists who are just from across the nation will exhibit exhibiting in a craft fair for the first Lawn adjacent to the Parthenon, showcasing fine craft from clay, other in set up, display, selling and jewelry and leather to wood, glass, painting and more.

strictions, two popular attractions have returned to the fair: the Kids' and future generations of craft art-Organizational partners will be onsite throughout the weekend sharing a variety of craft techniques with the youngest fair goers. Volunteers from Belmont/Watkins Community Education, the Country Music Hall of Fame and Museum, East Nashville Hope Exchange, Frist Art Museum, Nashville Public Library, Poverty and the Arts, Shimai Gallery of Contemporary Craft, Tennessee State Museum, Turnip Green Creative Reuse, and the perennial favorite Wishing Chair Productions Puppet Truck will guide children through art activities that they can recreate at home using ordinary materials and their creativity.

In the Demonstration Tent, watch and learn "how it's made" from the Tennessee Association of Woodturners, the Clay Lady's Campus, and one of the 2020 Master Artist/Apprentice Program maps and event information, please

The Emerging Makers Tent is 43rd Annual Fall Tennessee Craft another exciting place to be duriconic Centennial Park. Artists beginning their craft careers or are their handmade craft on the Great time work together in a group selling environment to support each customer service.

Through the fairs and a robust On pause due to COVID re- calendar of year-round programs, ists and collectors. Tennessee Craft Fairs (held each Spring and Fall) are the premier outdoor events for artists to showcase and sell their work in an intimate and personal setting. Craft artists connect with the community by demonstrating their craft knowledge and processes.

As always, this free event is accessible to the public - with free parking and free shuttle service on Saturday and Sunday. Shuttles will run in 15-minute loops from the HCA Parking Lots located on Park Plaza to the entrance of the Tennessee Craft Fair. Gray Line of Tennessee generously provides this free service. The Fall Fair will be a socially distanced event and masks are strongly encouraged, especially in artists' booths where social distancing is not feasible.

Save the Date for Sewanee Safe and Sound

This year's AngelFest has been canceled. Instead, the Sewanee Business Alliance will be hosting a Safe and Sound concert 7–9 p.m., Saturday, Oct. 16, in Angel Park. Masks and social distancing are requested. University Avenue will be closed for this event from the highway to Regions Bank starting at 6 p.m. Rain location is the American Legion Hall

Taking the stage is Jimmy Hall. Hall first gained notoriety as the lead vocalist, saxophonist, and harmonica player for the band Wet Willie, which emerged from Mobile, Alabama in 1970. His unique brand of R&B-infused rock 'n' roll swagger propelled the group's "Keep On Smilin" to the Top 10 on the Billboard singles chart in 1974. After five albums with Capricorn Records, Wet Willie moved to the Epic label in 1977, carrying the singles "Street Corner Serenade" and "Weekend" to the Top 40. As a solo artist, Hall appeared in the Top 40 yet again with "I'm Happy That Love Has Found You" in 1980. His songs have been recorded by Gregg Allman, The Marshall Tucker Band, The Amazing Rhythm Aces, Blackberry Smoke, Johnny Russell, and others. Hall has been a vocalist and bandleader for Hank Williams Jr. since the 1980s. Jimmy is an inductee of both the Georgia Music Hall of Fame and the Alabama Music Hall of Fame. He has toured as a vocalist with Jeff Beck's U.S. tour over the years.

Friday-Sunday, Oct. 1-3, 7:30 p.m. Streetcar Named Desire

PG • 122 minutes

Based on the play by Tennessee Williams, this renowned drama follows troubled former schoolteacher Blanche DuBois (Vivien Leigh) as she leaves small-town Mississippi and moves in with her sister, Stella Kowalski (Kim Hunter), and her husband, Stanley (Marlon Brando), in New Orleans. Blanche's flirtatious Southernbelle presence causes problems for Stella and Stanley, who already have a volatile relationship, leading to even greater conflict in the Kowalski household.

At the Sunday evening screening, Professor Jim Crawford of the Theatre Department and Professor Virginia Craighill of the English Department will lead a discussion and Q&A after the film.

Sunday, Oct. 10, 7:30 p.m.

Twilight (2008)

PG-13 • 122 minutes

High-school student Bella Swan (Kristen Stewart), always a bit of a misfit, doesn't expect life to change much when she moves from sunny Arizona to rainy Washington state. Then she meets Edward Cullen (Robert Pattinson), a handsome but mysterious teen whose eyes seem to peer directly into her soul. Edward is a vampire whose family does not drink blood, and Bella, far from being frightened, enters into a dangerous romance with her immortal soulmate.

Sponsored by the SUT, Title IX, Campus Activities, and STIX. Outdoor screening Bishop's Common lawn, rain location Blackman Auditorium.

The SUT will be changing locations for the semester to Blackman Auditorium. Concessions will still be sold. Blackman Auditorium is located in Spencer Hall. Meteors, Wildflowers, Eagle Watch for the Draconid meteor shower on October 8 at nightfall and in the early evening. For once, there is a meteor shower that you don't have to get up in the middle of the night to see! On the down side, however, this is an unpredictable shower and there might not be that many meteors. On the upside, the waxing crescent moon will have set so moonlight won't interfere. Give your eyes plenty of time to adjust to the dark if you try to watch this meteor shower.

The Fall Virtual Wildflower Pilgrimage (FvWFP) will take place from Oct. 9 at 8 a.m. EDT until Oct. 17 at 11:59 p.m. EDT, sponsored by the Smokies Wildflower Pilgrimage and the Association of Southeastern Biologists. Anyone can participate-all you need is an iNaturalist account. I have done it in the spring and fall. It is fun to see what folks are reporting from all around the country. Registration for the FvWFP will open this at 8 a.m., EDT, Friday, Oct. 1. Here is the link to register: https://cvent. me/xkQ1Mm>. Remember, to participate in this virtual event, you need an iNaturalist username. Please have it handy when you

The 2021 University Deer Hunt map.

University Hunting Program

During the last 21 years, more than 2,000 animals have been safely harvested in and around central campus. The population of deer in Sewanee peaked in 2010 at 145 deer per square mile, approximately six times the herd density recommended by the Tennessee Wildlife Resources Agency. At the time, the ratio of does to bucks was in excess of 9 to 1, which creates an incredibly high annual reproductive rate. This ratio is the metric tracked most closely to ensure that the population remains in check. In 2020, the doe to buck ratio is 4 to 1 in hunted areas, but remains greater than 10 to 1 in areas that are not hunted.

The goals of the hunt are to reduce the total density of white-tailed deer on the Domain to approximately 25 deer per square mile, with a balanced sex ratio of one buck per doe. In order to better achieve these goals, the university hunt has harvest restrictions and quotas that are more stringent than those issued by the Tennessee Wildlife Resources Agency for the area. To review the specific rules for the hunt go to https://new. sewanee.edu/files/resources/university-hunt-rules-2020.pdf>. For details on why and how deer are managed on the domain, see the white-tailed deer management plan 2016 at https://new.sewanee.edu/files/resources/ white-tail-deer-management-plan-final-1-26-2016-2.pdf>.

The regular University archery season began on Sept. 25. This invitation-only hunt is generally open to all approved University faculty and staff, as well as their direct relatives (spouses, adult children, and parents). The hunt is also open to approved students. All participants must complete the Tennessee Bowhunter Safety Course (or other state equivalent) and in a TWRA Bowhunter Safety Field day, Hunters must also undergo a background check by the Sewanee Police Department, and participate in all mandatory meetings. All hunters are required to possess valid TN type 94 or sportsman's license and follow all TWRA rules and regulations at all times. For information on participating in the hunt, email Domain Management <domain@sewanee.edu>.

Snapdragon

Pets of the Week

Snapdragon & Dezi

Snapdragon is a five month old orange tabby and white kitten with a sweet demeanor. He is one of four plant-named kittens who all get along with each other and love to be petted; Snapdragon may be the biggest of the bunch. He is quick on his feet, and he's quick to climb into your lap. He'll look up at you adoringly, and you'll soon feel you've picked the right kitten. Snap up this orange-and-white snapdragon, or take home a whole bouquet with Nettle, Teasle, and/or Thistle! Snapdragon and his siblings are up-to-date on vaccinations, altered, FIV/FeLV negative, and microchipped. If you are interested in adopting, please visit <www.animalharbor. org/adoption-policy>.

Dezi is a three-year-old medium mixed breed dog who found herself in the shelter by no fault of her own. She was the result of an unwanted litter, then became pregnant herself. After being passed from person to person, she was finally taken into a loving home, but when they were not able to take her to their new home, she came to us. Dezi is full of energy, very affectionate, and loyal. If you think you can end the cycle of displacement and offer her a forever home once and for all, please consider adopting this sweet girl. Dezi is up-todate on vaccinations, spayed, microchipped, and heartwormnegative. If you are interested in adopting Dezi, please visit <www. animalharbor.org/adoptionpolicy>.

Animal Harbor is located at 56 Nor-Nan Rd., off AEDC Road, in Winchester. Call Animal Harbor at (931) 962-4472 for more information and check out the other pets at <www.animalharbor.org>.

BARDTOVERSE

Autumn

Season of mists and mellow fruitfulness, Close bosom-friend of the maturing sun; Conspiring with him how to load and bless With fruit the vines that round the thatch-eves run; To bend with apples the moss'd cottage-trees, And fill all fruit with ripeness to the core; To swell the gourd, and plump the hazel shells With a sweet kernel; to set budding more, And still more, later flowers for the bees, Until they think warm days will never cease, For summer has o'er-brimm'd their clammy cells. Who hath not seen thee oft amid thy store? Sometimes whoever seeks abroad may find Thee sitting careless on a granary floor, Thy hair soft-lifted by the winnowing wind; Or on a half-reap'd furrow sound asleep,
Drowsed with the fume of poppies, while thy hook
Spares the next swath and all its twined flowers:
And sometimes like a gleaner thou dost keep Steady thy laden head across a brook; Or by a cider-press, with patient look, Thou watchest the last oozings, hours by hours. Where are the songs of Spring? Ay, where are they? Think not of them, thou hast thy music too,--While barred clouds bloom the soft-dying day, And touch the stubble-plains with rosy hue; Then in a wailful choir the small gnats mourn Among the river sallows, borne aloft Or sinking as the light wind lives or dies; And full-grown lambs loud bleat from hilly bourn; Hedge-crickets sing; and now with treble soft The redbreast whistles from a garden-croft, And gathering swallows twitter in the skies.

—John Keats, Ode to Autumn
