Monteagle Planning Wrestles with Building Permit Expiration

by Leslie Lytle, Messenger Staff Writer

At the Oct. 4 meeting, the Monteagle Planning Commission wrestled with drafting an ordinance amendment calling for building permit expiration after one six-month extension. The commission also took up an ordinance amendment allowing permanent storage facilities as a special exception in C-2 and C-3 commercial zoning.

Alderman Nate Wilson proposed the amendment stipulating a building permit expired after one six-month extension. By current Monteagle ordinance, Wilson said, building permits had a six-month term, but did not expire, with indefinite extensions allowed under International Building Code provisions. By the amendment, a new building permit would be required if a six-month extension was granted and “no substantial progress” had been made on the project one year dating from the time the permit was issued.

Citing benefits to the town, Wilson said the amendment would encourage timely conclusion of projects and relieve the town’s cost burden since the building inspector was paid a set rate whether or not permits were progressing. The amendment would also “allow the town to regain control” of permitted projects.

The commissioners discussed a reduced rate for a new permit when a permit had expired and including a “hardship” provision exempting permit holders from the new permit requirement, possibly with a fee attached. He stressed the decision on “substantial progress” would fall to the building inspector, and if the amendment included a “hardship” provision, refereeing on the hardship question could fall to the building inspector, as well.

Proposing an additional alternative, Wilson suggested, “If you wanted to make it clearer the planning commission had a purview, [the amendment could stipulate] the site plan would require an update” before a new permit was issued when a permit had expired.

Commissioner Ed Provost insisted, if adopted, “[The amendment] is for going forward. It’s not going to grandfather anybody that’s behind us. Its only for projects going forward from the time the council accepts it.”

Mayor Marilyn Campbell Rodman will send the proposed amendment to the Municipal Technical Advisory Service for review, then forward their commentary to town planner Annya Shalun to draft the language for the amendment.

In discussion on allowing permanent storage units as a special exception in C-2 and C-3 zoning, Shalun recommended the amendment stipulate certain regulatory provisions, pointing to Jasper’s ordinance which had screening fence and lighting requirements. Shalun will draft an ordinance amendment similar to Jasper’s for the commission’s review.

Public Invited to Contribute to Special Places Project

The painting of the Special Places Project mural at Old Roundhouse Park in Tracy City will take place on Oct. 7 and Oct. 9, 2022. On Oct. 7, artist Andee Rudloff will sketch in the mural design early, with students from local schools beginning the painting at 9:30 a.m. Students from Tracy City Elementary, Grundy County High School, and St. Andrew’s-Sewanee School will participate. Everyone is invited to be a part of the mural painting starting at 9 a.m. on Sunday, Oct. 9.

“We hope people from across the Plateau will come paint the mural on Sunday,” said Tom Sanders, executive director of South Cumberland Community Fund, which is sponsoring the project.

After meeting with students in local schools and hosting a community conversation at Morton Memorial Church in Monteagle in September, Rudloff has developed a design for the panels, installed earlier in the summer. “I like to think of the process as creative chaos,” she said.

“One of the most important goals for us is involving the entire Plateau community,” said Katie Goforth, SCCF’s director of community development. “Andee’s process for completion of the Special Places project will ensure that our community is involved in both the planning and creation of the mural at Round House Park.”

So far numerous residents of the Plateau have been involved, from installing the panels, to supplying ideas for images.

The 2022 Special Places Project is being conducted as part of the celebration of South Cumberland Community Fund’s 10th anniversary. “It is the first of a hoped-for series of projects in communities across the Plateau,” said Bonnie McCardell, chair of the Special Places Project committee.

The mural will be unveiled from 1–9 p.m., Saturday, Oct. 22, at the Round the Mountain Festival, in the Old Roundhouse Park.

“Two of our big celebratory projects are coming together on Oct. 22,” said Sanders. “While we are celebrating our organization’s 10th year, we are also celebrating 10 years of great conversations on the Plateau that we have been privileged to be a part of. We want the Special Places Project and the Round the Mountain Festival to be representative of a spirit of collaboration and working together on the Plateau.”

“I moved back to Sewanee to make deep connections with farmers and producers. I want to help students, community members, and visitors find a sense of place through food. Like many, Sewanee is close to my heart. I hope to create a welcoming space for folks to gather,” Grimm said.

At LUNCH, you will find an herb, flower and vegetable garden. Local produce, meat, and cheese will be for sale among prepared foods, beverages, and picnic provisions. ## Greg Maloof: Common Sense, Research, Listen, Cooperate

by Leslie Lytle
Messenger Staff Writer

Editor’s Note: This is the fifth in a series of interviews with some of the local candidates running for office. Federal & State General Elections voting is Nov. 8.

“I like common sense,” said Monteagle mayoral candidate Greg Maloof in discussing how to resolve a controversial issue confronting the town. For Maloof, “common sense” in municipal leadership has three ingredients: do your homework, ask the people who are affected by the outcome, and cooperate.

Born and raised in northeast New Jersey, Maloof joined the military after college. His 21 years in the army and army reserves overlapped with a 50 year career in property management and real estate in the northeast. For Maloof the multifaceted world of real estate management included labor relations, court appearances for insurance claims and nonpayment, purchasing, sale contracts, negotiating leases, serving as a consultant in Texas and metropolitan New York City, and dealing with utilities and government agencies on the local, state and federal levels.

Maloof has lived in the Monteagle Assembly for the past 30 years, was involved in the early stages of the Cooley’s Rift development project and served as the manager of the Clifftops residential community for seven years. “The biggest challenge confronting Monteagle is adequate water supply and sewage treatment, especially storm water,” Maloof stressed, referencing the recent diagnosis of high infiltration of storm water entering the sanitary sewer system. “The next biggest challenge is the Petro truck stop.”

The Petro project has involved the town in a legal proceeding. “Obviously, I’m going to follow the judge’s rulings,” Maloof said. “But the issue of recent flooding adjacent to the Petro construction site had multiple ramifications,” he maintained. “The town needs to have effective storm water collection. But, town officials should work with the town engineer to resolve the flooding issue with the property owner if they are part of the cause.”

All Saints' Chapel

On Sunday, All Saints' Chapel will gather for worship at 8 a.m., 11 a.m. and 6:30 p.m. The 8 a.m. service is simple and quiet with no music, and the congregation sits in the choir stalls. The 11 a.m. service features the organ, the University Choir, and the congregation sits in the nave, the main part of the Chapel. The 6:30 p.m. service is Growing in Grace, an informal, student-led service.

Christ Church

The Rev. Nick Funk will be the preacher at Christ Church Monteagle on Sunday, Oct. 9. Nick served as a sacristan at All Saints' Chapel in Sewanee. After graduating, he served with distinction in the United States Army. He is now a Trustee of The University of the South. He is the Rector of St. Paul's Episcopal Church in Greenville, Texas. He and his wife, Laura, are very active in civic affairs. Laura is an artist and an educator. Together with their dog Cosette, they have hiked all over the Southwest and also in the Rocky Mountains. The week of St. Francis of Assisi is a very appropriate time for this visit.

The service of Holy Communion begins at 10:45 a.m. and will be followed by a time of fellowship and a light meal. Bishop Millsaps had the honor of being the officiant at the wedding of Laura and Nick quite a few years back, and he regards that as being one of the best and most rewarding things he has ever done. Please stop by to say hello to Nick and Laura even if you have duties in your own church. This date also marks the anniversary of the groundbreaking for the Isaiah 117 House, which is now complete and is serving to bring children and foster parents together in a beautiful and safe setting.

St. Agnes' Episcopal Church

St. Agnes' Episcopal Church in Cowan will welcome The Rt. Rev'd John C. Bauerschmidt, 11th Bishop of Tennessee, for a pastoral visit on Sunday, October 9th. Bishop John will preside over a Rite of Confirmation service at the 11 o'clock hour. During the service the congregation will retire the old processional banner and ask Bishop John to dedicate the new banner, which will be unveiled. Afterward all are invited to a "Fall Favorites Luncheon" in the parish hall. St. Agnes' is located at 105 E. England St in Cowan. For more information leave a message at (931) 636-6313 or log on to <www.saintagnescowan.org>.

Karen Meridith will deliver a lecture called "Oikos: Community in the Greco-Roman World" at the St. Mark and St. Paul Sunday Forum at 9:45 a.m., Sunday, Oct. 9, at Kennerly Hall. When we say, "We receive you into the household of God," at an Episcopal baptism, we are echoing the Greco-Roman concept of oikos (household), the model for organizing early Christian communities. We will look at some common characteristics of households and other kinds of associations/communities in the Greco-Roman world, their place in the overall concept of the polis (the greater community), and how these classical concepts contribute to our present-day concept of the church (local and beyond the local) as a community. Meridith describes herself as a practical theologian "most interested in faith in action, faith on the ground." She came to Sewanee in 2010 and is the executive director of Education for Ministry and associate director of the Beecken Center. She is the designer and managing editor of the latest curriculum in the Education for Ministry program.

On Sunday at 4 p.m., please join St. Mark and St. Paul, and St. James Church for a Blessing of the Animals service. The service will take place at St. James Church in Midway.

Obituary

Jimmy David Green

Jimmy David Green, age 66 of Sewanee, died on Oct. 2, 2022. He was born on June 30, 1956, to Jimmy and Mary Ann Timbs Green. He graduated from Franklin County High School in the Class of 1974. After graduation, he began working for the University of the South until he retired more than 45 years later as a master printer in the Print Services Department. He was a lifelong member and leader of his community, including 49 years as Chief of the Sewanee Volunteer Fire Department. To those he served with and for, he was known fondly by his radio call sign of "C-1" short for "Chief One." Outside of his career and volunteer fire service, David was a man of many talents and interests. He was an accomplished musician, playing drums for numerous bands across the state. He also had a passion for airplanes and was an award winning remote-control hobbyist. He was preceded in death by his parents; wife, Sue Cortner Green; and sisters, Henrietta Warwick and Rane Pruitt.

He is survived by his son, Russell (Chasity) Green; and two grandsons, all of Winchester.

Graveside Funeral Services were on Oct. 6, 2022 at Eastern Star Cemetery, Sewanee. For complete obituary go to <www.cumberland-funeralhome.net>.

review after 12 months for a project where construction had not begun, Maloof said, "It probably wouldn't hurt. Things change. Maybe there are different requirements. The developer may want different ingress and egress or other things they want to update. You want to work with the developer, but you also want to protect the town."

Tackling the question with direct reference to the Petro project, Maloof said, "If there are changes because of excessive storm water, a site plan review would be beneficial." Did the detention ponds provide adequate storm water treatment, in his opinion? "That's an engineering question I'm not qualified to answer," he insisted. "Detention ponds only have a certain capacity, and where does the water go if they're filled?"

Acknowledging the controversy surrounding the Petro project, Maloof said, "The real issue goes back to zoning, the mistake on day one when the property changed from residential to commercial. You need to study the situation but also be mindful of the neighborhood and neighbors, what the neighborhood wants, before changing zoning." He advocated for town hall meetings and suggested an affordable housing residential buffer at the edge of the Petro property "could have satisfied a lot of people."

If issues involving the Assembly come up for a vote should he be elected, Maloof will recuse himself. At present, the Assembly manages its own water and sewer lines, but might benefit from turning management over to the town, Maloof said, however the excessive I & I issue would need to first be addressed by the Assembly. "You fix it then you give it." He advocated for cooperation in reaching a solution and looking for grant money to do the expensive repair.

Highlighting the need "to take care of our children, education, and health," Maloof said, "that requires planning." Maloof's plan: research, listen, cooperate. "My motto is 'Our children, our community, our future.'"

SCA Previews ULI Recommendations Translated into Action

by Leslie Lytle, Messenger Staff Writer

"The takeaway is act quickly and with urgency. The high priority projects we could have done 10 years ago," said William Shealy, University Director of Economic Development Initiatives, providing the Sewanee Civic Association with a preview of the Urban Land Institute's recommendation for the town translated into action. SCA members and guests also heard an update on the SCA's signature project, the Community Chest fund drive, and the Nonfood Supply Drive currently underway to help the economically challenged meet needs of daily life.

A primary Urban Land Institute (ULI) recommendation related to the creation of additional housing on the Domain, Shealy stressed, including both single-family and multi-family homes. Sewanee Village Ventures (SVV) is tasked with investing a portion of the University's endowment into the community and will build five single-family homes as an initial project, Shealy said. One home will be located on Georgia Avenue, one on Oak Street, and three on Kennerly Road. Based on three design plans, the homes will range in size from 1,300-1,700 square feet, have two baths, and two or three bedrooms. Earlier in the summer, the University gave employees the first option to secure vacant leaseholds and build their own homes. Leaseholds that weren't secured by employees are being used for the SVV project. Shealy estimated construction cost at around $200 per square foot, but cautioned supply chain challenges and rising building material costs will contribute to final costs. The homes will be offered for purchase by University employees and only primary (full-time) residents would be eligible to purchase the homes upon eventual resale.

Looking to the future, Shealy anticipates construction of multi-family homes and streetscape improvements as potential SVV projects, noting "shared walls" and less square footage would mean lower costs per unit. He pointed to vacant land along Highway 41A and Lake O'Donnell Road as possible locations for future projects. When asked about the potential for a new hotel south of 41A, Shealy noted ULI recommendations suggest a lodging option along Lake O'Donnell Road with the Sewanee Market and Community Center remaining in their current locations. However, this kind of project is too early to be contemplated, and the near term focus will be on housing for employees of the University. The ULI report encouraged "using the spaces that are open to create the things you need," Shealy said.

Touching on another project, Shealy said SVV received five proposals for the 24 University Ave., property purchased by the SVV. Formerly Julia's, the location will be home to LUNCH, a restaurant and catering business. Owned by a resident and University graduate, LUNCH will feature a revolving menu emphasizing seasonal and local food.

In the business portion of the meeting, SCA President Kiki Beavers announced the Community Chest received $142,000 in requests. The SCA Board recommended 17 initiatives for funding, with a total goal of $106,425. Serving as the Community Chest Stewards are John and Kathy Solomon, and Clay and Paula Yeatman. Awardees include food pantries, children's programs, animal rescue, programs serving senior citizens, health care needs, and other ventures geared to improving the quality of life on the Plateau. Send donations to P.O. Box 99, Sewanee, TN 37375 or donate online at <http://sewaneecivic.org>.

In another project undertaken in conjunction with the Community Action Committee food pantry program, donations are being sought to supply residents in need with nonfood items that cannot be purchased with SNAP benefits — cleaning supplies, paper products, household supplies, detergent, menstrual products, diapers, other personal care items, and pet food. Items can be dropped off at the CAC office, Simmonds Hall at St. Andrew's-Sewanee, Regions Bank, locations around campus, and the Messenger and Sewanee Utility District offices. Cash donations can be made at Taylor's Mercantile, the Blue Chair, and Shenanigans through Oct. 13.

The Nonfood Supply Drive is part of the SCA Treasures for the Chest program. Beavers invited suggestions on how to boost donations for the School Supply Drive held in July. Currently school supplies for one child cost approximately $100. Volunteers are needed, please email <sewaneecommunitychest@gmail.com>.

At the next SCA meeting, on Nov. 7, LiveWell on the Mountain will talk about services for seniors aging at home.

Wilson brought to the commission's attention the town council had tabled approving the ordinance allowing "accessory dwelling unit, (ADU)" because the ordinance did not address whether ADUs required separate meters. By the proposed ordinance, ADUs, dwellings smaller than the principal residence, can be attached to the primary residence or detached. Provost questioned requiring a separate meter since ADUs were by definition "accessory" to the primary structure. Rodman pointed out by current regulations, "If you have two separate structures, you're supposed to have two separate meters." Shalun said the council had "jurisdiction" to change the ordinance recommended by the planning commission.

Rodman updated the commission on building inspector Earl Geary's retirement. Rodman said Geary was interviewing certified building inspectors for the position and would report to the council before the next meeting.

Hongo to Receive Aiken Taylor Award

Since 1987, the Sewanee Review has honored a distinguished poet in the maturity of their career with the Aiken Taylor Award in Modern American Poetry. This year we are recognizing Garrett Hongo. Hongo is the author of three collections of poetry, including "Yellow Light, The River of Heaven," which received the Lamont Poetry Prize and was a finalist for the Pulitzer Prize, and "Coral Road: Poems." Hongo is also the author of "Volcano: a Memoir of Hawai'i," "The Mirror Diary," and his most recent book "The Perfect Sound: A Memoir in Stereo."

The celebration will take place on Oct. 11 and Oct. 12. Acting Vice-Chancellor Berner and Sewanee Review editor Adam Ross will present Hongo with the award at 5 p.m., Wednesday, Oct. 12, in Convocation Hall, after which Hongo will read from his body of work.

On Tuesday, Oct. 11, at 4:30 p.m., Christopher Spaide will lecture on Hongo's poetry in Guerry Auditorium. Spaide, a Junior Fellow at the Harvard Society of Fellows, has written widely on music, comics, and poetry, and his work appears in the Boston Globe, The Wallace Stevens Journal, Contemporary Literature, Ploughshares, Poetry, and the Sewanee Review. He was recently named a 2022-2023 Fellow at the James Merrill House.

Michelle Murray

'Transmitting Trauma through Twitter' Lecture

What do Twitter, the Spanish Civil War, digital humanities and the holocaust have to do with one another? Michelle Murray will lecture on "Transmitting Trauma through Twitter: @Deportado4443 and Memories of Mauthausen" at 4:30 p.m., Thursday, Oct. 13, in Gailor Auditorium.

In 2015, the Twitter account @Deportado4443 began sharing the harrowing story of Antonio Hernández Marin (1907-1992). His exile from Spain following the Spanish Civil War (1936-1939), Nazi capture, and deportation to the Mauthausen concentration camp in Austria were communicated through 140-character posts and images. This talk examines the possibilities and limitations of the @Deportado4443 Twitter project as a way to access the history of the Spanish Civil War, the Republican exile, and the Nazi camps. Most importantly, this account has tremendous implications for theorizing the figure of the witness, as eyewitnesses of these events perish and new generations attempt to access these histories.

Michelle Murray is an Associate Professor of Spanish and European Studies at Vanderbilt University. Her research and teaching focus is on contemporary Spanish literature and film. Her first book "Home Away from Home: Immigrant Narratives, Domesticity, and Coloniality in Contemporary Spanish Culture" (UNC Press for North Carolina Studies in Romance Languages and Literatures, 2018) studies representations of immigrant women as domestic workers in contemporary Spain. She is currently working on a manuscript titled "Migrant Markets"; this book explores migration, political economy, and trafficking in the Southern Mediterranean.

Murray's lecture is organized by Dr. Parker Lawson and is presented by the Department of Spanish & Italian, with support from the Office of Inclusive Excellence and the Departments of History, Humanities, Politics, and International & Global Studies.

Natasha Trethewey

Trethewey to Present Haines Lecture

This year, the Haines Lecturer will be the poet Natasha Trethewey. She will deliver the 29th Haines Lecture at 4:30 p.m., Tuesday, Oct. 25, in Convocation Hall. It will also be livestreamed on the Sewanee English and Creative Writing Department's YouTube Channel <https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=YXxUBnMDES8>.

Natasha Trethewey served two terms as the 19th Poet Laureate of the United States (2012-2014). She is the author of five collections of poetry, Monument (2018), which was longlisted for the 2018 National Book Award; Thrall (2012); Native Guard (2006), for which she was awarded the Pulitzer Prize, Bellocq's Ophelia (2002); and Domestic Work (2000), which was selected by Rita Dove as the winner of the inaugural Cave Canem Poetry Prize for the best first book by an African American poet and won both the 2001 Mississippi Institute of Arts and Letters Book Prize and the 2001 Lillian Smith Award for Poetry. She is also the author of the memoir Memorial Drive (2020). Her book of nonfiction, Beyond Katrina: A Meditation on the Mississippi Gulf Coast, appeared in 2010. She is the recipient of fellowships from the National Endowment for the Arts, the Guggenheim Foundation, the Rockefeller Foundation, the Beinecke Library at Yale, and the Bunting Fellowship Program of the Radcliffe Institute for Advanced Study at Harvard. At Northwestern University she is a Board of Trustees Professor of English in the Weinberg College of Arts and Sciences. In 2012 she was named Poet Laureate of the State of Mississippi and in 2013 she was inducted into the American Academy of Arts and Sciences.

History of the Haines Lecture

Behind the quiet mien of Stacy Haines lived a great enthusiasm for language, ideas, and the of the mind — an enthusiasm he joyfully shared with his wife Peggy.

Having discovered Sewanee through their son, who graduated in 1966 with a major in English, Stacy and Peggy moved here when he retired from a career with Sears, Roebuck & Company in Chicago. From the time of their arrival in this community, their home became a place of hospitality for aspiring and accomplished readers and writers.

This series of lectures and readings, funded permanently by gifts in Stacy's memory from his family and friends, and administered by the College Department of English, stands as a natural and proper extension of the man and his interests.

Hurricane Fiona Relief Fund

Last week Puerto Rico was impacted by Hurricane Fiona, which left hundreds homeless and the whole population without power and access to water. Multiple communities on the island have strongly felt the effects of their resource insecurities. The people need both monetary and physical assistance as they move out of shelters and try to reconstruct their homes.

To support Puerto Ricans as they navigate this state of emergency, Cuca Ramirez and Fernando Totti, two University of the South students from Puerto Rico, have mobilized with the support of the Office of Civic Engagement, and are planning to coordinate a community relief trip during winter break. In the meantime, Ramirez and Totti have created a GoFundMe page.

This campaign raises funds for Taller Salud, a nonprofit organization from Loiza that focuses on community building, and will send resources such as non-perishable food, solar lanterns, water filters, and disposable containers, among other items to those in the community.

Any monetary donation has the potential to create an impact and is truly appreciated. The goal is to raise $5,000.

To donate or for more information, go to the GoFundMe link: <<https://gofund.me/48fbc3fc>>.

Sisters of St. Mary to Offer Virtual Retreat

"How are you doing?" someone asks, and you answer that you're doing fine. And you are. But you don't add that you are not the same person you used to be, or that you don't know where that person went. Or that you are beginning to suspect she may never be coming back. This is uncharted territory. Join the Rev. Barbara Crafton for this virtual retreat held on Zoom. Participants will consider how to live and move and have our being in a new world we did not choose to enter. But we do know that others have walked the road we're walking and found hope. At the end of our time together, we'll have gotten a little closer to doing that ourselves.

The Rev. Barbara Crafton will facilitate the retreat. Barbara Cawthorne Crafton is an Episcopal priest and author. She heads The Geranium Farm, an institute for the promotion of spiritual growth. The Farm published her Almost-Daily eMo, a meditation read online by tens of thousands worldwide. She has served a number of churches, including historic Trinity Church, Wall Street, St. John's-in-the-Village in Greenwich Village, St. Clement's in Manhattan's theatre district and St James, the American church in Florence. She was a maritime chaplain on the New York waterfront, and served as a chaplain at Ground

Rev. Barbara Crafton

Zero after the attack on the World Trade Center. A spiritual director, Crafton has led many retreats throughout the United States and abroad. Her many books include books of essays, books of daily meditations, a book about the aftermath of the World Trade Center bombing ("Mass in Time of War") and more recently, books about depression, vocation and the ALSOLIFE.

The event will take place from 9 a.m. to 1:30 p.m., Saturday, Nov. 5. The cost is $30, and participants can learn more and register at <www.communityofstmarysouth.org>.

The Chili Cook-off will be open to the public for the tasting at 11 a.m., Central Time. The public can sample all the entrant's chili for $5. Artist Andee Rudloff visited with the fifth-grade students at Sewanee Elementary School on Sept. 22. Rudloff will create and design a mural celebrating the South Cumberland Plateau and its communities as part of the 2022 Special Places Project sponsored by the South Cumberland Community Fund. The students generated words and images that they associate with the plateau and shared them with the artist during their meeting to offer inspiration for her mural design. The community will be invited to participate in painting the mural on Oct. 9 in Tracy City. The mural will be unveiled at a community-wide celebration on Oct. 22.

Meet the Artist: Tony Winters, Oct. 7

Artist Tony Winters, who grew up in Sewanee, will be talking about his new Sewanee posters at the University Bookstore on Friday, Oct. 7 at 5 p.m.

At the meet the artist event, he'll introduce four Sewanee posters, which will now be available for sale at the Bookstore. Focusing on images taken from his iconic Sewanee oil paintings, he'll talk about his painting process and how his view of nature was influenced by growing up in Sewanee.

As he recalls, "The college's largely unspoiled forest on the Cumberland Plateau provided the ideal playground for a boy with a bike and a dog." Later he learned to paint trees and clouds as an undergrad in Dr. Edward Carlos' art classes. These same forests and their ancient sandstone cliffs became his artistic "spiritual home."

Winters is a painter and architect living in New York City. He received his B.A. degree in Fine Arts from the University of the South and his Master of Architecture from the University of Texas at Austin, with continuing education at the Grand Central Atelier, the Art Students League of New York and the New York Academy of Art.

ARTSINSIDEOUT

by Arts Inside

"Arts Inside Out" is a monthly question-and-answer column featuring interviews with currently and formerly incarcerated community members, as well as corrections workers, educators, and volunteers. Each subject will share their personal experiences of bringing arts programming to local jail populations, and their own relationships to creativity.

This month, our Q&A features Pippa Browne. Pippa was born and lived most of her life in Zimbabwe, Africa. In 1985 she obtained a bachelor's degree in fine art and psychology and a post-graduate diploma in education from the University of Natal, South Africa. While teaching in Zimbabwe, her art was regularly selected for the Zimbabwean National Heritage exhibitions at the National Gallery of Zimbabwe. She also participated in solo and group exhibitions in other galleries in Harare. In 1995, Pippa began illustrating children's books for the publisher Barefoot Books of Bath, UK. Between 1996 and 2000 her illustrations were selected for a number of international traveling exhibitions. Since moving to the US in 2003, Pippa has moved her focus away from illustrating and back to a more expressive style of art. She has consistently shown her work in galleries in the States, namely in Salinas, Calif., Memphis, and Sewanee, where she now resides.

What is your relationship to/experience with Arts Inside?

I taught a 6 weeks series of art classes to women in the Grundy County Jail in Altamont.

What artistic hobbies/pastimes do you enjoy?

I am a practicing artist in that I am part of the Artisan Depot Gallery that is supported by the Franklin County Arts Guild and have an on-line presence through which I sell my work. I also write poetry that I sometimes present at 'Spoken Word' events in Sewanee.

Do you regularly create or make anything? If so, do you share it with others?

I paint almost every day and, yes, I share my work by exhibiting it at the Artisan Depot Gallery in Cowan, by showing it on my website <artbypippabrowne.com> and by exhibiting it in a few other venues, i.e., Tullahoma Arts Center, Ed Carlos gallery at IONA, etc.

When do you feel most creative?

I feel most creative between my walk in the mornings and 3 in the afternoon as well as later at night.

Do you consider yourself a creative person?

Yes, I do consider myself a creative person; I believe we are all creative and exercising creativity in our lives is fundamental to establishing a habit of flexibility and openness;

Who is the most creative person you know? How have they influenced you?

My mother was one of the most creative people I knew. She was an art teacher and a wonderful horse artist but it was more the creative way she managed her life and resolved problems that influenced me rather than her artistic products.

Did you create things during your childhood?

I absolutely created as a child; easy access to materials and support for creating was a feature of my childhood.

How do you see the role of art in your life now?

Art has become an integral part of my holistic health; I use it to process thoughts and to access thoughts that would not be expressed in the course of mundane living. It enables me to exercise the muscles for a creative life.

How have you seen art/creating make a difference in the lives of others?

I have seen art be a conduit for the positive expression of difficult thoughts; it enables difficult thoughts to be processed into a visual story and in so doing can somewhat neutralize the influence of these thoughts.

I have observed the psychological and physical benefits of the focused internal conversation that creating a piece of art allows.

I have noticed how a creative space is often a 'safe space' for students, who are not always accepted in other places, to express their true natures.

As our program expands, we are looking for volunteers interested in leading in-person workshops in art or writing, leading virtual workshops in art or writing, or helping with fundraising and development. To become a volunteer or make a donation, please visit our website: <https://www.artsinside.org>.

Fall Tennessee Craft Fair

Tennessee Craft presents the 44th annual Fall Tennessee Craft Fair, Oct. 7, 8 and 9, in Nashville's iconic Centennial Park. Artists from across the nation will exhibit their handmade craft on the Great Lawn adjacent to the Parthenon, showcasing original artwork from clay, jewelry and leather to wood, glass, painting and more.

Fair hours are 10 a.m. to 6 p.m., Friday and Saturday, 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. on Sunday. For more details, maps and event information, please visit <www.tennesseecraft.org/fallfair>.

Community Arts & Crafts Fair

Come shop for the delightful crafts made by people in our community, and see what treasures you can find in the Trash and Treasures Yard Sale. The event will be from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m., Friday and Saturday, Oct. 14 and 15, at the Morton Memorial United Methodist Church in Monteagle.

The event is a fundraiser for Morton's missions, including the church's monthly food ministry and Isaiah 117 House.

There will be Fall and Christmas Crafts – a great time to get some Christmas shopping done, plus a chance to find a treasure among your neighbors' down-sizing cast-offs. There will also be some food to eat while you browse or to take home with you.

The event will be in front of and inside the church's Fellowship Center, which is to the right of the sanctuary.

Sewanee Art Works Hosts Day of the Dead Celebration

Join art teacher Martha Keeble to creatively explore "Day of the Dead," a time of the year when the spirit world and the physical world come together. The event will be on two nights, Friday, Oct. 28 or Saturday, Oct. 29, at her new studio, Sewanee Art Works, 38 Ball Park Road.

Day of the Dead is a traditional Mexican celebration when the spirit world and the physical world come together, a time marked by bold colors, beautiful graphics, and festive music. At the event, Martha will have blank canvases and paper, glow-in-the-dark paints and markers, Calavera (sugar skull) templates and tracers, and other materials for people to create their own expressions of love and respect for the departed.

The cost for the event is $45 per person and includes all supplies. Space is limited. Martha and the space are also available for private events. For more information or to register, email to <sewaneeartworks@gmail.com>.

Sewanee Art Works is an open, airy studio with space for up to 12 artists. Martha currently offers two group art lessons each week and plans to add more in the coming months. She is also available for private lessons. Students work in the medium of their preference, on projects of their own choosing.

Women's Soccer Defeats Oglethorpe 1-0

On Oct. 1, the University of the South Women's Soccer team traveled to Atlanta to take on Oglethorpe in their second SAA contest of the year. A 20th minute goal by Brianna Fee put the Tigers over the top, as they defeated the Stormy Petrels 1-0.

The Sewanee offense came out firing, taking five shots in the first 10 minutes of the game.

In the 20th minute, Brianna Fee found the back of the net off of a cross from Kylene Monaghan for her second goal of the year and put Sewanee up 1-0.

The Tigers would take four more shots in the first half, but were unable to find the back of the net.

The defense stole the show in the second half, as Leah Atkins had two of her three saves in the second half to keep Oglethorpe out of the back of the net.

Kate Thompson played all 90 minutes and Lacey Carder played 83 minutes on the back line that kept Oglethorpe scoreless.

Community Bike Riding Opportunities

The Sewanee GoGirls MTB rides are regularly scheduled on the first and third Sundays of every month, starting at 3 p.m. from the Lake Cheston parking lot. Rides are accessible for anyone with basic trail experience, with adjustments for age, duration, and skill level as appropriate. Mountain bikes are recommended for all trail rides.

For families, new riders, and anyone interested in biking a short distance with social time afterwards at a local restaurant, there is a monthly Community Bike Ride on the paved Mountain Goat Trail (MGT) every first Saturday of the month starting at 3 p.m. from Hawkins Lane in Sewanee. This is a great ride for younger children and families. Riders who prefer biking on dirt trails also have the option of riding a short MGT section before exiting and riding to Lake Dimmick and back. For more information contact Beth Pride Ford at <bethprideford@gmail.com>.

Head Coach Rob Zeitler said, "These six seniors have been such an important part of our program over their high school careers. We will miss their leadership and dedication to SAS volleyball."

SAS Girls' Varsity Soccer Wraps Up Regular Season

On Sept. 27, the St. Andrew's-Sewanee girls' varsity soccer team defeated Middle Tennessee Christian School 2-1. Twenty minutes into the match, The Mountain Lions were the first to strike when sophomore Elisabeth Perkins found the back of the net with a shot just outside the penalty area. Ten minutes into the second half, MTCS scored the equalizer, but SAS did not back down. With 10 minutes remaining, freshman Christina Kincaid broke through the Cougars' back line and slotted home the game winning goal. This was Christina's first career goal for SAS. Throughout the game, junior goalkeeper Ellie Jenkins helped secure the win for the Mountain Lions with amazing saves and distributions out of the back.

On Sept. 29, SAS defeated Collegedale Academy at home 3-0. The Mountain Lions caught the Collegedale Eagles off guard in the first two minutes of the match when senior captain Verena Pate found the back of the net off an assist from fellow senior captain Reagan Vaughan. The remainder of the match was neck and neck with both teams creating scoring opportunities until sophomore Elisabeth Perkins struck home two quick goals with 18 minutes remaining in the match. Strong play was seen from SAS's center backs Melanie Val and Sarah Grace Powell.

Volleyball Drops Tight Match with No. 25 BSC

The University of the South volleyball team played four closely contested sets with No. 25 Birmingham-Southern College, but after the Panthers dropped the opening frame, they stormed back to win the next three to win the Southern Athletic Association (SAA) match, 3-1, Oct. 2, from Bill Battle Coliseum.

After the match was delayed over an hour, the Tigers took advantage of the late start, but it did not come easy. The teams went back-and-forth to start the stanza. Tied at 17, Sewanee used consecutive attack errors from BSC to take the 19-17 lead.

Following an Alyssa Coats kill to make it 19-18, the Purple and White knocked down four straight points, including two kills by Laurel Burkhardt, to lead 23-19.

Sewanee did get to set point, but it would take them four tries to put it away as BSC won three straight points, 24-22. The Tigers got some help from Kylie Wilhelm as she committed a service error to give the win to the Purple and White.

BSC came out swinging in the second set, as the Panthers used 18 kills to win, 25-21. Similar to the first set, it was a see-saw battle. Down 21-18, Sewanee won three of the next four points to make it a 22-21 affair, but three straight points by BSC evened this match at one set win apiece.

The Panthers used a 7-1 run in the third set to lead 23-16. Despite Sewanee's valiant effort with a 5-0 run of its own to make it 23-21, BSC won the final two points on consecutive errors.

In the fourth, BSC stormed out to a 5-1 lead, but Sewanee would respond with six straight points to take the lead, 9-8. Unfortunately, it was short-lived, as the Panthers went on another run, winning 13 of the next 16, including a 9-0 run, to lead 21-12.

The Tigers did make it interesting late, but the Panthers would prevail and win the match in four sets.

Cross Country Opens Second Half of Schedule in Louisville

The University of the South cross country teams traveled to the Live in Lou Cross Country Classic from E.P. "Tom" Sawyer State Park.

Emma Grace Hendrickson led the Tigers for the third straight meet, as the sophomore transfer missed her season-best in the 5K by eight seconds with a 61st place finish out of 356 runners with a time of 20:21.3.

Janie Schmitt set a new personal-best in the 5K race, clocking in at 20:31.3 for 79th place.

Allison Haworth improved her personal-best by 12 seconds with a 99th place time of 20:45.5.

Merritt Newton (20:56.1) and Sam Ude (21:30.0) both set new career-bests in the 5K. Jean Tankard (22:22.4) and Clara Earley (22:29.8) rounded out the Sewanee scoring as the duo also earn a PR.

Competing against NCAA Division I, II, III and NAIA schools, the Tigers were the top Division III team at the event and defeated Rhodes and Oglethorpe from the Southern Athletic Association (SAA).

The men's team improved significantly in their second 8K race of the 2022 campaign, as five of the six runners earned new season-bests.

Alex Coley led the Tigers with a 28:42.8, followed Sam Kearley's 28:45.1 and Brandon Christ clocking in at 29:30.5.

Patrick Rodriguez (30:36.7) and Bill Robinson (30:42.7) also posted season-bests. Max McCloud, in his first 8K race of the year, rounds out the Sewanee scoring with a 33:25.1.

Reichman's Big Day Sends Men's Soccer Past LaGrange

On Oct. 2, the University of the South Men's Soccer team took on LaGrange in their final non conference match of the season. After being down 1-0 at halftime, the Tigers used two Trevor Reichman goals to top the Panthers 2-1.

A slow start for both teams left most of the first half scoreless.

LaGrange got on the board first, when Zechariah Brothers put a rebound in past Sewanee goalkeeper JP Furman.

That LaGrange 1-0 lead was only the second time all season Sewanee has trailed.

Sewanee took five shots in the first half, but could not find the back of the net.

Two minutes into the second half, Trevor Reichman fired a shot into the net off of a rebound to tie the game.

Six minutes later, Reichman scored again, this time off of a feed from Tyler Cozzie to make it 2-1.

Football's Rally Comes Short in SAA Opener

The University of the South football team, after scoring on its first possession of the game, trailed Millsaps College, 23-14 with less than nine minutes left in the third. The Majors would hold off a late rally by the Tigers to steal a 30-27 win in the Southern Athletic Association (SAA) opener from historic Hardee-McGee Field at Harris Stadium.

After the Majors started the game on a three-and-out and a punt that was pinned to the Sewanee one-yard-line, the Tigers went to work. Needing 99 yards for the touchdown, 75 of them came on the ground by Michael McGhee. On the third play of the drive, the senior flipped the field, going from his own three-yard-line to the Majors 22.

Two plays later, Jeremiah Young used a 14-yard run to get the home team on the board first.

After another three-and-out by Millsaps, Sewanee had its drive stalled at their own 29-yard-line, but after a Tiger fumble on the punt, gave the Majors life starting at the opposition's 11.

On a third down, the Majors punched the ball in from four yards out to even the score at seven apiece.

Special teams was out again in full force for the Majors. After they stalled the Tigers again, Jack Satterfield had his punt blocked by Jackson Demouy, and the visitors, once again, had excellent field position.

Starting from the Sewanee 29, the Majors used one play to retake the lead. From there, the Majors did not look back.

The teams played pretty evenly from there for the rest of the half. Millsaps posted a 60-yard score from Brody Davis to Moise Tezzo, but a missed point-after-attempt made it a 13-point score, 20-7, at the break.

Sewanee had the opening possession to start the second half. On a tough third down play, McGhee found a lot of daylight again, running 70 yards to get the Majors four-yard-line.

Price Pennington took the next two carries to make it a 7-0 affair and end a stretch of 20 unanswered points by the visitors.

On the next possession, Millsaps was forced to punt, but another botched fumble on the return gave the Majors the chance to keep the drive going. The Majors were stalled again by the Sewanee defense, and they settled for a 36-yard field goal by Ethan Klapatch to increase the lead to nine points, 23-14.

Midway through the third, the Majors put together a 13-play, 81-yard drive that went into the early stages of the fourth quarter. The seven-plus minute possession ended in an 18-yard rush by Moise Tezzo to start the final stanza.

Running out of options and time, Sewanee did trim into the 16-point deficit as McGhee carried all five plays in the drive that saw him go 47 yards to the house. Sewanee made it interesting, down 10 points, 30-20.

After the Tiger defense forced the Majors to punt, Sewanee went back to work. On the first play from scrimmage, Damerian Wigenton caught the lateral and threw a perfect strike to Cyrus Wilson for the 66-yard score. Sewanee was a field goal away from evening the contest up.

The defense did its job, as they forced another Millsaps punt to give the ball back to the Purple and White with 3:25 to go in the game. However, after the Majors pinned McGhee three yards behind the line of scrimmage on second down, back-to-back incomplete passes gave the ball back to Millsaps, where they would hold on to it for the final 2:20 of the contest.

Field Hockey Drops Contests to Concordia Wisconsin

On Oct. 1, the University of the South Field Hockey team took on Concordia Wisconsin in their 2022 SAA opener. An early flurry by the Falcons led to them coming away with a 3-0 win over Sewanee.

The Falcons got the scoring started early, scoring two goals in the first 10 minutes of the game.

Sydney Simpson was able to get a shot off at the end of the first quarter, however, it was blocked.

Claire Damare had six of her nine saves in the first quarter.

Sewanee would hold the Falcons scoreless in the second quarter, only allowing two shots to be taken.

Concordia Wisconsin would find the back of the net one more time in the third quarter to make it 3-0.

The Sewanee offense came alive in the fourth quarter, firing five shots at the goal and earning two penalty corners.

On Oct. 2, the University of the South Field Hockey team took on Concordia Wisconsin for the second day in a row. The Falcons would come out on top, defeating Sewanee 3-0.

The Falcons got on the board early, finding the back of the net six minutes into the game.

Sewanee drew a penalty corner in the first quarter, but were unable to convert.

Courtney Odom fired a shot on goal for the Tigers in the second quarter, but was turned away by the Falcon goalkeeper.

With five minutes left in the second quarter, the Falcons scored to extend their lead to 2-0.

The Falcons would put their third in the back of the net early in the third quarter to make it 3-0.

Claire Damare registered 12 saves on the day, including six and five in the second and third quarters.

The Tigers defense would hold the Falcons scoreless in the fourth quarter.

Volleyball Starts Tough Road Stretch on Right Foot; Downs Majors in Four

The University of the South volleyball team used a strong third and fourth set by Millsaps College to defeat the Majors, 3-1, Oct. 1, inside the Hangar Dome.

Millsaps went toe-to-toe with Sewanee in the opening set, as the Majors out-killed the Tigers, 16-10. However, Millsaps posted 10 attack errors on 40 swings, while Sewanee, on 28, committed just one error.

The Majors won three straight points to make it 24-23, but a Lydia Goffi kill gave Sewanee the opening-set victory.

The second set was all Millsaps, rolled to a 25-13 victory thanks in part to allowing just one Sewanee kill in the frame.

The Purple and White went to work in the next two sets to take the victory from the Majors. Sewanee committed just six errors in the final two sets, while Millsaps had 16 errors, including 13 in the third.

Laurel Burkhardt recorded a .333 attack percentage on nine kills. She posted 27 total attacks and did not commit an error. Burkhardt also had 18 digs.

Anna Ball led the defense with 22 digs, followed by Adele Cassidy's 19. Olivia Jones totaled 6.5 points on five block assists and four kills.

Sky-Watching Tips

Here are a few sky-watching tips for the week ahead. The Moon is full this Sunday, Oct. 9, at 3:54 CDT, to be precise. With our ongoing clear skies, it should be in good view (except from our house where it has to peek through all the trees — come winter, we'll be able to see the sky again). This Moon, following the Harvest Moon, is called the Hunter's Moon, the Dying Grass, Blood or Travel Moon. The Harvest Moon was the Moon closest to the autumnal equinox. Several other celestial objects can be spotted in relation to the Moon's position. Jupiter stands to the left of the Moon at night fall on Friday, Oct. 7, and to the upper right on the following night, Oct. 8. In a week, on Oct. 14, Mars will be near the lower right of the Moon in the late evening. Aldebaran is a giant red-orange star in the constellation Taurus, the Bull, which can be found to the right of the constellation Orion. Aldebaran is the eye of the Bull. It can be found to the lower right of the Moon at mid-evening on Oct. 13.

FROM BARD TO VERSE

by Robin Bates

Indigenous Peoples' Day (Oct. 10)

Then they grow away from the earth
then they grow away from the sun
then they grow away from the plants and animals.
They see no life
When they look
they see only objects.
The world is a dead thing for them the trees and rivers are not alive
the mountains and stones are not alive
The deer and bear are objects
They see no life

They fear
They fear the world.
They destroy what they fear.
They fear themselves.
