Theatre/Sewanee Presents 'Sense and Sensibility'

The Theatre/Sewanee season opens with Kate Hamill's fresh, comedic adaptation of Jane Austen's beloved novel. Follow young Elinor and Marianne Dashwood after their father suddenly dies, leaving them financially and socially vulnerable in gossipy late 18th century England. In a world full of romance, rumors, and nosy neighbors, is it better to be rational like Elinor or sensitive like Marianne?

This production is directed by Visiting Assistant Professor Sarah Lacy Hamilton and will play in the Proctor Hill Theater Oct. 26-30, 2022. Show times are at 7:30 p.m., Wednesday through Saturday, and 2 p.m. on Sunday. Reserve your free tickets at <<https://www.eventbrite.com/e/sense-and-sensibility-tickets-430396175547>>.

Trail of Tears Commemorative Walk

The 2022 Trail of Tears Commemorative Walk will be on Saturday, Oct. 22. The Walk will begin at 11:45 a.m., at the pavilion on Wilson Street off the Old Cowan Road, and proceed .8 miles to the Library. Walkers, horseback riders, and horse/mule drawn wagons are welcome to participate.

There will be activities at the Franklin County Library including making corn husk dolls and beaded necklaces as well as music, displays and demonstrations. There will also be Indian Tacos and Fry Bread.

At 1 p.m., a Cherokee Storyteller will relate some of the Cherokee stories that have been handed down through the generations.

Bring your family to celebrate the Cherokee Trail of Tears as it moved through Winchester in October of 1838.

This event is sponsored by TNTOTA (Tennessee Trail of Tears Association), the Franklin County Historical Society and the Franklin County Library.

Trethewey to Present Haines Lecture

This year, the Haines Lecturer will be the poet Natasha Trethewey. She will deliver the 29th Haines Lecture at 4:30 p.m., Tuesday, Oct. 25, in Convocation Hall. It will also be livestreamed on the Sewanee English and Creative Writing Department's YouTube Channel <<https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=YXxUBnMDES8>>.

Trethewey served two terms as the 19th Poet Laureate of the United States (2012-2014). She is the author of five collections of poetry, "Monument" (2018), which was longlisted for the 2018 National Book Award; "Thrall" (2012); "Native Guard" (2006), for which she was awarded the Pulitzer Prize, "Bellocq's Ophelia" (2002); and "Domestic Work" (2000), which was selected by Rita Dove as the winner of the inaugural Cave Canem Poetry Prize for the best first book by an African American poet and won both the 2001 Mississippi Institute of Arts and Letters Book Prize and the 2001 Lillian Smith Award for Poetry. She is also the author of the memoir "Memorial Drive" (2020). Her book of nonfiction, "Beyond Katrina: A Meditation on the Mississippi Gulf Coast," appeared in 2010. She is the recipient of fellowships from the National Endowment for the Arts, the Guggenheim Foundation, the Rockefeller Foundation, the Beinecke Library at Yale, and the Bunting Fellowship Program of the Radcliffe Institute for Advanced Study at Harvard. At Northwestern University she is a Board of Trustees Professor of English in the Weinberg College of Arts and Sciences. In 2012 she was named Poet Laureate of the State of Mississippi and in 2013 she was inducted into the American Academy of Arts and Sciences.

Tracy City Receives $2.1 Million Trail Grant

The Town of Tracy City, in partnership with the Mountain Goat Trail Alliance has been awarded a $2.1 million grant from the Transportation Alternatives program of the Tennessee Department of Transportation. The grant will be used to extend the Mountain Goat Trail almost two miles, from downtown to Firetower Road north of Tracy City.

"The Mountain Goat Trail has been a great asset for Tracy City. We're excited to partner with the Mountain Goat Trail Alliance to extend the trail and give people even more access in our town to walking, running, and cycling," said Tracy City Mayor Nadene Moore.

The MGTA has recently completed a section of trail connecting Tracy City to Monteagle, bringing the total distance of completed Mountain Goat Trail to almost 12 miles. Planning is underway for construction of the trail through the I-24 intersection, from its current terminus at Mountain Outfitters to Tower Community Bank.

The Mountain Goat Trail is a rail-trail initiative to build a 40-mile walking and cycling path along the route of the historic Mountain Goat Railroad, from Cowan in Franklin County to Palmer in Grundy County. For more information go to <<https://www.mountaingoattrail.org>>.

Monteagle: CD Purchase Approved; Rate Increase Tabled

by Leslie Lytle, Messenger Staff Writer

At the Oct. 18 Monteagle Council Special Called meeting, the council agreed to move forward with an 18-month $677,000 certificate of deposit investment. The council tabled the water tap fee rate increase in order to collect more information, given the difference between the proposed rates to the rates of neighboring municipalities.

At the September meeting, two council members questioned moving the $677,000 from a money market to a 36-month CD, since the town might need the funds before the term ended for water tank rehabilitation. At the council's request, Mayor Marilyn Campbell Rodman investigated the interest on an 18-month CD. The approved CD investment will yield 2.25 percent, an increase of more than a percentage point from the current money market investment.

Taking up the proposal to increase water and sewer service rates, Utilities Manager John Condra said some of the fees were too high, particularly the fee for a 2-inch commercial tap. Alderman Nate Wilson observed Monteagle's proposed fee was 20-30 percent higher than Tracy City and Big Creek, but well below Sewanee.

"Is the concern we would price ourselves out of market?" Wilson asked. "There's too much variation," Alderwoman Dorraine Parmley said.

The council will revisit the proposed rate increases after collecting more information.

SUD: Proposed Rate Increase; Commissioner Election

by Leslie Lytle, Messenger Staff Writer

At the Oct. 18 meeting of the Sewanee Utility District Board of Commissioners, SUD manager Ben Beavers previewed a draft budget for 2023 calling for a 5 percent rate increase in order to pay employees a fair wage and cover the rising cost of fuel, electricity, and chemicals. The board discussed the upcoming election of a Marion County commissioner and approved a request to extend water service on Deepwoods Road, provided the prospective customers agreed to install a 6-inch service line.

Beavers' draft budget included an 8.7 percent increase for employee wages to match the Social Security Administration's increase to seniors. In addition to employee raises, rising chemical and electricity costs "will drive the budget" for next year, Beavers said. Chemicals and supplies for the water plant increased 12 percent last month, and TVA has raised the wholesale rate for electricity. On materials, Beavers expects 10-14 percent cost increase. "The killer is anything made out of metal," he insisted.

A 5 percent rate increase on water and sewer charges would increase customers' monthly bills in the range of $1.50-$4.

The board is considering charging a monthly fee to the 197 grinder pump customers. Grinder pumps cost $1,600-$1,800 and last eight to 10 years. "[Implementing a fee] would make grinder pump replacement more sustainable," Beavers said. A $10 per month grinder pump fee could offset the necessary rate increase by as much as 1.5 percent. However, Commissioner

VOTE YES ON AMENDMENT 1

To the Editor:

Vote yes on Amendment 1 on the ballot in November. This addition to the Tennessee Constitution will enshrine the current law that makes it illegal for a prospective worker to be denied employment due to membership in, affiliation with or previous affiliation with any labor union or employee organization. The law also prohibits the requirement to join a union in order to get the job, thus "right to work."

I was voluntarily a union member for 32 years. Membership, and thus dues-paying, should be at the employee's discretion, not a condition of employment. Private sector unions have an important place in our society, but membership should not be mandatory to hold the job.

It's also wrong to be forced to pay dues to an organization that may then endorse political candidates holding views morally repugnant to an individual. With no right-to-work protection, one could face a choice between deeply-held beliefs and putting food on the table.

Nothing in the amendment or law precludes employees from joining or forming a union to negotiate pay and working conditions, it just prohibits mandatory union membership or denial of a job due to membership. I urge you to read the actual text and vote to add this right to Tennessee's Constitution.

Bill Kershner, Sewanee

Editor's Note: The State of Tennessee already has a right to work law. Read more on the State of Tennessee website <<https://www.tn.gov/content/dam/tn/workforce/documents/majorpublications/requiredposters/Right-to-Work-Poster.pdf>>.

The Federal Election Campaign Act prohibits corporations and labor organizations from making contributions in connection with federal elections. Read more from the Federal Election Commission <<https://www.fec.gov/help-candidates-and-committees/taking-receipts-political-party/who-can-and-cant-contribute-party-committee/>>.

Proposed Amendment No. 1

As proposed by SENATE JOINT RESOLUTION NO. 648 (111th) & SENATE JOINT RESOLUTION NO. 2 (112th) <<https://publications.tnsosfiles.com/acts/112/resolutions/sjr0002.pdf>>.

Summary:

This amendment would add a new section to article XI of the Tennessee Constitution to make it illegal for any person, corporation, association, or the State of Tennessee or its political subdivisions to deny or attempt to deny employment to any person because of the person's membership in, affiliation with, resignation from, or refusal to join or affiliate with any labor union or employee organization.

Question:

Shall Article XI of the Constitution of Tennessee be amended by adding the following language as a new section?

It is unlawful for any person, corporation, association, or this state or its political subdivisions to deny or attempt to deny employment to any person by reason of the person's membership in, affiliation with, resignation from, or refusal to join or affiliate with any labor union or employee organization.

She attended The University of the South's School of Theology in 1995, and was ordained to the Priesthood on Sept. 1997. She was the program director for DOCC Disciples Christ in Community and instructed seminary students in Program and Education Formation at The School of Theology; she was priest in charge of St. James Episcopal Church, Midway, and Christ Church, Tracy City. After retirement she was supply priest to St. Agnes', Cowan, beginning in the spring of 2020, until her passing. She helped form many support groups on the Mountain. She was very involved as a board member of Folks At Home and helped form many groups within F@H. She was preceded in death by step-son Patrick Wade Hutton.

She is survived by her husband, Peter; daughters, Tonya Diane (David) Nelson and Lucia Michelle Jenkins; step-sons Michael John, Anthony Dean, and Shawn Thomas Hutton; sister, Gayla Ann Hallman, of Springfield, Ore.; brother, Kenny Dorsey of Oakridge, Ore.; three grandchildren, and two step-grandchildren.

A Memorial Service will be at 10:30 a.m. on Saturday, Oct. 29, 2022, at St. James Episcopal Church in Midway, with The Rev. Cindy Duffes officiating. The Rev. Linda donated her body to the Vanderbilt Anatomical Donor Program, and when her ashes come back to her husband, the family will scatter them at Clearwater Beach, Fla., where she loved to be.

Sisters of St. Mary to Offer Virtual Retreat

"How are you doing?" someone asks, and you answer that you're doing fine. And you are. But you don't add that you are not the same person you used to be, or that you don't know where that person went. Or that you are beginning to suspect she may never be coming back. This is uncharted territory. Join the Rev. Barbara Crafton for this virtual retreat held on Zoom. Participants will consider how to live and move and have our being in a new world we did not choose to enter. But we do know that others have walked the road we're walking and found hope. At the end of our time together, we'll have gotten a little closer to doing that ourselves.

The Rev. Barbara Crafton will facilitate the retreat. Barbara Cawthorne Crafton is an Episcopal priest and author. She heads The Geranium Farm, an institute for the promotion of spiritual growth. The Farm published her Almost-Daily eMo, a meditation read online by tens of thousands worldwide. She has served a number of churches, including historic Trinity Church, Wall Street, St. John's-in-the-Village in Greenwich Village, St. Clement's in Manhattan's theatre district and St. James, the American church in Florence. She was a maritime chaplain on the New York waterfront, and served as a chaplain at Ground Zero after the attack on the World Trade Center. A spiritual director, Crafton has led many retreats throughout the United States and abroad. Her many books include books of essays, books of daily meditations, a book about the aftermath of the World Trade Center bombing ("Mass in Time of War") and more recently, books about depression, vocation and the ALSOLIFE.

The event will take place from 9 a.m. to 1:30 p.m., Saturday, Nov. 5. The cost is $30, and participants can learn more and register at <www.communityofstmarysouth.org>.

also run a nonprofit community grants organization and was the liaison between St. Mary's College and the St. Mary's County Public Schools for several grant projects. I became a grants consultant and program assessor for public school grants.

My husband of 49 years, Robin Bates, and I have retired to Sewanee. Currently, I am Board President of the Hospitality Shop Auxiliary and a Godly Play Sunday school teacher at St. Mark and St. Paul.

Ben Beavers

Ben Beavers — My name is Ben Beavers, and I am running for election to the Sewanee Community Council in District 2. I graduated from the Sewanee Academy and then attended the University of Tennessee Knoxville. My wife and I moved back to the Mountain in 1993 and have lived in the Jump Off community since 2004. We have two children that were born and grew up in Sewanee.

I previously served on the community council, representing District 2 when we lived on the Domain. I am a member of the Sewanee Volunteer Fire Department and have served in various volunteer roles at St. Andrew's-Sewanee School. I was a small business owner for 15 years in Sewanee as well. Currently, I am the manager of the Sewanee Utility District.

I look forward to being an active voice for all the people in District 2 and would appreciate your consideration.

District 3 — one open seat

No Candidates. We will accept late petitions for District 3 until Nov. 3. Qualified candidates submitting a petition by the deadline will be included in the Nov. 8 regular election. Petitions will be available from John Solomon or at the University Lease Office.

Marilyn Phelps

District 4 — one open seat

Marilyn Phelps — I moved to Sewanee in 2012 with my husband Tom Phelps, C'74. I am a retired Licensed Clinical Social Worker and worked as a private practitioner here for 10 years. My husband and I have been co-chairs of the fundraising committee of the Sewanee Community Chest. I finished 4 years as a board member of Folks at Home in December. I think my experience with Folks at Home and the Sewanee Community Chest, as well as my professional experience as a social worker for 30 years, has enabled me to understand the needs

Donnie McBee pointed out a $10 per month fee would only generate $1,200 in 10 years, not enough to cover grinder pump replacement.

Beavers will factor the various scenarios into the budget and present the data for the board's review at the Nov. 15 meeting.

Marion County SUD Commissioner Ronnie Hoosier is term limited and cannot pursue reelection. The board is seeking candidates for the December election. Prospective candidates must be Marion County residents and SUD customers. (The board consists of four Franklin County commissioners and one Marion County commissioner.) SUD commissioners serve a four-year term, are expected to attend monthly meetings and to participate in commissioner training. Commissioners receive a $50 monthly stipend.

Prospective customers on Deepwoods Road requested SUD extend water service to two lots which may be divided into four lots. In keeping with SUD policy, the customers agreed to assume all installation and infrastructure costs. Rather than extending the service with a 2-inch or 4-inch line, the board decided the extended service must be done with a 6-inch line to accommodate a fire hydrant. Commissioner Doug Cameron stressed the importance of a hydrant not only for fire protection, but to allow for line flushing to prevent disinfectant byproducts from accumulating in the line. Cameron also noted, distance from a hydrant was factored into calculating fire insurance premiums. "We should go with a 6-inch line, regardless," said Board President Charlie Smith. "There is still a lot of interest in getting water out there." McBee concurred, "Do it right the first time."

The board approved a resolution acknowledging SUD's financial responsibility to pay a 15 percent match ($250,500) for American Recovery Plan grant funding. Beavers commented, the expected reimbursement from the University for the Highway 41A project would come close to offsetting the matching funds requirement.

Rhea Bowden

At-Large — two open seats

Rhea Bowden — Rhea Bowden is running for an open at-large seat on the Community Council. He is a 1976 graduate of the University. Rhea and his wife, Nancy, have owned a home in the Deepwoods area since 2010, and moved to the Mountain in 2013. After a 32-year career in sales and manufacturing in Greenville, South Carolina, and a 12-year stint with the University Relations department at Sewanee, Rhea retired in July 2020. He is a member of the Montegale-Sewanee Rotary Club and is active in various service projects the Club engages. Rhea is very appreciative of the people who live and work in Sewanee and is deeply interested in the welfare of the community.

Laura Willis

Laura Willis — Laura Willis has lived in Sewanee since 1991 when her husband, John, joined the College faculty. They have raised two sons here and have been active members in the community.

For 10 years, Laura was the director of the Community Action Committee where she mobilized volunteers to greatly expand the CAC's services. She was later editor of the Sewanee Mountain Messenger, adding new voices and columns to the weekly paper. She also has served as the University's representative to the Duck River Electric Membership Corp. Laura has been involved in many area organizations including the University Day Care Center, Sewanee Business Alliance, and Folks at Home.

Serving on the Community Council as an at-large member, Laura believes she can offer fair and thoughtful representation to the entire community rooted in her years of experience in Sewanee.

Babson Center Welcomes Petya Grady, C'03

Petya Grady, C'03, program manager at Teamable and co-founder and board chair at CodeCrew, will be the Babson Center's 2022 Humphreys Entrepreneur-in-Residence for the Advent Semester. When she began her career in tech, Petya's liberal arts education was crucial. In Petya's view, "learning across disciplines was a gift that was defined by its embrace of new ideas and continuous evolution."

While on campus, Grady will meet with students and faculty and deliver a campus presentation, "Lessons from a Liberal Arts Major Working in Tech," at 4:30 p.m., Thursday, Oct. 27, in Convocation Hall. This event is co-sponsored by the Office of Civic Engagement, Sewanee DataLab, and the Departments of Math and Computer Science. All are welcome to attend. Masks are optional.

Teamable, an HRtech startup in Memphis, Tenn., is an end-to-end software platform that empowers talent professionals to find top performers, connect them to fulfilling work, and drive business growth. Their clients include Spotify, Elastic, Canva, Lyft, and other Fortune 500 companies. Prior to joining Teamable, Petya spent several years working in tech in user experience strategy, program management, and corporate innovation supporting brands such as ServiceMaster/Terminix, FedEx, Hilton, and St. Jude Children's Cancer Research Hospital.

As a native Bulgarian and a woman working in tech, Petya became an advocate for promoting diversity and inclusion in the tech industry. She co-founded CodeCrew, a nonprofit organization providing computer science training to under-represented students in Memphis and currently serves as the Board Chair, focusing on organizational development, fundraising, and finance. What started as a small passion project became an industry leading organization with national recognition. Last February, CodeCrew was a recipient of Nike's Black Community Commitment Grant.

The Humphreys Entrepreneur-in-Residence program is made possible by a generous gift from Debra and David Humphreys, C'79. The Humphreys residencies brings outstanding and innovative business leaders and entrepreneurs to the University to provide experiential perspectives to undergraduates.

SCCF's Round the Mountain Festival Fun for the Whole Family

To celebrate the 10th anniversary of the South Cumberland Community Fund, the Fund is staging the Round the Mountain Festival on Saturday, Oct. 22, from 1-9 p.m. at Old Roundhouse Park in Tracy City. The Festival will feature local musicians, crafts, exhibits, food trucks and more, and will cap off with a street dance. The Caverns is a sponsor of the Round the Mountain Fest.

Old Roundhouse Park is also site of the Special Places Project, a mural co-designed and co-painted by people of the Cumberland Plateau and the artist Andee Rudloff. The mural was finished on Oct. 9 and will be dedicated during the festival.

A key activity for the 10th Anniversary Celebration for South Cumberland Community Fund is a special grant round for organizations that collaborate on a project and request funds. The Fund will be publicly celebrating two grants at the Festival, a $35,000 grant to Mountain T.O.P, Housing Sewanee, Green|Spaces, BetterFi, and the Littel-Partin Center to form a housing hub, a single source for housing information on the Plateau. In addition, Christians Celebrating God's Bounty of Winchester, Volunteer Behavioral Health, and Catholic Charities will receive a $15,000 grant to support the launch of a free medical clinic in Tracy City. Come celebrate the achievement of these organizations.

One of the highlights of the Festival will be performances by Grundy County Elementary students, under the direction of Ben Ayers, the new elementary school music teacher for Grundy Schools. An accomplished multi-genre musician, Ayers has been working with students to build their knowledge of old time music, and that work has been supported by South Cumberland Community Fund and the Caverns.

Ayers will also perform with musical friends later in the afternoon. Away from the main stage, the Festival will include plenty of activities for people young and old.

Margaret Matens will be bringing her educational animal menagerie to entertain and inform. Patrick Dean of the Mountain Goat Trail Alliance will lead a short walk to provide an update on the trail and future plans. Lance Clay will exhibit pottery making, and Amy Ray, co-owner of a self-sustaining farm in Coalmont will bring a wool picker, carder and wheel to demonstrate working with fiber arts. Jackie Lawley of the Swiss Historical Society will display wine-making using antique equipment. Volunteers in goat costumes will entertain children, as will bouncy houses. Grundy County Heritage Center will be open all day.

To keep up-to-date with plans, follow South Cumberland Community Fund on Facebook and Instagram, or visit the website at <southcumberlandcommunityfund.org/events>.

What's Grain Got to Do With It?

The Southeast Tennessee Young Farmers is hosting a free community discussion from 10 a.m. to noon, Saturday, Oct. 22, in the Torian Room of the duPont Library at the University of the South.

Scott Nelson, author of "Oceans of Grain, How American Wheat Remade the World," and Mike McLain, Regional Manager of King Arthur Baking Company, will lead a discussion on grain for anyone interested in history, geopolitics, local and global food systems (grains make up 50 percent of the average American diet), and access to power (surely that's everyone).

In "Oceans of Grain," historian Scott Nelson reveals how the consolidation, storage, and distribution of grains have shaped geopolitics and built empires throughout history and into the present, with particular emphasis on current events in Russia and Ukraine. Mike McLain will explore and explain the dynamics of grain farming, storage, and movement in our current US and global economy.

This event is open to the public and a part of a larger conversation about the important but missing ingredient of food-grade grain in our regional food economy. To learn more or to register for this event please visit <https://southeasttennesseeyoungfarmers.com/events>.

Fluency Boot Camp. Photo provided

Rotary Reading Boot Camp

Monteagle-Sewanee Rotary Club volunteers and some sorority and fraternity students from the University of the South, Sewanee completed the first iteration this academic year of the Fluency Boot Camp at Monteagle Elementary School, with the help and support of Principal Veronica Rogers Horton and Fluency and Reading Intervention Specialist Kim Parton. Of course, the heroes were the kids. The success of this initiative was thanks to the coordination and scheduling efforts of Rotarians Martha Krenson and Kathy Henslee.

This service project was started earlier this calendar year, April 2022, and led to an average increase of 9 percent in reading proficiency of first, second and third grade kids. As a result, the Monteagle-Sewanee Rotary Club joined again with Monteagle Elementary School to duplicate that success this academic year. After a short session of training, every Monday, Wednesday, and Friday, 15 volunteer Rotarians, community members, and students sat down with two kids each, for about 20 minutes to practice reading accuracy and speed. The students' excitement at meeting with their partners was always palpable. They elbowed each other to get to the volunteer assigned to them. But most exciting were the volunteers' stories and emotions. One Rotarian volunteer, not quite 45 years old, was assessed by one of his charges to be 73. When the volunteer showed disappointment, the kid altered his assessment to 69, just to appease the volunteer. One student volunteer was seen almost in tears at the awards ceremony, pictured here, and told me, "I wish we could do this all year long." Her sentiment is duplicated by all volunteers.

The next iteration of the Fluency Boot Camp will be in February 2023. Meanwhile, we await the results of the beautiful labor of love and the success of these kids. Without reading, everything in school is difficult: word problems, homework, test directions. This sacred trust between the community, Rotary, and MES is a milestone in both the students' and the volunteers' lives. - reported by May Kamalick, President, Monteagle-Sewanee Rotary

'Christian Icons' at Frame Gallery

Frame Gallery is hosting a reception with conversation for their upcoming show, "Christian Icons," written by Sr. Eliseea Papacioc 5-6:30 p.m., Friday, Oct. 21. The Rev. John Runkle and Martha Keeble, icon writer and teacher will discuss the icons on display and information about icon writing. The public is welcome to attend. Several icons will be for sale and commissions for new work are available.

Sister Eliseea Papacioc is an internationally-known iconographer and a nun in the Romanian Orthodox Church. From her home in the village of Bradetu, located in the foothills of central Romania, Sr. Eliseea creates an impressive portfolio of icons, several of which have been exhibited in Moscow, Beijing and New York.

For many centuries, icons have played a significant role in the spirituality of Christians in the Eastern Orthodox Church, serving more than as simply religious paintings, but as windows into the divine. In recent years, icons have grown in popularity and spiritual significance for many in the Western Church. According to journalist Andreea Câmpeanu, "Sr. Eliseea's iconography has caught the attention of experts and enthusiasts around the world as much for its exquisite detail as for its unique style."

Sr. Eliseea was raised in a devout Orthodox family, during the mid-20th century when the ruling communist regime attempted to crush Christianity and all who practiced the faith in Romania. Both her father and uncle were imprisoned. Her father, an Orthodox priest, did not survive imprisonment and her uncle, an Orthodox bishop, suffered lifelong disabilities. Sr. Eliseea, her mother and brother endured severe ostracism and deprivation during this period of communist oppression. After the fall of communism in Eastern Europe and the rebirth of the Orthodox Church and the spiritual arts, she and other Romanian artists were discovered by the West.

The Smithsonian Institute first brought Sr. Eliseea to the United States to take part in its annual Folklife Festival in 1999. Soon thereafter, she returned to the US and has several exhibits at the John Paul II Cultural Center in Washington, D.C. Her patronage has expanded to include not only museums and churches, but also private commissions.

Met Live in HD Tickets Available

Everyone associated with the world-renowned Ralston Room in duPont Library is excited to host, for the first time, a full season of the Met Opera Live in HD. The repertory involves operatic classics like "Don Giovanni," "La Traviata," and "Der Rosenkavalier," while also bringing some contemporary works to life. These include "The Hours," an operatic treatment of Michael Cunningham's novel (also the basis of the 2002 film starring Meryl Streep and Nicole Kidman) and "Champion," based on the life of boxer Emile Griffith. Terence Blanchard, the celebrated jazz trumpeter, composed "Champion" and, when his hugely successful opera "Fire Shut up in My Bones" was produced at the Metropolitan Opera last year, became the first African-American composer ever represented in that house.

The first broadcast of the season, at 11:45 a.m., Saturday, Oct. 22, features "Medea" by Luigi Cherubini. Cherubini, the Italian/French composer who lived in bloody revolutionary times around 1800, writes the tour-de-force title role for the vengeful, murderous anti-hero, sung at the Met for the first time by Sondra Radvanovsky. Tickets ($25) are limited and must be purchased in advance <<https://www.ticket-tailor.com/events/sewanee-summer-music-festival/756980>>.

The Ralston Room, known formally as the William Ralston Music Listening Library & Archive, is located on the second floor of Jessie Ball duPont Library, at 178 Georgia Ave., Sewanee. For more information, please email Stephen Ray Miller <smiller@sewanee.edu>.

Brooke Despriet and Katherine Petty Win Division III Doubles Title

Brooke Despriet and Katherine Petty wrapped up a phenomenal weekend as they represented the University of the South by being named the Champions of Division III Doubles at the Intercollegiate Tennis Association (ITA) Cup, Oct. 15., from the Rome Tennis Center.

The No. 4 team in the draw advanced to the final after winning three contests in the main draw. In the Round of 16, Despriet/Petty defeated Cate Cushing/Trinity Levy of Trinity (Texas), 6-1, 6-3.

Friday in the quarterfinals, the Tigers duo knocked off Carnegie Mellon's (Pa.) Crystal Zhou/Danna Taylor, 6-4, 6-3. Later that day, Despriet/Petty eliminated the top-seed in the draw, Shianna Guo and Sylvania Mikos of Chicago (Ill.), 6-4, 6-3, to advance to Saturday's final.

Playing its second straight UC opponent in Claudia Ng and Perene Wang, the Tigers were not phased, as Despriet/Petty rolled to a 6-3, 6-1 win to capture the championship for Division III Women's Tennis in doubles.

This is Sewanee's second doubles team in program history to win the small college national championship for Division III, joining Kristin Ialacci/Linnie Wheelless who won the event in the fall of 1993.

Along with their victory at the ITA Regional Championships, Despriet/Petty will also be named All-Americans by the ITA, which will be announced at the end of the 2022-23 season.

Additionally, Alice Hall and Ansley Carpenter, who made it to the semifinals of the main draw in this tournament, will also be named ITA All-Americans after collecting a Round of 16 win at the ITA Cup. In addition, Hall will be named All-America in Singles after collecting an opening-round win in Rome.

Volleyball Posts Fourth Set Rally to Take Down Millsaps

The University of the South volleyball team posted a 3-1 victory versus Millsaps College in a Southern Athletic Association (SAA) contest on Sunday from Juhan Gymnasium. The Tigers had a come-from-behind effort in the fourth set to clinch the match.

Sewanee played its game in the opening set, posting a .209 attack percentage with three attack errors on 43 swings. Meanwhile, Millsaps was limited to a .065 percentage (11-8-46) and spent most of the set in the negative.

In set number one, Sewanee won eight of the first 10 points, including six straight points. The momentum stayed with the Purple and White, as they had a 21-12 lead.

Millsaps did come back and make it interesting, 23-17, but the Tigers won back-to-back points, with the clinching point coming off a Lydia Goffi ace.

The Majors came out strong in the second set, out-killing the Tigers, 16-9, in the frame to win 25-19.

In the third, tied at 14, Sewanee went on an 11-2 run to finish the set with a 25-16 victory.

The story came in the fourth set. Sewanee trailed 21-13 and used an 8-1 run to cut the deficit to one, 22-21. Despite an Alyssa Jolly kill to get Millsaps back to a two-point lead, Sewanee tied it up on a Laurel Burkhardt kill and a Millsaps attack error.

The teams would eventually go into "lingering death," with each team tied at 24 points. Millsaps had four different opportunities to send the match to a fifth set, but back-to-back attack errors by the Majors gave the Tigers the victory in four, 30-28.

Offense Powers Men's Soccer Past Millsaps 4-0

On Oct. 16, the University of the South men's soccer team took on Millsaps on Senior Day, as the Tigers celebrated their four seniors. Four Tigers found the back of the net — Trevor Reichman, David Edge, Austin Miller, and Mencken Camp.

After a slow start offensively, the Tigers came alive, scoring three goals in 12 minutes.

The first goal, the eventual game winner, came in the 25th minute when Trevor Reichman finished a pass from Charlie Williams.

Three minutes later, David Edge finished a cross from Wells Durham to double the Sewanee lead.

In the 37th minute, Austin Miller sent a rocket shot into the top corner of the net to give the Tigers a 3-0 lead.

JP Furman had one save in the first half.

In the second half, Mencken Camp found the back of the net off of a pass from Connor Cheynet to make it 4-0 Sewanee.

Cross Country at Berry Invite

The University of the South cross country teams competed at the Berry Invitational on Oct. 15, from the Clara Bowl. The women's team picked up a fourth place finish. The men's team placed in eighth.

In Sewanee's first 6K race of the 2022 season, Emma Grace Hendrickson paced the Tigers with a 19th place finish of 24:38.8.

Janie Schmitt posted a career-best time of 24:44.8 for a 21st place finish, improving her 6K PR by 23 seconds.

Merrit Newton also had a career-best on Saturday. Finishing in 28th overall, the senior clocked in at 25:14.4.

Allison Haworth (25:22.4), Sam Ude (25:44.2) and Clara Earley (26:00.6) raced in their first collegiate 6K event and scored for the Tigers.

Jean Tankard also had a personal best with a 27:09.5 to improve her personal best by almost a minute, 40 seconds.

Bella Francois (27:58.9) also had a career-best finish for Sewanee on Saturday.

Senior Sam Kearley posted Sewanee's best 8K time of the season to this point with a 28:19.7 time for 61st place overall.

Alex Coley (28:49.9), Brandon Christ (29:48.8) and Christian Shushok (30:05.1) all scored for Sewanee.

Bill Robinson (30:07.3) and Patrick Rodriguez (30:32.2) each set new season bests for the Tigers.

Thomson's Goal Gives Sewanee Sixth Straight Win

On Oct. 16, the University of the South women's soccer team took on Millsaps on Senior Day, as they celebrated their seven seniors. Kate Thomson scored on a free kick to give the Tigers a 1-0 advantage that would hold the rest of the game. This marks the sixth win in a row for the Tigers.

Sewanee had their offense energized in the first half, firing off nine shots.

Bea Richardson, Ashlyn Richards, and Brianna Fee all took shots that were on goal, but they were turned away.

In the 33rd minute, Leah Atkins stopped the only Millsaps offering that was on goal for her only save of the game.

In the 64th minute, Kate Thomson took a free kick from just above the box that found the back of the net to put Sewanee up 1-0.

The Tiger defense would stand tall, not allowing a single Millsaps shot in the second half to seal the win.

Backyard Birds

The backyard birds where we are staying in Bend, Ore., are actually very similar to those at home. The yard is full of Western Junipers, very similar to our Eastern Red Cedars. They are full of the blue, berry-like cones and various birds are feeding on them, especially American Robins, which are common all over the United States. Another familiar and widespread bird, the House Finch, greets us with song in the morning, though the song does sound somewhat different. Their native range is the West, but they have successfully become established in the east since a few birds were released on Long Island. Also spotted, appropriately, is the Cedar Waxwing, since, as the name indicates, they love to feed on cedar "berries." The bird feeders attract chickadees, but they are Black-capped Chickadees, not the Carolina Chickadees that we usually have. The most exciting, and definitely different, bird, was a Common Raven, though they are in fact not all that common. In trying to track down an unusual croaking sound, we found it was coming from a raven at the very top of a juniper. In the East, they are only found in the northernmost parts of the States and in the mountains, so it was a real treat to see one.

Hammy

Graycie

MARC's Mountain Adoptables

Meet Hammy & Graycie

Meet Hammy! A big ol' baby. His favorite past times include patrolling the perimeter of his yard, snuggling in for a nap, or running full speed to anywhere. He's a large guy and can be quite clumsy at times. Hammy likes to talk with his voice and his paws. He's a very sweet boy but can be standoffish until he gets to know you. Hammy has never met a young person he doesn't like. He's a great protector and it gives him great joy to alert you when there could possibly be danger ... and even if there is no danger. He loves car rides, and gets excited to be on a leash but forgets that he's 90 plus pounds. Hammy does good with cats and other dogs. He has no experience with farm animals. If you are looking for a great dog with lots of potential, look no further. Hammy loves with his whole heart and would like to find a family who will give him patience and love.

Graycie is a sweet outgoing little kitten. She is most likely to be in your lap to cuddle and get lots of loving. Graycie also is a playful girl who will bring lots of joy into your home. Come meet Graycie.

If you would like to learn more about Hammy and Graycie, please fill out an Adoption Application on the MARC website <www.marc4change.org> or contact Sue Scruggs at (423) 619-3845. These pets are fostering on the Sewanee-Montecagle Mountain and are easy to meet. All MARC animals ready for adoption are spayed or neutered and up-to-date on their vaccines and preventatives.

MARC is a 501(c)(3) nonprofit animal welfare organization. It is not a shelter and relies on foster homes to save animals. MARC also provides low cost and free spay/neuter procedures for animals and is available for teaching humane education in schools and to community organizations.

FROMBARDTOVERSE

by Robin Bates

Autumn

The morns are meeker than they were -
The nuts are getting brown -
The berry's cheek is plumper -
The rose is out of town.

The maple wears a gayer scarf -
The field a scarlet gown -
Lest I sh'd be old-fashioned
I'll put a trinket on.
