Welcome to the South Music Festival on Nov. 6

Country music singer songwriter and native son of South Pittsburg, Corey Layne, is producing the Welcome to the South Music Festival. This outdoor music festival will be held Saturday, Nov. 6, in downtown South Pittsburg. It will feature established country music artists Texas Hill, Corey Layne, Dave Fenley, Kyndal Inskeep, Chase Wilson and Brent Michael Wood.

The six-hour music festival is being billed as a celebration of Layne's hometown and as a show of support for healthcare workers and first responders after Layne suffered a serious bout with COVID-19. Held within days of Veterans Day 2021, the festival will also honor and provide time to reflect on the sacrifice of the nation's veterans and active military.

Tickets will only be sold on the day of the event beginning at 10 a.m. The event is being held from 11 a.m. until 5 p.m. The price for admission is $20 per person and children 10 and under are admitted free of charge. All healthcare workers, first responders, veterans, and active military (all branches) will be admitted to the show at half-price for $10 with a valid I.D.

Food and beverage vendors include the local American Legion Post, the South Pittsburg Area Revitalization Quest (SPARQ), Uncle Curt's Burger, Big Bob's Shrimp and other food trucks.

The net proceeds from the event will benefit two nonprofits: SPARQ, formed to cultivate the community's economic, social and cultural growth; and the South Pittsburg Ministerial Association that assists the homeless and underserved.

Sponsors include Adventure Off-Road Park and Nature Center, Martin & Company, Collins Building Materials, US101 (WUSY-FM/100.7 in Chattanooga) and WEPG, the River (104.9). Waypoint Vets will attend the festival to share information on how to support their mission to provide adventures free of charge to veterans.

'Unrivaled' to be Screened in Seawanee on Nov. 4

by Bailey Basham, Messenger Staff Writer

More than 120 years in the making, makers of the documentary on Seawanee's historic 1899 football team are ready to share the project.

"Unrivaled" is the ultimate David and Goliath story, according to the project's official website, and the film tells the story of the legendary Seawanee Tigers from 1899 who achieved the unthinkable.

The story goes that in the year 1899, the Seawanee Tigers football team boarded a train for a six day, 2,500-mile trip, during which they were scheduled to play five games against some of today's college football favorites. At the end of the trip, broken and exhausted, the team returned to the Mountain having outscored opponents Texas, Texas A&M, LSU, Tulane and Ole Miss 322-10.

Norman Jetmundsen, class of 1976, said he and several other alumni have been working on the film for almost five years. The team includes David Crews, C'76, Kate Gillespie, C'97, Lloyd Lochridge, C'12, Amelia Koch, C'13, and Alana Hogg, a seasoned web and graphic designer.

"We have been editing and fine tuning the film, trying to get the very best [pieces of the story] weaved together in a seamless narrative, which has been a long process. To be close to the end now is very satisfying. We have had many donors who have supported and encouraged us, and we appreciate that they took a leap of faith in donating money in the belief that our film will be worthwhile. We have had many others at Seawanee and elsewhere who have contributed in various ways to the film, and it is gratifying to have this kind of support and to see it coming to fruition," Jetmundsen said.

Throughout the research and filmmaking process, Jetmundsen said the story of the football team continued to reveal itself, with surprises around every corner.

"When we started, we thought we'd find a lot of lore about the team, but we found a lot of amazing facts and stories to back up the lore. We uncovered the first photograph of a Seawanee football game, which was Seawanee vs. Tennessee in Chattanooga in 1891. We also found a photo of a game in 1899, which was a photo of the Seawanee vs. Texas game," Jetmundsen said. "In the process, we realized if we had not done this film now, much of this would have been lost to history and forgotten by the next generation. Instead, we are preserving an important part of Seawanee history, as well as Southern history and college football history."

The filmmakers also learned more about Cal Burrows, the team's invaluable African American trainer and the unsung hero of the story.

"Remarkably, someone researching the archives at Seawanee came across a student's scrapbook, which contained a photo of Cal that is the only known photograph of him," he said.

A particularly special part of the film will be its sound track which is being created and recorded by Bobby Horton, a musician known nationally for his work on several of the acclaimed documentarian Ken Burns' films.

"Another unique part of our film is that we have about a dozen original paintings for our film done primarily by Ernie Eldridge, which add a rich and unique dimension to our film," Jetmundsen said. "We hope that everyone who sees the film will have a new appreciation for what this team accomplished, that they will learn a great deal they didn't know, that everyone will appreciate this part of history being preserved, and that they will be inspired by the character, grit and resilience of the players."

A sneak preview of the film will be shown in Seawanee at 8 p.m., Thursday, Nov. 4, in Guery Auditorium. The official premiere will be held at 4 p.m., Saturday, Jan. 29, 2022, at Montgomery Bell Academy in Nashville. ## University Commits $10 Million to Village Initiatives

by Leslie Lytle, Messenger Staff Writer

The University has committed to a $10 million investment of the endowment in the Village and related initiatives. David Shipps, Vice President for Economic Development and Community Relations, made the announcement at the Oct. 25 Seawanee Community Council meeting. In regular business, the council voted to hold a special election to fill a vacant seat and approved a constitution revision formalizing the decision to expand council representation and voting district boundaries to include the entire 37375 zip code. The council also discussed how to better facilitate communication to the community at large.

The investment "will allow [the University] to fulfill its mission to continue to attract and retain students, faculty and staff," Shipps said. He stressed the endowment had a "fiduciary responsibility" to make investments yielding returns, which helped realize the mission. Investments in the Village have both a "financial return" and a "qualitative return," Shipps pointed out. He forecast investments focusing on "commercial offerings befitting a college community" and "residential solutions" providing affordable housing.

Council representative Eric Keen asked if given the "investment structure...non-revenue generating" initiatives such as the Seawanee Community Center fit into the plan. "Look at it as a portfolio, rather than individual initiatives," Shipps replied. Non-revenue generating initiatives could "fold into the strategy."

Provost Nancy Berner outlined two options for filling the District 4 seat vacated by Mary Priestley who no longer lives in the district. At the September meeting, the council discussed the possibility of Priestley serving as an at-large member and an at-large representative residing in District 4 assuming Priestley's seat. Berner explained the constitution did not allow "swapping" seats since council members were elected representatives. Nor did the constitution allow for appointing a representative to fill a vacancy. By the constitution, the seat could remain vacant until the November 2022 election or the council could hold a special election to fill the vacancy. Lynn Stubblefield volunteered to serve as election officer. Council member Phil White suggested voting by email, as well as at the Lease Office.

Monteagle Receives $133,000 in Donations: Police, Fire, Parks

by Leslie Lytle, Messenger Staff Writer

At the Oct. 25 Monteagle Council meeting, residents learned of donations totaling $133,000 for police department, fire department, and parks needs. During regular business, the council revisited the question of possible pollution of the drinking water supply from runoff originating at the RBT construction site.

Katie and Tim Trahan donated $5,000 for the purchase of a generator for the police department to guarantee computer viability and communication in a power outage. Multiple donors enabled the city to purchase a new-used fire truck costing $149,000; $28,000 in donations came from the South Cumberland Community Fund, $55,000 from the Monteagle Sunday School Assembly, and the city received another $20,000 in small donations from residents. Morton Memorial Methodist Church pledged $25,000-$27,000 for the purchase of playground equipment at Hannah Picket Park, total cost $45,000.

Mayor Marilyn Campbell Rodman expressed gratitude to the donors on behalf of the city. Monteagle, in turn, donated $500 to Isaiah House 117 where children awaiting foster care placement will be provided for in a loving, home-like environment. Children often waited for foster placement at the sheriff's office or other sites anxiety provoking to a child, said coordinator Susan Johnson.

Revisiting documentation presented in September by engineer Jim Waller showing photographs of muddy water polluting Laurel Lake and citing the RBT construction site as the source of the pollution, city engineer Travis Wilson responded to Waller's request for information about Monteagle's Source Water Protection Plan.

"It is against the law to hand out classified information for infrastructure as part of the Homeland Protection Act," Wilson said. The city's Source Water Protection Plan

Letters

DOWN MEMORY LANE

To the Editor:

I recently received a letter from my pre-school teacher, Mr. Eugene Ham, and it made me start thinking of how the village of Sewanee used to be. It was like I was getting pictures from my 5-year-old self. This process increased as I looked at the Lemon Fair, under new ownership and being remodeled.

I remembered that it used to be Long's Mercantile, owned by the family of Arthur and Agatha Long. The building where the Frame Gallery, Village Dry Cleaner and the nutrition shop are used to be Baker's Garage, Bailey's Auto Service and Otto Bailey's downtown Phillips 66.

Anybody remember Marshall Hawkins Automotive Repair? How about the annual Peter Pan show and Nutcracker productions by the University's Theatre Department? The campus recreation swimming pool? The billiards room? The Sewanee Military Academy campus, where the Proctor Hill Theatre is now?

I would love to see letters from other 'Sewaneesians' who remember these and other things about the way it used to be. And please keep your Sewanee Angels! (Remember tapping the roof of your car when you exit the gates to make sure your Sewanee Angel traveled with you?)

ANGEL WITH AN ATTITUDE ADDITION

To the Editor:

Per the list of fine dining venues that you recently described as being operational within the Sewanee Mountain area, I'd like to add my personal favorite, Tea on the Mountain. Its lunch and dinner menus as well as its genteel table settings are worth the short drive to Tracy City. Out-of-town visitors to my home are appreciatively treated to this quaint Tennessee teahouse. There is not a more elegant eatery here on the mountain that delivers such diverse and well-prepared menus as Tea on the Mountain.

All Saints’ Chapel

All Saints’ Chapel Holy Eucharist will occur at 8 a.m. and 11 a.m. on Sunday mornings. You can livestream our services at <<https://new.sewanee.edu/campus-life/believing/all-saints-chapel/>>.

Growing in Grace continues at 6:30 p.m., Sunday. Our semester-long theme is “Becoming Rooted,” where speakers will share about their root systems and how they find sustenance in times of strife so that we can understand who or what roots us and to use that connection to grow and develop.

The Catechumenate continues at 7 p.m., Wednesday, with dessert from Stirling’s. The Catechumenate is a brave, safe space to explore the Christian faith or go deeper into your own spirituality. If you are looking for a small group setting that offers a place to question, share, or simply be present, we encourage you to join us. All are welcome to attend.

Christ Church

Everyone knows that Halloween is coming up this Sunday, but what is not so well known is that the word itself means “The Eve of All Hallows.” Christ Church is fudging a bit, and we are having our principal All Saints’ service on Sunday morning. We will also offer a service at noon on Monday.

The service on Sunday will be Holy Communion. Several of the great hymns written for All Saints’ Day will be featured on Sunday morning. The readings for All Saints Day are from the Book of Revelation, Chapter 7, and from the fifth chapter of The Gospel according to St. Matthew. Since very early in the history of the Church these readings have been used. Hymnody, as we know it, did not come into vogue until after the Reformation in Europe and only years later in Great Britain. What we call Children’s hymns peaked in the 19th century. One of the most popular is “I sing a song of the Saints of God.”

Our service concludes before noon and our time of fellowship goes on into the early afternoon. We begin around 10:45 a.m. Happy Halloween! And blessings for the Octave of All Saints.

Monteagle First Baptist

Gospel award-winning Bluegrass Band, The Farm Hands, will be coming to Monteagle First Baptist Church on Sunday, Nov. 7, for the 11 a.m. service. Everyone is invited for an enjoyable time of worship through music.

St. Mark and St. Paul

The 8:30 a.m. Holy Eucharist is in the church for those fully vaccinated for at least 2 weeks. Masking is required indoors. The 8:30 a.m. service is also livestreamed on our Facebook page. It is available there and on our YouTube channel at 11 a.m. and afterward.

The 11 a.m. Holy Eucharist is outside for all.

The Sunday Forum meets at 9:45-10:45 a.m., in Kennerly Hall. It also streams on the Facebook page. This week’s presenter is the Rev. Julianna Cappelletti Gray.

The Rev. Julianna Cappelletti Gray has experience both as a parish priest and clinical social worker. In her presentation she will explore the scriptural command to love your neighbor alongside the wisdom of social science. Using some key insights of Dr. Brene Brown, a research professor who studies courage, vulnerability, shame and empathy, Julianna will bid us to explore that which holds us back from “living in love” as individuals and as a community.

Godly Play for Children meets 9:45-10:45 a.m. on the playground, weather permitting. In case of rain, age 3 through first grade meet on the porch at the back of Claiborne Hall near the entrance to CAC, and grades 2-5 meet on the porch of Brooks Hall.

Youth Sunday School is 9:45-10:45 a.m. on the upstairs porch of Brooks Hall.

Nursery is Sunday, 8:30 a.m. to noon. Infants and small children are invited to gather at the playground to form relationships and have fun. In case of rain, nursery will meet outside the entrance to Sewanee Children’s Center, on the ground floor at the back of Claiborne Hall.

Sunday for Halloween—children are invited to wear their costumes to the 11 a.m. service, and parishioners are invited to bring candy. After the 11 a.m. service, the children will hear a story while adults who wish to distribute candy will go to their cars to get ready for a brief “trunk or treat.” The children will then make their way around to the cars of participants after the story.

By the constitutional revision expanding voting district boundaries, all Franklin County and Marion County registered voters in the 37375 zipcode area can serve on the council and vote in the council election. "It's a lovely correction [to the constitution] to include all the citizens that have a 37375 zip code," Stubblefield said. Deepwoods and Midway will become part of District 1; Jump Off will be in District 2; Sherwood Road will be in District 3; and Roark's Cove will be in District 4, Berner said. Constitutional revisions require two readings. The council will reaffirm the revision at the January meeting.

After lengthy discussion, the council voted to publish meeting minutes, once approved, on the Lease Office website page. The minutes will be available to the Messenger to publish at the newspaper's discretion. Messenger editor Kiki Beavers suggested devoting a page on the Messenger website to the council minutes. Council representative Shirley Taylor insisted if the minutes appeared in the print version, they should be in a prominent position with a boldface headline. Keen asked, if in addition to the minutes, there could be a mechanism for funneling important information to the community. Keen gave the example of the recent change in COVID policy. Vice-Chancellor Reuben Brigety recommended that he or another senior official address the public at a special event when issues arose.

identified emergency responses, but making it public "would make it easy for someone to sabotage the [water plant] facility or water source." Wilson went on to explain Monteagle did not qualify as an MS4 class community, as determined by size and population, and so had "no legal authority to regulate, control, or issue violations" for nonpoint source pollution during construction or even afterwards. The responsibility fell to the Tennessee Department of Environment and Conservation or the EPA.

Wilson acknowledged TDEC had cited the RBT construction site for numerous violations. "I agree with the importance of assessing the runoff from the site," Wilson said. But he also stressed, based on the drainage data available from the state, water from the site could go in multiple different directions." He asked Waller for a detailed drainage analysis, and Waller agreed to provide him with the documentation data he collected.

Monteagle Assembly resident Lucy Keeble observed, "Maybe there's nothing legally requiring the city of Monteagle to make sure a development doesn't over pollute our water supply, but you have the opportunity to say, 'You need to treat your storm water runoff.'"

"I think we're going to do that," Rodman replied. She reaffirmed the city's commitment citing the decision to include storm water in the upcoming Global Information System study.

In other business, the city approved spending $16,000 for fire hydrant testing, maintenance, and GIS data collection rather than doing the testing in house. Wilson pointed out having GIS mapping and data would greatly reduce the cost of contracting for future testing and maintenance.

The city approved four ordinances on first reading. Ordinance 18-21 amends the personnel policy to stipulate an employee has 24 hours to turn in a job-related injury. Ordinance 19-21 rezones a tract on the corner of Highway 41 and Ingman Road from R-3 (high density residential) to C-2 (highway commercial). Ordinance 20-21 formalizes the resolution passed in September, which eliminated the requirement stipulating the council make specific findings before allowing rezoning. (Alderman Nate Wilson voted against approving the ordinance.) Ordinance 21-21 set 200 feet door-to-door as the required distance from a school or church in order for beer sales to take place. (The ordinance previously read "200 feet property line to property line.") The council will hold a special called meeting at 5:30 p.m., Nov. 15, beginning with a public hearing on the rezoning.

The council also approved hiring Americorps VISTA Dominic Gialdini as the baseball coordinator and approved earmarking $11,700 for Christmas bonuses for employees. Rodman indicated the bonus money would come from COVID relief funds.

New Resources for Downtown Sewanee Development

Over the course of the past decade, the University of the South has dedicated much research and consideration toward revitalizing the Sewanee Village and establishing a development plan that delivers on the promise of new residential, commercial, and retail offerings to better serve employees, residents, students, and visitors. The elements required for such a revitalization are now largely known, and the University is ready to begin implementing an exciting plan.

At its meeting earlier this month, the Board of Regents committed to investing $10 million from the University endowment to begin the execution phase of a development plan to include the Village and surrounding area.

"Generations of donors have funded our endowment and have trusted University governing boards and administrators to invest those funds wisely. As with all endowment investments, the University expects a healthy financial return. In addition, the investment will begin to generate many benefits in the near term," said David Shipp, vice president for economic development and community relations.

"Importantly, this investment aligns with the University's ongoing goal of attracting and retaining both students and employees," he continued. "It will help to ensure that Sewanee remains an attractive and desirable place to study, work, and live for current and future generations of employees, students, and residents."

Investments in specific project proposals will ultimately be approved by the Regents' Investment Management Committee. While specific plans will come together later, examples include the development of additional entertainment and dining options befitting a campus community of students, as well as new housing and retail alternatives for employees and residents of our community.

"This investment demonstrates the University's commitment to meeting the ongoing and evolving needs of all who call Sewanee home. It is an exciting time to be in Sewanee," Shipp said.

Huffman to Present Fireside Chat on Nov. 3

Caroline Morton Huffman, C'86, Clinical Research Specialist Site Manager in Oncology with Janssen Research and Development of Johnson & Johnson, will deliver a Fireside Chat, "What Do You Do With an English Degree? Answers from Caroline Morton Huffman." The Babson Center for Global Commerce and the English Department invite all to join us at 7 p.m., Wednesday, Nov. 3, in the Social Lodge.

Currently, Huffman is part of a global team managing and monitoring heme-oncology clinical trials, serving as the liaison between scientists at Janssen and research staff at hospitals and clinics around the world. When not working remotely as a clinical trial manager from her home in Raleigh, N.C., she trains and mentors new hires at Janssen.

Janssen, a subsidiary of Johnson and Johnson, conducts research and development to tackle complex diseases and health challenges around the globe. "Oncology research is rewarding because it's constantly evolving and treatments are improving. I've been working on a targeted therapy for multiple myeloma called daratumumab since I walked in the door at Janssen in 2015," Huffman said. Ultimately, it allows patients to receive a 5-minute injection once a month instead of sitting in an infusion chair for hours. "We have a saying at Janssen," said Huffman, "the patients are waiting. It gives urgency to what we do."

Huffman's clinical research career began more than 25 years ago at Duke University Cardiology Clinical Trials Coordinating Center (now known as Duke Clinical Research Institute) as a staff writer. Since that time, she has held clinical research roles at Quintiles (IQVIA) and Novartis, before joining Janssen in 2015. Huffman attributes her success in this field to her liberal arts education at Sewanee which gave her "the confidence to think critically and to write authoritatively."

At Sewanee, she was a reporter and editorial writer at The Purple, a Proctor at Cleveland Hall, and a member of ODK, Order of the Gown, Epicureans, BACCHUS, and the Canoe Team. Studying in the English department, under the legendary Ted Stirling, "the most exacting taskmaster," helped her develop investigative skills that serve her well as a clinical research leader today. In addition to a B.A. in English from Sewanee, Huffman graduated from UNC-Chapel Hill with a M.A. in English.

The Bryan Viewpoints Speaker Series is sponsored by the Babson Center for Global Commerce and is made possible by a generous gift from Peggy and J.F. Bryan IV, C'65.

‘Yea, Sewanee Reads’ Event, Nov. 4

“Yea, Sewanee Reads!” launches from 5 to 7 p.m., Thursday, Nov. 4, at The University Bookstore.

Everyone is invited to the launch of a new literary experience soon to be featured at the University Bookstore in downtown Sewanee. “Yea, Sewanee Reads!” will promote the community of readers by showcasing books recommended by students in the English Department and interns at The Sewanee Review, The Sewanee Young Writers’ Conference, The Sewanee Writers’ Conference and The Sewanee School of Letters. “This event reminds us how a good local bookstore can be a gathering place for students and community members and a home for small book clubs to meet throughout the year,” said Professor Elizabeth Grammer of the English Department.

The reviewers will be on hand the evening of the launch event and their favorite books—about 25 titles ranging from classic novels to nonfiction to poetry and Young Adult fiction—will be offered at a 10 percent discount. Come meet the reviewers, read their reviews and pick out your next favorite book or the perfect holiday gift for a loved one. Festivities will include coffee and refreshments, discount coupons from The Blue Chair for dinner after the event and special guest shop dogs from the Macfie and Grammer families. Come enjoy the new bookstore, where town and gown can meet over a cup of coffee, a cute dog and a good book.

‘Wisdom to Know the Difference’ Zoom Event

Daily we are bombarded by an overwhelming amount of media, and we find ourselves in a time of unprecedented access to information, opinions, and data – from politics to the pandemic. How do we determine what is true and beneficial when so much misinformation and disinformation exists? How might we change our relationship with the media we consume and our presence on social media?

The Sisters of St. Mary kick off their 2021-2022 program series with a virtual event titled “Wisdom to Know the Difference: Finding Serenity in a Time of Misinformation” 9–10:30 a.m., Saturday, Nov. 6, via Zoom. The cost is $15 per attendee. In this two-part workshop, Amanda Spratt-Goldson will explore current trends in misinformation and best practices for how to understand, filter, and engage with various information. Then, Casey Perkins-Lawrence will discuss how to practice social media with intention using the model of the well-known Serenity Prayer as a guide. Finally, there will be some time for questions and answers from participants.

Select Sewanee Residential Lots Now Available to Builders

The University of the South announces that eight vacant leasehold lots located near campus and in the Sewanee community are now available to be leased by residential builders for new home construction. Residents wishing to construct new homes also have access to this inventory.

This marks the first time in many years that lots have been made available in this manner, and the University looks forward to collaborating with interested builders and individuals seeking to create additional housing on the Domain.

These eight lots are designated for a primary residence and must be transferred/sold as a primary residence. The University defines a “primary residence” as a dwelling where one actually lives at least nine months of the calendar year and is the address shown on one’s driver’s license.

Leaseholds are located as follows:

1. Stephens Drive (lease #1072)
2. Stephens Drive (lease #1073)
3. Parsons Green, Lot 11
4. Parsons Green, Lot 12
5. Parsons Green, Lot 13
6. Georgia Avenue, Lot 3 (lease #1064)
7. Alabama Avenue, Lot 6 (lease #1069)
8. Alabama Avenue, Lot 7 (lease #1070)

Individuals interested in business terms for individual lots should contact David Shipps at <dshipps@sewanee.edu>. Information about lot locations can be obtained from the Office of Leases and Community Relations by contacting Sallie Green at <sgreen@sewanee.edu>.

Upcoming Retreats at St. Mary’s Sewanee

A full day of Centering Prayer will be from 6:30 a.m. to 5 p.m., Saturday, Nov. 6, via Zoom. The cost is $90. Centering Prayer is a form of Christian silent meditation where one lets go of thoughts during periods of prayer typically lasting 20 minutes. It is rooted in the self-emptying love that forms the heart of Jesus’ teaching and life. The effect on those who practice it is an ever-increasing awareness of God’s action and presence in the course of ordinary life.

Join us for an afternoon with Anneli Virkhaus. This in-person workshop “Waking Up: Developing a Morning Ritual & Cultivating Positive Habits” will be from noon to 4:30 p.m., Saturday, Nov. 13. The cost is $65. Lunch is included.

How you start each morning influences the rest of your day. The way you start your day is incredibly important. It sets the tone for the day. If you’ve wanted to develop a morning ritual or routine, and just can’t seem to make it stick, come and receive some guidance on how to do so. You will leave the workshop with ideas and coping skills on how to cultivate positive habits in your life and leave with multiple versions of morning rituals tailored to you and written by you.

Bring your yoga mat and yoga accessories; dress comfortably for gentle movement and asana.

Go to <<https://www.stmaryssewanee.org>> to register and for more information.

AL MS TN Rural Tourism Conference

Members of the newly formed Tennessee's South Cumberland Tourism Partnership attended the 2021 Alabama-Mississippi-Tennessee Rural Tourism Conference on Oct. 18-20, in Sweetwater, Tenn. Members of the partnership in attendance were Marvin and Jackie Lawley, Dominic Gialdini, and Jenni Veal.

Recognizing that tourism is a vital part of a community's economic development, this conference was a collaborative effort focused on assisting smaller communities in bolstering tourism. The group tried to focus on aspects that would improve their new venture as a tourism board to advance tourism for the South Cumberland Plateau and areas in the three-county region.

Some of the things that were brought to our attention and that we are considering are: what are our most important assets are in this area and how to capitalize on those assets; how to improve the visual experience that visitors and our own people experience; and does your business look like a place that others would say, "Wow, I would like to go here, eat here or check out what is here."

Enchanting Chamber Music Concert

At 3 p.m., Saturday Nov. 6, at Morton Memorial United Methodist Church in Monteagle, Rebecca Van de Ven, Bernadette Lo, and Rebecca Murphy will present a personal perspective: enchanting chamber music by unique female composers of the 20th century.

Van de Ven, oboe, Murphy, flute, and Lo, piano, have gathered to present music of Lili Boulanger, Madeline Dring, Katherine Hoover, and Alyssa Morris. The afternoon will begin with "Four Personalities" by Alyssa Morris. These accessible pieces describe musically the Yellow, White, Blue, and Red personality types based on the Hartman Test. Reaching back historically, the Morris will be followed by three female arias from Mozart's "Marriage of Figaro," "Magic Flute," and "Don Giovanni." Following Mozart, Murphy will recount a Native American tale with a presentation of Katherine Hoover's "Winter Spirits" on solo flute. Van de Ven and Lo will then perform seven songs by Lili Boulanger from the song cycle "Clairières dans le ciel," which was written in 1914. These songs, while traditionally sung, translate well to the range and melancholy color of the oboe. The program will wrap up with a delightful, crowd pleasing "Trio for flute, oboe, and piano" by Madeline Dring. This three movement work explores fun soaring melodies with frequent meter changes, followed by a sweet and simple second movement in which the flute and oboe trade the melody back and forth. The final movement is a fast tempo, raucous piece reminiscent of circus music.

The concert is free and open to the public. Masks are required regardless of vaccination status.

Tennessee Craft South Introduces Empty Tables

Tennessee Craft South, a local regional chapter of Tennessee Craft, is sponsoring Empty Tables, an artist initiative to address local hunger in middle Tennessee. Each participating artist will contribute works which celebrate the growing, serving, and eating of food, and these items will be sold during the Tennessee Craft South Studio Tour in Sewanee during the first weekend of December. All proceeds from sale of these items will be used to combat hunger in the region.

To achieve the goals of the Empty Tables project, Tennessee Craft South is partnering with Sewanee Locally Grown, a local gardeners market group in Sewanee, and the Community Action Committee in Sewanee, and Morton Memorial Church in Monteagle. These groups regularly work to address hunger issues in Grundy, Marion, and Franklin counties. All area artists are encouraged to participate in this project.

Women's Soccer Tournament Bracket Announced

Announced on Monday by the Southern Athletic Association (SAA), the 2021 SAA Women's Soccer Tournament Bracket has been released.

The University of the South women's soccer team will host Hendrix College Saturday afternoon from Puett Field. The No. 4 Tigers and the No. 5 Warriors will kickoff at 1:30 p.m.

Live video and live stats are listed on the schedule page and will be available on gameday on the women's soccer homepage <www.sewaneetigers.com>.

Sewanee posted a 10-4-2 record and a 4-2-1 mark in league play in the regular season, and they dropped Hendrix on Oct. 15, 2-0. The Warriors are currently 7-6-1 overall with a regular season match remaining versus Belhaven on Wednesday, and they finished the conference slate with a 3-4-0 mark.

The Tigers and Warriors will meet in the SAA Tournament Quarterfinals for the third time in the last four seasons. Hendrix took the opening matchup in 2018 from Conway, Ark., but Sewanee rebounded with a 2-0 clean sheet in 2019.

Since 1991, this will be the fifth time the two teams have faced off in a postseason match, and Sewanee has the 2-1-1 edge.

The Tigers are 7-9-3 all-time in conference tournament matches, and they are 5-7-2 since the inception of the SAA in 2012.

Football Succumbs to No. 21/20 Trinity

The University of the South football program saw a 66-7 defeat to No. 21/20 Trinity University, Saturday afternoon from historic Hardee-McGee Field at Harris Stadium.

Trinity marched down the field early in the game to lead 14-0 after one quarter of play.

The Texas Tigers increased the lead to 38-0 by the halftime whistle. Sewanee got on the scoreboard late in the third quarter thanks to a 17-yard pass from Tucker Kirk to Cyrus Wilson.

The visitor's defense was as good as advertised on Saturday. One of the nation's best in defensive yard production and scoring, TU held Sewanee to 43 passing yards and 61 rushing yards on the afternoon.

Trinity is ranked in both the D3football.com poll (21st) and the American Football Coaches Association (AFCA) poll (20th).

Jacob Jackson totaled six tackles, while Kason Holder had five tackles and two breakups. Harris Cravens also contributed four tackles and two breakups.

Tucker Kirk gained 51 yards on the ground as he threw for a touchdown to Cyrus Wilson.

Jack Satterfield averaged 37.9 punts on the day, including improving his long of 67 yards in the third quarter.

Men's Soccer Earns Draw

The University of the South men's soccer team played to a 1-1 tie with Centre College in a Southern Athletic Association (SAA) match, Oct. 23, from Amend Field.

Connor Cheynet got the Sewanee offense rolling in the fifth minute off an Evan Poole assist.

The Colonels added a quick goal of their own with a 17th minute strike by Nathan Wilcox from Sota Ippongi.

After Centre attempted 13 shots in the first 45 minutes, the Sewanee defense allowed 14 shots in the final 65 minutes of the match.

Thompson Schollaert had a shot attempt in the 88th minute that was off target, and the contest went into overtime.

Centre had four shot attempts in the first extra period, but they were unable to score the golden goal. Additionally, the Colonels did not give the Tigers the opportunity to shoot as the match was forced into a second overtime.

The hosts had two big shot attempts in the final minutes of the second overtime. Stewart Miller made a key save in the 108th minute, as the match ended in a draw.

Sewanee snapped a six-match losing streak to the Colonels with Saturday's tie.

Evan Poole and Thompson Schollaert each took three shots for Sewanee.

Stewart Miller (0-0-1) saved four shots in 110 minutes of action.

NATURENOTES

Fall 2021

At our house we are surrounded by a golden glow as the leaves are changing. According to a website, <smokymountains.com/fall-foliage-map>, our area is at peak color though I am not sure that is quite accurate—I'm hoping for a little more. The Yeatmans in past years have offered in this column the best explanation I know as to what causes fall colors—carotenoids and xanthophylls from orange and yellow pigments always present in the leaves that are exposed when the green chlorophyll decreases, combined with reds and purples from anthocyanins caused by chemical reactions with sugars in the leaves. Also, tannins, especially in oaks, show as brown. However, there seems to be little agreement on how temperature, rainfall, and other factors combine in any one year either to bring us a brilliant or a drab fall.

We are also surrounded by fallen leaves, especially from the white oaks around the house, and yet the trees don't even look like they have lost their leaves yet! Why do leaves fall? Trees actually go through an active process called leaf abscission, triggered by changes such as shorter day length and lower temperatures. As the leaf ages and these environmental changes occur, hormones that have been inhibiting the process of abscission change and the leaf produces two special layers of cells at the point where the leaf attaches to the twig. The one closer to the twig is a protective layer of cells designed to prevent damage by insects or decay organisms, visible as the leaf scar after the leaf falls. The layer closer to the leaf is the separation layer, with cells that are designed to eventually break down, until only a few strands of vascular tissue hold the leaf to the twig, which are visible as bundle scars within the leaf scar. These strands can then be broken by wind or rain and the leaf falls. There is a lot of raking in our near future!

Dayton

Liberty

Pets of the Week

Meet Dayton & Liberty

Dayton was found with his siblings on the side of the road at only six weeks old, and was brought to us by a good Samaritan in Franklin County. He's an adorable black and white shorthair tuxedo cat. He's very friendly and likes to play or to be cuddled. Dayton has spent most of his kitten life in the shelter, and would love a chance to grow up in a real home. He's up-to-date on his shots, FIV/FeLV negative, and neutered. He's a young guy at five months old, and would love to have some humans to call his own. If you are interested in adopting sweet Dayton, please visit <www.animalharbor.org/adoption-policy>.

You have never seen a kitten as unique as Liberty. Found injured around the Fourth of July and taken to Town and Country Vet, she found her way to Animal Harbor after she was all fixed up. The bob-eared, bobtail Liberty is an amazing jumper—she's a joy to watch. Agile and acrobatic, this leggy cat likes leaping but has an equal affinity for laps. When you take Liberty home, you won't need to pursue happiness; you will have found it in her. Liberty is a female domestic shorthair kitten who is up-to-date on vaccinations, spayed, and microchipped. She wants freedom to ring. If you are interested in adopting Liberty, please visit <www.animalharbor.org/adoption-policy>.

Animal Harbor is located at 56 Nor-Nan Rd., off AEDC Road, in Winchester. Call Animal Harbor at (931) 962-4472 for more information and check out the other pets at <www.animalharbor.org>.

BARDTOVERSE

Halloween

Caesar, I never stood on ceremonies,
Yet now they fright me. There is one within,
Besides the things that we have heard and seen,
Recounts most horrid sights seen by the watch.
A lioness hath whelped in the streets;
And graves have yawn'd, and yielded up their dead;
Fierce fiery warriors fought upon the clouds,
In ranks and squadrons and right form of war,
Which drizzled blood upon the Capitol;
The noise of battle hurtled in the air,
Horses did neigh, and dying men did groan,
And ghosts did shriek and squeal about the streets.
O Caesar! these things are beyond all use,
And I do fear them.

—William Shakespeare, Julius Caesar
